Recent Developments

Recapitalization

On September 30, 2010, AIG entered into the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle with the Department of the Tr FRBNY and the Trust for the Recapitalization. The Recapitalization Agreement in Principle contemplates the Recapitalization be completed before the end of the first quarter of 2011. The principal terms of the Recapitalization will be as follows:

• Repayment and Termination of the FRBNY Credit Facility: The transactions constituting the Recapitalization are substantially simultaneously at the closing of the Recapitalization (the "Recapitalization Closing"). At the Recapitalization, AIG will repay to the FRBNY in cash all amounts owing under the credit facility with the FRBNY (the "Credit Facility") and the FRBNY Credit Facility will be terminated. As of October 31, 2010, the total repayment a under the FRBNY Credit Facility was approximately $20 billion. The funds for repayment are expected to come f cash proceeds from the sale in a public offering of approximately 67 percent of the ordinary shares of AIA Group ("AIA") and the sale of American Life Insurance Company ("ALICO"), which closed on October 29, 2010 and N 2010, respectively, and from additional funds from operations, financings and asset sales. None of these funds are to come from regulated subsidiaries other than through ordinary-course dividends. The net cash proceeds from the public offering of AIA and the sale of ALICO will be loaned to AIG (for repayment of the FRBNY Credit Facility form of intercompany secured non-recourse loans, from the special purpose vehicles that hold AIA and ALICO ("and such loans, "SPV Intercompany Loans").

• Repurchase and Exchange of the SPV Preferred Interests: At the Recapitalization Closing, AIG will draw down a remaining available to be funded under the commitment of the Department of the Treasury ("Department of the T Commitment") pursuant to the Securities Purchase Agreement, dated as of April 17, 2009 ("Series F SPA"), between and the Department of the Treasury relating to the Series F Fixed Rate Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock $5.00 per share ("Series F Preferred").

Stock"), less any amount designated by AIG ("Series G Drawdown Right") to be allocated to the Series G Cumula Mandatory Convertible Preferred Stock, par value $5.00 per share ("Series G Preferred Stock"), as described belo October 31, 2010, the total available funding under the Department of the Treasury Commitment was approximate billion. AIG will use the amount drawn down at the Recapitalization Closing (the "Series F Closing Drawdown A repurchase all or a portion of the FRBNY's preferred interests in the SPVs ("SPV Preferred Interests") correspond Series F Closing Drawdown Amount ("Transferred SPV Preferred Interests") and transfer the Transferred SPV Preferred Interests to the Department of the Treasury in partial consideration for shares of the Series F Preferred Stock with equivalent liquidation value as described below.

Any SPV Preferred Interests not transferred to the Department of the Treasury at the Recapitalization Closing will to be held by the FRBNY and will be senior to the Transferred SPV Preferred Interests held by the Department of Treasury. In addition to the proceeds from the monetization of the remaining ordinary shares of AIA held by AIG MetLife securities received from the sale of ALICO after the Recapitalization Closing, AIG will use the proceeds sales or dispositions of its equity interests in Nan Shan Life Insurance Company, Ltd. ("Nan Shan"), AIG Star Lift Co. Ltd. ("AIG Star"), AIG Edison Life Insurance Company ("AIG Edison"), International Lease Finance Corpor ("ILFC") and AIG's and its subsidiaries' interests in Maiden Lane II LLC ("ML II") and Maiden Lane III LLC ("repay the SPV Intercompany Loans and thereby provide funds with which the SPVs may pay down the liquidation preference of the SPV Preferred Interests remaining outstanding after the Recapitalization Closing.

• Issuance of AIG's Series G Preferred Stock: In connection with the Recapitalization, AIG and the Department of Treasury will amend and restate the Series F SPA to provide for the issuance of the Series G Preferred Stock by A Department of the Treasury at the Recapitalization Closing. The right of AIG to draw on the Department of the Treasury at the Recapitalization Series F Preferred Stock will be exchanged as described below.

The Series G Preferred Stock will initially have an aggregate liquidation preference equal to at least the amount of any, drawn down by AIG under the Series F SPA after September 30, 2010 but before the Recapitalization Closin the Recapitalization Closing until March 31, 2012, AIG may draw down funds under the Series G Drawdown Rig used for general corporate purposes, which will increase the aggregate liquidation preference of the Series G Prefe AIG generally may draw down funds up to the $2 billion that may be designated by AIG prior to the Recapitalization. This drawdown right will be subject to terms and conditions substantially similar to those in the current SPA, except that there will be no condition that the Trust and the Department of the Treasury own over 50 percenvoting securities.

Dividends on the Series G Preferred Stock will be payable on a cumulative basis at a rate per annum of 5 percent, compounded quarterly, of the aggregate liquidation preference of the Series G Preferred Stock.

The available funding under the Series G Drawdown Right that may be used for general corporate purposes will g reduced by the amount of net proceeds of future AIG equity offerings. If the FRBNY continues to hold any SPV I Interests at the time when any such net proceeds are realized, any amount by which the generally available fundin Series G Drawdown Right is reduced will instead be drawn by AIG and used to repurchase a corresponding amou Preferred Interests from the FRBNY, which will then be transferred to the Department of the Treasury to repay the same manner as at the Recapitalization Closing. If the net proceeds of future AIG equity offerings exceed the funding under the Series G Drawdown Right, AIG will be required to use such excess net proceeds to effect a reputransfer of the SPV Preferred Interests from the FRBNY to the Department of the Treasury as described above or FRBNY does not then hold SPV Preferred Interests, to pay down the liquidation preference on the Series G Prefer

AIG may not directly redeem the Series G Preferred Stock or use cash to reduce its liquidation preference while the continues to hold any SPV Preferred Interests, but AIG will have the right to use cash to repurchase a correspondit of SPV Preferred Interests from the FRBNY, which will then be transferred to the Department of the Treasury and will accordingly reduce the Series G Preferred Stock Drawdown the FRBNY no longer holds SPV Preferred Interests, AIG may use cash to reduce the Series G Preferred Stock Drawdown Right or the Series G Preferred Stock will be redeemable in cash at AIG's option, at the liquidation preference plu and unpaid dividends.

If the FRBNY continues to hold any SPV Preferred Interests on March 31, 2012, AIG will draw down all remaining available funds under the Series G Drawdown Right to the extent of the remaining aggregate liquidation preference SPV Preferred Interests (or the full remaining available amount, if less). Such funds will also be used to repurch as Preferred Interests to be transferred to the Department of the Treasury to repay the draw as described above. If, after effect to the foregoing, the Series G Preferred Stock has an outstanding aggregate liquidation preference on March it will be converted into a number of shares of AIG common stock, par value $2.50 per share ("AIG Common Stoto to the aggregate liquidation preference plus accrued and unpaid dividends divided by the lesser of $29.29 and 80 put the volume weighted average price of AIG Common Stock over a measurement period prior to the Recapitalization • Exchange of Series C, E and F Preferred Stock for AIG Common Stock: At the Recapitalization Closing, (i) the states C Perpetual, Convertible, Participating Preferred Stock, par value $5.00 per share ("Series C Preferred Stock by the Trust will be exchanged for approximately 562.9 million shares of AIG Common Stock, which will be districted the Department of the Treasury; (ii) the shares of the Series E Fixed Rate Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock value $5.00 per share ("Series E Preferred Stock"), held by the Department of the Treasury will be exchanged for approximately 924.5 million shares of AIG Common Stock; and (iii) the shares of the Series F Preferred Stock held Department of the Treasury will be exchanged for (a) the Transferred SPV Preferred Interests (as described above (b) newly issued shares of the Series G Preferred Stock and (c) approximately 167.6 million shares of AIG Common After completing the Recapitalization, the Department of the Treasury will hold approximately 1.655 billion share issued AIG Common Stock, representing ownership of approximately 92.1 percent of the AIG Common Stock that outstanding as of the Recapitalization Closing.

AIG will agree to grant to the Department of the Treasury registration rights with respect to the shares of AIG Constock issued at the Recapitalization Closing on terms substantially consistent with those relating to the Series C P Stock, subject to appropriate modifications relating to AIG's obligation to undertake an equity offering, including appropriate lock-up arrangements and restrictions on the exercise of registration rights by transferees.

- Issuance to AIG's Shareholders of Warrants to Purchase AIG Common Stock: Immediately after the Recapitalization Closing, AIG will issue to the holders of AIG Common Stock prior to the Recapitalization Closing, by means of a 10-year warrants to purchase up to 75 million shares of AIG Common Stock in the aggregate at an exercise price per share.
- Exchange of Equity Units: On October 8, 2010, AIG commenced a registered exchange offer (the "Exchange Off which it offered shares of AIG Common Stock and cash for AIG's equity units mandatorily exchangeable for share Common Stock that it previously issued in May 2008. The Exchange Offer expired on November 23, 2010; 49,47 equity units in the form of corporate units were validly tendered and accepted in the Exchange Offer. Accordingly 4,881,667 shares of AIG Common Stock were issued, and $161.8 million in cash was paid, at the closing of the E Offer on November 29, 2010.

These transactions contemplated by the Recapitalization are subject to the negotiation and execution of definitive documentation, whose terms may differ from those described above, and include the following material conditions:

- the Recapitalization transactions will generate aggregate proceeds sufficient to repay all amounts owing under the
- the FRBNY will not hold SPV Preferred Interests having an aggregate liquidation preference in excess of $6 billion
- AIG and the primary insurance companies of Chartis and SunAmerica Financial Group shall have rating profiles acceptable to the FRBNY, the Department of the Treasury, the Trust and AIG;
- AIG shall have in place at the Recapitalization Closing available cash and third-party financing commitments in a on terms reasonably acceptable to the FRBNY, the Department of the Treasury and AIG;
- AIG shall have achieved its year-end 2010 targets for the de-risking of AIG Financial Products Corp. and AIG Transcription of the Group Inc. and their respective subsidiaries (collectively, "AIGFP"); and
- shareholder, regulatory and other customary approvals.

Sales of Businesses and Specific Asset Dispositions

AIA Initial Public Offering

Credit Facility;

On October 29, 2010, AIG completed an initial public offering of 8.08 billion ordinary shares of AIA for aggregate a proceeds of approximately $20.51 billion. Upon completion of the initial public offering, AIG owned approximately 33 per AIA's outstanding shares. Under the terms of an agreement with the underwriters, AIG is precluded from selling or hedging its remaining shares of AIA until October 18, 2011 and more than half of its remaining shares of AIA until April 18, 2012 the prior written consent of the underwriters. At October 29, 2010, the fair value of AIG's retained interest in AIA was approximately $11.8 billion.

Under the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle, net cash proceeds from the AIA public offering will be held in expending the Recapitalization Closing of the transactions contemplated by the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle. Up Closing, these cash proceeds will be loaned by AIA SPV to AIG and will be used to repay amounts owing under the FRB Facility. If the transactions contemplated by the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle are not completed, AIG expects proceeds would instead be used to pay down the liquidation preference of the AIA SPV Preferred Interests held by the FR including preferred returns. AIG expects that, unless otherwise agreed with the FRBNY, any excess would then be used to outstanding debt under the FRBNY Credit Facility.

ALICO Sale

On March 7, 2010, AIG and ALICO Holdings LLC ("ALICO SPV"), a special purpose vehicle formed by AIG, enter definitive agreement with MetLife, Inc. ("MetLife") for the sale of ALICO by ALICO SPV to MetLife, and the sale of Defamerican Life Insurance Company by AIG to MetLife, for consideration then valued at approximately $15.5 billion, cons $6.8 billion in cash and the remainder in equity securities of MetLife, subject to closing adjustments. The ALICO sale clo

November 1, 2010. The fair market value of the consideration at closing was approximately $16.2 billion.

On the closing date, as consideration for the ALICO sale, ALICO SPV received net cash consideration of $7.2 billio included an upward price adjustment of approximately $400 million pursuant to the terms of the ALICO stock purchase at 78,239,712 shares of MetLife common stock, 6,857,000 shares of newly issued MetLife participating preferred stock convinto 68,570,000 shares of MetLife common stock upon the approval of MetLife shareholders, and 40,000,000 equity units MetLife with an aggregate stated value of $3.0 billion. AIG intends to monetize these MetLife securities over time, subject conditions, following the lapse of agreed-upon minimum holding periods. AIG expects to record a material gain on the transaction in the fourth qua 2010.

Under the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle, net cash proceeds from the ALICO sale will be held in escrow por Recapitalization Closing. Upon the Recapitalization Closing, these cash proceeds will be loaned by ALICO SPV to AIG as used to repay amounts owing under the FRBNY Credit Facility. If the transactions contemplated by the Recapitalization Arien Principle are not completed, AIG expects that the cash proceeds would instead be paid to the FRBNY in its capacity as preferred interests in ALICO SPV to reduce the aggregate outstanding liquidation preference of those preferred interests.

Prior to conversion into MetLife common stock, the MetLife participating preferred stock will be entitled to divident equivalent, on an as-converted basis, to those that may be declared from time to time on MetLife common stock.

Each of the equity units of MetLife has an initial stated amount of $75 and consists of an ownership interest in three senior debt securities of MetLife and three stock purchase contracts with a weighted average life of approximately three y stock purchase contracts obligate the holder of an equity unit to purchase, and obligate MetLife to sell, a number of shares MetLife common stock that will be determined based on the market price of MetLife common stock at the scheduled settl dates under the stock purchase contracts (a minimum of 67,764,000 shares and a maximum of 84,696,000 shares in the ag all equity units, subject to anti-dilution adjustments). The equity units provide for the remarketing of the senior debt secur fund the purchase price of the MetLife common stock. They also entitle the holder to receive interest payments on the sen securities and deferrable contract payments at a combined rate equal to 5% of their stated amount.

The equity units have been placed in escrow as collateral to secure payments, if any, in respect of indemnity obligation by ALICO SPV to MetLife under the ALICO stock purchase agreement and other transaction agreements. The escrow colbe released to ALICO SPV over a 30-month period, to the extent not used to make indemnity payments or to secure pendindemnity claims submitted by MetLife.

AGF Sale

On August 10, 2010, AIG entered into a definitive agreement to sell 80 percent of American General Finance Inc. ("$125 million. AIG will retain economic interests of 20 percent in the remaining AGF business and 16 percent of the votin The transaction closed on November 30, 2010.

AIG Star and AIG Edison Sale

On September 29, 2010, AIG entered into a definitive agreement with Prudential Financial, Inc. for the sale of its Jap insurance subsidiaries, AIG Star and AIG Edison, for total consideration of $4.8 billion, less the principal balance of certa outstanding debt owed by AIG Star and AIG Edison as of the closing date. As of September 30, 2010, the outstanding prin balance of the debt approximated $0.6 billion. The transaction is expected to close by the end of the first quarter of 2011, regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions.

Health Condition of AIG's Chief Executive Officer

As previously announced, Robert Benmosche, President and Chief Executive Officer of AIG, has been diagnosed wi and is undergoing aggressive chemotherapy. Mr. Benmosche continues to work a normal schedule and AIG's board of dir continues to assume that he will remain CEO until AIG completes repayment of its taxpayer obligations. Nevertheless, the reviewed AIG's succession planning process and has determined that in the event that Mr. Benmosche were to become un unable to continue to effectively serve in his current role, AIG's Chairman, Robert S. Miller, would step in as interim CEO long as it takes to identify and select a long-term replacement.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Notes involves certain risks. You should carefully consider the risks described below and in Item 1 AIG's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2010, Item 1A. of Part II of AIG's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for period ended June 30, 2010, Item 1A. of Part II of AIG's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for period ended March 31, 2010 and Item 1A. of Part I of AIG's 2009 Annual Report on Form 10-K, as well as other information incorporated by reference, in this prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus, before purchasing any Notes. Exto any of the following risks, or other risks and uncertainties, could seriously harm our business, financial condition and rest operations. In such a case, the trading value of the Notes could decline, or we may be unable to meet our obligations under the which in turn could cause you to lose all or part of your investment.

Risks Relating to Our Business and Capital Structure

We depend on the support of the U.S. government. It is uncertain whether we will be able to develop and implement advestructuring initiatives, which businesses will remain part of our operations and whether we will succeed in operating support of the U.S. government.

We have been significantly and adversely affected by the market turmoil in late 2008 and early 2009 and have entered i important support transactions and relationships with the FRBNY and the Department of the Treasury. As a result, we are concerning AIG Credit Facility Trust, a trust for the sole benefit of the Department of the Treasury (the "Trust"), and depend on the compute U.S. government to continue to work with us to maintain our ability to meet our obligations as they come due. The report independent registered public accounting firm included in our Current Report on Form 8-K filed on November 5, 2010, relating consolidated financial statements, financial statement schedules and internal control over financial reporting, contained an exparagraph relating to our dependence upon the continued financial support of the U.S. government.

Since September 2008, we have been working to protect and enhance the value of our key businesses, execute an orderly disposition plan, and position ourselves for the future. At the end of September 2010, we entered into the Recapitalization Agrinciple. Priorities that we are focused on in this regard include, among other things, entering into definitive agreements related and implementing the definitive agreements to consummate the Recapitalization; continuing the stabilization strengthening of our business; executing on our plans to complete the pending sales transactions for Nan Shan, AGF, AIG States and addressing the potential for delays in asset dispositions and reduction in the anticipated proceeds therefrom; addressing leveraged capital structure; and continuing the wind-down of our exposure to derivatives trading activities, particularly AIGFP.

Numerous factors, many of which are outside our control, could impair our ability to implement these plans. No assurant given that we will be able to successfully implement the Recapitalization. If we are successful in implementing some or all outransactions related to the Recapitalization, it is uncertain which businesses will remain part of our operations and whether we to operate successfully without the support of the U.S. government. In addition, a cessation of government support could in concurrent credit and financial strength ratings to decline.

The execution of the Recapitalization is subject to various risks and uncertainties.

The Recapitalization Agreement in Principle contemplates the negotiation and execution of definitive agreements relati number of transactions involving multiple parties. No assurance can be given that we, the FRBNY, the Department of t and the Trust will be able to agree on definitive documentation or that the transactions set forth in the definitive documentation substantially the same as those contemplated by the Recapitalization Agreement in Principle.

Even if definitive documentation is executed, numerous factors, many of which are outside of our control, could impair implement or complete the Recapitalization. In particular, our ability to effect the Recapitalization will be subject to a numbe conditions, including regulatory approvals and other third-party approvals and satisfactory rating profiles from rating agencies. The Recapitalization could be adversely affected by, among o

- an inability to complete our asset disposition plan, including the sales of our interests in AIG Star and AIG Edison;
- an inability to secure third-party financing commitments;
- declines in our asset values and deterioration in our businesses: and
- an inability to obtain necessary regulatory or other third-party approvals or consents for the proposed transactions.

No assurance can be given that we will be able to meet the conditions to the completion of the Recapitalization or to oth successfully implement the Recapitalization.

The complexity of executing the Recapitalization, combined with the challenges of operating our businesses in the currenvironment, could place further stress on our internal controls, increase our costs and divert the attention of our management employees from their normal duties, all of which may adversely affect our business, both in terms of operations and ability to retain customers. The execution of the Recapitalization has introduced a large number of complex and non-standard transaction placing a strain on existing resources, systems and communication channels.

If we are not able to complete the Recapitalization, it is unclear how our businesses, operations and liquidity will be aff failure to complete the Recapitalization could result in, among other things, a reduced level of support from the U.S. government downgrades and a loss in confidence in us by customers. As a result, a failure to complete the Recapitalization could have a radverse effect on our businesses, operations and liquidity.

The issuance of the shares of AIG Common Stock to the Department of the Treasury may have adverse consequences f subsidiaries with regulators and contract counterparties.

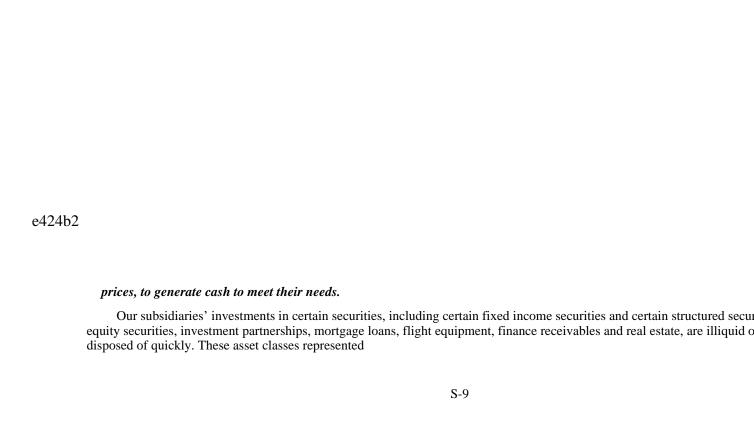

The issuance of the shares of AIG Common Stock to the Department of the Treasury in the Recapitalization may result control of us. A change of control of us triggers notice, approval and/or other regulatory requirements in many of the more the countries and jurisdictions in which we and our subsidiaries operate. In light of the large number of jurisdictions in which we subsidiaries operate and the complexity of assessing and addressing the regulatory requirements in each of the relevant jurisd may be unable to obtain all regulatory consents or approvals that may be required in connection with the Recapitalization.

We and our subsidiaries are also parties to various contracts and other agreements that may be affected or terminated as change of control of us.

Our ability to support our subsidiaries is limited.

Historically, we have provided capital and liquidity to our subsidiaries to maintain regulatory capital ratios, comply wit agency requirements and meet unexpected cash flow obligations. More recently, we have relied on the FRBNY Credit Facility Department of the Treasury Commitment to meet these needs, given our inability to access our traditional sources of liquidity the public debt markets, since the third quarter of 2008. This limited access to liquidity may reduce or prevent us from provide our subsidiaries. If we are unable to provide support to a subsidiary having an immediate capital or liquidity need, the subsidiary become insolvent or, in the case of an insurance subsidiary or other regulated entity, could be seized by its regulator.

Certain investments our subsidiaries hold are illiquid and/or are difficult to sell, or to sell in significant amounts or at a approximately 28% of the carrying value of our total consolidated cash and invested assets at September 30, 2010. In addition decline in the U.S. real estate market and tight credit markets materially adversely affected the liquidity of our other securitie including our residential and commercial mortgage-related securities and investment portfolios. If one or more of our subsidical additional liquidity beyond what can be provided through cash generated by operations or the sale or monetization of their massets, it may be difficult to generate additional liquidity by selling, pledging or otherwise monetizing the less liquid investment.

If we cannot maintain our current credit and financial strength ratings, it would have an adverse effect on our business condition, results of operations and liquidity.

Adverse ratings actions regarding our long-term debt ratings by the major rating agencies would require us to post a subtamount of additional collateral payments pursuant to, and/or permit the termination of, derivative transactions to which AIGH which could further adversely affect our business and our consolidated results of operations, financial condition and liquidity obligations to post collateral or the costs of assignment, termination or obtaining alternative credit could significantly reduce then available under the FRBNY Credit Facility and the Department of the Treasury Commitment. In the event of a further dour long-term senior debt ratings, AIGFP would be required to post additional collateral, and certain of AIGFP's counterpartipermitted to elect early termination of contracts. In addition, consummation of the Recapitalization is conditioned on our rating that of Chartis and SunAmerica) being reasonably acceptable to us, the FRBNY, the Department of Treasury and the Trust.

It is estimated that at September 30, 2010, based on our outstanding financial derivative transactions, including those of that date, a one-notch downgrade of our long-term senior debt ratings to Baa1 by Moody's Investors Service ("Moody's") an Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC, a subsidiary of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. ("S&P"), would permit count make additional collateral calls and permit the counterparties to elect early termination of contracts, resulting in up to approx $1.2 billion of corresponding collateral postings and termination payments; a two-notch downgrade to Baa2 by Moody's and would result in approximately $1.2 billion in additional collateral postings and termination payments above the one-notch do amount; and a three-notch downgrade to Baa3 by Moody's and BBB- by S&P would result in approximately $0.2 billion in a collateral postings and termination payments above the two-notch downgrade amount. Additional collateral postings upon do estimated based on the factors in the individual collateral posting provisions of the Credit Support Annex with each counterp current exposure as of September 30, 2010. Factors considered in estimating the termination payments upon downgrade inclu market conditions, the complexity of the derivative transactions, historical termination experience and other observable mark as bankruptcy and downgrade events that have occurred at other companies. Management's estimates are also based on the a counterparties will terminate based on their net exposure to us. The actual termination payments could significantly differ from management's estimates given market conditions at the time of downgrade and the level of uncertainty in estimating both the counterparties who may elect to exercise their right to terminate and the payment that may be triggered in connection with an exercise.

Adverse rating actions could result in further reductions in credit limits extended to us and in a decline in the number of counterparties willing to transact with us or our subsidiaries. To appropriately manage risk, we need trading counterparties extend sufficient credit limits to purchase and sell securities, commodities and other assets, as well as to conduct hedging active extent that counterparties are unwilling to trade with or to extend adequate credit limits to us or our subsidiaries, we could be open positions or other unhedged risks, resulting in increased volatility of results and increased losses.

A downgrade in the Insurer Financial Strength ratings of our insurance companies could prevent the companies from v business and retaining customers and business. Insurer Financial Strength ratings are an important factor in establishing the position of insurance companies. Insurer Financial Strength ratings measure an insurance company's ability to meet its obligation.

termination of assumed reinsurance contracts. Moreover, a downgrade in our credit ratings may, under credit rating agency p concerning the relationship between parent and subsidiary ratings, result in a downgrade of the Insurer Financial Strength ratinsurance subsidiaries.

Borrowings available to us under the FRBNY Credit Facility and drawdowns under the Department of the Treasury Coafter the completion of the Recapitalization, the available funds under then-existing arrangements with the U.S. govern from third parties, may not be sufficient to meet our funding needs and additional financing may not be available or coprohibitively expensive.

The inability of our subsidiaries to raise sufficient liquidity to meet their obligations without support from us, additional calls, deterioration in investment portfolios affecting statutory surplus, high surrenders of annuity and other policies, further our credit ratings, catastrophe losses or reserve strengthening, or a further deterioration in AIGFP's remaining super senior or swap portfolio could cause us to require additional funding in excess of the borrowings available under the FRBNY Credit Fa available drawdowns on the Department of the Treasury Commitment, or after the completion of the Recapitalization, the available drawdowns arrangements with the U.S. government and from third parties. In that event, we would be required to finifinancing and new financing sources. Such financing could be difficult, if not impossible, to obtain and, if available, very expadditional funding from the FRBNY, the Department of the Treasury or other government sources may not be available. If wo obtain sufficient financing to meet our liquidity needs, we could become insolvent.

The FRBNY Credit Agreement includes financial and other covenants that impose restrictions on our financial and bu operations.

The FRBNY Credit Agreement requires us to maintain a minimum aggregate liquidity level and restricts our ability to respital expenditures. The FRBNY Credit Agreement also restricts our ability and the ability of our restricted subsidiaries to in indebtedness, incur liens, merge, consolidate, sell assets, enter into hedging transactions outside the normal course of business dividends. These covenants could restrict our business and thereby adversely affect our results of operations or financial condes Moreover, if we fail to comply with the covenants in the FRBNY Credit Agreement and are unable to obtain a waiver or ame event of default would result. If an event of default were to occur, the FRBNY could, among other things, declare outstanding under the FRBNY Credit Agreement immediately due and payable and enforce its security interest in our pledged collateral. event of default or declaration of acceleration under the FRBNY Credit Agreement could also result in an event of default unagreements. In such an event, we would likely not have sufficient liquid assets to meet our obligations under such agreements become insolvent.

As part of the Recapitalization, we may enter into credit facilities or other financing arrangements with the third partie include financial and other covenants that impose restrictions on our financial and business operations.

In connection with the Recapitalization, we will seek third-party financing commitments in amounts and on terms reason acceptable to the FRBNY, the Department of the Treasury and us. Such third-party financing commitments may impose restricting and business operations, such as covenants restricting our ability and the ability of certain of our subsidiaries to incuind bettedness, incur liens, merge, consolidate and sell assets. In addition, such third-party financing commitments may also remaintain certain financial ratios or conditions. These covenants could restrict our business and thereby adversely affect our reoperations or financial condition.

Risks Relating to the Notes

The Notes will be unsecured and effectively subordinated to the rights of the FRBNY under the FRBNY Credit Facility

The Notes will be our unsecured obligations ranking effectively junior to our existing and future secured indebtedness upon FRBNY Credit Facility and the related guarantee and pledge agreement among us, our subsidiary guarantors and the FRBNY will be effectively subordinated to our indebtedness under the FRBNY Credit Facility to the extent of the value of the collate such indebtedness to the FRBNY.

As of September 30, 2010, we had $20.470 billion of senior secured indebtedness outstanding under the FRBNY Credi which indebtedness is secured by pledges of the capital stock and assets of certain of our subsidiaries, subject to exclusions of property. Such pledge covers a significant amount of our assets. In addition, we are able to borrow $14.887 billion as addition secured indebtedness under the FRBNY Credit Facility, subject to the same pledges. Your Notes will be effectively subordin such additional secured indebtedness, as well as any future secured debt we may incur.

If we were unable to repay indebtedness or meet other obligations under the FRBNY Credit Facility, the FRBNY would foreclose on our assets securing that secured debt and liquidate those assets. In such an event, it is likely that we would not be funds to pay amounts due on the Notes.

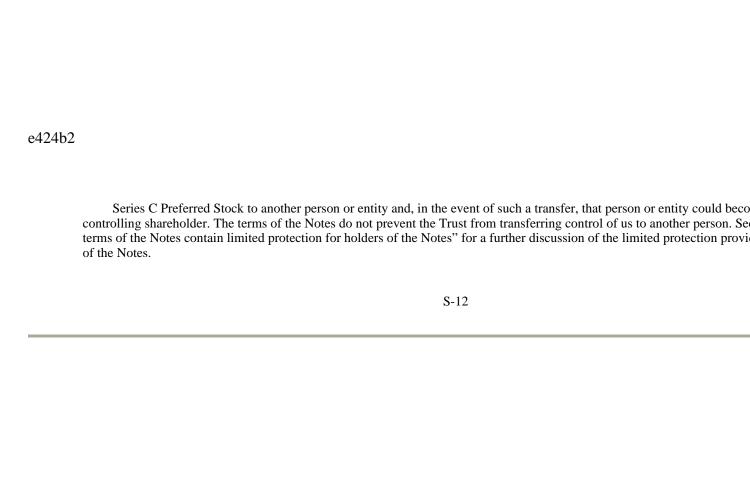

If we are declared bankrupt, become insolvent or are liquidated or reorganized, holders of our secured debt, including the will be entitled to exercise the remedies available to a secured lender under applicable law and pursuant to the instruments go debt, and any of our secured indebtedness will be entitled to be paid in full from our assets or the pledged assets of the guarant that indebtedness before any payment may be made with respect to the Notes. Holders of the Notes will participate ratably in assets with all holders of any unsecured indebtedness that does not rank junior to the Notes, based upon the respective amour each holder or creditor. In any of the foregoing events, there may not be sufficient assets to pay amounts due on the Notes. A holders of the Notes would likely receive less, ratably, than holders of secured indebtedness.

A trust for the sole benefit of the Department of the Treasury is our controlling shareholder and may have interests inc the holders of the Notes.

The Trust, which is for the sole benefit of the Department of the Treasury and overseen by three trustees unrelated to us controlling interest in us. As the sole holder of our Series C Preferred Stock, the Trust has approximately 79% of the voting p Common Stock, and, if the Recapitalization is completed substantially as contemplated by the Recapitalization Agreement in Department of the Treasury will have more than 92% of the voting power of AIG Common Stock. The interests of the Trust same as those of the holders of the Notes. The Trust may take actions to protect the interests of the FRBNY under the FRBN Facility or the Department of the Treasury, as holder of our Series E Preferred Stock and Series F Preferred Stock, that adversinterest of the holders of the Notes.

For example, as a result of its ownership of the Series C Preferred Stock, the Trust is able, subject to the terms of the Trust Agreement under which the Trust has been formed (the "Trust Agreement") and the Series C Preferred Stock, to elect a directors and is able, to the extent permitted by law, to control the vote on substantially all matters, including approval of met business combinations, a sale of all or substantially all of our assets, and other matters that might be favorable to the FRBNY Department of the Treasury, but not to the holders of the Notes.

The Trust may also, subject to the terms of the Trust Agreement and applicable securities laws, transfer all, or a portion

The terms of the Notes contain limited protection for holders of the Notes.

The indenture under which the Notes will be issued and the terms of the Notes offer limited protection to holders of the particular, the terms of the indenture and the Notes will not place any restrictions on our or our subsidiaries' ability to:

- engage in a change of control transaction;
- subject to the covenant discussed under "Description of the Notes Limitation on Liens Covenant", issue secured of existing unsecured debt;
- issue debt securities or otherwise incur additional unsecured indebtedness or other obligations;
- purchase or redeem or make any payments in respect of capital stock or other securities ranking junior in right of pay
- · sell assets; or enter into transactions with related parties, including the Trust, the Department of the Treasury and the FRBNY.

Furthermore, the terms of the indenture and the Notes will not protect holders of the Notes in the event that we experier (including significant adverse changes) in our financial condition or results of operations, as they will not require that we or consubsidiaries adhere to any financial tests or ratios or specified levels of net worth, revenues, income, cash flow or liquidity. In Notes do not provide for a step-up in interest on, or any other protection against, a decline in our credit ratings, or any special the event that the Recapitalization is not consummated.

Our ability to recapitalize, incur additional debt and take a number of other actions that are not limited by the terms of t or the Notes could negatively affect the value of the Notes.

We and our subsidiaries have significant leverage and debt obligations, payments on the Notes will depend on receipt of and distributions from our subsidiaries, and the Notes will be structurally subordinated to the existing and future indebt subsidiaries.

We are a holding company and we conduct substantially all of our operations through subsidiaries. We are also permitted certain restrictions under our existing indebtedness, to obtain additional long-term debt and working capital lines of credit to financing needs. This would have the effect of increasing our total leverage. Furthermore, subject to the covenant discussed undescription of the Notes — Limitation on Liens Covenant", the indenture relating to the Notes does not prohibit us or our suffrom incurring additional secured or unsecured indebtedness. As of September 30, 2010, after giving effect to the offering of would have had approximately $115.889 billion of consolidated debt (including approximately $34.938 billion of subsidiary obligations not guaranteed by us), and the ability to borrow additional amounts of approximately $14.887 billion under the Flacility.

We depend on dividends, distributions and other payments from our subsidiaries to fund payments on the Notes. Further of our investments are held by our regulated subsidiaries. In light of our current financial situation and the retained deficit rest the losses recorded in recent quarters, certain of our regulated subsidiaries have been restricted from making dividend payment advancing funds, to us, and we expect these restrictions to continue. In the case of subsidiaries not currently subject to these subsidiaries may be limited in their ability to make dividend payments or advance funds to us in the future because of the support their own capital levels.

Our right to participate in any distribution of assets from any subsidiary upon the subsidiary's liquidation or otherwise is the prior claims of creditors of that subsidiary, except to the extent that we are recognized as a creditor of that subsidiary. To we are a creditor of a subsidiary, our claims would be subordinated to any security interest in the assets of that subsidiary and indebtedness of that subsidiary senior to that held by us. As a result, the Notes will be structurally subordinated to all existing liabilities of our subsidiaries. You should look only to our assets as the source of payment for the Notes, and not those of our

When we "you" in this prospectus, we mean all purchasers of the securities being offered by this prospectus, whether they are the holder indirect owners of those securities.

Debt Securities Will Be Senior and Unsecured

The senior debt securities will not be subordinated to any of our other obligations or be secured by any of our property property or assets of our subsidiaries. Thus, by owning a debt security, you are one of our unsecured creditors.

The senior debt securities will be issued under our senior debt indenture described below and will rank equally with all unsecured and unsubordinated debt.

The Senior Debt Indenture

The senior debt securities are governed by a document called an indenture — the senior debt indenture. The senior debt contract between AIG and The Bank of New York Mellon, which acts as trustee.

The trustee has two main roles:

- 1. The trustee can enforce the rights of holders against us if we default on our obligations under the terms of the senior or the debt securities. There are some limitations on the extent to which the trustee acts on behalf of holders, described below Events of Default Remedies If an Event of Default Occurs."
- 2. The trustee performs administrative duties for us, such as sending interest payments and notices to holders, and trans holder's debt securities to a new buyer if a holder sells.

The senior debt indenture and its associated documents contain the full legal text of the matters described in this section debt indenture and the debt securities are governed by New York law. A copy of the senior debt indenture is an exhibit to our statement. See "Where You Can Find More Information" above for information on how to obtain a copy.

General

We may issue as many distinct series of debt securities under the senior debt indenture as we wish. The provisions of the indenture allow us not only to issue debt securities with terms different from those previously issued but also to "reopen" a proof a series of debt securities and issue additional debt securities of that series. We may issue debt securities in amounts that examount specified on the cover of your prospectus supplement at any time without your consent and without notifying you.

This section summarizes the material terms of the debt securities that are common to all series, although the prospectus

- if the debt securities will be issued in bearer form, any special provisions relating to bearer securities that are not add prospectus;
- if the series of debt securities will be issuable only in the form of a global security, the depositary or its nominee with series of debt securities and the circumstances under which the global security may be registered for transfer or exchange of a person other than the depositary or the nominee; and
- any other special feature of the series of debt securities.

An investment in debt securities may involve special risks, including risks associated with indexed securities and currer risks if the debt security is linked to an index or is payable in or otherwise linked to a non-U.S. dollar currency. We describe risks associated with an investment in indexed securities and non-U.S. dollar securities below under "Considerations Relating Debt Securities and Non-U.S. Dollar Debt Securities."

Overview of Remainder of this Description

The remainder of this description summarizes:

- Additional Mechanics relevant to the debt securities under normal circumstances, such as how holders transfer owners where we make payments;
- Holders' rights in several Special Situations, such as if we merge with another company or if we want to change a te securities;
- Our right to release ourselves from all or some of our obligations under the debt securities and the senior debt indent process called Defeasance; and
- Holders' rights if we Default or experience other financial difficulties.

Any covenants that apply to any series of the debt securities will be described in an applicable prospectus supplement.

Additional Mechanics

Form, Exchange and Transfer

Unless we specify otherwise in the prospectus supplement, the debt securities will be issued:

- only in fully registered form;
- · without interest coupons; and
- in denominations of $1,000 or integral multiples thereof. (Section 302)

If we issue a debt security in bearer form, the ownership provisions and considerations applicable to that security will b your prospectus supplement. Some of the features of the debt securities that we describe in this prospectus may not apply to b securities.

If a debt security is issued as a registered global debt security, only the depositary named in your prospectus supplementitled to transfer and exchange the debt security as described in this subsection, since the depositary will be the sole holder security. Those who own beneficial interests in a global security do so through participants in the depositary's securities clear and the rights of these indirect owners will be governed solely by the applicable procedures of the depositary and its participants. We describe book-entry procedures and the provisions that apply to a registered global debt security, the depositary and its participants under "Legal Ownership and Book Issuance."

Holders may have their debt securities broken into more debt securities of smaller denominations of not less than $1,000 integral multiple of $1,000 as may be specified in the applicable prospectus supplement) or combined into fewer debt securities denominations, as long as the total principal amount is not changed. (Section 305) This is called an exchange.

Holders may exchange or transfer debt securities at the office of the trustee. They may also replace lost, stolen or mutile securities at that office. The trustee acts as our agent for registering debt securities in the names of holders and transferring de We may change this appointment to another entity or perform it ourselves. The entity performing the role of maintaining the registered holders is called the security registrar. It will also perform transfers. (Section 305) The transfer agent may require a before replacing any debt securities.

Holders will not be required to pay a service charge to transfer or exchange debt securities, but holders may be required tax or other governmental charge associated with the exchange or transfer. The transfer or exchange will only be made if the registrar is satisfied with your proof of ownership.

If we designate additional transfer agents, they will be named in the prospectus supplement. We may cancel the designate particular transfer agent. We may also approve a change in the office through which any transfer agent acts. (Section 1002)

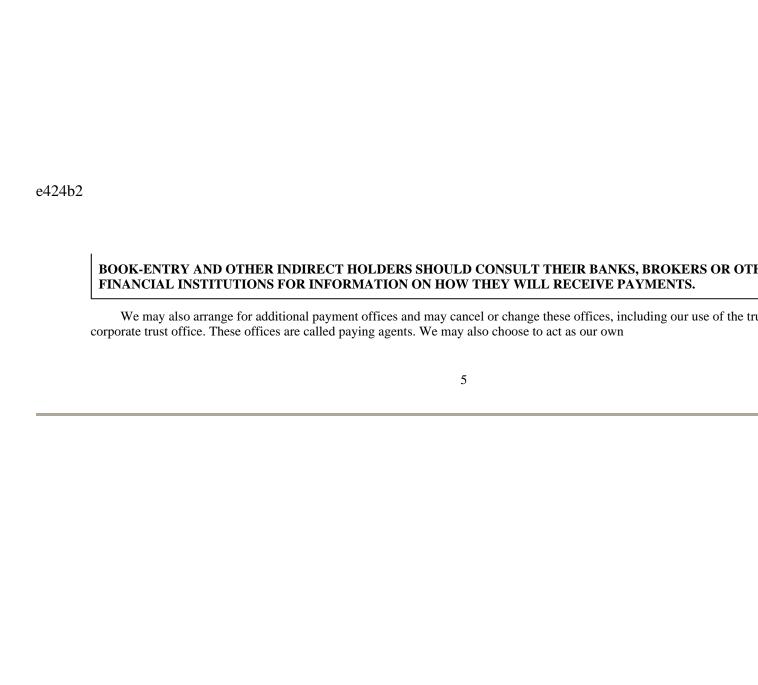

If the debt securities are redeemable and we redeem less than all of the debt securities of a particular series, we may bloor exchange of debt securities during the period beginning 15 days before the day we mail the notice of redemption and ending of that mailing, in order to freeze the list of holders to prepare the mailing. We may also refuse to register transfers or exchange securities selected for redemption, except that we will continue to permit transfers and exchanges of the unredeemed portion security being partially redeemed. (Section 305)

The rules for exchange described above apply to exchange of debt securities for other debt securities of the same series debt security is convertible, exercisable or exchangeable into or for a different kind of security, such as one that we have not other property, the rules governing that type of conversion, exercise or exchange will be described in the prospectus supplem

Payment and Paying Agents

We will pay interest to the person listed in the trustee's records at the close of business on a particular day in advance of date for interest, even if that person no longer owns the debt security on the interest due date. That particular day, usually about in advance of the interest due date, is called the regular record date and will be stated in the prospectus supplement. (Section buying and selling debt securities must work out between them how to compensate for the fact that we will pay all the interest interest period to the one who is the registered holder on the regular record date. The most common manner is to adjust the safecurities to pro rate interest fairly between buyer and seller. This prorated interest amount is called accrued interest.

We will pay interest, principal and any other money due on the debt securities at the corporate trust office of the trustee City. That office is currently located at 101 Barclay Street, New York, New York 10286. Holders must make arrangements to payments picked up at or wired from that office. We may also choose to pay interest by mailing checks.

paying agent or choose one of our subsidiaries to do so. We must notify holders of changes in the paying agents for any particle debt securities. (Section 1002)

Notices

We and the trustee will send notices regarding the debt securities only to holders, using their addresses as listed in the trecords. (Sections 101 and 106) We discuss legal ownership of debt securities held in book-entry form below under "Legal C Book-Entry Issuance."

Regardless of who acts as paying agent, all money paid by us to a paying agent that remains unclaimed at the end of two the amount is due to holders will be repaid to us. After that two-year period, holders may look to us for payment and not to the any other paying agent. (Section 1003)

Special Situations

Mergers and Similar Transactions

We are generally permitted to consolidate or merge with another company or firm. We are also permitted to sell or leas properties and assets substantially as an entirety to another company or firm. However, we may not take any of these actions following conditions are met:

- When we merge or consolidate out of existence or sell or lease our properties and assets substantially as an entirety, to company or firm may not be organized under a foreign country's laws that is, it must be a corporation, partnership organized under the laws of a state of the United States or the District of Columbia or under federal law and it mulegally responsible for the debt securities.
- The merger, sale of assets or other transaction must not cause a default on the debt securities, and we must not alread (unless the merger or other transaction would cure the default). For purposes of this no-default test, a default would i disregarded.

If the conditions described above are satisfied with respect to any series of debt securities, we will not need to obtain the holders of those debt securities in order to merge or consolidate or to sell our assets. Also, these conditions will apply only to merge or consolidate with another entity or sell our properties and assets substantially as an entirety to another entity. We statisfy these conditions if we enter into other types of transactions, including any transaction in which we acquire the stock another entity, any transaction that involves a change of control but in which we do not merge or consolidate and any transact we do not sell our properties and assets substantially as an entirety. It is possible that this type of transaction may result in a rour credit rating, may reduce our operating results or may impair our financial condition. Holders of our debt securities, how no approval right with respect to any transaction of this type.

Modification and Waiver of the Debt Securities

There are four types of changes we can make to the senior debt indenture and the debt securities.

Changes Requiring Approval of All Holders. First, there are changes that cannot be made to the senior debt indenture of securities without specific approval of each holder of a debt security affected in any material respect by the change under the Affected debt securities may be all or less than all of the debt securities issued under the senior debt indenture or all or less the debt securities of a series. Following is a list of those types of changes:

- change the stated maturity of the principal or interest on a debt security;
- reduce any amounts due on a debt security;

- reduce the amount of principal payable upon acceleration of the maturity of a debt security (including the amount payoriginal issue discount debt security) following a default;
- · change the place or currency of payment on a debt security;
- impair a holder's right to sue for payment;
- · reduce the percentage of holders of debt securities whose consent is needed to modify or amend the senior debt independent of the control of the senior debt independent of the control of the senior debt independent of the control of the senior debt independent of the senior de
- reduce the percentage of holders of debt securities whose consent is needed to waive compliance with certain provisions senior debt indenture or to waive certain defaults; or
- · modify any other aspect of the provisions dealing with modification and waiver of the senior debt indenture. (Section

Changes Requiring a Majority Vote. The second type of change to the senior debt indenture and the debt securities is the requires a vote in favor by holders of debt securities owning not less than a majority of the principal amount of the particular or, if so provided and to the extent permitted by the Trust Indenture Act, of particular debt securities affected thereby. Most continuous into this category, except for clarifying changes and certain other changes that would not adversely affect in any material respective debt securities. (Section 901) We may also obtain a waiver of a past default from the holders of debt securities owning a principal amount of the particular series affected. However, we cannot obtain a waiver of a payment default or any other aspectations are considered indenture or the debt securities listed in the first category described above under "— Changes Requiring Approvations" unless we obtain the individual consent of each holder to the waiver. (Section 513)

Changes Not Requiring Approval. The third type of change to the senior debt indenture and the debt securities does no vote by holders of debt securities. This type is limited to clarifications and certain other changes that would not adversely affective material respect holders of the debt securities. (Section 901)

We may also make changes or obtain waivers that do not adversely affect in any material respect a particular debt security affect other debt securities. In those cases, we do not need to obtain the approval of the holder of that debt security; we robtain any required approvals from the holders of the affected debt securities.

Further Details Concerning Voting. When taking a vote, we will use the following rules to decide how much principal attribute to a debt security:

- For original issue discount securities, we will use the principal amount that would be due and payable on the voting of maturity of the debt securities were accelerated to that date because of a default.
- For debt securities whose principal amount is not known (for example, because it is based on an index), we will use a for that debt security described in the prospectus supplement.
- · For debt securities denominated in one or more foreign currencies or currency units, we will use the U.S. dollar equi

Debt securities will not be considered outstanding, and therefore not eligible to vote, if we have given a notice of redern deposited or set aside in trust for the holders money for the payment or redemption of the debt securities. Debt securities will eligible to vote if they have been fully defeased as described below under "— Defeasance — Full Defeasance." (Section 130)

We will generally be entitled to set any day as a record date for the purpose of determining the holders of outstanding d that are entitled to vote or take other action under the senior debt indenture. In certain limited circumstances, the trustee will

Defeasance

The following discussion of full defeasance and covenant defeasance will be applicable to each series of debt securities denominated in U.S. dollars and has a fixed rate of interest and will apply to other series of debt securities if we so specify in prospectus supplement. (Section 1301)

Full Defeasance

If there is a change in U.S. federal tax law, as described below, we can legally release ourselves from any payment or o obligations on the debt securities, called full defeasance, if we put in place the following other arrangements for holders to be

- We must deposit in trust for the benefit of all holders of the debt securities a combination of money and notes or bon full faith and credit of the U.S. government) that will generate enough cash to make interest, principal and any other the debt securities on their various due dates.

- There must be a change in current U.S. federal tax law or an IRS ruling that lets us make the above deposit without cholders to be taxed on the debt securities any differently than if we did not make the deposit and just repaid the debt ourselves. (Under current federal tax law, the deposit and our legal release from the obligations pursuant to the debt would be treated as though we took back your debt securities and gave you your share of the cash and notes or bonds trust. In that event, you could recognize gain or loss on the debt securities you give back to us.)
- We must deliver to the trustee a legal opinion of our counsel confirming the tax law change described above. (Sectio 1304)

If we ever did accomplish full defeasance, as described above, you would have to rely solely on the trust deposit for repetebt securities. You could not look to us for repayment in the unlikely event of any shortfall.

Covenant Defeasance

Under current U.S. federal tax law, we can make the same type of deposit as described above and we will be released for restrictive covenants under the debt securities that may be described in the prospectus supplement. This is called covenant dethat event, you would lose the protection of these covenants but would gain the protection of having money and U.S. government agency notes or bonds set aside in trust to repay the debt securities. In order to achieve covenant defeasance the following:

- · Covenants applicable to the series of debt securities and described in the prospectus supplement.
- Any events of default relating to breach of those covenants.

If we accomplish covenant defeasance, you can still look to us for repayment of the debt securities if there were a short deposit. In fact, if one of the remaining events of default occurred (such as a bankruptcy) and the debt securities become imm and payable, there may be such a shortfall. (Sections 1303 and 1304)

Events of Default

You will have special rights if an event of default occurs and is not cured, as described later in this subsection.

What Is An Event of Default? The term "Event of Default" means any of the following:

- We do not pay the principal of or any premium on a debt security within 5 days of its due date.
- We do not pay interest on a debt security within 30 days of its due date.
- · We do not deposit money in a separate account, known as a sinking fund, within 5 days of its due date.
- We remain in breach of any covenant or warranty of the senior debt indenture for 60 days after we receive a notice of stating we are in breach. The notice must be sent by either the trustee or holders of 25% of the principal amount of do of the affected series.
- We file for bankruptcy or certain other events of bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization occur.
- Any other event of default described in the prospectus supplement occurs. (Section 501)

Remedies If an Event of Default Occurs. If an event of default occurs, the trustee will have special duties. In that situation will be obligated to use those of its rights and powers under the senior debt indenture, and to use the same degree of care and so, that a prudent person would use in that situation in conducting his or her own affairs. If an event of default has occurred a been cured, the trustee or the holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the debt securities of the affected series may decl principal amount (or, in the case of original issue discount securities, the portion of the principal amount that is specified in the affected debt security) of all the debt securities of that series to be due and immediately payable. This is called a declaration of maturity. However, a declaration of acceleration of maturity may be cancelled, but only before a judgment or decree based acceleration has been obtained, by the holders of at least a majority in principal amount of the debt securities of the affected series and the provided that all other defaults have been cured and all payment obligations have been made current. (Section 502)

You should read carefully the prospectus supplement relating to any series of debt securities which are original issue di securities for the particular provisions relating to acceleration of the maturity of a portion of the principal amount of original securities upon the occurrence of an event of default and its continuation.

Except in cases of default, where the trustee has the special duties described above, the trustee is not required to take an the senior debt indenture at the request of any holders unless the holders offer the trustee reasonable protection from expense called an indemnity. - · interest and yield rates in the market; and
- the time remaining until (a) you can exchange your indexed securities for the reference property, (b) we can call the securities and (c) the indexed securities mature.

These factors will influence the price that you will receive if you sell your indexed securities prior to maturity. For exar have to sell your indexed securities at a substantial discount from the issue price if the market price of the reference property not sufficiently above the price of the reference property at pricing.

You cannot predict the future performance of an index or an indexed security based on its historical performance.

The Issuer of Reference Property Could Take Actions That May Adversely Affect an Indexed Security

The issuer of a stock or other security that serves as the reference property or as part of the reference property for an individual will, unless otherwise provided in the pricing supplement, have no involvement in the offer and sale of the indexed security a obligations to the holder of the indexed security. The issuer may take actions, such as a merger or sale of assets, without regard interests of the holders of our indexed securities. Any of these actions could adversely affect the value of a security indexed to property.

The issuer of the reference property is not involved in the offering of the indexed securities in any way and has no oblig consider your interest as owner of these indexed securities in taking any corporate actions that might affect the value of your None of the money you pay for an indexed security will go to a third-party issuer.

An Indexed Security May Be Linked to a Volatile Index, Which Could Hurt Your Investment

Certain indices are highly volatile, which means that their value may change significantly, up or down, over a short per The expected principal amount payable at maturity, the amount of interest payable on an interest payment date, the cash valu settlement value of a physically settled debt security may vary substantially from time to time. Because the amount payable of security is generally calculated based on the value of the relevant index on a specified date or over a limited period of time, v index increases the risk that the return on the indexed securities may be adversely affected by a fluctuation in the level of the index.

The volatility of an index may be affected by political or economic events, including governmental actions, or by the acparticipants in the relevant markets. Any of these could adversely affect the value of an indexed security.

An Index to Which a Security is Linked Could Be Changed or Become Unavailable

Certain indices reference several different currencies, commodities, securities or other financial instruments. The compinion index typically reserves the right to alter the composition of the index and the manner in which the value of the index is calculateration may result in a decrease in the value of or return on an indexed security which is linked to such index.

An index may become unavailable due to such factors as war, natural disasters, cessation of publication of the index, or or disruption in trading in the currency or currencies, commodity or commodities, security or securities or other financial instruments comprising or underlying such index. If an index becomes unavailable, the determination of the amount payable security may be delayed or an alternative method may be used to determine the value of the unavailable index. Alternative m valuation are generally intended to produce a value similar to the value resulting from reference to the relevant index. However, unlikely that such alternative methods of valuation will produce values identical to those which would be produced were the relevant index to be used. An alternative method of valuation may result in a decrease in the value of or return on ar security.

Certain indexed securities are linked to indices which are not commonly utilized or have been recently developed. The trading history may make it difficult to anticipate the volatility or other risks to which such a security is subject. In addition, the less trading in such indices or instruments underlying such indices, which could increase the volatility of such indices and devalue of or return on indexed securities relating to them.

You Have No Rights With Respect to the Reference Property

As an owner of indexed securities, you will not have voting rights or the right to receive dividends or other distributions rights with respect to reference property.

We May Engage in Hedging Activities that Could Adversely Affect the Value of an Indexed Security

In order to hedge an exposure on a particular indexed security, we may, directly or through subsidiaries of AIG, enter in transactions involving the currencies, commodities, securities, or other financial instruments that underlie the index for that s derivative instruments, such as options, on those currencies, commodities, securities, or other financial instruments. A currency supplement may include historical exchange rates for currency. Information concerning exchange rates is furnished as a matter of information only. You should not regard such intindicative of the range of or trends in fluctuations in currency exchange rates that may occur in the future.

An Investment in a Non-U.S. Dollar Debt Security Involves Currency-Related Risks

If you invest in debt securities that are denominated in a currency other than U.S. dollars, your investment may be subjecting significant risks that are not associated with a similar investment in a debt security denominated in U.S. dollars. These risks it example, the possibility of significant changes in rates of exchange between the U.S. dollar and the various foreign currencies currencies and the possibility of the imposition or modification of foreign exchange controls by either the U.S. or foreign government and political events and the supply of and derelevant currencies.

Changes in Currency Exchange Rates Can Be Volatile and Unpredictable

In recent years, rates of exchange between the U.S. dollar and many other currencies have been highly volatile, and this be expected to continue. Fluctuations in currency exchange rates could adversely affect an investment in a debt security with currency other than dollars. Depreciation of the specified currency against the U.S. dollar could result in a decrease in the dol value of payments on the debt security, including the principal payable at maturity or the settlement value payable upon exercitum could cause the market value of the debt security to fall. Depreciation of the specified currency against the U.S. dollar colloss to the investor on a U.S. dollar basis.

Government Policy Can Adversely Affect Currency Exchange Rates and an Investment in a Non-U.S. Dollar Debt Sec

Currency exchange rates can either float or be fixed by sovereign governments. From time to time, governments use a vechniques, such as intervention by a country's central bank or imposition of regulatory controls or taxes, to affect the exchange their currencies. Governments may also issue a new currency to replace an existing currency or alter the exchange rate or excharacteristics by devaluation or revaluation of a currency. Thus, a special risk in purchasing non-U.S. dollar-denominated do is that their U.S. dollar-equivalent yields or payouts could be significantly and unpredictably affected by governmental action absence of governmental action directly affecting currency exchange rates, political or economic developments in the country specified currency for a non-dollar debt security or elsewhere could lead to significant and sudden changes in the exchanges the dollar and the specified currency. These changes could affect the U.S. dollar equivalent value of the debt security participants in the global currency markets move to buy or sell the specified currency or U.S. dollars in reaction to those developments are the specified currency or U.S. dollars in reaction to those developments.

Governments have imposed from time to time and may in the future impose exchange controls or other conditions with exchange or transfer of a specified currency that could affect exchange rates as well as the availability of a specified currency security at its maturity or on any other payment date. In addition, the ability of a holder to move currency freely out of the country in which payments are made, or to convert the currency at a determined market rate could be limited by governmental actions.

Non-U.S. Dollar Debt Securities Will Permit Us to Make Payments in Dollars if We Are Unable to Obtain the Specific

Debt securities payable in a currency other than U.S. dollars will provide that, if the other currency is not available to us the time when a payment on the debt securities comes due because of circumstances beyond our control, we will be entitled to payment in U.S. dollars. These circumstances could include the imposition of exchange controls or our inability to obtain the because of a disruption in the currency markets. If we made payment in U.S. dollars, the exchange rate we would use may be substantially before the payment date. As a result, the amount of dollars an investor would receive on the payment date may recurrency market conditions at the time of payment.

Payments Due in Other Currencies May Be Made From an Overseas Bank

Currently, there are limited facilities in the United States for conversion of U.S. dollars into foreign currencies, and vice Accordingly, payments on debt securities made in a specified currency other than U.S. dollars are likely to be made from an abank located in the country issuing the specified currency.

We Will Not Adjust Non-U.S. Dollar Debt Securities to Compensate for Changes in Currency Exchange Rates

Except as described in your prospectus supplement, we will not make any adjustment or change in the terms of a debt s payable in a currency other than U.S. dollars in the event of any change in exchange rates for that currency, whether in the event devaluation, revaluation or imposition of exchange or other regulatory controls or taxes or in the event of other developments currency, the U.S. dollar or any other currency. Consequently, investors in non-U.S. dollar debt securities will bear the risk the investment may be adversely affected by these types of events.

In a Lawsuit for Payment on a Non-Dollar Debt Security, an Investor May Bear Currency Exchange Risk

The debt securities we are offering will be governed by New York law. Under New York law, a New York state court r judgment on a debt security denominated in a currency other than U.S. dollars would be required to render the judgment in the currency; however, the judgment would be converted into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of entry of Consequently, in a lawsuit for payment on a debt security denominated in a currency other than U.S. dollars, investors would exchange risk until a New York state court judgment is entered, which could be a long time.

In courts outside of New York, investors may not be able to obtain a judgment in a specified currency other than U.S. dexample, a judgment for money in an action based on a non-U.S. dollar debt security in many other federal or state courts or be enforced in the United States only in U.S. dollars. The date used to determine the rate of conversion of the currency in wh particular security is denominated into U.S. dollars will depend upon various factors, including which court renders the judgr

LEGAL OWNERSHIP AND BOOK-ENTRY ISSUANCE

References to "AIG", "us," "we" or "our" in this section mean American International Group, Inc. and do not include the of American International Group, Inc. In this section, we describe special considerations that will apply to registered securities global — i.e., book-entry — form. First, we describe the difference between legal ownership and indirect ownership of regist securities. Then we describe special provisions that apply to global securities. When we use the term "securities" in this section the debt securities we may offer with this prospectus.

Who is the Legal Owner of a Registered Security?

Each debt security in registered form will be represented either by a certificate issued in definitive form to a particular is one or more global securities representing such securities. We refer to those who have securities registered in their own name books that we or the trustee maintain for this purpose, as the "holders" of those securities. These persons are the legal holders securities. We refer to those who, indirectly through others, own beneficial interests in securities that are not registered in the as indirect owners of those securities. As we discuss below, indirect owners are not legal holders, and investors in securities is entry form or in street name will be indirect owners.

Book-Entry Owners

Unless otherwise noted in your prospectus supplement, we will issue each security in book-entry form only. This means will be represented by one or more global securities registered in the name of a financial institution that holds them as deposit of other financial institutions that participate in the depositary's book-entry system. These participating institutions, in turn, hinterests in the securities on behalf of themselves or their customers.

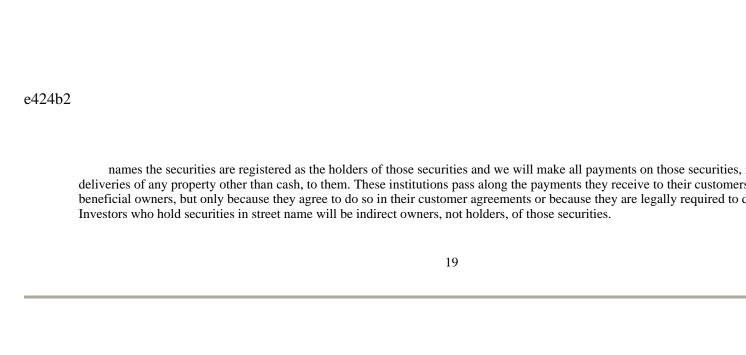

Under the senior debt indenture, only the person in whose name a security is registered on the records of the registrar is the holder of that security. Consequently, for securities issued in global form, we will recognize only the depositary described "— What is a Global Security?" as the holder of the securities and we will make all payments on the securities, including del property other than cash, to that depositary. The depositary passes along the payments it receives to its participants, which in payments along to their customers who are the beneficial owners. The depositary and its participants do so under agreements made with one another or with their customers; they are not obligated to do so under the terms of the securities.

As a result, investors will not own securities directly. Instead, they will own beneficial interests in a global security, thr broker or other financial institution that participates in the depositary's book-entry system or holds an interest through a partile long as the securities are issued in global form, investors will be indirect owners, and not holders, of the securities.

Street Name Owners

We may terminate an existing global security or issue securities initially in non-global form. In these cases, investors me hold their securities in their own names or in street name. Securities held by an investor in street name would be registered in bank, broker or other financial institution that the investor chooses, and the investor would hold only a beneficial interest in through an account he or she maintains at that institution.

For securities held in street name, we will recognize only the intermediary banks, brokers and other financial institution

Legal Holders

Our obligations, as well as the obligations of the trustee under the senior debt indenture and the obligations, if any, of a parties employed by us or the trustee, run only to the holders of the securities. We do not have obligations to investors who h interests in global securities, in street name or by any other indirect means. This will be the case whether an investor chooses indirect owner of a security or has no choice because we are issuing the securities only in global form.

For example, once we make a payment or give a notice to the holder, we have no further responsibility for that payment even if that holder is required, under agreements with depositary participants or customers or by law, to pass it along to the in but does not do so. Similarly, if we want to obtain the approval of the holders for any purpose — for example, to amend the sindenture for a series of securities or to relieve us of the consequences of a default or of our obligation to comply with a partiprovision of the indenture — we would seek the approval only from the holders, and not the indirect owners, of the relevant so Whether and how the holders contact the indirect owners is up to the holders.

When we refer to "you" in this prospectus, we mean all purchasers of the securities being offered by this prospectus, when the holders or indirect owners of those securities. When we refer to "your securities" in this prospectus, we mean the securities you will hold a direct or indirect interest.

Special Considerations for Indirect Owners

If you hold securities through a bank, broker or other financial institution, either in book-entry form or in street name, y check with your own institution to find out:

- how it handles securities payments and notices;
- whether it imposes fees or charges;
- how it would handle a request for the holders' consent, if ever required;
- whether and how you can instruct it to send you securities registered in your own name so you can be a holder, if that in the future;
- how it would exercise rights under the securities if there were a default or other event triggering the need for holders protect their interests; and
- if the securities are in book-entry form, how the depositary's rules and procedures will affect these matters.

What is a Global Security?

Unless otherwise noted in the applicable pricing supplement, we will issue each security in book-entry form only. Each issued in book-entry form will be represented by a global security that we deposit with and register in the name of one or mo institutions or clearing systems, or their nominees, which we select. A financial institution or clearing system that we select for this purpose is called the "depositary" for that security. A security will usually have only one depositary but it may have a series of securities will have one or more of the following as the depositaries:

• The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York, which is known as "DTC";

- Euroclear System, which is known as "Euroclear";
- Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, Luxembourg, which is known as "Clearstream"; and
- any other clearing system or financial institution named in the applicable prospectus supplement.

The depositaries named above may also be participants in one another's systems. Thus, for example, if DTC is the deposite global security, investors may hold beneficial interests in that security through Euroclear or Clearstream, as DTC participants depositary or depositaries for your securities will be named in your prospectus supplement; if none is named, the depositary or depositions are considered as a security of the deposition of the

A global security may represent one or any other number of individual securities. Generally, all securities represented b global security will have the same terms. We may, however, issue a global security that represents multiple securities of the s such as debt securities, that have different terms and are issued at different times. We call this kind of global security a maste security. Your prospectus supplement will not indicate whether your securities are represented by a master global security.

A global security may not be transferred to or registered in the name of anyone other than the depositary or its nominee special termination situations arise. We describe those situations below under "— Holder's Option to Obtain a Non-Global S Special Situations When a Global Security Will Be Terminated." As a result of these arrangements, the depositary, or its non the sole registered owner and holder of all securities represented by a global security, and investors will be permitted to own interests in a global security. Indirect interests must be held by means of an account with a broker, bank or other financial insturn has an account with the depositary or with another institution that does. Thus, an investor whose security is represented be security will not be a holder of the security, but only an indirect owner of an interest in the global security.

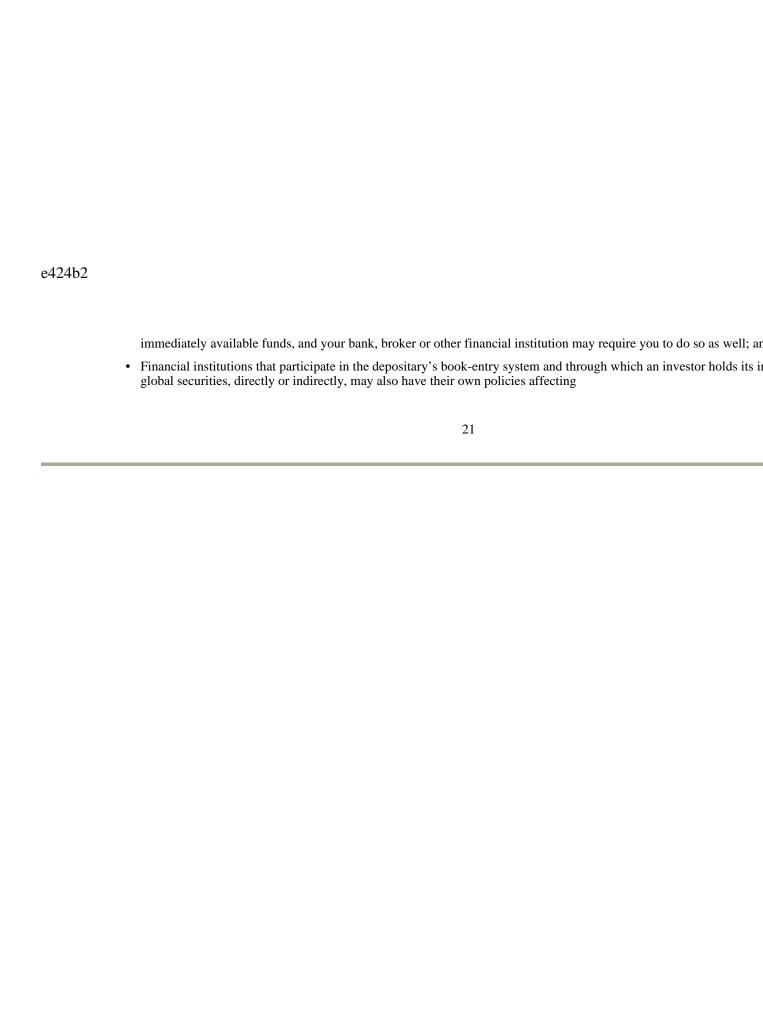

If the prospectus supplement for a particular security indicates that the security will be issued in global form only, then will be represented by a global security at all times unless and until the global security is terminated. We describe the situation this can occur below under "— Holder's Option to Obtain a Non- Global Security: Special Situations When a Global Security Terminated." If termination occurs, we may issue the securities through another book-entry clearing system or decide that the may no longer be held through any book-entry clearing system.

Special Considerations for Global Securities

As an indirect owner, an investor's rights relating to a global security will be governed by the account rules of the depo those of the investor's bank, broker, financial institution or other intermediary through which it holds its interest (e.g., Eurocl Clearstream, if DTC is the depositary), as well as general laws relating to securities transfers. We do not recognize this type of any intermediary as a holder of securities and instead deal only with the depositary that holds the global security.

If securities are issued only in the form of a global security, an investor should be aware of the following:

- An investor cannot cause the securities to be registered in his or her own name, and cannot obtain non-global certific her interest in the securities, except in the special situations we describe below;
- An investor will be an indirect holder and must look to his or her own bank, broker or other financial institution for particles and protection of his or her legal rights relating to the securities, as we describe above under "— Who owner of a Registered Security?";
- An investor may not be able to sell interests in the securities to some insurance companies and other institutions that by law to own their securities in non-book-entry form;
- An investor may not be able to pledge his or her interest in a global security in circumstances where certificates represecurities must be delivered to the lender or other beneficiary of the pledge in order for the pledge to be effective;
- The depositary's policies will govern payments, deliveries, transfers, exchanges, notices and other matters relating to interest in a global security, and those policies may change from time to time. We and the trustee will have no responsary aspect of the depositary's policies, actions or records of ownership interests in a global security. Neither we nor supervise the depositary in any way;
- · The depositary may require that those who purchase and sell interests in a global security within its book-entry syste payments, deliveries, transfers, exchanges, notices and other matters relating to the securities, and those policies may time to time. For example, if you hold an interest in a global security through Euroclear or Clearstream, when DTC i depositary, Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, may require those who purchase and sell interests in that security to use immediately available funds and comply with other policies and procedures, including deadlines for giving instransactions that are to be effected on a particular day. There may be more than one financial intermediary in the cha ownership for an investor. We do not monitor and are not responsible for the policies or actions or records of owners of any of those intermediaries.

Holder's Option to Obtain a Non-Global Security: Special Situations When a Global Security Will Be Terminated

If we issue any series of securities in book-entry form but we choose to give the beneficial owners of that series the right non-global securities, any beneficial owner entitled to obtain non-global securities may do so by following the applicable pro depositary, any transfer agent or registrar for that series and that owner's bank, broker or other financial institution through we owner holds its beneficial interest in the securities. If you are entitled to request a non-global certificate and wish to do so, you allow sufficient lead time to enable us or our agent to prepare the requested certificate.

In addition, in a few special situations described below, a global security will be terminated and interests in it will be excertificates in non-global form representing the securities it represented. After that exchange, the choice of whether to hold the directly or in street name will be up to the investor. Investors must consult their own banks, brokers or other financial institut out how to have their interests in a global security transferred on termination to their own names, so that they will be holders described the rights of holders and street name investors above under "— Who is the Legal Owner of a Registered Security?"

The special situations for termination of a global security are as follows:

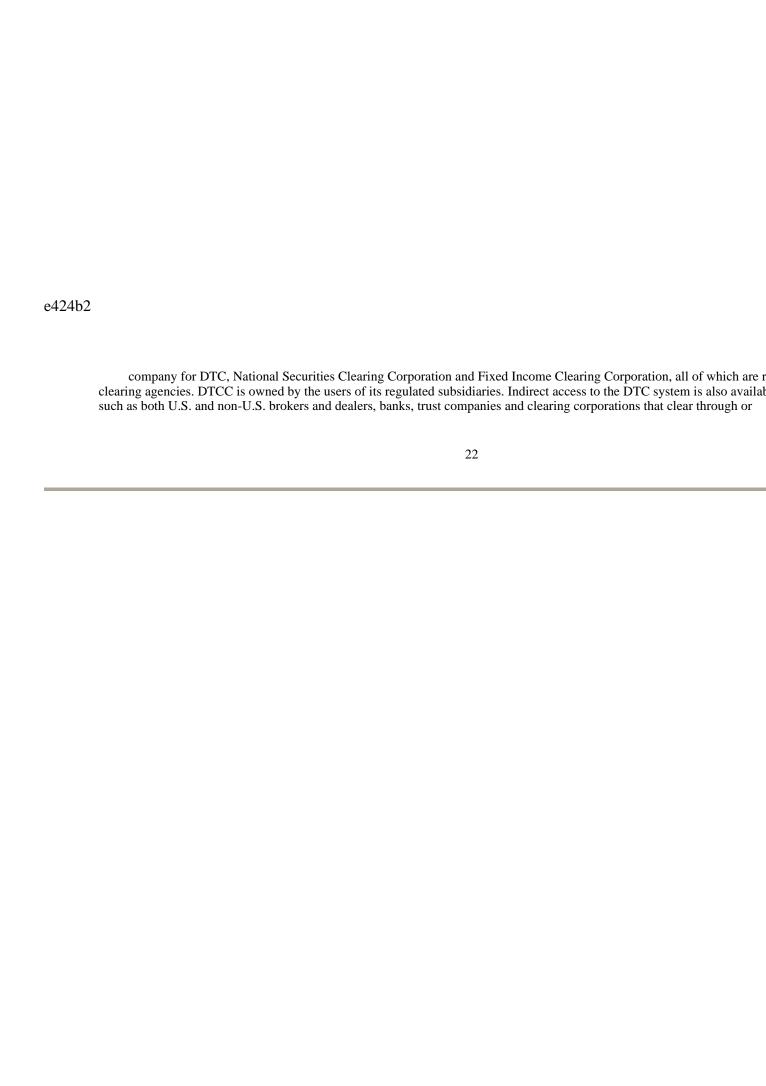

- if the depositary notifies us that it is unwilling, unable or no longer qualified to continue as depositary for that global
- if we determine and notify the trustee that we wish to terminate that global security; or
- · if an event of default has occurred with regard to these securities and has not been cured or waived.

If a global security is terminated, only the depositary, and not we or the trustee for any securities, is responsible for decreases of the institutions in whose names the securities represented by the global security will be registered and, therefore, wholders of those securities.

Considerations Relating to DTC

DTC has informed us as follows:

DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the Uniform Commercial Code and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Ex 1934. DTC holds securities that DTC participants deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among D participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transpledges between DTC participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. DTC include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the I maintain a custodial relationship with a DTC participant, either directly or indirectly. The rules applicable to DTC and DTC pare on file with the SEC.

Purchases of securities within the DTC system must be made by or through DTC participants, which will receive a cred securities on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each actual acquirer of new securities is in turn to be recorded on the indirect participants' records, including Euroclear and Clearstream. Transfers of ownership interests in the securities are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of participants acting on behalf of beneficial owners. Beneficial owners will not a certificates representing their ownership interests in the securities, except in the limited circumstances described above under Option to Obtain a Non-Global Security: Special Situations When a Global Security Will Be Terminated."

To facilitate subsequent transfers, the securities deposited by direct participants with DTC will be registered in the name partnership nominee, Cede & Co., or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposecurities with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. or such other nominee will not change the beneficial ov securities. DTC has no knowledge of the actual beneficial owners of the securities. DTC's records reflect only the identity of participants to whose accounts the securities are credited, which may or may not be the beneficial owners. The participants are for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Redemption notices will be sent to DTC's nominee, Cede & Co., as the registered holder of the securities. If less than a securities are being redeemed, DTC will determine the amount of the interest of each direct participant to be redeemed in acc its then current procedures.

In instances in which a vote is required, neither DTC nor Cede & Co. will itself consent or vote with respect to the secu its usual procedures, DTC would mail an omnibus proxy to the relevant trustee as soon as possible after the record date. The proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those direct participants to whose accounts such securities are cred record date (identified in a listing attached to the omnibus proxy).

Distribution payments on the securities will be made by the relevant trustee to DTC. DTC's usual practice is to credit d participants' accounts on the relevant payment date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records un reason to believe that it will not receive payments on such payment date. Payments by DTC participants to beneficial owners governed by standing instructions and customary practices and will be the responsibility of such participants and not of DTC trustee or us, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of distribution the responsibility of the relevant trustee, and disbursements of such payments to the beneficial owners are the responsibility of indirect participants.

Considerations Relating to Euroclear and Clearstream

Euroclear and Clearstream are securities clearance systems in Europe. Both systems clear and settle securities transaction their participants through electronic, book-entry delivery of securities against payment.

Euroclear and Clearstream may be depositaries for a global security. In addition, if DTC is the depositary for a global security as participants in DTC.

As long as any global security is held by Euroclear or Clearstream, as depositary, you may hold an interest in the global through an organization that participates, directly or indirectly, in Euroclear or Clearstream. If Euroclear or Clearstream is the for a global security and there is no depositary in the United States, you will not be able to hold interests in that global security.

securities clearance system in the United States.

Payments, deliveries, transfers, exchanges, notices and other matters relating to the securities made through Euroclear of must comply with the rules and procedures of those systems. Those systems could change their rules and procedures at any time no control over those systems or their participants and we take no responsibility for their activities. Transactions between par Euroclear or Clearstream, on the one hand, and participants in DTC, on the other hand, when DTC is the depositary, would at to DTC's rules and procedures.

Special Timing Considerations Relating to Transactions in Euroclear and Clearstream

Investors will be able to make and receive through Euroclear and Clearstream payments, deliveries, transfers, exchange other transactions involving any securities held through those systems only on days when those systems are open for business systems may not be open for business on days when banks, brokers and other financial institutions are open for business in the States.

In addition, because of time-zone differences, U.S. investors who hold their interests in the securities through these syst to transfer their interests, or to receive or make a payment or delivery or exercise any other right with respect to their interests particular day may find that the transaction will not be effected until the next business day in Luxembourg or Brussels, as apprinted investors who wish to exercise rights that expire on a particular day may need to act before the expiration date. In addition, in hold their interests through both DTC and Euroclear or Clearstream may need to make special arrangements to finance any pressure of their interests between the U.S. and European clearing systems, and those transactions may settle later than would be transactions within one clearing system.

Temporary and Permanent Bearer Global Debt Securities

If we issue debt securities in bearer form, and unless otherwise noted in the applicable pricing supplement, all debt secusame series and kind will initially be represented by a temporary bearer global debt security, which we will deposit with a condepositary for Euroclear and Clearstream. Euroclear and Clearstream will credit the account of each of their subscribers with debt securities the subscriber purchases. We will promise to exchange the temporary bearer global debt security for a perman global debt security, which we will deliver to the common depositary upon the later of the following two dates:

- the date that is 40 days after the later of (a) the completion of the distribution of the debt securities as determined by underwriter, dealer or agent and (b) the closing date for the sale of the debt securities by us; we may extend this date below under "— Extensions For Further Issuances"; and
- the date on which Euroclear and Clearstream provide us or our agent with the necessary tax certificates described be U.S. Tax Certificate Required."

Unless we say otherwise in the applicable prospectus supplement, owners of beneficial interests in a permanent bearer security will be able to exchange those interests at their option, in whole but not in part, for:

- non-global debt securities in bearer form with interest coupons attached, if applicable; or
- non-global debt securities in registered form without coupons attached.

A beneficial owner will be able to make this exchange by giving us or our designated agent 60 days' prior written notic accordance with the terms of the debt securities.

Extensions For Further Issuances

Without the consent of the trustee, any holders or any other person, we may issue additional debt securities identical to from time to time. If we issue additional debt securities before the date on which we would otherwise be required to exchang temporary bearer global debt security representing the prior issue for a permanent bearer global debt security as described ab will be extended until the 40th day after the completion of the distribution and the closing, whichever is later, for the addition securities. Extensions of this kind may be repeated if we sell additional identical debt securities. As a result of these extensions interests in the temporary bearer global debt security may not be exchanged for interests in a permanent bearer global duntil the 40th day after the additional debt securities have been distributed and sold.

U.S. Tax Certificate Required

We will not pay or deliver interest or other amounts in respect of any portion of a temporary bearer global debt security until Euroclear or Clearstream delivers to us or our agent a tax certificate with regard to the owners of the beneficial interests of the global debt security or a debt security in any other form. Also, we will not exchange any portion of a temporary bearer security for a permanent bearer global debt security unless and until we receive from Euroclear or Clearstream a tax certificate to the owners of the beneficial interests in the portion to be exchanged. In each case, this tax certificate must state that each of the relevant owners

- is not a United States person, as defined below under "- Limitations on Issuance of Bearer Debt Securities;"
- is a foreign branch of a United States financial institution purchasing for its own account or for resale, or is a United who acquired the debt security through a financial institution of this kind and who holds the debt security through the institution on the date of certification, provided in either case that the financial institution provides a certificate to us distributor selling the debt security to it stating that it agrees to comply with the requirements of Section 165(j)(3)(A) the U.S. Internal Revenue Code and the U.S. Treasury Regulations under that Section; or
- is a financial institution holding for purposes of resale during the "restricted period," as defined in U.S. Treasury Reg Section 1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D)(7). A financial institution of this kind, whether or not it is also described in either of the bullet points, must certify that it has not acquired the debt security for purposes of resale directly or indirectly to a Unperson or to a person within the United States or its possessions.

The tax certificate must be signed by an authorized person satisfactory to us.

No one who owns an interest in a temporary bearer global debt security will receive payment or delivery of any amount respect of its interest, and will not be permitted to exchange its interest for an interest in a permanent bearer global debt security in any other form, unless we or our agent have received the required tax certificate on its behalf.

Special requirements and restrictions imposed by United States federal tax laws and regulations will apply to bearer del We describe these below under "— Limitations on Issuance of Bearer Debt Securities."

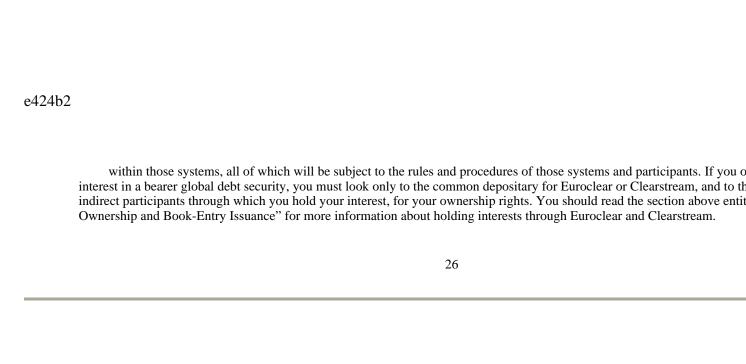

Legal Ownership of Bearer Debt Securities

Debt securities in bearer form are not registered in any name. Whoever is the bearer of the certificate representing a debt bearer form is the legal owner of that debt security. Legal title and ownership of bearer debt securities will pass by delivery of certificates representing the debt securities. Thus, when we use the term "holder" in this prospectus with regard to bearer debt we mean the bearer of those debt securities.

The common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream will be the bearer, and thus the holder and legal owner, of both and permanent bearer global debt securities described above. Investors in those debt securities will own beneficial interests in securities represented by those global debt securities; they will be indirect beneficial owners, not holders or legal owners, of securities.

As long as the common depositary is the bearer of any bearer debt security in global form, the common depositary will the sole legal owner and holder of the debt securities represented by the bearer debt security in global form. Ownership of beinterests in any bearer debt security in global form will be shown on records maintained by Euroclear or Clearstream, as applied the common depositary on their behalf, and by the direct and indirect participants in their systems, and ownership interests catransferred only through those records. We will pay any amounts owing with respect to a bearer global debt security only to the depositary.

Neither we, the trustee nor any of our agents will recognize any owner of indirect interests as a holder or legal owner. Note the trustee or any of our agents have any responsibility for the ownership records or practices of Euroclear or Clearstream, the depositary or any direct or indirect participants in those systems or for any payments, transfers, deliveries, notices or other transfers.

Payment and Exchange of Non-Global Debt Bearer Securities

Payments and deliveries owing on non-global bearer debt securities will be made, in the case of interest payments, only of the relevant coupon after the coupon is surrendered to the paying agent. In all other cases, payments and deliveries will be the holder of the certificate representing the relevant debt security after the certificate is surrendered to the paying agent. The for bearer debt securities will be named in the applicable prospectus supplement.

Non-global bearer debt securities, with all unmatured coupons relating to the debt securities, if any, may be exchanged aggregate amount of registered debt securities of like kind. However, we will not issue bearer debt securities in exchange for securities.

Replacement certificates and coupons for non-global bearer debt securities will not be issued in lieu of any lost, stolen, mutilated certificates and coupons unless we and our transfer agent receive evidence of the loss, theft, destruction or mutilatic indemnity against liabilities, satisfactory to us and our agent. Upon redemption or any other settlement before the stated matter expiration, as well as upon any exchange, of a non-global bearer debt security, the holder will be required to surrender all unrecoupons to us or our designated agent. If any unmatured coupons are not surrendered, we or our agent may deduct the amount relating to those coupons from the amount otherwise payable or deliverable or we or our agent may demand an indemnity againstifactory to us and our agent.

We may make payments, deliveries and exchanges in respect of bearer debt securities in global form in any manner accand the depositary.

Notices

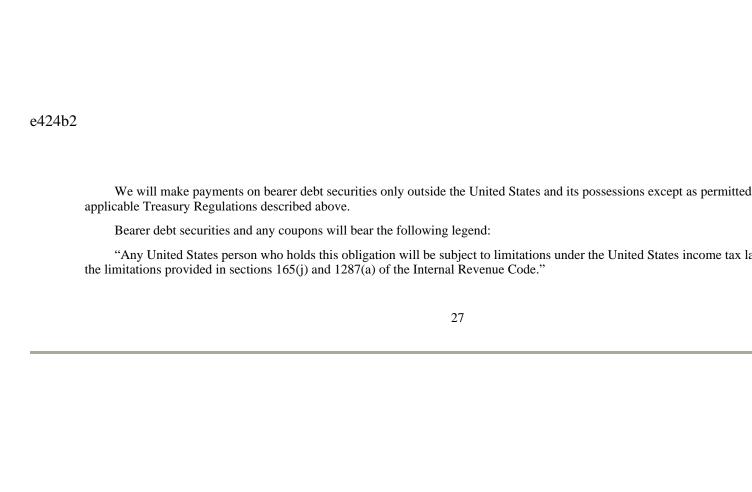

If we are required to give notice to the holders of bearer debt securities, we will do so in the manner prescribed by any exchange on which the bearer debt securities are listed or, if the bearer debt securities are not listed on a securities exchange, notice in the manner prescribed by the bearer debt securities. If the bearer debt securities do not prescribe the manner for give then we will determine, in our sole judgment, the manner in which we shall give notice.

We may give any required notice with regard to bearer debt securities in global form to the common depositary for the in accordance with its applicable procedures.

Limitations on Issuance of Bearer Debt Securities

In compliance with United States federal income tax laws and regulations, bearer debt securities, including bearer debt global form, will not be offered, sold, resold or delivered, directly or indirectly, in the United States or its possessions or to U persons, as defined below, except as otherwise permitted by U.S. Treasury Regulations Section 1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D). Any und dealers or agents participating in the offerings of bearer debt securities, directly or indirectly, must agree that they will not, in with the original issuance of any bearer debt securities or during the restricted period applicable under the Treasury Regulation earlier, offer, sell, resell or deliver, directly or indirectly, any bearer debt securities in the United States or its possessions or to States persons, other than as permitted by the applicable Treasury Regulations described above.

In addition, any underwriters, dealers or agents must have procedures reasonably designed to ensure that their employed who are directly engaged in selling bearer debt securities are aware of the above restrictions on the offering, sale, resale or debearer debt securities.

The United States federal income tax consequences of owning debt s are due to mature more than 30 years from their date of issue will be discussed in the applicable prospectus supplement.

United States Holders

Payments of Interest

Except as described below in the case of interest on an original issue discount debt security that is not qualified stated in defined below under "— Original Issue Discount," you will be taxed on any interest on your debt security, whether payable is or a non-U.S. dollar currency, including a composite currency or basket of currencies other than U.S. dollars, as ordinary including you receive the interest or when it accrues, depending on your method of accounting for tax purposes.

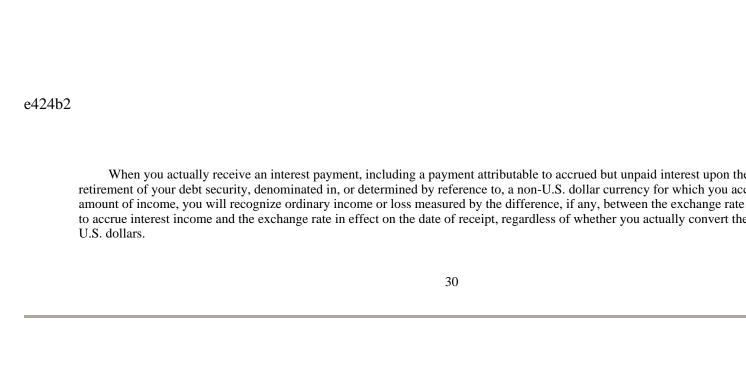

Cash Basis Taxpayers

If you are a taxpayer that uses the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting for tax purposes and you receipt payment that is denominated in, or determined by reference to, a non-U.S. dollar currency, you must recognize income equal U.S. dollar value of the interest payment, based on the exchange rate in effect on the date of receipt, regardless of whether you convert the payment into U.S. dollars.

Accrual Basis Taxpayers

If you are a taxpayer that uses an accrual method of accounting for tax purposes, you may determine the amount of incorrecognize with respect to an interest payment denominated in, or determined by reference to, a non-U.S. dollar currency by u two methods. Under the first method, you will determine the amount of income accrued based on the average exchange rate in the interest accrual period or, with respect to an accrual period that spans two taxable years, that part of the period within the

If you elect the second method, you would determine the amount of income accrued on the basis of the exchange rate in last day of the accrual period, or, in the case of an accrual period that spans two taxable years, the exchange rate in effect on the part of the period within the taxable year. Additionally, under this second method, if you receive a payment of interest wi business days of the last day of your accrual period or taxable year, you may instead translate the interest accrued into U.S. d exchange rate in effect on the day that you actually receive the interest payment. If you elect the second method, it will apply instruments that you hold at the beginning of the first taxable year to which the election applies and to all debt instruments the subsequently acquire. You may not revoke this election without the consent of the United States Internal Revenue Service.

Original Issue Discount

If you own a debt security, other than a short-term debt security with a term of one year or less, it will be treated as an of discount debt security if the amount by which the debt security's stated redemption price at maturity exceeds its issue price is de minimis amount. Generally, a debt security's issue price will be the first price at which a substantial amount of debt security in the issue of which the debt security is a part is sold to persons other than bond houses, brokers, or similar persons or organ in the capacity of underwriters, placement agents, or wholesalers. A debt security's stated redemption price at maturity is the payments provided by the debt security that are not payments of qualified stated interest. Generally, an interest payment on a is qualified stated interest if it is one of a series of stated interest payments on a debt security that are unconditionally payable annually at a single fixed rate, with certain exceptions for lower rates paid during some periods, applied to the outstanding pr amount of the debt security. There are special rules for variable rate debt securities that are discussed below under "— Variab Securities."

In general, your debt security is not an original issue discount debt security if the amount by which its stated redemption maturity exceeds its issue price is less than the de minimis amount of 0.25 percent of its stated redemption price at maturity in the number of complete years to its maturity. Your debt security will have de minimis original issue discount if the amount of less than the de minimis amount. If your debt security has de minimis original issue discount, you must include the de minimis income as stated principal payments are made on the debt security, unless you make the election described below under "— I Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount." You can determine the includible amount with respect to each such payment by the total amount of your debt security's de minimis original issue discount by a fraction equal to:

- the amount of the principal payment made divided by:
- the stated principal amount of the debt security.

Generally, if your original issue discount debt security matures more than one year from its date of issue, you must incl issue discount in income before you receive cash attributable to that income. The amount of original issue discount that you income is calculated using a constant-yield method, and generally you will include increasingly greater amounts of original is in income over the life of your debt security. More specifically, you can calculate the amount of original issue discount that y include in income by adding the daily portions of original issue discount with respect to your original issue discount debt sec day during the taxable year or portion of the taxable year that you hold your original issue discount debt security. You can de daily portion by allocating to each day in any accrual period a pro rata portion of the original issue discount allocable to that You may select an accrual period of any length with respect to your original issue discount debt security and you may vary the each accrual period over the term of your original issue discount debt security. However, no accrual period may be longer that and each scheduled payment of interest or principal on the original issue discount debt security must occur on either the first an accrual period.

You can determine the amount of original issue discount allocable to an accrual period by:

- multiplying your original issue discount debt security's adjusted issue price at the beginning of the accrual period by security's yield to maturity; and then
- subtracting from this figure the sum of the payments of qualified stated interest on your debt security allocable to the period.

You must determine the original issue discount debt security's yield to maturity on the basis of compounding at the close subtracting any payments previously made on your original issue discount debt security that were not qualified stated payments.

If an interval between payments of qualified stated interest on your original issue discount debt security contains more to accrual period, then, when you determine the amount of original issue discount allocable to an accrual period, you must alloc of qualified stated interest payable at the end of the interval, including any qualified stated interest that is payable on the first accrual period immediately following the interval, pro rata to each accrual period in the interval based on their relative length you must increase the adjusted issue price at the beginning of each accrual period in the interval by the amount of any qualificant interest that has accrued prior to the first day of the accrual period but that is not payable until the end of the interval. You may amount of original issue discount allocable to an initial short accrual period by using any reasonable method if all other accrue other than a final short accrual period, are of equal length.

The amount of original issue discount allocable to the final accrual period is equal to the difference between:

- the amount payable at the maturity of your debt security, other than any payment of qualified stated interest; and
- your debt security's adjusted issue price as of the beginning of the final accrual period.

Acquisition Premium

If you purchase your debt security for an amount that is less than or equal to the sum of all amounts, other than qualifie interest, payable on your debt security after the purchase date but is greater than the amount of your debt security's adjusted it determined above, the excess is acquisition premium. If you do not make the election described below under "— Election to Interest as Original Issue Discount," then you must reduce the daily portions of original issue discount by a fraction equal to:

- the excess of your adjusted basis in the debt security immediately after purchase over the adjusted issue price of the divided by:
- the excess of the sum of all amounts payable, other than qualified stated interest, on the debt security after the purcha the debt security's adjusted issue price.

Pre-Issuance Accrued Interest

An election may be made to decrease the issue price of your debt security by the amount of pre-issuance accrued interest

- a portion of the initial purchase price of your debt security is attributable to pre-issuance accrued interest;
- the first stated interest payment on your debt security is to be made within one year of your debt security's issue date
- the payment will equal or exceed the amount of pre-issuance accrued interest.

If this election is made, a portion of the first stated interest payment will be treated as a return of the excluded pre-issua interest and not as an amount payable on your debt security.

Debt Securities Subject to Contingencies Including Optional Redemption

Your debt security is subject to a contingency if it provides for an alternative payment schedule or schedules applicable occurrence of a contingency or contingencies, other than a remote or incidental contingency, whether such contingency relate of interest or of principal. In such a case, you must determine the yield and maturity of your debt security by assuming that the will be made according to the payment schedule most likely to occur if:

- · the timing and amounts of the payments that comprise each payment schedule are known as of the issue date; and
- one of such schedules is significantly more likely than not to occur.

If there is no single payment schedule that is significantly more likely than not to occur, other than because of a mandat fund, you must include income on your debt security in accordance with the general rules that govern contingent payment ob These rules will be discussed in the applicable prospectus supplement.

Notwithstanding the general rules for determining yield and maturity, if your debt security is subject to contingencies, a or we have an unconditional option or options that, if exercised, would require payments to be made on the debt security undalternative payment schedule or schedules, then:

- in the case of an option or options that we may exercise, we will be deemed to exercise or not exercise an option or coptions in the manner that minimizes the yield on your debt security; and
- in the case of an option or options that you may exercise, you will be deemed to exercise or not exercise an option or of options in the manner that maximizes the yield on your debt security.

If both you and we hold options described in the preceding sentence, those rules will apply to each option in the order in may be exercised. You may determine the yield on your debt security for the purposes of those calculations by using any date your debt security may be redeemed or repurchased as the maturity date and the amount payable on the date that you chose in with the terms of your debt security as the principal amount payable at maturity.

If a contingency, including the exercise of an option, actually occurs or does not occur contrary to an assumption made the above rules then, except to the extent that a portion of your debt security is repaid as a result of this change in circumstant to determine the amount and accrual of original issue discount, you must redetermine the yield and maturity of your debt security gour debt security as having been retired and reissued on the date of the change in circumstances for an amount equal security's adjusted issue price on that date.

Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount

You may elect to include in gross income all interest that accrues on your debt security using the constant-yield method above, with the modifications described below. For purposes of this election, interest will include stated interest, original issu minimis original issue discount, market discount, de minimis market discount and unstated interest, as adjusted by any amort premium, described below under "— Debt Securities Purchased at a Premium," or acquisition premium.

If you make this election for your debt security, then, when you apply the constant-yield method:

- the issue price of your debt security will equal your cost;
- the issue date of your debt security will be the date you acquired it; and
- no payments on your debt security will be treated as payments of qualified stated interest.

Generally, this election will apply only to the debt security for which you make it; however, if the debt security has and premium, you will be deemed to have made an election to apply amortizable bond premium against interest for all debt instruments the interest on which is excludible from gross income, that you hold beginning of the taxable year to which the election applies or any taxable year thereafter. Additionally, if you make this elect market discount debt security, you will be treated as having made the election discussed below under "— Market Discount" to market discount in income currently over the life of all debt instruments that you currently own or later acquire. You may not

Variable Rate Debt Securities

Your debt security will be a variable rate debt security if:

- · your debt security's issue price does not exceed the total noncontingent principal payments by more than the lesser of
 - .015 multiplied by the product of the total noncontingent principal payments and the number of complete years to the issue date; or
 - 15 percent of the total noncontingent principal payments; and
- your debt security provides for stated interest, compounded or paid at least annually, only at:
 - one or more qualified floating rates;
 - a single fixed rate and one or more qualified floating rates;
 - a single objective rate; or
 - a single fixed rate and a single objective rate that is a qualified inverse floating rate.

Your debt security will have a variable rate that is a qualified floating rate if:

- variations in the value of the rate can reasonably be expected to measure contemporaneous variations in the cost of n borrowed funds in the currency in which your debt security is denominated; or
- the rate is equal to such a rate multiplied by either:
 - a fixed multiple that is greater than 0.65 but not more than 1.35; or
 - a fixed multiple greater than 0.65 but not more than 1.35, increased or decreased by a fixed rate; and
- the value of the rate on any date during the term of your debt security is set no earlier than three months prior to the which that value is in effect and no later than one year following that first day.

If your debt security provides for two or more qualified floating rates that are within 0.25 percentage points of each oth date or can reasonably be expected to have approximately the same values throughout the term of the debt security, the qualified together constitute a single qualified floating rate.

Your debt security will not have a qualified floating rate, however, if the rate is subject to certain restrictions (including governors, or other similar restrictions) unless such restrictions are fixed throughout the term of the debt security or are not restrictions.

Your debt security will have a variable rate that is a single objective rate if:

the rate is not a qualified floating rate;

expected to significantly affect the yield on the debt security.

the rate is determined using a single, fixed formula that is based on objective financial or economic information that the control of or unique to the circumstances of the issuer or a related party; and e424b2

• the value of the rate on any date during the term of your debt security is set no earlier than three months prior to the which that value is in effect and no later than one year following that first day.

Your debt security will not have a variable rate that is an objective rate, however, if it is reasonably expected that the average the rate during the first half of your debt security's term will be either significantly less than or significantly greater than the average during the final half of your debt security's term.

An objective rate as described above is a qualified inverse floating rate if:

- the rate is equal to a fixed rate minus a qualified floating rate and
- the variations in the rate can reasonably be expected to inversely reflect contemporaneous variations in the cost of ne funds.

Your debt security will also have a single qualified floating rate or an objective rate if interest on your debt security is s rate for an initial period of one year or less followed by either a qualified floating rate or an objective rate for a subsequent period either:

- the fixed rate and the qualified floating rate or objective rate have values on the issue date of the debt security that do more than 0.25 percentage points; or
- the value of the qualified floating rate or objective rate is intended to approximate the fixed rate.

In general, if your variable rate debt security provides for stated interest at a single qualified floating rate or objective rathose rates after a single fixed rate for an initial period, all stated interest on your debt security is qualified stated interest. In the amount of original issue discount, if any, is determined by using, in the case of a qualified floating rate or qualified inverse floating rate, or, for any other objective rate, a reflects the yield reasonably expected for your debt security.

If your variable rate debt security does not provide for stated interest at a single qualified floating rate or a single object also does not provide for interest payable at a fixed rate other than a single fixed rate for an initial period, you generally must interest and original issue discount accruals on your debt security by:

- determining a fixed rate substitute for each variable rate provided under your variable rate debt security;
- constructing the equivalent fixed rate debt instrument, using the fixed rate substitute described above;
- determining the amount of qualified stated interest and original issue discount with respect to the equivalent fixed rainstrument; and
- adjusting for actual variable rates during the applicable accrual period.

When you determine the fixed rate substitute for each variable rate provided under the variable rate debt security, you generate the value of each variable rate as of the issue date or, for an objective rate that is not a qualified inverse floating rate, a rate the reasonably expected yield on your debt security.

If your variable rate debt security provides for stated interest either at one or more qualified floating rates or at a qualifier floating rate, and also provides for stated interest at a single fixed rate other than at a single fixed rate for an initial period, you must determine interest and original issue discount accruals by using the method described in the previous paragraph. However, variable rate debt security will be treated, for purposes of the first three steps of the determination, as if your debt security has a qualified floating rate, or a qualified inverse floating rate, rather than the fixed rate. The qualified floating rate, or qualified floating rate, that replaces the fixed rate must be such that the fair market value of your variable rate debt security as of the is approximates the fair market value of an otherwise identical debt instrument that provides for the qualified floating rate, or quinverse floating rate, rather than the fixed rate.

Short-Term Debt Securities

In general, if you are an individual or other cash basis United States holder of a short-term debt security, you are not recaccrue original issue discount, as specially defined below for the purposes of this paragraph, for United States federal income unless you elect to do so (although it is possible that you may be required to include any stated interest in income as you rece are an accrual basis taxpayer, a taxpayer in a special class, including, but not limited to, a regulated investment compan trust fund, or a certain type of pass-through entity, or a cash basis taxpayer who so elects, you will be required to accrue origin discount on short-term debt securities on either a straight-line basis or under the constant-yield method, based on daily compound you are not required and do not elect to include original issue discount in income currently, any gain you realize on the sale of your short-term debt security will be ordinary income to the extent of the accrued original issue discount, which will be deter straight-line basis unless you make an election to accrue the original issue discount under the constant-yield method, through sale or retirement. However, if you are not required and do not elect to accrue original issue discount on your short-term debt you will be required to defer deductions for interest on borrowings allocable to your short-term debt securities in an amount not exceeding the deferruntil the deferred income is realized.

When you determine the amount of original issue discount subject to these rules, you must include all interest payments short-term debt security, including stated interest, in your short-term debt security's stated redemption price at maturity.

Non-U.S. Dollar Currency Original Issue Discount Debt Securities

If your original issue discount debt security is denominated in, or determined by reference to, a non-U.S. dollar currence determine original issue discount for any accrual period on your original issue discount debt security in the non-U.S. dollar ce then translate the amount of original issue discount into U.S. dollars in the same manner as stated interest accrued by an accruulated States holder, as described above under "— Payments of Interest." You may recognize ordinary income or loss when amount attributable to original issue discount in connection with a payment of interest or the sale or retirement of your debt sale.

Market Discount

You will be treated as if you purchased your debt security, other than a short-term debt security, at a market discount, a security will be a market discount debt security if:

- you purchase your debt security for less than its issue price as determined above; and
- the difference between the debt security's stated redemption price at maturity or, in the case of an original issue disconsecurity, the debt security's revised issue price, and the price you paid for your debt security is equal to or greater that of your debt security's stated redemption price at maturity or revised issue price, respectively, multiplied by the number complete years to the debt security's maturity. To determine the revised issue price of your debt security for these pure generally add any original issue discount that has accrued on your debt security to its issue price.

If your debt security's stated redemption price at maturity or, in the case of an original issue discount debt security, its price, exceeds the price you paid for the debt security by less than 0.25 percent multiplied by the number of complete years to security's maturity, the excess constitutes de minimis market discount, and the rules discussed below are not applicable to yo

You must treat any gain you recognize on the maturity or disposition of your market discount debt security as ordinary extent of the accrued market discount on your debt security. Alternatively, you may elect to include market discount in incomover the life of your debt security. If you make this election, it will apply to all debt instruments with market discount that yo or after the first day of the first taxable year to which the election applies. You may not revoke this election without the consequence of the security and do not make this election, you will go required to defer deductions for interest on borrowings allocable to your debt security in an amount not exceeding the accrued discount on your debt security until the maturity or disposition of your debt security.

You will accrue market discount on your market discount debt security on a straight-line basis unless you elect to accru discount using a constant-yield method. If you make this election, it will apply only to the debt security with respect to which and you may not revoke it.

Debt Securities Purchased at a Premium

If you purchase your debt security for an amount in excess of its principal amount, you may elect to treat the excess as a bond premium. If you make this election, you will reduce the amount required to be included in your income each year with a interest on your debt security by the amount of amortizable bond premium allocable to that year, based on your debt security maturity. If your debt security is denominated in, or determined by reference to, a non-U.S. dollar currency, you will compute amortizable bond premium in units of the non-U.S. dollar currency and your amortizable bond premium will reduce your interest of the non-U.S. dollar currency. Gain or loss recognized that is attributable to changes in foreign currency exchange rate between the time your amortized bond premium offsets interest income and the time of the acquisition of your debt security i taxable as ordinary income or loss. If you make an election to amortize bond premium, it will apply to all debt instruments, o instruments the interest on which is excludible from gross income, that you hold at the beginning of the first taxable year to velection applies or that you thereafter acquire, and you may not revoke it without the consent of the United States Internal Re See also "— Original Issue Discount — Election to Treat All Interest as Original Issue Discount."

Purchase, Sale and Retirement of the Debt Securities

Your tax basis in your debt security will generally be the U.S. dollar cost, as defined below, of your debt security, adjust

- · adding any original issue discount or market discount previously included in income with respect to your debt securi
- subtracting any payments on your debt security that are not qualified stated interest payments and any amortizable be applied to reduce interest on your debt security.

If you purchase your debt security with non-U.S. dollar currency, the U.S. dollar cost of your debt security will generall U.S. dollar value of the purchase price on the date of purchase. However, if you are a cash basis taxpayer, or an accrual basis you so elect, and your debt security is traded on an established securities market, as defined in the applicable U.S. Treasury rouse. dollar cost of your debt security will be the U.S. dollar value of the purchase price on the settlement date of your purchase.

You will generally recognize gain or loss on the sale or retirement of your debt security equal to the difference between you realize on the sale or retirement and your tax basis in your debt security. If your debt security is sold or retired for an amon-U.S. dollar currency, the amount you realize will be the U.S. dollar value of such amount on the date the debt security is retired, except that in the case of a debt security that is traded on an established securities market, as defined in the applicable regulations, a cash basis taxpayer, or an accrual basis taxpayer that so elects, will determine the amount realized based on the value of the specified currency on the settlement date of the sale.

You will recognize capital gain or loss when you sell or retire your debt security, except to the extent:

- described above under "— Original Issue Discount Short-Term Debt Securities" or "— Market Discount;"
- attributable to accrued but unpaid interest;
- the rules governing contingent payment obligations apply; or
- attributable to changes in exchange rates as described below.

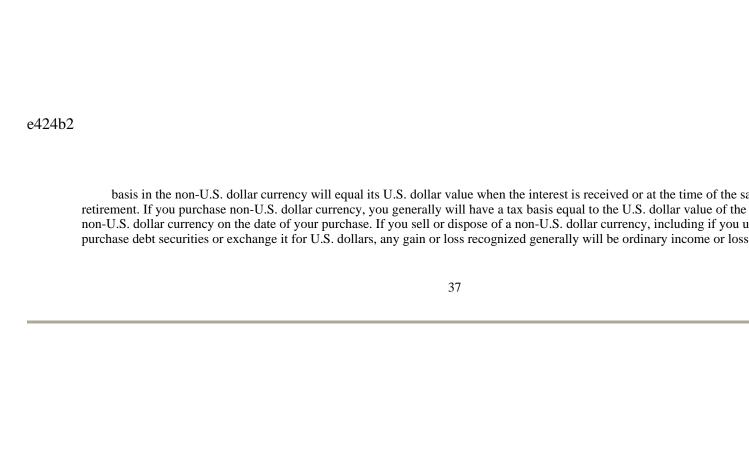

Capital gain of a noncorporate United States holder is generally taxed at preferential rates where the holder has a holdir greater than one year.

You must treat any portion of the gain or loss that you recognize on the sale or retirement of a debt security as ordinary loss to the extent attributable to changes in exchange rates. However, you take exchange gain or loss into account only to the

Taxation of Preferred Stock and Depositary Shares

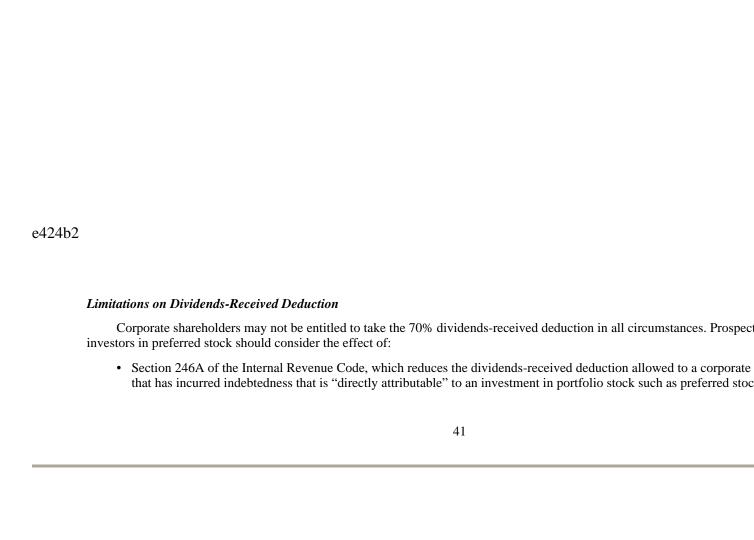

This subsection describes the material United States federal income tax consequences of owning, selling and disposing preferred stock and depositary shares that we may offer other than preferred stock that may be convertible into, or exercisable exchangeable for, securities or other property, which will be described in the applicable prospectus supplement. When we refuse stock in this subsection, we mean both preferred stock and depositary shares.

United States Holders

Distributions on Preferred Stock

You will be taxed on distributions on preferred stock as dividend income to the extent paid out of our current or accumulated profits for United States federal income tax purposes. If you are a noncorporate United States holder, dividends paid to you years beginning before January 1, 2011 will be taxable to you at a maximum rate of 15%, provided that you hold your shares stock for more than 60 days during the 121-day period beginning 60 days before the ex-dividend date (or, if the dividend is a period or periods aggregating over 366 days, provided that you hold your shares of preferred stock for more than 90 days dur 181-day period beginning 90 days before the ex-dividend date) and meet other holding period requirements. If you are taxed corporation, except as described in the next subsection, dividends would be eligible for the 70% dividends-received deduction

You generally will not be taxed on any portion of a distribution not paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and tax basis in the preferred stock is greater than or equal to the amount of the distribution. However, you would be required to retax basis (but not below zero) in the preferred stock by the amount of the distribution, and would recognize capital gain to the distribution exceeds your tax basis in the preferred stock. Further, if you are a corporation, you would not be entitled to a received deduction on this portion of a distribution.

- Section 246(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, which, among other things, disallows the dividends-received deduction any dividend on a share of stock that is held for less than the minimum holding period (generally at least 46 days dur period beginning on the date which is 45 days before the date on which such share becomes ex-dividend with respec dividend); and
- Section 1059 of the Internal Revenue Code, which, under certain circumstances, reduces the basis of stock for purpor calculating gain or loss in a subsequent disposition by the portion of any "extraordinary dividend" (as defined below eligible for the dividends-received deduction.

Extraordinary Dividends

If you are a corporate shareholder, you will be required to reduce your tax basis (but not below zero) in the preferred sto nontaxed portion of any "extraordinary dividend" if you have not held your stock for more than two years before the earliest such dividend is declared, announced, or agreed. Generally, the nontaxed portion of an extraordinary dividend is the amount income by operation of the dividends-received deduction. An extraordinary dividend on the preferred stock generally would that:

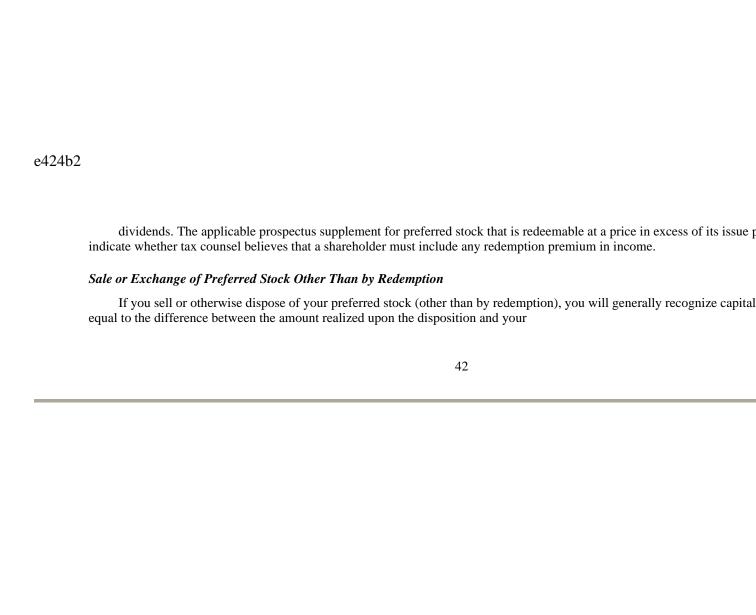

- equals or exceeds 5% of the corporate shareholder's adjusted tax basis in the preferred stock, treating all dividends h dividend dates within an 85 day period as one dividend; or
- exceeds 20% of the corporate shareholder's adjusted tax basis in the preferred stock, treating all dividends having ex dates within a 365 day period as one dividend.

In determining whether a dividend paid on the preferred stock is an extraordinary dividend, a corporate shareholder may substitute the fair market value of the stock for its tax basis for purposes of applying these tests if the fair market value as of the ex-dividend date is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury. An extraordinary dividend also include treated as a dividend in the case of a redemption that is either non-pro rata as to all stockholders or in partial liquidation of the regardless of the stockholder's holding period and regardless of the size of the dividend. Any part of the nontaxed portion of extraordinary dividend that is not applied to reduce the corporate shareholder's tax basis as a result of the limitation on reduce below zero would be treated as capital gain and would be recognized in the taxable year in which the extraordinary dividend

If you are a corporate shareholder, please consult your tax advisor with respect to the possible application of the extraor dividend provisions of the federal income tax law to your ownership or disposition of preferred stock in your particular circu

Redemption Premium

If we may redeem your preferred stock at a redemption price in excess of its issue price, the entire amount of the excess constitute an unreasonable redemption premium which will be treated as a constructive dividend. You generally must take the dividend into account each year in the same manner as original issue discount would be taken into account if the preferred state treated as an original issue discount debt security for United States federal income tax purposes. See "— Taxation of Debt See United States Holders — Original Issue Discount" above for a discussion of the special tax rules for original issue discount, shareholder would be entitled to a dividends-received deduction for any constructive dividends unless the special rules denyi dividends-received deduction described above in "— Limitations on Dividends-Received Deduction" apply. A corporate shat would also be required to take these constructive dividends into account when applying the extraordinary dividend rules described as extraordinary dividends to be treated as extraordinary dividends.

adjusted tax basis of the preferred stock. Capital gain of a noncorporate United States holder is generally taxed at preferential the holder has a holding period greater than one year.

Redemption of Preferred Stock

If we are permitted to and redeem your preferred stock, it generally would be a taxable event. You would be treated as a your preferred stock if the redemption:

- results in a complete termination of your stock interest in us;
- is substantially disproportionate with respect to you; or
- is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to you.

In determining whether any of these tests has been met, shares of stock considered to be owned by you by reason of cer constructive ownership rules set forth in Section 318 of the Internal Revenue Code, as well as shares actually owned, must be account.

If we redeem your preferred stock in a redemption that meets one of the tests described above, you generally would rec gain or loss equal to the sum of the amount of cash and fair market value of property (other than stock of us or a successor to by you less your tax basis in the preferred stock redeemed. This gain or loss would be long-term capital gain or capital loss if the preferred stock for more than one year.

If a redemption does not meet any of the tests described above, you generally would be taxed on the cash and fair marker property you receive as a dividend to the extent paid out of our current or accumulated earnings and profits. Any amount in ecurrent and accumulated earnings and profits would first reduce your tax basis in the preferred stock and thereafter would be capital gain. If a redemption of the preferred stock is treated as a distribution that is taxable as a dividend, you should consult own tax advisor regarding the treatment of your basis in the redeemed preferred stock.

Special rules apply if we redeem preferred stock for our debt securities. We will discuss these rules in an applicable prosupplement if we have the option to redeem your preferred stock for our debt securities.

Medicare Tax

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2012, a U.S. holder that is an individual or estate, or a trust that does not special class of trusts that is exempt from such tax, will be subject to a 3.8% tax on the lesser of (1) the U.S. holder's "net invincome" for the relevant taxable year and (2) the excess of the U.S. holder's modified adjusted gross income for the taxable year and threshold (which in the case of individuals will be between $125,000 and $250,000, depending on the individual's circle A U.S. holder's net investment income will generally include its dividend and its net gains from the disposition of the preferr depositary shares, unless such dividends or net gains are derived in the ordinary course of the conduct of a trade or business (trade or business that consists of certain passive or trading activities). If you are a U.S. holder that is an individual, estate or tadvised to consult your tax advisors regarding the applicability of the Medicare tax to your income and gains in respect of you in the preferred stock and depositary shares.

United States Alien Holders

Except as described below, if you are a United States alien holder of preferred stock, dividends paid to you are subject to funited States federal income tax at a 30% rate or at a lower rate if you are eligible for the benefits of an income tax treaty for a lower rate. Even if you are eligible for a lower treaty rate, we and other payors will generally be required to withhold at (rather than the lower treaty rate) on dividend payments to you, unless you have furnished to us or another payor:

a valid Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN or an acceptable substitute form upon which you certify, under penaperjury, your status as a person who is not a United States person and your entitlement to the lower treaty rate with repayments; or

• in the case of payments made outside the United States to an offshore account (generally, an account maintained by yoffice or branch of a bank or other financial institution at any location outside the United States), other documentary establishing your entitlement to the lower treaty rate in accordance with U.S. Treasury regulations.

If you are eligible for a reduced rate of United States withholding tax under a tax treaty, you may obtain a refund of any withheld in excess of that rate by filing a refund claim with the United States Internal Revenue Service.

If dividends paid to you are "effectively connected" with your conduct of a trade or business within the United States, a by a tax treaty, the dividends are attributable to a permanent establishment that you maintain in the United States, we and oth generally are not required to withhold tax from the dividends, provided that you have furnished to us or another payor a valid Revenue Service Form W-8ECI or an acceptable substitute form upon which you represent, under penalties of perjury, that:

- · you are not a United States person; and
- the dividends are effectively connected with your conduct of a trade or business within the United States and are incligross income.

"Effectively connected" dividends are taxed at rates applicable to United States citizens, resident aliens and domestic U corporations.

If you are a corporate United States alien holder, "effectively connected" dividends that you receive may, under certain circumstances, be subject to an additional "branch profits tax" at a 30% rate or at a lower rate if you are eligible for the benefincome tax treaty that provides for a lower rate.

Gain on Disposition of Preferred Stock

If you are a United States alien holder, you generally will not be subject to United States federal income tax on gain that recognize on a disposition of preferred stock unless:

- the gain is "effectively connected" with your conduct of a trade or business in the United States, and the gain is attrib permanent establishment that you maintain in the United States, if that is required by an applicable income tax treaty for subjecting you to United States taxation on a net income basis;
- you are an individual, you hold the preferred stock as a capital asset, you are present in the United States for 183 or rethe taxable year of the sale and certain other conditions exist; or
- we are or have been a United States real property holding corporation for federal income tax purposes and you held, indirectly, at any time during the five-year period ending on the date of disposition, more than 5% of the relevant clastock and you are not eligible for any treaty exemption.

If you are a corporate United States alien holder, "effectively connected" gains that you recognize may also, under certa circumstances, be subject to an additional "branch profits tax" at a 30% rate or at a lower rate if you are eligible for the benefincome tax treaty that provides for a lower rate.

We have not been, are not and do not anticipate becoming a United States real property holding corporation for United income tax purposes.

Federal Estate Taxes

Preferred stock held by a United States alien holder at the time of death will be included in the holder's gross estate for federal estate tax purposes, unless an applicable estate tax treaty provides otherwise.

Withholdable Payments to Foreign Financial Entities and Other Foreign Entities

Under recently enacted legislation, a 30% withholding tax would be imposed on certain payments that are made after D 2012 to certain foreign financial institutions, investment funds and other non-U.S. persons that fail to comply with information reporting requirements in respect of their direct and indirect United States shareholders a States accountholders. Such payments would include U.S.-source dividends and the gross proceeds from the sale or other disjutory that can produce U.S.-source dividends.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

United States Holders. In general, if you are a non-corporate United States holder, dividend payments, or other taxable made on your preferred stock, as well as the payment of the proceeds from the sale or redemption of your preferred stock tha within the United States will be subject to information reporting requirements. Additionally, backup withholding will apply t payments if you are a non-corporate United States holder and you:

- fail to provide an accurate taxpayer identification number;
- are notified by the United States Internal Revenue Service that you have failed to report all interest or dividends requisions shown on your federal income tax returns; or
- in certain circumstances, fail to comply with applicable certification requirements.

If you sell your preferred stock outside the United States through a non-U.S. office of a non-U.S. broker, and the sales paid to you outside the United States, then U.S. backup withholding and information reporting requirements generally will no payment. However, U.S. information reporting will apply to a payment of sales proceeds, even if that payment is made outsic States, if you sell your preferred stock through a non-U.S. office of a broker that is:

- a United States person;
- a controlled foreign corporation for United States tax purposes;
- a foreign person 50% or more of whose gross income is effectively connected with the conduct of a United States traffer a specified three-year period; or

EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT

A fiduciary of a pension, profit-sharing or other employee benefit plan subject to the U.S. Employee Retirement Income of 1974, as amended ("ERISA") (each, a "Plan"), should consider the fiduciary standards of ERISA in the context of the Plan circumstances before authorizing an investment in the securities offered hereunder. Among other factors, the fiduciary should whether the investment would satisfy the prudence and diversification requirements of ERISA and would be consistent with and instruments governing the Plan, and whether the investment would involve a prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Revenue Code (the "Code").

Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code prohibit Plans, as well as individual retirement accounts, Keogh plans that are subject to Section 4975 of the Code (also "Plans"), from engaging in certain transactions involving "plan assets who are "parties in interest" under ERISA or "disqualified persons" under the Code with respect to the Plan. A violation of the transaction rules may result in excise tax or other liabilities under ERISA or the Code for those persons, unless exemptive relunder an applicable statutory, regulatory or administrative exemption. Employee benefit plans that are governmental plans (a Section 3(32) of ERISA), certain church plans (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA) and non-U.S. plans (as described in Section 4975 of the may be subject to similar provisions under applicable federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws ("Similar Laws").

The acquisition of the securities that we may offer by a Plan or any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets' any Plan's investment in the entity (a "Plan Asset Entity") with respect to which we or certain of our affiliates is or becomes interest or disqualified person may result in a prohibited transaction under ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, unless those acquired pursuant to an applicable exemption. The U.S. Department of Labor has issued five prohibited transaction class exemptions of a security offered hereunder. These exemptions are PTCE 84-14 (for certain transactions that may arise from the pholding of a security offered hereunder. These exemptions are PTCE 84-14 (for certain transactions determined by independent professional asset managers), PTCE 90-1 (for certain transactions involving insurance company pooled separate accounts), P (for certain transactions involving bank collective investment funds), PTCE 95-60 (for transactions involving certain insurance general accounts), and PTCE 96-23 (for transactions managed by in-house asset managers). In addition, ERISA Section 408(Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code provide an exemption for the purchase and sale of the securities offered hereby, provided the issuer of the securities offered hereby nor any of its affiliates have or exercise any discretionary authority or control or render investment advice with respect to the assets of any Plan involved in the transaction, and provided further that the Plan pays receives no less than "adequate consideration" in connection with the transaction (the "service provider exemption"). There cassurance that all of the conditions of any such exemptions will be satisfied. The assets of a Plan may include the assets held account of an insurance company that are deemed to be "plan assets" under ERISA.

Any purchaser or holder of any security offered hereunder or any interest therein will be deemed to have represented by and holding of the security that it either (1) is not a Plan, a Plan Asset Entity or a Non-ERISA Arrangement and is not purchas security on behalf of or with the assets of any Plan, a Plan Asset Entity or Non-ERISA Arrangement or (2) the purchase and I security will not constitute or result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction or a similar violation under any applicable Similar

Due to the complexity of these rules and the penalties that may be imposed upon persons involved in non-exempt prohitransactions, it is important that fiduciaries or other persons considering purchasing the securities offered hereunder on behalf assets of any Plan, a Plan Asset Entity or Non-ERISA Arrangement consult with their counsel regarding the availability of exunder any of the PTCEs listed above, the service provider exemption or the potential consequences of any purchase or holding Similar Laws, as applicable. Purchasers of the securities offered hereunder have exclusive responsibility for ensuring that the and holding of the securities do not violate the fiduciary or prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code or any sin provisions of Similar Laws. The sale of any security offered hereunder to a Plan, Plan Asset Entity or Non-ERISA Arrangem respect a representation by us or any of our affiliates or representatives that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirespect to investments by any such Plans, Plan Asset Entities or Non-ERISA Arrangements generally or any particular Plan, Entity or Non-ERISA Arrangement or that such investment is appropriate for such Plans, Plan Asset Entities or Non-ERISA generally or any particular Plan, Plan Asset Entity or Non-ERISA Arrangement.
