On February 27, 2011, HOT entered into a trust deed between HOT and Ziv Haft Trust Co. Ltd with respect to the unsecured notes ("Existing HOT Unsecured Notes"), which were issued on March 30, 2011 in two series: (i) in a nominal value equal to NIS 825 million or €177 million (based on the exchange rate as of September 30, 2014) pursuant to a debenture dated March 30, 2011 (the "Existing Series A HOT Notes") and (ii) in a nominal value equal to NIS 675 million or €145 million (based on the exchange rate as of September 30, 2014) pursuant to a debenture dated March 30, 2011 (the "Existing Series B HOT Notes"). The Existing Series A HOT Notes are linked to the Consumer Price Index in Israel ("CPI") and therefore actual amounts outstanding may vary from time to time and differ from the nominal amount outstanding. As of September 30, 2014, the CPI linked principal amount of Existing Series A HOT Notes outstanding was NIS 687 million or €148 million (based on the exchange rate as of September 30, 2014) and the principal amount of the Existing Series B HOT Notes outstanding was NIS 535 million or €115 million (based on the exchange rate as of September 30, 2014).

The Existing Series A HOT Notes and the Existing Series B HOT Notes mature on September 30, 2018. The amortization schedule for each of the Existing Series A HOT Notes is as follows: 8.3% in 2013; 8.3% in 2014; 8.3% in 2015; 8.3% in 2016; 8.3% in 2017 and 54.2% in 2018. Based on the CPI as of December 31, 2012 of 105.7, we estimate the amortization schedule, which includes estimated future increases in CPI of three points per year, under the Existing Series A HOT Notes is approximately: NIS 71 million in 2013, NIS 71 million in 2014, NIS 71 million in 2015, NIS 71 million in 2016, NIS 71 million in 2017 and NIS 461 million in 2018. The amortization schedule for the Existing Series B Notes is as follows approximately: NIS 56 million in 2013, NIS 56 million in 2014, NIS 56 million in 2015, NIS 56 million in 2016, NIS 56 million in 2017 and NIS 366 million in 2018. The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not redeemable by HOT prior to maturity.

The Existing Series A HOT Notes bear interest at a rate of 3.9% per annum, payable semi-annually. The Existing Series B HOT Notes bear interest at a rate of 6.9% per annum, payable semi-annually.

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes contain certain financial covenants, which require maintenance by HOT of a maximum net debt to EBITDA ratio of 6.0 and maintenance of minimum equity equal to NIS 300 million. Further, in order for HOT to be able to distribute dividends, the maximum net debt to EBITDA ratio is 5.5. In addition, the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes provide that any failure to pay principal prior to expiration of any applicable grace period, or any acceleration of other HOT indebtedness of NIS 300 million or more in the aggregate, grants the holders the right to call for immediate payment of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes.

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are senior obligations that rank equally with all of its existing and future senior debt and are senior to all of its existing and future subordinated debt. The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not secured by any assets of HOT or its subsidiaries.

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not redeemable by HOT prior to maturity.

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes will be:

- a. effectively subordinated to the HOT Refinancing Notes and the guarantees thereof granted by the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors to the extent of the lesser of (x) the value of the assets of HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors securing the HOT Refinancing Notes and the guarantees thereof and (y) the amount owing under the HOT Refinancing Notes;

- b. pari passu with the HOT Refinancing Notes to the extent the amount of the HOT Refinancing Notes exceeds the value of the assets of HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors securing the HOT Refinancing Notes; and
- c. structurally senior to the 2012 Senior Notes, the 2012 Senior Secured Notes, the 2013 June Senior Notes, the New Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Guarantees and the 2013 June Senior Notes Guarantees granted by the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Guarantors, the 2012 Senior Notes Guarantors and the 2013 June Senior Notes Guarantors .

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes will not be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and, as a result, in the event of an enforcement sale of the shares of Cool Holding or HOT pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement, the debt claims of the holders of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not required to be released or otherwise transferred.

The Intercreditor Agreement

To establish the relative rights of certain of our creditors, the obligors under the 2012 Notes, the Existing Revolving Credit Facility Agreements, the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility Agreement, the 2013 Guarantee Facility, the 2013 Term Loan, the New Term Loan and certain counterparties to hedging obligations relating to the foregoing, have entered into an intercreditor agreement (the “Intercreditor Agreement”) with:

- the creditors of the Revolving Credit Facilities (the “RCF Creditors”);
- any persons that accede to the Intercreditor Agreement as counterparties to certain hedging agreements in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement (the “Hedging Agreements” and any person that accedes to the Intercreditor Agreement as counterparties to the Hedging Agreements are referred to in such capacity as the “Hedging Banks” and, together with the RCF Creditors, the “Super Priority Creditors”);
- any persons that accede to the Intercreditor Agreement under any future term facility (including the 2013 Term Loan and the New Term Loan) or revolving bank facility (including the 2013 Guarantee Facility and the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility but excluding the Revolving Credit Facilities) designated a senior bank facility in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement (the “Senior Bank Creditors”);
- any persons that accede to the Intercreditor Agreement as trustee (the “Senior Secured Notes Trustee”) for the 2012 Senior Secured Notes, the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Secured Notes (and together the “Senior Secured Notes”) on its behalf and on behalf of the holders of the Senior Secured Notes (the “Senior Secured Notes Creditors” and, together with any Senior Bank Creditors, the “Senior Creditors” and, together with the Super Priority Creditors, the “Senior Secured Creditors”);
- any persons that accede to the Intercreditor Agreement as trustee for the 2012 Senior Notes, the 2013 June Senior Notes, the 2013 December Senior Notes and the New Senior Notes (and together the “Senior Subordinated Notes”) (the “Senior Subordinated Notes Trustee” on its behalf and on behalf of the holders of the Senior Subordinated Notes (the “Senior Subordinated Notes Creditors” or the “Senior Subordinated Creditors”));
- certain intra-group creditors (the “Intercompany Creditors”);
- certain members of the group who are or become structural creditors in respect of certain intra-group liabilities (the “Structural Creditors”);
- certain investors (the “Shareholders”, together with Intercompany Creditors, the “Subordinated Creditors”);
- Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent for the Senior Secured Creditors (the “Security Agent”);
- Citibank International plc, as facility agent or any other administrative agent or replacement agent; and
- Citibank, N.A., London Branch as security agent for the Structural Creditors (the “Structural Creditor Security Agent”).

The Intercreditor Agreement provides that future indebtedness may be incurred by us and our subsidiaries subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement and each finance document then existing. Future Super Priority Debt may, however, only be in the form of a revolving credit facility, which is a working capital facility or hedging indebtedness to the extent permitted (or not prohibited) by the terms of each finance document (including the indentures) or consented to by the appropriate parties. The aggregate commitment under all revolving credit facilities (including the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility) that are designated as Super Priority Debt cannot exceed the greater of $80 million or 4% of total assets at any time. The New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility will be designated as Super Priority Debt under the Intercreditor Agreement and the creditors thereunder will thereafter be treated as RCF Creditors for purposes of the Intercreditor Agreement. The New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility has been designated as Senior Debt under the Intercreditor Agreement and the creditors thereunder will thereafter be treated as Senior Bank Creditors for purposes of the Intercreditor Agreement.

For the purposes of the Intercreditor Agreement, the creditors of each class of debt will vote together and a representative trustee or agent of debt within that class of debt (a “Representative”) may act on the instructions of the majority of creditors of that class of debt (or, in the case of the Super Priority Debt or Senior Bank Debt (as defined below), on the instructions of 66²/₃% of creditors of that class of debt) (a “Relevant Majority”). Hedging Banks will vote together with the Super Priority Creditors while any Super Priority Debt remains outstanding. In addition, in certain circumstances (as set out in the Intercreditor Agreement) certain classes of creditors will vote together as part of an instructing group (the “Instructing Group”), which is the Relevant Majority of (i) (if Senior Bank Debt has not been incurred or, if incurred, has been discharged and while any Senior Secured Notes Debt remains outstanding) the Senior Secured Notes Creditors, (ii) (while Senior Bank Debt (as defined below) remains outstanding) the Senior Creditors, and (iii) (if the Senior Secured Debt has been discharged and while the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt remains outstanding) the Senior Subordinated Creditors.

By accepting a Senior Secured Note or a Senior Subordinated Note, as the case may be, the relevant holder thereof shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement.

The following description is a summary of certain provisions, among others, that are contained in the Intercreditor Agreement that relate to the rights and obligations of the Senior Secured Notes Creditors and the Senior Subordinated Notes Creditor. It does not restate the Intercreditor Agreement nor does it describe provisions relating to the rights and obligations of holders of other classes of our debt or capital expenditures.

Order of Priority

Ranking & Priority

The Intercreditor Agreement provides, subject to certain provisions, that the liabilities of each issuer, obligor or borrower subject to the Intercreditor Agreement (the “Obligors”) (other than the Issuers of the Senior Subordinated Notes) under or in respect of the Existing Revolving Credit Facility Agreements and the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility Agreement (the “RCF Debt”), the Hedging Agreements (the “Hedging Debt” and, together with the RCF Debt, the “Super Priority Debt”), any Senior Bank Facilities, including the 2013 Term Loan, the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility Agreement, the New Term Loan and the 2013 Guarantee Facility (the “Senior Bank Debt”), the Senior Secured Notes (the “Senior Secured Notes Debt” and, together with the Senior Bank Debt, the “Senior Debt”), the Senior Subordinated Notes (the “Senior Subordinated Notes Debt”), structural intra-group debt owed to the Structural Creditors (the “Structural Debt”) and certain liabilities of members of the group owed to the Senior Notes Issuer (the “Holdco Debt”) and certain other liabilities will rank in right and order of payment in the following order:

- i. first, the RCF Debt, the Hedging Debt, the Senior Bank Debt, the Senior Secured Notes Debt, the Structural Debt and future permitted senior or super priority debt, pari passu without any preference among them;
- ii. second, the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt and future permitted senior subordinated debt, pari passu without any preference among them;
- iii. third, the intercompany debt and the Holdco Debt, pari passu, without any preference among them; and
- iv. fourth, the shareholder debt.

To the extent any liability is owed by the Senior Notes Issuer in respect of any debt, the debt will rank in right and order of payment:

- i. firstly, the Senior Secured Debt (as defined below), pari passu without any preference among such debt; and
- ii. secondly, the shareholder debt.

Priority of Security

The Intercreditor Agreement provides that the Security (other than any Security created pursuant to the pledge of the shares of the Senior Notes Issuer) provided by the Obligors (and any other parties) for the Super Priority Debt, the Senior Debt (together, the “Senior Secured Debt”), the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt (together with the Senior Secured Debt, the “Secured Debt”) will rank in the following order:

- i. firstly, the Senior Secured Debt (pari passu among such class of debt); and
- ii. secondly, the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt.

Restrictions

Subject to certain limited exceptions and subject to, inter alia, the provisions set forth under the captions “—Permitted Payments” and “—Restrictions on Enforcement”, while any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding, the Intercreditor Agreement restricts:

- The ability of the Obligors and their subsidiaries to create or permit to subsist any security interest over any of their assets for any debt owed to the Senior Subordinated Creditors and the intercompany creditors and shareholders (the “Subordinated Debt”);
- the ability of the Obligors and their subsidiaries to pay, purchase, redeem or acquire any of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or the Holdco Debt, or otherwise to provide financial support in relation to such liabilities, except in respect of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt in connection with any such payment or acquisition of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt by the Issuers in respect of the Senior Subordinated Debt (the “Senior Subordinated Notes Issuer”); and
- the ability of the Senior Subordinated Creditors to enforce the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or the Holdco Debt and the security relating thereto, to demand or receive payments toward the discharge of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt, any Holdco Debt or to apply money or property toward the discharge of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or any Holdco Debt, in each case, unless consented to by the applicable Super Priority Creditors and whilst any Senior Debt is outstanding to the extent prohibited by the Senior Designated Debt Documents, the applicable Senior Creditors.

In addition, the Intercreditor Agreement provides that the Security and guarantees relating to the Senior Secured Debt (and the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt) will be released in certain circumstances. See “—Release of Security and Guarantees”. Moreover, certain proceeds received by the Senior Secured Creditors and the Senior Subordinated Creditors or the Subordinated Creditors (other than in connection with the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt of the Senior Subordinated Notes Issuer) must be turned over to the Security Agent pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement for application in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement. See “—Turnover”.

The Intercreditor Agreement provides for certain additional restrictions on the form, provisions and terms of the documents evidencing the Structural Debt. No Structural Creditor and no member of the Group will be entitled to make material amendments to the documents evidencing the Structural Debt without the prior written consent of the relevant Representative representing the Super Priority Creditors, the Senior Bank Creditors and the Senior Secured Notes Creditors.

Limitation of Credit Support

Pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement, the Obligors are prohibited from granting any security in favor of any Senior Secured Debt unless that security is given in favor of the Security Agent to hold for the benefit of all other Senior Secured Debt.

Permitted Payments

The Intercreditor Agreement permits Obligors to pay, inter alia:

1. while any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding, any amounts then due under the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt if:

- a. the payment is a Permitted Payment (as defined below) (or in lieu thereof, a payment of an amount to the issuer of Senior Subordinated Notes to enable it to make a corresponding Permitted Payment) or is not prohibited under the terms of any documents governing the Senior Secured Debt;
 - b. on the date falling two days prior to the date of payment, no payment default is outstanding (or has been accelerated/placed on demand); and
 - c. no Stop Notice (as defined below) is outstanding; or
 - d. with the consent of each of:
 - i. (while any of the Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of the Super Priority Creditors;
 - ii. (while any Senior Bank Debt is outstanding) the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of (A) the Senior Bank Creditors and (B) (only to the extent prohibited by the Senior Secured Notes Indenture) the Senior Secured Notes Creditors; and
 - iii. (if any Senior Bank Debt has been discharged and while the Senior Secured Notes Debt is outstanding) (only to the extent prohibited under the Senior Secured Notes Indentures) the Representative representing Relevant Majority of the Senior Secured Notes Creditors;
2. while any Senior Subordinated Debt is outstanding, any amounts under the intercompany debt and the shareholder debt if:
- a. except in relation to an intercompany debt to an Obligor, the amount is due and payable under the terms of the intercompany debt documents;
 - b. the payment is not prohibited under the terms of any documents governing the Senior Secured Debt and/or the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt; and
 - c. in relation to an intercompany debt to a non-Obligor and any shareholder debt, no enforcement trigger event is outstanding; or
 - d. with the consent of each of:
 - i. (while any Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of the Super Priority Debt;
 - ii. (while any Senior Bank Debt is outstanding) the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of (A) the Senior Bank Creditors and (B) (only to the extent prohibited by the Senior Secured Notes Indentures), the Senior Secured Notes Creditors;
 - iii. (if any Senior Bank Debt has been discharged but while any Senior Secured Notes Debt is outstanding and only to the extent prohibited under the Senior Secured Notes Indenture (to the extent prohibited by a Senior Secured Notes Designated Debt Document (as defined below)) the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of the Senior Secured Notes Creditors; and
 - iv. (while any Senior Subordinated Debt is outstanding), the Representative representing the Relevant Majority of Senior Subordinated Creditors; and
3. while any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding, the Obligors will only be permitted to make payments of Holdco Debt
- a. with the prior written consent of:
 - i. (while any Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the relevant Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of the Super Priority Creditors;

- ii. (while any Senior Bank Debt is outstanding) the Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of (x) the Senior Bank Creditors and (y) (only to the extent prohibited by the Senior Secured Notes Indenture) the relevant Representatives Senior Secured Notes Creditors; and
 - iii. (if any Senior Bank Debt has been discharged and while the Senior Secured Notes Debt is outstanding) (only to the extent prohibited by the Senior Secured Notes Indenture) the relevant Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of the Senior Secured Notes Creditors; or
- b. such payments are equal to the amount of payments in respect of the liabilities owed to the Senior Subordinated Notes Creditors.

A Representative representing i) the relevant Senior Bank Lenders or ii) the relevant Senior Secured Notes Creditors or iii) the relevant Super Priority Creditors (each in accordance with its underlying documents) may serve a notice specifying that an event of default is outstanding and suspend the payment of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt (a “Stop Notice”) until the earlier of: (i) 179 days after the Stop Notice, (ii) if an enforcement notice specifying a default under the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt has been served by a Representative of the Relevant Majority of the Senior Subordinated Creditors (an “Enforcement Notice”) and a standstill period of 179 days (a “Standstill Period”) is already in effect, the date on which the aforementioned Standstill Period expires, (iii) the date on which the event of default under the relevant Super Priority Debt document or Senior Debt document has been remedied or waived in accordance with the relevant debt document, (iv) the date on which each Representative that served the Stop Notice cancels such Stop Notice, (v) the date on which the creditors with respect to the Senior Subordinated Debt take enforcement action in accordance with (and as permitted by) the Intercreditor Agreement, and (vi) the date the Senior Secured Debt is no longer outstanding. The Stop Notice is to be issued within 45 days of receipt of notice of such default and only one such notice may be served within any 360 day period and not more than one Stop Notice may be served in respect of the same event or set of circumstances. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Senior Secured Notes Trustee will be entitled to receive and retain certain amounts payable for its own account. A Stop Notice shall be deemed to be in effect if a payment default is outstanding in respect of any Senior Secured Debt.

For purposes of the Intercreditor Agreement, “Permitted Payments” is defined to include certain customary permitted payments which include scheduled payments of interest; amounts payable under Senior Subordinated Notes by way of default interest, liquidated charges or penalty interest; amounts payable under applicable gross up provisions or currency indemnities; fees, costs, expenses and taxes incurred in respect of the issuance and offering of the Senior Subordinated Notes or the ordinary day-to-day administration of the Senior Notes; principal amount of the Senior Subordinated Notes upon or after their originally scheduled maturity; any other amount not exceeding an agreed amount in any 12-month period; note trustee costs and security agent costs; certain permitted defeasance trust payments; amounts funded from the proceeds of issuance of, or exchanged for or converted into certain defined permitted junior securities any other amounts consented to by the Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of each of the Super Priority Debt and Senior Debt.

Restrictions on Enforcement

Subject to certain limited exceptions, and except with the consent of the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors (while the Super Priority Debt is outstanding) and the Instructing Group, while Senior Secured Debt is outstanding, the Senior Subordinated Creditors cannot (i) demand payment of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or Subordinated Debt, (ii) accelerate any of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or the Subordinated Debt or otherwise declare any of the aforementioned debt prematurely due or payable on an event of default or otherwise, (iii) enforce any of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or Subordinated Debt by attachment, set-off, execution or otherwise, (iv) (in the case of Senior Subordinated Creditors) enforce the Security relating to the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt, (v) petition for, initiate, support or take any steps with a view to any insolvency or any voluntary arrangement or assignment for the benefit of creditors or any similar proceedings involving an Obligor, (vi) sue or bring or support any legal proceedings against any Obligor or its subsidiaries or (vii) otherwise exercise any remedy for the recovery of any Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or Subordinated Debt. The aforementioned does not prohibit the Senior Subordinated Creditors from, among others, (i) taking any necessary action to preserve the validity and existence of any claims, (ii) taking any action against any creditor to challenge the basis on which any sale or disposal is to take place pursuant to powers granted under any security documents, (iii) bringing proceedings in relation to violations of securities laws/regulations or for fraud, (iv) solely for injunctive relief to restrain any actual or punitive breach of the indenture governing the Senior Subordinated Notes or for specific performance not claiming damages not inconsistent with the Intercreditor Agreement, (v) against the Senior Subordinated Notes Issuer, or (vi) requesting judicial interpretation of any provision of any Senior Subordinated Creditor finance document. A Senior Subordinated Creditor or Subordinated Creditor will be allowed to bring or support proceedings to prevent the loss of any right to bring or support proceeding by reason of expiry of statutory limitation periods. Subject to the written instructions of the Security Agent (acting on the instructions of the relevant Creditors entitled to take enforcement action with respect to the Collateral) no Structural Creditor may, while any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding take certain actions in respect of the Structural Debt including (i) accelerate any of the Structural Debt or otherwise declare any of the Structural Debt prematurely due or payable as a result of a default or an event of default (howsoever described), (ii) enforce any of the Structural Debt by attachment, set-off, execution or otherwise, (iii) enforce (or give instructions to the Structural Creditor Security Agent to enforce) the security securing the Structural Debt, (iv) petition (or vote in favor of any resolution in favor for) or initiate or take any steps with a view to any insolvency or any voluntary agreement or assignment for the benefit of creditors or any similar proceedings involving HOT and/or its direct or indirect subsidiaries, (v) sue or bring or support any legal proceedings against HOT and/or any of its direct or indirect Subsidiaries, or (vi) otherwise exercise any remedy for the recovery of any Structural Debt.

In addition to customary termination rights under the Hedging Agreements, the Hedging Banks benefit from certain additional termination rights permitting termination or close-out of the relevant Hedging Agreement prior to its stated maturity in the following circumstances (in each case subject to a grace period of at least 30 days from the date of occurrence of the relevant circumstance, and subject in each individual circumstance to the applicable grace periods set out in the relevant finance document):

- (a) a payment default under any financial indebtedness (subject to any applicable grace period) of the Senior Notes Issuer, any Covenant Party or their subsidiaries in excess of $20 million has occurred;
- (b) a default (other than a payment default) and subsequent acceleration of any amounts of financial indebtedness equal to or greater than $20 million;
- (c) failure by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, an Obligor or a Significant Subsidiary (as defined in Senior Secured Notes Indentures) to pay final judgments aggregating in excess of $20 million (exclusive of any amounts that a solvent insurance company has acknowledged liability for), which judgments are not paid, discharged or stayed for a period of 60 days after the judgment becomes final;
- (d) any impairment of security and/or guarantees which constitutes an event of default under the Senior Secured Notes Indentures;
- (e) any event of default or prepayment event under the Senior Secured Notes Indentures or any other relevant finance document caused by a change of control; or
- (f) any event of default or prepayment event under the Senior Secured Notes Indentures or any other relevant finance document which is caused as a result of: (i) a cross-default, (ii) a breach of the covenant relating to indebtedness, (iii) a breach of the covenant relating to restricted payments, (iv) a breach of the covenant relating to certain distributions, (v) a breach of the covenant relating to asset sales and subsidiary stock, (vi) a breach of the covenant relating to issuer activities, (vii) a breach of the covenant relating to holding company activities, (viii) a breach of the covenant relating to impairment of security and (ix) a breach of the covenant relating to affiliate transactions.

Permitted Enforcement

Despite the restrictions of enforcement described above, the Intercreditor Agreement allows the Senior Subordinated Creditors to take the aforementioned enforcement actions while any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding if (i) payment of the Senior Secured Debt has been accelerated or declared prematurely due and payable or payable on demand or the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors and/or Senior Creditors have taken any enforcement action under the security documents in relation to such debt, (ii) certain insolvency, liquidation or other similar enforcement events have occurred with respect to an Obligor (other than an Obligor that is not a borrower or guarantor under any Senior Secured Debt) and such actions are taken with respect to such Obligor, (iii) there is an event of default under the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt for failure to pay principal at its originally scheduled maturity, (iv) the proposed enforcement action has been consented to by the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Debt, Senior Bank Creditors, Senior Secured Notes Creditors or (v) a period (the "Standstill Period") of not less than 179 days has elapsed from the date any Representative of the Senior Secured Creditors received an Enforcement Notice from the Senior Subordinated Creditors relating to an event of default under the applicable documents relating to such Senior Subordinated Debt and such event of default is outstanding at (and has not been waived prior to) the end of the Standstill Period.

The Intercreditor Agreement will require the Security Agent to give prompt notice to the representative of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt if it is instructed to enforce the security relating to the equity/ownership interest securing Senior Secured Debt (a "Senior Enforcement"). During the period from the giving of that notice to the date that the Security Agent ceases to use all reasonable commercial efforts to carry out that Senior Enforcement as expeditiously as reasonably practicable having regard to the circumstances:

- the Security Agent will not be permitted to enforce any Security over such equity interests in a manner that would adversely affect such Senior Enforcement; and
- no Senior Subordinated Creditor will be permitted to take, or will be permitted to give any instructions to the Security Agent to take, any enforcement action prohibited by the preceding bullet, provided that the foregoing will not prejudice any other rights of the Senior Subordinated Creditors to take any enforcement action against any other Obligor that are permitted under the Intercreditor Agreement. The Intercreditor Agreement will require the Security Agent to give prompt notice to the Representative of Senior Subordinated Notes Debt of its ceasing to carry out a Senior Enforcement.

Enforcement Instructions

No Senior Secured Creditor or Senior Subordinated Notes Creditor has any independent power to enforce, or have recourse to, any Security except through the Security Agent and the Security Agent shall enforce Security (if then enforceable) if so instructed by (i) while the Super Priority Debt is outstanding, the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group, and (ii) after the discharge of the Senior Secured Debt (or if permitted to do so as described above under “—Limitations on Enforcement”), the Relevant Majority of Senior Subordinated Creditors. The Security Agent may disregard any instructions from any other person to enforce the Security and may disregard any instructions to enforce any Security if those instructions are inconsistent with the Intercreditor Agreement. The Security Agent is not obliged to enforce the Security if it is not appropriately indemnified by the relevant creditors.

No Structural Creditor has any independent power to enforce, or have recourse to, any security serving the Structural Debt.

To the extent any Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group wish to accelerate any debt owing to any Senior Secured Creditor, it must notify the Security Agent and each other Senior Secured Representative at least three business days prior to the date it intends to accelerate. To the extent that the Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group wish to enforce Security, they must notify the Security Agent and each other Senior Secured Representative 10 business days prior to the date it issues the enforcement instructions (the “Proposed Enforcement Instruction Date”). If the Security Agent receives conflicting enforcement instructions prior to the Proposed Enforcement Instruction Date, the Representatives of the Super Priority Creditors and the Representative of the Instructing Group shall consult with one another and with the Security Agent in good faith for 30 days (or such shorter date as may be agreed) (the “Consultation Period”). Consultation will not be required if the Security has become enforceable as a result of an insolvency event relating to an Obligor against whom such enforcement action is taken or if any of such instructing representatives determines in good faith that consultation (and thereby the delay) could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the ability to enforce the Security or the realization of proceeds of enforcement.

While the Super Priority Debt is outstanding, if the Security Agent receives conflicting enforcement instructions from the Representatives of the Super Priority Debt or the Instructing Group, and the 30 day consultation period between the two parties has passed, the Security Agent shall comply with the instruction from the Instructing Group. The failure by a creditor group to issue enforcement instructions will be deemed to be conflicting, provided that if the representatives of the Instructing Group fail to give instructions as to enforcement and the 30 day consultation period has elapsed without the Instructing Group issuing instructions, the Security Agent will comply with the instructions of the representative of the Super Priority Debt. The instructions of the Super Priority Creditors will prevail if i) the Super Priority Creditors have not been fully and finally discharged in cash within six months of the Proposed Enforcement Date, or ii) the Security Agent has not commenced any enforcement action within 3 months of the Proposed Enforcement Date. All enforcement instructions will need to comply with the following security enforcement principles:

1. It shall be the aim of any enforcement of the Security to achieve the Security Enforcement Objective (hereinafter defined). “Security Enforcement Objective” means maximizing, so far as is consistent with a prompt and expeditious enforcement of the Security, the recovery of the Super Priority Creditors and (without prejudice to the waterfall described in “Application of Proceeds” below) the Senior Creditors.
2. The security enforcement principles may be amended, varied or waived with the prior written consent of the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors, an Instructing Group and the Security Agent.
3. Without prejudice to the Security Enforcement Objective, the Security will be enforced and other action as to enforcement of the Security will be taken such that either:
 - (a) in the event enforcement is being effected in accordance with the instructions of the Instructing Group either:

- (i) all proceeds of enforcement are received by the Security Agent in cash for distribution in accordance with the waterfall described in “Application of Proceeds” below; or
 - (ii) sufficient proceeds from enforcement will be received by the Security Agent in cash to ensure that when the proceeds are applied in accordance with the waterfall described in “Application of Proceeds” below), the Super Priority Debt is repaid and discharged in full (unless the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors agree otherwise); or
- (b) in the event enforcement is being effected in accordance with the instructions of the Super Priority Creditors either:
- (i) all proceeds of enforcement are received by the Security Agent in cash for distribution in accordance with the waterfall described in “Application of Proceeds” below; or
 - (ii) with the consent of the Instructing Group, the proceeds are received by the Security Agent in cash and non-cash consideration for distribution in accordance with the waterfall described in “Application of Proceeds” below.
4. The enforcement must be prompt and expeditious it being acknowledged that, subject to the other provisions of the Intercreditor Agreement, the time frame for realization of value from the enforcement of the Security pursuant to enforcement will be determined by (while any Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the relevant Representatives representing an Instructing Group provided that it is consistent with the Security Enforcement Objective.
5. On:
- (a) a proposed enforcement of any of the Security over assets other than shares in a member of the Group, where the aggregate book value of such assets exceeds U.S.$ 3,000,000 (or its equivalent); or
 - (b) a proposed enforcement of any of the Security over some, but not all, of the shares in a member of the Holdco Group (being any Covenant Party and the Senior Notes Issuer and their respective Subsidiaries from time to time) over which Security exists.
- the Security Agent shall, if so requested by (while the Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the Representatives representing the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the relevant Representatives representing an Instructing Group, and at the expense of such creditors, obtain an opinion from any (X) “big four” accounting firm, (Y) reputable and independent internationally recognized investment bank, or (Z) other reputable and independent professional services firm experience in restructuring and enforcement (a “Financial Advisor”), that the consideration for the sale is fair from a financial point of view after taking into account all relevant circumstances. If the Security Agent is unable to obtain an opinion pursuant to this paragraph 5, it shall notify the Super Priority Representatives and the Senior Representatives representing an Instructing Group and may proceed to enforce the Security without obtaining such opinion.
6. The Security Agent shall be under no obligation to appoint a Financial Advisor or to seek the advice of a Financial Advisor, unless expressly required to do so by the security enforcement principles or any other provision of the Intercreditor Agreement.
7. The Financial Advisor’s opinion will be conclusive evidence that the Security Enforcement Objective has been met.
8. If enforcement of any Security is conducted by way of public auction in any relevant jurisdiction, no Financial Advisor shall be required to be appointed in relation to such enforcement action. Nothing shall require the enforcement of Security to take place by way of public auction.

Release of Security and Guarantees

An Obligor may dispose of an asset outside of the Holdco Group if (i) the disposal is not prohibited by the underlying finance documents, or (ii) the disposal is being effected at the request of the relevant creditor in circumstances where it is entitled to take enforcement action under the Intercreditor Agreement (and such disposal is consistent with certain security enforcement principles), or (iii) the disposal is pursuant to enforcement action in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement, and, in each case, the Security Agent is authorized to release any Security or any security securing the Structural Debt and other claims (including guarantees) under any finance document over that asset and, if that asset comprises of the shares in the capital of an Obligor or any of its subsidiaries which are subject to Security or any security securing the Structural Debt, release on behalf of the relevant creditor and each Obligor and its Subsidiaries that subsidiary and its subsidiaries from all present and future obligations and liabilities under the relevant finance document provided that the proceeds of the disposal is applied in accordance with the relevant finance document and with the Intercreditor Agreement.

Where a disposal relates to (ii) or (iii) above, the Security Agent is only authorized to release the relevant Security and liabilities owing to the Senior Subordinated Creditors if (i) the proceeds are received by the Security Agent in cash (or substantially all cash); (ii) the disposal is made pursuant to a public auction or with an opinion from a restructuring advisor confirming that the disposal price is fair (taking into account all relevant circumstances); (iii) the debt is simultaneously and unconditionally released (and not assumed by a purchaser or affiliate of a purchaser) and (iv) the proceeds are applied in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement.

Where liabilities in respect of any Senior Secured Debt would otherwise be released, the relevant creditor may elect to transfer such liabilities to the Senior Notes Issuer or the original Shareholder. If shares in an Obligor or its holding company are being disposed of and the Security Agent decides to dispose of all or part of the liabilities of such Obligor, holding company or any subsidiary under the finance documents, the Security Agent may: (a) dispose of all or part of such liabilities such that the transferee shall not be treated as a Senior Secured Creditor or a secured party; and (b) dispose of all (and not part) of such liabilities owed to the Senior Secured Creditors on behalf of the relevant creditors and Obligors such that the transferee be treated as a Senior Secured Creditor or a secured party.

Turnover

The Intercreditor Agreement also provides that if any Super Priority Creditor, Senior Secured Creditor (with respect to proceeds from the enforcement of security and proceeds of certain disposals only), Structural Creditor (with respect to proceeds from the enforcement of security securing the Structural Debt only), Senior Subordinated Creditor or Subordinated Creditor receives or recovers a payment of any Senior Secured Debt, Structural Debt, Senior Subordinated Notes Debt or Subordinated Debt which is prohibited by the Intercreditor Agreement or not paid in accordance with the provisions described under “—Application of Proceeds”, subject to certain exceptions, the receiving or recovering creditor will promptly notify the Security Agent and hold any amount on trust for the creditors and, upon demand by the Security Agent, pay that amount to the Security Agent or, if lower, the amount of debt owed to the relevant category of creditor, in each case less the third party costs and expenses (if any) reasonably incurred in receiving or recovering such amount, for application by the Security Agent in accordance with the order of priority described under “—Application of Proceeds”. These provisions will not apply to any receipt or recovery by the Hedging Banks in relation to certain netting and set-off arrangements with Obligors, permitted refinancing or the loss sharing provisions of the Intercreditor Agreement.

Subordination on Insolvency

After the occurrence of an insolvency event in relation to any Obligor (the “Insolvent Obligor”), the Senior Subordinated Debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor will be subordinated in right of payment to the Super Priority Debt and Senior Debt owed by such Insolvent Obligor. Moreover, the shareholder debt and (unless otherwise required by (while the Super Priority Debt remains outstanding) the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group) the Intercompany Debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor will be subordinate in right of payment to the Secured Debt owed by such Insolvent Obligor.

Filing of Claims

While any Senior Secured Debt is outstanding, the Security Agent is authorized (acting on the instructions of (while any Super Priority Debt excluding Hedging Debt is outstanding) the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group) to: (i) claim, enforce and prove for any debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor (ii) only with respect to shareholder debt, exercise all powers of convening meetings, voting and representations in respect of the shareholder debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor (iii) file claims and proofs, give receipts and take all such proceedings and do all such things as the Security Agent considers reasonably necessary to recover any debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor and (iv) receive all payments of or in respect of any debt owed by the Insolvent Obligor for application in accordance with the provisions set forth under “—Application of Proceeds.” Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing shall (i) entitle any party to exercise or require any other party to exercise such power of voting or representation to waive, reduce, discharge, extend the due date for payment of or reschedule any of the Senior Subordinated Debt; or (ii) be deemed to require any Senior Subordinated Notes Creditor to hold a meeting or pass any resolution at such meeting or give any consent pursuant to the terms of any finance documents, or (iii) authorize any Super Priority Creditor or Senior Secured Creditor to take any action against the Senior Subordinated Notes Issuer in respect of the Senior Subordinated Debt.

If the Security Agent is not entitled or does not take any of the actions referred to above the representative of Senior Subordinated Debt, the Senior Subordinated Notes Creditor and the Subordinated Creditors (i) will each do so promptly when requested by the Security Agent (acting on the instructions of (while Super Priority Debt is outstanding) the Relevant Majority of Super Priority Creditors or the Instructing Group subject, in the case of Senior Subordinated Creditors only, to either or both the Super Priority Creditors or the Senior Creditors giving an appropriate indemnity for any costs and expenses which may be reasonably incurred by the Senior Subordinated Creditors and their representative in doing or taking the actions so requested); and (ii) may each do so to the extent permitted as described under “—Restrictions on Enforcement.”

Application of Proceeds

Subject to the rights of any creditor (other than a Secured Creditor or a Structural Creditor) with prior security or preferential claims, (i) all amounts from time to time received pursuant to the provisions described under “—Turnover” or otherwise recovered by the Security Agent (or any other creditors) in connection with the realization or enforcement of all or any part of the security in favor of the Senior Secured Debt or Senior Subordinated Notes Debt (other than the pledge of the shares of the Senior Notes Issuer), the sale of any asset of any Obligor pursuant to an insolvency event or, an enforcement action, judicial supervised or sanctioned reorganization or administrative work-out restructuring or otherwise and (ii) all amounts from time to time received or recovered by the Structural Creditor Security Agent in connection with the realization or enforcement of the security securing the Structural Debt, shall be held by the Security Agent or the Structural Security Agent, on trust, in each case to apply them at any time as the Security Agent or the Structural Creditor Security Agent sees fit in the following order:

- first, in payment of the following amounts in the following order of priority: (i) pari passu and pro rata to the Security Agent and the Structural Creditor Security Agent and thereafter to the trustees to the Senior Subordinated Notes and Senior Secured Notes of any amounts due to each such party, and (ii) pari passu and pro rata to each representative of Super Priority Debt, Senior Bank Debt, Senior Secured Notes Debt and Senior Subordinated Notes Debt of the fees, costs, expenses and liabilities (and all interest thereon as provided in the relevant finance documents) of each such representative and any receiver, attorney or agent appointed by such representative under the security documents, the Structural Debt Documents or the Intercreditor Agreement;
- second, in payment pari passu and pro rata of the balance of the costs and expenses of each Super Priority Creditor in connection with such enforcement;
- third, in payment pari passu and pro rata to the representative of the Super Priority Debt and the Hedging Banks for application towards the balance of the Super Priority Debt;
- fourth, in payment of the balance of the costs and expenses of each Senior Creditor in connection with such enforcement;
- fifth, in payment pari passu and pro rata to each representative of Senior Debt for application towards (i) Senior Bank Debt and (ii) Senior Secured Notes Debt;
- sixth, (only to the extent secured) in payment of the balance of the costs and expenses of each Senior Subordinated Creditor in connection with such enforcement;
- seventh, (only to the extent secured) in payment pari passu and pro rata to each Senior Subordinated Creditor towards the balance of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt; eighth, in payment of the surplus (if any) to the Obligors or other person entitled to it.

Subject to the rights of any creditor (other than a Secured Creditor) with prior security or preferential claims, all amounts from time to time received or recovered by the Security Agent in connection with the realization or enforcement of Security created pursuant to the pledge of the shares of the Senior Notes Issuer shall be held by the Security Agent on trust to apply them at any time as the Security Agent (in its discretion) sees fit in the following order:

- first, in payment of the following amounts in the following order of priority: (i) to the Security Agent and trustee to the Notes and of any amounts due to each such party, and (ii) pari passu and pro rata to each representative of Senior Subordinated Notes Debt and of such other senior subordinated debt of the fees, costs, expenses and liabilities (and all interest thereon as provided in the relevant finance documents) of each such representative and any receiver, attorney or agent appointed by such representative under the security documents or the Intercreditor Agreement;
- second, in payment pari passu and pro rata of the balance of the costs and expenses of each Senior Subordinated Creditor and such other senior subordinated debt creditor in connection with such enforcement;

- third, in payment pari passu and pro rata to the representative of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt and of such other senior subordinated debt for application towards the balance of the Senior Subordinated Notes Debt;
- fourth, in payment of the surplus (if any) to the Obligor or other person entitled to it.

Amendment

Prior consent of each Representative (other than any Senior Subordinated Representative unless in respect of an amendment, waiver or consent under any security document evidencing Security in favor of the Senior Subordinated Creditors) is required for any waivers, consents, or amendments in relation to any security documents (including any Structural Debt Security document) if any such amendments, waivers or consents would adversely affect the nature or scope of the charged property or the nature or scope of the assets which are or expressed to be the subject of security for the Structural Debt (the “Structural Debt Security”) or the manner in which the proceeds of enforcement of Security or the Structural Debt Security is distributed.

Any Senior Subordinated Notes documents may be amended in accordance with their terms i) if permitted by the Senior Secured Debt documents or with the consent of (while Super Priority Debt excluding Hedging Debt is outstanding) the representatives representing the Super Priority Creditors, the Senior Bank Creditors and (but only to the extent prohibited by the indentures governing the Senior Secured Notes) the Senior Secured Note Creditors or ii) in certain other limited circumstances.

The Intercreditor Agreement may be amended by the Obligor and the Security Agent without consent of the other parties if the amendment is to cure defects, typographical errors, resolve ambiguities or reflect changes, in each case, of a minor technical or administrative nature. Where an amendment affects the rights and obligations of one or more parties to the Intercreditor Agreement, and could not reasonably be expected to be adverse to the interests of other parties or class of parties, only the parties affected by such amendment need to agree to the amendments.

Other than in respect of certain customary amendments and waivers (which require the consent of each of the Senior Secured Creditors, the Senior Subordinated Creditors, the Super Priority Creditors, the Security Agent and the Issuers), the Intercreditor Agreement may be amended or waived or any consent may be given under it with the written agreement of the Majority Super Priority Creditors, the Majority Senior Bank Creditors, the Majority Senior Secured Notes Creditors and the Majority Senior Subordinated Creditors, the Issuers, the Security Agent and the Structural Creditor Security Agent.

License Guarantees

HOT and its subsidiaries are required to provide guarantees, often by way of a bank guarantee, to the Ministry of Communications and Broadcast Council in connection with various operating and broadcasting licenses, including providing a bank guarantee in the amount of NIS 695 million in connection with the HOT Mobile’s winning a frequency allotment and receiving a mobile license in 2011. As of the first testing date on September 26, 2013, we have achieved a market share calculated in accordance with the license agreement that would entitle us to a deduction of the entire amount of the NIS 695 million license fee outstanding. Accordingly, we requested the Israeli Ministry of Communications to reduce the amount of the bank guarantee to an amount of NIS 80 million as guarantee of our obligation to achieve certain territorial coverage requirements under our license. On November 21, 2013, the Israeli Ministry of Communications notified HOT Mobile that the license fees shall be decreased to NIS 10 million (which has already been paid) and the bank guarantee shall be decreased from the amount of NIS 695 to an amount of NIS 80 million. For more information “Description of Our Business—Material Agreements—Provision of certain bank guarantees to the State of Israel relating to performance of certain license terms”.

HOT Mobile Earnout

In connection with the acquisition by HOT of HOT Mobile from Altice Securities S.à r.l. (“Altice Securities”), a subsidiary of Altice and affiliate of HOT, HOT agreed to pay to the managers of HOT Mobile and an unrelated third party (“Migad”, and, together with the managers of HOT Mobile and Altice Securities, the “Earnout Recipients”) additional consideration, in an amount of NIS 450 million, which is subject to future performance targets with respect to HOT Mobile (the “Earnout”). The Earnout includes (i) a contingent future payment of NIS 225 million, paid in four equal installments of NIS 56.25 million, conditioned upon achievement of certain EBITDA targets by HOT Mobile for the years 2013 to 2016, inclusive, and (ii) a contingent future payment of NIS 225 million conditioned on achievement of 7% market share, as defined in the HOT Mobile’s mobile license, in the mobile market by 2016. There is a mechanism to reduce the payments required under the Earnout to the extent HOT Mobile is required to make payments to the Israeli Ministry of Communications pursuant to the mobile license. As of September 30, 2014, we estimate that the fair value of the Earnout is NIS 75 million and Altice Securities has pro rata rights to approximately 94% of the Earnout. Altice Securities has transferred its rights and entitlements to payments under the Earnout to the Senior Notes Issuer (the assigned rights only include such payments that would actually have been received by Altice Securities). In June 2013, HOT paid NIS 90 million under the Earnout to the Earnout Recipients in accordance with the terms of the Earnout, out of which the Senior Notes Issuer received NIS 86.4 million. Furthermore, in the months of August and September 2013, HOT transferred amounts of NIS 4.5 million and NIS 1.5 million to Migad Communications Ltd. and to the other parties, respectively on behalf their share of the above consideration. See “Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions—HOT Mobile Earnout”.

HOT Refinancing Note

The following contains a summary of the terms of the HOT Proceeds Term Note and the HOT Refinancing RCF Note. It does not purport to be complete and is subject to, and qualified in its entirety by reference to, the underlying documents.

HOT Proceeds Term Note

On the 2012 Transaction Completion Date, in connection with the 2012 Transaction, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer purchased an NIS 1,900 million (€408 million equivalent) intercompany term note (the “HOT Proceeds Term Note”) issued by HOT.

Interest

The HOT Proceeds Term Note bears interest at a rate of 6.3% per annum, which is payable semi-annually in cash in arrears on the date which is two business days prior to each June 15 and December 15, commencing on the date which is two business days prior to June 15, 2013 and shall be calculated on the basis of a three hundred and sixty (360) day year composed of twelve (12) months of thirty (30) days each. Interest accrues from 2012 Transaction Completion Date. The maturity date of the HOT Proceeds Term Note is the same as the maturity date of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes.

Guarantees and Security

The HOT Proceeds Term Note is a senior obligation of HOT and is guaranteed on a senior basis by the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors. The HOT Proceeds Term Note is secured by a pledge over substantially all of the assets of the HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors (including all of the share capital of HOT Mobile) but, in each case, excluding (a) licenses issued by the Israeli Ministry of Communications, which are not assignable as a matter of law, and (b) certain end-user equipment (the “HOT Refinancing Note Collateral”).

Repayment

HOT may not prepay the HOT Proceeds Term Note except (i) in the event of a Change of Control, as defined in the HOT Proceeds Term Note, (ii) upon certain asset sales and (iii) if duly approved by HOT and required in order to facilitate or accommodate a repayment of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer.

Change of Control

If a change of control occurs, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer will have the right to require HOT to prepay all or any part of the HOT Proceeds Term Note, together with a premium of 1% of the principal amount of the HOT Proceeds Term Note prepaid, plus accrued and unpaid interest, to the date of prepayment.

Change of Control is defined as

- (a) the consummation of any transaction (including, without limitation, any merger or consolidation), the result of which is that any Person (as defined in the HOT Proceeds Term Note, including any “person” (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act)) other than one or more Permitted Holders (as defined in the HOT Proceeds Term Note) becomes the Beneficial Owner, directly or indirectly, of more than 50% of the issued and outstanding Voting Stock of HOT, measured by voting power rather than number of shares; or
- (b) the direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition (other than by way of merger, consolidation or other business combination transaction), in one or a series of related transactions, of all or substantially all of the assets of HOT and its restricted subsidiaries taken as a whole to a Person (including any “person” as defined above), other than a Permitted Holder.

Covenants and Events of Default

HOT has agreed, and has agreed to cause each of its subsidiaries, for the sole benefit of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, (i) to be bound by the covenants in Article 4 (Covenants) and Article 5 (Merger and Consolidation) of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture that are applicable to HOT and its subsidiaries as Restricted Subsidiaries (as defined in the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture), (ii) if duly appointed as Paying Agent under the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture, to be bound by the obligations in the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture relating thereto and (iii) to comply with the obligations set forth in the section to be titled “Collateral and Security Documents” in the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture.

The HOT Proceeds Term Note contains events of default, substantially similar to those contained in the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture which, if such event of default occurs, permits the Senior Secured Notes Issuer to declare the HOT Proceeds Term Note due and payable immediately. However, upon an event of default under the New Notes (or any other senior secured debt), HOT and its subsidiaries shall not be liable in any way, including by way of cross-default, and shall not be required to repay any amounts outstanding, including any repayment premiums and accrued and unpaid interest thereon, under the New Notes (or any other senior secured debt). Further, the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors will only guarantee HOT’s obligations under the HOT Refinancing Notes (the “HOT Refinancing Note Guarantees”). The HOT Refinancing Note Guarantees will be limited to an aggregate amount equal to the amount outstanding under the HOT Refinancing Notes which may vary from time to time in accordance with the terms of the HOT Refinancing Notes. HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Notes in the event of an event of default under the HOT Refinancing Notes, in each case, indirectly as a result of an assignment of the HOT Refinancing Notes and/or the ability of the holders of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes to direct the actions of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer in connection with the HOT Refinancing Notes in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby. The 2012 Senior Notes, the 2013 June Senior Notes and the New Senior Notes will not benefit from any assignment of the HOT Refinancing Notes.

Limitation of Liability

For the avoidance of doubt and without in any way limiting HOT’s and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors’ obligations to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer pursuant to the HOT Proceeds Term Note, in any event, including in the event of a default by HOT and/or the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors under the HOT Proceeds Term Note, or by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer under the 2012 Senior Secured Notes or the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility or the relevant borrower under the Cool Proceeds Note, the Acquisition Proceeds Note or any documents related to any of the foregoing, HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors shall not be liable in any way, including by way of cross default, and shall not be required to repay any amounts outstanding, any repayment premiums and accrued and unpaid interest thereon, under the 2012 Senior Secured Notes, the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility, the Cool Proceeds Note and the Acquisition Proceeds Note or any documents related to any of the foregoing. It is further clarified that the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors serve as guarantors only with respect to the HOT’s debt obligation under the HOT Proceeds Term Note.

Conflicts

For the avoidance of doubt, and despite HOT not being party to such agreements, other than with respect to the covenants described above, in the event that any of the other terms or provisions of this HOT Proceeds Term Note conflict with any terms or provisions of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture, Intercreditor Agreement or related agreements that are applicable to HOT and the HOT Proceeds Term Note, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer has agreed and acknowledged that (as between HOT and the Senior Secured Notes Issuer only) the terms or provisions of the HOT Proceeds Term Note shall prevail.

HOT Refinancing RCF Note

On the 2012 Transaction Completion Date, in connection with the 2012 Transaction, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer purchased an intercompany revolving credit facility note (the “HOT Refinancing RCF Note” and, together with the HOT Proceeds Term Note, the “HOT Refinancing Notes”) issued by HOT pursuant to which the Senior Secured Notes Issuer may make available to HOT amounts borrowed by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer under the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility Agreement. The HOT Refinancing RCF Note contains substantially similar terms as the HOT Proceeds Term Note except that, in addition to the covenants contained in the HOT Proceeds Term Note, the HOT Refinancing RCF Note contains one leverage based maintenance covenant. The HOT Refinancing RCF Note is guaranteed by the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors and secured by the same HOT Refinancing Note Collateral that secures the HOT Refinancing Term Note.

Senior Notes Proceeds Loans

The Senior Notes Proceeds Loans comprise of the following:

- (i) On the 2012 Transaction Completion Date, in connection with the 2012 Transaction, the Senior Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan (the “2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan”) in aggregate principal amount of approximately $425 million pursuant to which it loaned the proceeds of the offering of the 2012 Senior Notes to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer.
- (ii) On July 2, 2013 the Senior Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan of €250 million pursuant to which the proceeds of the 2013 June Senior Notes were loaned to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer (the “2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan”).
- (iii) On December 12, 2013 the Senior Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan of $400 million pursuant to which the proceeds of the 2013 December Senior Notes were loaned to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer (the “2013 December Senior Notes Proceeds Loan”, and, together with the 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan and the 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan (the “Existing Senior Notes Proceeds Loans”).
- (iv) Upon release of the proceeds of the New Senior Notes from escrow, the Senior Notes Issuer will make an intercompany loan to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer pursuant to which it will loan such proceeds to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer (the “New Senior Proceeds Loan” and, together with the Existing Senior Notes Proceeds Loans, the “Senior Notes Proceeds Loans”). The terms of the Senior Notes Proceeds Loans are customary for intercompany proceeds loans. The 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan accrues interest at a rate equal to the interest rate of the 2012 Senior Notes. The maturity date of the 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan is the same as the maturity date of the 2012 Senior Notes. The 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan accrues interest at a rate equal to the interest rate of the 2013 June Senior Notes. The maturity date of the 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan is the same as the maturity date of the 2013 June Senior Notes. The 2013 December Senior Notes Proceeds Loan accrues interest at a rate equal to the interest rate of the 2013 December Senior Notes. The maturity date of the 2013 December Senior Notes Proceeds Loan is the same as the maturity date of the 2013 December Senior Notes. The New Senior Notes Proceeds Loan will accrue interest at a rate equal to the interest rate of the New Senior Notes. The maturity date of the New Senior Notes Proceeds Loan will be the same as the maturity date of the New Senior Notes. Payments on the Senior Notes Proceeds Loan are subject to the Intercreditor Agreement.

Additional Intercompany Proceeds Loans

On the 2012 Transaction Completion Date, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer made intercompany proceeds loans, in addition to the HOT Refinancing Note, to certain entities in the Group with the proceeds of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes and the 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan.

On July 2, 2013 the Senior Secured Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan to Altice Holdings with the proceeds of the 2013 June Senior Notes and the 2013 Term Loan. Altice Holdings made additional intercompany proceeds loans (or subscriptions to bonds), including the ABO Proceeds Loan, the New Cabovisão Proceeds Notes, the Altice West Europe Proceeds Loan, the Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans and the Onitecom Proceeds Notes (together with the Original Cabovisão Proceeds Notes, the “Covenant Party Pledged Proceeds Loans”) to certain entities in the Group in connection with consummation of the 2013 June Transactions.

On December 12, 2013 the Senior Secured Notes Issuer made intercompany proceeds loans to certain entities in the Group with the proceeds of the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan in connection with the consummation of the Tricom Acquisition and the ODO Acquisition.

On December 2, 2014, in connection with the repayment of the Existing Coditel Mezzanine Facility Agreement, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer made intercompany proceeds loans to Altice Holdings in an aggregate principal amount of €126 million. Altice Holdings further on-lent this amount through two intercompany proceeds loans of €19 approximately million and approximately €107 million.

In connection with the New Transactions, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer will use amounts borrowed under the New Senior Notes Proceeds Loan, the proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Secured Notes, amounts borrowed under the New Term Loan and any amounts borrowed under the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility to make a proceeds loan (the “New AH Proceeds Loan”) to Altice Holdings. Altice Holdings will use the proceeds under the New AH Proceeds Loan and the ASA Notes Proceeds Contribution to make the AWE Proceeds Loan to Altice West Europe which in turn will make the AP Proceeds Loan to Altice Portugal to consummate the PT Portugal Acquisition. Furthermore, Altice Portugal, PT Portugal, PT OpCo, PT Móveis and SIRESP intend to enter into the PT Group Loans as part of the PT Portugal Acquisition.

These loans (other than the AP Proceeds Loan and the PT Group Loans) are pledged as security for the Senior Secured Debt. The 2013 June Senior Notes, 2013 December Senior Notes, the 2012 Senior Notes and the New Senior Notes do not benefit from any security over the intercompany proceeds loans granted by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer. For further details, see “—Corporate and Financing Structure”.

DESCRIPTION OF SENIOR SECURED NOTES

You will find definitions of certain capitalized terms used in this “Description of Senior Secured Notes” under the heading “Certain Definitions”. Certain capitalized terms used in this “Description of Senior Secured Notes” may have different definitions than the same term used in other sections of this Offering Memorandum, including “Description of Senior Notes”. For purposes of this “Description of Senior Secured Notes”, references to the “Issuer” refer only to Altice Financing S.A.

Altice Financing S.A., a Luxembourg public limited liability company (société anonyme), with registered office at 3 Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg (the “Issuer”) will be the issuer of the Notes offered hereby. The Issuer is a wholly owned subsidiary of Altice Finco S.A., a Luxembourg public limited liability company (société anonyme), with registered office at 3 Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg (“HoldCo”).

The Issuer has issued $2,060 million aggregate principal amount of its U.S. dollar-denominated Senior Secured Notes due 2023 (the “Dollar Notes”) and €500 million aggregate principal amount of its euro-denominated Senior Secured Notes due 2023 (the “Euro Notes”) and, together with the Dollar Notes, the “Notes”) under an indenture (the “Indenture”), between, inter alios, itself, Altice International S.à r.l. (“Altice International”), a private limited company (société a responsabilité limitée) incorporated under the laws of Luxembourg, registered with the Luxembourg Register of Commerce and Companies under number B143.725, and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as trustee (the “Trustee”), Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch as Principal Paying Agent and Deutsche Bank Luxembourg, S.A. as Euro Transfer Agent and Euro Registrar, Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas as US Paying Agent, US Transfer Agent and US Registrar and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent (“Security Agent”) and Altice Finco S.A. (“HoldCo”) has issued $385 million aggregate principal amount of its 7.625% Senior Notes due 2025 (the “New Senior Notes”) under an indenture (the “New Senior Notes Indenture”), between, inter alios, itself, Altice International and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as trustee (the “New Senior Notes Trustee”), Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas as US Paying Agent, US Transfer Agent and US Registrar and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent, in each case, in a private transaction that is not subject to the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The gross proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Notes sold on the Issue Date will be loaned by HoldCo to the Issuer pursuant to a proceeds loan (a “HoldCo Proceeds Loan”) upon release of such proceeds from the New Senior Notes Escrow Account (as defined below), as described herein.

Subject to the following three paragraphs, the net proceeds of the offering of the Notes sold on the Issue Date and the net proceeds of the HoldCo Proceeds Loan will be loaned pursuant to the Issuer Proceeds Loans described under the heading “—The Issuer Proceeds Loans” to Altice Holdings to enable Altice Holdings to:

- (1) directly or indirectly to acquire (the “Acquisition”) 100% of the outstanding Capital Stock of PT Portugal SGPS, S.A. (the “Target”), together with certain entities identified in the Acquisition Agreement (as defined below) as “Companies within the Transaction Perimeter” (collectively, the “PT Portugal Group”), from Oi, S.A. (the “Seller”) pursuant to the terms of an agreement dated December 9, 2014 among Altice S.A., Altice Portugal and the Seller (the “Acquisition Agreement”); and
- (2) pay fees and expenses related to the foregoing,

(herein referred to collectively as the “Transactions”) as described in this Offering Memorandum under “The Transactions” and “Use of Proceeds”. The date on which the Acquisition is consummated is herein referred to as the “Completion Date”.

The initial purchasers have, concurrently with the closing of the offering of the Notes on the Issue Date, deposited the gross proceeds of this offering of the Notes into one or more segregated escrow accounts (the “Escrow Accounts”) pursuant to the terms of an escrow agreement (the “Notes Escrow Agreement”) dated as of the Issue Date among, inter alios, the Issuer, the Trustee and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as Escrow Agent (the “Escrow Agent”). If the Acquisition is not consummated on or prior to June 9, 2016 (the “Escrow Longstop Date”), or upon the occurrence of certain other events, the Notes will be redeemed at a price equal to 100% of the initial issue price of the Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, from the Issue Date to the Special Mandatory Redemption Date (as defined below). The initial purchasers have, concurrently with the closing of the offering of the New Senior Notes on the Issue Date, deposited the gross proceeds of this offering of the New Senior Notes into a segregated escrow account (the “New Senior Notes Escrow Account”) pursuant to the terms of an escrow agreement (the “New Senior Notes Escrow Agreement”) and together with the Notes Escrow Agreement, the “Escrow Agreements”) dated as of the Issue Date among, inter alios, HoldCo, the New Senior Notes Trustee and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as escrow agent.

The completion of the Acquisition is subject to the conditions set out in the Acquisition Agreement, including the separate approval by the competent regulatory authorities in Portugal and merger-control clearance by the European Commission. As a result, we are unable to predict the date on which the Acquisition will complete. The Escrow Agreements provide that, subject to the conditions in relevant Escrow Agreement all of the proceeds of the Notes held in the Escrow Accounts and all of the proceeds of the New Senior Notes held in the New Senior Notes Escrow Account will be released to consummate the Acquisition, and to pay fees and expenses related to the Transactions.

The release of the proceeds of the offering of the Notes from the Escrow Accounts will be subject to certain conditions. See “General—Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption”.

As of the initial issuance of the Notes, the Notes are obligations solely of the Issuer and are not guaranteed. Although Altice International is party to the Indenture on the Issue Date for purposes of the covenants described below, the Note Guarantee of Altice International will not be effective until the Completion Date (as defined below). Assuming the Completion Date occurs on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date, on the Completion Date, the Note Guarantee of Altice International will become effective and each of Cool, H. Hadaros 2012, Ltd., Altice Holdings, Altice West Europe, Altice Caribbean, Green, Altice Bahamas, Tricom, Global Interlink, ODO and Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Oniteleco, Knewon, Altice Portugal and Cabovisao (subject to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit Amount (as defined below)) (collectively, the “Completion Date Guarantors”) will execute and deliver a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee on a senior basis. Within 90 days following the Completion Date, PT Portugal and PT OpCo (the “Post-Completion Date Guarantors”) will execute and deliver a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee on a senior basis, subject to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit (the date on which the Post-Completion Date Guarantor executes such supplemental indenture being the “Post-Completion Guarantor Accession Date”).

The Indenture is unlimited in aggregate principal amount and € 2,317 million equivalent in principal amount of Notes, comprising of $2,060 million aggregate principal amount of Dollar Notes and €500 million aggregate principal amount of Euro Notes, were issued in this offering. We may issue an unlimited principal amount of additional Notes at later dates under the same Indenture (the “Additional Notes”); provided, however, that we will only be permitted to issue Additional Notes in compliance with the covenants contained in the Indenture, including the covenants restricting the Incurrence of Indebtedness (as described below under “Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”) and the Incurrence of Liens (as described below under “Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”). The Notes issued in this offering and, if issued, any Additional Notes will be treated as a single class for all purposes under the Indenture, including, without limitation, with respect to waivers, amendments, redemptions and offers to purchase, except as otherwise stated in the Indenture. However, in order for any Additional Notes denominated in U.S. dollars or euro to have the same CUSIP number and ISIN as the Dollar Notes or the Euro Notes, as applicable, such Additional Notes must be fungible with the Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Unless the context otherwise requires, in this “Description of Senior Secured Notes”, references to the “Notes” include the Notes and any Additional Notes that are actually issued. The terms of the Notes include those set forth in the Indenture. The Indenture is not qualified under, and will not incorporate by reference any of the provisions of, and is not required to be subject to, the U.S. Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

This “Description of Senior Secured Notes” is intended to be an overview of the material provisions of the Notes and the Indenture, and refers to the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Security Documents (as defined below). It does not restate those agreements in their entirety. Since this description of the terms of the Notes is only a summary, you should refer to the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Security Documents for complete descriptions of the obligations of the Issuer and your rights because they, and not this summary, define your rights as holders of the Notes. Copies of the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Security Documents, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement are available as set forth under “Available Information”. See the section entitled “Description of Other Indebtedness—Intercreditor Agreement” for a summary of certain material terms of the Intercreditor Agreement.

The registered holder of a Note will be treated as the owner of such Note for all purposes. Only registered holders will have rights under the Indenture.

General

The Notes

The Notes:

- are general obligations of the Issuer;
- are, prior to the Completion Date, be secured by a first ranking assignment over the Escrowed Property (as defined below) and the rights of the Issuer under the Notes Escrow Agreement;

- will, as of the Completion Date, be guaranteed by the Completion Date Guarantors and within 90 days after the Completion Date (if it occurs), the Notes will be guaranteed by the Post-Completion Date Guarantors and benefit from the security as set forth below under “—Notes Security”;
- rank pari passu in right of payment with all existing and future Indebtedness of the Issuer that is not subordinated in right of payment to the Notes, including Indebtedness under the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations;
- rank senior in right of payment to all existing and future Indebtedness of the Issuer that is expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Notes; and
- are effectively subordinated to all existing and future Indebtedness of the Issuer that is secured by property and assets that do not secure the Notes, to the extent of the value of the property and assets securing such Indebtedness.

The Note Guarantees

Subject to the following paragraph, on the Completion Date, the Notes will be guaranteed by the Completion Date Guarantors; provided that (i) the Note Guarantees of Cabovisao and Altice Portugal together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €95 million; and (ii) the Note Guarantees of the ONI Group together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €45.8 million. See “Corporate and Financing Structure”. None of HOT, Altice Blue Two SAS (“NewCo OMT”), ABO or any of their Subsidiaries will Guarantee the Notes.

Within 90 days after the Completion Date (if it occurs), the Notes will be Guaranteed by the Post-Completion Date Guarantors; provided that (i) the Note Guarantee of Target, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to € 4,634.4 million; and (ii) the Note Guarantee of PT OpCo, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €968.4 million. See “Corporate and Financing Structure”.

Although the Existing Senior Secured Notes and the other outstanding secured Indebtedness of Issuer referred to above are guaranteed by ABO, because of applicable restrictions under French law related to corporate benefit, the Notes will not be guaranteed by ABO.

Each Note Guarantee of the Notes:

- be a general obligation of the relevant Guarantor;
- rank pari passu in right of payment with all existing and future Indebtedness of that Guarantor that is not subordinated in right of payment to such Guarantor’s Note Guarantee, including such Guarantor’s Guarantee of the Issuer’s Indebtedness under the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations;
- rank senior in right of payment to all existing and future obligations of that Guarantor that is expressly subordinated in right of payment to such Note Guarantee;
- benefit from the security as set forth below under “—Notes Security”;
- be effectively subordinated to all existing and future Indebtedness of that Guarantor that is secured by liens on property or assets that do not secure that Guarantor’s guarantee, to the extent of the value of the property or assets securing such Indebtedness; and
- be effectively subordinated to the Indebtedness and other obligations of Subsidiaries of Altice International that do not Guarantee the Notes.

The Notes will not benefit from a direct guarantee from HOT or any of its Subsidiaries, NewCo OMT or any of its Subsidiaries or Coditel Holdco or any of its Subsidiaries. However, as a result of the pledge of:

- the HOT Proceeds Note on December 27, 2012, the Notes will indirectly benefit from the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees by the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors;
- as a result of the pledge of the OMT Proceeds Loans on July 5, 2013, the Notes will indirectly benefit from the OMT Proceeds Loans; and
- as a result of the pledge over the loans outstanding under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility (all of which are held by Altice Holdings), the Notes will indirectly benefit from the loans under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility.

In addition, the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes will rank pari passu with the HOT Proceeds Note to the extent the amount of the HOT Proceeds Note exceeds the value of the assets of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor and will rank effectively senior to the Notes and the Note Guarantees of the Guarantors in respect of such assets. As of September 30, 2014, the total principal amount of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes outstanding was approximately NIS 1,188 million.

Further, the obligations of a Guarantor under its Note Guarantee will be limited as necessary to prevent the relevant Note Guarantee from constituting a fraudulent conveyance under applicable law, or otherwise to reflect limitations under applicable law or capital maintenance regulations. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Each Guarantee will be subject to certain limitations on enforcement and may be limited by applicable laws or subject to certain defenses that may limit its validity and enforceability” and “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests”.

As of September 30, 2014, on an as-adjusted consolidated basis after giving effect to the Transactions, including the issuance of the Notes, the New Senior Notes and the amounts expected to be drawn under the Additional Revolving Credit Facilities to consummate the Acquisition and the application of the proceeds therefrom as described under “Use of Proceeds” elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum, Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries would have had outstanding €7,425 million equivalent aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness if the Acquisition is consummated. As of September 30, 2014, on an as-adjusted basis after giving effect to the Transactions, including the issuance of the Notes, the incurrence of the HoldCo Proceeds Loan and the amounts expected to be drawn under the Additional Revolving Credit Facilities to consummate the Acquisition and the application of the proceeds therefrom, the Issuer would have had €5,862 million equivalent aggregate principal amount of outstanding Indebtedness (in each case, excluding Guarantees of the Indebtedness of Holdco).

Each of Altice International, Altice Holdings, Altice West Europe, Altice Caribbean, NewCo OMT, Altice Portugal, Cool, H. Hadaros 2012, Ltd., the Target and certain other Guarantors is a holding company and does not conduct any operations and is wholly dependent on payments from its respective Subsidiaries to meet its obligations, including under its Note Guarantee and any Issuer Proceeds Loan to which it is a party.

Principal and Maturity

The Issuer issued $2,060 million aggregate principal amount of Dollar Notes and €500 million aggregate principal amount of Euro Notes on the Issue Date. The Notes will mature on February 15, 2023 at which time 100% of the principal amount of the Notes shall be payable, unless redeemed prior thereto as described herein. The Notes are issued in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, and the Euro Notes are issued in minimum denominations of € 100,000 and in integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof.

Interest

Interest on the Dollar Notes will accrue at the rate of 6.625% per annum. Interest on the Euro Notes will accrue at the rate of 5.250% per annum.

Interest on the Notes will:

- accrue from the date of original issuance or, if interest has already been paid, from the date it was most recently paid;
- be payable in cash semi-annually in arrears on each April 1 and October 1, commencing on October 1, 2015;
- be payable to the holder of record of such Notes on March 15 and September 15 immediately preceding the related interest payment date; and

- be computed on the basis of a 360-day year comprised of twelve 30-day months.

Interest on overdue principal and interest, including Additional Amounts, if any, will accrue at a rate that is 1% higher than the interest rate on the Notes.

If the due date for any payment in respect of any Notes is not a Business Day at the place at which such payment is due to be paid, the Holder thereof will not be entitled to payment of the amount due until the next succeeding Business Day at such place, and will not be entitled to any further interest or other payment as a result of any such delay.

Methods of Receiving Payments on the Notes

Principal, interest and premium, if any, on the Global Notes (as defined below) will be payable at the specified office or agency of one or more Paying Agents; provided that payments on the Dollar Global Notes (as defined below) will be made to Cede & Co. as the registered holder of the Dollar Global Notes, and payments on the Euro Global Notes (as defined below) will be made to the Paying Agent, which will in turn make such payments to Euroclear and Clearstream (in the case of the Euro Global Notes) and DTC or its nominee (in the case of the Dollar Global Notes).

Principal, interest and premium, if any, on any certificated securities (“Definitive Registered Notes”) will be payable at the specified office or agency of one or more Paying Agents maintained for such purposes in New York, New York and London, United Kingdom. In addition, at the option of the Issuer, interest on the Definitive Registered Notes may be paid by check mailed to the Person entitled thereto as shown on the register for the Definitive Registered Notes. See “—Paying Agent and Registrar for the Notes”.

The Issuer will maintain one or more paying agents for the Notes (each, a “Paying Agent” and together, the “Paying Agents”) in (i) the City of London, United Kingdom (the “Principal Paying Agent”) and (ii) New York. The Issuer will also undertake to maintain a Paying Agent in a European Union member state that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to the European Union Directive 2003/48/EC (as amended from time to time) or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26 and 27 November 2000 regarding the taxation of savings income (the “Directive”), or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to such Directive. The Principal Paying Agent will be Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch in London and the U.S. Paying Agent will be Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas in New York.

The Issuer will also maintain one or more registrars (each, a “Registrar”). The initial Registrars will be Deutsche Bank Luxembourg S.A., in the case of the Euro Notes, and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, in the case of the Dollar Notes. The Issuer will also maintain one or more transfer agents (each, a “Transfer Agent”). The initial transfer agents will be Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, in the case of the Euro Notes, and Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, in the case of the Dollar Notes. The Registrar will maintain a register reflecting ownership of Definitive Registered Notes (as defined herein) outstanding from time to time, if any, and will facilitate transfers of Definitive Registered Notes on behalf of the Issuer. Each transfer agent shall perform the functions of a transfer agent. Each Registrar shall provide a copy of the register and any update thereof to the Issuer and the Issuer shall maintain a register of the Notes at its registered office in order to comply with Luxembourg law (the “Duplicate Register”). In case of discrepancy between any register and the Duplicate Register, the Duplicate Register shall prevail for Luxembourg law purposes.

The Issuer may change any Paying Agents, Registrars or transfer agents for the Notes without prior notice to the Holders of such Notes. However, for so long as Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a notice of any change of Paying Agent, Registrar or transfer agent on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules and the regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar in respect of the Notes.

The Notes have been issued in the form of several registered notes in global form, without interest coupons, as follows:

- Each series of Notes sold within the United States to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act will initially be represented by a global note in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “144A Global Notes”).
- The 144A Global Notes representing the Dollar Notes (the “Dollar 144A Global Note”), were deposited with a custodian for The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) and registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC on the Issue Date.

- The 144A Global Notes representing the Euro Notes (the “Euro 144A Global Note”), were deposited with and registered in the name of the nominee of the common depository for the accounts of Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme (“Clearstream”) on the Issue Date.
- Each series of Notes sold outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act will initially be represented by a global note in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “Regulation S Global Notes” and together with the 144A Global Notes, the “Global Notes”).
- During the 40-day “distribution compliance period” (as such term is defined in Rule 902 of Regulation S under the Securities Act), the Regulation S Global Notes representing the Dollar Notes (the “Dollar Regulation S Global Note,” and together with the Dollar 144A Global Note, the “Dollar Global Notes”) will initially be credited within DTC for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream. After the 40-day distribution compliance period ends, investors may also hold their interests in the permanent Dollar Regulation S Global Note through organizations other than Clearstream or Euroclear that are DTC participants.
- The Regulation S Global Notes representing the Euro Notes (the “Euro Regulation S Global Note”, and together with the Euro 144A Global Note, the “Euro Global Notes”) will, on the closing date, be deposited with and registered in the name of the nominee of the common depository for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream.

During the 40-day distribution compliance period, book-entry interests in the Regulation S Global Note may be (1) held only through Euroclear and Clearstream or through DTC for the account of Euroclear and Clearstream, and (2) transferred only to non-U.S. persons under Regulation S or qualified institutional buyers under Rule 144A. Ownership of interests in the Global Notes (“Book-Entry Interests”) will be limited to persons that have accounts with Euroclear, Clearstream or DTC, as applicable, or persons that may hold interests through such participants. Ownership of interests in the Book-Entry Interests and transfers thereof will be subject to the restrictions on transfer and certification requirements summarized below and described more fully under “Transfer Restrictions”. In addition, transfers of Book-Entry Interests between participants in Euroclear, participants in Clearstream or participants in DTC will be effected by Euroclear, Clearstream or DTC, as applicable, pursuant to customary procedures and subject to the applicable rules and procedures established by Euroclear, Clearstream or DTC, as applicable, and their respective participants.

Book-Entry Interests in the 144A Global Note may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of Book-Entry Interests in the Regulation S Global Note denominated in the same currency only upon delivery by the transferor of a written certification (in the form provided in the indenture) to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Regulation S Book-Entry Interests may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of 144A Book-Entry Interests only upon delivery by the transferor of a written certification (in the form provided in the Indenture) to the effect that such transfer is being made to a person who the transferor reasonably believes is a “qualified institutional buyer” within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A or otherwise in accordance with the transfer restrictions described under “Transfer Restrictions” and in accordance with any applicable securities law of any other jurisdiction.

Any Book-Entry Interest that is transferred as described in the immediately preceding paragraphs will, upon transfer, cease to be a Book-Entry Interest in the Global Note from which it was transferred and will become a Book-Entry Interest in the Global Note to which it was transferred.

Accordingly, from and after such transfer, it will become subject to all transfer restrictions, if any, and other procedures applicable to Book-Entry Interests in the Global Note to which it was transferred.

If Definitive Registered Notes are issued, they will be issued only in minimum denominations of $200,000 or €100,000 principal amount, as the case may be, and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof or € 1,000 in excess thereof, as the case may be, upon receipt by the applicable Registrar of instructions relating thereto and any certificates, opinions and other documentation required by the Indenture. It is expected that such instructions will be based upon directions received by Euroclear, Clearstream or DTC, as applicable, from the participant which owns the relevant Book-Entry Interests. Definitive Registered Notes issued in exchange for a Book-Entry Interest will, except as set forth in the Indenture or as otherwise determined by the Issuer to be in compliance with applicable law, be subject to, and will have a legend with respect to, the restrictions on transfer summarized below and described more fully under “Transfer Restrictions”.

Subject to the restrictions on transfer referred to above, Dollar Notes issued as Definitive Registered Notes may be transferred or exchanged, in whole or in part, in minimum denominations of $200,000 in principal amount and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof and Euro Notes issued as Definitive Registered Notes may be transferred or exchanged, in whole or in part, in minimum denominations of €100,000 in principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof. In connection with any such transfer or exchange, the Indenture requires the transferring or exchanging holder to, among other things, furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents, to furnish information regarding the account of the transferee at Euroclear, Clearstream or DTC, as applicable, to furnish certain certificates and opinions, and to pay any taxes, duties and governmental charges in connection with such transfer or exchange. Any such transfer or exchange will be made without charge to the holder, other than any taxes, duties and governmental charges payable in connection with such transfer.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer is not required to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes:

- (1) for a period of 15 days prior to any date fixed for the redemption of the Notes;
- (2) for a period of 15 days immediately prior to the date fixed for selection of Notes to be redeemed in part;
- (3) for a period of 15 days prior to the record date with respect to any interest payment date; or
- (4) which the Holder has tendered (and not withdrawn) for repurchase in connection with a Change of Control Offer or an Asset Disposition Offer.

The Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agents, the transfer agents and the Registrar will be entitled to treat the registered holder of a Note as the owner of it for all purposes.

The Note Guarantees

General

The Notes were not guaranteed as of the Issue Date. Although Altice International will be a party to the Indenture on the Issue Date for the purposes of the covenants described below, Altice International's Note Guarantee will not be effective until the Completion Date occurs. Following the Completion Date, the Notes will be Guaranteed by the Completion Date Guarantors that grant a Note Guarantee on such date on a senior basis for the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of all payment obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the Notes, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The Note Guarantees of Cabovisao and Altice Portugal together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €95 million. The Note Guarantees of the ONI Group together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to approximately €45.8 million.

Within 90 days after the Completion Date (if it occurs), the Notes will be guaranteed by the Post-Completion Date Guarantors. The Note Guarantee of Target, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €4,634.4 million. The Note Guarantee of PT OpCo, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the New Senior Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €968.4 million.

On the Issue Date and the Completion Date, the Notes did not and will not benefit from a direct guarantee from HOT or any of its Subsidiaries, from NewCo OMT or any of its Subsidiaries, from ABO or any of its Subsidiaries or from Coditel Holdco or any of its Subsidiaries.

The obligations of each Guarantor under its Note Guarantee are or will be, as applicable, contractually limited under the applicable guarantees to reflect limitations under applicable law with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partners. See "Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests".

The Issuer is a special purpose finance vehicle formed for the purpose of serving as the issuer of the Notes and does not conduct, and will be prohibited by the Indenture from engaging in, any operations. Upon completion of the Transactions, the Issuer's only assets will be the Issuer Proceeds Loans made on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; July 5, 2013; August 8, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; and the Completion Date, if it occurs, and cash in its bank accounts. As a result, the Issuer is wholly dependent on payments from Altice International and the other Restricted Subsidiaries, including payments made by the borrowers under the Issuer Proceeds Loans, to fund its obligations, including its obligations under the Notes, to the extent it does not otherwise have funds available to it.

The operations of each of Altice International and each of the other Guarantors that are holding companies are conducted through their respective Subsidiaries and, therefore, each of Altice International and such other Guarantors depend on the cash flow of their respective Subsidiaries to meet their respective obligations, including their obligations under Note Guarantees and the Issuer Proceeds Loans to which they are a party. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Altice International and most of the other Guarantors are holding companies and conducts no business of their own and will depend on payments from their direct and indirect subsidiaries to provide them with funds to meet their obligations under the Guarantees.”

The Note Guarantees will be effectively subordinated to the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes. The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes will not be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and, as a result, in the event of an enforcement sale of the shares of Cool, HOT or any of its holding companies, as the case may be, pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement, the debt claims of the holders of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not required to be released or otherwise transferred. In addition, the Notes and the Note Guarantees will be effectively subordinated in right of payment to all Indebtedness and other liabilities and commitments (including trade payables and lease obligations) of Subsidiaries of Altice International that do not Guarantee the Notes. Any right of the Issuer or any Guarantor to receive assets of any of the Subsidiaries of Altice International that do not Guarantee the Notes upon that non-guarantor Subsidiary’s liquidation or reorganisation (and the consequent right of the holders of the Notes to participate in those assets) will be effectively subordinated to the claims of that non-guarantor Subsidiary’s creditors, except to the extent that the Issuer or such Guarantor is itself recognized as a creditor of the non-guarantor Subsidiary, in which case the claims of the Issuer or such Guarantor, as the case may be, would still be subordinate in right of payment to any security in the assets of the non-guarantor Subsidiary and any Indebtedness of the non-guarantor Subsidiary senior to that held by the Issuer or such Guarantor.

Additional Note Guarantees

Altice International may from time to time designate a Restricted Subsidiary as an additional guarantor of the Notes (the “Additional Guarantors”) by causing it to execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture (and with such documentation relating thereto as the Trustee may reasonably require, including Opinions of Counsel as to the enforceability of such Note Guarantee), pursuant to which such Restricted Subsidiary will become a Guarantor.

Each Additional Guarantor will, jointly and severally, with the Guarantors and each other Additional Guarantor, irrevocably guarantee (each guarantee, an “Additional Guarantee”) on a senior basis the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of all payment obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the Notes, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The obligations of any Additional Guarantor will be contractually limited under its Additional Guarantee to reflect limitations under applicable law, including, among other things, with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such Additional Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partner. Subject to the foregoing, any Additional Guarantee issued by a Restricted Subsidiary shall be issued on substantially the same terms as the Note Guarantees of the Restricted Subsidiaries that will become Guarantors on the Completion Date. For purposes of the Indenture and this “Description of Senior Secured Notes”, references to the Note Guarantees include references to any Additional Guarantees and references to the Guarantors include references to any Additional Guarantors.

Releases of the Note Guarantees

The Note Guarantee of Altice International may be released:

- upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”;
- if Altice International is not the continuing or surviving Person in the relevant consolidation or merger, as a result of a transaction that complies with the provisions described under “—Merger and Consolidation—Altice International”; or
- upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes.

The Note Guarantee of a Subsidiary Guarantor will terminate:

- upon a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation, merger, amalgamation or combination) of the Capital Stock of the relevant Subsidiary Guarantor (whether by direct sale or sale of a holding company of such Subsidiary Guarantor) or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of the Subsidiary Guarantor (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary), in each case if the sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”;
- upon the designation in accordance with the Indenture of that Subsidiary Guarantor as an Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”;
- as described under “—Certain Covenants—Additional Guarantors”;
- with respect to any Subsidiary Guarantor that is not the continuing or surviving Person in the relevant consolidation or merger, as a result of a transaction that complies with the provisions described under “—Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors”; or
- upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes.

The Trustee and the Security Agent (as applicable) shall each take all necessary actions, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release of a Note Guarantee in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications. Each of the releases set forth above shall be effective without the consent of the Holders or any action on the part of the Trustee. Neither the Trustee nor the Issuer will be required to make a notation on the Notes to reflect any such release, termination or discharge.

Notes Security

General

On the Issue Date, the Notes will be secured only by a security interest in the Escrowed Property. The Notes will be secured on a first priority basis:

- (i) on the Completion Date, by:
 - share pledges over all of the Capital Stock of the Issuer and the Completion Date Guarantors (other than Altice International, Green, Cabovisão, Altice Portugal, Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Onitelecom and Knewon) (with the share pledges over the share capital of ODO, Tricom and Global Interlink becoming effective upon approval by Indotel);
 - a pledge over the bank accounts and all receivables of the Issuer, including the Issuer Proceeds Loans made on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; August 8, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; and the Completion Date;
 - a pledge over substantially all of the material assets of each of the Completion Date Guarantors (other than Cabovisão, Altice Portugal, Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Onitelecom and Knewon), including all of the Capital Stock of HOT (other than the Minority Shareholder Call Options and certain management share options) and ABO; provided that, to the extent fair market value of a real estate asset owned by ODO, Tricom or Global Interlink, as the case may be, is less than €5 million, such real estate asset shall be excluded from the relevant pledge;
 - a pledge over the HoldCo Proceeds Loans;
 - a pledge over the Subordinated Shareholder Loan;
 - a pledge over the AWE Proceeds Loans;

- a pledge over the Covenant Party Pledged Proceeds Loans (other than the Onitelecom Proceeds Notes and the Cabovisão Proceeds Notes); and
 - a pledge over Altice Portugal’s rights under the Acquisition Agreement;
- (ii) within 10 Business Days following the Completion Date, by a pledge over all of the Capital Stock of the Target; and
- (iii) within 90 days following the Completion Date, by pledges over all of the Capital Stock of PT OpCo, PT Cloud e Data Centers, S.A. (“PT Cloud”), and PT—Móveis—Serviços de Telecomunicações, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Móveis”),

The Notes Collateral will also secure Indebtedness under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations. The pledge agreements and the other security documents in respect of the Notes Collateral entered into on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; July 5, 2013; August 8, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; the Completion Date; and the Post-Completion Guarantor Accession Date (or any other date on which security interests in the Notes Collateral were granted in connection with existing Indebtedness) in respect of the Notes Collateral are referred to as the “Security Documents”. Any other additional security interests that may in the future be granted to secure the obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and the Indenture would also constitute Notes Collateral. Other than pursuant to the HOT Proceeds Note, the OMT Proceeds Loans and the Coditel Senior Credit Facility, Altice International has only a shareholder’s claim over the assets of HOT and its Subsidiaries, NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries and Coditel Holdco and its Subsidiaries, which are junior to the claims that creditors of HOT and its Subsidiaries have against HOT and such Subsidiaries, the claims of the creditors of NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries have against NewCo OMT and such Subsidiaries and the claims of the creditors of Coditel Holdco and its Subsidiaries have against Coditel Holdco and such Subsidiaries. Holders of the Notes will only be creditors of the Issuer and the Guarantors and will not have any direct claim on the cash flows or assets of HOT and its Subsidiaries, NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries or Coditel Holdco and its Subsidiaries, and none of HOT, NewCo OMT, Coditel Holdco and their respective Subsidiaries will have any obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay amounts due under the Notes or the Note Guarantees or to make funds available to the Issuer or the Guarantors for those payments (other than their respective obligations to pay certain amounts due to the Issuer under the HOT Proceeds Note and amounts due to Altice Holdings under the OMT Proceeds Loans and the Coditel Senior Credit Facility).

Although the assets of ABO (including the shares of Green) secure the Existing Senior Secured Notes and the other outstanding secured Indebtedness of the Issuer, because of applicable restrictions under French law related to corporate benefit, such assets will not secure the Notes. Although the assets of certain Portuguese Guarantors, including Altice Portugal, Cabovisão, and ONI, secure the Existing Senior Secured Notes and the other outstanding secured Indebtedness of the Issuer, because of applicable Portuguese law considerations, such assets will not secure the Notes. However, pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement the holders of the Notes will share in the proceeds of any enforcement of the security interests over such assets in accordance with the terms thereof.

Subject to certain conditions, including compliance with the covenants described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens” and “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests”, Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries are permitted to incur certain additional Indebtedness in the future that may be secured on the Notes Collateral, including any Additional Notes, certain Indebtedness under Credit Facilities (including revolving credit facility Indebtedness which may be Super Priority Indebtedness) and Hedging Obligations (which in the case of Interest Rate Agreements and Currency Agreements may be Super Priority Indebtedness) and certain other Hedging Obligations (which may be Super Priority Indebtedness), in each case, permitted under the Indenture and other Indebtedness of Altice International and its Subsidiaries. In addition, subject to certain conditions, including compliance with the covenants described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens” and “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests”, HOT and its Restricted Subsidiaries are permitted to incur certain additional Indebtedness in the future that may be secured on the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral and NewCo OMT and its Restricted Subsidiaries are permitted to incur certain additional Indebtedness in the future that may be secured on the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral.

The proceeds from the sale of the Notes Collateral remaining after sharing with other creditors entitled to share in such proceeds may not be sufficient to satisfy the obligations owed to the Holders of the Notes. No appraisals of the Notes Collateral have been made in connection with this offering of Notes. By its nature, some or all of the Notes Collateral will be illiquid and may have no readily ascertainable market value. In addition, certain Liens over the Notes Collateral may not be enforced without the prior consent of the Israeli Minister of Communications, including the Liens over the Capital Stock of HOT and Cool. Accordingly, the Notes Collateral may not be able to be sold in a short period of time, or at all. In addition, the Intercreditor Agreement places limitations on the ability of the Security Agent to release the security interests in some of the Notes Collateral, by reference to the interests of other creditors. These limitations may include requirements that some or all of the Notes Collateral be disposed of only pursuant to public auctions or only at a price confirmed by a valuation. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement” and “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—The value of the Collateral may not be sufficient to satisfy our obligations under the New Notes and such Collateral may be reduced or diluted under certain circumstances, which may be time consuming and cumbersome” and certain Collateral and Guarantees will be limited to a specified maximum amount.

The creditors under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the trustee under the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indenture, the creditors under the Senior Credit Facilities, and the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties to certain Hedging Obligations and the Trustee have, and by accepting a Note, each holder will be deemed to have, irrevocably appointed the Security Agent to act as its agent and security agent under the Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents. The creditors under Revolving Credit Facilities, the trustee under the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indenture, the creditors under the Senior Credit Facilities, and the Guarantee Facility, counterparties to certain Hedging Obligations and the Trustee have, and by accepting a Note, each holder will be deemed to have, irrevocably authorized the Security Agent to (i) perform the duties and exercise the rights, powers and discretions that are specifically given to it under the Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents, together with any other incidental rights, power and discretions; and (ii) execute each Security Document, waiver, modification, amendment, renewal or replacement expressed to be executed by the Security Agent on its behalf.

Security Documents

Under the Security Documents, the applicable grantor of security has granted or will grant security over the Notes Collateral to secure the payment when due of the Issuer’s and the Guarantors’ payment obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and the Indenture. The Security Documents to be entered into will be, and the existing Security Documents have been, entered into by the relevant security provider and the Security Agent as agent for the secured parties referred to therein. When entering into the Security Documents, the Security Agent has acted and will act in its own name, but also as a representative of the secured parties (including the Holders from time to time). Under the Intercreditor Agreement, the Security Agent will also act on behalf of the holders of the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, and the New Senior Notes, the lenders under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties under certain Hedging Obligations, and holders of any additional Indebtedness that is permitted to be secured by the Notes Collateral in favor of such parties.

The Indenture provides that, subject to the terms thereof, and of the Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, as applicable, will be secured by the security interest in the Notes Collateral that is created by the Security Documents and secures obligations under the Notes or the Note Guarantees and the Indenture (the “Security Interests”). Such Security Interests in the Notes Collateral will also secure the obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties to certain Hedging Obligations and certain other Indebtedness permitted by the Indenture to be Incurred in the future and secured by such Notes Collateral. However, the Security Interests may be released under certain circumstances as provided under “—Release of Note Collateral” below. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the New Notes under which the Collateral and the Guarantees will be released automatically, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee”.

The Security Documents provide that the rights with respect to the Notes and the Note Guarantees must be exercised by the Security Agent. Because the Holders will not be a party to the Security Documents, Holders may not, individually or collectively, take any direct action to enforce any rights in their favor under the Security Documents. The Holders may only act through the Security Agent.

In the event that Altice International, a Subsidiary of Altice International or other grantor of a security interest in the Notes Collateral enters into insolvency, bankruptcy or similar proceedings, the Security Interests created under the Security Documents or the rights and obligations enumerated in the Intercreditor Agreement could be subject to potential challenges. If any challenge to the validity of the Security Interests or the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement were successful, the Holders might not be able to recover any amounts under the Security Documents. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Each Guarantee will be subject to certain limitations on enforcement and may be limited by applicable laws or subject to certain defenses that may limit its validity and enforceability” and “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests”.

Release of Notes Collateral

The Issuer and the Guarantors will be entitled to release the Security Interests in respect of the Notes Collateral securing the Notes and the Note Guarantees under any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (1) in connection with (i) any exercise of the Minority Shareholder Call Option or (ii) any other sale or other disposition of the Notes Collateral (other than the pledge over all of the Capital Stock of the Issuer (the “Issuer Share Pledge”)) to a Person that is not Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (but excluding any transaction subject to “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation”), if such sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”, but only in respect of the Notes Collateral sold or otherwise disposed of;
- (2) in connection with the release of a Guarantor from its Note Guarantee pursuant to the terms of the Indenture, the release of the property and assets, and Capital Stock, of such Guarantor;
- (3) if Altice International designates any Restricted Subsidiary to be an Unrestricted Subsidiary in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Indenture, the release of the property, assets and Capital Stock of such Unrestricted Subsidiary (other than the Issuer Share Pledge and the pledges over the HoldCo Proceeds Loans);
- (4) upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- (5) in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (see “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement—Restrictions on Enforcement”);
- (6) as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”, “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests” and the second paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”;
- (7) upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes
- (8) to release and re-take any Lien on any Notes Collateral to the extent not otherwise prohibited by the terms of the Indenture, the Security Documents or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- (9) in connection with a transaction permitted by the covenant described below under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation”; or
- (10) with the consent of holders of at least 75% in aggregate principal amount of Notes (including, without limitation, consent obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes);

provided that, the Security Interests created by the Escrow Assignments may only be released upon release of all of the Escrowed Property from the Escrow Accounts in accordance with the terms of the Notes Escrow Agreement.

Upon certification by the Issuer, the Trustee (to the extent action is required by it) and the Security Agent shall take all necessary actions, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications. The Security Agent and the Trustee (as applicable) will take all necessary action required to effectuate any release of the Notes Collateral, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the relevant Security Document. Each of the releases set forth above shall be effected by the Security Agent without the consent of the Holders or any action on the part of the Trustee.

The Issuer Proceeds Loans

On the December 27, 2012, the Issuer made:

- (1) an Issuer Proceeds Loan to Cool in aggregate principal amount of approximately NIS 1,052.8 million (€220.6 million equivalent as of September 30, 2014);
- (2) an Issuer Proceeds Loan to SPV-1 in aggregate principal amount of approximately NIS 955.5 million (€214.0 million equivalent as of September 30, 2014);
- (3) an Issuer Proceeds Loan to HOT, in aggregate principal amount of approximately NIS 1,900 million (€408.5 million equivalent as of September 30, 2014); and
- (4) a revolving note facility available to HOT in aggregate principal amount of NIS 320 million with each borrowing thereunder to be made pursuant to an Issuer Proceeds Loan.

On July 2, 2013, the Issuer made an Issuer Proceeds Loan to Altice Holdings in aggregate principal amount of €933 million. On August 8, 2013, the Issuer made an Issuer Proceeds Loan to Altice Holdings in aggregate principal amount of €69.2 million. On March 12, 2014, the Issuer made an Issuer Proceeds Loan to Altice Holdings in an aggregate principal amount of €400 million. On April 9, 2014, the Issuer made Issuer Proceeds Loans to Altice Holdings in an aggregate principal amount of €300 million and $900 million. Upon the Completion Date, the Issuer will make an Issuer Proceeds Loan to Altice Holdings in an aggregate principal amount of €3,724 million equivalent. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—HOT Refinancing Note” and “—Additional Intercompany Proceeds Loans”.

Each Issuer Proceeds Loan has been or will be assigned as Notes Collateral to secure the Obligations of the Issuer and the Guarantors under the Notes and the Note Guarantees.

Upon an event of default under the Notes, HOT and its Subsidiaries, NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries and Coditel Holdco and its Subsidiaries shall not be liable in any way, including by way of cross default, and shall not be required to repay any amounts outstanding, any repayment premiums or accrued and unpaid interest thereon, under the Notes. Further, the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors will only guarantee HOT’s obligations under the HOT Proceeds Note. The HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees will be limited to an aggregate amount equal to the outstanding HOT Proceeds Note, which may vary from time to time in accordance with the terms of the HOT Proceeds Note. Holders of the Notes will only be able to seek remedies against (i) the HOT Proceeds Note Obligors in the event of an event of default under the HOT Proceeds Note, in each case, indirectly as a result of the assignment of the HOT Proceeds Note and/or the ability of the holders of the Notes to direct the actions of the Issuer in connection with the HOT Proceeds Note in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby; (ii) NewCo OMT or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary of NewCo OMT in the event of an event of default under the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan, in each case, indirectly as a result of the assignment of such OMT Proceeds Loan and/or the ability of the holders of the Notes to direct the actions of Altice Holdings in connection with such OMT Proceeds Loan in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby; and (iii) Coditel Holdco or the applicable Restricted Subsidiary of Coditel Holdco in the event of an event of default under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility, in each case, indirectly as a result of the assignment of the Coditel Senior Loans and/or the ability of the holders of the Notes to direct the actions of Altice Holdings in connection with the Coditel Senior Loans in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby.

The Hot Proceeds Note will be effectively subordinated in right of payment to all Indebtedness and other liabilities and commitments (including trade payables and lease obligations) of HOT’s non-guarantor Subsidiaries (including the bank guarantee provided by HOT Mobile to the State of Israel which, based on having achieved a market share calculated in accordance with the license agreement, HOT requested the Israeli Ministry of Communications, and the Israeli Ministry of Communications agreed, to reduce to an amount of NIS 80 million and that is secured by a pledge of all of the assets of HOT Mobile). Any right of the Issuer to receive assets of any of HOT’s non-guarantor Subsidiaries upon that non-guarantor Subsidiary’s liquidation or reorganisation (and the consequent indirect right of the holders of the Notes to participate in those assets) will be effectively subordinated to the claims of that non-guarantor Subsidiary’s creditors, except to the extent that the Issuer is itself recognized as a creditor of the non-guarantor Subsidiary, in which case the claims of the Issuer would still be subordinate in right of payment to any security in the assets of the non-guarantor Subsidiary and any Indebtedness of the non-guarantor Subsidiary senior to that held by the Issuer.

Only the security agent under the HOT Proceeds Note will be able to enforce the security interests in the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral at a time that an event of default under the HOT Proceeds Note is continuing. As a result, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Trustee and the Holders of the Notes will not have the right to enforce such security interests in the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral and, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, will only have the right to enforce the first-ranking pledge over the HOT Proceeds Note. The Holders of the Notes must then rely on the ability of the Issuer to enforce its rights under the HOT Proceeds Note upon an event of default thereunder in order to access the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral. An Event of Default will not trigger an event of default under the HOT Proceeds Note.

Only the security agent under the OMT Proceeds Loans will be able to enforce the security interests in the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral at a time that an event of default under the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan is continuing. As a result, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Trustee and the Holders of the Notes will not have the right to enforce such security interests in the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral and, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, will only have the right to enforce the first-ranking pledge over the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan. The Holders of the Notes must then rely on the ability of Altice Holdings to enforce its rights under such OMT Proceeds Loan upon an event of default thereunder in order to access the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral securing such OMT Proceeds Loan. An Event of Default will not trigger an event of default under any OMT Proceeds Loan.

Only the security agent under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility will be able to enforce the security interests in the collateral securing the Coditel Senior Credit Facility (the “Coditel Collateral”) at a time that an event of default under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility is continuing. As a result, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Trustee and the Holders of the Notes will not have the right to enforce such security interests in the Coditel Collateral and, subject to the Intercreditor Agreement, will only have the right to enforce the first-ranking pledge over the loans under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility (the “Coditel Senior Loans”). The Holders of the Notes must then rely on the ability of Altice Holdings to enforce its rights under such Coditel Senior Loan upon an event of default thereunder in order to access the Coditel Collateral. An Event of Default may not trigger an event of default under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility.

The HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees

General

The HOT Proceeds Note is guaranteed by the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors on a senior basis for the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise of, all payment obligations of the HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the HOT Proceeds Note, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise.

The obligations of each HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor under its HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee are contractually limited under the applicable guarantees to reflect limitations under applicable law with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partners. See “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests”.

Additional HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees

HOT may from time to time designate a Restricted Subsidiary of HOT as an additional guarantor of the HOT Proceeds Note, and each such additional HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor will, jointly and severally, with the other HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors, irrevocably guarantee on a senior basis the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of all payment obligations of HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the HOT Proceeds Note, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The obligations of any such additional HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor will be contractually limited under its guarantee to reflect limitations under applicable law, including, among other things, with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such additional HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partner.

Releases of the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees

The HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee of a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor may be released:

- upon a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation, merger, amalgamation or combination) of the Capital Stock of the relevant HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor (whether by direct sale or sale of a holding company of such HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor) or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor (other than to the Issuer, Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary), in each case if the sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”;
- upon the designation in accordance with the Indenture of that HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor as an Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”;
- as described under “—Certain Covenants—Additional Guarantees”;
- as described under “—Direct Obligation Events”
- with respect to any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor that is not the continuing or surviving Person in the relevant consolidation or merger, as a result of a transaction that complies with the provisions described under “—Merger and Consolidation—HOT Proceeds Notes Obligors”;
- upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note.

HOT Proceeds Note Security

General

The HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees are secured by Liens over substantially all of HOT's and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor's assets but excluding (a) the licenses issued by the Israeli Ministry of Communications, which are not assignable as a matter of law, and (b) certain end-user equipment (the "Excluded Assets"). In addition, the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees are secured by first ranking security interests on a first priority basis over all of the Capital Stock of each HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor. The foregoing property and assets subject to such security interests are referred to herein as the "HOT Proceeds Note Collateral". Any other additional security interests that may in the future be granted to secure the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees would also constitute HOT Proceeds Note Collateral.

Subject to certain conditions, including compliance with the covenants described under "Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens" and "Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests", HOT and its Restricted Subsidiaries are permitted to incur certain additional Indebtedness in the future that may be secured on the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral.

The proceeds from the sale of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral remaining after sharing with other creditors entitled to share in such proceeds may not be sufficient to satisfy the obligations owed to the Issuer as a lender under the HOT Proceeds Note. No appraisals of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral have been made in connection with this offering of Notes or the offering of the Existing Senior Secured Notes. By its nature, some or all of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral will be illiquid and may have no readily ascertainable market value. In addition, certain Liens over the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral may not be enforced without the prior consent of the Israeli Ministry of Communications. Accordingly, the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral may not be able to be sold in a short period of time, or at all. In addition, the Intercreditor Agreement places limitations on the ability of the Security Agent to release the security interests in some of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral, by reference to the interests of other creditors. These limitations may include requirements that some or all of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral be disposed of only pursuant to public auctions or only at a price confirmed by a valuation. See "Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement" and "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—The value of the Collateral may not be sufficient to satisfy our obligations under the New Notes and such Collateral may be reduced or diluted under certain circumstances, which may be time consuming and cumbersome and certain Collateral and Guarantees will be limited to a specified maximum amount".

Security Documents

Under the HOT Security Documents, the HOT Proceeds Note Obligors will grant security over the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral to secure the payment when due of HOT's and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors' payment obligations under the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees. The HOT Security Documents will be entered into by the relevant security provider and the Security Agent as agent for the secured parties referred to therein.

The HOT Proceeds Note provides and the Indenture provides that, subject to the terms thereof and of the HOT Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement, the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees, as applicable, will be secured by the security interest in the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral that is created by the HOT Security Documents and secures obligations under the HOT Proceeds Note or the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees (the "HOT Proceeds Note Security Interest"). Such HOT Proceeds Note Security Interests in the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral may also secure certain other Indebtedness permitted by the Indenture and the HOT Proceeds Note to be Incurred in the future and secured by the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral. However, the HOT Proceeds Note Security Interests may be released under certain circumstances as provided under "Release of HOT Proceeds Note Collateral" below. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the New Notes under which the Collateral and the Guarantees will be released automatically, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee".

Release of HOT Proceeds Note Collateral

The HOT Proceeds Note Obligors will be entitled to release the HOT Proceeds Note Security Interests in respect of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral under any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (1) in connection with any sale or other disposition of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral to a Person that is not HOT or a Restricted Subsidiary of HOT or, to the extent after such sale or other disposition such assets are pledged to secure the obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and the Indenture, Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of Altice International (but excluding any transaction subject to "Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation"), if such sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”, but only in respect of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral sold or otherwise disposed of;

- (2) in connection with the release of a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor from its HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee pursuant to the terms of the HOT Proceeds Note, the release of the property and assets, and Capital Stock, of such HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor;
- (3) if the Issuer designates any Restricted Subsidiary of HOT to be an Unrestricted Subsidiary in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Indenture, the release of the property, assets and Capital Stock of such Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- (4) upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- (5) as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”, “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests” and the second paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”;
- (6) upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note;
- (7) to release and re-take any Lien on any HOT Proceeds Note Collateral to the extent not otherwise prohibited by the terms of the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Security Documents;
- (8) in connection with a transaction permitted by the covenant described below under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation”; or
- (9) with the consent of holders of at least 75% in aggregate principal amount of Notes (including, without limitation, consent obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes);

In addition, all of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral may be release in connection with the HOT Direct Obligation Event, described below under “—Direct Obligation Events”.

Direct Obligation Events

Altice International may at any time elect to cause the HOT Proceeds Note Obligors to become direct Guarantors of the Notes by causing each of them to execute and deliver a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture pursuant to which HOT and each HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor will provide a Note Guarantee on a senior basis in an amount equal to or greater than the HOT Proceeds Note and the Guarantees thereof as of the date of such HOT Direct Obligation Event. Concurrently with the granting of such Note Guarantee, HOT and each HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor will grant an equivalent Lien over all of its assets that constitute HOT Proceeds Note Collateral on such date. In connection therewith, the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees and the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral will be released, provided that no Default or Event of Default is outstanding or would result from any of the foregoing (collectively, the “HOT Direct Obligation Event”).

Altice International may at any time elect to cause OMT NewCo and its Subsidiaries that are obligors or guarantors under an OMT Proceeds Loan (the “OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantors”, together with OMT NewCo, the “OMT Proceeds Loan Obligors”) to become direct Guarantors of the Notes by causing each of them to execute and deliver a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture pursuant to which each OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor will provide a Note Guarantee on a senior basis in an amount equal to or greater than the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan and the Guarantees thereof (if any) as of the date of such OMT Direct Obligation Event. Concurrently with the granting of such Note Guarantee, such OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor will grant an equivalent Lien over all of its assets that constitute OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral on such date. In connection therewith, the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantees and the applicable OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral will be released, provided that no Default or Event of Default is outstanding or would result from any of the foregoing (collectively, the “OMT Direct Obligation Event”).

Intercreditor Agreement

To establish the relative rights of certain creditors of the Group under its financing arrangements, including, without limitation, the lenders under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the lenders under the Guarantee Facility, the lenders under the Senior Credit Facilities, the counterparties under certain Hedging Obligations secured on the Notes Collateral, the trustee and the holders of notes under the indenture governing the Existing Senior Secured Notes and the trustee and the holders of notes under the indenture governing the Existing Senior Notes, Altice International and the Guarantors, the agents under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the agent under the Guarantee Facility, the agents under the Senior Credit

Facilities, the trustee under the indenture governing the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the trustee under the indenture governing the Existing Senior Notes, and certain hedging counterparties and the Security Agent entered into or acceded to the Intercreditor Agreement. Please see “Description of Other Indebtedness—Intercreditor Agreement”. Upon release of the proceeds of the Notes and the New Senior Notes from escrow, the Trustee and the New Senior Notes Trustee will become party to the Intercreditor Agreement. Pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, any liabilities in respect of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities (other than the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility) and certain Hedging Obligations that are permitted to be secured on the Notes Collateral (see “Certain Definitions—Permitted Collateral Liens”) will receive priority over amounts received from the sale of the Notes Collateral pursuant to an enforcement sale or other distressed disposal of such Notes Collateral pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement. Any proceeds received upon any enforcement over any Notes Collateral, after all obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities (other than the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility) have been repaid and such Hedging Obligations have been discharged from such recoveries, will be applied pro rata in repayment of all obligations under the Indenture, the Notes, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, and the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility and any other Indebtedness of the Issuer and the Guarantors permitted to be incurred and secured by the Note Collateral on a senior basis pursuant to the Indenture and the Intercreditor Agreement.

Subject to the Security Interest becoming enforceable, the Holders of the Notes (together with any other holders of senior secured indebtedness of the Issuer and the Guarantors that is not Super Priority Indebtedness) and the holders of Super Priority Indebtedness, in each case acting through their respective agent or trustee, are entitled to instruct the Security Agent on enforcement of the Notes Collateral. In the event either group of creditors issues conflicting enforcement instructions, subject to certain exceptions, a 30-day consultation period is required. In the event both creditor groups do not agree on the manner of enforcement after the consultation period, the Intercreditor Agreement provides that the Security Agent will act on the instructions of an “instructing group” consisting of a majority of the aggregate principal amount of the Notes and all other senior secured indebtedness (except Super Priority Indebtedness) of the Issuer and the Guarantors then outstanding. If all Super Priority Indebtedness is not repaid within six months after date on which either creditor group issues proposed enforcement instructions or the Security Agent has not commenced any enforcement action within three months of such date, thereafter instructions of the majority holders of Super Priority Indebtedness will prevail. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement”.

The Indenture also provides that each holder, by accepting a Note, shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement and any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (whether then entered into or entered into in the future pursuant to the provisions described herein).

Additional Intercreditor Agreements; Agreement to Be Bound

Similar provisions to those described above may be included in any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (as defined below) entered into in compliance with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Additional Intercreditor Agreements”.

The Indenture provides that each Holder, by accepting a Note, shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement and any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and to have authorized the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any such Intercreditor Agreement or any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

Restricted Subsidiaries and Unrestricted Subsidiaries

As of the Issue Date, all of Altice International’s Subsidiaries were Restricted Subsidiaries other than Holdco, Green Datacenter and Auberimmo SAS. However, in the circumstances described below under “—Certain Definitions—Unrestricted Subsidiary”, Altice International will be permitted to designate Restricted Subsidiaries as Unrestricted Subsidiaries. Unrestricted Subsidiaries will not be subject to many of the restrictive covenants in the Indenture.

Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption

Concurrently with the closing of the offering of the Notes on the Issue Date, the Issuer entered into the Notes Escrow Agreement with the Trustee and the Escrow Agent, pursuant to which the initial purchasers deposited with the Escrow Agent an amount equal to the gross proceeds of this offering of the Notes into the Escrow Accounts. The initial funds deposited in the Escrow Accounts, and all other funds, securities, interest, dividends, distributions and other property and payments credited to the Escrow Accounts (less any property and/or funds paid in accordance with the Notes Escrow Agreement) are referred to, collectively, as the “Escrowed Property”. The Escrowed Property is controlled by the Escrow Agent, and pledged on a first ranking basis in favor of the Trustee on behalf of the holders of the Notes.

Pursuant to the Notes Escrow Agreement, the Issuer will be entitled to instruct the Escrow Agent to release some or all of the cash in the Escrow Accounts to invest such cash in certain permitted investments including in cash and/or any highly-rated stable net asset value money market fund. The Notes Escrow Agreement requires that all proceeds of such investments be deposited back into the relevant Escrow Account when such investments are sold, liquidated or otherwise returned.

In order to cause the Escrow Agent to release any Escrowed Property to the Issuer for purposes of completing the PT Portugal Acquisition (any such release, the “Release”), the Escrow Agent and the Trustee shall have received from the Issuer, on or before the Escrow Longstop Date, an officer’s certificate, in the form attached to the Notes Escrow Agreement:

- (i) (A) the Acquisition Agreement shall not have been modified, amended or waived in any respect that is material and adverse to the holders of the Notes without the prior consent of the Holders of a majority of the outstanding Notes (it being understood and agreed that any increase or reduction in the purchase price shall not be deemed to be materially adverse to the Holders of the Notes; provided that any increase in the purchase price shall not be funded by indebtedness of Altice International or any of its subsidiaries (including the PT Portugal Group)); and (B) the Acquisition Agreement remains in full force and effect; and
- (ii) as of the Completion Date, there are no events of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection with respect to the Issuer or Altice International;

provided that the release will occur promptly upon the satisfaction of the applicable conditions set forth above. Upon such release, the Escrowed Property will be paid out in accordance with the Notes Escrow Agreement and each Escrow Account will be reduced to zero.

In the event that (a) the Completion Date does not take place on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date; (b) the Acquisition Agreement is terminated at any time prior to the Escrow Longstop Date; or (c) there is an event of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection with respect to the Issuer on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date (the date of any such event being the “Special Termination Date”), the Issuer will redeem all of the Notes (the “Special Mandatory Redemption”) at a price (the “Special Mandatory Redemption Price”) equal to 100% of the initial issue price of each Note, plus accrued but unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, from the Issue Date to the Special Mandatory Redemption Date (as defined below and subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date).

Notice of the Special Mandatory Redemption will be delivered by the Issuer, no later than one Business Day following the Special Termination Date, to the Trustee and the Escrow Agent, and will provide that the Notes shall be redeemed on a date that is no later than the fifth Business Day after such notice is given by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of the Notes Escrow Agreement (the “Special Mandatory Redemption Date”). On or before the Special Mandatory Redemption Date, the Escrow Agent shall pay to the Principal Paying Agent for payment to each holder of Notes to be redeemed the Special Mandatory Redemption Price for such holder’s Notes, and concurrently with the payment to such holders, shall deliver any excess Escrowed Property (if any) to the Issuer.

On the Issue Date, Altice International entered into a guarantee agreement pursuant to which it guarantees the Issuer’s obligations under the Notes in the event the Special Mandatory Redemption Price payable upon any Special Mandatory Redemption Price exceeds the amount of the Escrowed Property.

To secure the payment of the Special Mandatory Redemption Price, the Trustee granted, for the benefits of the holders of the Notes, security interests in the Escrow Accounts and the rights of the Issuer under the Notes Escrow Agreement (the “Escrow Assignments”).

If at the time of the Special Mandatory Redemption, the Notes are listed on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will notify the Luxembourg Stock Exchange that the Special Mandatory Redemption has occurred and any relevant details relating to such special mandatory redemption.

Optional Redemption

Except as described below and except as described under “Redemption for Changes in Withholding Taxes” and “Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption”, the Notes are not redeemable until February 15, 2018. On and after February 15, 2018 the Issuer may redeem all or, from time to time, part of the Dollar Notes and/or the Euro Notes upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice, at the following redemption prices (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount) plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts (as defined below), if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of the Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date), if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on February 15 of the years indicated below:

Year	Redemption Price
	Dollar Notes	Euro Notes
2018	104.969%	103.938%
2019	103.313%	102.625%
2020	101.656%	101.313%
2021 and thereafter	100.000%	100.000%

Unless the Issuer defaults in the payment of the redemption price, interest will cease to accrue on the Notes or the portion thereof called for redemption on the applicable redemption date. Any such redemption and notice may, in the Issuer's discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent.

Prior to February 15, 2018, the Issuer may on any one or more occasions redeem up to 40% of the original principal amount of the Dollar Notes and up to 40% of the original amount of the Euro Notes (including, in each case, the principal amount of any Additional Notes denominated in such currencies), upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice, with funds in an aggregate amount (the "Redemption Amount") not exceeding the Net Cash Proceeds of one or more Equity Offerings at a redemption price of 106.625% of the principal amount of the Dollar Notes and 105.250% of the principal amount of the Euro Notes, plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); provided that:

- (1) at least 60% of the original principal amount of each of the Dollar Notes (including the principal amount of any Additional Notes denominated in U.S dollars) and the Euro Notes (including the principal amount of any Additional Notes denominated in euro) remains outstanding after each such redemption; and
- (2) the redemption occurs within 180 days after the closing of such Equity Offering.

Any redemption notice given in respect of the redemption referred to in the preceding paragraph may be given prior to completion of the related Equity Offering, and any such redemption or notice may, at the Issuer's discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent, including the completion of the related Equity Offering.

In addition, prior to February 15, 2018, the Issuer may redeem all or, from time to time, a part of the Dollar Notes and/or the Euro Notes upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' notice at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus the Applicable Premium and accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date). Any such redemption and notice may, at the Issuer's discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent.

If the Issuer effects an optional redemption of Notes, it will, for so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, inform the Luxembourg Stock Exchange of such optional redemption and confirm the aggregate principal amount of the Notes that will remain outstanding immediately after such redemption.

Sinking Fund

Except as described under "Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption", the Issuer will not be required to make mandatory redemption payments or sinking fund payments with respect to the Notes.

Selection and Notice

If less than all of the Notes are to be redeemed at any time, the Notes for redemption will be selected in accordance with the procedures of DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, or if DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, prescribe no method of selection, then the Issuer will instruct the Trustee or the Registrar to select the Notes for redemption in compliance with the requirements of the principal securities exchange, if any, on which the Notes are listed, as certified to the Trustee or the Registrar or if the Notes are not so listed or such exchange prescribes no method of selection, then based on a method that most nearly approximates a pro rata selection or by lot; provided, however, that no Dollar Note of $200,000 in aggregate principal amount or less shall be redeemed in part and only Dollar Notes in integral multiples of $1,000 will be redeemed and no Euro Note of €100,000 in aggregate principal amount or less shall be redeemed in part and only Euro Notes in integral multiples of €1,000 will be redeemed. Neither the Trustee nor the Registrar will be liable for any selections made by it or DTC in accordance with this paragraph.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, the Issuer will (if such Notes are in certificated form) mail notice of redemption to Holders by first-class mail, postage prepaid, at their respective addresses as they appear on the registration books of the Registrar. If such Notes are in global form, notice of redemption will be delivered to DTC (in the case of Dollar Notes) and Euroclear and Clearstream (in the case of Euro Notes) for communication to the entitled account holder. Such notice of redemption may also be posted on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

If any Note is to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to that Note shall state the portion of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. In the case of a Definitive Registered Note, a new Definitive Registered Note in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of any Definitive Registered Note redeemed in part will be issued in the name of the Holder thereof upon cancellation of the original Definitive Registered Note. In the case of a Global Note, an appropriate notation will be made on such Note to decrease the principal amount thereof to an amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof. Subject to the terms of the applicable redemption notice, Notes called for redemption become due on the date fixed for redemption. On and after the redemption date, interest ceases to accrue on Notes or portions of Notes called for redemption.

Redemption for Changes in Withholding Taxes

The Issuer may redeem the Notes, in whole but not in part, at its discretion at any time upon giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' prior notice to the holders of the Notes (which notice will be irrevocable and given in accordance with the procedures described in "—Selection and Notice"), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, together with accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date fixed by the Issuer for redemption (a "Tax Redemption Date") and all Additional Amounts (if any) then due and which will become due on the Tax Redemption Date as a result of the redemption or otherwise (subject to the right of holders of the Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date and Additional Amounts (if any) in respect thereof), if on the next date on which any amount would be payable in respect of the Notes, the Issuer or any Guarantor is or would be required to pay Additional Amounts, and (a) the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor cannot avoid such requirement by taking reasonable measures available to it (including the designation of a different Paying Agent), (b) in the case of a Guarantor, such amounts cannot be paid by the Issuer or any other Guarantor who in turn can pay such amounts without the obligation to pay Additional Amounts and (c) the requirement arises as a result of:

- (1) any amendment to, or change in, the laws or treaties (or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder) of a relevant Tax Jurisdiction (as defined in "—Withholding Taxes" below) which change or amendment is announced and becomes effective on or after the Issue Date (or, if the applicable Tax Jurisdiction became a Tax Jurisdiction on a date after the Issue Date, such later date); or
- (2) any amendment to, or change in, an official written interpretation or application of such laws, treaties, regulations or rulings (including by virtue of a holding, judgment or order by a court of competent jurisdiction or a change in published administrative practice) which amendment or change is announced and becomes effective on or after the Issue Date (or, if the applicable Tax Jurisdiction became a Tax Jurisdiction on a date after the Issue Date, such later date).

The Issuer will not give any such notice of redemption earlier than 60 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor would be obligated to make such payment or withholding if a payment in respect of the Notes was then due, and the obligation to pay Additional Amounts must be in effect at the time such notice is given. Prior to the publication or, where relevant, mailing of any notice of redemption of the Notes pursuant to the foregoing, the Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an opinion of independent tax counsel to the effect that there has been such amendment or change which would entitle the Issuer to redeem the Notes hereunder. In addition, before the Issuer publishes or mails notice of redemption of the Notes as described above, it will deliver to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate to the effect that (a) it or the relevant Guarantor cannot avoid its obligation to pay Additional Amounts by the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor taking reasonable measures available to it and (b) in the case of a Guarantor, the amounts giving rise to such obligation cannot be paid by the Issuer or any other Guarantor without the obligation to pay Additional Amounts.

The Trustee will accept and shall be entitled to conclusively rely without further inquiry on such Officer's Certificate and opinion of counsel as sufficient evidence of the existence and satisfaction of the conditions precedent as described above, in which event it will be conclusive and binding on the holders of the Notes.

For the avoidance of doubt, the implementation of European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26 and 27 November 2000 on the taxation of savings income or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to, such directive will not be a change or amendment for such purposes.

The foregoing will apply mutatis mutandis to any jurisdiction in which any successor Person to the Issuer is incorporated or organized, engaged in business or resident for tax purposes or any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of such Person on the Notes and any political subdivision thereof or therein.

Withholding Taxes

All payments made under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee will be made free and clear of and without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future tax, duty, levy, assessment or other governmental charge, including any related interest, penalties or additions to tax (“Taxes”) unless the withholding or deduction of such Taxes is then required by law or by the official interpretation or administration thereof. If any deduction or withholding for, or on account of, any Taxes imposed or levied by or on behalf of (1) any jurisdiction in which the Issuer or any Guarantor is then incorporated or organized, engaged in business for tax purposes or resident for tax purposes or any political subdivision or governmental authority thereof or therein having power to tax or (2) any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any Guarantor (including, without limitation, the jurisdiction of any paying agent for the Notes) or any political subdivision thereof or therein (each, a “Tax Jurisdiction”) will at any time be required to be made from any payments made under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, including, without limitation, payments of principal, redemption price, interest or premium, the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor, as applicable, will pay such additional amounts (the “Additional Amounts”) as may be necessary in order that the net amounts received in respect of such payments by each holder of the Notes after such withholding or deduction (including any such withholding or deduction from such Additional Amounts) will equal the respective amounts that would have been received in respect of such payments in the absence of such withholding or deduction; provided, however, that no Additional Amounts will be payable with respect to:

- (1) any Taxes, to the extent such Taxes would not have been imposed but for the existence of any actual or deemed present or former connection between the holder (or between a fiduciary, settler, beneficiary, member or shareholder of, or possessor of a power over the relevant holder, if the relevant holder is an estate, nominee, trust, partnership, limited liability company or corporation) or the beneficial owner of the Notes and the relevant Tax Jurisdiction (including, without limitation, being or having been a citizen, resident, or national thereof or being or having been present or engaged in a trade or business therein or having or having had a permanent establishment therein), other than connections arising from the holding of such Note or any Note Guarantee, the enforcement of rights under such Note or under a Note Guarantee or the receipt of any payments in respect of such Note or a Note Guarantee;
- (2) any Taxes, to the extent such Taxes were imposed as a result of the presentation of a Note for payment (where Notes are in the form of Definitive Registered Notes and presentation is required) more than 30 days after the relevant payment is first made available for payment to the holder (except to the extent that the holder would have been entitled to Additional Amounts had the Note been presented on the last day of such 30 day period);
- (3) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, personal property or similar Taxes or any excise Taxes imposed on transfers;
- (4) any Taxes withheld, deducted or imposed on a payment to an individual that are required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of November 26 and 27, 2000 on the taxation of savings income, or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to, such directive;
- (5) Taxes imposed on or with respect to a payment made to a holder or beneficial owner of Notes who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note to another Paying Agent in a member state of the European Union;
- (6) any Taxes payable other than by deduction or withholding from payments under, or with respect to, the Notes or with respect to any Note Guarantee;
- (7) any Taxes to the extent such Taxes are imposed or withheld by reason of the failure of the holder or beneficial owner of Notes to comply with any reasonable written request of the Issuer addressed to the holder or beneficial owner and made at least 60 days before any such withholding or deduction would be payable to satisfy any certification, identification, information or other reporting requirements, whether required by statute, treaty, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Tax Jurisdiction, as a precondition to exemption from, or reduction in the rate of deduction or withholding of, Taxes imposed by such Tax Jurisdiction (including, without limitation, a certification that the holder or beneficial owner is not resident in the Tax Jurisdiction), but in each case, only to the extent the holder or beneficial owner is legally eligible to provide such certification or documentation;
- (8) all United States federal backup withholding taxes;
- (9) any Taxes that are imposed or withheld pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), as of the Issue Date (or any amended or successor version of such sections), any regulations promulgated thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, any similar law or regulation adopted pursuant to an intergovernmental agreement between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States with respect to the foregoing or any agreements entered into pursuant to section 1471(b)(1) of the Code; or

(10) any combination of items (1) through (9) above.

Such Additional Amounts will also not be payable where, had the beneficial owner of the Note been the holder of the Note, it would not have been entitled to payment of Additional Amounts by reason of any of clauses (1) to (10) inclusive above.

In addition to the foregoing, the Issuer and the Guarantors, as the case may be, will also pay and indemnify the holder for any present or future stamp, issue, registration, court or documentary Taxes, or any other excise or property Taxes, charges or similar levies (including penalties, interest and any other reasonable expenses related thereto) which are levied by any Tax Jurisdiction on the execution, delivery, issuance, or registration of any of the Notes, the Indenture, any Note Guarantee or any other document or instrument referred to therein, or the receipt of any payments with respect thereto, or the enforcement of, any of the Notes or any Note Guarantee (limited, solely in the case of taxes attributable to the receipt of any payments with respect thereto, to any such taxes imposed in a Tax Jurisdiction that are not excluded under clauses (1) through (5) or (7) through (9) above).

If the Issuer or any Guarantor, as the case may be, becomes aware that it will be obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to any payment under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, each of the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor, as the case may be, will deliver to the Trustee on a date that is at least 30 days prior to the date of that payment (unless the obligation to pay Additional Amounts arises less than 30 days prior to that payment date, in which case the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor shall notify the Trustee promptly thereafter) an Officer's Certificate stating the fact that Additional Amounts will be payable and the amount estimated to be so payable. The Officer's Certificate must also set forth any other information reasonably necessary to enable the Paying Agents to pay such Additional Amounts to holders on the relevant payment date. The Trustee shall be entitled to rely solely on such Officer's Certificate as conclusive proof that such payments are necessary.

The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will make all withholdings and deductions required by law and will remit the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Tax authority in accordance with applicable law. The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will use its reasonable efforts to obtain Tax receipts from each Tax authority evidencing the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld. The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will furnish to the Trustee (or to a holder or beneficial owner upon written request), within a reasonable time after the date the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld is made, certified copies of Tax receipts evidencing payment by the Issuer or a Guarantor, as the case may be, or if, notwithstanding such entity's efforts to obtain receipts, receipts are not obtained, other evidence of payments (reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee) by such entity. Upon reasonable request, copies of Tax receipts or other evidence of payments, as the case may be, will be made available by the Trustee to the holders or beneficial owners of the Notes.

Whenever in the Indenture or in this "Description of Senior Secured Notes" there is mentioned, in any context, the payment of amounts based upon the principal amount of the Notes or of principal, interest or of any other amount payable under, or with respect to, any of the Notes or any Note Guarantee, such mention shall be deemed to include mention of the payment of Additional Amounts to the extent that, in such context, Additional Amounts are, were or would be payable in respect thereof.

The above obligations will survive any termination, defeasance or discharge of the Indenture, and any transfer by a holder or beneficial owner of its Notes, and will apply, mutatis mutandis, to any jurisdiction in which any successor Person to the Issuer or any Guarantor is incorporated or organized, engaged in business for tax purposes or resident for tax purposes (and any political subdivision or governmental authority thereof or therein having power to tax) and any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of such Person on the Notes or any Note Guarantee and any political subdivision thereof or therein.

Change of Control

If a Change of Control Triggering Event occurs, subject to the terms of the covenant described under this heading "Change of Control", each Holder will have the right to require the Issuer to repurchase all or any part (equal to $200,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and €100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes) of such Holder's Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount of the Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); provided, however, that the Issuer shall not be obliged to repurchase Notes as described under this heading, "Change of Control", in the event and to the extent that it has unconditionally exercised its right to redeem all of the Notes as described under “—Optional Redemption” or all conditions to such redemption have been satisfied or waived. No such purchase in part shall reduce the principal amount at maturity of the Dollar Notes held by any holder to below $200,000 or the Euro Notes held by any holder to below €100,000.

Unless the Issuer has unconditionally exercised its right to redeem all the Notes as described under “—Optional Redemption” or all conditions to such redemption have been satisfied or waived, no later than the date that is 60 days after any Change of Control Triggering Event or, at the Issuer’s option, at any time prior to a Change of Control Triggering Event following the public announcement thereof or if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control, the Issuer will send a notice (the “Change of Control Offer”) to each Holder of any such Notes by mail or otherwise in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture, with a copy to the Trustee:

- (1) stating that a Change of Control Triggering Event has occurred or may occur and that such Holder has the right to require the Issuer to purchase all or any part of such Holder’s Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount of such Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on a record date to receive interest on the relevant interest payment date) (the “Change of Control Payment”);
- (2) stating the repurchase date (which shall be no earlier than 30 days nor later than 60 days from the date such notice is mailed) (the “Change of Control Payment Date”) and the record date;
- (3) stating that any Note accepted for payment pursuant to the Change of Control Offer will cease to accrue interest after the Change of Control Payment Date unless the Change of Control Payment is not paid, and that any Notes or part thereof not tendered will continue to accrue interest;
- (4) describing the circumstances and relevant facts regarding the transaction or transactions that constitute the Change of Control Triggering Event;
- (5) describing the procedures determined by the Issuer, consistent with the Indenture, that a Holder must follow in order to have its Notes repurchased;
- (6) if such notice is mailed prior to the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event, stating that the Change of Control Offer is conditional on the occurrence of such Change of Control Triggering Event; and
- (7) certain other procedures that a holder of Notes must follow to accept a Change of Control Offer or to withdraw such acceptance.

The Issuer shall cause to be published the notice described above in a leading newspaper having a general circulation in London (which is expected to be the Financial Times) or through the newswire service of Bloomberg (or if Bloomberg does not then operate, any similar agency). In addition, if and for so long as the Notes are listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted for trading on the Euro MTF Market and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a public announcement with respect to the results of any Change of Control Offer in a leading newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, post such notice on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The ability of the Issuer to repurchase Notes pursuant to a Change of Control Offer may be limited by a number of factors. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—We may not be able to obtain enough funds necessary to finance an offer to repurchase the New Notes upon the occurrence of certain events constituting a change of control triggering event (as defined in the New Indentures) as required by the New Indentures”.

On the Change of Control Payment Date, if the Change of Control Triggering Event shall have occurred, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful:

- (1) accept for payment all Notes or portion thereof properly tendered pursuant to the Change of Control Offer;
- (2) deposit with the Paying Agent an amount equal to the Change of Control Payment in respect of all Notes so tendered;
- (3) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions of the Notes being purchased by the Issuer in the Change of Control Offer;
- (4) in the case of Global Notes, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Principal Paying Agent (in the case of Euro Notes) and the U.S. Paying Agent (in the case of Dollar Notes) the applicable Global Notes in order to reflect thereon the portion of such Notes or portions thereof that have been tendered to and purchased by the Issuer; and

- (5) in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the relevant Registrar for cancellation all Definitive Registered Notes accepted for purchase by the Issuer.

If any Definitive Registered Notes have been issued, the Paying Agent, at the Issuer's expense, will promptly mail to each Holder of Definitive Registered Notes so tendered the Change of Control Payment for such Notes, and the Trustee will promptly instruct its authenticating agent to authenticate and, at the Issuer's expense, mail (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) to each Holder of Definitive Registered Notes a new Definitive Registered Note equal in principal amount to the unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered, if any; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount that is at least $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and € 100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a notice with respect to the results of the Change of Control Offer as soon as reasonably practicable after the Change of Control Payment Date on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

The Change of Control provisions described above will be applicable whether or not any other provisions of the Indenture are applicable. Except as described above with respect to a Change of Control Triggering Event, the Indenture does not contain provisions that permit the Holders to require that the Issuer repurchase or redeem the Notes in the event of a takeover, recapitalization or similar transaction. The existence of a Holder's right to require the Issuer to repurchase such Holder's Notes upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event may deter a third party from seeking to acquire Altice International or its Subsidiaries in a transaction that would constitute a Change of Control Triggering Event.

The Issuer will not be required to make a Change of Control Offer upon a Change of Control Triggering Event if a third party makes the Change of Control Offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements set forth in the Indenture applicable to a Change of Control Offer made by the Issuer and purchases all Notes validly tendered and not withdrawn under such Change of Control Offer. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, a Change of Control Offer may be made in advance of a Change of Control Triggering Event, conditional upon such Change of Control Triggering Event, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time of making of the Change of Control Offer.

If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes of a series validly tender and do not withdraw such Notes in a Change of Control Offer and the Issuer, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Issuer as described above, purchases all of the Notes of such series validly tendered and not withdrawn by such Holders, the Issuer or such third party will have the right, upon not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to the Change of Control Offer described above, to redeem all Notes of such series that remain outstanding following such purchase at a price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the date of the delivery of the notice for such redemption.

The provisions of the Indenture do not afford holders of the Notes the right to require the Issuer to repurchase the Notes in the event of a highly leveraged transaction, certain transactions with Altice International's management or its Affiliates or certain other sale transactions, including a reorganization, restructuring, merger or similar transaction (including, in certain circumstances, an acquisition of Altice International by management or its Affiliates) involving the Issuer that may adversely affect holders of the Notes, if such transaction is not a transaction defined as a Change of Control Triggering Event.

The Issuer will comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14(e) of the Exchange Act and any other securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Notes pursuant to this covenant. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of the Indenture, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations under the Change of Control provisions of the Indenture by virtue of the conflict.

The Issuer's ability to repurchase Notes issued by it pursuant to a Change of Control Offer may be limited by a number of factors. The existing indebtedness of the Issuer, Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries contains, and its respective future indebtedness may also contain, prohibitions of certain events that would constitute a "change of control" or require such Indebtedness to be repurchased or repaid upon such a change of control. Moreover, the exercise by the Holders of their right to require the Issuer to repurchase the Notes could cause a default under, or require a repurchase of, such Indebtedness, even if the Change of Control Triggering Event itself does not, due to the financial effect of such repurchase on the Issuer. Finally, the Issuer's ability to pay cash to the Holders upon a repurchase may be limited by Altice International's and its Restricted Subsidiaries' then existing financial resources. There can be no assurance that sufficient funds will be available when necessary to make any required repurchases. See "Risk Factors—

Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—We may not be able to obtain enough funds necessary to finance an offer to repurchase the New Notes upon the occurrence of certain events constituting a change of control triggering event (as defined in the New Indentures) as required by the New Indentures”.

The definition of “Change of Control” includes a direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of all or substantially all of the property and assets of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries taken as a whole to a Person (including any “person” (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act)), other than a Permitted Holder. Although there is a limited body of case law interpreting the phrase “substantially all”, there is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve a disposition of “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person. As a result, it may be unclear as to whether a Change of Control has occurred and whether a Holder may require the Issuer to make an offer to repurchase the Notes as described above. However, subject to the conditions specified in sub-clause (3) of “Certain Definitions—Change of Control”, a Change of Control shall be deemed not to have occurred as a result of the sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition in one or a series of related transactions of any assets of Altice International and its Subsidiaries or the Target and its Subsidiaries (including the Capital Stock of the Target or any Subsidiary of Altice International or the Target) that is required pursuant to Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition or is taken to avoid or eliminate any impediment under Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition (including, without limitation, in response to any actions initiated by an administrative, regulatory or other governmental authority or private party under Competition Laws).

The provisions of the Indenture relating to the Issuer’s obligation to make an offer to repurchase the Notes as a result of a Change of Control Triggering Event may be waived or modified with the written consent of holders of a majority in outstanding principal amount of the Notes.

Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds

Pursuant to the Minority Shareholder Call Options granted under the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements, each Minority Shareholder is entitled to re-acquire all or a portion of the shares of HOT sold by it to Cool in connection with the Take-Private Transaction at an exercise price equal to NIS 48 per share (subject to customary anti-dilution rights and purchase price adjustments) during the two-year period commencing on December 27, 2013. Subject to certain limitations, each Minority Shareholder Call Option may be exercised in up to three transactions. See “Description of our Business—HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements”. The transfer of shares of Capital Stock of HOT upon any exercise of a Minority Shareholder Call Option will not be deemed to be an Asset Disposition under the Indenture. However, the Issuer will be required to offer to repurchase the Notes with the Net Cash Proceeds of such exercise as described below.

Any Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from any Minority Shareholder Option Exercise will constitute “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds”. When the aggregate amount of Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds exceeds NIS 100 million (the “Minority Shareholder Option Offer Threshold”), the Issuer will be required within ten (10) Business Days to make an offer (a “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer”) to all holders of Notes and, to the extent the Issuer elects or the Issuer or a Guarantor is required by the terms of other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness, to all holders of such other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness to purchase the maximum principal amount of Notes and any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to which such Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer applies that may be purchased out of the Applicable Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Amount, at an offer price in respect of the Notes in an amount equal to (and, in the case of any Pari Passu Indebtedness, an offer price of no more than) 103% of the principal amount of the Notes and 103% of the principal amount of Pari Passu Indebtedness, in each case, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase, in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture or the agreements governing the Pari Passu Indebtedness, as applicable, and in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and €100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes, provided that the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Threshold shall not apply in the event that (i) at the time of receipt of such Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, all Minority Shareholder Call Options have been exercised in full, (ii) all unexercised Minority Shareholder Call Options have expired pursuant to the terms of the relevant Minority Shareholder Purchaser Agreements or (iii) all unexercised Minority Shareholder Call Options have been terminated.

To the extent that the aggregate amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to a Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer is less than the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, Altice International may use any remaining Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds for general corporate purposes, to the extent not prohibited by the other covenants contained in the Indenture. If the aggregate principal amount of the Notes surrendered in any Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer by Holders and other Pari Passu Indebtedness surrendered by holders or lenders, collectively, exceeds the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds shall be allocated among the Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness. For the purposes of calculating the principal amount of any such Indebtedness not denominated in euro, such Indebtedness shall be calculated by converting any such principal amounts into their Euro Equivalent determined as of a date selected by the Issuer that is within the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period (as defined below).

To the extent that any portion of Net Available Cash payable in respect of the relevant Notes is denominated in a currency other than the currency in which the Notes are denominated, the amount thereof payable in respect of such Notes shall not exceed the net amount of funds in the currency in which such Notes are denominated that is actually received by the Issuer upon converting such portion of the Net Available Cash into such currency.

The Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer, in so far as it relates to the Notes, will remain open for a period of not less than 20 Business Days following its commencement (the “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period”). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period (the “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Purchase Date”), the Issuer will purchase the principal amount of Notes and, to the extent it elects, Pari Passu Indebtedness required to be purchased by it pursuant to this covenant (the “Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount”) or, if less than the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount has been so validly tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness validly tendered in response to the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer.

On or before the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Purchase Date, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful, accept for payment, on a pro rata basis to the extent necessary, the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or portions of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer, or if less than the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount has been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn and, in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and €100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes. The Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate stating that such Notes or portions thereof were accepted for payment by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of this covenant. The Issuer or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, will promptly (but in any case not later than five (5) Business Days after termination of the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period) mail or deliver to each tendering Holder of Notes an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn by such Holder, and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer will promptly issue a new Note and in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, deliver or cause to be delivered to the relevant Registrar for cancellation all Definitive Registered Notes accepted for purchase by the Issuer (or, in the case of Global Notes, cause the Paying Agent to reduce the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Note), and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Officer’s Certificate from the Issuer, will authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder, in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount with a minimum denomination of $200,000, in the case of Dollar Notes, and €100,000, in the case of Euro Notes. Any Note not so accepted will be promptly mailed or delivered (or transferred by book-entry) by the Issuer to the Holder thereof.

Certain Covenants

Limitation on Indebtedness

Altice International will not and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, Incur any Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness); provided, however, that the Issuer may Incur Senior Secured Indebtedness if on the date on which such Senior Secured Indebtedness is Incurred, the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio would have been no greater than 3.0 to 1.0 determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if such Senior Secured Indebtedness had been incurred at the beginning of the relevant period.

The first paragraph of this covenant will not prohibit the Incurrence of the following items of Indebtedness:

- (1) Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to any Credit Facility (including in respect of letters of credit or bankers’ acceptances issued or created thereunder), and any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof, in a maximum aggregate principal amount at any time outstanding not to exceed the greater of €1,500 million and 80% of Consolidated EBITDA; plus in the case of any refinancing of any Indebtedness permitted under this clause (1) or any portion thereof, the aggregate amount of fees, underwriting discounts, premiums and other costs and expenses Incurred in connection with such refinancing;
- (2) (a) Guarantees by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to the extent such guaranteed Indebtedness was permitted to be incurred by another provision of this covenant; provided that (i) if such Indebtedness is subordinated in right of payment to, or pari passu in right of payment with, the Notes or a Note Guarantee, as applicable, then the Guarantee of such

Indebtedness shall be subordinated in right of payment to, or pari passu in right of payment with, the Notes or such Note Guarantee, as applicable, substantially to the same extent as such guaranteed Indebtedness and (ii) if such guarantee is of Indebtedness of the Issuer, a Guarantor, HOT, a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor, such Restricted Subsidiary complies with the first, second and third paragraph (as applicable) of the covenant described under “—Additional Guarantors”; or (b) without limiting the covenant described under “—Limitation on Liens”, Indebtedness arising by reason of any Lien granted by or applicable to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary securing Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary so long as the Incurrence of such Indebtedness is not prohibited by the terms of the Indenture;

- (3) Indebtedness of Altice International owing to and held by any Restricted Subsidiary, or Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary owing to and held by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary; provided, however, that if the Issuer or any Guarantor is the obligor on such Indebtedness and the payee is not the Issuer or a Guarantor, such Indebtedness must be unsecured and ((i) except in respect of the intercompany current liabilities incurred in connection with cash management positions of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries and (ii) only to the extent legally permitted (Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries having completed all procedures required in the reasonable judgment of directors or officers of the obligee or obligor to protect such Persons from any penalty or civil or criminal liability in connection with the subordination of such Indebtedness)) expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full in cash of all obligations then due with respect to the Notes, in the case of the Issuer, or the Note Guarantee, in the case of a Guarantor; provided that:
- (i) any subsequent issuance or transfer of Capital Stock or any other event which results in any such Indebtedness being beneficially held by a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary; and
 - (ii) any sale or other transfer of any such Indebtedness to a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary,

shall be deemed, in each case, to constitute an Incurrence of such Indebtedness not permitted by this clause (3) by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be;

- (4) (a) Indebtedness represented by the Notes (other than any Additional Notes) issued on the Issue Date and the Note Guarantees, and Indebtedness under the New Senior Credit Facility incurred on or prior to the Completion Date in an aggregate amount not to exceed €841 million (equivalent as of the date of the New Senior Credit Facility) and the Guarantees thereof (b) any Indebtedness (other than Indebtedness described in clauses (1) and (3) of this paragraph) outstanding on the Issue Date, after giving effect to the Transactions, including the Issuance of the Notes, and the application of the proceeds thereof (including after such proceeds of the Notes are released from the Escrow Accounts), (c) Refinancing Indebtedness Incurred in exchange for, or the net proceeds of which are used to renew, refund, refinance, replace, defease or discharge any, or otherwise Incurred in respect of any, Indebtedness described in sub-clauses (a), (b) or (c) of this clause (4) or clause (5) of this paragraph or Incurred pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant, (d) Management Advances and (e) Indebtedness represented by the Security Documents, the HOT Security Documents and the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents and including, with respect to each such Indebtedness, “parallel debt” obligations created under the Intercreditor Agreement, the HOT Security Documents, the Security Documents and the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents;
- (5) Indebtedness of (i) any Person outstanding on the date on which such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary or is merged, consolidated, amalgamated or otherwise combined with (including pursuant to any acquisition of assets and assumption of related liabilities) Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) the Issuer or a Guarantor Incurred to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which a Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was otherwise acquired by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or otherwise in connection with or contemplation of such acquisition; provided, however, with respect to each of clause (5)(i) and (5)(ii), that immediately following the consummation of such acquisition or other transaction, (x)(i) if such Indebtedness is Senior Secured Indebtedness, the Issuer would have been able to incur €1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant after giving effect to the Incurrence of such Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (5) or (ii) the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such acquisition or other transaction; and (y)(i) if such Indebtedness is not Senior Secured Indebtedness (including Indebtedness of Holdco that is Guaranteed by the Issuer or a Guarantor), the Issuer or a Guarantor would have been able to Guarantee €1.00 of additional Indebtedness of HoldCo pursuant to clause (15) of this paragraph after giving effect to the Incurrence of such Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (5) or (ii) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such acquisition or other transaction;

- (6) [Reserved];
- (7) (a) Indebtedness under Currency Agreements (other than Currency Agreements described in (b) below), Interest Rate Agreements and Commodity Hedging Agreements and (b) Indebtedness under Currency Agreements entered into in order to hedge any operating expenses and capital expenditures Incurred in the ordinary course of business so long as (i) such operating expenses and capital expenditures are denominated in euro or U.S. dollars and (ii) the term of any such Currency Agreement is not more than 360 days; in each case with respect to clauses (a) and (b) hereof, entered into for bona fide hedging purposes of Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries or (in respect of Currency Agreements and Interest Rate Agreements related to Indebtedness of HoldCo that is permitted to be Guaranteed by the Issuer and the Guarantors under clause (15) below) HoldCo and not for speculative purposes (as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International);
- (8) Indebtedness consisting of (A) mortgage financings, Purchase Money Obligations or other financings Incurred for the purpose of financing all or any part of the purchase price or cost of design, construction, installation or improvement of property (real or personal), plant or equipment or other assets (including Capital Stock) used or useful in a Similar Business or (B) Indebtedness otherwise Incurred to finance the purchase, lease, rental or cost of design, construction, installation or improvement of property (real or personal), plant or equipment that is used or useful in a Similar Business, whether through the direct purchase of assets or the Capital Stock of any Person owning such assets, and any Indebtedness which refinances, replaces or refunds such Indebtedness, in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (8) and then outstanding, will not exceed at any time outstanding the greater of €350 million and 2.8% of Total Assets;
- (9) Indebtedness in respect of (a) workers' compensation claims, self-insurance obligations, performance, indemnity, surety, judgment, appeal, advance payment, customs, VAT or other tax or other guarantees or other similar bonds, instruments or obligations and completion guarantees and warranties provided by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or relating to liabilities, obligations or guarantees Incurred in the ordinary course of business or in respect of any governmental requirement, including in relation to a governmental requirement to provide a guarantee or bond, (b) letters of credit, bankers' acceptances, guarantees or other similar instruments or obligations issued or relating to liabilities or obligations Incurred in the ordinary course of business, provided, however, that upon the drawing of such letters of credit or other instrument, such obligations are reimbursed within 30 days following such drawing; (c) the financing of insurance premiums in the ordinary course of business; and (d) any customary cash management, cash pooling or netting or setting off arrangements in the ordinary course of business;
- (10) Indebtedness arising from agreements providing for customary guarantees, indemnification, obligations in respect of earnouts or other adjustments of purchase price or, in each case, similar obligations, in each case, Incurred or assumed in connection with the acquisition or disposition of any business or assets or Person or any Capital Stock of a Subsidiary (other than Guarantees of Indebtedness Incurred by any Person acquiring or disposing of such business or assets or such Subsidiary for the purpose of financing such acquisition or disposition); provided that the maximum liability of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries in respect of all such Indebtedness in connection with such disposition shall at no time exceed the gross proceeds, including the fair market value of non-cash proceeds (measured at the time received and without giving effect to any subsequent changes in value), actually received by Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries in connection with such disposition;
- (11) Indebtedness arising from the honoring by a bank or other financial institution of a check, draft or similar instrument drawn against insufficient funds in the ordinary course of business; provided, however, that such Indebtedness is extinguished within 30 Business Days of Incurrence;
- (12) Indebtedness under daylight borrowing facilities incurred in connection with any refinancing of Indebtedness (including by way of set-off or exchange); provided that such Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of the Indebtedness being refinanced and the aggregate amount of fees, underwriting discounts, premiums and other costs and expenses Incurred in connection with such refinancing, so long as any such Indebtedness is repaid within three days of the date on which such Indebtedness is Incurred;
- (13) Indebtedness Incurred by a Receivables Subsidiary in a Qualified Receivables Financing;
- (14) Indebtedness Incurred by the Issuer or a Guarantor (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof) or Disqualified Stock of Altice International in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (14) and then outstanding, will not exceed 100% of the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International and the Restricted

Subsidiaries from the issuance or sale (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) of its Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) or Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock, Designated Preference Shares or an Excluded Contribution) or otherwise contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock, Designated Preference Shares or an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International, in each case, subsequent to the Issue Date; provided, however, that (i) any such Net Cash Proceeds that are so received or contributed shall be excluded for purposes of making Restricted Payments under the first paragraph and clauses (1), (6) and (10) of the third paragraph of the covenant described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” to the extent Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary incurs Indebtedness in reliance thereon and (ii) any Net Cash Proceeds that are so received or contributed shall be excluded for purposes of Incurring Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (14) to the extent Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary makes a Restricted Payment under the first paragraph and clauses (1), (6) and (10) of the third paragraph of the covenant described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” in reliance thereon;

- (15) (A) the Guarantee by the Issuer or any Guarantor of Indebtedness of HoldCo if, on the date of the Incurrence of such Guarantee, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would have been no greater than 4.0 to 1.0, determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds from the Incurrence of such Indebtedness), as if such Guarantee had been Incurred at the beginning of the relevant two-quarter period, provided such Guarantees shall be subordinated to the Notes and the Note Guarantee of such Guarantor pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement to substantially the same extent, and on substantially the same terms as is customary for debt structures of this type on the Issue Date; and (B) the Incurrence of Indebtedness by the Issuer under a HoldCo Proceeds Loan representing all or substantially all of the net proceeds of a substantially concurrent Incurrence of Indebtedness by HoldCo that is guaranteed by the Issuer and the Guarantors pursuant to sub-clause (A) of this clause (15) or clauses (14) and (16) of this paragraph, provided that (i) any HoldCo Proceeds Loan is subordinated to the Notes to the same extent as the Guarantees referred to in clause (A) of this clause (15), and (ii) any HoldCo Proceeds Loan is granted as Notes Collateral and any payments under such HoldCo Proceeds Loan are subject to the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement; and
- (16) Indebtedness Incurred (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof) in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (16) and then outstanding, will not exceed the greater of €500 million and 4.0% of Total Assets.

So long as Coditel Holding Lux S.à r.l. is not a Guarantor but is a Subsidiary of a Altice International, (i) none of Altice International or any other Guarantor shall permit the obligors under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility to extend the maturity thereof, reduce the interest rate payable thereon or make any unscheduled payment of principal thereon; provided, however, that the obligors under the Coditel Senior Credit Facility shall be permitted to prepay the Coditel Senior Credit Facility from time to time in an aggregate amount not to exceed €30 million.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for so long as NewCo OMT is not a Guarantor, NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries shall not be permitted to Incur more than €30 million of Indebtedness at any time outstanding excluding any Indebtedness referred to in clauses (2)(a) (to the extent the Guarantee(s) relate to Indebtedness Incurred under clause (3) above), (3), (4)(d), (5), (8), (9), (10) and (11) of the second paragraph of this covenant.

In the event the Issuer Incurs any Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant or clauses (8), (14), (15) (upon receipt from HoldCo of the Net Cash Proceeds of such Incurrence of such Indebtedness by HoldCo) or (16) of the second paragraph of this covenant, the Issuer will substantially concurrently with the Incurrence of such Indebtedness (or in the case of any Indebtedness the proceeds of which are deposited into an escrow account or similar arrangement pending the occurrence of one or more events, concurrently with the release of such proceeds from such escrow account or similar arrangement (other than in the case that such proceeds are returned to the holders of, or lenders under, such Indebtedness pursuant to the terms of such escrow account or similar arrangement)), make one or more Issuer Proceeds Loans to one or more Guarantors or (prior to the HOT Direct Obligation Event) to HOT and any of its Subsidiaries that are HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors (so long as HOT or such Subsidiary grants a Lien over its material assets and, in the case of such Subsidiary provides a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee, in the amount of such additional Issuer Proceeds Loan) with all or substantially all of the net proceeds of the Incurrence of such Indebtedness by the Issuer.

For purposes of determining compliance with, and the outstanding principal amount of any particular Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to and in compliance with, this covenant:

- (1) in the event that Indebtedness meets the criteria of more than one of the types of Indebtedness described in the first and second paragraphs of this covenant, the Issuer, in its sole discretion, will classify, and may from time to time reclassify, such item of Indebtedness and only be required to include the amount and type of such

Indebtedness in one of the clauses of the second paragraph or the first paragraph of this covenant; provided that Indebtedness Incurred under clauses (1) and (15) of the second paragraph of the description of this covenant cannot be reclassified;

- (2) Guarantees of, or obligations in respect of letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments relating to, or Liens securing, Indebtedness that is otherwise included in the determination of a particular amount of Indebtedness shall not be included;
- (3) if obligations in respect of letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments are Incurred pursuant to any Credit Facility and are being treated as Incurred pursuant to clause (1), (8), (14) or (16) of the second paragraph above or the first paragraph above and the letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments relate to other Indebtedness, then such other Indebtedness shall not be included;
- (4) the principal amount of any Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, or Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, will be equal to the greater of the maximum mandatory redemption or repurchase price (not including, in either case, any redemption or repurchase premium) or the liquidation preference thereof;
- (5) Indebtedness permitted by this covenant need not be permitted solely by reference to one provision permitting such Indebtedness but may be permitted in part by one such provision and in part by one or more other provisions of this covenant permitting such Indebtedness; and
- (6) the amount of Indebtedness issued at a price that is less than the principal amount thereof will be equal to the amount of the liability in respect thereof determined on the basis of IFRS.

Accrual of interest, accrual of dividends, the accretion of accreted value, the accretion or amortization of original issue discount, the payment of interest in the form of additional Indebtedness, the payment of dividends in the form of additional shares of Preferred Stock or Disqualified Stock or the reclassification of commitments or obligations not treated as Indebtedness due to a change in IFRS will not be deemed to be an Incurrence of Indebtedness for purposes of this covenant. The amount of any Indebtedness outstanding as of any date shall be (a) the accreted value thereof in the case of any Indebtedness issued with original issue discount and (b) the principal amount, or liquidation preference thereof, in the case of any other Indebtedness.

If at any time an Unrestricted Subsidiary becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, any Indebtedness of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be Incurred by a Restricted Subsidiary as of such date (and, if such Indebtedness is not permitted to be Incurred as of such date under the covenant described under this "—Limitation on Indebtedness", the Issuer shall be in Default of this covenant).

For purposes of determining compliance with any euro-denominated restriction on the Incurrence of Indebtedness, the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in another currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was Incurred, in the case of term Indebtedness, or at the option of the Issuer, on the date first committed, in the case of Indebtedness Incurred under a revolving credit facility; provided that (a) if such Indebtedness is Incurred to refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro, and such refinancing would cause the applicable euro-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such refinancing, such euro-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being refinanced; (b) the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of any such Indebtedness outstanding on the Issue Date shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the Issue Date; and (c) if any such Indebtedness that is denominated in a currency other than euros is subject to a Currency Agreement with respect to the currency in which such Indebtedness is denominated covering principal amount and interest payable on such Indebtedness, the amount of such Indebtedness, will be the Euro Equivalent of the principal payment required to be made under such Currency Agreement plus the Euro Equivalent of any premium which is at such time due and payable but is not covered by such Currency Agreement.

For purposes of determining compliance with the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio on the Incurrence of Indebtedness, the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in another currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was Incurred, in the case of term Indebtedness, or at the option of the Issuer, the date first committed, in the case of Indebtedness Incurred under a revolving credit facility; provided that (a) if such Indebtedness is Incurred to refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro, and such refinancing would cause the applicable euro-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such refinancing, such euro-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being refinanced; and (b) the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of any such Indebtedness outstanding on the Issue Date shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the Issue Date.

In addition, for purposes of calculating the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio to test compliance with any covenant in the Indenture, in determining the amount of Indebtedness outstanding in euro on any date of determination, with respect to any Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro (the “Foreign Currency”):

- (1) subject to a currency swap arrangement or contract, the aggregate principal amount of such Foreign Currency Indebtedness on any such date of determination shall be the euro amount of the aggregate principal amount to be paid by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary on the maturity date of such currency swap arrangement or contract pursuant to the terms thereof; or
- (2) subject to a currency forward arrangement, forward accretion curve or contract, the aggregate principal amount of such Foreign Currency Indebtedness shall be converted into euro at the exchange rate specified under the terms of such currency forward arrangement, forward accretion curve or contract as applicable to such Foreign Currency Indebtedness on such date of determination.

For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding a Group member entering into any such arrangement or contract hedging foreign exchange exposure of any Foreign Currency Indebtedness, for the purposes of calculating the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio, the aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness subject to any such arrangement or contract shall be attributed to the total Indebtedness of the Person that originally Incurred such Indebtedness.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this covenant, the maximum amount of Indebtedness that Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary may Incur pursuant to this covenant shall not be deemed to be exceeded solely as a result of fluctuations in the exchange rate of currencies.

Neither the Issuer nor any Guarantor will incur any Indebtedness (including any Indebtedness permitted to be Incurred pursuant to the second paragraph of this covenant) that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Indebtedness of the Issuer or such Guarantor unless such Indebtedness is also contractually subordinated in right of payment to the Notes and the applicable Note Guarantee on substantially identical terms (as determined in good faith by the Issuer); provided, however, that no Indebtedness will be deemed to be contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor solely by virtue of being unsecured, by virtue of being secured with different collateral, by virtue of being secured on a junior priority basis or by virtue of the application of waterfall or other payment-ordering provisions affecting different tranches of Indebtedness under Credit Facilities.

Limitation on Restricted Payments

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly:

- (1) declare or pay any dividend or make any other payment or distribution on account of or in respect of Altice International’s or any Restricted Subsidiary’s Capital Stock (including, without limitation, any payment in connection with any merger or consolidation involving Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) except:
 - (a) dividends or distributions payable in Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock) or in options, warrants or other rights to purchase such Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock) or in Subordinated Shareholder Funding; and
 - (b) dividends or distributions payable to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (and, in the case of any such Restricted Subsidiary making such dividend or distribution, to holders of its Capital Stock other than Altice International or another Restricted Subsidiary on no more than a pro rata basis, measured by value);
- (2) purchase, redeem, retire or otherwise acquire for value (including, without limitation, any payment in connection with any merger or consolidation involving the Issuer or Altice International) any (a) Capital Stock of Altice International or any direct or indirect Parent of Altice International held by Persons other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (other than in exchange for Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock)) or (b) Capital Stock of HOT (including the Minority Shareholder Call Options) held by any party to a Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreement (other than Cool);
- (3) make any principal payment on, or purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value, prior to scheduled maturity, scheduled repayment or scheduled sinking fund payment, any Subordinated

Indebtedness (other than (a) any such payment, purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement or in anticipation of satisfying a sinking fund obligation, principal installment or final maturity, in each case, due within one year of the date of payment, purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement; and (b) any Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to clause (3) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”);

- (4) make any cash payment on or with respect to, or purchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value any Subordinated Shareholder Funding; or
- (5) make any Restricted Investment in any Person;

(any such dividend, distribution, payment, purchase, redemption, repurchase, defeasance, other acquisition, retirement or Restricted Investment referred to in clauses (1) through (5) are referred to herein as a “Restricted Payment”), if at the time Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary makes such Restricted Payment:

- (a) a Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing (or would result immediately thereafter therefrom);
- (b) the Issuer and the Guarantors are not able to Guarantee €1.00 of in additional Indebtedness of HoldCo pursuant to clause (15) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, after giving effect, on a pro forma basis, to such Restricted Payment; or
- (c) the aggregate amount of such Restricted Payment and all other Restricted Payments made by Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries subsequent to December 12, 2012 (and not returned or rescinded) (including Permitted Payments permitted below by clauses (5) (without duplication of amounts paid pursuant to any other clause of the immediately succeeding paragraph), (6), (10), (17) and (18) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, but excluding all other Restricted Payments permitted by the immediately succeeding paragraph) would exceed the sum of (without duplication):
 - (i) an amount equal to 100% of the Consolidated EBITDA for the period beginning on the first day of the first full fiscal quarter commencing prior to December 12, 2012 to the end of Altice International’s most recently ended full fiscal quarter ending prior to the date of such Restricted Payment for which internal consolidated financial statements of Altice International are available, taken as a single accounting period, less the product of 1.5 times the Consolidated Interest Expense for such period;
 - (ii) 100% of the aggregate Net Cash Proceeds, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International from the issue or sale of its Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) or Subordinated Shareholder Funding subsequent to the Issue Date or otherwise contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International subsequent to the Issue Date (other than (w) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities received from an issuance or sale of such Capital Stock to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, (x) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities to the extent that any Restricted Payment has been made from such proceeds in reliance on clause (6) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, (y) Excluded Contributions and (z) Net Cash Proceeds received from the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes);
 - (iii) 100% of the aggregate Net Cash Proceeds, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from the issuance or sale (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary subsequent to the Issue Date of any Indebtedness that has been converted into or exchanged for Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) or Subordinated Shareholder Funding (plus the amount of any cash, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary upon such conversion or exchange) but excluding (x) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities to the extent that any Restricted Payment has been made from such proceeds in reliance on clause (6) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, and (y) Excluded Contributions;

- (iv) the amount equal to the net reduction in Restricted Investments made by Altice International or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries resulting from repurchases, redemptions or other acquisitions or retirements of any such Restricted Investment, proceeds realized upon the sale or other disposition to a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary of any such Restricted Investment, repayments of loans or advances or other transfers of assets (including by way of dividend, distribution, interest payments or returns of capital) to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, which amount, in each case under this clause (iv), constituted a Restricted Payment made after the Issue Date; provided, however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (iv);
- (v) the amount of the cash and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property, assets or marketable securities received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in connection with:
 - (a) the sale or other disposition (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) of Capital Stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary of Altice International; and
 - (b) any dividend or distribution made by an Unrestricted Subsidiary to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary;

which Unrestricted Subsidiary was designated as such after the Issue Date; provided, however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (v); and

- (vi) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary or all of the assets of such Unrestricted Subsidiary are transferred to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, or the Unrestricted Subsidiary is merged or consolidated into Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, 100% of such amount received in cash and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of any property, assets or marketable securities received by Altice International or Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such redesignation, merger, consolidation or transfer of assets, excluding any amount of any Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (16) of the definition of "Permitted Investment", in each case of this clause (vi), which Unrestricted Subsidiary was designated as such after the Issue Date; provided however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (vi); provided further, however, that such amount shall not exceed the amount included in the calculation of the amount of Restricted Payments referred to in the first sentence of this clause (c).

The foregoing provisions will not prohibit any of the following (collectively, "Permitted Payments"):

- (1) any Restricted Payment made in exchange (including any such exchange pursuant to the exercise of a conversion right or privilege in connection with which cash is paid in lieu of the issuance of fractional shares) for, or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to Altice International or a Subsidiary of Altice International) of, Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution), Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) or a substantially concurrent contribution to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International; provided, however, that to the extent so applied, the Net Cash Proceeds, or fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property, assets or marketable securities, from such sale of Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding or such contribution will be excluded from clause (c)(ii) of the preceding paragraph and for purposes of the “Optional Redemption” provisions of the Indenture;

- (2) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor made by exchange for, or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent Incurrence of, Refinancing Indebtedness permitted to be Incurred pursuant to the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above;
- (3) (a) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary made by exchange for or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, and (b) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary made by exchange for or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, that, in each case under (a) and (b), is permitted to be Incurred pursuant to the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above, and that in each case (other than such sale of Preferred Stock of Altice International that is not Disqualified Stock) constitutes Refinancing Indebtedness;
- (4) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness:
 - (a) (i) from Net Cash Proceeds of the Minority Shareholder Option Exercises permitted under “—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds” and from Net Available Cash to the extent permitted under “—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock” below, but only if the Issuer shall have first complied with the terms described under “—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds” above and “—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”, as applicable, and purchased all Notes tendered pursuant to any offer to repurchase all the Notes required thereby, prior to purchasing, repurchasing, redeeming, defeasing or otherwise acquiring or retiring such Subordinated Indebtedness and (ii) at a purchase price not greater than 100% of the principal amount of such Subordinated Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest;
 - (b) to the extent required by the agreement governing such Subordinated Indebtedness, following the occurrence of a Change of Control (or other similar event described therein as a “change of control”), but only (i) if required, if the Issuer shall have first complied with the terms described under “Change of Control” and purchased all Notes tendered pursuant to the offer to repurchase all the Notes required thereby, prior to purchasing, repurchasing, redeeming, defeasing or otherwise acquiring or retiring such Subordinated Indebtedness and (ii) at a purchase price not greater than 101% of the principal amount of such Subordinated Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest; or
 - (c) consisting of Acquired Indebtedness (other than Indebtedness Incurred (A) to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was otherwise acquired by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or (B) otherwise in connection with or contemplation of such acquisition) and at a purchase price not greater than 100% of the principal amount of such Acquired Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest and any premium required by the terms of any Acquired Indebtedness;
- (5) any dividends paid within 60 days after the date of declaration if at such date of declaration such dividend would have complied with this covenant;

- (6) the purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition, cancellation or retirement for value of Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof) and loans, advances, dividends or distributions by Altice International to any Parent to permit any Parent to purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire, cancel or retire for value Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), or payments to purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire, cancel or retire for value Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), in each case from Management Investors; provided that such payments, loans, advances, dividends or distributions do not exceed an amount (net of repayments of any such loans or advances) equal to (1) €20 million in any calendar year (with unused amounts in any calendar year being carried over to the succeeding calendar years; provided that the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (6) do not exceed € 20 million in any fiscal year), plus (2) the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries since the Issue Date (including through receipt of proceeds from the issuance or sale of its Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding to a Parent) from, or as a contribution to the equity (in each case under this clause (6), other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International from, the issuance or sale to Management Investors of Capital Stock (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), to the extent such Net Cash Proceeds are not included in any calculation under clause (c)(ii) of the first paragraph of this covenant;
- (7) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Disqualified Stock, or of any Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary, Incurred in accordance with the terms of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above;
- (8) purchases, repurchases, redemptions, defeasances or other acquisitions or retirements of Capital Stock deemed to occur upon the exercise of stock options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof if such Capital Stock represents a portion of the exercise price thereof;
- (9) dividends, loans, advances or distributions to any Parent or other payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in amounts equal to (without duplication) the amounts required for any Parent to pay:
- (a) any Parent Expenses or any Related Taxes; and
- (b) amounts constituting or to be used for purposes of making payments to the extent specified in clauses (2) (with respect to fees and expenses incurred in connection with the transactions described therein), (5), and (11) of the second paragraph under “—Limitation on Affiliate Transactions,”
- (10) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result therefrom), and for so long as Altice International or any Parent is a Public Company, the declaration and payment by Altice International of, or loans, advances, dividends or distributions to any Parent to pay, dividends on the common stock or common equity interests of Altice International or any Parent, in an amount not to exceed in any fiscal year the greater of (a) 6% of the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International from a Public Offering (other than the Initial Public Offering) or contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International or contributed as Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) to Altice International and (b) an amount equal to the greater of (i) 5% of the Market Capitalization and (ii) 5% of the IPO Market Capitalization; provided that after giving pro forma effect to such loans, advances, dividends or distributions, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio shall be equal to or less than 4.0 to 1.0; provided, further, that if such Public Offering was of Capital Stock of a Parent, the net proceeds of any such dividend are used to fund a corresponding dividend in equal or greater amount on the Capital Stock of such Parent;

- (11) payments by Altice International, or loans, advances, dividends or distributions to any Parent to make payments, to holders of Capital Stock of Altice International or any Parent in lieu of the issuance of fractional shares of such Capital Stock; provided, however, that any such payment, loan, advance, dividend or distribution shall not be for the purpose of evading any limitation of this covenant or otherwise to facilitate any dividend or other return of capital to the holders of such Capital Stock (as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International);
- (12) Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount outstanding at any time not to exceed the aggregate cash amount of Excluded Contributions, or consisting of non-cash Excluded Contributions, or Investments in exchange for or using as consideration Investments previously made under this clause (12);
- (13) payment of any Receivables Fees and purchases of Receivables Assets pursuant to a Receivables Repurchase Obligation in connection with a Qualified Receivables Financing;
- (14) dividends or other distributions of Capital Stock, Indebtedness or other securities of Unrestricted Subsidiaries;
- (15) (a) payments under a HoldCo Proceeds Loan that was Incurred in compliance with clause (15) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above that are permitted to be made under the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement and any Additional Intercreditor Agreement for the purpose of making corresponding interest payments on Indebtedness of HoldCo that is Guaranteed by the Issuer and the Guarantors pursuant to clause (15) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above and (b) so long as no Payment Block Event has occurred and is continuing, dividends or other distributions to HoldCo or Parent equal to the amount required by Altice S.A. for the payment of regularly scheduled interest as such amounts come due under the New ASA Notes;
- (16) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preference Shares of Altice International issued after the Issue Date; provided, however, that the amount of all dividends declared or paid by Altice International pursuant to this clause (16) shall not exceed the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International from the issuance or sale of such Designated Preference Shares;
- (17) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result therefrom), any Restricted Payment to the extent that, after giving pro forma effect to any such Restricted Payment, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would be no greater than 4.0 to 1.0; and
- (18) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result from), Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount outstanding at any time not to exceed the greater of €250 million and 2.0% of Total Assets.

The amount of all Restricted Payments (other than cash) shall be the fair market value on the date of such Restricted Payment of the asset(s) or securities proposed to be paid, transferred or issued by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, pursuant to such Restricted Payment. The fair market value of any cash Restricted Payment shall be its face amount, and the fair market value of any non-cash Restricted Payment or any other property, assets or securities required to be valued by this covenant shall be determined conclusively by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International acting in good faith.

For purposes of determining compliance with this covenant, in the event that a Restricted Payment meets the criteria of more than one of the categories described in clauses (1) through (18) above, or is permitted pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant, Altice International will be entitled to classify such Restricted Payment (or portion thereof)

on the date of its payment or later reclassify such Restricted Payment (or portion thereof) in any manner that complies with this covenant.

Limitation on Liens

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, create, incur or suffer to exist any Lien upon any of their property or assets (including Capital Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary), whether owned on the Issue Date or acquired after that date, or any interest therein or any income or profits therefrom, which Lien is securing any Indebtedness (such Lien, the “Initial Lien”), except (a) in the case of any property or asset that does not constitute Notes Collateral, HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral, (i) Permitted Liens or (ii) Liens on assets that are not Permitted Liens if the Notes and the Indenture (or a Note Guarantee in the case of Liens of a Guarantor) are directly secured equally and ratably with, or prior to, in the case of Liens with respect to Subordinated Indebtedness, the Indebtedness secured by such Initial Lien for so long as such Indebtedness is so secured, (b) in the case of any property or assets that constitutes Notes Collateral, Permitted Collateral Liens, (c) in the case of any property or assets that constitutes HOT Proceeds Note Collateral, Permitted HOT Proceeds Note Collateral Liens; and (d) in the case of any property or assets that constitutes OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral, Permitted OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral Liens.

Any such Lien created in favor of the Notes pursuant to clause (a)(ii) of the preceding paragraph will be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged upon (i) the release and discharge of the Initial Lien to which it relates, and (ii) otherwise as set forth under “—Notes Security—Release of Notes Collateral.”

Limitation on Restrictions on Distributions from Restricted Subsidiaries

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, create or otherwise cause or permit to exist or become effective any consensual encumbrance or consensual restriction on the ability of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to:

- (A) pay dividends or make any other distributions in cash or otherwise on its Capital Stock to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary or pay any Indebtedness or other obligations owed to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary;
- (B) make any loans or advances to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; or
- (C) sell, lease or transfer any of its property or assets to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that (x) the priority of any Preferred Stock in receiving dividends or liquidating distributions prior to dividends or liquidating distributions being paid on common stock and (y) the subordination of (including the application of any standstill requirements to) loans or advances made to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to other Indebtedness Incurred by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary shall not be deemed to constitute such an encumbrance or restriction.

The provisions of the preceding paragraph will not prohibit:

- (1) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to any Credit Facility or any other agreement or instrument, in each case, in effect at or entered into on the Issue Date (other than the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements), and any amendments, restatements, modifications, renewals, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings of such agreements; provided that the amendments, restatements, modifications, renewals, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings are not materially more restrictive, taken as a whole, with respect to such dividend and other payment restrictions than those contained in those agreements on the Issue Date (as determined in good faith by the Issuer);
- (2) the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements as in effect on December 12, 2012;
- (3) encumbrances or restrictions existing under or by reason of the Indenture, the Notes, the Note Guarantees, the Existing Senior Secured Notes and the Guarantees thereof, the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes and the Guarantees thereof, the New Senior Notes and the Guarantees thereof, and the Existing ASA Notes, the indentures governing the Existing Senior Notes, the Existing ASA Notes, the New Senior Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Coditel Senior Credit Facility, the Coditel Intercreditor Agreement, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Existing ASA Revolving Credit Facility, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes Escrow Agreement, the New Senior Notes Escrow Agreement, the Security Documents, the Senior Secured Notes Security Documents, the HOT Proceeds Note, the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes, the HOT Security Documents, the HOT Credit Facility, the OMT

Proceeds Loans and each OMT Proceeds Loans Security Document and the Issuer Proceeds Loans (other than the HOT Proceeds Note);

- (4) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to an agreement or instrument of a Person or relating to any Capital Stock or Indebtedness of a Person, entered into on or before the date on which (i) such Person was acquired by or merged, consolidated or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, (ii) such agreement or instrument is assumed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in connection with an acquisition of assets or (iii) such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary (in each case, other than Capital Stock or Indebtedness Incurred as consideration in, or to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate, the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was acquired by Altice International or was merged, consolidated or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) and outstanding on such date; provided that, for the purposes of this clause (4), if another Person is the Successor Company (as defined under “—Merger and Consolidation”) or any Subsidiary thereof, any agreement or instrument of such Person or any such Subsidiary shall be deemed acquired or assumed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary when such Person becomes the Successor Company;
- (5) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to an agreement or instrument effecting a refunding, replacement or refinancing of Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to, or that otherwise extends, renews, refunds, refinances or replaces, an agreement or instrument referred to in clause (1), (3) or (4) of this paragraph or this clause (5) (an “Initial Agreement”) or contained in any amendment, supplement or other modification to an agreement referred to in clause (1), (3) or (4) of this paragraph or this clause (5); provided, however, that the encumbrances and restrictions with respect to such Restricted Subsidiary contained in any such agreement or instrument are no less favorable in any material respect to the Holders taken as a whole than the encumbrances and restrictions contained in the Initial Agreement or Initial Agreements to which such refinancing or amendment, supplement or other modification relates (as determined in good faith by the Issuer);
- (6) any encumbrance or restriction:
 - (a) that restricts in a customary manner the subletting, assignment or transfer of any property or asset that is subject to a lease, license or similar contract, or the assignment or transfer of any lease, license or other contract;
 - (b) contained in mortgages, pledges or other security agreements permitted under the Indenture or securing Indebtedness of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary permitted under the Indenture to the extent such encumbrances or restrictions restrict the transfer of the property or assets subject to such mortgages, pledges or other security agreements;
 - (c) pursuant to customary provisions restricting dispositions of real property interests set forth in any reciprocal easement agreements of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; or
 - (d) pursuant to the terms of any license, authorization, concession or permit;
- (7) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to Purchase Money Obligations and Capitalized Lease Obligations permitted under the Indenture, in each case, that impose encumbrances or restrictions on the property so acquired or any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to a joint venture agreement that imposes restrictions on the transfer of the assets of the joint venture;
- (8) any encumbrance or restriction with respect to a Restricted Subsidiary (or any of its property or assets) imposed pursuant to an agreement entered into for the direct or indirect sale or disposition to a Person of all or substantially all the Capital Stock or assets of such Restricted Subsidiary (or the property or assets that are subject to such restriction) pending the closing of such sale or disposition;
- (9) customary provisions in leases, licenses, joint venture agreements and other similar agreements and instruments entered into in the ordinary course of business;
- (10) encumbrances or restrictions arising or existing by reason of applicable law or any applicable rule, regulation, governmental license or order, or required by any regulatory authority or stock exchange;
- (11) any encumbrance or restriction on cash or other deposits or net worth imposed by customers under agreements entered into in the ordinary course of business;

- (12) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to Currency Agreements, Interest Rate Agreements or Commodity Hedging Agreements;
- (13) any encumbrance or restriction arising pursuant to an agreement or instrument relating to any Indebtedness permitted to be Incurred subsequent to the Issue Date pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” if the encumbrances and restrictions contained in any such agreement or instrument taken as a whole are not materially less favorable to the Holders of the Notes than (i) the encumbrances and restrictions contained in the Revolving Credit Facilities or Senior Credit Facilities on the Issue Date, together with the security documents associated therewith, if any, and the Intercreditor Agreement, as in effect on or immediately prior to the Completion Date or (ii) is customary in comparable financings (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) and where, in the case of clause (ii), the Issuer determines at the time of issuance of such Indebtedness that such encumbrances or restrictions (x) will not adversely affect, in any material respect, the Issuer’s ability to make principal or interest payments on the Notes as and when they become due or (y) such encumbrances and restrictions apply only if a default occurs in respect of a payment or financial covenant relating to such Indebtedness;
- (14) restrictions effected in connection with a Qualified Receivables Financing that, in the good faith determination of an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International, are necessary or advisable to effect such Qualified Receivables Financing; or
- (15) any encumbrance or restriction existing by reason of any Lien permitted under “—Limitation on Liens”.

Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock

The Issuer will not make any Issuer Asset Sale.

Subject to the immediately preceding paragraph, Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, make any Asset Disposition unless:

- (1) Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, receives consideration (including by way of relief from, or by any other Person assuming responsibility for, any liabilities, contingent or otherwise) at least equal to the fair market value (such fair market value to be determined on the date of contractually agreeing to such Asset Disposition), as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International, of the shares and assets subject to such Asset Disposition (including, for the avoidance of doubt, if such Asset Disposition is a Permitted Asset Swap); and
- (2) in any such Asset Disposition, or series of related Asset Dispositions (except to the extent the Asset Disposition is a Permitted Asset Swap), at least 75% of the consideration from such Asset Disposition or such series of related Asset Dispositions (excluding any consideration by way of relief from, or by any other Person assuming responsibility for, any liabilities, contingent or otherwise, other than Indebtedness) received by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, is in the form of cash, Cash Equivalents or Temporary Cash Investments.

After the receipt of Net Available Cash from an Asset Disposition, Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, may apply such Net Available Cash directly or indirectly (at the option of Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary):

- (a) (1) within 365 days from the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash (i) to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem any Indebtedness incurred under clause (1) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”; provided, however, that, in connection with any prepayment, repayment or purchase of Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (a)(i), Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary will retire such Indebtedness and will cause the related commitment (if any) (except in the case of any revolving Indebtedness) to be permanently reduced in an amount equal to the principal amount so prepaid, repaid, purchased or redeemed; (ii) unless included in clause (a)(i), to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes and, if not owed to Altice International or an Affiliate, Coditel Senior Facility, or any Pari Passu Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor that is secured in whole or in part by a Lien on the Notes Collateral, which Lien ranks pari passu with the Liens securing the Notes, at a price of no more than 100% of the principal amount of such Pari Passu Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of such prepayment, repayment, purchase or redemption; provided that the Issuer or such Guarantor shall prepay, redeem, repay or repurchase Pari Passu Indebtedness that is Public Debt pursuant to this clause (ii) only if the Issuer or such Guarantor makes an offer to the holders of the Notes to purchase their Notes in accordance with the provisions set forth below for an Asset Disposition Offer for an aggregate principal amount of Notes at least equal to the proportion that (x) the total aggregate principal amount of Notes outstanding bears to (y) the sum of the total aggregate principal amount of Notes outstanding plus the total aggregate principal amount outstanding of such Pari Passu Indebtedness; (iii) to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem any Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor or any Indebtedness that is secured on assets which do not constitute Notes Collateral (in each case, other than Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor or Indebtedness owed to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary); (iv) to purchase the Notes pursuant to an offer to all holders of Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to at least 100% of the principal amount of the Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); or (v) in the manner specified under sub-clause (3) of the definition of “Change of Control”;

- (b) to the extent Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary elects, to invest in or purchase or commit to invest in or purchase Additional Assets (including by means of an investment in Additional Assets by a Restricted Subsidiary with Net Available Cash received by Altice International or another Restricted Subsidiary) within 365 days from the later of (i) the date of such Asset Disposition and (ii) the receipt of such Net Available Cash; provided, however, that any such reinvestment in Additional Assets made pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or a commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International that is executed or approved within such time will satisfy this requirement, so long as such investment or commitment to invest is consummated within 180 days of such 365th day;
- (c) to make a capital expenditure within 365 days from the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash; provided, however, that any such capital expenditure made pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or a commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International that is executed or approved within such time will satisfy this requirement, so long as such investment is consummated within 180 days of such 365th day; or provided that, pending the final application of any such Net Available Cash in accordance with clause (a), (b), (c) or (d) above, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may temporarily reduce Indebtedness or otherwise invest such Net Available Cash in any manner not prohibited by the Indenture.
- (d) any combination of the foregoing.

Any Net Available Cash from Asset Dispositions that is not applied or invested or committed to be applied or invested as provided in the preceding paragraph will be deemed to constitute “Excess Proceeds”. On the 366th day (or the 546th day, in the case of any Net Available Cash committed to be used pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International pursuant to clauses (b) or (c) of the third paragraph of this covenant) after the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash, if the aggregate amount of Excess Proceeds exceeds € 25 million, the Issuer will be required within ten (10) Business Days thereof to make an offer (“Asset Disposition Offer”) to all holders of Notes and, to the extent the Issuer elects or the Issuer or a Guarantor is required by the terms of other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness, to all holders of such other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness to purchase the maximum principal amount of Notes and any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to which the Asset Disposition Offer applies that may be purchased out of the Excess Proceeds, at an offer price in respect of the Notes in an amount equal to (and, in the case of any Pari Passu Indebtedness, an offer price of no more than) 100% of the principal amount of the Notes and 100% of the principal amount of Pari Passu Indebtedness, in each case, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase, in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture or the agreements governing the Pari Passu Indebtedness, as applicable, and in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and € 100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes.

To the extent that the aggregate amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to an Asset Disposition Offer is less than the Excess Proceeds, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may use any remaining Excess Proceeds for general corporate purposes, to the extent not prohibited by the other covenants contained in the Indenture. If the aggregate principal amount of the Notes surrendered in any Asset Disposition Offer by Holders and other Pari Passu Indebtedness surrendered by holders or lenders, collectively, exceeds the amount of Excess Proceeds, the Excess Proceeds shall be allocated among the Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness. For the purposes of calculating the principal amount of any such Indebtedness not denominated in euro, such Indebtedness shall be calculated by converting any such principal amounts into their Euro Equivalent determined as of a date selected by the Issuer that is within the Asset Disposition Offer Period (as defined below). Upon completion of any Asset Disposition Offer, the amount of Excess Proceeds shall be reset at zero.

To the extent that any portion of Net Available Cash payable in respect of the Notes is denominated in a currency other than the currency in which the relevant Notes are denominated, the amount thereof payable in respect of such Notes shall not exceed the net amount of funds in the currency in which such Notes are denominated that is actually received by the Issuer upon converting such portion of the Net Available Cash into such currency.

The Asset Disposition Offer, in so far as it relates to the Notes, will remain open for a period of not less than 20 Business Days following its commencement (the “Asset Disposition Offer Period”). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Asset Disposition Offer Period (the “Asset Disposition Purchase Date”), the Issuer will purchase the principal amount of Notes and, to the extent it elects, Pari Passu Indebtedness required to be purchased by it pursuant to this covenant (the “Asset Disposition Offer Amount”) or, if less than the Asset Disposition Offer Amount has been so validly tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness validly tendered in response to the Asset Disposition Offer.

On or before the Asset Disposition Purchase Date, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful, accept for payment, on a pro rata basis to the extent necessary, the Asset Disposition Offer Amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or portions of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to the Asset Disposition Offer, or if less than the Asset Disposition Offer Amount has been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn and, in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Dollar Notes, and €100,000 principal amount and integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof, in the case of Euro Notes. The Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate stating that such Notes or portions thereof were accepted for payment by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of this covenant. The Issuer or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, will promptly (but in any case not later than five (5) Business Days after termination of the Asset Disposition Offer Period) mail or deliver to each tendering Holder of Notes an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn by such Holder, and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer will promptly issue a new Note (or amend the applicable Global Note), and the Trustee, upon delivery of an Officer’s Certificate from the Issuer, will, via an authenticating agent, authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder, in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount with a minimum denomination of $200,000, in the case of Dollar Notes, and € 100,000, in the case of Euro Notes. Any Note not so accepted will be promptly mailed or delivered (or transferred by book-entry) by the Issuer to the Holder thereof.

For the purposes of clause (2) of the first paragraph of this covenant, the following will be deemed to be cash:

- (1) the assumption by the transferee of Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (other than Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor) and the release of Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary from all liability on such Indebtedness in connection with such Asset Disposition;
- (2) securities, notes or other obligations received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from the transferee that are converted by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary into cash or Cash Equivalents within 180 days following the closing of such Asset Disposition, to the extent of the cash received;
- (3) Indebtedness of any Restricted Subsidiary that is no longer a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of such Asset Disposition, to the extent that Altice International and each other Restricted Subsidiary (as applicable) are released from any Guarantee of payment of such Indebtedness in connection with such Asset Disposition;
- (4) consideration consisting of Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor (other than Subordinated Indebtedness) received after the Issue Date from Persons who are not Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; and
- (5) any Designated Non-Cash Consideration received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in such Asset Dispositions having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Designated Non-Cash Consideration received pursuant to this covenant that is at that time outstanding, not to exceed the greater of €185 million and 1.5% of Total Assets (with the fair market value of each item of Designated Non-Cash Consideration being measured at the time received and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value).

The Issuer will comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14(e) of the Exchange Act and any other securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Notes pursuant to the Indenture. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of this covenant, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations under the Indenture by virtue of any conflict.

Limitation on Affiliate Transactions

Altice International will not and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, enter into or conduct any transaction or series of related transactions (including the purchase, sale, lease or exchange of any property or the rendering of any service) with any Affiliate of Altice International (any such transaction or series of related transactions being “Affiliate Transactions”) involving aggregate value in excess of €5 million unless:

- (1) the terms of such Affiliate Transaction taken as a whole are not materially less favorable to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, than those that could be obtained in a comparable transaction at the time of such transaction or the execution of the agreement providing for such transaction in arm’s-length dealings with a Person who is not such an Affiliate; and
- (2) in the event such Affiliate Transaction involves an aggregate value in excess of €25 million, the terms of such transaction or series of related transactions have been approved by a resolution of the majority of the members of the Board of Directors of Altice International resolving that such transaction complies with clause (1) above; provided that an Affiliate Transaction shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements set forth in this clause (2) of this paragraph if such Affiliate Transaction is approved by a majority of the Disinterested Directors. If there are no Disinterested Directors, any Affiliate Transaction shall also be deemed to have satisfied the requirements set forth in this covenant if Altice International or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, as the case may be, delivers to the Trustee a letter from an Independent Financial Advisor stating that such transaction is fair to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary from a financial point of view or stating that the terms are not materially less favorable to Altice International or its relevant Restricted Subsidiary than those that would have been obtained in a comparable transaction by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary with an unrelated Person on arm’s length basis.

The provisions of the preceding paragraph will not apply to:

- (1) any Restricted Payment permitted to be made pursuant to the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”, any Permitted Payments (other than pursuant to clause (9)(b) of the third paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”) or any Permitted Investment (other than Permitted Investments as defined in paragraphs (1)(b), (2) and (17) of the definition thereof);
- (2) any issuance or sale of Capital Stock, options, other equity-related interests or other securities, or other payments, awards or grants in cash, securities or otherwise pursuant to, or the funding of, or entering into, or maintenance of, any employment, consulting, collective bargaining or benefit plan, program, agreement or arrangement, related trust or other similar agreement and other compensation arrangements, options, warrants or other rights to purchase Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent, restricted stock plans, long-term incentive plans, stock appreciation rights plans, participation plans or similar employee benefits or consultants’ plans (including valuation, health, insurance, deferred compensation, severance, retirement, savings or similar plans, programs or arrangements) or indemnities provided on behalf of officers, employees, directors or consultants approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International, in each case in the ordinary course of business;
- (3) any Management Advances and any waiver or transaction with respect thereto;
- (4) any transaction between or among Altice International and any Restricted Subsidiary (or entity that becomes a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of such transaction), or between or among Altice International, Restricted Subsidiaries or any Receivables Subsidiary;
- (5) the payment of reasonable fees and reimbursement of expenses to, and customary indemnities and employee benefit and pension expenses provided on behalf of, directors, officers, consultants or employees of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (whether directly or indirectly and including through any Person owned or controlled by any of such directors, officers or employees);
- (6) the Transactions and the entry into and performance of obligations of Altice International or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries under the terms of any transaction arising out of, and any payments pursuant to or for purposes of funding, any agreement or instrument in effect as of or on the Issue Date, as these agreements and instruments may be amended, modified, supplemented, extended, renewed or refinanced from time to time (including, without limitation, to add additional Persons in connection with any such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary) in accordance with the other terms of this covenant or to the extent not more disadvantageous to the Holders in any material respect and the entry into and performance of any registration rights or other listing agreement in connection with any Public Offering (including the Initial Public Offering);

- (7) execution, delivery and performance of any Tax Sharing Agreement or the formation and maintenance of any consolidated group for tax, accounting or management purposes in the ordinary course of business;
- (8) transactions with customers, clients, suppliers or purchasers or sellers of goods or services and Associates, in each case in the ordinary course of business (including, without limitation, pursuant to joint venture arrangements), which are fair to Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors or an officer of Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary, or are on terms no less favorable than those that could reasonably have been obtained at such time from an unaffiliated party;
- (9) any transaction in the ordinary course of business between or among Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary and any Affiliate of Altice International or an Associate or similar entity (in each case, other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary) that would constitute an Affiliate Transaction solely because Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or any Affiliate of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or any Affiliate of any Permitted Holder owns an equity interest in or otherwise controls such Affiliate, Associate or similar entity;
- (10) (a) issuances or sales of Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International or options, warrants or other rights to acquire such Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding; provided that the interest rate and other financial terms of such Subordinated Shareholder Funding are approved by a majority of the members of the Board of Directors of Altice International in their reasonable determination and (b) any amendment, waiver or other transaction with respect to any Subordinated Shareholder Funding in compliance with the other provisions of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, as applicable;
- (11) without duplication in respect of payments made pursuant to the definition of Parent Expenses, (a) payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to any Permitted Holder (whether directly or indirectly, including through any Parent) of annual management, consulting, monitoring or advisory fees and related expenses in an aggregate amount not to exceed an amount equal to the greater of €20 million or 1.0% of Consolidated EBITDA (as reported by Altice International in the financial statements delivered pursuant to clause (1) of the covenant under “Reports” for the most recent fiscal year ended prior to the date of determination) per year; (b) customary payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to any Permitted Holder (whether directly or indirectly, including through any Parent) for financial advisory, financing, underwriting or placement services or in respect of other investment banking activities, including in connection with acquisitions or divestitures, which payments in respect of this clause (b) are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors of Altice International in good faith; and (c) payments of all fees and expenses related to the Transactions;
- (12) any transaction effected as part of a Qualified Receivables Financing;
- (13) the Incurrence of HoldCo Proceeds Loans and Guarantees of Indebtedness of Holdco, in each case, permitted to be Incurred under paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”; and
- (14) any participation in a rights offer or public tender or exchange offers for securities or debt instruments issued by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries that are conducted on arm’s length terms and provide for the same price or exchange ratio, as the case may be, to all holders accepting such rights, tender or exchange offer.

Maintenance of Listing

The Issuer will use its commercially reasonable efforts to maintain the listing of the Notes on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the admission to trading on its Euro MTF Market for so long as such Notes are outstanding; provided that if at any time the Issuer determines that it will not maintain such listing, it will obtain prior to the delisting of the Notes from the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, and thereafter use its best efforts to maintain, a listing of such Notes on another recognized stock exchange.

Reports

For so long as any Notes are outstanding, Altice International will provide to the Trustee the following reports:

- (1) within 120 days after the end of Altice International’s fiscal year beginning with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2014, annual reports containing, to the extent applicable, and in a level of detail that is comparable in all material respects to the annual report of Altice International for the year ended December 31, 2013, the following information: audited consolidated balance sheet of Altice International as of the end of the most recent fiscal year (and comparative information as of the end of the prior fiscal year) and audited consolidated income statements and statements of cash flow of Altice International for the most recent fiscal year (and comparative information as of the end of the prior fiscal year), including complete footnotes to such financial statements and the report of the independent auditors on the financial statements (provided that for any fiscal year ended prior to the Issue Date, Altice International can provide pro forma or aggregated financial statements prepared on a basis consistent with the pro forma information contained in “Pro Forma” section of this Offering Memorandum to meet the requirements set forth above); unaudited pro forma income statement information and balance sheet information of Altice International (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include the provision of a full income statement or balance sheet to the extent not reasonably available), together with explanatory footnotes, for (i) any acquisition or disposition by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that, individually or in the aggregate when considered with all other acquisitions or dispositions that have occurred since the beginning of the most recently completed fiscal year as to which such annual report relates, represent greater than 20% of the consolidated revenues, EBITDA, or assets of Altice International on a pro forma consolidated basis or (ii) recapitalizations by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, in each case, that have occurred since the beginning of the most recently completed fiscal year (unless such pro forma information has been provided in a prior report pursuant to clause (2) or (3) below); (c) an operating and financial review of the audited financial statements, including a discussion of the results of operations, financial condition, and liquidity and capital resources of Altice International, and a discussion of material commitments and contingencies and critical accounting policies; (d) description of the business, management and shareholders of Altice International, all material affiliate transactions and a description of all material contractual arrangements, including material debt instruments; and (e) a description of material risk factors and material recent developments (to the extent not previously reported pursuant to clause (2) or (3) below).

- (2) within 60 days following the end of the first three fiscal quarters in each fiscal year of Altice International beginning with the fiscal quarter ending March 31, 2015 (provided that, if the Completion Date occurs in any such fiscal quarter, the foregoing reference to 60 days shall be deemed to be 90 days for such fiscal quarter), all quarterly reports of Altice International containing the following information in a level of detail comparable in all material respects to the quarterly report of Altice International for the nine months ended September 30, 2014: (a) an unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheet as of the end of such quarter and unaudited condensed consolidated statements of income and cash flow for the most recent quarter year-to-date period ending on the date of the unaudited condensed balance sheet, and the comparable prior year periods, together with condensed footnote disclosure; (b) unaudited pro forma income statement information and balance sheet information (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include the provision of a full income statement or balance sheet to the extent not reasonably available), together with explanatory footnotes, for any acquisition or disposition by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that, individually or in the aggregate when considered with all other acquisitions or dispositions that have occurred since the beginning of the relevant quarter, represent greater than 20% of the consolidated revenues, EBITDA, or assets of Altice International on a pro forma consolidated basis (unless such pro forma information has been provided in a prior report pursuant to clause (3) below); (c) a summary operating and financial review of the unaudited financial statements, including a discussion of revenues, EBITDA, capital expenditures, operating cash flow, and material changes in liquidity and capital resources, and a discussion of material changes not in the ordinary course of business in commitments and contingencies since the most recent report; and (d) material recent developments (to the extent not previously reported pursuant to clause (3) below); and
- (3) promptly after the occurrence of such event, information with respect to (a) any change in the independent public accountants of Altice International, (b) any material acquisition, disposal, merger or similar transaction or (c) any development determined by an Officer of Altice International to be material to the business of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries (taken as a whole).

All financial statement information shall be prepared in accordance with IFRS as in effect on the date of such report or financial statement (or otherwise on the basis of IFRS as then in effect) and on a consistent basis for the periods presented; provided, however, that the reports set forth in clauses (1), (2) and (3) above may in the event of a change in IFRS, present earlier periods on a basis that applied to such periods. Except as provided for above, no report need include separate financial statements for Altice International or Subsidiaries of Altice International or any disclosure with respect to the results of operations or any other financial or statistical disclosure not of a type included in the Offering Memorandum and in no event shall U.S. GAAP information or reconciliation to U.S. GAAP be required.

At any time if any Subsidiary of Altice International is an Unrestricted Subsidiary and any such Unrestricted Subsidiary or group of Unrestricted Subsidiaries, if taken together as one Subsidiary, constitutes a Significant Subsidiary, then the quarterly and annual financial information required by the first paragraph of this covenant will include a reasonably detailed presentation, either on the face of the financial statements or in the footnotes thereto, of the financial condition and results of operations of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries separate from the financial condition and results of operations of the Unrestricted Subsidiaries of Altice International.

Substantially concurrently with the issuance to the Trustee of the reports specified in (1), (2) and (3) of the first paragraph of this covenant, Altice International shall also (a) use its commercially reasonable efforts (i) to post copies of such reports on such website as may be then maintained by the Issuer, Altice International and its Subsidiaries or (ii) otherwise to provide substantially comparable public availability of such reports (as determined by Altice International in good faith) or (b) to the extent Altice International determines in good faith that such reports cannot be made available in the manner described in the preceding clause (a) owing to applicable law or after the use of its commercially reasonable efforts, furnish such reports to the Holders and, upon their request, prospective purchasers of the Notes. Altice International will also make available copies of all reports required by clauses (1) through (3) of the first paragraph of this covenant, if and so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, at the Issuer's registered office in Luxembourg or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, post such reports on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

In addition, so long as the Notes remain outstanding and during any period during which the Issuer is not subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act nor exempt therefrom pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b), the Issuer shall furnish to the Holders and holders of beneficial interests in the Notes and, upon their request, prospective purchasers of the Notes or prospective and purchasers of beneficial interests in the Notes, the information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

Merger and Consolidation

The Issuer

The Issuer will not directly or indirectly: (1) consolidate or merge with or into another Person (whether or not the Issuer is the surviving corporation), or (2) sell, assign, transfer, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Issuer taken as a whole in one or more related transactions, to another Person.

Altice International

Altice International will not consolidate with or merge with or into, or assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions to, any Person, unless:

- (1) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person (the "Successor Company") (if not Altice International) will be a Person organized and existing under the laws of any member state of the European Union, Switzerland, Canada, the State of Israel or the United States of America, any State of the United States or the District of Columbia and the Successor Company (if not Altice International) will expressly assume, (a) by supplemental indenture, executed and delivered to the Trustee, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, all the obligations of Altice International under the Notes and the Indenture and (b) all obligations of Altice International under the Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents, as applicable;
- (2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction (and treating any Indebtedness that becomes an obligation of the Successor Company or any Subsidiary of the Successor Company as a result of such transaction as having been incurred by the Successor Company or such Subsidiary at the time of such transaction), no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing;
- (3) immediately after giving pro forma effect to such transaction and any related financing transactions, as if such transactions had occurred at the beginning of applicable four-quarter period, either (a) the Issuer and the Guarantors would have been able to Guarantee € 1.00 of in additional Indebtedness of HoldCo pursuant to clause (15) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness"; or (b) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such transaction; and
- (4) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each to the effect that such consolidation, merger or transfer and such supplemental indenture (if any) comply with the Indenture and an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that such supplemental indenture (if any) has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and is a legal, valid and binding agreement enforceable against the Successor Company (in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee); provided that in giving an Opinion of Counsel, counsel may rely on an Officer's Certificate as to any matters of fact.

Subject to the fourth paragraph of the covenant "Merger and Consolidation—OMT Proceeds Loan Obligors", for purposes of this covenant, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the properties and assets of one or more Subsidiaries of Altice International, which properties and assets, if held by Altice International instead of such Subsidiaries, would constitute all or substantially all of the properties and assets of Altice International on a consolidated basis, shall be deemed to be the transfer of all or substantially all of the properties and assets of Altice International.

The Successor Company will succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of, Altice International under the Indenture but in the case of a lease of all or substantially all its assets, the predecessor company will not be released from its obligations under the Indenture or the Notes.

Notwithstanding the preceding clauses (2) and (3) (which do not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence) and clause (4) of the second paragraph of this covenant (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence in which Altice International is the Successor Company), (a) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to Altice International (so long as Altice International is a Guarantor); and (b) any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other Restricted Subsidiary or Altice International. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (3) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence) of the second paragraph of this covenant, Altice International may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of Altice International, reincorporating Altice International in another jurisdiction or changing the legal form of Altice International.

There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

The foregoing provisions (other than the requirements of clause (2) of the second paragraph of this “Merger and Consolidation” covenant) shall not apply to the creation of a new Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary.

The Subsidiary Guarantors

None of the Subsidiary Guarantors (other than a Guarantor whose Note Guarantee is to be released in accordance with the terms of the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement) may:

- (1) consolidate with or merge with or into any Person (whether or not such Guarantor is the surviving Person);
- (2) sell, assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of, all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to any Person; or
- (3) permit any Person to merge with or into it;

unless:

- (A) the other Person is Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that is a Guarantor or becomes a Guarantor as a result of such transaction; or
- (B) (1) either (x) a Guarantor is the surviving Person or (y) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person expressly assumes all of the obligations of the Guarantor under its Note Guarantee and the Indenture (pursuant to a supplemental indenture executed and delivered in a form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee) and all obligations of the Guarantor under the Intercreditor Agreement and Security Documents, as applicable; and
(2) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing; or
- (C) the transaction constitutes a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation or merger) of a Guarantor or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of a Guarantor (in each case other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) otherwise permitted by the Indenture and the proceeds therefrom are applied as required by the Indenture.

Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence), (a) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to a Guarantor and (b) any Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other Guarantor. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence), a Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of the Guarantor reincorporating the Guarantor in another jurisdiction, or changing the legal form of the Guarantor.

The HOT Proceeds Note Obligors

Prior to the HOT Direct Obligation Event, none of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligors (other than a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor whose HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee is to be released in accordance with the terms of the Indenture and the HOT Proceeds Note) may:

- (1) consolidate with or merge with or into any Person (whether or not such HOT Proceeds Note Obligor is the surviving Person);
- (2) sell, assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of, all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to any Person; or
- (3) permit any Person to merge with or into it;

unless:

- (A) the other Person is HOT, Altice International, a Restricted Subsidiary that is a Guarantor or becomes a Guarantor as a result of such transaction or a Restricted Subsidiary that is a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or becomes a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor as a result of such transaction; or
- (B) (1) either (x) a HOT Proceeds Note Obligor is the surviving Person or (y) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person expressly assumes all of the obligations of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor under its HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee and the HOT Proceeds Note and all obligations of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor under the HOT Security Documents, as applicable; and
 - (2) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing and default or event of default under the HOT Proceeds Note or the Indenture shall have occurred and is continuing; or
- (C) the transaction constitutes a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation or merger) of a HOT Proceeds Note Obligor or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of a HOT Proceeds Note Obligor (in each case other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) otherwise permitted by the Indenture and the proceeds therefrom are applied as required by the Indenture.

Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence), (a) any Subsidiary of HOT that is a Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to a HOT Proceeds Note Obligor, (b) any HOT Proceeds Note Obligor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other HOT Proceeds Note Obligor, and (c) HOT may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence), a HOT Proceeds Note Obligor may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor, reincorporating the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor in another jurisdiction, or changing the legal form of the HOT Proceeds Note Obligor.

There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

OMT Proceeds Loan Obligors

Prior to the OMT Direct Obligation Event, none of the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligors may:

- (1) consolidate with or merge with or into any Person (whether or not such OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor is the surviving Person);
- (2) sell, assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of, all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to any Person; or

(3) permit any Person to merge with or into it;

unless:

- (A) the other Person is Altice International, a Restricted Subsidiary that is a Guarantor or becomes a Guarantor as a result of such transaction or a Restricted Subsidiary that is an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor or becomes an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor as a result of such transaction; or
- (B) (1) either (x) an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor is the surviving Person or (y) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person expressly assumes all of the obligations of the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor under the OMT Proceeds Loan (or Guarantee thereof (as applicable)) and all obligations of the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor under the OMT Security Documents, as applicable; and
- (2) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing and default or event of default under the OMT Proceeds Loan or the Indenture shall have occurred and is continuing; or
- (C) the transaction constitutes a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation or merger) of an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor (in each case other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) otherwise permitted by the Indenture and the proceeds therefrom are applied as required by the Indenture.

Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence), (a) any Subsidiary of OMT that is a Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor and (b) any OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence), an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor reincorporating the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor in another jurisdiction, or changing the legal form of the OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor.

There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

The provisions under this covenant “Merger and Consolidation—Altice International”, “Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors”, “Merger and Consolidation—The HOT Proceeds Note Obligors” and “Merger and Consolidation—OMT Proceeds Notes Obligors” shall not apply to (1) any sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition in one or a series of related transactions of any assets of Altice International and its Subsidiaries or the Target and its Subsidiaries (including the Capital Stock of the Target or any Subsidiary of Altice International or the Target) that is required pursuant to Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition or is taken to avoid or eliminate any impediment under Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition (including, without limitation, in response to any actions initiated by an administrative, regulatory or other governmental authority or private party under Competition Laws); provided that, solely to the extent Altice International is relying on the foregoing exception, in the event the fair market value of any such sold, leased, transferred, conveyed or disposed of assets exceeds 2.0% of the Total Assets (on a pro forma consolidated basis, including, without limitation, the Target and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries), (i) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries (on a pro forma consolidated basis, including, without limitation, the Target and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries) shall not increase; and (ii) Altice International shall promptly make an offer to all holders of the Existing Term Loans and, to the extent required by the terms of any Pari Passu Indebtedness that is not Public Debt, any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to repay or repurchase such Existing Term Loans and Pari Passu Indebtedness at a price of 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the date of redemption in an amount equal to the Net Cash Proceeds of such sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition (on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Existing Term Loans and Pari Passu Indebtedness) and in the event the principal amount of such Pari Passu Indebtedness tendered is less than the amount of such Net Cash Proceeds, Altice International shall apply any such remaining proceeds to prepay an equal principal amount of Existing Term Loans at par on a pro rata basis. There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

Limitation on Issuer Activities

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indenture:

- (1) The Issuer will not engage in any business activity or undertake any other activity, except any such activity:
 - (a) reasonably relating to the offering, sale, issuance, Incurrence, servicing, purchase, redemption, amendment, exchange, refinancing or retirement of or Investment in the, Notes, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any of the foregoing) permitted to be Incurred by the terms of the Indenture (including the lending, directly or indirectly, of the proceeds of such sale of the Notes, any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness permitted by the terms of the Indenture pursuant to Issuer Proceeds Loans or borrowing, directly or indirectly, from Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary);
 - (b) undertaken with the purpose of, directly or indirectly, fulfilling its obligations or exercising its rights under the Notes, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, any Additional Notes, any Issuer Proceeds Loan, any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness, Hedging Obligations or any other obligations (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any of the foregoing), in each case, permitted to be Incurred by the terms of the Indenture, the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indentures, the New Senior Notes Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indentures, any Security Document to which it is a party, the Intercreditor Agreement (or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement entered into pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement or the Indenture) or the Notes Escrow Agreement;
 - (c) directly related or reasonably incidental to the establishment and/or maintenance of the Issuer's corporate existence, the acquisition, holding or disposition of assets permitted to be held by it under the Indenture, the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indentures, the New Senior Notes Indenture and the Existing Senior Notes Indentures;
 - (d) directly related to investing amounts received by the Issuer (other than amounts not corresponding to required payments under the Notes) in such manner not otherwise prohibited by the Indenture;
 - (e) making Permitted Issuer Investments and Incurring Permitted Issuer Liens;
 - (f) related to cash management activities on behalf of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries; or
 - (g) (i) any transaction or activity not to exceed €5 million in the aggregate and (ii) other activities not specifically enumerated above that are immaterial in nature.
- (2) The Issuer shall not:
 - (a) issue any Capital Stock (other than to HoldCo);
 - (b) take any action which would cause it to no longer satisfy the requirements of an available exemption from the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended;
 - (c) commence or take any action or facilitate a winding-up, liquidation, dissolution or other analogous proceeding;
 - (d) amend its constitutive documents in any manner which would adversely affect the rights of Holders in any material respect;
 - (e) transfer or assign any Issuer Proceeds Loan (or rights thereunder) except pursuant to the Notes Security Documents; or
 - (f) amend any provision of, or waive any default or event of default under, any Issuer Proceeds Loan except in accordance with “—Amendments and Waivers”.

- (3) Except as otherwise provided in the Indenture, the Issuer will take all actions necessary and within its power to prohibit the transfer of the issued ordinary shares and management share in the Issuer by HoldCo, other than pursuant to the Issuer Share Pledge or the enforcement of such Issuer Share Pledge.
- (4) Whenever the Issuer receives a payment or prepayment under any Issuer Proceeds Loan, it shall use the funds received to satisfy its obligations (to the extent of the amount owing in respect of such obligations) under the Indenture (including any premium paid to holders of the Notes), the Existing Senior Secured Notes Indentures or any other Indebtedness of the Issuer; provided that to the extent the Issuer receives cash payment in respect of interest on an Issuer Proceeds Loan previously paid in-kind and the amount of such cash payment exceeds the obligations then due and payable (or due and payable within five Business Days of such receipt) under the Notes or any other Indebtedness of the Issuer, the Issuer may use such excess amount for any purpose not prohibited by the Indenture.

Altice International will not permit HoldCo or the Issuer or become a direct or indirect subsidiary of any other subsidiary (other than HoldCo).

Lines of Business

Altice International will not and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, engage in any business other than a Similar Business, except to such extent as would not be material to Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole.

Additional Guarantors

Altice International will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (other than a Guarantor) to, Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor (other than Indebtedness Incurred under clause (8) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, except Indebtedness Incurred under Credit Facilities or Public Debt pursuant to such clause (8)) unless such Restricted Subsidiary is or becomes a Guarantor on the date on which the Guarantee is Incurred and, if applicable, executes and delivers to the Trustee a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture pursuant to which such Restricted Subsidiary will provide a Note Guarantee, which Guarantee will be senior to or pari passu with such Restricted Subsidiary’s Guarantee of such other Indebtedness.

HOT will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (other than a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor) to, Guarantee any Indebtedness of HOT or any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor (other than Indebtedness Incurred under clause (8) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, except Indebtedness Incurred under Credit Facilities or Public Debt pursuant to such clause (8)) unless such Restricted Subsidiary is or becomes a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor on the date on which the Guarantee is Incurred and, if applicable, accedes to each HOT Proceeds Note and becomes a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor and guarantees the obligations of HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note, which Guarantee will be senior to or pari passu with such Restricted Subsidiary’s Guarantee of such other Indebtedness. HOT will not Guarantee any Indebtedness of any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (other than a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor) (other than Indebtedness Incurred under clause (8) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, except Indebtedness Incurred under Credit Facilities or Public Debt pursuant to such clause (8)) unless such Guarantee is pari passu or junior to the obligations of HOT under the HOT Proceeds Note.

Altice International will not permit any Subsidiary of NewCo OMT that are Restricted Subsidiaries (other than an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor) to, Guarantee any Indebtedness of NewCo OMT or any other OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor (other than Indebtedness Incurred under clause (8) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, except Indebtedness Incurred under Credit Facilities or Public Debt pursuant to such clause (8)) unless such Subsidiary of NewCo OMT Guarantees the OMT Proceeds Loan of NewCo OMT on the date on which the Guarantee is Incurred and, if applicable, accedes to such OMT Proceeds Loan and become an OMT Proceeds Loan Obligor and guarantees the obligations of NewCo OMT under the applicable OMT Proceeds Loan, which Guarantee will be senior to or pari passu with such Restricted Subsidiary’s Guarantee of such other Indebtedness.

Note Guarantees and HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees existing on or granted after the Issue Date pursuant to this covenant shall be released as set forth under “—Releases of the Note Guarantees” and “—Releases of the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees”. Note Guarantees, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees and OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantees (as applicable) existing on or granted after the Issue Date pursuant to the first, second and third paragraphs of this covenant may be released at the option of the Issuer, HOT or NewCo OMT, as the case may be, if, at the date of such release, (i) the Indebtedness which required such Note Guarantee, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantee, as the case may be, has been released or discharged in full, (ii) no Event of Default would arise as a result of such release, and (iii) there is no other Indebtedness of such Guarantor, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantor, as the case may be, outstanding that was Incurred after the Issue Date and that could not have been Incurred in compliance with the Indenture as of the date Incurred if such Guarantor, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantor were not a Guarantor, a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantor, as the case may be, as at that date. The Trustee and the Security Agent (to the extent action is required by it) shall each take all necessary actions requested by the Issuer, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release of a Note Guarantee, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantee in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications.

Each additional Note Guarantee, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee and OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantee will be limited as necessary to recognize certain defenses generally available to guarantors (including those that relate to fraudulent conveyance or transfer, voidable preference, financial assistance, corporate purpose, thin capitalization, distributable reserves, capital maintenance or similar laws, regulations or defenses affecting the rights of creditors generally) or other considerations under applicable law.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Altice International shall not be obligated to cause any Restricted Subsidiary, HOT will not be required to cause any of its Restricted Subsidiaries and NewCo OMT will not be required to cause any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to provide a Note Guarantee to the extent and for so long as the Incurrence of such Guarantee could reasonably be expected to give rise to or result in: (1) any violation of applicable law or regulation; (2) any liability for the officers, directors or (except in the case of a Restricted Subsidiary that is a partnership) shareholders of such Restricted Subsidiary (or, in the case of a Restricted Subsidiary that is a partnership, directors or shareholders of the partners of such partnership); (3) any cost, expense, liability or obligation (including with respect to any Taxes) other than reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and other than reasonable expenses incurred in connection with any governmental or regulatory filings required as a result of, or any measures pursuant to clause (1) of this paragraph undertaken in connection with, such Guarantee, which in any case under any of clauses (1), (2) and (3) of this paragraph cannot be avoided through measures reasonably available to Altice International, HOT, NewCo OMT or such Restricted Subsidiary; or (4) such Restricted Subsidiary is prohibited from incurring such Guarantee by the terms of any Indebtedness of such Restricted Subsidiary that is not prepayable without a prepayment premium (in each case, other than Indebtedness Incurred to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary); provided that this clause (4) applies only for so long as such prepayment premium applies to such Indebtedness.

Suspension of Covenants on Achievement of Investment Grade Status

If on any date following the Issue Date, the Notes have achieved Investment Grade Status and no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (a "Suspension Event"), then, the Issuer shall notify the Trustee of these events and beginning on that day and continuing until such time, if any, at which the Notes cease to have Investment Grade Status (the "Reversion Date"), the provisions of the Indenture summarized under the following captions will not apply to the Notes: "—Limitation on Indebtedness", "—Limitation on Restricted Payments", "—Limitation on Restrictions on Distributions from Restricted Subsidiaries", "—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock", "—Limitation on Affiliate Transactions" and "—Impairment of Security Interests", the provisions of clause (3) of the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Merger and Consolidation—Altice International", and any related default provision of the Indenture will cease to be effective and will not be applicable to Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries. Such covenants and any related default provisions will again apply according to their terms from the first day on which a Suspension Event ceases to be in effect. Such covenants will not, however, be of any effect with regard to actions of the Issuer properly taken during the continuance of the Suspension Event, and the "—Limitation on Restricted Payments" covenant will be interpreted as if it has been in effect since the date of the Indenture except that no Default will be deemed to have occurred solely by reason of a Restricted Payment made while that covenant was suspended. On the Reversion Date, all Indebtedness Incurred during the continuance of the Suspension Event will be classified, at the Issuer's option, as having been Incurred pursuant to the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness" or one of the clauses set forth in the second paragraph of such covenant (to the extent such Indebtedness would be permitted to be Incurred thereunder as of the Reversion Date and after giving effect to Indebtedness Incurred prior to the Suspension Event and outstanding on the Reversion Date). To the extent such Indebtedness would not be so permitted to be Incurred under the first two paragraphs of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness", such Indebtedness will be deemed to have been outstanding on the Issue Date, so that it is classified as permitted under clause (4)(b) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness".

Impairment of Security Interests

Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, take or omit to take any action that would have the result of materially impairing the security interest with respect to the Notes Collateral (it being understood that the Incurrence of Permitted Collateral Liens, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, shall under no circumstances be deemed to materially impair the security interest with respect to the Notes Collateral) for the benefit of the Trustee and the Holders, and Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, grant to any Person other than the Security Agent (or its delegate), for the benefit of the Trustee and the Holders and the other beneficiaries described in the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, any Lien over any of the Notes Collateral; provided, that, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, (x) Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may Incur Permitted Collateral Liens, (y) the Notes Collateral may be discharged, amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, released, modified or replaced in accordance with the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the applicable Security Documents and (z) Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may consummate any other transaction permitted under “—Merger and Consolidation”.

Notwithstanding the above, nothing in this covenant shall restrict the discharge and release of any Lien over the Notes Collateral in accordance with the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement. Subject to the foregoing, the Security Documents may be amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified or released (followed by an immediate retaking of a Lien of at least equivalent ranking over the same assets) to (i) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect or inconsistency therein; (ii) provide for Permitted Collateral Liens; (iii) make any change reasonably necessary or desirable in the good faith determination of the Issuer in order to implement transactions permitted under “—Merger and Consolidation,” (iv) add to the Notes Collateral; (v) provide for the release of any Lien on any properties or assets constituting Notes Collateral from the Lien of the Security Documents; provided that such release is followed by the substantially concurrent re-taking of a Lien of at least equivalent priority over the same properties and assets securing the Notes or any Note Guarantee; or (vi) make any other change thereto that does not adversely affect the Holders in any material respect; provided, however, that, contemporaneously with any such action in clauses (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), and (vi) the Issuer delivers to the Trustee, either (1) a solvency opinion, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, from an independent financial advisor or appraiser or investment bank of international standing which confirms the solvency of Altice International and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, (2) a certificate from the chief financial officer or the Board of Directors of the relevant Person which confirms the solvency of the Person granting the Lien after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, or (3) an opinion of counsel (subject to any qualifications customary for this type of opinion of counsel), in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, confirming that, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, the Lien or Liens created under the Security Documents so amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, modified or replaced are valid Liens not otherwise subject to any limitation, imperfection or new hardening period, in equity or at law, that such Lien or Liens were not otherwise subject to immediately prior to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement.

Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, take or omit to take any action that would have the result of materially impairing the security interest with respect to the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral (it being understood that the Incurrence of Permitted HOT Proceeds Note Collateral Liens and Permitted OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral Liens, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, shall under no circumstances be deemed to materially impair the security interest with respect to the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral, as the case may be) for the benefit of the lenders under the HOT Proceeds Note or the OMT Proceeds Loan, as the case may be, and Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, grant to any Person other than the Security Agent (or its delegate) any Lien over any of the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral; provided, that, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, (w) Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may Incur Permitted HOT Proceeds Note Collateral Liens and Permitted OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral Liens, (x) the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral and the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral may be discharged, amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, released, modified or replaced in accordance with the HOT Proceeds Note, the applicable HOT Security Documents or the applicable OMT Security Documents, (y) Altice International and their Restricted Subsidiaries may consummate any other transaction permitted under “—Merger and Consolidation” and (z) Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries may consummate the HOT Direct Obligation Event and the OMT Direct Obligation Event.

Notwithstanding the above, nothing in this covenant shall restrict the discharge and release of any HOT Proceeds Note Security Interest or the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Interest in accordance with the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement. Subject to the foregoing, the HOT Security Documents and the OMT Security Documents may be amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified or released (followed by an immediate retaking of a Lien of at least equivalent ranking over the same assets) to (i) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect or inconsistency therein; (ii) provide for HOT Proceeds Note Permitted Collateral Liens or OMT Proceeds Loans Permitted Collateral Liens; (iii) make any change reasonably necessary in the good faith determination of the Issuer in order to implement transactions permitted under “—Merger and Consolidation,” (iv) add to the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral; (v) provide for the release of any HOT Proceeds Note Security Interest or any OMT Proceeds Loan Security Interest on any properties or assets constituting HOT Proceeds Note Collateral or OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral from the Lien of the HOT Security Documents or OMT Security Documents, as applicable; provided that such release is followed by the substantially concurrent re-taking of a Lien of at least equivalent priority over the same properties and assets securing the HOT Proceeds Note, any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee, or the OMT Proceeds Loan, as applicable; (vi) consummate a Direct Obligation Event or (vii) make any other change thereto that does not adversely affect the Holders or the Issuer in any material respect; provided, however, that, contemporaneously with any such action in clauses (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), (vi), and (vii) the Issuer delivers to the Trustee, either (1) a solvency opinion, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, from an independent financial advisor or appraiser or investment bank of international standing which confirms the solvency of HOT and its Subsidiaries or NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, taken as a whole, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, (2) a certificate from the chief financial officer or the Board of Directors of the relevant Person which confirms the solvency of the Person granting HOT Proceeds Note Security Interest or the OMT Proceeds Loan Security Interest, as the case may be, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, or (3) an opinion of counsel (subject to any qualifications customary for this type of opinion of counsel), in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, confirming that, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, the Lien or Liens created under the HOT Security Documents or the OMT Security Documents so amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, modified or replaced are valid Liens not otherwise subject to any limitation, imperfection or new hardening period, in equity or at law, that such Lien or Liens were not otherwise subject to immediately prior to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement.

In the event that Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries comply with the requirements of this covenant, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall (subject to customary protections and indemnifications) consent to such amendments without the need for instructions from the Holders.

Payments for Consents

Altice International will not and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration to or for the benefit of any Holder for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms of the provisions of the Indenture or the Notes unless such consideration is offered to be paid and is paid to all holders of Notes that consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in the solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries shall be permitted, in any offer or payment of consideration for, or as an inducement to, any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of the Indenture, to exclude holders of Notes in any jurisdiction where (i) the solicitation of such consent, waiver or amendment, including in connection with an exchange offer or an offer to purchase for cash, or (ii) the payment of the consideration therefor would require Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to file a registration statement, prospectus or similar document under any applicable securities laws (including, but not limited to, the United States federal securities laws and the laws of the European Union or its member states or the State of Israel), which the Issuer in its sole discretion determine (acting in good faith) (A) would be materially burdensome (it being understood that it would not be materially burdensome to file the consent document(s) used in other jurisdictions, any substantially similar documents or any summary thereof with the securities or financial services authorities in such jurisdiction) or (B) such solicitation would otherwise not be permitted under applicable law in such jurisdiction.

Additional Intercreditor Agreements

The Indenture provides that, at the request of the Issuer, in connection with the Incurrence by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary of any Indebtedness that is permitted to share the Notes Collateral pursuant to the definition of Permitted Collateral Liens, Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall enter into with the holders of such Indebtedness (or their duly authorized Representatives) an intercreditor agreement (an "Additional Intercreditor Agreement") or a restatement, amendment or other modification of the existing Intercreditor Agreement on substantially the same terms as the Intercreditor Agreement (or terms not materially less favorable to the Holders), including containing substantially the same terms with respect to release of Note Guarantees and priority and release of the Liens over the Notes Collateral (or terms not materially less favorable to the Holders); provided that such Additional Intercreditor Agreement will not impose any personal obligations on the Trustee or Security Agent or, in the opinion of the Trustee or Security Agent, as applicable, adversely affect the rights, duties, liabilities or immunities of the Trustee or Security Agent under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, subject to the foregoing and the succeeding paragraph, any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement may provide for pari passu or subordinated security interests in respect of any such Indebtedness (to the extent such Indebtedness is permitted to share the Notes Collateral pursuant to the definition of Permitted Collateral Lien).

The Indenture also provides that, at the direction of the Issuer and without the consent of Holders, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall from time to time enter into one or more amendments to any Intercreditor Agreement to: (1) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect or inconsistency of any such agreement, (2) increase the amount or types of Indebtedness covered by any such agreement that may be Incurred by the Issuer or a Guarantor that is subject to any such agreement (including with respect to any Intercreditor Agreement or Additional Intercreditor Agreement, the addition of provisions relating to new Indebtedness ranking junior in right of payment to the Notes), (3) add Restricted Subsidiaries to the Intercreditor Agreement or an Additional Intercreditor Agreement, (4) further secure the Notes (including Additional Notes), (5) make provision for equal and ratable pledges of the Notes Collateral to secure Additional Notes, (6) implement any Permitted Collateral Liens, (7) amend the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement in accordance with the terms thereof; (8) make any change reasonably necessary, in the good faith determination of the Issuer in order to implement any transaction that is subject to the covenants described under the caption “—Merger and Consolidation”; or (9) implement any transaction in connection with the renewal extension, refinancing, replacement or increase of Indebtedness that is not prohibited by the Indenture or make any other change to any such agreement that does not adversely affect the Holders in any material respect; provided that no such changes shall be permitted to the extent they affect the ranking of any Note or Note Guarantee, enforcement of Liens over the Notes Collateral, the application of proceeds from the enforcement of Notes Collateral or the release of any Note Guarantees or Lien over the Notes Collateral in a manner than would adversely affect the rights of the holders of the Notes in any material respect except as otherwise permitted by the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement immediately prior to such change. The Issuer shall not otherwise direct the Trustee or the Security Agent to enter into any amendment to any Intercreditor Agreement without the consent of the Holders of the majority in aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding, except as otherwise permitted below under “Amendments and Waivers”, and the Issuer may only direct the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any amendment to the extent such amendment does not impose any personal obligations on the Trustee or Security Agent or, in the opinion of the Trustee or Security Agent, adversely affect their respective rights, duties, liabilities or immunities under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

The Indenture also provides that, in relation to any Intercreditor Agreement or Additional Intercreditor Agreement, at the request of the Issuer, the Trustee (and Security Agent, if applicable) shall consent on behalf of the Holders to the payment, repayment, purchase, repurchase, defeasance, acquisition, retirement or redemption of any obligations subordinated to the Notes thereby; provided, however, that such transaction would comply with the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”.

The Indenture also provides that each Holder, by accepting a Note, shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (whether then entered into or entered into in the future pursuant to the provisions described herein), and to have directed the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security

Subject to the Agreed Security Principles:

On the Completion Date:

- (1) Altice International will cause each Completion Date Guarantor to execute a supplemental indenture Guaranteeing the Notes on a senior basis; and
- (2) each of the Issuer and Altice International will, and Altice International will cause each of the relevant Restricted Subsidiaries to grant Liens on a senior basis over the property and assets described in clause (i) above under “Notes Security” by executing and delivering to the Security Agent the Security Documents to which it is intended to be a party or by virtue of the Intercreditor agreement.

Within 10 Business Days after the Completion Date, Altice International will cause all of the Capital Stock of the Target owned directly or indirectly by Altice International to be pledged to secure the Notes on a first-priority basis.

Within 90 days after the Completion Date, Altice International will cause:

- (1) each Post-Completion Date Guarantor to execute (i) a supplemental indenture Guaranteeing the Notes on a senior basis, (ii) a supplemental indenture to each Existing Senior Secured Notes Indenture Guaranteeing the Existing Senior Secured Notes on a senior basis, and (iii) an accession agreement to the Existing Senior Credit Facility Guaranteeing the Existing Term Loans on a senior basis; and
- (2) each of the Target and the relevant Restricted Subsidiaries of the Target to grant first-ranking Liens over the property and assets described in clause (iii) above under “Notes Security” by executing and delivering to the Security Agent the Security Documents to which it is intended to be a party.

Completion of the Transactions

The Issuer and Altice International shall cause the Acquisition to be consummated promptly upon the release of the Escrowed Property following delivery by the Issuer to the Escrow Agent of a release officer's certificate under the Notes Escrow Agreement.

Events of Default

Each of the following is an "Event of Default" under the Indenture:

- (1) default in any payment of interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on any Note issued under the Indenture when due and payable, continued for 30 days;
- (2) default in the payment of the principal amount of or premium, if any, on any Note issued under the Indenture when due at its Stated Maturity, upon optional redemption, upon required repurchase, upon declaration or otherwise;
- (3) failure by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to comply for 30 days after notice by the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes with any of its obligations under the covenants described under "Change of Control" above or under the covenants described under "Certain Covenants" above (in each case, other than (i) a failure to purchase Notes, which will constitute an Event of Default under clause (2) above; (ii) a failure to comply with the covenant described under "Certain Covenants—Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security", which shall be governed by clause (10) below; (iii) a failure to comply with the Notes Escrow Agreement and (iv) a failure to comply with the covenant described under "Certain Covenants—Completion of the Transactions", which shall be governed by clause (12) below);
- (4) failure by Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any other grantor of a Lien over the Notes Collateral to comply for 60 days after notice by the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes with its other agreements contained in the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents;
- (5) default under any mortgage, indenture or instrument under which there may be issued or by which there may be secured or evidenced any Indebtedness for money borrowed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (or the payment of which is Guaranteed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) other than Indebtedness owed to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary whether such Indebtedness or Guarantee now exists, or is created after the Issue Date, which default:
 - (a) is caused by the failure to pay principal of such Indebtedness at the Stated Maturity thereof prior to the expiration of the grace period provided in such Indebtedness on the date of such default ("payment default"); or
 - (b) results in the acceleration of such Indebtedness prior to its maturity (the "cross-acceleration provision"),and, in each case, the principal amount of any such Indebtedness, together with the principal amount of any other such Indebtedness under which there has been a payment default or the maturity of which has been so accelerated, aggregates €25 million or more;
- (6) certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection of the Issuer, Altice International or a Significant Subsidiary or group of Restricted Subsidiaries that, taken together, would constitute a Significant Subsidiary (the "bankruptcy provisions");
- (7) failure by the Issuer, Altice International or a Significant Subsidiary or group of Restricted Subsidiaries that, taken together, would constitute a Significant Subsidiary to pay final judgments aggregating in excess of €25 million, exclusive of any amounts that a solvent insurance company has acknowledged liability for, which judgments are not paid, discharged or stayed for a period of 60 days after the judgment becomes final (the "judgment default provision");
- (8) any security interest under the Security Documents shall, at any time, cease to be in full force and effect (other than in accordance with the terms of the relevant Security Document, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the Indenture) with respect to Notes Collateral having a fair market value in excess of €10 million for any reason other than the satisfaction in full of all obligations under the Indenture or the release of any such security interest in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents or any such security interest created thereunder shall be declared invalid or unenforceable and the Issuer shall assert in writing that any such security interest is invalid or unenforceable and any such Default continues for 10 days (the “security default provisions”);

- (9) any Note Guarantee by Altice International or a Subsidiary Guarantor that is a Significant Subsidiary or any group of Subsidiary Guarantors that taken together would constitute a Significant Subsidiary ceases to be in full force and effect (other than in accordance with the terms of such Note Guarantee or the Indenture) or is declared invalid or unenforceable in a judicial proceeding or any Guarantor denies or disaffirms in writing its obligations under its Note Guarantee and any such Default continues for 10 days after the notice specified in the Indenture (the “guarantee provisions”);
- (10) failure by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to comply for 30 days with any of the provisions of the covenant described under—Certain Covenants—Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security;
- (11) failure by the Issuer to consummate a Special Mandatory Redemption as described under the caption “—Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption”; and
- (12) failure by the Issuer to comply with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Completion of the Transactions” for more than 5 Business Days following the date on which the Escrowed Property are released from the Notes Escrow Accounts.

However, a default under clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) or (10) of this paragraph will not constitute an Event of Default until the Trustee or the Holders of 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes under the Indenture notify the Issuer of the default and, with respect to clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) and (10) the Issuer does not cure such default within the time specified in clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) or (10), as applicable, of this paragraph after receipt of such notice.

If an Event of Default described in clause (6) or (11) above occurs and is continuing, the principal of, premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest on all the Notes, and any additional amounts, if any, will become and be immediately due and payable without any declaration or other act on the part of the Trustee or any Holders. If any other Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may and, if directed by holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes, the Trustee shall, declare all the Notes to be due and payable immediately. In the event of a declaration of acceleration of the Notes because an Event of Default described in clause (5) under “Events of Default” has occurred and is continuing, the declaration of acceleration of the Notes shall be automatically annulled if the event of default or payment default triggering such Event of Default pursuant to clause (5) shall be remedied or cured, or waived by the holders of the relevant Indebtedness, or the relevant Indebtedness that gave rise to such Event of Default shall have been discharged in full, within 30 days after the declaration of acceleration with respect thereto and if (i) the annulment of the acceleration of the Notes would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction and (ii) all existing Events of Default, except nonpayment of principal, premium or interest, including Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes that became due solely because of the acceleration of the Notes, have been cured or waived.

Holders of the Notes may not enforce the Indenture or the Notes except as provided in the Indenture and may not enforce the Security Documents except as provided in such Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

The Holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding Notes under the Indenture may waive all past or existing Defaults or Events of Default (except with respect to nonpayment of principal, premium, interest or Additional Amounts, if any) and rescind any such acceleration with respect to such Notes and its consequences if rescission would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Subject to the provisions of the Indenture relating to the duties of the Trustee, if an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers under the Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Holders unless such Holders have offered to the Trustee, and the Trustee has received, indemnity and/or security satisfactory to the Trustee against any loss, liability or expense. Except to enforce the right to receive payment of principal or interest when due, no Holder may pursue any remedy with respect to the Indenture or the Notes unless:

- (1) such Holder has previously given the Trustee notice that an Event of Default is continuing;

- (2) Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes have requested the Trustee to pursue the remedy;
- (3) such Holders have offered the Trustee, and the Trustee has received, security and/or indemnity satisfactory to it against any loss, liability or expense;
- (4) the Trustee has not complied with such request within 60 days after the receipt of the request and the offer of security and/or indemnity; and
- (5) the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes have not given the Trustee a direction that, in the opinion of the Trustee, is inconsistent with such request within such 60-day period.

Subject to certain restrictions, the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding Notes are given the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee (on behalf of the Holders) or of exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee (on behalf of the Holders).

The Indenture provides that, in the event an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing of which a responsible officer of the Trustee is aware, the Trustee will be required in the exercise of its powers to use the degree of care that a prudent person would use in the conduct of its own affairs. The Trustee, however, may refuse to follow any direction that conflicts with law or the Indenture or that the Trustee determines is unduly prejudicial to the rights of any other Holder or that would involve the Trustee in personal liability. Prior to taking any action under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to indemnification and/or security satisfactory to it in its sole discretion against all losses and expenses caused by taking or not taking such action. The Indenture provides that if a Default occurs and is continuing and a responsible officer of the Trustee is informed of such occurrence by the Issuer, the Trustee must give notice of the Default to the Holders within 60 days after being notified by the Issuer. Except in the case of a Default in the payment of principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Note, the Trustee may withhold notice if and so long as a committee of trust officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that withholding notice is in the interests of the Holders. The Issuer is required to deliver to the Trustee, within 120 days after the end of each fiscal year, an Officer's Certificate indicating whether the signers thereof know of any Default that occurred during the previous year. The Issuer is required to deliver to the Trustee, within 30 days after the occurrence thereof, written notice of any events of which it is aware which would constitute certain Defaults, their status and what action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take in respect thereof.

The Notes provide for the Trustee to take action on behalf of the Holders in certain circumstances, but only if the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction. It may not be possible for the Trustee to take certain actions in relation to the Notes and, accordingly, in such circumstances the Trustee will be unable to take action, notwithstanding the provision of an indemnity to it, and it will be for Holders to take action directly.

Subject to certain exceptions, the Notes Documents may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes) and, subject to certain exceptions, any default or compliance with any provisions thereof may be waived with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes); provided, however that if any amendment, waiver or other modification will only affect the Dollar Notes or Euro Notes only the consent of the holders of at least a majority in principal amount of the then outstanding Dollar Notes or Euro Notes (and not the consent of at least a majority of all Notes then outstanding), as the case may be, shall be required. However, without the consent of Holders holding not less than 90% of the then outstanding principal amount of Notes affected (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes); provided, however that if any amendment, waiver or other modification will only affect the Dollar Notes or Euro Notes only the consent of the holders of at least 90% of the aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Dollar Notes or Euro Notes, as the case may be (and not the consent of at least 90% of the aggregate principal amount of all Notes then outstanding), an amendment or waiver may not, with respect to any Notes held by a non-consenting Holder:

- (1) reduce the principal amount of Notes whose Holders must consent to an amendment, waiver, supplement or modification;
- (2) reduce the stated rate of or extend the stated time for payment of interest on any Note (other than, for the avoidance of doubt, any payment pursuant to a Change of Control Offer or pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under the caption "—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock");
- (3) reduce the principal of, or extend the Stated Maturity of, any Note;

- (4) reduce the premium payable upon the redemption of any Note or change the time at which any Note may be redeemed, in each case as described above under “—Optional Redemption” (other than, for the avoidance of doubt, any payment pursuant to a Change of Control Offer or pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under the caption “—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”);
- (5) make any Note payable in money other than that stated in the Note (except to the extent the currency stated in the Notes has been succeeded or replaced pursuant to applicable law);
- (6) impair the right of any Holder to receive payment of principal of and interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on such Holder’s Notes on or after the due dates therefor or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or with respect to such Holder’s Notes (it being understood that this clause (6) will not apply to provisions under the caption “Change of Control” and “Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock” except to the extent payments thereunder are at such time due and payable);
- (7) make any change in the provision of the Indenture described under “Withholding Taxes” that adversely affects the right of any Holder of such Notes in any material respect or amends the terms of such Notes in a way that would result in a loss of an exemption from any of the Taxes described thereunder or an exemption from any obligation to withhold or deduct Taxes so described thereunder unless the payor agrees to pay Additional Amounts, if any, in respect thereof;
- (8) waive a Default or Event of Default with respect to the nonpayment of principal, premium or interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes (except pursuant to a rescission of acceleration of the Notes by the Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes and a waiver of the payment default that resulted from such acceleration); or
- (9) make any change in the amendment or waiver provisions which require the Holders’ consent described in this sentence.

In addition, (A) without the consent of at least 75% in aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding (provided, however, that if any amendment, waiver or other modification will only affect the Dollar Notes or Euro Notes only the consent of the holders of at least 75% of the aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Dollar Notes or Euro Notes, as the case may be (and not the consent of at least 75% of the aggregate principal amount of all Notes of such series then outstanding) will be required), no amendment or supplement may: (1) release any Guarantor, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor, or OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantor, respectively, from any of its obligations under its Note Guarantee, HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee, OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantees, the Indenture, HOT Proceeds Note, or OMT Proceeds Loan, as applicable, except in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, and the Intercreditor Agreement; or (2) release any of the security interests granted for the benefit of the Holders in the Notes Collateral, the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral, the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral, as applicable (to the extent any Notes Collateral, HOT Proceeds Notes Collateral or OMT Proceeds Notes Collateral, as applicable, so released in any transactions or series of transactions has a fair market value in excess of €25 million) other than in accordance with the terms of, as applicable, the Security Documents, the HOT Security Documents, the OMT Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement, any applicable Additional Intercreditor Agreement, and the Indenture, as applicable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, without the consent of any Holder, the Issuer, the Trustee, the Security Agent and the other parties thereto, as applicable, may amend or supplement any Notes Documents to:

- (1) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect, error or inconsistency;
- (2) provide for the assumption by a successor Person of the obligations of the Issuer or any Guarantor under any Notes Document;
- (3) provide for the assumption of a successor Person of the obligations of (i) any HOT Proceeds Note Obligor under any HOT Proceeds Note Document; or (ii) NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries under any OMT Proceeds Loans Document;
- (4) add to the covenants or provide for a Guarantee for the benefit of the Holders or surrender any right or power conferred upon Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary;
- (5) add to the covenants or provide for a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee for the benefit of the Issuer or surrender any right or power conferred upon HOT, a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor, any Subsidiary of HOT that is a Restricted Subsidiary or NewCo OMT or any Subsidiary of NewCo OMT that is a Restricted Subsidiary;

- (6) make any change that would provide additional rights or benefits to the Trustee or the Holders or does not adversely affect the rights or benefits to the Trustee or any of the Holders in any material respect under the Notes Documents;
- (7) make any change that would provide additional rights or benefits to the Issuer or does not adversely affect the rights or benefits to the Issuer in any material respect, in each case, under the HOT Proceeds Note Documents, the OMT Proceeds Loan Documents or any other Issuer Proceeds Loan;
- (8) make such provisions as necessary (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) for the issuance of Additional Notes Incurred in accordance with the terms of the Indenture;
- (9) provide for Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary to provide a Note Guarantee in accordance with the Indenture, to add Guarantees with respect to the Notes, to add security to or for the benefit of the Notes, or to effectuate or confirm and evidence the release, termination, discharge or retaking of any Note Guarantee or Lien (including the Notes Collateral and the Security Documents) or any amendment in respect thereof with respect to or securing the Notes when such release, termination, discharge or retaking or amendment is provided for under the Indenture, the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- (10) provide for to add Guarantees with respect to the HOT Proceeds Note or an OMT Proceeds Loan, to add security to or for the benefit of the HOT Proceeds Note or an OMT Proceeds Loan, or to effectuate or confirm and evidence the release, termination, discharge or retaking of any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee or Lien or any OMT Proceeds Loan Guarantee or Lien (including the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral and the HOT Security Documents and OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral and the OMT Security Documents) or any amendment in respect thereof with respect to or securing the HOT Proceeds Note or an OMT Proceeds Loan when such release, termination, discharge or retaking or amendment is provided for under the Indenture, the HOT Security Documents or the OMT Security Documents, as applicable or any intercreditor agreement relating to the HOT Proceeds Note or the OMT Proceeds Loans;
- (11) conform the text of the Indenture, the Note Guarantees, the Security Documents, the Notes, the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees, the HOT Proceeds Note Documents, the HOT Proceeds Note, the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents or any OMT Proceeds Loan to any provision of this “Description of Senior Secured Notes” to the extent that such provision in this “Description of Senior Secured Notes” was intended to be a verbatim recitation of a provision of the Indenture, a Note Guarantee, the Security Documents, the Notes, the HOT Proceeds Note Guarantees, the HOT Proceeds Note Documents, the HOT Proceeds Note, the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents or any OMT Proceeds Loan;
- (12) evidence and provide for the acceptance and appointment under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement of a successor Trustee or Security Agent pursuant to the requirements thereof or to provide for the accession by the Trustee or Security Agent to any Notes Document;
- (13) as provided in “—Certain Covenants—Additional Intercreditor Agreements”;
- (14) after a HOT Direct Obligation Event, amend, extend, renew, restate, supplement or otherwise modify or release the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Security Documents, as the case may be, to give effect to a repayment or reduction in the aggregate principal amount of the HOT Proceeds Note; or
- (15) after an OMT Direct Obligation Event, amend, extend, renew, restate, supplement or otherwise modify or release the OMT Security Documents or any OMT Proceeds Loan, as the case may be, to give effect to a repayment or reduction in the aggregate principal amount of the OMT Proceeds Loans.

In formulating its decision on such matters, the Trustee shall be entitled to require and rely absolutely on such evidence as it deems necessary, including Officer’s Certificates and Opinions of Counsel.

The consent of the Holders is not necessary under the Indenture to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment. It is sufficient if such consent approves the substance of the proposed amendment. A consent to any amendment or waiver under the Indenture by any Holder of Notes given in connection with a tender of such Holder’s Notes will not be rendered invalid by such tender.

For the purpose of calculating the aggregate principal amount of Notes that have consented to or voted in favor of any amendment, supplement or waiver, the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of any Dollar Notes shall be as of the Issue Date.

For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of articles 86 to 94-8 of the Luxembourg act dated 10 August 1915 on commercial companies, as amended, shall not apply in respect of the Notes.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, the Issuer will publish notice of any amendment, supplement and waiver in Luxembourg in a daily newspaper with general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort). Such notice of any amendment, supplement and waiver may also be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

Acts by Holders

In determining whether the Holders of the required principal amount of the Notes have concurred in any direction, waiver or consent, the Notes owned by Altice International or by any Person directly or indirectly controlling, or controlled by, or under direct or indirect common control with Altice International will be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding.

Defeasance

The Issuer at any time may terminate all obligations of the Issuer under the Notes and the Indenture (“legal defeasance”) and cure all then existing Defaults and Events of Default, except for certain obligations, including those respecting the right to receive payment, defeasance trust, the rights, powers, trusts, duties, immunities and indemnities of the Trustee and the obligations of the Issuer in connection therewith and obligations concerning issuing temporary Notes, registration of Notes, mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes and the maintenance of an office or agency for payment and money for security payments held in trust. Subject to the foregoing, if the Issuer exercises its legal defeasance option, the Security Documents and the rights of the Trustee and the Holders under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement in effect at such time will terminate (other than with respect to the defeasance trust).

The Issuer at any time may terminate its obligations under certain covenants described under “—Certain Covenants” and “Change of Control” and the default provisions relating to such covenants described under “Events of Default” above, the operation of the cross-default upon a payment default, the cross-acceleration provisions, the bankruptcy provisions with respect to the Issuer, Altice International and Significant Subsidiaries, the judgment default provision, the guarantee provision and the security default provision described under “Events of Default” above (“covenant defeasance”).

The Issuer at its option at any time may exercise its legal defeasance option notwithstanding its prior exercise of its covenant defeasance option. If the Issuer exercises its legal defeasance option, payment of the Notes may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default with respect to such Notes. If the Issuer exercises its covenant defeasance option with respect to the Notes, payment of the Notes may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default specified in clause (3) (other than with respect to the first paragraph and clauses (1) and (2) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation”), (4), (5), (6) (with respect only to Altice International and Significant Subsidiaries), (7), (8) or (9) under “Events of Default” above.

In order to exercise either defeasance option, the Issuer must irrevocably deposit in trust (the “defeasance trust”) with the Trustee (or an entity designated or appointed as agent by it for this purpose) cash in U.S. dollars or U.S. dollar-denominated U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof (in the case of the Dollar Notes) and cash in euro or euro-denominated European Government Obligations or a combination thereof (in the case of the Euro Notes) for the payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes to redemption or maturity, as the case may be, and must comply with certain other conditions, including delivery to the Trustee of:

- (1) an Opinion of Counsel (subject to customary exceptions and exclusions) from United States counsel to the effect that Holders of the Notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit and defeasance and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such deposit and defeasance had not occurred (and in the case of legal defeasance only, such Opinion of Counsel from United States counsel must be based on a ruling of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or other change in applicable U.S. federal income tax law);
- (2) an Officer’s Certificate stating that the deposit was not made by the Issuer with the intent of defeating, hindering, delaying, defrauding or preferring any creditors of the Issuer;
- (3) an Officer’s Certificate stating that all conditions precedent provided for or relating to legal defeasance or covenant defeasance, as the case may be, have been complied with; and
- (4) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the trust resulting from the deposit does not constitute, or is qualified as, a regulated investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

Satisfaction and Discharge

The Indenture, and the rights of the Trustee and the Holders under the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents will be discharged and cease to be of further effect (except as to surviving rights of conversion or transfer or exchange of the Notes, as expressly provided for in the Indenture) as to all outstanding Notes when (1) either (a) all the Notes previously authenticated and delivered (other than certain lost, stolen or destroyed Notes, and certain Notes for which provision for payment was previously made and thereafter the funds have been released to the Issuer) have been delivered to the relevant Paying Agent for cancellation; or (b) all Notes not previously delivered to the relevant Paying Agent for cancellation (i) have become due and payable, (ii) will become due and payable at their Stated Maturity within one year or (iii) are to be called for redemption within one year under arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee for the giving of notice of redemption by the Trustee in the name, and at the expense, of the Issuer; (2) the Issuer has deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee (or an entity designated or appointed as agent by it for this purpose), cash in U.S. dollars or U.S. dollar-denominated U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof (in the case of the Dollar Notes) and cash in euro or euro-denominated European Government Obligations or a combination thereof (in the case of the Euro Notes), in an amount sufficient to pay and discharge the entire Indebtedness on the Notes not previously delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, for principal, premium, if any, and interest to the date of deposit (in the case of Notes that have become due and payable), or to the Stated Maturity or redemption date, as the case may be; (3) the Issuer has paid or caused to be paid all other sums payable under the Indenture; and (4) the Issuer has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate to the effect that all conditions precedent under the "Satisfaction and Discharge" section of the Indenture relating to the satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture have been complied with.

No Personal Liability of Directors, Officers, Employees and Shareholders

No director, officer, employee, incorporator or shareholder of the Issuer, Altice International or any of their respective Subsidiaries or Affiliates, as such, shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer under the Notes Documents or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting a Note waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes. Such waiver may not be effective to waive liabilities under the U.S. federal securities laws, and it is the view of the SEC that such a waiver is against public policy.

Listing and General Information

Application has been made to list the Notes on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to admit the Notes to trading on the Euro MTF Market. There can be no assurance that the application to list the Notes on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to admit the Notes to trading on the Euro MTF Market will be approved, and settlement of the Notes is not conditioned on obtaining this listing.

So long as the Notes are listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted to trading on its Euro MTF Market and the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange shall so require, copies, current and future, of all of Altice International's annual audited consolidated financial statements, Altice International's unaudited consolidated interim quarterly financial statements and this Offering Memorandum may be obtained, free of charge, during normal business hours at the registered office of the Issuer.

Available Information

Anyone who receives this Offering Memorandum, any Holder of the Notes or holder of a beneficial interest in the Notes, following the Issue Date, may obtain a copy of the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Security Documents, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement without charge by writing to the Issuer, 3 Boulevard Royal L-2449 Luxembourg, Attention: Chief Financial Officer.

Concerning the Trustee and Certain Agents

Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch has been appointed as Trustee under the Indenture. The Indenture provides that, except during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Trustee will perform only such duties as are set forth specifically in the Indenture. The holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for exercising any remedy available to the Trustee, subject to certain exceptions. During the existence of an Event of Default of which the Trustee has been notified in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, the Trustee will exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it under the Indenture and use the same degree of care that a prudent Person would use in conducting its own affairs. The permissive rights of the Trustee to take or refrain from taking any action enumerated in the Indenture will not be construed as an obligation or duty.

The Issuer shall deliver written notice to the Trustee with thirty (30) days of becoming aware of the occurrence of a Default or Event of Default. The Indenture imposes certain limitations on the rights of the Trustee, should it become a creditor of the Issuer, to obtain payment of claims in certain cases, or to realize on certain property received in respect of any such claim as security or otherwise. The Trustee, the Paying Agents and the Registrars will be permitted to engage in other transactions with the Issuer and its Affiliates and Subsidiaries.

Any removal or resignation of the Trustee shall not become effective until the acceptance of appointment by the successor Trustee.

The Indenture contains provisions for the indemnification and/or security of the Trustee by the Issuer and the Guarantors for any loss, liability, taxes or expenses incurred without gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of the Indenture.

Notices

All notices to Holders of the Notes will be validly given if mailed to them at their respective addresses in the register of the Holders of such Notes, if any, maintained by the Registrar. In addition, for so long as any of the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, notices with respect to the Notes will be published in a newspaper having a general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, posted on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

Each such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once on different dates, on the first date on which publication is made; provided that, if notices are mailed, such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the later of such publication and the seventh day after being so mailed. Any notice or communication mailed to a Holder shall be mailed to such Person by first-class mail or other equivalent means and shall be sufficiently given to such Holder if so mailed within the time prescribed. Failure to mail a notice or communication to a Holder or any defect in it shall not affect its sufficiency with respect to other Holders. If a notice or communication is mailed in the manner provided above, it is duly given, whether or not the addressee receives it.

For Notes which are represented by global certificates held on behalf of DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, notices may be given by delivery of the relevant notices to DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream for communication to entitled account holders in substitution for the aforesaid mailing.

Prescription

Claims against the Issuer or any Guarantor for the payment of principal, or premium, if any, on the Notes will be prescribed ten years after the applicable due date for payment thereof. Claims against the Issuer or any Guarantor for the payment of interest on the Notes will be prescribed five years after the applicable due date for payment of interest.

Currency Indemnity

The sole currency of account and payment for all sums payable by the Issuer and the Guarantors under or in connection with the Dollar Notes and Note Guarantees thereof is U.S. dollars and the Euro Notes and Note Guarantees thereof is euro, including damages. Any amount received or recovered in a currency other than U.S. dollars or euro, whether as a result of, or the enforcement of, a judgment or order of a court of any jurisdiction, in the winding-up or dissolution of the Issuer, any Guarantor or otherwise by any Holder or by the Trustee, in respect of any sum expressed to be due to it from the Issuer or a Guarantor will only constitute a discharge to the Issuer or such Guarantor, as applicable, to the extent of the U.S. dollar or euro amount, as the case may be, which the recipient is able to purchase with the amount so received or recovered in that other currency on the date of that receipt or recovery (or, if it is not practicable to make that purchase on that date, on the first date on which it is practicable to do so).

If that U.S. dollar or euro amount is less than the U.S. dollar or euro amount expressed to be due to the recipient or the Trustee under any Note, the Issuer and the Guarantors will indemnify them against any loss sustained by such recipient or the Trustee as a result. In any event, the Issuer and the Guarantors will indemnify the recipient or the Trustee on a joint or several basis against the cost of making any such purchase. For the purposes of this currency indemnity provision, it will be prima facie evidence of the matter stated therein for the Holder of a Note or the Trustee to certify in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Issuer (indicating the sources of information used) the loss it Incurred in making any such purchase. These indemnities constitute a separate and independent obligation from the Issuer's and the Guarantors' other obligations, will give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, will apply irrespective of any waiver granted by any Holder of a Note or the Trustee (other than a waiver of the indemnities set out herein) and will continue in full force and effect despite any other judgment, order, claim or proof for a liquidated amount in respect of any sum due under any Note, any Note Guarantee or to the Trustee.

Enforceability of Judgments

Since substantially all the assets of the Issuer, Altice International and the other Guarantors are located outside the United States, any judgment obtained in the United States against the Issuer or any Guarantor, including judgments with respect to the payment of principal, premium, interest, Additional Amounts, if any, and any redemption price and any purchase price with respect to the Notes or the Note Guarantees, may not be collectable within the United States.

Consent to Jurisdiction and Service

In relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Indenture, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, the Issuer and each Guarantor will, in the Indenture, appoint CT Corporation System as its agent for service of process and irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of the federal and state courts in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York, County and State of New York, United States.

Governing Law

The Indenture, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, and the rights and duties of the parties thereunder shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York. The application of the provisions set out in Articles 86 to 94-8 of the Luxembourg law dated August 10, 1915 on commercial companies, as amended, is excluded. The Intercreditor Agreement is, and the rights and duties of the parties thereunder are, governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England. The Security Documents and the HOT Security Documents are and/or shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Israel, Portugal, the Dominican Republic, England, France, Switzerland, the Bahamas, and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, as applicable. The HOT Proceeds Note is governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England. The OMT Proceeds Loans are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of France.

Certain Definitions

Set forth below are certain defined terms used in the Indenture. Reference is made to the Indenture for a full disclosure of all defined terms used therein, as well as any other capitalized terms used herein for which no definition is provided.

“2013 Revolving Credit Facility” means the revolving credit facility agreement, dated July 1, 2013, as amended, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, among the Issuer, as borrower, the lenders from time to time party thereto, Citibank International Plc as facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent.

“Acquired Indebtedness” means Indebtedness (1) of a Person or any of its Subsidiaries existing at the time such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, (2) assumed in connection with the acquisition of assets from such Person, in each case whether or not Incurred by such Person in connection with such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary or such acquisition, or (3) of a Person at the time such Person merges with or into or consolidates or otherwise combines with Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary. Acquired Indebtedness shall be deemed to have been Incurred, with respect to clause (1) of the preceding sentence, on the date such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary and, with respect to clause (2) of the preceding sentence, on the date of consummation of such acquisition of assets and, with respect to clause (3) of the preceding sentence, on the date of the relevant merger, consolidation or other combination.

- (1) any property or assets (other than Indebtedness and Capital Stock) not classified as current assets under IFRS used or to be used by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or otherwise useful in a Similar Business (it being understood that capital expenditures on property or assets already used in a Similar Business or to replace any property or assets that are the subject of an Asset Disposition shall be deemed an investment in Additional Assets);
- (2) the Capital Stock of a Person that is engaged in a Similar Business and becomes a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of the acquisition of such Capital Stock by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary; or
- (3) Capital Stock constituting a minority interest in any Person that at such time is a Restricted Subsidiary.

“Additional Revolving Credit Facilities” means the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility and the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility.

“Affiliate” of any specified Person means any other Person, directly or indirectly, controlling or controlled by or under direct or indirect common control with such specified Person. For the purposes of this definition, “control” when used with respect to any Person means the power to direct the management and policies of such Person, directly or indirectly, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise; and the terms “controlling” and “controlled” have meanings correlative to the foregoing.

“Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit Amount” refers to, as applicable, (1) €95 million, representing the maximum aggregate amount of obligations (i) guaranteed by Altice Portugal and Cabovisão and (ii) secured by the Cabovisão Security (including the pledge over the shares in the Target, to be granted by Altice Portugal within 10 Business Days following the Completion Date), which limitation applies to all indebtedness so guaranteed and/or secured on an aggregate basis; (2) €45.8 million, representing the maximum aggregate amount of obligations secured by the ONI Security and guaranteed by the ONI Group, which limitation applies to all indebtedness so secured and/or guaranteed on an aggregate basis; and (3) (i) up to €4,634.4 million for the Target and (ii) €968.4 million for PT OpCo, representing the maximum aggregate amount of obligations secured by the Target and PT OpCo, respectively, and guaranteed by the Target and PT OpCo, respectively, which limitation applies to all indebtedness so secured and/or guaranteed on an aggregate basis.

“Agreed Security Principles” means principles set forth in Schedule 16 to the Additional Revolving Credit Facilities, which shall be attached as a schedule to the Indenture.

“AI Mandatory Convertible Notes” means the mandatory convertible notes issued by Altice International for an aggregate nominal amount of up to €2,055 million and subscribed to by Altice S.A. in connection with the Transactions.

“Applicable Premium” means:

- (A) with respect to any Dollar Note the greater of:
- (i) 1% of the principal amount of such Dollar Note; and
 - (ii) the excess (to the extent positive) of:
 - (1) the present value at such redemption date of (i) the redemption price of such Dollar Note at February 15, 2018 (such redemption price (expressed in percentage of principal amount) being set forth in the table above under the first paragraph of the “—Optional Redemption” section described above (excluding accrued and unpaid interest)), plus (ii) all required interest payments due on such Dollar Note to and including February 15, 2018 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest), computed upon the redemption date using a discount rate equal to the Treasury Rate at such redemption date plus 50 basis points; over
 - (2) the outstanding principal amount of such Dollar Note,
- (B) with respect to any Euro Note the greater of:
- (i) 1% of the principal amount of such Euro Note; and
 - (ii) the excess (to the extent positive) of:
 - (1) the present value at such redemption date of (i) the redemption price of such Euro Note at February 15, 2018 (such redemption price (expressed in percentage of principal amount) being set forth in the table above under the first paragraph of the “—Optional Redemption” section described above (excluding accrued and unpaid interest)), plus (ii) all required interest payments due on such Euro Note to and including February 15, 2018 (excluding accrued but unpaid interest), computed upon the redemption date using a discount rate equal to the Bund Rate at such redemption date plus 50 basis points; over

- (2) the outstanding principal amount of such Euro Note, in each case, as calculated by the Issuer or on behalf of the Issuer by such Person as the Issuer shall designate. For the avoidance of doubt, calculation of the Applicable Premium shall not be an obligation or duty of the Trustee or Paying Agents.

“Asset Disposition” means, with respect to Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries (other than the Issuer), any direct or indirect sale, lease (other than an operating lease entered into in the ordinary course of business), transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases (other than operating leases entered into in the ordinary course of business), transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of shares of Capital Stock of a Subsidiary (other than directors’ qualifying shares), property or other assets (each referred to for the purposes of this definition as a “disposition”) by Altice International or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries, including any disposition by means of a merger, consolidation or similar transaction; provided that the sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries taken as a whole will be governed by the provisions of the Indenture described above under the caption “Change of Control” and/or the provisions described above under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation” and not by the provisions described under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this definition, the following items shall not be deemed to be Asset Dispositions:

- (1) a sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, by a Restricted Subsidiary to Altice International or by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary to a Restricted Subsidiary;
- (2) a sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of cash, Cash Equivalents, Temporary Cash Investments or Investment Grade Securities;
- (3) a sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of inventory, consumer equipment, trading stock, communications capacity or other assets in the ordinary course of business;
- (4) a sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of obsolete, surplus or worn out equipment or other assets or equipment or other similar assets that are no longer useful in the conduct of the business of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries;
- (5) transactions permitted under “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation” (other than as permitted under clause (C) of the first paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors” and clause (C) of the first paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation—The HOT Proceeds Note Obligors”), or a transaction that constitutes a Change of Control;
- (6) an issuance of Capital Stock by a Restricted Subsidiary to Altice International or to another Restricted Subsidiary or as part of or pursuant to an equity incentive or compensation plan approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International;
- (7) (a) any sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or any series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of Capital Stock, properties or assets in a single transaction or series of related transactions with a fair market value (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) not to exceed the greater of €125 million and 1.0% of Total Assets or (b) a transfer of Capital Stock of HOT pursuant to the exercise of a Minority Shareholder Call Option as in effect on December 12, 2012;
- (8) (i) any Restricted Payment that is permitted to be made under the covenant described above under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” or (ii) solely for the purposes of the third paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sale of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”, a disposition, the proceeds of which are used to make Restricted Payments permitted to be made under the covenant described above under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments”;

- (9) the granting of Liens not prohibited by the covenant described above under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”;
- (10) a sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or a series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of receivables in connection with the compromise, settlement or collection thereof in the ordinary course of business or in bankruptcy or similar proceedings and exclusive of factoring or similar arrangements;
- (11) the licensing or sublicensing of intellectual property or other general intangibles and licenses, sublicenses, leases, subleases of other property, in each case, in the ordinary course of business;
- (12) foreclosure, condemnation or any similar action with respect to any property or other assets;
- (13) the sale or discount (with or without recourse, and on customary or commercially reasonable terms) of accounts receivable or notes receivable arising in the ordinary course of business, or the conversion or exchange of accounts receivable for notes receivable;
- (14) sales, transfers or dispositions of receivables in connection with any Qualified Receivables Financing or any factoring transaction or in the ordinary course of business;
- (15) any sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or any series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of Capital Stock, Indebtedness or other securities of an Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- (16) any sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or any series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of Capital Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to an agreement or other obligation with or to a Person (other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) from whom such Restricted Subsidiary was acquired, or from whom such Restricted Subsidiary acquired its business and assets (having been newly formed in connection with such acquisition), made as part of such acquisition and in each case comprising all or a portion of the consideration in respect of such sale or acquisition;
- (17) any surrender or waiver of contract rights or the settlement, release or surrender of contract, tort or other claims of any kind;
- (18) any sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or any series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, of assets to a Person who is providing services related to such assets, the provision of which have been or are to be outsourced by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to such Person; provided, however, that the Board of Directors of Altice International shall certify that in the opinion of the Board of Directors, the outsourcing transaction will be economically beneficial to Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries (considered as a whole) ;
- (19) any sale, lease, transfer, issuance or other disposition, or any series of related sales, leases, transfers, issuances or dispositions that are part of a common plan, with respect to property built, owned or otherwise acquired by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary pursuant to customary sale and lease-back transactions, asset securitizations and other similar financings permitted by the Indenture; provided that network assets of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary shall be excluded from this clause (19) unless the Net Cash Proceeds of such sale and leaseback transaction are applied in accordance with the second paragraph of the covenant described under “Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”; and
- (20) any sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition in one or a series of related transactions of any assets of Altice International and its Subsidiaries or of any Person that becomes a Restricted Subsidiary (including the Target and its Subsidiaries (including the Capital Stock of the Target or any Subsidiary of Altice International or the Target)) that is required pursuant to Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition or is taken to avoid or eliminate any impediment under Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition (including, without limitation, in response to any actions initiated by an administrative, regulatory or other governmental authority or private party under Competition Laws) to the extent that the fair market value of any such sold, leased, transferred, conveyed or disposed of assets does not exceed 2.0% of Total Assets (on a pro forma consolidated basis, including, without limitation, the Target and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries).

- (1) interest expense attributable to Capitalized Lease Obligations;
- (2) amortization of debt discount, but excluding amortization of debt issuance costs, fees and expenses and the expensing of any bridge or other financing fees;

- (3) non-cash interest expense;
- (4) dividends or other distributions in respect of all Disqualified Stock of the Issuer and Altice International and all Preferred Stock of any Restricted Subsidiary, to the extent held by Persons other than Altice International or a Subsidiary of Altice International;
- (5) the consolidated interest expense that was capitalized during such period;
- (6) net payments and receipts (if any) pursuant to Hedging Obligations (other than Currency Agreements) (excluding unrealized mark-to-market gains and losses attributable to Hedging Obligations (other than Currency Agreements)); and
- (7) any interest actually paid by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary on Indebtedness of another Person that is guaranteed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary or secured by a Lien on assets of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; provided that for purposes of clause (c)(i) of the first paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” only, Consolidated Interest Expense shall be the sum of the Consolidated Interest Expense of (x) Cool and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries for the period beginning on the first day of the first full fiscal quarter commencing prior to December 12, 2012 until the New Group Reference Date and (y) Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries for the period beginning on the New Group Reference Date to the relevant date of determination.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, Consolidated Interest Expense shall not include (i) any interest accrued, capitalized or paid in respect of Subordinated Shareholder Funding, (ii) any commissions, discounts, yield and other fees and charges related to a Qualified Receivables Financing, (iii) any payments on any operating leases, including without limitation any payments on any lease, concession or license of property (or Guarantee thereof) which would be considered an operating lease under IFRS as in effect on the Issue Date, (iv) net payments and receipts (if any) pursuant to Currency Agreements (excluding unrealized mark-to-market gains and losses attributable to Hedging Obligations), (v) any pension liability interest costs, and (vi) any interest expense related to a Guarantee of Indebtedness of HoldCo Incurred in compliance with the Indenture, provided that the interest expense of any HoldCo Proceeds Loan(s) related thereto is included in the calculation of Consolidated Interest Expense in an equal or greater amount.

“Consolidated Net Income” means, for any period, the net income (loss) of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries determined on a consolidated basis on the basis of IFRS; provided, however, that there will not be included in such Consolidated Net Income:

- (1) subject to the limitations contained in clause (3) below, any net income (loss) of any Person if such Person is not a Restricted Subsidiary, except that Altice International’s equity in the net income of any such Person for such period will be included in such Consolidated Net Income up to the aggregate amount of cash or Cash Equivalents actually distributed by such Person during such period to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary as a dividend or other distribution or return on investment (subject, in the case of a dividend or other distribution or return on investment to a Restricted Subsidiary, to the limitations contained in clause (2) below);
- (2) solely for the purpose of determining the amount available for Restricted Payments under clause (c)(i) of the first paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments”, any net income (loss) of any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor if such Subsidiary is subject to restrictions, directly or indirectly, on the payment of dividends or the making of distributions by such Restricted Subsidiary, directly or indirectly, to Altice International by operation of the terms of such Restricted Subsidiary’s charter or any agreement, instrument, judgment, decree, order, statute or governmental rule or regulation applicable to such Restricted Subsidiary or its shareholders (other than (a) restrictions that have been waived or otherwise released, (b) contractual or legal restrictions in effect on the Issue Date with respect to a Restricted Subsidiary (including pursuant to the agreements specified in clause (3) of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restrictions on Distributions from Restricted Subsidiaries”), and other restrictions with respect to such Restricted Subsidiary that, taken as a whole, are not materially less favorable to the Holders than such restrictions in effect on the Issue Date, and (c) restrictions as in effect on the Issue Date specified in clause (12) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restrictions on Distributions from Restricted Subsidiaries”) except that Altice International’s equity in the net income of any such Restricted Subsidiary for such period will be included in such Consolidated Net Income up to the aggregate amount of cash or Cash Equivalents or non-cash distributions to the extent converted into cash or Cash Equivalents actually distributed or that could have been distributed by such Restricted Subsidiary during such period to Altice International or another Restricted Subsidiary as a dividend or other distribution (subject, in the case of a dividend to another Restricted Subsidiary, to the limitation contained in this clause);

- (3) any net gain (or loss) realized upon the sale, abandonment or other disposition of any asset or disposed operations of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (including pursuant to any sale/ leaseback transaction) which is not sold or otherwise disposed of in the ordinary course of business (as determined in good faith by an Officer of the Issuer);
- (4) any extraordinary, exceptional, unusual or nonrecurring gain, loss, charge or expense or any charges, expenses or reserves in respect of any restructuring, redundancy or severance or any expenses, charges, reserves, gains or other costs related to the December 2012 Transactions, July 2013 Transactions, December 2013 Transactions or the Transactions;
- (5) the cumulative effect of a change in accounting principles;
- (6) any non-cash compensation charge or expense arising from any grant of stock, stock options or other equity based awards and any non-cash deemed finance charges in respect of any pension liabilities or other provisions;
- (7) all deferred financing costs written off and premiums paid or other expenses incurred directly in connection with any early extinguishment of Indebtedness and any net gain (loss) from any write-off or forgiveness of Indebtedness;
- (8) any unrealized gains or losses in respect of Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments or any ineffectiveness recognized in earnings related to qualifying hedge transactions or the fair value or changes therein recognized in earnings for derivatives that do not qualify as hedge transactions, in each case, in respect of Hedging Obligations or other derivative instruments;
- (9) any unrealized foreign currency translation gains or losses in respect of Indebtedness of any Person denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of such Person and any unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses relating to translation of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies;
- (10) any unrealized foreign currency translation or transaction gains or losses in respect of Indebtedness or other obligations of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary owing to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary;
- (11) any one-time non-cash charges or any increases in amortization or depreciation resulting from purchase accounting, in each case, in relation to any acquisition of another Person or business or resulting from any reorganization or restructuring involving Altice International or its Subsidiaries;
- (12) any goodwill or other intangible asset impairment charge or write-off; and
- (13) the impact of capitalized, accrued or accreting or pay-in-kind interest or principal on Subordinated Shareholder Funding.

“Consolidated Net Leverage” means (A) the sum, without duplication, of the aggregate outstanding Indebtedness of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis (excluding (i) Hedging Obligations and (ii) other than for purposes of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments”, any Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to clause (1) under the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”); provided that any Guarantees by the Issuer and the Guarantors of Indebtedness of HoldCo permitted to be Incurred under clause (14), (15) or (16) of the second paragraph of the covenant entitled “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness” will be excluded from this definition of Consolidated Net Leverage to the extent an equal or greater aggregate amount of Indebtedness in respect of HoldCo Proceeds Loans outstanding on the relevant date of determination is included in this definition of Consolidated Net Leverage, less (B) the aggregate amount of cash and Cash Equivalents of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis.

“Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio” means, as of any date of determination, the ratio of (x) Consolidated Net Leverage at such date to (y) the aggregate amount of Pro forma EBITDA for the period of the most recent two consecutive fiscal quarters ending prior to the date of such determination for which internal consolidated financial statements of Altice International are available multiplied by 2.0; provided, however, that the pro forma calculation of the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio shall not give effect to (i) any Indebtedness incurred on the date of determination pursuant to the provisions described in the second paragraph under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness” or (ii) the discharge on the date of determination of any Indebtedness to the extent that such discharge results from the proceeds incurred pursuant to the provisions described in the second paragraph under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”.

For the avoidance of doubt, in determining Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio, no cash or Cash Equivalents shall be included that are the proceeds of Indebtedness in respect of which the calculation of the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio is to be made.

“Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage” means (A) the sum of the aggregate outstanding Senior Secured Indebtedness of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries (excluding (i) Hedging Obligations and (ii) other than for purposes of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments”, Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to clause (1) under the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”), less (B) the aggregate amount of cash and Cash Equivalents of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis.

“Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio” means, as of any date of determination, the ratio of (x) Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage at such date to (y) the aggregate amount of Pro forma EBITDA for the period of the most recent two consecutive fiscal quarters ending prior to the date of such determination for which internal consolidated financial statements of Altice International are available multiplied by 2.0; provided, however, that the pro forma calculation of the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio shall not give effect to (i) any Indebtedness incurred on the date of determination pursuant to the provisions described in the second paragraph under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness” or (ii) the discharge on the date of determination of any Indebtedness to the extent that such discharge results from the proceeds incurred pursuant to the provisions described in the second paragraph under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”.

For the avoidance of doubt, in determining Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio, no cash or Cash Equivalents shall be included that are the proceeds of Indebtedness in respect of which the calculation of the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio is to be made.

“Contingent Obligations” means, with respect to any Person, any obligation of such Person guaranteeing in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, any operating lease, dividend or other obligation that does not constitute Indebtedness (“primary obligations”) of any other Person (the “primary obligor”), including any obligation of such Person, whether or not contingent:

- (1) to purchase any such primary obligation or any property constituting direct or indirect security therefor;
- (2) to advance or supply funds:
 - (a) for the purchase or payment of any such primary obligation; or
 - (b) to maintain the working capital or equity capital of the primary obligor or otherwise to maintain the net worth or solvency of the primary obligor; or

- (1) the principal of indebtedness of such Person for borrowed money;
- (2) the principal of obligations of such Person evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments;
- (3) all reimbursement obligations of such Person in respect of letters of credit, bankers’ acceptances or other similar instruments (the amount of such obligations being equal at any time to the aggregate then undrawn and unexpired amount of such letters of credit or other instruments plus the aggregate amount of drawings thereunder that have not been reimbursed) (except to the extent such reimbursement obligations relate to trade payables and such obligations are satisfied within 30 days of Incurrence), in each case only to the extent that the underlying obligation in respect of which the instrument was issued would be treated as Indebtedness;
- (4) the principal component of all obligations of such Person to pay the deferred and unpaid purchase price of assets acquired or services supplied (except trade payables), which purchase price is due more than one year after the date of placing such property in service or taking final delivery and title thereto;
- (5) [Reserved];
- (6) the principal component of all obligations, or liquidation preference, of such Person with respect to any Disqualified Stock or, with respect to any Restricted Subsidiary, any Preferred Stock (but excluding, in each case, any accrued dividends);
- (7) the principal component of all Indebtedness of other Persons secured by a Lien on any asset of such Person, whether or not such Indebtedness is assumed by such Person; provided, however, that the amount of such Indebtedness will be the lesser of (a) the fair market value of such asset at such date of determination (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) and (b) the amount of such Indebtedness of such other Persons;
- (8) Guarantees by such Person of the principal component of Indebtedness of other Persons to the extent Guaranteed by such Person; and
- (9) to the extent not otherwise included in this definition, net obligations of such Person under Currency Agreements, Commodity Hedging Agreements and Interest Rate Agreements (the amount of any such obligations to be equal at any time to the termination value of such agreement or arrangement giving rise to such obligation that would be payable by such Person at such time).

The term “Indebtedness” shall not include (i) Subordinated Shareholder Funding, (ii) any lease (including for avoidance of doubt, any network lease or any Operating IRU), concession or license of property (or Guarantee thereof) which would be considered an operating lease under IFRS as in effect on December 12, 2012 or the Issue Date, (iii) prepayments of deposits received from clients or customers in the ordinary course of business, (iv) any pension obligations, (v) Contingent Obligations, (vi) obligations under or in respect of Qualified Receivables Financing, (vii) obligations under any license, permit or other approval (or Guarantees given in respect of such obligations) Incurred prior to the Issue Date or in the ordinary course of business, (viii) non-interest bearing installment obligations and accrued liabilities Incurred in the ordinary course of business that are not more than 120 days past due, (ix) Indebtedness in respect of the Incurrence by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness in respect of standby letters of credit, performance bonds or surety bonds provided by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in the ordinary course of business to the extent such letters of credit or bonds are not drawn upon or, if and to the extent drawn upon are honored in accordance with their terms and if, to be reimbursed, are reimbursed no later than the fifth Business Day following receipt by such Person of a demand for reimbursement following payment on the letter of credit or bond, and (x) Indebtedness Incurred by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary in connection with a transaction where (A) such Indebtedness is borrowed from a bank or trust company, having a combined capital and surplus and undivided profits of not less than €250 million, whose debt has a rating immediately prior to the time such transaction is entered into, of at least A or the equivalent thereof by S&P and A2 or the equivalent thereof by Moody’s and (B) a substantially concurrent Investment is made by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary in the form of cash deposited with the lender of such Indebtedness, or a Subsidiary or Affiliate thereof, in amount equal to such Indebtedness. For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding the above, the term “Indebtedness” excludes any accrued expenses and trade payables, any obligations under guarantees issued in connection with various operating and telecommunications licenses, any obligations under the guarantee by HOT issued to the Ministry of Communications and Broadcast Council in connection with various operating and broadcasting licenses, including the bank guarantee in connection with the HOT Mobile’s winning a frequency allotment and receiving a cellular license, and any obligations of HOT Systems towards the State of Israel under an agreement dated July 10, 2001, between HOT Systems and other cable companies and between the State of Israel, in each case, as in effect on December 12, 2012.

The amount of Indebtedness of any Person at any time in the case of a revolving credit or similar facility shall be the total amounts of funds borrowed and then outstanding. The amount of Indebtedness of any Person at any date shall be determined as set forth above or otherwise provided in the Indenture, and (other than with respect to letters of credit or Guarantees or Indebtedness specified in clause (7), (8) or (9) above) shall equal the amount thereof that would appear on a balance sheet of such Person (excluding any notes thereto) prepared on the basis of IFRS.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, in no event shall the following constitute Indebtedness:

- (i) in connection with the purchase by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of any business, any post-closing payment adjustments to which the seller may become entitled to the extent such payment is determined by a final closing balance sheet or such payment depends on the performance of such business after the closing; provided, however, that, at the time of closing, the amount of any such payment is not determinable and, to the extent such payment thereafter becomes fixed and determined, the amount is paid within 30 days thereafter;
- (ii) for the avoidance of doubt, any obligations in respect of workers' compensation claims, early retirement or termination obligations, pension fund obligations or contributions or similar claims, obligations or contributions or social security or wage Taxes;
- (iii) parallel debt obligations, to the extent such obligations mirror other Indebtedness; or
- (iv) Capitalized Lease Obligations.

"Investment" means, with respect to any Person, all investments by such Person in other Persons (including Affiliates) in the form of any direct or indirect advance, loan or other extensions of credit (other than advances or extensions of credit to customers, suppliers, directors, officers or employees of any Person in the ordinary course of business, and excluding any debt or extension of credit represented by a bank deposit other than a time deposit) or capital contribution to (by means of any transfer of cash or other property to others or any payment for property or services for the account or use of others), or the Incurrence of a Guarantee of any obligation of, or any purchase or acquisition of Capital Stock, Indebtedness or other similar instruments issued by, such other Persons and all other items that are or would be classified as investments on a balance sheet (excluding any notes thereto) prepared on the basis of IFRS; provided, however, that endorsements of negotiable instruments and documents in the ordinary course of business will not be deemed to be an Investment. If Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary issues, sells or otherwise disposes of any Capital Stock of a Person that is a Restricted Subsidiary such that, after giving effect thereto, such Person is no longer a Restricted Subsidiary, any Investment by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in such Person remaining after giving effect thereto will be deemed to be a new Investment equal to the fair market value of the Capital Stock of such Subsidiary not sold or disposed of in an amount determined as provided in the final paragraph of the covenant described above under the caption "—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments".

For purposes of "—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments":

- (1) "Investment" will include the portion (proportionate to Altice International's equity interest in a Restricted Subsidiary to be designated as an Unrestricted Subsidiary) of the fair market value of the net assets of such

Restricted Subsidiary at the time that such Restricted Subsidiary is designated an Unrestricted Subsidiary; provided, however, that upon a redesignation of such Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary, Altice International will be deemed to continue to have a permanent “Investment” in an Unrestricted Subsidiary in an amount (if positive) equal to (a) Altice International’s “Investment” in such Subsidiary at the time of such redesignation less (b) the portion (proportionate to Altice International’s equity interest in such Subsidiary) of the fair market value of the net assets (as conclusively determined by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International in good faith) of such Subsidiary at the time that such Subsidiary is so re-designated a Restricted Subsidiary; and

- (2) any property transferred to or from an Unrestricted Subsidiary will be valued at its fair market value at the time of such transfer (or if earlier at the time of entering into an agreement to sell such property), in each case as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International.

The amount of any Investment outstanding at any time shall be the original cost of such Investment, reduced (at the Issuer’s option) by any dividend, distribution, interest payment, return of capital, repayment or other amount or value received in respect of such Investment.

“Permitted OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral Liens” means:

- (1) Liens on OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral that are described in one or more of clauses (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), (8), (9), (11), (12), (13), (18), (20), (23), (24) and (28) of the definition of “Permitted Liens”; and
- (2) Liens on the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral to secure (a) Indebtedness that is permitted to be Incurred under clauses (1) (which may be Super Priority Indebtedness), (2)(a) (in the case of (2)(a), to the extent such Guarantee is in respect of Indebtedness otherwise permitted to be secured and specified in this clause (2) of this definition of Permitted OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral Liens) and clause (16) under the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”), (b) any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of Indebtedness referred to in this clause (2) and (c) any Issuer Proceeds Loans Incurred in accordance with the third paragraph under the heading “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness” under which NewCo OMT or any of its Subsidiaries is the borrower or issuer, provided, however, that (i) such Lien shall rank pari passu or junior to the Liens securing the OMT Proceeds Loans; (ii) in each case, all property and assets (including, without limitation, the OMT Proceeds Loans Collateral) securing such Indebtedness also secure the OMT Proceeds Loans on a senior or pari passu basis; and (iii) each of the parties thereto and the Issuer as lender under the OMT Proceeds Loan will have entered into an intercreditor agreement containing terms, as determined in good faith by an Officer of Altice International, not materially less favorable to such lender than the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement with respect to the Holders of the Notes.

“Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, joint venture, association, joint-stock company, trust, unincorporated organization, limited liability company, government or any agency or political subdivision thereof or any other entity.

“Preferred Stock”, as applied to the Capital Stock of any Person, means Capital Stock of any class or classes (however designated) which is preferred as to the payment of dividends or as to the distribution of assets upon any voluntary or involuntary liquidation or dissolution of such Person, over shares of Capital Stock of any other class of such Person.

“Pro forma EBITDA” means, for any period, the Consolidated EBITDA of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries, provided that for the purposes of calculating Pro forma EBITDA for such period, if, as of such date of determination:

- (1) since the beginning of such period Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary has disposed of any company, any business, or any group of assets constituting an operating unit of a business or otherwise ceases to be a Restricted Subsidiary (and is not a Restricted Subsidiary at the end of such period) (any such disposition, a “Sale”) or if the transaction giving rise to the need to calculate the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio or Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio is such a Sale, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be reduced by an amount equal to the Consolidated EBITDA (if positive) attributable to the assets which are the subject of such Sale for such period or increased by an amount equal to the Consolidated EBITDA (if negative) attributable thereto for such period; provided that if any such sale constitutes “discontinued operations” in accordance with IFRS, Consolidated Net Income shall be reduced by an amount equal to the Consolidated Net Income (if positive) attributable to such operations for such period or increased by an amount equal to the Consolidated Net Income (if negative) attributable thereto for such period;
- (2) since the beginning of such period, a Parent, Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (by merger or otherwise) has made an Investment in any Person that thereby becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, or otherwise has acquired any company, any business, or any group of assets constituting an operating unit of a business or a Person otherwise becomes a Restricted Subsidiary (and remains a Restricted Subsidiary at the end of such period) (any such Investment, acquisition or designation, a “Purchase”), including any such Purchase occurring in connection with a transaction causing a calculation to be made hereunder, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be calculated after giving pro forma effect thereto as if such Purchase occurred on the first day of such period; and

- (3) since the beginning of such period, any Person (that became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary since the beginning of such period) will have made any Sale or any Purchase that would have required an adjustment pursuant to clause (1) or (2) above if made by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary since the beginning of such period, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be calculated after giving pro forma effect thereto as if such Sale or Purchase occurred on the first day of such period.

For the purposes of this definition and the definitions of Consolidated EBITDA, Consolidated Income Taxes, Consolidated Interest Expense and Consolidated Net Income, Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio and Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio (a) whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any transaction (including, without limitation, transactions listed in clauses (1)-(3) hereof) or calculation hereunder or such other definitions, the pro forma calculations will be as determined in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of Altice International or an Officer of the Issuer (including in respect of anticipated expense and cost reductions and synergies (other than revenue synergies)) (calculated on a pro forma basis as though such expense and cost reductions and synergies had been realized on the first day of the period for which Pro forma EBITDA is being determined and as though such cost savings, operating expense reductions and synergies were realized during the entirety of such period), (b) in determining the amount of Indebtedness outstanding on any date of determination, pro forma effect shall be given to any Incurrence, repayment, repurchase, defeasance or other acquisition, retirement or discharge of Indebtedness as if such transaction had occurred on the first day of the relevant period and (c) if any Indebtedness bears a floating rate of interest and is being given pro forma effect, the interest on such Indebtedness shall be calculated as if the rate in effect on the date of determination had been the applicable rate for the entire period (taking into account any Hedging Obligations applicable to such Indebtedness if such Hedging Obligation has a remaining term in excess of 12 months).

“Public Debt” means any Indebtedness consisting of bonds, debentures, notes or other similar debt securities issued in (1) a public offering registered under the Securities Act or (2) a private placement to institutional investors that is underwritten for resale in accordance with Rule 144A or Regulation S under the Securities Act, whether or not it includes registration rights entitling the holders of such debt securities to registration thereof with the SEC for public resale.

“Public Offering” means any offering, including an Initial Public Offering, of shares of common stock or other common equity interests that are listed on an exchange or publicly offered (which shall include an offering pursuant to Rule 144A and/or Regulation S under the Securities Act to professional market investors or similar persons).

“Public Offering Expenses” means expenses Incurred by any Parent in connection with any Public Offering or any offering of Public Debt (whether or not successful):

- (1) where the net proceeds of such offering are intended to be received by or contributed or loaned to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary;
- (2) in a pro-rated amount of such expenses in proportion to the amount of such net proceeds intended to be so received, contributed or loaned; or
- (3) otherwise on an interim basis prior to completion of such offering so long as any Parent shall cause the amount of such expenses to be repaid to Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary out of the proceeds of such offering promptly if completed, in each case, to the extent such expenses are not paid by another Subsidiary of such Parent.

“Purchase Money Obligations” means any Indebtedness Incurred to finance or refinance the acquisition, leasing, construction or improvement of property (real or personal) or assets (including Capital Stock), and whether acquired through the direct acquisition of such property or assets or the acquisition of the Capital Stock of any Person owning such property or assets, or otherwise.

“Qualified Receivables Financing” means any Receivables Financing of a Receivables Subsidiary that meets the following conditions: (1) an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International shall have determined in good faith that such Qualified Receivables Financing (including financing terms, covenants, termination events and other provisions) is in the aggregate economically fair and reasonable to Altice International and the Receivables Subsidiary,

(2) all sales of accounts receivable and related assets to the Receivables Subsidiary are made at fair market value (as determined in good faith by Altice International), and (3) the financing terms, covenants, termination events and other provisions thereof shall be on market terms (as determined in good faith by Altice International) and may include Standard Securitization Undertakings.

The grant of a security interest in any accounts receivable of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (other than a Receivables Subsidiary) to secure Indebtedness under a Credit Facility or Indebtedness in respect of the Notes shall not be deemed a Qualified Receivables Financing.

“Rating Agencies” means Moody’s and S&P or, in the event Moody’s or S&P no longer assigns a rating to the Notes, any other Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organization who assigns a rating to the Notes in lieu of the ratings by Moody’s or S&P.

“Rating Date” means the date which is 90 days prior to the earlier of (1) a Change of Control; and (2) public notice of the occurrence of a Change of Control or of the intention of the Issuer to effect a Change of Control.

“Rating Decline” means the decrease in the rating of the Notes of a series by at least one of the Rating Agencies by one or more gradations (including gradations within rating categories as well as between rating categories) from its rating on the Rating Date or the withdrawal of a rating of the Notes of such series by any of the Rating Agencies on, or within 60 days after, the earlier of the date of public notice of the occurrence of a Change of Control or of the intention of the Issuer to effect a Change of Control or the occurrence of a Change of Control (which period shall be extended so long as the rating of the Notes of such series is under publicly announced consideration by any of the Rating Agencies).

If no Rating Agency announces an action with regard to its rating of the Notes of a series after the occurrence of a Change of Control, the Issuer shall request each Rating Agency to confirm its rating of the Notes of such series before the end of such 60-day period.

“Receivable” means a right to receive payment arising from a sale or lease of goods or services by a Person pursuant to an arrangement with another Person pursuant to which such other Person is obligated to pay for goods or services under terms that permit the purchase of such goods and services on credit, as determined on the basis of IFRS.

“Receivables Assets” means any assets that are or will be the subject of a Qualified Receivables Financing.

“Receivables Fees” means distributions or payments made directly or by means of discounts with respect to any participation interest issued or sold in connection with, and other fees paid to a Person that is not a Restricted Subsidiary in connection with, any Receivables Financing.

“Receivables Financing” means any transaction or series of transactions that may be entered into by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to which Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries may sell, convey or otherwise transfer to (a) a Receivables Subsidiary (in the case of a transfer by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries), or (b) any other Person (in the case of a transfer by a Receivables Subsidiary), or may grant a security interest in, any accounts receivable (whether now existing or arising in the future) of Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries, and any assets related thereto, including all collateral securing such accounts receivable, all contracts and all guarantees or other obligations in respect of such accounts receivable, proceeds of such accounts receivable and other assets which are customarily transferred or in respect of which security interest are customarily granted in connection with asset securitization transactions involving accounts receivable and any Hedging Obligations entered into by Altice International or any such Subsidiary in connection with such accounts receivable.

“Receivables Repurchase Obligation” means any obligation of a seller of receivables in a Qualified Receivables Financing to repurchase receivables arising as a result of a breach of a representation, warranty or covenant or otherwise, including as a result of a receivable or portion thereof becoming subject to any asserted defense, dispute, off-set or counterclaim of any kind as a result of any action taken by, any failure to take action by or any other event relating to the seller.

“Receivables Subsidiary” means a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Altice International (other than the Issuer) (or another Person formed for the purposes of engaging in a Qualified Receivables Financing with Altice International in which Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International makes an Investment and to which Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International transfers accounts receivable and related assets) which engages in no activities other than in connection with the financing of accounts receivable of Altice International and its Subsidiaries, all proceeds thereof and all rights (contractual or other), collateral and other assets relating thereto, and any business or activities incidental or related to such business, and which is designated by the Board of Directors of Altice International (as provided below) as a Receivables Subsidiary and:

- (1) no portion of the Indebtedness or any other obligations (contingent or otherwise) of which (i) is guaranteed by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary (excluding guarantees of obligations (other than the principal of, and interest on, Indebtedness) pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings), (ii) is subject to terms that are substantially equivalent in effect to a guarantee of any losses on securitized or sold receivables by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary, (iii) is recourse to or obligates Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary in any way other than pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings, or (iv) subjects any property or asset of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, directly or indirectly, contingently or otherwise, to the satisfaction thereof, other than pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings;
- (2) with which neither Altice International nor any other Restricted Subsidiary has any material contract, agreement, arrangement or understanding other than on terms which Altice International reasonably believes to be no less favorable to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary than those that might be obtained at the time from Persons that are not Affiliates of Altice International; and
- (3) to which neither Altice International nor any other Restricted Subsidiary has any obligation to maintain or preserve such entity's financial condition or cause such entity to achieve certain levels of operating results.

Any such designation by the Board of Directors of Altice International shall be evidenced to the Trustee by filing with the Trustee a copy of the resolution of the Board of Directors of Altice International giving effect to such designation and an Officer's Certificate certifying that such designation complied with the foregoing conditions.

"Refinance" means refinance, refund, replace, renew, repay, modify, restate, defer, substitute, supplement, reissue, resell, extend or increase (including pursuant to any defeasance or discharge mechanism) and the terms "refinances", "refinanced" and "refinancing" as used for any purpose in the Indenture shall have a correlative meaning.

"Refinancing Indebtedness" means Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to refund, refinance, replace, exchange, renew, repay or extend (including pursuant to any defeasance or discharge mechanism) any Indebtedness existing on the date of the Indenture or Incurred in compliance with the Indenture including Indebtedness that refinances Refinancing Indebtedness; provided, however, that:

- (1) if the Indebtedness being refinanced constitutes Subordinated Indebtedness, the Refinancing Indebtedness has a final stated maturity at the time such Refinancing Indebtedness is Incurred that is the same as or later than the final stated maturity of the Indebtedness being refinanced or, if shorter, the Notes;
- (2) such Refinancing Indebtedness is Incurred in an aggregate principal amount (or if issued with original issue discount, an aggregate issue price) that is equal to or less than the sum of the aggregate principal amount (or if issued with original issue discount, the aggregate accreted value) then outstanding of the Indebtedness being refinanced (plus, without duplication, any additional Indebtedness Incurred to pay interest or premiums required by the instruments governing such existing Indebtedness and costs, expenses and fees Incurred in connection therewith);
- (3) if the Indebtedness being refinanced is expressly subordinated to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, such Refinancing Indebtedness is subordinated to the Notes or such Note Guarantee, as applicable, on terms at least as favorable to the Holders as those contained in the documentation governing the Indebtedness being refinanced; and provided, however, that Refinancing Indebtedness shall not include (i) Indebtedness of the Issuer or HoldCo that refinances Indebtedness of an Unrestricted Subsidiary, (ii) Indebtedness of the Issuer owing to and held by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, Indebtedness of Altice International owing to and held by the Issuer or any Restricted Subsidiary or Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary owing to and held by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary or (iii) any Issuer Proceeds Loan or any HoldCo Proceeds Loan.
- (4) if the Issuer or any Guarantor was the obligor on the Indebtedness being refinanced, such Indebtedness is incurred either by the Issuer or by a Guarantor.

Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any Credit Facility or any other Indebtedness may be Incurred from time to time after the termination, discharge, or repayment of any such Credit Facility or other Indebtedness.

"Related Taxes" means, without duplication (including, for the avoidance of doubt, without duplication of any amounts paid pursuant to any Tax Sharing Agreement):

- (1) any Taxes, including sales, use, transfer, rental, ad valorem, value added, stamp, property, consumption, franchise, license, capital, registration, business, customs, net worth, gross receipts, excise, occupancy, intangibles or similar Taxes (other than (x) Taxes measured by income and (y) withholding taxes), required to be paid (provided such Taxes are in fact paid) by any Parent by virtue of its:
 - (a) being incorporated or otherwise being established or having Capital Stock outstanding (but not by virtue of owning stock or other equity interests of any corporation or other entity other than, directly or indirectly, HoldCo, Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International);
 - (b) issuing or holding Subordinated Shareholder Funding;
 - (c) being a holding company parent, directly or indirectly, of Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International;
 - (d) receiving dividends from or other distributions in respect of the Capital Stock of, directly or indirectly, Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International; or
 - (e) having made any payment in respect to any of the items for which the Issuer or Altice International is permitted to make payments to any Parent pursuant to “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments”; or
- (2) if and for so long as the Issuer or Altice International is a member of a group filing a consolidated or combined tax return with any Parent, any Taxes measured by income for which such Parent is liable up to an amount not to exceed with respect to such Taxes the amount of any such Taxes that Altice International and Subsidiaries of Altice International would have been required to pay on a separate company basis or on a consolidated basis if Altice International and the Subsidiaries of Altice International had paid tax on a consolidated, combined, group, affiliated or unitary basis on behalf of an affiliated group consisting only of Altice International and the Subsidiaries of Altice International.

DESCRIPTION OF SENIOR NOTES

You will find definitions of certain capitalized terms used in this “Description of Senior Notes” under the heading “Certain Definitions”. Certain capitalized terms used in this “Description of Senior Notes” may have different definitions than the same term used in other sections of this Offering Memorandum, including “Description of the Senior Secured Notes.” For purposes of this “Description of Senior Notes”, references to the “Issuer” refer only to Altice Finco S.A.

Altice Finco S.A., a Luxembourg public limited liability company (société anonyme), with registered office at 3 Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg (the “Issuer”) will be the issuer of the Notes offered hereby. The Issuer is the parent of Altice Financing S.A., a Luxembourg public limited liability company (société anonyme), with registered office at 3 Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg (the “Senior Secured Notes Issuer”).

The Issuer has issued $385 million aggregate principal amount of its U.S. dollar-denominated Senior Notes due 2025 (the “Notes”) under an indenture (the “Indenture”), between, inter alios, itself, Altice International S.à r.l. (“Altice International”) a private limited company (société à responsabilité limitée) incorporated under the laws of Luxembourg, registered with the Luxembourg Register of Commerce and Companies under number B143.725, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as trustee (the “Trustee”), Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas as US Paying Agent, US Transfer Agent and US Registrar and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent. The Notes were issued in a private transaction that is not subject to the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The Issuer is a wholly owned subsidiary of Altice International.

Subject to the following three paragraphs, the net proceeds of the offering of the Notes sold on the Issue Date will be loaned by the Issuer to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer. The Senior Secured Notes Issuer has issued Senior Secured Notes due 2023 (the “New Senior Secured Notes”) under an indenture (the “New Senior Secured Notes Indenture”), between, inter alios, itself, Altice International, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as trustee (the “Senior Secured Notes Trustee”) and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent, concurrently with the issuance of the Notes. The net proceeds of the offering of the Notes sold on the Issue Date and loaned to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, together with the net proceeds of the offering of the Senior Secured Notes sold by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer on the Issue Date, will be loaned by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer pursuant to proceeds loans (the “Finco Proceeds Loans”) to Altice Holdings to enable Altice Holdings to:

- (1) directly or indirectly to acquire (the “Acquisition”) 100% of the outstanding Capital Stock of PT Portugal SGPS, S.A. (the “Target”), together with certain entities identified in the Acquisition Agreement (as defined below) as “Companies within the Transaction Perimeter” (collectively, the “PT Portugal Group”), from Oi, S.A. (the “Seller”) pursuant to the terms of an agreement dated December 9, 2014 among Altice S.A., Altice Portugal and the Seller (the “Acquisition Agreement”); and
- (2) pay fees and expenses related to the foregoing,

(herein referred to collectively as the “Transactions”) as described in this Offering Memorandum under “The Transactions” and “Use of Proceeds”. The date on which the Acquisition is consummated is herein referred to as the “Completion Date”.

The initial purchasers have, concurrently with the closing of the offering of the Notes on the Issue Date, deposited the gross proceeds of this offering of the Notes into an escrow account (the “Escrow Account”) pursuant to the terms of an escrow agreement (the “Notes Escrow Agreement”) dated as of the Issue Date among, inter alios, the Issuer, the Trustee and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as Escrow Agent (the “Escrow Agent”). If the Acquisition is not consummated on or prior to June 9, 2016 (the “Escrow Longstop Date”), or upon the occurrence of certain other events, the Notes will be redeemed at a price equal to 100% of the initial issue price of the Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, from the Issue Date to the Special Mandatory Redemption Date (as defined below). The initial purchasers have, concurrently with the closing of the offering of the New Senior Secured Notes on the Issue Date, deposited the gross proceeds of this offering of the New Senior Secured Notes into one or more escrow segregated accounts (the “New Senior Secured Notes Escrow Accounts”) pursuant to the terms of an escrow agreement (the “New Senior Secured Notes Escrow Agreement”) and together with the Notes Escrow Agreement, the “Escrow Agreements”) dated as of the Issue Date among, inter alios, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, the New Senior Secured Notes Trustee and Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, as escrow agent.

The completion of the Acquisition is subject to the conditions set out in the Acquisition Agreement, including the separate approval by the competent regulatory authorities in Portugal and merger-control clearance by the European Commission. As a result, we are unable to predict the date on which the Acquisition will complete. The Escrow Agreements provide that, subject to the conditions in relevant Escrow Agreement, all of the proceeds of the Notes held in the Escrow Account and all of the proceeds of the New Senior Secured Notes held in the New Senior Secured Notes

Escrow Accounts will be released to consummate the Acquisition, and to pay fees and expenses related to the Transactions.

The release of the proceeds of the offering of the Notes from the Escrow Account will be subject to certain conditions. See “General—Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption”.

As of the initial issuance of the Notes, the Notes are obligations solely of the Issuer and are not guaranteed. Although Altice International is party to the Indenture on the Issue Date for purposes of the covenants described below, the Note Guarantee of Altice International will not be effective until the Completion Date (as defined below). Assuming the Completion Date occurs on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date, on the Completion Date, the Note Guarantee of Altice International will become effective and each of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, Cool, H. Hadaros 2012, Ltd., Altice Holdings, Altice West Europe, Altice Caribbean, Green, Altice Bahamas, Tricom, Global Interlink, ODO and Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Oniteleco, Knewon, Altice Portugal and Cabovisao (subject to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit Amount (as defined below)) (collectively, the “Completion Date Guarantors”) will execute and deliver a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee on a senior subordinated basis. Within 90 days following the Completion Date, PT Portugal and PT OpCo (the “Post-Completion Date Guarantors”) will execute and deliver a supplemental indenture providing for a Note Guarantee on a senior subordinated basis, subject to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit (the date on which the Post-Completion Date Guarantor executes such supplemental indenture being the “Post-Completion Guarantor Accession Date”).

The Indenture is unlimited in aggregate principal amount and $385 million in principal amount of Notes were issued in this offering. We may issue an unlimited principal amount of additional Notes at later dates under the same Indenture (the “Additional Notes”); provided, however, that we will only be permitted to issue Additional Notes in compliance with the covenants contained in the Indenture, including the covenants restricting the Incurrence of Indebtedness (as described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Indebtedness”) and the Incurrence of Liens (as described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”). The Notes issued in this offering are and, if issued, any Additional Notes will be treated as a single class for all purposes under the Indenture, including, without limitation, with respect to waivers, amendments, redemptions and offers to purchase, except as otherwise stated in the Indenture. However, in order for any Additional Notes to have the same CUSIP number and ISIN as the Notes, such Additional Notes must be fungible with the Notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Unless the context otherwise requires, in this “Description of Senior Notes”, references to the “Notes” include the Notes and any Additional Notes that are actually issued. The terms of the Notes include those set forth in the Indenture. The Indenture is not qualified under, and will not incorporate by reference any of the provisions of, and is not required to be subject to, the U.S. Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended.

This “Description of Senior Notes” is intended to be an overview of the material provisions of the Notes and the Indenture, and refers to the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Security Documents (as defined below). It does not restate those agreements in their entirety. Since this description of the terms of the Notes is only a summary, you should refer to the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Security Documents for complete descriptions of the obligations of the Issuer and your rights because they, and not this summary, define your rights as holders of the Notes. Copies of the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement and the Notes Escrow Agreement are available as set forth under “Available Information”. See the section entitled “Description of Other Indebtedness—Intercreditor Agreement” for a summary of certain material terms of the Intercreditor Agreement.

The registered holder of a Note will be treated as the owner of such Note for all purposes. Only registered holders will have rights under the Indenture.

General

The Notes

The Notes:

- are general obligations of the Issuer;
- will, prior to the Completion Date, be secured by a first ranking assignment over the Escrowed Property (as defined below) and the rights of the Issuer under the Notes Escrow Agreement;
- will, as of the Completion Date, be guaranteed by the Completion Date Guarantors and within 90 days after the Completion Date (if it occurs), the Notes will be guaranteed by the Post-Completion Date Guarantors and benefit from the security as set forth below under “—Notes Security”;

See “Corporate and Financing Structure”.

Although the Existing Senior Notes are guaranteed by ABO, because of applicable restrictions under French law related to corporate benefit, the Notes will not be guaranteed by ABO.

Each Note Guarantee of the Notes will:

- be a senior subordinated obligation of the relevant Guarantor;
- be subordinated in right of payment to all existing and future Senior Indebtedness of that Guarantor (including that Guarantors’ obligations under the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations);
- rank pari passu in right of payment with any existing and future Indebtedness of that Guarantor that is not subordinated in right of payment to such Guarantor’s Note Guarantee;
- rank senior in right of payment to any existing and future obligations of such Guarantor that is expressly subordinated in right of payment to such Note Guarantee;
- benefit from the security as set forth below under “—Notes Security”;
- be effectively subordinated to any existing and future secured Indebtedness of that Guarantor that are secured by Liens ranking ahead of the Liens securing the Notes or Note Guarantees or secured by property and assets that do not secure the Notes or Note Guarantees, to the extent of the value of the property and assets securing such Indebtedness (including the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, any borrowings under the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and any secured Hedging Obligations); and
- be effectively subordinated to the Indebtedness and other obligations of Subsidiaries of Altice International that do not Guarantee the Notes.

Payment under the Guarantees will be expressly subordinated in right of payment to the payment when due of all Senior Indebtedness of the Guarantors (including Indebtedness Incurred under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Senior Secured Notes, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations), the holders of which (or their representatives) are party to the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement. As a result of this subordination, holders of such Senior Indebtedness of any Guarantor will be entitled to receive full payment on all obligations owed to them before any payment can be made to Holders of the Notes in respect of the Guarantees.

Subordination of the Note Guarantees on the Basis of the Intercreditor Agreement

Each of the Note Guarantees is a senior subordinated Guarantee, which means that, pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, each such Note Guarantee ranks behind, and is expressly subordinated to, all the existing and future Senior Indebtedness of the relevant Guarantor, the holders of which (or their representatives) are party to the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, including any obligations owed by the relevant Guarantor under the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Secured Notes, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations. The ability to take enforcement action against the Guarantors under their Note Guarantees is subject to significant restrictions imposed by the Intercreditor Agreement and the terms of the Note Guarantees, and potentially any Additional Intercreditor Agreements entered into after the Issue Date. For a description of the restrictions imposed by the Intercreditor Agreement, see “Description of Other Indebtedness—Intercreditor Agreement.”

Because of the foregoing subordination provisions, it is likely that holders of Senior Indebtedness and other creditors (including trade creditors) of a Guarantor would recover disproportionately more than the holders of the Notes recover in any insolvency or similar proceeding relating to such Guarantor. In any such case, there may be insufficient assets, or no assets, remaining to pay the principal of or interest on the Notes.

Further, the obligations of a Guarantor under its Note Guarantee will be limited as necessary to prevent the relevant Note Guarantee from constituting a fraudulent conveyance under applicable law, or otherwise to reflect limitations under applicable law or capital maintenance regulations. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Each Guarantee will be subject to certain limitations on enforcement and may be limited by applicable laws or subject to certain defenses that may limit its validity and enforceability” and “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests”.

As of September 30, 2014, on an as-adjusted consolidated basis after giving effect to the Transactions, including the issuance of the Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes and the amounts expected to be drawn under the Additional Revolving Credit Facilities to consummate the Acquisition, and the application of the proceeds therefrom as described under “Use of Proceeds” elsewhere in this Offering Memorandum, Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries would have had outstanding €7,425 million equivalent aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness if the Acquisition is consummated. As of September 30, 2014, on an as-adjusted basis after giving effect to the Transactions, including the issuance of the Notes and the application of the proceeds therefrom, the Issuer on a consolidated basis would have had €7,105 million equivalent aggregate principal amount of outstanding Indebtedness.

Each of Altice International, the Issuer, Altice Holdings S.à r.l., Altice West Europe S.à r.l., Altice Caribbean, NewCo OMT, Altice Portugal, Cool, H. Hadaros 2012, Ltd, the Target and certain other Guarantors is a holding company and does not conduct any operations and is wholly dependent on payments from its respective Subsidiaries to meet its obligations, including the Senior Secured Notes Issuer’s obligations under the Proceeds Loans and the Guarantors’ obligations under their Note Guarantees and their respective Finco Proceeds Loans.

Principal and Maturity

The Issuer issued $385 million aggregate principal amount of Notes on the Issue Date. The Notes will mature on February 15, 2025 at which time 100% of the principal amount of the Notes shall be payable, unless redeemed prior thereto as described herein. The Notes will be issued in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

Interest

Interest on the Notes will accrue at the rate of 7.625% per annum. Interest on the Notes will:

- accrue from the date of original issuance or, if interest has already been paid, from the date it was most recently paid;
- be payable in cash semi-annually in arrears on each April 1 and October 1, commencing on October 1, 2015;
- be payable to the holder of record of such Notes on March 15 and September 15 immediately preceding the related interest payment date; and

- be computed on the basis of a 360-day year comprised of twelve 30-day months.

Interest on overdue principal and interest, including Additional Amounts, if any, will accrue at a rate that is 1% higher than the interest rate on the Notes.

If the due date for any payment in respect of any Notes is not a Business Day at the place at which such payment is due to be paid, the Holder thereof will not be entitled to payment of the amount due until the next succeeding Business Day at such place, and will not be entitled to any further interest or other payment as a result of any such delay.

Principal, interest and premium, if any, on the Global Notes (as defined below) will be payable at the specified office or agency of one or more Paying Agents; provided that all such payments with respect to Notes represented by one or more Global Notes registered in the name of or held by Common Depositary or its nominee will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the account specified by the Holder or Holders thereof.

Principal, interest and premium, if any, on any certificated securities (“Definitive Registered Notes”) will be payable at the specified office or agency of one or more Paying Agents maintained for such purposes in London, United Kingdom and New York, New York. In addition, at the option of the Issuer, interest on the Definitive Registered Notes may be paid by check mailed to the Person entitled thereto as shown on the register for the Definitive Registered Notes. See “—Paying Agent and Registrar for the Notes”.

The Issuer will maintain one or more paying agents for the Notes (each, a “Paying Agent” and, together the “Paying Agents”) in (i) the City of London, United Kingdom (the “Principal Paying Agent”) and (ii) New York, New York. The Issuer will also undertake to maintain a Paying Agent in a European Union member state that will not be obliged to withhold or deduct tax pursuant to the European Union Directive 2003/48/EC (as amended from time to time) or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26 and 27 November 2000 regarding the taxation of savings income (the “Directive”), or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to such Directive. The Principal Paying Agent will be Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch in London and the U.S. Paying Agent will be Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas in New York.

The Issuer will also maintain one or more registrars (each, a “Registrar”). The initial Registrar will be Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas. The Issuer will also maintain a transfer agent. The initial transfer agent will be Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas. The Registrar will maintain a register reflecting ownership of Definitive Registered Notes (as defined herein) outstanding from time to time, if any, and will facilitate transfers of Definitive Registered Notes on behalf of the Issuer. Each transfer agent shall perform the functions of a transfer agent. Each Registrar shall provide a copy of the register and any update thereof to the Issuer and the Issuer shall maintain a register of the Notes at its registered office in order to comply with Luxembourg law (the “Duplicate Register”). In case of discrepancy between any register and the Duplicate Register, the Duplicate Register shall prevail for Luxembourg law purposes.

The Issuer may change any Paying Agents, Registrars or transfer agents for the Notes without prior notice to the Holders of such Notes. However, for so long as Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a notice of any change of Paying Agent, Registrar or transfer agent on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules and the regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar in respect of the Notes.

The Notes have been issued in the form of several registered notes in global form, without interest coupons, as follows:

- The Notes sold within the United States to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act will initially be represented by a global note in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “144A Global Notes”).
- The 144A Global Notes were deposited with a custodian for The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) and registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC on the Issue Date.

- The Notes sold outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act will initially be represented by a global note in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “Regulation S Global Notes,” and together with the 144A Global Notes, the “Global Notes”).
- During the 40-day “distribution compliance period” (as such term is defined in Rule 902 of Regulation S under the Securities Act), the Regulation S Global Notes will initially be credited within DTC for the accounts of Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme (“Clearstream”). After the 40-day distribution compliance period ends, investors may also hold their interests in the permanent Regulation S Global Note through organizations other than Clearstream or Euroclear that are DTC participants.

During the 40-day distribution compliance period, book-entry interests in the Regulation S Global Note may be (1) held only through through DTC for the account of Euroclear and Clearstream, and (2) transferred only to non-U.S. persons under Regulation S or qualified institutional buyers under Rule 144A. Ownership of interests in the Global Notes (“Book-Entry Interests”) will be limited to persons that have accounts DTC, or persons that may hold interests through such participants. Ownership of interests in the Book-Entry Interests and transfers thereof will be subject to the restrictions on transfer and certification requirements summarized below and described more fully under “Transfer Restrictions”. In addition, transfers of Book-Entry Interests between participants in DTC will be effected by DTC, pursuant to customary procedures and subject to the applicable rules and procedures established by DTC and its participants.

Book-Entry Interests in the 144A Global Note may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of Book-Entry Interests in the Regulation S Global Note only upon delivery by the transferor of a written certification (in the form provided in the indenture) to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Regulation S Book-Entry Interests may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of 144A Book-Entry Interests only upon delivery by the transferor of a written certification (in the form provided in the Indenture) to the effect that such transfer is being made to a person who the transferor reasonably believes is a “qualified institutional buyer” within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A or otherwise in accordance with the transfer restrictions described under “Transfer Restrictions” and in accordance with any applicable securities law of any other jurisdiction.

Any Book-Entry Interest that is transferred as described in the immediately preceding paragraphs will, upon transfer, cease to be a Book-Entry Interest in the Global Note from which it was transferred and will become a Book-Entry Interest in the Global Note to which it was transferred.

Accordingly, from and after such transfer, it will become subject to all transfer restrictions, if any, and other procedures applicable to Book-Entry Interests in the Global Note to which it was transferred.

If Definitive Registered Notes are issued, they will be issued only in minimum denominations of $200,000 principal amount, as the case may be, and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, upon receipt by the Registrar of instructions relating thereto and any certificates, opinions and other documentation required by the Indenture. It is expected that such instructions will be based upon directions received by DTC from the participant which owns the relevant Book-Entry Interests. Definitive Registered Notes issued in exchange for a Book-Entry Interest will, except as set forth in the Indenture or as otherwise determined by the Issuer to be in compliance with applicable law, be subject to, and will have a legend with respect to, the restrictions on transfer summarized below and described more fully under “Transfer Restrictions”.

Subject to the restrictions on transfer referred to above, Notes issued as Definitive Registered Notes may be transferred or exchanged, in whole or in part, in minimum denominations of $200,000 in principal amount and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. In connection with any such transfer or exchange, the Indenture requires the transferring or exchanging holder to, among other things, furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents, to furnish information regarding the account of the transferee at DTC to furnish certain certificates and opinions, and to pay any taxes, duties and governmental charges in connection with such transfer or exchange. Any such transfer or exchange will be made without charge to the holder, other than any taxes, duties and governmental charges payable in connection with such transfer.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer is not required to register the transfer or exchange of any Notes:

- (1) for a period of 15 days prior to any date fixed for the redemption of the Notes;
- (2) for a period of 15 days immediately prior to the date fixed for selection of Notes to be redeemed in part;

- (3) for a period of 15 days prior to the record date with respect to any interest payment date; or
- (4) which the Holder has tendered (and not withdrawn) for repurchase in connection with a Change of Control Offer or an Asset Disposition Offer.

The Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agents, the transfer agents and the Registrar will be entitled to treat the registered holder of a Note as the owner of it for all purposes.

The Note Guarantees

General

The Notes have not been guaranteed as of the Issue Date. Although Altice International is a party to the Indenture on the Issue Date for the purposes of the covenants described below, Altice International's Note Guarantee will not be effective until the Completion Date occurs. Following the Completion Date, the Notes will be Guaranteed by the Completion Date Guarantors that grant a Note Guarantee on such date on a senior subordinated basis for the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of all payment obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the Notes, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The Note Guarantees of Cabovisao and Altice Portugal together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €95 million. The Note Guarantees of the ONI Group together with their guarantees of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to approximately €45.8 million.

Within 90 days after the Completion Date (if it occurs), the Notes will be guaranteed by the Post-Completion Date Guarantors. The Note Guarantee of Target, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €4,634.4 million. The Note Guarantee of PT OpCo, together with its guarantee of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, certain Hedging Obligations and certain future Indebtedness that may be incurred shall be limited to €968.4 million.

On the Issue Date and the Completion Date, the Notes did not and will not benefit from a direct guarantee from HOT or any of its Subsidiaries, from NewCo OMT or any of its Subsidiaries, from ABO or any of its Subsidiaries, or from Coditel Holding or any of its Subsidiaries.

The obligations of each Guarantor under its Note Guarantee are or will be, as applicable, contractually limited under the applicable guarantees to reflect limitations under applicable law with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partners. See "Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests".

The Issuer is a special purpose finance vehicle formed for the purpose of serving as the issuer of the Existing Senior Notes and the Notes and does not conduct, and will be prohibited by the Indenture from engaging in, any operations. On the Completion Date, the Issuer's only assets will be the shares it holds in the Senior Secured Notes Issuer and the Proceeds Loans made on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; and the Completion Date (if it occurs). As a result, the Issuer is wholly dependent on payments from the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, including payments made by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer under the Proceeds Loans, to fund its obligations under the Notes.

The Senior Secured Notes Issuer is a special purpose finance vehicle formed for the purpose of serving as the issuer of the Senior Secured Notes and does not conduct, and is prohibited by the Indenture and the indenture governing the Senior Secured Notes from engaging in, any operations. Upon completion of the Transactions, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer's only assets will be the Finco Proceeds Loans made on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; July 5, 2013; August 8, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; and the Completion Date (if it occurs); and (ii) cash in its bank accounts. As a result, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer is wholly dependent on payments from Altice International and its Subsidiaries including payments made by the borrowers under the Finco Proceeds Loans, to fund its obligations under the Senior Secured Notes and the loans under the Senior Credit Facilities to the extent it does not otherwise have funds available to it.

The operations of each of Altice International and each of the other Guarantors that are holding companies are conducted through their respective Subsidiaries and, therefore, each of Altice International and such other Guarantors depend on the cash flow of such Subsidiaries to meet its obligations, including its obligations under its Note Guarantee and the proceeds loan that has been Incurred by it. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Altice International and most of the other Senior Notes Guarantors are holding companies and conducts no business of their own and will depend on payments from their direct and indirect subsidiaries to provide them with funds to meet their obligations under the Senior Note Guarantees.”

Additional Note Guarantees

Altice International may from time to time designate a Restricted Subsidiary as an additional guarantor of the Notes (the “Additional Guarantors”) by causing it to execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture (and with such documentation relating thereto as the Trustee may reasonably require, including Opinions of Counsel as to the enforceability of such Note Guarantee), pursuant to which such Restricted Subsidiary will become a Guarantor.

Each Additional Guarantor will, jointly and severally, with the Guarantors and each other Additional Guarantor, irrevocably guarantee (each guarantee, an “Additional Guarantee”) on a senior subordinated basis the full and punctual payment when due, whether at Stated Maturity, by acceleration or otherwise, of all payment obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes, whether for payment of principal of or interest on or in respect of the Notes, fees, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The obligations of any Additional Guarantor will be contractually limited under its Additional Guarantee to reflect limitations under applicable law, including, among other things, with respect to maintenance of share capital applicable to such Additional Guarantor and its shareholders, directors and general partner. Subject to the foregoing, any Additional Guarantee issued by a Restricted Subsidiary shall be issued on substantially the same terms as the Note Guarantees of the Restricted Subsidiaries that will become Guarantors on the Completion Date. For purposes of the Indenture and this “Description of Senior Notes”, references to the Note Guarantees include references to any Additional Guarantees and references to the Guarantors include references to any Additional Guarantors.

The Note Guarantee of Altice International may be released:

- upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”;
- if Altice International is not the continuing or surviving Person in the relevant consolidation or merger, as a result of a transaction that complies with the provisions described under “—Merger and Consolidation—Altice International”; or
- upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes.

The Note Guarantee of a Subsidiary Guarantor will terminate:

- upon a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation, merger, amalgamation or combination) of the Capital Stock of the relevant Subsidiary Guarantor (whether by direct sale or sale of a holding company of such Subsidiary Guarantor) or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of the Subsidiary Guarantor (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary), in each case if the sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”;
- upon the designation in accordance with the Indenture of that Subsidiary Guarantor as an Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”;
- as described under “—Certain Covenants—Additional Guarantors”;

- with respect to any Subsidiary Guarantor that is not the continuing or surviving Person in the relevant consolidation or merger, as a result of a transaction that complies with the provisions described under “—Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors”; or
- upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes.

The Trustee and the Security Agent (as applicable) shall each take all necessary actions, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release of a Note Guarantee in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications. Each of the releases set forth above shall be effective without the consent of the Holders or any action on the part of the Trustee. Neither the Trustee nor the Issuer will be required to make a notation on the Notes to reflect any such release, termination or discharge.

Notes Security

General

As of the Issue Date, the Notes were secured only by a security interest in the Escrowed Property. On the Completion Date, the Notes will be secured by:

- security interests granted on a first-priority basis over all of the Capital Stock of the Issuer (the “Issuer Share Pledge”);
- a second-priority security interest over the Proceeds Loans made on December 27, 2012, July 2, 2013, March 12, 2014, April 9, 2014 and on the Completion Date;
- a second-priority security interest over all of the Capital Stock of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, Cool and Altice Holding; and
- a second-priority security interest in the Subordinated Shareholder Loan, collectively, the “Notes Collateral.”

The Notes Collateral will also secure the Existing Senior Notes and (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) will also secure Indebtedness under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations. The pledge agreements and the other security documents in respect of the Notes Collateral entered into on December 27, 2012; July 2, 2013; July 5, 2013; August 8, 2013; March 12, 2014; April 9, 2014; and to be entered into on the Completion Date (or any other date on which security interests in the Notes Collateral were granted in connection with existing Indebtedness) in respect of the Notes Collateral are referred to as the “Security Documents”. Any other additional security interests that may in the future be granted to secure the obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and the Indenture would also constitute Notes Collateral.

Subject to certain conditions, including compliance with the covenants described under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens” and “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests”, Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries are permitted to incur certain additional Indebtedness in the future that may be secured on the Notes Collateral, including any Additional Notes, additional Senior Secured Notes, certain Indebtedness under Credit Facilities and certain other Hedging Obligations, in each case, permitted under the Indenture.

The proceeds from the sale of the Notes Collateral remaining after sharing with other creditors entitled to share in such proceeds may not be sufficient to satisfy the obligations owed to the Holders of the Notes. No appraisals of the Notes Collateral have been made in connection with this offering of Notes. By its nature, some or all of the Notes Collateral will be illiquid and may have no readily ascertainable market value. Accordingly, the Notes Collateral may not be able to be sold in a short period of time, or at all. In addition, the Holders of the Notes will be subject to certain standstill provisions on enforcement of the Notes Collateral (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement. Furthermore, the Intercreditor Agreement places limitations on the ability of the Security Agent to release the security interests in some of the Notes Collateral, by reference to the interests of other creditors. These limitations may include requirements that some or all of the Notes Collateral be disposed of only pursuant to public auctions or only at a price confirmed by a valuation. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement” and “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—The value of the Collateral may not be sufficient to satisfy our obligations under the New Notes and such Collateral may be reduced or diluted under certain circumstances which may be time consuming and cumbersome” and certain Collateral and Guarantees will be limited to a specified maximum amount.

The creditors under the Existing Senior Notes, the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties to the Hedging Obligations secured by the Notes Collateral and the Trustee have and/or will have, and by accepting a Note, each holder will be deemed to have, irrevocably appointed the Security Agent to act as its agent and security agent under the Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents. The creditors under the Existing Senior Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties to the Hedging Obligations secured by the Notes Collateral and the Trustee have and/or will have, and by accepting a Note, each holder will be deemed to have, irrevocably authorized the Security Agent to (i) perform the duties and exercise the rights, powers and discretions that are specifically given to it under the Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents, together with any other incidental rights, power and discretions; and (ii) execute each Security Document, waiver, modification, amendment, renewal or replacement expressed to be executed by the Security Agent on its behalf.

Security Documents

Under the Security Documents, the Issuer and Altice International have granted or will grant security over the Notes Collateral to secure the payment when due of the Issuer's and the Guarantors' payment obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and the Indenture. The existing Security Documents have been, and the Security Documents to be entered into on the Completion Date will be, entered into by the relevant security provider and the Security Agent as agent for the secured parties referred to therein. When entering into the Security Documents, the Security Agent has acted and will act in its own name, but also as a representative of the secured parties (including the Holders from time to time). Under the Intercreditor Agreement, the Security Agent will also act on behalf of the holders of the Existing Senior Notes and the Senior Secured Notes, the lenders under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, and the Guarantee Facility, the counterparties under certain Hedging Obligations, and holders of any additional Indebtedness that is permitted to be secured by the Notes Collateral in favor of such parties.

The Indenture provides that, subject to the terms thereof and of the Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, as applicable, will be secured by the security interest in the Notes Collateral that is created by the Security Documents and secures obligations under the Notes or the Note Guarantees and the Indenture (the "Security Interests"). Such Security Interests in the Notes Collateral also secure the obligations under the Existing Senior Notes and (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) also secure the obligations under the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations and will secure certain other Indebtedness permitted by the Indenture to be Incurred in the future and secured by such Notes Collateral. The Issuer Share Pledge will also secure certain other Indebtedness permitted by the Indenture to be Incurred in the future and secured by the Issuer Share Pledge. However, the Security Interests may be released under certain circumstances as provided under "—Release of Note Collateral" below. See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to the New Notes and the Structure—There are circumstances other than repayment or discharge of the New Notes under which the Collateral and the Guarantees will be released automatically, without your consent or the consent of the Trustee".

The Security Documents provide that the rights with respect to the Notes and the Note Guarantees must be exercised by the Security Agent. Because the Holders will not be a party to the Security Documents, Holders may not, individually or collectively, take any direct action to enforce any rights in their favor under the Security Documents. The Holders may only act through the Security Agent.

In the event that the Issuer or other grantor of a security interest in the Notes Collateral enters into insolvency, bankruptcy or similar proceedings, the Security Interests created under the Security Documents or the rights and obligations enumerated in the Intercreditor Agreement could be subject to potential challenges. If any challenge to the validity of the Security Interests or the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement were successful, the Holders might not be able to recover any amounts under the Security Documents. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Each Guarantee will be subject to certain limitations on enforcement and may be limited by applicable laws or subject to certain defenses that may limit its validity and enforceability" and "Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests".

The Issuer and the Guarantors will be entitled to release the Security Interests in respect of the Notes Collateral securing the Notes and the Note Guarantees under any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (1) in connection with any sale or other disposition of the Notes Collateral (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) to a Person that is not Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (but excluding any transaction subject to "—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation"), if such sale or other disposition does not violate the covenant described under "—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock", but only in respect of the Notes Collateral sold or otherwise disposed of;

- (2) in connection with the release of a Guarantor from its Note Guarantee pursuant to the terms of the Indenture, the release of the property and assets, and Capital Stock, of such Guarantor;
- (3) if Altice International designates any Restricted Subsidiary to be an Unrestricted Subsidiary in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Indenture, the release of the property, assets and Capital Stock of such Unrestricted Subsidiary;
- (4) upon legal defeasance, covenant defeasance or satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture, as provided in “—Defeasance” and “—Satisfaction and Discharge”;
- (5) in accordance with the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (see “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement—Restrictions on Enforcement”);
- (6) as described under “—Amendments and Waivers”, “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interests” and the second paragraph under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Liens”;
- (7) upon the full and final payment and performance of all obligations of the Issuer under the Indenture and the Notes;
- (8) to release and re-take any Lien on any Notes Collateral to the extent not otherwise prohibited by the terms of the Indenture, the Security Documents or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- (9) in connection with a transaction permitted by the covenant described below under the caption “—Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation”; or
- (10) with the consent of holders of at least 75% in aggregate principal amount of Notes (including, without limitation, consent obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for, or purchase of, the Notes);

provided that, the Security Interests created by the Escrow Assignments may only be released upon release of all of the Escrowed Property from the Escrow Account in accordance with the terms of the Notes Escrow Agreement.

Upon certification by the Issuer, the Trustee (to the extent action is required by it) and the Security Agent shall take all necessary actions, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications. The Security Agent and the Trustee (as applicable) will take all necessary action required to effectuate any release of the Notes Collateral, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the relevant Security Document. Each of the releases set forth above shall be effected by the Security Agent without the consent of the Holders or any action on the part of the Trustee.

The Proceeds Loans

On December 27, 2012, the Issuer made a loan to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, pursuant to a proceeds loan in aggregate principal amount of $425 million (the “Initial Proceeds Loan”). The Initial Proceeds Loan is subordinated to the Obligations of the Issuer under the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and its Hedging Obligations.

On July 2, 2013, the Issuer made a loan to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, pursuant to a proceeds loan in aggregate principal amount of €250 million (the “July Proceeds Loan”).

On March 9, 2014, the Issuer made a loan to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, pursuant to a proceeds loan in aggregate principal amount of €400 million (the “March Proceeds Loan”).

On April 12, 2014, the Issuer made loans to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, pursuant to proceeds loans in aggregate principal amount of €300 million and €900 million (together, the “April Proceeds Loans”).

On the Completion Date, the Issuer will make a loan to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, pursuant to a proceeds loan in aggregate principal amount of €340 million (equivalent) (the “Additional Proceeds Loan” and, collectively with the Initial Proceeds Loan, the July Proceeds Loan, the March Proceeds Loan and the April Proceeds Loans, the “Proceeds Loans”). The Additional Proceeds Loan will be subordinated to the Obligations of the Issuer under the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations.

The Initial Proceeds Loan, the July Proceeds Loan, the March Proceeds Loans and the April Proceeds Loans have been, and the Additional Proceeds Loan will be, assigned as Notes Collateral to secure the Obligations of the Issuer and the Guarantors under the Notes and the Note Guarantees on a junior basis and to secure the Obligations of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer under the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and its Hedging Obligations on a senior basis.

Intercreditor Agreement

The relative priority among (a) the lenders under the Revolving Credit Facilities, (b) the lenders under the Guarantee Facility, (c) the lenders under the Senior Credit Facilities, (d) the counterparties under certain Hedging Obligations secured on the Notes Collateral, (e) the holders of the Senior Secured Notes, (f) the holders of the Existing Senior Notes and (g) the Trustee and the Holders of the Notes under the Indenture with respect to the Security Interests in the Notes Collateral is established by the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, the Indenture, the Security Documents, and the security documents relating to the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, such Hedging Obligations, the Guarantee Facility, the Senior Secured Notes and the Existing Senior Notes which provide, among other things, that:

- (i) the obligations under the Senior Secured Notes, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility and certain Hedging Obligations are secured equally and ratably by a first-priority interest in the Notes Collateral; provided that any liabilities in respect of obligations under the Revolving Credit Facilities and such Hedging Obligations will receive priority with respect to any proceeds received from any enforcement of the security over any Notes Collateral and certain distressed disposals of the Notes Collateral; and
- (ii) the obligations under the Notes and the Note Guarantees, the Existing Senior Notes and guarantees thereof will be secured by second-priority interests in the Notes Collateral (other than the Issuer Share Pledge).

The Issuer Share Pledge will only secure the obligations under the Notes, the Note Guarantees and certain other Pari Passu Indebtedness that is permitted to be secured thereby including the Existing Senior Notes and guarantees thereof.

The Indenture and the Intercreditor Agreement restrict the ability of the Holders of the Notes or the Trustee to instruct the Security Agent to enforce the security interests over the Notes Collateral (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) and provide for the release of the Security Interests in certain circumstances upon enforcement by the lenders under the Revolving Credit Facilities, the lenders under the Guarantee Facility, the lenders under the Senior Credit Facilities or the holders of our other senior secured debt, including the Senior Secured Notes. In general, the rights of the security agent under the Intercreditor Agreement (acting on its own behalf or on behalf of the Holders) to take enforcement action under the Security Documents (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) with respect to the Notes Collateral are subject to certain standstill provisions similar to those that apply to the Note Guarantees and other limitations on enforcement.

Please see the section entitled “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Intercreditor Agreement”. In addition, in connection with the Incurrence of certain Indebtedness that is permitted by the Indenture to be secured on the Collateral, the Issuer will enter into Additional Intercreditor Agreements in compliance with the Indenture on substantially the same terms as the Intercreditor Agreement. See “—Certain Covenants—Impairment of Security Interest” and “—Additional Intercreditor Agreements; Agreement to Be Bound”.

Similar provisions to those described above may be included in any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (as defined below) entered into in compliance with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Additional Intercreditor Agreements”.

The Indenture also provides that each Holder, by accepting a Note, shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement and any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and to have authorized the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any such Intercreditor Agreement or any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

Restricted Subsidiaries and Unrestricted Subsidiaries

As of the Issue Date, all of Altice International’s Subsidiaries other than Green Datacenter and Auberimmo SAS were Restricted Subsidiaries. In addition, in the circumstances described below under “—Certain Definitions—Unrestricted Subsidiary”, Altice International will be permitted to designate Restricted Subsidiaries as Unrestricted Subsidiaries. Unrestricted Subsidiaries will not be subject to many of the restrictive covenants in the Indenture.

Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption

Concurrently with the closing of the offering of the Notes on the Issue Date, the Issuer entered into the Notes Escrow Agreement with the Trustee and the Escrow Agent, pursuant to which the initial purchasers deposited with the Escrow Agent an amount equal to the gross proceeds of this offering of the Notes into the Escrow Account. The initial funds deposited in the Escrow Account, and all other funds, securities, interest, dividends, distributions and other property and payments credited to the Escrow Account (less any property and/or funds paid in accordance with the Notes Escrow Agreement) are referred to, collectively, as the “Escrowed Property”. The Escrowed Property is controlled by the Escrow Agent, and pledged on a first ranking basis in favor of the Trustee on behalf of the holders of the Notes.

Pursuant to the Notes Escrow Agreement, the Issuer will be entitled to instruct the Escrow Agent to release some or all of the cash in the Escrow Accounts to invest such cash in certain permitted investments including in cash and/or any highly-rated stable net asset value money market fund. The Notes Escrow Agreement will require that all proceeds of such investments be deposited back into the relevant Escrow Account when such investments are sold, liquidated or otherwise returned.

In order to cause the Escrow Agent to release any Escrowed Property to the Issuer for purposes of completing the PT Portugal Acquisition (any such release, the “Release”), the Escrow Agent and the Trustee shall have received from the Issuer, on or before the Escrow Longstop Date, an officer’s certificate, in the form attached to the Notes Escrow Agreement:

- (i) (A) the Acquisition Agreement shall not have been modified, amended or waived in any respect that is material and adverse to the holders of the Notes without the prior consent of the Holders of a majority of the outstanding Notes (it being understood and agreed that any increase or reduction in the purchase price shall not be deemed to be materially adverse to the Holders of the Notes; provided that any increase in the purchase price shall not be funded by indebtedness of Altice International or any of its subsidiaries (including the PT Portugal Group)); and (B) the Acquisition Agreement remains in full force and effect; and
- (ii) as of the Completion Date, there are no events of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection with respect to the Issuer or Altice International;

provided that the release will occur promptly upon the satisfaction of the applicable conditions set forth above. Upon such release, the Escrowed Property will be paid out in accordance with the Notes Escrow Agreement and each Escrow Account will be reduced to zero.;

In the event that (a) the Completion Date does not take place on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date; (b) the Acquisition Agreement is terminated at any time prior to the Escrow Longstop Date; or (c) there is an event of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection with respect to the Issuer on or prior to the Escrow Longstop Date (the date of any such event being the “Special Termination Date”), the Issuer will redeem all of the Notes (the “Special Mandatory Redemption”) at a price (the “Special Mandatory Redemption Price”) equal to 100% of the initial issue price of such Notes, plus accrued but unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, from the Issue Date to the Special Mandatory Redemption Date (as defined below and subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date).

Notice of the Special Mandatory Redemption will be delivered by the Issuer, no later than one Business Day following the Special Termination Date, to the Trustee and the Escrow Agent, and will provide that the Notes shall be redeemed on a date that is no later than the fifth Business Day after such notice is given by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of the Notes Escrow Agreement (the “Special Mandatory Redemption Date”). On or before the Special Mandatory Redemption Date, the Escrow Agent shall pay to the Principal Paying Agent under the Indenture for payment to each holder of Notes to be redeemed the Special Mandatory Redemption Price for such holder’s Notes and, concurrently with the payment to such holders, shall deliver any excess Escrowed Property (if any) to the Issuer.

On the Issue Date, Altice International entered into a guarantee agreement pursuant to which it guarantees the Issuer’s obligations under the Notes in the event the Special Mandatory Redemption Price payable upon any Special Mandatory Redemption Price exceeds the amount of the Escrowed Property.

To secure the payment of the Special Mandatory Redemption Price, the Trustee granted, for the benefit of the holders of the Notes, security interests in the Escrow Account and the rights of the Issuer under the Notes Escrow Agreement (the “Escrow Assignments”).

If at the time of the Special Mandatory Redemption, the Notes are listed on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will notify the Luxembourg Stock Exchange that the Special Mandatory Redemption has occurred and any relevant details relating to such special mandatory redemption.

Optional Redemption

Except as described below and except as described under “Redemption for Changes in Withholding Taxes”, and “Escrow of Proceeds, Special Mandatory Redemption”, the Notes are not redeemable until February 15, 2020. On and after February 15, 2020 the Issuer may redeem all or, from time to time, part of the Notes upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice, at the following redemption prices (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount) plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts (as defined below), if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of the Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date), if redeemed during the twelve-month period beginning on February 15 of the years indicated below:

Year	Redemption Price
2021	102.542%
2022	101.271%
2023 and thereafter	100.000%

Unless the Issuer defaults in the payment of the redemption price, interest will cease to accrue on the Notes or the portion thereof called for redemption on the applicable redemption date. Any such redemption and notice may, in the Issuer’s discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent.

Prior to February 15, 2018, the Issuer may on any one or more occasions redeem up to 40% of the original principal amount of the Notes (including the principal amount of any Additional Notes, upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice, with funds in an aggregate amount (the “Redemption Amount”) not exceeding the Net Cash Proceeds of one or more Equity Offerings at a redemption price of 107.625% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); provided that:

- (1) at least 60% of the original principal amount of the Notes (including the principal amount of any Additional Notes) remains outstanding after each such redemption; and
- (2) the redemption occurs within 180 days after the closing of such Equity Offering.

Any redemption notice given in respect of the redemption referred to in the preceding paragraph may be given prior to completion of the related Equity Offering, and any such redemption or notice may, at the Issuer’s discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent, including the completion of the related Equity Offering.

In addition, prior to February 15, 2020, the Issuer may redeem all or, from time to time, a part of the Notes upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus the Applicable Premium and accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the applicable redemption date (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date). Any such redemption and notice may, at the Issuer’s discretion, be subject to the satisfaction of one or more conditions precedent.

If the Issuer effects an optional redemption of Notes, it will, for so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, inform the Luxembourg Stock Exchange of such optional redemption and confirm the aggregate principal amount of the Notes that will remain outstanding immediately after such redemption.

Sinking Fund

Except as described under “Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption”, the Issuer will not be required to make mandatory redemption payments or sinking fund payments with respect to the Notes.

Selection and Notice

If less than all of the Notes are to be redeemed at any time, the Notes for redemption will be selected in accordance with the procedures of DTC, or if DTC prescribes no method of selection, the Issuer will instruct the Trustee or the Registrar to select the Notes for redemption in compliance with the requirements of the principal securities exchange, if any, on which the Notes are listed, as certified to the Trustee or the Registrar or if the Notes are not so listed or such exchange prescribes no method of selection, then based on a method that most nearly approximates a pro rata selection or by lot; provided, however, that no Note of $200,000 in aggregate principal amount or less shall be redeemed in part and only

Notes in integral multiples of $1,000 will be redeemed. Neither the Trustee nor the Registrar will be liable for any selections made by it or DTC in accordance with this paragraph.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, the Issuer will (if such Notes are in certificated form) mail notice of redemption to Holders by first-class mail, postage prepaid, at their respective addresses as they appear on the registration books of the Registrar. If such Notes are in global form, notice of redemption will be delivered to DTC, for communication to the entitled account holder. Such notice of redemption may also be posted on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

If any Note is to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to that Note shall state the portion of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. In the case of a Definitive Registered Note, a new Definitive Registered Note in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of any Definitive Registered Note redeemed in part will be issued in the name of the Holder thereof upon cancellation of the original Definitive Registered Note. In the case of a Global Note, an appropriate notation will be made on such Note to decrease the principal amount thereof to an amount equal to the unredeemed portion thereof. Subject to the terms of the applicable redemption notice, Notes called for redemption become due on the date fixed for redemption. On and after the redemption date, interest ceases to accrue on Notes or portions of Notes called for redemption.

The Issuer may redeem the Notes, in whole but not in part, at its discretion at any time upon giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days' prior notice to the holders of the Notes (which notice will be irrevocable and given in accordance with the procedures described in "—Selection and Notice"), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the aggregate principal amount thereof, together with accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date fixed by the Issuer for redemption (a "Tax Redemption Date") and all Additional Amounts (if any) then due and which will become due on the Tax Redemption Date as a result of the redemption or otherwise (subject to the right of holders of the Notes on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date and Additional Amounts (if any) in respect thereof), if on the next date on which any amount would be payable in respect of the Notes, the Issuer or any Guarantor is or would be required to pay Additional Amounts, and (a) the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor cannot avoid such requirement by taking reasonable measures available to it (including the designation of a different Paying Agent), (b) in the case of a Guarantor, such amounts cannot be paid by the Issuer or any other Guarantor who in turn can pay such amounts without the obligation to pay Additional Amounts and (c) the requirement arises as a result of:

- (1) any amendment to, or change in, the laws or treaties (or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder) of a relevant Tax Jurisdiction (as defined in "—Withholding Taxes" below) which change or amendment is announced and becomes effective on or after the Issue Date (or, if the applicable Tax Jurisdiction became a Tax Jurisdiction on a date after the Issue Date, such later date); or
- (2) any amendment to, or change in, an official written interpretation or application of such laws, treaties, regulations or rulings (including by virtue of a holding, judgment or order by a court of competent jurisdiction or a change in published administrative practice) which amendment or change is announced and becomes effective on or after the Issue Date (or, if the applicable Tax Jurisdiction became a Tax Jurisdiction on a date after the Issue Date, such later date).

The Issuer will not give any such notice of redemption earlier than 60 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor would be obligated to make such payment or withholding if a payment in respect of the Notes was then due, and the obligation to pay Additional Amounts must be in effect at the time such notice is given. Prior to the publication or, where relevant, mailing of any notice of redemption of the Notes pursuant to the foregoing, the Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an opinion of independent tax counsel to the effect that there has been such amendment or change which would entitle the Issuer to redeem the Notes hereunder. In addition, before the Issuer publishes or mails notice of redemption of the Notes as described above, it will deliver to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate to the effect that (a) it or the relevant Guarantor cannot avoid its obligation to pay Additional Amounts by the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor taking reasonable measures available to it and (b) in the case of a Guarantor, the amounts giving rise to such obligation cannot be paid by the Issuer or any other Guarantor without the obligation to pay Additional Amounts.

The Trustee will accept and shall be entitled to conclusively rely without further inquiry on such Officer's Certificate and opinion of counsel as sufficient evidence of the existence and satisfaction of the conditions precedent as described above, in which event it will be conclusive and binding on the holders of the Notes.

For the avoidance of doubt, the implementation of European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of 26 and 27 November 2000 on the taxation of savings income or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to, such directive will not be a change or amendment for such purposes.

The foregoing will apply mutatis mutandis to any jurisdiction in which any successor Person to the Issuer is incorporated or organized, engaged in business or resident for tax purposes or any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of such Person on the Notes and any political subdivision thereof or therein.

Withholding Taxes

All payments made under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee will be made free and clear of and without withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future tax, duty, levy, assessment or other governmental charge, including any related interest, penalties or additions to tax (“Taxes”) unless the withholding or deduction of such Taxes is then required by law or by the official interpretation or administration thereof. If any deduction or withholding for, or on account of, any Taxes imposed or levied by or on behalf of (1) any jurisdiction in which the Issuer or any Guarantor is then incorporated or organized, engaged in business for tax purposes or resident for tax purposes or any political subdivision or governmental authority thereof or therein having power to tax or (2) any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of the Issuer or any Guarantor (including, without limitation, the jurisdiction of any paying agent for the Notes) or any political subdivision thereof or therein (each, a “Tax Jurisdiction”) will at any time be required to be made from any payments made under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, including, without limitation, payments of principal, redemption price, interest or premium, the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor, as applicable, will pay such additional amounts (the “Additional Amounts”) as may be necessary in order that the net amounts received in respect of such payments by each holder of the Notes after such withholding or deduction (including any such withholding or deduction from such Additional Amounts) will equal the respective amounts that would have been received in respect of such payments in the absence of such withholding or deduction; provided, however, that no Additional Amounts will be payable with respect to:

- (1) any Taxes, to the extent such Taxes would not have been imposed but for the existence of any actual or deemed present or former connection between the holder (or between a fiduciary, settler, beneficiary, member or shareholder of, or possessor of a power over the relevant holder, if the relevant holder is an estate, nominee, trust, partnership, limited liability company or corporation) or the beneficial owner of the Notes and the relevant Tax Jurisdiction (including, without limitation, being or having been a citizen, resident, or national thereof or being or having been present or engaged in a trade or business therein or having had a permanent establishment therein), other than connections arising from the holding of such Note or any Note Guarantee, the enforcement of rights under such Note or under a Note Guarantee or the receipt of any payments in respect of such Note or a Note Guarantee;
- (2) any Taxes, to the extent such Taxes were imposed as a result of the presentation of a Note for payment (where Notes are in the form of Definitive Registered Notes and presentation is required) more than 30 days after the relevant payment is first made available for payment to the holder (except to the extent that the holder would have been entitled to Additional Amounts had the Note been presented on the last day of such 30 day period);
- (3) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, personal property or similar Taxes or any excise Taxes imposed on transfers;
- (4) any Taxes withheld, deducted or imposed on a payment to an individual that are required to be made pursuant to European Council Directive 2003/48/EC or any other directive implementing the conclusions of the ECOFIN Council meeting of November 26 and 27, 2000 on the taxation of savings income, or any law implementing or complying with or introduced in order to conform to, such directive;
- (5) Taxes imposed on or with respect to a payment made to a holder or beneficial owner of Notes who would have been able to avoid such withholding or deduction by presenting the relevant Note to another Paying Agent in a member state of the European Union;
- (6) any Taxes payable other than by deduction or withholding from payments under, or with respect to, the Notes or with respect to any Note Guarantee;
- (7) any Taxes to the extent such Taxes are imposed or withheld by reason of the failure of the holder or beneficial owner of Notes, to comply with any reasonable written request of the Issuer addressed to the holder or beneficial owner and made at least 60 days before any such withholding or deduction would be payable to satisfy any certification, identification, information or other reporting requirements, whether required by statute, treaty, regulation or administrative practice of the relevant Tax Jurisdiction, as a precondition to exemption from, or reduction in the rate of deduction or withholding of, Taxes imposed by such Tax Jurisdiction (including, without limitation, a certification that the holder or beneficial owner is not resident in the Tax Jurisdiction), but in each case, only to the extent the holder or beneficial owner is legally eligible to provide such certification or documentation;

- (8) all United States federal backup withholding taxes;
- (9) any Taxes that are imposed or withheld pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), as of the Issue Date (or any amended or successor version of such sections), any regulations promulgated thereunder, any official interpretations thereof, any similar law or regulation adopted pursuant to an intergovernmental agreement between a non-U.S. jurisdiction and the United States with respect to the foregoing or any agreements entered into pursuant to section 1471(b)(1) of the Code; or
- (10) any combination of items (1) through (9) above.

Such Additional Amounts will also not be payable where, had the beneficial owner of the Note been the holder of the Note, it would not have been entitled to payment of Additional Amounts by reason of any of clauses (1) to (10) inclusive above.

In addition to the foregoing, the Issuer and the Guarantors, as the case may be, will also pay and indemnify the holder for any present or future stamp, issue, registration, court or documentary Taxes, or any other excise or property Taxes, charges or similar levies (including penalties, interest and any other reasonable expenses related thereto) which are levied by any Tax Jurisdiction on the execution, delivery, issuance, or registration of any of the Notes, the Indenture, any Note Guarantee or any other document or instrument referred to therein, or the receipt of any payments with respect thereto, or the enforcement of, any of the Notes or any Note Guarantee (limited, solely in the case of taxes attributable to the receipt of any payments with respect thereto, to any such taxes imposed in a Tax Jurisdiction that are not excluded under clauses (1) through (5) or (7) through (9) above).

If the Issuer or any Guarantor, as the case may be, becomes aware that it will be obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to any payment under or with respect to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, each of the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor, as the case may be, will deliver to the Trustee on a date that is at least 30 days prior to the date of that payment (unless the obligation to pay Additional Amounts arises less than 30 days prior to that payment date, in which case the Issuer or the relevant Guarantor shall notify the Trustee promptly thereafter) an Officer’s Certificate stating the fact that Additional Amounts will be payable and the amount estimated to be so payable. The Officer’s Certificate must also set forth any other information reasonably necessary to enable the Paying Agents to pay such Additional Amounts to holders on the relevant payment date. The Trustee shall be entitled to rely solely on such Officer’s Certificate as conclusive proof that such payments are necessary.

The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will make all withholdings and deductions required by law and will remit the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Tax authority in accordance with applicable law. The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will use its reasonable efforts to obtain Tax receipts from each Tax authority evidencing the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld. The Issuer or the relevant Guarantor will furnish to the Trustee (or to a holder or beneficial owner upon written request), within a reasonable time after the date the payment of any Taxes so deducted or withheld is made, certified copies of Tax receipts evidencing payment by the Issuer or a Guarantor, as the case may be, or if, notwithstanding such entity’s efforts to obtain receipts, receipts are not obtained, other evidence of payments (reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee) by such entity. Upon reasonable request, copies of Tax receipts or other evidence of payments, as the case may be, will be made available by the Trustee to the holders or beneficial owners of the Notes.

Whenever in the Indenture or in this “Description of Senior Notes” there is mentioned, in any context, the payment of amounts based upon the principal amount of the Notes or of principal, interest or of any other amount payable under, or with respect to, any of the Notes or any Note Guarantee, such mention shall be deemed to include mention of the payment of Additional Amounts to the extent that, in such context, Additional Amounts are, were or would be payable in respect thereof.

The above obligations will survive any termination, defeasance or discharge of the Indenture, and any transfer by a holder or beneficial owner of its Notes, and will apply, mutatis mutandis, to any jurisdiction in which any successor Person to the Issuer or any Guarantor is incorporated or organized, engaged in business for tax purposes or resident for tax purposes (and any political subdivision or governmental authority thereof or therein having power to tax) and any jurisdiction from or through which payment is made by or on behalf of such Person on the Notes or any Note Guarantee and any political subdivision thereof or therein.

Change of Control

If a Change of Control Triggering Event occurs, subject to the terms of the covenant described under this heading “Change of Control”, each Holder will have the right to require the Issuer to repurchase all or any part (equal to $200,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of such Holder’s Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount of the Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); provided, however, that the Issuer shall not be obliged to repurchase Notes as described under this heading, “Change of Control”, in the event and to the extent that it has unconditionally exercised its right to redeem all of the Notes as described under “—Optional Redemption” or all conditions to such redemption have been satisfied or waived. No such purchase in part shall reduce the principal amount at maturity of the Notes held by any holder to below $200,000.

Unless the Issuer has unconditionally exercised its right to redeem all the Notes as described under “—Optional Redemption” or all conditions to such redemption have been satisfied or waived, no later than the date that is 60 days after any Change of Control Triggering Event or, at the Issuer’s option, at any time prior to a Change of Control Triggering Event following the public announcement thereof or if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control, the Issuer will send a notice (the “Change of Control Offer”) to each Holder of any such Notes by mail or otherwise in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture, with a copy to the Trustee:

- (1) stating that a Change of Control Triggering Event has occurred or may occur and that such Holder has the right to require the Issuer to purchase all or any part of such Holder’s Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount of such Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest and Additional Amounts, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on a record date to receive interest on the relevant interest payment date) (the “Change of Control Payment”);
- (2) stating the repurchase date (which shall be no earlier than 30 days nor later than 60 days from the date such notice is mailed) (the “Change of Control Payment Date”) and the record date;
- (3) stating that any Note accepted for payment pursuant to the Change of Control Offer will cease to accrue interest after the Change of Control Payment Date unless the Change of Control Payment is not paid, and that any Notes or part thereof not tendered will continue to accrue interest;
- (4) describing the circumstances and relevant facts regarding the transaction or transactions that constitute the Change of Control Triggering Event;
- (5) describing the procedures determined by the Issuer, consistent with the Indenture, that a Holder must follow in order to have its Notes repurchased;
- (6) if such notice is mailed prior to the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event, stating that the Change of Control Offer is conditional on the occurrence of such Change of Control Triggering Event; and
- (7) certain other procedures that a holder of Notes must follow to accept a Change of Control Offer or to withdraw such acceptance.

The Issuer shall cause to be published the notice described above in a leading newspaper having a general circulation in London (which is expected to be the Financial Times) or through the newswire service of Bloomberg (or if Bloomberg does not then operate, any similar agency). In addition, if and for so long as the Notes are listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted for trading on the Euro MTF Market and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a public announcement with respect to the results of any Change of Control Offer in a leading newspaper of general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, post such notice on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The ability of the Issuer to repurchase Notes pursuant to a Change of Control Offer may be limited by a number of factors. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—We may not be able to obtain enough funds necessary to finance an offer to repurchase the New Notes upon the occurrence of certain events constituting a change of control triggering event (as defined in the New Indentures) as required by the New Indentures”.

On the Change of Control Payment Date, if the Change of Control Triggering Event shall have occurred, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful:

- (1) accept for payment all Notes or portion thereof properly tendered pursuant to the Change of Control Offer;

- (2) deposit with the Paying Agent an amount equal to the Change of Control Payment in respect of all Notes so tendered;
- (3) deliver or cause to be delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating the aggregate principal amount of Notes or portions of the Notes being purchased by the Issuer in the Change of Control Offer;
- (4) in the case of Global Notes, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the Principal Paying Agent the Global Notes in order to reflect thereon the portion of such Notes or portions thereof that have been tendered to and purchased by the Issuer; and
- (5) in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, deliver, or cause to be delivered, to the relevant Registrar for cancellation all Definitive Registered Notes accepted for purchase by the Issuer.

If any Definitive Registered Notes have been issued, the Paying Agent will, at the Issuer's expense, promptly mail to each Holder of Definitive Registered Notes so tendered the Change of Control Payment for such Notes, and the Trustee will promptly instruct its authenticating agent to authenticate and, at the Issuer's expense, mail (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) to each Holder of Definitive Registered Notes a new Definitive Registered Note equal in principal amount to the unpurchased portion of the Notes surrendered, if any; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount that is at least $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, the Issuer will publish a notice with respect to the results of the Change of Control Offer as soon as reasonably practicable after the Change of Control Payment Date on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

The Change of Control provisions described above will be applicable whether or not any other provisions of the Indenture are applicable. Except as described above with respect to a Change of Control Triggering Event, the Indenture does not contain provisions that permit the Holders to require that the Issuer repurchase or redeem the Notes in the event of a takeover, recapitalization or similar transaction. The existence of a Holder's right to require the Issuer to repurchase such Holder's Notes upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event may deter a third party from seeking to acquire Altice International or its Subsidiaries in a transaction that would constitute a Change of Control Triggering Event.

The Issuer will not be required to make a Change of Control Offer upon a Change of Control Triggering Event if a third party makes the Change of Control Offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements set forth in the Indenture applicable to a Change of Control Offer made by the Issuer and purchases all Notes validly tendered and not withdrawn under such Change of Control Offer. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, a Change of Control Offer may be made in advance of a Change of Control Triggering Event, conditional upon such Change of Control Triggering Event, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time of making of the Change of Control Offer.

If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes validly tender and do not withdraw such Notes in a Change of Control Offer and the Issuer, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Issuer as described above, purchases all of the Notes validly tendered and not withdrawn by such Holders, the Issuer or such third party will have the right, upon not less than 10 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to the Change of Control Offer described above, to redeem all Notes that remain outstanding following such purchase at a price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest to but excluding the date of the delivery of the notice for such redemption.

The provisions of the Indenture do not afford holders of the Notes the right to require the Issuer to repurchase the Notes in the event of a highly leveraged transaction, certain transactions with Altice International's management or its Affiliates or certain other sale transactions, including a reorganization, restructuring, merger or similar transaction (including, in certain circumstances, an acquisition of Altice International by management or its Affiliates) involving the Issuer that may adversely affect holders of the Notes, if such transaction is not a transaction defined as a Change of Control Triggering Event.

The Issuer will comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14(e) of the Exchange Act and any other securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Notes pursuant to this covenant. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of the Indenture, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations under the Change of Control provisions of the Indenture by virtue of the conflict.

The Issuer's ability to repurchase Notes issued by it pursuant to a Change of Control Offer may be limited by a number of factors. The existing indebtedness of the Issuer, Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries contains, and its respective future indebtedness may also contain prohibitions of certain events that would constitute a "change of control" or require such Indebtedness to be repurchased or repaid upon such a change of control. Moreover, the exercise by the Holders of their right to require the Issuer to repurchase the Notes could cause a default under, or require a repurchase of, such Indebtedness, even if the Change of Control Triggering Event itself does not, due to the financial effect of such repurchase on the Issuer. Finally, the Issuer's ability to pay cash to the Holders upon a repurchase may be limited by Altice International's and its Restricted Subsidiaries' then existing financial resources. There can be no assurance that sufficient funds will be available when necessary to make any required repurchases. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—We may not be able to obtain enough funds necessary to finance an offer to repurchase the New Notes upon the occurrence of certain events constituting a change of control triggering event (as defined in the New Indentures) as required by the New Indentures".

The definition of "Change of Control" includes a direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition of all or substantially all of the property and assets of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries taken as a whole to a Person (including any "person" (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act)), other than a Permitted Holder. Although there is a limited body of case law interpreting the phrase "substantially all", there is no precise established definition of the phrase "substantially all" under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve a disposition of "all or substantially all" of the property or assets of a Person. As a result, it may be unclear as to whether a Change of Control has occurred and whether a Holder may require the Issuer to make an offer to repurchase the Notes as described above. However, subject to the conditions specified in sub-clause (3) of "Certain Definitions—Change of Control", a Change of Control shall be deemed not to have occurred as a result of the sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition in one or a series of related transactions of any assets of Altice International and its Subsidiaries or the Target and its Subsidiaries (including the Capital Stock of the Target or any Subsidiary of Altice International or the Target) that is required pursuant to Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition or is taken to avoid or eliminate any impediment under Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition (including, without limitation, in response to any actions initiated by an administrative, regulatory or other governmental authority or private party under Competition Laws).

The provisions of the Indenture relating to the Issuer's obligation to make an offer to repurchase the Notes as a result of a Change of Control Triggering Event may be waived or modified with the written consent of holders of a majority in outstanding principal amount of the Notes.

Pursuant to the Minority Shareholder Call Options granted under the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements, each Minority Shareholder is entitled to re-acquire all or a portion of the shares of HOT sold by it to Cool in connection with the Take-Private Transaction at an exercise price equal to NIS 48 per share (subject to customary anti-dilution rights and purchase price adjustments) during the two-year period commencing on December 27, 2013. Subject to certain limitations, each Minority Shareholder Call Option may be exercised in up to three transactions. See "Description of our Business—HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements". The transfer of shares of Capital Stock of HOT upon any exercise of a Minority Shareholder Call Option will not be deemed to be an Asset Disposition under the Indenture. However, to the extent such proceeds are not used by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer to redeem the Senior Secured Notes, the Issuer will be required to offer to repurchase the Notes with the Net Cash Proceeds of such exercise as described below.

Any Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from any Minority Shareholder Option Exercise and not otherwise applied to repay or repurchase Senior Indebtedness of the Issuer will constitute "Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds". When the aggregate amount of Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds exceeds NIS 100 million (the "Minority Shareholder Option Offer Threshold"), the Issuer will be required within 35 Business Days to make an offer (a "Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer") to all holders of Notes and, to the extent the Issuer elects or the Issuer or a Guarantor is required by the terms of other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness, to all holders of such other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness to purchase the maximum principal amount of Notes and any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to which such Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer applies that may be purchased out of the Applicable Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Amount, at an offer price in respect of the Notes in an amount equal to (and, in the case of any Pari Passu Indebtedness, an offer price of no more than) 103% of the principal amount of the Notes and 103% of the principal amount of Pari Passu Indebtedness, in each case, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase, in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture or the agreements governing the Pari Passu Indebtedness, as applicable, and in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 principal amount and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof, provided that the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Threshold shall not apply in the event that (i) at the time of receipt of such Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, all Minority Shareholder Call Options have been exercised in full, (ii) all unexercised Minority Shareholder Call Options have expired pursuant to the terms of the relevant Minority Shareholder Purchaser Agreements or (iii) all unexercised Minority Shareholder Call Options have been terminated.

To the extent that the aggregate amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to a Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer is less than the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, Altice International may use any remaining Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds for general corporate purposes, to the extent not prohibited by the other covenants contained in the Indenture. If the aggregate principal amount of the Notes surrendered in any Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer by Holders and other Pari Passu Indebtedness surrendered by holders or lenders, collectively, exceeds the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds, the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds shall be allocated among the Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness. For the purposes of calculating the principal amount of any such Indebtedness not denominated in euro, such Indebtedness shall be calculated by converting any such principal amounts into their Euro Equivalent determined as of a date selected by the Issuer that is within the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period (as defined below).

To the extent that any portion of Net Available Cash payable in respect of the Notes is denominated in a currency other than the currency in which the Notes are denominated, the amount thereof payable in respect of such Notes shall not exceed the net amount of funds in the currency in which such Notes are denominated that is actually received by the Issuer upon converting such portion of the Net Available Cash into such currency.

The Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer, in so far as it relates to the Notes, will remain open for a period of not less than 20 Business Days following its commencement (the “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period”). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period (the “Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Purchase Date”), the Issuer will purchase the principal amount of Notes and, to the extent it elects, Pari Passu Indebtedness required to be purchased by it pursuant to this covenant (the “Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount”) or, if less than the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount has been so validly tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness validly tendered in response to the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer.

On or before the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Purchase Date, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful, accept for payment, on a pro rata basis to the extent necessary, the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or portions of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer, or if less than the Minority Shareholder Option Offer Amount has been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn and, in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate stating that such Notes or portions thereof were accepted for payment by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of this covenant. The Issuer or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, will promptly (but in any case not later than five (5) Business Days after termination of the Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds Offer Period) mail or deliver to each tendering Holder of Notes an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn by such Holder, and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer will promptly issue a new Note and in the case of Definitive Registered Notes, deliver or cause to be delivered to the relevant Registrar for cancellation all Definitive Registered Notes accepted for purchase by the Issuer (or, in the case of Global Notes, cause the Paying Agent to reduce the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Note), and the Trustee, upon receipt of an Officer’s Certificate from the Issuer, will authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder, in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount with a minimum denomination of $200,000. Any Note not so accepted will be promptly mailed or delivered (or transferred by book-entry) by the Issuer to the Holder thereof.

Certain Covenants

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, Incur any Indebtedness (including Acquired Indebtedness); provided, however, that:

- (1) the Senior Secured Notes Issuer may Incur Senior Secured Indebtedness if on the date on which such Senior Secured Indebtedness is Incurred, the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio would have been no greater than 3.0 to 1.0 determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if such Senior Secured Indebtedness had been incurred at the beginning of the relevant period; and
- (2) the Issuer may Incur Pari Passu Indebtedness if on the date of such Incurrence and after giving effect thereto on a pro forma basis the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not exceed 4.0 to 1.0, determined on a pro forma basis (including a pro forma application of the net proceeds therefrom), as if such Pari Passu Indebtedness had been incurred at the beginning of the relevant period.

The first paragraph of this covenant will not prohibit the Incurrence of the following items of Indebtedness:

- (1) Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to any Credit Facility (including in respect of letters of credit or bankers' acceptances issued or created thereunder), and any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof, in a maximum aggregate principal amount at any time outstanding not to exceed the greater of €1,500 million and 80% of Consolidated EBITDA; plus in the case of any refinancing of any Indebtedness permitted under this clause (1) or any portion thereof, the aggregate amount of fees, underwriting discounts, premiums and other costs and expenses Incurred in connection with such refinancing;
- (2) (a) Guarantees by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to the extent such guaranteed Indebtedness was permitted to be incurred by another provision of this covenant; provided that (i) if such Indebtedness is subordinated in right of payment to, or pari passu in right of payment with, the Notes or a Note Guarantee, as applicable, then the Guarantee of such Indebtedness shall be subordinated in right of payment to, or pari passu in right of payment with, the Notes or such Note Guarantee, as applicable, substantially to the same extent as such guaranteed Indebtedness and (ii) if such guarantee is of Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor, such Restricted Subsidiary complies with the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Additional Guarantors"; or (b) without limiting the covenant described under "—Limitation on Liens", Indebtedness arising by reason of any Lien granted by or applicable to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary securing Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary so long as the Incurrence of such Indebtedness is not prohibited by the terms of the Indenture;
- (3) Indebtedness of Altice International owing to and held by any Restricted Subsidiary or Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary owing to and held by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary; provided, however, that:
 - (a) if the Issuer or any Guarantor is the obligor on such Indebtedness and the payee is not the Issuer or a Guarantor, such Indebtedness must be unsecured and ((i) except in respect of the intercompany current liabilities incurred in connection with cash management positions of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries and (ii) only to the extent legally permitted (Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries having completed all procedures required in the reasonable judgment of directors or officers of the obligee or obligor to protect such Persons from any penalty or civil or criminal liability in connection with the subordination of such Indebtedness)) expressly subordinated to the prior payment in full in cash of all obligations then due with respect to the Notes, in the case of the Issuer, or the Note Guarantee, in the case of a Guarantor; provided that:
 - (i) any subsequent issuance or transfer of Capital Stock or any other event which results in any such Indebtedness being beneficially held by a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary; and
 - (ii) any sale or other transfer of any such Indebtedness to a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary,

shall be deemed, in each case, to constitute an Incurrence of such Indebtedness not permitted by this clause (3) by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be;

- (4) (a) Indebtedness represented by the Notes (other than any Additional Notes) issued on the Issue Date and the Note Guarantees and the Indebtedness under the New Senior Credit Facility incurred on or prior to the Completion Date in an aggregate amount not to exceed €841 million (equivalent as of the date of the New Senior Credit Facility) and the Guarantees thereof, (b) any Indebtedness (other than Indebtedness described in clauses (1) and (3) of this paragraph) outstanding on the Issue Date, after giving effect to the Transactions, including the Issuance of the Notes and the application of the proceeds thereof (including after such proceeds of the Notes are released from the Escrow Account), (c) Refinancing Indebtedness Incurred in exchange for, or the net proceeds of which are used to renew, refund, refinance, replace, defease or discharge any, or otherwise Incurred in respect of any, Indebtedness described in sub-clauses (a), (b) or (c) of this clause (4) or clause (5) of this paragraph or Incurred pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant, (d) Management Advances and (e) Indebtedness represented by the Security Documents, the HOT Security Documents and the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents and, including, with respect to each such Indebtedness "parallel debt" obligations created under the Intercreditor Agreement, the Security Documents, the HOT Security Documents and the OMT Proceeds Loans Security Documents;
- (5) Indebtedness of (i) any Person outstanding on the date on which such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary or is merged, consolidated, amalgamated or otherwise combined with (including pursuant to any acquisition of assets and assumption of related liabilities) Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or (ii) the Issuer or a

Guarantor Incurred to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which a Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was otherwise acquired by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or otherwise in connection with or contemplation of such acquisition; provided, however, with respect to each of clause (5)(i) and (5)(ii), that immediately following the consummation of such acquisition or other transaction, (x)(i) if such Indebtedness is Senior Secured Indebtedness, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer would have been able to Incur €1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant after giving effect to the Incurrence of such Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (5) or (ii) the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such acquisition or other transaction; and (y)(i) if such Indebtedness is not Senior Secured Indebtedness, the Issuer would have been able to Incur € 1.00 of additional Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant after giving effect to the Incurrence of such Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (5) or (ii) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such acquisition or other transaction;

- (6) [Reserved];
- (7) (a) Indebtedness under Currency Agreements (other than Currency Agreements described in (b) below), Interest Rate Agreements and Commodity Hedging Agreements and (b) Indebtedness under Currency Agreements entered into in order to hedge any operating expenses and capital expenditures Incurred in the ordinary course of business so long as (i) such operating expenses and capital expenditures are denominated in euro or U.S. dollars and (ii) the term of any such Currency Agreement is not more than 360 days; in each case with respect to clauses (a) and (b) hereof, entered into for bona fide hedging purposes of Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries and not for speculative purposes (as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International);
- (8) Indebtedness consisting of (A) mortgage financings, Purchase Money Obligations or other financings Incurred for the purpose of financing all or any part of the purchase price or cost of design, construction, installation or improvement of property (real or personal), plant or equipment or other assets (including Capital Stock) used or useful in a Similar Business or (B) Indebtedness otherwise Incurred to finance the purchase, lease, rental or cost of design, construction, installation or improvement of property (real or personal), plant or equipment that is used or useful in a Similar Business, whether through the direct purchase of assets or the Capital Stock of any Person owning such assets, and any Indebtedness which refinances, replaces or refunds such Indebtedness, in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (8) and then outstanding, will not exceed at any time outstanding the greater of €350 million and 2.8% of Total Assets;
- (9) Indebtedness in respect of (a) workers' compensation claims, self-insurance obligations, performance, indemnity, surety, judgment, appeal, advance payment, customs, VAT or other tax or other guarantees or other similar bonds, instruments or obligations and completion guarantees and warranties provided by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or relating to liabilities, obligations or guarantees Incurred in the ordinary course of business or in respect of any governmental requirement, including in relation to a governmental requirement to provide a guarantee or bond, (b) letters of credit, bankers' acceptances, guarantees or other similar instruments or obligations issued or relating to liabilities or obligations Incurred in the ordinary course of business, provided, however, that upon the drawing of such letters of credit or other instrument, such obligations are reimbursed within 30 days following such drawing; (c) the financing of insurance premiums in the ordinary course of business; and (d) any customary cash management, cash pooling or netting or setting off arrangements in the ordinary course of business;
- (10) Indebtedness arising from agreements providing for customary guarantees, indemnification, obligations in respect of earnouts or other adjustments of purchase price or, in each case, similar obligations, in each case, Incurred or assumed in connection with the acquisition or disposition of any business or assets or Person or any Capital Stock of a Subsidiary (other than Guarantees of Indebtedness Incurred by any Person acquiring or disposing of such business or assets or such Subsidiary for the purpose of financing such acquisition or disposition); provided that the maximum liability of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries in respect of all such Indebtedness in connection with such disposition shall at no time exceed the gross proceeds, including the fair market value of non-cash proceeds (measured at the time received and without giving effect to any subsequent changes in value), actually received by Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries in connection with such disposition;
- (11) Indebtedness arising from the honoring by a bank or other financial institution of a check, draft or similar instrument drawn against insufficient funds in the ordinary course of business; provided, however, that such Indebtedness is extinguished within 30 Business Days of Incurrence;

- (12) Indebtedness under daylight borrowing facilities incurred in connection with any refinancing of Indebtedness (including by way of set-off or exchange); provided that such Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of the Indebtedness being refinanced and the aggregate amount of fees, underwriting discounts, premiums and other costs and expenses Incurred in connection with such refinancing, so long as any such Indebtedness is repaid within three days of the date on which such Indebtedness is Incurred;
- (13) Indebtedness Incurred by a Receivables Subsidiary in a Qualified Receivables Financing;
- (14) Indebtedness Incurred by the Issuer or a Guarantor (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof) or Disqualified Stock of Altice International in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (14) and then outstanding, will not exceed 100% of the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries from the issuance or sale (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) of its Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) or Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock, Designated Preference Shares or an Excluded Contribution) or otherwise contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock, Designated Preference Shares or an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International, in each case, subsequent to the Issue Date; provided, however, that (i) any such Net Cash Proceeds that are so received or contributed shall be excluded for purposes of making Restricted Payments under the first paragraph and clauses (1), (6) and (10) of the third paragraph of the covenant described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” to the extent Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary incurs Indebtedness in reliance thereon and (ii) any Net Cash Proceeds that are so received or contributed shall be excluded for purposes of Incurring Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (14) to the extent Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary makes a Restricted Payment under the first paragraph and clauses (1), (6) and (10) of the third paragraph of the covenant described below under “—Certain Covenants—Limitation on Restricted Payments” in reliance thereon;
- (15) Indebtedness Incurred (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect thereof) in an aggregate outstanding principal amount which, when taken together with the principal amount of all other Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to this clause (15) and then outstanding, will not exceed the greater of €500 million and 4.0% of Total Assets.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for so long as NewCo OMT is not a Guarantor, NewCo OMT and its Subsidiaries shall not be permitted to Incur more than €30 million of Indebtedness at any time outstanding excluding any Indebtedness referred to in clauses (2)(a) (to the extent the Guarantee(s) relate to Indebtedness Incurred under clause (3) above), (3), (4)(c), (5), (8), (9), (10) and (11) of the second paragraph of this covenant.

In the event the Issuer Incurs any Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant or clauses (8), (14) or (15) of the second paragraph of this covenant, the Issuer will substantially concurrently with the Incurrence of such Indebtedness (or in the case of any Indebtedness the proceeds of which are deposited into an escrow account or similar arrangement pending the occurrence of one or more events, concurrently with the release of such proceeds from such escrow account or similar arrangement (other than in the case that such proceeds are returned to the holders of, or lenders under, such Indebtedness pursuant to the terms of such escrow account or similar arrangement)), make one or more Proceeds Loans to one or more Guarantors with all or substantially all of the net proceeds of the Incurrence of such Indebtedness by the Issuer.

In the event the Senior Secured Notes Issuer Incurs any Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant or clauses (8), (14) or (15) of the second paragraph of this covenant, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer will substantially concurrently with the Incurrence of such Indebtedness (or in the case of any Indebtedness the proceeds of which are deposited into an escrow account or similar arrangement pending the occurrence of one or more events, concurrently with the release of such proceeds from such escrow account or similar arrangement (other than in the case that such proceeds are returned to the holders of, or lenders under, such Indebtedness pursuant to the terms of such escrow account or similar arrangement)), make one or more Finco Proceeds Loans to one or more Guarantors or (prior to the HOT Direct Obligation Event) to HOT and any of its Subsidiaries that are HOT Proceeds Note Guarantors (so long as HOT or such Subsidiary grants a Lien over its material assets and, in the case of such Subsidiary provides a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee, in the amount of such additional Finco Proceeds Loan) with all or substantially all of the net proceeds of the Incurrence of such Indebtedness by the Senior Secured Notes Issuer.

For purposes of determining compliance with, and the outstanding principal amount of any particular Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to and in compliance with, this covenant:

- (1) in the event that Indebtedness meets the criteria of more than one of the types of Indebtedness described in the first and second paragraphs of this covenant, the Issuer, in its sole discretion, will classify, and may from time to time reclassify, such item of Indebtedness and only be required to include the amount and type of such

Indebtedness in one of the clauses of the second paragraph or the first paragraph of this covenant; provided that Indebtedness Incurred under clause (1) of the second paragraph of the description of this covenant cannot be reclassified;

- (2) Guarantees of, or obligations in respect of letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments relating to, or Liens securing, Indebtedness that is otherwise included in the determination of a particular amount of Indebtedness shall not be included;
- (3) if obligations in respect of letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments are Incurred pursuant to any Credit Facility and are being treated as Incurred pursuant to clause (1), (8), (14) or (15) of the second paragraph above or the first paragraph above and the letters of credit, bankers' acceptances or other similar instruments relate to other Indebtedness, then such other Indebtedness shall not be included;
- (4) the principal amount of any Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, or Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, will be equal to the greater of the maximum mandatory redemption or repurchase price (not including, in either case, any redemption or repurchase premium) or the liquidation preference thereof;
- (5) Indebtedness permitted by this covenant need not be permitted solely by reference to one provision permitting such Indebtedness but may be permitted in part by one such provision and in part by one or more other provisions of this covenant permitting such Indebtedness; and
- (6) the amount of Indebtedness issued at a price that is less than the principal amount thereof will be equal to the amount of the liability in respect thereof determined on the basis of IFRS.

Accrual of interest, accrual of dividends, the accretion of accreted value, the accretion or amortization of original issue discount, the payment of interest in the form of additional Indebtedness, the payment of dividends in the form of additional shares of Preferred Stock or Disqualified Stock or the reclassification of commitments or obligations not treated as Indebtedness due to a change in IFRS will not be deemed to be an Incurrence of Indebtedness for purposes of this covenant. The amount of any Indebtedness outstanding as of any date shall be (a) the accreted value thereof in the case of any Indebtedness issued with original issue discount and (b) the principal amount, or liquidation preference thereof, in the case of any other Indebtedness.

If at any time an Unrestricted Subsidiary becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, any Indebtedness of such Subsidiary shall be deemed to be Incurred by a Restricted Subsidiary as of such date (and, if such Indebtedness is not permitted to be Incurred as of such date under the covenant described under this "—Limitation on Indebtedness", the Issuer shall be in Default of this covenant).

For purposes of determining compliance with any euro-denominated restriction on the Incurrence of Indebtedness, the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in another currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was Incurred, in the case of term Indebtedness, or at the option of the Issuer, the date first committed, in the case of Indebtedness Incurred under a revolving credit facility; provided that (a) if such Indebtedness is Incurred to refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro, and such refinancing would cause the applicable euro-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such refinancing, such euro-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being refinanced; (b) the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of any such Indebtedness outstanding on the Issue Date shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the Issue Date; and (c) if any such Indebtedness that is denominated in a currency other than euro is subject to a Currency Agreement with respect to the currency in which such Indebtedness is denominated covering principal amount and interest payable on such Indebtedness, the amount of such Indebtedness, will be the Euro Equivalent of the principal payment required to be made under such Currency Agreement plus the Euro Equivalent of any premium which is at such time due and payable but is not covered by such Currency Agreement.

For purposes of determining compliance with the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio on the Incurrence of Indebtedness, the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of Indebtedness denominated in another currency shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date such Indebtedness was Incurred, in the case of term Indebtedness, or at the option of the Issuer, the date first committed, in the case of Indebtedness Incurred under a revolving credit facility; provided that (a) if such Indebtedness is Incurred to refinance other Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro, and such refinancing would cause the applicable euro-denominated restriction to be exceeded if calculated at the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the date of such refinancing, such euro-denominated restriction shall be deemed not to have been exceeded so long as the principal amount of such Refinancing Indebtedness does not exceed the principal amount of such Indebtedness being refinanced; and (b) the Euro Equivalent of the principal amount of any such Indebtedness outstanding on the Issue Date shall be calculated based on the relevant currency exchange rate in effect on the Issue Date.

In addition, for purposes of calculating the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio to test compliance with any covenant in the Indenture, in determining the amount of Indebtedness outstanding in euro on any date of determination, with respect to any Indebtedness denominated in a currency other than euro (the “Foreign Currency”):

- (1) subject to a currency swap arrangement or contract, the aggregate principal amount of such Foreign Currency Indebtedness on any such date of determination shall be the euro amount of the aggregate principal amount to be paid by the Issuer or a Restricted Subsidiary on the maturity date of such currency swap arrangement or contract pursuant to the terms thereof; or
- (2) subject to a currency forward arrangement, forward accretion curve or contract, the aggregate principal amount of such Foreign Currency Indebtedness shall be converted into euro at the exchange rate specified under the terms of such currency forward arrangement, forward accretion curve or contract as applicable to such Foreign Currency Indebtedness on such date of determination.

For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding a Group member entering into any such arrangement or contract hedging foreign exchange exposure of any Foreign Currency Indebtedness, for the purposes of calculating the Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio or the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio, the aggregate principal amount of Indebtedness subject to any such arrangement or contract shall be attributed to the total Indebtedness of the Person that originally Incurred such Indebtedness.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this covenant, the maximum amount of Indebtedness that Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary may Incur pursuant to this covenant shall not be deemed to be exceeded solely as a result of fluctuations in the exchange rate of currencies.

Limitation on Restricted Payments

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly:

- (1) declare or pay any dividend or make any other payment or distribution on account of or in respect of Altice International’s or any Restricted Subsidiary’s Capital Stock (including, without limitation, any payment in connection with any merger or consolidation involving Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) except:
 - (a) dividends or distributions payable in Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock) or in options, warrants or other rights to purchase such Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock) or in Subordinated Shareholder Funding; and
 - (b) dividends or distributions payable to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (and, in the case of any such Restricted Subsidiary making such dividend or distribution, to holders of its Capital Stock other than Altice International or another Restricted Subsidiary on no more than a pro rata basis, measured by value);
- (2) purchase, redeem, retire or otherwise acquire for value (including, without limitation, any payment in connection with any merger or consolidation involving the Issuer or Altice International) any (a) Capital Stock of Altice International or any direct or indirect Parent of Altice International held by Persons other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary (other than in exchange for Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock)) or (b) Capital Stock of HOT (including the Minority Shareholder Call Options) held by any party to a Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreement (other than Cool);
- (3) make any principal payment on, or purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value, prior to scheduled maturity, scheduled repayment or scheduled sinking fund payment, any Subordinated Indebtedness (other than (a) any such payment, purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement or in anticipation of satisfying a sinking fund obligation, principal installment or final maturity, in each case, due within one year of the date of payment, purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement; and (b) any Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to clause (3) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”);
- (4) make any cash payment on or with respect to, or purchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire for value any Subordinated Shareholder Funding; or

- (5) make any Restricted Investment in any Person;

(any such dividend, distribution, payment, purchase, redemption, repurchase, defeasance, other acquisition, retirement or Restricted Investment referred to in clauses (1) through (5) are referred to herein as a “Restricted Payment”), if at the time Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary makes such Restricted Payment:

- (a) a Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing (or would result immediately thereafter therefrom);
- (b) the Issuer is not able to Incur an additional €1.00 of Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” after giving effect, on a pro forma basis, to such Restricted Payment; or
- (c) the aggregate amount of such Restricted Payment and all other Restricted Payments made by Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries subsequent to December 12, 2012 (and not returned or rescinded) (including Permitted Payments permitted below by clauses (5) (without duplication of amounts paid pursuant to any other clause of the immediately succeeding paragraph), (6), (10), (17) and (18) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, but excluding all other Restricted Payments permitted by the immediately succeeding paragraph) would exceed the sum of (without duplication):
- (i) an amount equal to 100% of the Consolidated EBITDA for the period beginning on the first day of the first full fiscal quarter commencing prior to December 12, 2012 to the end of Altice International’s most recently ended full fiscal quarter ending prior to the date of such Restricted Payment for which internal consolidated financial statements of Altice International are available, taken as a single accounting period, less the product of 1.5 times the Consolidated Interest Expense for such period;
- (ii) 100% of the aggregate Net Cash Proceeds, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International from the issue or sale of its Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) or Subordinated Shareholder Funding subsequent to the Issue Date or otherwise contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International subsequent to the Issue Date (other than (w) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities received from an issuance or sale of such Capital Stock to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, (x) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities to the extent that any Restricted Payment has been made from such proceeds in reliance on clause (6) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, (y) Excluded Contributions, and (z) Net Cash Proceeds received from the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes);
- (iii) 100% of the aggregate Net Cash Proceeds, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from the issuance or sale (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary subsequent to the Issue Date of any Indebtedness that has been converted into or exchanged for Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) or Subordinated Shareholder Funding (plus the amount of any cash, and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property or assets or marketable securities, received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary upon such conversion or exchange) but excluding (x) Net Cash Proceeds or property or assets or marketable securities to the extent that any Restricted Payment has been made from such proceeds in reliance on clause (6) of the immediately succeeding paragraph, and (y) Excluded Contributions;
- (iv) the amount equal to the net reduction in Restricted Investments made by Altice International or any of the Restricted Subsidiaries resulting from repurchases, redemptions or other acquisitions or retirements of any such Restricted Investment, proceeds realized upon the sale or other disposition to a Person other than Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary of any such Restricted Investment, repayments of loans or advances or other transfers of assets (including by way of dividend, distribution, interest payments or returns of capital) to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, which amount, in each case under this clause (iv), constituted a Restricted Payment made after the Issue Date; provided, however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (iv);

- (v) the amount of the cash and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property, assets or marketable securities received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in connection with:
 - (A) the sale or other disposition (other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or an employee stock ownership plan or trust established by Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International for the benefit of its employees to the extent funded by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) of Capital Stock of an Unrestricted Subsidiary of Altice International; and
 - (B) any dividend or distribution made by an Unrestricted Subsidiary to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary;

which Unrestricted Subsidiary was designated as such after the Issue Date; provided, however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (v); and

- (vi) in the case of the designation of an Unrestricted Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary or all of the assets of such Unrestricted Subsidiary are transferred to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, or the Unrestricted Subsidiary is merged or consolidated into Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, 100% of such amount received in cash and the fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of any property, assets or marketable securities received by Altice International or Restricted Subsidiary in respect of such redesignation, merger, consolidation or transfer of assets, excluding any amount of any Investment in such Unrestricted Subsidiary pursuant to clause (16) of the definition of "Permitted Investment", in each case of this clause (vi), which Unrestricted Subsidiary was designated as such after the Issue Date; provided however, that no amount will be included in Consolidated EBITDA for purposes of the preceding clause (i) to the extent that it is (at the Issuer's option) included under this clause (vi); provided further, however, that such amount shall not exceed the amount included in the calculation of the amount of Restricted Payments referred to in the first sentence of this clause (c).

- (1) any Restricted Payment made in exchange (including any such exchange pursuant to the exercise of a conversion right or privilege in connection with which cash is paid in lieu of the issuance of fractional shares) for, or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale (other than to Altice International or a Subsidiary of Altice International) of, Capital Stock of Altice International (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution), Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) or a substantially concurrent contribution to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International; provided, however, that to the extent so applied, the Net Cash Proceeds, or fair market value (as determined in accordance with the second last paragraph of this covenant) of property, assets or marketable securities, from such sale of Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding or such contribution will be excluded from clause (c)(ii) of the preceding paragraph and for purposes of the "Optional Redemption" provisions of the Indenture;
- (2) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor made by exchange for, or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent Incurrence of, Refinancing Indebtedness permitted to be Incurred pursuant to the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness" above;
- (3) (a) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary made by exchange for or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of Preferred Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, and (b) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary made by exchange for or out of the Net Cash Proceeds of the substantially concurrent sale of Disqualified Stock of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, that, in each case under (a) and (b), is permitted to be Incurred pursuant to the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness" above, and that in each case (other than such sale of Preferred Stock of Altice International that is not Disqualified Stock), constitutes Refinancing Indebtedness;

- (4) any purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition or retirement of Subordinated Indebtedness:
- (a) (i) from Net Cash Proceeds of the Minority Shareholder Option Exercises permitted under “—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds” above and from Net Available Cash to the extent permitted under “—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock” below, but only if the Issuer shall have first complied with the terms described under “—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds” above and “—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock”, as applicable, and purchased all Notes tendered pursuant to any offer to repurchase all the Notes required thereby, prior to purchasing, repurchasing, redeeming, defeasing or otherwise acquiring or retiring such Subordinated Indebtedness and (ii) at a purchase price not greater than 100% of the principal amount of such Subordinated Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest;
 - (b) to the extent required by the agreement governing such Subordinated Indebtedness, following the occurrence of a Change of Control (or other similar event described therein as a “change of control”), but only (i) if required, if the Issuer shall have first complied with the terms described under “Change of Control” and purchased all Notes tendered pursuant to the offer to repurchase all the Notes required thereby, prior to purchasing, repurchasing, redeeming, defeasing or otherwise acquiring or retiring such Subordinated Indebtedness and (ii) at a purchase price not greater than 101% of the principal amount of such Subordinated Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest; or
 - (c) consisting of Acquired Indebtedness (other than Indebtedness Incurred (A) to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was otherwise acquired by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or (B) otherwise in connection with or contemplation of such acquisition) and at a purchase price not greater than 100% of the principal amount of such Acquired Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest and any premium required by the terms of any Acquired Indebtedness;
- (5) any dividends paid within 60 days after the date of declaration if at such date of declaration such dividend would have complied with this covenant;
- (6) the purchase, repurchase, redemption, defeasance or other acquisition, cancellation or retirement for value of Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof) and loans, advances, dividends or distributions by Altice International to any Parent to permit any Parent to purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire, cancel or retire for value Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), or payments to purchase, repurchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire, cancel or retire for value Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), in each case from Management Investors; provided that such payments, loans, advances, dividends or distributions do not exceed an amount (net of repayments of any such loans or advances) equal to (1) €20 million in any calendar year (with unused amounts in any calendar year being carried over to the succeeding calendar years; provided that the aggregate Restricted Payments made under this clause (6) do not exceed € 20 million in any fiscal year), plus (2) the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International or the Restricted Subsidiaries since the Issue Date (including through receipt of proceeds from the issuance or sale of its Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding to a Parent) from, or as a contribution to the equity (in each case under this clause (6), other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International from, the issuance or sale to Management Investors of Capital Stock (including any options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof), to the extent such Net Cash Proceeds are not included in any calculation under clause (c)(ii) of the first paragraph of this covenant;
- (7) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Disqualified Stock, or of any Preferred Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary, Incurred in accordance with the terms of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” above;
- (8) purchases, repurchases, redemptions, defeasances or other acquisitions or retirements of Capital Stock deemed to occur upon the exercise of stock options, warrants or other rights in respect thereof if such Capital Stock represents a portion of the exercise price thereof;
- (9) dividends, loans, advances or distributions to any Parent or other payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in amounts equal to (without duplication) the amounts required for any Parent to pay:
- (a) any Parent Expenses or any Related Taxes; and

- (b) amounts constituting or to be used for purposes of making payments to the extent specified in clauses (2) (with respect to fees and expenses incurred in connection with the transactions described therein), (5) and (11) of the second paragraph under “—Limitation on Affiliate Transactions;”
- (10) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result therefrom) and for so long as Altice International or any Parent is a Public Company, the declaration and payment by Altice International of, or loans, advances, dividends or distributions to any Parent to pay, dividends on the common stock or common equity interests of Altice International or any Parent, in an amount not to exceed in any fiscal year the greater of (a) 6% of the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International from a Public Offering (other than the Initial Public Offering) or contributed to the equity (other than through the issuance of Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares or through an Excluded Contribution) of Altice International or contributed as Subordinated Shareholder Funding (other than the AI Mandatory Convertible Notes) to Altice International and (b) an amount equal to the greater of (i) 5% of the Market Capitalization and (ii) 5% of the IPO Market Capitalization; provided that after giving pro forma effect to such loans, advances, dividends or distributions, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio shall be equal to or less than 4.0 to 1.0; provided, further, that if such Public Offering was of Capital Stock of a Parent, the net proceeds of any such dividend are used to fund a corresponding dividend in equal or greater amount on the Capital Stock of such Parent;
- (11) payments by Altice International, or loans, advances, dividends or distributions to any Parent to make payments, to holders of Capital Stock of Altice International or any Parent in lieu of the issuance of fractional shares of such Capital Stock; provided, however, that any such payment, loan, advance, dividend or distribution shall not be for the purpose of evading any limitation of this covenant or otherwise to facilitate any dividend or other return of capital to the holders of such Capital Stock (as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International);
- (12) Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount outstanding at any time not to exceed the aggregate cash amount of Excluded Contributions, or consisting of non-cash Excluded Contributions, or Investments in exchange for or using as consideration Investments previously made under this clause (12);
- (13) payment of any Receivables Fees and purchases of Receivables Assets pursuant to a Receivables Repurchase Obligation in connection with a Qualified Receivables Financing;
- (14) dividends or other distributions of Capital Stock, Indebtedness or other securities of Unrestricted Subsidiaries;
- (15) so long as no Payment Block Event has occurred and is continuing, dividends or other distributions to Parent equal to the amount required by Altice S.A. for the payment of regularly scheduled interest as such amounts come due under the New ASA Notes.
- (16) the declaration and payment of dividends to holders of any class or series of Designated Preference Shares of Altice International issued after the Issue Date; provided, however, that the amount of all dividends declared or paid by Altice International pursuant to this clause (16) shall not exceed the Net Cash Proceeds received by Altice International from the issuance or sale of such Designated Preference Shares;
- (17) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result therefrom), any Restricted Payment to the extent that, after giving pro forma effect to any such Restricted Payment, the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would be no greater than 4.0 to 1.0; and
- (18) so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (or would result from), Restricted Payments in an aggregate amount outstanding at any time not to exceed the greater of €250 million and 2.0% of Total Assets.

The amount of all Restricted Payments (other than cash) shall be the fair market value on the date of such Restricted Payment of the asset(s) or securities proposed to be paid, transferred or issued by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, pursuant to such Restricted Payment. The fair market value of any cash Restricted Payment shall be its face amount, and the fair market value of any non-cash Restricted Payment or any other property, assets or securities required to be valued by this covenant shall be determined conclusively by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International acting in good faith.

For purposes of determining compliance with this covenant, in the event that a Restricted Payment meets the criteria of more than one of the categories described in clauses (1) through (18) above, or is permitted pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant, Altice International will be entitled to classify such Restricted Payment (or portion thereof)

on the date of its payment or later reclassify such Restricted Payment (or portion thereof) in any manner that complies with this covenant.

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, create, incur or suffer to exist any Lien upon any of their property or assets (including Capital Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary), whether owned on the Issue Date or acquired after that date, or any interest therein or any income or profits therefrom, which Lien is securing any Indebtedness (such Lien, the “Initial Lien”), except (a) in the case of any property or asset that does not constitute Notes Collateral, (i) Permitted Liens or (ii) Liens on assets that are not Permitted Liens if the Notes and the Indenture (or a Note Guarantee in the case of Liens of a Guarantor) are directly secured equally and ratably with, or prior to, in the case of Liens with respect to Subordinated Indebtedness, the Indebtedness secured by such Initial Lien for so long as such Indebtedness is so secured and (b) in the case of any property or assets that constitutes Notes Collateral, Permitted Collateral Liens.

Any such Lien created in favor of the Notes pursuant to clause (a)(ii) of the preceding paragraph will be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged upon (i) the release and discharge of the Initial Lien to which it relates, and (ii) otherwise as set forth under “—Notes Security—Release of Note Collateral.”

No Layering of Debt

The Issuer will not incur any Indebtedness (including any Indebtedness permitted to be incurred pursuant to the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”) that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Indebtedness of the Issuer unless such Indebtedness is also contractually subordinated in right of payment to the Notes on substantially identical terms (as determined in good faith by the Issuer); provided, however, that no Indebtedness will be deemed to be contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Indebtedness of the Issuer solely by virtue of being unsecured, by virtue of being secured with different collateral or by virtue of being secured on a junior priority basis.

No Guarantor will incur any Indebtedness (including any Indebtedness permitted to be incurred pursuant to the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”) that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any Senior Indebtedness of such Guarantor and senior in right of payment to such Guarantor’s Note Guarantee; provided, however, that no Indebtedness will be deemed to be contractually subordinated in right of payment to any Senior Indebtedness of any Guarantor solely by virtue of being unsecured, by virtue of being secured with different collateral, by virtue of being secured on a junior priority basis or by virtue of the application of waterfall or other payment-ordering provisions affecting different tranches of Indebtedness under Credit Facilities.

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, create or otherwise cause or permit to exist or become effective any consensual encumbrance or consensual restriction on the ability of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to:

- (A) pay dividends or make any other distributions in cash or otherwise on its Capital Stock to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary or pay any Indebtedness or other obligations owed to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary;
- (B) make any loans or advances to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; or
- (C) sell, lease or transfer any of its property or assets to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, provided that (x) the priority of any Preferred Stock in receiving dividends or liquidating distributions prior to dividends or liquidating distributions being paid on common stock and (y) the subordination of (including the application of any standstill requirements to) loans or advances made to Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to other Indebtedness incurred by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary shall not be deemed to constitute such an encumbrance or restriction.

The provisions of the preceding paragraph will not prohibit:

- (1) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to any Credit Facility or any other agreement or instrument, in each case, in effect at or entered into on the Issue Date (other than the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements), and any amendments, restatements, modifications, renewals, supplements, refundings, replacements or

- refinancings of such agreements; provided that the amendments, restatements, modifications, renewals, supplements, refundings, replacements or refinancings are not materially more restrictive, taken as a whole, with respect to such dividend and other payment restrictions than those contained in those agreements on the Issue Date (as determined in good faith by the Issuer);
- (2) the Minority Shareholder Purchase Agreements as in effect on December 12, 2012;
 - (3) encumbrances or restrictions existing under or by reason of the Indenture, the Notes, the Note Guarantees, the Senior Secured Notes Indentures, the Senior Secured Notes and the Guarantees thereof, the indenture governing the Existing ASA Notes, the Existing Senior Notes Indentures, the Existing Senior Notes and the Guarantees thereof, the Coditel Senior Credit Facility, the Coditel Intercreditor Agreement, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Existing ASA Revolving Credit Facility, the Notes Escrow Agreement, the Senior Secured Notes Escrow Agreement, the Security Documents, the Senior Secured Notes Security Documents, the HOT Proceeds Note, the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes, the HOT Security Documents, the HOT Credit Facility, the OMT Proceeds Loans and each OMT Proceeds Loans Security Document, the Finco Proceeds Loans (other than the HOT Proceeds Note) and the Proceeds Loan.
 - (4) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to an agreement or instrument of a Person or relating to any Capital Stock or Indebtedness of a Person, entered into on or before the date on which (i) such Person was acquired by or merged, consolidated or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, (ii) such agreement or instrument is assumed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in connection with an acquisition of assets or (iii) such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary (in each case, other than Capital Stock or Indebtedness Incurred as consideration in, or to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate, the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary or was acquired by Altice International or was merged, consolidated or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) and outstanding on such date; provided that, for the purposes of this clause (4), if another Person is the Successor Company (as defined under “—Merger and Consolidation”), or any Subsidiary thereof, any agreement or instrument of such Person or any such Subsidiary shall be deemed acquired or assumed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary when such Person becomes the Successor Company;
 - (5) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to an agreement or instrument effecting a refunding, replacement or refinancing of Indebtedness Incurred pursuant to, or that otherwise extends, renews, refunds, refinances or replaces, an agreement or instrument referred to in clause (1), (3) or (4) of this paragraph or this clause (5) (an “Initial Agreement”) or contained in any amendment, supplement or other modification to an agreement referred to in clause (1), (3) or (4) of this paragraph or this clause (5); provided, however, that the encumbrances and restrictions with respect to such Restricted Subsidiary contained in any such agreement or instrument are no less favorable in any material respect to the Holders taken as a whole than the encumbrances and restrictions contained in the Initial Agreement or Initial Agreements to which such refinancing or amendment, supplement or other modification relates (as determined in good faith by the Issuer);
 - (6) any encumbrance or restriction:
 - (a) that restricts in a customary manner the subletting, assignment or transfer of any property or asset that is subject to a lease, license or similar contract, or the assignment or transfer of any lease, license or other contract;
 - (b) contained in mortgages, pledges or other security agreements permitted under the Indenture or securing Indebtedness of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary permitted under the Indenture to the extent such encumbrances or restrictions restrict the transfer of the property or assets subject to such mortgages, pledges or other security agreements;
 - (c) pursuant to customary provisions restricting dispositions of real property interests set forth in any reciprocal easement agreements of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; or
 - (d) pursuant to the terms of any license, authorization, concession or permit;
 - (7) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to Purchase Money Obligations and Capitalized Lease Obligations permitted under the Indenture, in each case, that impose encumbrances or restrictions on the property so acquired or any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to a joint venture agreement that imposes restrictions on the transfer of the assets of the joint venture;

- (8) any encumbrance or restriction with respect to a Restricted Subsidiary (or any of its property or assets) imposed pursuant to an agreement entered into for the direct or indirect sale or disposition to a Person of all or substantially all the Capital Stock or assets of such Restricted Subsidiary (or the property or assets that are subject to such restriction) pending the closing of such sale or disposition;
- (9) customary provisions in leases, licenses, joint venture agreements and other similar agreements and instruments entered into in the ordinary course of business;
- (10) encumbrances or restrictions arising or existing by reason of applicable law or any applicable rule, regulation, governmental license or order, or required by any regulatory authority or stock exchange;
- (11) any encumbrance or restriction on cash or other deposits or net worth imposed by customers under agreements entered into in the ordinary course of business;
- (12) any encumbrance or restriction pursuant to Currency Agreements, Interest Rate Agreements or Commodity Hedging Agreements;
- (13) any encumbrance or restriction arising pursuant to an agreement or instrument relating to any Indebtedness permitted to be Incurred subsequent to the Issue Date pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness” if the encumbrances and restrictions contained in any such agreement or instrument taken as a whole are not materially less favorable to the Holders of the Notes than (i) the encumbrances and restrictions contained in the Revolving Credit Facilities or Senior Credit Facilities on the Issue Date, together with the security documents associated therewith, if any, and the Intercreditor Agreement as in effect on or immediately prior to the Completion Date or (ii) is customary in comparable financings (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) and where, in the case of clause (ii), the Issuer determines at the time of issuance of such Indebtedness that such encumbrances or restrictions (x) will not adversely affect, in any material respect, the Issuer’s ability to make principal or interest payments on the Notes as and when they become due or (y) such encumbrances and restrictions apply only if a default occurs in respect of a payment or financial covenant relating to such Indebtedness;
- (14) restrictions effected in connection with a Qualified Receivables Financing that, in the good faith determination of an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International, are necessary or advisable to effect such Qualified Receivables Financing; or
- (15) any encumbrance or restriction existing by reason of any Lien permitted under “—Limitation on Liens”.

Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock

The Issuer will not, and will not permit the Senior Secured Notes Issuer to make any Finco Asset Sale.

Subject to the immediately preceding paragraph, Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, make any Asset Disposition unless:

- (1) Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, receives consideration (including by way of relief from, or by any other Person assuming responsibility for, any liabilities, contingent or otherwise) at least equal to the fair market value (such fair market value to be determined on the date of contractually agreeing to such Asset Disposition), as determined in good faith by an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International, of the shares and assets subject to such Asset Disposition (including, for the avoidance of doubt, if such Asset Disposition is a Permitted Asset Swap); and
- (2) in any such Asset Disposition, or series of related Asset Dispositions (except to the extent the Asset Disposition is a Permitted Asset Swap), at least 75% of the consideration from such Asset Disposition or such series of related Asset Dispositions (excluding any consideration by way of relief from, or by any other Person assuming responsibility for, any liabilities, contingent or otherwise, other than Indebtedness) received by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, is in the form of cash, Cash Equivalents or Temporary Cash Investments.

After the receipt of Net Available Cash from an Asset Disposition, Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, may apply such Net Available Cash directly or indirectly (at the option of Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary):

- (a) (i) to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem any Senior Indebtedness within 395 days from the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash; provided, however, that, in connection with any prepayment, repayment or purchase of Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (a)(i), Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary will retire such Indebtedness and will cause the related commitment (if any) (except in the case of any revolving Indebtedness) to be permanently reduced in an amount equal to the principal amount so prepaid, repaid, purchased or redeemed; (ii) to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem any Pari Passu Indebtedness of the Issuer that is secured in whole or in part by a Lien on the Notes Collateral, which Lien ranks pari passu with the Liens securing the Notes, at a price of no more than 100% of the principal amount of such Pari Passu Indebtedness plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of such prepayment, repayment, purchase or redemption; provided that the Issuer shall prepay, redeem, repay or repurchase Pari Passu Indebtedness pursuant to this clause (ii) only if the Issuer makes an offer to the holders of the Notes to purchase their Notes in accordance with the provisions set forth below for an Asset Disposition Offer for an aggregate principal amount of Notes at least equal to the proportion that (x) the total aggregate principal amount of Notes outstanding bears to (y) the sum of the total aggregate principal amount of Notes outstanding plus the total aggregate principal amount outstanding of such Pari Passu Indebtedness; (iii) to prepay, repay, purchase or redeem any Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor; (iv) to purchase the Notes pursuant to an offer to all holders of Notes at a purchase price in cash equal to at least 100% of the principal amount of the Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of purchase (subject to the right of Holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date); or (v) in the manner specified under sub-clause (3) of the definition of “Change of Control”;
- (b) to the extent Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary elects, to invest in or purchase or commit to invest in or purchase Additional Assets (including by means of an investment in Additional Assets by a Restricted Subsidiary with Net Available Cash received by Altice International or another Restricted Subsidiary) within 395 days from the later of (i) the date of such Asset Disposition and (ii) the receipt of such Net Available Cash; provided, however, that any such reinvestment in Additional Assets made pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or a commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International that is executed or approved within such time will satisfy this requirement, so long as such investment or commitment to invest is consummated within 180 days of such 395th day;
- (c) to make a capital expenditure within 395 days from the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash; provided, however, that any such capital expenditure made pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or a commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International that is executed or approved within such time will satisfy this requirement, so long as such investment is consummated within 180 days of such 395th day; or provided that, pending the final application of any such Net Available Cash in accordance with clause (a), (b), (c) or (d) above, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may temporarily reduce Indebtedness or otherwise invest such Net Available Cash in any manner not prohibited by the Indenture.

Any Net Available Cash from Asset Dispositions that is not applied or invested or committed to be applied or invested as provided in the preceding paragraph will be deemed to constitute “Excess Proceeds”. On the 396th day (or the 576th day, in the case of any Net Available Cash committed to be used pursuant to a definitive binding agreement or commitment approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International pursuant to clauses (b) or (c) of the third paragraph of this covenant) after the later of (A) the date of such Asset Disposition and (B) the receipt of such Net Available Cash, if the aggregate amount of Excess Proceeds exceeds €25 million, the Issuer will be required within ten (10) Business Days thereof to make an offer (“Asset Disposition Offer”) to all holders of Notes and, to the extent the Issuer elects or the Issuer or a Guarantor is required by the terms of other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness, to all holders of such other outstanding Pari Passu Indebtedness to purchase the maximum principal amount of Notes and any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to which the Asset Disposition Offer applies that may be purchased out of the Excess Proceeds, at an offer price in respect of the Notes in an amount equal to (and, in the case of any Pari Passu Indebtedness, an offer price of no more than) 100% of the principal amount of the Notes and 100% of the principal amount of Pari Passu Indebtedness, in each case, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase, in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Indenture or the agreements governing the Pari Passu Indebtedness, as applicable, and in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

To the extent that the aggregate amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to an Asset Disposition Offer is less than the Excess Proceeds, the Issuer, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may use any remaining Excess Proceeds for general corporate purposes, to the extent not prohibited by the other covenants contained in the Indenture. If the aggregate principal amount of the Notes surrendered in any Asset Disposition Offer by Holders and other Pari Passu Indebtedness surrendered by holders or lenders, collectively, exceeds the amount of Excess Proceeds, the Excess Proceeds shall be allocated among the Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness to be purchased on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness. For the purposes of calculating the principal amount of any such Indebtedness not denominated in euro, such Indebtedness shall be calculated by converting any such principal amounts into their Euro Equivalent determined as of a date selected by the Issuer that is within the Asset Disposition Offer Period (as defined below). Upon completion of any Asset Disposition Offer, the amount of Excess Proceeds shall be reset at zero.

To the extent that any portion of Net Available Cash payable in respect of the Notes is denominated in a currency other than the currency in which the relevant Notes are denominated, the amount thereof payable in respect of such Notes shall not exceed the net amount of funds in the currency in which such Notes are denominated that is actually received by the Issuer upon converting such portion of the Net Available Cash into such currency.

The Asset Disposition Offer, in so far as it relates to the Notes, will remain open for a period of not less than 20 Business Days following its commencement (the "Asset Disposition Offer Period"). No later than five (5) Business Days after the termination of the Asset Disposition Offer Period (the "Asset Disposition Purchase Date"), the Issuer will purchase the principal amount of Notes and, to the extent it elects, Pari Passu Indebtedness required to be purchased by it pursuant to this covenant (the "Asset Disposition Offer Amount") or, if less than the Asset Disposition Offer Amount has been so validly tendered, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness validly tendered in response to the Asset Disposition Offer.

On or before the Asset Disposition Purchase Date, the Issuer will, to the extent lawful, accept for payment, on a pro rata basis to the extent necessary, the Asset Disposition Offer Amount of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness or portions of Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn pursuant to the Asset Disposition Offer, or if less than the Asset Disposition Offer Amount has been validly tendered and not properly withdrawn, all Notes and Pari Passu Indebtedness so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn and, in the case of the Notes, in minimum denominations of $200,000 and in integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The Issuer will deliver to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating that such Notes or portions thereof were accepted for payment by the Issuer in accordance with the terms of this covenant. The Issuer or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, will promptly (but in any case not later than five (5) Business Days after termination of the Asset Disposition Offer Period) mail or deliver to each tendering Holder of Notes an amount equal to the purchase price of the Notes so validly tendered and not properly withdrawn by such Holder, and accepted by the Issuer for purchase, and the Issuer will promptly issue a new Note (or amend the applicable Global Note), and the Trustee, upon delivery of an Officer's Certificate from the Issuer, will, via an authenticating agent, authenticate and mail or deliver (or cause to be transferred by book-entry) such new Note to such Holder, in a principal amount equal to any unpurchased portion of the Note surrendered; provided that each such new Note will be in a principal amount with a minimum denomination of $200,000. Any Note not so accepted will be promptly mailed or delivered (or transferred by book-entry) by the Issuer to the Holder thereof.

For the purposes of clause (2) of the first paragraph of this covenant, the following will be deemed to be cash:

- (1) the assumption by the transferee of Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (other than Subordinated Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor) and the release of Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary from all liability on such Indebtedness in connection with such Asset Disposition;
- (2) securities, notes or other obligations received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary from the transferee that are converted by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary into cash or Cash Equivalents within 180 days following the closing of such Asset Disposition, to the extent of the cash received;
- (3) Indebtedness of any Restricted Subsidiary that is no longer a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of such Asset Disposition, to the extent that Altice International and each other Restricted Subsidiary (as applicable) are released from any Guarantee of payment of such Indebtedness in connection with such Asset Disposition;
- (4) consideration consisting of Indebtedness of the Issuer or a Guarantor (other than Subordinated Indebtedness) received after the Issue Date from Persons who are not Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary; and
- (5) any Designated Non-Cash Consideration received by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in such Asset Dispositions having an aggregate fair market value, taken together with all other Designated Non-Cash Consideration received pursuant to this covenant that is at that time outstanding, not to exceed the greater of €185 million and 1.5% of Total Assets (with the fair market value of each item of Designated Non-Cash Consideration being measured at the time received and without giving effect to subsequent changes in value).

The Issuer will comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14(e) of the Exchange Act and any other securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Notes pursuant to the Indenture. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with provisions of this covenant, the Issuer will comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations under the Indenture by virtue of any conflict.

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, enter into or conduct any transaction or series of related transactions (including the purchase, sale, lease or exchange of any property or the rendering of any service) with any Affiliate of Altice International (any such transaction or series of related transactions being “Affiliate Transactions”) involving aggregate value in excess of €5 million unless:

- (1) the terms of such Affiliate Transaction taken as a whole are not materially less favorable to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary, as the case may be, than those that could be obtained in a comparable transaction at the time of such transaction or the execution of the agreement providing for such transaction in arm’s-length dealings with a Person who is not such an Affiliate; and
- (2) in the event such Affiliate Transaction involves an aggregate value in excess of €25 million, the terms of such transaction or series of related transactions have been approved by a resolution of the majority of the members of the Board of Directors of Altice International resolving that such transaction complies with clause (1) above; provided that an Affiliate Transaction shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirements set forth in this clause (2) of this paragraph if such Affiliate Transaction is approved by a majority of the Disinterested Directors. If there are no Disinterested Directors, any Affiliate Transaction shall also be deemed to have satisfied the requirements set forth in this covenant if Altice International or any of its Restrictions Subsidiaries, as the case may be, delivers to the Trustee a letter from an Independent Financial Advisor stating that such transaction is fair to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary from a financial point of view or stating that the terms are not materially less favorable to Altice International or its relevant Restricted Subsidiary than those that would have been obtained in a comparable transaction by Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary with an unrelated Person on arm’s length basis.

- (1) any Restricted Payment permitted to be made pursuant to the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”, any Permitted Payments (other than pursuant to clause (9)(b) of the third paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”) or any Permitted Investment (other than Permitted Investments as defined in paragraphs (1)(b), (2) and (17) of the definition thereof);
- (2) any issuance or sale of Capital Stock, options, other equity-related interests or other securities, or other payments, awards or grants in cash, securities or otherwise pursuant to, or the funding of, or entering into, or maintenance of, any employment, consulting, collective bargaining or benefit plan, program, agreement or arrangement, related trust or other similar agreement and other compensation arrangements, options, warrants or other rights to purchase Capital Stock of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent, restricted stock plans, long-term incentive plans, stock appreciation rights plans, participation plans or similar employee benefits or consultants’ plans (including valuation, health, insurance, deferred compensation, severance, retirement, savings or similar plans, programs or arrangements) or indemnities provided on behalf of officers, employees, directors or consultants approved by the Board of Directors of Altice International, in each case in the ordinary course of business;
- (3) any Management Advances and any waiver or transaction with respect thereto;
- (4) any transaction between or among Altice International and any Restricted Subsidiary (or entity that becomes a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of such transaction), or between or among Altice International, Restricted Subsidiaries or any Receivables Subsidiary;
- (5) the payment of reasonable fees and reimbursement of expenses to, and customary indemnities and employee benefit and pension expenses provided on behalf of, directors, officers, consultants or employees of Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any Parent (whether directly or indirectly and including through any Person owned or controlled by any of such directors, officers or employees);
- (6) the Transactions and the entry into and performance of obligations of Altice International or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries under the terms of any transaction arising out of, and any payments pursuant to or for purposes of funding, any agreement or instrument in effect as of or on the Issue Date, as these agreements and instruments may be amended, modified, supplemented, extended, renewed or refinanced from time to time (including, without limitation, to add additional Persons in connection with any such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary) in accordance with the other terms of this covenant or to the extent not more disadvantageous to the

Holders in any material respect and the entry into and performance of any registration rights or other listing agreement in connection with any Public Offering (including the Initial Public Offering);

- (7) execution, delivery and performance of any Tax Sharing Agreement or the formation and maintenance of any consolidated group for tax, accounting or management purposes in the ordinary course of business;
- (8) transactions with customers, clients, suppliers or purchasers or sellers of goods or services and Associates, in each case in the ordinary course of business (including, without limitation, pursuant to joint venture arrangements), which are fair to Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors or an officer of Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary, or are on terms no less favorable than those that could reasonably have been obtained at such time from an unaffiliated party;
- (9) any transaction in the ordinary course of business between or among Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary and any Affiliate of Altice International or an Associate or similar entity (in each case, other than an Unrestricted Subsidiary) that would constitute an Affiliate Transaction solely because Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or any Affiliate of Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or any Affiliate of any Permitted Holder owns an equity interest in or otherwise controls such Affiliate, Associate or similar entity;
- (10) (a) issuances or sales of Capital Stock (other than Disqualified Stock or Designated Preference Shares) of Altice International or options, warrants or other rights to acquire such Capital Stock or Subordinated Shareholder Funding; provided that the interest rate and other financial terms of such Subordinated Shareholder Funding are approved by a majority of the members of the Board of Directors of Altice International in their reasonable determination and (b) any amendment, waiver or other transaction with respect to any Subordinated Shareholder Funding in compliance with the other provisions of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, as applicable;
- (11) without duplication in respect of payments made pursuant to the definition of Parent Expenses, (a) payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to any Permitted Holder (whether directly or indirectly, including through any Parent) of annual management, consulting, monitoring or advisory fees and related expenses in an aggregate amount not to exceed an amount equal to the greater of €20 million or 1.0% of Consolidated EBITDA (as reported by Altice International in the financial statements delivered pursuant to clause (1) of the covenant under “Reports” for the most recent fiscal year ended prior to the date of determination) per year; (b) customary payments by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to any Permitted Holder (whether directly or indirectly, including through any Parent) for financial advisory, financing, underwriting or placement services or in respect of other investment banking activities, including in connection with acquisitions or divestitures, which payments in respect of this clause (b) are approved by a majority of the Board of Directors of Altice International in good faith; and (c) payments of all fees and expenses related to the Transactions;
- (12) any transaction effected as part of a Qualified Receivables Financing; and
- (13) any participation in a rights offer or public tender or exchange offers for securities or debt instruments issued by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries that are conducted on arm’s length terms and provide for the same price or exchange ratio, as the case may be, to all holders accepting such rights, tender or exchange offer.

Maintenance of Listing

The Issuer will use its commercially reasonable efforts to maintain the listing of the Notes on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the admission to trading on its Euro MTF Market for so long as such Notes are outstanding; provided that if at any time the Issuer determines that it will not maintain such listing, it will obtain prior to the delisting of the Notes from the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, and thereafter use its best efforts to maintain, a listing of such Notes on another recognized stock exchange.

Reports

For so long as any Notes are outstanding, Altice International will provide to the Trustee the following reports:

- (1) within 120 days after the end of Altice International’s fiscal year beginning with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2014, annual reports containing, to the extent applicable, and in a level of detail that is comparable in all material respects to the annual report of Altice International for the year ended December 31, 2013, the following information: audited consolidated balance sheet of Altice International as of the end of the most recent fiscal year (and comparative information as of the end of the prior fiscal year) and audited consolidated income statements and statements of cash flow of Altice International for the most recent fiscal year (and comparative information as of the end of the prior fiscal year), including complete footnotes to such financial statements and the report of the independent auditors on the financial statements (provided that for any fiscal year ended prior to the Issue Date, Altice International can provide pro forma or aggregated financial statements prepared on a basis consistent with the pro forma information contained in “Pro Forma” section of this Offering Memorandum to meet the requirements set forth above); unaudited pro forma income statement information and balance sheet information of Altice International (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include the provision of a full income statement or balance sheet to the extent not reasonably available), together with explanatory footnotes, for (i) any acquisition or disposition by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that, individually or in the aggregate when considered with all other acquisitions or dispositions that have occurred since the beginning of the most recently completed fiscal year as to which such annual report relates, represent greater than 20% of the consolidated revenues, EBITDA, or assets of Altice International on a pro forma consolidated basis or (ii) recapitalizations by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary, in each case, that have occurred since the beginning of the most recently completed fiscal year (unless such pro forma information has been provided in a prior report pursuant to clause (2) or (3) below); (c) an operating and financial review of the audited financial statements, including a discussion of the results of operations, financial condition, and liquidity and capital resources of Altice International, and a discussion of material commitments and contingencies and critical accounting policies; (d) description of the business, management and shareholders of Altice International, all material affiliate transactions and a description of all material contractual arrangements, including material debt instruments; and (e) a description of material risk factors and material recent developments (to the extent not previously reported pursuant to clause (2) or (3) below).

- (2) within 60 days following the end of the first three fiscal quarters in each fiscal year of Altice International beginning with the fiscal quarter ending March 31, 2015 (provided that, if the Completion Date occurs in any such fiscal quarter, the foregoing reference to 60 days shall be deemed to be 90 days for such fiscal quarter), all quarterly reports of Altice International containing the following information in a level of detail comparable in all material respects to the quarterly report of Altice International for the nine months ended September 30, 2014: (a) an unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheet as of the end of such quarter and unaudited condensed consolidated statements of income and cash flow for the most recent quarter year-to-date period ending on the date of the unaudited condensed balance sheet, and the comparable prior year periods, together with condensed footnote disclosure; (b) unaudited pro forma income statement information and balance sheet information (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include the provision of a full income statement or balance sheet to the extent not reasonably available), together with explanatory footnotes, for any acquisition or disposition by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that, individually or in the aggregate when considered with all other acquisitions or dispositions that have occurred since the beginning of the relevant quarter, represent greater than 20% of the consolidated revenues, EBITDA, or assets of Altice International on a pro forma consolidated basis (unless such pro forma information has been provided in a prior report pursuant to clause (3) below); (c) a summary operating and financial review of the unaudited financial statements, including a discussion of revenues, EBITDA, capital expenditures, operating cash flow, and material changes in liquidity and capital resources, and a discussion of material changes not in the ordinary course of business in commitments and contingencies since the most recent report; and (d) material recent developments (to the extent not previously reported pursuant to clause (3) below); and
- (3) promptly after the occurrence of such event, information with respect to (a) any change in the independent public accountants of Altice International, (b) any material acquisition, disposal, merger or similar transaction or (c) any development determined by an Officer of Altice International to be material to the business of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries (taken as a whole).

All financial statement information shall be prepared in accordance with IFRS as in effect on the date of such report or financial statement (or otherwise on the basis of IFRS as then in effect) and on a consistent basis for the periods presented; provided, however, that the reports set forth in clauses (1), (2) and (3) above may in the event of a change in IFRS, present earlier periods on a basis that applied to such periods. Except as provided for above, no report need include separate financial statements for Altice International or Subsidiaries of Altice International or any disclosure with respect to the results of operations or any other financial or statistical disclosure not of a type included in the Offering Memorandum and in no event shall U.S. GAAP information or reconciliation to U.S. GAAP be required.

At any time if any Subsidiary of Altice International is an Unrestricted Subsidiary and any such Unrestricted Subsidiary or group of Unrestricted Subsidiaries, if taken together as one Subsidiary, constitutes a Significant Subsidiary, then the quarterly and annual financial information required by the first paragraph of this covenant will include a reasonably detailed presentation, either on the face of the financial statements or in the footnotes thereto, of the financial condition and results of operations of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries separate from the financial condition and results of operations of the Unrestricted Subsidiaries of Altice International.

Substantially concurrently with the issuance to the Trustee of the reports specified in (1), (2) and (3) of the first paragraph of this covenant, Altice International shall also (a) use its commercially reasonable efforts (i) to post copies of such reports on such website as may be then maintained by the Issuer, Altice International and its Subsidiaries or (ii) otherwise to provide substantially comparable public availability of such reports (as determined by Altice International in good faith) or (b) to the extent Altice International determines in good faith that such reports cannot be made available in the manner described in the preceding clause (a) owing to applicable law or after the use of its commercially reasonable efforts, furnish such reports to the Holders and, upon their request, prospective purchasers of the Notes. Altice International will also make available copies of all reports required by clauses (1) through (3) of the first paragraph of this covenant, if and so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, at the Issuer's registered office in Luxembourg or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, post such reports on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

In addition, so long as the Notes remain outstanding and during any period during which the Issuer is not subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act nor exempt therefrom pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b), the Issuer shall furnish to the Holders and holders of beneficial interests in the Notes and, upon their request, prospective purchasers of the Notes or prospective and purchasers of beneficial interests in the Notes, the information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

The Issuer

The Issuer will not directly or indirectly: (1) consolidate or merge with or into another Person (whether or not the Issuer is the surviving corporation) or (2) sell, assign, transfer, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Issuer taken as a whole in one or more related transactions, to another Person.

Senior Secured Notes Issuer

The Senior Secured Notes Issuer will not directly or indirectly: (1) consolidate or merge with or into another Person (whether or not the Senior Secured Notes Issuer is the surviving corporation) or (2) sell, assign, transfer, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer taken as a whole in one or more related transactions, to another Person.

Altice International

Altice International will not consolidate with or merge with or into, or assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions to, any Person, unless:

- (1) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person (the "Successor Company") (if not Altice International) will be a Person organized and existing under the laws of any member state of the European Union, Switzerland, Canada, the State of Israel or the United States of America, any State of the United States or the District of Columbia and the Successor Company (if not Altice International) will expressly assume, (a) by supplemental indenture, executed and delivered to the Trustee, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, all the obligations of Altice International under the Notes and the Indenture and (b) all obligations of Altice International under the Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents, as applicable;
- (2) immediately after giving effect to such transaction (and treating any Indebtedness that becomes an obligation of the Successor Company or any Subsidiary of the Successor Company as a result of such transaction as having been Incurred by the Successor Company or such Subsidiary at the time of such transaction), no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing;
- (3) immediately after giving pro forma effect to such transaction and any related financing transactions, as if such transactions had occurred at the beginning of applicable four-quarter period, either (a) the Successor Company would be able to Incur at least an additional €1.00 of Indebtedness pursuant to the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness" or (b) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio would not be greater than it was immediately prior to giving effect to such transaction; and
- (4) the Issuer shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each to the effect that such consolidation, merger or transfer and such supplemental indenture (if any) comply with the Indenture and an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that such supplemental indenture (if any) has been duly authorized, executed and delivered and is a legal, valid and binding agreement enforceable against the Successor

Company (in each case, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee); provided that in giving an Opinion of Counsel, counsel may rely on an Officer's Certificate as to any matters of fact.

Subject to the last paragraph of the covenant "Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors", for purposes of this covenant, the sale, lease, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition of all or substantially all of the properties and assets of one or more Subsidiaries of Altice International, which properties and assets, if held by Altice International instead of such Subsidiaries, would constitute all or substantially all of the properties and assets of Altice International on a consolidated basis, shall be deemed to be the transfer of all or substantially all of the properties and assets of Altice International.

The Successor Company will succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of, Altice International under the Indenture but in the case of a lease of all or substantially all its assets, the predecessor company will not be released from its obligations under the Indenture or the Notes.

Notwithstanding the preceding clauses (2) and (3) (which do not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence) and clause (4) of the second paragraph of this covenant (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence in which Altice International is the Successor Company), (a) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to Altice International (so long as Altice International is a Guarantor); and (b) any Restricted Subsidiary that is not a Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other Restricted Subsidiary or Altice International. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (3) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence) of the second paragraph of this covenant, Altice International may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of Altice International, reincorporating Altice International in another jurisdiction or changing the legal form of Altice International.

There is no precise established definition of the phrase "substantially all" under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve "all or substantially all" of the property or assets of a Person.

The foregoing provisions (other than the requirements of clause (2) of the second paragraph of this "Merger and Consolidation" covenant) shall not apply to the creation of a new Subsidiary as a Restricted Subsidiary.

The Subsidiary Guarantors

None of the Subsidiary Guarantors (other than the Senior Secured Notes Issuer and a Guarantor whose Note Guarantee is to be released in accordance with the terms of the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement) may:

- (1) consolidate with or merge with or into any Person (whether or not such Guarantor is the surviving Person);
- (2) sell, assign, convey, transfer, lease or otherwise dispose of, all or substantially all its assets as an entirety or substantially as an entirety, in one transaction or a series of related transactions, to any Person; or
- (3) permit any Person to merge with or into it;

unless:

- (A) the other Person is Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary that is a Guarantor or becomes a Guarantor as a result of such transaction; or
- (B) (1) either (x) a Guarantor is the surviving Person or (y) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person expressly assumes all of the obligations of the Guarantor under its Note Guarantee and the Indenture (pursuant to a supplemental indenture executed and delivered in a form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee) and all obligations of the Guarantor under the Intercreditor Agreement and Security Documents, as applicable; and
(2) immediately after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing; or
- (C) the transaction constitutes a sale or other disposition (including by way of consolidation or merger) of a Guarantor or the sale or disposition of all or substantially all the assets of a Guarantor (in each case other than to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary) otherwise permitted by the Indenture and the proceeds therefrom are applied as required by the Indenture.

Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to transactions referred to in this sentence), (a) any Restricted Subsidiary may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to a Guarantor and (b) any Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with, merge into or transfer all or part of its properties and assets to any other Guarantor. Notwithstanding the preceding clause (B)(2) (which does not apply to the transactions referred to in this sentence), a Guarantor may consolidate or otherwise combine with or merge into an Affiliate incorporated or organized for the purpose of changing the legal domicile of the Guarantor reincorporating the Guarantor in another jurisdiction, or changing the legal form of the Guarantor.

There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

The provisions under this covenant “Merger and Consolidation—Altice International” and “Merger and Consolidation—The Subsidiary Guarantors” shall not apply to (1) any sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition in one or a series of related transactions of any assets of Altice International and its Subsidiaries or the Target and its Subsidiaries (including the Capital Stock of the Target or any Subsidiary of Altice International or the Target) that is required pursuant to Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition or is taken to avoid or eliminate any impediment under Competition Laws in relation to the Acquisition (including, without limitation, in response to any actions initiated by an administrative, regulatory or other governmental authority or private party under Competition Laws); provided that, solely to the extent Altice International is relying on the foregoing exception, in the event the fair market value of any such sold, leased, transferred, conveyed or disposed of assets exceeds 2.0% of the Total Assets (on a pro forma consolidated basis, including, without limitation, the Target and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries), (i) the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio of Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries (on a pro forma consolidated basis, including, without limitation, the Target and its Subsidiaries that are Restricted Subsidiaries) shall not increase; and (ii) Altice International shall promptly make an offer to all holders of the Existing Term Loans and, to the extent required by the terms of any Pari Passu Indebtedness that is not Public Debt, any such Pari Passu Indebtedness to repay or repurchase such Existing Term Loans and Pari Passu Indebtedness at a price of 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the date of redemption in an amount equal to the Net Cash Proceeds of such sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition (on a pro rata basis on the basis of the aggregate principal amount of tendered Existing Term Loans and Pari Passu Indebtedness) and in the event the principal amount of such Pari Passu Indebtedness tendered is less than the amount of such Net Cash Proceeds, Altice International shall apply any such remaining proceeds to prepay an equal principal amount of Existing Term Loans at par on a pro rata basis. There is no precise established definition of the phrase “substantially all” under applicable law. Accordingly, in certain circumstances there may be a degree of uncertainty as to whether a particular transaction would involve “all or substantially all” of the property or assets of a Person.

Limitation on Issuer and Senior Secured Notes Issuer Activities

Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indenture:

- (1) The Issuer will not, and will not permit the Senior Secured Notes Issuer to, engage in any business activity or undertake any other activity, except any such activity:
 - (a) reasonably relating to the offering, sale, issuance, Incurrence, servicing, purchase, redemption, amendment, exchange, refinancing or retirement of or Investment in the Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, the Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any of the foregoing) permitted to be Incurred by the terms of the Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indenture or the Senior Secured Notes Indentures (including the lending, directly or indirectly, of the proceeds of such sale of the Notes, the Senior Secured Notes any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness permitted by the terms of the Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indenture or the Senior Secured Notes Indentures pursuant to the Finco Proceeds Loans and the Proceeds Loan or borrowing directly or indirectly from Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary);
 - (b) undertaken with the purpose of, directly or indirectly, fulfilling its obligations or exercising its rights under the Notes, the Existing Senior Notes, the Senior Secured Notes, the Senior Credit Facilities, the Revolving Credit Facilities, the Guarantee Facility, any Additional Notes, the Finco Proceeds Loans, the Proceeds Loan, any Additional Notes or other Indebtedness, Hedging Obligations or any other obligations (including any Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any of the foregoing), in each case, permitted to be Incurred by the terms of the Indenture, the Senior Secured Indentures, the New Senior Secured Notes Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indentures, any Security Document or Senior Secured Notes Security Document to which it is a party, the Intercreditor Agreement (or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement entered into pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement or the Indenture) or the Notes Escrow Agreement;

- (c) directly related or reasonably incidental to the establishment and/or maintenance of the Issuer's and Senior Secured Notes Issuer's corporate existence, the acquisition, holding or disposition of assets permitted to be held by it under the Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indenture, or the Senior Secured Notes Indentures, as the case may be;
 - (d) directly related to investing amounts received by the Issuer (other than amounts not corresponding to required payments under the Notes) or the Senior Secured Notes Issuer (other than amounts not corresponding to required payments under the Senior Secured Notes) in such manner not otherwise prohibited by the Indenture, the Existing Senior Notes Indenture, or the Senior Secured Notes Indentures, as the case may be;
 - (e) in the case of the Issuer, making Permitted Issuer Investments and Incurring Permitted Issuer Liens and, in the case of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, making Permitted Senior Secured Notes Issuer Investments and Incurring Permitted Senior Secured Notes Issuer Liens;
 - (f) in the case of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, related to cash management activities on behalf of the Issuer, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries; or
 - (g) (i) any transaction or activity not to exceed €5 million in the aggregate and (ii) other activities not specifically enumerated above that are immaterial in nature.
- (2) The Issuer shall not:
- (a) issue any Capital Stock (other than to Altice International);
 - (b) take any action which would cause it to no longer satisfy the requirements of an available exemption from the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended;
 - (c) commence or take any action or facilitate a winding-up, liquidation, dissolution or other analogous proceeding;
 - (d) amend its constitutive documents in any manner which would adversely affect the rights of Holders in any material respect;
 - (e) transfer or assign the Proceeds Loan (or rights thereunder) except pursuant to the Security Documents; or
 - (f) amend any provision of, or waive any default or event of default under, any Proceeds Loan except in accordance with "—Amendments and Waivers".
- (3) The Senior Secured Notes Issuer shall not:
- (a) issue any Capital Stock (other than to the Issuer);
 - (b) take any action which would cause it to no longer satisfy the requirements of an available exemption from the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended;
 - (c) commence or take any action or facilitate a winding-up, liquidation, dissolution or other analogous proceeding;
 - (d) amend its constitutive documents in any manner which would adversely affect the rights of Holders in any material respect;
 - (e) transfer or assign any Finco Proceeds Loan (or rights thereunder) except pursuant to the Security Documents; or
 - (f) amend any Finco Proceeds Loan except in accordance with "—Amendments and Waivers" provisions of the Senior Secured Notes Indentures;

- (4) Except as otherwise provided in the Indenture, the Issuer will take all actions necessary and within its power to prohibit the transfer of the issued ordinary shares and management share in the Issuer by Altice International, other than pursuant to the Issuer Share Pledge or the enforcement of such Issuer Share Pledge.
- (5) Whenever the Issuer receives a payment or prepayment under any Proceeds Loan, it shall use the funds received solely to satisfy its obligations (to the extent of the amount owing in respect of such obligations) under the Indenture (including any premium paid to holders of the Notes) or any other Indebtedness of the Issuer.
- (6) Whenever the Senior Secured Notes Issuer receives a payment or prepayment under a Finco Proceeds Loan, it shall use the funds received solely to satisfy its obligations (to the extent of the amount owing in respect of such obligations) under the Senior Secured Notes Indentures (including any premium paid to holders of the Senior Secured Notes) or any other Indebtedness of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer (including Indebtedness under any Proceeds Loans); provided that to the extent the Senior Secured Notes Issuer receives cash payment in respect of interest on a Finco Proceeds Loan previously paid in-kind and the amount of such cash payment exceeds the obligations of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer then due and payable (or due and payable within five Business Days of such receipt) under the Senior Secured Notes, the New Senior Secured Notes, the Proceeds Loan or any other Indebtedness of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer may use such excess amount for any purpose not prohibited by the Indenture.

Lines of Business

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, engage in any business other than a Similar Business, except to such extent as would not be material to Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries, taken as a whole.

Additional Guarantors

Altice International will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries (other than a Guarantor) to Guarantee any Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor (other than Indebtedness Incurred under clause (8) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under “—Limitation on Indebtedness”, except Indebtedness Incurred under Credit Facilities or Public Debt pursuant to such clause (8)) unless such Restricted Subsidiary is or becomes a Guarantor on the date on which the Guarantee is Incurred and, if applicable, executes and delivers to the Trustee a supplemental indenture in the form attached to the Indenture pursuant to which such Restricted Subsidiary will provide a Note Guarantee, which Guarantee will be subordinated to Senior Indebtedness of such Restricted Subsidiary and senior to or pari passu with such Restricted Subsidiary’s Guarantee of such other Indebtedness.

Note Guarantees granted after the Issue Date pursuant to this covenant shall be released as set forth under “—Releases of the Note Guarantees”. Note Guarantees granted after the Issue Date pursuant to the first paragraph of this covenant may be released at the option of the Issuer if, at the date of such release, (i) the Indebtedness which required such Note Guarantee has been released or discharged in full, (ii) no Event of Default would arise as a result of such release, and (iii) there is no other Indebtedness of such Guarantor outstanding that was Incurred after the Issue Date and that could not have been Incurred in compliance with the Indenture as of the date Incurred if such Guarantor were not a Guarantor as at that date. The Trustee and the Security Agent (to the extent action is required by it) shall each take all necessary actions requested by the Issuer, including the granting of releases or waivers under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, to effectuate any release of a Note Guarantee in accordance with these provisions, subject to customary protections and indemnifications.

Each additional Note Guarantee will be limited as necessary to recognize certain defenses generally available to guarantors (including those that relate to fraudulent conveyance or transfer, voidable preference, financial assistance, corporate purpose, thin capitalization, distributable reserves, capital maintenance or similar laws, regulations or defenses affecting the rights of creditors generally) or other considerations under applicable law.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Altice International shall not be obligated to cause such Restricted Subsidiary to become a Guarantor to the extent and for so long as the Incurrence of such Guarantee could reasonably be expected to give rise to or result in: (1) any violation of applicable law or regulation; (2) any liability for the officers, directors or (except in the case of a Restricted Subsidiary that is a partnership) shareholders of such Restricted Subsidiary (or, in the case of a Restricted Subsidiary that is a partnership, directors or shareholders of the partners of such partnership); (3) any cost, expense, liability or obligation (including with respect to any Taxes) other than reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and other than reasonable expenses incurred in connection with any governmental or regulatory filings required as a result of, or any measures pursuant to clause (1) of this paragraph undertaken in connection with, such Guarantee, which in any case under any of clauses (1), (2) and (3) of this paragraph cannot be avoided through measures reasonably available to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary; or (4) such Restricted Subsidiary is prohibited from Incurring such Guarantee by the terms of any Indebtedness of such Restricted Subsidiary that is not prepayable without a prepayment premium (in each case, other than Indebtedness Incurred to provide all or any portion of the funds utilized to consummate the transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which such Person became a Restricted Subsidiary); provided that this clause (4) applies only for so long as such prepayment premium applies to such Indebtedness.

If on any date following the Issue Date, the Notes have achieved Investment Grade Status and no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (a "Suspension Event"), then, the Issuer shall notify the Trustee of these events and beginning on that day and continuing until such time, if any, at which the Notes cease to have Investment Grade Status (the "Reversion Date"), the provisions of the Indenture summarized under the following captions will not apply to the Notes: "—Limitation on Indebtedness", "—Limitation on Restricted Payments", "—Limitation on Restrictions on Distributions from Restricted Subsidiaries", "—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock", "—Limitation on Affiliate Transactions" and "—Impairment of Security Interests", the provisions of clause (3) of the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Merger and Consolidation—Altice International" and, in each case, any related default provision of the Indenture will cease to be effective and will not be applicable to the Issuer, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries. Such covenants and any related default provisions will again apply according to their terms from the first day on which a Suspension Event ceases to be in effect. Such covenants will not, however, be of any effect with regard to actions of the Issuer properly taken during the continuance of the Suspension Event, and the "—Limitation on Restricted Payments" covenant will be interpreted as if it has been in effect since the date of the Indenture except that no Default will be deemed to have occurred solely by reason of a Restricted Payment made while that covenant was suspended. On the Reversion Date, all Indebtedness Incurred during the continuance of the Suspension Event will be classified, at the Issuer's option, as having been Incurred pursuant to the first paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness" or one of the clauses set forth in the second paragraph of such covenant (to the extent such Indebtedness would be permitted to be Incurred thereunder as of the Reversion Date and after giving effect to Indebtedness Incurred prior to the Suspension Event and outstanding on the Reversion Date). To the extent such Indebtedness would not be so permitted to be Incurred under the first two paragraphs of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness", such Indebtedness will be deemed to have been outstanding on the Issue Date, so that it is classified as permitted under clause (4)(b) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under "—Limitation on Indebtedness".

Impairment of Security Interests

The Issuer shall not, Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, take or omit to take any action that would have the result of materially impairing the security interest with respect to the Notes Collateral (it being understood that the Incurrence of Permitted Collateral Liens, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, shall under no circumstances be deemed to materially impair the security interest with respect to the Notes Collateral) for the benefit of the Trustee and the Holders, and the Issuer shall not, Altice International shall not and shall not permit any Restricted Subsidiary to, grant to any Person other than the Security Agent (or its delegate), for the benefit of the Trustee and the Holders and the other beneficiaries described in the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement, any Lien over any of the Notes Collateral; provided, that, subject to the proviso in the second sentence of the next succeeding paragraph, (x) the Issuer, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries may Incur Permitted Collateral Liens, (y) the Notes Collateral may be discharged, amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, released, modified or replaced in accordance with the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the applicable Security Documents and (z) and Altice International and its Restricted Subsidiaries may consummate any other transaction permitted under "—Merger and Consolidation".

Notwithstanding the above, nothing in this covenant shall restrict the discharge and release of any Lien over the Notes Collateral in accordance with the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement. Subject to the foregoing, the Security Documents may be amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified or released (followed by an immediate retaking of a Lien of at least equivalent ranking over the same assets) to (i) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect or inconsistency therein; (ii) provide for Permitted Collateral Liens; (iii) make any change reasonably necessary or desirable in the good faith determination of the Issuer in order to implement transactions permitted under "—Merger and Consolidation;" (iv) add to the Notes Collateral; (v) provide for the release of any Lien on any properties or assets constituting Notes Collateral from the Lien of the Security Documents; provided that such release is followed by the substantially concurrent re-taking of a Lien of at least equivalent priority over the same properties and assets securing the Notes or any Note Guarantee; or (vi) make any other change thereto that does not adversely affect the Holders in any material respect; provided, however, that, contemporaneously with any such action in clauses (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), and (vi) the Issuer delivers to the Trustee, either (1) a solvency opinion, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, from an independent financial advisor or appraiser or investment bank of international standing which confirms the solvency of Altice International and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, (2) a certificate from the chief financial officer or the Board of Directors of the relevant Person which confirms the solvency of the Person granting the Lien after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, or (3) an opinion of counsel (subject to any qualifications customary for this type of opinion of counsel), in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, confirming that, after giving effect to any transactions related to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement, the Lien or Liens created under the Security Documents so amended, extended, renewed, restated, supplemented, modified or replaced are valid Liens not otherwise subject to any limitation, imperfection or new hardening period, in equity or at law, that such Lien or Liens were not otherwise subject to immediately prior to such amendment, extension, renewal, restatement, supplement, modification or replacement.

In the event that the Issuer, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries comply with the requirements of this covenant, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall (subject to customary protections and indemnifications) consent to such amendments without the need for instructions from the Holders.

Payments for Consents

Altice International will not, and will not permit any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, directly or indirectly, pay or cause to be paid any consideration to or for the benefit of any Holder for or as an inducement to any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms of the provisions of the Indenture or the Notes unless such consideration is offered to be paid and is paid to all holders of Notes that consent, waive or agree to amend in the time frame set forth in the solicitation documents relating to such consent, waiver or agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries shall be permitted, in any offer or payment of consideration for, or as an inducement to, any consent, waiver or amendment of any of the terms or provisions of the Indenture, to exclude holders of Notes in any jurisdiction where (i) the solicitation of such consent, waiver or amendment, including in connection with an exchange offer or an offer to purchase for cash, or (ii) the payment of the consideration therefor would require Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to file a registration statement, prospectus or similar document under any applicable securities laws (including, but not limited to, the United States federal securities laws and the laws of the European Union or its member states or the State of Israel), which the Issuer in its sole discretion determine (acting in good faith) (A) would be materially burdensome (it being understood that it would not be materially burdensome to file the consent document(s) used in other jurisdictions, any substantially similar documents or any summary thereof with the securities or financial services authorities in such jurisdiction) or (B) such solicitation would otherwise not be permitted under applicable law in such jurisdiction.

Additional Intercreditor Agreements

The Indenture provides that, at the request of the Issuer, in connection with the Incurrence by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary of any Indebtedness that is permitted to share the Notes Collateral pursuant to the definition of Permitted Collateral Liens, Altice International or Restricted Subsidiary, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall enter into with the holders of such Indebtedness (or their duly authorized Representatives) an intercreditor agreement (an “Additional Intercreditor Agreement”) or a restatement, amendment or other modification of the existing Intercreditor Agreement on substantially the same terms as the Intercreditor Agreement (or terms not materially less favorable to the Holders), including containing substantially the same terms with respect to release of Note Guarantees and priority and release of the Liens over the Notes Collateral (or terms not materially less favorable to the Holders); provided that only one payment blockage notice (a “Stop Notice”) can be given by Designated Senior Indebtedness in any 360-day period or in respect of the same event or circumstances regardless of the number of Credit Facilities or other instruments constituting “Designated Senior Indebtedness” of a Guarantor or the number of intercreditor agreements; provided further that except in the event of a payment default in respect of Senior Indebtedness is outstanding, in no event may the total number of days for which a Stop Notice is in effect exceed 179 days in respect of any Stop Notice in the aggregate during any consecutive 365-day period; provided further however provided that such Additional Intercreditor Agreement will not impose any personal obligations on the Trustee or Security Agent or, in the opinion of the Trustee or Security Agent, as applicable, adversely affect the rights, duties, liabilities or immunities of the Trustee or Security Agent under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement; provided further that only Designated Senior Indebtedness shall be entitled to instruct the Security Agent to enforce Collateral (other than the Issuer Share Pledge) or initiate a payment blockage. For the avoidance of doubt, subject to the foregoing and the succeeding paragraph, any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement may provide for senior, pari passu or subordinated security interests in respect of any such Indebtedness (to the extent such Indebtedness is permitted to share the Notes Collateral pursuant to the definition of Permitted Collateral Lien).

The Indenture provides that, at the direction of the Issuer and without the consent of Holders, the Trustee and the Security Agent shall from time to time enter into one or more amendments to any Intercreditor Agreement to: (1) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect or inconsistency of any such agreement, (2) increase the amount or types of Indebtedness covered by any such agreement that may be Incurred by the Issuer or a Guarantor that is subject to any such agreement (including with respect to any Intercreditor Agreement or Additional Intercreditor Agreement, the addition of provisions relating to new Indebtedness ranking junior in right of payment to the Notes), (3) add Restricted Subsidiaries to the Intercreditor Agreement or an Additional Intercreditor Agreement, (4) further secure the Notes (including Additional Notes), (5) make provision for equal and ratable pledges of the Notes Collateral to secure Additional Notes, (6) implement any Permitted Collateral Liens, (7) amend the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement in accordance with the terms thereof; (8) make any change reasonably necessary, in the good faith determination of the Issuer in order to implement any transaction that is subject to the covenants described under the caption “—Merger and Consolidation”; or (9) implement any transaction in connection with the renewal extension, refinancing, replacement or increase of Indebtedness that is not prohibited by the Indenture or make any other change to any such agreement that does not adversely affect the Holders in any material respect; provided that no such changes shall be permitted to the extent they affect the ranking of any Note or Note Guarantee, enforcement of Liens over the Notes Collateral, the application of proceeds from the enforcement of Notes Collateral or the release of any Note Guarantees or Lien over the Notes Collateral in a manner than would adversely affect the rights of the holders of the Notes in any material respect except as otherwise permitted by the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement immediately prior to such change. The Issuer shall not otherwise direct the Trustee or the Security Agent to enter into any amendment to any Intercreditor Agreement without the consent of the Holders of the majority in aggregate principal amount of the Notes then outstanding, except as otherwise permitted below under “—Amendments and Waivers”, and the Issuer may only direct the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any amendment to the extent such amendment does not impose any personal obligations on the Trustee or Security Agent or, in the opinion of the Trustee or Security Agent, adversely affect their respective rights, duties, liabilities or immunities under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

The Indenture also provides that, in relation to any Intercreditor Agreement or Additional Intercreditor Agreement, at the request of the Issuer, the Trustee (and Security Agent, if applicable) shall consent on behalf of the Holders to the payment, repayment, purchase, repurchase, defeasance, acquisition, retirement or redemption of any obligations subordinated to the Notes thereby; provided, however, that such transaction would comply with the covenant described under “—Limitation on Restricted Payments”.

The Indenture also provides that each Holder, by accepting a Note, shall be deemed to have agreed to and accepted the terms and conditions of the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement (whether then entered into or entered into in the future pursuant to the provisions described herein), and to have directed the Trustee and the Security Agent to enter into any such Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security

Subject to the Agreed Security Principles:

On the Completion Date:

- (1) Altice International will cause each Completion Date Guarantor to execute a supplemental indenture Guaranteeing the Notes on a senior subordinated basis; and
- (2) the Issuer will make the Additional Proceeds Loan with the proceeds of the offering of the Notes to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer and the Issuer will grant second-ranking Lien over such Additional Proceeds Loan for the benefit of the holders of the Notes; and
- (3) each of the Issuer and Altice International will and/or will cause each of the relevant Restricted Subsidiaries or security grantor to grant first-ranking or second-ranking Liens, as applicable, over the property and asset described above under “Note Security”.

Within 90 days following the Completion Date (if it occurs), Altice International will cause each Post-Completion Date Guarantor to execute (i) a supplemental indenture Guaranteeing the Notes on a senior subordinated basis and (ii) a supplemental indenture to each Existing Senior Notes Indenture Guaranteeing the Existing Senior Notes on a senior subordinated basis.

Completion of Transactions

The Issuer and Altice International shall cause the Acquisition to be consummated promptly upon the release of the Escrowed Property following delivery by the Issuer to the Escrow Agent of a release officer’s certificate under the Notes Escrow Agreement.

Events of Default

Each of the following is an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

- (1) default in any payment of interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on any Note issued under the Indenture when due and payable, continued for 30 days;
- (2) default in the payment of the principal amount of or premium, if any, on any Note issued under the Indenture when due at its Stated Maturity, upon optional redemption, upon required repurchase, upon declaration or otherwise;
- (3) failure by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to comply for 30 days after notice by the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes with any of its obligations under the covenants described under “Change of Control” above or under the covenants described under “—Certain Covenants” above (in each case, other than (i) a failure to purchase Notes, which will constitute an Event of Default under clause (2) above; (ii) a failure to comply with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security”, which shall be governed by clause (10) below, (iii) a failure to comply with the Notes Escrow Agreement and (iv) a failure to comply with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Completion of the Transactions”, which shall be governed by clause (12) below);
- (4) failure by Altice International, any Restricted Subsidiary or any other grantor of a Lien over the Notes Collateral to comply for 60 days after notice by the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes with its other agreements contained in the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents;
- (5) default under any mortgage, indenture or instrument under which there may be issued or by which there may be secured or evidenced any Indebtedness for money borrowed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (or the payment of which is Guaranteed by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary) other than Indebtedness owed to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary whether such Indebtedness or Guarantee now exists, or is created after the Issue Date, which default:
 - (a) is caused by the failure to pay principal of such Indebtedness at the Stated Maturity thereof prior to the expiration of the grace period provided in such Indebtedness on the date of such default (“payment default”); or
 - (b) results in the acceleration of such Indebtedness prior to its maturity (the “cross-acceleration provision”), and, in each case, the principal amount of any such Indebtedness, together with the principal amount of any other such Indebtedness under which there has been a payment default or the maturity of which has been so accelerated, aggregates €25 million or more;

- (6) certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency or court protection of the Issuer, Altice International or a Significant Subsidiary or group of Restricted Subsidiaries that, taken together, would constitute a Significant Subsidiary (the “bankruptcy provisions”);
- (7) failure by the Issuer, Altice International or a Significant Subsidiary or group of Restricted Subsidiaries that, taken together, would constitute a Significant Subsidiary to pay final judgments aggregating in excess of €25 million exclusive of any amounts that a solvent insurance company has acknowledged liability for, which judgments are not paid, discharged or stayed for a period of 60 days after the judgment becomes final (the “judgment default provision”);
- (8) any security interest under the Security Documents shall, at any time, cease to be in full force and effect (other than in accordance with the terms of the relevant Security Document, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the Indenture) with respect to Notes Collateral having a fair market value in excess of €10 million for any reason other than the satisfaction in full of all obligations under the Indenture or the release of any such security interest in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents or any such security interest created thereunder shall be declared invalid or unenforceable and the Issuer shall assert in writing that any such security interest is invalid or unenforceable and any such Default continues for 10 days (the “security default provisions”);
- (9) any Note Guarantee by Altice International or a Subsidiary Guarantor that is a Significant Subsidiary or any group of Subsidiary Guarantors that taken together would constitute a Significant Subsidiary ceases to be in full force and effect (other than in accordance with the terms of such Note Guarantee or the Indenture) or is declared invalid or unenforceable in a judicial proceeding or any Guarantor denies or disaffirms in writing its obligations under its Note Guarantee and any such Default continues for 10 days after the notice specified in the Indenture (the “guarantee provisions”);

- (10) failure by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to comply for 30 days with any of the provisions of the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Completion Date and Post-Completion Date Guarantees and Security”;
- (11) failure by the Issuer to consummate the Special Mandatory Redemption as described under the caption “—Escrow of Proceeds; Special Mandatory Redemption,” and
- (12) failure by the Issuer to comply with the covenant described under “—Certain Covenants—Completion of the Transactions” for more than 5 Business Days following the date on which the Escrowed Property are released from the Notes Escrow Account.

However, a default under clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) or (10) of this paragraph will not constitute an Event of Default until the Trustee or the Holders of 25% in principal amount of the outstanding Notes under the Indenture notify the Issuer of the default and, with respect to clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) and (10) the Issuer does not cure such default within the time specified in clauses (3), (4), (5), (7) or (10), as applicable, of this paragraph after receipt of such notice.

If an Event of Default described in clause (6) or (11) above occurs and is continuing, the principal of, premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest on all the Notes, and any additional amounts, if any, will become and be immediately due and payable without any declaration or other act on the part of the Trustee or any Holders. If any other Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee or the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes may and, if directed by holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes, the Trustee shall, declare all the Notes to be due and payable immediately. In the event of a declaration of acceleration of the Notes because an Event of Default described in clause (5) under “Events of Default” has occurred and is continuing, the declaration of acceleration of the Notes shall be automatically annulled if the event of default or payment default triggering such Event of Default pursuant to clause (5) shall be remedied or cured, or waived by the holders of the relevant Indebtedness, or the relevant Indebtedness that gave rise to such Event of Default shall have been discharged in full, within 30 days after the declaration of acceleration with respect thereto and if (i) the annulment of the acceleration of the Notes would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction and (ii) all existing Events of Default, except nonpayment of principal, premium or interest, including Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes that became due solely because of the acceleration of the Notes, have been cured or waived.

Holders of the Notes may not enforce the Indenture or the Notes except as provided in the Indenture and may not enforce the Security Documents except as provided in such Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

The Holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding Notes under the Indenture may waive all past or existing Defaults or Events of Default (except with respect to nonpayment of principal, premium, interest or Additional Amounts, if any) and rescind any such acceleration with respect to such Notes and its consequences if rescission would not conflict with any judgment or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Subject to the provisions of the Indenture relating to the duties of the Trustee, if an Event of Default occurs and is continuing, the Trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of the rights or powers under the Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Holders unless such Holders have offered to the Trustee, and the Trustee has received, indemnity and/or security satisfactory to the Trustee against any loss, liability or expense. Except to enforce the right to receive payment of principal or interest when due, no Holder may pursue any remedy with respect to the Indenture or the Notes unless:

- (1) such Holder has previously given the Trustee notice that an Event of Default is continuing;
- (2) Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes have requested the Trustee to pursue the remedy;
- (3) such Holders have offered the Trustee, and the Trustee has received, security and/or indemnity satisfactory to it against any loss, liability or expense;
- (4) the Trustee has not complied with such request within 60 days after the receipt of the request and the offer of security and/or indemnity; and
- (5) the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Notes have not given the Trustee a direction that, in the opinion of the Trustee, is inconsistent with such request within such 60-day period.

Subject to certain restrictions, the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding Notes are given the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee (on behalf of the Holders) or of exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee (on behalf of the Holders).

The Indenture provides that, in the event an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing of which a responsible officer of the Trustee is aware, the Trustee will be required in the exercise of its powers to use the degree of care that a prudent person would use in the conduct of its own affairs. The Trustee, however, may refuse to follow any direction that conflicts with law or the Indenture or that the Trustee determines is unduly prejudicial to the rights of any other Holder or that would involve the Trustee in personal liability. Prior to taking any action under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to indemnification and/or security satisfactory to it in its sole discretion against all losses and expenses caused by taking or not taking such action. The Indenture provides that if a Default occurs and is continuing and a responsible officer of the Trustee is informed of such occurrence by the Issuer, the Trustee must give notice of the Default to the Holders within 60 days after being notified by the Issuer. Except in the case of a Default in the payment of principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Note, the Trustee may withhold notice if and so long as a committee of trust officers of the Trustee in good faith determines that withholding notice is in the interests of the Holders. The Issuer is required to deliver to the Trustee, within 120 days after the end of each fiscal year, an Officer's Certificate indicating whether the signers thereof know of any Default that occurred during the previous year. The Issuer is required to deliver to the Trustee, within 30 days after the occurrence thereof, written notice of any events of which it is aware which would constitute certain Defaults, their status and what action the Issuer is taking or proposes to take in respect thereof.

The Notes provide for the Trustee to take action on behalf of the Holders in certain circumstances, but only if the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction. It may not be possible for the Trustee to take certain actions in relation to the Notes and, accordingly, in such circumstances the Trustee will be unable to take action, notwithstanding the provision of an indemnity to it, and it will be for Holders to take action directly.

Subject to certain exceptions, the Notes Documents may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes) and, subject to certain exceptions, any default or compliance with any provisions thereof may be waived with the consent of the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Notes then outstanding (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes). However, without the consent of Holders holding not less than 90% of the then outstanding principal amount of Notes affected (including consents obtained in connection with a purchase of, or tender offer or exchange offer for, Notes), an amendment or waiver may not, with respect to any Notes held by a non-consenting Holder:

- (1) reduce the principal amount of Notes whose Holders must consent to an amendment, waiver, supplement or modification;
- (2) reduce the stated rate of or extend the stated time for payment of interest on any Note (other than, for the avoidance of doubt, any payment pursuant to a Change of Control Offer or pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under the caption "—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock");
- (3) reduce the principal of, or extend the Stated Maturity of, any Note;
- (4) reduce the premium payable upon the redemption of any Note or change the time at which any Note may be redeemed, in each case as described above under "—Optional Redemption" (other than, for the avoidance of doubt, any payment pursuant to a Change of Control Offer or pursuant to the provisions of the covenant described under the caption "—Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock");
- (5) make any Note payable in money other than that stated in the Note (except to the extent the currency stated in the Notes has been succeeded or replaced pursuant to applicable law);
- (6) impair the right of any Holder to receive payment of principal of and interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on such Holder's Notes on or after the due dates therefor or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or with respect to such Holder's Notes (it being understood that this clause (6) will not apply to provisions under the caption "Change of Control" and "Limitation on Sales of Assets and Subsidiary Stock" except to the extent payments thereunder are at such time due and payable);
- (7) make any change in the provision of the Indenture described under "Withholding Taxes" that adversely affects the right of any Holder of such Notes in any material respect or amends the terms of such Notes in a way that would result in a loss of an exemption from any of the Taxes described thereunder or an exemption from any obligation to withhold or deduct Taxes so described thereunder unless the payor agrees to pay Additional Amounts, if any, in respect thereof;

- (8) waive a Default or Event of Default with respect to the nonpayment of principal, premium or interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Notes (except pursuant to a rescission of acceleration of the Notes by the Holders of at least a majority in aggregate principal amount of such Notes and a waiver of the payment default that resulted from such acceleration); or
- (9) make any change in the amendment or waiver provisions which require the Holders' consent described in this sentence.

In addition, (A) without the consent of at least 75% in aggregate principal amount of Notes then outstanding, no amendment or supplement may: (1) release any Guarantor from any of its obligations under its Note Guarantee or the Indenture, except in accordance with the terms of the Indenture and the Intercreditor Agreement; or (2) release any of the security interests granted for the benefit of the Holders in the Notes Collateral, (to the extent any Notes Collateral so released in any transactions or series of transactions has a fair market value in excess of €25 million) other than in accordance with the terms of, as applicable, the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement, any applicable Additional Intercreditor Agreement, and the Indenture, as applicable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, without the consent of any Holder, the Issuer, the Trustee, the Security Agent and the other parties thereto, as applicable, may amend or supplement any Notes Documents to:

- (1) cure any ambiguity, omission, defect, error or inconsistency;
- (2) provide for the assumption by a successor Person of the obligations of the Issuer or any Guarantor under any Notes Document;
- (3) add to the covenants or provide for a Guarantee for the benefit of the Holders or surrender any right or power conferred upon Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary;
- (4) make any change that would provide additional rights or benefits to the Trustee or the Holders or does not adversely affect the rights or benefits to the Trustee or any of the Holders in any material respect under the Notes Documents;
- (5) make such provisions as necessary (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) for the issuance of Additional Notes Incurred in accordance with the terms of the Indenture;
- (6) provide for Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary to provide a Note Guarantee in accordance with the Indenture, to add Guarantees with respect to the Notes, to add security to or for the benefit of the Notes, or to effectuate or confirm and evidence the release, termination, discharge or retaking of any Note Guarantee or Lien (including the Notes Collateral and the Security Documents) or any amendment in respect thereof with respect to or securing the Notes when such release, termination, discharge or retaking or amendment is provided for under the Indenture, the Security Documents, the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement;
- (7) conform the text of the Indenture, the Note Guarantees, the Security Documents or the Notes to any provision of this Description of Senior Notes to the extent that such provision in this Description of Senior Notes was intended to be a verbatim recitation of a provision of the Indenture, a Note Guarantee, the Security Documents or the Notes;
- (8) evidence and provide for the acceptance and appointment under the Indenture or the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement of a successor Trustee or Security Agent pursuant to the requirements thereof or to provide for the accession by the Trustee or Security Agent to any Notes Document;
- (9) as provided in "Certain Covenants—Additional Intercreditor Agreements";
- (10) provide for the assumption of a successor Person of the obligations of HOT or any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor under any HOT Proceeds Note Document;
- (11) add to the covenants or provide for a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee for the benefit of the Issuer or surrender any right or power conferred upon HOT, a HOT Proceeds Note Guarantor or any Restricted Subsidiary of HOT;

- (12) make any change that would provide additional rights or benefits to the Issuer or does not adversely affect the rights or benefits to the Issuer in any material respect, in each case, under the HOT Proceeds Note Documents or any other Finco Proceeds Loan;
- (13) provide for to add Guarantees with respect to the HOT Proceeds Note, to add security to or for the benefit of the HOT Proceeds Note, or to effectuate or confirm and evidence the release, termination, discharge or retaking of any HOT Proceeds Note Guarantee or Lien (including the HOT Proceeds Note Collateral and the HOT Security Documents) or any amendment in respect thereof with respect to or securing the HOT Proceeds Note when such release, termination, discharge or retaking or amendment is provided for under the Indenture, the HOT Security Documents or any intercreditor agreement relating to the HOT Proceeds Note; or
- (14) after a HOT Direct Obligation Event, amend, extend, renew, restate, supplement or otherwise modify or release the HOT Proceeds Note and the HOT Security Documents, as the case may be, to give effect to a repayment or reduction in the aggregate principal amount of the HOT Proceeds Note.

In formulating its decision on such matters, the Trustee shall be entitled to require and rely absolutely on such evidence as it deems necessary, including Officer's Certificates and Opinions of Counsel.

The consent of the Holders is not necessary under the Indenture to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment. It is sufficient if such consent approves the substance of the proposed amendment. A consent to any amendment or waiver under the Indenture by any Holder of Notes given in connection with a tender of such Holder's Notes will not be rendered invalid by such tender.

For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of articles 86 to 94-8 of the Luxembourg act dated 10 August 1915 on commercial companies, as amended, shall not apply in respect of the Notes.

For so long as the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, the Issuer will publish notice of any amendment, supplement and waiver in Luxembourg in a daily newspaper with general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort). Such notice of any amendment, supplement and waiver may also be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu), to the extent and in the manner permitted by the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

Acts by Holders

In determining whether the Holders of the required principal amount of the Notes have concurred in any direction, waiver or consent, the Notes owned by Altice International or by any Person directly or indirectly controlling, or controlled by, or under direct or indirect common control with Altice International will be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding.

Defeasance

The Issuer at any time may terminate all obligations of the Issuer under the Notes and the Indenture ("legal defeasance") and cure all then existing Defaults and Events of Default, except for certain obligations, including those respecting the right to receive payment, defeasance trust, the rights, powers, trusts, duties, immunities and indemnities of the Trustee and the obligations of the Issuer in connection therewith and obligations concerning issuing temporary Notes, registration of Notes, mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes and the maintenance of an office or agency for payment and money for security payments held in trust. Subject to the foregoing, if the Issuer exercises its legal defeasance option, the Security Documents and the rights of the Trustee and the Holders under the Intercreditor Agreement or any Additional Intercreditor Agreement in effect at such time will terminate (other than with respect to the defeasance trust).

The Issuer at any time may terminate its obligations under certain covenants described under "Certain Covenants" and "Change of Control" and the default provisions relating to such covenants described under "Events of Default" above, the operation of the cross-default upon a payment default, the cross-acceleration provisions, the bankruptcy provisions with respect to the Issuer, Altice International and Significant Subsidiaries, the judgment default provision, the guarantee provision and the security default provision described under "Events of Default" above ("covenant defeasance").

The Issuer at its option at any time may exercise its legal defeasance option notwithstanding its prior exercise of its covenant defeasance option. If the Issuer exercises its legal defeasance option, payment of the Notes may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default with respect to such Notes. If the Issuer exercises its covenant defeasance option with respect to the Notes, payment of the Notes may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default specified in clause (3) (other than with respect to the first paragraph and clauses (1) and (2) of the second paragraph of the covenant described under "Certain Covenants—Merger and Consolidation"), (4), (5), (6) (with respect only to Altice International and Significant Subsidiaries), (7), (8) or (9) under "Events of Default" above.

In order to exercise either defeasance option, the Issuer must irrevocably deposit in trust (the “defeasance trust”) with the Trustee (or an entity designated or appointed as agent by it for this purpose) cash in U.S. dollars or U.S. dollar-denominated U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof for the payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest on the Notes to redemption or maturity, as the case may be, and must comply with certain other conditions, including delivery to the Trustee of:

- (1) an Opinion of Counsel (subject to customary exceptions and exclusions) from United States counsel to the effect that Holders of the Notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit and defeasance and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such deposit and defeasance had not occurred (and in the case of legal defeasance only, such Opinion of Counsel from United States counsel must be based on a ruling of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service or other change in applicable U.S. federal income tax law);
- (2) an Officer’s Certificate stating that the deposit was not made by the Issuer with the intent of defeating, hindering, delaying, defrauding or preferring any creditors of the Issuer;
- (3) an Officer’s Certificate stating that all conditions precedent provided for or relating to legal defeasance or covenant defeasance, as the case may be, have been complied with; and
- (4) an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the trust resulting from the deposit does not constitute, or is qualified as, a regulated investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

Satisfaction and Discharge

The Indenture, and the rights of the Trustee and the Holders under the Intercreditor Agreement, any Additional Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents will be discharged and cease to be of further effect (except as to surviving rights of conversion or transfer or exchange of the Notes, as expressly provided for in the Indenture) as to all outstanding Notes when (1) either (a) all the Notes previously authenticated and delivered (other than certain lost, stolen or destroyed Notes, and certain Notes for which provision for payment was previously made and thereafter the funds have been released to the Issuer) have been delivered to the relevant Paying Agent for cancellation; or (b) all Notes not previously delivered to the relevant Paying Agent for cancellation (i) have become due and payable, (ii) will become due and payable at their Stated Maturity within one year or (iii) are to be called for redemption within one year under arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee for the giving of notice of redemption by the Trustee in the name, and at the expense, of the Issuer; (2) the Issuer has deposited or caused to be deposited with the Trustee (or an entity designated or appointed as agent by it for this purpose), cash in U.S. dollars or U.S. dollar- denominated U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof, in an amount sufficient to pay and discharge the entire Indebtedness on the Notes not previously delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, for principal, premium, if any, and interest to the date of deposit (in the case of Notes that have become due and payable), or to the Stated Maturity or redemption date, as the case may be; (3) the Issuer has paid or caused to be paid all other sums payable under the Indenture; and (4) the Issuer has delivered to the Trustee an Officer’s Certificate to the effect that all conditions precedent under the “Satisfaction and Discharge” section of the Indenture relating to the satisfaction and discharge of the Indenture have been complied with.

No director, officer, employee, incorporator or shareholder of the Issuer, Altice International or any of their respective Subsidiaries or Affiliates, as such, shall have any liability for any obligations of the Issuer under the Notes Documents or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting a Note waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes. Such waiver may not be effective to waive liabilities under the U.S. federal securities laws, and it is the view of the SEC that such a waiver is against public policy.

Listing and general information

Application has been made to list the Notes on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to admit the Notes to trading on the Euro MTF Market. There can be no assurance that the application to list the Notes on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to admit the Notes to trading on the Euro MTF Market will be approved, and settlement of the Notes is not conditioned on obtaining this listing. So long as the Notes are listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted to trading on its Euro MTF Market and the rules and regulations of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange shall so require, copies, current and future, of all of Altice International’s annual audited consolidated financial statements, Altice International’s unaudited consolidated interim quarterly financial statements and this Offering Memorandum may be obtained, free of charge, during normal business hours at the registered office of the Issuer.

Available Information

Anyone who receives this Offering Memorandum, any Holder of the Notes or holder of a beneficial interest in the Notes, following the Issue Date, may obtain a copy of the Indenture, the form of Notes, the Security Documents, the Notes Escrow Agreement and the Intercreditor Agreement without charge by writing to the Issuer, 3 Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg, Attention: Chief Financial Officer.

Concerning the Trustee and Certain Agents

Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch has been appointed as Trustee under the Indenture. The Indenture provides that, except during the continuance of an Event of Default, the Trustee will perform only such duties as are set forth specifically in the Indenture. The holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Notes will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for exercising any remedy available to the Trustee, subject to certain exceptions. During the existence of an Event of Default of which the Trustee has been notified in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, the Trustee will exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it under the Indenture and use the same degree of care that a prudent Person would use in conducting its own affairs. The permissive rights of the Trustee to take or refrain from taking any action enumerated in the Indenture will not be construed as an obligation or duty.

The Issuer shall deliver written notice to the Trustee with thirty (30) days of becoming aware of the occurrence of a Default or Event of Default. The Indenture imposes certain limitations on the rights of the Trustee, should it become a creditor of the Issuer, to obtain payment of claims in certain cases, or to realize on certain property received in respect of any such claim as security or otherwise. The Trustee, the Paying Agents and the Registrars will be permitted to engage in other transactions with the Issuer and its Affiliates and Subsidiaries.

Any removal or resignation of the Trustee shall not become effective until the acceptance of appointment by the successor Trustee.

The Indenture contains provisions for the indemnification and/or security of the Trustee by the Issuer and the Guarantors for any loss, liability, taxes or expenses incurred without gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith on its part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of the Indenture.

Notices

All notices to Holders of the Notes will be validly given if mailed to them at their respective addresses in the register of the Holders of such Notes, if any, maintained by the Registrar. In addition, for so long as any of the Notes are listed on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange so require, notices with respect to the Notes will be published in a newspaper having a general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be the Luxemburger Wort) or, to the extent and in the manner permitted by such rules, posted on the official website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

Each such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once on different dates, on the first date on which publication is made; provided that, if notices are mailed, such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the later of such publication and the seventh day after being so mailed. Any notice or communication mailed to a Holder shall be mailed to such Person by first-class mail or other equivalent means and shall be sufficiently given to such Holder if so mailed within the time prescribed. Failure to mail a notice or communication to a Holder or any defect in it shall not affect its sufficiency with respect to other Holders. If a notice or communication is mailed in the manner provided above, it is duly given, whether or not the addressee receives it.

For Notes which are represented by global certificates held on behalf of DTC, notices may be given by delivery of the relevant notices to DTC, for communication to entitled account holders in substitution for the aforesaid mailing.

Prescription

Claims against the Issuer or any Guarantor for the payment of principal, or premium, if any, on the Notes will be prescribed ten years after the applicable due date for payment thereof. Claims against the Issuer or any Guarantor for the payment of interest on the Notes will be prescribed five years after the applicable due date for payment of interest.

Currency Indemnity

U.S. dollars are the sole currency of account and payment for all sums payable by the Issuer and the Guarantors under or in connection with the Notes and the Note Guarantees, as the case may be, including damages. Any amount received or recovered in a currency other than U.S. dollars, whether as a result of, or the enforcement of, a judgment or order of a court of any jurisdiction, in the winding-up or dissolution of the Issuer, any Guarantor or otherwise by any Holder or by the Trustee, in respect of any sum expressed to be due to it from the Issuer or a Guarantor will only constitute a discharge to the Issuer or such Guarantor, as applicable, to the extent of the U.S. dollars amount, which the recipient is able to purchase with the amount so received or recovered in that other currency on the date of that receipt or recovery (or, if it is not practicable to make that purchase on that date, on the first date on which it is practicable to do so).

If that U.S. dollars amount is less than the U.S. dollars amount expressed to be due to the recipient or the Trustee under any Note, the Issuer and the Guarantors will indemnify them against any loss sustained by such recipient or the Trustee as a result. In any event, the Issuer and the Guarantors will indemnify the recipient or the Trustee on a joint or several basis against the cost of making any such purchase. For the purposes of this currency indemnity provision, it will be prima facie evidence of the matter stated therein for the Holder of a Note or the Trustee to certify in a manner reasonably satisfactory to the Issuer (indicating the sources of information used) the loss it Incurred in making any such purchase. These indemnities constitute a separate and independent obligation from the Issuer's and the Guarantors' other obligations, will give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, will apply irrespective of any waiver granted by any Holder of a Note or the Trustee (other than a waiver of the indemnities set out herein) and will continue in full force and effect despite any other judgment, order, claim or proof for a liquidated amount in respect of any sum due under any Note, any Note Guarantee or to the Trustee.

Enforceability of Judgments

Since substantially all the assets of the Issuer, Altice International and the other Guarantors are located outside the United States, any judgment obtained in the United States against the Issuer or any Guarantor, including judgments with respect to the payment of principal, premium, interest, Additional Amounts, if any, and any redemption price and any purchase price with respect to the Notes or the Note Guarantees, may not be collectable within the United States.

Consent to Jurisdiction and Service

In relation to any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Indenture, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, the Issuer and each Guarantor will, in the Indenture, appoint CT Corporation System as its agent for service of process and irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of the federal and state courts in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York, County and State of New York, United States.

Governing Law

The Indenture, the Notes and the Note Guarantees, and the rights and duties of the parties thereunder shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York. The application of the provisions set out in Articles 86 to 94-8 of the Luxembourg law dated August 10, 1915 on commercial companies, as amended, is excluded. The Intercreditor Agreement is, and the rights and duties of the parties thereunder are, governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England. The Security Documents shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Israel and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, as applicable.

Certain Definitions

Set forth below are certain defined terms used in the Indenture. Reference is made to the Indenture for a full disclosure of all defined terms used therein, as well as any other capitalized terms used herein for which no definition is provided.

“2013 Revolving Credit Facility” means the revolving credit facility agreement, dated July 1, 2013, as amended, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, among the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, as borrower, the lenders from time to time party thereto, Citibank International Plc as facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, as security agent.

“Acquired Indebtedness” means Indebtedness (1) of a Person or any of its Subsidiaries existing at the time such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, (2) assumed in connection with the acquisition of assets from such Person, in each case whether or not Incurred by such Person in connection with such Person becoming a Restricted Subsidiary or such acquisition, or (3) of a Person at the time such Person merges with or into or consolidates or otherwise combines with Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary. Acquired Indebtedness shall be deemed to have been Incurred, with respect to clause (1) of the preceding sentence, on the date such Person becomes a Restricted Subsidiary and, with respect to clause (2) of the preceding sentence, on the date of consummation of such acquisition of assets and, with respect to clause (3) of the preceding sentence, on the date of the relevant merger, consolidation or other combination.

“Additional Assets” means:

- (1) any property or assets (other than Indebtedness and Capital Stock) not classified as current assets under IFRS used or to be used by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary or otherwise useful in a Similar Business (it being understood that capital expenditures on property or assets already used in a Similar Business or to replace any property or assets that are the subject of an Asset Disposition shall be deemed an investment in Additional Assets);
- (2) the Capital Stock of a Person that is engaged in a Similar Business and becomes a Restricted Subsidiary as a result of the acquisition of such Capital Stock by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary; or

- (2) the principal of obligations of such Person evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes or other similar instruments;
- (3) all reimbursement obligations of such Person in respect of letters of credit, bankers’ acceptances or other similar instruments (the amount of such obligations being equal at any time to the aggregate then undrawn and unexpired amount of such letters of credit or other instruments plus the aggregate amount of drawings thereunder that have not been reimbursed) (except to the extent such reimbursement obligations relate to trade payables and such obligations are satisfied within 30 days of Incurrence), in each case only to the extent that the underlying obligation in respect of which the instrument was issued would be treated as Indebtedness;

- (4) the principal component of all obligations of such Person to pay the deferred and unpaid purchase price of assets acquired or services supplied (except trade payables), which purchase price is due more than one year after the date of placing such property in service or taking final delivery and title thereto;
- (5) [Reserved];
- (6) the principal component of all obligations, or liquidation preference, of such Person with respect to any Disqualified Stock or, with respect to any Restricted Subsidiary, any Preferred Stock (but excluding, in each case, any accrued dividends);
- (7) the principal component of all Indebtedness of other Persons secured by a Lien on any asset of such Person, whether or not such Indebtedness is assumed by such Person; provided, however, that the amount of such Indebtedness will be the lesser of (a) the fair market value of such asset at such date of determination (as determined in good faith by the Issuer) and (b) the amount of such Indebtedness of such other Persons;
- (8) Guarantees by such Person of the principal component of Indebtedness of other Persons to the extent Guaranteed by such Person; and
- (9) to the extent not otherwise included in this definition, net obligations of such Person under Currency Agreements, Commodity Hedging Agreements and Interest Rate Agreements (the amount of any such obligations to be equal at any time to the termination value of such agreement or arrangement giving rise to such obligation that would be payable by such Person at such time),

The term “Indebtedness” shall not include (i) Subordinated Shareholder Funding, (ii) any lease (including for avoidance of doubt, any network lease or any Operating IRU), concession or license of property (or Guarantee thereof) which would be considered an operating lease under IFRS as in effect on December 12, 2012 or the Issue Date, (iii) prepayments of deposits received from clients or customers in the ordinary course of business, (iv) any pension obligations, (v) Contingent Obligations, (vi) obligations under or in respect of Qualified Receivables Financing, (vii) obligations under any license, permit or other approval (or Guarantees given in respect of such obligations) Incurred prior to the Issue Date or in the ordinary course of business, (viii) non-interest bearing installment obligations and accrued liabilities Incurred in the ordinary course of business that are not more than 120 days past due, (ix) Indebtedness in respect of the Incurrence by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of Indebtedness in respect of standby letters of credit, performance bonds or surety bonds provided by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary in the ordinary course of business to the extent such letters of credit or bonds are not drawn upon or, if and to the extent drawn upon are honored in accordance with their terms and if, to be reimbursed, are reimbursed no later than the fifth Business Day following receipt by such Person of a demand for reimbursement following payment on the letter of credit or bond, and (x) Indebtedness Incurred by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary in connection with a transaction where (A) such Indebtedness is borrowed from a bank or trust company, having a combined capital and surplus and undivided profits of not less than €250 million, whose debt has a rating immediately prior to the time such transaction is entered into, of at least A or the equivalent thereof by S&P and A2 or the equivalent thereof by Moody’s and (B) a substantially concurrent Investment is made by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary in the form of cash deposited with the lender of such Indebtedness, or a Subsidiary or Affiliate thereof, in amount equal to such Indebtedness. For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding the above, the term “Indebtedness” excludes any accrued expenses and trade payables, any obligations under guarantees issued in connection with various operating and telecommunications licenses, any obligations under the guarantee by HOT issued to the Ministry of Communications and Broadcast Council in connection with various operating and broadcasting licenses, including the bank guarantee in connection with the HOT Mobile’s winning a frequency allotment and receiving a cellular license, and any obligations of HOT Systems towards the State of Israel under an agreement dated July 10, 2001, between HOT Systems and other cable companies and between the State of Israel, in each case, as in effect on December 12, 2012.

The amount of Indebtedness of any Person at any time in the case of a revolving credit or similar facility shall be the total amounts of funds borrowed and then outstanding. The amount of Indebtedness of any Person at any date shall be determined as set forth above or otherwise provided in the Indenture, and (other than with respect to letters of credit or Guarantees or Indebtedness specified in clause (7), (8) or (9) above) shall equal the amount thereof that would appear on a balance sheet of such Person (excluding any notes thereto) prepared on the basis of IFRS.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, in no event shall the following constitute Indebtedness:

- (i) in connection with the purchase by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary of any business, any post-closing payment adjustments to which the seller may become entitled to the extent such payment is determined by a final closing balance sheet or such payment depends on the performance of such business after the closing; provided, however, that, at the time of closing, the amount of any such payment is not determinable and, to the extent such payment thereafter becomes fixed and determined, the amount is paid within 30 days thereafter;

- (ii) for the avoidance of doubt, any obligations in respect of workers' compensation claims, early retirement or termination obligations, pension fund obligations or contributions or similar claims, obligations or contributions or social security or wage Taxes;
- (iii) parallel debt obligations, to the extent such obligations mirror other Indebtedness; or
- (iv) Capitalized Lease Obligations.

“Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, joint venture, association, joint-stock company, trust, unincorporated organization, limited liability company, government or any agency or political subdivision thereof or any other entity.

“Preferred Stock”, as applied to the Capital Stock of any Person, means Capital Stock of any class or classes (however designated) which is preferred as to the payment of dividends or as to the distribution of assets upon any voluntary or involuntary liquidation or dissolution of such Person, over shares of Capital Stock of any other class of such Person.

“Pro forma EBITDA” means, for any period, the Consolidated EBITDA of Altice International and the Restricted Subsidiaries, provided that for the purposes of calculating Pro forma EBITDA for such period, if, as of such date of determination:

- (1) since the beginning of such period Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary has disposed of any company, any business, or any group of assets constituting an operating unit of a business or otherwise ceases to be a Restricted Subsidiary (and is not a Restricted Subsidiary at the end of such period) (any such disposition, a “Sale”) or if the transaction giving rise to the need to calculate the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio or Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio is such a Sale, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be reduced by an amount equal to the Consolidated EBITDA (if positive) attributable to the assets which are the subject of such Sale for such period or increased by an amount equal to the Consolidated EBITDA (if negative) attributable thereto for such period; provided that if any such sale constitutes “discontinued operations” in accordance with IFRS, Consolidated Net Income shall be reduced by an amount equal to the Consolidated Net Income (if positive) attributable to such operations for such period or increased by an amount equal to the Consolidated Net Income (if negative) attributable thereto for such period;
- (2) since the beginning of such period, a Parent, Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (by merger or otherwise) has made an Investment in any Person that thereby becomes a Restricted Subsidiary, or otherwise has acquired any company, any business, or any group of assets constituting an operating unit of a business or a Person otherwise becomes a Restricted Subsidiary (and remains a Restricted Subsidiary at the end of such period) (any such Investment, acquisition or designation, a “Purchase”), including any such Purchase occurring in connection with a transaction causing a calculation to be made hereunder, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be calculated after giving pro forma effect thereto as if such Purchase occurred on the first day of such period; and

- (3) since the beginning of such period, any Person (that became a Restricted Subsidiary or was merged or otherwise combined with or into Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary since the beginning of such period) will have made any Sale or any Purchase that would have required an adjustment pursuant to clause (1) or (2) above if made by Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary since the beginning of such period, Pro forma EBITDA for such period will be calculated after giving pro forma effect thereto as if such Sale or Purchase occurred on the first day of such period.

For the purposes of this definition and the definitions of Consolidated EBITDA, Consolidated Income Taxes, Consolidated Interest Expense, Consolidated Net Income, Consolidated Net Senior Secured Leverage Ratio and Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio (a) whenever pro forma effect is to be given to any transaction (including, without limitation, transactions listed in clauses (1)-(3) hereof) or calculation hereunder or such other definitions, the pro forma calculations will be as determined in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of Altice International or an Officer of the Issuer (including in respect of anticipated expense and cost reductions and synergies (other than revenue synergies)) (calculated on a pro forma basis as though such expense and cost reductions and synergies had been realized on the first day of the period for which Pro forma EBITDA is being determined and as though such cost savings, operating expense reductions and synergies were realized during the entirety of such period), (b) in determining the amount of Indebtedness outstanding on any date of determination, pro forma effect shall be given to any Incurrence, repayment, repurchase, defeasance or other acquisition, retirement or discharge of Indebtedness as if such transaction had occurred on the first day of the relevant period and (c) if any Indebtedness bears a floating rate of interest and is being given pro forma effect, the interest on such Indebtedness shall be calculated as if the rate in effect on the date of determination had been the applicable rate for the entire period (taking into account any Hedging Obligations applicable to such Indebtedness if such Hedging Obligation has a remaining term in excess of 12 months).

“Proceeds Loan” means any loan agreement entered into between the Issuer and the Senior Secured Notes Issuer pursuant to which the Issuer lends to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer all or substantially all of the net proceeds of any Incurrence of Indebtedness by the Issuer; provided that (i) the principal amount of, and interest rate on, such Proceeds Loan will not be less than the principal amount of, and interest rate on, the Indebtedness of the Issuer that funded such Proceeds Loan, (ii) a Lien over such Proceeds Loan is granted at the time of its Incurrence on a junior basis to secure the Notes and the Note Guarantees and (iii) such Proceeds Loan shall be subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and any Additional Intercreditor Agreement.

“Public Offering Expenses” means expenses Incurred by any Parent in connection with any Public Offering or any offering of Public Debt (whether or not successful):

- (1) where the net proceeds of such offering are intended to be received by or contributed or loaned to Altice International or a Restricted Subsidiary;
- (2) in a pro-rated amount of such expenses in proportion to the amount of such net proceeds intended to be so received, contributed or loaned; or
- (3) otherwise on an interim basis prior to completion of such offering so long as any Parent shall cause the amount of such expenses to be repaid to Altice International or the relevant Restricted Subsidiary out of the proceeds of such offering promptly if completed, in each case, to the extent such expenses are not paid by another Subsidiary of such Parent.

“Purchase Money Obligations” means any Indebtedness Incurred to finance or refinance the acquisition, leasing, construction or improvement of property (real or personal) or assets (including Capital Stock), and whether acquired through the direct acquisition of such property or assets or the acquisition of the Capital Stock of any Person owning such property or assets, or otherwise.

“Qualified Receivables Financing” means any Receivables Financing of a Receivables Subsidiary that meets the following conditions: (1) an Officer or the Board of Directors of Altice International shall have determined in good faith that such Qualified Receivables Financing (including financing terms, covenants, termination events and other provisions) is in the aggregate economically fair and reasonable to Altice International and the Receivables Subsidiary, (2) all sales of accounts receivable and related assets to the Receivables Subsidiary are made at fair market value (as determined in good faith by Altice International), and (3) the financing terms, covenants, termination events and other provisions thereof shall be on market terms (as determined in good faith by Altice International) and may include Standard Securitization Undertakings.

The grant of a security interest in any accounts receivable of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary (other than a Receivables Subsidiary) to secure Indebtedness under a Credit Facility or Indebtedness in respect of the Notes shall not be deemed a Qualified Receivables Financing.

“Rating Agencies” means Moody’s and S&P or, in the event Moody’s or S&P no longer assigns a rating to the Notes, any other Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organization who assigns a rating to the Notes in lieu of the ratings by Moody’s or S&P.

“Rating Date” means the date which is 90 days prior to the earlier of (1) a Change of Control; and (2) public notice of the occurrence of a Change of Control or of the intention of the Issuer to effect a Change of Control.

“Rating Decline” means the decrease in the rating of the Notes of a series by at least one of the Rating Agencies by one or more gradations (including gradations within rating categories as well as between rating categories) from its rating on the Rating Date or the withdrawal of a rating of the Notes of such series by any of the Rating Agencies on, or within 60 days after, the earlier of the date of public notice of the occurrence of a Change of Control or of the intention of the Issuer to effect a Change of Control or the occurrence of a Change of Control (which period shall be extended so long as the rating of the Notes of such series is under publicly announced consideration by any of the Rating Agencies).

If no Rating Agency announces an action with regard to its rating of the Notes of a series after the occurrence of a Change of Control, the Issuer shall request each Rating Agency to confirm its rating of the Notes of such series before the end of such 60-day period.

“Receivable” means a right to receive payment arising from a sale or lease of goods or services by a Person pursuant to an arrangement with another Person pursuant to which such other Person is obligated to pay for goods or services under terms that permit the purchase of such goods and services on credit, as determined on the basis of IFRS.

“Receivables Assets” means any assets that are or will be the subject of a Qualified Receivables Financing.

“Receivables Fees” means distributions or payments made directly or by means of discounts with respect to any participation interest issued or sold in connection with, and other fees paid to a Person that is not a Restricted Subsidiary in connection with, any Receivables Financing.

“Receivables Financing” means any transaction or series of transactions that may be entered into by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries pursuant to which Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries may sell, convey or otherwise transfer to (a) a Receivables Subsidiary (in the case of a transfer by Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries), or (b) any other Person (in the case of a transfer by a Receivables Subsidiary), or may grant a security interest in, any accounts receivable (whether now existing or arising in the future) of Altice International or any of its Subsidiaries, and any assets related thereto, including all collateral securing such accounts receivable, all contracts and all guarantees or other obligations in respect of such accounts receivable, proceeds of such accounts receivable and other assets which are customarily transferred or in respect of which security interest are customarily granted in connection with asset securitization transactions involving accounts receivable and any Hedging Obligations entered into by Altice International or any such Subsidiary in connection with such accounts receivable.

“Receivables Repurchase Obligation” means any obligation of a seller of receivables in a Qualified Receivables Financing to repurchase receivables arising as a result of a breach of a representation, warranty or covenant or otherwise, including as a result of a receivable or portion thereof becoming subject to any asserted defense, dispute, off-set or counterclaim of any kind as a result of any action taken by, any failure to take action by or any other event relating to the seller.

“Receivables Subsidiary” means a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Altice International (or another Person formed for the purposes of engaging in a Qualified Receivables Financing with Altice International in which Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International (other than the Issuer and the Senior Secured Notes Issuer) makes an Investment and to which Altice International or any Subsidiary of Altice International transfers accounts receivable and related assets) which engages in no activities other than in connection with the financing of accounts receivable of Altice International and its Subsidiaries, all proceeds thereof and all rights (contractual or other), collateral and other assets relating thereto, and any business or activities incidental or related to such business, and which is designated by the Board of Directors of Altice International (as provided below) as a Receivables Subsidiary and:

- (1) no portion of the Indebtedness or any other obligations (contingent or otherwise) of which (i) is guaranteed by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary (excluding guarantees of obligations (other than the principal of, and interest on, Indebtedness) pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings), (ii) is subject to terms that are substantially equivalent in effect to a guarantee of any losses on securitized or sold receivables by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary, (iii) is recourse to or obligates Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary in any way other than pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings, or (iv) subjects any property or asset of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, directly or indirectly, contingently or otherwise, to the satisfaction thereof, other than pursuant to Standard Securitization Undertakings;
- (2) with which neither Altice International nor any other Restricted Subsidiary has any material contract, agreement, arrangement or understanding other than on terms which Altice International reasonably believes to be no less favorable to Altice International or such Restricted Subsidiary than those that might be obtained at the time from Persons that are not Affiliates of Altice International; and
- (3) to which neither Altice International nor any other Restricted Subsidiary has any obligation to maintain or preserve such entity’s financial condition or cause such entity to achieve certain levels of operating results.

Any such designation by the Board of Directors of Altice International shall be evidenced to the Trustee by filing with the Trustee a copy of the resolution of the Board of Directors of Altice International giving effect to such designation and an Officer’s Certificate certifying that such designation complied with the foregoing conditions.

“Refinance” means refinance, refund, replace, renew, repay, modify, restate, defer, substitute, supplement, reissue, resell, extend or increase (including pursuant to any defeasance or discharge mechanism) and the terms “refinances”, “refinanced” and “refinancing” as used for any purpose in the Indenture shall have a correlative meaning.

“Refinancing Indebtedness” means Indebtedness of Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary to refund, refinance, replace, exchange, renew, repay or extend (including pursuant to any defeasance or discharge mechanism) any Indebtedness existing on the date of the Indenture or Incurred in compliance with the Indenture including Indebtedness that refinances Refinancing Indebtedness; provided, however, that:

- (1) if the Indebtedness being refinanced constitutes Subordinated Indebtedness, the Refinancing Indebtedness has a final stated maturity at the time such Refinancing Indebtedness is Incurred that is the same as or later than the final stated maturity of the Indebtedness being refinanced or, if shorter, the Notes;
- (2) such Refinancing Indebtedness is Incurred in an aggregate principal amount (or if issued with original issue discount, an aggregate issue price) that is equal to or less than the sum of the aggregate principal amount (or if issued with original issue discount, the aggregate accreted value) then outstanding of the Indebtedness being refinanced (plus, without duplication, any additional Indebtedness Incurred to pay interest or premiums required by the instruments governing such existing Indebtedness and costs, expenses and fees Incurred in connection therewith);
- (3) if the Indebtedness being refinanced is expressly subordinated to the Notes or any Note Guarantee, such Refinancing Indebtedness is subordinated to the Notes or such Note Guarantee, as applicable, on terms at least as favorable to the Holders as those contained in, the documentation governing the Indebtedness being refinanced; and
- (4) if the Issuer or any Guarantor was the obligor on the Indebtedness being refinanced, such Indebtedness is incurred either by the Issuer or by a Guarantor, provided, however, that Refinancing Indebtedness shall not include (i) Indebtedness of the Issuer or the Senior Secured Notes Issuer that refinances Indebtedness of an Unrestricted Subsidiary, (ii) Indebtedness of the Issuer owing to and held by Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary, Indebtedness of Altice International owing to and held by the Issuer,

Altice International or any Restricted Subsidiary or Indebtedness of a Restricted Subsidiary owing to and held by Altice International or any other Restricted Subsidiary or (iii) any Finco Proceeds Loan or any Proceeds Loan.

Refinancing Indebtedness in respect of any Credit Facility or any other Indebtedness may be Incurred from time to time after the termination, discharge, or repayment of any such Credit Facility or other Indebtedness.

BOOK-ENTRY, DELIVERY AND FORM

General

Each series of the New Notes sold outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S will initially be represented by one or more global notes in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “Regulation S Global Notes”). The Regulation S Global Notes representing the Dollar Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Notes (the “Dollar Regulation S Global Notes”) were deposited upon issuance with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as custodian for DTC and registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC. The Regulation S Global Notes representing the Euro Senior Secured Notes (the “Euro Regulation S Global Notes”) were deposited, on the Issue Date, with a common depository and registered in the name of the nominee of the common depository for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream.

Each series of the New Notes sold within the United States to “qualified institutional buyers” pursuant to Rule 144A will initially be represented by one or more global notes in registered form without interest coupons attached (the “144A Global Notes” and, together with the Regulation S Global Notes, the “Global Notes”). The 144A Global Notes representing the Dollar Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Notes (the “Dollar 144A Global Notes”) were deposited upon issuance with Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as custodian for DTC and registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC. The 144A Global Notes representing the Euro Senior Secured Notes (the “Euro 144A Global Notes”) were deposited, on the Issue Date, with a common depository and registered in the name of the nominee of the common depository for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream.

The Dollar 144A Global Notes and the Dollar Regulation S Global Notes are collectively referred to herein as the “Dollar Global Notes”. The Euro 144A Global Notes and the Euro Regulation S Global Notes are collectively referred to herein as the “Euro Global Notes”.

Ownership of interests in the 144A Global Notes (the “144A Book-Entry Interests”) and ownership of interests in the Regulation S Global Notes (the “Regulation S Book-Entry Interests” and, together with the 144A Book-Entry Interests, the “Book-Entry Interests”) will be limited to persons that have accounts with DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream or persons that may hold interests through such participants. Book-Entry Interests will be shown on, and transfers thereof will be effected only through, records maintained in book-entry form by DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream and their participants. The Book-Entry Interests in the Euro Global Notes will be issued only in denominations of €100,000 and in integral multiples of €1,000 in excess thereof and the Book-Entry Interests in the Dollar Global Notes will be issued only in denominations of $200,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof.

The Book-Entry Interests will not be held in definitive form. Instead, DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, will credit on their respective book-entry registration and transfer systems a participant’s account with the interest beneficially owned by such participant. The laws of some jurisdictions, including certain states of the United States, may require that certain purchasers of securities take physical delivery of such securities in definitive form. The foregoing limitations may impair the ability to own, transfer or pledge Book-Entry Interests. In addition, while the New Notes are in global form, owners of interest in the Global Notes will not have the New Notes registered in their names, will not receive physical delivery of the New Notes in certificated form and will not be considered the registered owners or “holders” of the New Notes, under each of the New Indentures for any purpose.

So long as the New Notes are held in global form, the common depositories for DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream (or their respective nominees), as applicable, will be considered the sole holders of Global Notes for all purposes under each of the New Indentures. As such, participants must rely on the procedures of DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, and indirect participants must rely on the procedures of DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, and the participants through which they own Book-Entry Interests in order to exercise any rights of holders under each of the New Indentures.

Neither we, the Registrar, Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas, as custodian for DTC the common depository for the accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream nor the Trustee under each of the New Indentures nor any of our or their respective agents will have any responsibility or be liable for any aspect of the records relating to the Book-Entry Interests.

Issuance of Definitive Registered Notes

Under the terms of each of the New Indentures, owners of Book-Entry Interests will receive definitive New Notes in registered form (the “Definitive Registered Notes”):

- if DTC (with respect to the Dollar Global Notes), or Euroclear and Clearstream (with respect to the Euro Global Notes) notify the applicable Issuer that it is unwilling or unable to continue to act as depositary and a successor depositary is not appointed by the applicable Issuer within 120 days,
- if DTC (with respect to the Dollar Global Notes), or Euroclear or Clearstream (with respect to the Euro Global Notes) so requests following an event of default under the relevant Indenture, or
- if the owner of a Book-Entry Interest requests such exchange in writing delivered through DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, following an event of default under the applicable New Indenture.

In such an event, the Registrar will issue Definitive Registered Notes, registered in the name or names and issued in any approved denominations, requested by or on behalf of DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, or the applicable Issuer, as applicable (in accordance with their respective customary procedures and based upon directions received from participants reflecting the beneficial ownership of Book-Entry Interests), and such Definitive Registered Notes will bear the restrictive legend referred to in “Transfer Restrictions”, unless that legend is not required by the applicable New Indenture or applicable law.

To the extent permitted by law, we, the Trustee, the Paying Agents, the transfer agent and the Registrar shall be entitled to treat the registered holder of any Global Note as the absolute owner thereof and no person will be liable for treating the registered holder as such.

We will not impose any fees or other charges in respect of the New Notes, however, owners of the Book-Entry Interests may incur fees normally payable in respect of the maintenance and operation of accounts in DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable.

Redemption of the Global Notes

In the event any Global Note, or any portion thereof, is redeemed, DTC, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, will distribute the amount received by it in respect of the Global Note so redeemed to the holders of the Book-Entry Interests in such Global Note from the amount received by it in respect of the redemption of such Global Note. The redemption price payable in connection with the redemption of such Book-Entry Interests will be equal to the amount received by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, as applicable, in connection with the redemption of such Global Note (or any portion thereof). We understand that under existing practices of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, if fewer than all of the New Notes are to be redeemed at any time, DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream will credit their respective participants’ accounts on a proportionate basis (with adjustments to prevent fractions) or on such other basis as they deem fair and appropriate, provided, however, that no Book-Entry Interest of less than €100,000, in the case of the Euro Global Notes, or $200,000, in the case of the Dollar Global Notes, principal amount at maturity, or less, may be redeemed in part.

Payments on Global Notes

Payments of any amounts owing in respect of the Global Notes (including principal, premium, interest, additional interest and additional amounts) will be made by each of the Issuers to the Principal Paying Agent. The Principal Paying Agent will, in turn, make such payments to Euroclear and Clearstream (in the case of the Euro Global Notes) and to DTC or its nominee (in the case of the Dollar Global Notes), which will distribute such payments to participants in accordance with their respective procedures.

Under the terms of each of the New Indentures, the Issuers, the Trustee the Registrar, the transfer agents and the Paying Agents will treat the registered holder of the Global Notes (for example, DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream (or their respective nominees)) as the owner thereof for the purpose of receiving payments and for all other purposes. Consequently, neither we, the Trustee, the Registrar the transfer agents nor the Paying Agents or any of their respective agents has or will have any responsibility or liability for:

- any aspects of the records of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to or payments made on account of a Book-Entry Interest, for any such payments made by DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing the records of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to, or payments made on account of, a Book-Entry Interest, or
- payments made by DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing the records of DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant relating to or payments made on account of a Book-Entry Interest, or
- DTC, Euroclear, Clearstream or any participant or indirect participant.

Payments by participants to owners of Book-Entry Interests held through participants are the responsibility of such participants, as is now the case with securities held for the accounts of subscribers registered in “street name”.

Currency and Payment for the Global Notes

The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, and all other amounts payable in respect of, the Euro Global Notes will be paid to holders of interest in such New Notes (each a “Euroclear/Clearstream Holder” and together, the “Euroclear/Clearstream Holders”) through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, as applicable, in euro. The principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, and all other amounts payable in respect of, the Dollar Global Notes will be paid to holders of interest in such Notes (each a “DTC Holder” and together, the “DTC Holders”) through DTC in U.S. dollars.

Notwithstanding the payment provisions described above, Euroclear/Clearstream Holders may elect to receive payments in respect of the Euro Global Notes in U.S. dollars and DTC Holders may elect to receive payments in respect of the Dollar Global Notes in euro.

If so elected, a Euroclear/Clearstream Holder may receive payments of amounts payable in respect of its interest in the Euro Global Notes in U.S. dollars in accordance with Euroclear or Clearstream’s customary procedures, which include, among other things, giving to Euroclear or Clearstream, as appropriate, a notice of such holder’s election. All costs of conversion resulting from any such election will be borne by such Euroclear/Clearstream Holder.

If so elected, a DTC Holder may receive payment of amounts payable in respect of its interest in the Dollar Global Notes in euro in accordance with DTC’s customary procedures, which include, among other things, giving to DTC a notice of such holder’s election to receive payments in euro. All costs of conversion resulting from any such election will be borne by such DTC Holder.

Action by Owners of Book-Entry Interests

DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream have advised the Issuers that they will take any action permitted to be taken by a holder of the New Notes only at the direction of one or more participants to whose account the Book-Entry Interests in the Global Notes are credited and only in respect of such portion of the aggregate principal amount of the New Notes as to which such participant or participants has or have given such direction. DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream will not exercise any discretion in the granting of consents, waivers or the taking of any other action in respect of the Global Notes. However, if there is an event of default under any of the New Indentures, each of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream reserves the right to exchange the Global Notes for Definitive Registered Notes in certificated form, and to distribute such Definitive Registered Notes to their respective participants.

Transfers

Transfers between participants in DTC will be done in accordance with DTC rules and will be settled in immediately available funds. If a holder requires physical delivery of Definitive Registered Notes for any reason, including to sell the New Notes to persons in states which require physical delivery of such securities or to pledge such securities, such holder must transfer its interest in the Global Notes in accordance with the normal procedures of DTC and in accordance with the provisions of each of the Indentures.

The Global Notes will bear a legend to the effect set forth in “Transfer Restrictions”. Book-Entry Interests in the Global Notes will be subject to the restrictions on transfer discussed in “Transfer Restrictions”.

Through and including the 40th day after the later of the commencement of the offering of the New Notes and the closing of the offering (the “40-day Period”), beneficial interests in a Regulation S Global Note may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in the Rule 144A Global Note denominated in the same currency only if such transfer is made pursuant to Rule 144A and the transferor first delivers to the Trustee a certificate (in the form provided in each of the New Indentures) to the effect that such transfer is being made to a person who the transferor reasonably believes is a “qualified institutional buyer” within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A or otherwise in accordance with the transfer restrictions described under “Transfer Restrictions” and in accordance with all applicable securities laws of the states of the United States and other jurisdictions.

After the expiration of the 40-day Period, beneficial interests in a Regulation S Global Note may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in the Rule 144A Global Note denominated in the same currency without compliance with these certification requirements.

Beneficial interests in a Rule 144A Global Note may be transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in the Regulation S Global Note denominated in the same currency only upon receipt by the Trustee of a written certification (in the form provided in each of the New Indentures) from the transferor to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S or Rule 144 (if available).

Subject to the foregoing, and as set forth in “Transfer Restrictions”, Book-Entry Interests may be transferred and exchanged as described under “Description of New Senior Secured Notes—Transfer and Exchange” and “Description of New Senior Notes—Transfer and Exchange”. Any Book-Entry Interest in one of the Global Notes that is transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of a Book-Entry Interest in the other Global Note of the same denomination will, upon transfer, cease to be a Book-Entry Interest in the first-mentioned Global Note and become a Book-Entry Interest in the other Global Note, and accordingly, will thereafter be subject to all transfer restrictions, if any, and other procedures applicable to Book-Entry Interests in such other Global Note for as long as it retains such a Book-Entry Interest.

Definitive Registered Notes may be transferred and exchanged for Book-Entry Interests in a Global Note only as described under “Description of Senior Secured Notes—Transfer and Exchange” and “Description of Senior Notes—Transfer and Exchange” and, if required, only if the transferor first delivers to the Trustee a written certificate (in the form provided in each of the New Indentures) to the effect that such transfer will comply with the appropriate transfer restrictions applicable to such New Notes. See “Transfer Restrictions”.

This paragraph refers to transfers and exchanges with respect to Dollar Global Notes only. Transfers involving an exchange of a Regulation S Book-Entry Interest for 144A Book-Entry Interest in a Dollar Global Note will be done by DTC by means of an instruction originating from the Trustee through the DTC Deposit/Withdrawal Custodian system. Accordingly, in connection with any such transfer, appropriate adjustments will be made to reflect a decrease in the principal amount of the relevant Regulation S Global Note and a corresponding increase in the principal amount of the corresponding 144A Global Note. The policies and practices of DTC may prohibit transfers of unrestricted Book-Entry Interests in the Regulation S Global Note prior to the expiration of the 40 days after the date of initial issuance of the Notes. Any Book-Entry Interest in one of the Global Notes that is transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of a Book-Entry Interest in any other Global Note will, upon transfer, cease to be a Book-Entry Interest in the first mentioned Global Note and become a Book-Entry interest in such other Global Note, and accordingly will thereafter be subject to all transfer restrictions, if any, and other procedures applicable to Book-Entry Interests in such other Global Note for as long as it remains such a Book-Entry Interest.

Information Concerning DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream

All Book-Entry Interests will be subject to the operations and procedures of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, as applicable. We provide the following summaries of those operations and procedures solely for the convenience of investors. The operations and procedures of each settlement system are controlled by that settlement system and may be changed at any time. Neither we, the Trustee, the Registrar, the transfer agents and the Paying Agents nor the Initial Purchasers are responsible for those operations or procedures. DTC has advised the Issuers that it is:

- a limited purpose trust company organized under New York Banking Law,
- a “banking organization” within the meaning of New York Banking Law,
- a member of the Federal Reserve System,
- a “clearing corporation” within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and
- a “clearing agency” registered pursuant to the provision of Section 17A of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “U.S. Exchange Act”).

DTC holds and provides asset servicing for issues of U.S. and non-U.S. equity issues, corporate and municipal debt issues, and money market instruments (that DTC’s direct participants deposit with DTC). DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among direct participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities, through electronic book-entry transfers and pledges between direct participants’ accounts. DTC is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation (“DTCC”). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a direct participant, either directly or indirectly.

Like DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream hold securities for participating organizations. They also facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions between their respective participants through electronic book-entry changes in the accounts of such participants. Euroclear and Clearstream provide to their participants, among other things, services for safekeeping, administration, clearance, settlement, lending and borrowing of internationally traded securities.

Euroclear and Clearstream interface with domestic securities markets. Euroclear and Clearstream participants are financial institutions, such as underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and certain other organizations. Indirect access to Euroclear and/or Clearstream is also available to others, such as banks, brokers, dealers and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodian relationship with a Euroclear and/or Clearstream participant, either directly or indirectly.

Because DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream can only act on behalf of participants, who in turn act on behalf of indirect participants and certain banks, the ability of an owner of a beneficial interest to pledge such interest to persons or entities that do not participate in the DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream systems, or otherwise take actions in respect of such interest, may be limited by the lack of a definite certificate for that interest. The laws of some jurisdictions require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer beneficial interests to such person may be limited. In addition, owners of beneficial interests through the DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream systems will receive distributions attributable to the 144A Global Notes only through DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream participants.

Global Clearance and Settlement Under the Book-Entry System

The New Notes represented by the Global Notes are expected to be admitted to the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to be admitted to trading on the Euro MTF market thereof and to trade in DTC's Same-Day Funds Settlement System, and any permitted secondary market trading activity in such New Notes will therefore be required by DTC to be settled in immediately available funds. The Issuers expect that secondary trading in any certificated New Notes will also be settled in immediately available funds. Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Global Notes, cross market transfers between participants in DTC, on the one hand, and Euroclear or Clearstream participants, on the other hand, will be done through DTC in accordance with DTC's rules on behalf of each of Euroclear or Clearstream by its common depository, however, such cross market transactions will require delivery of instructions to Euroclear or Clearstream by the counterparty in such system in accordance with the rules and regulations and within the established deadlines of such system (Brussels time). Euroclear or Clearstream will, if the transaction meets its settlement requirements, deliver instructions to the common depository to take action to effect final settlement on its behalf by delivering or receiving interests in the Global Notes by DTC, and making and receiving payment in accordance with normal procedures for same-day funds settlement application to DTC. Euroclear participants and Clearstream participants may not deliver instructions directly to the common depository.

Because of the time zone differences, the securities account of a Euroclear or Clearstream participant purchasing an interest in a Global Note from a participant in DTC will be credited, and any such crediting will be reported to the relevant Euroclear or Clearstream participant, during the securities settlement processing day (which must be a business day for Euroclear and Clearstream) immediately following the settlement date of DTC. Cash received in Euroclear and Clearstream as a result of a sale of an interest in a Global Note by or through a Euroclear or Clearstream participant to a participant in DTC, will be received with value on the settlement date of DTC, but will be available in the relevant Euroclear or Clearstream cash account only as of the business day for Euroclear or Clearstream following DTC's settlement date.

Although DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream currently follow the foregoing procedures in order to facilitate transfers of interests in the Global Notes among participants in DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued or modified at any time. Neither we, the Trustee, the Registrar, the transfer agents nor the Paying Agent will have any responsibility for the performance by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream or their respective participants or indirect participants, of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

Initial Settlement

Initial settlement for the New Notes will be made in euro and U.S. dollars. Book-Entry Interests owned through DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream accounts will follow the settlement procedures applicable to conventional Eurobonds in registered form. Book-Entry Interests will be credited to the securities custody accounts of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream holders on the business day following the settlement date against payment for value on the settlement date.

Secondary Market Trading

Application has been made to the Luxembourg Stock Exchange for the New Notes represented by the Global Notes to be admitted to listing on the official list of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and trading on its Euro MTF Market. We expect that secondary trading in the New Notes will also be settled in immediately available funds.

The Book-Entry Interests will trade through participants of DTC and Euroclear or Clearstream and will settle in same-day funds. Since the purchase determines the place of delivery, it is important to establish at the time of trading of any Book-Entry Interests where both the purchaser's and the seller's accounts are located to ensure that settlement can be made on the desired value date.

TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

The New Notes have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any other applicable securities laws, and unless so registered, the New Notes may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of any U.S. persons (as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act) except pursuant to an exemption from, or a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and any other applicable securities laws. The New Notes are being offered, sold and issued to (i) qualified institutional buyers in reliance on the exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act provided by Rule 144A or (ii) non-U.S. persons as defined in Rule 902 under the U.S. Securities Act in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S.

By purchasing the New Notes, you will be deemed to have represented and agreed as follows (terms used in this paragraph that are defined in Rule 144A or Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act are used herein as defined therein):

- (1) You are not acting on behalf of the Issuers and you (A) (i) are a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act), (ii) are aware that the sale to you is being made in reliance on Rule 144A; and (iii) are acquiring the New Notes for your own account or for the account of a qualified institutional buyer; or (B) are not a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act) (and are not purchasing the New Notes for the account or benefit of a U.S. person, other than a distributor) and are purchasing the New Notes in an offshore transaction pursuant to Regulation S.
- (2) You understand that the New Notes are being offered in a transaction not involving any public offering in the United States within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act, that the New Notes have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any other applicable securities laws and that (A) if in the future you decide to offer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer any of the New Notes, such New Notes may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred only (i) for so long as the New Notes are eligible for resale under Rule 144A, in the United States to a person whom you reasonably believe is a qualified institutional buyer in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A; (ii) outside the United States in a transaction complying with the provisions of Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act; (iii) pursuant to a registration statement that has been declared effective under the U.S. Securities Act; (iv) to the applicable Issuer; or (v) pursuant to another available exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act, subject to the applicable Issuer’s and Trustee’s right prior to any such offer, sale or transfer pursuant to this clause (v) to require the delivery of an opinion of counsel, certification and/or other information satisfactory to them, in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws; and (B) you will, and each subsequent holder is required to, notify any subsequent purchaser of the New Notes from you or it of the resale restrictions referred to the legend below.
- (3) You acknowledge that none of us, the Initial Purchasers or any person representing us or the Initial Purchasers has made any representation to you with respect to us or the offer or sale of any of the New Notes, other than by us with respect to the information contained in these Listing Particulars, which Offering Memorandum has been delivered to you and upon which you are relying in making your investment decision with respect to the New Notes. You acknowledge that the Initial Purchasers make no representation or warranty as to the accuracy or completeness of these Listing Particulars. You have had access to such financial and other information concerning us and the New Notes as you deemed necessary in connection with your decision to purchase any of the New Notes, including an opportunity to ask questions of, and request information from, us and the Initial Purchasers.
- (4) You also acknowledge that:
 - (a) the Issuers and the Trustee reserve the right to require in connection with any offer, sale or other transfer of New Notes under the paragraph two above the delivery of an opinion of counsel, certifications and/or other information satisfactory to the Issuers and the Trustee; and
 - (b) each Global Note will contain a legend substantially to the following effect:

THIS NOTE HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE ‘U.S. SECURITIES ACT’), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION. NEITHER THIS NOTE NOR ANY INTEREST OR PARTICIPATION HEREIN MAY BE REOFFERED, SOLD, ASSIGNED, TRANSFERRED, PLEDGED, ENCUMBERED OR OTHERWISE DISPOSED OF UNLESS SUCH TRANSACTION IS EXEMPT FROM, OR NOT SUBJECT TO, SUCH REGISTRATION.

THE HOLDER OF THIS NOTE BY ITS ACCEPTANCE HEREOF (1) REPRESENTS THAT (A) IT IS A "QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER" (AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT) OR (B) IT IS NOT A U.S. PERSON AND IS ACQUIRING THIS NOTE IN AN "OFFSHORE TRANSACTION" PURSUANT TO RULE 904 OF REGULATION S UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, (2) AGREES ON ITS OWN BEHALF AND ON BEHALF OF ANY INVESTOR ACCOUNT FOR WHICH IT HAS PURCHASED NOTES, TO OFFER, SELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER SUCH NOTES, PRIOR TO THE DATE (THE "RESALE RESTRICTION TERMINATION DATE") THAT IS [IN THE CASE OF RULE 144A NOTES: ONE YEAR] [IN THE CASE OF REGULATION S NOTES: 40 DAYS] AFTER THE LATER OF THE ORIGINAL ISSUE DATE HEREOF AND THE LAST DATE ON WHICH THE ISSUER OR ANY AFFILIATES OF THE ISSUER WAS THE OWNER OF THIS NOTE (OR ANY PREDECESSOR OF SUCH SECURITY), ONLY (A) TO THE ISSUER, (B) PURSUANT TO A REGISTRATION STATEMENT THAT HAS BEEN DECLARED EFFECTIVE UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, (C) FOR SO LONG AS THE NOTES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE PURSUANT TO RULE 144A UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, IN THE UNITED STATES TO A PERSON IT REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A "QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER" AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT IN A TRANSACTION MEETING THE REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 144A, (D) OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES IN A TRANSACTION COMPLYING WITH THE PROVISIONS OF REGULATION S UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, OR (E) PURSUANT TO ANOTHER AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, SUBJECT TO THE ISSUER' AND THE TRUSTEE'S RIGHT PRIOR TO ANY SUCH OFFER, SALE OR TRANSFER PURSUANT TO CLAUSE (E) TO REQUIRE THE DELIVERY OF AN OPINION OF COUNSEL, CERTIFICATION AND/OR OTHER INFORMATION SATISFACTORY TO THEM. THIS LEGEND WILL BE REMOVED UPON THE REQUEST OF THE HOLDER AFTER THE RESALE RESTRICTION TERMINATION DATE.

BY ACCEPTING THIS NOTE (OR AN INTEREST IN THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY) EACH ACQUIRER AND EACH TRANSFEREE IS DEEMED TO REPRESENT, WARRANT AND AGREE THAT AT THE TIME OF ITS ACQUISITION AND THROUGHOUT THE PERIOD THAT IT HOLDS THIS NOTE OR ANY INTEREST HEREIN (1) EITHER (A) IT IS NOT, AND IT IS NOT ACTING ON BEHALF OF (AND FOR SO LONG AS IT HOLDS SUCH NOTES OR ANY INTEREST THERE IN IT WILL NOT BE, AND WILL NOT BE ACTING ON BEHALF OF), AN EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN (AS DEFINED IN SECTION 3(3) OF THE UNITED STATES EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED ("ERISA")), SUBJECT TO THE PROVISIONS OF PART 4 OF SUBTITLE B OF TITLE I OF ERISA, A PLAN TO WHICH SECTION 4975 OF THE UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED, ("CODE"), APPLIES, OR ANY ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE "PLAN ASSETS" BY REASON OF SUCH AN EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN'S OR PLAN'S INVESTMENT IN SUCH ENTITY (EACH, A "BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR"), OR A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN WHICH IS SUBJECT TO ANY FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. OR OTHER LAWS OR REGULATIONS THAT ARE SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR TO THE FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITY OR THE PROHIBITED TRANSACTION PROVISIONS OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE ("SIMILAR LAWS"), AND NO PART OF THE ASSETS USED BY IT TO ACQUIRE OR HOLD THIS NOTE OR ANY INTEREST HEREIN CONSTITUTES THE ASSETS OF ANY BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR SUCH A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN, OR (B) ITS ACQUISITION, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF THIS NOTE OR AN INTEREST HEREIN DOES NOT AND WILL NOT CONSTITUTE OR OTHERWISE RESULT IN A NON-EXEMPT PROHIBITED TRANSACTION UNDER SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE (OR, IN THE CASE OF A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN, A NON-EXEMPT VIOLATION OF ANY SIMILAR LAWS); (2) NEITHER ISSUER NOR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES IS A "FIDUCIARY" (WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(21) OF ERISA OR, WITH RESPECT TO A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN, ANY DEFINITION OF "FIDUCIARY" UNDER SIMILAR LAWS) WITH RESPECT TO THE PURCHASER OR HOLDER IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE OR HOLDING OF THE NOTES, OR AS A RESULT OF ANY EXERCISE BY THE ISSUER OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES OF ANY RIGHTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE NOTES, AND NO ADVICE PROVIDED BY THE ISSUER OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES HAS FORMED A PRIMARY BASIS FOR ANY INVESTMENT DECISION BY OR ON BEHALF OF THE PURCHASER AND HOLDER IN CONNECTION WITH THE NOTES AND THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED WITH RESPECT TO THE NOTES; AND (3) IT WILL NOT SELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER THIS NOTE OR ANY INTEREST HEREIN OTHER THAN TO A PURCHASER OR TRANSFEREE THAT IS DEEMED TO MAKE THESE SAME REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND AGREEMENTS WITH RESPECT TO ITS ACQUISITION, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF THIS NOTE.

- (c) The following legend shall also be included, if applicable:

THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION IS SUPPLIED SOLELY FOR U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX PURPOSES. THIS NOTE WAS ISSUED WITH "ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT" ("OID") WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 1273 OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE "CODE"), AND THIS LEGEND IS REQUIRED BY SECTION 1275(c) OF THE CODE: U.S. HOLDERS MAY OBTAIN INFORMATION REGARDING THE AMOUNT OF OID, IF ANY, THE ISSUE PRICE, THE ISSUE DATE AND YIELD TO MATURITY BY CONTACTING THE ISSUERS, C/O ALTICE FINCO S.A., 3, BOULEVARD ROYAL, L-2449 LUXEMBOURG +352 278 58 901 ATTN: CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER.

If you purchase New Notes, you will also be deemed to acknowledge that the foregoing restrictions apply to holders of beneficial interests in these New Notes as well as to holders of these New Notes.

- (1) You acknowledge that the registrar will not be required to accept for registration of transfer any New Notes acquired by you, except upon presentation of evidence satisfactory to the Issuers and the registrar that the restrictions set forth herein have been complied with.
- (2) You acknowledge that:
 - (a) The Issuers, the Initial Purchasers and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of your acknowledgments, representations and agreements set forth herein and you agree that, if any of your acknowledgments, representations or agreements herein cease to be accurate and complete, you will notify the Issuers and the Initial Purchasers promptly in writing; and
 - (b) if you are acquiring any New Notes as a fiduciary or agent for one or more investor accounts, you represent with respect to each such account that:
 - (i) you have sole investment discretion; and
 - (ii) you have full power to make, and make, the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements.
- (3) You agree that you will give to each person to whom you transfer the New Notes notice of any restrictions on the transfer of the New Notes.
- (4) You acknowledge that the above restrictions on resale will apply from the closing date until the date that is one year (in the case of the New Notes issued under Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act) or 40 days (in the case of the New Notes issued under Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act) after the later of the closing date and the last date that the applicable Issuer or any of its affiliates was the owner of the New Notes or any predecessor of the New Notes (the "Resale Restriction Period"), and will not apply after the applicable Resale Restriction Period ends.
- (5) The purchaser understands that no action has been taken in any jurisdiction (including the United States) by the Issuers or the Initial Purchasers that would permit a public offering of the New Notes or the possession, circulation or distribution of these Listing Particulars or any other material relating to the Issuers, the New Notes in any jurisdiction where action for the purpose is required. Consequently, any transfer of the New Notes will be subject to the selling restrictions set forth hereunder and/or in the front of these Listing Particulars under "Notice to Certain European Investors", "Notice to Israeli Investors" and/or under "Plan of Distribution" or "Certain Employee Benefit Plan Considerations".

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

EU Savings Directive

On June 3, 2003, the Council of the European Union adopted the European Council directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the “EU Savings Directive”). According to the EU Savings Directive, effective as from July 1, 2005, Member States are required to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payment of interest or other similar income within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive made by a paying agent established within its jurisdiction to an individual resident or certain entities called “Residual Entities” (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) established in that other Member State or in a Territory (as defined below).

However, for a transitional period, Luxembourg is permitted to apply a withholding tax system whereby if a beneficial owner (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) does not opt for the exchange of information or does not provide specific tax certificate reporting, the relevant Member State will levy a withholding tax on payments to such beneficial owner. The rate of withholding is 35% since July 1, 2011. The transitional period is to terminate at the end of the first full fiscal year following the agreement by certain countries to the exchange of information in relation to such payments. The Luxembourg government has announced that it will elect out of the withholding tax system in favor of the automatic exchange of information with effect as of January 1, 2015.

Also with effect from July 1, 2005, a number of non-E.U. countries (Switzerland, Andorra, Liechtenstein, Monaco and San Marino) and certain dependent or associated territories (including Jersey, Guernsey, Isle of Man, Montserrat, British Virgin Islands, Curaçao, Saba, Sint Eustatius, Bonaire, St. Maarten, Aruba, Cayman Islands, Turks and Caicos Islands and Anguilla) (the “Territories”) have agreed to adopt similar measures (either provision of information or transitional withholding) in relation to payments made by a paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) within its jurisdiction to, or collected by such a paying agent for, an individual resident or a Residual Entity established in a Member State. In addition, Luxembourg has entered into reciprocal provision of information or transitional withholding arrangements with certain of those dependent or associated territories in relation to payments made by a paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) in Luxembourg to, or collected by such a paying agent for, an individual resident or a Residual Entity (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) established in one of those Territories.

Investors should note that the European Council formally adopted a Council Directive amending the EU Savings Directive on 24 March 2014 (the “Amending Directive”). The Amending Directive broadens the scope of the requirements described above. Member States have until January 1, 2017, to adopt the national legislation necessary to comply with the Amending Directive. The changes made under the Amending Directive include extending the scope of the EU Savings Directive to payments made to, or secured for, certain other entities and legal arrangements. They also broaden the definition of “interest payment” to cover income that is equivalent to interest.

Luxembourg Taxation

The following discussion summarizes certain important Luxembourg taxation principles that may be relevant to you if you invest in, own, hold or dispose of the Notes. Unless otherwise indicated, all information contained in this section is based on laws, regulations, practice and decision in effect in Luxembourg at the date of these Listing Particulars (as referred to herein, collectively, “Luxembourg Tax Laws”), and as such, may be superseded after such date. Any subsequent changes to Luxembourg Tax Laws could apply retroactively and could affect the continued accuracy of this summary. This summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all Luxembourg Tax Laws and Luxembourg tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to invest in, own, hold, or dispose of the Notes and is not intended as tax advice to any particular investor or potential investor in the Notes. You should consult your own tax advisors about the tax consequences of investing in, owning, holding or disposing of the Notes (including with respect to receiving interest on and redeeming the Notes). This summary does not describe any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, locality or other taxing jurisdiction other than Luxembourg.

The residence concept used below applies for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes only. Any reference in the present section to a tax, duty, levy impost or other charge or withholding of a similar nature refers to Luxembourg Tax Laws and/or concepts only. Any reference to Luxembourg income tax encompasses corporate income tax (impôt sur le revenu des collectivités), municipal business tax (impôt commercial communal), a solidarity surcharge (contribution au fonds pour l'emploi), as well as personal income tax (impôt sur le revenu) generally. Corporate Noteholders may further be subject to net wealth tax (impôt sur la fortune) as well as other duties, levies or taxes. Corporate income tax, municipal business tax as well as the solidarity surcharge invariably apply to most corporate taxpayers resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes. Individual taxpayers are generally subject to personal income tax and the solidarity surcharge. Under certain circumstances, where an individual taxpayer acts in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking, municipal business tax may apply as well.

Luxembourg tax residency of the Noteholders

A Luxembourg non-resident Noteholder will not become resident, nor be deemed to be resident, in Luxembourg by reason only of the holding of the Notes, or the execution, performance, delivery and/or enforcement of their entitlements thereunder.

Withholding Tax

In this section, “Interest”, “Residual Entities” and “Paying Agent” have the meaning given thereto in the Luxembourg laws of June 21, 2005 implementing the EU Savings Directive (or the relevant agreements). “Interest” will include accrued or capitalized interest at the sale, repayment or redemption of the Notes. “Residual Entities” include, in general, all entities established in the EU and certain Territories (as defined below) other than legal entities, UCITS, and entities taxed as enterprises. “Paying agent” is defined broadly for this purpose and, in the context of the Notes, means any economic entity established in Luxembourg which pays interest on the Notes to, or ascribes the payment of such interest to or for the immediate benefit of the beneficial owner or the Residual Entity whether the entity is, or acts on behalf of, the Issuers or is instructed by, the beneficial owner, or the Residual Entity, as the case may be, to collect such payment of interest.

Under Luxembourg income tax law currently applicable there is no withholding tax on the payment of interest, principal, premium or (to the extent the transaction is conducted on an arms-length basis) accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Notes, nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of the Notes, subject to the application of the Luxembourg law of December 23, 2005 according to which interest payments made by Luxembourg based paying agents (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) to Luxembourg individual residents or to certain foreign residual entities that secure interest payments on behalf of such individuals are subject to a 10% withholding tax. Such withholding tax will be in full discharge of income tax if the beneficial owner is an individual acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth. The responsibility for the withholding tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive). A Luxembourg resident individual who acts in the course of the management of his or her private wealth and who is the beneficial owner of an interest payment made by a paying agent established outside Luxembourg in a member state of the European Union or of the European Economic Area or in a jurisdiction having concluded an agreement with Luxembourg in connection with the EU Savings Directive, may also to self-declare and pay for a final 10% levy. In such case, the 10% levy is calculated on the same amounts as for the payments made by Luxembourg resident paying agents. The option for the 10% levy must cover all interest payments made by the paying agent to the Luxembourg resident beneficial owner during the entire civil year.

Other Withholding Taxes

If interest is paid by an entity that is not considered a Luxembourg entity, other withholding taxes could apply. A company that is considered an Israeli resident for tax purposes paying interest on a note denominated in a foreign currency to an individual who is a non-Israeli resident is required to withhold tax at a rate of 25%, except for interest paid to “material shareholders,” who are subject to tax according to their marginal tax rate (currently 48%). “Material shareholders” for these purposes are shareholders who hold directly or indirectly, including with others, at least 10% of any means of control in the company. Taxes to be withheld from interest paid to non-Israeli residents by an Israeli company may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

A company that is an Israeli resident for tax purposes paying interest on a similar note to a corporate entity will be subject to withholding tax in accordance with the applicable corporate tax rate for the year in which the interest is paid. The current corporate tax rate in Israel is 26.5%.

For purposes of the discussion above, payment by a company that is considered an Israeli resident for tax purposes of any principal amount of New Senior Notes that is treated as original issue discount for Israeli tax purposes would be subject to tax withholding provisions described above. The New Senior Note would generally be treated as having been issued with original issue discount if its principal amount exceeds its issue price.

Taxation of the Noteholders

Taxation of Luxembourg residents

Noteholders who are residents of Luxembourg, or non-resident Noteholders that have a permanent establishment, fixed place of business or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Notes are attributable, must, for income tax purposes, include any interest paid or accrued in their taxable income. Specific exemptions may be available for certain tax payers benefiting from a particular status.

Luxembourg resident individuals

A Luxembourg resident individual Noteholder acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth, is subject to Luxembourg income tax at progressive rates in respect of interest received, redemption premiums or issue discounts under the Notes, except if a final withholding tax has been levied on such payments. See paragraph (b) of “—Withholding Tax”.

Luxembourg resident individual Noteholders acting in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking to which the Notes are attributable, may have to include any interest received or accrued, as well as any gain realized on the sale or disposal of the Notes, in their taxable income for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes (income tax levied at progressive rates). For Luxembourg resident individuals receiving interest as income from assets used in their professional capacity, the 10% withholding tax levied is credited against their final tax liability. The same tax treatment applies to non-resident Noteholders who have a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Notes are attributable.

Under Luxembourg domestic tax law, gains realized upon the disposal of the Notes by an individual Noteholder, who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes and who acts in the course of the management of his/her private wealth, on the disposal of the Notes are not subject to Luxembourg income tax, provided the disposal takes place more than six months after the acquisition of the Notes.

An individual Noteholder, who acts in the course of the management of his/her private wealth and who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes, has further to include the portion of the gains realized on the Notes corresponding to accrued but unpaid income in respect of the Notes in his/her taxable income, insofar as the accrued but unpaid interest is indicated separately in the agreement.

Gains realized upon a disposal of the Notes by an individual Noteholder acting in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking and who is resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes are subject to Luxembourg income taxes.

Luxembourg corporate residents

Luxembourg corporate Noteholders must include any interest received or accrued, as well as any gain realized on the sale or disposal of the Notes, in their taxable income for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes (corporate income tax and municipal business tax).

Luxembourg corporate residents benefiting from a special tax regime

Luxembourg corporate resident Noteholders that benefit from a special tax regime, such as, for example, (i) undertakings for collective investment subject to the amended law December 17, 2010, (ii) specialized investment funds subject to the law dated February 13, 2007 or (iii) family wealth management companies subject to the law dated May 11, 2007, are exempt from income tax in Luxembourg except for an annual subscription tax (tax d'abonnement) and thus income derived from the Notes, as well as gains realized thereon, are not subject to Luxembourg income taxes.

Taxation of non-resident Noteholders

Noteholders who are non-residents of Luxembourg and who have neither a permanent establishment, neither a fixed place of business, nor a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Notes are attributable are not liable to any Luxembourg income tax, whether they receive payments of principal or interest (including accrued but unpaid interest) or realize capital gains upon redemption, repurchase, sale or exchange of any Notes. Noteholders who are non-residents of Luxembourg and who have a permanent establishment, a fixed place of business or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Notes are attributable have to include any interest received or accrued, as well as any capital gain realized on the sale or disposal of the Notes in their taxable income for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes.

Net Wealth Tax

Individuals

An individual Noteholder, whether he/she is resident of Luxembourg or not, is not subject to Luxembourg wealth tax on such Notes.

Corporations

Corporate Luxembourg resident Noteholders or non-resident Noteholders which maintain a permanent establishment, fixed place of business or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Notes or income thereon are attributable, are subject to an annual Luxembourg net wealth tax on such Notes levied at a rate of 0.5% of their value, except if the Noteholder is (i) an undertaking for collective investment subject to the amended law December 17, 2010, (ii) securitization vehicles governed by the law of March 22, 2004 on securitization (as amended), (iii) a specialized investment fund subject to the law of February 13, 2007 (as amended) or (iv) a family wealth management company subject to the law of May 11, 2007.

Other Taxes

Registration taxes and stamp duties

There is no Luxembourg registration tax, stamp duty or any other similar tax or duty payable in Luxembourg by the Noteholders as a consequence of the issuance of the Notes, nor will any of these taxes be payable as a consequence of a subsequent transfer, redemption or repurchase of the Notes. There is no obligation to register the Notes in Luxembourg. However, a registration duty may apply (i) upon voluntary registration of the Notes in Luxembourg, (ii) in the case of legal proceedings before Luxembourg courts or (iii) in the case that the documents relating to the Notes issuance must be produced before an official Luxembourg authority (“autorité constituée”).

Value added tax

There is no Luxembourg value added tax payable in respect of payments in consideration for the issuance of the Notes or in respect of the payment of interest or principal under the Notes or the transfer of the Notes. Luxembourg value added tax may, however, be payable in respect of fees charged for certain services rendered to the Issuers, if for Luxembourg value added tax purposes such services are rendered or are deemed to be rendered in Luxembourg and an exemption from Luxembourg value added tax does not apply with respect to such services. Due to the activity of the Issuers, this value-added tax could be a final cost. Foreign value-added tax that might be payable in respect of fees charged for certain services rendered to the Issuers could also be a final cost.

Inheritance tax and gift tax

No estate or inheritance taxes are levied on the transfer of the Notes upon death of a Noteholder in cases where the deceased was not a resident of Luxembourg at the time of his death for inheritance tax purposes.

Gift tax may be due on a gift or donation of Notes in instances where the gift is recorded in a deed passed in front of a Luxembourg notary or otherwise registered in Luxembourg.

Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations

The following is a description of certain U.S. federal income tax considerations of the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of the New Notes by a U.S. Holder thereof as defined below. This description only applies to New Notes held as capital assets and does not address, except as set forth below, aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be applicable to holders that are subject to special tax rules, such as:

- banks or other financial institutions;
- insurance companies;
- real estate investment trusts;
- regulated investment companies;
- grantor trusts;

- tax-exempt organizations;
- persons that will own the New Notes through partnerships or other pass-through entities;
- dealers or traders in securities or currencies;
- U.S. Holders that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar;
- certain former citizens and long-term residents of the United States;
- U.S. Holders that use a mark-to-market method of accounting; or
- U.S. Holders that will hold a New Note as part of a position in a straddle or as part of a hedging, conversion or integrated transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Moreover, this description does not address the 3.8% Medicare tax on net investment income, the U.S. federal estate and gift tax or the alternative minimum tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of the New Notes and does not address the U.S. federal income tax treatment of holders that do not acquire the New Notes as part of the initial distribution at their initial issue price (generally, in each case, the first price to the public at which a substantial amount of the Dollar Senior Secured Notes, the Euro Senior Secured Notes or the New Senior Notes, as applicable, is sold for money). Each prospective purchaser should consult its own tax advisor with respect to the U.S. federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax consequences of acquiring, owning and disposing of the New Notes.

This description is based on the Code, U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, administrative pronouncements and judicial decisions, each as available and in effect on the date hereof. All of the foregoing are subject to change or differing interpretations, possibly with retroactive effect, which could affect the tax consequences described herein. No opinion of counsel to the Issuers or the holders or ruling from the IRS has been or will be given with respect to any of the considerations discussed herein. No assurances can be given that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position different from any of the tax considerations discussed below.

For purposes of this description, a U.S. Holder is a beneficial owner of the New Notes who for U.S. federal income tax purposes is:

- a citizen or individual resident of the United States;
- a corporation (or any other entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) organized in or under the laws of the United States or any State thereof, including the District of Columbia;
- an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust (1) that validly elects to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes or (2)(a) the administration over which a U.S. court can exercise primary supervision and (b) all of the substantial decisions of which one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control.

If an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes holds the New Notes, the tax treatment of the partnership and a partner in such partnership generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Such partner or partnership should consult its own tax advisor as to its consequences.

Redemptions and Additional Amounts

In certain circumstances, the Issuers may be obligated to or may elect to make payments in excess of stated interest and the adjusted issue price of the New Notes and/or redeem the New Notes in advance of their stated maturity. The Issuers intend to take the position that the New Notes should not be treated as contingent payment debt instruments because of, among other things, the possibility of such payments. This position is based in part on assumptions, as of the date of issuance of the New Notes, (1) regarding the likelihood that such payments will have to be paid or that the Issuers will elect to pay such amounts and/or (2) relating to the expected yield to maturity of the New Notes. Assuming such position is respected, any such amounts paid to a U.S. Holder pursuant to any repurchase or redemption would be taxable as described below in “—Sale, Exchange, Retirement or Other Disposition by a U.S. Holder” and any payments of Additional Amounts in an amount in excess of stated interest and the adjusted issue price would be taxable as additional ordinary income when received or accrued, in accordance with such holder’s method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes. An Issuer’s position is binding on a U.S. Holder unless such holder discloses its contrary position in the manner required by applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations. The IRS, however, may take a position contrary to the Issuers' position, which could affect the timing and character of a U.S. Holder's income with respect to the New Notes. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the potential application to the New Notes of the contingent payment debt instrument rules and the consequences thereof. This discussion assumes that the New Notes are not treated as contingent payment debt instruments.

U.S. Holders

Stated Interest

Stated interest on the New Notes (including Additional Amounts and any non- U.S. taxes withheld on payments of such stated interest or Additional Amounts) generally will be taxable to a U.S. Holder as ordinary interest income at the time it is received or accrued, depending on the U.S. Holder's method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Interest (including original issue discount ("OID"), if any, as described below) included in a U.S. Holder's gross income with respect to the New Notes will be treated as foreign source income for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The limitation on non-U.S. taxes eligible for the U.S. foreign tax credit is calculated separately with respect to specific "baskets" of income. For this purpose, interest generally should constitute "passive category income", or in the case of certain U.S. Holders, "general category income". U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the availability of foreign tax credits.

With respect to the Euro Senior Secured Notes, stated interest paid in euros will be included in a U.S. Holder's gross income in an amount equal to the U.S. dollar value of the euros, including the amount of any withholding tax thereon, regardless of whether the euros are converted into U.S. dollars. Generally, a U.S. Holder that uses the cash method of tax accounting will determine such U.S. dollar value using the spot rate of exchange on the date of receipt. A cash method U.S. Holder generally will not realize foreign currency gain or loss on the receipt of the interest payment but may have foreign currency gain or loss attributable to the actual disposition of the euros received. Generally, a U.S. Holder that uses the accrual method of tax accounting will determine the U.S. dollar value of accrued interest income using the average rate of exchange for the accrual period (or, with respect to an accrual period that spans two taxable years, at the average rate for the partial period within each taxable year). Alternatively, an accrual basis U.S. Holder may make an election (which must be applied consistently to all debt instruments from year to year and cannot be changed without the consent of the IRS) to translate accrued interest income at the spot rate of exchange on the last day of the accrual period (or the last day of the portion of the accrual period within each taxable year in the case of a partial accrual period) or the spot rate on the date of receipt, if that date is within five business days of the last day of the accrual period. A U.S. Holder that uses the accrual method of accounting for tax purposes will recognize foreign currency gain or loss on the receipt of an interest payment if the exchange rate in effect on the date the payment is received differs from the rate used in translating the accrual of that interest. The amount of foreign currency gain or loss to be recognized by such U.S. Holder will be an amount equal to the difference between the U.S. dollar value of the euro interest payment (determined on the basis of the spot rate on the date the interest income is received) in respect of the accrual period and the U.S. dollar value of the interest income that has accrued during the accrual period (as determined above) regardless of whether the payment is converted to U.S. dollars. This foreign currency gain or loss will be ordinary income or loss and generally will not be treated as an adjustment to interest income or expense. Foreign currency gain or loss generally will be U.S. source provided that the residence of a taxpayer is considered to be the United States for purposes of the rules regarding foreign currency gain or loss.

Original Issue Discount

The Dollar Senior Secured Notes, the Euro Senior Secured Notes or the New Senior Notes may be treated as issued with OID for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A New Note will be treated as having been issued with OID for U.S. federal income tax purposes if its stated principal amount exceeds its issue price by at least the "OID de minimis amount". The OID de minimis amount equals $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% of the stated principal amount of the New Note multiplied by the number of complete years from its issue date to maturity.

If a New Note is issued with OID a U.S. Holder generally will be required to include OID in income before the receipt of the associated cash payment, regardless of the U.S. Holder's accounting method for tax purposes. The amount of OID with respect to a New Note that a U.S. Holder must include in income is the sum of the "daily portions" of the OID for the New Note for each day during the taxable year (or portion of the taxable year) in which the U.S. Holder held the New Note. The daily portion is determined by allocating a pro rata portion of the OID for each day of the accrual period. An accrual period may be of any length and the accrual periods may vary in length over the term of the New Note, provided that each accrual period is no longer than one year and each scheduled payment of principal or interest occurs either on the first day of an accrual period or on the final day of an accrual period. The amount of OID allocable to an accrual period is equal to the difference between (1) the product of the "adjusted issue price" of the New Note at the beginning of the accrual period and its yield to maturity (computed generally on a constant yield method and compounded at the end of each accrual period, taking into account the length of the particular accrual period) and (2) the amount of any stated interest allocable to the accrual period. The “adjusted issue price” of a New Note at the beginning of any accrual period is the sum of the issue price of the New Note plus the amount of OID allocable to all prior accrual periods reduced by any payments on the New Note that were not stated interest.

Under these rules, a U.S. Holder generally will have to include in income increasingly greater amounts of OID in successive accrual periods. Under applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations, a U.S. Holder of a New Note with OID may elect to include in gross income all interest that accrues on the New Note using the constant yield method described above. Once made with respect to the New Note, the election cannot be revoked without the consent of the IRS. A U.S. Holder considering an election under these rules should consult its own tax advisor.

U.S. Holders may obtain information regarding the amount of OID, if any, the issue price, the issue date and yield to maturity by contacting the Issuers, c/o Altice Finco S.A., 3, Boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg +352 278 58 901 attn: Chief Financial Officer.

Any OID on a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note generally will be determined for any accrual period in euros and then translated into U.S. dollars in the same manner as stated interest accrued by an accrual basis U.S. Holder. Upon receipt of an amount attributable to OID (whether in connection with the sale or disposition of such a New Note or otherwise), a U.S. Holder generally will recognize foreign currency gain or loss in an amount determined in the same manner as stated interest received on accrual basis, as described above. For these purposes, all receipts on a New Note will be viewed first, as payments of stated interest payable on the New Note; second, as receipts of previously accrued OID (to the extent thereof), with payments considered made for the earliest accrual periods first; and, third, as receipts of principals. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the interplay between the application of the OID and foreign currency exchange gain or loss rules.

The rules regarding OID are complex. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of these rules to their particular situations.

Sale, Exchange, Retirement or Other Disposition by a U.S. Holder

A U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in a New Note generally will be its U.S. dollar cost increased by the amount of any OID previously included in income and decreased by payments other than stated interest made with respect to the New Note.

A U.S. Holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss on the sale, exchange, redemption, retirement or other taxable disposition of a New Note equal to the difference, if any, between the amount realized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of the New Note (less any amounts attributable to accrued but unpaid interest, which will be subject to tax in the manner described above under “—Stated Interest” to the extent not previously so taxed), and the U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in the New Note. If a U.S. Holder purchases a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note with euros, the U.S. dollar cost of the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, generally will be the U.S. dollar value of the purchase price on the date of purchase calculated at the spot rate of exchange on that date. The amount realized upon the disposition of a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note, as applicable, generally will be the U.S. dollar value of the amount received on the date of the disposition calculated at the spot rate of exchange on that date. However, if the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, is traded on an established securities market, a cash basis U.S. Holder (and, if it so elects, an accrual basis U.S. Holder) should determine the U.S. dollar value of the cost of or amount received on the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, by translating the amount paid or received at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the purchase or disposition, as applicable. The election available to accrual basis U.S. Holders in respect of the purchase and disposition of Euro Senior Secured Notes, traded on an established securities market must be applied consistently to all debt instruments from year to year and cannot be changed without the consent of the IRS.

Subject to the foreign currency rules discussed below, any gain or loss recognized on the sale, exchange, retirement, or other disposition of a New Note will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. Holder has held the New Note for more than one year as of the date of disposition. Long-term capital gain of a non-corporate U.S. Holder is generally taxed at preferential rates. The ability of a U.S. Holder to offset capital losses against ordinary income is limited. Any gain or loss recognized on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of a New Note generally will be treated as income from sources within the United States or loss allocable to income from sources within the United States.

Gain or loss recognized by a U.S. Holder on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note, as applicable, generally will be treated as ordinary income or loss to the extent that the gain or loss is attributable to changes in foreign currency exchange rates during the period in which the U.S. Holder held such Euro Senior Secured Note or Euro Senior Note, as applicable. Such foreign currency gain or loss will equal the difference between (i) the U.S. dollar value of the U.S. Holder’s euro purchase price for the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro

Senior Note, as applicable, calculated at the spot rate of exchange on the date of the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition and (ii) the U.S. dollar value of the U.S. Holder's euro purchase price for the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, calculated at the spot rate of exchange on the date of purchase of the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable. If the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, is traded on an established securities market, with respect to a cash basis U.S. Holder (and, if it so elects, an accrual basis U.S. Holder), such foreign currency gain or loss will equal the difference between (x) the U.S. dollar value of the U.S. Holder's euro purchase price for the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, calculated at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the disposition and (y) the U.S. dollar value of the U.S. Holder's euro purchase price for the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable, calculated at the spot rate of exchange on the settlement date of the purchase of the Euro Senior Secured Note or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable. The realization of any foreign currency gain or loss, including foreign currency gain or loss with respect to amounts attributable to accrued and unpaid stated interest and any OID, will be limited to the amount of overall gain or loss realized on the disposition of the Euro Senior Secured Notes or the Euro Senior Note, as applicable.

Exchange of Amounts in Other than U.S. Dollars

If a U.S. Holder receives euros as interest on a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note or on the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note, such U.S. Holder's tax basis in such euros will equal the U.S. dollar value of such euros when the interest is received or at the time of the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition. If a U.S. Holder purchased a Euro Senior Secured Note or a Euro Senior Note with previously owned non-U.S. currency, gain or loss will be recognized in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between the U.S. Holder's tax basis in such currency and the spot rate on the date of purchase. Any such gain or loss generally will be treated as ordinary income or loss from sources within the United States provided that the residence of the U.S. Holder is considered to be the United States for purposes of the rules governing foreign currency transactions.

Reportable Transaction Reporting

Under certain U.S. Treasury Regulations, U.S. Holders that participate in "reportable transactions" (as defined in the regulations) must attach to their U.S. federal income tax returns a disclosure statement on IRS Form 8886. Under the relevant rules, a U.S. Holder may be required to treat a foreign currency exchange loss from the Euro Senior Secured Notes as a reportable transaction if this loss exceeds the relevant threshold in the regulations. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors as to the possible obligation to file IRS Form 8886 with respect to the ownership or disposition of the Euro Senior Secured Notes, or any related transaction, including without limitation, the disposition of any non-U.S. currency received as interest or as proceeds from the sale, exchange, retirement or other disposition of the Euro Senior Secured Notes.

U.S. Backup Withholding Tax and Information Reporting

Backup withholding and information reporting requirements may apply to certain payments of principal of, and interest (including accruals of OID, if any) on, and to proceeds from the sale, exchange, retirement or disposition of New Notes that are held by U.S. Holders. The payor will be required to withhold backup withholding tax on payments made within the United States, or by a U.S. payor or U.S. middleman (and certain subsidiaries thereof), on a New Note to a U.S. Holder, other than an exempt recipient, if the holder fails to furnish its correct taxpayer identification number or otherwise fails to comply with, or establish an exemption from, the backup withholding requirements. Payments within the United States, or by a U.S. payor or U.S. middleman (and certain subsidiaries thereof), of principal and interest (including OID, if any) and proceeds of a sale, exchange, retirement or disposition to a holder of a New Note that is not a U.S. person generally are subject to information reporting, but will not be subject to backup withholding tax if an appropriate certification is timely provided by the holder to the payor and the payor does not have actual knowledge or a reason to know that the certificate is incorrect.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Amounts withheld as backup withholding may be credited against a holder's U.S. federal income tax liability. A holder may obtain a refund of any excess amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules by filing the appropriate claim for a refund with the IRS and furnishing any required information in a timely manner.

Certain U.S. Holders are required to report information relating to an interest in the New Notes, subject to certain exceptions (including an exception for New Notes held in custodial accounts maintained by certain financial institutions). U.S. Holders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the effect, if any, of this requirement on their ownership and disposition of the New Notes.

FATCA

Legislation referred to as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”) generally may impose withholding at a rate of 30% on payments made to any foreign entity (whether such foreign entity is a beneficial owner or an intermediary) on debt obligations generating U.S. source interest or certain other debt obligations generating non-U.S. source interest issued by a foreign financial institution that (i) enters into certain agreements with the IRS or (ii) becomes subject to provisions of local law intended to implement an intergovernmental agreement entered into pursuant to FATCA, in each case to the extent such payments are attributable to U.S. source income, unless the foreign entity receiving such payments complies with various U.S. information reporting and/or due diligence requirements (generally relating to ownership by U.S. persons of interests in or accounts with such foreign entity) or otherwise qualifies for an exemption. Based on current guidance, the Issuers do not expect payments on the New Notes to be subject to the withholding tax rules under FATCA; however, if the New Notes are “materially modified” (within the meaning of applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations) after the date that is six months after the date final regulations define a “foreign passthru payment” under FATCA, certain “foreign passthru payments” made on the New Notes on or after January 1, 2017 may become subject to the withholding tax rules under FATCA. If such withholding is required under FATCA, holders and beneficial owners of the New Notes will not be entitled to receive any additional amounts to compensate them for such withholding. Non-U.S. governments have entered into agreements with the United States (and additional non-U.S. governments are expected to enter into such agreements) to implement FATCA in a manner that alters the rules described herein. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the possible implications of this legislation on their investment in the New Notes.

The above description is not intended to constitute a complete analysis of all tax consequences relating to the acquisition, ownership and disposition of the New Notes. Prospective purchasers of the New Notes should consult their own tax advisors concerning the tax consequences of their particular situations.

CERTAIN EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN CONSIDERATIONS

The U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), imposes certain fiduciary standards and certain other requirements on employee benefit plans subject to ERISA, including entities such as collective investment funds, certain insurance company separate accounts, certain insurance company general accounts, and entities whose underlying assets are treated as being subject to ERISA (collectively, “ERISA Plans”), and on those persons who are fiduciaries with respect to ERISA Plans. Investments by ERISA Plans are subject to ERISA’s general fiduciary requirements, including the requirement of investment prudence and diversification and the requirement that an ERISA Plan’s investments be made in accordance with the documents governing the ERISA Plan. The prudence of a particular investment should be determined by the responsible fiduciary of an ERISA Plan by taking into account the ERISA Plan’s particular circumstances and all of the facts and circumstances of the investment, including, but not limited to, the matters discussed above under “Risk Factors” and the fact that in the future there may be no market in which such fiduciary will be able to sell or otherwise dispose of the New Notes or any interest therein.

Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of an ERISA Plan, as well as those plans that are not subject to ERISA but which are subject to Section 4975 of the Code, such as individual retirement accounts and Keogh plans (together with ERISA Plans, “Plans”), and certain persons (referred to as “parties in interest” under ERISA or “disqualified persons” under the Code) having certain relationships to Plans, unless a statutory or administrative exemption is applicable to the transaction. A party in interest or disqualified person who engages in a prohibited transaction may be subject to excise taxes or other liabilities under ERISA and the Code, and the transaction may have to be rescinded.

Governmental plans, certain church plans and certain non-U.S. plans, while not subject to the fiduciary responsibility or prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA or the provisions of Section 4975 of the Code, may nevertheless be subject to federal, state, local, non-U.S. or other laws or regulations (such as the prohibited transaction rules of Section 503 of the Code) that are substantially similar to the foregoing provisions of ERISA or the Code (“Similar Laws”).

Each of us, the Initial Purchasers, the Trustee and certain other parties, or their respective affiliates, may be the sponsor of, or Fiduciary to, one or more Plans. Because such parties may receive certain benefits in connection with the sale of the New Notes to such Plans, the purchase of such New Notes using the assets of a Plan over which any of such parties is the sponsor or a Fiduciary might be deemed to be a violation of the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code for which no exemption may be available. Accordingly, the New Notes may not be purchased using the assets of any Plan if any of us, the Initial Purchasers, the Trustee or their respective affiliates is the sponsor of or Fiduciary to, such Plan.

In addition, if the New Notes are acquired by a Plan with respect to which we, the Initial Purchasers, the Trustee, any holder of the New Notes or any of their respective affiliates is a party in interest or a disqualified person, other than a sponsor of, or Fiduciary to, such Plan, such transaction could be deemed to be a direct or indirect prohibited transaction within the meaning of Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code. In addition, if a party in interest or disqualified person with respect to a Plan owns or acquires a 50% or more beneficial interest in the Issuers, the acquisition or holding of the New Notes by or on behalf of such Plan could be considered to constitute a prohibited transaction. Moreover, the acquisition or holding of the New Notes or other indebtedness issued by the Issuers by or on behalf of a party in interest or disqualified person with respect to a Plan that owns or acquires an equity interest in the Issuers also could give rise to a prohibited transaction. Certain exemptions from the prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code could be applicable, however, to a Plan’s acquisition of a Note depending in part upon the type of Fiduciary making the decision to acquire a Note and the circumstances under which such decision is made. Included among these exemptions are Prohibited Transaction Exemption (“PTE”) 84-14, regarding transactions effected by a “qualified professional asset manager”; PTE 90-1, regarding investments by insurance company pooled separate accounts; PTE 91-38, regarding investments by bank collective investment funds; PTE 95-60, regarding investments by insurance company general accounts and PTE 96-23, regarding investments by certain “in-house asset managers;”. In addition to the class exemptions listed above, Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code provide a statutory prohibited transaction exemption for transactions between a Plan and a person or entity that is a party in interest to such Plan solely by reason of providing services to the Plan (other than a party in interest that is a fiduciary, or its affiliate, that has or exercises discretionary authority or control or renders investment advice with respect to the assets of the Plan involved in the transaction), provided that the Plan receives no less, and pays no more than “adequate consideration” (within the meaning of Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(f)(10) of the Code) in connection with the transaction. Even if the conditions specified in one or more of these exemptions are met, the scope of the relief provided by these exemptions might not cover all acts which might be construed as prohibited transactions.

EACH ACQUIRER AND EACH TRANSFEREE OF A NEW NOTE OR ANY INTEREST THEREIN WILL BE DEEMED TO REPRESENT, WARRANT AND AGREE AT THE TIME OF ITS ACQUISITION AND THROUGHOUT THE PERIOD THAT IT HOLDS SUCH NEW NOTES OR ANY INTEREST THEREIN, THAT (1) EITHER (A) IT IS NOT, AND IS NOT ACTING ON BEHALF OF, A BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN WHICH IS SUBJECT TO ANY SIMILAR LAWS, AND NO PART OF THE ASSETS TO BE USED BY IT TO ACQUIRE OR HOLD SUCH NEW NOTES OR ANY INTEREST THEREIN CONSTITUTES THE ASSETS OF ANY BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR SUCH A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN, OR (B) ITS ACQUISITION, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF SUCH NEW NOTES OR ANY INTEREST THEREIN DOES NOT AND WILL NOT CONSTITUTE OR OTHERWISE RESULT IN A NON-EXEMPT PROHIBITED TRANSACTION UNDER SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE (OR, IN THE CASE OF A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH, OR NON-U.S. PLAN, A NON-EXEMPT VIOLATION OF ANY SIMILAR LAWS); AND (2) NEITHER THE ISSUER NOR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES IS A FIDUCIARY (WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(21) OF ERISA OR, WITH RESPECT TO A GOVERNMENTAL, CHURCH OR NON-U.S. PLAN, ANY DEFINITION OF "FIDUCIARY" UNDER SIMILAR LAWS) WITH RESPECT TO THE PURCHASER OR HOLDER IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE OR HOLDING OF THE NEW NOTES, OR AS A RESULT OF ANY EXERCISE BY THE NOTES ISSUER OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES OF ANY RIGHTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE NEW NOTES, AND NO ADVICE PROVIDED BY THE ISSUER OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES HAS FORMED A PRIMARY BASIS FOR ANY INVESTMENT DECISION BY OR ON BEHALF OF THE PURCHASER AND HOLDER IN CONNECTION WITH THE NEW NOTES AND THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED WITH RESPECT TO THE NEW NOTES; AND (3) IT WILL NOT SELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER SUCH NEW NOTES OR ANY INTEREST THEREIN OTHER THAN TO AN ACQUIRER OR TRANSFEREE THAT IS DEEMED TO MAKE THESE SAME REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND AGREEMENTS WITH RESPECT TO ITS ACQUISITION, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF SUCH NEW NOTE.

WE, THE INITIAL PURCHASERS AND THE TRUSTEE, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE AFFILIATES, SHALL BE ENTITLED TO CONCLUSIVELY RELY UPON THE TRUTH AND ACCURACY OF THE FOREGOING REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND AGREEMENTS BY ACQUIRERS AND TRANSFEREES OF ANY NEW NOTES WITHOUT FURTHER INQUIRY. THE ACQUIRER AND ANY FIDUCIARY CAUSING IT TO ACQUIRE AN INTEREST IN ANY NEW NOTES AGREES TO INDEMNIFY AND HOLD HARMLESS THE ISSUER, THE INITIAL PURCHASERS AND THE TRUSTEE, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE AFFILIATES, FROM AND AGAINST ANY COST, DAMAGE OR LOSS INCURRED BY ANY OF THEM AS A RESULT OF ANY OF THE FOREGOING REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS BEING OR BECOMING FALSE.

ANY PURPORTED ACQUISITION OR TRANSFER OF ANY NEW NOTE OR BENEFICIAL INTEREST THEREIN TO AN ACQUIRER OR TRANSFEREE THAT DOES NOT COMPLY WITH THE REQUIREMENTS DESCRIBED HEREIN SHALL BE NULL AND VOID AB INITIO.

It should be noted that an insurance company's general account may be deemed to include assets of Plans under certain circumstances, e.g. where a Plan purchases an annuity contract issued by such an insurance company, based on the reasoning of the United States Supreme Court in John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 510 U.S. 86 (1993). An insurance company considering the purchase of New Notes with assets of its general account should consider such purchase and the insurance company's ability to make the representations described above in light of John Hancock Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Section 401(c) of ERISA and the U.S. Department of Labor regulation at 29 C.F.R. Section 2550.401c-1.

A fiduciary of an ERISA Plan or other employee benefit plan that is subject to Similar Laws, prior to investing in the New Notes or any interest therein, should take into account, among other considerations, whether the fiduciary has the authority to make the investment; the composition of the plan's portfolio with respect to diversification by type of asset; the plan's funding objectives; the tax effects of the investment; and whether, under the general fiduciary standards of ERISA or other applicable laws, including investment prudence and diversification, an investment in the New Notes or any interest therein is appropriate for the plan, taking into account the plan's particular circumstances and all of the facts and circumstances of the investment, including such matters as the overall investment policy of the plan and the composition of the plan's investment portfolio.

The sale of any New Note or any interest therein to a Plan or a governmental, church or non-U.S. plan that is subject to any Similar Laws is in no respect a representation by us, the Initial Purchasers or the Trustee, or any of their respective affiliates, that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by such plans generally or any particular such plan; that the prohibited transaction exemptions described above, or any other prohibited transaction exemption, would apply to such an investment by such plan in general or any particular such plan; or that such an investment is appropriate for such plan generally or any particular such plan.

The discussion of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code contained in these Listing Particulars, is, of necessity, general, and does not purport to be complete. Moreover, the provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code are subject to extensive and continuing administrative and judicial interpretation and review. Therefore, the matters discussed above may be affected by future regulations, rulings and court decisions, some of which may have retroactive application and effect.

Any Plan or employee benefit plan not subject to ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, and any fiduciary thereof, proposing to invest in the New Notes or any interest therein should consult with its legal advisors regarding the applicability of the fiduciary responsibility and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code and any Similar Laws, to such investment, and to confirm that such investment will not constitute or result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction or any other violation of any applicable requirement of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code or Similar Laws.

- (2) In connection with the 2012 Transaction, (i) the Senior Secured Notes Issuer issued the 2012 Senior Secured Notes and entered into the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility and (ii) the Senior Notes Issuer issued the 2012 Senior Notes. The Senior Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan of the gross proceeds of the offering of the 2012 Senior Notes (the “2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan”) to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, which in turn used amounts borrowed under the 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan and the proceeds under the 2012 Senior Secured Notes to purchase the Cool Proceeds Note, the 2012 Acquisition Note, the HOT Refinancing Note and to pay certain fees and expenses incurred in connection with the 2012 Transaction and for general corporate purposes.

In connection with the 2013 June Transactions, (i) the Senior Secured Notes Issuer entered into the 2013 Term Loan, the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility and the 2013 Guarantee Facility (together, the “2013 Credit Facilities”), and (ii) the Senior Notes Issuer issued the 2013 June Senior Notes. The Senior Notes Issuer made an intercompany loan of the gross proceeds of the offering of the 2013 June Senior Notes (the “2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan”) to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, which in turn used amounts borrowed under the 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan, the proceeds drawn under the 2013 Term Loan and cash on hand to make an aggregate €933 million proceeds loan (the “2013 June AH Proceeds Loan”) to Altice Holdings. Altice Holdings used the 2013 June AH Proceeds Loan as follows:

- (i) to purchase bonds issued by Cabovisão in an amount of €22.2 million (together with the Original Cabovisão Proceeds Notes, the “Cabovisão Proceeds Notes”), the proceeds of which were used by Cabovisão to consummate the ONI Acquisition;
- (ii) to consummate the ONI Refinancing, in connection with which Altice Holdings subscribed bonds issued by Onitelem in an amount of €47.5 million (the “Onitelem Proceeds Notes”) and (ii) the ONI Security was assigned to secure the Senior Secured Debt (other than the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Secured Notes) up to an amount equal to the Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit;
- (iii) to consummate the Coditel Refinancing;
- (iv) in connection with the Outremer Transaction, to make (A) a €78 million intercompany loan to Altice Caribbean (which was used to subscribe to convertible bonds issued by Altice Blue Two (the “ABT Convertible Bonds”), (B) a €101 million intercompany loan to Altice Blue Two; (C) a €151 million intercompany loan to OMT Invest (out of which OMT Invest made a €26 million intercompany loan to Groupe Outremer Telecom (the “GOT On-Loan”), and (D) a €25 million intercompany loan to Outremer Telecom (collectively, but excluding the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan, the “Outremer Proceeds Loans”);
- (v) to make a €8 million intercompany loan to Le Cable Martinique and a €14 million intercompany loan to Le Cable Guadeloupe (collectively, the “Le Cable Proceeds Loans”) to consummate the Le Cable Refinancing;
- (vi) to make a €48 million intercompany loan to ABO (the “ABO Proceeds Loan”) to consummate the ABO Refinancing;
- (vii) to consummate the Cabovisão Refinancing, in connection with which the collateral securing the Refinanced Cabovisão Bridge Facility was assigned to secure the Senior Secured Debt (other than the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Secured Notes); and
- (viii) to subscribe to preferred equity certificates and a stapled interest free loan in an amount of approximately €85 million issued by Altice West Europe which was used to consummate the 2013 Coditel Acquisition.

The New AH Proceeds Loan, the AWE Proceeds Loan (each as defined in note 14 below), the 2013 December AH Proceeds Loan, the 2013 June AH Proceeds Loan, the Cool Proceeds Note, the 2012 Acquisition Note and the HOT Refinancing Notes are referred to collectively as the “Senior Secured Notes Issuer Pledged Proceeds Notes”. The ABO Proceeds Loan, the Cabovisão Proceeds Notes, the Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, the Onitelem Proceeds Notes and the Altice West Europe Proceeds Loan are referred to collectively as the “Covenant Party Pledged Proceeds Loans”. The Covenant Party Pledged Proceeds Loans and the Senior Secured Notes Issuer Pledged Proceeds Notes are referred to collectively as the “Pledged Proceeds Notes”.

- (3) On the release of the proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Secured Notes from the escrow accounts, the New Senior Secured Notes will be guaranteed (the “Senior Secured Note Guarantees”) by Altice International, Cool Holding, SPV1, Altice Holdings, Altice West Europe, Altice Caribbean, Green, Altice Portugal, Cabovisão, Altice Bahamas, Tricom S.A., Global Interlink Ltd., ODO, Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Onitelem, Knewon (the “Existing Guarantors”) and, within 90 days of the PT Portugal Acquisition, PT Portugal and PT OpCo (up to an amount equal to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit) (and in respect of the 2012 Senior Secured Notes only, ABO) (the “Senior Secured Guarantors”). We expect to effect a merger between ABO and Altice West Europe in the near term and the New Senior Secured Notes will benefit from guarantees provided by the surviving entity of the merger. Following the release of the proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Secured Notes from the escrow accounts, the New Senior Secured Notes, together with the New Revolving Credit Facilities, the New Term Loan, the Existing Senior Secured Notes, the 2013 Term Loan, the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility, the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility and the 2013 Guarantee Facility (collectively, the “Senior Secured Debt”) and the Senior Secured Note Guarantees, together with the guarantees of the other Senior Secured Debt by the Senior Secured Guarantors (collectively, the “Senior Secured Guarantees”), will be secured by:

- (i) a first ranking pledge over the New AH Proceeds Loan and the AWE Proceeds Loan;
- (ii) an assignment of claims and rights under the acquisition agreement signed by Altice Portugal in connection with the PT Portugal Acquisition;
- (iii) within 10 Business Days of the PT Portugal Acquisition, first ranking pledges over all of the shares of PT Portugal; and
- (iv) within 90 days following the PT Portugal Acquisition, first ranking pledges over all of the shares of PT OpCo, PT Cloud and PT Móveis.

The New Senior Secured Notes, as Senior Secured Debt, will also be secured by the following existing security:

- (i) first-ranking pledges over all of the share capital of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, the Existing Senior Secured Guarantors (other than Altice International and, in respect of the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Secured Notes only, Green, Cabovisão, Altice Portugal, Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Onitelem and Knewon) (the share pledges over the share capital of ODO, Global Interlink Ltd. and Tricom will be effective upon approval by Indotel), the capital stock of HOT and ABO;
- (ii) a first-ranking pledge over the bank accounts and all receivables of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, including the Senior Secured Notes Issuer Pledged Proceeds Notes;
- (iii) first-ranking pledges (or assignments, as applicable) over all of the material assets of each Existing Senior Secured Guarantor and the Covenant Party Pledged Proceeds Loans, other than (i) shares of Altice Blue Two held by Altice Caribbean, (ii) licenses and real estate assets below €5 million in the Dominican Republic, (iii) in respect of the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes and the New Senior Secured Notes only, the assets of ABO, (iv) Cabovisão, Altice Portugal, Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S., Onitelem and Knewon; (v) the HOT Minority Shareholder Call Options and certain management options) and (vi) the Onitelem Proceeds Notes and the Cabovisão Proceeds Notes;
- (iv) a first-ranking pledge over the Senior Notes Proceeds Loans (as defined in note 14 below); and
- (v) a first-ranking pledge over the Cool Shareholder Loan.

The maximum liability of Altice Portugal, PT Portugal and PT OpCo under the Senior Secured Debt and Senior Notes collectively is limited to the Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit, as applicable.

The Senior Secured Debt (other than the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes, the New Revolving Credit Facilities, the New Term Loan and the New Senior Secured Notes) will be secured (up to an amount equal to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit) by:

- (i) a first ranking pledge over all of the share capital of Altice Portugal and Cabovisão; and
- (ii) first ranking security over all material assets of Altice Portugal and Cabovisão (including pledge of bank accounts of Cabovisão, pledge and assignment of shareholders' credits of Altice Portugal, floating charge over the business as a going concern of Cabovisão and pledge of € 24 million unsecured Cabovisão bonds).

The Senior Secured Debt (other than the 2013 December Senior Secured Notes, the New Revolving Credit Facilities, the New Term Loan and the New Senior Secured Notes) will also be secured (up to an amount equal to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit) by:

- (i) a first ranking pledge over the shares of ONI S.G.P.S., its wholly owned subsidiaries (including Onitelem, Hubgrade, F300 and Knewon); and
- (ii) first ranking security over certain assets and rights of Winreason, ONI S.G.P.S. and its wholly owned subsidiaries (including pledge and assignment as security of shareholders' credits, pledge of certain bank accounts of ONI S.G.P.S. and its subsidiaries and pledge and assignment as security of the receivables under certain telecommunication contracts).

Pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement, the holders of the New Senior Secured Notes and the lenders under the New Revolving Credit Facilities will share in the proceeds of enforcement of the PT Portugal Security, Cabovisão Security and the ONI Security up to an amount equal to the Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit, as applicable.

The Senior Secured Debt will be secured by a pledge of the HOT Refinancing Notes and thereby indirectly benefit from the guarantees and security provided with respect to the HOT Refinancing Notes (up to the amount outstanding under the HOT Refinancing Notes). See note 11 below. The HOT Refinancing Notes (including principal and interest payments) are guaranteed by the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors and are secured by a pledge over substantially all of the assets of HOT (including all of the share capital of HOT Mobile) and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors but, in each case, excluding licenses granted by the Israeli Ministry of Communications and certain end-user equipment, with respect to which HOT is not permitted to grant a security interest (the "HOT Refinancing Note Collateral").

The Senior Secured Debt will be secured by a pledge of Altice Holdings' interests under the Coditel Senior Facility and thereby indirectly benefit from the guarantees and security provided with respect to the Coditel Senior Facility (up to the amount outstanding under the Coditel Senior Facility). See note 11 below. The Coditel Senior Facility is guaranteed by Coditel Luxembourg and is secured by a pledge of shares and other equity interests in Coditel Holding and Coditel Belgium, receivables and bank accounts of Coditel Holdings and its parent company, including the €106 million intercompany loan to Coditel Belgium (the "Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan"), and trade, insurance, intra- group and other receivables and bank accounts of Coditel Luxembourg. In addition, as a result of the pledge of the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loans, lenders under the Coditel Senior Facility indirectly benefit from a pledge of certain assets of Coditel Belgium.

The Senior Secured Debt will be secured by a pledge of the Outremer Proceeds Loans and the Le Cable Proceeds Loans and will thereby indirectly benefit from the security that will secure the Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan (in each case, up to the amount outstanding under the relevant intercompany loan). See note 11 below. Each Outremer Proceeds Loan, each Le Cable Proceeds Loan, the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan is secured by a pledge of certain assets of the relevant company that is the borrower or issuer under such intercompany loan or convertible bonds, including capital stock of the direct subsidiaries held by such borrower or issuer (other than subsidiaries in Mauritius and excluding shares held by Altice Caribbean in Altice Blue Two), receivables of such borrower or issuer and other significant assets (excluding network assets) owned by such borrower or issuer.

The obligations of a Senior Secured Guarantor under its Senior Secured Guarantee and the obligation of guarantors under the other guarantees described above will be limited as necessary to prevent the relevant Senior Secured Guarantee or guarantee from constituting a fraudulent conveyance under applicable law (if any), or otherwise to reflect limitations under applicable law or capital maintenance regulations (if any) provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, ABO will not provide a Senior Secured Guarantee in respect of the New Senior Secured Notes. See "Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of Guarantees and the Security Interests" and "Risk Factors—Risks" Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Corporate benefit and financial assistance laws and other limitations on the obligations under the Guarantees may adversely affect the validity and enforceability of the Guarantees”.

- (4) On the release of the proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Notes from the escrow accounts, the New Senior Notes and the Existing Senior Notes (together, the “Senior Notes”) will be guaranteed on a senior subordinated basis (the “Senior Notes Guarantees” and, together with the Senior Secured Guarantees, the “Guarantees”) by the Existing Guarantors and, within 90 days of the PT Portugal Acquisition, the Acquired Guarantors (up to an amount equal to the applicable Aggregate Portuguese Group Security and Guarantee Limit) (and in respect of the 2012 Senior Notes and the 2013 June Senior Notes only, ABO) (the “Senior Notes Guarantors” and, together with the Senior Secured Notes Guarantors, the “Guarantors”). Following the release of the proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Notes from the escrow accounts, the New Senior Notes and the Senior Notes Guarantees will be secured by:
- (i) a first-ranking pledge over all of the share capital of the Senior Notes Issuer;
 - (ii) second-ranking pledges over all of the share capital of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, Cool Holding and Altice Holdings;
 - (iii) second-ranking pledges over the Senior Notes Proceeds Loans; and
 - (iv) a second-ranking pledge over the Cool Shareholder Loan.

Since the Senior Notes Guarantees are subordinated in right of payment to the Senior Secured Debt, the Aggregate Portuguese Security and Guarantee Limit will effectively mean that the creditors of the Senior Secured Debt will be entitled to all amounts available from Altice Portugal and Cabovisão in the event of enforcement unless such Senior Secured Debt is repaid through other means.

The obligations of a Senior Notes Guarantor under its Senior Notes Guarantee will be limited as necessary to prevent the relevant Senior Notes Guarantee from constituting a fraudulent conveyance under applicable law (if any), or otherwise to reflect limitations under applicable law or capital maintenance regulations (if any) provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, ABO will not provide a Senior Notes Guarantee in respect of the New Senior Notes. See “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of Guarantees and the Security Interests” and “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the New Notes and the Structure—Corporate benefit and financial assistance laws and other limitations on the obligations under the Guarantees may adversely affect the validity and enforceability of the Guarantees”.

- (5) In connection with its mobile license for 3G services, HOT Mobile provided a bank guarantee in the amount of NIS 695 million to the State of Israel. HOT Mobile’s obligation to the bank that issued such guarantee is secured by a pledge of all of its assets. As of the first testing date on September 26, 2013, we have achieved a market share calculated in accordance with the license agreement that entitled us to a deduction of the entire amount of the NIS 695 million license fee outstanding. Accordingly, we requested the Israeli Ministry of Communications to reduce the amount of the bank guarantee to an amount of NIS 80 million as a guarantee of our obligation to achieve certain territorial coverage requirements under our license. On November 21, 2013, the Israeli Ministry of Communications notified HOT Mobile that the license fees shall be decreased to NIS 10 million (which has already been paid) and the bank guarantee shall be decreased from the amount of NIS 695 to an amount of NIS 80 million. HOT Mobile is not a guarantor under the HOT Refinancing Note. HOT Mobile will not be a Guarantor or provide any security with respect to the Senior Secured Debt or the Senior Notes.
- (6) The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are senior unsecured obligations of HOT which mature on September 30, 2018. As of September 30, 2014, the total principal amount of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes outstanding was €261.2 million equivalent. The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are:
- (i) effectively subordinated to the HOT Refinancing Notes and the guarantees thereof granted by the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors to the extent of the lesser of (x) the value of the assets of HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors securing the HOT Refinancing Notes and the guarantees thereof and (y) the amount owing under the HOT Refinancing Notes;
 - (ii) pari passu with the HOT Refinancing Notes to the extent the amount of the HOT Refinancing Notes exceeds the value of the assets of HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors securing the HOT Refinancing Notes and the guarantee thereof; and
 - (iii) structurally senior to the Senior Secured Debt and the Senior Notes and the guarantees thereof granted by the Guarantors.

The Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not subject to the Intercreditor Agreement and, as a result, in the event of an enforcement sale of the shares of Cool Holding or HOT pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement, the debt claims of the holders of the Existing HOT Unsecured Notes are not required to be released or otherwise transferred.

- (7) Pursuant to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, the lenders under the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility, the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility and the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility (together, the “Revolving Credit Facilities”) and certain hedge counterparties will be entitled to receive payments from the proceeds of any enforcement of such security and from certain distressed disposals of the property and assets subject to such security prior to the holders of the other Senior Secured Debt and the Senior Notes. See “Description of Other Indebtedness—The Existing Revolving Credit Facility Agreements and the 2013 Guarantee Facility”.
- (8) Each Guarantor (other than Cabovisão, PT OpCo, Green, Tricom S.A., Global Interlink Ltd. and ODO) is a holding company and does not conduct any operations and is wholly dependent on payments from its respective subsidiaries to meet its obligations, including its obligations under its Guarantee of the Senior Secured Debt and the Senior Notes and respective Pledged Proceeds Note.
- (9) On or prior to the Completion Date, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer will borrow €841 million (equivalent) under the New Term Loan and will use the proceeds thereof together with the gross proceeds of the New Notes and the amounts borrowed under the Senior Notes Proceeds Loan to make an intercompany loan to Altice Holdings. See note 14 below.
- (10) Altice International is a part of the restricted group (and a guarantor) for the New Indentures, the New Revolving Credit Facilities, the New Term Loan, the 2013 Term Loan, the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility, the 2013 Guarantee Facility and the 2013 June Senior Notes. Altice International is also a guarantor under the 2012 Senior Secured Notes Indenture, the 2012 Senior Notes Indenture and the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility, but is not subject to the covenants thereunder.

- (11) The Senior Secured Debt and the Senior Notes do not constitute direct obligations of any members of the Group that are not Guarantors, including HOT, the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors, Coditel Holding, Coditel Luxembourg, Coditel Belgium and Altice Blue Two and any of their respective subsidiaries. Upon an event of default under the Senior Secured Debt or the Senior Notes, any member of the Group that is not a Guarantor shall not be directly liable in any way, including by way of cross default, and shall not be required to repay any amounts outstanding, including any repayment premiums and accrued and unpaid interest thereon, under the Senior Secured Debt or the Senior Notes.

HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors will only be liable for their obligations as borrower and guarantors respectively under the HOT Refinancing Notes. Therefore, the obligations of HOT and the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors will be limited to an aggregate amount equal to the amount outstanding under the HOT Refinancing Notes, which may vary from time to time in accordance with the terms of the HOT Refinancing Notes. As of September 30, 2013, the amount outstanding under the HOT Refinancing Notes was NIS 1,900 million.

Coditel Holding S.A. and Coditel Luxembourg will only be liable for their obligations as borrower and guarantor respectively under the Coditel Senior Facility. In addition, Coditel Belgium will only be liable for its obligations under the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan. Therefore, the obligations of Coditel Holding S.A., Coditel Luxembourg and Coditel Belgium will be limited to an aggregate amount equal to the amount outstanding under the Coditel Senior Facility and the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan, as applicable, which may vary from time to time in accordance with their terms. Further, any enforcement action with respect to, and recovery under, the Coditel Senior Facility or the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan will be subject to the Existing Coditel Intercreditor Agreement. As of September 30, 2014, the amount outstanding under the Coditel Senior Facility and the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan were €131 million and €106 million, respectively.

Each borrower or issuer under the Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan will only be liable for its obligations under the relevant intercompany loan or convertible bonds. Therefore, the obligations of each borrower or issuer under the Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan will be limited to an amount equal to the amount outstanding under the relevant intercompany loan or convertible bonds, which may vary from time to time in accordance with their terms. For the principal amount of such Outremer Proceeds Loans, the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, the ABT Convertible Bonds and the GOT On-Loan, see note 2 above.

If there is an event of default under the Senior Secured Debt, HOT, the HOT Refinancing Note Guarantors, Coditel Holding S.A. and Coditel Luxembourg will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Debt if there is also an event of default continuing under the HOT Refinancing Notes or the Coditel Senior Facility, as applicable, in each case, indirectly as a result of an assignment of the HOT Refinancing Note or Altice Holdings' interest in the Coditel Senior Facility and/or the ability of the holders of the Senior Secured Debt to direct the actions of the Senior Secured Notes Issuer or Altice Holdings, as applicable, in connection with such assignment in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby. If there is an event of default under the Senior Secured Debt, the borrowers under the Outremer Proceeds Loans and the Le Cable Proceeds Loans will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Debt if there is also an event of default continuing under the Outremer Proceeds Loans or the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, as applicable (which is subject to an equity cure) in each case indirectly as a result of an assignment of the relevant Outremer Proceeds Loan or Le Cable Proceeds Loan, as applicable and/or the ability of the holders of the Senior Secured Debt to direct the actions of Altice Holdings in connection with such assignment in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby. The security interests securing the Outremer Proceeds Loans and the Le Cable Proceeds Loans cannot be enforced unless there is an event of default under the Outremer Proceeds Loans or the Le Cable Proceeds Loans, as applicable (which is subject to an equity cure) and an event of default under the 2013 Term Loan or the 2013 June Senior Notes, which has resulted in enforcement actions due to which Altice International does not exercise control over the relevant pledgor. Further, in addition to the above, Altice Blue Two Invest will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Debt if there is also an event of default continuing under the ABT Convertible Bonds, indirectly as a result of an assignment of the ABT Convertible Bonds by Altice Caribbean in favor of Altice Holdings and the assignment of the relevant Pledged Proceeds Note and Groupe Outremer Telecom will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Debt if there is also event of an event of default under the GOT On-Loan, indirectly as a result of an assignment of the GOT On-Loan by OMT Invest in favor of Altice Holdings and the assignment of the relevant Pledged Proceeds Note.

If there is an event of default under the Senior Secured Debt, Coditel Belgium will only have liability to the holders of the Senior Secured Debt if there is also an event of default continuing under the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan, indirectly as a result of a pledge of the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan in favor of the lenders under the Coditel Senior Facility and the assignment of Altice Holding's interest thereunder and/or the ability of the holders of the Senior Secured Debt to direct the actions of Altice Holdings (and indirectly Coditel Holding S.A.) in connection with the Coditel Senior Facility in accordance with the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, to the extent permitted thereby. Any enforcement action with respect to, and recovery under, the Coditel Senior Facility or the Existing Coditel Proceeds Loan will also be subject to the Existing Coditel Intercreditor Agreement.

- (12) Cool Holding and SPV1 collectively own 100% of the outstanding shares of HOT. Pursuant to the HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements, during the 24-month period commencing on the first anniversary of the Take-Private Transaction, the HOT Minority Shareholders will have the right to purchase shares of HOT sold pursuant to the Take-Private Transaction (representing approximately 11% of the outstanding shares of HOT) at a price of NIS 48 per share from SPV1. See "Description of Our Business—Material Contracts—HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements". In the event that the HOT Minority Shareholders exercise their rights to acquire shares of HOT, such shares will be released from the pledges that secure the Senior Secured Debt. If the HOT Minority Shareholders exercise such rights, the HOT Minority Shareholders will own approximately 11% of the share capital of HOT. In addition, the HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements grant certain rights to the Minority Shareholders, including, after the exercise of any such rights to acquire shares of HOT, the right to approve certain asset dispositions and the incurrence of material indebtedness. The HOT Minority Shareholder Agreements and the rights granted thereunder to the Minority Shareholders will continue to apply following any enforcement of the pledges over the capital stock of HOT or Cool Holding.

Upon the exercise of certain Minority Shareholder Call Options (as defined under "Description of Senior Secured Notes" and "Description of Senior Notes"), the Senior Secured Notes Issuer must offer to repurchase or prepay as applicable, the 2012 Senior Secured Notes, the 2013 Term Loan, the New Term Loan and the New Senior Secured Notes, at a price equal to 103% of the principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest and additional amounts, if any, with the net cash proceeds of such Minority Shareholder Call Options. In the event there are any remaining net cash proceeds after the completion of such offer, the Senior Notes Issuer must offer to repurchase the New Senior Notes and the Existing Senior Notes at a price equal to 103% of the principal amount plus accrued and unpaid interest and additional amounts, if any, with such remaining net cash proceeds. See "Description of Senior Secured Notes—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds" and "Description of Senior Notes—Offer to Repurchase with Minority Shareholder Option Proceeds".

- (13) All of the assets of HOT are currently pledged on a second priority basis to the State of Israel to secure certain payment obligations (which are subordinated to the HOT Refinancing Notes) related to our ownership of the cable network. The final installment of such payment obligations will be due on January 1, 2015. As of September 30, 2014, the total amount of such payment obligations was approximately NIS 22 million. See “Description of Our Business—Material Contracts—Agreement with State of Israel relating to ownership of our cable network”.
- (14) In connection with the issuance of the New Notes offered hereby, the Senior Notes Issuer will make an intercompany loan of the gross proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Notes (the “New Senior Notes Proceeds Loan” and, together with the 2012 Senior Notes Proceeds Loan, the 2013 June Senior Notes Proceeds Loan and the 2013 December Senior Notes Proceeds Loan, the “Senior Notes Proceeds Loans”) to the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, which in turn will use amounts borrowed under the New Senior Notes Proceeds Loan, the amounts borrowed under the New Term Loan, the gross proceeds of the offering of the New Senior Secured Notes and any amounts borrowed under the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility to make an aggregate €3,724 million equivalent proceeds loan (the “New AH Proceeds Loan”) to Altice Holdings. In addition, it is expected that Altice S.A. will contribute the proceeds of the New ASA Senior Notes to Altice International in exchange for mandatory convertible notes of €2,055 million aggregate value (with €100,000 nominal value each) to be issued by Altice International and to be subscribed by Altice S.A., and Altice International will, in turn, contribute such proceeds to Altice Holdings (the “ASA Notes Proceeds Contribution”). Altice Holdings will use the proceeds under the New AH Proceeds Loan and the ASA Notes Proceeds Contribution to make a proceeds loan (the “AWE Proceeds Loan”) to Altice West Europe, which in turn will use the proceeds under the AWE Proceeds Loan to make a proceeds loan (the “AP Proceeds Loan”) to Altice Portugal to consummate the PT Portugal Acquisition.
- As part of the PT Portugal Acquisition, Altice Portugal will (i) on-lend €5,604 million borrowed under the AP Proceeds Loan to PT Portugal so that PT Portugal can repay €4,634.4 million of its existing debt, (ii) PT Portugal will then on-lend €969.6 million of the amounts received from Altice Portugal to PT OpCo so that PT OpCo can repay €968.4 million of its existing debt and €1.2 million of the amounts received from PT OpCo to PT Móveis, which in turn will on-lend all such amounts to SIRESP so that SIRESP can repay € 1.2 million of its existing debt (all such loans together, the “PT Group Loans”).
- (15) The Restricted Group excludes Valvision, Green Datacenter and Auberimmo (and in the case of the Senior Secured Notes, also excludes the Senior Notes Issuer). We disposed of our interests in Valvision in 2013 to the Numericable Group. Green Datacenter and Auberimmo are designated as unrestricted subsidiaries under the terms governing the indebtedness of the Group. Valvision’s contribution to our revenue and EBITDA was not material. In each of the years ended December 31, 2011, 2012 and 2013, Green Datacenter contributed €4.3 million, €10.3 million and €12.4 million to aggregated and pro forma revenues and € 3.6 million, €9.0 million and €10.2 million to aggregated and pro forma EBITDA and Auberimmo’s contribution to our revenue and EBITDA was not material. For the nine months ended September 30, 2013 and 2014, Green Datacenter contributed €8.8 million and € 8.2 million to pro forma revenue and €7.6 million and € 6.9 million to pro forma EBITDA, respectively. In connection with the approval of the Altice Group’s acquisition of SFR, the French Competition Authority has required us to undertake divestitures of our mobile businesses in La Réunion and Mayotte.

LIMITATION ON VALIDITY AND ENFORCEABILITY OF THE GUARANTEES AND THE SECURITY INTERESTS

Set forth below is a summary of certain limitations on the enforceability of the Guarantees and the Collateral in each of the jurisdictions in which the Issuers and the Guarantors are organized.

Israel

General Corporate Power

The Israeli Companies Law, 5759-1999 requires a company to indicate its purpose in its articles of association. Thus, the general corporate capacity of an Israeli company to provide a guarantee or security may be limited by its organizational documents (i.e. its articles of association).

Subject to any specific provision in a company's organizational documents, a grant of security or a guarantee by an Israeli company would generally require the approval of its board of directors, absent the existence of any interested party transactions. Transactions involving interested parties may also require approvals of the shareholders, audit committee and/or independent directors.

Limitation on Distributions and Fiduciary Duties

Under Israeli law, in certain circumstances, a company's undertaking to guarantee or provide security for the benefit of its parent company with respect to an amount in excess of the amounts actually received by such company (i.e., with respect to excess amounts received by other entities), will result in the excess being a "distribution" under Israeli law, which term also includes a company purchasing its own shares or assisting with the purchase thereof. Under Israeli law, a company may only make distributions up to the amount of the greater of: (i) its retained earnings and (ii) its cumulative net income over the preceding eight quarters (and provided that it meets the Solvency Test as defined under Israeli law) ("Distributable Profits"). Distributable Profits will be reduced by the amount of prior distributions to the extent not already reflected in the calculation of Distributable Profits. Any distribution which is not out of Distributable Profits will require court approval.

The fiduciary duty of directors requires that they act in the best interests of the company. Thus, the board of directors must determine in each case whether granting a guarantee or security interest is in the best interest of the company.

Security Interests

Under Israeli law, there are generally two types of charges, a fixed charge and a floating charge. A fixed charge is the charge of a certain asset as a security until the debt secured by the charge is settled. A floating charge is a charge over all or an unspecified part of the assets of a company, including its future assets. Unless otherwise specifically stated, a floating charge would include all of a pledging company's assets that by their nature may change from time to time in accordance with the company's business and the nature of its operations. Generally and unless otherwise restricted pursuant to the debenture under which it is created, a floating charge does not restrict the company's conduct in its ordinary course, the sale of the charged assets in the ordinary course of business, or the imposition of additional charges and liens on the company's assets. When the floating charge crystallizes (for example, upon a default), it becomes, in effect, a fixed charge over all the company's assets at the time of crystallization.

A security interest is generally created by an agreement between the company and the creditor (certain security interests by operation of law excluded). The security is perfected against third parties if registered with the Companies Registrar within 21 days of its creation (or, if created by a non Israeli company, upon registration with the Registrar of Pledges); however, certain charges may be perfected by the possession of the asset by the creditor or its agent. A charge over real-estate of a company (a "mortgage") must also be registered with the Land Registry Bureau. Charges over vessels, patents, trademarks and other assets subject to separate government registrars may be also registered with such registrars.

Enforcement of Guarantee and Securities

General

A guarantee is governed by the Guarantee Law, 5727-1967 and is generally enforced as a contract under Israeli law.

Under Israeli law, the realization of a pledge generally requires a court order or, with respect to certain assets, an order from the Office of Execution of Judgments and as a practical matter generally results in the appointment of a receiver to manage the assets under supervision of the court. Certain limited exemptions allowing for self-realization apply with respect to certain pledges in favor of certain institutional entities (namely a “Banking Institution” under Israeli law, the Bank of Israel, Israeli insurance companies, Israeli Provident Funds Management Companies, and members of the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange) and certain securities pledges in favor of certain institutional entities. Certain terms and conditions apply to any such “self help” realization procedures including, without limitation, the obligation to provide notice and the obligation to sell the pledged assets in the manner common in the applicable market of the asset (and in the absence of such market, in a reasonable commercial manner).

Israeli courts would apply Israeli law for the creation, perfection, and enforcement of a security created by an Israeli company over its assets located in Israel. In addition, Israeli courts would generally apply Israeli law for the creation, perfection and enforcement of a security created by a non Israeli company over shares physically located in Israel.

Insolvency

Under Israeli law, if, among other things, a company is insolvent or the company adopts a special resolution approving a court-supervised liquidation, a company can be placed into involuntary liquidation through a liquidation order issued by the court. Upon the issuance of a liquidation order with respect to an Israeli company in the process of liquidation by the court (or the appointment of a liquidator therefor), there is an automatic stay of proceedings. The court may also impose a stay prior to the granting of the order of liquidation but after the filing of a petition for liquidation. In a process of voluntary dissolution, which is initiated by the determination of shareholders to dissolve the company, while there is no automatic stay of proceedings, the liquidator may apply to the court for a stay of proceedings.

As long as the stay is in effect, the continuance or commencement of any proceeding against the company is prohibited other than with the permission of the court or upon certain limited circumstances, which include the right of secured creditors to enforce their security to recover up to the amount of their secured debt. Any balance from such realization exceeding the secured debt will form part of the assets of the company to be distributed by the liquidator. If the value of the security is less than the value of the debt, then the secured creditor may recover the balance of the sum owed to it (exceeding such value) pari passu with the unsecured creditors. In addition, the liquidator may disclaim certain unfavorable contracts of the company.

Israeli insolvency law generally favors the continuation of a business over immediate payment of creditors. The following factors, among others, may affect rights of secured creditors generally and in insolvency proceedings particularly:

- Fraudulent conveyance principles and other similar laws affecting creditors’ rights and remedies generally and by application by a competent court of equitable principles. Under Israeli law, any transfer of asset or creation of a security interest by a debtor may be declared not enforceable in liquidation, reorganization or composition proceedings of the debtor if, generally, the following conditions are met: (a) the debtor is deemed insolvent (as defined in and construed under Israeli law principles) at the time of the conveyance; (b) the conveyance is effected in the three months prior to the commencement of the liquidation or reorganization proceedings; and (c) the conveyance is made by the debtor with the intention of fraudulently preferring a certain creditor or as a result of illegal coercion or persuasion by the creditor. A specific fraudulent conveyance rule applies to security interests created under a floating charge. Under Israeli law, a floating charge created during the six months prior to the start of the liquidation, reorganization or composition proceedings, may be construed as invalid as to the indebtedness secured thereunder and not advanced by the creditor holding the floating charge at the creation of the pledge or immediately thereafter (together with interest at the rate set by law), unless sufficient proof exists to support the fact that the debtor was solvent immediately following the creation of the floating charge.
- The issuance of a liquidation order by a court of competent authority in respect of a company results in a stay of proceedings. Upon the issuance of the liquidation order, creditors of a company are prohibited from taking any action against the company or its assets to secure or realize their rights, and any such proceedings not completed are stayed. However, the liquidation order does not prevent creditors holding a secured interest from enforcing and realizing their collateral or to otherwise use it in a different manner (although the enforcement process may be procedurally limited in a certain manner). Notwithstanding the foregoing, a court of competent authority may order a moratorium on proceedings against a company for a period of up to nine months (and may extend that period for additional three month periods (without limitation as to the aggregate time frame), for special reasons) if the court is convinced that the moratorium may contribute to the formation of a compromise or arrangement between the company, its shareholders and its creditors. Secured creditors are restricted from enforcing their collateral during the moratorium period, unless the court is convinced that either (i) no adequate protection exists to safeguard the secured creditors’ rights or (ii) enforcement of the secured creditor’s rights will not jeopardize the ability of the company to duly form and approve the arrangement or compromise so contemplated.

Claims and rights of creditors of a company in insolvency proceedings may abate in whole or in part due to insufficient funds and assets of the company in insolvency. Generally, the distribution of assets in insolvency proceedings is governed by two core principles: the principle of absolute superiority, according to which creditors of a certain class, who rank higher in priority to other creditors, will be permitted to satisfy their interests in full prior to creditors of a different class, who rank lower in priority, and the principle of absolute equality, according to which creditors of the same class will have a pro rata right to secure and satisfy their interest with other creditors of the same class. Generally, subject to certain exceptions, creditors holding a fixed pledge or charge rank higher in priority to shareholders and other unsecured creditors of a company and may, subject to the limitations described above, proceed in enforcing their security interest without interference. Such creditors are entitled to use the proceeds received in connection with the realization of their security interest to satisfy their entire claim but will be treated as unsecured creditors with respect to any portion of their claim not entirely satisfied by the proceeds so received if such proceeds are insufficient to repay their entire interest. Creditors holding a fixed pledge or charge may, however, be subordinated to (i) certain creditors statutorily preferred under Israeli law (e.g. tax authorities holding a tax lien in respect of taxes owed and not paid on real estate property of the company), (ii) certain creditors holding a statutory lien, and (iii) creditors holding a fixed pledge or charge over specific assets which were acquired or received by the company using debt advanced by such creditors.

Reorganization

The Israeli Companies Law provides for a reorganization process for a company regardless whether the company is insolvent. A company (or an administrator or liquidator) or any creditor or shareholder of a company may request the court to summon a meeting of creditors or shareholders to agree to a compromise or arrangement between the company and its creditors or shareholders.

The court has a general authority to impose a stay of proceedings upon a request for a creditors and/or shareholders arrangement or compromise. As long as the stay is in effect, the continuance or commencement of any proceeding against the company is prohibited, including the realization of pledged assets and crystallization of a floating charge which require the consent of the court, which is conditioned upon the court determining that the pledgee was not provided adequate protection, or that the realization would not undermine the ability to formulate and approve the plan.

Furthermore, based on an amendment to the Israeli Companies Law which became effective in January 2013, the following additional factors may adversely affect rights of secured creditors:

- without approval of creditors, a company will be permitted to use an asset which is subject to a charge, including selling the asset free of liens (in the ordinary course of business with either the agreement of the creditor or court approval, and not in the ordinary course of business if approved by the court) if necessary for the reorganization of the company. The secured creditor must have “adequate protection”, either from the proceeds of the sale or an asset acquired to replace the asset subject to the disposition. If the asset which is subject to a security interest is sold, the proceeds of sale or any replacement asset which can be identified or traced will be subject to a corresponding security interest in favor of the secured creditor.
- without approval of creditors, the company will be able to raise new financing for the continued operations of the company subject to a stay order issued by a court. This new financing is treated as an expense of the reorganization, and is therefore given priority over other liabilities of the company. In such a financing, the company may create a charge in favor of the lenders that would have priority to the existing security interests if the court believes it necessary for the company to raise the funds. The court would need to be satisfied that there is “adequate protection” for the existing secured creditors notwithstanding the creation of the new security interest. See “Limitation on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees and the Security Interests—Israel”.

Similarly, in the event that rehabilitation or restructuring is not sought or does not succeed, the rights of the holders of the New Notes and the Trustee to enforce remedies are likely to be sufficiently impaired by bankruptcy, receivership or other liquidation proceedings under applicable Israeli laws such as the Bankruptcy Ordinance (New Version)—1980 and the Companies Ordinance (New Version)—1983, if the benefit of such laws is sought.

Special Regulatory Approvals

The approval of the Israeli Ministry of Communications is required prior to the realization of the security interest granted (whether directly or indirectly) over the shares of Cool Holding, SPV1, HOT and HOT Net and the interests in HOT Telecom Limited Partnership, and prior to a realization that would result (whether directly or indirectly) in a change in the identity of the shareholders of a licensee under the Telecommunications Law, and over the assets of HOT (which realization may not interfere with the orderly provision of the services). There is no set time period for review by the Israeli Ministry of Communications and such approval may be withheld or delayed by the Israeli Ministry of Communications in its sole discretion.

Priority of Claims

Generally, the priority of claims on a company's assets will be determined in the following order:

1. Secured Creditors—including: (a) statutory pledges, such as taxes due; (b) certain costs related to execution of judgments; and (c) secured creditors with valid security interests including fixed equitable charges, legal mortgage and floating charges which crystallize prior to the liquidation process and holders of a contractor's lien;
2. Liquidation expenses;
3. Preferential creditors—specifically certain employee wages (to a limited extent), and different payments or taxes to tax authorities;
4. Pledges under floating charges which crystallized with the liquidation of the company;
5. Unsecured creditors; and
6. Shareholders.

Luxembourg

The conditions to be satisfied by the granting of guarantees/security interests relate to (i) corporate power, (ii) corporate authority, and (iii) corporate benefit. These rules are derived from general principles and must be applied to specific circumstances, which have to be analyzed on a case by case basis.

Corporate power

Limits on corporate power can either be imposed (i) by law or (ii) by the articles of association of the company.

1. Limitations imposed by law.

Pursuant to the Luxembourg Civil Code, a company is incorporated with a view to participate in the profits (and the losses) which may arise therefrom. The goal to share the profits is an essential element of every company and therefore, a purely free (or gratuitous) act, without consideration, may be outside the scope of the activities of a company as contemplated by law. A company may however carry out gratuitous acts whenever these acts are accomplished with a view to the realization, directly or indirectly, of the company's corporate objective. It is normally understood that except in exceptional circumstances, an intragroup security is a type of act which may serve the purpose of realizing a profit.

Thus, it is only in exceptional circumstances when there is no reasonable indirect potential benefit of, or a motivated interest for, a proposed guarantee/security to be given by a company, that the validity of such a guarantee/security interest could be challenged for lack of any interest by the guarantor in providing the guarantee/security interest.

Further to this general legal restriction, additional limitations are imposed by specific laws, such as the prohibition to exercise a financial activity without a specific authorization (which in the case of a Luxembourg company, does not apply to financial activities within a group of companies) or the limitations on financial assistance to shareholders in the case of subscription or purchase of shares of the guarantor.

2. Limitations imposed by the articles of association.

The provision of guarantees or security interest by a company must be within the limits of the object clause of its articles of association.

Should the provision of a guarantee or security by a Luxembourg company be considered to exceed the corporate objective as expressed in the articles of association, the company is still bound by such action, unless there is evidence that the beneficiary of such acts knew that the acts exceeded the corporate objective or that the beneficiary could not, in light of the circumstances, have been unaware of that fact.

Corporate authority

When a Luxembourg company grants guarantees/security interests, applicable corporate procedures normally entail that the decision be approved by a board resolution or by decision of delegates that have been appointed for such purpose.

Corporate benefit

The third condition for a guarantee/security interest to be granted by a Luxembourg company is that the proposed action by the company must be “in the corporate interest of the company”, which words are a translation of the French intérêt social, an equivalent term to the English legal concept of corporate benefit. The concept of “corporate interest” is not defined by law, but has been developed by doctrine and court precedents and may be described as being “the limit of acceptable corporate behavior”. Whereas the previous discussions regarding the limits of corporate power are based on objective criteria (provisions of law and of the articles of association), the concept of corporate benefit requires a subjective judgment. In that context, the concept of a group of companies may be relevant, and while it should first be analyzed whether a transaction is in the best interest of the company on a standalone basis, it should also be examined whether the transaction is justified in the light of the interest at the level of the group, which may result in a benefit for the guarantor.

In general terms, group interest may justify the issue of a guarantee or the granting of security in favor of a parent company (upstream guarantee) or a sister company (cross stream guarantee), under the following circumstances:

- the proposed action must be justified on the basis of a common economical, social, or financial policy applicable throughout the whole group;
- the existence of a group should be evidenced through capital links; or
- the proposed action must not (i) be without any consideration, or alternatively (ii) break up the balance between the undertakings of the various group companies.

To the extent that all companies of the group are asked to bear in a similar way the burden of guarantees or security given for the benefit of the other group company or companies in an equal way, the obligation undertaken by a group company for the benefit of other group companies may be justified. Similarly, if a group company cannot exist outside of the group and is dependent on the group, assistance to other group companies should ultimately result in a benefit for such company. The limit of reasonable corporate behavior is reached when the transaction is exclusively in the interest of the parent company or the other companies of the group, without any benefit, direct or indirect, for the Luxembourg company granting the guarantee.

However, the failure to comply with the corporate benefit requirement will typically result in liability for the directors or managers of the guarantor concerned.

There is a limited risk that the directors or managers of the Luxembourg company be held liable if, inter alia:

- the guarantee/security interest so provided would materially exceed the (direct or indirect) benefit deriving from the secured obligations for the Luxembourg company; or
- the Luxembourg company derives no personal benefit or obtains no direct or indirect consideration for the guarantee/security interest granted; or
- the commitment of the Luxembourg company exceeds its financial means.

In addition to any criminal and civil liability incurred by the directors or managers of the Luxembourg company, the guarantee/security interest could itself be held unenforceable, if it is held that it is contrary to public policy (ordre public).

The above analysis is slightly different within a group of companies where a group interest (intérêt du groupe) exists. The existence of a group interest would prevent the guarantee/security interest from falling foul of the above constraints. In order for a group interest to be recognized, the following cumulative criteria must be met and proven:

- the “assisting” company must receive some benefit, or there must be a balance between the respective commitments of all the affiliates;
- the guarantee must not exceed the assisting company’s financial means;
- the companies involved must form part of a genuine group operating under a common strategy aimed at a common objective; and

- the assistance must be granted for purposes of promoting a common economic, social and financial interest determined in accordance with policies applicable to the entire group.

The criteria mentioned above have to be applied on a case-by-case basis and a subjective fact-based judgment is required to be made by the directors or managers of the Luxembourg guarantor.

As a result, the guarantees (upstream and cross stream) granted by a Luxembourg company are subject to certain limitations, which usually take the form of a general limitation language, which is inserted in the relevant transaction document(s) and which covers the aggregate obligations and exposure of the relevant Luxembourg assisting company under the transaction documents.

Each of the New Indentures contains the following limitation language:

The guarantee granted by any Guarantor which is incorporated and/or having its registered office and its place of central administration in Luxembourg (a “Luxembourg Guarantor”) for the obligations of the applicable Issuer which is not a direct or indirect subsidiary of such Luxembourg Guarantor shall be limited at any time to an aggregate amount not exceeding:

- (A) the aggregate amount of the outstanding intercompany loans made to the Luxembourg Guarantor or Subsidiaries of that Luxembourg Guarantor (which are Subsidiaries of that Luxembourg Guarantor on the Completion Date or which will be Subsidiaries of that Luxembourg Guarantor hereafter) by the applicable Issuer which have been funded directly or indirectly with proceeds deriving from the sale of the New Notes increased by
- (B) the greater of:
- (1) 90% of the Luxembourg Guarantor’s own funds (capitaux propres) and subordinated debt (dettes subordonnées, including for the avoidance of doubt intragroup liabilities), both as referred to in Article 34 of the Luxembourg law of 19 December 2002 on the commercial register and annual accounts, as amended (the “2002 Law”) as at the Completion Date (whether as original party or by way of accession); or
 - (2) 90% of the Luxembourg Guarantor’s own funds (capitaux propres) and subordinated debt (dettes subordonnées, including for the avoidance of doubt intragroup liabilities), both as referred to in Article 34 of the 2002 Law, as at the date on which a demand is made under the New Notes; or
 - (3) 90% of the net assets of the Luxembourg Guarantor calculated on the basis of the fair market value of the assets and liabilities of the Luxembourg Guarantor (as determined by the Agent or if the Agent so decides by a Luxembourg statutory approved auditor (réviseur d’entreprise agréé) (an “Independent Auditor”) as at the Completion Date (whether as original party or by way of accession); or
 - (4) 90% of the net assets of the Luxembourg Guarantor calculated on the basis of the fair market value of the assets and liabilities of the Luxembourg Guarantor (as determined by the Trustee or if the Trustee so decides by an Independent Auditor as at the date on which a demand is made under the New Notes).

Security interests considerations

According to Luxembourg conflict of law rules, the courts in Luxembourg will generally apply the lex rei sitae or lex situs (the law of the place where the assets or subject matter of the pledge or security interest is situated) in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over such assets. As a consequence, Luxembourg law will apply in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over assets located or deemed to be located in Luxembourg, such as registered shares in Luxembourg companies, bank accounts held with a Luxembourg bank, receivables/claims governed by Luxembourg law and/or having debtors located in Luxembourg, tangible assets located in Luxembourg, securities which are held through an account located in Luxembourg, bearer securities physically located in Luxembourg, etc.

If there are assets located or deemed to be located in Luxembourg, the security interests over such assets will be governed by Luxembourg law and must be created, perfected and enforced in accordance with Luxembourg law. The Collateral Act 2005 governs the creation, validity, perfection and enforcement of pledges over shares, bank accounts and receivables located or deemed to be located in Luxembourg.

Under the Collateral Act 2005, the perfection of security interests depends on certain registration, notification and acceptance requirements. A share pledge agreement must be (i) acknowledged by the company which has issued the shares and (ii) registered in the shareholders' register of such company. If future shares are pledged, the perfection of such pledge will require additional registration in the shareholders' register of such company. A receivables pledge becomes enforceable against the debtor and against third parties by the mere entering into the pledge agreement by the pledgor and the pledgee. However, the debtor is validly discharged from its payment obligations by payment to the pledgor as long as it has not gained knowledge of the pledge.

Article 11 of the Collateral Act 2005 sets out the following enforcement remedies available upon the occurrence of an enforcement event:

- appropriate or cause a third party to appropriate this collateral at a price determined, before or after appropriation, by the valuation method agreed by the parties;
- assign or cause to be assigned the pledged collateral by private sale in a commercially reasonable manner, by sale over a stock exchange or by public auction;
- court allocation of the pledged assets to the pledgee in discharge of the secured obligations following a valuation made by a court appointed expert; or
- set-off between the secured obligations and the pledged assets.

As the Collateral Act 2005 does not provide any specific time periods and depending on (i) the method chosen, (ii) the valuation of the pledged assets, (iii) any possible recourses, and (iv) the possible need to involve third parties, such as, e.g. courts, stock exchanges and appraisers, the enforcement of the security interests might be substantially delayed.

The perfection of the security interests created pursuant to the pledge agreements does not prevent any third party creditor from seeking attachment or execution against the assets, which are subject to the security interests created under the pledge agreements, to satisfy their unpaid claims against the pledgor. Except as provided in article 20.4 of the Collateral Act 2005, a third party creditor may seek the forced sale of the assets of the pledgor which are subject to such security through court proceedings, although the beneficiaries under the relevant pledge or security documents will remain entitled to priority over the proceeds of such sale.

Under Luxembourg law, security interests qualifying as financial collateral arrangements under the Collateral Act 2005 may be granted in favor of a person acting on behalf of the beneficiaries of such security interests, a fiduciary or a trustee as a security for the claims of third party beneficiaries, present or future, to the extent that such third party beneficiaries are or may be determined.

Registration in Luxembourg

The registration of the transaction documents with the Administration de l'Enregistrement et des Domaines in Luxembourg may be required in the case of legal proceedings before Luxembourg courts or in the case that they must be produced before an official Luxembourg authority (autorité constituée). In such case, either a nominal registration duty or an ad valorem duty (or, for instance, 0.24% of the amount of the payment obligation mentioned in the document so registered) will be payable depending on the nature of the document to be registered. No ad valorem duty is payable in respect of security interest agreements, which are subject to the Collateral Act 2005.

The Luxembourg courts or the official Luxembourg authority may require that the transaction documents and any judgment obtained in a foreign court be translated into French or German.

Portugal

The conditions to be satisfied by the granting of guarantees/security interests relate to (i) capacity and (ii) corporate authority. These rules are derived from general principles and must be applied to specific circumstances, which have to be analyzed on a case by case basis.

Capacity

Limits on capacity can either be imposed (i) by law or (ii) by the articles of association of the company.

1. Limitations imposed by law.

Pursuant to the Portuguese Companies Code (Código das Sociedades Comerciais) (the "Companies Code"), a company incorporated in Portugal (a "Portuguese Company") has the capacity to enter into any agreements, including financing and security agreements as long as they are necessary or convenient to pursue its purposes. Therefore, a purely free (or gratuitous) act, without consideration, may be outside the scope of the activities of a company as contemplated by law. A company may however carry out gratuitous acts whenever these acts are deemed usual in accordance with the circumstances of time and the own means of the company.

The Companies Code sets out some restrictions on capacity of Portuguese Companies, in particular in what concerns the granting of security interest and guarantees to secure and guarantee the obligations of third parties. Pursuant to article 6(3) of the Companies Code, companies may guarantee third parties' obligations provided that:

- The third party is in a controlling or a group relationship (relação de domínio ou de grupo) as defined in the Companies Code; or
- The company has a justified own interest (justificado interesse próprio) in guaranteeing the obligations of such company.

Under the Companies Code the definition of “controlling relationship” includes relationships between Portuguese companies where one holds, directly or indirectly the majority of the share capital or the voting rights in, or the right to appoint the majority of the members of the board of directors or supervisory board of another company on, the other company. A “group relationship” includes relationships between Portuguese companies where one is 100% owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by the other or between companies that are bound by a group agreement or a subordination agreement whereby one company is subject to the instructions or management of the other.

In the absence of a controlling or a group relationship, the validity of a guarantee/security interest could be challenged if there is no justified own interest (justificado interesse próprio).

Further to this general legal restriction, additional limitations are imposed by specific laws, such as the prohibition to exercise a financial activity without a specific authorization or the limitation on financial assistance to shareholders or third parties, under the article 322 of the Companies Code, whereby the guarantee or security interest provided by a Portuguese company cannot be extended to cover any indebtedness used to fund, directly or indirectly, the acquisition or subscription of the share capital of such Portuguese company or its parent company (or, if applicable, in any other company which may indirectly control the Portuguese company).

2. Limitations imposed by the articles of association.

The provision of guarantees or security interest by a company must be within the limits of the corporate purpose clause of its articles of association.

Should the provision of a guarantee or security by a Portuguese company be considered to exceed the corporate purpose as expressed in the articles of association, the company is still bound by such action, unless there is evidence that the beneficiary of such acts knew that the acts exceeded the corporate purpose or that the beneficiary could not, in light of the circumstances, have been unaware of that fact.

Corporate authority

When a Portuguese Company grants guarantees/security interests, applicable corporate procedures normally entail that the decision be approved by a board resolution and/or by a shareholders meeting resolution and, where applicable, that the own interest (interesse próprio) of the Portuguese Company be justified in such resolution(s).

Public policy

The guarantee/security interest or any of its provisions could be held unenforceable, if it is deemed to be contrary to public policy (ordem pública).

Limitation language

The granting of guarantee/security interest in breach of capacity and financial assistance rules could entail criminal and civil liability incurred by the directors or managers of the Portuguese Company.

As a result, the guarantees and collateral (in particular, upstream and cross stream) granted by a Portuguese Company are subject to certain limitations, which usually take the form of a general limitation language, which is inserted in the relevant transaction document(s) (which will be included in the supplemental indentures executed by the Portuguese Companies), and which covers the maximum aggregate obligations and exposure of the relevant Portuguese Company under the transaction documents and excludes any obligations that may be deemed to constitute financial assistance pursuant to article 322 of the Portuguese Companies Code and/or a breach of the restrictions on capacity set out in article 6(3) of the Companies Code.

Security interests considerations

According to Portuguese conflict of law rules, the courts in Portugal will generally apply the lex rei sitae or lex situs (the law of the place where the assets or subject matter of the pledge or security interest is situated) in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over such assets. As a consequence, Portuguese law will apply in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over assets located or deemed to be located in Portugal, such as registered shares in Portuguese companies, bank accounts held with a bank or branch (sucursal) in Portugal, receivables/claims governed by Portuguese law and/or having debtors located in Portugal, movable assets located in Portugal, securities which are held through a securities account located in Portugal, bearer securities physically located in Portugal, etc.

If there are assets located or deemed to be located in Portugal, the security interests over such assets will be governed by Portuguese law and must be created, perfected and enforced in accordance with Portuguese law.

Perfection

Under Portuguese law, the perfection of security interests depends on certain registration, notification and/or acceptance requirements. As examples: (a) the pledge of nominative shares represented by certificates must be (i) notified to, or acknowledged by, the company which has issued the shares, (ii) endorsed in the shares certificates and (iii) registered in the shareholders' register of such company; (b) the receivables pledge becomes enforceable against the debtor after it has been notified to, or acknowledged by, the debtor; (c) the bank account pledge becomes effective against the banks after having been notified to, or acknowledged by, the banks; and (d) the mortgages over real estate must be registered with the Real Estate Registry Office.

Enforcement methods

In the case of a share pledge, bank account pledge and receivable pledge or assignment as security, the enforcement methods which are generally considered more suitable are (i) private sale (venda extrajudicial), (ii) foreclosure (apropriação) in case of financial pledges and/or (iii) disposal of collateral assigned as security (venda executiva). The private sale and foreclosure are only allowed if the security agreement so provides. The foreclosure is permitted for financial pledges over securities and cash deposits and provided that the parties agree the valuation method. In case of non financial pledges, the foreclosure must be carried out at the price determined by a court of law. Court enforcement is also possible but is usually considered to be lengthier and could prejudice the recovery of the claims.

Rights of third parties

The perfection of the security interests created pursuant to the pledge agreements does not prevent any third party creditor from seeking attachment or execution against the assets, which are subject to the security interests created under the pledge agreements, to satisfy their unpaid claims against the pledgor. A third party creditor may seek the forced sale of the assets of the pledgor which are subject to such security through court proceedings, although the beneficiaries under the relevant pledge or security documents will remain entitled to priority over the proceeds of such sale. In this case, the beneficiaries under the relevant pledge or security documents have to timely claim their credits ("reclamação de créditos") within the scope of the court proceedings initiated by the third parties creditors.

Language

Portuguese law documents may be executed in English. However, in case of enforcement the Portuguese courts or any other official Portuguese authority may require that the transaction documents and any judgment obtained in a foreign court be translated into Portuguese.

Insolvency

The ability of the Noteholders to enforce, secure and realize their rights under guarantees or security interests granted by a Portuguese Company may be delayed, restricted, subordinated, completely terminated or otherwise adversely affected in any insolvency proceedings conducted under Portuguese jurisdiction or subject to Portuguese law. The following factors, among others, may adversely affect rights of secured creditors generally and in insolvency proceedings particularly:

- Voidability of prejudicial transactions. Under Decree Law 53/2004 of 18 March 2004, as last amended by Law 66—B/2012 of 31 December 2012 (the “Portuguese Insolvency Code”), any transfer of assets, granting of guarantees or creation of security interests by a Portuguese Company may be terminated by the insolvency administrator irrespective of any other conditions in an insolvency proceeding of the Portuguese Company (the “Presumed Prejudicial Transactions”) if, inter alia, (i) the guarantee is granted in the six months prior to the initiation of the insolvency proceeding and is related with transactions which are not in the best interest of the Portuguese Company, (ii) the security interest is given in respect of existing obligations or new obligations replacing such existing obligations within six months prior to the initiation of the insolvency proceedings, (iii) the security interest is granted simultaneously with the creation of the secured obligations if they are undertaken in the sixty days prior to the initiation of the insolvency proceedings or (iv) the agreements are executed against consideration during the year before the insolvency petition is filed and the obligations of the Portuguese Company are deemed excessive when compared with those of the counterparty.
- Voidability of other transactions. In addition to the Presumed Prejudicial Transactions described above, the insolvency administrator may also terminate any transactions entered upon by the Portuguese Company during the two years prior to the initiation of the insolvency proceedings, which cause the reduction, place at risk, or which postpone the exercise of the creditors’ rights and are entered into in bad faith by the counterparty. Bad faith will be deemed to exist if the beneficiaries knew, at the time the security or guarantee was given, that (i) the Portuguese Company was insolvent, (ii) the granting of the security would be prejudicial and that the insolvency was imminent and (iii) the insolvency proceedings had already been initiated. Bad faith is presumed to exist in relation to any transaction entered upon with or benefiting a related entity in the two years before the initiation of the insolvency proceedings irrespective of whether such relation existed or not on the date the transaction was entered upon.
- The issuance of an insolvency order by a court of competent authority in respect of a company results in a stay of proceedings. The insolvency order creates a stay on all enforcement actions pending against the debtor. After the issuance of the insolvency order, the administration and disposal of assets will be decided by a court appointed administrator.
- Claims and rights of creditors of a company in insolvency proceedings may abate in whole or in part due to insufficient funds and assets of the company in insolvency. Under the Portuguese Insolvency Code higher ranking creditors of a certain class will be permitted to satisfy their interests prior to creditors of lower rankings, and creditors of the same class will have a pro rata right to secure and satisfy their interest with other creditors of the same class. Creditors holding a pledge or charge in relation to the insolvent’s assets rank higher in priority to shareholders and other unsecured creditors of a company. Such creditors are entitled to receive the proceeds from the disposal of the pledged asset to satisfy their claim but will be treated as unsecured creditors with respect to any portion thereof not entirely satisfied by the proceeds received from the disposal of the pledge if such proceeds are insufficient to repay their entire claim. Creditors holding a pledge or charge may, however, be only be paid after (i) the debts of the insolvent company incurred during the insolvency proceedings, the court fees and other costs concerning the proceeding, subject to certain requirements and limits, (ii) the debts of creditors statutorily preferred under Portuguese law (e.g. tax authorities holding a lien in respect of taxes owed and not paid on real estate property of the company) and (iii) the debts of certain creditors holding statutory liens (e.g. employees).

France

Limitations on guarantees

Corporate benefit, financial assistance and other limitations

As described in “Corporate and Financing Structure”, certain guarantees and securities have been granted by companies incorporated in France, and security has been granted over assets located in France.

In certain circumstances, where a French company acts in breach of its requirement to act for its corporate benefit, its officers may incur civil and/or criminal liability. In addition, under French law, a French court may, under certain circumstances, set aside a guarantee granted by a French company if such company derives no corporate benefit.

While the granting of guarantees by a parent company with respect to the obligations of its subsidiary are deemed to be, in principle, for the corporate benefit of the parent company, the granting of cross or upstream guarantees by a subsidiary may be more problematic from that perspective.

Furthermore, under French financial assistance rules, a company limited by shares may not advance funds, grant loans or grant security for the purposes of the subscription or the acquisition of its own shares by a third party. Breach of French financial assistance rules may result in criminal liability for the officers of the company acting in breach of these rules and their accomplices.

Based upon the above, guarantee limitation language has been agreed in this transaction with respect to the Guarantees to be granted by Guarantors incorporated under the laws of France (each, a “French Guarantor”) in respect of the payment obligations of the Issuers under the New Notes:

- the obligations and liabilities of a French Guarantor under its Guarantee will not include any obligation or liability which, if incurred, would constitute the provision of financial assistance within the meaning of Article L.225-216 of the French Commercial Code or any other laws having the same effect and/or would constitute a misuse of corporate assets or corporate credit within the meaning of Articles L.241-3, L. 242-6 or L.244-1 of the French Commercial Code; and
- the obligations and liabilities of a French company under its Guarantee for the obligations of any Issuer under the New Notes shall be limited, at any time, to an amount equal to the aggregate of the proceeds of the New Notes to the extent directly or indirectly on lent by such Issuer to that French Guarantor or any of its subsidiaries under intercompany loans or similar arrangements and be limited to the amount outstanding, if any, at the time a demand is made from such French Guarantor under its Guarantee; it being specified that:
 - any payment made by such French Guarantor under its Guarantee in respect of the obligations of any other obligor shall reduce pro tanto the outstanding amount of the intercompany loans (if any) due by such French Guarantor to that obligor under the intercompany loan arrangements referred to above;
 - any payment made by such French Guarantor under the Guarantee and Indemnity provisions of the 2013 Term Loan, the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility and the Existing Senior Notes in respect of the obligations of any other obligor shall (without double counting) reduce pro tanto the outstanding amount of the intercompany loans (if any) due by such French Guarantor to that obligor under the intercompany loan arrangements referred to above.

However, the balance of such inter company loans, which are financed directly or indirectly with the proceeds of the New Notes, will increase and decrease in the ordinary course of business, in line with the needs of the business and availability of such proceeds for other utilizations.

A French insolvency court may also refuse to enforce a guarantee if it is determined that the grantor was insolvent at the time the guarantee was granted and that the relevant secured party had knowledge, at the time the guarantee was granted, of such insolvency.

Grace periods

A French court may, pursuant to Articles 1244-1 et seq. of the French Civil Code, in any civil proceedings involving a debtor, whether initiated by the debtor or its creditor, taking into account the debtor’s financial position and the creditor’s financial needs, defer or otherwise reschedule the payment dates of payment obligations over a maximum period of two years and decide that any amounts, the payment date of which is thus deferred or rescheduled, will bear interest at a rate which is lower than the contractual rate (but not lower than the relevant legal rate as published by decree) or that payments made shall first be allocated to repayment of the principal. If a court order under article 1244-1 of the French Civil Code is made, it will suspend any pending enforcement measures that may have been initiated by the creditors, and any contractual interest or penalty for late payment will not accrue or be due during the grace period ordered by the court. A creditor cannot contract out of such grace periods.

French insolvency laws

In general, French insolvency legislation favors the continuation of a business and protection of employment over the payment of creditors. Consequently, the commencement of pre-insolvency or insolvency proceedings at the level of a company which has provided security and/or a guarantee in respect of the New Notes may limit the ability of holders of the New Notes to enforce a guarantee and/or security granted by such company in relation to the New Notes.

Under Council Regulation (EC) No.1346/2000 of 29 May 2000 on insolvency proceedings, French courts may have jurisdiction over the main insolvency proceedings of a company incorporated in the jurisdiction of another EU Member State if the center of main interests of such company is deemed to be in France. In determining whether the center of main interests of a company is in France, French courts will take into account a broad range of factual elements.

The following is a general discussion of insolvency proceedings governed by French law for informational purposes only and does not address all the French legal considerations that may be relevant to holders of the New Notes in this respect.

Insolvency (cessation des paiements) under French law

Under French law, a company is deemed insolvent (en cessation des paiements) when it is not able to pay its debts which are due with its available assets taking into account credit lines available to it, and debt rescheduling which its creditors have granted to it.

Warning procedure (procédure d'alerte)

In order to anticipate a debtor's difficulties to the extent possible, French law provides for warning procedures. Indeed, when there are elements which they believe put the company's existence as a going concern in jeopardy, the statutory auditors of a company can request the management to provide an explanation. Failing satisfactory explanations or corrective measures, the auditors can request that a board of directors (or the equivalent body), and, at a later stage, the shareholders' meeting be convened. Depending on the answers provided to them (and the type of company), the auditors can or must inform the President of the relevant Commercial Court of the warning procedure.

Shareholders representing at least 5% of the share capital and the workers' committee (or, in their absence, the employees' representatives) have similar rights.

The President of the relevant Commercial Court can also himself summon the management to provide explanations on elements which the President of the court believes put the company's existence as a going concern in jeopardy (or when the company has not filed its financial statements within the statutory timeframe, despite his injunction).

Court-assisted pre-insolvency proceedings

A company that has its center of main interests in France and faces difficulties may request the commencement of court-assisted pre-insolvency proceedings (mandat ad hoc or conciliation), the aim of which is to reach an agreement with the debtor's main creditors and stakeholders under the aegis of a third party moderator (mandataire ad hoc or conciliateur), whose name can be suggested by the debtor, appointed by the President of the relevant court (usually the Commercial Court). These proceedings are amicable, confidential (subject to the details below as regards conciliation proceedings) and do not involve any automatic stay.

Mandat ad hoc proceedings

French law does not provide for any specific rule in respect of mandat ad hoc. In practice, mandat ad hoc proceedings are used by debtors that are facing difficulties of an economic, legal or financial nature but are not insolvent. The mandataire ad hoc's duties are determined by the relevant court. This mandataire ad hoc is usually appointed in order to facilitate the negotiations with the debtor's main creditors or stakeholders but he cannot coerce the creditors to accept any proposal and the dissenting creditors will not be bound by the arrangement, if any. Creditors are not barred from taking legal action against the company to recover their claims, but, in practice, they generally abstain from doing so. Mandat ad hoc proceedings are confidential and are not limited in time. The agreement reached by the parties (if any) with the help of the mandataire ad hoc can be reported by the latter to the President of the court but is not sanctioned by the court or the President of the court.

In any event, the debtor retains the right to petition the relevant judge for a grace period as set forth in Article 1244-1 et seq. of the French Civil Code (see "France—Limitations on guarantees—Grace periods").

Conciliation proceedings

Conciliation proceedings are available to a debtor that faces actual or foreseeable difficulties of a legal, economic or financial nature but which is not insolvent or has not been insolvent for more than 45 days. The debtor petitions the President of the Commercial Court for the appointment of a conciliator in charge of assisting the debtor in negotiating an agreement with all or part of its creditors and stakeholders. Conciliation proceedings are confidential (subject to the below) and may last up to five months. During the proceedings, creditors may continue to individually claim payment of their claims. However, if, during the conciliation proceedings, a creditor initiates a legal action against the debtor or gives the debtor formal notice to pay, the debtor retains the right to petition the President of the Court for debt rescheduling for a maximum of two years pursuant to article 1244-1 et seq. of the French Civil Code (see "France—Limitations on guarantees—Grace periods"). In that case, the President of the Court who commenced the conciliation proceedings has jurisdiction and will take his/her decision after having been informed by the conciliator (conciliateur).

Upon its execution, the agreement reached by the parties becomes binding upon them and creditors party thereto may not take action against the company in respect of claims governed by the agreement. In addition, without such formalities being an obligation on the parties, the agreement can be either:

- upon all parties' request, acknowledged (constaté) by the President of the court, which makes it immediately enforceable. The acknowledgement of the conciliation agreement keeps the conciliation proceedings confidential; or
- upon the debtor's request, sanctioned (homologué) by a decision of the court, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions (i.e.: (i) the debtor is not insolvent or the conciliation agreement puts an end to the debtor's insolvency; (ii) the conciliation agreement effectively ensures that the company will survive as a going concern; and (iii) the agreement does not infringe upon the rights of the non-signatory creditors). The judgment will make the conciliation proceedings public only in respect of the existence of the conciliation proceedings but not in respect of the content of the agreement (except for the guarantees and security interests as well as the amount of "new money" detailed below, as provided for in the agreement) which shall have the following specific consequences:
- creditors who provide new money, goods or services designed to ensure the continuation of the business of the distressed company (other than shareholders providing new equity) will enjoy a priority of payment over all pre-petition and post-petition claims (other than certain pre-petition employment claims and procedural costs), in the event of subsequent safeguard (including the accelerated safeguard proceedings and the accelerated financial safeguard proceedings referred to below) proceedings, judicial reorganization proceedings or judicial liquidation proceedings; and
- in the event of subsequent judicial reorganization proceedings or judicial liquidation proceedings, the date of insolvency (cessation de paiements) and therefore the starting date of the so-called suspect period (as defined below) cannot be set by the court at a date earlier than the date of the sanction of the agreement by the court, except in the case of fraud (see the definition of the date of the cessation des paiements above).

Joint debtors, personal guarantors, or any third party that granted a security interest can benefit from the provisions of the sanctioned or acknowledged agreement. Provided the agreement (whether acknowledged, sanctioned or not) is duly executed, any individual proceedings by creditors with respect to the claims included in the agreement are suspended.

In case of breach of the agreement, any party thereto can petition the court for its termination. The commencement of subsequent insolvency proceedings will automatically put an end to the conciliation agreement, in which case the creditors will recover their claims and security interests, except for those amounts already paid to them. In any event, the debtor retains the right to petition for debt rescheduling pursuant to article 1244-1 et seq. of the French Civil Code (see "France—Limitations on guarantees and security interests—Grace periods").

Conciliation proceedings, in the context of which a draft plan has been negotiated and is supported by a large majority of creditors without reaching unanimity, will be a mandatory preliminary step of the accelerated financial safeguard proceedings and accelerated safeguard proceedings as described below.

Court-administered insolvency proceedings—safeguard, accelerated safeguard, accelerated financial safeguard, reorganization and liquidation proceedings

Court-administered insolvency proceedings may be initiated:

- in the event of safeguard, accelerated safeguard or accelerated financial safeguard proceedings, upon petition by the debtor only; and
- in the event of judicial reorganization or liquidation, upon petition by the debtor, any creditor or the public prosecutor. The debtor may file for safeguard proceedings at any time it is facing difficulties that it cannot overcome, as long as it is not insolvent. It is required to petition for the commencement of judicial reorganization proceedings (if recovery is possible) or judicial liquidation proceedings (if recovery is manifestly not possible) within 45 days of it becoming insolvent (unless it filed for conciliation proceedings in the meantime). If it fails to do so, its directors and officers may incur civil liability.

The period from the date of the court decision commencing the proceedings (whether a safeguard or a judicial reorganization) to the date on which the court takes a decision on the outcome of the proceedings is called the observation period and may last up to 18 months. During the observation period, a court-appointed administrator, whose name can be suggested by the debtor in safeguard proceedings, investigates the business of the company. Creditors do not have effective control over the procedure, which remains in the hands of the company and the administrator and is overseen by the court. In safeguard proceedings, the administrator's mission is limited to either supervising or assisting the debtor's management and assisting it in preparing a safeguard plan for the company. In judicial reorganization proceedings, the administrator's mission is usually to assist the management and to make proposals for the reorganization of the company, which proposals may include a business continuation plan (equivalent to a safeguard plan) and/or the sale of all or part of the company's business to a third party. In judicial reorganization, the court may also decide that the administrator will manage the company alone in lieu of the debtor's management.

At the end of the observation period, if it considers that the company can survive as a going concern, the court will adopt a safeguard or reorganization plan which will essentially entail a restructuring and/or rescheduling of debts and may entail the divestiture of some or all of the debtor's assets and businesses (a sale of the entire business is not possible in a safeguard plan). At any time during safeguard proceedings, the court may convert at its own initiative such proceedings into reorganization proceedings if the debtor becomes insolvent or at the debtor's request, if the approval of a safeguard plan is manifestly impossible and if the company would become insolvent should safeguard proceedings end. At any time during safeguard or reorganization proceedings, the court may also convert such proceedings into liquidation proceedings if the debtor is insolvent and its recovery is manifestly impossible.

During the observation period, in the case of large companies (with more than 150 employees or turnover greater than €20 million) or where authorized by the supervising judge for smaller companies, two creditors' committees (one for credit institutions having a claim against the debtor or entities having granted credit or advances in favor of the debtor and the other for suppliers having a claim that represents more than 3% of the total amount of the claims of all the debtor's suppliers—the smaller suppliers, if invited by the administrator, may elect to be members of such committee) have to be established. To be eligible to vote, suppliers must have their claims set forth in the list provided by the debtor to the judicial administrator as certified by the debtor's statutory auditor (or, in its absence, its accountant).

If there are any outstanding debt securities in the form of obligations (such as bonds or notes), a general meeting gathering all holders of such debt securities will be established irrespective of whether or not there are different issuances and of the governing law of those obligations (the "bondholders' general meeting"). The New Notes would constitute obligations for the purposes of a safeguard or reorganization proceedings and the Noteholders would therefore vote within the bondholders' general meeting.

These two committees and the bondholders' general meeting will be consulted on the safeguard or reorganization plan drafted by the debtor's management, together with the judicial administrator, during the observation period.

The draft plan submitted to the committees and the bondholders:

- must take into account subordination agreements entered into by the creditors before the commencement of the proceedings;
- may treat creditors differently if it is justified by their differences in situation; and
- may in particular include a rescheduling or cancellation of debts and debt-for-equity swaps (debt-for-equity swaps requiring the relevant shareholder consent).

Creditors which are members of the credit institutions' committee or the suppliers' committee may prepare an alternative safeguard or reorganization plan that will also be put to the vote of the committees and of the general bondholders meeting, it being specified that approval of these alternative plans is subject to the same two-thirds majority vote in each committee and in the bondholders general meeting and gives rise to a report by the judicial administrator). Bondholders are not permitted to present their own alternative plan.

In the first instance, the plan must be approved by each of the two creditors' committees. Each committee must announce whether its members approve or reject such plan within 20 to 30 days of its proposal to the debtor (such time can be reduced or extended by the supervising judge, at the request of the debtor or the judicial administrator, it being noted that it cannot last less than 15 days). Such approval requires the affirmative vote of creditors holding at least two-thirds of the amounts of the claims held by the members of such committee that express a vote.

Following the approval of the plan by the two creditors' committees, the plan will be submitted for approval to the bondholders' general meeting. The approval of the plan at such meeting requires the affirmative vote of bondholders representing at least two-thirds of the amount of the claims held by bondholders expressing a vote in the bondholders' general meeting.

Creditors for whom the plan does not provide any modification of their repayment schedule or provides for a payment of their claims in cash in full as soon as the plan is adopted or as soon as their claims are admitted do not take part in the vote. For those creditors outside such committees or where no such committees have been convened, the creditors' representative may elect not to consult them.

Following approval by the creditors' committees and the bondholders' general meeting (and approval by each creditor that is not a member of the committees or a bondholder of a proposal, including in particular a rescheduling or a cancellation of part of its debt), the plan has to be approved by the court. In considering such approval, the court has to verify that the interests of all creditors are sufficiently protected. Once approved by the relevant court, the safeguard or reorganization plan accepted by the committees and the bondholders' general meeting will be binding on all the members of the committees and all bondholders (including those who did not vote or voted against the adoption of the plan), as well as those creditors outside such committees/general meeting (it being noted that they can only have imposed upon them debt rescheduling by the court as detailed below).

In the event any of the committees or the bondholders' general meeting has refused to give its consent to the plan (or has not rendered its decision within 6 months of the judgment commencing the proceedings), the plan will not be approved by the court, which can still adopt a safeguard plan in the time remaining until the end of the observation period, in which case a consultation of the creditors on an individual basis will take place. They will be asked whether they accept rescheduling, cancellation of debt and/or debt- for-equity swaps provided for in the draft plan. Where the consultation is in writing, the creditor is deemed to have accepted the debt rescheduling and/or write-offs proposal if he fails to respond within thirty days upon receipt of the creditors' representative's letter. However, with respect to debt-to-equity swap proposals, the creditors' representative must obtain the agreement of each individual creditor in writing within this 30-day timeframe.

In such circumstances, for those individual creditors who have not reached a negotiated agreement, the court can only impose uniform debt deferrals over a maximum period of 10 years, except for claims with maturity dates of more than 10 years, in which case the maturity date shall remain the same. The court cannot impose on them debt write-offs or debt-to-equity swaps. The same rule applies with respect to creditors who are not members of the committees, or where no such committees or general meeting of bondholders are convened.

The first payment must be made within a year of the judgment adopting the plan (as from the third year included, the minimum annual installment is 5% of the total admitted liabilities), it being noted, however, that if the contractual provisions relating to a debt claim provide that the principal amount of such debt claim is repayable in fine and its maturity date falls within the implementation period of the plan, the repayment of such principal amount only starts on the first annual installment date (as set out in the plan) following the original contractual maturity date of that debt claim and such payment follows specific rules.

Court-administered proceedings—accelerated safeguard and accelerated financial safeguard proceedings

A debtor in conciliation proceedings may request commencement of accelerated safeguard proceedings. Accelerated financial proceedings are very similar to safeguard proceedings (see above) but have been designed to “fast-track” difficulties of large companies:

- (1) who publish consolidated accounts; or
- (2) who publish accounts certified by an auditor or established by an independent accountant and have (i) more than 20 employees or (ii) a turnover greater than €3 million or (iii) whose total balance sheet exceeds €1.5 million.

There are two sub-categories of accelerated safeguard procedures.

The first of these are accelerated safeguard proceedings which apply to all classes of creditors.

Accelerated financial proceedings apply only to debt owed to financial institutions and bondholders (i.e., debts towards creditors eligible to be part of the credit institutions' committee and bond debts) the payment of which is to be affected by the plan adopted through accelerated financial safeguard proceedings, other debts continuing to be paid in the ordinary course of business (e.g. trade debt or debt to the tax or social security administrations) in accordance with their contractual or legal terms.

Other creditors, such as public creditors (e.g. the tax or social security administration) or suppliers, are not directly impacted by accelerated financial safeguard proceedings. Their debt continues to be due and payable according to their contractual or legal terms. The list of claims of credit institutions and bondholders party to the conciliation proceedings shall be drawn up by the debtor and certified by the statutory auditor and shall be deemed to constitute the filing of such claims (see below) unless the creditors otherwise elect to make such a filing (see below). If the relevant conditions are met, all creditors may be subject to an accelerated safeguard procedure.

To be eligible to accelerated safeguard and accelerated financial safeguard proceedings, the debtor must fulfill three conditions:

- as is the case for regular safeguard proceedings, the debtor must (i) not be insolvent and (ii) face difficulties which it is not able to overcome;
- the debtor must be subject to ongoing conciliation proceedings when it applies for the commencement of the accelerated safeguard or accelerated financial safeguard proceedings;
- the debtor must have prepared a draft safeguard plan ensuring the continuation of his business as a going concern supported by enough of its creditors to render likely its adoption by a two-thirds majority of its financial creditors, within a maximum of three months of the commencement of the proceedings in the case of accelerated safeguard proceedings and of one month following the commencement of the proceedings in the case of accelerated financial safeguard proceedings (that can be extended by an additional month).

If a plan is not adopted by the creditors and approved by the court within such deadlines, the court shall terminate the proceedings. The court cannot reschedule amounts owed to the creditors outside of the committee process.

Where accelerated financial safeguard proceedings are commenced, the credit institutions' committee and the bondholders' general meeting are convened and are required to vote on the proposed safeguard plan within a minimum period of eight days of delivery of the proposed plan (as compared to a minimum period of 15 days for regular safeguard proceedings as described above).

The total duration of the accelerated safeguard proceedings (i.e., the period between the judgment commencing accelerated financial safeguard proceedings and the judgment adopting the plan) is three months and of the accelerated financial safeguard proceedings is one month (which can be extended by an additional month).

Status of creditors during safeguard, accelerated safeguard, accelerated financial safeguard, judicial reorganization or judicial liquidation proceedings

Contractual provisions pursuant to which the commencement of the proceedings constitutes an event of default are not enforceable against the debtor, while the judicial administrator can unilaterally request the termination of ongoing contracts (contrats en cours) which it believes the debtor will not be able to continue to perform. The judicial administrator can, on the contrary, require that other parties to a contract continue to perform their obligations even though the debtor may have been in default, but on the condition that it fully performs its post-petition contractual obligations.

In addition, during the observation period:

- accrual of interest is suspended (except in respect of loans providing for a term of at least one year, or contracts providing for a payment which is deferred by at least one year);
- the debtor is prohibited from paying debts incurred prior to the date of the court decision commencing the proceedings, subject to specified exceptions which essentially cover the set-off of related (connexes) debts and payments authorized by the insolvency judge to recover assets for which recovery is justified by the continued operation of the business; and
- creditors may not pursue any individual legal action against the debtor (or, in safeguard or reorganization proceedings, against a guarantor of the debtor provided such guarantor is an individual) with respect to any claim arising prior to the court decision commencing the proceedings if the objective of such legal action is:
 - to obtain an order for payment of a sum of money by the debtor to the creditor (however, the creditor may require that a court determine the amount due);
 - to terminate a contract for non-payment of pre-petition amounts owed to the creditor; or
 - to enforce the creditor's rights against any assets of the debtor, except where such asset—whether tangible or intangible, moveable or immovable—is located in another Member State within the European Union, in which case the rights in rem of creditors thereon would not be affected by the insolvency procedure, in accordance with the terms of Article 5 of EC Regulations 1346/2000).

As a general rule, creditors domiciled in France whose claims arose prior to the commencement of proceedings must file their claims with the creditors' representative (mandataire judiciaire) within two months of the publication of the court decision in an official gazette (Bulletin Officiel des annonces civiles et commerciales) (provided that the deadline starts upon receipt of an individual notification for those creditors whose claim arose out of a published contract or who benefit from a published security interest); this period is extended to four months for creditors domiciled outside France. Creditors who have not submitted their claims during the relevant period are, except with respect to very limited exceptions, barred from receiving distributions made in connection with the plans sanctioned by the court. Employees are not subject to limitations and are preferred creditors under French law.

In accelerated safeguard proceedings, a simplified process is applicable to creditors that took part in the conciliation proceedings.

If the court adopts a safeguard plan or reorganization plan, claims of creditors included in the plan will be paid according to the terms of the plan. The court can also set a time period during which the assets that it deems to be essential to the continued business of the debtor may not be sold without its consent.

In case of judicial reorganization or liquidation with a continuation of the business, if the court adopts a plan for the sale of the business (plan de cession), the proceeds of the sale will be allocated for the repayment of the creditors according to the ranking of the claims. If the court decides to order the judicial liquidation of the debtor, the court will appoint a liquidator in charge of selling the assets of the company and settling the relevant debts in accordance with their ranking. However, in practice, where a plan for the sale of the business is considered, it will usually appoint a judicial administrator to manage the company and organize such sale of the business process.

French insolvency law assigns priority to the payment of certain preferred creditors, including employees, post-petition legal costs (essentially fees of the officials appointed by the insolvency court), creditors who, as part of a sanctioned conciliation agreement, have provided new money or goods or services, certain pre-petition secured creditors in judicial liquidation proceedings only, post-petition creditors, the French State (taxes and social charges), other pre-petition secured creditors and pre-petition unsecured creditors.

Judicial reorganization or liquidation proceedings

Judicial reorganization or liquidation proceedings (redressement or liquidation judiciaire) are open to insolvent debtors, whose recovery prospects are respectively possible or manifestly impossible. They may be initiated upon petition by the debtor or any creditor or the public prosecutor. The company is required to petition for such insolvency proceedings (or for conciliation proceedings as discussed above) within 45 days of becoming insolvent. If it does not, de jure managers (including directors) and, as the case may be, de facto managers may be subject to civil liability.

The date of insolvency is generally deemed to be the date of the court ruling commencing proceedings, unless the court sets an earlier date, which may be carried back up to 18 months before the date of such ruling. Except for fraud, the date of insolvency may not be set at an earlier date than the date of the final court decision which sanctioned (homologué) the conciliation agreement in the context of a conciliation procedure. The period of time starting on such date of insolvency and ending on the date of such ruling is named the "suspect period" ("période suspecte"). Certain transactions undertaken during the so-called suspect period may become automatically void or voidable as detailed in the next section.

Where the debtor requested the commencement of judicial reorganization proceedings and the court considers that judicial liquidation proceedings would be more appropriate, after having heard the debtor, the court may order the commencement of the proceedings which it finds most appropriate. The same would apply if the debtor requested the commencement of judicial liquidation proceedings and the court considers that judicial reorganization proceedings would be more appropriate.

In addition, at any time during the safeguard proceedings observation period, upon request of the debtor, the administrator, the creditors' representative (mandataire judiciaire), the public prosecutor or (at its own initiative) the court may convert safeguard proceedings into reorganization proceedings or liquidation proceedings. In all cases, the court's decision is only taken after having heard the debtor, the judicial administrator, the creditors' representative, the public prosecutor and the workers' representatives (if any).

In the event of a judicial reorganization, an administrator is appointed by the court to assist the debtor to make management decisions (mission d'assistance) or may be empowered by the court to take over the management and control of the debtor (mission d'administration) (see the court-administered insolvency proceedings section above for the description of the observation period and the Creditors' Committees and Adoption of the Safeguard or Reorganization Plan section for the consultation of the creditors on the draft reorganization plan). At the end of the observation period, the outcome of the proceedings is decided by the court.

In the event of reorganization, an administrator is usually appointed by the court (administrateur judiciaire) to investigate the business of the debtor during an observation period, which may last up to 18 months, and make proposals either for the reorganization of the debtor (by helping the debtor to elaborate a reorganization plan, which is similar to a safeguard plan), or the sale of the business or the liquidation of the debtor.

There is no observation period in case of judicial liquidation proceedings being commenced against the debtor. The outcome of these proceedings, which is decided by the court without a vote of the creditors, may be a plan for the sale of the business and/or isolated sales of the debtor's assets in order to discharge the debtor's liabilities. In case a plan for the sale of the business is considered, the court can authorize a temporary continuation of the business for a maximum period of three months (renewable once at the public prosecutor's request), the effects of which are similar to an observation period.

The "Suspect Period" in judicial reorganization and liquidation proceedings

The court determines the date on which insolvency is deemed to have occurred. It can be any date within the 18 months preceding the date of the commencement of the proceedings. This marks the beginning of the so-called suspect period. Certain transactions entered into by the debtor during such suspect period are automatically void or voidable by the court.

Automatically void transactions include transactions or payments entered into during the so-called suspect period that may constitute voluntary preferences for the benefit of some creditors to the detriment of other creditors. These include transfers of assets for no consideration, contracts under which the reciprocal obligations of the debtor significantly exceed those of the other party, payments of debts not due at the time of payment, payments made in a manner which is not commonly used in the ordinary course of business and security granted for debts (including a security granted to secure a guarantee obligation) previously incurred and provisional measures, unless the right of attachment or seizure predates the date of insolvency (cessation de paiements), the transfer of any assets or rights to a trust arrangement (fiducie) (unless such transfer is made as a security for debt incurred at the same time), and any amendment to a trust arrangement (fiducie) that dedicates assets or rights as a guarantee of pre-existing debts.

Transactions voidable by the court include payments made on accrued debts, transactions for consideration and notices of attachments made to third parties (avis à tiers détenteur), seizures (saisie attribution) and oppositions made during the so-called suspect period, if the court determines that the creditor knew of the insolvency (cessation de paiements) of the debtor. Transactions relating to the transfer of assets for no consideration are also voidable when entered into during the six-month period prior to the beginning of the so-called suspect period (see "Fraudulent Conveyance").

There is no suspect period prior to the commencement of safeguard or accelerated safeguard proceedings, since the condition required to commence such proceedings is that the company is not insolvent within the meaning of French law.

Fraudulent Conveyance

French law contains specific provisions dealing with fraudulent conveyance both in and outside of insolvency proceedings, the so-called action paulienne provisions. The action paulienne offers creditors protection against a decrease in their means of recovery. A legal act performed by a person (including, without limitation, an agreement pursuant to which it guarantees the performance of the obligations of a third party or agrees to provide or provides security for any of its or a third party's obligations, enters into additional agreements benefiting from existing security and any other legal act having similar effect) can be challenged in or outside insolvency proceedings of the relevant person by the creditors' representative (mandataire judiciaire), the commissioner of the safeguard or recovery plan (commissaire à l'exécution du plan) in insolvency proceedings of the relevant person or any creditor who was prejudiced in its means of recovery as a consequence of the act in or outside insolvency proceedings, and may be declared unenforceable against third parties if: (i) the person performed such acts without an obligation to do so; (ii) the creditor concerned or, in the case of the person's insolvency proceedings, any creditor, was prejudiced in its means of recovery as a consequence of the act; and (iii) at the time the act was performed both the person and the counterparty to the transaction knew or should have known that one or more of its creditors (existing or future) would be prejudiced in their means of recovery, unless the act was entered into for no consideration (à titre gratuit), in which case such knowledge of the counterparty is not necessary for a successful challenge on grounds of fraudulent conveyance. If a court found that the issuance of the New Notes or the granting of a guarantee involved a fraudulent conveyance that did not qualify for any defense under applicable law, then the issuance of the New Notes or the granting of such guarantee could be declared unenforceable against third parties or declared unenforceable against the creditor that lodged the claim in relation to the relevant act. As a result of such successful challenges, holders of the New Notes may not enjoy the benefit of the New Notes, the guarantees and the value of any consideration that holders of the New Notes received with respect to the New Notes or the guarantees could also be subject to recovery from the holders of the New Notes and, possibly, from subsequent transferees. In addition, under such circumstances, holders of the New Notes might be held liable for any damages incurred by prejudiced creditors of the Issuers as a result of the fraudulent conveyance.

Switzerland

The validity and the enforcement of a guarantee or security interest may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, re-organization or similar laws, regulations or defenses affecting creditors and secured parties in general (including provisions relating to fraudulent transfer, voidable preference, corporate purpose, financial assistance, capital maintenance and solvency), international private laws (including ordre public) or laws or principles of general application (including but not limited to the abuse of rights (Rechtsmissbrauch), the principle of good faith (Grundsatz von Treu und Glauben) and public policy (including antitrust or merger control laws)).

Financial assistance rules

You may not be able to enforce, or recover any amounts under the guarantee/security interests granted by Green due to restrictions on enforcement reflecting Swiss corporate, tax and contract law.

Swiss corporate law does not recognize the overall legal concept of integrated company groups. Consequently directors and officers may not take a consolidated view and fulfill their fiduciary duties merely by considering the overall interests of the entire group and intra-group transactions not made at arm's length terms may be problematic.

Financial assistance by Green (or any other company incorporated in Switzerland which becomes a guarantor) in respect of obligations of its direct or indirect shareholder(s) ("upstream") or of related persons or entities of its shareholder(s) other than any direct or indirect subsidiaries ("cross stream") is subject to certain Swiss corporate law rules that may significantly impact the value of the guarantee/security interest. In particular, upstream and cross stream financial assistance must be within the corporate purpose and scope, as set forth in the articles of association, and interests of Green and may not entail a repayment of capital or a violation of legally protected reserves. In addition, the enforcement of the guarantee/security interest provided by Green may be treated as a profit distribution to shareholders and, therefore, must be unanimously approved by the board of directors and the shareholders of Green. Such financial assistance must be limited to the freely distributable reserves of Green, as to be measured by an auditor's report at the time of enforcement, whereby the report and the calculation of the freely distributable reserves available for profit distribution must take into account (by way of deducting) any upstream or cross-stream loans not granted at arm's length terms.

Payments under the guarantee/security interest provided by Green may be subject to the withholding tax at the current rate of 35% (or such other rate as in force from time to time), which, unless Green has entered into a specific agreement with the Swiss federal tax administration for a reduced rate of withholding, must be deducted from the gross payment. Swiss resident beneficial owners of such payments can claim full refund of the withholding tax on the basis of national law, provided the specific requirements are met. Non Swiss residents can claim full or partial refund of the withholding tax on the basis of an applicable double taxation treaty between the country of residence of the recipient and Switzerland, including the Savings Tax Agreement signed between Switzerland and the European Union on October 26, 2004 (SR 0.641.926.81, SR 0.641.926.811), which also covers dividends to EU parent companies, and the Treaty between the United States of America and Switzerland for the Avoidance of Double Taxation with Respect to Taxes on Income (SR 0.672.933.61), provided the specific requirements are met. The obligation of Green to gross up by paying additional amounts may not be enforceable under Swiss law.

Financial assistance rules are unsettled under Swiss law. There are very few court decisions available in this respect and the legal doctrine is divided. We can provide no assurances that future court rulings will not further restrict the enforceability, or deny the validity, of guarantees/security interests. Such rulings would negatively affect the ability to enforce the guarantee/security interest granted by Green. The granting of guarantees/security interest in breach of such financial assistance rules could result in the invalidity and non enforceability of such guarantees/security interests and could entail criminal and civil liability of the board of directors or other corporate bodies of Green. Thus, the guarantee/security interest granted by Green is subject to certain limitations, normally in the form of a general limitation language inserted into the relevant transaction documents and which are in line with the requirements set out hereinabove which in particular cover the maximum aggregate obligations and exposure of Green under the transaction documents.

Choice of law considerations

The guarantee by Green is, based on a choice of law, subject to the laws of the State of New York. Should a Swiss court accept jurisdiction in proceedings on the merits based on the laws applicable in Switzerland, a Swiss court will generally recognize the choice of law. The scope of such choice of law is, usually, limited to the rules of the substantive law chosen by the parties; as to procedural matters, a Swiss court will apply Swiss procedural law. Due to the different nature of Swiss procedural law and the procedural law in common law jurisdictions (such as the United States of America and the United Kingdom) classification and delimitation issues between substantive and procedural law could occur. To establish the non-Swiss substantive law applicable to the merits, a Swiss court may, in pecuniary matters, request the parties to establish the non-Swiss substantive law. If the content of the foreign substantive law cannot be established, then Swiss law may be applied. While a Swiss court will generally accept a choice of law, there still exist some exceptions: Swiss courts may diverge from the chosen substantive law (i) if such chosen law leads to a result contrary to Swiss public policy, (ii) if the purpose of mandatory rules of Swiss law require, by their special aim, direct application, or (iii) if the purpose of mandatory rules of another law, to which the dispute is closely connected, are considered legitimate under Swiss legal concepts and, upon weighing the interests of the parties involved, the clearly predominant interest(s) of one party so require. Also, the choice of law may not extend to non-contractual obligations. See also “Enforcement of Judgments—Switzerland”.

The above principles also apply to security interests.

Under Swiss conflict of law rules, the choice of foreign law with regard to an assignment of claims cannot be invoked against third parties not being the parties to the transaction.

Insolvency law considerations

Green is organized under the laws of Switzerland. In the event of insolvency, insolvency proceedings relating to Green’s guarantee/security interest would likely be subject to Swiss insolvency law. In addition, Swiss debt enforcement and insolvency laws may be applicable in case of an enforcement of security interests over assets of a foreign entity located in Switzerland.

Swiss insolvency law provides for two primary insolvency regimes, the bankruptcy procedure (Konkurs) and the composition procedure (Nachlassverfahren). Bankruptcy procedure is merely designed to liquidate the debtor’s assets and to distribute the proceeds of the liquidation to the debtor’s creditors. The composition procedure is in general intended to restructure a debtor’s critical financial situation and enable the debtor to continue its business on a reorganized financial basis. It can also be used to liquidate the debtor or the debtor’s assets. Both insolvency regimes and avoidance actions are governed by Swiss law in accordance with the Swiss Federal Act on Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy as amended from time to time (Bundesgesetz vom 11. April 1889 über Schuldbetreibung und Konkurs (SchKG), SR 281.1).

Swiss insolvency laws may make it difficult or impossible to effect a restructuring and the insolvency laws of Switzerland may not be as favorable to your interests as creditors as the laws of the United States or other jurisdictions with which you may be familiar. The following is a brief description of certain aspects of insolvency law in Switzerland. In the event that Green experiences financial difficulty, it is not possible to predict with certainty in which jurisdiction or jurisdictions insolvency or similar proceedings would be commenced, or the outcome of such proceedings.

Pursuant to Swiss insolvency laws, your ability to receive payment under the New Notes may be more limited than would be the case under U.S. or other non-Swiss bankruptcy laws. Under Swiss law, the following types of proceedings (altogether referred to as insolvency proceedings) may be opened against an entity having its registered office or assets in Switzerland.

Bankruptcy Procedure

In the event of a Swiss entity’s insolvency, the respective insolvency proceedings would be governed by Swiss law as a result of such Swiss entity’s office being registered in the competent commercial register in Switzerland. The enforcement of claims and questions relating to insolvency and bankruptcy in general are dealt with by the Swiss Federal Act on Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy, as amended from time to time. Under these rules, claims that are pursued against a Swiss entity can lead to the opening of bankruptcy (Konkurs) and, hence, a general liquidation of all assets, even if located outside Switzerland, and all liabilities of the debtor. However, with regard to assets located outside Switzerland, a Swiss bankruptcy decree may only be enforceable if it is recognized at the place where such assets are located (which requirements are governed by such foreign law). If bankruptcy has not been declared, creditors secured by a pledge must follow a special enforcement proceeding limited to the liquidation of the collateral (Betreibung auf Pfandverwertung) unless the parties have agreed on a private sale. The right to collect, purchase, sell or acquire ownership of the assets upon a private sale of the security interest is subject to notification and pricing requirements and must generally be made in accordance with the principles of good faith, adequately taking into account the security provider’s interests.

However, if bankruptcy is declared, while such a special enforcement proceeding is pending, Swiss court proceeding ceases and the creditor participates in the bankruptcy proceedings with the other creditors and a private sale is no longer permitted. Certain particular rules apply to security interests created over intermediated securities pursuant to the Swiss Federal Intermediated Securities Act. As a rule, the opening of bankruptcy by the competent court needs to be preceded by a prior debt enforcement procedure which, involves, inter alia, the issuance of a payment summons by local debt enforcement authorities (Betreibungsamt). However, the competent court may also declare a debtor bankrupt without such prior proceedings if the following requirements are met: (i) at the request of the debtor, if the debtor’s board of directors or the auditors of the company (in case of failure of the board of directors) declare that the debtor is over indebted (überschuldet) within the meaning of article 725 (2) of the Swiss Code of Obligations (Bundesgesetz betreffend die Ergänzung des Schweizerischen Zivilgesetzbuches (Fünfter Teil: Obligationenrecht, SR 220)) or if it declares to be insolvent (zahlungsunfähig), or (ii) at the request of a creditor, if the debtor commits certain acts to the detriment of its creditors or ceases to make payments (Zahlungseinstellung) or if certain events happen during composition proceedings, such as failure to get a moratorium agreement.

The bankruptcy proceedings are carried out and the bankrupt estate is managed by the receiver in bankruptcy (Konkursverwaltung) which will draw up an inventory of the assets and, further to a creditor's call for the filing of claims, establish a schedule of claims (Kollokationsplan). From a Swiss law perspective, all assets, wherever located at the time of the declaration of bankruptcy and all assets acquired or received subsequently from the bankrupt estate are used to satisfy the creditors, after deduction of costs and certain other expenses. However, in respect of assets located abroad, the Swiss authorities do not have jurisdiction to collect such assets for the purpose of including them in the Swiss bankruptcy estate of the debtor. It is therefore the foreign law applicable at the place where the assets are located abroad, or treaties between Switzerland and the state in which such assets are located, that will determine whether and to what extent the foreign authorities can assist in the collection of these assets. Assets of the bankrupt estate over which a pledge was created in favor of a creditor before the declaration of bankruptcy are included in the bankrupt estate. The pledgee is under an obligation to remit the pledged assets to the bankrupt estate. As a consequence, the private enforcement of pledged assets is not permitted and the enforcement mandatorily occurs according to the rules of the Swiss Federal Act on Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy and the assets are liquidated by the receiver in bankruptcy in the same manner as the other assets of the bankrupt estate, but the creditor secured by the pledge retains its privilege (after deduction of the estate costs) to be satisfied from the proceeds of the liquidation of the assets pledged to it with priority over the unsecured creditors, unless the proceeds from the sale of the pledged assets exceeds the secured claims, in which case the surplus is available for distribution to the unsecured creditors. If the enforcement proceeds are not sufficient to fully satisfy the secured claims, the remainder of the claims have equal rank as unsecured claims with all other unsecured and (provided that it is not a privileged claim) non prioritized claims. If several pledges secure the same claim, the amount realized is applied proportionally to the claim.

Final distribution of non-secured claims is based on a ranking of creditors in three classes. The first and the second class, which are privileged, comprise claims under employment contracts, accident insurance, pension plans, family law and for deposits under the Swiss banking act. Certain privileges can also be claimed by the government and its subdivisions based on specific provisions of federal law. All other creditors are treated equally (pari passu) in the third class. A secured party participates in the third class to the extent its claim is not covered by the proceeds of its collateral.

Any creditor wishing to contest the schedule of claims because its claim has been entirely or partially rejected by the receiver in bankruptcy or not allocated in the rank requested must bring an action against the estate before the competent court. If any creditor wishes to contest the admission of another creditor to the schedule of claims or the allocated rank, it must bring an action against such creditor. Such court proceedings could cause the holders of the New Notes to recover less than the principal amount of their notes or less than they could recover in a United States liquidation. Such proceedings could also cause payment to the holders of the New Notes to be delayed, as compared with holders of undisputed claims.

With the opening of bankruptcy proceedings, interest ceases to accrue against the debtor. However, interest on claims secured by pledges continues to accrue until the realization of the pledge, provided the proceeds exceed the amount of the claim and the interest which had accrued by the date of the opening of bankruptcy proceedings.

Claims or rights assigned for security purposes by a Swiss entity that came into existence prior to the opening of bankruptcy can be enforced by the assignee outside Swiss bankruptcy proceedings. Enforcement in a strict sense is not necessary as the ownership has already been transferred to the secured party. Enforcement in this context essentially means that the obligation to return the transferred assets under the security agreement expires. However, this must follow similar rules as for the private enforcement of a pledge and must generally be made in accordance with the principle of good faith, adequately taking into account the security provider's interests, in particular that the security interests are to be valued fairly, the valuation must be properly documented, the secured obligations must be repaid by set-off out of the realization and any surplus after satisfaction of the secured obligations must be accounted for and repaid to the party having granted the security.

Swiss law is uncertain with respect to the enforceability of future receivables assigned by way of security that come into existence after the date of a bankruptcy. Under the current jurisprudence of the Swiss Federal Supreme Court, the assignment of claims or rights coming into existence after the adjudication of bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceedings that lead to the loss of the capacity of the relevant assignor to dispose of such rights or claims may generally not be enforceable by the secured creditor.

Composition Procedure

Swiss insolvency laws also provide for reorganization procedures by composition with the debtor's creditors. Reorganization is initiated by a request to be made by the debtor itself or in certain circumstances by the creditors with the competent court for a moratorium (Nachlassstundung) pending negotiation of the composition agreement with the creditors and confirmation of such agreement by the competent court. If the request meets the statutory prerequisites, i.e. if it does not seem obvious that there is no prospect to reach a composition agreement, the court will grant the debtor a provisional moratorium. Such provisional moratorium may last up to four months. The administrator (Sachwalter) appointed by the court must apply for a definitive moratorium of another four to six months which can be extended to twelve months and, in particularly complex cases, to twenty-four months. In the event of an extension exceeding twelve months, administrator shall call for a creditors' meeting.

The composition procedure will result in a settlement with all creditors called a composition agreement. A distinction is made between a composition agreement providing for the assignment of assets (Nachlassvertrag mit Vermögensabtretung) (also called the "liquidation agreement") which leads to a liquidation, the creditors being satisfied out of the proceeds of the liquidation, and in many instances has analogous effects as a bankruptcy, and a percentage agreement (Dividenden-Vergleich) providing for the payment of a certain percentage on the creditors' claims and the continuation of the debtor, the creditors having waived any excess claims. Further, there is the possibility of a composition in the form of a payment term extension (Stundungsvergleich) where the debtor and the creditors agree on a payment plan according to which the debtor will pay its debts in full, but over time. The composition agreement may also provide that the creditors' claims are, fully or partially, satisfied by allocating shares in the debtor company or a company holding the debtors' assets.

During a moratorium, debt collection proceedings cannot be initiated and pending Swiss court proceedings are stayed. Furthermore, the debtor's power to dispose of its assets and to manage its affairs may be restricted. Enforcement proceedings cannot be initiated or continued as long as the moratorium is in effect, except for claims secured by a mortgage on real estate, but such mortgage on real estate may not under any circumstances be realized during the moratorium. If the debtor requests, and if specific requirements are met, the court may also suspend realization of mortgaged real estate for a period up to one year after confirmation of the composition agreement. Private enforcement of pledged chattel is also not admissible during the moratorium. However, after confirmation of a liquidation agreement, enforcement of a lien on chattel is permissible (if not excluded by the liquidation agreement). A secured creditor participates in the settlement only for the amount of its claim not covered by the collateral. The moratorium does not affect the agreed due dates of debts (contrary to bankruptcy, in which case all debts become immediately due upon the opening of bankruptcy proceedings). Unless the composition agreement otherwise stipulates, claims of unsecured creditors no longer bear interest.

The moratorium aims at facilitating the conclusion of one of the above composition agreements. Any composition agreement needs to be approved by the creditors (see below) and confirmed by the competent court. To that end, the court has to appoint an administrator (Sachwalter) whose authority may range from supervision of the debtor's activities to actually taking over the management of the debtor. The administrator drafts a composition agreement to be discussed at a creditors' meeting. The composition agreement is deemed ratified if prior to its confirmation by the court, either the majority of creditors, representing two-thirds of all admitted claims, or one-quarter of all creditors, who shall represent at least three-quarters of all admitted claims, have given their consent to the composition agreement. Secured claims are only counted to the extent of the part which, in the administrator's estimation, is not covered by the security. The administrator has to file his report with the court with a recommendation whether or not to confirm the composition agreement. The court will only confirm the agreement if the debtor's offer is reasonable compared to its financial capacities. In case of a percentage agreement or a payment term extension, it is required that the shareholders provide for a reasonable consideration for the company's restructuring. In the case of a liquidation agreement, the reasonability should depend on whether the creditors receive a higher dividend than in a bankruptcy. Furthermore, complete satisfaction of the filed privileged claims and fulfillment of all the obligations incurred with the consent of the administrator during the moratorium must be sufficiently secured, unless individual creditors waive security for their claims. With the judicial confirmation, the composition agreement becomes binding on all creditors (be it any pre-moratorium creditor and any creditor with a claim that has come into existence during the moratorium without approval by the administrator), whereby secured claims are only subject to the composition agreement to the extent that the collateral proves to be insufficient to cover the secured claims.

Avoidance Actions

Certain arrangements or dispositions that are made during certain periods preceding the declaration of bankruptcy or the grant of a moratorium in connection with a composition procedure may be challenged by the receiver in bankruptcy and certain creditors under the applicable rules of avoidance. The avoidance may relate to situations where: (i) an over-indebted company repays unmatured debts, settles a debt by unusual means of payment, or grants collaterals for previously unsecured liabilities within one year before the opening of bankruptcy proceedings; (ii) a debtor disposes of assets for free or for inadequate consideration, for example, guarantees or security interests for the benefit of third parties if not made on arm's length terms, within one year before the opening of bankruptcy proceedings, or (iii) the debtor carries out a transaction within five years before the opening of bankruptcy proceedings, with the intention, apparent to the other party, of disadvantaging its creditors or of favoring certain of its creditors to the disadvantage of others and in doing so damages the other creditors and in doing so damages the other creditors (whereby the actual test for such intention is an objective one relating to the circumstances at the relevant time and does not require proof of such intention to favor or harm certain creditor). Under certain circumstances these time periods may be suspended.

The granting of guarantees and security interests should not be voidable under (i) above as long as the creditor does not have or should not have any actual or constructive knowledge of the grantor's over-indebtedness. A bona fide creditor is therefore protected but bears the burden to plead and prove its good faith. Furthermore, the granting of guarantees and security interests should in principle not be voidable under (i) above if the guarantee and/or security interest is later granted for previously unsecured liabilities, but the debtor had previously entered into an obligation to provide such guarantee and/or security interest. A guarantee and/or security interest which have been granted for free or inadequate consideration may deem equivalent to a gift pursuant to article 286 of Swiss Federal Act on Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy.

In the event that such disputed transactions are successfully avoided, the creditors (such as holders of the New Notes) are under the obligation to repay the amounts received. The above principle of avoidance applies in particular to the guarantees or security interests granted by Green. In case of such avoidance of a guarantee or security interest by Green, any amounts obtained by the Noteholders under the guarantee or security interest that is avoided would have to be repaid by the Noteholders. The Noteholders who have restituted the avoided amount paid to them regain the original claim against Green and are entitled to file their claim to be listed in the schedule of claims in their respective rank and priority. The Swiss principles on avoidance may therefore limit the Noteholders' ability to recover payments due on the guarantee or security interest.

Foreign Bankruptcy Decrees

Foreign bankruptcy decrees issued in the country of a debtor's domicile may be recognized in Switzerland only, provided that (i) the bankruptcy decree is enforceable in the country where it was issued, (ii) its recognition is, inter alia, not against Swiss public policy, and (iii) the country which issued the bankruptcy decree grants reciprocity to Switzerland.

Dominican Republic

Conditions to be satisfied for the granting of guarantees/security interests in the Dominican Republic are derived from general principles of law and must be applied to each specific case. Generally these conditions relate to (i) capacity and (ii) corporate authority.

Capacity

A company incorporated in the Dominican Republic (a "Dominican Company") has the capacity to enter into agreements necessary or convenient according to the corporate purpose established under its bylaws, including financing and security agreements.

The goal to create value and therefore profits for its shareholders is an essential element of every company and therefore, an act without receiving consideration may fall outside the scope of the purpose of a Dominican Company and could be challenged for lack of interest/cause. However, a Dominican Company may grant security/guarantee in favor of a parent/controlling entity or in favor of subsidiaries or other related entities belonging to the same corporate group.

The granting of a guarantee/security by a Dominican Company must be for its corporate benefit (interés social). There is no statutory definition of corporate benefit under Dominican law; understanding that the existence or absence of corporate benefit is assessed by the courts on a case by case basis.

A guarantee/security interest could be held unenforceable if it is contrary to public policy.

Corporate Authority

When a Dominican Company grants guarantees/security interests, applicable corporate procedures normally entail that the decision be approved by a board resolution or by decision of shareholders in a general shareholders meeting, in each case according to applicable rules of quorum and majority set forth by the bylaws/law.

According to Article 217 of General Corporations Law No. 479-08 (as amended), issuance of corporate guarantee by a Dominican Company shall be approved by the Board of Directors, unless the bylaws require approval by the general shareholders meeting. On the other hand, pursuant to Article 327 of the said law a Dominican Company shall not grant as security obligations issued by such company.

Under General Corporations Law No. 479-08 (amended) the following transactions require authorization by the Board of Directors: (i) transactions with one or more of the members of the Board of Managers of a Dominican Company; (ii) transactions with third parties where one or more of the members of the Board of Managers of a Dominican Company have an interest in any manner; (iii) transactions with other entities where one or more of the members of the Board of Managers owns shares or is also member of the board of managers of such other entity. In addition, under General Corporations Law No. 479-08 (as amended), approval by the shareholders meeting shall be required in addition to board approval when any of the previously mentioned transactions involve an amount equal to or greater than 15% of the equity of a Dominican Company, individually or in the aggregate (on a 12 months basis).

Grace period

Under Article 1244 of the Dominican Civil Code, a Dominican court may under certain conditions grant a grace period in favor of debtor. When a debt is secured by a mortgage over real estate assets, grace period shall not exceed six months. During the grace period collection actions are suspended including any pending enforcement measures that may have been initiated by creditors. A debtor cannot waive in advance its right to ask the court for a grace period.

Security interests considerations

Governing law

The courts in Dominican Republic will generally apply the law of the place where the assets or subject matter of the pledge or security interest is located in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over such asset. As a consequence, Dominican law will apply in relation to the creation, perfection and enforcement of security interests over assets located in the Dominican Republic.

Perfection/Lien

Under Dominican law, the perfection of security interests and creation of liens depend on certain registration, notification and/or acceptance requirements applicable according to the type of security being perfected. For example: In a pledge of nominative shares (i) the pledge must be notified to the company that issued the shares by means of a bailiff notice for the pledge to become opposable to third parties and issuer, (ii) possession of the share certificates shall be delivered to creditor or to a third party agreed upon by both creditor and pledger; (iii) share certificates should be endorsed, (iv) pledge should be registered in the shareholders' register of the issuing company and at the Mercantile Registry of the corresponding Chamber of Commerce for the pledge to be opposable to third parties, and (v) the pledge shall have been authorized by the Board of Directors of the company or by the General Shareholders Meeting. A receivables pledge becomes enforceable against third parties after it has been notified to payer by means of a bailiff notice or acknowledged by payer in a notarial act (acto auténtico). A pledge over a bank account becomes effective against the bank and third parties once it has been notified to the bank by means of a bailiff notice or acknowledged by the latter in a notarial act. Mortgages over real estate must be registered with the corresponding Title Registry Office. Chattel Pledge shall become enforceable against third parties after registration at the corresponding Justice of Peace Office. A pledge over motor vehicles shall become enforceable against third parties after registration at the corresponding Department of the Dominican Tax Authorities (DGII by its Spanish acronym).

Enforcement methods

In general, foreclosure requires judicial foreclosure procedures to be carried out before Dominican Courts. Procedures vary depending on the type of asset/security being foreclosed on. There are certain requirements providing for notification to debtor, publicity and court hearings. Procedures normally end with a sale of the underlying asset at a public auction. However, in some cases (such as foreclosure on a pledge) creditor can either ask the court to sell the pledged assets at a public auction or request the court that the said assets be transferred to the creditor in payment of the secured debt. Contractual provisions allowing a creditor obtain ownership of the underlying asset without following judicial foreclosure procedures are generally considered null.

Rights of third parties

The existence of security interests created pursuant to pledge/security agreements does not prevent third party creditors from seeking attachment or execution of assets already subject to a security interest created in favor of another creditor.

A third party creditor may seek the forced sale of the said assets through court proceedings, although the secured creditor can oppose and should be entitled to priority over the proceeds of the sale.

Language

Documents creating security may be executed in English or another language. However, for registration and enforcement purposes or any other official use, a translation into Spanish prepared by an Official Translator duly authorized in the Dominican Republic is required.

Insolvency—Statutory Priorities

The ability of creditors to enforce security and collect under guarantees or security interests granted by a Dominican Company may be delayed, terminated or otherwise adversely affected by (i) insolvency/bankruptcy proceedings under Dominican law, or (ii) statutory priorities adversely affecting rights of secured creditors generally.

Insolvency—Bankruptcy

In the Dominican Republic, insolvency proceedings of commercial entities are governed by the Commercial Code of the Dominican Republic. This Code dates back to 1884 and resembles the French Commercial Code of 1807. Insolvency procedure contained therein is rarely used in practice except in some particular cases most of which never reached a conclusion.

In the event of insolvency of debtor, the Commercial Code provides the right to any interested party to bring an action under the Commercial Courts to open insolvency proceedings against the debtor.

In general secured creditors have priority rights (except for statutory priorities) to collect on their collateral and therefore are not affected by bankruptcy/insolvency proceedings unless they renounce/waive their security. Secured creditors have the right to participate in the distribution of other assets of debtor if their collateral is insufficient to cover their claims.

Once the insolvency procedure is opened:

- (a) The actions made by individual creditors against the Bankrupt are frozen. The seizure of assets by creditors through attachment or execution are stayed and replaced by a right to claim for a dividend against the pool;
- (b) all assets of the Bankrupt belong to the pool of assets which is available to pay creditor claims; and
- (c) creditors are paid pari passu out of the assets according to the hierarchy or ladder of priorities of their claims.

The insolvency procedure established in the Commercial Code resembles a final liquidation/winding up procedure or prepacking. The state of insolvency of a ‘merchant’ is determined when the latter ‘ceases in the payment’ of its obligations. The term ‘ceases in the payment’ (“cesación de pagos”) is different from insolvency in that the former applies if the Debtor does not comply with its due, liquid and enforceable debts then it has formally ceased in the payment of its liabilities. It does not relate to its debt-equity ratio whereby the assets could not cover the debts. Therefore, the debtor may become insolvent in the financial side but does not fall under the ‘cease of payments’ if it continues to pay off its debts.

The procedure starts off at the request of the claimant in the conciliation procedure of the Ministry of Industry and Commerce via the Chamber of Commerce and Production. The Chamber summons the debtor and grants the latter a period of 10 days to deposit its accounting records and balance sheet. The chamber fixes the date and time for the parties to meet to verify the credits and to reach a possible settlement. If no settlement is reached, the claimant may sue for a judicial order to declare bankruptcy of the Debtor. The judicial order to be issued will appoint a provisional liquidator, a judicial manager and will order the Justice of Peace to seal all of debtors’ assets. The bankruptcy judicial order shall be published in a national newspaper and it is subject to special formalities.

The issuance of the bankruptcy judicial order will have the following effects:

- (a) All outstanding debts will be accelerated and immediately enforceable;
- (b) stays on creditor’s executions, transfers of personal or real property without consideration; all payments in kind, for sale, stock, setoff or any other manner for any owed unmatured debts; all outstanding debts that does not involve payments in cash; all conventional or judicial mortgages; chattel pledge recorded on the debtor for past debts; and

(c) the removal of the merchant's board of directors or managers from the management of the merchant assets.

The Court shall indicate in the bankruptcy order the date on which debtor's state of insolvency started. If the Court fails to determine said date, the date of issuance of the bankruptcy order shall be deemed as the date on which the debtor entered into a state of insolvency. According to Dominican Law, the Court shall also appoint a Judge to oversee bankruptcy proceedings and shall order that debtor's assets be inventoried.

Payments made after the insolvency date or within 10 days prior to such insolvency date can be void or annulled if made: 1) other than in cash; 2) for compensation; or 3) for the payment of obligations not yet due. Payments made to a creditor that knew in advance that debtor had fallen into a cessation of payments state ("estado de cesación de pagos") can also be declared void or annulled. All collateral consented by debtor within this period of time can also be annulled.

Once the definitive liquidator is appointed within 3 days there will be a release of the seals recorded on the debtor's assets and an inventory will be made in the presence of the Justice of Peace. A consolidation of the assets is made which will culminate with a final judicial order approving or denying the liquidation.

With this judicial order the creditors must file in the court their title and security interests. The Secretary of the Court will order all remaining creditors to file in a term of 20 days all their title and security interests to the liquidator. In a term of 3 days after the furnishing of all credits a verification procedure of all credits and confirmation will be initiated by the judicial manager. A period of 8 days will elapse so that the creditors may ratify the credits to the judicial manager. In a period of 3 days after the confirmation of all credits, the judicial manager will summon all provisional admitted creditors to discuss the formation of a reorganization plan for the liquidation of the assets. Minutes of a meeting will be held to agree on the reorganization plan, the creditors will be allowed to vote and decisions will be taken on a majority vote. If the majority votes are reached, then the reorganization plan will be approved. If the votes do not reach the required majority, then the execution of the reorganization plan will be adjourned and a new date will be fixed for another minutes of a meeting.

In the event that no agreement is reached, the pool of creditors will be considered to be in union. There will be an additional period of 8 days for the filing of any opposition to the liquidator. Upon the expiration of this term, any party may request the validation of the reorganization plan. If no agreement on the reorganization plan is reached, a realization of the debtor's assets will be made by the liquidator and the proceeds for that sale will be distributed pro rata between the creditors.

In practice, however, the bankruptcy process as detailed herein is rarely opened and followed until it reaches its conclusion.

Statutory priorities

Certain types of credits are granted priority in collection by Dominican Law and are therefore considered privileged credits (créditos privilegiados). Privileged credits shall have preference in collecting from debtors assets even in the presence of secured creditors possessing liens on debtor's assets. Creditors with statutory priority include, among others; (i) employees (for collection of salaries, wages and labor compensation), (ii) Dominican tax authorities (for collection of tax obligations), (iii) lawyers (for collection of legal fees), and (iv) landlords (for collection of rent).

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Issuers have agreed to sell to the Initial Purchasers, and the Initial Purchasers have agreed to purchase from the Issuers, the entire aggregate principal amount of the New Notes. The sale was made pursuant to a purchase agreement dated January 30, 2015.

The obligations of the Initial Purchasers under the purchase agreement, including their agreement to purchase New Senior Secured Notes from the Senior Secured Notes Issuer and New Senior Notes from the Senior Notes Issuer, are several and not joint. Pursuant to the terms of the purchase agreement, the Senior Secured Notes Issuer has agreed to sell to each Initial Purchaser, and each Initial Purchaser has agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase from the Senior Secured Notes Issuer, together with all other Initial Purchasers, Dollar Senior Secured Notes in an aggregate principal amount of $2,060 million and Euro Senior Secured Notes in an aggregate principal amount of €500 million, and the Senior Notes Issuer has agreed to sell to each Initial Purchaser, and each Initial Purchaser has agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase from the Senior Notes Issuer, together with all other Initial Purchasers, New Senior Notes in an aggregate principal amount of $385 million.

The Initial Purchasers initially propose to offer the New Notes for resale at the issue price that appears on the cover of these Listing Particulars. After the initial offering, the Initial Purchasers may change the offering price and any other selling terms. The Initial Purchasers may offer and sell New Notes through certain of their affiliates. Sales in the United States will be made through affiliates of the Initial Purchasers which are registered with the SEC as U.S. registered broker dealers.

In the purchase agreement, the Issuers have agreed and, at the time of accession to the purchase agreement, the Guarantors will agree that:

- each of the Issuers, Altice International and, at the time of accession to the purchase agreement, the Guarantors will not offer, sell, contract to sell or otherwise dispose of, any debt securities (other than the New Notes, the Guarantees, intercopy debt and any debt securities of Senior Secured Issuer not to exceed €125 million equivalent), without the prior written consent of the Representatives (as defined therein), for a period of 45 days after the date of the final Offering Memorandum.
- the Issuers will indemnify the Initial Purchasers and their respective affiliates against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the U.S. Securities Act, or contribute to payments that the Initial Purchasers may be required to make in respect of those liabilities.

United States

Each purchaser of New Notes offered by these Listing Particulars, in making its purchase, will be deemed to have made the acknowledgements, representations and agreements as described under “Transfer Restrictions”.

The New Notes have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except to qualified institutional buyers in reliance on Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act and to persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act. Until 40 days after the later of (i) the commencement of this offering and (ii) the issue date of the New Notes, an offer or sale within the United States of New Notes initially sold in reliance on Regulation S by a dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements for the U.S. Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act. For a description of certain further restrictions on resale or transfer of the New Notes, see “Transfer Restrictions”.

The New Notes may not be offered to the public within any jurisdiction. By accepting delivery of these Listing Particulars, you agree not to offer, sell, resell, transfer or deliver, directly or indirectly, any New Note to the public.

United Kingdom

In the purchase agreement, each Initial Purchaser has also represented and agreed that:

- (i) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSM Act with respect to anything done by it in relation to the New Notes in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom; and
- (ii) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and it will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of section 21 of the FSM Act) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any New Notes in circumstances in which section 21(1) of the FSM Act does not apply to such Initial Purchaser.

These Listing Particulars are directed solely at persons who (i) are outside the United Kingdom or (ii) have professional experience in matters relating to investments or (iii) are persons falling within Article 49(2)(a) to (d) of The Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (all such persons together being referred to as “relevant persons”). These Listing Particulars must not be acted on or relied on by persons who are not relevant persons. Any investment or investment activity to which these Listing Particulars relates is available only to relevant persons and will be engaged in only with relevant persons.

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

In addition to the cases described in the section entitled “Public Offer Selling Restriction under the EU Prospectus Directive” in which the Initial Purchasers can make an offer of the New Notes to the public in an EEA Member State (including Luxembourg), the Initial Purchasers can also make an offer of the New Notes to the public in Luxembourg:

- (a) at any time, to national and regional governments, central banks, international and supranational institutions (such as the International Monetary Fund, the European Central Bank, the European Investment Bank) and other similar international organizations;
- (b) at any time, to legal entities which are authorized or regulated to operate in the financial markets (including credit institutions, investment firms, other authorized or regulated financial institutions, undertakings for collective investment and their management companies, pension and investment funds and their management companies, insurance undertakings and commodity dealers) as well as entities not so authorized or regulated whose corporate purpose is solely to invest in securities; and
- (c) at any time, to certain natural persons or small and medium-sized enterprises (as defined in the Prospectus Act implementing the EU Prospectus Directive into Luxembourg law) recorded in the register of natural persons or small and medium-sized enterprises considered as qualified investors as held by the Commission de surveillance du secteur financier as competent authority in Luxembourg in accordance with the EU Prospectus Directive.

Israel

Sales of the New Notes in Israel will be made through the Initial Purchasers and/or through an Israeli broker(s) engaged by them. The New Notes will not be offered to an Israeli person unless such offeree is a “qualified investor” (as defined in the First Appendix to the Israeli Securities Law) who is not an individual (a “Qualified Israeli Investor”) and who (x) completed and signed a questionnaire regarding its qualifications as a Qualified Israel Investor and (y) certified that it has an exemption from Israeli withholding taxes on interest and delivered a copy of such certification to Goldman Sachs International.

General

The New Notes are a new issue of securities, and there is currently no established trading market for the New Notes. In addition, the New Notes are subject to certain restrictions on resale and transfer as described under “Transfer Restrictions”. The Senior Notes Issuer will apply for the New Senior Notes and the Senior Secured Notes Issuer will apply for the New Senior Secured Notes to be admitted to listing and to trading on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The Initial Purchasers have advised us that they intend to make a market in the New Notes, but they are not obligated to do so. The Initial Purchasers may discontinue any market making in the New Notes at any time in their sole discretion. In addition, such market making activities will be subject to the limits imposed by the U.S. Securities Act and the U.S. Exchange Act. Accordingly, we cannot assure you that a liquid trading market will develop for the New Notes, that you will be able to sell your New Senior Notes at a particular time or that the prices that you receive when you sell will be favorable.

You should be aware that the laws and practices of certain countries require investors to pay stamp taxes and other charges in connection with purchases of securities.

Each Initial Purchaser has also agreed in the purchase agreement that it will (to the best of its knowledge and belief) comply with all applicable securities laws and regulations in force in any jurisdiction in which it purchases, offers, sells or delivers New Notes or possesses or distributes these Listing Particulars, and will obtain any consent, approval or permission required by it for the purchase, offer, sale or delivery by it of New Notes under the laws and regulations in force.

In connection with the offering of the New Notes, the Initial Purchasers may engage in overallotment, stabilizing transactions and syndicate covering transactions. Overallotment involves sales in excess of the offering size, which creates a short position for the Initial Purchasers. Stabilizing transactions involve bids to purchase the New Notes in the open market for the purpose of pegging, fixing or maintaining the price of the New Notes. Syndicate covering transactions involve purchases of the New Notes in the open market after the distribution has been completed in order to cover short positions. Stabilizing transactions and syndicate covering transactions may cause the price of the New Notes to be higher than it would otherwise be in the absence of those transactions. If the Initial Purchasers engage in stabilizing or syndicate covering transactions, they may discontinue them at any time.

Delivery of the New Notes was made against payment on the New Senior Notes on or about the Issue Date, which was three business days following the date of pricing of the New Notes.

Other Relationships

The Initial Purchasers or their respective affiliates from time to time have provided in the past and may enter into in the future investment banking, financial advisory and/or lending and commercial banking transactions with, and may perform services for us and our affiliates in the ordinary course of business for which they have received or may receive customary fees and commissions (including acting as initial purchasers in connection with previous issuances of debt securities of Altice International or its subsidiaries). In connection with our strategy to review and evaluate selective acquisitions and other business combinations, we and our shareholders regularly engage mergers and acquisition advisors and other financial advisors to assist us. Certain of the Initial Purchasers and their affiliates may be currently advising us or other interested parties, and the Initial Purchasers and their affiliates may advise us or other interested parties from time to time on other transactions in the future. Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch or one of its affiliates is currently acting as financial advisor to PT Portugal in connection with the PT Portugal Acquisition.

BNP Paribas, Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, Goldman Sachs International, HSBC Bank plc, J.P. Morgan Securities plc and Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc or one of their affiliates are or were mandated lead arrangers and lenders, Citibank International Limited (previously Citibank International plc) is facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch is security agent under the 2012 Revolving Credit Facility.

Goldman Sachs International, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch or one of their affiliates are or were mandated lead arrangers and lenders, Citibank International Limited (previously Citibank International plc) is facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch is security agent under the 2013 Revolving Credit Facility.

Goldman Sachs International, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch or one of their affiliates are or were mandated lead arrangers and lenders and Citibank, N.A., London Branch is security agent under the 2013 Guarantee Facility.

Goldman Sachs International, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank or one of their affiliates are or were joint lead bookrunners, joint lead arrangers and lenders, Goldman Sachs Lending Partners LLC is administrative agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch is security agent under the 2013 Term Loan.

Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch, Goldman Sachs International, J.P. Morgan Securities plc, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, BNP Paribas, Crédit Agricole Corporate and Investment Bank, or one of their affiliates are or were mandated lead arrangers and lenders, Citibank International Limited is facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch is security agent under the New Pari Passu Revolving Credit Facility.

Each of the Initial Purchasers or one of its affiliates (other than Banca IMI S.p.A., RBC Europe Limited and UniCredit Bank AG) will be a joint lead bookrunner, joint lead arranger and lender, Deutsche Bank AG, London Branch and Deutsche Bank AG, New York Branch will be administrative agents and Citibank, N.A., London Branch will be security agent under the New Term Loan.

UniCredit Bank AG and RBC Europe Limited and their affiliates are not lenders under any of the agreements described above. Banca IMI S.p.A. or its affiliates and/or parent companies has provided significant financing to the Issuers and its parents and group companies.

Each of the Initial Purchasers or one of its affiliates will be a mandated lead arranger and lender, Citibank International Limited will be facility agent and Citibank, N.A., London Branch will be security agent under the New Super Senior Revolving Credit Facility.

In addition, certain of the Initial Purchasers or their affiliates are party to certain of our hedging arrangements and other financing and/or debt arrangements and may hold other proprietary positions (including long or short positions) in us, our current or future subsidiaries and affiliates and/or financial intermediaries and the financial instruments issued by any of them. Certain of the Initial Purchasers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with Altice International and/or its affiliates have hedged, and are likely to hedge in the future, their credit exposure to Altice International and/or its affiliates consistent with their risk management policies. Typically, these Initial Purchasers and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in our securities, including potentially the New Notes offered hereby. Any such credit default swaps or short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the New Notes offered hereby.

ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENTS

The Issuers are a public limited liability company (société anonyme), incorporated under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and the Guarantors are incorporated under the laws of France, Israel, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Portugal and the Dominican Republic.

Many of the directors, members of the supervisory board, general partners, officers and other executives of the Issuers and the Guarantors are neither residents nor citizens of the United States. Furthermore, most of our assets are located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States upon such persons, the Issuers or the Guarantors, or to enforce against them judgments of U.S. courts predicated upon the civil liability provisions of U.S. federal or state securities laws despite the fact that, pursuant to the terms of each of the New Indentures, the Issuers and the Guarantors have appointed, or will appoint, an agent for the service of process in New York. It may be possible for investors to effect service of process within France, Israel, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Portugal and the Dominican Republic upon those persons, the Issuers or the Guarantors provided that the Hague Convention on the Service Abroad of Judicial and Commercial Matters of November 15, 1965 is complied with.

Israel

The Issuers have been advised by their Israeli counsel that, subject to specified time limitations and legal procedures, Israeli courts may enforce a foreign judgment in a civil matter which is non-appealable, provided that among other things:

- the judgment is obtained after due process before a court of competent jurisdiction, according to the laws of the foreign state in which the judgment is given and the rules of private international law currently prevailing in Israel;
- the prevailing law of the foreign state in which the judgment is rendered allows for the enforcement of judgments of Israeli courts;
- adequate service of process has been effected and the defendant has had a reasonable opportunity to be heard and to present his or her evidence;
- the judgment is not contrary to public policy of Israel, and the enforcement of the civil liabilities set forth in the judgment is not likely to impair the security or sovereignty of Israel;
- the judgment was not obtained by fraud and does not conflict with any other valid judgment in the same matter between the same parties;
- an action between the same parties in the same matter was not pending in any Israeli court at the time at which the lawsuit was instituted in the foreign court; and
- the judgment is enforceable according to the laws of Israel and according to the law of the foreign state in which the relief was granted.

If a foreign judgment is enforced by an Israeli court, it generally will be payable in Israeli currency, which can then be converted into non-Israeli currency and transferred out of Israel. The usual practice in an action before an Israeli court to recover an amount in a non-Israeli currency is for the Israeli court to issue a judgment for the equivalent amount in Israeli currency at the rate of exchange in force on the date of the judgment, but the judgment debtor may make payment in foreign currency. Pending collection, the amount of the judgment of an Israeli court stated in Israeli currency ordinarily will be linked to the Israeli consumer price index plus a per annum statutory rate of interest set on a quarterly basis by Israeli regulations. Judgment creditors must bear the risk of unfavorable exchange rates. In recent years, Israeli courts have increasingly been willing to enforce a foreign judgment in the foreign currency specified in the judgment, in which case there are also applicable rules regarding the payment of interest.

Luxembourg

The Issuers have been advised by Luther, their Luxembourg counsel, that a valid final and conclusive judgment against an issuer of Luxembourg nationality with respect to the New Notes obtained from a court of competent jurisdiction in the United States, which judgment remains in full force and effect after all appeals as may be taken in the relevant state or federal jurisdiction with respect thereto have been taken, may be entered and enforced through a court of competent jurisdiction of Luxembourg subject to compliance with the enforcement procedures set out in Article 678 et seq. of the Luxembourg Nouveau Code de Procedure Civile being:

- the U.S. court awarding the judgment has jurisdiction to adjudicate the respective matter under its applicable laws, and such jurisdiction is recognized by Luxembourg private international and local law;
- the judgment is final and enforceable in the jurisdiction where the decision is rendered;
- the U.S. Court has applied the substantive law as designated by the Luxembourg conflict of laws rules;
- the U.S. Court has acted in accordance with its own procedural laws;
- the judgment was granted following proceedings where the counterparty had the opportunity to appear, and if appeared, to present a defense;
- the decision of the U.S. Court must not have been obtained by fraud; and
- the decisions and the considerations of the foreign court must not be contrary to Luxembourg international public policy rules or have been given in proceedings of a tax, penal or criminal nature (which would include awards of damages made under civil liabilities provisions of the U.S. federal securities laws, or other laws, to the extent that the same would be classified by Luxembourg courts as being of a penal or punitive nature (for example, fines or punitive damages)) or rendered subsequent to an evasion of Luxembourg law (fraude à la loi).

The Issuers have also been also advised by their Luxembourg counsel that if an original action is brought in Luxembourg, without prejudice to specific conflict of law rules, Luxembourg courts may refuse to apply the designated law if the choice of such foreign law was not made bona fide or if (i) the foreign law was not pleaded and proved or (ii) if pleaded and proved, such foreign law was contrary to mandatory Luxembourg laws or incompatible with Luxembourg public policy rules. In an action brought in Luxembourg on the basis of U.S. federal or state securities laws, Luxembourg courts may not have the requisite power to grant the remedies sought.

Portugal

The Issuers have been advised by their Portuguese counsel, that a valid, final and conclusive judgment against a guarantor of Portuguese nationality with respect to its Guarantee obtained from a court of competent jurisdiction in the United States, which judgment remains in full force and effect after all appeals as may be taken in the relevant state or federal jurisdiction with respect thereto have been taken, may be entered and enforced through a court of competent jurisdiction of Portugal subject to compliance with the judgments enforcement requirements including, without limitation, those set out in Article 980 et seq. of the Portuguese Civil Procedure Code (Código do Processo Civil) being:

- there are no doubts regarding the authenticity of the judgment or the reasoning of the judgment;
- the judgment is final and enforceable in the jurisdiction where the decision is rendered;
- the judgment of the U.S. Court has not been obtained by fraud and does not relate to a matter on which Portuguese courts have exclusive jurisdiction;
- the judgment of the U.S. Court does not refer to a matter that has been decided by a Portuguese court or that is being subject to a proceeding before a Portuguese Court, except if the judgment of the U.S. Court prevents this jurisdiction;
- the defendant was duly notified by the U.S. Court in accordance with its own procedural laws and that the defendant had the opportunity to present a defense (princípio do contraditório) with equal defense rights (princípio da igualdade das partes);
- the enforcement of the judgment will not lead to a breach which is manifestly contrary to Portuguese international public policy rules; and
- the request of recognition of a judgment rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction in the United States may be challenged if the party against whom the judgment was rendered is a Portuguese citizen or a Portuguese company and the result of the judgment would be more favorable to said party if the United State's court had applied Portuguese law (assuming that the Portuguese law would be applicable according to the Portuguese rules of conflict of laws).

France

As described in “Corporate and Financing Structure”, certain guarantees and securities have been granted by companies incorporated in France, and security has been granted over assets located in France.

The United States and France are not party to a treaty providing for reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments, other than arbitral awards, rendered in civil and commercial matters. Accordingly, a judgment rendered by any U.S. Federal or state court based on civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon U.S. Federal or state securities laws, enforceable in the United States, would not directly be recognized or enforceable in France. A party in whose favor such judgment was rendered could initiate enforcement proceedings (exequatur) in France before the relevant civil court (Tribunal de Grande Instance). Enforcement in France of such U.S. judgment could be obtained following proper (i.e., non-ex parte) proceedings if the civil court is satisfied that the following conditions have been met (which conditions, under prevailing French case law, do not include a review by the French court of the merits of the foreign judgment):

- such U.S. judgment was rendered by a court having jurisdiction over the matters as the dispute is sufficiently connected with the jurisdiction of the court which rendered it, the choice of the U.S. court was not fraudulent and the French courts did not have exclusive jurisdiction over the matter;
- such U.S. judgment does not contravene French international public policy rules, both pertaining to the merits and to the procedure of the case;
- such U.S. judgment is not tainted with fraud; and
- such U.S. judgment does not conflict with a French judgment or a foreign judgment which has become effective in France and there are no proceedings pending before French courts at the time enforcement of the judgment is sought and having the same or similar subject matter as such U.S. judgment.

In addition, the discovery process under actions filed in the United States could be adversely affected under certain circumstances by French law No. 68-678 of July 26, 1968, as modified by French laws No. 80- 538 of July 16, 1980 and by Order No. 200-916 of September 19, 2000 (relating to communication of documents and information of an economic, commercial, industrial, financial or technical nature to foreign authorities or persons), which could prohibit or restrict obtaining evidence in France or from French persons in connection with a judicial or administrative U.S. action.

Similarly, French data protection rules (French law No. 78-17 of January 6, 1978 on data processing, data files and individual liberties, as last modified by French law No. 2014-344 of March 17, 2014) can limit under certain circumstances the possibility of obtaining information in France or from French persons in connection with a judicial or administrative U.S. action in a discovery context.

If an original action is brought in France, French courts may refuse to apply the designated law if its application contravenes French public policy. In an action brought in France on the basis of U.S. Federal or state securities laws, French courts may not have the requisite power to grant all the remedies sought.

Pursuant to articles 14 and 15 of the French Civil Code, a French national (either a company or an individual) can sue a foreign defendant before French courts in connection with the performance of obligations contracted by the foreign defendant in France with a French person or in a foreign country towards French persons (article 14) and can be sued by a foreign claimant before French courts in connection with the performance of obligations contracted by the French national in a foreign country towards the foreign claimant (article 15). For a long time, case law has interpreted these provisions as meaning that a French national, either claimant or defendant, could not be forced against its will to appear before a jurisdiction other than French courts. However, according to recent case law, the French courts jurisdiction towards French nationals is no longer mandatory to the extent an action has been commenced or brought before a court in a jurisdiction which has sufficient contacts with the litigation and the choice of jurisdiction is not fraudulent. In addition, the French national may waive its rights to benefit from the provisions of articles 14 and 15 of the French Civil Code.

The French Supreme Court (Cour de Cassation) has recently held that a contractual provision submitting one party to the exclusive jurisdiction of a court and giving another party the discretionary option to choose any competent jurisdiction was invalid on the ground that it was discretionary (potestative). Accordingly, any provisions to the same effect in any relevant documents would not be binding over the party submitted court.

Switzerland

Judgments in civil or commercial matters of a non-Swiss court or authority will be recognized and enforced against an individual or a legal entity with legal domicile or seat in Switzerland pursuant to a bilateral or multilateral treaty or convention between the foreign country and Switzerland e.g. the Lugano Convention on Jurisdiction and Enforcement of Judgments of October 30, 2007. In case no applicable treaty or convention exists, the rules of the Swiss Federal Act on Private International Law (Bundesgesetz über das Internationale Privatrecht vom 18. Dezember 1987 (IPRG);"PILA"; SR 291) apply. Except for arbitral awards, there is currently no treaty or convention in effect pertaining to the recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters between the United States of America and Switzerland.

Thus, articles 25-32 PILA apply for the recognition and enforcement of an U.S. federal or state court judgment ("U.S. Judgment") in Switzerland. In cases where an U.S. money judgment shall be enforced, the Swiss Federal Act on Debt Enforcement and Bankruptcy (SR 281.1) and the Swiss Code of Civil Procedure (Schweizerische Zivilprozessordnung vom 19. Dezember 2008 (ZPO), SR 272), apply in addition to the PILA. The judgment of a Swiss court or authority of first instance concerning recognition and enforcement of a foreign judgment, including a U.S. Judgment, is generally subject to appeal (on the cantonal level as well as on the federal level).

There is doubt as to the enforceability in Switzerland of civil liabilities based on the security laws of the United States, either in an original action or in an action to enforce a judgment obtained in the U.S. courts. The United States and Switzerland currently do not have a treaty providing for the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments, other than arbitration awards, in civil and commercial matters. Consequently, a final judgment for payment issued by a court in the United States, whether or not predicated solely upon U.S. security laws, may not be enforceable in Switzerland.

However, if a person has obtained a final and conclusive judgment rendered by a U.S. court which is enforceable in the United States and files a claim with the competent Swiss court, the Swiss court may be expected to acknowledge the judgment rendered by the U.S. court, provided that (i) there are no grounds to refuse recognition and enforcement and (ii) such judgment has not been rendered in violation of elementary principles of fair trial and is not contrary to the public policy of Switzerland and has been rendered in a court which has established its jurisdiction vis-à-vis the relevant party on the basis of a valid submission by such party to the jurisdiction of such U.S. court. In particular a Swiss court or authority will refuse recognition and enforcement for the following reasons only, and may not otherwise review the non-Swiss judgment, including a U.S. judgment, as to its merits:

- if recognition and enforcement would be irreconcilable with Swiss public policy; or
- if a party proves that:
 - (1) it was not duly summoned pursuant to the law of its domicile or ordinary residence unless it made an appearance in proceedings without objecting to jurisdiction; or
 - (2) the decision was rendered in violation of fundamental principles of Swiss procedural law, in particular the right to be heard was not granted; or
 - (3) proceedings between the same parties in the same subject matter were first initiated or adjudicated in Switzerland, or that it was earlier adjudicated in a third country and such judgment is recognizable in Switzerland.

Further, valid submission to the jurisdiction of a foreign court, in particular a U.S. court or authority is established (i) if a provision of the PILA so provides or, in the absence of such provision, the defendant had his legal domicile in the country in which the decision was rendered; or (ii) if the parties, in a pecuniary dispute, entered into an agreement valid under the PILA submitting their dispute to the jurisdiction of the court or authority which rendered the judgment; or (iii) if the defendant, in a pecuniary dispute, proceeded on the merits without objecting to the jurisdiction; or (iv) if, in the event of a counterclaim, the court or authority which rendered the decision had jurisdiction over the principal claim and if there is a factual connection between the principal claim and the counterclaim. It is uncertain whether a Swiss court will apply this practice to default judgment as well. Swiss courts may deny the recognition and enforcement of punitive damages or other rewards.

Moreover, a Swiss court may reduce the amount of damages granted by a U.S. court and recognize damages only to the extent that they are necessary to compensate actual losses or damages. The procedure of enforcement and recognition of judgments of U.S. courts in Switzerland are governed by the provisions of the Swiss Civil Procedure Code. The judgment of a Swiss court or authority of first instance concerning recognition and enforcement of a foreign judgment, including U.S. judgments, is generally subject to appeal (at the cantonal level as well as on the federal level).

Subject to the foregoing, holders of the New Notes may be able to enforce in Switzerland judgments in civil and commercial matters obtained from United States federal or state courts; however, we cannot assure you that those judgments will be enforceable. Awards of punitive damages or other types of penalty in original actions outside Switzerland may also not be enforceable in Switzerland. Swiss civil procedure differs substantially from U.S. civil procedure in a number of respects. Insofar as the production of evidence is concerned, U.S. law and the laws of several other jurisdictions based on common law provide for pre-trial discovery, a process by which parties to the proceedings may prior to trial compel the production of documents by adverse or third parties and the deposition of witnesses. Evidence obtained in this manner may be decisive in the outcome of any proceeding. Though there is, under certain pre-conditions, the possibility of taking evidence prior to instituting ordinary court proceedings, a pre-trial discovery process along the lines of U.S. law does not exist under Swiss law. No statement can be made as to the time and efficiency of the recognition and enforcement in Switzerland of a foreign judgment considering that recognition and enforcement proceedings tend to be time consuming in Switzerland.

Under Swiss law, any amount denominated in a foreign currency which has to be enforced through Swiss debt collection authorities (schweizerische Zwangsvollstreckungsbehörden) has to be converted into Swiss Francs.

Swiss law documents may be executed in English. However, in case of enforcement, the Swiss courts or any other Swiss authority may require that the transaction documents and any judgment obtained in a foreign court be translated into one of the official languages of Switzerland.

The instruction and appointment of an agent and any power of attorney may be revoked at any time under Swiss law notwithstanding the appointment, instruction or power of attorney being said to be irrevocable and any mandate may, as a matter of statutory Swiss law, be terminated at any time by each party to the mandate.

Judicial documents may not be served directly from abroad, amongst others, the United States of America to a person in Switzerland (see Switzerland's reservation to the Hague Convention on Service Abroad of Judicial or Extra-Judicial Documents in Civil and Commercial Matters concluded on 15 November 1965) and service needs to be effected by way of judicial assistance.

The Dominican Republic

The Dominican Republic is not a party to any treaties providing for reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments rendered in foreign courts in legal proceedings with respect to civil and commercial matters. Therefore, the Issuers have been advised by Castillo Y Castillo, their Dominican counsel, that under current applicable Dominican law, a valid final and conclusive judgment issued by a competent court located outside of the Dominican Republic would be enforced in the Dominican Republic subject to obtaining an exequatur issued by a competent court of the Dominican Republic. Based on current applicable Dominican law, the courts of the Dominican Republic should issue an exequatur in respect of a judgment obtained in a foreign court if:

- (a) such judgment complies with all formalities required for the enforceability thereof under applicable laws of the foreign jurisdiction;
- (b) has been translated into Spanish by an Official Interpreter duly authorized in the Dominican Republic, together with related documents and satisfies the authentication requirements of Dominican law;
- (c) was issued by a competent court following service of process upon the parties to the action;
- (d) was issued after an opportunity was given to the defendant to present its defense;
- (e) is final, not subject to further appeal and enforceable in the jurisdiction where the decision was rendered;
- (f) does not relate to a matter on which Dominican courts have exclusive jurisdiction;
- (g) does not refer to a matter that has been decided by a Dominican court or that is being judged by a Dominican Court; and
- (h) is not against Dominican public policy.

The Trustee

The New Notes provide for the Trustee to take action on behalf of the holders of the New Notes in certain circumstances, but only if the Trustee is indemnified and/or secured to its satisfaction. It may not be possible for the Trustee to take certain actions in relation to the New Notes and accordingly in such circumstances, the Trustee will be unable to take action, notwithstanding the provision of an indemnity or security to it, and it will be for the holders of the New Notes to take action directly. If the Trustee resigns or is removed, the Issuers will appoint a successor.

GLOSSARY

Term	Definition
“3G”	The third generation of mobile communications standards, referred to in the industry as IMT-2000, capable of data speeds exceeding the 14.4 Kbps of GSM technology.
“4G”	The fourth generation of mobile communications standards, referred to the industry as IMT-Advanced with a nominal data rate of 100 Mbit/s while the client physically moves at high speeds relative to the station, and 1 Gbit/s while client and station are in relatively fixed positions. Expected to provide a comprehensive and secure all-IP based mobile broadband solution to laptop computer wireless modems, smartphones, and other mobile devices. Facilities such as ultra-broadband internet access, IP telephony, gaming services, and streamed multimedia may be provided to users, which when fully implemented is expected to allow for higher data speeds than achievable with 3G and additional network features and capabilities.
“ADSL”	Asymmetrical DSL; an internet access technology that allows voice and high-speed data to be sent simultaneously over local copper telephone line.
“ARPU”	Average Revenue Per User; ARPU is an average monthly measure that we use to evaluate how effectively we are realizing revenues from subscribers. ARPU is calculated by dividing the revenue (for the services provided, in each case including the proportional allocation of the bundling discount) for the respective period by the average number of RGUs for that period and further by the number of months in the period. The average number of RGUs is calculated as the number of RGUs on the first day in the respective period plus the number of RGUs on the last day of the respective period, divided by two.
“bandwidth”	The width of a communications channel; in other words, the difference between the highest and lowest frequencies available for network signals. Bandwidth also refers to the capacity to move information.
“broadband”	Any circuit that can transfer data significantly faster than a dial-up phone line.
“churn”	The number of RGUs for a given service disconnected (either at the customer’s request or due to termination of the subscription by us) during the period divided by the number of average RGUs for such service for such period; statistics do not include customers excluding transfers between our services (other than a transfer between our cable services and our mobile services).
“CPE”	Customer premise equipment, which typically comprises a modem or set-top box and associated cabling and other fittings such as an NIU in order to deliver service to a subscriber.
“DTT”	Digital terrestrial television.
“FTTx”	Fiber optic infrastructure.
“FTTH”	Fiber-to-the-home network.
“HD”	High definition.
“HFC”	Hybrid fiber coaxial.
“HSPA”	High Speed Packet Access, a type of UMTS3G network that supports both mobile communications technology that provides enhanced download and upload speeds.
“IMS”	IP Multimedia Subsystem.
“Internet”	A collection of interconnected networks spanning the entire world, including university, corporate, government and research networks. These networks all use the IP (Internet Protocol) communications protocol.
“IP”	Internet Protocol.
“IPTV”	Internet Protocol television.
“IRU”	Indefeasible Right of Use, the effective temporary ownership of a portion of the capacity of an international cable. IRUs are specified in terms of a certain number of channels of a given bandwidth. IRU is granted by the company or consortium of companies that built the (usually optical fiber) cable.
“ISP”	Internet Service Provider.
“IT”	Information technology, a general term referring to the use of various software and hardware components when used in a business.
“local loop”	The network element used to connect a subscriber to the nearest switch or concentrator, commonly referred to as the “last mile” because it is the part of the network that is connected directly to the subscriber; alternatively the HFC access network.
“LTE”	Long term evolution technology being a standard in mobile network technology.
“M2M”	Machine-to-machine.
“MHz”	Megahertz; a unit of frequency equal to one million Hertz.
“Mbps”	Megabits per second; each megabit is one million bits.
“Moody’s”	Moody’s Investors Services, Inc.
“multiple-play”	The bundling of different telecommunications services, e.g. digital cable television, broadband internet and fixed telephony services, by one provider.

“MVNO”	Mobile virtual network operator. Refers to a company that provides mobile services but does not have its own licensed frequency allocation of radio spectrum, nor necessarily all of the infrastructure required to provide mobile telephony services.
“network”	An interconnected collection of components which would, in a telecommunications network, consist of switches connected to each other and to customer equipment by real or virtual links. Transmission links may be based on fiber optic or metallic cable or point to point radio connections.
“PacketCable™”	A CableLabs-led initiative to develop interoperable interface specifications for delivering advanced, real-time multimedia services over two-way cable plant. PacketCable™ networks use IP technology to enable a wide range of multimedia services, such as IP telephony, multimedia conferencing, interactive gaming and general multimedia applications.
“PSTN”	Public switched telephony network.
“PVR”	Personal video recording.
“quad-play”	Triple-play with the addition of mobile service.
“RGU”	Revenue Generating Unit. RGUs relate to sources of revenue, which may not always be the same as customer relationships. For example, one person may subscribe for two different services, thereby accounting for only one subscriber, but two RGUs. RGUs for pay television and broadband internet infrastructure access are counted on a per source service basis and RGUs for fixed-line telephony are counted on a per line basis. Mobile RGUs is equal to the net number of lines or SIM cards that have been activated on our mobile network.
“S&P”	Standard & Poor’s Investors Ratings Services.
“SOHOs”	Small offices and home offices.
“triple-play”	Where a customer has subscribed to a combination of three products, digital cable television, broadband internet and fixed telephony services, from us.
“UMTS”	Universal Mobile Telecommunications Service, a 3G mobile networking standard commonly used to upgrade GSM networks to 3G standards.
“U.S. Docsis 3.0”	Data over cable service interface specification, a technology that enables the addition of high-speed data transfer over an existing cable television system.
“VoD”	Video on demand; a service which provides subscribers with enhanced playback functionality and gives subscribers access to a broad array of on demand programming, including movies, live events, local drama, music videos, children programming and adult programming.
“VoIP”	Voice over Internet Protocol; a telephone service via internet, or via TCP/IP protocol, which can be accessed using a computer, a sound card, adequate software and a modem.
“VPN”	Virtual private network, a business service enabling users to obtain remote access to network functionality.
“VDSL”	Very high speed DSL. A high speed variant of ADSL.
“VoN”	Voice over Net, a form of telephony over the internet that is usually a lower quality than VoIP.

Notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements

Note 1—Nature of the business, basis of preparation and accounting policies

Nature of the business

Altice International S.à r.l. (formerly Altice VII S.à r.l.) (the “Company”) is a private limited liability company (société à responsabilité limitée) incorporated under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on December 15, 2008, and registered under the number B 143.725 in Luxembourg. The Group refers to the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company was initially established as a public limited company (société anonyme) and then converted to a private limited liability company on October 7, 2009.

The registered office of the Company is established at 3, boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg, and as at September 30, 2014 its sole equity holder is Altice S.A. The ultimate controlling party is considered to be Patrick Drahi.

On January 31, 2014, Next LP contributed all its economic interests in Altice International S.à r.l. to Altice S.A. (“Altice”) in exchange for shares in Altice S.A..

Altice is listed on Euronext in Amsterdam. The consolidated financial statements of Altice are available at the registered address of Altice: 3, boulevard Royal, L 2449 Luxembourg and on its website: www.altice.net.

Altice International offers a variety of services over its cable and mobile infrastructure, including, but not limited to, pay television, broadband Internet access, fixed-line telephony and mobile telephony to residential customers, and, to a lesser extent, corporate customers, depending on the country. Available cable-based service offerings depend on the bandwidth capacity of its cable networks and whether they have been upgraded for two-way communications. Most of Altice International’s operating subsidiaries operate Docsis 3.1 enabled networks. Where possible, Altice International Group intends to deploy the same technologies and equipment across its footprints to generate economies of scale and common knowledge. In addition, the Group companies aim at sharing skills and best practices across the various operations of the Group.

Television service offerings include basic and premium programming, and, in most markets, incremental product and service offerings such as enhanced pay-per-view programming, including video-on-demand (“VoD”) and near-video-on-demand (“NVoD”), digital video recorders (“DVR”), high definition (“HD”) television services and, in certain areas, exclusive content, purchased or produced. The Altice International Group tailors its basic and premium channel line-up to each country of operation according to culture, demographics, programming preferences and local regulation. The Altice International Group also offers broadband Internet access services and fixed-line telephony in all its footprints. It also owns and operates mobile infrastructures in certain geographies (French Overseas Territories, Dominican Republic and Israel) and offers mobile services through an MVNO (Mobile Virtual Network Operator) arrangement in Belgium.

Altice International's operational entities operate in the following geographies listed below. When possible, the Group tries to achieve convergence and integration between existing cable and mobile networks.

- Israel (Cable and mobile)
- Dominican Republic (Cable and mobile)
- French Overseas Territories (Cable and mobile)
- Portugal (Cable)
- Belgium and Luxembourg (Cable and mobile through MVNO)
- Others (mainly cable based operations and datacenter in Switzerland, content companies and holding activities)

Note 1—Nature of the business, basis of preparation and accounting policies (Continued)

Basis of presentation

The condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2014 have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard (“IAS”) No. 34 “Interim Financial Reporting”. They should be read in conjunction with the annual consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013 which have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union (“IFRS”).

Comparative information

The comparative information for the nine and three month periods ended September 30, 2013 has been restated to reflect the impact of the purchase price allocation of the assets of ONI S. G.P.S (“ONI”) acquired on August 8, 2013. As per the provisions of IFRS 3:49, the impact of the recognition of the identifiable tangible and intangible assets of ONI at their fair value was restated for the nine and three month period ended September 30, 2013. The total impact on depreciation and amortisation was €0.4 million (€0.3 million net of deferred tax). The loss for the period was impacted by the same amount.

In addition to the restatement described above, staff costs and employee benefits were reclassified to match the presentation adopted for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2014. Such costs amounted to €57.7million for technical and maintenance and customer service staff and €24.0 million for marketing staff costs and have been reclassified from the lines “other operating expenses” and “other sales and marketing expenses” to “staff costs and employee benefits expenses”.

Accounting policies

The condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on an historical cost basis, except for (i) available-for-sale financial assets, (ii) derivative financial instruments which are measured at market value and (iii) inventories which are measured at the lower of net realizable value or cost. The accounting policies used to prepare the condensed consolidated financial statements are similar to those described in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013.

There were no other significant effects on the condensed consolidated financial statements as a result of the adoption of any of the below mentioned standards or interpretations.

New standards applied for the first time in the current period

For the period ended September 30, 2014, the Group has applied the following amendments to IAS standards, made compulsory for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2014.

- Amendments to IAS 39—Novation of Derivatives and Continuation of Hedge Accounting:
Under the revised standard, the novation of a hedging instrument should not be considered as an expiration or termination giving rise to the discontinuation of hedge accounting when a hedging derivative is novated. This amendment has no impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company.
- Amendments to IAS 36—Recoverable Amount Disclosures:
The overall effect of the amendments is to reduce the circumstances in which the recoverable amount of assets or cash-generating units is required to be disclosed, clarify the disclosures required, and to introduce an explicit requirement to disclose the discount rate used in determining impairment (or reversals) where recoverable amount (based on fair value less costs of disposal) is determined using a present value technique.

This amendment has no impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company.

- IFRIC 21—Levies

IFRIC 21 provides guidance on when to recognise a liability for a levy imposed by a government, both for levies that are accounted for in accordance with IAS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets and those where the timing and amount of the levy is certain. Management has assessed that the implementation of IFRIC 21 has no significant impact on the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company for the nine month period ended September 30, 2014.

- Draft position paper on IAS 19 on the subject of the existence of a deep market for corporate bonds in Israel

On September 1, 2014, the Securities Authority of Israel published a draft position paper (the “draft position”) in accordance with which a deep market exists in Israel for high quality Shekel denoted corporate bonds. In accordance with the said draft position, commitments in respect of post-employment employee benefits as well as commitments in respect of other long-term benefits are to be discounted using a discount rate that is derived from corporate bonds, instead of discounting them at a discount rate that is derived from government bonds, which will lead to the increasing of the discount rate and the reduction of the commitments. In accordance with the draft position, this change is to be reflected by way of a change in an estimate.

The Company is examining the possible impact of the standard on the annual financial statements for the year 2014.

Significant accounting judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements

Judgments

In the process of applying the significant accounting policies, the Group has exercised its judgment and has taken into account matters which have the most significant impact on the amounts that have been recognized in the condensed consolidated financial statements.

Estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements requires the Group to make estimates and assumptions that have an effect on the application of the accounting policies and on the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed regularly. Changes in accounting estimates are reported in the period in which the estimate changes.

Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units (herein after referred to as “CGU” or “CGUs”) to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the Board of Managers to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the CGUs and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise.

Legal claims

In estimating the likelihood of outcome of legal claims filed against the Group and its investees, the Group companies rely on the opinion of their legal counsel. These estimates are based on the legal counsel’s best professional judgment, taking into account the stage of proceedings and historical legal precedents in respect of the different issues. Since the outcome of the claims will be determined in courts, the results could differ significantly from these estimates.

Post-employment benefits

The liability in respect of post-employment defined benefit plans is determined using actuarial valuations. The actuarial valuation involves making assumptions about, among others, discount rates, expected rates of return on assets, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the long-term nature of these plans, such estimates are subject to uncertainty.

Deferred tax assets

Deferred tax assets relate primarily to tax losses carried forward and to deductible temporary differences between reported amounts and the tax basis of assets and liabilities. The assets relating to the tax losses carried forward are recognized if it is probable that the Group will generate future taxable profits against which these tax losses can be offset. Evaluation of the Group's capacity to utilize tax losses carried forward relies on significant judgment. The Group analyses past events, and the positive and negative elements of certain economic factors that may affect its business in the foreseeable future to determine the probability of its future utilization of these tax losses carried forward.

Note 2—Main changes in the scope of consolidation

2.1 Dominican Republic

Tricom S.A. and Global Interlinks Limited (“Tricom” and “GLX”, respectively)

On March 12, 2014, the Group, through its indirect subsidiary, Altice Dominican Republic, completed the acquisition of an approximately 97.2% stake in Tricom., a cable and mobile operator with a 4G license based in the Dominican Republic, and of GLX, the owner of a submarine cable, which it uses to sell data and voice transmission services to other operators based in the region (including Tricom). Through this acquisition, the Group expects to consolidate and expand its cable operations in the Caribbean Islands and explore synergies through the vertical integration of its operations in the region and synergies with other operations in the region.

Since March 12, 2014, Tricom and GLX contributed €82.0 million in revenue and €14.1 million in operating profit to the Group's result for the nine months ended September 30, 2014.

The following summarises certain of the major classes of consideration transferred and the provisionally determined amounts of identifiable assets and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date:

Total consideration paid to the vendors for the shares of the acquired entities amounted to €299.2 million on a cash-free, debt-free basis.

The total value of assets transferred in consideration for the values mentioned above amounted to €214.8 million, comprising mainly intangible assets for a net value of €4.4 million, property, plant and equipment for a total value of €133.2 million and trade and other receivables for a total amount of €67.3 million. Total liabilities amounted to €82.7 million, comprising €40.8 million of non-current liabilities and €41.9 million of current liabilities. Additionally, adjustments related to the conversion of the opening balance from US GAAP to IFRS standard led to an increase in fixed assets of €2.8 million, thus increasing the net value of assets transferred to €134.9 million. The residual value of €164.3 million was recognised provisionally as goodwill.

The values of the assets and liabilities assumed have been determined on a provisional basis as being equivalent to the book values in the accounting records of Tricom and GLX. The Company is continuously assessing the fair valuation of the identifiable assets and liabilities assumed and shall complete this exercise within twelve months from the acquisition date.

Altice Hispaniola (“ODO” or “Orange Dominicana S.A.”)

On April 9, 2014, the Group, through its direct subsidiary Altice International S.à r.l., completed the acquisition of a 97.2% stake in ODO, the leading mobile operator in the Dominican Republic. ODO operates a high end, 4G-enabled mobile network in the Dominican Republic covering up to 86% of the territory of the Dominican Republic.

Through this acquisition, the Group expects to further consolidate and expand its operations in the Caribbean Islands. This transaction complements the acquisition of Tricom and GLX mentioned above and completes the formation of an integrated telecom group in the Dominican Republic.

Since April 9, 2014, ODO contributed €218.6 million to the Group revenue and €62.7 million to the Group operating profit for the nine months ended September 30, 2014.

The following summarises certain of the major classes of consideration transferred and the provisionally determined amounts of identifiable assets and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date:

Total consideration paid to the vendors for the shares of the acquired entity amounted to €1,034.0 million on a cash free, debt free basis.

The total value of assets transferred in consideration for the values mentioned above amounted to €437.9 million, comprising mainly intangible assets for a net value of €34.8 million, property, plant and equipment for a total value of €229.0 million and trade and other receivables for a total amount of €113.5 million. Total liabilities amounted to €103.7 million, comprising €8.7 million of non-current liabilities and €94.1 million of current liabilities.

In addition to the assets transferred and as part of the provisionally purchase price allocation, two additional assets were identified being the capitalisation of subscriber acquisition costs and the intangible asset corresponding to the value of the Orange brand. Subscriber acquisition costs were capitalised as part of the alignment of accounting principles of ODO with Altice Group policies. The net book value of such assets was ascertained to be €2.7 million as at the date of acquisition. The right for the continued use of the Orange brand was valued on a preliminary basis at €19.9 million. This value is subject to revision, following the finalisation of the purchase price allocation for ODO.

As part of the purchase agreement, the vendor agreed to finance the acquisition of a spectrum license to provide 3G services in the Dominican Republic using ODO's existing network. The price of this license was adjusted when calculating the purchase price. The total amount due for the license amounted to €20.8 million ($ 28.5 million). This investment is recorded as capital investment in the accounts of Orange Dominicana as of September 30, 2014, however, it relates to an investment that was not paid for by the Group.

The values of the assets and liabilities assumed have been determined on a provisional basis as being equivalent to the book values in the accounting records of ODO. The Company is continuously assessing the fair valuation of the identifiable assets and liabilities assumed and shall complete this exercise within twelve months from the acquisition date.

Goodwill has been provisionally recognised as a result of the acquisitions (including Tricom and GLX) as follows:

Total consideration transferred	€1,333.2 million
Fair value of identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities	€ 491.7 million
Goodwill	€ 841.5 million

2.2 French Overseas Territories (“FOT”)

Mobius S.A.S. (“Mobius”)

On January 15, 2014, the Company, through its subsidiary, Altice Blue Two S.A.S., obtained control over Mobius, a telecommunications operator in the French Overseas Territories (specifically, La Reunion), by acquiring 99.9% of the shares and voting interests in the company. This acquisition enables the Group to further expand and consolidate its footprint in the French Overseas Territories.

Since January 1, 2014, Mobius contributed €13.2 million to revenue and €1.0 million to the Group operating profit for the nine months ended September 30, 2014.

The following summarises certain of the major classes of consideration transferred and the provisionally determined amounts of identifiable assets and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date:

- Total consideration paid to the vendors for the shares of the acquired entity amounted to €18.8 million on a cash-free, debt-free basis.
- The total value of assets transferred in consideration for the values mentioned above amounted to €14.8 million, comprising mainly intangible assets for a net value of €7.1 million, property, plant and equipment for a total value of €1.2 million, financial assets for a total value of €3.2 million and trade and other receivables for a total amount of €2.9 million. Total liabilities amounted to €13.8 million, comprising €5.1 million of non-current liabilities and €8.7 million of current liabilities. The residual value of €17.8 million was recognised provisionally as goodwill.

The values of the assets and liabilities assumed have been determined on a provisional basis as being equivalent to the book values in the accounting records of Mobius. The Company is continuously assessing the fair valuation of the identifiable assets and liabilities assumed and shall complete this exercise within twelve months from the acquisition date.

Goodwill has been recognised as a result of the acquisition as follows:

Total consideration transferred	€18.8 million
Fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities	€ 1.0 million
Goodwill	€17.8 million

Profit and loss before acquisition by the group

The profit and loss of those new subsidiaries not consolidated from January 1, 2014, for the period from January 1, 2014 to the date of their entry into the Group's accounts is given below:

2.3 Acquisition of non-controlling interests—Altice Blue Two S.A.S. (“ABT”)

On June 27, 2014, Altice S.A., the direct shareholder of the Company, transferred its stake in Altice Blue Two to Altice Caribbean, the direct shareholder of Altice Blue Two. Following this transaction, Altice Caribbean now holds a 99.7% stake in Altice Blue Two.

Note 3—Goodwill

Goodwill is reviewed for impairment at each Cash Generating Unit (“CGU”) level, annually and whenever changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. For 2013, goodwill was tested for impairment at the CGU level as of December 31. CGUs were at the time determined to coincide with subsidiaries of the Company.

For the nine months period ended September 30, 2014, the Management has decided to reorganize the way the cash generating units (CGUs) are presented, in order to be consistent with the structuring process that the Group has undergone in its different jurisdictions and that is aligning to the way management operates the different segments of the Group (see note 8). To this end, CGUs now reflect specific geographic areas in which one or several legal structures can be found (eg. Cabovisao and ONI form Portugal, Tricom/GLX and ODO, Dominican Republic). Historically, each CGU was presented as a standalone legal entity, as the Group had only one operating entity per geography. The rapid expansion of the Group and the push to achieve synergies between fixed, cable and mobile networks in its relevant operating geographies prompted Board of Managers to acquire new structures in the regions where it was already operating. Management believes that combining individual acquired entities is the most economic method of capturing synergies between new, complementary businesses in each operational region. This is underlined by the technical synergies between the different networks, the fact that the teams are now integrated and as a result of the bundle offers to the client. An illustrative example is the integration of support functions in the French Overseas Territories (between OMT and Le Cable, together “FOT”), in Portugal with Cabovisao and ONI and the on-going restructuring of the Dominican entities, in order to have a single, functional support team in the finance, marketing and technical departments. In addition to this, contracts with service providers are negotiated by one entity for the relevant geographies thus providing better purchasing power for the CGU as a whole. Moreover, internal tracking and monthly financial and operation reviews performed by Management are based on specific geographies and not on individual companies, thus the new presentation provides an accurate vision of how Management tracks and runs its businesses internally.

The recoverable amounts of the CGUs are determined based on their value in use. The Company determined value in use for the purpose of its impairment testing and, accordingly, did not determine the fair value of the CGUs as the carrying value of the CGUs was lower than their value in use. The key assumptions for the value in use calculations are primarily the pre-tax discount rates, the EBIT margin, the terminal growth rate and the churn rate during the period.

The value in use of the CGUs was determined by estimating cash flows for a period of five years, giving due consideration to the nature of the industry in which each CGU operates. Assumptions for churn rates and EBIT margin were based on historical experience and expectations of future changes in the market. Cash flow forecasts were derived from the most recent financial plans approved by management.

The Board of Managers has determined that there have not been any changes in circumstances indicating that the carrying amount of goodwill may not be recoverable and therefore no updated

The restricted cash presented on the statement of financial position as of December 31, 2013 has been fully used to consummate the Tricom/GLX and ODO transactions. See note 2 for more details.

Note 5—Issued capital and share premium

5.1 Issued capital

As of September 30, 2014, total issued capital of the Company amounted to € 309.2 million, and was composed of 30,925,700,000 outstanding ordinary shares, with a nominal value of € 0.01 each.

As part of its initial public offering, the Company's sole partner, Altice S.A. performed a restructuring of the equity structure of the Company.

As part of this restructuring, all convertible preferred equity certificates (CPECs) and other shareholder debts held by Altice S.A. were contributed in exchange for shares in the Company. Details are given below:

A restructuring of the shareholder debts held by Next L.P. against Altice International was carried out at the beginning of 2014. As a result of this restructuring, the shareholder debts were contributed by Next L.P. to Altice S.A. in exchange for newly issued shares of Altice S.A.. All outstanding Yield Free Preferred Equity Certificates (€ 38.3 million), Asset Linked Preferred Equity Certificates (including accrued interests, € 95.0 million) and interest free loans (€ 3.9 million) were then contributed to the Company at their nominal value.

Altice IV S.A. and Valemi Corp S.A., the holders of vendor notes against the Company (pertaining to the acquisition of Ma Chaine Sports S.A. and SportV S.A. in Q4 2013), contributed these assets to Altice S.A. at their nominal values of € 13.9 million and € 6.1 million respectively, in exchange for new shares issued by Altice S.A., who further contributed these instruments to Altice International, in exchange for new shares issued by the Company.

On March 12, 2014 and April 9, 2014, Altice S.A. subscribed to a capital issuance of the Company for amounts that included €10.2 million and €77.8 million of share premium, related to the closing of the Tricom S.A. and Orange Dominicana acquisitions respectively.

As mentioned in note 2.3, on June 27, 2014, Altice S.A. contributed its stake in Altice Blue Two to Altice Caribbean, through a series of cascading capital increases, starting with Altice International, of which €59.7 million was recognised as share premium.

7.1.2 Borrowings from financial institutions

- In the period ended September 30, 2014, €17.5 million was repaid to lenders of the € 60.0 million RCF facility, which was drawn in January 2014 to finance the acquisition of Mobius S.A.S.. The remaining portion of €3.5 million was repaid in July 2014.
- New debt was issued by Green Datacenter for a total amount of € 8.2 million in order to finance the construction of additional datacentre capacities to support its commercial development.
- The Group repaid a total of $ 7.8 million (€ 5.8 million) linked to the amortization of the $ 1,034 million term loan issued by Altice Financing.
- The overall increase is linked to the revaluation of the debt labelled in foreign currency at the closing rate as of September 30, 2014

7.2 Loans from related parties

As part of the initial public offering of Altice S.A., a restructuring of loans from related parties was carried out, following which all existing related party loans held by Next L.P. and issued by Altice International S.à r.l. were contributed to Altice S.A. by Next L.P., in exchange for shares of Altice S.A..

Note 7—Borrowings and other financial liabilities (Continued)

As per the accounting standards, such instruments, being interest free in nature, had been recorded at their fair value in the consolidated financial statements. In 2014, these instruments were contributed at their nominal value and converted into share capital and share premium of the Company thus, previous discounting reserves recorded in the accounts of Altice International were reversed, thus leading to an adjustment of € (1.1) million to the Group's consolidated reserves. See note 6.

As of September 30, 2014, no loans from related parties were outstanding.

7.3 Other financial liabilities

Variation in other financial liabilities is explained mainly by the cancellation of Altice Blue Two put. The minority shareholders of Altice Blue Two exchanged their shares in Altice Blue Two against common shares in Altice S.A. As a result of this exchange, the put agreement in place at Altice Blue Two was cancelled (considered to be unexercised), leading to the reversal of a debt amounting to € 53.2 million.

In addition to the transaction described above, the company received a short term loan from its sole partner, Altice S.A. for an amount of €46 million, which explains the increase this caption for the nine month period ended September 30, 2014.

7.4 Classification and fair value of financial assets and liabilities

The Group has financial instruments with fair values that are determined by reference to significant unobservable inputs i.e. those that would be classified as level 3 in the fair value hierarchy. There have been no transfers of assets or liabilities between levels of the fair value hierarchy. There are no non-recurring fair value measurements.

The financial instruments that are presented in the condensed consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with their fair value are classified in accordance with groups that have similar characteristics, into hierarchical levels for fair values, as aforesaid, which are determined in accordance with the source of the input that was used for determining the fair value:

- Level 1—Quoted prices (without adjustments) in an active market for identical assets and liabilities.
- Level 2—Inputs other than quoted prices that are included in level 1, which can be observed directly or indirectly.
- Level 3—Inputs that are not based on observable market data (an evaluation technique that does not use observable market data).

As of September 30, 2014, the classification of financial instruments is summarized below:

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2014	Recorded Value in Condensed Consolidated Statement of Financial Position	Level 1 Quoted Prices in active markets for identical assets/ liabilities	Level 2 Significant other observable inputs	Level 3 Inputs that are not based on observable market data

Note 8—Segmental analysis

8.1 Definitions of segments

Given the geographic spread of the various Group entities, it logically follows that an analysis and control by geographical areas is inalienable to Group strategy of managing its different businesses. It has thus been decided by the Board of Managers to analyse the business across geographies and then by activity. The following geographies have been identified:

- Israel
- Belgium and Luxembourg (“Belux”)
- Portugal
- French Overseas Territories (“FOT”)
- Dominican Republic
- Others (Switzerland, others)

Activities have been split as follows:

- Fixed
- Mobile
- Others (Content/others)

Following the acquisition of ODO, Tricom and GLX, a new geographic segment, Dominican Republic, corresponding to the sole geographic zone of operation of these new entities, was added to the segmental analysis.

In addition, in the context of the anticipated acquisition and integration of the French mobile operator Société Française du Radiotéléphone S.A. (“SFR”) into the Altice S.A. Group, the Board of Directors of the latter has decided to amend the presentation of its operational segments, by regrouping the cable and B2B into a single line called ‘Fixed’, and by maintaining the mobile segment (SFR mainly has a mobile based activity). Other activities such as content, datacenters and holding company operations are classified under Others. Such presentation is coherent with the presentation used by the Board of Managers of the Group.

Though this acquisition does not directly impact the Group, Altice S.A. Board of Directors expects to track the operational performance of its international segments (operating companies that are part of the Altice International perimeter) on the same basis as its French businesses (Numericable Group S.A. and SFR in the future) and thus has decided to apply the same split at Altice International as well.

The presentation was amended for comparative purposes for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013.

The businesses that the Group owns and operates do not show significant seasonality overall.

There are few operational transactions between the different segments defined by Management above. Intersegment revenues are considered to be non-material by Management and, hence, not in the scope of regular operational reviews. Intersegment revenues represented less than 0.5% of total revenues for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

All corporate entities revenues and expenses have been allocated to the segment “Others”.

Note 11—Compensation of key management personnel

The compensation given to the senior management of the Group (including those managers who are also board members of Altice S.A.), for the 9 month period ended September 30, 2014, was €3.4 million and €1.3 million for the 9 month period ended September 30, 2013 (€1.7 million and €0.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014 and 2013 respectively).

Note 12—Income tax

The Group registered an income tax expense of € 27.6 million for the nine month period ended September 30, 2014 compared to income tax expenses of €27.4 million for the nine month period ended September 30, 2013. For the nine month period ended September 30, 2014, the Group registered an income tax expense of €33.6 million, driven by increased profits in Israel and the Dominican Republic, which was offset by deferred tax credits of €7.5 million. For the comparative period ended September 30, 2013, the income tax expense was mostly composed of deferred tax expenses amounting to €21.9 million.

Note 13—Commitments and contingent liabilities

13.1.1 Provisions and contingent liabilities

13.1.1.A Israel

During the routine course of business, lawsuits have been filed against the companies that comprise the HOT group and various legal proceedings are outstanding against it.

In the opinion of the management of the Group, based, inter alia, on legal opinions in respect of the chances of the lawsuits, a fair provision of €11.8 million (NIS 55 million) has been recorded in the condensed consolidated financial statements as of September 30, 2014, where provisions are required, in order to cover the exposure as the result of the lawsuits.

In the opinion of the management of the Group, the amount of the additional exposure, in an amount of approximately € 537.6 million (NIS 2.5 billion) (over and above the provisions that have been recorded in these Condensed Consolidated financial statements), as of September 30, 2014, as a result of lawsuits that have been filed against companies in the HOT group on various matters, is as follows:

- An amount of approximately €258.0 million (NIS 1.2 billion) to cover claims which HOT's management and legal team estimate to have less than a 50% chance of succeeding.
- An amount of approximately €172.0 million (NIS 0.8 billion) towards claims for which no assessment is possible, or towards those class action lawsuits that were presented very close to the date of the financial statements.
- An amount of approximately €150.5 million (NIS 0.7 billion) to cover claims which HOT's management and legal team estimate to have more than a 50% chance of succeeding.

The following is an abbreviated summary of the Hot group's contingent liabilities effective as of September 30, 2014, in accordance with groupings having similar characteristics:

13.1.2 Commitments and contractual liabilities

Altice Hispaniola also has operating leases mainly for the rental of mobile tower sites and office property.

Operating leases	3.5	40.9	5.4	49.8
Total	3.5	40.9	5.4	49.8

Management has not identified any significant changes to the commitments of the other subsidiaries of the group as compared to the period ended December 31, 2013.

Note 14—Going concern

As of September 30, 2014, the Group had a net current liability position of €414.6 million (mainly due to current liabilities of €885.7 million). During the nine month period ended September 30, 2014, the Group recorded a net loss of €159.6 million (€89.4 million as of September 30, 2013), positive cash flow from operations of €503.8 million (€ 288.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2013), and negative working capital of €220.8 million. The positive cash flow from operations balance was mainly due to strong growth of the operating profit. The net loss recorded in the nine month period ended September 30, 2014 resulted mainly from finance costs related to the financial debt of the Group and revaluation of monetary items denominated in foreign currency.

The negative working capital position is structural and follows industry norms. Customers generally pay subscription revenues early or mid-month, with short DSOs (days of sales outstanding). Suppliers are generally paid from the beginning of the following month and after, thus generating a negative working capital, as evidenced by the difference in the level of receivables and payables (€292.9 million receivables as of September 30, 2014 compared to €535.6 million payable as of September 30, 2014). Payables due the following month are covered by revenues and operating cash (if needed). As of September 30, 2014, the Group had few short term current liabilities with amortization of debts limited to the local bonds in Israel (€ 13.4 million per half year), local debt in Switzerland (€1.2 million quarter) and on the Altice Financing term loan facility (€ 1.8 million per quarter).

As of September 30, 2014, the Company had a negative equity position of €93.2 million, of which €94.2 million attributable to the equity holders. The net equity position of the Company continued to improve (increase of € 167.9 million compared to the year ended December 31, 2013 (€ 261.2 million), mainly driven by the conversion of loans from related parties granted by Altice S.A. into share capital and share premium of the Company. Going forward, the Company will have access to capital markets through its sole shareholder, Altice S.A., and this is expected to further improve the equity position of the Company.

In view of the current financial situation of the Company, Management is confident that the Group will continue to act as a going concern for the next twelve months, given its earnings and cash flow generating ability.

In addition, the Group had cash reserves of €141.3 million as of September 30, 2014, considered sufficient to cover its operational needs. The Group also had access to revolving credit facilities (“RCF”) of up to €143.5 million to finance any liquidity needs it might have, which are undrawn as at September 30, 2014.

Note 15—Subsequent events

Additional investment in Wananchi

On October 2, 2014, Altice Africa S.à r.l., a 100% subsidiary of the Company, invested an additional $ 10.8 million into Wananchi, a cable company with operations in Kenya and other east African countries. This investment was part of a $ 130 million subordinated notes being issued by Wananchi and open to subscription by current and new shareholders. Altice Africa has pledged to fund up to $ 40 million in three tranches, with the next tranche of $ 20 million due within six months from the date of the payment of the first tranche (April 2, 2015). The notes bear cash interest at a rate of 11% or PIK interest at a rate of 13%. Before this additional investment, Altice Africa already held a 17.4% equity interest in Wananchi (valued at € 31.9 million) and convertible notes for a total of € 2.9 million. The Group also obtained a new board seat as part of the funding.

The new notes are also convertible at a strike price of $ 1.15/ note issued. If fully converted, the new tranche, when fully funded, will give Altice Africa an approximate 21% shareholding in Wananchi.

Disposal of assets (OMT)

Following the French Competition Authority's conditional approval, obtained on October 27, 2014, to the purchase of SFR by Numericable Group S.A. and Altice S.A., the Company and Altice have agreed to dispose of the OMT's mobile business in the Reunion Islands and Mayotte. OMT's Indian Ocean assets are included respectively in the reporting segment French Overseas Territories (FOT) in note 8—Segment analysis.

In particular, the sale will include the 2G and 3G licenses and frequencies in Reunion Island and Mayotte, the customer base and the relevant personnel.

As these assets were not considered as assets held for sale, as of the date of the statement of financial position, as per the requirements of IFRS 5, Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations, no significant accounting impact has been recorded in the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Group for the period ended September 30, 2014.

Offer for Portugal Telecom

On November 30, 2014, Altice S.A., the sole shareholder of the Company announced an exclusivity agreement with Oi to agree the purchase of the Portuguese assets of Portugal Telecom excluding Portugal Telecom's Rio Forte debt securities.

The fully financed, binding offer values Portugal Telecom at an enterprise value of €7.4bn on a cash and debt-free free basis which includes €500m consideration related to the future revenue generation of Portugal Telecom.

The transaction, net of financial debt, accrued post-retirement liabilities and other purchase price adjustments will be financed by new debt and existing cash from the Group.

Should a final agreement be entered in to, the transaction will require corporate approvals and will be subject to standard regulatory approvals for a transaction of this nature.

Note 16—Approval of the condensed consolidated financial statements

The condensed consolidated financial statements were approved by the Board of Managers and authorized for issue on December 1, 2014.

REVIEW REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE ON CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Introduction

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed consolidated statement of financial position of Altice International S.à r.l. as of September 30, 2014, the related condensed consolidated statements of income and other comprehensive income for the three month and nine month periods then ended, the related condensed consolidated statements of changes in equity and cash flows for the nine month period then ended and the other explanatory notes (collectively, the "Interim Financial Statements"). The Board of Managers is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the Interim Financial Statements in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, Interim Financial Reporting, as adopted in the European Union. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these Interim Financial Statements based on our review.

Scope of Review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the entity. A review of interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying Interim Financial Statements are not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, Interim Financial Reporting, as adopted in the European Union.

REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE

To the Sole Partner of
Altice VII S.à r.l.
3, boulevard Royal
Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg

Following our appointment by the Sole Partner, we have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Altice VII S.à r.l., which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at December 31, 2013, and the consolidated statements of income, other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Responsibility of the Board of Managers for the consolidated financial statements

The Board of Managers is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union, and for such internal control as the Board of Managers determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibility of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as adopted for Luxembourg by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the réviseur d'entreprises agréé's judgement including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the réviseur d'entreprises agréé considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Board of Managers, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of Altice VII S.à r.l. as of December 31, 2013, and of its consolidated financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union.

Altice VII S.à r.l.
Consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2013

1—Notes to the consolidated financial statements

1.1 General description of the Group and its activities

Altice VII (the “Company”) is a private limited liability company (société à responsabilité limitée) incorporated under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on December 15, 2008, and registered under the number B 143.725 in Luxembourg. The Group refers to the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company was initially established as a public limited company (société anonyme) and then converted to a private limited liability company on October 7, 2009.

The registered office of the Company is established at 3, boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg, and as at December 31, 2013 its sole equity holder is NEXT LP. The ultimate controlling party is considered to be Patrick Drahi.

On January 31, 2014, Next LP contributed all its economic interests in Altice VII S.à r.l. (“The Group”) to Altice S.A. (“Altice”) in exchange for shares in Altice S.A.

Altice is listed on Euronext in Amsterdam. The consolidated financial statements, which include Altice VII Group are available at the registered address of Altice: 3, boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg and on its website : www.altice.net.

Altice VII offers a variety of services over its cable and mobile infrastructure, including, but not limited to, pay television, broadband Internet access, fixed-line telephony and mobile telephony to residential customers, and, to a lesser extent, corporate customers, depending on the country. Available cable-based service offerings depend on the bandwidth capacity of its cable networks and whether they have been upgraded for two-way communications. Where possible, Altice VII Group intends to deploy the same technologies and equipment across its footprints to generate economies of scale and common knowledge. In addition, the Altice VII group companies aim at sharing skills and best practices across the various operations of Altice VII Group.

Television service offerings include basic and premium programming, and, in most markets, incremental product and service offerings such as enhanced pay-per-view programming, including video-on-demand (“VoD”) and near-video-on-demand (“NVoD”), digital video recorders (“DVR”), high definition (“HD”) television services and, in certain areas, exclusive content, purchased or produced. The Group tailors its basic and premium channel line-up to each country of operation according to culture, demographics, programming preferences and local regulation. The Altice VII Group also offers broadband Internet access services and fixed-line telephony in all its footprints. It also owns and operates mobile infrastructures in certain geographies (French Overseas Territories) and offers mobile services through an MVNO (Mobile Virtual Network Operator) arrangement in Belgium.

1.2. Application of new and revised International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs)

1.2.1 New and revised IFRSs affecting amounts reported and/or disclosures in the financial statements:

In the current year, the Group has applied a number of new and revised IFRSs issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and endorsed by the European Union.

New and revised Standards on consolidation, joint arrangements, associates and disclosures

In May 2011, a package of five standards on consolidation, joint arrangements, associates and disclosures was issued comprising IFRS 10 Consolidated Financial Statements, IFRS 11 Joint Arrangements, IFRS 12 Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities, IAS 27 (as revised in 2011) Separate Financial Statements and IAS 28 (as revised in 2011) Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures. Subsequent to the issue of these standards, amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 11 and IFRS 12 were issued to clarify certain transitional guidance on the first-time application of the standards.

In the current year, the Group has early applied for the first time IFRS 10, IFRS 11, IFRS 12 and IAS 28 (as revised in 2011) together with the amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 11 and IFRS 12 regarding the transitional guidance. IAS 27 (as revised in 2011) is not applicable to the Group as it deals only with separate financial statements.

The impact of the application of these standards is set out below.

Impact of the application of IFRS 10

IFRS 10 replaces the parts of IAS 27 Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements that deal with consolidated financial statements and SIC-12 Consolidation—Special Purpose Entities. IFRS 10 changes the definition of control such that an investor has control over an investee when a) it has power over the investee, b) it is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and c) has the ability to use its power to affect its returns. All three of these criteria must be met for an investor to have control over an investee. Previously, control was defined as the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. Additional guidance has been included in IFRS 10 to explain when an investor has control over an investee.

The Managers of the Company made an assessment as at the date of initial application of IFRS 10 (i.e. 1 January 2013) and have not identified any impact in the scope of consolidation linked to application of IFRS 10.

Impact of the application of IFRS 11

IFRS 11 replaces IAS 31 Interests in Joint Ventures and SIC 13 Jointly Controlled Entities—Non-Monetary Contributions by Venturers.

IFRS 11 deals with how a joint arrangement should be classified where two or more parties have joint control. There are two types of joint arrangements under IFRS 11: joint operations and joint ventures. These two types of joint arrangements are distinguished by parties' rights and obligations under the arrangements.

Types of Joint Arrangement	Features	Accounting under IFRS 11
Joint venture	Joint ventures have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.	Equity method of accounting—Proportionate consolidation is no longer allowed
Joint operation	Joint operators have rights to the assets and obligations for the liabilities of the arrangement.	Each joint operator recognizes its assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses relating to its interest in joint operation in accordance with the IFRSs applicable to those particular assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses

Under IFRS 11, the existence of a separate vehicle is no longer a sufficient condition for a joint arrangement to be classified as a joint venture whereas, under IAS 31, the establishment of a separate legal vehicle was the key factor in determining whether a joint arrangement should be classified as a jointly controlled entity.

Application of IFRS 11 has no impact on the consolidated financial statements of the Group for the year ended December 31, 2013.

Impact of the application of IFRS 12

IFRS 12 is a new disclosure standard and is applicable to entities that have interests in subsidiaries, joint arrangements, associates and/or unconsolidated structured entities. In general, the application of IFRS 12 has resulted in more extensive disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement

The Group has applied IFRS 13 for the first time in the current year. IFRS 13 establishes a single source of guidance for fair value measurements and disclosures about fair value measurements. The scope of IFRS 13 is broad; the fair value measurement requirements of IFRS 13 apply to both financial instrument items and non-financial instrument items for which other IFRSs require or permit fair value measurements and disclosures about fair value measurements, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IAS 17 Leases, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value (e.g. net realisable value for the purposes of measuring inventories or value in use for impairment assessment purposes).

IFRS 13 defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction in the principal (or most advantageous) market at the measurement date under current market conditions. Fair value under IFRS 13 is an exit price regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. Also, IFRS 13 includes extensive disclosure requirements.

IFRS 13 requires prospective application from 1 January 2013. In addition, specific transitional provisions were given to entities such that they need not apply the disclosure requirements set out in the Standard in comparative information provided for periods before the initial application of the Standard. In accordance with these transitional provisions, the Group has not made any new disclosures required by IFRS 13 for the 2012 comparative period. Other than the additional disclosures, the application of IFRS 13 has not had any material impact on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

Amendment to IFRS 7 disclosure—Offsetting Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

The Group has applied the amendments to IFRS 7 disclosures—Offsetting financial assets and liabilities for the first time in the current period. The amendments to IFRS 7 require entities to disclose information about rights of offset and related arrangements (such as collateral pricing agreements) for financial instruments under an enforceable master netting agreement or similar arrangement.

The amendments have been applied retrospectively. As the Group does not have an offsetting arrangement in place, the application of the amendments has had no material impact on the disclosures or on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

Annual improvements to IFRSs 2009-2011 cycle issued in May 2012

The Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2009-2011 Cycle include a number of amendments to various IFRSs. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2013. Amendments to IFRS include:

- Amendments to IAS 16 Property Plant and Equipment; and
- Amendments to IAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation.

Amendments to IAS 16

The amendments to IAS 16 clarify that spare parts, stand-by equipment and servicing equipment should be classified as property, plant and equipment when they meet the definition of the property, plant and equipment in IAS 16 and as inventory otherwise. This amendment does not have a significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Amendments to IAS 32

The amendments to IAS 32 clarify that income tax relating to distributions to holders of an equity instrument and to transaction costs of an equity transaction should be accounted for in accordance with

IAS 12 income taxes. This amendment does not have a significant impact on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Standards issued but not yet effective

In its financial statements, the Group has not anticipated the following standards and interpretations, for which application is not mandatory for periods opened from January 1, 2013. Their impact on the Group's financial statements is estimated not to be significant and/or not applicable.

IAS 36 Impairment of Assets: Recoverable Amounts Disclosures for Non-Financial Assets

This standard's objective is to amend the disclosure requirements in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets with regard to the measurement of the recoverable amount of impaired assets that were made as a consequence of issuing IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement in May 2011.

The group anticipates additional disclosures in relation to the application of this standard.

IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: Novation of derivatives and continuation of hedge accounting

This standard's objective is to provide an exception to the requirement for the discontinuation of hedge accounting in IAS 39 and IFRS 9 in circumstances when a hedging instrument is required to be novated to a central counterparty as a result of laws or regulations.

The group does not apply hedge accounting and therefore does not expect any impact from the application of this Standard.

2—Significant accounting policies

2.1 Significant accounting policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union.

2.2 Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain properties and financial instruments that are measured at revalued amounts or fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IAS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 or value in use in IAS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;

Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

2.3 Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities (including structured entities) controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Company has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Company considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Company's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Company's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Company, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Company has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statements of income and other comprehensive income from the date the Company gains control until the date when the Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

All companies in which the Group has a controlling interest are fully consolidated. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation. Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are identified separately from the Group's equity therein.

2.4 Functional currency

The consolidated financial statements are presented in millions of euros. Euro is the functional of Altice VII and the presentation currency of the Group.

The functional currency, which is the currency that best reflects the economic environment in which the Group operates and conducts its transactions, is separately determined for each Group entity, including an associate accounted for using the equity method, and is used to measure its financial position and operating results.

2.5 Foreign currency translation

The presentation currency of the Group is euro. In individual companies, transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at year-end rates. Any resulting exchange differences are accounted for in the income statement. On consolidation, assets and liabilities of the Group's entities reported in their functional currencies are translated into euro, the Group's presentation currency, using the year-end exchange rates. Income and expense items are translated into euro at the annual weighted average exchange rate or at the rate of the date the transaction occurred for significant items.

Differences arising from the translation of opening net assets of the Group entities, together with differences arising from the restatement of the net results for the year of the Group entities, are recognized in other comprehensive income.

2.6 Subsidiaries and associates

2.6.1 Subsidiaries

All companies in which the Group has a controlling interest are fully consolidated. Control exists when the Group has the power, directly or indirectly, to govern the financial and operating policies of an enterprise so as to obtain benefits from its activities. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation. Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are identified separately from the Group's equity therein.

2.6.2 Associates

Investments, over which the Group exercises significant influence, but not control, are accounted for under the equity method. Such investees are referred to as "associates" throughout these consolidated financial statements.

Significant influence is presumed to exist when the Group holds at least 20% of the voting power in the associates. Associates are initially recognized at cost at acquisition date. The Consolidated Financial Statements include the Group's share of income and expenses, from the date significant influence commences until the date that significant influence ceases.

As per the provisions of IAS 28 Investment in associates the interest income and expenses recorded in the consolidated financial statements of the Group on loans with associates have not been eliminated in the consolidated statements of income and therefore are still recorded in the consolidated financial statements.

2.7 Operating profit before depreciation, amortization and non-recurring costs

The Group has included the subtotal “Operating profit before depreciation, amortization and non-recurring costs” on the face of the consolidated statements of income. The Group believes that this subtotal is useful to users of the Group’s financial statements as it provides them with a measure of the operating results which excludes non-cash elements such as depreciation and amortization as well as non-recurring transactions and management fees, enhancing the predictive value of the Group’s financial statements and providing information regarding the results of the Group’s ongoing trading activities and cash-flow generation that allows investors to better identify trends in the Group’s financial performance.

This non-IFRS measure is used by the Group internally to manage and assess the results of its operations, make decisions with respect to investments and allocation of resources, and assess the performance of management personnel.

The Group’s subtotal within operating income may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other entities. Further, this measure should not be considered as an alternative for operating income as the effects of depreciation, amortization and impairment, excluded from this measure do ultimately affect the operating results, which is also presented within the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS 1.

2.8 Revenue recognition

Revenue from the Group’s activities is mainly composed of television, broadband Internet, fixed and mobile telephony subscription and installations fees invoiced to residential and business clients.

Revenue comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of goods and services in the ordinary course of the Group’s activities. Revenue is shown net of value-added tax, returns, rebates and discounts and after eliminating intercompany sales within the group.

Revenues on bundle packages sold by the Group are split into and recognised under each individual service sold in the bundle. For example, tripe play package revenues are booked under ‘triple play television’, ‘triple play data’ and ‘triple play telephony’ on a straight-line basis over their subscription period and revenues from telephone calls are recognized in revenue when the service is rendered.

Revenue is recognized as follows, in accordance with IAS 18 Revenue:

- Revenues from subscriptions for basic cable services, digital television pay, Internet and telephony (fixed and mobile) are recognized in revenue on a straight-line basis over the subscription period; revenues from telephone calls are recognized in revenue when the service is rendered ;
- When a promotion not related to a customer’s past consumption and purchases (such as subscription’s rate discount, service free period) is offered to customer in relation to a subscription, the Group recognizes the total amount of billable revenue on a straight-line basis over the term of the contract ;
- Installation and set-up fees (including connection) for residential customers are accounted for as revenues when the service is rendered, if consideration received is lower than the sales direct costs to acquire the contractual relationship. Service access fees for business clients, when they are only allowed access to the services that are sold associated to an equipment or a service, are deferred and the corresponding revenue is recognized along the statistical client lifetime duration and generally spread over the contractual engagement period ; and

- The revenue related to transmission capacity on terrestrial cables under indefeasible rights of use: Indefeasible Rights of Use (“IRU”) arrangements are recognized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contract.

Revenues from mobile services resulting from the sale of mobile services:

- Revenues from the sale of equipment includes the sale of mobile devices and ancillary equipment for those devices. The revenues from the sales are recognized where all of the significant risk and yields that are derived from the ownership of the equipment are transferred to the purchaser and the seller does not retain continuing managerial involvement. Generally, the time of the delivery is the time at which ownership is transferred. The charge in respect of terminal equipment is made separately from the monthly charge for the consumption of services, in accordance with the amounts that is denoted in a separate invoice, which reflects the fair value of the terminal equipment, which is not subsidized by the Group. In the light of the aforesaid, the Group recognizes revenues in respect of the sale of devices on the transfer of the ownership of the devices to its customers. The revenues are recognized on the first day in accordance with its fair value as of that time and the difference between the fair value and the denoted amount of the consideration is recognized as financing income over the course of the period of the installment payments.

Income from credit arrangements

- Revenues deriving from long-term credit arrangements (such as the sale of devices in installments) are recorded on the basis of the present value of the future cash flows (against long-term receivables) and are discounted in accordance with interest rates. The difference between the original amount of the credit and the present value, as aforesaid, is spread over the length of the credit period and recorded as interest income over the length of the credit period.

2.9 Finance costs

Finance costs primarily comprise:

- Interest charges and other expenses paid for financing operations recognized at amortized costs ;
- Changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments that do not qualify as hedges for accounting purposes according to “IAS 39” ;
- Interest income relating to cash and cash equivalents; and
- Gains/losses on extinguishment of debt.

2.10 Income taxes

Taxes on income in the income statement include current taxes and deferred taxes. The tax expenses or income in respect of current taxes or deferred taxes are recognized in profit or loss unless they relate to items that are recorded directly in equity, in these cases the tax effect is reflected under the relevant equity item.

2.10.1 Current taxes

The current tax liability is measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of reporting period as well as adjustments required in connection with the tax liability in respect of previous years.

2.10.2 Deferred taxes

Differences existing at closing between the tax base value of assets and liabilities and their carrying value in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position give rise to temporary differences. Pursuant to the liability method, these temporary differences result in the accounting of:

- Deferred tax assets, when the tax base value is greater than the carrying value (expected future tax saving),
- Deferred tax liabilities, when the tax base value is lower than the carrying value (expected future tax expense).

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the expected tax rates for the year during which the asset will be realized or the liability settled, based on tax rates (and tax regulations) enacted or substantially enacted by the closing date. They are reviewed at the end of each year, in line with any changes in applicable tax rates.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, tax loss carry-forwards and unused tax credits, insofar as it is probable that a taxable profit will be available, or when a current tax liability exists to make use of those deductible temporary differences, tax loss carry-forwards and unused tax credits, except where the deferred tax asset associated with the deductible temporary difference is generated by initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction which is not a business combination, and that, at the transaction date, does not impact earnings, nor income tax profit or loss.

For deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and other associated entities, deferred tax assets are recorded to the extent that it is probable that the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and that a taxable profit will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized.

The carrying value of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each closing date, and revalued or reduced to the extent that it is more or less probable that a taxable profit will be available to allow the deferred tax asset to be utilized. When assessing the probability of a taxable profit being available, account is taken, primarily, of prior years' results, forecasted future results, non-recurring items unlikely to occur in the future and the tax strategy. As such, the assessment of the group's ability to utilize tax losses carried forward is to a large extent judgment-based. If the future taxable results of the group proved to differ significantly from those expected, the group would be required to increase or decrease the carrying value of deferred tax assets with a potentially material impact on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position and Consolidated Income Statement of the Group.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, except where the deferred tax liability results from goodwill or initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction which is not a business combination, and that, at the transaction date, does not impact earnings, nor income tax profit or loss.

For taxable temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and other associated entities, deferred tax liabilities are recorded except to the extent that both of the following conditions are satisfied: the parent, investor or venturer is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not be reversed in the foreseeable future.

Current tax and deferred tax shall be charged or credited directly to other comprehensive income, and not earnings, if the tax relates to items that are credited or charged directly to other comprehensive income.

2.11 Goodwill and business combinations

Business combinations, not occurring under common control, are accounted for in accordance with the purchase method. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the conditions for recognition under IFRS 3 “Business combinations” are recognized at their fair value at acquisition date.

The Group recognizes goodwill as of the acquisition date and is measured as the excess of (a) over (b) as follows :

a) The aggregate of:

- The consideration transferred, which generally requires acquisition-date fair value;
- The amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree measured;
- In a business combination achieved in stages, the acquisition-date fair value of the acquirer’s previously held equity interest in the acquiree.

b) The net of the acquisition-date balances of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities measured in accordance with IFRS 3.

Any excess of the cost of acquisition over the Group’s share in the fair value of all identified assets and liabilities is recognized as goodwill.

The goodwill is determined provisionally by the end of the period. The Group recognizes any adjustments to those provisional values within twelve months after the acquisition date.

During the measurement period, the acquirer shall recognize adjustments to the provisional amounts as if the accounting for the business combination had been completed at the acquisition date. Thus, the acquirer shall revise comparative information for prior periods presented in financial statements as needed, including making any change in depreciation, amortization or other income effects recognized in completing the initial accounting.

If the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed exceeds the purchase price, a gain is recognized immediately.

Subsequently, goodwill is measured at its initial amount less recorded accumulated impairment losses. Impairment loss for goodwill is recorded in the income statement as a deduction from operating income (account “Depreciation and amortization”) and is never reversed subsequently.

Changes in the Group’s ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group’s interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Group.

For acquisitions under common control, the Group does not perform a purchase price allocation. Any difference between the consideration paid and the book value of the net assets acquired is directly attributed to the reserves of the Group and no residual goodwill is recorded.

2.12 Other intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost on initial recognition, with the addition of direct acquisition costs. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are measured at fair value as of the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and less any accumulated impairment losses. In our Israeli entity, the costs of producing in-house content is also considered to be an intangible assets and recognized at the cost of production of the shows. Following initial recognition, these intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and less any accumulated impairment losses.

According to Management, intangible assets have either definite or indefinite useful lives.

Assets with definite useful lives are amortized over their useful lives and assessed for impairment signs which would indicate impairment in value. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least once a year. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits that are expected to derive from the asset are treated as a change in an accounting estimate which is treated prospectively. The amortization expenses regarding intangible assets with finite useful lives are recognized in the income statement.

The useful lives of the intangible assets are as follows:

	Duration
Software	3 years
Customer relations	7 to 37 years
Licences	5 years
Customer relations with a defined contractual term . .	3 years
Subscriber purchase costs	based on average duration of subscriptions

Assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually as well as where there is an indication that it may be impaired by comparing their carrying amount with their recoverable amount.

2.13 Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

Each time events or changes in the economic environment indicate a current risk of impairment of goodwill, other intangible assets, property, plant and equipment and assets in progress, the Group re-examines the value of these assets. In addition, goodwill, other intangible assets with an indefinite useful life, and intangible assets in progress are all subject to an impairment test performed annually.

This test is performed in order to compare the recoverable amount of an asset to its carrying amount.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. In that case, recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. A Cash Generating Unit ("CGU") is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.

The value in use of each asset or group of assets is determined as the discounted value of future cash flows (discounted cash flow method or "DCF") by using a discount rate after tax specific to each asset or group of assets concerned.

The fair value less costs to sell is the amount obtained from the sale of the asset or group of assets in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable and willing parties, less costs to sell.

When the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized in the caption "Depreciation and amortization" in the income statement. Only impairment loss recognized on assets other than goodwill such as depreciable intangible assets, intangible assets with indefinite useful life and property, plant and equipment, may be reversed.

2.14 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are presented at cost with the addition of direct purchase costs less accumulated depreciation and accumulated losses on impairment and they do not include routine maintenance expenses. The cost includes spare parts and ancillary equipment that can only be used in connection with the plant and machinery.

Depreciation is calculated using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

	Duration
Buildings	25 to 50 years
Cables Network	4 to 20 years
Call center (primarily electronic equipment)	5 to 9 years
Converters and modems	7 years
Computers and ancillary equipment	3 to 6 years
Office furniture and equipment	6 to 16 years
Communication network infrastructure	6 to 16 years
Leasehold contracts	see below

Leasehold contracts are depreciated according to the straight line method during the rental period (including the option period for an extension by the Group, which it intends to exercise) or the estimated useful lifetime of the improvement.

Elements of a fixed asset item, having a cost that is significant in comparison to the overall cost of the item, are depreciated separately, using the components method. The depreciation is calculated in accordance with the straight line method at annual rates that are considered to be sufficient in order to depreciate the assets over the length of their estimated useful lives.

The useful life, depreciation method and residual value of an asset are reviewed at least annually and any changes are accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate.

2.15 Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

2.15.1 The Group as lessor

Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recognized as receivables at the amount of the Group's net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated in an accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the Group's net investment outstanding in respect of the leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Rental income from the leasing of customer premises equipment (set top boxes, modems and decoders) is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the subscription held by the client. At the end of the contract or in case of voluntary contract termination by the client, this equipment is repossessed and thus remains in the inventory of the Group.

2.15.2 The Group as lessee

Assets held under finance leases are initially recognized as assets of the Group at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the consolidated statement of financial position as a finance lease obligation.

Lease payments are apportioned between finance expenses and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Group's general policy on borrowing costs (see note 2.16 below). Contingent rentals are recognized as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.

Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

In the event that lease incentives are received to enter into operating leases, such incentives are recognized as a liability. The aggregate benefit of incentives is recognized as a reduction of rental expense on a straight-line basis, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

2.16 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. According to management, it does not take a substantial period of time to get ready for the intended use because of the incremental deployment of the network. This standard has consequently no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

2.17 Government grants

Government grants are not recognized until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognized in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognizes as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognized as deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to the income statement on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

The benefit of a government loan at a below-market rate of interest is treated as a government grant, measured as the difference between proceeds received and the fair value of the loan based on prevailing market interest rates.

2.18 Financial assets

The Group classifies financial assets in four categories: available-for-sale, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity and financial assets at fair value through profit and loss. They are classified as current assets and non-current assets according to IAS 1 “Presentation of financial statements”.

Purchases and sales of all financial assets are recognized on a trade date basis.

2.18.1 Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset. After initial recognition, they are reported at their fair value. Gains and losses arising from changes in their fair value are recognized directly in equity, until the security is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in equity is included in the profit or loss for the period.

Available-for-sale financial assets consist mainly of shares in non-consolidated companies. Fair value corresponds to quote price for listed securities. For non-listed securities, and when a reliable estimate of fair value cannot be made using valuation techniques, the group values financial assets at historical cost, less any impairment losses.

When there is objective evidence that available-for-sale assets are impaired, the cumulative impairment loss included in equity is reclassified from other comprehensive income to income. Objective evidence that an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired includes, among other things, a decrease in the estimated future cash flows arising from these assets, as a result of significant financial difficulty of the issuer, a material decrease in expected future profitability or a prolonged decrease in the fair value of the security. Impairment losses recognized in profit or loss for equity instruments classified as available-for-sale are never reversed through profit or loss.

2.18.2 Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition. After initial recognition, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

This category mainly includes trade receivables.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has occurred, the amount of this loss, measured as the difference between the financial assets' carrying value and its recoverable amount is recognized in the income statement. Impairment losses may be reversed if the recoverable amount of the asset subsequently increases in the future.

2.18.3 Held-to-maturity financial assets

Held-to-maturity financial assets are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that the Group has both the intention and ability to hold to maturity. Financial assets that are designated as held-to-maturity are measured at amortized cost, in accordance with the effective interest rate method.

They are reviewed for impairment on an individual basis if there is any indication that they may be impaired.

The Group currently does not hold any held to maturity financial assets.

2.18.4 Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss

These financial assets are measured at fair value with gains and losses recorded as finance income or costs.

This category mainly includes:

- Assets held for trading which the Group intends to sell in the near future (primarily marketable securities);
- Assets voluntarily classified at inception in this category;
- Derivatives financial assets.

2.19 Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost of inventories comprises costs of purchase and costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated selling costs.

Cost of inventories is determined using the weighted average cost method.

The Group periodically evaluates the condition and age of inventories and makes provisions for slow moving inventories accordingly.

2.20 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash consists of cash in banks and deposits.

Cash equivalents are considered as highly liquid investments, including unrestricted short-term bank deposits with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition or with a maturity of more than three months, but which are redeemable on demand without penalty and which form part of the Group's cash management.

2.21 Restricted cash

Restricted cash is considered to be cash that is dedicated to the repayment of the Group's liabilities to banking entities in accordance with the Group's credit agreement and therefore amounts that the Group cannot use at its discretion.

Restricted cash can also consist of cash held in escrow to finance certain acquisitions (in the period between the agreement to acquire and the actual closing of the acquisition and the transfer of shares and cash and other considerations). Restricted cash may also consist of guarantees provided by different Group companies to financial institutions related to financing or other activities.

2.22 Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently reassessed at their fair value.

The Group enters into interest rate swaps and caps to manage its interest or foreign currency exchange rate exposure. These contracts do not qualify as hedges for accounting purposes according to IAS 39, as there was no formal designation and documentation of the hedging relationship at inception. Changes in the fair value of any of these derivative instruments are recognized immediately in the income statement within financial income and expenses.

2.23 Share based payment arrangements

The Group's employees are entitled to remuneration in the form of equity-settled share-based payment transactions and certain employees are entitled to remuneration in the form of cash-settled share-based payment transactions that are measured based on the increase in the Company's share price. These stock options based remunerations mainly concerned the Israeli entity, HOT Telecom and these plans were terminated post the take private of the company in December 2012 and the delisting of all active shares of HOT Telecom on the Tel Aviv stock exchange.

2.24 Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities other than derivative instruments include:

2.24.1 Financial liabilities at amortized cost

These financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost calculated based on the effective interest rate method according to IAS 39. The effective interest rate is the internal yield rate that exactly discounts future cash flows through the term of the financial liability. Fees, debt issuance and transaction costs are included in the calculation of the effective interest rate over the expected life of the instrument.

2.24.2 Financial liabilities that are measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities classified as held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss.

Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are acquired for the purpose of sale in the near term. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognized in profit or loss.

Derivatives, including bifurcated embedded derivatives, are classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments. In the event of a financial instrument that contains one or more embedded derivatives, the entire combined instrument may be designated as a financial liability at fair value through profit or loss only upon initial recognition.

The Group assesses whether embedded derivatives are required to be bifurcated from host contracts when the Group first becomes party to the contract. Reassessment only occurs if there is a change in the terms of the contract that significantly modifies the cash flows that would otherwise be required.

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in an active market is determined by reference to quoted market prices at the close of business on the balance sheet date. For financial instruments for which there is no active market, fair value is determined by the use of valuation techniques. Such techniques include evaluation based on transactions that have been executed recently under market terms, reference to the current market value of another instrument, which is substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis or other valuation models.

2.24.3 Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

2.24.4 Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by a group entity are recognized at the value of the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognized and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

The Group also issued some CPECs (Convertible Preferred Equity Certificates). Details of these subordinated financial instruments are set out in note 17.4.

2.25 Other liabilities

2.25.1 Provisions

A provision in accordance with IAS 37 is recognized in the statement of financial position when the Group has a present obligation (legal or implicit) as the result of a past event and it is expected that the use of economic resources will be required in order to settle the obligation and it is possible to reliably estimate it. Where the impact is significant, the provision is measured by discounting the forecasted future cash flows, using a pre-tax interest rate that reflects the expectations of the market in respect of the time frame of the money and in certain cases, the risks that are specific to the liability.

The following types of provisions are recorded in the financial statements:

2.25.2 Legal claims

A provision regarding legal claims is recognized when the Group has a present legal commitment or an implicit commitment resulting from a past event; when it is more likely than not that the Group will be required to expend economic resources to clear the commitment, when it is possible to estimate it reliably and when the effect of time is significant, the provision is measured according to the present value.

2.25.3 Warranty

The Group recognizes a provision for warranty for the sale of its products. The warranty is limited to malfunctions as defined by the Group and does not include warranty for damages incurred by the customer.

2.25.4 Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognized and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Group has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

2.25.5 Restructuring

A restructuring provision is recognized when the Group has developed a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and has raised a valid expectation in those affected that it will carry out the restructuring by starting to implement the plan or announcing its main features to those affected by it. The measurement of a restructuring provision includes only the direct expenditures arising from the restructuring, which are those amounts that are both necessarily entailed by the restructuring and not associated with the ongoing activities of the Group.

2.26 Liabilities for employment benefits

In accordance with the laws and practices of each country in which it operates, the Group participates in, or maintains, several employee benefits. There are as follows:

2.26.1 Short-term benefits for employees

Short-term benefits for employees include salaries, vacation pay, sick leave, recuperation pay and employers' deposits for national insurance and are recognized as an expense when the services are provided. A liability in respect of a cash bonus or a profits participation scheme is recognized where the Group has a legal or an implicit commitment to pay the said amount in respect of service that has been provided by the employee in the past and where the amount can be reliably estimated.

2.26.2 Post-retirement benefits

In Israel, the Group operates a defined benefits plan in respect of the payment of severance pay in accordance with the Israeli Severance Pay Law. According to this law, employees are entitled to receive severance pay if they are dismissed or on their retirement. The liability in respect of the termination of employee-employer relations is measured in accordance with the actuarial value of a forecast unit of entitlement method. The actuarial calculation takes into account increases in salaries in the future and the rate at which employees leave the Group and this on the basis of an estimate of the timing of the payment. The amounts are presented on the basis of the discounting of the forecast future cash flows, in accordance with government bonds' interest rates, whose repayment dates are close to the period relating to the liability in respect of severance pay.

The Group deposits funds in respect of its severance pay liability in pension funds and insurance companies (hereafter—the plan assets). The plan assets are assets that are held by the employee benefits plan for the long-term or in qualifying insurance policies. The plan assets are not available for use by the Group's creditors, and cannot be paid directly to the Group.

The liability regarding employee benefits presented in the statement of financial position represents the present value of the defined benefits obligation less the fair value of the plan assets, and the past service costs. Actuarial gains and losses are reflected in the income statement in the period in which they arise, as part of the salary costs.

The Group has defined contribution plans pursuant to the Severance Pay Law under which the Group pays fixed contributions and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient amounts to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods. Contributions to the defined contribution plan in respect of severance or retirement pay are recognized as an expense when contributed simultaneously with receiving the employee's services and no additional provision is required in the financial statements.

2.26.3 Other long-term employee benefits

The Group's employees are entitled to benefits and other long-service grants. These benefits are accounted for as other long-term benefits since the Group estimates that these benefits will be used and the respective Group's obligation will be settled during the employment period and after one year from the end of the reporting period.

The Group's net obligation regarding other long-term employee benefits is in respect of the future benefit amount due to employees for services rendered in current and prior periods. This amount of benefits is discounted to its present value and the fair value of the assets relating to this obligation is deducted from said amount. The discount rate is determined by reference to the yields on Government bonds whose currency and term are consistent with the currency and term of the Group's obligation. The obligation is calculated using the projected unit credit method. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they occur.

2.26.4 Benefits in respect of the termination of employment

Severance pay for employees is reflected as an expense when the Group has made an undertaking, with no real possibility of cancellation, for the dismissal of employees before they reach the customary retirement age in accordance with a detailed formal plan. The benefits that are given to the employees who take voluntary retirement when the Group has offered the employees a plan that encourages voluntary retirement, it is expected that the offer will be accepted and the number of persons accepting the offer can be reliably estimated.

2.27 Significant accounting judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements

2.27.1 Judgments

In the process of applying the significant accounting policies, the Group has exercised its judgment and has taken into account matters which have the most significant impact on the amounts that have been recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

2.27.2 Estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires the Group to make estimates and assumptions that have an effect on the application of the accounting policies and on the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed regularly. Changes in accounting estimates are reported in the period in which the estimate changes.

2.27.3 Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the Managers to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise.

The value in use of each CGU was determined by estimating cash flows for a period of five years for the operating activities. Cash flow forecasts are derived from the most recent business plans approved by the Board of Managers. Beyond the specifically forecasted period of five years, the Company extrapolates cash flows for the remaining years based on an estimated constant growth rate between 1.5-2%. This rate does not exceed the average long-term growth rate for the relevant markets. Discount rates have been computed using WACC approach and range from 6.3% to 11%.

2.27.4 Legal claims

In estimating the likelihood of outcome of legal claims filed against the Group and its investees, the Group companies rely on the opinion of their legal counsel. These estimates are based on the legal counsel's best professional judgment, taking into account the stage of proceedings and historical legal precedents in respect of the different issues. Since the outcome of the claims will be determined in courts, the results could differ from these estimates.

2.27.5 Post-employment benefits

The liability in respect of post-employment defined benefit plans is determined using actuarial valuations. The actuarial valuation involves making assumptions about, among others, discount rates, expected rates of return on assets, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the long-term nature of these plans, such estimates are subject to uncertainty.

2.27.6 Deferred tax asset

Deferred tax assets relate primarily to tax loss carry forwards and to deductible temporary differences between reported amounts and the tax bases of assets and liabilities. The assets relating to the tax loss carry forwards are recognized if it is probable that the Group will generate future taxable profits against which these tax losses can be set off. Evaluation of the Group's capacity to utilize tax loss carry-forwards relies on significant judgment. The Group analyses past events, and the positive and negative elements of certain economic factors that may affect its business in the foreseeable future to determine the probability of its future utilization of these tax loss carry forwards.

2.27.7 Discounting of Yield Free Preferred Equity Certificates and similar instruments (YFPEC)

The Group has loans with its equity holder which are currently non-interest bearing and therefore considered as not being at arm's length. In determining the present value, a discount rate of 4.76% has been used for YFPECs and a discount rate of 6.79% for the Interest Free Loans (IFLs) issued by the Group.

3.2 Modification of the scope of consolidation

3.2.1 Main acquisitions in 2013

3.2.1.1 Acquisition of OMT

On July 5, 2013 the Group obtained control of OMT, a telecommunications operator in the French Overseas Territories, by acquiring 77% of the shares and voting interests in the company. This acquisition enables the Group to expand its footprint in the French Overseas Territories.

Since July 5, 2013 OMT contributed €102.1 million to revenue and €13.5 million to operating profit to the Group's results for the year ended December 31, 2013.

A purchase price allocation was performed following the acquisition of OMT based on the assumptions described below.

Brand:

The ONLY brand was valued using the royalty relief method over an indefinite useful life and the method was built on the following assumptions :

- Discount rate—11.4%
- Royalty rate—1.5%

Clients:

The portfolio of clients has been valued using the excess earnings approach and based upon the following assumption:

- EBIT margin rate: 13.5% for fixed telephone clients, 12.4% for internet clients, 19.3% for mobile clients, 26.4% for B2B clients.
- Attrition rate: 9.7% for fixed telephone clients, 29.2% for internet clients, 48.5% for mobile clients, 16.4% for B2B clients.
- Discount rate: 11.4%
- Perpetuity growth rate: 2%

3.2.1.2 Acquisition of ONI Communication

On August 8, 2013 the Group obtained control of ONI, a business to business telecommunications operator in Portugal, by acquiring 100% of the shares and voting interests in the company. This acquisition enables the Group to expand its footprint in Portugal and eventually realise synergies with the Group's other business within the same country.

Since August 8, 2013 ONI contributed €41.8 million in revenue and €4.9 million in operating loss to the Group's result for the year ended December 31, 2013.

A purchase price allocation was performed following the acquisition of ONI based on the assumptions described below.

Brand:

The ONI brand was valued using the royalty relief method over an indefinite useful life and the method was built on the following assumptions :

- Discount rate—6.5%;
- Royalty rate—2.0%.

Clients:

The portfolio of clients has been valued using the excess earnings approach and based upon the following assumptions :

- EBIT margin rate: 14.1%;
- Attrition rate: 22.9% for B2B clients;
- Discount rate: 6.5%;
- Perpetuity growth rate: 0%.

3.2.1.3 Integration of content channels

On October 4, 2013 Ma Chaine Sport S.A.S. (“MCS”) and SportV S.A. (“SportV”), two exclusive content producing companies based in France and Luxembourg respectively were transferred to the Group by Altice IV and Valemi Corp, Altice IV S.A. being considered as a related party as it shares the same controlling shareholder as the Group at time of acquisition. In the absence of any specific guidance concerning the accounting for common control transactions within IFRS, no purchase price allocation was performed. These transactions allow the group to pursue a strategy of vertical integration and also provide a more integrated solution to its customers.

Since October 4, 2013, Ma Chaine Sport and SportV contributed €6.4 million in revenue and €0.3 million in operating profit to the Group’s result for the year ended December 31, 2013.

3.2.2 Change in the Group’s ownership interest in 2013

3.2.2.1 Acquisition of minority interests in Cabovisao

On April 23, 2013, the Company completed the acquisition of 40% of minority stake held by Apax Partners in its Portuguese subsidiary Cabovisao S.A, through an investment in the holding company of Cabovisao S.A, Altice Portugal.

The total consideration of EUR 105.0 million was paid on April 23, 2013, of which EUR 90.0 million was paid in consideration for the shares acquired and EUR 15.0 million towards the repayment of an existing vendor note. An amount of EUR 9.1 million (being the proportionate share of the carrying amount of the net assets of the entity) has been transferred between non-controlling interests to controlling interest. The difference of EUR 80.9 million between the decrease in the non-controlling interests and the consideration received has been debited from the retained earnings.

3.2.2.2 Disposal of Valvision

On June 6, 2013, the Company disposed of its interests in Valvision S.A.S, a cable based service provider in France to Altice VII Bis S.à r.l., a sister concern under common control of the Company’s sole shareholder, Next L.P.

The difference of EUR 3.3 million gain generated on this transaction (representing the difference between the net asset value of the entity prior to transfer and the consideration received) has been recognized directly in equity.

3.2.2.3 Acquisition of minority interests in Coditel

Deficom Telecom S.à r.l., a majority owned subsidiary of Altice VII, is the owner of 60% of the outstanding shares of Coditel Holding Lux II and Coditel Management. On November 29, 2013, Altice Holdings S.à r.l. purchase 40% of the interest of Coditel Holding Lux II and Coditel Management held by Codilink S.à r.l. .

The total consideration of EUR 82.5 million was paid on November 29, 2013, of which EUR 30.6 million was paid in consideration for shares and EUR 51.9 million paid as repayment of subordinated debt instruments held by Codilink (the Coditel PECs). An amount of EUR (9.3) million (being the proportionate share of the carrying amount of the net assets of the entity) has been transferred from non-controlling interests to controlling interest. The difference of EUR 39.9 million between the decrease in the non-controlling interests and the consideration received has been debited from the retained earnings.

3.3 Acquisitions of businesses

(1) No goodwill is attributed to neither MCS nor SportV as these were deemed by the Board of Managers to be integrations under common control and thus any difference in the net asset value and the purchase price is recorded directly in the reserves of the group attributable to the shareholders. See note 13 for more details.

(2) When acquiring OMT, ONI and MCS and Sport, the company did not, (i) pay the vendors of OMT and ONI directly as the cash was transferred directly from the lenders to the sellers' accounts, or to their debt holders in case of refinancing of the acquired entities debts or (ii) did not pay the entire amount in cash (as was the case for MCS and SportV), thus generating vendor notes held by the vendors. The total cash out from the accounts of the company amounted to EUR 13.0 million. These vendor notes were settled in 2014.

The acquisition of a controlling stake in OMT Invest S.A.S ("OMT") and Winreason S.A. ("ONI") are considered to be non-cash transactions, as the consideration paid to the vendors flows directly from the lending parties to final sellers, without transitioning through the company's accounts. Thus, the cost of such transactions is deducted directly from the issuance of debt in the consolidated statement of cash flows.

The carrying amount of goodwill as at December 31, 2013 was EUR 1,100.7 million (December 31, 2012 was EUR 790.9 million).

Goodwill is reviewed at the Group of cash-generating unit (“CGU”) level for impairment annually and whenever changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. For 2013, goodwill was tested at the CGU level for impairment as of December 31. The CGU is at the subsidiary level of the Company. The recoverable amounts of the CGUs are determined based on their value in use. The Company determined to calculate value in use for purposes of its impairment testing and, accordingly, did not determine the fair value of the CGUs as the carrying value of the CGUs was lower than their value in use. The key assumptions for the value in use calculations are primarily the pre-tax discount rates, the terminal growth rate and the churn rate. The impairment tests did not result in impairment for any periods presented in these consolidated financial statements, except for EUR 121.9 million in Hot Telecom for the year ended December 31, 2012.

The value in use of the CGUs was determined by estimating cash flows for a period of five years, giving due consideration to the nature of the industry in which each CGU operates. Assumptions for churn rates and EBIT margin were based on historical experience and expectations of future changes in the market. Cash flow forecasts were derived from the most recent financial plans approved by management.

Beyond the specifically forecasted period of five years, the Company extrapolated cash flows for the remaining years based on an estimated constant growth rate between 1% and 2%. These rates did not exceed the average long-term growth rate for the relevant markets.

When estimating turnover for purposes of the 2013 impairment test, the Company used a growth rate between (3.6)-6% over the next 5 years. Those estimates were determined on the basis of the analysis of the markets where the Company is active in as well as on the basis of projections provided by external sources.

	Green. ch	Coditel	Hot Telecom
Average long term growth rate in 2012 (in %)	2.0	2.0	1.5-2
Average long term growth rate in 2103 (in %)	2.0	2.0	2.0

When estimating EBIT margin for purposes of the 2013 impairment test, the Company used a stable ratio of EBIT margin over the next 5 years.

Management estimated discount rates using post-tax rates that reflected current market rates for investments of similar risk. The discount rate for the CGUs was estimated from the weighted average cost of capital (“WACC”) of companies which operate a portfolio of assets similar to those of the Company’s assets.

	Green ch	Coditel	Cabovisao	Hot Telecom
CGU weighted average post-tax WACC rate used in 2012 (in %)	7.0	8.0-8.5	—	10-11
CGU weighted average pre-tax WACC rate used in 2013 (in %)	6.5	6.6	6.3	10-11

The results of the goodwill impairment test of 2012 and 2013 for each CGU did not result in an impairment of goodwill as the value in use exceeded the carrying value of the CGU, except for EUR 121.9 million in Hot Telecom for the year ended December 31, 2012.

In validating the value in use determined for the CGU for the year ended December 31, 2013, key assumptions used in the discounted cash-flow model were sensitized to test the resilience of value in use and no impairments were noted in these sensitivity analysis.

	Green.ch	Coditel	Hot Telecom
Recoverable amount	124.4	466.6	1,357.1
Carrying amount	17.8	295.5	477.6
Excess of recoverable amount over carrying amount	106.6	171.1	879.5

The following changes in key assumptions in projected cash flows in every year of the initial five-year period, assuming unchanged values for the other assumptions, would cause the recoverable amount to equal the respective carrying value;

In addition, the Company analyzed the sensitivity of the estimated recoverable amounts to the reasonable expected changes in assumptions, assuming unchanged values for the other assumptions:

- Sensitivity of the recoverable amount was tested for a movement of 50 bps in the weighted average cost of capital (WACC), all other assumptions being stable and the impact would be :
 - Green.ch: an increase of 50 bps in the WACC decreases the excess of recoverable amount to EUR 90.2 million and therefore no impairment is required.
 - Coditel: an increase of 50 bps in the WACC decreases the excess of recoverable amount to EUR 103.9 million and therefore no impairment would be required.
 - HOT Mobile: an increase of 50 bps in the WACC decreases the recoverable amount to EUR 807.2 million and therefore no impairment would be required.
- Sensitivity of the recoverable amount was tested for a movement of 50 bps in the perpetuity growth rates, all other assumptions being stable and the impact would be :
 - Green.ch: an increase of 50 bps in the perpetuity growth rate decreases the excess of recoverable amount to EUR 93 million and therefore no impairment would be required.

- Coditel: an increase of 50 bps in the perpetuity growth rate decreases the excess of recoverable amount to EUR 66.1 million and therefore no impairment would be required.
- HOT Mobile: an increase of 50 bps in the perpetuity growth rate decreases the recoverable amount to EUR 825.1 million and therefore no impairment would be required.

The analysis did not result in a scenario whereby a reasonable possible change in the aforementioned key assumptions would result in a recoverable amount for the CGU which is inferior to the carrying value.

- (3) Office furniture and equipment refers to furnishings and IT equipment.
- (4) The Communication network infrastructure includes the digital technologies for the transmission of multi-channel television services.

The increase in the intangible and tangible assets of the group can mainly be attributed to the acquisition of Outremer Telecom and ONI Telecom during the course of 2013. These increases were slightly offset by the disposal of the Company's interests in Valvision.

Partner Communications LTD: A subsidiary company, operating through Hot Net Internet Services LTD. (formerly Hot Properties) and Finance LTD. (hereinafter-Hot Net) holds 1 454 663 regular shares in Partner Communications LTD, (hereinafter-Partner), constituting approximately 0,9% of Partner's share capital which is engaged in the provision of mobile communications services and whose shares are traded on stock exchanges in the United States of America, in the United Kingdom and in Israel.

Wananchi Group Holdings Ltd. In February 2013, the Company exercised its right to convert loans and receivables held against Wananchi Group Holdings Ltd. into shares. These notes were initially recorded as a long term trade receivable for the year ended December 31, 2012 and subsequently converted into equity in February 2013. The Board of Managers considers the investment in Wananchi to be available for sale investment and has injected further funds in Wananchi during the course of the year ended December 31, 2013. Wananchi operates in the fast developing East-African market and given the evolving nature of the business in this region, the Board of Managers considers that the nominal value of its investment in Wananchi represents the fair value of the investment. As of December 31, 2013, Altice VII held 17.05% of the capital of Wananchi and the Board of Managers is of the opinion that it has no significant influence on the Board of Wananchi.

(2) As of December 31, 2013, this caption includes an additional investment made by the company in Wananchi, in return for which it was issued convertible notes, convertible at the discretion of the holder. The investment amounted to € 3.0 million ($4 million equivalent). The decrease compared to December 31, 2012 is explained by the partial conversion of the notes from Wananchi to equity.

(3) Restricted cash (see Note 2.21)

As of December 31, 2013 the restricted cash caption contained cash accounts pledged at Cabovisao, HOT and Green.ch held as guarantees to various financial institutions. The decrease in the amount of restricted cash compared to the year ended December 31, 2012, was mainly due to substitution of a guarantee given to Banco Esprito Santo by Cabovisao by an amount of EUR 8.4 million drawn from the Company's guarantee facility.

The Group provides services on credit for an average of 16 days, 24 days and 96 days in average to its customers in the cable television field, the in-country fixed line communications field and the mobile communication field, respectively. The Group routinely evaluates the credit that is provided to its customers, while checking their financial situations; however it does not demand collateral for those debts. The Group records a provision for doubtful debts, based on the factors that affect the credit risks of certain customers, past experience and other information.

13.2 Discounting Reserves

The Master Yield Free Preferred Equity Certificates (“YFPEC”) have been valued using a discount rate of 4.76% given their preferred interest rate which therefore values these certificates at €4.8 million as of December 31, 2013. This value is recorded as a loan from related parties in the accounts of Altice VII.

The nominal amount of outstanding YFPECs issued by Altice VII as of December 31, 2013 is given below. The initial discounting effect is recorded in the Group’s reserves and includes the impact of deferred taxes arising as a result of the discounting for EUR 22.7 million as of December 31, 2013.

13.3 Employee benefits reserve

This reserve contains variations related to employee benefit plans in place at different group entities that apply IAS 19R. More information is provided in note 15.

13.4 Currency translation reserve

Exchange rate differences relating to the translation of the results and net assets of the Group's foreign operations from their functional currencies to the Group's presentation currency are recognized directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve.

Exchange differences previously accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve (in respect of translating both the net assets of foreign operations and hedges of foreign operations) are reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the foreign operation.

13.5 Impact of changes in ownership structure

This reserves records the impact of the changes in ownership interests held by the Group in its different subsidiaries. As described in note 3.2., the Group acquired non-controlling interests held in Altice Portugal, Cabovisao and Coditel from non-controlling interests, leading to a net decrease of EUR 120.7 million in the Group's reserves, offset by a EUR 3.3 million gain realized on the sale of Valvision. In addition to these transfers of non-controlling interests, an adjustment of EUR 14.2 million, relating to the share of non-controlling interests was recorded in the reserves.

13.6 Integration of entities under common control

As described in note 3.2.1.3, the entry of Ma Chaine Sport S.A.S. and SportV S.A. in the scope of the Group's consolidation had an impact on the reserves equal to the difference between the acquisition price and the net asset position of the companies acquired. The total consideration paid for 100% of the shares MCS amounted to EUR 23.0 million, of which EUR 10.0 million was paid in cash with the remainder generating a vendor note of EUR 13.0 million. The net equity acquired amounted to EUR 2.1 million, thus generating an adjustment of the reserves accounts of EUR 20.9 million.

The total consideration paid for 100% of the shares of SportV was EUR 12.0 million, of which EUR 5.0 million was paid in cash with the rest generating a vendor note. The net equity acquired amounted to EUR 1.7 million, thus generating an adjustment of the reserves accounts of EUR 10.3 million.

13.7 Legal reserve

According to the Luxemburg legal provisions, 5% of net profit must be obligatorily credited to a legal reserve account. The obligation to make this contribution ends when the legal reserve equal 10% or more of the share capital of the Group.

HOT Telecom has several employee benefit plans:

- Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are benefits that are forecast to be cleared in full within 12 months of the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees provide the related services. These benefits include salaries, paid annual leave, paid sick leave, recuperation and social security contributions and are recognized as expenses as the services are rendered. A liability in respect of a cash bonus is recognized when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation to make such payment as a result of past service rendered by an employee and a reliable estimate of the amount can be made.

- Post-employment benefits

The plans are normally financed by contributions to insurance companies and classified as defined contribution plans or as defined benefit plans.

Since 2011, the Group has defined contribution plans pursuant to Section 14 of the Severance Pay Law under which the Group pays regular contributions and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient amounts to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods.

Contributions to the defined contribution plan in respect of severance or retirement pay are recognized as an expense when contributed concurrently with performance of the employee's services.

In addition, the Group has a defined benefit plan in respect of severance pay pursuant to the Severance Pay Law. According to the Law, employees are entitled to receive severance pay upon dismissal or retirement. The liability for termination of employment is measured in accordance with an actuarial evaluation of the projected unit credit. The actuarial calculation takes into account the future salary costs and the rate at which employees leave the Group, which is done on the basis of an evaluation of the timing of the payment. The amounts are presented based on discounted expected future cash flows using a discount rate determined by reference to yields on Government bonds with a term that matches the estimated term of the obligation relating to severance pay.

In respect of its severance pay obligation to certain of its employees, the Group makes current deposits in pension funds and insurance companies ("the plan assets"). Plan assets comprise assets held by a long-term employee benefit fund or qualifying insurance policies. Plan assets are not available to the Group's own creditors and cannot be returned directly to the Group.

The employee benefit liabilities, which are presented in the statement of financial position, represents the present value of the defined benefit liabilities less the fair value of the plan assets.

Re-measurements of the net liability are reflected under other comprehensive income as they arise.

Actuarial gains and losses are reflected in other comprehensive income.

- Other long-term employee benefits

The Group's net obligation in respect of other long-term employee benefits is calculated on the basis of an actuarial valuation and is in respect of the future benefit amount due to employees for services rendered in current and prior periods, taking the rate of expected salary increases into account. This amount of benefits is discounted to its present value. The discount rate is determined by reference to the yields on Government bonds whose currency and term are consistent with the currency and term of the Group's obligation.

Re-measurements of the net liabilities are reflected in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

- Termination benefits:

Employee termination benefits are recognized as an expense at the earlier of such time at which the Group has committed to terminate employees before the normal retirement date and it is unable to cancel the proposal or where the Group recognized costs in respect of a structural change that includes the payment of termination benefits.

The portion of the severance pay payments that is not covered by deposits, is treated by the Group as a defined benefit plan in accordance with which a liability is recorded in respect of employee benefits, and the Group deposits amounts in central severance pay funds and in appropriate insurance policies in respect of it.

The Group has defined contribution plans, in accordance with section 14 of the Israeli Severance Pay Law, in accordance with which the Group makes regular payments without it having a legal or implicit commitment to pay additional payments even if sufficient funds have not accumulated in the funds to pay all of the benefits to an employee that relate to the employee's employment in the current period and in previous periods.

Deposits in a defined contribution plan in respect of severance pay or in respect of emoluments are recognized as expense at the time of the deposit in the plan, in parallel to the receipt of the labor services from the employee and no additional provision is required in the financial statements.

17.2 Covenants

17.2.1 Hot Telecom

The unsecured debentures issued on the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange by the Group's subsidiary Hot Telecom include financial covenants measured on Hot Telecom performance, which mainly include:

- A debt to EBITDA ratio, which is not to exceed 6 for a period that exceeds two consecutive quarters;
- No distribution of a dividend when Hot Telecom exceeds a debt to EBITDA ratio of 5.5.

As of December 31, 2013, Hot Telecom was in compliance with all of the required financial covenants.

17.2.2 Altice Blue One

As of December 31, 2012, Altice Blue One was in default of financial covenants, though it was not in default of any scheduled payments due to the lenders. As per the debt agreements, one consequence of this default could be early or accelerated repayment of the debts, if and only if such repayments are unanimously reclaimed by all of the lending agencies.

Altice Blue One debt has refinanced its external debt on July 2, 2013 and Altice Blue One is no longer subject to any debt covenants.

17.2.3 Coditel Holding

Financial covenants have been set for Coditel Holding, in the framework of the financing agreement entered into with a pool of financial institutions on December 2, 2011, based on the consolidated accounts of Coditel Holding S.A. On June 2, 2013, the senior facilities (A and B) were refinanced and repaid by anticipation, thus releasing Coditel Holding S.A. from any covenant requirements on the senior debt facility.

As of December 31, 2013, Coditel Holding S.A. was in compliance with all of the required financial covenants on the Coditel Mezzanine debt.

17.2.4 Altice Finco and Altice Financing

Altice Finco and Altice Financing, the Senior and Senior Secured Notes issuers are subject to covenants that only come into effect every time new debts are issued with the following requirements:

- Secured net debt to EBITDA ratio: < 3:1
- Unsecured net debt to EBITDA ratio: <4:1

The Group is allowed to fully consolidate the EBITDA from any subsidiaries in which they have a controlling interest and that are contained in the restricted group as defined under the indenture. In addition, the Group is allowed to use a general debt basket adjustment amounting to 4% of the total assets of the group, against the net debt of the Group.

In case the Group exceeds any of the two conditions mentioned above, it cannot incur any new debt, till such time as the ratios are met again. No other penalties are applicable in case of a breach of covenant. The Group also has access to two super senior revolvers provided under the indenture, in case of any financing needs the Group may face (for a total EUR equivalent amount of EUR 118.0 million).

17.3 Borrowings from financial institutions

In addition to the bonds described above, the Group has issued the following debts:

- A mezzanine debt issued by Coditel Holding S.A. in 2011 with a principal amount of €100.0 million, bearing cash interest at 8.5% and a PIK interest at 5.25% which is capitalized annually. This debt matures in 2016.
- A covenant lite term loan issued by Altice Financing S.A for a total amount of $ 1,034 million (€ 795 million), bearing interest at Prime FFER, Libor + 4.5%) and maturing in June 2019.

18—Obligations under finance leases

18.1 Leasing arrangements

The Group leased certain of its office facilities under financial leases. The average lease term is 5 years (2012: 5 years). The Group has options to purchase the equipment for a nominal amount at the end of the lease terms. Obligations under finance leases are secured by the lessors' title to the leased assets. Entities with major lease contracts are, (i) HOT and HOT Mobile, (ii) Outremer Telecom and (iii) Auberimmo.

Interest rates underlying all obligations under finance leases are fixed at respective contract dates ranging from 3.5% to 5.5% (2012: 3.75% to 6%) per annum.

Current leasing obligations for HOT are listed below:

The HOT group (HOT Telecom and HOT Mobile) leases equipment under finance leasing agreements. An arrangement exists within the framework of the leases, which does not meet the legal definition of leasing, but which is treated as a leasing agreement, based upon its terms. The leased equipment serves as collateral for the liabilities under the lease contract. As of December 31, 2013 the net carrying value of the leased facilities and equipment is EUR 38.1 million (NIS 182 million) (2012—EUR 41.7 million/NIS 205 million).

HOT Mobile has finance leasing in an amount of EUR 2.9 million in accordance with its rental contract with the company “Airport City” Ltd., which is for a period of 10 years ending in 2019. As of December 31, 2013, there is no balance recorded in the accounting records in respect of leasehold improvements (as of December 31, 2012, the net carrying value of leasehold improvements was EUR 3.0 million).

The Group has recorded finance leasing in respect of the Bezeq agreement. As of December 31, 2013, the finance leasing commitment in respect of the long-term Bezeq rental fees was updated by an amount of EUR 0.4 million (NIS 2 million), as a result of additional payments made in respect of the leasing in the reporting period (as of December 31, 2012—EUR 0.4 million/NIS 2 million).

Other leasing contracts exist at Auberimmo, a datacenter owned by the Group and operating in France. The facility was purchased under a finance lease agreement for an initial amount of EUR 5.6 million. A second tranche was issued to carry out renovations and leasehold improvements, amounting to a total of EUR 3.0 million.

19—Financial risk factors

In the course of its business, the Group is exposed to a number of financial risks: credit risk, liquidity risk, market risk (including foreign currency risk and interest rate risk) and other risks (including equity price risk and settlement risk). This note presents the Group’s objectives, policies and processes for managing its financial risk and capital.

Financial risk management is an integral part of the way the Group is managed. The Board of Managers establishes the Group’s financial policies and the Chief Executive Officer establishes objectives in line with these policies.

19.1 Credit risk

The Group does not have significant concentrations of credit risk. The credit risk may arise from the exposures of commitments under a number of financial instruments with one body or as the result of commitments with a number of Groups of debtors with similar economic characteristics, whose ability to meet their commitments could be similarly affected by economic or other changes.

The Group's income mainly derives from customers in Israel, in the French Overseas Territories and in Europe (Belgium, Luxembourg, Portugal and Switzerland). The Group regularly monitors its customers' debts and provisions for doubtful debts are recorded in the consolidated financial statements, which provide a fair value of the loss that is inherent to debts whose collection lies in doubt.

The Group does not have significant concentration of credit risk, as a result of the Group's policy, which ensures that the sales are mostly made under standing orders or via credit cards.

19.2 Liquidity risk

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of Managers, which manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserves borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

19.3 Market risks

The Group is exposed to risk from movements in foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates and market prices that affect its assets, liabilities and anticipated future transactions.

19.3.1 Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk comprises the interest price risk that results from borrowings at fixed rates and the interest cash flow risk that results from borrowings at variable rates.

The Group has an exposure to changes of interest rate in the market, deriving from long-term loans that have been received and which bear variable rate interest.

(1) The carrying amount of variable interest rate instruments excludes the following items included in note 17.6: 'Accrued interest, Other financial liabilities and financial instruments'.

19.3.2 Israeli CPI risk

The Group has borrowed from banks and issued debentures that are linked to the changes in the Israeli CPI. Also, the Group has deposits and gave loans that are linked to the changes in the Israeli CPI. The net amount of the financial instruments that are linked to the Israeli CPI and for which the Group is exposed to changes in the Israeli CPI amounted to approximately EUR 187.0 million (NIS 895 million) as of December 31, 2013.

19.3.3 Foreign currency management

1. Foreign currency sensitivity analysis

The Group is exposed to foreign currency risk from transactions and translation. Transactional exposures are managed within a prudent and systematic hedging policy in accordance with the Group's specific business needs. Translation exposure arises from the consolidation of the financial statements of foreign operations in euros, which is, in principle, not hedged. The Group's objective is to manage its foreign currency exposure through the use of currency forwards, futures and swaps.

Exchange differences recorded in the income statement represented a profit of EUR 66.4 million in 2013 (2012: loss of EUR 22.5 million). They are allocated to the appropriate headings of expenses by nature.

The Group estimates that a 10% variation of foreign currencies against euro parity is a relevant change of variables and reasonably possible risk in a year and the presented above allows to assess the impact of a 10% increase of foreign currencies against euro on net result and reserves. A 10% decrease would have a symmetrical impact with the same amounts but in the opposite direction.

2. Foreign currency hedging

It is the policy of the Group to enter into hedging foreign exchange contracts to cover specific foreign currency payments and receipts.

The following table details the hedging contracts outstanding at the end of the financial year :

	31/12/13 Average exchange rate	31/12/13 Foreign currency	31/12/13 Notional Value	31/12/13 Fair Value of assets ⁽¹⁾

(1) Fair value of swap and forward contracts as of December 31, 2012 amounted to EUR 62.5 million

19.3.4 Price risk

The Group has investments in listed financial instruments, shares and debentures that are classified as available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss in respect of which the Group is exposed to risk of fluctuations in the security price that is determined by reference to the quoted market price. As of December 31, 2013, the carrying amount of these investments was EUR 9.4 million (6.1 million as of December 31, 2012).

19.4 Gearing computation

For the year ended December 31, 2013, the Altice VII Group had a negative net equity position of EUR 261.2 million, thus resulting in a negative gearing ratio.

19.5 Fair value of financial assets and liabilities

19.5.1 Fair value of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis

Some of the Group's financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. The following table gives information about how the fair values of these financial assets and financial liabilities are determined (in particular, the valuation technique(s) and inputs used).

Financial assets/ Financial liabilities	Fair value as at		Fair value hierarchy	Valuation technique(s) and key input (s)	Significant unobservable differences	Relationship of unobservable differences

—Partner and Co.	8.4	6.1	Level 1	Quoted price in an active market	N/A	N/A

(1) In April 2012, the Group made an investment in the East-African cable operator Wananchi, to gain a foothold in the strategic and fast developing African cable and telecom market. To date the Group has invested a total of EUR 34.9 million ($ 48.4 million, of which EUR 31.9 million in equity and EUR 3.0 as a convertible note, as of the year ended December 31, 2013) in this venture, alongside other industry peers, and has acquired a total stake of 17.5% in Wananchi. Given the specific geo-economic context of the zone that Wananchi operates in, the high growth rate, infrastructure development needs and volatilities associated with the region, the Board of Managers considers that the carrying amount of its investment reflects the fair value of the investment as of December 31, 2013.

Total non-current payables	29.0	38.8

The increase in trade payables can mainly be attributed to the acquisitions of Outremer, ONI and integration of MCS and SportV in the scope of consolidation of the Group in 2013.

The increase in income tax payables can be attributed to an improvement in the profit before tax at HOT and a concomitant increase in the income tax rate in Israel from 25.0% to 26.5% as compared to FY2012.

21—Deferred revenues

	(in millions of euros)
Current deferred revenue	55.9	34.1
Non-current deferred revenue	10.6	10.8
Total deferred revenues	66.5	44.9

Current deferred revenues refer to revenues recognized from customers billed in advance of the monthly cut-off. Non-current deferred revenues result from multi-year contracts with business customers.

The increase in deferred revenues for the year ended December 31, 2013 was mainly due to an increase in price of certain products for the year ended December 31, 2013 and the subsequent billing and revenue collection of these subscriptions before the year end.

23.4 Tax assessments

23.4.1 Hot Telecom

On December 22, 2013, an agreement was signed between Cool Holdings Ltd and all of its subsidiary companies (except for HOT Mobile Ltd.) (hereinafter in this section—the companies) and the Israeli Income Tax Authority for the closure of disputes that had arisen in the assessment discussions for the years 2006 - 2011 and in continuation of the tax assessments that had been received in December 2009 and during the course of 2010 for the 2006 - 2008 tax years. Pursuant to the compromise agreements the companies will be required to pay an additional amount of tax in respect of the said tax years, primarily in respect of timing differences in respect of the depreciation of the infrastructure and the cables network and the amortization of intangible assets. The implementation of the compromise agreements will result in the Company having chargeable income in 2012 and 2013 as well.

HOT Telecom's management has recorded the provision relating to the assessments in its financial statements in the past.

The impact of such assessment agreement in HOT's financial statements, including in respect of the updating of the HOT's deferred tax balances, is a net income of EUR 5.0 million.

Most of the companies have been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2011 tax year. HOT Mobile has been issued with tax assessments up to and including the 2009 tax year, which are deemed to be final.

23.4.2 Cabovisao

For the years 2012 and 2013, Cabovisao is subject to corporate income tax ("IRC—Imposto sobre o Rendimento das Pessoas Colectivas") at a rate of 25%, increased (i) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax ("Derrama"); and (ii) by a 3% and 5% state tax ("Derrama Estadual") applicable on taxable income between 1,5 million Euros and EUR 10 million (EUR 7.5 million as from January 1, 2013, following a change in Portuguese tax legislation occurred in December 2012) and on taxable income in excess of EUR 10 million (EUR 7.5 million as from January 1, 2013), respectively, in accordance with the article 87- A of the Portuguese Corporate Income Tax code, resulting in a maximum aggregate tax rate of approximately 31.5%.

In accordance with article 88^o of the Portuguese Corporate Income Tax code, the Company is subject to an autonomous taxation over some expenses at the rates defined in that article.

As at December 31, 2013, the Company's tax returns, for the fiscal periods of 2006 until 2010, are being reviewed by Portuguese tax authorities. During the year ended December 31, 2013, the Company already received a tax notification, adjusting the Company's tax losses obtained in the fiscal year ended 2006, in the amount of approximately EUR 16.5 million. However, as of December 31, 2013, any carrying forward tax losses obtained in the fiscal year ended 2006 already expired, and therefore cannot be used to reduce future taxable profits.

The Company was subject to an inspection from the Portuguese tax authorities for the fiscal years 2003 to 2006, and the outcome was the following:

- An assessment of the Portuguese Tax Authorities related to 2005, requested an adjustment of tax losses in the amount of EUR 17.2 million, as well as an additional tax payment in the amount of EUR 4.1 million for withholding tax and stamp tax. The Company paid EUR 2.9 million and contested this decision through an appeal, but has not received the final decision yet. The unpaid amount of, approximately, EUR 1.0 million (excluding related late payment interests) was contested on appeal. In the year ended August 31, 2012, the Corporate Tax Authority accepted the claim. As of today, there were not any subsequent deliberations after that decision. The Board of Managers understands that the final outcome of this matter will be favorable to the Company.
- An assessment of the tax payable concluded that there was withholding tax due in the amount of approximately EUR 5.2 million (excluding related late payment interests). Cabovisao doesn't agree with this assessment, having filed a gracious complaint and submitted a bank guarantee in the amount of approximately EUR 6.8 million. As of December 31, 2013, the administrative and tax court of Almada didn't pronounce itself on that claim. The Board of Managers understands that the final outcome of this matter will be favorable to the Company.

23.4.3 Other entities

The Board of Managers has not identified any other material tax assessments in other Group entities.

24—Segment analysis

24.1 Definitions of segments

Given the geographic spread of the various Group entities, it logically follows that an analysis and control by geography is inalienable to Group strategy of managing its different businesses. It has thus been decided by the central management team to analyse the business across geographies and then by activity. The following geographies have been identified:

- Israel,
- Belgium and Luxembourg (Western Europe),
- Portugal (Western Europe),
- French Overseas Territories (Antilles and Indian Ocean),
- Others (Switzerland, Africa, France etc.).

Activities have been split as follows:

- Cable,
- Mobile,
- B2B and Others (Content/etc.).

Following the signature of agreements to acquire Tricom and Orange Dominicana in the Dominican Republic in October and November 2013 respectively, a new segment, “Dominican Republic”, will be defined. Given the nature of the activities of the two firms, there will be no changes to the activities segment.

24.1.1 Operational KPIs

It has also been decided by Management that operating subsidiaries shall report operational KPIs every week together with financial KPIs every month, using a standard reporting format.

The main operational KPIs include:

The main operational KPIs that will be tracked will be:

- Subscriber base evolution (both cable and mobile),
- ARPU (Average Revenue per Unit) (cable and mobile),
- Other relevant cost drivers.

These KPIs are benchmark indicators followed throughout the industry and allow for a thorough and accurate analysis of the business and strategic decision making.

24.1.2 Financial KPIs

Each local operational company will also report on a monthly basis the following financial KPIs by segment:

- Revenues (Cable/Mobile/B2B and Others),
- Cost of Sales (Cable/Mobile/B2B and Others),
- Capex (Cable/Mobile/B2B and Others).

The central team believes that given the uniformity in the accounting and nature of operating expenses and given the experience and competence of the Group in managing operating costs, the main indicator that can vary between business units is the gross margin.

Capital expenditure (Capex) is an important indicator to follow, as the profile varies greatly between the two activities:

The cable business has fixed Capex requirements that are mainly discretionary (network, platforms, general), and variable Capex requirements related to the connection of new customers and the purchase of Customer Premise Equipment (TV decoder, modem, etc).

Mobile Capex are mainly driven by investment in new mobile sites, upgrade to new mobile technology and licences to operate. Once Capex are engaged and operational, there are limited Capex requirement.

Management believes that operations in Switzerland are currently not substantial enough to require a separate reporting segment, and will be reported under 'B2B and Others'. However, as these activities grow, it is intended that they are also reported under a separate segment with relevant operating KPIs specific to the activity.

24.2 Regional specificities

24.2.1 Israel

Israel is currently an important contributor to the Group revenues and EBITDA and has particularities that differentiate it. For this reason, it is classified as a separate region.

It is characterized by a high broadband and cable penetration and a very technology-savvy population. Segments within the Israeli telecom market show different level of maturity and competition, with relatively frequent interventions from the regulator. Management is factoring expectations for price pressure and increasing competition in its strategic plan.

Triple play penetration is low and represents a valuable growth driver.

The regulatory environment does not yet allow for quadruple play packages (coupling fixed and mobile services), which Management need to consider when setting up integration plans and operational synergies. The prevailing political environment in the region can also have adverse impacts on the development of the business, as a deterioration of the situation may have serious repercussions on the market environment and may even lead to physical damage of the infrastructure.

24.2.2 Belgium and Luxembourg

Even though Belgium/Luxembourg and Portugal can be considered to be the same sub-region, the challenges posed by these two regions are quite different.

The Belgian and Luxembourg territories have a high standard of living and well developed economies, which translates into higher prices for services. The markets are quite mature, with high broadband penetration. Customers are willing to pay more for premium services and hence price pressure appears limited.

These regions are marked by the presence of many well established local cable operators with no overlap thou. Customer retention is a key factor in maintaining strong profit margins.

Given the density and presence of mobile operators, the mobile strategy has been driven by Mobile Virtual Network operations, through the deployment of quadruple play packages.

24.2.3 Portugal

The Portuguese market is marked by a high concentration of double play subscribers and a mature telecommunications market, which, when coupled with slow economic recovery, makes it difficult to achieve revenue growth. This market is marked by high subscriber attrition and downward migration from high to low ARPU offers.

The challenge in Portugal is to maintain a subscriber base and migrate the customer base from double play to triple play offers.

24.2.4 French Overseas Territories

The French Overseas Territories present growth opportunities with relatively limited competition and room to attract more subscribers on our cable infrastructure. Additional growth potential exists notably through the deployment of multiple-play services and efficiency gains in distribution network, , as multiple-play packages penetration remains low. Price pressure is low in these regions and customers are willing to pay more for value added services.

Additional opportunities have been identified and pursued in the e-banking sector.

Restructuring and other non-recurring costs	(61.2)	(20.8)
Total	(76.3)	(50.5)

- (1) The increase of non-recurring costs is mainly explained by a one-off EUR 31.6 million charge booked at HOT Mobile concerning the entering into a new network sharing agreement with Partner Telecommunication and the termination of the existing agreement with Pelephone. The provision relates to any cost overlap resulting from the use of Pelephone's network during the transition phase. In addition, Altice financing incurred costs related to consultants' fees and other outlays related to the acquisition of OMT Invest S.A.S and Winreason S.A.
- (2) Restructuring costs decreased in the year ended December 31, 2013 as a result of the completion of restructuring at Cabovisao. The charge of EUR 2.9 million refers to the restructuring costs engaged at ONI telecom since its acquisition in august 2012.

- (1) Gains arising on fair value variations of financial and subordinated financial instruments issued by the Company for a total amount of EUR 1.4 million and a gain on interest rate swaps recorded at Altice financing for a total amount of EUR 1.3 million.
- (2) The increase in interest expense for the year ended December 31, 2013 was primarily due to (i) the issuance of new debt to finance the Outremer Telecom and ONI transactions (€12.9 million impact in 2013) and (ii) the full year impact of the debt incurred to finance the HOT take private in 2012 (€47.45 million in 2013).

29—Transactions with non-controlling interests

On April 23, 2013, the company repurchased the 40% minority interests held by Apax in its Portuguese subsidiary, Cabovisao for a total consideration of EUR 105.0 million, of which EUR 90.0 million was paid as consideration for equity acquired and EUR 15.0 million used in the repayment of a shareholder loan. The total amount of equity acquired was valued at EUR 13.1 million and the impact on the net equity of the Group was EUR 77.0 million following the consummation of the deal.

On November 29, 2013, the company repurchased the 40% minority interests held by Apax through its holding company Codilink S.à r.l. in Coditel Holding Lux and Coditel Management. The total

31.1 Trading and financial transaction

Transactions with related parties mainly related to transactions with Numericable Group, Next L.P. or Altice Six S.A.. Such transactions are limited to (i) re-invoicing of certain operational services granted by Numericable Group to certain subsidiaries of Altice VII, or (ii) shareholder preferred equity certificates or loan issued by Altice VII and held by Next L.P.

Transaction with related parties that directly impact the reserves of the Group are summarized in note 13.

Other related parties include consulting firms specialized in the management and operations of telecom companies and executive managers of Altice VII. The fees paid to the consulting companies include recurring fees paid based on service level agreements established with Altice VII, one-off success fees for the successful completion of acquisitions or negotiations with banks on debt contracts/bond issuance and reimbursement of any outlays and expenditures incurred by the employees of these companies when working on behalf of Altice VII. Transactions with executive managers include loans provided to them by the Company.

32.1 Hot Telecom Commitments

32.1.1 Commitments

A. Contingent liabilities

1. Within the framework of the merger of the cable companies on December 31, 2006, HOT Telecom (or “HOT”) assumed responsibility for the existing claims in the field of activity of the acquired companies (the cable companies in their former format), furthermore, it was determined that the company would assume responsibility for any claim that might be filed in the interim period by any of the acquired companies after the time of the completion of the merger of the cable companies.

In addition, HOT has entered into a commitment under an indemnification agreement with each of the three previous holders of the rights in the HOT Gold Partnership (the Tevel Group, the Yedioth Communications and the Fishman Group) in accordance with which the company has undertaken to fully indemnify the partners in the HOT Gold Partnership, prior to the completion of the merger transaction, so that they will be released from all responsibility, commitment or debt of any sort whatsoever that HOT Gold had on December 31, 2006 or that HOT Gold might have had after that date, and which relate to the period prior to the completion of the merger, including in respect of claims and legal proceedings.

2. Lawsuits have been filed and are pending against companies in the Group in the routine course of business and various legal proceedings are outstanding against it (hereinafter—Lawsuits).

In the opinion of the managements of the Group companies, based, inter alia, on legal opinions in respect of the chances of the lawsuits, appropriate provisions have been recorded in the financial statements as of December 31, 2013 in an amount of EUR 11.1 million, were provisions are required, to cover the exposure in respect of the said lawsuits.

In the opinion of the management of the Group companies the additional exposure in an amount of approximately EUR 565 million (over and above the provisions that have been recorded in these financial statements), as of December 31, 2013 in respect of lawsuits that have been filed against companies in the Group on various issues is as follows:

- a) An amount of approximately EUR 377 Million in respect of claims, the chances of which, in the assessment of the company's management, in reliance on opinions from its legal advisors, do not exceed 50%.
- b) An amount of approximately EUR 105 Million in respect of claims, which it is not possible to evaluate at this stage, and which consist primarily of applications for approval as class actions that were filed shortly before the date of the financial statements.
- c) An amount of approximately EUR 84 Million in respect of claims, where the chances of there being accepted in the assessment of the HOT's management, in reliance on the opinion of its legal advisers, exceed 50%.

(2) The amount includes EUR 9.4 Million in respect of claims after the balance sheet date.

B. Commitments

1. Royalties to the Ministry of Communications and other payments to the government

a) HOT Telecom used to be committed to pay annual royalties in accordance with the Telecommunications Regulations (Concessions)—1987. In accordance with the Telecommunications Regulations (Telecommunications and Broadcasting) (Royalties)—2001, HOT Telecom is required to pay annual royalties in respect of its income from in country operator services and HOT Mobile is required to pay annual royalties in respect of its radio telephone services (less payments to another license holder in respect of reciprocal connection or roaming services). The royalties rates that HOT Telecom and HOT Mobile have each been charged to pay stood at 1.75% in 2012 and decreased to 0% from 2013 onwards.

b) In July 2001, the cables companies, including HOT Telecom, entered into a commitment under an agreement with the State of Israel on the subject of a solution to the disputes between the cable companies and the State in respect of the right of each company to operate the existing cables infrastructure in each of the concession areas after the end of the period of the concessions. It was stipulated in the agreement that the State undertakes to waive all of its claims and its rights in respect of the cables infrastructure such that each cables company would be the owner of all of the rights, including property rights, in the cables infrastructure that it held in the area of its concession and that it would have available to it the right to continue to operate it even at the end of the concession period. In consideration for this, it was stipulated that each company was to pay to the State, on an annual basis and for a period of 12 years (commencing on January 1, 2003), its relative share, as determined in the agreement, of an amount that is equivalent to the multiple of certain incomes (as determined in the agreement) of each of the cable companies on a graduated scale (in accordance with the level of income, as aforesaid) at a rate of from 0% to 4%. The relative share of each company can be altered by agreement between the cables companies.

In addition, it was stipulated that each company is to pay approximately 12% of the overall consideration from the sale of operations that are executed through the cables infrastructure for a period of 12 years. It was also stipulated in the agreement that in so far as HOT has received any amount whatsoever in consideration for the issuance of its shares to the public or to an external investor or in consideration for the sale of shares of another company from among the cables companies, part of the consideration from the issue or the sale, as aforesaid, is to serve as an advance payment for the payment of the relevant portion of the consideration that remains to be paid under the agreement, in accordance with a formula that will be determined by the parties by agreement. It is further stipulated in the agreement that it shall apply to the cables companies or to any company that is split or merged even if structural changes are made of any sort whatsoever, and accordingly, with the completion of the merger, the agreement applies to HOT as a merged company.

c) In accordance with the Wireless Telegraph Regulations (Licensing, Certification and Levies)—1978, HOT Mobile is required to pay a fixed annual payment for each frequency that it uses. HOT Mobile paid amounts of EUR 6.1 million and EUR 5.4 million in respect of the years 2013 and 2012 respectively.

2. Other royalties

a) Within the framework of the Group's routine operations in the broadcasting field, the Group enters into commitments under arrangements and agreements under which the Group pays royalties to various authors' organizations. The amounts of the royalties that have been reflected by the Group within this context in the years 2013 and 2012 amounted to EUR 9.4 million and EUR 8.8 million respectively.

b) On January 30, 2012 a draft of the Authors and Performers Law (Judgment on Royalties Issues) 2012 (hereinafter, in this section—"The draft law") was placed before the Knesset. The draft law was intended to create a royalties court by empowering one of the District Court Judges to hear cases on royalties issues, royalty rates and disputes in royalty issues (in other words, a dispute on the issue of royalty rates between a collective management entity and a user or users of a repertoire).

This draft, if it is accepted, may have an implication for the issue of the payment of royalties to various organizations. As of the date of this report, HOT is unable to assess what the impact of the said legislation will be on its business results, if it is passed.

3. A commitment to invest in original productions

In accordance with the provisions of the Communications Law, the principles of communications and decisions by the Council, HOT is required, inter alia, to invest amounts in original productions at a rate of 8% of its annual income from subscription fees. During the course of the years 2012 and 2013 HOT complied with the investment rate that is required, as aforesaid.

It should be noted in this connection that the Communications Law has empowered the Council to determine the rate of investment that is required, and solely that it may not exceed 12% and may not fall below 8% of the annual income from subscriber fees. In this connection, in October 2011 the Council informed HOT that as from the year 2012 its income from subscriber fees, which form the basis for the calculation for the requirement to invest in original productions, will be deemed to include all of the payments that are paid by its subscribers in order to receive broadcasts and to receive services, including income from users' terminal equipment and the installation thereof, whereas in accordance with the policy adopted by the Council up to them regarding the inclusion of income from terminal equipment for the purpose of the calculation of the requirement for original productions was made conditional upon a mechanism that was based on the profitability of this income, and in past years the income from users' terminal equipment and the installation thereof was not included in the basis for the calculation for original productions. On January 12, 2012, the Council determined that HOT will be entitled to complete the amount of the additional investment for the year 2012 over three investment years.

4. Agreement to deploy and maintain a cables network

On January 1, 1990 and on May 1, 1989, Tevel International Transmission for Israel Ltd. and HOT Gold & Co. (hereinafter together—The cable companies) entered into commitments under agreements for the provision of planning, installation and maintenance services of the cables network with the Bezeq company (the provisions of both of the two said agreements are similar, and they will hereinafter in this section be called—the agreement). This agreement was endorsed to HOT Telecom as part of the merger agreement.

In accordance with the agreement, Bezeq, Tevel and HOT Gold planned the cables network, inter alia, based on the Bezeq company’s available infrastructure, which was deployed in the areas of the concession at the time of the signing of the agreement. Tevel and HOT Gold supplied the Bezeq company with the base equipment (as defined in the agreement) that comprises the cables network whereas the Bezeq company supplied the additional equipment (as defined in the agreement) that is used for setting up the cables network.

In accordance with the agreement, a cables network was set up and deployed in a number of major cities across Israel, and the Bezeq company conducts the routine maintenance of the cables network and also provides malfunction repair services. The provisions of the agreement also relate, inter alia, to the possibility of the expansion of the cables network to additional facilities, the connection of new houses and of new neighborhoods.

It is determined in the agreement that it will remain in force for the length of the period of the concession, and that it will continue to be in force if the concession or the rights in the concession are transferred or afforded to another, in whole or in part and directly or indirectly, during the course of the original concession period and during the extension of that period or after the end of it. The Bezeq company is only entitled to cancel the agreement in respect of a breach for which notice has been given in writing.

The total of the expenses recorded in HOT’s accounting records for the network services payable to the Bezeq company in the years 2013 and 2012 amounted to EUR 9.8 million and EUR 10 million, respectively.

It should be noted that from time to time, during the routine course of business, disputes arise in connection with the implementation of the agreement, inter alia in respect of the division of the costs that are involved in the performance of some of the services that are supplied by the Bezeq company under the agreement, however the parties are continuing to operate in accordance with the agreement. It is further noted that over the course of the years additions have been signed to the agreement, primarily in connection with enhancement and upgrading work on the cables network.

5. Commitments to lease assets

The Group has commitments under agreements for the leasing of buildings and motor vehicles for various periods up to the end of the year 2020. The minimal future rental fees in respect of the rental contracts as of December 31, 2013, exclusive of the option period, are as follows:

	EUR Million December 31, 2013	EUR Million December 31, 2012
2014	37.3	37.8
2015	30.2	30.0
2016	19.7	24.4
2017	10.1	17.5
2018 and thereafter	7.3	61.7
	104.6	171.3

6. On July 19, 2011, HOT’s Board of Directors approved a commitment under agreements for the execution of the upgrading of the fiber optic infrastructure (FTTX). In accordance with the said commitment, HOT Telecom will purchase advanced optic equipment, work and services from third parties, in order to upgrade the infrastructures, including maintenance services, in accordance with the deployment and the timetables that will be agreed upon between the parties from time to time. The upgrading of the infrastructure, as aforesaid, will enable the expansion of the traffic capacity on the network, in favor of the supply of enhanced VOD services, the increasing of the number of channels that the Group can offer to its subscribers, faster internet services and it will also enable HOT to deal with increased demand for traffic capacity on the network in the future, which is expected to arise as a result of increased uses and applications that require a considerable band width.

7. On May 27, 2010, a facility agreement was signed between HOT Mobile and Motorola for the purchase, licensing and installation of the infrastructure equipment (hardware and software) which is required in order to operate HOT Mobile's iDEN network. The agreement is in force for a period of five years from the time that it was signed (hereinafter -the initial period) and it will be renewed for additional periods of one year each (or for a longer period that is agreed between the parties), unless a party to the agreement gives notice to the other party, 90 days before the end of the initial period, or one of the extension periods, as the case may be, of its desire to terminate the commitment. The agreement arranged the commitment between the parties for the purpose of the execution of the work orders that will be presented to Motorola, from time to time, by HOT Mobile for the purpose of the supply of equipment or software for the iDEN network.

Within the framework of the agreement, Motorola has undertaken that during the initial period it will hold an inventory of equipment that will enable it to immediately supply the components that are required for the proper functioning of HOT Mobile's iDEN network, and so that it will be capable of supplying HOT Mobile with the maintenance services for the infrastructure equipment and the software that are required to operate the network for a period of seven years from the signing of the agreement, subject to the purchase of the said maintenance services by HOT Mobile.

In consideration for Motorola's commitment to sell the equipment and the licenses to HOT Mobile at the prices that are denoted in the agreement, HOT Mobile has made a commitment to purchase the infrastructure equipment and the software that is required to operate the iDEN network from Motorola alone during the period of the agreement.

8. As part of the commitment with Motorola in respect of the infrastructure for the iDEN network, HOT Mobile has signed on a system maintenance agreement with Motorola as well as on an agreement for the maintenance of the system's hardware, which arrange the repair of malfunctions and the provision of support by Motorola for HOT Mobile's iDEN network.

In December 2011, the system maintenance agreement was extended for an additional period of three years, until the end of 2014.

9. On May 26, 2010, as part of the sale of the control in HOT Mobile to Altice, HOT Mobile entered into a commitment under an agreement with Mobility for the purchase of terminal equipment that supports the iDEN technology.

The agreement is in force for a period of 5 years and it will be renewed for additional periods of one year each time unless a party to the agreement gives notice to the other party, 60 days before the end of the initial period, or one of the extension periods, as the case may be, of its desire to terminate the commitment.

The agreement arranged a mechanism for the ordering and supply of the terminal equipment (including quarterly forecasts by HOT Mobile) with HOT Mobile being responsible for the importing of the terminal equipment from abroad.

The supplier has received an option and the right of first refusal for the repurchase from HOT Mobile of all of the terminal equipment that it may be holding at the time of the termination of the agreement, in accordance with a mechanism that was set in the agreement.

10. On June 16, 2011, HOT Mobile entered into a commitment with Nokia Siemens Networks Israel Ltd. (hereinafter—the supplier) for the setting up of the infrastructure for HOT Mobile's new network.

In accordance with the terms of the agreement, the supplier will plan and set up the new network for HOT Mobile as a turnkey contractor. In the first stage, which was completed in May 2012, the supplier completed the setting up of the systems that are required for the purpose of operating the new system with a coverage of approximately 30%, which is in excess of the extent of the coverage which HOT Mobile is required to provide (20%) in accordance with the terms of the tender within two years from the time of the receipt of the new radio telephone license. After the completion of the first stage, HOT Mobile has expanded and is expanding the new network, both from the perspective of the coverage and also from the perspective of the LTE capability.

The agreement is in force for 15 years, and it contains warranties for the proper functioning of the components of the system for a period of two years from the time of the handing over of each component in accordance with the agreement, as well as warranties for the entire period of the agreement that the system will operate in accordance with the system requirements that HOT Mobile placed (in terms of availability, functioning and capacity), subject to their being a maintenance agreement in force between the parties.

In consideration for the completion of the first, second and third stages in accordance with the agreement and the performance of all of the supplier's commitments by the year 2013, the Group will pay the supplier an amount of 52 million Dollars, which amount does not include the expansion of the coverage and the capacity over and beyond what is stipulated in the agreement.

11. In 2013 and at the beginning of 2014, a number of additions to the agreement were signed, within the framework of which the payments that were supposed to be paid under the agreement have been deferred to a later date, subject to HOT Mobile's signing on debt notes, with Hot acting as guarantor. Within this framework, HOT Mobile has signed on confirmation for the final receipt of significant portions of the said project.

12. On October 27, 2011, an agreement was signed between HOT Mobile and Comverse Ltd. (hereinafter—Comverse), in accordance with which Comverse will supply HOT with a BSS system (a billing system that is integrated with the customer relations management (CRM) system) (hereinafter—The system) and Comverse will also supply HOT with hardware, software and services, including the operation and maintenance of the system. The agreement is for a period of five years. In consideration for Comverse's services, HOT Mobile will pay an amount of approximately 12.5 million US Dollars. In January 2012, the parties signed on an addendum to this agreement, in accordance with which Comverse is committed to allocate seven additional employees to be available for the project (instead of the manpower that HOT had to make available for the project), for a payment of 500,000 US Dollars.

13. On May 30, 2012, HOT Mobile International Communications Ltd (hereinafter—HOT International), a wholly owned subsidiary of HOT Mobile's, received an operator's license for the provision of international telecommunications services (hereinafter—The international license). On January 6, 2013 HOT International received operational approval for starting to provide international telecommunications services in accordance with the international license and on January 8, 2013, notification of the opening of the services was sent to all of the operators.

14. On November 11, 2013, HOT's Audit Committee approved HOT's commitment under a sub-leasing agreement with the Middle East Company Ltd. (hereinafter—the lessor) for the sub-leasing of a plot of land in the Jaffa Port, which HOT is leasing (hereinafter—the leased property), retroactively, as from July 2013.

The leased property will be used by the tenant, which is a company that produces broadcasts for a foreign news company, which is 85% owned by Mr. Patrick Drahi, the ultimate controlling interest in HOT.

The lease fees that will be paid to HOT in respect of the leased property have been set in accordance with the rental fees that HOT pays in respect of the property and under the same payment terms (back to back), with the addition of a monthly amount in respect of: (1) the tenant's relative share of the municipal taxes, electricity, water, security and cleaning expenses (back to back terms to those paid by HOT) and (2) adaptations to the leased property that HOT has executed at its own expense.

It is determined in the rental agreement that in any case in which the agreement ends before the end of the rental period, the tenant shall pay HOT the balance of the payments in respect of the adaptations that HOT made in the leased property, as discounted using a real annual interest rate that has been set in the agreement.

15. On November 8, 2013, HOT Mobile signed on agreements with Partner Communications Ltd. (hereinafter—Partner), which are subject to the receipt of all of the approvals that are required, as detailed below: HOT Mobile and Partner will set up a limited partnership, which will hold, develop and operate a single advanced cellular communications network, for both of the companies, each of which will hold half of the rights in it. In accordance with the agreement, each of the parties will continue to hold and to operate its core of the network separately and provide cellular communications services, including the marketing and the selling of such services, to its customers alone.

The agreement arranges the management of the joint network and its development, the manner of the management of the partnership, including a mechanism for the appointment of a board of directors, the resolution of disagreements, the bearing of the costs of upgrading the network and so on.

The agreement will be in force for a period up to December 31, 2028, and thereafter, the agreement will be extended automatically for additional periods of 5 years each, unless either of the parties gives notice of its desire to terminate the agreement by giving notice in advance of 24 months before each automatic renewal. Despite the aforesaid, as from the end of a period of 8 years from the entry of the agreement into force, it may be cancelled by either of the parties, in accordance with their own judgment and by giving two years notice in advance from that time. The agreement also sets a mechanism for the separating of the parties in the event of the termination of the agreement.

In consideration for the agreement, HOT Mobile will pay a non-recurring amount, which is to be paid by the beginning of 2017, and thereafter, each party will bear half of the capital investments that are required to set up and to upgrade the joint network and the bearing of the operating expenses for the joint network will be in accordance with a mechanism that is set in the agreement and which is based, inter alia, on the volume of the data traffic that each party consumes from the joint network.

As an interim stage and until the receipt of the approvals that are required under the law, Partner will extend to HOT Mobile the right to use its cellular communications network for the purposes of the provision of brad national cover to its customers. The services under the agreement will apply after the completion of the preparations and in accordance with any agreement or regulation.

In the light of the commitment with Partner in connection with the in-country roaming services, HOT Mobile and Pelephone Telecommunications Ltd. (with which HOT Mobile had entered into an exclusive agreement in the past for in-country roaming services up to December 31, 2014) reached agreement regarding the cancellation of the exclusivity clause.

16. In the reporting period, the management of HOT Mobile Ltd. (hereinafter—HOT Mobile), made a decision regarding the vacation of its offices at Airport City, in respect of which there is a long-term rental contract with Airport City, for the period up to and including 2019. As a result of this decision, HOT has recognized losses of EUR 7.1 million in the reporting period, which have been recorded under other expenses, reflecting the rental expenses, taxes and amortization of leasehold improvements, which in HOT Mobile's assessment are irrecoverable, and which meet the definition of an onerous contract.

17. Capitalized leasing rights on land from the Israel Lands Authority

Capitalized leasing rights on land from the Israel Lands Authority over an area of 20,713 square meters on which the Group's buildings are located. The amount that is attributed to the capitalized rights is presented as a prepaid expenses in respect of operating leases in the balance sheet and is amortized over the period of the leases. See also Note 2K. The lease periods end in the years 2021-2045.

C. Guarantees and liens

1. As collateral for HOT's commitments vis-à-vis the parent company under the credit agreement with it, the following charges have been placed

- a) A floating charge on HOT's assets.
- b) A fixed charge on the shares in the subsidiary companies.

- c) HOT Telecom has given a charge on some of its assets.

The said charges are in an unlimited amount, vis-à-vis HOT, the investee partnership—HOT Telecom and the subsidiary company—HOT Net, jointly and severally.

2. As collateral for the commitments of HOT, the investee partnership HOT Telecom and the subsidiary company HOT Net, first ranking floating charges have been placed in unlimited amounts in favor of the borrowers, on all of the assets and the rights belonging to debtors of companies in the Group and a fixed charge on the goodwill and the unpaid share capital of the Companies in the Group.

3. As collateral for HOT's commitments in respect of the royalties agreement, as set forth in section B(1) above, a second ranking floating charge has been placed in favor of the State.

4. As collateral for the Group's commitments, as determined in the Group's licenses and in the decisions by the Director and the Council, the Group has issued a number of guarantees, as follows:

a) Bank guarantees to the Ministry of Communications, in respect of the national operator license that was granted to HOT Telecom amounting to 8.4 million Dollars, in force until December 2017 and December 2025.

b) Guarantees in an amount of EUR 7.1 million (index-linked) to the Council in respect of the broadcasting license, which are in force until May 2015.

5. HOT has given a number of bank guarantees to various bodies in an overall amount of EUR 6.7 million.

6. Guarantees for HOT Telecom and HOT Mobile

a) The Group has extended guarantees in a cumulative amount of 22 million Dollars as collateral for payments by HOT Telecom to the Cisco company.

b) The Group has extended a guarantee in an amount of EUR 51.5 million (index-linked) as collateral for HOT Telecom's commitments vis-à-vis an interested party with which it has signed a rental agreement.

c) The Group has extended a guarantee in an amount of 36 million Dollars as collateral for HOT Mobile's commitments to Bank Crédit Agricole in connection with transactions with suppliers of equipment.

d) The Group has extended a guarantee in an amount of EUR 2.3 million as collateral for the commitments of HOT Telecom to various bodies.

7. On May 23, 2013, HOT signed on a credit agreement with Bank Discount Le'Israel Ltd., the First International Bank Le'Israel Ltd. and HSBC Bank PLC (hereinafter—the banks and the credit agreement, respectively).

The amounts of the credit are divided into a number of facilities: A working capital facility, which may be exploited by the drawing down of loans in an amount of up to EUR 41.9 million and a credit facility for guarantees in an amount of up to EUR 22 million.

The collateral that exists under the financing agreement that HOT signed with Altice Financing S.A., which is a related party of HOT, will serve as collateral, together with the creation of new, additional liens on HOT's holdings in subsidiary companies and partnerships, except for HOT Mobile. As of the balance sheet date, HOT has taken up a guarantee in an amount of EUR 17.6 million from these facilities, however it has not taken up credit for working capital from these facilities.

32—Contractual obligations and commercial commitments (Continued)32.2 Cabovisao commitments*32.2.1 Contingent assets

During the year ended December 31, 2013 and the analysis of the Decree-Law n^o 123/2009 of 21 May, Cabovisao made the decision not to pay any fees charged by municipalities, in addition to TMDP (Fees due for rights and charges related to the deployment of, passage within or crossing of systems, equipment and other resources of providers of publicly available electronic communications networks and services at a fixed location, of a public or private municipal domain). On December 31, 2013, Cabovisao had outstanding claims against several municipalities, totaling EUR 2.6 million. To present date, the Company received EUR 0.4 million from sixteen municipalities, and executed receivable plan of EUR 1.7 million for the next three years.

32.2.2 Contingent liabilities

a) Bank guarantees

	December 31, 2013
	In millions of euros
Tax Authority	9.6
City Council	0.9
Third Parties	0.1
Total	10.6

b) Commitments with third parties to add services to be provided in future years:

On December 31, 2013, the commitments with third parties to tangible assets and services to be provided in future years with an amount to approximately EUR 2.7 million Euros and EUR 65.7 million respectively.

c) Real guarantees:

During the year ended December 31, 2013, considering the refinancing and debt restructuring operations performed by Altice Group, headed by Altice VII S.à r.l., Cabovisao has signed a collateral agreement which involved the pledge of some Cabovisao's bank accounts, as well as a pledge on the Cabovisao's shares (representing 100% of Cabovisao's share capital and respective voting rights).

d) Other contingent liabilities:

As a result of the Cabovisao's decision to do not pay any taxes charged by municipalities (since September 2010), the municipality of Almada initiated a litigation process, regarding the municipality taxes charged for the period between 2006 and 2009, in the amount of EUR 595.000.. Until the present date, there are no subsequent deliberations. The Board of Managers understands that the final outcome will be favorable to Cabovisao, based on the legal counsels' opinion.

In addition, there are several legal proceedings, initiated by third parties, in particular claims by several suppliers, related to the supply of services and equipment, in the amount of approximately EUR 174.000. Until the present date, Cabovisao has not recognized any provision, since it is Board of Managers understanding that the final outcome will be favorable to the company, based on the legal counsels' opinion.

32.3 Coditel Holding commitments

As of December 31, 2013, off balance sheet commitments include:

The shares, bank accounts and receivables of Coditel Brabant S.p.r.l. and Coditel S.à r.l. have been pledged in the framework of the Coditel facility. Coditel Holding is not allowed to pledge these assets as security for other borrowings or to sell them to another entity.

32.4 Others

The shares, bank accounts and receivables of Altice VII and its following subsidiaries Altice Finco S.A., Altice Financing S.A., Altice Holdings S.à r.l., Altice West Europe S.à r.l., Altice Portugal S.A., Altice Carribean S. à r.l., Cool Holdings LTD S.A., H.Hadaros 2012 LTD., HOT Telecommunications System LTD, Cabovisao S.A., Altice Blue Two S.A.S. and its subsidiaries, Coditel Holding S.A., Winreason S.G.P.S and its subsidiaries have been pledged for the issued Senior Secured Notes and the Altice financing term loan. The Company is not allowed to pledge these assets as security for other borrowings or to sell them to another entity.

Altice financing has access to two super senior secured revolving credit facilities amounting to a total of USD 80 million and EUR 60 million respectively. In addition to these facilities, it also has access to a guarantee facility of EUR 75 million. As of December 31, 2013 the revolving credit facilities remain undrawn. EUR 8.4 million were drawn down on the guarantee facility, and recorded in the accounts of Cabovisao. All pledges applicable for the senior secured notes and the term loan are also applicable to these facilities.

33—Statutory Auditors' fees

In 2013, an amount of EUR 3.5 million was paid to various networks affiliates of the Group's auditors, split mainly between EUR 1.4 million for audit services, EUR 1.7 million for assurance services and EUR 0.4 million for non-audit services (tax and consultancy).

34—Going concern

During the financial year ended December 31, 2013, the company had a net current asset position of EUR 855.7 million (mainly due to current restricted cash of EUR 1,242.7 million), a net loss of EUR 208.3 million (down from a net loss of EUR 189.8 million in FY12), positive cash flow from operations of EUR 439.2 million and negative working capital of EUR 198.3 million. The positive cash flow from operations balance was mainly due to strong earnings growth and EBITDA generation. The net working capital of EUR 198.3 million is mainly driven by trade receivables and payables. The net loss recorded in FY13 was mainly driven by increased non-recurring expenses as compared to FY12 (+EUR 40.4 million) and increased financial expense, directly related to the issuance of new debt to finance acquisitions and buy back of minority stakes. The negative working capital position is structural and follows industry norms. Customers generally pay subscription revenues early or mid-month, with short DSOs (Days of Sales Outstanding) and suppliers are paid in the beginning of the following month, thus generating a negative working capital, as evidenced by the difference in the level of receivables and payables (EUR 194.0 million vs. EUR 392.3 million). Payables due the following month are covered by revenues and operating cash (if needed). As of December 31, 2013, the company had few short term loan payments (< 1y), and long term debt was refinanced in June 2013.

Despite the net current liability position, Management is of the view that the company will continue to act as a going concern for 12 months from the date of approval of these financial statements based on the following:

The Group has a strong track record of generating positive operating income before amortisation and depreciation and generated strong positive operating cash flows in 2013 (EUR 439.2 million). Operating income before D&A amounted to EUR 518.8 million, an increase of 28.7% compared to FY12, thus reaffirming management's ability to drive profits in the different operating companies.

The Group had healthy unrestricted cash reserves at the end of 2013 (EUR 61.3 million vs. EUR 129.7 million in 2012), which would allow it to cover any urgent cash needs. Additionally, the Group had access to a revolving credit facility (“RCF”) of up to USD 80.0 million and EUR 63.8 million (EUR 124 million equivalent), as well as access to a guarantee facility of up to EUR 75 million (of which EUR 8.4 million were drawn in FY2013 in order to unblock restricted cash at Cabovisao).

The Group had a negative net equity position of EUR 261.2 million as of December 31, 2013, resulting from accounting adjustments related to losses made on the acquisition of minority interests from non-controlling shareholders. It is management’s view that these acquisitions have a strategic founding and will allow the Group to better integrate, absorb and utilize the cash generated by the concerned entities.

In addition to the points enumerated above, the Group has implemented a new budgeting exercise, with monthly account reviews with CFOs of operating companies to track budget accuracy. This exercise is complemented by a mid-year reforecast based on real first semester numbers.

Management also tracks operational key performance indicators (KPIs) on a weekly basis, thus closely tracking top line trends very closely. This allows management and local CEOs to ensure proper alignment with budget targets and respond with speed and flexibility to counter any unexpected events and ensure that the budgeted targets are met.

In the view of the initial public offering of the newly formed company Altice S.A., the new direct controlling shareholder of Altice VII S.à r.l., it was decided to convert all existing subordinated debt instruments issued by Altice VII and subscribed by Next L.P., into share capital, before the contribution of Altice VII to Altice S.A. Thus, YPFECs and ALPECs issued by Altice VII were converted into equity at their nominal value, totalling EUR 133.3 million.

35—Events after the reporting period

Acquisition of the Mobius Group

On October 19, 2013, Altice Blue Two (a subsidiary of Altice VII) entered into an agreement pursuant to which Altice Blue Two will acquire the Mobius Group (the “Mobius Acquisition”). The Mobius Group is a telecommunications operator in the Overseas Territory of La Reunion, providing Internet access to professional clients under the “Mobius Technology” brand and double and triple play services based on xDSL technology to residential customers under the “IZI” brand. The consummation of the Mobius Acquisition is expected to occur on January 15, 2014. Pursuant to an investment agreement dated October 19, 2013, certain managers of the Mobius Group (the “Mobius Managers”) have agreed to reinvest a portion of the proceeds received from the Mobius Acquisition (approximately EUR 4.6 million) in Altice Blue Two. As a consequence of such reinvestment, the equity interest held by Altice Caribbean in Altice Blue Two would be reduced to approximately 77%. However, Altice Blue Two and the Mobius Managers are in advanced discussions to amend the existing investment agreement in order to provide that the Mobius Managers’ reinvestment will be made directly in Altice S.A., through the subscription by the Mobius Managers, at the Offer Price, of Ordinary Shares of Altice S.A..

The transaction was completed on January 15, 2014 and was financed via the super senior revolving credit facility that the company has access to. A total of EUR 20.5 million was drawn from the RCF to finance the acquisition.

Conversion of Altice VII subordinated debts

On January 31, 2014, Next L.P. converted all subordinated debt instruments held against Altice VII S.à r.l., before the planned initial public offering of Altice S.A., in exchange for common shares in the newly listed entity. All outstanding YPFECs and ALPECs issued by Altice VII were converted at their nominal value of EUR 133.2 million, which was directly attributed to the net equity of the company.

35—Events after the reporting period (Continued)

Initial public offering

On January 31, 2014, Altice S.A., a newly incorporated Luxembourg based entity and the new direct controlling shareholder of the Company, listed its shares in an initial public offering on Euronext Amsterdam.

Change in minority interests of Altice Blue Two

In January 2014, the Company entered into discussion with the management of Outremer Telecom (“OMT Managers”), holders of a 23% stake in Altice Blue Two, the holding company controlling Outremer Telecom, WSG and MTVC, to exchange their existing shares in Altice Blue Two S.A.S against shares in the newly floated mother company of Altice VII, Altice S.A.

As per the agreement, the OMT Managers will contribute all their shares held in Altice Blue Two and OMT Ocean 3 (an investment vehicle held by certain members of OMT’s senior management), for a base value of EUR 55.1 million and two separate earn out clauses that would become applicable only upon the achievement of certain operational and financial targets and the settlement of certain lawsuits.

The OMT managers will receive Altice S.A. common shares at the listing price at IPO (EUR 28.25), except in case of the second earn out, for which the determining price will be the share price at closing on the day on which any proceeds from the pending lawsuits are perceived by Altice Blue Two.

Acquisition of the Tricom Group

On March 12, 2014 the Group obtained control of Tricom S.A. and Global Interlink Ltd. (together, “Tricom”), a leading telecommunications operator in the Dominican Republic, providing (i) cable and xDSL-based multiple-play services and stand-alone pay television, broadband Internet and fixed-line telephony services and (ii) 3G and 4G mobile telephony services relying on its mobile network. This acquisition enables the Group to expand its footprint in the Carribean and more especially in the Dominican Republic. Control was obtained upon approval from Indotel, the Dominican Republic antitrust authority. As of the date of the transfer of the shares, the Group acquired 96% of the total equity in Tricom S.A. and 92% of the outstanding interests in Global Interlinks.

For the year ended December 31, 2013, Tricom would have contributed EUR 158.3 million to revenue and EUR 19.9 million to operating profit to the Group’s results, if it had been purchased on January 1, 2013 (these figures are based on unaudited US GAAP figures).

The following summarises certain of the major classes of consideration transferred and the provisionally determined amounts of identifiable assets and liabilities assumed at the acquisition date:

Total consideration paid to the vendors for the shares of Tricom amounted to €291.3 million, using the proceeds raised in December 2013.

The total value of assets transferred in consideration for the values mentioned above amounted to EUR 145.7 million, comprising mainly of intangible assets for a net value of EUR 21.0 million, property, plant and equipment for a total value of EUR 133.8 million and trade receivables for a total amount of EUR 16.5 million. Total liabilities amounted to €97.9 million, comprising of EUR 45.1 of non-current liabilities and EUR 52.8 million of current liabilities. The residual value of EUR 145.6 million was recognised provisionally as goodwill (these figures are based on unaudited US GAAP figures).

The values of the assets and liabilities assumed have been determined on a provisional basis until the Group finalizes its assessment of the fair valuation of the identifiable assets and liabilities assumed and shall complete this exercise within twelve months from the acquisition date.

Goodwill has been recognised as a result of the acquisition as follows:

Total consideration transferred	EUR291.3 million
Fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities	EUR(145.7) million
Goodwill	EUR145.6 million

Report on the consolidated financial statements

Following our appointment by the Board of Managers, we have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Altice VII S.à r.l., which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at December 31, 2012, and the consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Responsibility of the Board of Managers for the consolidated financial statements

The Board of Managers is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union, and for such internal control as the Board of Managers determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibility of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as adopted for Luxembourg by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the réviseur d'entreprises agréé's judgement including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the réviseur d'entreprises agréé considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Board of Managers, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of Altice VII S.à r.l. as of December 31, 2012, and of its consolidated financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

The consolidated management report, which is the responsibility of the Board of Managers, is consistent with the consolidated financial statements.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements
December 31, 2012

1—Notes to the consolidated financial statements

1.1 General description of the Group and its activities

Altice VII (the “Company”) is a private limited liability company (société à responsabilité limitée) incorporated under the laws of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg on December 15, 2008, and registered under the number B 143.725 in Luxembourg. The Group refers to the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company was initially established as a public limited company (société anonyme) and then converted to a private limited liability company on October 7, 2009.

The registered office of the Company is established at 3, boulevard Royal, L-2449 Luxembourg, and its sole equity holder is NEXT LP. The ultimate controlling party is considered to be Patrick Drahi.

The Group offers a variety of services over its cable and mobile infrastructure, including, but not limited to, pay television, broadband Internet access, fixed-line telephony and mobile telephony to residential customers, and, to a lesser extent, corporate customers, depending on the country. Available cable-based service offerings depend on the bandwidth capacity of its cable networks and whether they have been upgraded for two-way communications. Where possible, the Group intends to deploy the same technologies and equipments across its footprints to deploy economies of scale and common knowledge. In addition, the Group companies aim at sharing skills and best practices across the various operations of the Group.

Television service offerings include basic and premium programming, and, in most markets, incremental product and service offerings such as enhanced pay-per-view programming, including video-on-demand (“VoD”) and near-video-on-demand (“NVOD”), digital video recorders (“DVR”), high definition (“HD”) television services and, in certain areas, exclusive content, purchased or produced. The Group tailors its basic and premium channel line-up to each country of operation according to culture, demographics, programming preferences and local regulation. The Group also offers broadband Internet access services and fixed-line telephony in all of its broadband communications markets. It also owns and operates mobile infrastructures in certain geographies (Israel and the French Overseas Territories), and offers mobile services through an MVNO (Mobile virtual network operator) arrangement in Belgium.

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement

2.1 Basis of preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for the liability in respect of share based payment transaction, derivatives and financial instruments at fair value through profit and loss, available for sale financial assets. The principal accounting policies are set out below.

2.1.1 Compliance with accounting standards

The 2012 consolidated financial statements of Altice VII Group, therein “the Group”, have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union (IFRS).

2.1.2 Standards issued but not yet effective

In its financial statements, the Group has not anticipated the following standards and interpretations, for which application is not mandatory for periods opened from January 1, 2012. Their impact on the Group’s financial statements is estimated not to be significant and/or not applicable. This essentially relates to:

IFRIC 20 “Overdraft expenses”.

IFRS 1 amended “First application of IFRS” concerning serious hyperinflation and the abolition of dates set for the first adopters, published by the IASB on December 20, 2010 and adopted by the

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

European Union on December 29, 2012. Application of this standard is mandatory from January 1, 2013.

2.2 Significant accounting judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements

2.2.1 Judgments

In the process of applying the significant accounting policies, the Group has exercised its judgment and has taken into account matters which have the most significant impact on the amounts that have been recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

2.2.2 Estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires the Group to make estimates and assumptions that have an effect on the application of the accounting policies and on the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. These estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed regularly. Changes in accounting estimates are reported in the period in which the estimate changes.

2.2.3 Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the managers to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise.

The carrying amount of goodwill as at December 31, 2012 was EUR 790,9 million (December 31, 2011: EUR 911,9 million). Details of the impairments are set out in Note 2.8.

2.2.4 Legal claims

In estimating the likelihood of outcome of legal claims filed against the Group and its investees, the Group companies rely on the opinion of their legal counsel. These estimates are based on the legal counsel's best professional judgment, taking into account the stage of proceedings and historical legal precedents in respect of the different issues. Since the outcome of the claims will be determined in courts, the results could differ from these estimates.

2.2.5 Post-employment benefits

The liability in respect of post-employment defined benefit plans is determined using actuarial valuations. The actuarial valuation involves making assumptions about, among others, discount rates, expected rates of return on assets, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the long-term nature of these plans, such estimates are subject to uncertainty.

2.2.6 Deferred tax asset

Deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and carried forward tax losses as and when management estimates that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available to utilize those temporary differences and tax losses.

2.2.7 Discounting of YFPEC

The Group has loans with its equity holder which are currently non-interest bearing and therefore considered as not being at arm's length. In determining the present value, a discount rate of 4,76% has been used.

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

2.3 Basis of consolidation

2.3.1 Subsidiaries

All companies in which the Group has a controlling interest are fully consolidated. Control exists when the Group has the power, directly or indirectly, to govern the financial and operating policies of an enterprise so as to obtain benefits from its activities. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

All intra-group transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation. Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are identified separately from the Group's equity therein.

2.3.2 Associates

Investments, over which the Group exercises significant influence, but not control, are accounted for under the equity method. Such investees are referred to as "associates" throughout these consolidated financial statements.

Significant influence is presumed to exist when the Group holds at least 20% of the voting power in the associates. Associates are initially recognized at cost at acquisition date. The consolidated financial statements include the Group's share of income and expenses, from the date significant influence commences until the date that significant influence ceases.

2.3.3 Dates

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared as of the same date and for identical periods on an going concern basis. The accounting policies in the financial statements of the subsidiaries have been implemented in a uniform manner throughout the Group.

2.4 Functional currency

The Consolidated Financial Statements are presented in millions of euros. Euro is the functional currency of Altice VII, the parent company, and the presentation currency of the Group as well.

The functional currency, which is the currency that best reflects the economic environment in which the Group operates and conducts its transactions, is separately determined for each Group entity, including an associate accounted for using the equity method, and is used to measure its financial position and operating results.

2.5 Foreign currency translation

The functional currency of the Group is euro. In individual companies, transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated at year-end rates. Any resulting exchange differences are accounted for in the income statement. On consolidation, assets and liabilities of Group entities reported in their functional currencies are translated into euro, the Group's presentation currency, using the year-end exchange rates. Income and expense items are translated into euro at the annual weighted average exchange rate or at the rate of the date the transaction occurred for significant items.

Differences arising from the retranslation of opening net assets of Group entities, together with differences arising from the restatement of the net results for the year of Group entities, are recognized in other comprehensive income.

2.6 Goodwill and business combinations

Business combinations are accounted for in accordance with the purchase method. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the conditions for recognition under IFRS 3 "Business Combinations" are recognized at their fair value at acquisition date.

The Group recognizes goodwill as of the acquisition date and is measured as the excess of (a) over (b) as follows :

(a) The aggregate of:

The consideration transferred, which generally requires acquisition-date fair value;

The amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree;

In a business combination achieved in stages, the acquisition-date fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree;

(b) The net of the acquisition-date balances of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities measured in accordance with IFRS 3.

Any excess of the cost of acquisition over the Group's share in the fair value of all identified assets and liabilities is recognized as goodwill.

The goodwill is determined provisionally by the end of the period. The Group recognizes any adjustments to those provisional values within twelve months after the acquisition date.

During the measurement period, the acquirer shall recognize adjustments to the provisional amounts as if the accounting for the business combination had been completed at the acquisition date. Thus, the acquirer shall revise comparative information for prior periods presented in financial statements as needed, including making any change in depreciation, amortization or other income effects recognized in completing the initial accounting.

If the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed exceeds the purchase price, a gain is recognized immediately.

Subsequently, goodwill is measured at its initial amount less recorded accumulated impairment losses. Impairment loss for goodwill is recorded in the income statement as a deduction from operating profit (account "Depreciation and amortization") and shall not be reversed subsequently.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognized directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Group.

2.7 Other intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost on initial recognition, with the addition of direct acquisition costs. Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are measured at fair value as of the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and less any accumulated impairment losses. In our Israeli entity, the costs of producing in-house content is also considered to be an intangible assets and recognized at the cost of production of the shows. . Following initial recognition, these intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and less any accumulated impairment losses.

According to management, intangible assets have either definite or indefinite useful lives.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

Assets with definite useful lives are amortized over their useful lives and assessed for impairment signs which would indicate impairment in value. The amortization period and the amortization method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least once a year. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits that are expected to derive from the asset are treated as a change in an accounting estimate which is treated prospectively. The amortization expenses regarding intangible assets with finite useful lives are recognized in the income statement.

The useful lives of the intangible assets are as follows:

	Duration
Software	3 years
Customer relations	7 to 37 years
Licences	5 years
Customer relations with a defined contractual term	3 years
Content costs	3 years
Subscriber purchase costs	based on average duration of subscriptions

Assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually as well as there is an indication that it may be impaired by comparing their carrying amount with their recoverable amount.

2.8 Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

Each time events or changes in the economic environment indicate a current risk of impairment of goodwill, other intangible assets, property, plant and equipment and assets in progress, the Group re-examines the value of these assets. In addition, goodwill, other intangible assets with an indefinite useful life, and intangible assets in progress are all subject to an impairment test performed each fiscal year.

This test is performed in order to compare the recoverable amount of an asset to its carrying amount.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. In that case, recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. A Cash Generating Unit ("CGU") is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets.

The value in use of each asset or group of assets is determined as the discounted value of future cash flows (discounted cash flow method or "DCF") by using a discount rate after tax specific to each asset or group of assets concerned.

The fair value less costs to sell is the amount obtained from the sale of the asset or group of assets in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable and willing parties, less costs to sell.

When the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized in the caption "Depreciation and amortization" in the income statement. Only impairment loss recognized on assets other than goodwill such as depreciable intangible assets, intangible assets with indefinite useful life and property, plant and equipment, may be reversed.

2.9 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are presented at cost with the addition of direct purchase costs and less accumulated depreciation and accumulated losses on impairment and they do not include routine maintenance expenses. The cost includes spare parts and ancillary equipment that can only be used in connection with the plant and machinery.

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

Depreciation is calculated using the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows:

	Duration
Buildings	25 to 50 years
Cables Network	4 to 20 years
Call center (primarily electronic equipment)	5 to 9 years
Converters and modems	7 years
Computers and ancillary equipment	3 to 6 years
Office furniture and equipment	6 to 16 years
Communication network infrastructure	6 to 16 years
Leasehold contracts	see below

Leasehold contracts are depreciated according to the straight line method during the rental period (including the option period for an extension by the Group, which it intends to exercise) or the estimated useful lifetime of the improvement.

Elements of a fixed asset item, having a cost that is significant in comparison to the overall cost of the item, are depreciated separately, using the components method. The depreciation is calculated in accordance with the straight line method at annual rates that are considered to be sufficient in order to depreciate the assets over the length of their estimated useful lives.

The useful life, depreciation method and residual value of an asset are reviewed at least each annually and any changes are accounted for prospectively as a change in accounting estimate.

2.10 Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

2.10.1 The Group as lessor

Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recognized as receivables at the amount of the Group's net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated in an accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the Group's net investment outstanding in respect of the leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Rental income from the leasing of customer premises equipment (set up boxes, modems and decoders) is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the subscription held by the client. At the end of the contract or in case of voluntary contract termination by the client, this equipment is repossessed and thus remains in the inventory of the Group.

2.10.2 The Group as lessee

Assets held under finance leases are initially recognized as assets of the Group at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the consolidated statement of financial position as a finance lease obligation.

Lease payments are apportioned between finance expenses and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in profit or loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Group's general policy on borrowing costs (see note 2.12 below). Contingent rentals are recognized as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.

Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

In the event that lease incentives are received to enter into operating leases, such incentives are recognized as a liability. The aggregate benefit of incentives is recognized as a reduction of rental expense on a straight-line basis, except where another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

2.11 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. According to management, it does not take a substantial period of time to get ready for the intended use because of the incremental deployment of the network. This standard has consequently no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

2.12 Government grants

Government grants are not recognized until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognized in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognizes as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognized as deferred revenue in the consolidated statement of financial position and transferred to income statement on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

The benefit of a government loan at a below-market rate of interest is treated as a government grant, measured as the difference between proceeds received and the fair value of the loan based on prevailing market interest rates.

2.13 Financial assets

The Group classifies financial assets in four categories: available-for-sale, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity and financial assets at fair value through profit and loss. They are classified as current assets and non-current assets according to IAS 1 ("Presentation of Financial Statements").

Purchases and sales of all financial assets are recognized on a trade date basis.

2.13.1 Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset. After initial recognition, they are reported at their fair value. Gains and losses arising from changes in their fair value are recognized directly in equity, until the security is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in equity is included in the profit or loss for the period.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

Available-for-sale financial assets consist mainly of shares in non-consolidated companies. Fair value corresponds to quote price for listed securities. For non-listed securities, and when a reliable estimate of fair value cannot be made using valuation techniques, the Group values financial assets at historical cost, less any impairment losses.

When there is objective evidence that available-for-sale assets are impaired, the cumulative impairment loss included in equity is reclassified from other comprehensive income to income. Objective evidence that an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired includes, among other things, a decrease in the estimated future cash flows arising from these assets, as a result of significant financial difficulty of the issuer, a material decrease in expected future profitability or a prolonged decrease in the fair value of the security. Impairment losses recognized in profit or loss for equity instruments classified as available-for-sale are never reversed through profit or loss.

2.13.2 Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition. After initial recognition, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

This category mainly includes trade receivables.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has occurred, the amount of this loss, measured as the difference between the financial assets' carrying value and its recoverable amount is recognized in the income statement. Impairment losses may be reversed if the recoverable amount of the asset subsequently increases in the future.

2.13.3 Held-to-maturity financial assets

Held-to-maturity financial assets are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that the Group has both the intention and ability to hold to maturity. Financial assets that are designated as held-to-maturity are measured at amortized cost, in accordance with the effective interest rate method.

They are reviewed for impairment on an individual basis if there is any indication that they may be impaired.

The Group currently does not hold any held to maturity financial assets.

2.13.4 Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss

These financial assets are measured at fair value with gains and losses recorded as finance income and costs.

This category mainly includes:

Assets held for trading which the Group intends to sell in the near future (primarily marketable securities);

Assets voluntarily classified at inception in this category;

Derivatives financial assets.

2.14 Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost of inventories comprises costs of purchase and costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated selling costs.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

Cost of inventories is determined using the weighted average cost method.

The Group periodically evaluates the condition and age of inventories and makes provisions for slow moving inventories accordingly.

2.15 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash consists of cash in banks and deposits.

Cash equivalents are considered as highly liquid investments, including unrestricted short-term bank deposits with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition or with a maturity of more than three months, but which are redeemable on demand without penalty and which form part of the Group's cash management.

2.16 Restricted cash

Restricted cash is considered to be cash that is dedicated to the repayment of the Group's liabilities to banking entities in accordance with the Group's credit agreement.

2.17 Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently reassessed at their fair value.

The Group enters into interest rate swaps and caps to manage its interest or foreign currency exchange rate exposure. These contracts do not qualify as hedges for accounting purposes according to IAS 39, as there was no formal designation and documentation of the hedging relationship at inception. Changes in the fair value of any of these derivative instruments are recognized immediately in the income statement within financial income and expenses.

2.18 Share based payment arrangements

The Group's employees are entitled to remuneration in the form of equity-settled share-based payment transactions and certain employees are entitled to remuneration in the form of cash-settled share-based payment transactions that are measured based on the increase in the Group's share price. These stock options based remunerations mainly concerned the Israeli entity, HOT Telecom and these plans were terminated post the take private of the company in December 2012 and the delisting of all active shares of HOT Telecom in the Tel Aviv stock exchange.

2.19 Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities other than derivative instruments include:

2.19.1 Financial liabilities at amortized cost

These financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost calculated based on the effective interest rate method according to IAS 39. The effective interest rate is the internal yield rate that exactly discounts future cash flows through the term of the financial liability. Fees, debt issuance and transaction costs are included in the calculation of the effective interest rate over the expected life of the instrument. The accrued interests are included in "Current portion of financial liabilities" in the statement of financial position.

2.19.2 Financial liabilities that are measured at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities classified as held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are acquired for the purpose of sale in the near term. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognized in profit or loss.

Derivatives, including bifurcated embedded derivatives, are classified as held for trading unless they are designated as effective hedging instruments. In the event of a financial instrument that contains one or more embedded derivatives, the entire combined instrument may be designated as a financial liability at fair value through profit or loss only upon initial recognition.

The Group assesses whether embedded derivatives are required to be bifurcated from host contracts when the Group first becomes party to the contract. Reassessment only occurs if there is a change in the terms of the contract that significantly modifies the cash flows that would otherwise be required.

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in an active market is determined by reference to quoted market prices at the close of business on the balance sheet date. For financial instruments for which there is no active market, fair value is determined by the use of valuation techniques. Such techniques include evaluation based on transactions that have been executed recently under market terms, reference to the current market value of another instrument, which is substantially the same, discounted cash flow analysis or other valuation models.

2.19.3 Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a Group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

2.19.4 Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by a group entity are recognized at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognized and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

The Company also issued some CPECs (Convertible Preferred Equity Certificates).

2.20 Other liabilities

2.20.1 Provisions

A provision in accordance with IAS 37 is recognized in the statement of financial position when the Group has a present obligation (legal or implicit) as the result of a past event and it is expected that the use of economic resources will be required in order to settle the obligation and it is possible to reliably estimate it. Where the impact is significant, the provision is measured by discounting the forecasted future cash flows, using a pre-tax interest rate that reflects the expectations of the market in respect of the time frame of the money and in certain cases, the risks that are specific to the liability.

The following types of provisions are recorded in the consolidated financial statements:

2.20.1.1 Legal claims

A provision regarding legal claims is recognized when the Group has a present legal commitment or an implicit commitment resulting from a past event; when it is more likely than not that the Group will be required to expend economic resources to clear the commitment, when it is possible to estimate it reliably and when the effect of time is significant, the provision is measured according to the present value.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2.20.1.2 Warranty

The Group recognizes a provision for warranty for the sale of its products. The warranty is limited to malfunctions as defined by the Group and does not include warranty for damages incurred by the customer.

2.20.1.3 Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognized and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Group has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

2.20.1.4 Restructuring

A restructuring provision is recognized when the Group has developed a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and has raised a valid expectation in those affected that it will carry out the restructuring by starting to implement the plan or announcing its main features to those affected by it. The measurement of a restructuring provision includes only the direct expenditures arising from the restructuring, which are those amounts that are both necessarily entailed by the restructuring and not associated with the ongoing activities of the entity.

2.20.2 Liabilities for employment benefits

In accordance with the laws and practices of each country in which it operates, the Group participates in, or maintains, several employee benefits. These are as follows:

2.20.2.1 Short-term benefits for employees

Short-term benefits for employees include salaries, vacation pay, sick leave, recuperation pay and employers' deposits for national insurance and are recognized as an expense when the services are provided. A liability in respect of a cash bonus or a profits participation scheme is recognized where the Group has a legal or an implicit commitment to pay the said amount in respect of service that has been provided by the employee in the past and where the amount can be reliably estimated.

2.20.2.2 Post-retirement benefits

In Israel, the Group operates a defined benefits plan in respect of the payment of severance pay in accordance with the Israeli Severance Pay Law. According to this Law, employees are entitled to receive severance pay if they are dismissed or on their retirement. The liability in respect of the termination of employee-employer relations is measured in accordance with the actuarial value of a forecast unit of entitlement method. The actuarial calculation takes into account increases in salaries in the future and the rate at which employees leave the Group and this on the basis of an estimate of the timing of the payment. The amounts are presented on the basis of the discounting of the forecast future cash flows, in accordance with government bonds' interest rates, whose repayment dates are close to the period relating to the liability in respect of severance pay.

The Group deposits funds in respect of its severance pay liability, in a routine manner, in pension funds and insurance companies (hereafter—the plan assets). The plan assets are assets that are held by the employee benefits plan for the long-term or in qualifying insurance policies. The plan assets are not available for use by the Group's creditors, and cannot be paid directly to the Group.

The liability regarding employee benefits presented in the statement of financial position represents the present value of the defined benefits obligation less the fair value of the plan assets, and the past service costs. Actuarial gains and losses are reflected in the income statement in the period in which they arise, as part of the salary costs.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

The Group has defined contribution plans pursuant to the Severance Pay Law under which the Group pays fixed contributions and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient amounts to pay all employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods. Contributions to the defined contribution plan in respect of severance or retirement pay are recognized as an expense when contributed simultaneously with receiving the employee's services and no additional provision is required in the financial statements.

2.20.2.3 Other long-term employee benefits

The Group's employees are entitled to benefits and other long-service grants. These benefits are accounted for as other long-term benefits since the Group estimates that these benefits will be used and the respective Group's obligation will be settled during the employment period and after one year from the end of the reporting period.

The Group's net obligation regarding other long-term employee benefits is in respect of the future benefit amount due to employees for services rendered in current and prior periods. This amount of benefits is discounted to its present value and the fair value of the assets relating to this obligation is deducted from said amount. The discount rate is determined by reference to the yields on Government bonds whose currency and term are consistent with the currency and term of the Group's obligation. The obligation is calculated using the projected unit credit method. The projected unit credit method sees each period of service as giving rise to an additional unit of benefits and entitlements and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they occur.

2.20.2.4 Benefits in respect of the termination of employment

Severance pay for employees is reflected as an expense when the Group has made an undertaking, with no real possibility of cancellation, for the dismissal of employees before they reach the customary retirement age in accordance with a detailed formal plan. The benefits that are given to the employees who take voluntary retirement when the Group has offered the employees a plan that encourages voluntary retirement, it is expected that the offer will be accepted and the number of persons accepting the offer can be reliably estimated.

2.21 Income taxes

Taxes on income in the income statement include current taxes and deferred taxes. The tax expenses or income in respect of current taxes or deferred taxes are recognized in profit or loss unless they relate to items that are recorded directly in equity, in these cases the tax effect is reflected under the other comprehensive income items.

2.21.1 Current taxes

The current tax liability is measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of reporting period as well as adjustments required in connection with the tax liability in respect of previous years.

2.21.2 Deferred taxes

Differences existing at closing between the tax base value of assets and liabilities and their carrying value in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position give rise to temporary differences. Pursuant to the liability method, these temporary differences result in the accounting of:

Deferred tax assets, when the tax base value is greater than the carrying value (expected future tax saving),

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.
December 31, 2012

2—Principles governing the preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statement (Continued)

Deferred tax liabilities, when the tax base value is lower than the carrying value (expected future tax expense).

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the expected tax rates for the year during which the asset will be realized or the liability settled, based on tax rates (and tax regulations) enacted or substantially enacted by the closing date. They are reviewed at the end of each year, in line with any changes in applicable tax rates.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, tax loss carry-forwards and unused tax credits, insofar as it is probable that a taxable profit will be available, or when a current tax liability exists to make use of those deductible temporary differences, tax loss carry-forwards and unused tax credits, except where the deferred tax asset associated with the deductible temporary difference is generated by initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction which is not a business combination, and that, at the transaction date, does not impact earnings, nor income tax loss or profit.

For deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and other associated entities, deferred tax assets are recorded to the extent that it is probable that the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and that a taxable profit will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized.

The carrying value of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each closing date, and revalued or reduced to the extent that it is more or less probable that a taxable profit will be available to allow the deferred tax asset to be utilized. When assessing the probability of a taxable profit being available, account is taken, primarily, of prior years' results, forecasted future results, non-recurring items unlikely to occur in the future and the tax strategy. As such, the assessment of the Group's ability to utilize tax losses carried forward is to a large extent judgment-based. If the future taxable results of the Group proved to differ significantly from those expected, the Group would be required to increase or decrease the carrying value of deferred tax assets with a potentially material impact on the Statement of Financial Position and Income Statement of the Group.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences, except where the deferred tax liability results from goodwill or initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction which is not a business combination, and that, at the transaction date, does not impact earnings, nor income tax loss or profit.

For taxable temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and other associated entities, deferred tax liabilities are recorded except to the extent that both of the following conditions are satisfied: the parent, investor or venturer is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not be reversed in the foreseeable future.

Current tax and deferred tax shall be charged or credited directly to other comprehensive income, and not earnings, if the tax relates to items that are credited or charged directly to other comprehensive income.

2.22 Revenue recognition

Revenue from the Group's activities is mainly composed of television, broadband Internet, fixed and mobile telephony subscription and installations fees invoiced to residential and business clients.

Revenue comprises the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for the sale of goods and services in the ordinary course of the Group's activities. Revenue is shown net of value-added tax, returns, rebates and discounts and after eliminating intercompany sales within the Group.

Revenues on bundle packages sold by the Group are split into and recognized under each individual service sold in the bundle. For example, tripe play package revenues are booked under 'triple play television', 'triple play data' and 'triple play telephony' on a straight-line basis over their subscription period and revenues from telephone calls are recognized in revenue when the service is rendered.

Revenue is recognized as follows, in accordance with IAS 18 Revenue:

Revenues from subscriptions for basic cable services, digital television pay, Internet and telephony are recognized in revenue on a straight-line basis over the subscription period; revenues from telephone calls are recognized in revenue when the service is rendered.

When a promotion not related to a customer's past consumption and purchases (such as subscription's rate discount, service free period) is offered to customer in relation to a subscription, the Group recognizes the total amount of billable revenue on a straight-line basis over the term of the contract.

Installation and set-up fees (including connection) for residential customers are accounted for as revenues when the service is rendered, if consideration received is lower than the sales direct costs to acquire the contractual relationship. Service access fees for business clients, when they are only allowed access to the services that are sold associated to an equipment or a service, are deferred and the corresponding revenue is recognized along the statistical client lifetime duration and generally spread over the contractual engagement period.

The revenue related to transmission capacity on terrestrial cables under indefeasible rights of use: Indefeasible Rights of Use ("IRU") arrangements are recognized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contract.

2.23 Operating profit before depreciation and amortization

The Group has included the subtotal "Operating profit before depreciation and amortization" on the face of the consolidated statement of income (please refer to the Consolidated Statement of Income). The Group believes that this subtotal is useful to users of the Group's financial statements as it provides them with a measure of the operating results which excludes non-cash elements such as depreciation and amortization as well as non-recurring transactions and management fees, enhancing the predictive value of the Group's financial statements and providing information regarding the results of the Group's ongoing trading activities and cash-flow generation that allows investors to better identify trends in the Group's financial performance.

This non-IFRS measure is used by the Group internally to manage and assess the results of its operations, make decisions with respect to investments and allocation of resources, and assess the performance of management personnel.

The Group's subtotal within operating income may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other entities. Further, this measure should not be considered as an alternative for operating income as the effects of depreciation, amortization and impairment, excluded from this measure do ultimately affect the operating results. Similarly, the Group's subtotal do not take into account impact of management fees paid to related parties, in order to better reflect economic underlying of the business operated.

2.24 Finance costs

Finance costs primarily comprise:

interest charges and other expenses paid for financing operations recognized at amortized costs,

changes in the fair value of interest rate derivative instruments that do not qualify as hedges for accounting purposes according to "IAS 39", interest income relating to cash and cash equivalents, gains on extinguishment of debt.

3.2 Modification of the scope of consolidation

3.2.1 Main acquisitions in 2012

Altice Portugal S.A. acquired 100% of Cabovisao as at February 29, 2012, from Cogeco Cable Luxembourg Holding S.A.. The consideration amounted to EUR 45 million, of which 40% was subsequently sold to APAX in April 2013.

Goodwill allocation has been completed based on the accounts as at February 28, 2012.

While carrying out the purchase price allocation, the following identifiable assets have been identified:

Brands

The Cabovisao brand has been valued through the royalty relief method over an indefinite useful life and based upon following key parameters:

Discount rate amounts to 7%;

Royalty rate used amounts to 3%, consistent with the rates used for Coditel, Numericable and Everido;

Clients.

The portfolio of clients has been valued through the excess earnings approach, and basing upon following the key parameters:

Ebit margin rate: 21,59%;

Attrition rate: 20,81%;

Discount rate: 7%;

Acquired clients' growth rate: 0%.

3.2.2 Main companies' formation in 2012

The following companies were created during the period: Altice Caribbean S.à r.l., Altice Finco S.A., Altice Financing S.A. and Altice Portugal S.A.

3.3 Acquisitions of businesses

Business combinations that occurred during the reporting period are described in note 3.2.

Management monitors its different businesses by geography. The businesses are split into different geographies as mentioned below:

Israel

Belgium and Luxembourg

French overseas Territories

Switzerland

Others

In addition to this geographical split, for the purpose of the testing for impairment of goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite useful life, the goodwill, brand name and customer relationships have been allocated to the local businesses that represent cash-generating units (CGU) as follows:

WSG

Valvision

Everido

Coditel Brabant

Coditel S.à r.l.

Hot Telecom

Goodwill is tested at the cash-generating units (“CGU”) level for impairment annually, as of December 31, or whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. In all cases, the CGU represents the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes. The recoverable amounts of the CGUs are determined based on their value in use. The key assumptions for the value in use calculations are primarily the discount rates, growth rates, expected changes to telecom prices and direct costs during the period.

The value in use of each CGU was determined by estimating cash flows for a period of five years for the operating activities. Cash flow forecasts are derived from the most recent business plans approved by the Board of Managers. Beyond the specifically forecasted period of five years, the Company extrapolates cash flows for the remaining years based on an estimated constant growth rate between 1,5-2%. This rate does not exceed the average long-term growth rate for the relevant markets. Discount rates have been computed using WACC approach and range from 7% to 7,5%, except in Israel where it ranges from 10-11%.The Board of Managers estimates discount rates using pre-tax rates that reflect current market rates for investments of similar risk. The rate for each CGU was estimated from the weighted average cost of capital.

The Board of Managers has determined the value in use of each cash generating unit, with the assistance of an external appraiser, and as a result of this valuation the Group concluded that the recoverable amount of the Israeli in-country fixed line is lower than its carrying amount and accordingly recorded in the reporting period an impairment of approximately EUR 121,9 million which was recorded as part of section “depreciation and amortization”.

(1) Customer relations have been valued on the basis of the fair value of the existing customers. The amortization expenses are in accordance with the benefits expected for each customers in each period.

(2) Subscriber purchase costs were recognized in respect of the costs of acquisition of subscribers (including additional sales commissions). The amortization expenses are linked to the length of the average commitment of the subscribers.

The majority of the intangible assets movements for the year ended December 31, 2012 are related to the Cabovisao business combination (see Note 3.3).

(1) Cable network: the Group owns, directly and indirectly through its subsidiaries, cable or fibre network which allow it to supply cable-based pay television, broadband internet and fixed-line telephony services to its subscribers.

(2) Call center represents centralized offices used for the purpose of receiving or transmitting a large volume of administrative, technical or commercial requests by telephone.

(3) Office furniture and equipment refers to furnishings and IT equipment.

(4) The Communication network infrastructure includes the digital technologies for the transmission of multi-channel television services.

Most of the tangible assets increases as of December 31, 2012 is related to the Cabovisao business combination (see Note 3.3).

The additions in capital expenditures come mainly from Hot Telecom activity:

- Modems and converters related capital expenditures represented EUR 69,4 million for the year ended December 31, 2012, as compared to EUR 29,3 million for the year ended December 31, 2011. The increase in converters and modems related capital expenditures resulted from capital expenditure incurred during the first two quarters of 2012 relating to our new set top boxes (HOT Magic HD) for which delivery was delayed and which we had expected to incur during the second quarter of 2011 and did not received until the last quarter of 2011.
- Cable network related (including centers) capital expenditures represented EUR 84 million for the year ended December 31, 2012, as compared to EUR 51.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2011. The increase in our total cable network related (including centers) capital expenditure was as a result of the expenditure incurred to complete the upgrade to 100Mb capacity throughout our cable network and fiber roll out in certain areas in 2012.

(1) Investment in available for sale financial asset:

A subsidiary company, operating through Hot Net Internet Services Ltd. (formerly Hot Properties) and Finance Ltd. (hereinafter—Hot Net) holds 1 454 663 regular shares in Partner Communications Ltd. (hereinafter—Partner), constituting approximately 0,9% of Partner’s share capital which is engaged in the provision of mobile communications services and whose shares are traded on stock exchanges in the United States of America, in the United Kingdom and in Israel.

Partner’s shares are subject to Israeli restrictions in accordance with the Radio Mobile Telephone license that was granted to Partner, in accordance with which the shares can only be sold to an Israeli buyer, as defined in the said license.

The subsidiary companies present the investment in Partner as an investment in an available for sale financial asset, which is measured at fair value.

(2) Restricted cash (see Note 2.18).

As of December 31, 2012 the cash is restricted for the purpose of collateralizing HOT’s liabilities to banking entities. The restricted cash has been deposited in financial institutions and as of the statement of financial position date it bears interest based on the interest rate on daily bank deposits.

(3) On July 3, 2012, Altice Africa S.à r.l., as investor, entered into a convertible note purchase agreement with Wananchi Group (Holdings), Ltd (hereafter “WGH”) for a principal amount of up to EUR 16 million. The promissory notes ((hereafter “the notes”) plus any interest accrued shall be converted and capitalized into fully paid ordinary shares of WGH before the maturity date on December 31, 2012. In December 2012, it was decided to extend the maturities of the promissory notes till January 31, 2013. Hence the notes were treated as a loan to a related party and accrued interest (15% per annum, retroactive to the date of issue) was recognized on these notes in the accounts.

The Group provides services on credit for an average of 16 days, 24 days and 96 days in average to its customers in the cable television field, the in-country fixed line communications field and the mobile communication field, respectively. The Group routinely evaluates the credit that is provided to its customers, while checking their financial situations; however it does not demand collateral for those debts. The Group records a provision for doubtful debts, based on the factors that affect the credit risks of certain customers, past experience and other information.

The increase in other receivables in the year ended December 31, 2012 is mainly explained by an increase in bank guarantees provided by HOT Mobile to the national regulator in Israel, for a total amount of EUR 14 million (NIS 69 million), related to the expansion of its mobile network.

The details of the different classes of shares are provided in the table below. The Group has defined three share classes; Shares designated with the letters A through H are referred to as specific shares. Shares designated 1A through 1H are referred to as class 1 shares and when grouped together with their corresponding letters (i.e. Class A shares with class 1A shares), form a share category referred to as the specific share class ('classe spécifique'). In addition to this class, the other two classes of shares are: Ordinary shares ('part sociale ordinaire') and Class M shares ('classe M') shares. All these shares put together make up the total shares of the Group.

Each specific share class is linked to the investment in the assets of companies acquired by the Group and hence intrinsically linked to the financial performance of these entities (tracking shares). Each specific class allows its holder to obtain a share of the net profit of the Group in a proportion determined by the Board of Managers.

In addition to the profit sharing defined above, the economic benefit arising from investment in any of the specific share classes is determined as follows:

At the end of the financial year, the Group reports a net income from its activities and based on this net income could attribute it to the different specific classes, as if the investment to which they are related were the only asset held by the Group. Any profits arising from this distribution could be credited to a specific account. Thus, a separate account must be maintained for each specific share class.

Dividends may be issued from these accounts only to the holders of the shares linked to each account.

Holders of ordinary and class M shares are eligible to receive a share of profits, if any such profits remain after distribution to the holders of the specific share classes. None of the class of shares are subordinated to each other.

Each share class allows the holder one right to vote in general assembly meetings, provided that there is one single representative holder of the share class. If shares in a class are held by more than one person, the voting right is suspended till the holder designates a single legal representative.

Different classes of shares are summarized below:

In 2012, the extraordinary general meeting of the equity holders decided to conduct three capital increases for a total amount of EUR 0,01 million through the issuance of 742 868 class H units and 7 132 class 1H units.

13—Earnings per share (EPS)

Non diluted EPS for 2012 has been computed dividing 2012's net income by weighted average number of shares as of December 31, 2012.

Diluted EPS for 2012 has been computed based on the assumption that the CPECs (Convertible Preferred Equity Certificates) would be converted at a 1 to 1 ratio.

	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011
Net income (in millions of euros)	(189,80)	123,90

Diluted weighted average number of shares	967 944 738	967 944 738
Diluted earnings per share	(0,20)	0,13

In June 2013, all the different classes of tracking shares were merged into one single class of ordinary shares. No dividends were paid to any of the equity holders during any period since the inception of the Group. The Board of Managers has determined that the disclosure of EPS metrics for each class of share in issuance during 2011 and 2012 is not qualitatively relevant to the users of the financial statements and has hence elected to disclose EPS on the basis of the merged single class of ordinary shares.

According to the Luxembourg legal provisions, 5% of net profits must be obligatorily credited to a legal reserve account. The obligation to make this contribution ends when the legal reserves equal 10% or more of the share capital of the Group. An allocation to the legal reserve has been performed for the year ended December 31, 2012 for an amount of EUR 277 thousands and is not distributable to the equity holders of the Company.

CPEC, which maturity comprises between 2058 and 2061, increases from EUR 219 million in 2011 to EUR 219,1 million in 2012, due to subscriptions of EUR 0,1 million. In substance, CPECs subordinated financial instruments (about EUR 219,1 million as at the end of 2011) are equity instruments as:

CPECs give issuer the opportunity to avoid delivering cash.

CPECs do not bear interests.

The YFPECs have been valued using a discount rate of 4,76% given its preferred interest rate which therefore values the liabilities at EUR 4,4 million as at December 31, 2012.

The change in impact from changes in ownership structure are explained by the buyout of minority interests in HOT in December 2012, following the take private of HOT (see note 27).

Information on the parameters used to calculate the employee benefits is presented in note 16.

Exchange rate differences relating to the translation of the results and net assets of the Group's foreign operations from their functional currencies to the Group's presentation currency are recognized directly in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve.

Exchange differences previously accumulated in the foreign currency translation reserve (in respect of translating both the net assets of foreign operations and hedges of foreign operations) are reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the foreign operation.

(1) Provisions for litigations and other risks decreased in FY12 compared to the previous period, mainly driven by a re-evaluation of the risk of pay-out on the various royalty and retransmission fees related lawsuits faced by HOT Telecom in Israel. The reversals on the three major litigations, namely TALI, AKUM and AGICOA, amounted to EUR 3, 13,5 and 3,5 million respectively. The total reversal on provision for litigation was EUR 20 million.

In 2012, HOT Telecom also recorded an additional provision of EUR 1,9 million to cover a contested withholding tax ruling.

(2) No major movements were recorded on provisions for risks in the French Caribbean entities. The increase in provisions for risk in FY12 was mainly attributed to the acquisition of Cabovisao in February 2012. Cabovisao had a provision of EUR 5 million on its statement of financial position to account for potential fines and penalties to be paid resulting from negative outcome on various tax rulings sought by Cabovisao.

(a) Defined Benefit Plans

The portion of the severance pay payments that is not covered by deposits, is treated by the Group as a defined benefit plan in accordance with which a liability is recorded in respect of employee benefits, and the Group deposits amounts in central severance pay funds and in appropriate insurance policies in respect of it.

The Group has defined contribution plans, in accordance with section 14 of the Israeli Severance Pay Law, in accordance with which the Group makes regular payments without it having a legal or implicit commitment to pay additional payments even if sufficient funds have not accumulated in the funds to pay all of the benefits to an employee that relate to the employee's employment in the current period and in previous periods.

Deposits in a defined contribution plan in respect of severance pay or in respect of emoluments are recognized as expense at the time of the deposit in the plan, in parallel to the receipt of the labor services from the employee and no additional provision is required in the financial statements.

17.1 Financial liabilities description

During the year ended December 31, 2012, bonds include the debentures in Hot Telecom:

The Series A' debentures—EUR 167 million (NIS 825 million par value), linked to the Consumer Prices Index for the month of February, 2011, that bear interest at a rate of 3,9% a year. Series A' debentures are repayable in 13 semi-annual payments commencing on September 30, 2012 and up to September 30, 2018.

The Series B' debentures—EUR 137 million (NIS 675 million par value) that bear interest at a fixed rate of 6,9% a year. Series B' debentures are repayable in 13 semi-annual payments commencing on September 30, 2012 and up to September 30, 2018.

Bonds also include Senior and Senior secured Notes in Altice Finco S.A. and Altice Financing S.A.:

The Senior Notes in U.S. dollar, issued by Altice Finco S.A and with a face value of $425,0 million (EUR 322,0 million) mature on December 15, 2020 and bear coupons of 9,875% annually.

The Senior Secured Notes in U.S. dollars, issued by Altice Financing S.A. and with a face value of $460 (EUR 348,5 million) mature on December 15, 2019 and bear coupons of 7,875% annually.

The Senior Secured Notes in Euro, issued by Altice Financing S.A and with a face value of EUR 210 million mature on December 15, 2019 and bear coupons of 8% annually.

The Senior and Senior Secured Notes are listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and traded on the Euro MTF Market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. The interest payment of the bonds is semi-annually on June 15 and on December 15 of each year and the first payment of the interest will be on June 15, 2013.

17.1.1 Hot Telecom

The unsecured debentures issued on the Tel Aviv stock exchange by the Group's subsidiary Hot Telecom include financial covenants measured on Hot Telecom performance, which mainly include:

a debt to EBITDA ratio, which is not to exceed 6 for a period that exceeds two consecutive quarters;

no distribution of a dividend when Hot Telecom exceeds a debt to EBITDA ratio of 5.5.

As of December 31, 2012, Hot Telecom was in compliance with all of the required financial covenants.

17.1.2 Altice Blue One

As part of the Altice Blue One ("ABO") financing arranged in 2009, the ABO was required to respect certain covenants calculated on the basis of its consolidated accounts. As of December 31, 2012, the company was in default of financial covenants, though it was not in default of any scheduled payments due to the lenders. As per the debt contracts, one consequence of this default could be early or accelerated repayment of the debts, if and only if such repayments are unanimously reclaimed by all of the lending agencies.

ABO's management does not believe that these covenant defaults affect in any way the ability of the Group to effectively pursue its operations. This hypothesis was supported by advanced level talks with the lending parties, and based on the fact that none of the lenders ever demanded early repayment of the loan. Thus ABO's accounts for 2012 were closed and approved based on the hypothesis outlined above. On July 2, 2013, ABO refinanced the relevant facilities with funds granted by the Group, thereby solving any default situation.

18—Financial risk factors

In the course of its business, the Group is exposed to a number of financial risks: credit risk, liquidity risk, market risk (including foreign currency risk and interest rate risk), commodity price risk and other risks (including equity price risk and settlement risk). This note presents the Group's objectives, policies and processes for managing its financial risk and capital.

Financial risk management is an integral part of the way the Group is managed. The Board of Managers establishes the Group's financial policies and the Chief Executive Officer establishes objectives in line with these policies.

The Group is not subject to any externally imposed capital requirements.

18.1 Credit risk

The Group does not have significant concentrations of credit risk. The credit risk may arise from the exposures of commitments under a number of financial instruments with one body or as the result of commitments with a number of Groups of debtors with similar economic characteristics, whose ability to meet their commitments could be similarly affected by economic or other changes.

Qualities that could cause a concentration of risk include the significance of the activities that the debtors are involved in, such as the branch in which the geographical region in which they conduct their activities and the level of their financial stability.

The Group's income mainly derives from customers in Israel, in the French Overseas Territories and in Europe (Belgium, Luxembourg, Portugal and Switzerland). The Group regularly monitors its customers' debts and provisions for doubtful debts are recorded in the financial statements, which provide a fair value of the loss that is inherent to debts whose collection lies in doubt.

The Group does not have significant concentration of credit risk, as a result of the Group's policy, which ensures that the sales are mostly made under standing orders or via credit cards.

18.2 Liquidity risk

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with management, which have established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the short, medium and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements of the Group. The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserves borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

18.3 Market risks

The Group is exposed to risk from movements in foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates and market prices that affect its assets, liabilities and anticipated future transactions.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.

18.3.1 Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk comprises the interest price risk that results from borrowings at fixed rates and the interest cash flow risk that results from borrowings at variable rates.

The Group has an exposure to risk in respect of changes in the interest rate in the market, deriving from long-term loans that have been received and which bear variable rate interest.

Interest structure of non-current financial debt (including interest effects of derivatives):

	December 31, 2012	December 31, 2011
	(in millions of euros)
Financial debt at fixed rates	1 484,8	404,6
Financial debt at variable rates	287,1	834,6
TOTAL	1,771,9	1,239,2

18.3.2 Israeli CPI risk

The Group has borrowed from banks and issued debentures that are linked to the changes in the Israeli CPI. Also, the Group has deposits and gave loans that are linked to the changes in the Israeli CPI. The net amount of the financial instruments that are linked to the Israeli CPI and for which the Group is exposed to changes in the Israeli CPI amounted to approximately EUR 247 million as of December 31, 2012.

18.3.3 Foreign currency risk

The Group is exposed to foreign currency risk from transactions and translation. Transactional exposures are managed within a prudent and systematic hedging policy in accordance with the Group's specific business needs. Translation exposure arises from the consolidation of the financial statements of foreign operations in euros, which is, in principle, not hedged. The Group's objective is to manage its foreign currency exposure through the use of currency forwards, futures, swaps and options.

Exchange differences recorded in the income statement represented a loss of EUR 22,5 million in 2012 (2011: loss of EUR 14,0 million). They are allocated to the appropriate headings of expenses by nature.

The Group estimates that a 10% variation of foreign currencies against euro parity is a relevant change of variables and reasonably possible risk in a year and the presented above allows to assess the impact of a 10% increase of foreign currencies against euro on net result and reserves. A 10% decrease would have a symmetrical impact with the same amounts but in the opposite direction.

18.3.4 Price risk

The Group has investments in listed financial instruments, shares and debentures that are classified as available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss in respect of which the Group is exposed to risk of fluctuations in the security price that is determined by reference to the quoted market price. As of December 31, 2012, the carrying amount of these investments was EUR 5,7 million.

18.4 Sensitivity tests in respect of a change in market factors

The sensitivity analysis in respect of financial instruments was performed under the assumption that the amount that was in force as of the statement of financial position date was in force throughout the reporting period.

The changes that have been selected as variables for the relevant risk were determined in accordance with management's assessment in respect of the possible reasonable changes in those risk variables.

18.5 Gearing computation

Gearing ratio (net debt (1) /total equity holders' equity (2)) amounts, respectively in 2012 and 2011, to 5,4 and 1,6.

18.6 Fair value of financial assets and liabilities

18.6.1 Fair value of financial instruments carried at amortized cost

The managers consider that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recognized in the consolidated financial statements and accounted for at their amortized cost approximate their fair value.

18.6.2 Valuation techniques and assumptions applied for the purposes of measuring fair value

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follow:

The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities with standard terms and conditions and traded an active liquid markets are determined with reference to quoted market prices (includes listed redeemable notes, bills of exchange, debentures and perpetual notes);

The fair value of derivatives instruments are calculated using quote prices. Where such prices are not available, a discounted cash flow analysis is performed using the applicable yield curve for the duration of the instruments for non-optional derivatives, and option pricing models for optional derivatives. Foreign currency forward contracts are measured using quoted forward exchange rates and yield curves derived from quoted interest rates matching maturities of the contracts. Interest rate swaps are measured at the present value of future cash flows estimated and discounted based on the applicable yield curves derived from quoted interest rates; and

The fair value of other financial assets and financial liabilities (excluding those described above) are determined in accordance with generally accepted pricing models based on discounted cash flow analysis.

Specially, significant assumptions used in determining the fair value of the following financial assets and liabilities are set out below.

The classification of financial instruments in accordance with hierarchical levels for fair values:

The financial instruments that are presented in the consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with their fair value are classified into hierarchical levels for fair values, as aforesaid, which are determined in accordance with the source of the input that was used for determining the fair value:

- Level 1—Quoted prices (without adjustments) in an active market for identical assets and liabilities.
- Level 2—Inputs other than quoted prices that are included in level 1, which can be observed directly or indirectly.
- Level 3—Inputs that are not based on observable market data (an evaluation technique that does not use observable market data).

22.4 Tax assessments

22.4.1 Hot Telecom

In December 2009 and in the course of the year 2010, HOT received tax assessments for the 2006-2008 tax years, in accordance with section 145(A)(2)(b) of the Income Tax Ordinance. In accordance with the tax assessments, expenses amounting to approximately EUR 220 million were adjusted for HOT for tax purposes as of the end of the year 2008, and this was as a result of a disagreement between HOT and the Tax Authority in Israel, primarily in respect of the pace of the recognition of depreciation expenses in respect of the cables network and additional issues. If the said position of the Tax Authority in relation to the assessments that were issued to HOT in respect of the 2006, 2007 and 2008 tax years is received, HOT will be exposed to a demand for the payment of tax in a cumulative amount of EUR 24 million. Linkage differentials and interest will be added to this amount. Furthermore, HOT will be exposed to a demand for the payment of additional taxation in significantly larger amounts in respect of the tax years after 2008.

HOT's management, on the basis of its position in the self-assessments and based upon its legal advice, has presented an objection against the tax assessments for the years 2006 - 2008 and in the opinion of HOT's management and its professional advisers, HOT has well founded complaints against the claims made in the tax assessments for the years 2006 - 2008, which could significantly change the results of the tax assessments for those years and could also significantly change the implications deriving from them in respect of the tax years after 2008.

At the present time, discussions are being held on the assessments, within the framework of Stage B for the years 2006 - 2008 and within the framework of Stage A for the 2009 - 2010 tax years. A number of issues have come within the framework of the discussions including the manner of the depreciation of the cables network infrastructure and the manner of the amortization of the intangible assets—brand, goodwill and customer connections. Up to the time of the publication of the financial statements, no assessment has yet been issued in respect of the aforesaid.

A provision of EUR 2 million has been recorded within the framework of the financial statements in respect of HOT estimated exposure in respect of the dispute with the tax authorities in respect of open tax years.

HOT has been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2005 tax year. The consolidated companies HOT Vision, HOT Haifa and HOT Eidan have been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2001 tax year. The consolidated companies HOT Edom and HOT Net (formerly HOT Investments and Finance) have been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2002 tax year. The consolidated company HOT T.L.M. has been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2004 tax year. The consolidated companies Drom Hasharon and HOT Properties have been issued with final tax assessments up to and including the 2008 tax year.

The consolidated companies HOT T.L.M., HOT Eidan and HOT Haifa have tax assessments that are considered to be final up to and including the 2005 tax year. The consolidated company HOT Mobile have tax assessments that are considered to be final up to and including the 2008 tax year. The consolidated companies HOT Vision, HOT Edom and Hot Net (formerly HOT Investments and Finance) have tax assessments that are considered to be final up to and including the 2007 tax year. The said assessments are considered to be final subject to the powers that have been afforded to the Director of the Tax Authority in Israel in accordance with section 145, 147 and 152 of the Income Tax Ordinance.

Cabovisao is subject to corporate income tax at the rate of 25%, increased by a municipal surcharge at the applicable rate up to 1.5%, resulting in an aggregate rate of a maximum of 26.5%. Additionally, any taxable profit in excess of EUR 1,5 million is subject to a State surcharge of 3%, being 5% if the taxable net, or exceeds EUR 10 million, according to article 87-A of the corporate income tax law.

In accordance with the article 88 of the corporate income tax law, Cabovisao is subject to autonomous taxation over some costs incurred by Cabovisao at the rates provided for in the above-mentioned article.

In accordance with current legislation, tax returns are subject to review and correction by the tax authorities during a four-year period or, if tax losses are carried forward or a deduction or tax credit used, for the period for which such right is exercised (five years for Social Security). These periods can be suspended when there are tax inspections, claims or appeals in progress. Consequently, Cabovisao's tax returns for the years 2009 to 2012 are subject to review by the tax authorities.

Cabovisao was subject to an inspection from the Portuguese tax authorities for the fiscal years 2003 to 2006, and the outcome was the following:

Notification for fiscal year 2003 to adjust tax losses by EUR 7,2 million and an additional payment of stamp taxes for fiscal years 2000 to 2002 in the amount of EUR 1,3 million. The Company did not agree with the additional payment of stamp taxes, having claimed through a lawsuit appeal against the Portuguese Tax Authorities, presenting a bank guarantee in the amount of EUR 1,7 million. During the year ended August 31, 2011, the Almada Administrative and Fiscal Court decided the appeal was unfounded. Cabovisao has appealed against that decision before the Almada Administrative and Fiscal Court.

Assessment of the Portuguese Tax Authorities related to 2005, requests an adjustment to tax losses in the amount of EUR 17,1 million, as well as an additional tax payment in the amount of EUR 4 million, for withholding tax and stamp tax. Cabovisao paid EUR 2,6 million and contested this decision of the assessment through a gracious complaint and hierarchical appeal, but has not received the final decision yet. The unpaid amount of, approximately, EUR 1 million, was contested by hierarchic appeal. In the year ended 31 August, 2012, the Corporate Tax accepted the claim. As of the date of this report, there were not any subsequent deliberations after that decision.

For 2006, an assessment of tax payable on withholding tax linked to interest due to CSII in the amount of approximately EUR 4,9 million. Cabovisao doesn't agree with this assessment, having filed a gracious complaint and submitted a bank guarantee in the amount of approximately EUR 6,8 million. As of December 31, 2012, the administrative and tax court of Almada didn't pronounce on that claim, therefore it wasn't taken any subsequent deliberations.

The Board of Managers believes that any adjustments resulting from tax revisions to the tax returns of these exercises, taking into account the provisions recorded will not have a significant effect on the financial statements on December 31, 2012.

22.5 Unrecognized deferred tax assets

As at December 31, 2012, unrecognized deferred tax assets amount to EUR 33,4 million and split as follows:

- Cool Holding: EUR 21,2 million,
- Coditel Holding Lux S.à r.l.: EUR 13,63 million,
- Cabovisao: EUR 51,3 million.

23—Segment analysis

23.1 Definitions of segments

Given the geographic spread of the various Group entities, it logically follows that an analysis and control by geography is inalienable to Group strategy of managing its different businesses. It has thus been decided by the central management team to analyse the business across geographies and then by activity. The following geographies have been identified:

Israel,

Belgium and Luxembourg (Western Europe),

Portugal (Western Europe),

French Overseas Territories (Antilles and Indian Ocean),

Other (Switzerland, Africa etc.).

Activities have been split as follows:

Cable,

Mobile,

Others (B2B/Content/etc.).

23.1.1 Operational KPIs

It has also been decided by the central team that local operational teams in each geography shall report operational KPIs every week and operational and financial KPIs every month using a standard reporting format defined by the central team.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.

The main operational KPIs that will be tracked will be:

- Subscriber base evolution (both cable and mobile),
- ARPU (Average Revenue per Unit) (cable and mobile),
- Other relevant cost drivers.

These KPIs are benchmark indicators followed throughout the industry and allow for a thorough and accurate analysis of the business and strategic decision making.

23.1.2 Financial KPIs

Each local operational company will also report the following financial KPIs by segment:

- Revenues (Cable/Mobile/Other),
- Cost of Sales (Cable/Mobile/Other),
- Capex (Cable/Mobile/Other).

The central team believes that given the uniformity in the accounting and nature of operating expenses and given the experience and competence of the Group in managing operating costs, the main indicator that can vary between business units is the gross margin.

HOT Telecom however will report EBITDA on cable and mobile, in addition to the KPIs mentioned above. This derives from the size of the mobile business and the fact that historically, this business had separate reporting for these two activities and also because local regulation require operators to report the EBITDA on these segments.

Capital expenditure (Capex) is an important indicator to follow, as the profile varies greatly between the two activities:

The cable business has small fixed Capex requirements and initial Capex is quite low, but variable Capex is high, as an increase in customers drives the cash needs for Customer Premise Equipment (CPE) and installation.

Mobile Capex is one-off and mainly driven by investment in new mobile sites and licences to operate. Once the Capex is engaged and the business operational, there is limited Capex requirement.

Thus, the central team places a great emphasis on the proper tracking of capital expenditures and reviewing them against the costs budgeted for the year.

Management believes that operations in Switzerland and activities such as B2B sales are not yet substantial enough to warrant a separate reporting segment and will be reported under 'Others'. However, as these activities grow, it is intended that they are also reported under a separate segment with relevant operating KPIs specific to the activity. Financial KPIs are expected to remain the same. The same applies to any new line(s) of business that the Group may decide to venture into (for e.g., content etc.).

23.2 Regional specificities

23.2.1 Israel

Israel is currently an important contributor to the Group revenues and EBITDA and, for this reason, is classified as a separate region. Apart from this, this region has particularities that differentiate it.

It is characterised by a high broadband and cable penetration and the general population is very technology focussed. The market is maturing but highly regulated, which means that while opportunities for growth exist, they may be limited by specific regulatory challenges and also by high competition, thus leading to price pressures on ARPU development.

Triple play penetration is low and this represents the biggest development path. Customer retention is difficult as contractual terms heavily favour the customer and, hence, price increases, even when coupled with high value content, can be negatively perceived and lead to an erosion of the customer base.

The regulatory environment does not yet allow for quadruple play packages, which heavily restricts achieving full integration and operational synergies with the mobile business. The prevailing political environment in the region can also have adverse impacts on the development of the business, as a deterioration of the situation may have serious repercussions on the market environment and may even lead to physical damage of the infrastructure.

23.2.2 Belgium and Luxembourg

Even though Belgium/Luxembourg and Portugal can be considered to be the same sub-region, the challenges posed by these two regions are quite distinctly different.

The Belgian and Luxembourg territories have a high standard of living and well developed economies, which translates into higher prices for services. The markets are quite mature, with high broadband penetration and a high percentage of triple play customers. Customers are willing to pay more for premium services (high ARPU/subs) and hence price pressures are low.

These regions are marked by the presence of many well established cable operators and customer retention is a key factor in maintain strong profit margins.

Given the density and presence of mobile operators, the mobile strategy is driven by MVN operations, which allows the presence of quadruple play packages.

23.2.3 Portugal

The Portuguese market is marked by a high concentration of double play subscribers and a mature telecommunications market, which, when coupled with slow economic recovery after the crisis, makes it difficult to achieve high sales growth. This market is marked by high subscriber attrition and downward migration from high to low ARPU offers.

The challenge in Portugal is to maintain a subscriber base and then slowly migrating the customer base from double play to triple play offers.

23.2.4 French Overseas Territories

The French Overseas Territories represent an attractive market with high scope of growth in cable operations, owing to relatively limited competition and relatively low cable penetration. There is also a large scope for synergies between the cable and mobile businesses, as triple play penetration remains low and regulatory flexibility allows the marketing of quadruple play options.

Price pressures are low in these markets and customers are willing to pay more for value added services. Double play (TV and Internet) offers are predominant in these regions and the migration of new and existing customers to triple and quadruple play packages in the future will be an important factor in growing sales.

There are other opportunities for growth in the sector, most notably in the e-banking sector.

The increase in operating expenses was mainly related to the acquisition of Cabovisao, a Portuguese cable operator in February 2012 and the full year impact of the consolidation of HOT's cable business in 2012 (full 12 months vs. 9 months in 2011).

25—Equity based compensation

Equity based compensations are included in the line item "General & administrative expenses" in these consolidated financial statements and amounted to EUR 3,8 million.

Total	(50,5)	114,2

(1) In the prior year, the gain from achieving control is linked to acquisition of Hot Telecom: the amount of the investment in HOT Telecom prior to achieving control, in accordance with the equity method of accounting has been revalued in accordance with the HOT's share price as of the said time, such that in the Altice VII financial statements as of December 31, 2011 income has been recorded on the revaluation of the investment in the affiliate, which became a consolidated company; as a result, HOT's assets and liabilities previously accounted for in accordance with equity method of accounting have been revalued for EUR 133,0 million.

(2) The increase in expenses from prior periods is mainly explained by fines and penalties paid by HOT relating to the early breakage of mortgage contracts and disputes with other suppliers. The total charge registered was of EUR 22.8 million, offset by a reversal in the provision for these charges for EUR 7.7 million, thus resulting in a net expense of EUR 14.9 million.

(3) Restructuring costs refer to the non-recurring costs incurred by Cabovisao in the year ended December 31, 2012, arising from the restructuring carried out at this company level, post-acquisition by the Group. The costs engaged are made up entirely of personnel costs and are associated with dismissal indemnities paid to employees.

On December 27, 2012, the Group successfully completed the take-private of HOT Telecom and thus the buyout of the non controlling interests in Cool Holding Limited. The total consideration paid to acquire this minority stake amounted to EUR 172,9 million.

On February 19, 2012 HOT distributed a dividend of NIS 365 million (EUR 73,4 million). Of this total amount, NIS 129 million (EUR 26,0 million) was paid to the non-controlling interests.

30.2 Compensation of key management personnel

The compensation given to the managers, in respect of their duties as Chairman of the Executive Board or member of the Executive Board of Altice VII, for the financial year 2012, is EUR 1,7 million compared to EUR 0,9 million for the financial year 2011.

31—Contractual obligations and commercial commitments

31.1 Hot Telecom Commitments

31.1.1 Commitments

Royalties to the Ministry of Communications and other payments to the government

- (a) HOT is committed to pay annual royalties out of its overall income that are chargeable with royalties (hereinafter—the chargeable income) in accordance with the Telecommunications Regulations (Concessions)—1987. In accordance with the Telecommunications Regulations (Telecommunications and Broadcasting) (Royalties)—2001, HOT Telecom is required to pay annual royalties in respect of its income from in country operator services and HOT Mobile is required to pay annual royalties in respect of its radio telephone services (less payments to another license holder in respect of reciprocal connection or roaming services). The royalty rates that HOT, HOT Telecom and HOT Mobile have each been charged to pay in respect of their chargeable income, as aforesaid, stood at 2,5% in 2007, 2% in 2008, 1,5% in 2009 and 1% in 2010. In accordance with a Temporary Order, the annual royalty rate for the years 2011 and 2012 stood at 1,75%.

In accordance with the Amendment to the Telecommunications Regulations (Concessions) and the Amendment to the Telecommunications Regulations (Telecommunications and Broadcasting) (Royalties) (Temporary Order)—2012, as from 2013 the royalty rate that is paid by HOT, HOT Telecom and HOT Mobile on its chargeable income, as aforesaid, stands at 0%.

- (b) In July 2001 the cables companies, including HOT, entered into a commitment under an agreement with the State of Israel on the subject of a solution to the disputes between the cable companies and the State in respect of the right of each company to operate the existing cables infrastructure in each of the concession areas after the end of the period of the concessions. It was stipulated in the agreement that the State undertakes to waive all of its claims and its rights in respect of the cables infrastructure such that each cables company would be the owner of all of the rights, including property rights, in the cables infrastructure that it held in the area of its concession and that it would have available to it the right to continue to operate it even at the end of the concession period. In consideration for this, it was stipulated that each company was to pay to the State, on an annual basis and for a period of 12 years (commencing on January 1, 2003), its relative share, as determined in the agreement, of an amount that is equivalent to the multiple of certain incomes (as determined in the agreement) of each of the cable companies on a graduated scale (in accordance with the level of income, as aforesaid) at a rate of from 0% to 4%. The relative share of each company can be altered by agreement between the cables companies.

In addition, it was stipulated that each company is to pay approximately 12% of the overall consideration from the sale of operations that are executed through the cables infrastructure or which touch upon the cables infrastructure (as defined in the agreement) for a period of 12 years. It was also stipulated in the agreement that in so far as HOT has received any amount whatsoever in consideration for the issuance of its shares to the public or to an external investor or in consideration for the sale of shares of another company from among the cables companies, part of the consideration from the issue or the sale, as aforesaid, is to serve as an advance payment for the payment of the relevant portion of the consideration that remains to be paid under the agreement, in accordance with a formula that will be determined by the parties by agreement. It is further stipulated in the agreement that it shall apply to the cables companies or to any company that is split or merged even if structural changes are made of any sort whatsoever, and accordingly, with the completion of the merger, the agreement applies to HOT as a merged company.

- (c) In accordance with the Wireless Telegraph Regulations (Licensing, Certification and Levies)—1978, HOT Mobile is required to pay a fixed annual payment for each frequency that it uses. HOT Mobile paid amounts of NIS 26 million and NIS 20 million in respect of the years 2012 and 2011 respectively (an amount of NIS 2 million in respect of December 2011).
- (d) The license to operate a broadcasting center: It is stipulated in the broadcasting center operating license that the license holder is to pay a fee for the license at such rates and at such times as may be determined by the Ministry of Communications in accordance with the Communications Law and the Wireless Telegraph Ordinance (New Version)—1972.

Other royalties

- (a) Within the framework of the Group's routine operations in the broadcasting field, the Group enters into commitments under arrangements and agreements under which the Group pays royalties to various authors' organizations. The amounts of the royalties that have been reflected by the Group within this context in the years 2012, 2011 and 2010 amounted to NIS 42 million, NIS 43 million and NIS 47 million respectively.

- (b) On January 30, 2012 a draft of the Authors and Performers Law (Judgment on Royalties Issues) 2012 was placed before the Knesset. The draft law was intended to create a royalties court by empowering one of the District Court Judges to hear cases on royalties issues, royalty rates and disputes in royalty issues (in other words, a dispute on the issue of royalty rates between a collective management entity and a user or users of a repertoire).

This draft, if it is accepted, may have an implication for the issue of the payment of royalties to various organizations. As of the date of this report, HOT is unable to assess what the impact of the said legislation will be on its business results, if it is passed.

A commitment to invest in original productions

In accordance with the provisions of the Communications Law, the principles of communications and decisions by the Council, HOT is required, inter alia, to invest amounts in original productions at a rate of 8% of its annual income from subscription fees. During the course of the years 2010, 2011 and 2012 HOT complied with the investment rate that is required, as aforesaid.

It should be noted in this connection that the Communications Law has empowered the Council to determine the rate of investment that is required, provided that it may not exceed 12% and may not fall below 8% of the annual income from subscriber fees. In October 2011 the Council informed HOT that with effect from the year 2012 its income from subscriber fees, which form the basis for the calculation for the requirement to invest in original productions, will be deemed to include all of the payments that are paid by its subscribers in order to record broadcasts and to receive services, including income from users' terminal equipment and the installation thereof, whereas in accordance with the policy adopted by the Council up to such time the inclusion of income from terminal equipment for the purpose of this calculation was made conditional upon a mechanism that was based on the profitability of this income, and in past years the income from users' terminal equipment and the installation thereof was not included in the basis for the calculation for original productions. On January 12, 2012, the Council determined that HOT will be entitled to complete the amount of the additional investment for the year 2012 over three investment years.

Agreement to deploy and maintain a cables network

On January 1, 1990 and on May 1, 1989 Tevel International Transmission for Israel Ltd. and HOT Gold & Co. (hereinafter together—The cable companies) entered into commitments under agreements for the provision of planning, installation and maintenance services of the cables network with Bezeq (the provisions of both of the two said agreements are similar, and they will hereinafter in this section be called—the agreement). This agreement was endorsed to HOT Telecom as part of the merger agreement.

In accordance with the agreement, Bezeq, Tevel and HOT Gold planned the cables network, inter alia, based on Bezeq's available infrastructure, which was deployed in the areas of the concession at the time of the signing of the agreement. Tevel and HOT Gold supplied Bezeq with the base equipment (as defined in the agreement) that comprises the cables network whereas Bezeq supplied the additional equipment (as defined in the agreement) that is used for setting up the cables network.

In accordance with the agreement, a cables network was set up and deployed in a number of major cities across Israel, and Bezeq conducts the routine maintenance of the cables network and also provides malfunction repair services. The provisions of the agreement also relate, inter alia, to the possibility of the expansion of the cables network to additional facilities, the connection of new houses and of new neighborhoods.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.

The agreement will remain in force for the length of the period of the concession, and will continue to be in force if the concession or the rights in the concession are transferred or afforded to another, in whole or in part and directly or indirectly, during the course of the original concession period and during the extension of that period or after the end of it. Bezeq is only entitled to cancel the agreement in respect of a breach for which notice has been given in writing, and which has not been repaired within six months.

A consideration mechanism was set in the agreement, according to which HOT Telecom pays sums against the performance of Bezeq's commitments to setup, to maintain and to provide malfunction repair services, which are calculated in accordance with the length of the cables networks that have been deployed, in accordance with the various types of networks and it also makes non-recurring payments in respect of certain activities. In accordance with the agreement, the amount of the consideration in respect of the length of the cable, as aforesaid, is reduced by approximately 65% after 12 years from the time of the handing over of each section.

The total of the expenses recorded in HOT's accounting records for the network services payable to Bezeq in the years 2012, 2011 and 2010 amounted to NIS 48 million, NIS 46 million and NIS 43 million, respectively.

It should be noted that from time to time, during the routine course of business, disputes arise in connection with the implementation of the agreement, inter alia in respect of the division of the costs that are involved in the performance of some of the services that are supplied by the Bezeq company under the agreement, however the parties are continuing to operate in accordance with the agreement. It is further noted that over the course of the years additions have been signed to the agreement, primarily in connection with enhancement and upgrading work on the cables network.

Commitments to lease assets

The Group has commitments under agreements for the leasing of buildings and motor vehicles for various periods up to the end of the year 2020. The minimum future rental fees in respect of the rental contracts as of December 31, 2012, exclusive of the option period, are as follows:

	NIS in millions	EUR in millions
2013	186	37,7
2014	148	30,0
2015	120	24,3
2016	86	17,4
2017 and thereafter	304	61,7
TOTAL	844	171,3

On July 19, 2011 HOT's Board of Directors approved a commitment under agreements for the execution of the upgrading of the fiber optic infrastructure (FTTX). In accordance with the said commitment, HOT Telecom will purchase advanced optic equipment, work and services from third parties, in order to upgrade the infrastructures, including maintenance services, in accordance with the deployment and the timetables that will be agreed upon between the parties from time to time. The upgrading of the infrastructure, as aforesaid, will enable the expansion of the traffic capacity on the network, in favor of the supply of enhanced VOD services, the increasing of the number of channels that the Group can offer to its subscribers, faster internet services and it will also enable HOT to deal with increased demand for traffic capacity on the network in the future, which is expected to arrive as a result of the increased use of applications that require a considerable band width.

On May 27, 2010 a facility agreement was signed between HOT Mobile and Motorola for the purchase, licensing and installation of the infrastructure equipment (hardware and software) which is required in order to operate HOT Mobile's iDEN network. The agreement is in force for a period of five years from the time that it was signed (hereinafter—the initial period) and it will be renewed for additional periods of one year each (or for a longer period that is agreed between the parties), unless a party to the agreement gives notice to the other party, 90 days before the end of the initial period, or one of the extension periods, as the case may be, of its desire to terminate the commitment. The agreement arranged the commitment between the parties for the purpose of the execution of the work orders that will be presented to Motorola, from time to time, by HOT Mobile for the purpose of the supply of equipment or software for the iDEN network.

Within the framework of the agreement, Motorola has undertaken that during the initial period it will hold an inventory of equipment that will enable it to immediately supply the components that are required for the proper functioning of HOT Mobile's iDEN network, and so that it will be capable of supplying HOT Mobile with the maintenance services for the infrastructure equipment and the software that is required to operate the network for a period of seven years from the signing of the agreement, subject to the purchase of the said maintenance services by HOT Mobile.

In consideration for Motorola's commitment to sell the equipment and the licenses to HOT Mobile at the prices that are denoted in the agreement, HOT Mobile has made a commitment to purchase the infrastructure equipment and the software that is required to operate the iDEN network exclusively from Motorola alone during the period of the agreement.

As part of the commitment with Motorola in respect of the infrastructure for the iDEN network, HOT Mobile has signed on a system maintenance agreement with Motorola as well as on an agreement for the maintenance of the system's hardware, which arrange the manner of the repair of malfunctions and the provision of support by Motorola for HOT Mobile's iDEN network.

In December 2011 the system maintenance agreement was extended for an additional period of three years, until the end of 2014.

On May 26, 2010, as part of the sale of the control in HOT Mobile to Altice, HOT Mobile entered into a commitment under an agreement with Mobility for the purchase of terminal equipment that supports the iDEN technology.

The agreement is in force for a period of 5 years and it will be renewed for additional periods of one year each time unless a party to the agreement gives notice to the other party, 60 days before the end of the initial period, or one of the extension periods, as the case may be, of its desire to terminate the commitment.

The agreement arranged a mechanism for the ordering and supply of the terminal equipment (including quarterly forecasts by HOT Mobile) with HOT Mobile being responsible for the importing of the terminal equipment from abroad.

The supplier has received an option and the right of first refusal for the repurchase from HOT Mobile of all of the terminal equipment that it may be holding at the time of the termination of the agreement, in accordance with a mechanism that was set in the agreement.

Within the framework of the preparations for the setting up of the new network, HOT Mobile entered into commitments under agreements with various suppliers for the purchase of terminal equipment that it will use on the UMTS network.

On June 16, 2011 HOT Mobile entered into a commitment with Nokia Siemens Networks Israel Ltd. (hereinafter—the supplier) for the setting up of the infrastructure for HOT Mobile's new network.

In accordance with the terms of the agreement, the supplier will plan and set up the new network for HOT Mobile as a turnkey contractor. In the first stage, which was completed in May 2012, the supplier completed the setting up of the systems that are required for the purpose of operating the new system with a coverage of approximately 30%, which is in excess of the extent of the coverage which is HOT Mobile required to provide (20%) in accordance with the terms of the tender within two years from the time of the receipt of the new radio telephone license. After the completion of the first stage, HOT Mobile has expanded and is expanding the new network, both from the perspective of the coverage and also from the perspective of the LTE capability.

The agreement arranges the work arrangements between the supplier and HOT Mobile, the manner of the handing over of the system to HOT Mobile and the manner of the maintenance of the system by the supplier.

The agreement is in force for 15 years, and it contains warranties for the proper functioning of the components of the system for a period of two years from the time of the handing over of each component in accordance with the agreement, as well as warranties for the entire period of the agreement that the system will operate in accordance with the system requirements that HOT Mobile placed (in terms of availability, functioning and capacity), subject to their being a maintenance agreement in force between the parties.

In consideration for the completion of the first, second and third stages in accordance with the agreement and the performance of all of the supplier's commitments by the year 2013, the Group will pay the supplier an amount of USD 52 million, which amount does not include the expansion of the coverage and the capacity over and beyond what is stipulated in the agreement. The overall consideration in the agreement for all of the services up to the year 2017 is approximately USD 120 million, according to HOT Mobile's assessment.

On January 31, 2013, an addition to the agreement was signed, within the framework of which the payments that were supposed to be paid under the agreement have been deferred to a later date, subject to HOT Mobile's signing on debt notes, with HOT acting as guarantor. Within this framework, HOT Mobile has signed on confirmation for the final receipt of significant portions of the said project.

On October 27, 2011 an agreement was signed between HOT Mobile and Comverse Ltd. (hereinafter—Comverse), in accordance with which Comverse will supply HOT with a BSS system (a billing system that is integrated with the customer relations management (CRM) system) (hereinafter—The system) and Comverse will also supply HOT with hardware, software and services, including the operation and maintenance of the system. In consideration for Comverse's services, HOT Mobile will pay an amount of approximately USD 12.5 million. In January 2012, the parties signed on an addition to this agreement, in accordance with which Comverse is committed to allocating seven additional employees to be available for the project (instead of the manpower that HOT had to make available for the project), for a payment of USD 500 000.

On October 6, 2005, HOT Mobile won a tender for the provision of Mobile services to the IDF. Following Cellcom's winning of a tender, which was published by the Ministry of Defense in 2012 for the selection of a new mobile operator for the IDF, in the third quarter of 2012, a gradual transfer of IDF customers to Cellcom's network began. HOT Mobile's revenues from the IDF in the years 2010, 2011 and 2012 amounted to NIS 139,3 million, NIS 112.4 million and NIS 83,7 million, respectively, which constituted approximately 13,5%, 12,5% and 9,8% of HOT Mobile revenues in the said periods, respectively. Of the said revenues, an amount of NIS 10 million a year was in respect of the PTT services, which are supplied to the IDF without reference to the tender.

On May 30, 2012, HOT Mobile International Communications Ltd (hereinafter—HOT International), a wholly owned subsidiary of HOT Mobile's, received an operator's license for the provision of international telecommunications services (hereinafter—The international license). On January 6, 2013 HOT International received operational approval for starting to provide international telecommunications services in accordance with the international license and on January 8, 2013, notification of the opening of the services was sent to all of the operators.

Marketing and distribution (for iDEN technology products and services)

In 2012 HOT Mobile operated through marketing and distribution channels, which included: sales personnel, who were employed by HOT Mobile, inter alia, through services and sales centers, which

HOT Mobile operates across the country, a national distribution channel that works “door to door” using an external contractor and authorized marketing agents. In 2012 and as of the date of this report, HOT Mobile distributes its products via sales staff who are employed by it, the Israel Post company in some 200 branches and some 150 branches of the Menta chain in the Delek Group’s filling stations. In the ultra-orthodox sector, HOT Mobile operates through an external marketer who markets HOT Mobile’s products and services in that sector.

In addition, HOT Mobile is acting to recruit private subscribers through its business/institutional customers, by way of offering attractive packages and paths to the family members of the business/institutional customers.

Commitment with an external marketer

As aforesaid, in 2012, one of the distribution channels for the Group’s products and services in the iDEN field of operations was through an external contractor, S.D.M. Sales and Direct Marketing Ltd. (hereinafter—SDM), which provided HOT Mobile with marketing services for the iDEN products, through the operation of sales staff in order to market the iDEN products in the private and business markets, by operating a nationwide set-up, using a specialist marketing method involving initiated personal approaches whilst going door to door.

The consideration that SDM is entitled to is based on a fixed monthly consideration and commissions which are derived from SDM’s results in respect of the sales of the iDEN products.

The original commitment was up to December 31, 2013. However, on December 6, 2012 a compromise arrangement was signed between HOT Mobile and SDM, in accordance with which HOT Mobile will pay SDM an amount of NIS 8 million and the commitment between the parties will be terminated, with each party waiving its claims against the other party.

Marketing and distribution (for UMTS technology products and services)

The marketing and distribution of UMTS products is performed by means of HOT Mobile’s and HOT’s marketing and distribution channels and through third parties, within the restriction places in the radio telephone license.

Capitalized leasing rights on land from the Israel Lands Authority

Capitalized leasing rights on land from the Israel Lands Authority over an area of 20 713 square meters on which the Group’s buildings are located. The amount that is attributed to the capitalized rights is presented as a prepaid expenses in respect of operating leases in the balance sheet and is amortized over the period of the leases. The lease periods end in the years 2021-2045.

31.1.2 Guarantees and liens

As collateral for HOT’s commitments vis-à-vis the parent company under the credit agreement with it, the following charges have been placed

A floating charge on HOT’s assets.

A fixed charge on the shares in the subsidiary companies.

HOT Telecom has given a charge on some of its assets.

The said charges are in an unlimited amount, vis-à-vis HOT, the investee partnership—HOT Telecom and the subsidiary company—HOT Net, jointly and severally.

As collateral for the commitments of HOT, the investee partnership HOT Telecom and the subsidiary company HOT Net, first ranking floating charges have been placed in unlimited amounts in favor of the borrowers, on all of the chargeable assets and the rights of companies in the Group and a fixed charge on the goodwill and the unpaid share capital of the Companies in the Group.

As collateral for HOT's commitments in respect of the royalties agreement, as set forth in section B(1) above, a second ranking floating charge has been placed in favor of the State.

As collateral for the Group's commitments, as determined in the Group's licenses and in the decisions by the Director and the Council, the Group has issued a number of guarantees, as follows:

Bank guarantees to the Ministry of Communications, in respect of the national operator license that was granted to HOT Telecom amounting to 8,4 million Dollars, in force until December 2017 and December 2025.

Guarantees in an amount of NIS 34 million (index-linked) to the Council in respect of the broadcasting license, which are in force until April and June 2014.

A bank guarantee in an amount of 2 million Dollars to the Director in respect of HOT's compliance with the terms of the merger as determined by the Director, which is in force until December 2014.

A bank guarantee in an amount of NIS 695 million, which was made available by HOT Mobile within the framework of its win in a tender for the allocation of frequencies and as collateral for its commitment in favor of the Ministry of Communications, which is in force until December 31, 2018.

In accordance with the wording of the guarantee that was written by the Ministry of Communications, there is no restriction in the guarantee on the endorsement, assignment or transfer of the guarantee to a third party. Furthermore, HOT Mobile has a duty to bear any expense that is involved in the exercise or the extension of the guarantee.

In the light of the aforesaid terms, HOT Mobile has signed on a letter of undertaking and endorsement vis-à-vis a bank, according to which HOT waives and is prevented from raising any claim against the bank in connection with the wording of the said guarantee, and it will indemnify and compensate the bank in respect of any expenses incurred for the purpose of conducting administrative and legal proceedings in connection with the said issues.

On November 28, 2011, HOT Mobile and the former parent company signed on an irrevocable letter of commitment vis-à-vis Bank Hapoalim Ltd. (hereinafter the bank). The letter of undertaking was signed as a condition for the making available of a bank guarantee in an amount of NIS 695 million, as collateral for HOT's commitments vis-à-vis the Ministry of Communications within the context of HOT's win in a frequencies tender for the setting up of a third generation mobile network (UMTS).

The Group has given a number of bank guarantees to various bodies in an overall amount of NIS 59 million.

Guarantees to HOT Telecom

The Group has given guarantees in a cumulative amount of 23 million Dollars as collateral for payments by HOT Telecom to the Cisco company.

The Group has given a guarantee in an amount of NIS 242 million (index-linked) as collateral for HOT Telecom's commitments vis-à-vis an interested party with which it has signed a rental agreement.

There exist mutual guarantees between HOT and companies in the Group, in unrestricted amounts, in favor of financial institutions as collateral for the repayment of the Group's liabilities to those financial institutions.

31.1.3 Other contingent liabilities

During the routine course of business, lawsuits have been filed against the companies in the Group and various legal proceedings are outstanding against it (hereinafter, "The Legal Claims").

In the opinion of the management of the Company and each of its subsidiaries, as at signature date, the amount of the additional exposure, in an amount of approximately NIS 3 billion (EUR 628,5 million) (over and above the provisions that have been recorded in these financial statements), as a result of the legal proceedings that have been filed against the Company's Subsidiaries on various matters, is as follows:

- (a) An amount of approximately NIS 1.7 billion (EUR 356,1 million) in respect of claims, in respect of which in the assessment of the Company's management, in reliance on the opinion of its legal advisors, the chances of their being accepted do not exceed 50%.
- (b) An amount of approximately NIS 0,1 billion (EUR 20,9 million) in respect of claims, which it is not yet possible, at this stage, to make an assessment, the main ones being in connection with applications for the approval of class actions that were presented close to the date of the financial statements
- (c) An amount of approximately NIS 1,42 billion (EUR 297,5 million) in respect of claims which, in the assessment of the Company's management, in reliance upon the opinions of its legal advisors, their chances of being accepted exceed 50% and in respect of which a provision has been recorded in accordance with the assessments of the managements of the Company's Subsidiaries, as aforesaid.

The following is an abbreviated summary of the Group's contingent liabilities effective as of signature date, in accordance with groupings having similar characteristics:

The nature of the lawsuit (EUR in millions)	The amount of the additional exposure in excess of the provision recorded as of signature date	The amount of the lawsuits that cannot be assessed and which were presented close to the date of the financial statements (primarily applications for approval as class actions)

31.2 Cabovisao commitments

31.2.1 Contingent assets

During the year ended December 31, 2012, Cabovisao made the decision not to pay any fees charged by municipalities, in addition to TMDP (Fees due for rights and charges related to the deployment of, passage within or crossing of systems, equipment and other resources of providers of publicly available electronic communications networks and services at a fixed location, of a public or private municipal domain). On December 31, 2012, Cabovisao had outstanding claims against several municipalities, totaling EUR 3,6 million. To present date, Cabovisao received 102 004 Euros from seven municipalities.

31.2.2.2 Real guarantees

On December 31, 2012, Cabovisao issued a bond amounting to EUR 25 million which was fully underwritten by Goldman Sachs International together with a financial first degree collateral of all bank accounts held by Cabovisao (except the bank deposit account in HSBC France and a current account with Caixa Geral de Depositos, S.A.) and pledge the shares representing Cabovisao's share capital and equity holders' rights.

31.2.2.3 Other contingent liabilities

As a result of the refusal by Cabovisao to pay the municipal taxes referred to above (since September 2010), the municipality of Almada initiated a process executive for payment of fees from 2006 to 2009, amounting to approximately EUR 0,7 million. It is the understanding of the Board of Managers, based on the opinion of its legal counsel, that the likelihood of loss is very low in the process.

31.2.2.4 Contingent assets

Cabovisao has outstanding claims against various municipalities for municipal taxes that it deems were charged illegally. The amount of such outstanding claims was EUR 3.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2012, of which EUR 0,1 million have been received from seven municipalities, while recovery is on-going with others.

31.3 Coditel Holding commitments

As of December 31, 2012, off balance sheet commitments include:

The shares, bank accounts and receivables of Coditel Brabant S.p.r.l. and Coditel S.à r.l. have been pledged. Coditel Holding is not allowed to pledge these assets as security for other borrowings or to sell them to another entity.

31.4 Others

The shares, bank accounts and receivables of Altice VII and its following subsidiaries Altice Finco S.A., Altice Financing S.A., Cool Holdings Ltd S.A., H.Hadaros 2012 Ltd., Hot Telecommunications System Ltd, Cabovisao S.A., Altice Blue Two S.A.S. and its subsidiaries, Coditel Holding S.A. and its subsidiaries have been pledged for the issued Senior Secured Notes and Senior Notes. The Company is not allowed to pledge these assets as security for other borrowings or to sell them to another entity.

32—Statutory Auditors' fees

In 2012, an amount of EUR 0,3 million was paid to various network affiliates of the Group's auditors, of which 0,2 million was paid as fees for audit services and EUR 0,1 million as fees for non-audit fee services.

ALTICE VII S.À R.L.

33—Going concern

During the year ended December 31, 2012, the company had a net current liability position of EUR 221,4 million (mainly due to other payables of EUR 118,7 million and trade payables of EUR 311,3 million), a net loss of EUR 189,8 million (down from a net gain of EUR 123,9 million in FY11), positive cash flow from operations of EUR 467,8 and negative working capital of EUR 230,1 million. The positive cash flow from operations balance was mainly due to strong earnings growth and EBITDA generation. The net working capital of EUR 230,1 million is mainly driven by trade receivables and payables. The net loss recorded in FY12 was mainly driven by increased depreciation and amortisation charges as compared to FY11 (+EUR 211,7 million), increased financial charges and with the issuance of public debt at the time of the take private operation of HOT Telecom. In addition to this, an exceptional revenue was recognised in FY11, owing to the switch from equity method to global integration consolidation of HOT Telecom, which was non-recurrent in FY12 (an impact of EUR 133,1 million).

The negative working capital position is structural and follows industry norms. Customers generally pay subscription revenues early or mid-month, with short DSOs (Days of Sales Outstanding) and suppliers are paid in the beginning of the following month, thus generating a negative working capital, as evidenced by the difference in the level of receivables and payables (EUR 150,8 million vs. EUR 311,3 million). Payables due the following month are covered by revenues and operating cash (if needed). As of December 31, 2012, the company had many short term loan payments (< 1y), and long term debt was refinanced at the end of 2012 and in June 2013.

Despite the net current liability position, Management is of the view that the company will continue to act as a going concern for 12 months from the date of approval of these financial statements based on the following:

The Group has a strong track record of generating positive operating income before amortisation and depreciation and generated strong positive operating cash flows in 2012 (EUR 467,8 million). Operating income before D&A amounted to EUR 403,2 million, an increase of 35% compared to FY11, thus reaffirming management's ability to drive profits in the different operating companies.

The Group had a marked improvement in cash reserves at the end of 2012 compared to December 31, 2011 (EUR 129,6 million vs. EUR 19,8 million), which would allow it to cover any urgent cash needs. Additionally, the Group had access to a revolving credit facility ("RCF") of up to USD 80,0 million (EUR 60,9 million).

The Group has sufficient reserves to absorb the impact of the net loss incurred in the year ended December 31, 2012. Net equity amounted to EUR 285,7 million on December 31, 2012.

In addition to the points enumerated above, the Group has implemented a new budgeting exercise, with monthly account reviews with CFOs of operating companies to track budget accuracy. This exercise will be complemented by a mid-year reforecast based on real first semester numbers.

34—Events after the reporting period

On May 31, 2013, Altice Holdings entered into a sale and purchase agreement to acquire Winreason (the "ONI Purchase Agreement"), the owner of the Portuguese telecommunications group, ONI, pursuant to which Cabovisao purchased all of the outstanding shares of ONI and refinanced the outstanding indebtedness of ONI (the "ONI Transaction"). The deal was consummated on August 8, 2013.

On June 7, 2013, Altice VII and certain of its subsidiaries entered into a sale and purchase agreement (the "Outremer Purchase Agreement") with the owners of OMT Invest and certain of its affiliates pursuant to which (i) the Group had agreed to purchase all of the outstanding share capital of OMT Invest other than shares to be contributed separately pursuant to the Outremer Investment Agreement on completion of the Outremer Transaction and (ii) all of the outstanding indebtedness of OMT Invest and its subsidiaries were to be refinanced using a portion of the proceeds of the June 24, 2013 bond issuance (see below). The parties to the Outremer Purchase Agreement entered into an investment agreement (the "Outremer Investment Agreement") pursuant to which (i) the Group contributed all of the outstanding share capital of Le Cable Martinique and Le Cable Guadeloupe and (ii) managers of OMT Invest contributed all of the outstanding shares of OMT Invest not sold to the Group under the Outremer Purchase Agreement. The transaction was completed on the July 5, 2013.

On June 14, 2013, Altice Finco issued EUR 250 million aggregate principal amount of its 9% senior notes due 2023 (the “2013 Senior Notes”).

On June 24, 2013, Altice Financing entered into a senior secured term loan credit facility (as amended from time to time, the “2013 Term Loan Facility”) which provides for U.S. dollar term loans (the “2013 Term Loans”) up to an aggregate principal amount equivalent to USD 1 034 million. Altice Financing may draw under the 2013 Term Loan, in up to four tranches, at any time on or prior to November 30, 2013, as long as, among other things, the incurrence of the indebtedness would have been permitted by the covenants in the existing Altice Financing debt documents. On July 2, 2013 and July 5, 2013, Altice Financing borrowed USD 584,2 million and U.S. dollar-equivalent USD 81,9 million under the 2013 Term Loan (the “First Draw”). The proceeds, together with the proceeds of the 2013 Senior Notes and cash on the balance sheet of the Group were applied to complete the Cabovisao Refinancing, the Coditel Refinancing, the Le Cable Refinancing and the ABO Refinancing on July 2, 2013 (described above), and the Outremer Transaction on July 5, 2013.

On March 7, 2013, Altice VII purchased the 40% remaining shares held by Codilink S.à r.l in Altice Portugal S.A..

Cabovisao Refinancing

On July 2, 2013, Altice Financing repaid the outstanding indebtedness under the existing Cabovisao Bridge Facility of EUR 203 million (the “Cabovisao Refinancing”).

Coditel Refinancing

In July 2, 2013, Coditel Holding prepaid approximately EUR 7 million of its EUR 138 million indebtedness outstanding under the existing Coditel Senior Facility and Altice Holdings purchased substantially all of the remaining interests of the existing lenders under the existing Coditel Senior Facility.

ABO Refinancing

On July 2, 2013 ABO refinanced approximately EUR 70 million of its existing indebtedness to third parties (the “ABO Refinancing”).

WSG and MTVC Refinancing

WSG and MTVC are indirect subsidiaries of the Group. On July 2, 2013, Altice Pool refinanced approximately (x) EUR 8 million of indebtedness of MTVC and (y) EUR 14 million of indebtedness of WSG (collectively, the “Le Cable Refinancing”).

MCS & SportV

In October 2013, the Group completed the acquisition of two sports based content delivery channels, Ma Chaine Sport and SportV. This acquisition was completed in October 2013 and total consideration paid amounted to EUR 15 million. These channels are focussed on providing quality sports programming and are intended to serve as a platform for the potential new business segment for the Company (Content). The acquisition was fully financed using equity holders’ equity.

Tricom

In November 2013, the Group confirmed that it has signed an agreement to acquire a controlling stake in Tricom, the second largest cable operator in the Dominican Republic. This acquisition is expected to explore significant synergies with the Group's French Overseas Territories operations.

Network Sharing Agreement

On November 8, 2013, HOT Mobile entered in to a network sharing agreement (the "Network Sharing Agreement") with Partner Communications Company Ltd. Pursuant to the terms of the Network Sharing Agreement, HOT Mobile and Partner will each own 50% of a newly formed limited partnership, which shall hold, develop and operate an advanced shared mobile network for both companies. Network Sharing Agreement enables HOT Mobile and Partner to share antennas and frequencies, and facilitates optimum utilization of the spectrum. In addition, while HOT Mobile and Partner will continue to maintain and operate separate core networks, Partner has agreed to grant HOT Mobile a right of use in its cellular communication network for the purpose of providing nation-wide cellular coverage to HOT Mobile's customers.

Also, as part of the engagement the Group will grant a guarantee on behalf of Hot Mobile Ltd. In addition, in several cases as determined in the agreements the Company will be required to grant an additional guarantee for example in case of a change in the finance ranking of the Company. The Network Sharing Agreement is subject to regulatory approvals of the Ministry of communication and the restrictive trade practices controller, which as of the balance sheet date were not achieved.

As a result of this new agreement, the existing agreement with Pelephone will be phased out until the contractual end of the agreement in 2014.

Reduction of Guarantees to the State of Israel

HOT Mobile has informed the Ministry of Communications that as of September 26, 2013, it had reached an average market share in the private sector of 11,3%, constituting an addition of 9.52% on HOT Mobile's market share at the time of the expansion of the general license for the provision of mobile radio telephone services under the cellular method (hereinafter—the license), on September 26, 2011.

In the light of HOT Mobile achieving the market share that is required as of the time of the first check, HOT Mobile has requested the Ministry to reduce the amount of the guarantee that was deposited by HOT Mobile, from an amount of NIS 695,0 (EUR 144,6 million) million to an amount of NIS 80 (EUR 16,6 million) million. This was in addition to an amount of NIS 10,0 (EUR 2,0 million) million that it paid upon the receipt of the license.

As of the date of the approval of the financial statements, the response of the Ministry of Communications has not yet been received and the guarantee therefore remained in the same amount.

ASSURANCE REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE ON THE COMPILATION OF UNAUDITED ILLUSTRATIVE AGGREGATED SELECTED COMBINED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

We have completed our assurance engagement to report on the compilation of the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information of Altice International S.à r.l. (the "Company") by its Board of Managers (the "Board of Managers"). The Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information consists of selected statement of income and cash flow items for the years ended December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2012 (the "Selected Items") and related notes as set out in the Offering Memorandum to be issued by the Company on or around January 22, 2015. The applicable criteria on the basis of which the Board of Managers has compiled Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information are described in Note 1 thereto.

The Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been compiled by the Board of Managers to illustrate the impact of the transactions set out in Note 1 on the Selected Items as if the transactions described in Note 1 (the "Transactions") had taken place on January 1, 2011. As part of this process, the Selected Items pertaining to the Company have been extracted by the Board of Managers from the Company's consolidated financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011 on which an audit report has been published. Also, the Selected Items pertaining to the entities involved in the Transactions have been extracted by the Board of Managers from the relevant financial statements described in Note 1 to the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information.

Board of Director's responsibility for the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information

The Board of Managers is responsible for compiling the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information in accordance with the basis of preparation described in Note 1.

Responsibility of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé

Our responsibility is to express an opinion, about whether the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been compiled, in all material respects, by the Board of Managers in accordance with the basis of preparation described in Note 1.

We conducted our engagement in accordance with International Standard on Assurance Engagements (ISAE) 3420, Assurance Engagements to Report on the Compilation of Pro Forma Financial Information Included in a Prospectus, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board. This standard requires that the réviseur d'entreprises agréé complies with ethical requirements and plans and performs procedures to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Board of Managers has compiled, in all material respects, the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information in accordance with the basis of preparation described in Note 1.

For purposes of this engagement, we are not responsible for updating or reissuing any reports or opinions on any historical financial information used in compiling the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information, nor have we, in the course of this engagement, performed an audit or review of the financial information used in compiling the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information.

The purpose of the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information included in an Offering Memorandum is solely to illustrate the impact of significant events or transactions on unadjusted financial information of the entity as if the events have occurred or the transactions had been undertaken at an earlier date selected for purposes of the illustration. Accordingly, we do not provide any assurance that the actual outcome of the events or transactions at any date would have been as presented.

A reasonable assurance engagement to report on whether the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been compiled, in all material respects, in accordance with the criteria within a defined basis of preparation involves performing procedures to assess whether the applicable criteria used by the Board of Managers in the compilation of the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information provide a reasonable basis for presenting the significant effects directly attributable to the events or transactions, and to obtain sufficient appropriate evidence about whether:

- The related pro forma adjustments give appropriate effect to those criteria; and
- The Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information reflects the proper application of those adjustments to the unadjusted financial information.

The procedures selected depend on the judgment of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé, having regard to the réviseur d'entreprise agréé's understanding of the nature of the company, the event or transaction in respect of which the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been compiled, and other relevant engagement circumstances. The engagement also involves evaluating the overall presentation of the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information.

We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been compiled, in all material respects, in accordance with the basis of preparation described in Note 1 thereto.

Restriction on distribution and use

The Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information has been prepared for the purposes of inclusion within the Offering Memorandum issued by the Company on or around January 22, 2015. As a result, the Unaudited Illustrative Aggregated Selected Combined Financial Information may not be suitable for any other purpose. Our report has been prepared solely for inclusion in the aforementioned Offering Memorandum and may not be suitable for any other purpose.

ILLUSTRATIVE AGGREGATED SELECTED FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF THE GROUP

The following unaudited illustrative aggregated statements of income as of and for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012 (collectively, the “Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information”) present an aggregation of the amounts as derived from the audited historical consolidated financial statements of Altice VII as of and for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012 (the “Historical Financial Statements”), the audited or reviewed financial information of each of the business undertakings acquired between January 1, 2011 and October 15, 2013 if such amounts are not already included within the Historical Financial Statements (the “Pre-Acquisition Financial Information”) and any adjustments needed to align the Pre-Acquisition Financial Statement with the measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS and the accounting policies adopted for the Historical Financial Statements. Such adjustments are made where the measurements and recognition criteria and the accounting policy elections used for the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information differ substantially from the corresponding criteria applicable under the IFRS and the accounting policies used for the purposes of the Historical Financial Statements. These financial statements have not been audited or reviewed. The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information does not aggregate the financial information of Mobius Group Tricom or ODO. For further information regarding the basis of the preparation of the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information, including certain limitations with respect to such financial information, please refer to “Presentation of Financial and Other Information—Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information” and Note 1 below.

The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information should be read in conjunction with the assumptions underlying the adjustments which are described in the notes accompanying them below as well as the historical and other financial statements of Altice VII included elsewhere in the Offering Memorandum. See “Presentation of Financial and Other Information—Financial Data”.

1. BASIS OF PREPARATION

(a) Compilation of available financial information for the Company and the Acquired Businesses

The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012 has been compiled under the responsibility of the Board of Managers of Altice VII S.à r.l. (the “Company”); by aggregating for each of the selected financial statement items the following:

- the amounts relating to the selected financial statement items as derived from the audited historical consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for each of the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012 (collectively the “Historical Financial Statements”) drawn up in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union (“IFRS”);
- the amounts relating to the selected financial statement items as derived from the audited or reviewed financial information of each of the business undertakings acquired between January 1, 2011 and October 15, 2013 (the “Acquired Businesses”) for the periods during which such amounts are not included within the Historical Financial Statements (collectively the “the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information”); and
- the amounts relating to adjustments that have been identified for the purposes of aligning the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information with the measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS and the accounting policies adopted by the Company for the purposes of the Historical Financial Statements (the “Alignment Adjustments”).

(b) The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information has been derived from the following financial information pertaining to the Acquired Businesses:

Year ended December 31, 2011

- the financial statements of Outremer Telecom S.A. (“OMT”) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with IFRS. Such financial statements have been audited by Constantin Associes and Ernst & Young et Autres who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on March 23, 2012;
- the financial statements of Coditel Brabant S.p.r.l. (“CodiBe”) as of and for the period ended July 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with accounting policies and practices applicable in Belgium (“Belgian GAAP”). Such financial statements have been audited by Deloitte Réviseurs d’entreprises S.c r.l. who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on October 1, 2011;
- the annual accounts of Coditel S.à r.l. (“CodiLu”) as of and for the period ended July 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with accounting policies and practices applicable in Luxembourg (“Lux GAAP”). Such annual accounts have been audited by Deloitte S.A. who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on May 31, 2012;
- the special-purpose financial statements of Cabovisao S.A. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with IASB IFRS. Such financial statements have been audited by Baker Tilly, PG & Associados, SROC S.A. have issued a modified review opinion thereon on November 21, 2013; and
- the special-purpose consolidated financial statements of Winreason S.A. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with IFRS. Such financial statements have been audited by Deloitte & Associados SROC, S.A. who have issued a modified audit opinion thereon on September 25, 2013; and
- the financial statements of Ma Chaîne Sport S.A.S. (“MCS”) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011 drawn up in accordance with French GAAP. Such financial statements have been audited by KPMG Audit who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on May 31, 2012.

Year ended December 31, 2012

- the financial statements of Outremer Telecom S.A. (“OMT”) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2012 drawn up in accordance with IFRS. Such financial statements have been audited by Constantin Associes and Ernst & Young et Autres who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on April 18, 2013;
- the special-purpose financial statements of Cabovisao S.A. as of and for the period ended February 29, 2012 drawn up in accordance with IASB IFRS. Such financial statements have been reviewed by Baker Tilly, PG & Associados, SROC, S.A. who have issued a modified audit opinion thereon on October 14, 2013;
- the special-purpose consolidated financial statements of Winreason S.A. as of and for the year ended December 31, 2012 drawn up in accordance with IFRS. Such financial statements have been audited by Deloitte & Associados SROC, S.A. who have issued a modified audit opinion thereon on September 25, 2013;
- the financial statements of Ma Chaîne Sport S.A.S. (“MCS”) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2012 drawn up in accordance with French GAAP. Such financial statements have been audited by KPMG Audit who have issued an unmodified audit opinion thereon on May 23, 2013; and
- the unaudited financial statements of Sportv as of and for the year ended December 31, 2012 drawn up in accordance with IFRS.

The presentation and classification of the selected financial statement items that have been derived from the historical financial statements of the Acquired Businesses have been modified in order to align with the presentation and classification criteria that have been retained for the purposes of the Historical Financial Statements of the Company. Accordingly, certain reclassifications discussed below have been made to the selected financial statement items derived from the historical financial statements of the Acquired Businesses to present the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information that is aligned with the presentation and classification criteria applied by the Company in the preparation of its Historical Consolidated Financial Information.

(c) The Alignment Adjustments

The Alignment Adjustments are primarily composed of the following elements:

- In those instances where the amounts included in the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information have been drawn up in accordance with an accounting framework the measurement and recognition criteria of which differs substantially from the corresponding criteria applicable under IFRS, alignment adjustments have been prepared by the Board of Managers in order to substantially align the contribution of the Acquired Businesses to the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information with the measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS. The key adjustments and any exceptions thereto are described in note 2.
- In those instances where the amounts included in the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information have been drawn up in accordance with accounting policy elections that differ substantially from the accounting policies retained by the Company for the purposes of the Historical Financial Statements no alignment adjustments have been prepared by the Board of Managers in order to substantially align the contribution of the Acquired Businesses to the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information with the accounting policies retained by the Company.

(d) Translation of historical financial information denominated in currencies other than the Euro

The historical financial statements of HOT, from which amounts have been derived in preparing the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information for the year ended December 31, 2011, have been drawn up in Israeli Shekel (“NIS”). The relevant amounts have been translated into Euro (“EUR”), for the purposes of their inclusion within the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information, using the average daily exchange rates over the relevant period as described below:

Period from January 1, 2011 to March 16, 2011 1 NIS = 0.201 EUR

(e) Key limitations to the basis of preparation

The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2012 do not purport to represent the performance, cash flows or financial position that the Company would have reported had the Acquired Businesses been subsidiaries of the Company during the entire length of the periods presented. They also do not purport to represent the performance and cash flows of the Company for any future period or its financial position at any future date. The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information do not reflect the effect of any anticipated synergies and efficiencies associated with combining the ONI group, the OMT Group and the other subsidiaries of the Altice VII Group.

In addition, only a complete set of consolidated financial statements as defined in IAS 1 can provide a fair presentation of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of an entity in accordance with IFRS. The Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information do not purport to represent a complete set of financial statements drawn up in accordance with IFRS, and are solely prepared to illustrate the aggregation of the Historical Financial Statements with the Pre-Acquisition Financial Information.

In preparing the Illustrative Aggregated Selected Financial Information, the Board of Managers has determined that the extent of any transactions between the Company and the Acquired Businesses is negligible, and hence no adjustments relating to the elimination of such transactions or balances have been made.

2. ACCOUNTING FRAMEWORK ALIGNMENT ADJUSTMENTS

(a) Revenues and expenses

IFRS requires discounts to be recognized as a reduction of revenues over the length of the contractual arrangement with the customer. In addition, certain expenses may be restated as capital expenditure based on the nature of the expense.

Alignment adjustment in relation to Coditel S.à r.l.

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information relating to Coditel S.à r.l. is drawn up in accordance with the measurement and recognition criteria of Lux GAAP, which does not require mandatory accounting for disconnection fees. Had Coditel S.à r.l. adopted the aforementioned measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS, illustrative adjustments result in an increase in other operating expenses of 0.1 million EUR for the year ended December 31, 2011.

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information relating to Coditel S.à r.l. relates to the period from January 1, 2011 to July 31, 2011. For the purpose of building the Selected Aggregated Financial Information the Board of Managers recorded the following adjustments which reflect the activity for the period from July 1, 2011 to July 31, 2011: (i) revenues decreased by 1.4 million EUR; (ii) other operating expenses decreased by 0.1 million EUR; (iii) general and administrative expenses decreased by 0.1 million EUR.

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information relating to Coditel Brabant S.p.r.l. is drawn up in accordance with the measurement and recognition criteria of Belgian GAAP, which permits such discounts to be recognized immediately as a reduction to revenues at inception of the contract. Alignment adjustments have been made to record the changes that would result to revenues had Coditel S.p.r.l. adopted the aforementioned measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS. Such illustrative adjustments result in increase to revenue of 0.2 thousand EUR for the year ended December 31, 2011. In addition, Coditel Brabant also applied IFRS adjustments related to the accounting for employee pension benefits and disconnection fees, which resulted in an increase in other operating expenses of 0.3 million EUR.

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information relating to Coditel Brabant S.p.r.l. relates to the period from January 1, 2011 to July 31, 2011. For the purpose of building the Selected Aggregated Financial Information the Board of Managers recorded the following adjustments which reflect the activity for the period from July 1, 2011 to July 31, 2011: (i) revenues decreased by 4.0 million EUR; (ii) purchases and subcontracting services decreased by 0.6 million EUR; (iii) other operating expenses decreased by 0.4 million EUR; (iv) other sales and marketing expenses decreased by 0.2 million EUR; and (v) general and administrative expenses decreased by 0.2 million EUR.

Alignment adjustment in relation to Ma Chaîne Sport SAS.

The Pre-Acquisition Financial Information relating to Ma Chaîne Sport S.A.S. is drawn up in accordance with the measurement and recognition criteria of French GAAP, which permits no capitalisation of costs related to the acquisition of content for delivery to final customers. Given the exclusive nature of such content, IFRS rules allow the capitalisation and recognition of such costs as intangible assets. Had Ma Chaîne Sport adopted the aforementioned measurement and recognition criteria of IFRS, such illustrative adjustments result in a decrease in purchasing and subcontracting costs of 3.4 million EUR and in other operating expenses of 1.1 million EUR for the year ended December 31, 2011 and 4.7 million EUR and 1.6 million EUR for the year ended December 31, 2012.

3. SUPPLEMENTS NOTES TO THE ILLUSTRATIVE STATEMENT OF SELECTED AGGREGATED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REVIEW REPORT

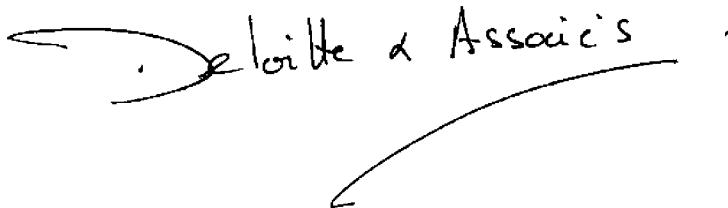

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Orange Dominicana

We have reviewed the accompanying condensed statement of financial position of Orange Dominicana (the "Company") as of September 30, 2013, and the related condensed statements of income, shareholders' equity and of cash flows for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012 (the "interim financial statements"). These interim financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

We conducted our review in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAS") applicable to reviews of interim financial statements. A review of interim financial statements consists principally of applying analytical procedures and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with US GAAS, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to such interim financial statements for them to be in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the IASB.

Notes to the unaudited condensed interim standalone financial statements

Note 1—Basis of preparation of the condensed interim standalone financial statements

This note describes the changes in accounting policies which were used by Orange Dominicana S.A. (hereafter called “ODO”) to prepare its condensed interim financial statements as of September 30, 2013 and for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012 (the “Interim Financial Statements”). The financial statements as of December 31, 2012 and 2011 and for the two years then ended were audited by Deloitte & Associés and signed off on September 18, 2013 (the Financial Statements).

1.1 Basis of presentation and purpose of the financial statements

The condensed financial statements and notes were prepared for the purpose of the disposal of ODO by the Orange Group.

The Interim Financial Statements were prepared in accordance with IAS 34 “Interim Financial Reporting”, as issued by the IASB.

The Interim Financial Statements were prepared using the same accounting policies as the Financial Statements, with the exception of the specific requirements of IAS 34 and the application of the new standards presented in note 1.4.

Where a specific transaction is not dealt with any standard or interpretation, management uses its judgment to define and apply an accounting policy that will result in relevant and reliable information, such that the financial statements:

- present fairly ODO’s financial position, financial performance and cash flows;
- reflect the economic substance of the transactions;
- are neutral;
- are prepared on a prudent basis; and
- are complete in all material respects.

1.2 Uses of estimates and judgment

In preparing ODO’s financial statements, ODO’s management is required to make estimates insofar as many elements included in the financial statements cannot be measured with precision. The underlying assumptions used for the main estimates are similar to those described in the Financial Statements. The management revises these estimates if the underlying circumstances evolve or in light of new information or experience. Consequently, estimates made at September 30, 2013 may subsequently be changed. ODO’s management also uses its judgment to define appropriate accounting policies to apply to certain transactions when the current IFRS standards and interpretations do not specifically deal with related accounting issues.

1.3 New standards and interpretations

- Standard applied from January 1, 2013

Standard		Consequences for ODO
IFRS 13	Fair Value Measurement	This standard is applicable prospectively and has no effect on the fair value currently measured by ODO: The requirements provided by the standard have no effect on the measurements of the fair value of the Company’s financial assets and liabilities.

- Interpretation issued but not earlier applied

Standard	Consequences for ODO
IFRIC 21 Levies	The principal issue raised by this interpretation is about when an entity should recognise a liability to pay a levy imposed by government (other than income taxes). The application of this interpretation might impact the interim net income and its effects are currently being analyzed by ODO. This interpretation is applicable retrospectively from January 1, 2014.

Note 6—Equity

6.1 Share capital

At September 30, 2013, based on the number of issued shares at that date, ODO's share capital amounted to RD$5,800,000,000, comprising 58,000,000 shares with a par value of RD$100 each.

6.2 Legal reserve

In accordance with the article 58 of the commercial Code of the Dominican Republic, the legal reserve is annually contributed by 5% of the net income until the total amount equals 10% of paid-in capital. This reserve cannot be capitalized, transferred to retained earnings or to be used to pay dividends.

6.3 Dividends

ODO's shareholders meeting approved the payment of dividends in May 2013 for a total amount of RD$1,855,350,000.

The Tax Reform Act, No. 253-12, enacted on November 9, 2012 establishes a 10% withholding tax on dividends due by the distributing entity (accounted for as a reduction of equity in accordance with IAS 12—Income Tax). This new act supersedes the prior regime that consisted in a 29% withholding tax on dividends, which was subsequently refunded as a tax credit to the distributing entity, in the same fiscal period.

Note 7—Litigation and unrecognized contractual commitments

7.1 Litigation

As of September 30, 2013, ODO is party to certain judicial procedures with former distributors or dealers, for which no provision is recorded as ODO considers at this stage of the procedure that the claims are without merit.

No significant litigation has occurred since December 31, 2012.

7.2 Unrecognized contractual commitments

No event has significantly impacted the unrecognized contractual commitments since December 31, 2012.

Note 8—Subsequent events

None.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

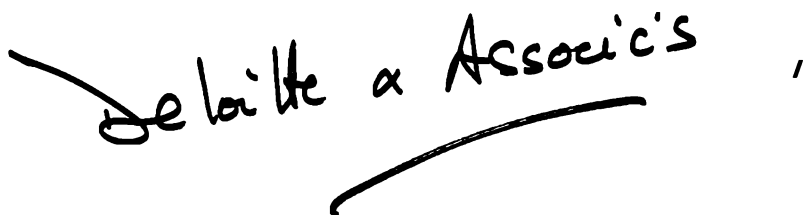

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Orange Dominicana

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Orange Dominicana (the "Company") as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of income, stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the IASB.

Orange Dominicana, S. A.
Notes to the Financial Statements
December 31, 2013 and 2012
(Amounts expressed in Dominican pesos-RD$)

1—Description of business and basis of preparation of the standalone financial statements

1.1 Description of business

Orange Dominicana, S.A. (hereafter called “ODO”), a Company incorporated in accordance with the Dominican Republic laws, began operations on November 13th, 2000. ODO is an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of Orange S.A., French listed Company.

ODO operates under a service concession agreement for the operation of telecommunications services.

ODO provides consumers, businesses and other telecommunication operators with a wide range of services including mobile telecommunications, data transmission and other value-added services.

1.2 Basis of presentation and purpose of the financial statements

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs).

The principles applied to prepare financial data are based on:

- All standards and interpretations compulsory as of December 31, 2013;
- The recognition and measurement alternatives allowed by the IFRSs:

Standard		Alternative used
IAS 2	Inventories	Measurement of inventories determined by the weighted average unit cost method.
IAS 16	Property, Plant and Equipment	Measurement at amortized historical cost
IAS 38	Intangible Assets	Measurement at amortized historical cost

- The available exemptions regarding the retrospective application of IFRSs at the transition date (January 1, 2004 for ODO):

Standard		IFRS 1 alternative used
IAS 16	Property, Plant and Equipment	Measurement of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets at historical cost
IAS 38	Intangible Assets

In the absence of any accounting standard or interpretation, management uses its judgment to define and apply an accounting policy that will result in relevant and reliable information, such that the financial statements:

- Present fairly the ODO’s financial position, financial performance and cash flows;
- Reflect the economic substance of transactions;
- Are neutral;
- Are prepared on a prudent basis; and
- Are complete in all material respects.

1.3 Standards and interpretations compulsory after December 31, 2012 with no early application elected by ODO.

IFRS 13—Fair value measurement—defines fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires disclosures about fair value measurements, including the fair value hierarchy already set out in

IFRS 7. This standard is applicable prospectively and has no expected effect on the fair value currently measured by ODO.

1.4 Use of estimates and judgment

In preparing ODO's financial statements, the management makes estimates, insofar as many elements included in the financial statements cannot be measured with precision. These estimates are revised if the underlying circumstances evolve or in light of new information or experience. Consequently, estimates made at December 31, 2013 may subsequently be changed.

ODO's management also uses its judgment to define appropriate accounting policies to apply to certain transactions when the current IFRS standards and interpretations do not specifically deal with related accounting issues.

The underlying assumptions used for significant estimates are outlined below:

Estimate	Nature of estimate
Note 2.3 Revenue	Identification of separable components of a bundled offer based on the individual components relative fair value period of straight-line recognition of revenue relating to invoiced service access fees depending on the nature of product and historical contractual relationship. Reporting of revenue on a net versus gross basis (depending on an analysis of the ODO's involvement as either principal or agent).
Note 2.5 Purchases and other expenses	Provision for claims and litigation: assumptions underlying legal assessment and risk measurement.
Note 2.10.2 Property, plant and equipment, intangible assets	Assessment of assets' useful life based on assessment of the technological, legal or economic environments.
Note 2.11 Income tax ISR	Assumptions used for the computation of the income tax charge to be recorded in the financial statements, together with the technical merit of tax positions. Assumptions used for recognition of deferred tax assets arising.

2—Accounting policies

2.1 Financial statements preparation principle

Income statement

Expenses are presented in the income statement based on their nature.

Operating income corresponds to net income before:

- Finance income;
- Finance costs;
- Income tax (current and deferred taxes).

Statement of financial position

Current and non-current items are presented separately in the statement of financial position: assets and liabilities with a term of no more than twelve months are classified as current whereas, assets and liabilities with a term of more than twelve months are classified as non-current.

Statement of cash flows

The statement of cash flows is reported using the indirect method starting with the net income and is broken down into three categories:

- Cash flows arising from operating activities (including finance costs and income taxes);
- Cash flows arising from investing activities (mainly purchase and disposal of intangible and tangible assets);
- Cash flows arising from financing activities (dividends paid).

2.2 Foreign operations

The amounts in financial statements are expressed in Dominican pesos. All of the amounts of assets and liabilities in foreign currency are translated into Dominican pesos, at the rate in effect of the date of the financial statements. Transactions of revenues, expenses and others, occurred during current years are translated at the rate in effect on the date of the transaction. Gain and losses resulting from the differences between exchange rates are included as other income (expenses) in the accompanying income statements.

As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, the exchange rates used to exchange the amounts in foreign currency were RD$42.78 and RD$40.25 per US$1.00, respectively for cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable; Euro rate is RD$59.52 and RD$53.78 per €1.00, respectively.

2.3 Revenues

Revenues from ODO's activities are recognized as follows:

2.3.1 Separable components of bundled offers

Certain service offers include two components: an equipment component (e.g. a mobile handset) and a service component (e.g. a talk plan). For the sale of multiple products or services, ODO evaluates all deliverables in the arrangement to determine whether they represent separate units of accounting. A delivered item is considered a separate unit of accounting if (i) it has value to the customer on a standalone basis and (ii) there is objective and reliable evidence of the fair value of the undelivered item(s). The total fixed or determinable amount of the arrangement is allocated to the separate units of accounting based on its relative fair value. However, when an amount allocated to a delivered item is contingent upon the delivery of additional items or meeting specified performance conditions, the amount allocated to that delivered item is limited to the non-contingent amount. This case arises when selling bundled offers that include a handset sold at a discounted price and a telecommunications service contract.

The handset is considered to have value on a standalone basis to the customer, and there is objective and reliable evidence of fair value for the telecommunications service to be delivered. As the amount allocable to the handset generally exceeds the amount received from the customer at the date the handset is delivered, revenue recognized for the handset sale is generally limited to the amount of the arrangement that is not contingent upon the rendering of telecommunication services, i.e. the amount paid by the customer for the handset.

For offers that cannot be separated into identifiable components, revenues are recognized in full over the life of the contract. The main example is connection to the service: this does not represent a separately identifiable transaction from the subscription and communications, and connection fees are therefore recognized over the average expected life of the contractual relationship.

2.3.2 Equipment sales

Revenues from mobile sales are recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to the buyer.

When equipment—associated to the subscription of telecommunication services—is sold by a third party retailer who purchases it from ODO and receives a commission for signing up the customer, the related revenue is:

- Recognized when the equipment is sold to the end-customer;
- Measured by ODO taking into account the best estimate of the retail price and any subsidies granted to the retailer at the time of the sale and passed on to the end-customer in the form of a rebate on the equipment.

2.3.3 Service revenues

Considerations from telephone service are recognized in revenue on a straight-line basis over the subscription period.

Revenue for airtime usage and messaging by customers is recognized as services are performed, with unbilled revenue resulting from services already provided accrued at the end of each period and unearned revenue from services to be provided in future periods deferred. Revenue from the sale of prepaid credit is deferred until such time as the customer uses the airtime, or the credit expires.

2.3.4 Loyalty programs

Points awarded to customers are treated as a separable component to be delivered in the transaction that triggered the acquisition of points. Part of the invoiced revenue is allocated to these points based on their fair value taking into account an estimated utilization rate, and deferred until the date at which the points are definitively converted into benefits. Fair value is defined as the excess price over the sales incentive that would be granted to any new customer. This principle is applied for both types of loyalty programs that exist within ODO, those with and those without a contractual renewal obligation.

2.4 Trade receivables

The trade receivables are mainly short-term, bearing no interest rate and measured at original invoice amount.

The valuation allowance on trade receivables is determined as follows:

- For mobile telephone services: The allowance is computed based on expected loss rates depending upon their aging. These rates are reviewed and adjusted periodically. When a client is determined to be in bankruptcy or subject to equivalent judicial proceedings, the associated receivables are then excluded from the statistical database and individually written-off;
- For dealers, wholesalers, interconnection (local and roaming) and carriers: The impairment loss is determined on a case by case analysis based on the ODO's experience.

2.5 Purchases and operating expenses

Subscriber acquisition and retention costs

Subscriber acquisition and retention costs, other than loyalty programs costs, are recognized as an expense for the period in which they are incurred.

Advertising and sponsoring costs

Advertising, promotion, sponsoring, communications and brand marketing costs are expensed as incurred.

Financing expenses

Expenses from commissions, foreign currency exchange and other financing expenses are recorded with charge to the period result.

2.6 Inventories

The inventories comprise mainly mobile handsets either located in ODO's premises or at distributors until the customer service activation.

The inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value taking into account expected revenues from the sales of mobile phones. Cost corresponds to purchase cost determined using the weighted average cost method.

2.7 Trade payables

Payables are recorded at their nominal value.

2.8 Provisions and contingent liabilities

2.8.1 Provisions

In the ordinary course of business, ODO is involved in certain legal and arbitration proceedings and administrative actions.

The costs which may result from these proceedings are accrued when ODO has a present obligation towards a third party and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and the amount of that liability can be quantified or estimated within a reasonable range. The amount of provision recorded is based on a case-by-case assessment of the risk level, and events arising during the course of legal proceedings may require a reassessment of this risk.

2.8.2 Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are:

- Possible obligations that are not recognized because their existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within ODO's control; or
- Present obligations arising from past events that are not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation or because the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.

2.9 Employee benefits

Labor costs are expensed as incurred including social costs contributed by the Company in accordance with the law 87-01.

This law establishes that the employer will contribute to the financing of the contributing regime, as much for old aged insurance; handicaps (AFP) with 7.10% and family health (SFS) with 7.09% based on the wages and the employee will cover 2.87% and 3.04% respectively.

Employees are not provided with postemployment benefits.

2.10 Intangible assets, property, plant and equipment

2.10.1 Intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise mainly licenses for software and international telecommunication, frequency rights and Indefeasible Rights of Use (IRUs).

IRUs acquired by ODO correspond to the right to use cable or capacity transmission cable granted for a fixed period. They are recognized as an asset when ODO has the specific indefeasible right to use an identified portion of the underlying asset, generally optical fibers or dedicated wavelength bandwidth, and the duration of the right is for the major part of the underlying asset's economic life.

2.10.2 Property, plant and equipments

Property, plant and equipment comprised mainly network equipment.

The gross value of tangible assets corresponds to their acquisition or production cost, including costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

Due to 2004 and 2005 hyperinflation in Dominican Republic, ODO restated its 2004 and 2005 financial statements applying IAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies and adjusted consequently the gross value of assets with the corresponding balance within Shareholders' equity (i.e. Hyperinflation reserve).

The cost of networks includes design and construction costs. Maintenance and repair costs are expensed as incurred, except where they increase the asset's productivity or extend its useful life.

2.10.3 Depreciation

Assets are depreciated, generally with no residual value, on a basis that reflects the pattern in which their future economic benefits are expected to be consumed. The straight-line basis is usually applied. The useful lives are reviewed annually and are adjusted if current estimated useful lives differ from previous estimates: these changes in accounting estimates are recognized prospectively.

Main assets categories	Useful Lives in Years
Licences	3 - 5
Frequencies	10 - 15
IRU (Indefeasible rights of use)	10 - 15
Buildings	30
Antennas and technical equipment installed (sites)	8 - 28
Other technical equipment	3 - 8
Office material and software	3 - 5
Office furniture and equipment	5 - 10
Leased improvements	10

2.10.4 Dismantling

ODO is required to dismantle equipment and restore sites.

The provision is based on dismantling costs (on a per-unit basis for telephone poles, terminals and public phones, and on a per-site basis for mobile antennae) incurred by ODO to meet its environmental commitments and annual estimated asset dismantling and site restorations. The provision is assessed on the basis of the identified costs for the current financial year, extrapolated for future years using the best estimate of the commitment settlement. It is discounted at a risk-free rate. This estimate is revised annually and adjusted where appropriate against the asset to which it relates.

2.11 Financial instruments

The International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) require the disclosure of the estimated value of financial instruments, when it is practical to estimate their fair market value. The method and assumptions used to estimate the fair value of the active financial instruments like cash and cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable and payable, consisted in the approximate book value given the short expiration time of these instruments.

2.12 Income tax

Current tax is measured by ODO at the amount expected to be paid or recovered from the taxation authorities, based on its interpretation with regard to the application of tax legislation.

Deferred taxes are recognized for all temporary differences between the book values of assets and liabilities and their tax basis, using the liability method. Deferred tax assets are recognized only when their recovery is considered probable.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

At reporting period end, ODO reviews the recoverable amount of the deferred tax assets.

In accordance with these principles, ODO calculates the tax assets, liabilities and accruals recognized in the statement of financial position based on the technical merits of the positions it defends versus that of the tax authorities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the expected tax rates for the year during which the assets will be realized and the liabilities settled on the basis of tax rates in force or substantially in force at the period end.

2.13 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are defined as cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term investments with original maturity at the date of acquisition of three month or less.

3—Financial risk management

The Company is exposed to the following risks related to the use of financial instruments:

- Credit Risk
- Liquidity Risk
- Market Risk

3.1 Credit Risk

It is the risk of financial loss of the company if a client or the counterpart of a financial instrument, do not fulfill its contractual obligations. It comes from Cash and Receivables accounts mainly. This risk is primarily impacted by the quality and characteristics of every client.

The revenues of the Company are the results from the telecommunication services and the sale of mobiles. Accounts receivable arise with the billing to our customers and sales to wholesalers and distributors.

The company estimates the potential losses on the trade receivable accounts and other receivables based on specific components related to individual characteristics for which there is a reserve for bad debt.

3.2 Liquidity Risk

It is the risk that the company does not meet its financial obligations when dues. The policy of the company in regards to the management of the liquidity risk is to have, to the extent possible, sufficient liquidity to redeem all the current liabilities at their corresponding maturities, under normal circumstances as well as in economic crisis also without having to incur in unacceptable losses or risk damaging the company's reputation.

3.3 Market Risk

It is the risk of changes in the market price (or rates) such as exchange rates of foreign currency and interest rates that might have an impact on the net results or the value of the financial instruments owned by the company. The objective of this management is to control the exposure to this risk within acceptable parameters while improving the return of this risk.

The company is exposed to the foreign exchange risk in the purchase of goods and services denominated in dollars (US$) and euros (EUR), which are currencies different from the reporting currency of the company, as well as for keeping assets and liabilities in those currencies without having a financial instrument to cover the exchange risk.

20—Share capital

The General Assembly of Shareholders decided on December 19, 2012 the capitalization of retained earnings to increase the authorized capital by adding 38,000,000 shares. Therefore the new amount of shares is 58,000,000 at RD$100 each.

As of December 31, 2013 and 2012 the outstanding capital paid is composed by 58,000,000 shares for a total amount of RD$5,800,000,000.

21—Legal reserve

The Commercial Code of the Dominican Republic in its article number 58 provides that the Company appropriate no less than 5% annually of net annual result until the total appropriated amount equals 10% of paid in capital. This reserve cannot be capitalized, transferred to retained earnings or to use to pay dividends.

22—Remittance of dividends

ODO shareholders meeting approved the payment of dividends in May 2013 for a total amount of RD$1,855,350,000.

In November 2012 was enacted the law 253-12 of fiscal reform, establishing that dividend payments will be subject to withholding and payment of 10% of income tax as a unique payment, but not constitute anymore a tax credit for the Company.

23—Foreign currency balances

ODO is exposed to foreign exchange risk due both to its revenues and purchases denominated in US dollars and euros. As a consequence, these foreign operations have a direct effect on the operating, finance income and the trade receivables and payables.

(a) In February 2009, Orange S. A. and ODO signed a centralized treasury management agreement (CTMA). Orange S. A. thus optimizes the Group liquidity. ODO lends or borrows its cash surplus/needs through a current account with Orange S. A.

The cash pooling accounts bear interest which is calculated on a daily balance and on a daily basis using:

- for the EUR account: EONIA rate for a credit balance and EONIA plus 2.15% margin for a debit balance
- for the USD account: LIBOR Overnight rate for a credit balance and LIBOR Overnight plus 2.15% margin for a debit balance

(b) The utilization of the Orange brand name is defined in a brand license agreement signed with Orange Group and costs a 1.6% fee of the ODO's monthly operating revenue.

(c) Management fees are determined in accordance with an agreement signed with Orange S. A. and are charged using a 1.03% on the monthly contributive operational revenue in 2012.

25—Unrecognized contractual commitments

As at December 31, 2013 and 2012 the contractual commitments are as follows:

Leasing commitments

The Company keeps operating rent agreements with enterprises and physical persons for the concept of commercial offices rent, parking, housing, and signal transmission antennas. Almost always these agreements are automatically renewable and are monthly, quarterly or four-monthly paid. During the years ended as of December 2013 and 2012, the Company paid for this concept the amounts of RD$632,221,641 and RD$563,689,755, respectively. The commitment for 2014 for this concept is an estimated RD$604,992,425.

Handset purchase commitments	1,095,445,309

- Other opex commitment are relating to marketing, network, gas distribution and civil engineering.
- Capital expenditures mainly related to network projects.

26—Litigation

As of December 31, 2013, ODO is party of certain judicial procedures with former distributors or dealers, for which no provision is recorded as ODO considers at this stage of the procedure that the claims are without merit.

27—Financial Instruments

The financial risks to which the Company is exposed are presented in the following paragraphs.

Foreign exchange risks

The Company is exposed to risk profit or loss in the fluctuation of the exchange rates of foreign currencies that arise, principally the US dollar and Euro. During the year 2003 an accelerated depreciation of the local currency occurred. Nevertheless since the middle of the year 2005 and 2006, the Dominican currency (DOP) has strengthened in relation to the American dollar and Euro and has been quite stable ever since. As of December 2013 and 2012, the Company has assets and liabilities in US dollars and Euros. See note 23.

Credit risk

As of December 31, 2013, credit risk exposure is very limited. Such risk is that Company cannot recover the accounts receivable. The major credit risk is represented by balance of each financial asset. The Company for controlling the credit risks and collects the balances with local distributors imposes to open letters of credit as a warranty to cover any issue that may come up from those clients.

Liquidity Risk

Management is conscious of the implications of liquidity risk. In that sense, it maintains an adequate cash balance.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

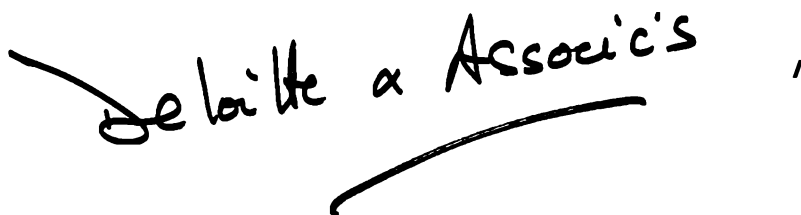

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Orange Dominicana

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Orange Dominicana (the "Company") as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statements of income, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the IASB.

Orange Dominicana, S.A.
Notes to the standalone financial statements

Note 1—Description of business and basis of preparation of the standalone financial statements

1.1 Description of business

Orange Dominicana, S.A. (hereafter called “ODO”), a company incorporated in accordance with the Dominican Republic laws, began operations on November 13th 2000. ODO is an indirectly wholly-owned subsidiary of Orange S.A., a French listed company.

ODO operates under a service concession agreement for the operation of telecommunications services. ODO provides consumers, businesses and other telecommunication operators with a wide range of services including mobile telecommunications, data transmission and other value added services.

1.2 Basis of presentation and purpose of the financial statements

These financial statements have been prepared in the context of the proposed sale of ODO by its sole shareholder and for use in any offering documents relating to securities that may be offered by ODO.

They have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs).

The principles applied to prepare financial data are based on:

- all standards and interpretations compulsory as of December 31, 2012;
- the recognition and measurement alternatives allowed by the IFRSs:

Standard	Alternative used
IAS 2 Inventories	Measurement of inventories determined by the weighted average unit cost method
IAS 16 Property, Plant and Equipment	Measurement at amortized historical cost
IAS 38 Intangible Assets	Measurement at amortized historical cost
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the available exemptions regarding the retrospective application of IFRSs at the transition date (January 1, 2004 for ODO):

Standard	IFRS 1 alternative used
IAS 16 and IAS 38 Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible Assets	Measurement of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets at historical cost

In the absence of any accounting standard or interpretation, management uses its judgment to define and apply an accounting policy that will result in relevant and reliable information, such that the financial statements:

- present fairly the ODO’s financial position, financial performance and cash flows;
- reflect the economic substance of transactions;
- are neutral;
- are prepared on a prudent basis; and
- are complete in all material respects.

1.3 Standards and interpretations compulsory after December 31, 2012 with no early application elected by ODO

IFRS 13—Fair value measurement—defines fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires disclosures about fair value measurements, including the fair value hierarchy already set out in

Orange Dominicana, S.A.

Note 1—Description of business and basis of preparation of the standalone financial statements (Continued)

IFRS 7. This standard is applicable prospectively and has no expected effect on the fair value currently measured by ODO.

1.4 Use of estimates and judgment

In preparing ODO's financial statements, the management makes estimates, insofar as many elements included in the financial statements cannot be measured with precision. These estimates are revised if the underlying circumstances evolve or in light of new information or experience. Consequently, estimates made at December 31, 2012 may subsequently be changed.

ODO's management also uses its judgment to define appropriate accounting policies to apply to certain transactions when the current IFRS standards and interpretations do not specifically deal with related accounting issues.

The underlying assumptions used for significant estimates are outlined below:

Estimate		Nature of estimate
Note 3.1	Revenue	Identification of separable components of a bundled offer based on the individual components relative fair value Period of straight-line recognition of revenue relating to invoiced service access fees depending on the nature of product and historical contractual relationship Reporting of revenue on a net versus gross basis (depending on an analysis of the ODO's involvement as either principal or agent)
Note 4	Purchases and other expenses	Provision for claims and litigation: assumptions underlying legal assessment and risk measurement
Note 6	Property, plant and equipment, intangible assets	Assessment of assets' useful life based on assessment of the technological, legal or economic environments
Note 7	Income tax	Assumptions used for the computation of the income tax charge to be recorded in the financial statements, together with the technical merit of tax positions Assumptions used for recognition of deferred tax assets arising

Note 2—Accounting policies

2.1 Financial statements preparation principle

Presentation

Income statement

Expenses are presented in the income statement based on their nature.

Operating income corresponds to net income before:

- finance income;
- finance costs;
- income tax (current and deferred taxes).

Orange Dominicana, S.A.

Statement of financial position

Current and non-current items are presented separately in the statement of financial position: assets and liabilities with a term of no more than twelve months are classified as current whereas, assets and liabilities with a term of more than twelve months are classified as noncurrent.

Statement of cash flows

The statement of cash flows is reported using the indirect method starting with the net income and is broken down into three categories:

- cash flows arising from operating activities (including finance costs and income taxes);
- cash flows arising from investing activities (mainly purchase and disposal of intangible and tangible assets);
- cash flows arising from financing activities (dividends paid).

Foreign operations

The financial statements are expressed in Dominican pesos.

Monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currency are translated into Dominican pesos at the year-end exchange rate at the end of each reporting period and the resulting translation differences are recorded in:

- in operating income for commercial transactions;
- in finance income or finance costs for financial transactions.

Foreign operations are recorded on initial recognition at the spot exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

2.2 Revenues

Revenues

Revenues from ODO's activities are recognized as follows:

Separable components of bundled offers

Certain service offers include two components: an equipment component (e.g. a mobile handset) and a service component (e.g. a talk plan).

For the sale of multiple products or services, ODO evaluates all deliverables in the arrangement to determine whether they represent separate units of accounting. A delivered item is considered a separate unit of accounting if (i) it has value to the customer on a standalone basis and (ii) there is objective and reliable evidence of the fair value of the undelivered item(s). The total fixed or determinable amount of the arrangement is allocated to the separate units of accounting based on its relative fair value. However, when an amount allocated to a delivered item is contingent upon the delivery of additional items or meeting specified performance conditions, the amount allocated to that delivered item is limited to the non-contingent amount. This case arises when selling bundled offers that include a handset sold at a discounted price and a telecommunications service contract. The handset is considered to have value on a standalone basis to the customer, and there is objective and reliable evidence of fair value for the telecommunications service to be delivered. As the amount allocable to the handset generally exceeds the amount received from the customer at the date the handset is delivered, revenue recognized for the handset sale is generally limited to the amount of the arrangement that is not contingent upon the rendering of telecommunication services, i.e. the amount paid by the customer for the handset.

For offers that cannot be separated into identifiable components, revenues are recognized in full over the life of the contract. The main example is connection to the service: this does not represent a separately identifiable transaction from the subscription and communications, and connection fees are therefore recognized over the average expected life of the contractual relationship.

Equipment sales

Revenues from mobile sales are recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to the buyer.

When equipment—associated to the subscription of telecommunication services—is sold by a third party retailer who purchases it from ODO and receives a commission for signing up the customer, the related revenue is:

- recognized when the equipment is sold to the end-customer;
- measured by ODO taking into account the best estimate of the retail price and any subsidies granted to the retailer at the time of the sale and passed on to the end-customer in the form of a rebate on the equipment

Service revenues

Considerations from telephone service are recognized in revenue on a straight-line basis over the subscription period.

Revenue for airtime usage and messaging by customers is recognized as services are performed, with unbilled revenue resulting from services already provided accrued at the end of each period and unearned revenue from services to be provided in future periods deferred. Revenue from the sale of prepaid credit is deferred until such time as the customer uses the airtime, or the credit expires.

Loyalty programs

Points awarded to customers are treated as a separable component to be delivered in the transaction that triggered the acquisition of points. Part of the invoiced revenue is allocated to these points based on their fair value taking into account an estimated utilization rate, and deferred until the date at which the points are definitively converted into benefits. Fair value is defined as the excess price over the sales incentive that would be granted to any new customer. This principle is applied for both types of loyalty programs that exist within ODO, those with and those without a contractual renewal obligation.

Trade receivables

The trade receivables are mainly short-term, bearing no interest rate and measured at original invoice amount.

The valuation allowance on trade receivables is determined as follows:

- for mobile telephone services: the allowance is computed based on expected loss rates depending upon their aging. These rates are reviewed and adjusted periodically. When a client is determined to be in bankruptcy or subject to equivalent judicial proceedings, the associated receivables are then excluded from the statistical database and individually written-off;
- for dealers, wholesalers, interconnection (local and roaming) and carriers: the impairment loss is determined on a case by case analysis based on the ODO's experience.

Orange Dominicana, S.A.

2.3 Purchases and operating expenses

Subscriber acquisition and retention costs

Subscriber acquisition and retention costs, other than loyalty programs costs, are recognized as an expense for the period in which they are incurred.

Advertising and sponsoring costs

Advertising, promotion, sponsoring, communications and brand marketing costs are expensed as incurred.

Inventories

The inventories comprise mainly mobile handsets either located in ODO's premises or at distributors until the customer service activation.

The inventories are stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value taking into account expected revenues from the sales of mobile phones. Cost corresponds to purchase cost determined using the weighted average cost method.

Trade payables

Payables are recorded at their nominal value

Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions

In the ordinary course of business, ODO is involved in certain legal and arbitration proceedings and administrative actions.

The costs which may result from these proceedings are accrued when ODO has a present obligation towards a third party and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and the amount of that liability can be quantified or estimated within a reasonable range. The amount of provision recorded is based on a case-by-case assessment of the risk level, and events arising during the course of legal proceedings may require a reassessment of this risk.

Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are:

- possible obligations that are not recognized because their existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within ODO's control; or
- present obligations arising from past events that are not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation or because the amount of the obligation cannot be measured with sufficient reliability.

2.4 Employee benefits

Labor costs are expensed as incurred including social costs contributed by the Company in accordance with the law 87-01.

Employees are not provided with postemployment benefits.

Orange Dominicana, S.A.

2.5 Intangible assets, property, plant and equipment

Intangible assets

Intangible assets comprise mainly licenses for software and international telecommunication, frequency rights and Indefeasible Rights of Use (IRUs).

IRUs acquired by ODO correspond to the right to use cable or capacity transmission cable granted for a fixed period. They are recognized as an asset when ODO has the specific indefeasible right to use an identified portion of the underlying asset, generally optical fibers or dedicated wavelength bandwidth, and the duration of the right is for the major part of the underlying asset's economic life.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment comprised mainly network equipment.

The gross value of tangible assets corresponds to their acquisition or production cost, including costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

Due to 2004 and 2005 hyperinflation in Dominican Republic, ODO restated its 2004 and 2005 financial statements applying IAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies and adjusted consequently the gross value of assets with the corresponding balance within Shareholders' equity (i.e. Hyperinflation reserve).

The cost of networks includes design and construction costs. Maintenance and repair costs are expensed as incurred, except where they increase the asset's productivity or extend its useful life.

Depreciation

Assets are depreciated, generally with no residual value, on a basis that reflects the pattern in which their future economic benefits are expected to be consumed. The straight-line basis is usually applied. The useful lives are reviewed annually and are adjusted if current estimated useful lives differ from previous estimates: these changes in accounting estimates are recognized prospectively.

Main assets categories	Useful life (in years)
Licences	3 - 5
Frequencies	10 - 15
IRU (Indefeasible rights of use)	10 - 15
Buildings	30
Antennas and technical equipment (sites)	8 - 28
Other technical equipment	3 - 8
Office material and software	3 - 5
Office furniture and equipment	5 - 10
Leasehold improvements	10

Dismantling

ODO is required to dismantle equipment and restore sites.

The provision is based on dismantling costs (on a per-unit basis for telephone poles, terminals and public phones, and on a per-site basis for mobile antennae) incurred by ODO to meet its environmental commitments and annual estimated asset dismantling and site restorations. The provision is assessed on the basis of the identified costs for the current financial year, extrapolated for future years using the best estimate of the commitment settlement. It is discounted at a risk-free rate. This estimate is revised annually and adjusted where appropriate against the asset to which it relates.

Orange Dominicana, S.A.

2.6 Income tax

Current tax is measured by ODO at the amount expected to be paid or recovered from the taxation authorities, based on its interpretation with regard to the application of tax legislation.

Deferred taxes are recognized for all temporary differences between the book values of assets and liabilities and their tax basis, using the liability method. Deferred tax assets are recognized only when their recovery is considered probable.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

At reporting period end, ODO reviews the recoverable amount of the deferred tax assets.

In accordance with these principles, ODO calculates the tax assets, liabilities and accruals recognized in the statement of financial position based on the technical merits of the positions it defends versus that of the tax authorities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the expected tax rates for the year during which the assets will be realized and the liabilities settled on the basis of tax rates in force or substantially in force at the period end.

2.7 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and cash at banks as well as short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition.

The Law No.309-12 was enacted on December 7, 2012, with the objective of granting the possibility of a tax amnesty to tax payers regarding the following taxes: income tax, value added tax, asset tax, transfer tax, inheritance tax, property taxes and customs taxes. The main benefits of the tax amnesty include closing fiscal periods up to 2011 for tax audit purposes; waive of penalties regarding existing tax liabilities, including those appealed by the tax payer. Orange did not apply for the tax amnesty.

Note 9—Equity

9.1 Share capital

The shareholders' meeting decided the conversion of the retained earnings into share capital on December 19, 2012. The share capital therefore, increased by 38,000,000 shares, and is now made of 58,000,000 shares each at a par value of RD$100. There are no outstanding shares as of December 31, 2012.

9.2 Legal reserve

In accordance with the article 58 of the commercial Code of the Dominican Republic, the legal reserve is annually contributed by 5% of the net income until the total amount equals 10% of paid-in capital. This reserve cannot be capitalized, transferred to retained earnings or to use to pay dividends.

9.3 Dividends

ODO's shareholders meeting approved the payment of dividends in April, September and November 2012 for a total amount of RD$469,320,000; 667,760,000 and RD$2,207,700,000 respectively.

The Tax Reform Act, No. 253-12, enacted on November 9, 2012 establishes a 10% withholding tax on dividends due by the distributing entity. This new act supersedes the prior regime that consisted in a 29% withholding tax on dividends, which was subsequently refunded as a tax credit to the distributing entity, in the same fiscal period. The dividends paid in April and September 2012 were taxed under the former regime.

Note 10—Foreign currency

ODO is exposed to foreign exchange risk due both to its revenues and purchases denominated in US dollars and euros. As a consequence, these foreign operations have a direct effect on the operating, finance income and the trade receivables and payables.

(a) In February 2009, Orange SA and ODO signed a centralized treasury management agreement (CTMA). Orange S.A. thus optimizes the Group liquidity. ODO lends or borrows its cash surplus/needs through a current account with Orange SA. The cash pooling accounts bear interest which is calculated on a daily balance and on a daily basis using:

- for the EUR account: EONIA rate for a credit balance and EONIA plus 2.15% margin for a debit balance
- for the USD account: LIBOR Overnight rate for a credit balance and LIBOR Overnight plus 2.15% margin for a debit balance

(b) The utilization of the Orange brand name is defined in a brand license agreement signed with Orange Group and costs a 1.6% fee of the ODO's monthly operating revenue.

(c) Management fees are determined in accordance with an agreement signed with Orange SA and are charged using a 1.03% on the monthly contributive operational revenue in 2012.

PT Comunicações
Notes to the Financial Statements
As at 30 September 2014
(Amounts stated in Euros)

1. Introduction

PT Comunicações, S.A. (“PT Comunicações” or the “Company”) was incorporated in 2000, in accordance with a resolution from the General Meeting of Portugal Telecom, S.A. on April 27, 2000 within the business restructuring process in Portugal Telecom Group and by spin-off from Portugal Telecom, S.A. The conditions for this spin-off were defined under Decree-Law no. 219/00, of September 9, and Joint Order no. 936-A/2000 issued by the Ministers for Social Provision and for Finance on September 14. On 30 September 2006, under the restructuring process of the Group Portugal Telecom, Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS”) sold to PT Portugal, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”—a sub-Holding company of the Group) all of the shares of PT Comunicações.

The concession that had been granted by the Portuguese government to PT Comunicações, with an initial term expiring in 2025, was formally revoked on 1 June 2014, as from which Zon Optimus replaced the Company as the universal service provider of access to a public electronic communications network at a fixed location. Under the terms of an agreement entered into with the Portuguese Government in November 2013, the Company was entitled to a compensation for the termination of the concession agreement, which was received in September 2014, amounting to Euro 32 million.

On 5 May 2014, Portugal Telecom SGPS, S.A. (“Portugal Telecom”) subscribed a share capital increase of Oi, S.A. (“Oi”) through the contribution in kind of its 100% interest in PT Portugal SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”). Following this transaction, PT Portugal became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oi and is now the parent company of the group in Portugal, while Portugal Telecom no longer controls PT Portugal and its subsidiaries. The Company’s only shareholder continues to be PT Comunicações which in turn also continues to be a wholly-owned subsidiary of PT Portugal. Consequently, as from 5 May 2014, the Company is indirectly a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oi.

During the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, in connection with an internal corporate restructuring of PT Group for purposes of the Oi share capital increase undertaken on 5 May 2014, the following transactions involving either the company or its subsidiaries were completed:

- On 30 April 2014, PT Móveis, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Móveis”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Meo, S.A., subscribed a share capital increase of Bratel BV by an amount of Euro 1,303 million;
- On 2 May 2014, PT Móveis disposed to Portugal Telecom, for an amount of Euro 4,195 million its 100% interest in Bratel BV, the company that held the investment in Oi, indirectly through Bratel Brasil, S.A. (“Bratel Brasil”). This operation generate a net loss of Euro 950 million recorded by PT Móveis which includes, (1) a capital gain of Euro 50 million reflecting the difference between the selling price (Euro 4,195 million) and the carrying value of the investment in Bratel BV (Euro 4,145 million) and (2) the transfer to net income of the cumulative amount of negative foreign currency translation adjustments that were recorded directly in shareholders’ equity between March 2011 (Oi’s acquisition date) and 2 May 2014, in the amount of Euro 950 million;
- On 2 May 2014, Portugal Telecom disposed to PT Móveis, for a total amount of Euro 2.240 million, its 100% interest in PT Participações, SGPS, S.A., the company that held, indirectly, a 75% interest in Africatel Holdings BV.

2. Basis of presentation

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with Portuguese legislation, based on Decree-law nº. 158/2009, which approved the new Portuguese accounting system, named Sistema de Normalização Contabilística (“SNC”), including the conceptual structure, Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro (“NCRF”) and Interpretative Standards, as approved by Notices nº 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009, respectively. As permitted by Decree-Law nº. 158/2009, the Company also applies the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IAS/IFRS”) and related interpretations (“SIC/IFRIC”) issued by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), in order to fill in the gaps or omissions in SNC regarding specific situations of certain transactions.

2. Basis of presentation (Continued)

As the Portuguese accounting system does not cover interim financial reporting, these interim financial statements have been presented in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting (“IAS 34”) and therefore do not include all the information required by above mentioned Portuguese accounting system. Accordingly, these interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2013.

3. Cash flows

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, the caption “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits immediately available, net of bank overdrafts.

The Company is exposed to a liquidity risk if its sources of funding, including cash balance, operating cash inflows, divestments and cash flows obtained from financing operations, do not match with our financing needs, such as operating and financing outflows, investments, shareholder remuneration and debt repayments. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, on the available cash and in the possibility to obtain financing from PT Portugal under the centralized cash management system, the Company believes that it is able to meet its obligations.

The cash flow statement was prepared in accordance with “NCRF 2 Statement of Cash Flows”, which includes the following:

(a) Cash receipts (payments) relating to income taxes

Under the special taxation regime for Groups of companies the Company paid to PT Portugal Euro 3,604,738 and Euro 1,775,430 in the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013, respectively (Note 6).

(b) Cash receipts resulting from the disposal of tangible fixed assets

The increase in this caption reflects primarily the sale of tangible fixed assets to PT Cloud e Data Centers, a group company, in connection with an internal restructuring of the group.

(c) Cash receipts resulting from the disposal of financial investments

In the nine months period ended 30 September 2013, this caption corresponds to the proceeds of Euro 35,966,391 obtained from the disposal of the 3% interest previously held in CTM.

(d) Cash receipts resulting from loans granted

This caption corresponds to repayments of Euro 5,677,520 by Fibroglobal in the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 and repayments of Euro 340,000,000 by Meo, S.A. in the nine months period ended 30 September 2013, both of which relating to loans granted by PT Comunicações to these entities in previous periods.

(e) Dividends received

In the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013, PT Comunicações received dividends from Multicert, amounting to Euro 235,706 (Note 5), and from CTM, amounting to Euro 2,703,029, respectively.

5. Financial investments—Equity method of accounting (Continued)

In the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, Multicert paid dividends to the Company amounting to Euro 235.706 (Note 3.d).

The movements under the caption “Non-current assets held for sale” correspond to the carrying value of the investment in Sportinveste, which was classified as held for sale as at 31 December 2013 and is no longer classified as held for sale as at 30 September 2014 since the Portuguese Competition Authority rejected the business combination that supported the held for sale classification as at 31 December 2013.

6. Income tax

In 2013, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 25%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rate of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million and at the rate of 5.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 7.5 million.

In 2014, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 23%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rates of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million, 5.0% on taxable income between Euro 7.5 million and Euro 35.0 million and 7.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 35.0 million, resulting in a maximum aggregate tax rate of approximately 31.5% for taxable income higher than Euro 35.0 million.

As the Company reported tax losses for both nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013, neither the 1.5% municipal tax nor the state taxes are applicable.

The Company’s income taxes are computed based on the tax rate mentioned above and are determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation.

PT Portugal has adopted the tax consolidation regime in Portugal (currently known as the Special Regime for the Taxation of Groups of Companies), under which the provision for income taxes is determined on the basis of the estimated taxable income for all the companies in which PT Portugal holds at least 75% of the share capital and that are domiciled in Portugal and subject to Corporate Income Tax (IRC). PT Portugal is still waiting for the approval from the tax authorities in relation to the use of this tax consolidation regime in 2014, since PT Portugal only became the parent company of the group in Portugal as from 5 May 2014, following the contribution in kind made by Portugal Telecom to the Oi share capital increase consisting of its 100% interest in PT Portugal (Note 1). The Company is part of the Special Taxation Regime for Groups of Companies and, as a result, the income tax estimate and deductions made by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable and receivable of PT Portugal.

8.2. Tax contingencies and legal actions

a) Proceedings with probable losses

The provision for taxes is to cover several Corporate Income Tax and Social Security contingencies, as well as other taxes and fees.

The provision for legal processes in progress is to cover liabilities resulting from processes brought against the Company, estimated based on information from its lawyers.

As at 30 September 2014, the Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external lawyers, classified several legal and arbitration processes in progress and tax contingencies as of probable loss and so it recorded provisions in accordance with NCRF 21—Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and

8.3. Description of the main claims with regulatory entities and other legal proceedings

The following litigation processes relate to the main claims and legal proceedings filed by regulatory entities against PT Comunicações, some of which the Company considers, based on the advice of its internal and external legal counsels that related losses are remote, in accordance with the definitions of NCRF 21.

a) Claims for municipal taxes and fees

Pursuant to a statute enacted on 1 August 1997, as an operator of a basic telecommunications network, Portugal Telecom was exempt from municipal taxes and rights-of-way and other fees with respect to its network in connection with its obligations under the Concession. The Portuguese Government has advised Portugal Telecom in the past that this statute confirmed the tax exemption under our Concession. The Portuguese Government has informed Portugal Telecom it will continue to take the necessary actions in order for PT Comunicações to maintain the economic benefits contemplated by the Concession.

Law 5/2004, dated 10 February 2004, established a new rights-of-way regime in Portugal whereby each municipality may establish a fee, up to a maximum of 0.25% of each wireline services bill, to be paid by the customers of those wireline operators whose network infrastructures are located in each such municipality. This regime was implemented in 2005 but does not affect the lawsuit described above based on the former statute. Meanwhile, Decree-Law 123/2009, dated 21 May 2009, clarified that no other tax should be levied by the municipalities in addition to the tax established by Law 5/2004. This interpretation was confirmed by the Supreme Administrative Court of Portugal in various legal actions.

As at 30 September 2014
(Amounts stated in Euros)

8. Provisions and contingent liabilities (Continued)

Some municipalities however, continue to interpret that the Law 5/2004 does not expressly revoke other taxes that the municipalities wish to establish, because Law 5/2004 is not applicable to the public municipality domain. Currently, there are legal proceedings filed by some municipalities regarding this matter.

b) Regulatory proceedings

Portugal Telecom's operations are regularly subject to regulatory inquiries and investigations involving their operations. In addition, ANACOM (the telecommunications regulator), the European Commission, and the Autoridade da Concorrência (the competition authority) regularly make inquiries and conduct investigations concerning compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Current inquiries and investigations include several investigations by the (Autoridade da Concorrência) related to PT Comunicações for alleged anti-competitive practices in the Digital Terrestrial Television market. The Company believes that most of the complaints that have resulted in such investigations should be dismissed due to the nature of the alleged abuses and the novelty of the relevant antitrust laws. However, if PT Comunicações is found to be in violation of applicable laws and regulations in these or other regulatory inquiries and investigations, it could become subject to penalties, fines, damages or other sanctions. It is however permitted under Portuguese law to appeal any adverse decision to the Courts.

c) Other legal proceedings

In March 2004, TV TEL Grande Porto—Comunicações, SA. ("TVTEL"), a telecommunications company based in Oporto, filed a claim against PT Comunicações in the Lisbon Judicial Court. TV TEL alleged that, since 2001, PT Comunicações has unlawfully restricted access to its telecommunication ducts in Oporto, thereby undermining and delaying the installation and development of TV TEL's telecommunications network. TV TEL alleges that PT Comunicações intended to favor both itself and CATVP—TV Cabo Portugal, S.A, a PT Multimedia subsidiary and at the time a direct competitor of TV TEL. TV TEL is claiming an amount of approximately Euro 15 million from Portugal Telecom for damages and losses allegedly caused and yet to be sustained by that company as a result of the delay in the installation of its telecommunications network in Oporto. In addition, TV TEL has demanded that PT Comunicações be required to give full access to its ducts in Oporto. PT Comunicações submitted its defence to these claims, stating that: (1) TV TEL did not have a general right to install its network in PT Comunicações' ducts; (2) all of TV TEL's requests were lawfully and timely responded to by PT Comunicações according to its general infra-structure management policy; and (3) TV TEL's claims for damages and losses were not factually sustainable. On February 2013, the court decided a compensation related to increased costs of financing incurred and a value regarding loss of clients to be liquidated by TV TEL. Both parties have appealed and the Lisbon Judicial Court has ruled a decision in favour of PT Comunicações on 5 June 2014, decision that extended the scope of the trial, as a result of which a new trial date is expected.

In March 2011, Optimus—Comunicações S.A. ("Optimus") filed a claim against Portugal Telecom in the Judicial Court of Lisbon for the payment of approximately Euro 11 million related to a proceeding of the Autoridade da Concorrência that terminated in 2011 for prescription reasons, in relation to which Autoridade da Concorrência had imposed a fine to Portugal Telecom of approximately Euro 45 million. Optimus sustained his position by arguing that suffered losses and damages as a result of the Company's conduct. Currently, a collegial expertise is underway.

8.4. Tax contingencies

In addition to the tax contingencies mentioned above, the risk of loss of which was deemed as either probable or possible (Note 8.2), there are other tax claims pending appeal or judicial decision, totalling Euro 22 million, which include primarily (1) tax assessments filed by the tax authorities with respect to the income tax from 1997 to 1998 of Portugal Telecom, SA and Marconi, and for 2002 and 2010 of PT Comunicações, and (2) additional payments of VAT from 2000 to 2004. The Company's opinion, based on the advice of its tax and legal counsel, is that the risk of loss associated with these claims is remote.

9. Loans obtained

Loans obtained as at 30 September 2014 and 31 December 2013 are as follows:

	30 Sep 2014		31 Dec 2013
	Non-current	Current	Non-current	Current
	Euro
Intragroup loans	6,337,350,000	—	3,779,000,000	—

9.1. Loans to Group companies

During the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2013 and 2014, the Company obtained additional loans from PT Portugal amounting to Euro 252,000,000 and Euro 2,558,350,000 (Note 3), respectively, as a result of which the outstanding amount was increased to Euro 3,779,000,000 and to Euro 6,337,350,000. These loans have no defined maturity, but shall be repaid, partially or entirely, in more than one year, subject to the cash needs of the Company. The interest on these loans is linked to market rates.

9.2. Centralized cash management

As from March 2006, Portugal Telecom centralized all cash receipts and payments from Group companies located in Portugal. In 2014, PT Portugal replaced Portugal Telecom as the parent company of the Group in Portugal and accordingly also replaced Portugal Telecom in its role under this centralized cash management system. The financings obtained by the Company under this system have short term maturities and bear interest at market rates.

9.3. Commercial paper

During the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, the Company reduced the outstanding amounts due under commercial paper programmes by Euro 2,133,350,000, as a result of which the total amount outstanding as at 30 September 2014 was decreased to Euro 953,400,000. These commercial paper programmes have basically the same features as described in the 2013 annual report.

10. Post-retirement benefits

As at 30 September 2014, the Company did not obtain an actuarial valuation to recognize post retirement benefits and, therefore, costs recorded during the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 are based on the 31 December 2013 actuarial valuation, adjusted by curtailment costs incurred during that period.

As at 30 September 2014, the projected post retirement benefits obligations, which relate to pension complements and healthcare benefits, totalled Euro 515 million and the fair value of plan assets amounted to Euro 253 million, as compared to Euro 492 million and Euro 386 million as at 31 December 2013, respectively. In addition, PT Comunicações had liabilities with salaries payable to suspended and pre-retired employees amounting to Euro 802 million as at 30 September 2014, as compared to Euro 836 million as at 31 December 2013, which are not subject to any legal funding requirement. These salaries are paid on a monthly basis directly by PT Comunicações to beneficiaries until retirement age. Consequently, as at 30 September 2014, net benefits obligations amounted to Euro 1,064 million, as compared to Euro 942 million as at 31 December 2013.

The fair value of plan assets as at 30 September 2014, amounting to Euro 253 million, include funds incorporated to cover pensions supplements and healthcare benefits obligations, amounting to Euro 94 million and Euro 158 million, respectively. The healthcare fund, which was incorporated in 2004, is managed independently by PT Prestações in accordance with an investment policy and includes shares, bonds and other investments. As at 30 September 2014, the total exposure of these investments to private equity funds managed by Global Investment Opportunities SICAV of Rocha dos Santos Holding amounted to Euro 80 million.

During the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, the changes in post retirement benefits obligations, net of the fair value of plan assets, were as follows:

(i) This caption relates to a contribution to the Portuguese Social Security System, regarding the annual service of active employees that were entitled to pension benefits under the Company's post retirement benefits plans transferred to the Portuguese State in December 2010.

(ii) This caption corresponds to the estimated net gain resulting from the reduction in benefits granted under the healthcare plan, as a result of which the related projected benefit obligations were decreased by this amount.

Net actuarial losses, which are recorded directly in shareholders' equity, have the following composition in the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013:

	9M14	9M13
	Euro
Differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions ⁽ⁱ⁾	128,126,788	13,539,460
Changes in actuarial assumptions ⁽ⁱⁱ⁾	120,400,000	—
	248,526,788	13,539,460

(i) This caption corresponds to the net actuarial losses recorded in both periods reflecting the difference between actual return on plan assets and the expected return on plan assets computed based on the discount rates for the related obligations. Net actuarial losses recorded in the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 reflect basically the impairment of the investment in Banco Espírito Santo ("BES") shares, as a result of the BES corporate reorganization announced on 3 August 2014, under which the former shareholders of BES became holders of an entity with assets not related to the banking business and not listed in the stock market.

(ii) This caption corresponds to the estimated impact resulting from the decrease in discount rates use to compute the presented value of projected benefit obligations. Given the evolution of long-term yield rates of Euro Zone high-rating corporate bonds, the Company decided to reduce the discount rates for all responsibilities, namely (1) from 3.00% to 2.00% for pension supplements, (2) from 4.00% to 2.50% for healthcare benefits, and (3) from 2.00% to 0.75% for salaries payable to pre-retired and suspended employees.

Other	582,169	151,479

(a) The decrease in interest income reflects primarily the repayment of the intercompany loans granted to Meo, S.A..

(b) The increase in interest expenses from intragroup loans reflects an increase in intercompany loans due to PT Portugal and the reduction in interest expense from bank loans reflects the decrease in outstanding amounts regarding commercial paper issued by the Company.

19. Earnings per share

Earnings per share for the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013 were computed as follows:

	9M14	9M13
Net income	(1,256,489,779)	(139,142,432)
Number of shares	1,150,000,000	1,150,000,000
Basic earnings per share	(1.09)	(0.12)

There are no situations that create a dilutive effect, so the diluted earnings per share are the same as basic earnings per share.

Other services	41,936,315	46,780,174
	80,355,359	87,134,631

Bank guarantees presented to the tax authorities relate primarily to additional income tax assessments for which the Company submitted a claim or an appeal.

As of 30 September 2014, Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. had presented bank guarantees in favor of the tax authorities in relation to additional tax assessments received by Portugal Telecom regarding the tax consolidation of the years 2005 to 2010, thus including the tax contingencies of PT Comunicações, S.A. as well as tax contingencies of other entities included in the tax consolidation group, namely Meo, S.A. and Portugal Telecom. These bank guarantees totaled Euro 353 million as of 30 September 2014. In accordance with Portuguese tax legislation, Portugal Telecom has presented these guarantees and submitted a claim or an appeal to the tax authorities in order to be able to hold open discussions with the tax authorities and avoid the payment of a given tax assessment. In Portugal, these two conditions are required and must be complied with before the process can continue, regardless of the amount of the tax assessment or the likelihood of success of the appeal or the claim.

21. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

The financial statements as of and for the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issuance on 13 January 2015.

On 1 December 2014, Oi entered into an exclusivity agreement with Altice, S.A. to allow both entities to negotiated and agree on the final terms of the sale of PT Portugal. On 8 December 2014, the Board of Directors of Oi finalized the formalities to approve the general terms and conditions for the sale of all shares of PT Portugal to Altice Portugal, S.A., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Altice, S.A.. The sale substantially involves PT Portugal's operations in Portugal and Hungary. The effectiveness of the purchase and sale contract will depend on the approvals by the shareholders of Portugal Telecom SGPS, S.A., scheduled for 12 January 2015, and by the proper regulatory entities. With this approval, Oi will transfer to Altice all of the shares issued by PT Portugal for an enterprise value of Euro 7.4 billion, adjusting for cash and debt and including an earn-out of Euro 500 million related to PT Portugal's generation of future revenue. The price to be paid by Altice will suffer adjustments usually adopted in similar transactions, in accordance with PT Portugal's cash holdings on the closing of this transaction.

On 29 December 2014, Meo, S.A. was merged into PT Comunicações and accordingly ceased to exist, but its assets and liabilities were entirely transferred to the Company and thus Meo, S.A.'s activity will continue in the future. This merger produced effects as from 1 January 2014. Following this merger, PT Comunicações was renamed MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A.

STATUTORY AUDITORS' REPORT

(Translation of a report originally issued in Portuguese—Note 39)

Introduction

1. We have audited the accompanying financial statements of PT Comunicações, S.A. (“the Company”), which comprise the balance sheet as of 31 December 2013 that presents a total of 13,888,129,071 Euros and shareholders’ equity of 4,653,549,363 Euros, including a net loss of 210,225,304 Euros, the statements of income by nature, of changes in shareholders’ equity and of cash flows for the year then ended and the corresponding notes.

Responsibilities

2. The preparation of financial statements that present a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company, the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders’ equity and its cash flows, as well as the adoption of adequate accounting principles and criteria and the maintenance of an appropriate system of internal control are the responsibility of the Company’s Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to express a professional and independent opinion on these financial statements, based on our audit.

Scope

3. Our audit was performed in accordance with the auditing standards (“Normas Técnicas e as Diretrizes de Revisão/Auditoria”) issued by the Portuguese Institute of Statutory Auditors (“Ordem dos Revisores Oficiais de Contas”), which require that the audit be planned and performed with the objective of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes verifying, on a sample basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and assessing the significant estimates, based on judgements and criteria defined by the Board of Directors, used in their preparation. An audit also includes assessing the adequacy of the accounting principles used and their disclosure, taking into consideration the circumstances, verifying the applicability of the going concern concept and assessing the adequacy of the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our audit also included verifying that the financial information contained in the Managements’ Report is in accordance with the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for expressing our opinion.

Opinion

4. In our opinion, the financial statements referred to in paragraph 1 above, present fairly, for the purpose explained in paragraph 5 below, in all material respects, the financial position of PT Comunicações, S.A. as of 31 December 2013 and the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders’ equity and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in Portugal.

Emphasis

5. The financial statements mentioned in paragraph 1 above refer to the Company on a standalone basis and were prepared in accordance with current legislation for approval and publication. The Company will not prepare consolidated financial statements as, in accordance with number 3 of article 7 of Decree-Law 158/2009, of 13 July 2009 is not required to do so, as its financial statements will be included in the consolidated financial statements of Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A.. As described in Note 3.7, although the financial investments have been accounted for by the equity method, under which the Company’s net profit for the year and shareholders’ equity include the effect of consolidating the subsidiary and associated companies, the accompanying financial statements do not include the effects of a full consolidation of their assets, liabilities, revenues and costs.

Report on other legal requirements

6. It is also our opinion that the financial information contained in the Managements' Report is consistent with the financial statements for the year.

PT Comunicações
Notes to Financial Statements
As at 31 December 2013
(Amounts in Euro)

1. Introduction

(a) Development of the company

PT Comunicações, S.A. (“PT Comunicações” or the “Company”) was incorporated in 2000, in accordance with a resolution from the General Meeting of Portugal Telecom, S.A. on April 27, 2000 within the business restructuring process in Portugal Telecom Group and by spin-off from Portugal Telecom, S.A. The conditions for this spin-off were defined under Decree-Law no. 219/00, of September 9, and Joint Order no. 936-A/2000 issued by the Ministers for Social Provision and for Finance on September 14.

On 30 September 2006, under the restructuring process of the Group Portugal Telecom, Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS”—Holding company of the Group) sold to PT Portugal, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”—a sub-Holding company of the Group) all of the shares of PT Comunicações.

On 27 December 2002, PT Comunicações and the Portuguese Government signed the Contract of Purchase and Sale of the Basic Telecommunications Network (“Basic Network”) and the Telex Network, under which the State transferred the full property of the Basic Network and the Telex Network to PT Comunicações, free of any lien or encumbrance. Under the terms of this contract, PT Comunicações is obliged to: i) guarantee the functioning of the Basic Network as an open network, serving as support for the transmission of a general range of services and available to all telecommunications operators and service providers under equal conditions; and ii) provide the acquired network, during the concession period, with the necessary infrastructure for the provision of the concession services and without prejudice to the possibility of its transfer, replacement and/or encumbrance, provided that this does not affect those services.

On 17 February 2003 Decree-Law no. 31/2003 was published, approving the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract, which changed the conditions for the concession of public telecommunications services approved by Decree-Law no. 40/95 of February 15. This decree introduced the following fundamental changes to the previous Concession Contract: i) rent payment will no longer be made to the Portuguese State; ii) rights and assets subject to the concession will not revert to the State upon termination; and iii) the State will compensate the Company, under certain compensation mechanisms, for possible negative margins incurred by the Company arising from compliance with the obligations inherent to the provision of the fixed telex, telegraphic and broadcasting services and the mobile marine service.

Under the terms of the above-mentioned Amendment Agreement, the objectives of the concession are: the development and operation of the infrastructure that make up the basic network for telecommunications and signal transmission and emission; the provision of a universal telecommunications service, as defined under Decree-Law no. 458/99, of 5 November; the provision of a telex service; the provision of a data transmission service; the provision of a service for the emission and distribution of telecommunications broadcasts; and the provision of a telegraphic service.

The provision of the universal telecommunications service includes the following: i) connection to the fixed telephone network and access to fixed telephone services; ii) availability of public telephones in public places; and iii) availability of telephone directories and an information service.

The concession period expires in March 2025. As mentioned above, both the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract and the Portuguese Law impose certain obligations to PT Comunicações as a universal service provider. On February 2012, following a public hearing about the selection of the universal service provider, Anacom issued a final decision splitting the universal service into three functions: (1) connection to a public communications network in a fixed location and rendering of a telephone service through this network (Tender 1); (2) public phones offer (Tender 2); and (3) make available a complete telephone list and a related service (Tender 3). In 2012, the Portuguese State launched a public tender to select the universal service providers, approved the definition of the universal service cost and established a compensation fund for the universal service providers.

As at 31 December 2013

1. Introduction (Continued)

PT Comunicações is qualified to receive compensation from that fund to cover the costs incurred up to date with the universal service. In 2013, the outcome of the tender offer became public, with the universal service related to the fixed line service (tender 1) being attributed to Zon and Optimus. This service is the main purpose of the Concession Agreement, and as such PT Comunicações and the Portuguese State agreed that the Concession Agreement should be terminated, as a result of which PT Comunicações would be entitled to a compensation corresponding to the investments realized in the universal service and not yet amortized as at the termination date.

On 11 February 2004, Law 5/2004 or the “Electronic Communications Act” was published, which establishes the legal regime applicable to electronic communications networks and services, and to the associated resources and services, and defines the authority of the national regulatory agency in this area.

On 9 December 2008, ANACOM attributed to PT Comunicações the rights to the use frequencies, on a national basis, to provide digital television services (TDT) for the broadcasting television programs with unconditional access (also known as public access channels) which is associated with Multiplexer A (Mux A). During the year 2011, ANACOM defined the obligations associated with such rights, and as a result PT Comunicações recognized an intangible asset corresponding to the present value of the commitments under such rights (Note 9).

(b) Corporate transactions

During 2007, PT Comunicações acquired the shares of PT Prime—Enterprise Solutions and Telecommunication Systems, SA (“PT Prime”), PT Corporate—Enterprise Solutions for Telecommunications and Information Systems, SA (“PT Corporate”) and PT.Com—Interactive Communications, SA (“PT.COM”), previously held by PT SGPS, seeking to consolidate all fixed line services into PT Comunicações.

In March 2008, PT.Com and PT Corporate were merged through their incorporation into PT Comunicações and, consequently, the equity, rights and obligations of those companies were transferred to PT Comunicações, and PT.Com and PT Corporate ceased to exist as separate entities.

In July 2009, PT Comunicações acquired from Novabase—Sociedade Gestora de Participações Sociais, SGPS, S.A. (“Novabase”) a 36.25% stake in Superemprego—Sistemas de Informação para a Gestão de Recursos Humanos, S.A. (“Superemprego”), and therefore Superemprego became fully owned by Portugal Telecom Group. In November 2009, Superemprego was merged through its incorporation into PT Comunicações and, consequently, its equity, rights and obligations were transferred to PT Comunicações and Superemprego was ceased to exist as a separate entity.

On 30 November 2010, and considering the need to adjust the corporate structure to reflect the consolidation of its fixed-line and mobile business, PT Comunicações acquired from PT Portugal the full stake in TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A. (“TMN”), company whose name was changed to Meo-. Multimedia Communications and Services, SA (“Meo, SA”) on 27 January 2014. This change aimed to fixed-mobile convergence, so the services of residential and personal segments started to be provided by the same brand.

On 29 December 2011, PT Prime was merged into PT Comunicações through the incorporation of its shareholders’ equity and rights and obligations. For accounting purposes, this merger was reported as of 1 January 2011 and, accordingly, all transactions made by PT Prime as from that date were made on behalf of PT Comunicações.

On 3 May 2012, PT Comunicações concluded the acquisition from TVI—Televisão Independente, S.A. (“TVI”) of its former wholly-owned subsidiary RETI—Rede Teledifusora Independente, S.A. (“RETI”), which therefore became a wholly-owned subsidiary of PT Comunicações (Note 10). On 12 December

2012, RETI was merged into PT Comunicações through the incorporation of its shareholders' equity and rights and obligations. For accounting purposes, this merger was reported as of 3 May 2012 and, accordingly, all transactions made by RETI as from that date were made on behalf of PT Comunicações.

On June 2013, Portugal Telecom concluded the sale of its 28% stake in Companhia de Telecomunicações de Macau, S.A.R.L. (CTM), to CITIC Telecom International Holdings Limited (CITIC Telecom), that included stakes of 25% and 3% owned by PT Participações and PT Comunicações, respectively, for a total amount of USD 443.0 million, equivalent to approximately Euro 335.7 million, having PT Comunicações received the amount of Euro 35,966,391 (Note 4 b) and 20 a)), corresponding to their share capital held in the CTM.

On 17 July 2013, Auto Venda Já, S.A. ("Auto Sapo") was incorporated with a share capital of Euro 50,000. PT Comunicações subscribed and realized an amount of Euro 25,000, corresponding to 50% in the share capital of that entity, and in addition granted paid-in capital in the amount of Euro 150,000 (Note 10). The activity of this entity consists of the acquisition and resale of cars through sales channels that are made available to the owners of those cars, including a sales electronic platform, and all related or complementary services.

On 1 December 2013, PT Comunicações sale 0,005% stake in Portugal Telecom Brasil, S.A. ("PT Brasil") to PT SGPS, and therefore PT Brasil became fully owned by PT SGPS (Note 10).

On 30 December 2013, as part of an internal reorganization of the PT Group, PT Comunicações acquired all the shares that PT SGPS held in a number of companies, including:

- the 50% interest in Sportinveste Multimédia, SGPS, S.A. ("Sportinveste Multimédia"), corresponding to 2,500,000 shares of its share capital, and paid-in capital and loans granted to this entity; the investment in Sportinveste Multimédia was recorded as a non-current asset held for sale, as a result of the ongoing restructuring process of this company (Note 20.b);
- the 33.33% interest in Yunit Services, S.A. ("Yunit"), corresponding to 33,334 shares of its share capital, and the related loans granted to this entity (Notes 10 and 22);
- the 26.36% interest in INESC—Instituto de Engenharia de Sistemas e Computadores, S.A. ("INESC") and the related loans granted to this entity; this interest plus the 9.53% interest that was previously owned by PT Comunicações results in a 35.89% total interest in the share capital of INESC (Note 10);
- the 8.54% interest in Vortal S.G.P.S., S.A. ("Vortal"), corresponding to 474,254 shares of its share capital;
- the 0.0004% interest in Multicert—Serviços de Certificação Electrónica, S.A. ("Multicert"), corresponding to 10 shares of its share capital; this interest plus the 19.9996% interest that was previously owned by PT Comunicações results in a total 20% interest in the share capital of Multicert (Note 10).

(c) Other information

Under the terms of article 7 of Decree-Law no. 158/2009, despite holding financial stakes in group companies and associates, the Company is not required to prepare consolidated financial statements, given that it is indirectly fully held by PT SGPS, which already presents consolidated financial statements which include the financial statements of the Company and its affiliated companies.

2. Basis of presentation

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with Portuguese legislation, based on Decree-law n.º. 158/2009, which approved the new Portuguese accounting system, named Sistema de

Normalização Contabilística (“SNC”), including the conceptual structure, Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro (“NCRF”) and Interpretative Standards, as approved by Notices nº 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009, respectively.

The Company adopted NCRF for the first time in 2010 and applied for this purpose the “NCRF 3 First Time Adoption Of NCRF” (“NCRF 3”), with the transition date being 1 January 2009 for the purposes of the presentation of these financial statements. Previously, the Company’s financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting standards as previously in effect in Portugal (Plano Oficial de Contabilidade—“POC”) and other complementary legislation, which were modified by SNC. The conversion adjustments made to the financial statements as at 1 January 2009 were computed retrospectively, as determined by NCRF 3.

As permitted by Decree-Law nº. 158/2009, the Company also applies the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IAS/IFRS”) and related interpretations (“SIC/IFRIC”) issued by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), in order to fill in the gaps or omissions in SNC regarding specific situations of certain transactions.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates

These financial statements were prepared assuming the continuity of operations. The main accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are described below and were applied consistently, unless indicated otherwise.

3.1. Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets other than land and buildings and ducts infrastructure are stated at acquisition or production cost, which includes the purchase price and any expenses directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and making them operational.

Land, buildings and the ducts infrastructure are presented in accordance with the revaluation model based on regular assessments, at least tri-annually, deducted from subsequent depreciation for buildings and infrastructure. The fair value of real estate properties is determined by external appraisers based on market prices or the income obtained by these assets, under the provisions of NCRF 7 Tangible Fixed Assets. Regarding the ducts infrastructure, the Company, has applied IAS/IFRS by assessing the fair value of these assets based on the depreciated replacement cost method, as this methodology is not provided under NCRF 7. The Company maintained these assets recognized at the revaluation model, although the valuation methodology is not provided under NCRF 7, in order to ensure the consistency with Portugal Telecom’s consolidated financial statements regarding the valuation of this type of asset, through the application of IAS/IFRS.

Subsequent expenses are included in the asset’s carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits flow to the Company and the cost can be measured reliably. The costs of maintenance and repair that are not likely to generate future economic benefits are recognized as an expense in the period they are incurred.

Increases resulting from revaluations are recorded in equity under the caption “Revaluation surplus”, except for increases that reverse a decline previously recognized in earnings. Decreases resulting from revaluations are recorded directly under the caption “Revaluation surplus” up to the credit balance of the revaluation surplus for the relevant asset. Any excess in relation to the relevant credit balance is recognized in earnings. When the revalued asset is written off, the revaluation surplus included in equity regarding the asset is not reclassified to net income and is instead transferred to retained earnings. Annually, the revaluation surpluses are transferred to retained earnings in the same proportion of their depreciation.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

With the exception of lands that are not depreciated, the depreciation of other tangible fixed assets is recognized, from the month in which the asset is available for use, on a straight-line basis over the useful life of asset, which is determined according to expected utility. The amortization period of tangible assets is reviewed on an annual basis and adjusted in order to reflect the estimated useful lives. The annual rates applied reflect the estimated useful life for each class of assets, as follows:

Asset Class	Years of useful life
Buildings and other constructions	3 - 50
Basic equipment
Network installations and equipment	7 - 40
Ducts infra-structure	40
Telephones, switchboards and other	4 - 10
Submarine cables	15 - 20
Other basic equipment	4 - 20
Transportation equipment	4 - 8
Administrative equipment	3 - 10
Other tangible fixed assets	4 - 8

Following the approval of the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract, concluded in 2003 in connection with the acquisition of the Basic Network from the Portuguese Government, which now provides that the fixed assets related to the concessions will no longer be returned to the Portuguese State after the concession, the Company revised the amortization period of the assets which previously had useful lives that exceeded the term of the Concession Contract.

The useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed annually, and the effect of any changes to these estimates is recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Gains or losses arising from the write-off or disposal of tangible fixed assets are determined as the difference between the amount received and the net recorded amount of the asset, and are recognized in the income statement.

3.2. Leases

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. The remaining lease contracts are considered operating leases. The classification of leases depends on the substance of the transaction and not on the form of the contract.

Assets acquired under finance leases and the corresponding liabilities are accounted at the beginning of the contract as the lesser amount between the fair value of the assets and the present value of minimum lease payments. Rents include interest and capital amortisation, with the first being recognized in the income statement in the related period.

Under operating leases, rents are recognized on a straight-line basis during the period of the lease.

3.3. Investment properties

Investment properties includes mainly buildings and land held to earn rent and/or capital appreciation and not for use in the normal course of the business.

Investment properties are stated at acquisition cost plus transaction expenses and reduced by accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Expenditures incurred (maintenance, repairs, insurance and real estate taxes) and income and rents obtained are recognized in the income statement of the period.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Investment properties are depreciated on a straight-line basis, during their expected useful lives. Generally depreciation rates correspond to the respective estimated useful lives (Note 3.1).

3.4. Business combinations and goodwill

Acquisitions of subsidiaries are recorded based on the purchase method (NCRF 14). The purchase price includes, on the acquisition date, the following components: (a) the fair value of assets acquired; (b) the fair value of liabilities incurred; (c) the fair value of equity instruments issued by the Company in exchange for the control of the subsidiary; and (d) expenses directly attributable to the acquisition. When applicable, the purchase price includes the effect of contingent payments agreed under the transaction, with subsequent changes in those payments being recorded as an adjustment to goodwill.

Any excess of the acquisition cost over the fair value of net assets acquired and contingent liabilities of the acquired company at the date of acquisition is recorded as goodwill, in accordance with NCRF 14. If the acquisition cost is lower than the fair value of identifiable net assets, the difference is recorded as a gain in the net income. As provided for in NCRF 3, the Company will apply NCRF 14 only to acquisitions after 1 January 2009 and accordingly goodwill related to acquisitions prior to that date were maintained as initially computed under POC.

Goodwill resulting from the acquisition of subsidiaries is included in the balance sheet under the caption "Goodwill".

Goodwill is not amortised, but tested, on an annual basis or whenever there is evidence of a potential loss of value, for impairment losses. For impairment test purposes, goodwill is allocated to cash generating units. Any impairment loss is recognized in the income statement of the period, and cannot be reversed in a subsequent period.

3.5. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include mainly (1) the amount for the acquisition of the Basic Network, (2) software licenses, (3) TDT license acquisition cost and (4) satellite capacity rights. Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost net of accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis and over a period of three years, except: (a) the value of the acquisition of the property of the Basic Network, which is amortised over the remaining period until the end of the concession (2025), (b) the value of the commitments assumed under the of TDT license, which is amortized until the end of the first renewal period of the same (2038); and (c) the satellite capacity rights, which are amortised over the period of their respective contracts. The useful lives and depreciation method of the intangible assets are reviewed annually, and the effect of any changes to these estimates is recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Expenses with research activities are recognized in earnings when incurred. Development expenses are capitalized when it is demonstrated the technical and economic feasibility of the product, and the Company has the intention and ability to complete its development and starts its commercialization or use, as provided in the "NCRF 6 Intangible Assets".

3.6. Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

The Company performs impairment tests for its tangible and intangible assets if any event or change results in an indication of impairment. In case of any such indication, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the estimated recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs is used.

PT Comunicações
As at 31 December 2013
(Amounts in Euro)

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

The recoverable amount is the greater of fair value less cost to sell and the value in use. The net selling price is the amount that could be received from a transaction between independent parties, reduced by direct costs related to the sale. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the specific risk to the asset.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized in the income statement.

3.7. Financial investments

Subsidiaries are those entities over which the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies generally represented by the majority of the voting rights. Associated companies are entities over which the Company has significant influence but does not control, generally represented by stakes between 20% and 50% of voting rights.

Financial investments in subsidiaries and associated companies are recorded under the equity method of accounting. Under this method, financial investments are initially recorded at acquisition cost and subsequently adjusted for the changes, after the acquisition date, in the Company's share in the net assets of those entities. The entity's earnings include its share in the earnings of those companies.

Under the application of the equity method of accounting, adjustments are made to the financial statements of affiliated companies in order to (1) conform their accounting policies with those adopted by the Company, (2) reflect the impacts of purchase price allocation processes and, (3) eliminate gains and losses resulting from transactions between affiliated companies of PT Comunicações.

Financial investments in foreign entities are translated to Euros using the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date, while the Company's share in the earnings of those entities is computed based on the average exchange rates for the reported period. The effect of translation differences is recognized in shareholders' equity under the caption "Adjustments in financial assets".

The exchange rates used in the translation of the main financial statements of the foreign entities are as follows:

Currency	2013		2012
	Closing	Average	Closing	Average
Macao Pataca	11.0141	10.6094	10.5328	10.2624
Brazilian Real	3.2576	2.8685	2.7036	2.5084

Financial investments are evaluated whenever there is evidence that it might be impaired, with impairment losses being recorded in the income statement.

3.8. Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets are classified as held for sale when its carrying value will be recovered mainly through a sale transaction and not continuing use, which occurs when the sale is highly probable and the non-current asset or disposal group is available for immediate sale in its present condition. The sale should be concluded one year after the non-current asset was classified as held for sale.

Non-current assets held for sale are measured at the lower amount between the carrying value and the fair value less costs to sell.

3.9. Post-retirement benefits

(a) Post-retirement pensions

The Company has the obligation to pay to a group of employees a pension supplement. In order to finance these obligations, various funds were incorporated by PT Comunicações (Note 11.1).

In order to estimate the amount of the Company's liabilities under these pension plans, the Company obtains periodically actuarial valuations, using the "Projected Unit Credit Method". As mentioned above, according to "NCRF 28—Employee Benefits" and "IAS 19—Employee Benefits", PT Comunicações has decided to adopt the alternative treatment referred in IAS 19 for recognition of actuarial gains and losses directly in equity, namely those resulting from changes in actuarial assumptions and from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions.

Plan amendments related to reduction or increase of the benefits granted to employees are recorded as prior years' service gains or losses. Prior years' service gains or losses are recognized under the caption "Costs with post-retirement benefits" when they occur. Gains obtained with the settlement of any plan are recognized when incurred under the caption "Curtailement and settlement costs".

Liabilities stated in the balance sheet correspond to the difference between the Projected Benefit Obligation ("PBO") related to pensions deducted from the fair value of fund assets.

For the plans that report an actuarial surplus, assets are recorded when there is an express authorization for offsetting them against future employer contributions, or if a reimbursement of the excess finance is expressly authorized or permitted.

Contributions made by the Company to defined contribution pension plans are recognized in net income when incurred.

(b) Health care benefits

Under a defined benefit plan, PT Comunicações is responsible to pay, after the retirement date, health care expenses to a group of employees and relatives. This health care plan is managed by Portugal Telecom—Associação de Cuidados de Saúde ("PT-ACS"). In 2004, the Group established PT Prestações—Mandatária de Aquisições e Gestão de Bens, S.A. ("PT Prestações") to manage an autonomous fund to finance these obligations (Note 11.2).

The amount of the Company's liabilities with respect to these benefits after the respective retirement date is estimated based on actuarial valuations, using the "Projected Unit Credit Method". The Company recognises actuarial gains and losses directly in equity, namely those resulting from changes in actuarial assumptions and from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions.

Plan amendments related to reduction or increase of the benefits granted to employees are recorded as prior years' service gains or losses under the caption "Post-retirement benefit costs". Gains obtained with the settlement of any plan are recognized when incurred under the caption "Curtailement and settlement costs".

Accrued post-retirement health care liabilities stated in the Balance sheet correspond to the present value of obligations from defined benefit plans, deducted from the fair value of fund assets and any prior years' service gains or losses not yet recognized.

(c) Pre-retired and suspended employees

In connection with the programs related to employees that are under a suspended contract agreement or that have been pre-retired, the Company recognises a liability in the balance sheet equivalent to the present value of salaries payable up to the retirement age. The related cost is recorded in the income statement under the caption “Curtaiment and settlement costs” (Note 11.3).

3.10. Accruals and deferrals

The Company records its revenue and expenses as they are generated or incurred, regardless of when they are received or paid, respectively.

3.11. Income taxes

Income tax expense corresponds to the sum of current and deferred taxes. Deferred taxes are recognized in the income statement except when they relate to items recorded directly in shareholders' equity and accordingly are also recorded in shareholders' equity.

Current taxes are computed based on the taxable income of the period computed under the Corporate Income Tax (“IRC”).

Portugal Telecom adopted the special taxation regime for Groups of companies, in which PT Comunicações is included. Consequently, the income tax due, net of withholding taxes and payments on accounts are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable or receivable from Portugal Telecom.

The income tax recorded in the financial statements was assessed in accordance with the terms of “NCRF 25 Income Taxes”. In assessing the cost of income tax for the year, besides the current tax determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with the tax legislation, we also consider the effects resulting from temporary differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities and the related tax amounts. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are computed and analysed annually, based on the expected tax rate that will be effective on the date on which such temporary differences are no longer applicable.

Deferred tax assets are recorded only when there is a reasonable expectation of sufficient future tax profits. As at the balance sheet date the Company conducts a reassessment of the above-mentioned temporary differences with respect to the deferred tax assets, in order to record deferred tax assets that were not recognized previously because they had not met the necessary conditions for their recognition, and/or reduce the amount of deferred tax assets which are recognized based on the current estimate of their future recoverable amounts.

3.12. Inventories

Inventories are stated at average acquisition cost. Adjustments to the carrying value of inventories are recognized based on technological obsolescence or low rotation.

Work in progress relating to installation of telecommunication equipments for clients is valued at production cost, which mainly includes expenses on equipment and various materials used, as well as wages and salaries related to the project.

Impairment losses on inventories includes the value of materials for which there is no intended use due to obsolescence and/or low rotation, as well as the difference between prices of materials that have a fair value lower than the average acquisition cost, when the difference is higher than the discount granted in current market conditions. Impairment losses and related reversals are recorded in earnings primarily under the caption “Impairment of inventories ((losses)/reversals)”.

3.13. Trade receivables and other

Trade receivables and other receivables are initially recognized at fair value and subsequently measured at cost or amortised cost, based on the effective interest method, deducted from impairment losses.

Impairment losses for doubtful accounts receivable are computed based on the evaluation of estimated risks resulting from the non-collection of receivables, and are recognized in the income statement of the period in which they are calculated.

3.14. Subsidies

Subsidies are only recognized when they are received and after reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with their respective requirements for their assignment.

Subsidies associated with the acquisition or production of non-current assets (investment subsidies) are initially recognized in equity under the caption "Other shareholders' equity", and subsequently allocated on a straight-line basis as income for the year, during the useful lives of the assets to which they relate.

Operating subsidies are recognized in the income statement on a constant basis over the periods in which expenses that they intended to compensate are recognized.

3.15. Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized when (i) there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, (ii) it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and (iii) a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Where any of the above-mentioned criteria is not met, the Company discloses the event as a contingent liability, unless the chance of cash outflow is remote.

Provisions are recognized for an amount corresponding to the present value of the best available estimate, at the reporting date, of the resources required to settle the obligation. That estimate is determined considering the risks and uncertainties associated with the obligation. Provisions are reviewed at the end of each year and adjusted in order to reflect the best available estimate as of that date.

The present obligations arising from onerous contracts (in which the cost of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected there under) are calculated and recorded as provisions.

3.16. Loans obtained

Loans obtained are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred, and subsequently presented at amortised cost, based on the effective interest method.

3.17. Borrowing costs

The Company has the policy of capitalizing of borrowing costs related to loans obtained to finance the acquisition, construction or production of tangible assets. However, the Company has recognized borrowing costs as expenses when incurred, since the construction period of tangible assets is usually short.

3.18. Vacation pay and vacation subsidies

Vacation pay and vacation subsidies and related social charges are recorded as a cost for the period in which the employee acquires the right to receive them. Consequently, the amount of vacation pay and subsidies and related social charges due and unpaid at the balance sheet date are estimated and included under the caption “Accrued expenses”.

3.19. Balance classification

Realizable assets and liabilities under which the Company has an unconditional right to defer its settlement for a period over one year from the balance sheet date are classified under non-current assets and non-current liabilities, respectively, at present value.

3.20. Foreign currency transactions and balances

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies (different from the domestic currency of the Company) are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing at the time the transactions are made. Assets and liabilities in foreign currency for which there is no agreement for fixing an exchange rate are translated to Euros using the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Gains or losses arising from the differences between exchange rates in force at the date of the respective transactions and those applying on the date of collection, payment or balance sheet date are recorded as income and losses, respectively, in the income statement.

Assets and liabilities as at 31 December 2013 and 2012 were translated to Euro using the following exchange rates reported by the Bank of Portugal:

Currency	2013	2012
Special Drawing Rights	1.1173	1.1658
American dollar	1.3791	1.3194

Mozambique metical	41.2400	39.2400
Brazilian real	3.2576	2.7036

3.21. Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at fair value of the amount received or receivable. Revenue recognition is deducted from the estimated amount of returns, discounts and other rebates and does not include the Value Added Tax (VAT) and other taxes paid related to the sale.

Revenue from the services rendered is recognized by reference to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date, if all the following conditions are met: (1) the revenue amount can be reliably measured; (2) it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; (3) the expenses incurred or to be incurred with the transaction can be measured reliably; and (4) the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date can be reasonably estimated.

(a) National fixed national communications

Revenues from telecommunication activities are recognized at their gross amounts when services are rendered. Billings for these services are made on a monthly basis throughout the month. Amounts not yet invoiced but already due or incurred are recorded based on estimates and included under the caption “Unbilled revenues”. Differences between accrued amounts and the actual unbilled revenues are recognized in the following period.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

(b) International fixed communications

The income from international telecommunication services are calculated according to fixed termination rates under bilateral agreements with several telecom operators. These agreements also establish whether it is the operator of the sending network that must submit the credit to the operator of the receiving network or whether the operator of the network receiving must provide the debit first.

(c) Internet Protocol Television (“IPTV”) and Direct to Home (“DTH”) services

The income from the television service through Internet Protocol Television (IPTV) and satellite are recognized as follows: (i) the amounts charged for monthly subscription of services used are recognized in the period in which the service is rendered; (ii) equipment rental is recognized over the lease period; (iii) equipment sales are recognized upon sale; and (iv) penalties imposed to customers are recognized when received.

(d) Internet services

Revenues from ISP services result essentially from monthly subscription fees and telephone traffic when the service is used by customers. These revenues are recognized when the service is rendered.

(e) Advertising services

Advertising revenues from telephone directories and related costs are recognized in the period in which the directories are effective. PT Comunicações has a contract with Páginas Amarelas whereby the latter is responsible for production, publishing and distribution of PT Comunicações telephone directories, as well as for selling advertising space in the directories. The total cost to be paid by PT Comunicações for such services is set at a fixed 78% of its gross revenues from the sale of advertising space in telephone directories. The prices of advertising space are fixed, not contingent, and based on the expected volume of the distributed directories (approximately one to every telephone number). Revenues from the sale of advertising space are invoiced directly by PT Comunicações to its corporate clients during the one-year advertising period. These revenues are recognized in earnings on a monthly basis during the period for the respective directory.

(f) Leased lines and rental of ducts and capacity

Income from leased lines is recorded as operating leases in the respective period, under the caption “Services rendered”.

(g) Interest

Interest revenue is recognized based on the effective interest method.

Income relative to advance payments made by customers are deferred and recognized when the service is rendered.

3.22. Own work capitalized

Internal expenses incurred by the Company in the construction of tangible fixed assets, which correspond to materials, work force and transportation, at cost, are capitalized under the caption “Own work capitalized”, only when the following requirements are met: (a) the tangible fixed assets are identifiable; (b) the tangible fixed assets will generate future economic benefits; and (c) development expenses can be reliably measured.

3.23. Losses and gains recognised under projects

The Company records losses and gains associated with projects based on their stage of completion. Accordingly, invoices issued related to work not yet performed are recorded under the caption “Deferrals”, unbilled revenues related to work in progress are recorded under the caption “Unbilled revenues” and expenses related to unbilled performed work are recorded as work in progress under the caption “Inventories”.

3.24. Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are recognized in the balance sheet when the Company becomes party to the corresponding contractual terms, and are classified at cost or amortised cost.

(a) Financial assets and liabilities at cost or amortised cost

Assets and liabilities are classified at cost or amortised cost if they present the following characteristics: (a) have a defined maturity; (b) have a fixed or determined income; and (c) do not represent a derivative financial instrument or do not include a derivative financial instrument.

Assets and liabilities classified in this category are measured at amortised cost reduced by accumulated impairment losses (for financial assets) and correspond primarily to the following asset and liability captions included in the Company’s balance sheet:

- Accounts payable to Group companies
- Accounts receivable—trade
- Unbilled revenues and accrued expenses
- Advances to suppliers and from accounts receivable
- State and other public entities
- Other accounts receivable and payable
- Other financial assets and liabilities
- Cash and bank deposits
- Loans obtained
- Suppliers and investments suppliers

Amortized cost is determined through the effective interest method. The effective interest rate is the one that discounts the estimated future payments and receipts until the term of the financial instrument to the carrying value of the financial asset or liability.

(b) Impairments on financial assets

Financial assets included under the caption “cost or amortised cost” are subject to impairment tests at each year end. Such assets are impaired when there is clear evidence that, as a result of one or more events occurred after its initial recognition, their future estimated cash flows will be negatively affected.

For assets measured at amortised cost, the impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the present value of the revised future estimated cash flows discounted using the initial effective interest rate. For financial assets measured at cost, the impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the best available estimate of the asset’s fair value.

As at 31 December 2013
(Amounts in Euro)

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Subsequently, if there is a reduction in the impairment loss as a result of an event occurring after the initial recognition of the loss, the impairment should be reversed through earnings. The reversal is recognized up to the amount that would be recorded if the loss had not been initially recognized.

Impairment losses and related reversals are recorded in earnings mainly under the captions "Impairment of accounts receivable ((losses)/reversals)".

(c) Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

The Company derecognizes financial assets when its contractual rights to obtain the asset's cash flows expire, or when it transfers to another entity all the significant risks and rewards associated with the ownership of such assets. We also derecognize financial assets transferred in respect to which the Company has retained some significant risks and benefits, in the case that control over them has been assigned. The Company derecognizes financial liabilities only when the corresponding obligation is settled, cancelled or expired.

3.25. Main accounting estimates and judgements

To prepare the standalone financial statements under NCRF, the Company's Board of Directors uses estimates and assumptions that affect in the application of accounting policies and the amounts reported. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and on other factors including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances on which the estimate was based, or as a result of new information or more experience.

The most significant accounting estimates reflected in the financial statements are the following:

(a) Post-employment benefits

The present value of liabilities for post-employment benefits is calculated based on actuarial methodologies, which use certain actuarial assumptions that are reviewed annually by the Company. Any change in these assumptions will impact the carrying value of liabilities. The main assumptions used are described in Note 11.

(b) Analysis of goodwill impairment

The Company tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. The recoverable amounts of cash-generating assets are determined based on value-in-use calculations. The use of this method requires the estimate of future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing operation of the cash generating asset, the choice of a growth rate to extrapolate cash flow projections and the estimate of a suitable discount rate for each cash generating asset. The main assumptions used in the goodwill analysis are disclosed in Note 8.

(c) Useful life of tangible fixed assets

The Company used estimates in order to determine to the useful life of tangible fixed assets.

(d) Provisions recognition

The Company is party to several legal proceedings in progress for which, based on the opinion of its lawyers, judgments are made to determine the recognition of any necessary provisions to meet these contingencies.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

(e) Impairment recognition

Impairment on accounts receivable are calculated mainly based on receivables seniority, the clients risk profile and their financial situation.

(f) Determining the fair value of assets measured by revaluation model

The Company uses the revaluation model to measure the book value of the asset classes “Land and natural resources”, “Buildings and other constructions” and the “Telecommunication infrastructure” included under the caption “Basic equipment” under tangible fixed assets. In order to assess the fair value of real estate properties included under the assets classes “Land and natural resources” and “Buildings and other constructions”, the Company uses external appraisers to determine their value based on certain specific indicators related to the real estate market. In order to assess the revalued amount of the asset class “Telecommunication infrastructure”, the Company applied the cost replacement method based on current and observable prices of materials and construction work related to the installation underground of the telecommunication infrastructure.

Estimates used are based on the best information available during the preparation of financial statements, although future events, neither controlled nor foreseeable by the Company, could occur and have an impact on those estimates. In accordance with “NCRF 4 Accounting Policies, Changes in Estimates and Errors” (“NCRF 4”), changes to these estimates that occur after the date of the financial statements are recognized in net income, using a prospective methodology. For this reason and given the degree of uncertainty, real results of the transactions in question may differ from the corresponding estimates.

3.26. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

Events after the balance sheet date that provide additional information about conditions existing at the balance sheet date are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the balance sheet date that provide information about conditions that occur after the balance sheet date are not reflected in the financial statements, but are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements, if material.

4. Cash flows

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, the caption “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits immediately available and other short-term investments with high liquidity and with initial maturities up to three months, net of bank overdrafts.

The Company is exposed to a liquidity risk if its sources of funding, including cash balance, operating cash inflows, divestments and cash flows obtained from financing operations, do not match with our financing needs, such as operating and financing outflows, investments, shareholder remuneration and debt repayments. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, on the available cash and in the possibility to obtain financing from Portugal Telecom under the centralized cash management system implemented in the Group, the Company believes that it is able to meet its obligations.

The cash flow statement was prepared in accordance with “NCRF 2 Statement of Cash Flows”, which includes the following:

(a) Cash receipts of income taxes

The Company is part of the special taxation regime for Groups of companies adopted by Portugal Telecom, and as such income taxes and withholding taxes by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as payables and receivables from Portugal Telecom (Note 12). In this context, the Company paid in 2013 an amount of Euro 6,289,893 and received in 2012 an amount of Euro 35,940,339.

4. Cash flows (Continued)

As a result of the merger of PT Prime company undertaken at the end of 2011, effective as from 1 January, and because PT Comunicações presented a tax loss in 2011, the Company recovered in 2012 the payments on account made by PT Prime in 2011, amounting to Euro 38,662,510, which explains the high amount received in 2012.

(b) Cash receipts resulting from the disposal of financial investments

In 2013, this caption includes basically the proceeds obtained from the disposals of the investments in CTM and PT Brasil, amounting to Euro 35,966,391 and Euro 8,869, respectively (Note 10) and the amount of Euro 500,000 which refers to the last part related with the disposal of the investment in WT Vision achieved in 2009.

(c) Cash receipts resulting from loans granted

In 2013, this caption relates to reimbursement, amounting to Euro 340,000,000 (Note 12.1), regarding loans granted in prior years to MEO, SA.

(d) Dividends received

In 2013 and 2012, PT Comunicações received dividends from the following companies:

5. Changes in accounting policies and estimates and errors

During the year ended 31 December 2013, the Company adopted the revised version of IAS 19 Employee Benefits ("IAS 19"), issued in June 2011 and applicable for years beginning on or after 1 January 2013. The revised version of this standard was adopted since the Portuguese local standard NCRF 28 Employee Benefits states that the accounting for post-retirement defined benefits should be based on IAS 19.

As a result of the adoption of the amendments to IAS 19, the tables below present the adjustments made to the previously reported Statements of Financial Position for the year ended 31 December 2012:

6.2. Revaluations

In 2008, PT Comunicações has changed the accounting policy on the valuation of real estate assets and ducts infra-structure, from the cost model to the revaluation model. The revaluations of real estate assets and ducts infra-structure were recorded as at 30 June and 30 September 2008 and resulted in the revaluation of those assets by Euro 208,268,320 and Euro 866,764,702, respectively. PT Comunicações, following the adoption of the SNC, maintained the accounting policy to use the revaluation model for these classes of assets, under which shall compute revaluation amounts, at maximum, every three years, and evaluates between those 3 year periods the possible existence of evidence that might result in a significant change in the revalued amount of those assets.

The determination of the fair value of real estate properties was made by an independent appraiser based primarily on: (i) observable prices of recent market transactions in an active market; (ii) profitability method for commercial and administrative real estate; and (iii) the cost of acquiring or producing similar real estate with the same purpose for technical buildings. Under the first methodology, the main assumptions used in 2008 were the discount rate (average of 8%) and the monthly rent per square meter (average of Euro 6).

The determination of the fair value of the ducts infra-structure was made internally based on the replacement cost approach. This valuation process was based primarily on: (i) current and observable prices of materials and construction work related to the installation of the ducts underground; (ii) the nature of the soil and road surface where ducts are installed, which has an impact on the construction cost; (iii) internal costs directly attributable to the construction of the ducts infra-structure network; (iv) a depreciation factor, in order to ensure that the replacement cost is consistent with the remaining useful life of the assets revalued; and (v) a technological factor, which reflects the technological changes occurred, namely related to the kinds of ducts which no longer exist and were replaced by other ones. Generally, the prices of materials and construction work together with other qualitative assumptions referred to above resulted in a valuation of the ducts infra-structure in 2008 which reflects an average cost per meter of duct between Euro 58 and Euro 119, depending on the area where the infra-structure is located.

In accordance with the Company's accounting policy to revalue these assets every three years, PT Comunicações performed another revaluation of the real estate assets and transmission infrastructure in 2011, through the same methodology described above. These revaluations were effective as at 31 December 2011 and resulted in a net reduction of tangible assets amounting to Euro 131,418,996, of which Euro 126,167,563 was recognized directly in shareholders' equity, under the caption "Revaluation surplus", and an impairment loss of Euro 5,251,433 was recognized in earnings.

The split of these impacts between real estate and telecommunication ducts infrastructure is as follows:

- A reduction in the carrying value of the telecommunication infrastructure amounting to Euro 189,372,570, recognized directly in shareholders' equity in order to reduce the existing revaluation reserves regarding these assets, which is primarily explained by a decrease in the construction cost and also technological improvements, leading to a reduction in the average cost per meter of duct to between Euro 42 and Euro 70, depending on the area where the infra-structure is located; and
- A net increase in the carrying value of real estate assets amounting to Euro 57,953,574, including a gain of Euro 63,205,007 recorded directly in shareholders' equity and a loss of Euro 5,251,433 recognized in the Income Statement. The increase in the carrying value of real estate assets recognized as a result of this revaluation reflects mainly the depreciation expenses recorded over the last three years, which more than offset the reduction in the fair value of these assets. Regarding the main assumption related to this revaluation, the average monthly rent per square meter for the real estate assets that were revalued in both 2008 and 2011 remained broadly stable at Euro 6,

As at 31 December 2013
(Amounts in Euro)

although the overall average monthly rent per square meter increased to Euro 7, as a result of real estate assets acquired in 2009 and 2010.

The amortization of the surplus resulting from the revaluation of real estate properties and ducts infrastructure amounted to approximately Euro 9 million and Euro 32 million in 2013, respectively, and to Euro 10 million and Euro 32 million in 2012, respectively. If these assets had been carried under the cost model, the carrying amounts of the real estate properties and the ducts infrastructure as of 31 December 2013 would have been reduced by approximately Euro 178 million and Euro 466 million, respectively.

For other classes of assets that were previously revalued to the date of transition to NCRF, the Company opted, under the adoption of new accounting standards, to consider the book value at the date of transition as deemed cost, as permitted by the exception foreseen in paragraph 10 of NCRF 3, so that these assets are measured according to the cost model.

In accordance with the applicable legislation, a portion (40%) of the increase in depreciation resulting from legal revaluations made in previous years, and the entire increase in depreciation resulting from revaluations recognized in 2008 do not constitute a cost for the purpose of determining corporate income tax payable (except the revaluations resulting from Decree-Law no. 126/77 of April 2, which are included in their entirety). Consequently, a deferred tax liability was recorded corresponding to the revaluation surplus to be realized (Note 15).

6.3. Other situations related to tangible fixed assets

During the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, the following expenses were included in the carrying value of tangible assets and intangible assets in progress:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Materials consumed	4,062,335	3,094,392
Wages and salaries	39,920,165	33,646,133
Other expenses and losses	5,654,791	5,323,514
	49,637,291	42,064,039

The nature of the main projects that include own work capitalized relates to the planning, supervision and monitoring of installation of terminal equipment, namely IPTV equipment and Fiber-to-the-Home (“FTTH”).

For the net carrying value of tangible fixed assets as at 31 December 2013, we note the following:

- There are buildings installed in properties of third parties in the total amount of Euro 7,761,392;
- There are assets of PT Comunicações composed mainly of real estate, that were not registered under the Company’s name amounting to Euro 8,598,796, of which Euro 1,503,353 are registered under the name of PT SGPS;
- The Company has tangible fixed assets located overseas with a net book value of Euro 11,867,428, including primarily participation in submarine cable consortiums;
- The tangible fixed assets which, under the terms of article 5 of the Annex to Decree-Law no. 31/2003 of February 17 which constituted the Bases for the Concession of Public Telecommunications Service (Note 1), are subject to the Concession, had a carrying value of Euro 1,709,598,507.

Land and buildings that were not used in operating activities as at 31 December 2013 and 2012 were classified under this caption, according to the accounting policy adopted by the Company.

These assets are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. PT Comunicações makes periodic valuations of these assets. As at 31 December 2013, the real estate book value with acquisition cost exceeding Euro 50,000 amounted to approximately Euro 12.8 million, whereas the corresponding market value amounted to Euro 14.3 million.

During the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, PT Comunicações has obtained rental income from this real estate amounting to Euro 620,062 and Euro 638,953, respectively, which were classified under the caption “Other income and gains” (Note 32).

8. Goodwill

The composition of goodwill as at 31 December 2013, computed following the acquisition of subsidiaries, some of which were subsequently merged into the Company, is as follows:

Entity	Year of acquisition	Carrying value
		Euro
Mobile Business (Meo, SA)	2010	2,145,416,586
Wireline Business
Internet Business / portal (ex- PT.Com)	2007	560,447,103

International Business (ex- Marconi)	2000	41,255,121
		2,982,442,403

For the purposes of impairment tests, goodwill was allocated to cash generating units. The recoverable amount was determined from the respective value in use through the discounted cash flows methodology, using a cash flow forecast of a four year period, which was prepared internally. The discount rate applied to projected cash flows, which was determined taking into account the risk

Growth rate	1.0% - 1.5%	1.0% - 1.5%
Discount rate	7.7% - 8.7%	7.7% - 8.7%

The recoverable amount of each cash generating unit was determined for the minimum and maximum values listed in the table above and the Company's management concluded that, as at 31 December 2013, the book value of the cash generating unit, including goodwill, did not exceed its recoverable amount.

(a) On 3 May 2012, PT Comunicações concluded the acquisition of an investment in RETI that was previously held by TVI, through the payment of the fifth and last installment, amounting to Euro 1,094,382 (Note 4), that was considered in an agreement entered in December 2009, and following the amounts already paid in previous years as advances for financial investments, for the total amount of Euro 6,771,730. These amounts were fully adjusted based on the Company's expectation that RETI's analogical network was redundant considering the network of PT Comunicações. As a result of the acquisition of this investment, the Company recorded an investment of Euro 71,699, corresponding to the shareholders' equity of the acquired company, and recorded a goodwill of Euro 7,794,413, corresponding to the difference between the acquisition price of Euro 7,866,112 and the financial investment. Both the goodwill and the impairment losses recognized in previous years over payments made or to be made under the agreement entered into in December 2009, amounting to Euro 7,866,112, were transferred to net income. In December 2012, the Board of Directors of both companies approved the merger of RETI into PT Comunicações as from 3 May 2012 and, as such, the Company eliminated the financial investment in RETI, amounting to Euro 71,699, and recorded in its balance sheet the assets and liabilities of RETI as of that date that were transferred to PT Comunicações.

- (b) In the year ended 31 December 2012, the Company's investment in CTM amounting to Euro 5,069,882 (Note 20 a)), representing 3% of the capital of that company, was classified as a non-current asset held for sale. The disposal of this investment was completed in June 2013.

In 2013 and 2012, increases the gross value of financial investments accounted for by the equity method gross were as follows:

11. Post-retirement benefits

As referred to in Note 3, PT Comunicações is responsible for the payment of post-retirement benefits under defined benefit plans, which include pensions and pension supplements to retired and active employees, healthcare services after retirement age and salaries to suspended and pre-retired employees.

The actuarial valuations of Portugal Telecom's defined benefit plans as at 31 December 2013, 2012 and 2011 were computed based on the projected unit credit method and considered the following main financial and demographic actuarial assumptions:

	2013	2012	2011
	Euro
Financial assumptions
Discount rate for obligations related to:
Pension supplements	3.00%	3.00%	4.75%
Salaries to suspended and pre-retired employees	2.00%	2.00%	3.75%
Healthcare	4.00%	4.00%	4.75%
Salary growth rate for obligations related to:
Pension supplements and healthcare	1.75%	1.75%	1.75%
Salaries to suspended and pre-retired employees ⁽ⁱ⁾	0.00% - 1.75%	0.00% - 1.75%	0.00% - 1.75%
Pension growth rate	GDP linked	GDP linked	GDP linked
Social Security sustainability factor	Applicable	Applicable	Not applicable
Inflation rate	2.00%	2.00%	2.00%
Healthcare cost trend growth rate	3.00%	3.00%	3.00%

(i) For salaries payable until 2017, the salary growth rate ranges from 0% to 1% depending on the amount of the salary. As from 2018, the salary growth rate is 1.75% for all situations.

	2013	2012	2011
	Euro
Demographic assumptions
Mortality tables for active beneficiaries:
Males	PA (90)m adjusted	PA (90)m adjusted	AM (92)
Females	PA (90)f adjusted	PA (90)f adjusted	AF (92)
Mortality tables for non-active beneficiaries:
Males	PA (90)m adjusted	PA (90)m adjusted	PA (90)m adjusted
Females	PA (90)f adjusted	PA (90)f adjusted	PA (90)f adjusted
Retirement age ⁽ⁱ⁾	65 - 66	65	65
Disability table (Swiss Reinsurance Company)	25%	25%	25%
Active employees with spouses under the plan	35%	35%	35%
Turnover of employees	Nil	Nil	Nil

(i) In 2013, the Portuguese retirement age changed from 65 to 66 years old, applicable for the majority of Portugal Telecom's beneficiaries under post retirement benefit plans, although the retirement at 65 years old is still applicable for certain other employees.

The discount rate was computed based on long-term yield rates of high-rating bonds as of the date of the Balance sheet for durations comparable to the liabilities for pensions and pension supplements, salaries and health care benefits (between 4 and 15 years).

11. Post-retirement benefits (Continued)

After the adoption of the amendment of IAS 19, the rate of return on long-term fund assets is the same as the discount rate used.

Salary growth rate was established in accordance with Group policy for wages and salaries and pension growth rates and the sustainability factor was established in line with Portuguese Government information.

Demographic assumptions considered by Portugal Telecom are based on mortality tables generally accepted for actuarial valuation purposes, with these tables being periodically adjusted to reflect the actual mortality rates observed among the plan participants.

In 2013 and 2012, the total impact of changes in actuarial assumptions a net losses of Euro 100,906,000, and Euro 136,212,106 (Notes 11.7), respectively, and was recognized directly in shareholders' equity.

The impact of an increase by 25 bp on the average discount rate actuarial assumption would be a decrease of the responsibilities for post retirement benefits by approximately Euro 23 million as at 31 December 2013, while the impact of an increase (decrease) in the health care cost trend rate by 1% would be an increase (decrease) of the responsibilities for post retirement benefits by approximately Euro 69 million (Euro 56 million) as at 31 December 2013.

The impact of an increase (decrease) by 1% in the discount rate actuarial assumption would be a increase (decrease) of post retirement benefit costs in the year 2013 by approximately Euro 8 million, corresponding to the increase (decrease) in net interest cost.

11.1. Supplement benefits

As referred to in Note 3, prior to the transfer of pension obligations to the Portuguese State, PT Comunicações was responsible for the payment of regulatory pensions and pension supplements to retired and active employees, and is no longer responsible for the payment of regulatory pensions following that transfer. These liabilities, which were estimated based on actuarial valuations, are as follows:

- a) Retirees and employees of Companhia Portuguesa Rádio Marconi, SA ("Marconi", a company merged into PT Comunicações in 2002) hired prior to 1 February 1998 are entitled to a supplemental pension benefit ("Marconi Complementary Fund"). In addition, PT Comunicações contributes to the fund "Fundo de Melhoria Marconi" with 1.55% of the salaries paid to these employees, which is responsible to pay the additional pension supplement.
- b) Retirees and employees of TLP and TDP hired prior to 23 June 1994 are entitled to receive a pension supplement from PT Comunicações, which complements the pension paid by the Portuguese social security system.
- c) On retirement, PT Comunicações pays a lump sum gratuity of a fixed amount which depends on the length of service completed by the employee.

Employees hired by PT Comunicações or any of its predecessor companies after the dates indicated above are not entitled to these benefits, as they are covered by the general Portuguese Government social security system.

As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, plans from PT Comunicações covered 19,763 and 19,814 beneficiaries, respectively, of which approximately 64% and 63%, are non active, respectively.

Portugal Telecom is exposed to risks related to the changes in the fair value of the plan assets associated with Portugal Telecom's post-retirement defined pension supplement plans. The main purpose of the established investment policy is capital preservation through five main principles: (1) diversification; (2) stable strategic asset allocation and disciplined rebalancing; (3) lower exposure to currency fluctuations; (4) specialized instruments for each class of assets; and (5) cost control.

11.2. Health care benefits

As referred to in Note 3, PT Comunicações is responsible for the payment of post-retirement health care benefits to certain employees, suspended employees, pre-retired employees, retired employees and their eligible relatives. Health care services are rendered by PT-ACS, which was incorporated with the sole purpose of managing the Company's Health Care Plan.

This plan, sponsored by PT Comunicações, includes all employees hired by PT Comunicações until 31 December 2000 and by Marconi until 1 February 1998.

Net actuarial losses and gains recorded in 2013 and 2012 related to changes in actuarial assumptions mainly resulting from the changes in the financial and demographic actuarial assumptions detailed above, as follows:

- Net actuarial losses recognized in 2013 amounting to Euro 101 million correspond to the impact of the change in the Portuguese retirement age from 65 to 66 years old;
- Net actuarial losses recorded in 2012, amounting to Euro 136 million, include primarily the impacts resulting from (1) the suspension of the early retirement regime (loss of Euro 39 million), either permanently for employees under the CGA regime or during the financial assistance programme to Portugal for the remaining employees, (2) the reduction in the discount rates for responsibilities with pension supplements, health care benefits and salaries payable to suspended and pre-retired employees (loss of Euro 102 million), and (3) the change in the mortality tables for active beneficiaries;

The detail of net actuarial gains and losses resulting from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions is as follows:

- Net actuarial losses recognized in 2013 amounting to Euro 38 million include (1) a gain of Euro 3 million related to the difference between actual return on plan assets (+4.5%) and expected return on plan assets calculated based on discount rates used to compute PBO, and (2) a loss of Euro 41 million related to the difference between actual data and actuarial assumptions related to projected benefits obligations, namely those assumptions related to the salary, pension and healthcare cost trend growth rates;
- Actuarial gains recognized in 2012, amounting to Euro 91 million, include (i) a gain of Euro 68 million related to the difference between actual (+25.2%) and expected return on plan assets calculated based on discount rates used to compute PBO, and (ii) a gain of Euro 23 million corresponding to the difference between actual data and actuarial assumptions regarding projected responsibilities, particular assumptions about growth rates of wages, pensions and health care;

15. Income taxes

15.1. Introduction

In 2013, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 25%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rate of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million (Euro 10.0 million in 2012) and at the rate of 5.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 7.5 million (Euro 10.0 million in 2012).

As from 2014, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 23%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rates of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million, 5.0% on taxable income between Euro 7.5 million and Euro 35.0 million and 7.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 35.0 million, resulting in a maximum aggregate tax rate of approximately 31.5% for taxable income higher than Euro 35.0 million.

As the Company reported tax losses for both years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, neither the 1.5% municipal tax nor the state taxes are applicable. Consequently, and based on its expectations regarding future taxable results, PT Comunicações used the 23% and 25% tax rates for purposes of computing deferred taxes, at 31 December 2013 and 2012, respectively.

The Company's income taxes are computed based on the tax rate mentioned above and are determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation.

The Company is part of the Special Taxation Regime for Groups of Companies (RETGS) whose dominant company is PT SGPS, so the income tax estimate and deductions made by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable and receivable of PT SGPS.

In accordance with the prevailing legislation, taxation returns are subject to review and correction by the tax authorities during a period of four years (five years for Social Security, Security), except where there have been tax losses, fiscal benefits have been granted, or there are inspections, claims or challenges pending; in such cases, these periods may be extended or suspended, depending on the circumstances. Based upon the information supplied by its tax advisory services, the Board of Directors considers that any corrections to the tax returns that might result from reviews carried out by the tax authorities will not have a significant effect on the financial statements as at 31 December 2013, considering the provisions recorded and the current expectations of settlement regarding tax contingencies described in Note 22.

15.2. Deferred taxes

As mentioned in Note 3.11, deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is reasonably likely that taxable income will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be used, or when there are deferred tax liabilities the reversal of which is expected in the same period in which the deferred tax assets reverse. PT Comunicações believes that deferred tax assets recorded in the Balance Sheet are recoverable either through its future taxable income, based on its budget for the year 2014 and projections of results for the subsequent years adjusted for differences between the accounting and taxable earnings and for certain financial operations to be undertaken in the future, or through the reversal of deferred tax liabilities.

In assessing income tax expenses for the year, in addition to the current tax determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation, the effects of temporary differences between income before tax and taxable earnings arising in the given year or in previous years is also considered.

(ii) This caption reflects the impact non-taxable gains, recorded upon the disposal of the investment in CTM (Note 20).

(iii) This caption refers to the difference between the accounting capital gains and losses and corresponding tax capital gains and losses related to the disposal of fixed assets.

(b) This caption corresponds to the taxable loss computed in both years by the Company in accordance with Income Tax legislation. In accordance with the fiscal policy set by Portugal Telecom Group, the gain related to the use of these tax losses has been recorded at the group level in PT SGPS' financial statements.

15. Income taxes (Continued)

- (c) Based on its expectation regarding its individual tax results, the Company in 2011 wrote off a portion of deferred tax assets related to post-retirement benefits that would have been used in 2012, since it believes that the referred tax results will not be enough to allow the use of these deferred tax assets. In 2012, the Company incurred in the tax costs associated with the deferred taxes derecognized in 2011, which therefore contributed to the tax loss generated in the year 2012, as detailed in the table above, and led to the permanent difference presented in 2012.

15.4. Other information

In connection with the Law 40/2005, of August 3, which approved the program SIFIDE—Tax Incentives on Research and Development System, the Company filed in 2013 the application related to the year 2012, amounting to Euro 578,170.

Under the law 10/2009 of March 10, which approved the RFAI—Tax Regime to Support Investment, the Company included in its 2012 income tax declaration form a tax benefit amounting to Euro 5,769,684, related to the significant investments made on the creation of new generation broadband networks.

In 2013, it was approved the Law 49/2013 of 16 July, which establishes an Extraordinary Tax Credit on Investment in the form of an income tax deduction amounting to 20% of the investments related to the company's operations that are realized after 1 June 2013. In the entities that are included in the tax consolidation regime, that deduction will be realized based on the Group's taxable income, and the amount that cannot be deducted may be used in the subsequent five fiscal years, in the same conditions. The Company is evaluation weather will use this benefit or not, based on the investment realized in 2013, the maximum amount of which eligible for tax purposes is Euro 5,122,814, and as such did not reflect this matter in the financial statements.

17. Accounts receivables and unbilled revenues (Continued)

The Company is exposed to the credit risk arising from the possibility that a third party does not fulfil its contractual obligations, resulting in a financial loss. The credit risk is primarily related to accounts receivable from services provided to customers and is monitored regularly with the following objectives: (a) limit the credit granted to customers, considering their profile and aging of receivables; (b) monitor the evolution of the credit level granted; (c) make regular reviews of the receivables recoverability; (d) analysis of market risk where the customer is located. The Company is not exposed to any significant credit risk related to a particular customer, to the extent that its receivables arise from a large number of customers.

As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the aging of receivables, net of impairment losses, was as follows:

20. Non-current assets held for sale

The composition of non-current assets held for sale as at 31 December 2013 and 2012 is as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Opening balance	5,069,882	—
Acquisition of Sportinvest Multimédia ⁽ⁱ⁾	4,653,742	—
Transfer of the CTM from the caption “Financial investments-equity method of accounting” (Note 10)	—	5,069,882

Dividends CTM (Note 10)	(2,759,950)	—
Closing balance	4,653,742	5,069,882

(i) This stake was acquired for an amount of 32,618,669 euros (Note 4), corresponding to the nominal value of additional paid and supplies granted to this entity, and was recognized an impairment loss in the amount of EUR 27,964,927 (Note 33) to meet the estimated realizable value.

a) CTM

On 13 January 2013, Portugal Telecom entered into a definitive agreement for the sale to CITIC Telecom of its 28% equity stake held in CTM and as such this investment was classified as a non-current asset held for sale as at 31 December 2012. Upon the closing of this transaction on 20 June 2013, PT Comunicações received a total amount of Euro 35,966,391 (Notes 1 (b), 4 (b) and 10) by its 3% stake in the share capital of CTM, and recognized a gain of Euro 32,729,421 (Note 27), which includes: (1) a gain of Euro 33,656,459 corresponding to the difference between the proceeds obtained from this transaction and the carrying value of this investment as at 31 December 2012, of Euro 5,069,882, net of dividends received during the first quarter of 2013, amounting to Euro 2,759,950 and a loss of Euro 927,038 (Note 21.5) corresponding to the cumulative amount of negative foreign currency translation adjustments relating to this investment that were reclassified to profit and loss upon the completion of the sale.

b) Sportinveste Multimédia

On 20 December 2012, Portugal Telecom reached an agreement on a number of transactions that will allow Portugal Telecom to have a 25% stake in a joint-venture that will combine Sport TV Portugal S.A. (“Sport TV”), Sportinveste Multimédia SGPS, S.A. (“Sportinveste Multimédia”) and P.P. TV—Publicidade de Portugal e Televisão, S.A. (“PPTV”). Portugal Telecom will contribute its current 50% stake in Sportinveste Multimédia and invest, through a rights issue in Sport TV, a net amount of up to Euro 21 million. Following these transactions, Portugal Telecom will own 25% of Sport TV, which will incorporate PPTV and Sportinveste Multimédia. As a result of this agreement, Portugal Telecom’s investment in Sportinveste Multimédia was classified as a non-current asset held for sale as at 31 December 2012, the carrying value of which amounted to Euro 5 million as of that date. This investment in Sportinveste Multimédia was disposed of in 2013 by PT SGPS to PT Comunicações (Note 1 b)), having been also classified as non-current asset held for sale by the recoverable amount of this investment.

Sport TV produces one of the most complete and broad sports content offering worldwide and PPTV promotes television rights. Sportinveste Multimédia is currently equally owned by Portugal Telecom and Sportinveste SGPS and its core business is the production and development of sports contents through any multimedia platform. This transaction will result in a joint-venture that will allow a higher operational efficiency in management of sports contents in the various distribution platforms, including pay-TV, mobile networks and Internet. This will benefit all operators in the market as well as their customers. Taking into consideration that sports contents are core to its strategy in the various market segments,

20. Non-current assets held for sale (Continued)

Portugal Telecom will continue to distribute other sports contents thus striving to retain a diversified and competitive offer to its customers.

On 31 December 2013, these corporate transactions are subject to the approval of the competent authorities, particularly the Competition Authority—Autoridade da Concorrência, and the accomplishment of certain contractual conditions by the companies involved, including the conclusion of Sport TV's refinancing following the transaction.

21. Shareholders' equity

21.1. Share capital

As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company's share capital was fully paid and amounted to Euro 1,150,000,000 and was represented by 1,150,000,000 nominal shares (Note 36), with a nominal value of 1 Euro each. As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the entirety of the Company's share capital was held by PT Portugal.

21.2. Other shareholders' equity instruments

This caption corresponds to additional paid in capital contributions granted by PT Portugal, which do not bear interest and have no reimbursement term defined. In accordance with applicable law, reimbursement may be made only if, after payment, shareholders' equity is greater than the sum of capital, legal reserves and unrealised revaluation reserves.

21.3. Legal reserve

Portuguese law provides that at least 5% of annual profits must be appropriated to a legal reserve until this reserve equals the minimum requirement of 20% of share capital. This reserve is not available for distribution to shareholders but may be capitalized or used to absorb losses, once all other reserves and retained earnings have been exhausted.

21.4. Other reserves

During the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, the movements under this caption were as follows:

	Net actuarial losses	Free reserves	Total

(a) The foreign currency exchange differences determined following the application of the equity method of accounting are related to the update of financial investment in Oi, which is indirectly owned through the affiliated company MEO, SA.

(b) In 2012, other changes in shareholders' equity resulting from the equity method of accounting include primarily a gain recorded by Bratel Brasil (a company of PT Group that holds the investment in Oi Group and is held indirectly by MEO, SA), amounting to Euro 49 million, corresponding to the impact of a corporate restructuring undertaken by the Oi Group in March 2012.

Movements related to the equity method of accounting were recorded under the following captions:

21.6. Revaluation surplus

During the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, the movements under this caption were as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Opening balance	589,044,034	623,874,447
Realization of revaluation surplus
Base	(44,956,340)	(45,768,002)
Tax effect	10,526,934	10,937,589
Impact of change in tax rate (Note 15.2)	12,879,404	—
Closing balance	567,494,032	589,044,034

In accordance with the applicable legislation and the accounting practices used in Portugal, the revaluation reserves cannot be distributed to shareholders; they can only be used, under certain circumstances and in accordance with Portuguese legislation, for future capital increases.

The revaluation reserves recognized under this caption are related to both (1) assets measured in accordance with the revaluation model, and also (Note 6.2), (2) other assets revalued previously, for which the Company, in connection with the adoption of SNC and as permitted by NCRF 3, adopted the cost model. The Company decided to include both of these revaluation reserves under this caption as they are both non-distributable to shareholders, as mentioned above.

Annually, PT Comunicações transfers to retained earnings the revaluation reserve realized in the year, primarily through the depreciation of the asset that originated these reserves. The amounts transferred during the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, net of the corresponding tax effects, amounted to Euro 34,429,406 and Euro 34,830,413, respectively.

21.7. Other shareholders' equity

PT Comunicações recognises under this caption subsidies associated with the acquisition or production of non-current assets (investment subsidies), which were entirely received and are non-refundable, where the Company is not under obligation to comply with conditions associated with the subsidy.

These subsidies are subsequently recognized in earnings during the useful lives of the related assets for which those subsidies were granted. The Company recognized gains amounting to Euro 2,150,776 in 2013 and Euro 2,997,997 in 2012 (Note 32). The balance of this caption corresponds to the remaining amount of subsidies that have not yet been recognized in earnings.

21.8. Application of earnings

In 2012, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 29 March 2012, the negative net income of 2011, was entirely transferred to the caption "Retained earnings".

In 2013, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 27 March 2013, the negative net income of 2012 was entirely transferred to the caption "Retained earnings".

22.2 Claims and legal proceedings

a) Proceedings with probable losses

Provisions for tax claims and legal proceedings are related to liabilities arising from legal proceedings against the Company, and are computed based on the advice of PT Comunicações' tax and legal advisors.

22. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets (Continued)

As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, there were several legal proceedings and tax contingencies which, in accordance with “NCRF 21 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets” (“NCRF 21”) and based on the opinion of the Company’s internal and external tax and legal counsels, were considered as probable losses, since the Company considered probable the outflow of resources to settle the obligation. The nature of these claims is as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Legal proceedings
Civil contingencies	1,372,668	3,321,484
Labor contingencies	2,130,323	2,504,227

Tax contingencies	5,118,418	14,908,002
	11,591,905	24,582,995

Set forth below are several tax claims assessed as constituting a probable loss, namely related to a portion of the VAT and IRC tax assessments in regard to the years 1998 of Marconi and 1999 of Portugal Telecom, S.A., and the years 2002 to 2012 of PT Comunicações, among others, the Company has recorded a provision amounting to Euro 5,118,418 in 2013, including tax and interest. However, the Company is contesting these claims with the tax authorities.

b) Proceedings with possible losses

As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company, in accordance with the definitions of NCRF 21 and based on the advice of its internal and external tax and legal counsels, had classified several claims and legal proceedings and tax contingencies as proceedings with possible losses. The nature of these proceedings is as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Legal proceedings
Civil contingencies	70,241,929	74,163,129

22.3 Description of the main claims with regulatory entities and other legal proceedings

The following litigation processes relate to the main claims and legal proceedings filed by regulatory entities against PT Comunicações, some of which the Company considers, based on the advice of its internal and external legal counsels that related losses are remote, in accordance with the definitions of NCRF 21.

a) Claims for municipal taxes and fees

Pursuant to a statute enacted on 1 August 1997, as an operator of a basic telecommunications network, Portugal Telecom was exempt from municipal taxes and rights-of-way and other fees with respect to its

22. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets (Continued)

network in connection with its obligations under the Concession. The Portuguese Government has advised Portugal Telecom in the past that this statute confirmed the tax exemption under our Concession. The Portuguese Government has informed Portugal Telecom it will continue to take the necessary actions in order for PT Comunicações to maintain the economic benefits contemplated by the Concession.

Law 5/2004, dated 10 February 2004, established a new rights-of-way regime in Portugal whereby each municipality may establish a fee, up to a maximum of 0.25% of each wireline services bill, to be paid by the customers of those wireline operators whose network infrastructures are located in each such municipality. This regime was implemented in 2005 but does not affect the lawsuit described above based on the former statute. Meanwhile, Decree-Law 123/2009, dated 21 May 2009, clarified that no other tax should be levied by the municipalities in addition to the tax established by Law 5/2004. This interpretation was confirmed by the Supreme Administrative Court of Portugal in various legal actions.

Some municipalities however, continue to interpret that the Law 5/2004 does not expressly revoke other taxes that the municipalities wish to establish, because Law 5/2004 is not applicable to the public municipality domain. Currently, there are legal proceedings filed by some municipalities regarding this matter.

b) Regulatory proceedings

Portugal Telecom's operations are regularly subject to regulatory inquiries and investigations involving their operations. In addition, ANACOM (the telecommunications regulator), the European Commission, and the Autoridade da Concorrência (the competition authority) regularly make inquiries and conduct investigations concerning compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Current inquiries and investigations include several investigations by the (Autoridade da Concorrência) related to PT Comunicações for alleged anti-competitive practices in the Digital Terrestrial Television market. The Company believes that most of the complaints that have resulted in such investigations should be dismissed due to the nature of the alleged abuses and the novelty of the relevant antitrust laws. However, if PT Comunicações is found to be in violation of applicable laws and regulations in these or other regulatory inquiries and investigations, it could become subject to penalties, fines, damages or other sanctions. It is however permitted under Portuguese law to appeal any adverse decision to the Courts.

In April 2007, the Autoridade da Concorrência filed a complaint alleging that PT Comunicações abused its dominant market position by granting, in 2003, discriminatory discounts on lease lines. PT Comunicações challenged this claim with the authorities. However, on 1 September 2008, the Autoridade da Concorrência imposed a fine of Euro 2.1 million on PT Comunicações. PT Comunicações appealed to the Commerce Court of Lisbon, on 29 September 2008 and, on 29 February 2012, the Commerce Court of Lisbon cleared PT Comunicações of the fine. The Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external legal counsels, has not recorded any provision for this matter.

c) Other legal proceedings

In March 2004, TV TEL Grande Porto—Comunicações, SA. ("TVTEL"), a telecommunications company based in Oporto, filed a claim against PT Comunicações in the Lisbon Judicial Court. TV TEL alleged that, since 2001, PT Comunicações has unlawfully restricted access to its telecommunication ducts in Oporto, thereby undermining and delaying the installation and development of TV TEL's telecommunications network. TV TEL alleges that PT Comunicações intended to favor both itself and CATVP—TV Cabo Portugal, S.A, a PT Multimedia subsidiary and at the time a direct competitor of TV TEL. TV TEL is claiming an amount of approximately Euro 15 million from Portugal Telecom for damages and losses allegedly caused and yet to be sustained by that company as a result of the delay in the installation of its telecommunications network in Oporto. In addition, TV TEL has demanded that PT Comunicações be required to give full access to its ducts in Oporto. PT Comunicações submitted its defence to these claims, stating that: (1) TV TEL did not have a general right to install its network in PT Comunicações' ducts; (2) all of TV TEL's requests were lawfully and timely responded to by PT Comunicações according to its general infra-structure management policy; and (3) TV TEL's claims for damages and losses were not factually sustainable. On February 2013, the court decided a compensation related to increased costs of financing incurred and a value regarding loss of clients to be liquidated by TV TEL. Both parties have appealed.

In March 2011, Optimus—Comunicações S.A. ("Optimus") filed a claim against Portugal Telecom in the Judicial Court of Lisbon for the payment of approximately Euro 11 million and, in October 2011, Onitelem—Infocomunicações, S.A ("Oni") filed a claim against Portugal Telecom in the same court for the payment of approximately Euro 1.5 million, both related to a proceeding of the Autoridade da Concorrência that terminated in 2011 for prescription reasons, in relation to which Autoridade da Concorrência had imposed a fine to Portugal Telecom of approximately Euro 45 million. Optimus and Oni sustained their position by arguing that they suffered losses and damages as a result of Portugal Telecom's conduct. In the Optimus action, the Company is waiting for the schedule of the trial, while regarding the Oni legal action, Portugal Telecom was acquitted due to prescription reasons.

22.4 Other tax contingencies

In addition to the tax contingencies mentioned above, the risk of loss of which was deemed as either probable or possible (Note 22.2), there are other tax claims pending appeal or judicial decision, totalling Euro 21 million, which include primarily (1) tax assessments filed by the tax authorities with respect to the income tax from 1997 to 1998 of Portugal Telecom, SA and Marconi, and for 2002 and 2010 of PT Comunicações, and (2) additional payments of VAT from 2000 to 2004. The Company's opinion, based on the advice of its tax and legal counsel, is that the risk of loss associated with these claims is remote.

22.5 Provisions for losses on financial investments

Provisions for losses on financial investments are related to losses in subsidiaries and associated companies that have negative shareholders' equity (Note 12), and are computed based on the Company's share in the shareholders' equity of those entities. Movements in these provisions during the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Equity method
Losses in subsidiaries and associated companies (Note 27)	2,446	5,110
Gains in subsidiaries and associated companies (Note 27)	(2,444)	—
Adjustments to financial assets (Note 21.5)	(674)	181
Acquisition of Yunit (Notes 1 and 4)	103,584	—
	102,912	5,291

22.6 Contingent assets

As at 31 December 2013, the main contingent asset relates to a request for the transmission of tax losses from PT.Com, a company that was merged into PT Comunicações in 2004, amounting to Euro 56 million. The recovery of this amount depends on the appeal filed by the Company. The request filed by the Company was overruled by the tax authorities on 2 February 2007, and the Company challenged this decision on 15 May 2007 through a special administrative proceeding, which is pending a final decision.

23.1 Loans to Group companies

In March 2013, the Company obtained a loan from PT Portugal, amounting to Euro 252,000,000 (Note 4), as a result of which the total amount due increased to Euro 3,779,000,000. These loans have no defined maturity, but shall be repaid, partially or entirely, in more than one year, subject to the cash needs of the Company. The interest on these loans is linked to market rates.

23.2 Centralized cash management

As from March 2006, Portugal Telecom centralized all cash receipts and payments from Group companies located in Portugal. The financings obtained by the Company under this system have short term maturities and bear interest at market rates.

23.3 Commercial paper

On 25 June 1999, Portugal Telecom established a commercial paper program. Following subsequent amendments to this program, the maximum amount under this program as at 31 December 2013 is Euro 3,500,000,000. This program is in place until 7 July 2015, and is automatically renewable for two year periods, until 7 July 2025, unless one of the parties objects to it. As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company had issued an amount of Euro 898,400,000 and Euro 1,440,400,000, respectively, under this program, which was fully subscribed by PT Finance.

On 1 June 2000, Portugal Telecom had issued another commercial paper program. Following subsequent amendments to this program, the maximum amount under this program as at 31 December 2013 is Euro 3,000,000,000. This program is in place until 1 June 2014, and is automatically renewable for two year periods, until 1 June 2020, unless one of the parties objects to it. As at 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company had issued an amount of Euro 2,188,350,000 and Euro 2,238,350,000, respectively, under this program, which was fully subscribed by PT Finance.

23.4 Finance leases

Financial leasing obligations are essentially the result of: (i) lease contracts with respect to vehicles, under which there are generally purchase options at the end of their term, and (ii) contracts for the acquisition of satellite capacity, under which the Company has the right to use this capacity in the normal course of telecommunications operations, a right that is recorded by the Company as an intangible asset. The contracts for the acquisition of satellite capacity do not include purchase options but, generally, the Company has a preference in the allocation of future transponders' capacity.

23.5 Other information

As at 31 December 2013, the Company was party, along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, to one Credit Facilities, with the amount of Euro 800 million, with maturity in June 2016.

As at 31 December 2013, the Company was also part, along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, in an Export Credit Facility, amounting to Euro 180 million, with a maturity in 2023. As at 31 December 2013, the amount used under the Credit Facilities, mentioned above, by PT Finance was Euro 400 million and Euro 70 million, respectively.

As at 31 December 2013, the main covenants included in financing contracts, in relation to which the Company is collectively responsible along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, are as follows and refer to the consolidated accounts:

- Change in control: The exchangeable bonds, the credit facilities amounting to Euro 670 million and the loans obtained from the European Investment Bank (“EIB”) totalling Euro 527 million establish penalties in the case of a change in control of PT SGPS. According to the terms and conditions of these debt instruments, a change of control would occur if any person or group of persons acting in concert acquires or controls more than 50 per cent of voting rights, whether obtained by ownership of share capital, the holding of voting rights or pursuant to the terms of a shareholders’ agreement. In certain cases, gaining the power to appoint or remove all, or the majority, of the directors or other equivalent officers of PT SGPS or to give directions with respect to the operating and financial policies of PT SGPS with which the directors or equivalent officers of the company are obliged to comply are also considered a change of control.

The Euro 750 million Eurobond issued in 2009, the Euro 600 million Eurobond issued in 2011, the Euro 750 million Eurobond issued in 2012 and the Euro 1,000 million Eurobonds issued in 2013, establish penalties in the case of any change of control of Portugal Telecom, as described above, only if simultaneously a rating downgrade to sub-investment grade occurs (in case the securities are investment grade securities) or a rating downgrade occurs (in case the securities are sub-investment grade securities) during the Change of Control Period, as defined under the terms and conditions of these notes.

- Control/disposal of subsidiaries: Certain revolving credit facilities amounting to Euro 670 million require PT SGPS to, directly or indirectly, maintain majority ownership and control of each material subsidiary. Material subsidiaries are those companies whose total assets are equal or exceed 10% of total consolidated assets or whose total revenues are also equal or exceed 10% of total consolidated revenues.
- Disposal of assets: The loans obtained from the EIB totalling Euro 527 million as at 31 December 2013 include certain restrictions regarding the disposal of assets by PT SGPS.
- Financial ratios: Certain revolving credit facilities totalling Euro 670 million require that Consolidated Net Debt/EBITDA PT SGPS's ratio does not exceed certain values, which vary depending on each financing.
- Negative Pledge: The Euro Medium Term Notes, the exchangeable bonds, the credit facilities, under which Portugal Telecom Group had contracted loans amounting to Euro 670 million, the loans obtained from the EIB and the commercial paper programmes are subject to negative pledge clauses, which restrict the pledge of security interests in the assets of companies included in the consolidation.

The penalties applicable in the event of default in any of these covenants are generally the early payment of the loans obtained or the termination of available credit facilities. As at 31 December 2013, Portugal Telecom and PT Comunicações had fully complied with the covenants mentioned above.

Although current liabilities exceed current assets, the Company is not subject to liquidity risk, because of its ability to obtain needed capital from within the Portugal Telecom Group.

Scope

3. Our audit was performed in accordance with the auditing standards (“Normas Técnicas e as Diretrizes de Revisão/Auditoria”) issued by the Portuguese Institute of Statutory Auditors (“Ordem dos Revisores Oficiais de Contas”), which require that the audit be planned and performed with the objective of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes verifying, on a sample basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and assessing the significant estimates, based on judgements and criteria defined by the Board of Directors, used in their preparation. An audit also includes assessing the adequacy of the accounting principles used and their disclosure, taking into consideration the circumstances, verifying the applicability of the going concern concept and assessing the adequacy of the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our audit also included verifying that the financial information contained in the Managements’ Report is in accordance with the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for expressing our opinion.

Opinion

4. In our opinion, the financial statements referred to in paragraph 1 above, present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of PT Comunicações, S.A. as of 31 December 2012 and the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders’ equity and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in Portugal.

Emphasis

5. The financial statements mentioned in paragraph 1 above refer to the Company on a standalone basis and were prepared in accordance with current legislation for approval and publication. The Company will not prepare consolidated financial statements as, in accordance with number 3 of article 7 of Decree-Law 158/2009, of 13 July 2009 is not required to do so, as its financial statements will be included in the consolidated financial statements of Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A.. As described in Note 3.7, although the financial investments have been accounted for by the equity method, under which the Company’s net profit for the year and shareholders’ equity include the effect of consolidating the subsidiary and associated companies, the accompanying financial statements do not include the effects of a full consolidation of their assets, liabilities, revenues and costs.

Report on other legal requirements

6. It is also our opinion that the financial information contained in the Managements' Report is consistent with the financial statements for the year.

PT Comunicações
Notes to Financial Statements
As at 31 December 2012
(Amounts in Euro)

1. Introduction

(a) Development of the company

PT Comunicações, S.A. (“PT Comunicações” or the “Company”) was incorporated in 2000, in accordance with a resolution from the General Meeting of Portugal Telecom, S.A. on April 27, 2000 within the business restructuring process in Portugal Telecom Group and by spin-off from Portugal Telecom, S.A. The conditions for this spin-off were defined under Decree-Law no. 219/00, of September 9, and Joint Order no. 936-A/2000 issued by the Ministers for Social Provision and for Finance on September 14.

On 30 September 2006, under the restructuring process of the Group Portugal Telecom, Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS”—Holding company of the Group) sold to PT Portugal, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”—a sub-Holding company of the Group) all of the shares of PT Comunicações.

On 27 December 2002, PT Comunicações and the Portuguese Government signed the Contract of Purchase and Sale of the Basic Telecommunications Network (“Basic Network”) and the Telex Network, under which the State transferred the full property of the Basic Network and the Telex Network to PT Comunicações, free of any lien or encumbrance. Under the terms of this contract, PT Comunicações is obliged to: i) guarantee the functioning of the Basic Network as an open network, serving as support for the transmission of a general range of services and available to all telecommunications operators and service providers under equal conditions; and ii) provide the acquired network, during the concession period, with the necessary infrastructure for the provision of the concession services and without prejudice to the possibility of its transfer, replacement and/or encumbrance, provided that this does not affect those services.

On 17 February 2003 Decree-Law no. 31/2003 was published, approving the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract, which changed the conditions for the concession of public telecommunications services approved by Decree-Law no. 40/95 of February 15. This decree introduced the following fundamental changes to the previous Concession Contract: i) rent payment will no longer be made to the Portuguese State; ii) rights and assets subject to the concession will not revert to the State upon termination; and iii) the State will compensate the Company, under certain compensation mechanisms, for possible negative margins incurred by the Company arising from compliance with the obligations inherent to the provision of the fixed telex, telegraphic and broadcasting services and the mobile marine service.

Under the terms of the above-mentioned Amendment Agreement, the objectives of the concession are: the development and operation of the infrastructure that make up the basic network for telecommunications and signal transmission and emission; the provision of a universal telecommunications service, as defined under Decree-Law no. 458/99, of 5 November; the provision of a telex service; the provision of a data transmission service; the provision of a service for the emission and distribution of telecommunications broadcasts; and the provision of a telegraphic service.

The provision of the universal telecommunications service includes the following: i) connection to the fixed telephone network and access to fixed telephone services; ii) availability of public telephones in public places; and iii) availability of telephone directories and an information service.

The concession period expires in March 2025. As mentioned above, both the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract and the Portuguese Law impose certain obligations to PT Comunicações as a universal service provider. On February 2012, following a public hearing about the selection of the universal service provider, Anacom issued a final decision splitting the universal service into three functions: (1) connection to a public communications network in a fixed location and rendering of a telephone service through this network (Tender 1); (2) public phones offer (Tender 2); and (3) make available a complete telephone list and a related service (Tender 3). In 2012, the Portuguese State launched a public tender to select the universal service providers, approved the definition of the universal service cost and established a compensation fund for the universal service providers.

As at 31 December 2012
(Amounts in Euro)

1. Introduction (Continued)

PT Comunicações is qualified to receive compensation from the fund established by Anacom to cover the costs incurred up to date with the universal service.

On 11 February 2004, Law 5/2004 or the “Electronic Communications Act” was published, which establishes the legal regime applicable to electronic communications networks and services, and to the associated resources and services, and defines the authority of the national regulatory agency in this area.

On 9 December 2008, ANACOM attributed to PT Comunicações the rights to the use frequencies, on a national basis, to provide digital television services (TDT) for the broadcasting television programs with unconditional access (also known as public access channels) which is associated with Multiplexer A (Mux A). During the year 2011, ANACOM defined the obligations associated with such rights, and as a result PT Comunicações recognized an intangible asset corresponding to the present value of the commitments under such rights (Note 9).

(b) Corporate transactions

During 2007, PT Comunicações acquired the shares of PT Prime—Enterprise Solutions and Telecommunication Systems, SA (“PT Prime”), PT Corporate—Enterprise Solutions for Telecommunications and Information Systems, SA (“PT Corporate”) and PT.Com—Interactive Communications, SA (“PT.COM”), previously held by PT SGPS, seeking to consolidate all fixed line services into PT Comunicações.

In March 2008, PT.Com and PT Corporate were merged through their incorporation into PT Comunicações and, consequently, the equity, rights and obligations of those companies were transferred to PT Comunicações, and PT.Com and PT Corporate ceased to exist as separate entities.

In July 2009, PT Comunicações acquired from Novabase—Sociedade Gestora de Participações Sociais, SGPS, S.A. (“Novabase”) a 36.25% stake in Superemprego—Sistemas de Informação para a Gestão de Recursos Humanos, S.A. (“Superemprego”), and therefore Superemprego became fully owned by Portugal Telecom Group. In November 2009, Superemprego was merged through its incorporation into PT Comunicações and, consequently, its equity, rights and obligations were transferred to PT Comunicações and Superemprego was ceased to exist as a separate entity.

On 30 November 2010, and considering the need to adjust the corporate structure to reflect the consolidation of its fixed-line and mobile business, PT Comunicações acquired from PT Portugal the full stake in TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A. (“TMN”).

On 29 December 2011, PT Prime was merged into PT Comunicações through the incorporation of its shareholders’ equity and rights and obligations. For accounting purposes, this merger was reported as of 1 January 2011 and, accordingly, all transactions made by PT Prime as from that date were made on behalf of PT Comunicações.

On 3 May 2012, PT Comunicações concluded the acquisition from TVI—Televisão Independente, S.A. (“TVI”) of its former wholly-owned subsidiary RETI—Rede Teledifusora Independente, S.A. (“RETI”), which therefore became a wholly-owned subsidiary of PT Comunicações (Notes 4 and 10). On 12 December 2012, RETI was merged into PT Comunicações through the incorporation of its shareholders’ equity and rights and obligations. For accounting purposes, this merger was reported as of 3 May 2012 and, accordingly, all transactions made by RETI as from that date were made on behalf of PT Comunicações.

(c) Other information

Under the terms of article 7 of Decree-Law no. 158/2009, despite holding financial stakes in group companies and associates, the Company is not required to prepare consolidated financial statements, given that it is indirectly fully held by PT SGPS, which already presents consolidated financial statements which include the financial statements of the Company and its affiliated companies.

PT Comunicações

1. Introduction (Continued)

2. Basis of presentation

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with Portuguese legislation, based on Decree-law n.º. 158/2009, which approved the new Portuguese accounting system, named Sistema de Normalização Contabilística (“SNC”), including the conceptual structure, Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro (“NCRF”) and Interpretative Standards, as approved by Notices n.º 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009, respectively.

The Company adopted NCRF for the first time in 2010 and applied for this purpose the “NCRF 3 First Time Adoption Of NCRF” (“NCRF 3”), with the transition date being 1 January 2009 for the purposes of the presentation of these financial statements. Previously, the Company’s financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting standards as previously in effect in Portugal (Plano Oficial de Contabilidade—“POC”) and other complementary legislation, which were modified by SNC. The conversion adjustments made to the financial statements as at 1 January 2009 were computed retrospectively, as determined by NCRF 3.

As permitted by Decree-Law n.º. 158/2009, the Company also applies the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IAS/IFRS”) and related interpretations (“SIC/IFRIC”) issued by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), in order to fill in the gaps or omissions in SNC regarding specific situations of certain transactions.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates

These financial statements were prepared assuming the continuity of operations. The main accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are described below and were applied consistently, unless indicated otherwise.

3.1. Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets other than land and buildings and ducts infrastructure are stated at acquisition or production cost, which includes the purchase price and any expenses directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and making them operational.

Land, buildings and the ducts infrastructure are presented in accordance with the revaluation model based on regular assessments, at least tri-annually, deducted from subsequent depreciation for buildings and infrastructure. The fair value of real estate properties is determined by external appraisers based on market prices or the income obtained by these assets, under the provisions of NCRF 7 Tangible Fixed Assets. Regarding the ducts infra-structure, the Company, has applied IAS/IFRS by assessing the fair value of these assets based on the depreciated replacement cost method, as this methodology is not provided under NCRF 7. The Company maintained these assets recognized at the revaluation model, although the valuation methodology is not provided under NCRF 7, in order to ensure the consistency with Portugal Telecom’s consolidated financial statements regarding the valuation of this type of asset, through the application of IAS/IFRS.

Subsequent expenses are included in the asset’s carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits flow to the Company and the cost can be measured reliably. The costs of maintenance and repair that are not likely to generate future economic benefits are recognized as an expense in the period they are incurred.

Increases resulting from revaluations are recorded in equity under the caption “Revaluation surplus”, except for increases that reverse a decline previously recognized in earnings. Decreases resulting from revaluations are recorded directly under the caption “Revaluation surplus” up to the credit balance of the revaluation surplus for the relevant asset. Any excess in relation to the relevant credit balance is recognized in earnings. When the revalued asset is written off, the revaluation surplus included in equity regarding the asset is not reclassified to net income and is instead transferred to retained earnings. Annually, the revaluation surpluses are transferred to retained earnings in the same proportion of their depreciation.

With the exception of lands that are not depreciated, the depreciation of other tangible fixed assets is recognized, from the month in which the asset is available for use, on a straight-line basis over the useful life of asset, which is determined according to expected utility. The amortization period of tangible assets is reviewed on an annual basis and adjusted in order to reflect the estimated useful lives. The annual rates applied reflect the estimated useful life for each class of assets, as follows:

Asset Class	Years of useful life
Buildings and other constructions	3 - 50
Basic equipment
Network installations and equipment	7 - 40
Ducts infra-structure	40
Telephones, switchboards and other	4 - 10
Submarine cables	15 - 20
Other basic equipment	4 - 20
Transportation equipment	4 - 8
Administrative equipment	3 - 10
Other tangible fixed assets	4 - 8

Following the approval of the Amendment Agreement to the Concession Contract, concluded in 2003 in connection with the acquisition of the Basic Network from the Portuguese Government, which now provides that the fixed assets related to the concessions will no longer be returned to the Portuguese State after the concession, the Company revised the amortization period of the assets which previously had useful lives that exceeded the term of the Concession Contract.

The useful lives and depreciation methods are reviewed annually, and the effect of any changes to these estimates is recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Gains or losses arising from the write-off or disposal of tangible fixed assets are determined as the difference between the amount received and the net recorded amount of the asset, and are recognized in the income statement.

3.2. Leases

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. The remaining lease contracts are considered operating leases. The classification of leases depends on the substance of the transaction and not on the form of the contract.

Assets acquired under finance leases and the corresponding liabilities are accounted at the beginning of the contract as the lesser amount between the fair value of the assets and the present value of minimum lease payments. Rents include interest and capital amortisation, with the first being recognized in the income statement in the related period.

Under operating leases, rents are recognized on a straight-line basis during the period of the lease.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

3.3. Investment properties

Investment properties includes mainly buildings and land held to earn rent and/or capital appreciation and not for use in the normal course of the business.

Investment properties are stated at acquisition cost plus transaction expenses and reduced by accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Expenditures incurred (maintenance, repairs, insurance and real estate taxes) and income and rents obtained are recognized in the income statement of the period.

Investment properties are depreciated on a straight-line basis, during their expected useful lives. Generally depreciation rates correspond to the respective estimated useful lives (Note 3.1).

3.4. Business combinations and goodwill

Acquisitions of subsidiaries are recorded based on the purchase method (NCRF 14). The purchase price includes, on the acquisition date, the following components: (a) the fair value of assets acquired; (b) the fair value of liabilities incurred; (c) the fair value of equity instruments issued by the Company in exchange for the control of the subsidiary; and (d) expenses directly attributable to the acquisition. When applicable, the purchase price includes the effect of contingent payments agreed under the transaction, with subsequent changes in those payments being recorded as an adjustment to goodwill.

Any excess of the acquisition cost over the fair value of net assets acquired and contingent liabilities of the acquired company at the date of acquisition is recorded as goodwill, in accordance with NCRF 14. If the acquisition cost is lower than the fair value of identifiable net assets, the difference is recorded as a gain in the net income. As provided for in NCRF 3, the Company will apply NCRF 14 only to acquisitions after 1 January 2009 and accordingly goodwill related to acquisitions prior to that date were maintained as initially computed under POC.

Goodwill resulting from the acquisition of subsidiaries is included in the balance sheet under the caption "Goodwill".

Goodwill is not amortised, but tested, on an annual basis or whenever there is evidence of a potential loss of value, for impairment losses. For impairment test purposes, goodwill is allocated to cash generating units. Any impairment loss is recognized in the income statement of the period, and cannot be reversed in a subsequent period.

3.5. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include mainly (1) the amount for the acquisition of the Basic Network, (2) software licenses, (3) TDT license acquisition cost and (4) satellite capacity rights. Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost net of accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis and over a period of three years, except: (a) the value of the acquisition of the property of the Basic Network, which is amortised over the remaining period until the end of the concession (2025), (b) the value of the commitments assumed under the of TDT license, which is amortized until the end of the first renewal period of the same (2038); and (c) the satellite capacity rights, which are amortised over the period of their respective contracts. The useful lives and depreciation method of the intangible assets are reviewed annually, and the effect of any changes to these estimates is recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Expenses with research activities are recognized in earnings when incurred. Development expenses are capitalized when it is demonstrated the technical and economic feasibility of the product, and the Company has the intention and ability to complete its development and starts its commercialization or use, as provided in the “NCRF 6 Intangible Assets”.

3.6. Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

The Company performs impairment tests for its tangible and intangible assets if any event or change results in an indication of impairment. In case of any such indication, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the estimated recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs is used.

The recoverable amount is the greater of fair value less cost to sell and the value in use. The net selling price is the amount that could be received from a transaction between independent parties, reduced by direct costs related to the sale. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the specific risk to the asset.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized in the income statement.

3.7. Financial investments

Subsidiaries are those entities over which the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies generally represented by the majority of the voting rights. Associated companies are entities over which the Company has significant influence but does not control, generally represented by stakes between 20% and 50% of voting rights.

Financial investments in subsidiaries and associated companies are recorded under the equity method of accounting. Under this method, financial investments are initially recorded at acquisition cost and subsequently adjusted for the changes, after the acquisition date, in the Company’s share in the net assets of those entities. The entity’s earnings include its share in the earnings of those companies.

Under the application of the equity method of accounting, adjustments are made to the financial statements of affiliated companies in order to (1) conform their accounting policies with those adopted by the Company, (2) reflect the impacts of purchase price allocation processes and, (3) eliminate gains and losses resulting from transactions between affiliated companies of PT Comunicações.

Financial investments in foreign entities are translated to Euros using the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date, while the Company’s share in the earnings of those entities is computed based on the average exchange rates for the reported period. The effect of translation differences is recognized in shareholders’ equity under the caption “Adjustments in financial assets”.

The exchange rates used in the translation of the main financial statements of the foreign entities are as follows:

Currency	2012		2011
	Closing	Average	Closing	Average
Macao Pataca	10.5328	10.2624	10.3525	11.1619
Brazilian Real	2.7036	2.5084	2.4159	2.3265

Financial investments are evaluated whenever there is evidence that it might be impaired, with impairment losses being recorded in the income statement.

3.8. Post-retirement benefits

(a) Post-retirement pensions

The Company has the obligation to pay to a group of employees a pension supplement. In order to finance these obligations, various funds were incorporated by PT Comunicações (Note 11.1).

In order to estimate the amount of the Company's liabilities under these pension plans, the Company obtains periodically actuarial valuations, using the "Projected Unit Credit Method". As mentioned above, according to "NCRF 28—Employee Benefits" and "IAS 19—Employee Benefits", PT Comunicações has decided to adopt the alternative treatment referred in IAS 19 for recognition of actuarial gains and losses directly in equity, namely those resulting from changes in actuarial assumptions and from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions.

Plan amendments related to reduction or increase of the benefits granted to employees are recorded as prior years' service gains or losses. Prior years' service gains or losses related to vested rights are recognized under the caption "Costs with post-retirement benefits" when they occur. Those related to unvested rights are recognized on a straight-line basis until they become vested (generally corresponding to the retirement date). Gains obtained with the settlement of any plan are recognized when incurred under the caption "Curtailement and settlement costs".

Liabilities stated in the balance sheet correspond to the difference between the Projected Benefit Obligation ("PBO") related to pensions deducted from the fair value of pension fund assets and any prior years' service gains or losses not yet recognized.

Contributions made by the Company to defined contribution pension plans are recognized in net income when incurred.

(b) Health care benefits

Under a defined benefit plan, PT Comunicações is responsible to pay, after the retirement date, health care expenses to a group of employees and relatives. This health care plan is managed by Portugal Telecom—Associação de Cuidados de Saúde ("PT-ACS"). In 2004, the Group established PT Prestações—Mandatária de Aquisições e Gestão de Bens, SA ("PT Prestações") to manage an autonomous fund to finance these obligations (Note 11.2).

The amount of the Company's liabilities with respect to these benefits after the respective retirement date is estimated based on actuarial valuations, using the "Projected Unit Credit Method". As mentioned above, the Company recognises actuarial gains and losses directly in equity, namely those resulting from changes in actuarial assumptions and from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions.

Plan amendments related to reduction or increase of the benefits granted to employees are recorded as prior years' service gains or losses. Prior years' service gains or losses related to vested rights are recognized under the caption "Post-retirement benefit costs" when they occur and those related to unvested rights are recognized on a straight-line basis until they become vested, which usually corresponds to the retirement date. Gains obtained with the settlement of any plan are recognized when incurred under the caption "Curtailement and settlement costs".

Accrued post-retirement health care liabilities stated in the Balance sheet correspond to the present value of obligations from defined benefit plans, deducted from the fair value of fund assets and any prior years' service gains or losses not yet recognized.

(c) Pre-retired and suspended employees

In connection with the programs related to employees that are under a suspended contract agreement or that have been pre-retired, the Company recognises a liability in the balance sheet equivalent to the present value of salaries payable up to the retirement age. The related cost is recorded in the income statement under the caption "Curtailement and settlement costs" (Note 11.3).

3.9. Accruals and deferrals

The Company records its revenue and expenses as they are generated or incurred, regardless of when they are received or paid, respectively.

3.10. Income taxes

Income tax expense corresponds to the sum of current and deferred taxes. Deferred taxes are recognized in the income statement except when they relate to items recorded directly in shareholders' equity and accordingly are also recorded in shareholders' equity.

Current taxes are computed based on the taxable income of the period computed under the Corporate Income Tax ("IRC").

Portugal Telecom adopted the special taxation regime for Groups of companies, in which PT Comunicações is included. Consequently, the income tax due, net of withholding taxes and payments on accounts are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable or receivable from Portugal Telecom.

The income tax recorded in the financial statements was assessed in accordance with the terms of "NCRF 25 Income Taxes". In assessing the cost of income tax for the year, besides the current tax determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with the tax legislation, we also consider the effects resulting from temporary differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities and the related tax amounts. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are computed and analysed annually, based on the expected tax rate that will be effective on the date on which such temporary differences are no longer applicable.

Deferred tax assets are recorded only when there is a reasonable expectation of sufficient future tax profits. As at the balance sheet date the Company conducts a reassessment of the above-mentioned temporary differences with respect to the deferred tax assets, in order to record deferred tax assets that were not recognized previously because they had not met the necessary conditions for their recognition, and/or reduce the amount of deferred tax assets which are recognized based on the current estimate of their future recoverable amounts.

3.11. Inventories

Inventories are stated at average acquisition cost. Adjustments to the carrying value of inventories are recognized based on technological obsolescence or low rotation.

Work in progress relating to installation of telecommunication equipments for clients is valued at production cost, which mainly includes expenses on equipment and various materials used, as well as wages and salaries related to the project.

Impairment losses on inventories includes the value of materials for which there is no intended use due to obsolescence and/or low rotation, as well as the difference between prices of materials that have a fair value lower than the average acquisition cost, when the difference is higher than the discount granted in current market conditions. Impairment losses and related reversals are recorded in earnings primarily under the caption "Impairment of inventories ((losses)/reversals)".

3.12. Trade receivables and other

Trade receivables and other receivables are initially recognized at fair value and subsequently measured at cost or amortised cost, based on the effective interest method, deducted from impairment losses.

Impairment losses for doubtful accounts receivable are computed based on the evaluation of estimated risks resulting from the non-collection of receivables, and are recognized in the income statement of the period in which they are calculated.

3.13. Subsidies

Subsidies are only recognized when they are received and after reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with their respective requirements for their assignment.

Subsidies associated with the acquisition or production of non-current assets (investment subsidies) are initially recognized in equity under the caption "Other shareholders' equity", and subsequently allocated on a straight-line basis as income for the year, during the useful lives of the assets to which they relate.

Operating subsidies are recognized in the income statement on a constant basis over the periods in which expenses that they intended to compensate are recognized.

3.14. Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized when (i) there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, (ii) it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and (iii) a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Where any of the above-mentioned criteria is not met, the Company discloses the event as a contingent liability, unless the chance of cash outflow is remote.

Provisions are recognized for an amount corresponding to the present value of the best available estimate, at the reporting date, of the resources required to settle the obligation. That estimate is determined considering the risks and uncertainties associated with the obligation. Provisions are reviewed at the end of each year and adjusted in order to reflect the best available estimate as of that date.

The present obligations arising from onerous contracts (in which the cost of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected thereunder) are calculated and recorded as provisions.

3.15. Loans obtained

Loans obtained are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred, and subsequently presented at amortised cost, based on the effective interest method.

3.16. Borrowing costs

The Company has the policy of capitalizing of borrowing costs related to loans obtained to finance the acquisition, construction or production of tangible assets. However, the Company has recognized borrowing costs as expenses when incurred, since the construction period of tangible assets is usually short.

3.17. Vacation pay and vacation subsidies

Vacation pay and vacation subsidies and related social charges are recorded as a cost for the period in which the employee acquires the right to receive them. Consequently, the amount of vacation pay and subsidies and related social charges due and unpaid at the balance sheet date are estimated and included under the caption “Accrued expenses”.

3.18. Balance classification

Realizable assets and liabilities under which the Company has an unconditional right to defer its settlement for a period over one year from the balance sheet date are classified under non-current assets and non-current liabilities, respectively, at present value.

3.19. Foreign currency transactions and balances

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies (different from the domestic currency of the Company) are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing at the time the transactions are made. Assets and liabilities in foreign currency for which there is no agreement for fixing an exchange rate are translated to Euros using the exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Gains or losses arising from the differences between exchange rates in force at the date of the respective transactions and those applying on the date of collection, payment or balance sheet date are recorded as income and losses, respectively, in the income statement.

Assets and liabilities as at 31 December 2012 and 2011 were translated to Euro using the following exchange rates reported by the Bank of Portugal:

Currency	2012	2011
Special Drawing Rights	1.1658	1.1865
American dollar	1.3194	1.2939

British pound	0.8161	0.8353
Mozambique metical	39.2400	34.9600
Brazilian real	2.7036	2.4159

3.20. Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at fair value of the amount received or receivable. Revenue recognition is deducted from the estimated amount of returns, discounts and other rebates and does not include the Value Added Tax (VAT) and other taxes paid related to the sale.

Revenue from the services rendered is recognized by reference to the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date, if all the following conditions are met: (1) the revenue amount can be reliably measured; (2) it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; (3) the expenses incurred or to be incurred with the transaction can be measured reliably; and (4) the stage of completion of the transaction at the reporting date can be reasonably estimated.

(a) National fixed national communications

Revenues from telecommunication activities are recognized at their gross amounts when services are rendered. Billings for these services are made on a monthly basis throughout the month. Amounts not yet invoiced but already due or incurred are recorded based on estimates and included under the caption “Unbilled revenues”. Differences between accrued amounts and the actual unbilled revenues are recognized in the following period.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

(b) International fixed communications

The income from international telecommunication services are calculated according to fixed termination rates under bilateral agreements with several telecom operators. These agreements also establish whether it is the operator of the sending network that must submit the credit to the operator of the receiving network or whether the operator of the network receiving must provide the debit first.

(c) Internet Protocol Television (“IPTV”) and Direct to Home (“DTH”) services

The income from the television service through Internet Protocol Television (IPTV) and satellite are recognized as follows: (i) the amounts charged for monthly subscription of services used are recognized in the period in which the service is rendered; (ii) equipment rental is recognized over the lease period; (iii) equipment sales are recognized upon sale; and (iv) penalties imposed to customers are recognized when received.

(d) Internet services

Revenues from ISP services result essentially from monthly subscription fees and telephone traffic when the service is used by customers. These revenues are recognized when the service is rendered.

(e) Advertising services

Advertising revenues from telephone directories and related costs are recognized in the period in which the directories are effective. PT Comunicações has a contract with Páginas Amarelas whereby the latter is responsible for production, publishing and distribution of PT Comunicações’ telephone directories, as well as for selling advertising space in the directories. The total cost to be paid by PT Comunicações for such services is set at a fixed 78% of its gross revenues from the sale of advertising space in telephone directories. The prices of advertising space are fixed, not contingent, and based on the expected volume of the distributed directories (approximately one to every telephone number). Revenues from the sale of advertising space are invoiced directly by PT Comunicações to its corporate clients during the one-year advertising period. These revenues are recognized in earnings on a monthly basis during the period for the respective directory.

(f) Leased lines and rental of ducts and capacity

Income from leased lines is recorded as operating leases in the respective period, under the caption “Services rendered”.

(g) Interest

Interest revenue is recognized based on the effective interest method.

Income relative to advance payments made by customers are deferred and recognized when the service is rendered.

3.21. Own work capitalized

Internal expenses incurred by the Company in the construction of fixed assets, which correspond to materials, work force and transportation, at cost, are capitalized under the caption “Own work capitalized”, only when the following requirements are met: (a) the tangible assets are identifiable; (b) the tangible assets will generate future economic benefits; and (c) development expenses can be reliably measured.

3.22. Losses and gains recognised under projects

The Company records losses and gains associated with projects based on their stage of completion. Accordingly, invoices issued related to work not yet performed are recorded under the caption “Deferrals”, unbilled revenues related to work in progress are recorded under the caption “Unbilled revenues” and expenses related to unbilled performed work are recorded as work in progress under the caption “Inventories”.

3.23. Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are recognized in the balance sheet when the Company becomes party to the corresponding contractual terms, and are classified at cost or amortised cost.

(a) Financial assets and liabilities at cost or amortised cost

Assets and liabilities are classified at cost or amortised cost if they present the following characteristics: (a) have a defined maturity; (b) have a fixed or determined income; and (c) do not represent a derivative financial instrument or do not include a derivative financial instrument.

Assets and liabilities classified in this category are measured at amortised cost reduced by accumulated impairment losses (for financial assets) and correspond primarily to the following asset and liability captions included in the Company’s balance sheet:

- Accounts payable to Group companies
- Accounts receivable—trade
- Unbilled revenues and accrued expenses
- Advances to suppliers and from accounts receivable
- State and other public entities
- Other accounts receivable and payable
- Other financial assets and liabilities
- Cash and bank deposits
- Loans obtained
- Suppliers and investments suppliers

Amortized cost is determined through the effective interest method. The effective interest rate is the one that discounts the estimated future payments and receipts until the term of the financial instrument to the carrying value of the financial asset or liability.

(b) Impairments on financial assets

Financial assets included under the caption “cost or amortised cost” are subject to impairment tests at each year end. Such assets are impaired when there is clear evidence that, as a result of one or more events occurred after its initial recognition, their future estimated cash flows will be affected.

For assets measured at amortised cost, the impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the present value of the revised future estimated cash flows discounted using the initial effective interest rate. For financial assets measured at cost, the impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the best available estimate of the asset’s fair value.

PT Comunicações
As at 31 December 2012
(Amounts in Euro)

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Subsequently, if there is a reduction in the impairment loss as a result of an event occurring after the initial recognition of the loss, the impairment should be reversed through earnings. The reversal is recognized up to the amount that would be recorded if the loss had not been initially recognized.

Impairment losses and related reversals are recorded in earnings mainly under the captions "Impairment of accounts receivable ((losses)/reversals)".

(c) Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

The Company derecognizes financial assets when its contractual rights to obtain the asset's cash flows expire, or when it transfers to another entity all the significant risks and rewards associated with the ownership of such assets. We also derecognize financial assets transferred in respect to which the Company has retained some significant risks and benefits, in the case that control over them has been assigned. The Company derecognizes financial liabilities only when the corresponding obligation is settled, cancelled or expired.

3.24. Main accounting estimates and judgements

To prepare the standalone financial statements under NCRF, the Company's Board of Directors uses estimates and assumptions that affect in the application of accounting policies and the amounts reported. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and on other factors including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances on which the estimate was based, or as a result of new information or more experience.

The most significant accounting estimates reflected in the financial statements are the following:

(i) Post-employment benefits

The present value of liabilities for post-employment benefits is calculated based on actuarial methodologies, which use certain actuarial assumptions that are reviewed annually by the Company. Any change in these assumptions will impact the carrying value of liabilities. The main assumptions used are described in Note 11.

(ii) Analysis of goodwill impairment

The Company tests annually whether goodwill has suffered any impairment. The recoverable amounts of cash-generating assets are determined based on value-in-use calculations. The use of this method requires the estimate of future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing operation of the cash generating asset, the choice of a growth rate to extrapolate cash flow projections and the estimate of a suitable discount rate for each cash generating asset. The main assumptions used in the goodwill analysis are disclosed in Note 8.

(iii) Useful life of tangible fixed assets

The Company used estimates in order to determine to the useful life of tangible fixed assets.

(iv) Provisions recognition

The Company is party to several legal proceedings in progress for which, based on the opinion of its lawyers, judgments are made to determine the recognition of any necessary provisions to meet these contingencies.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

(v) Impairment recognition

Impairment on accounts receivable are calculated mainly based on receivables seniority, the clients risk profile and their financial situation.

(vi) Determining the fair value of assets measured by revaluation model

The Company uses the revaluation model to measure the book value of the asset classes “Land and natural resources”, “Buildings and other constructions” and the “Telecommunication infrastructure” included under the caption “Basic equipment” under tangible fixed assets. In order to assess the fair value of real estate properties included under the assets classes “Land and natural resources” and “Buildings and other constructions”, the Company uses external appraisers to determine their value based on certain specific indicators related to the real estate market. In order to assess the revalued amount of the asset class “Telecommunication infrastructure”, the Company applied the cost replacement method based on current and observable prices of materials and construction work related to the installation underground of the telecommunication infrastructure.

(vii) Purchase price allocation of the investment in TMN

In connection with the acquisition of TMN completed on 30 November 2010, the Company completed in 2011 the purchase price allocation of this investment. For that purpose, certain intangible assets of TMN were adjusted to fair value, based on a valuation methodology that required the estimate of future cash flows resulting from the operations of this affiliated company, the choice of a growth rate to extrapolate cash flow projections beyond the time horizon covered and the definition of a suitable discount rate to compute the present value of those cash flows.

Estimates used are based on the best information available during the preparation of financial statements, although future events, neither controlled nor foreseeable by the Company, could occur and have an impact on those estimates. In accordance with “NCRF 4 Accounting Policies, Changes in Estimates and Errors” (“NCRF 4”), changes to these estimates that occur after the date of the financial statements are recognized in net income, using a prospective methodology. For this reason and given the degree of uncertainty, real results of the transactions in question may differ from the corresponding estimates.

3.25. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

Events after the balance sheet date that provide additional information about conditions existing at the balance sheet date are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the balance sheet date that provide information about conditions that occur after the balance sheet date are not reflected in the financial statements, but are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements, if material.

4. Cash flows

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, the caption “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits immediately available and other short-term investments with high liquidity and with initial maturities up to three months, net of bank overdrafts.

The Company is exposed to a liquidity risk if its sources of funding, including cash balance, operating cash inflows, divestments and cash flows obtained from financing operations, do not match with our financing needs, such as operating and financing outflows, investments, shareholder remuneration and debt repayments. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, on the available cash and in the possibility to obtain financing from Portugal Telecom under the centralized cash management system implemented in the Group, the Company believes that it is able to meet its obligations.

4. Cash flows (Continued)

The cash flow statement was prepared in accordance with “NCRF 2 Statement of Cash Flows”, which includes the following:

(a) Cash receipts of income taxes

The Company is part of the special taxation regime for Groups of companies adopted by Portugal Telecom, and as such income taxes and withholding taxes by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as payables and receivables from Portugal Telecom (Note 12). In this context, the Company received in 2012 an amount of Euro 35,940,339 and paid in 2011 an amount of Euro 52,218,724.

The payments made in 2011 reflect primarily the payments made by PT Prime on behalf of PT Comunicações, amounting to Euro 57,295,923, which relate mainly to payments on account related to the 2011 income tax payable in 2012 and the settlement of the fourth and last instalment due on the 2010 income tax. As a result of the merger of this affiliated company undertaken at the end of 2011, effective as from 1 January, and because PT Comunicações presented a tax loss in 2011, the Company recovered in 2012 the payments on account made in 2011, amounting to Euro 38,662,510.

(b) Cash receipts resulting from loans granted

In 2011, this caption relates to a partial reimbursement, amounting to Euro 160,000,000 (Note 12.1), regarding loans granted to TMN.

(c) Dividends received

In 2012 and 2011, PT Comunicações received dividends from the following companies:

	2012	2011
	Euro
TMN (Nota 10)	235,479,275	—
CTM—Companhia de Telecomunicações, S.A.R.L. (“CTM”) ⁽ⁱ⁾	2,625,352	2,134,792

	238,273,153	2,390,033

(i) The amounts received from this affiliated company differed from the attributable amounts of Euro 2,700,796 and Euro 2,280,036 (Note 10), respectively, as a result of exchange rate differences between the attribution and payment dates.

(d) Payments resulting from financial investments

In 2012 and 2011, this caption is composed as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Advances for the aquisition of RETI (Note 10)	1,094,382	2,271,730

(e) Cash receipts (payments) related to loans obtained

In 2012 and 2011, cash receipts from loans obtained, net of cash payments from loans obtained, has the following composition:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Receipts (payments) obtained under commercial paper programmes	1,092,000,000	(227,000,000)
Loans granted by PT Portugal (Note 22.1)	—	727,000,000

Intercompany loans within centralized cash management	(472,161,084)	4,761,996
	144,132,404	24,487,214

(i) As at 31 December 2010 and following the transfer of unfunded regulatory pension obligations, the Company had recognized an account payable to the Portuguese State for the amount of Euro 921.7 million. Of this outstanding amount, the Company repaid Euro 17.4 million and Euro 450.0 million in January and December 2011 (Note 22.4), respectively, and the remaining amount due of Euro 454.3 million (Note 22.4) was repaid in December 2012.

(f) Interest and related expenses

The increase in payments of interest and related expenses, from Euro 155,756,690 in 2011 to Euro 426,211,970 in 2012, reflects primarily lower accrued expenses, which amounted to Euro 163,750,159 and Euro 67,038,381 as at 31 December 2011 and 2012 (Note 24), respectively, corresponding to interest and similar expenses incurred in 2011 and 2012, respectively, but which payment occurred only in the following year.

(g) Cash and cash equivalents

In 2012 and 2011, this caption is composed as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Cash	14,669,035	35,473,531
Bank deposits immediately available	6,496,946	19,717,856
Cash and bank deposits	21,165,981	55,191,387

5. Changes in accounting policies and estimates and errors

In the year ended 31 December 2012, the Company did not adopt any new or revised standard or interpretation and did not voluntarily change any other accounting policy. In 2012, PT Comunicações reviewed the useful life of certain tangible assets, including mainly transmission equipments, which resulted in lower depreciation and amortization costs by approximately Euro 19 million.

In 2012, no other regulations or new or revised interpretations were issued that are not already in force.

In 2012, no restatements of any material errors or significant changes in accounting estimates were made with respect to previous years.

The additions occurred in 2012 and 2011 under the captions “Basic equipment”, “Administrative equipment” and “Tangible fixed assets in progress” relate primarily to the acquisition of software, network infrastructure and terminal equipment focused mainly on the Pay-TV business.

6.2. Revaluations

In 2008, PT Comunicações has changed the accounting policy on the valuation of real estate assets and ducts infra-structure, from the cost model to the revaluation model. The revaluations of real estate assets and ducts infra-structure were recorded as at 30 June and 30 September 2008 and resulted in the revaluation of those assets by Euro 208,268,320 and Euro 866,764,702, respectively. PT Comunicações, following the adoption of the SNC, maintained the accounting policy to use the revaluation model for these classes of assets, under which shall compute revaluation amounts, at maximum, every three years, and evaluates between those 3 year periods the possible existence of evidence that might result in a significant change in the revalued amount of those assets.

The determination of the fair value of real estate properties was made by an independent appraiser based primarily on: (i) observable prices of recent market transactions in an active market; (ii) profitability method for commercial and administrative real estate; and (iii) the cost of acquiring or producing similar real estate with the same purpose for technical buildings. Under the first methodology, the main assumptions used in 2008 were the discount rate (average of 8%) and the monthly rent per square meter (average of Euro 6).

The determination of the fair value of the ducts infra-structure was made internally based on the replacement cost approach. This valuation process was based primarily on: (i) current and observable prices of materials and construction work related to the installation of the ducts underground; (ii) the nature of the soil and road surface where ducts are installed, which has an impact on the construction cost; (iii) internal costs directly attributable to the construction of the ducts infra-structure network; (iv) a depreciation factor, in order to ensure that the replacement cost is consistent with the remaining useful life of the assets revalued; and (v) a technological factor, which reflects the technological changes occurred, namely related to the kinds of ducts which no longer exist and were replaced by other ones. Generally, the prices of materials and construction work together with other qualitative assumptions referred to above resulted in a valuation of the ducts infra-structure in 2008 which reflects an average cost per meter of duct between Euro 58 and Euro 119, depending on the area where the infra-structure is located.

In accordance with the Company's accounting policy to revalue these assets every three years, PT Comunicações performed another revaluation of the real estate assets and transmission infrastructure in 2011, through the same methodology described above. These revaluations were effective as at 31 December 2011 and resulted in a net reduction of tangible assets amounting to Euro 131,418,996, of which Euro 126,167,563 was recognized directly in shareholders' equity, under the caption "Revaluation surplus" (Note 20.6), and an impairment loss of Euro 5,251,433 was recognized in earnings under the caption "Depreciation and amortization ((losses)/reversals)".

The split of these impacts between real estate and telecommunication ducts infrastructure is as follows:

- A reduction in the carrying value of the telecommunication infrastructure amounting to Euro 189,372,570, recognized directly in shareholders' equity in order to reduce the existing revaluation reserves regarding these assets, which is primarily explained by a decrease in the construction cost and also technological improvements, leading to a reduction in the average cost per meter of duct to between Euro 42 and Euro 70, depending on the area where the infra-structure is located; and
- A net increase in the carrying value of real estate assets amounting to Euro 57,953,574, including a gain of Euro 63,205,007 recorded directly in shareholders' equity and a loss of Euro 5,251,433 recognized in the Income Statement. The increase in the carrying value of real estate assets recognized as a result of this revaluation reflects mainly the depreciation expenses recorded over the last three years, which more than offset the reduction in the fair value of these assets. Regarding the main assumption related to this revaluation, the average monthly rent per square meter for the real estate assets that were revalued in both 2008 and 2011 remained broadly stable at Euro 6, although the overall average monthly rent per square meter increased to Euro 7, as a result of real estate assets acquired in 2009 and 2010.

The amortization of the surplus resulting from the revaluation of real estate properties and ducts infra-structure amounted to approximately Euro 10 million and Euro 32 million in 2012, respectively, and to Euro 11 million and Euro 45 million in 2011, respectively. Consequently, if these assets had been carried under the cost model, the carrying amounts of the real estate properties and the ducts infra-structure as of 31 December 2012 would have been reduced by approximately Euro 179 million and Euro 498 million, respectively.

For other classes of assets that were previously revalued to the date of transition to NCRF, the Company opted, under the adoption of new accounting standards, to consider the book value at the date of transition as deemed cost, as permitted by the exception foreseen in paragraph 10 of NCRF 3, so that these assets are measured according to the cost model.

In accordance with the applicable legislation, a portion (40%) of the increase in depreciation resulting from legal revaluations made in previous years, and the entire increase in depreciation resulting from revaluations recognized in 2008 do not constitute a cost for the purpose of determining corporate income tax payable (except the revaluations resulting from Decree-Law no. 126/77 of April 2, which are included in their entirety). Consequently, a deferred tax liability was recorded corresponding to the revaluation surplus to be realized (Note 15).

6.3. Other situations related to tangible fixed assets

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the following expenses were included in the carrying value of tangible assets and intangible assets in progress:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Materials consumed	3,094,392	4,020,725
Wages and salaries	33,646,133	31,817,292
Other expenses and losses	5,323,514	4,681,663
	42,064,039	40,519,680

The nature of the main projects that include own work capitalized relates to the planning, supervision and monitoring of installation of terminal equipment, namely IPTV equipment and Fiber-to-the-Home ("FTTH").

For the net carrying value of tangible fixed assets as at 31 December 2012, we note the following:

- There are buildings installed in properties of third parties in the total amount of Euro 8,415,303;
- There are assets of PT Comunicações composed mainly of real estate, that were not registered under the Company's name amounting to Euro 9,240,550, of which Euro 1,570,804 are registered under the name of PT SGPS;
- The Company has tangible fixed assets located overseas with a net book value of Euro 15,448,762, including primarily participation in submarine cable consortiums;
- The tangible fixed assets which, under the terms of article 5 of the Annex to Decree-Law no. 31/2003 of February 17 which constituted the Bases for the Concession of Public Telecommunications Service (Note 1), are subject to the Concession, had a carrying value of Euro 1,765,103,812.

Land and buildings that were not used in operating activities as at 31 December 2012 and 2011 were classified under this caption, according to the accounting policy adopted by the Company.

These assets are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. PT Comunicações makes periodic valuations of these assets. As at 31 December 2012, the real estate book value with acquisition cost exceeding Euro 50,000 amounted to approximately Euro 8.9 million, whereas the corresponding market value amounted to Euro 9.1 million.

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, PT Comunicações has obtained rental income from this real estate amounting to Euro 638,953 and Euro 640,122, respectively, which were classified under the caption "Other income and gains" (Note 31).

8. Goodwill

The composition of goodwill as at 31 December 2012 and 2011, computed following the acquisition of subsidiaries, some of which were subsequently merged into the Company, is as follows:

Entity	Year of acquisition	Carrying value
		Euro
Mobile Business (TMN)	2010	2,145,416,586
Wireline Business
Internet Business / portal (ex-PT.Com)	2007	560,447,103

For the purposes of impairment tests, goodwill was allocated to cash generating units. The recoverable amount was determined from the respective value in use through the discounted cash flows methodology, using a cash flow forecast of a four year period, which was prepared internally. The discount rate applied to projected cash flows, which was determined taking into account the risk

In 2012, additions under the caption “Industrial property and other rights” relate primarily to (1) the acquisition of software licenses regarding projects to develop new applications and features in the commercial, financials and logistic areas. In 2011, additions include primarily (1) the commitments assumed under the DTT license (Note 1), amounting to Euro 23,595,180, and (2) the acquisition of software licenses with same nature of those mentioned above.

As at 31 December 2012, the net book value of the caption “Industrial property and other rights” includes mainly:

- An amount of Euro 185 million related to the acquisition of full ownership of the Basic Network by PT Comunicações to the Portuguese State, concluded in December 2002, which corresponds to the gross value capitalized in 2002 amounting Euro 339 million net of accumulated depreciation;
- An amount of Euro 16 million related to a contract entered into by PT Comunicações in 2007 and 2009 for the acquisition of satellite capacity rights until 2015, which was recorded as a financial lease; and
- An amount of Euro 23 million, corresponding to the TDT licenses recorded in 2011.

In 2012 and 2011, the Company performed innovation, research and development activities under which the following expenses and fixed assets were recorded:

(a) On 3 May 2012, PT Comunicações concluded the acquisition of an investment in RETI that was previously held by TVI, through the payment of the fifth and last installment, amounting to Euro 1,094,382, that was considered in an agreement entered in December 2009, and following the amounts already paid in previous years as advances for financial investments, for the total amount of Euro 6,771,730. These amounts were fully adjusted based on the Company's expectation that RETI's analogical network was redundant considering the network of PT Comunicações. As a result of the acquisition of this investment, the Company recorded an investment of Euro 71,699, corresponding to the shareholders' equity of the acquired company, and recorded a goodwill of Euro 7,794,413, corresponding to the difference between the acquisition price of Euro 7,866,112 and the financial investment. Both the goodwill and the impairment losses recognized in previous years over payments made or to be made under the agreement entered into in December 2009, amounting to Euro 7,866,112, were transferred to net income. In December 2012, the Board of Directors of both companies approved the merger of RETI into PT Comunicações as from 3 May 2012 and, as such, the Company eliminated the financial investment in RETI, amounting to Euro 71,699, and recorded in its balance sheet the assets and liabilities of RETI as of that date that were transferred to PT Comunicações.

(b) On 13 January 2013, as mentioned in Note 37, Portugal Telecom entered into a definitive agreement for the sale of the 28% stake held by the Group in the share capital of CTM, including the 25% and 3% interests held by PT Participações and PT Comunicações, respectively. Consequently, the Company's investment in CTM was classified as a non-current asset held for sale as at 31 December 2012. This transaction, which is still pending the satisfaction of a set of precedent conditions will allow the Group to receive a total amount of 411.6 million US dollars, subject to certain cash flow adjustments, amount that should be splitted proportionally between the companies that hold this investment.

(a) This caption includes: (i) the elimination of the Company's financial investment recorded as at 31 December 2010 in relation to its former affiliated company PT Prime, corresponding to the shareholders' equity of such company on that date, amounting to Euro 157,378,990, and (ii) the financial investments of PT Prime in its affiliated companies, which were transferred to the Company as a result of this merger, amounting to Euro 2,559,075.

(b) This caption relates to the disposal of certain network assets to TMN and corresponds to the difference between the disposal price (fair value) and the respective carrying value, since as this was a transaction with an affiliated company, the related capital gain was eliminated and recorded as a reduction to the financial investment in TMN, in order to offset the excess depreciation that TMN will recognize regarding these assets in relation to the depreciation that would have been recognized if these assets had not been disposed of.

11. Post-retirement benefits

As referred to in Note 3, PT Comunicações is responsible for the payment of post-retirement benefits under defined benefit plans, which include pensions and pension supplements to retired and active employees, healthcare services after retirement age and salaries to suspended and pre-retired employees.

The actuarial valuations of Portugal Telecom's defined benefit plans as at 31 December 2012, 2011 and 2010 were computed based on the projected unit credit method and considered the following main financial and demographic actuarial assumptions:

	2012	2011	2010
	Euro
Financial assumptions
Discount rate for obligations related to:
Pension supplements	3.00%	4.75%	4.75%

The changes in actuarial assumptions were primarily due to changes occurred in market conditions.

The discount rate was computed based on long-term yield rates of high-rating bonds as of the date of the Balance sheet for durations comparable to the liabilities for pensions and pension supplements, salaries and health care benefits (between 4 and 15 years).

The rate of return on long-term fund assets was estimated based on historical information on the return of portfolio assets, the expected portfolio in future years and certain financial market performance indicators usually considered in market analysis.

Salary growth rate was established in accordance with Group policy for wages and salaries and pension growth rates and the sustainability factor was established in line with Portuguese Government information.

Demographic assumptions considered by Portugal Telecom are based on mortality tables generally accepted for actuarial valuation purposes, with these tables being periodically adjusted to reflect the actual mortality rates observed among the plan participants.

In 2012 and 2011, the total impact of changes in actuarial assumptions a net loss of Euro 136,212,106, and a net gain of Euro 19,337,022 (Notes 11.7), respectively, and was recognized directly in shareholders' equity.

The impact of an increase by 25 basis points on the average discount rate actuarial assumption would be a decrease of the responsibilities for post-retirement benefits by approximately Euro 21 million as at 31 December 2012, while the impact of an increase (decrease) in the health care cost trend rate by 1% would be an increase (decrease) of the responsibilities for post-retirement benefits by approximately Euro 71 million (Euro 58 million) as at 31 December 2012.

The impact of an increase (decrease) by 1% in the rate of return on long-term fund assets would be a decrease (increase) of post-retirement benefit costs in the year 2012 by approximately Euro 3 million, corresponding to the increase (decrease) in expected return on assets, and the impact of an increase (decrease) by 1% in the health care cost trend rate would be an increase (decrease) of post-retirement benefit costs in the year 2012 by approximately Euro 4 million (Euro 3 million).

retired and active employees, and is no longer responsible for the payment of regulatory pensions following that transfer. These liabilities, which were estimated based on actuarial valuations, are as follows:

- a) Retirees and employees of TLP and TDP hired prior to 23 June 1994 are entitled to receive a pension supplement from PT Comunicações, which complements the pension paid by the Portuguese social security system.
- b) Retirees and employees of Companhia Portuguesa Rádio Marconi, SA (“Marconi”, a company merged into PT Comunicações in 2002) hired prior to 1 February 1998 are entitled to a supplemental pension benefit (“Marconi Complementary Fund”). In addition, PT Comunicações contributes to the fund “Fundo de Melhoria Marconi” with 1.55% of the salaries paid to these employees, which is responsible to pay the additional pension supplement.
- c) On retirement, PT Comunicações pays a lump sum gratuity of a fixed amount which depends on the length of service completed by the employee.

Employees hired by PT Comunicações or any of its predecessor companies after the dates indicated above are not entitled to these benefits, as they are covered by the general Portuguese Government social security system.

As at 31 December 2012, pension supplement plans from PT Comunicações covered 19,814 beneficiaries, of which approximately 63% are non active.

Based on the actuarial reports, the pension benefit obligation and the fair value of the pension funds as at 31 December 2012 and 2011 were as follows:

Portugal Telecom is exposed to risks related to the changes in the fair value of the plan assets associated with Portugal Telecom's post-retirement defined pension supplement plans. The main purpose of the established investment policy is capital preservation through five main principles: (1) diversification; (2) stable strategic asset allocation and disciplined rebalancing; (3) lower exposure to currency fluctuations; (4) specialized instruments for each class of assets; and (5) cost control.

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the movement in the plan assets was as follows:

(a) Differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions related to the PBO, results mainly from updated information regarding beneficiaries.

11.2. Health care benefits

As referred to in Note 3, PT Comunicações is responsible for the payment of post-retirement health care benefits to certain employees, suspended employees, pre-retired employees, retired employees and their eligible relatives. Health care services are rendered by PT-ACS, which was incorporated with the sole purpose of managing the Company's Health Care Plan.

This plan, sponsored by PT Comunicações, includes all employees hired by PT Comunicações until 31 December 2000 and by Marconi until 1 February 1998.

As at 31 December 2012, healthcare plan from PT Comunicações covered 23.894 beneficiaries related to employees and former employees, of which approximately 76% are non-active at both dates. In addition, as at 31 December 2011, these plans also covered 10.850 beneficiaries related to relatives of employees and former employees, respectively.

11. Post-retirement benefits (Continued)

The financing of the Health Care Plan is assured by defined contributions made by participants to PT ACS and the remainder by PT Comunicações, which incorporated a fund in 2004 that is managed independently for this purpose.

Based on the actuarial reports, the benefit obligation and the fair value of health care funds and prior year's service gains not yet recognized as at 31 December 2012 and 2011 are as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Projected benefit obligations	374,474,961	351,843,072
Plan assets at fair value	(299,865,329)	(246,214,842)
Net unfunded obligations	74,609,632	105,628,230
Prior years' service gains ^(a)	11,119,675	11,955,435
Present value of net unfunded obligations (Note 11.4)	85,729,307	117,583,665

(a) This caption refers to the component of the prior years' service gains resulting from the changes in the health care plan made in previous years related to those benefits that are not yet vested. This amount was deferred and will be recognized in earnings during the estimated period in which those benefits will be earned by employees.

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the movement in the projected benefit obligations was as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Opening balance of the projected benefit obligations	351,843,072	341,823,966
Benefits paid by the Company (Note 11.5)	(18,977,302)	(17,964,841)

Total (Notes 11.4, 11. 8 and 20.4)	49,753,420	71,819,321

Net actuarial losses and gains recorded in 2012 and 2011 related to changes in actuarial assumptions mainly resulting from the changes in the financial and demographic actuarial assumptions detailed above, as follows:

- Net actuarial losses recorded in 2012, amounting to Euro 136 million, include primarily the impacts resulting from (1) the suspension of the early retirement regime (loss of Euro 39 million), either permanently for employees under the CGA regime or during the financial assistance programme to Portugal for the remaining employees, (2) the reduction in the discount rates for responsibilities with pension supplements, health care benefits and salaries payable to suspended and pre-retired employees (loss of Euro 102 million), and (3) the change in the mortality tables for active beneficiaries;
- Actuarial gains recognized in 2011, amounting to Euro 19 million, relate mainly to the reduction in the salary growth rate for obligations in connection with salaries payable to suspended and pre-retired employees.

The detail of net actuarial gains and losses resulting from differences between actual data and actuarial assumptions is as follows:

- Actuarial gains recognized in 2012, amounting to Euro 86 million, include (i) a gain of Euro 64 million related to the difference between actual (+25,2%) and expected (+6.0%) return on fund assets, and (ii) a gain of Euro 23 million corresponding to the difference between actual data and actuarial assumptions regarding projected responsibilities, particular assumptions about growth rates of wages, pensions and health care;
- Actuarial losses recognized in 2011, amounting to Euro 91 million, include (i) a loss of Euro 98 million related to the difference between actual (– 16.6%) and expected (+6.0%) return on fund assets, and (ii) a gain of Euro 7 million corresponding to the difference between actual data and actuarial assumptions regarding projected responsibilities.

15. Income taxes

15.1. Introduction

As from 1 January 2012, following a change in Portuguese tax legislation occurred in December 2011, most companies are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 25%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rate of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 10.0 million (Euro 7.5 million as from 1 January 2013, following a change in Portuguese tax legislation occurred in December 2012) and at the rate of 5.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 10.0 million (Euro 7.5 million as from 1 January 2013).

As the Company reported tax losses for both years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, neither the 1.5% municipal tax nor the state taxes are applicable. Consequently, and based on its expectations regarding future taxable results, PT Comunicações will continue to use the 25% tax rate for purposes of computing deferred taxes.

The Company's income taxes are computed based on the tax rate mentioned above and are determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation.

The Company is part of the Special Taxation Regime for Groups of Companies (RETGS) whose dominant company is PT SGPS, so the income tax estimate and deductions made by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable and receivable of PT SGPS.

In accordance with the prevailing legislation, taxation returns are subject to review and correction by the tax authorities during a period of four years (five years for Social Security, Security), except where there have been tax losses, fiscal benefits have been granted, or there are inspections, claims or challenges pending; in such cases, these periods may be extended or suspended, depending on the circumstances. Based upon the information supplied by its tax advisory services, the Board of Directors considers that any corrections to the tax returns that might result from reviews carried out by the tax authorities will not have a significant effect on the financial statements as at 31 December 2012, considering the provisions recorded and the current expectations of settlement regarding tax contingencies described in Note 21.

15.2. Deferred taxes

As mentioned in Note 3.10, deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is reasonably likely that taxable income will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be used, or when there are deferred tax liabilities the reversal of which is expected in the same period in which the deferred tax assets reverse. PT Comunicações believes that deferred tax assets recorded in the Balance Sheet are recoverable either through its future taxable income, based on its budget for the year 2013 and projections of results for the subsequent years adjusted for differences between the accounting and taxable earnings and for certain financial operations to be undertaken in the future, or through the reversal of deferred tax liabilities.

In assessing income tax expenses for the year, in addition to the current tax determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation, the effects of temporary differences between income before tax and taxable earnings arising in the given year or in previous years is also considered.

Movements occurred in deferred tax assets during the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011 were as follows:

(i) Except for the Company's share in the earnings of CTM, for which we recognize a deferred tax liability, gains and losses in affiliated companies represent permanent differences.

(ii) This caption refers to the difference between the accounting capital gains and losses and corresponding tax capital gains and losses related to the disposal of fixed assets.

(b) This caption corresponds to the taxable loss computed in both years by the Company in accordance with Income Tax legislation. In accordance with the fiscal policy set by Portugal Telecom Group, the gain related to the use of these tax losses has been recorded at the group level in PT SGPS' financial statements.

(c) Based on its expectation regarding its individual tax results, the Company in 2011 wrote off a portion of deferred tax assets related to post-retirement benefits that would have been used in 2012, since it believes that the referred tax results will not be enough to allow the use of these deferred tax assets. In 2012, the Company incurred in the tax costs associated with the deferred taxes derecognized in 2011, which therefore contributed to the tax loss generated in the year 2012, as detailed in the table above, and led to the permanent difference presented in 2012.

(a) In the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, this caption corresponds mainly to accrued interest in connection with loans granted to affiliated companies, amounting to Euro 27,440,391 and Euro 13,380,962, respectively, which relate mainly to the loans granted to TMN (Note 12).

(b) This caption includes mainly equipment's sale to occasional customers.

(c) The balances related to Serviço Nacional de Saúde correspond to the amount receivable by the Company regarding the State co-participation in the costs of healthcare plan.

(d) The increase in this caption reflects mainly a gain of approximately Euro 60 million (Note 31) recorded in 2012 related to a net compensation receivable from the Portuguese State for prior years costs supported by PT Comunicações with the universal service obligation under the Concession Agreement, in accordance with Law 66/2012.

(e) The change in this caption is primarily explained by: (i) a reduction in the present value of the outstanding future commitments assumed under the Digital Terrestrial Television license, which amounted to Euro 2.9 million and 20.8 million at 31 December 2012 and 2011, respectively; and (ii) an amount of Euro 14.9 million paid to PT Prestações in 2012 that was outstanding as at 31 December 2011, in connection with a transfer of receivables from public entities to this company.

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the evolution in accumulated impairment losses related to accounts receivable was as follows:

20. Shareholders' equity

20.1. Share capital

As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company's share capital was fully paid and amounted to Euro 1,150,000,000 and was represented by 1,150,000,000 nominal shares (Note 35), with a nominal value of 1 Euro each. As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the entirety of the Company's share capital was held by PT Portugal.

In 2011, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 30 September 2011, the Company carried out a share capital increase amounting to Euro 1,598,500,000, through the increase in the nominal value of each share. The Company also approved a share capital reduction of Euro 1,598,500,000, with the purpose of offsetting accumulated losses and negative fair value reserves, through the decrease in the nominal value of each share, of which Euro 899,496,127 was transferred to retained earnings and Euro 699,003,873 (Note 20.4) was transferred to other reserves.

20.2. Other shareholders' equity instruments

This caption corresponds to additional paid in capital contributions granted by PT Portugal, which do not bear interest and have no reimbursement term defined. In accordance with applicable law, reimbursement may be made only if, after payment, shareholders' equity is greater than the sum of capital, legal reserves and unrealised revaluation reserves.

In 2011, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 30 September, the paid in capital contributions were reimbursed to the shareholder in the amount of Euro 1,598,500,000.

20.3. Legal reserve

Portuguese law provides that at least 5% of annual profits must be appropriated to a legal reserve until this reserve equals the minimum requirement of 20% of share capital. This reserve is not available for distribution to shareholders but may be capitalized or used to absorb losses, once all other reserves and retained earnings have been exhausted.

20.4. Other reserves

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the movements under this caption were as follows:

(a) The foreign currency exchange differences determined following the application of the equity method of accounting are related to the update of financial investment in Oi, which is indirectly owned through the affiliated company TMN.

(b) In 2012, other changes in shareholders' equity resulting from the equity method of accounting include primarily a gain recorded by Bratel Brasil (a company of PT Group that holds the investment in Oi Group and is held indirectly by TMN), amounting to Euro 49 million, corresponding to the impact of a corporate restructuring undertaken by the Oi Group in March 2012.

Movements related to the equity method of accounting were recorded under the following captions:

20.6. Revaluation surplus

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the movements under this caption were as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Opening balance	623,874,447	763,950,232
Revaluation of assets
Base (Note 6.2)	—	(126,167,563)

Tax effect	10,937,589	14,405,920
Closing balance	589,044,034	623,874,447

In accordance with the applicable legislation and the accounting practices used in Portugal, the revaluation reserves cannot be distributed to shareholders; they can only be used, under certain circumstances and in accordance with Portuguese legislation, for future capital increases.

The revaluation reserves recognized under this caption are related to both (1) assets measured in accordance with the revaluation model, and also (Note 6.2) (2) other assets revalued previously, for which the Company, in connection with the adoption of SNC and as permitted by NCRF 3, adopted the cost model. The Company decided to include both of these revaluation reserves under this caption as they are both non-distributable to shareholders, as mentioned above.

During the year ended 31 December 2011, as mentioned in Note 6.2, the Company performed a new revaluation of its real estate properties and telecommunication infrastructure, having reduced the revaluation surplus recorded in shareholders' equity by an amount of Euro 126,167,563 (Note 6.2), net of the related tax effect amounting to Euro 31,541,890 (Note 15.2).

Annually, PT Comunicações transfers to retained earnings the revaluation reserve realized in the year, primarily through the depreciation of the asset that originated these reserves. The amounts transferred during the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, net of the corresponding tax effects, amounted to Euro 34,830,413 and Euro 45,450,112, respectively.

20.7. Other shareholders' equity

PT Comunicações recognises under this caption subsidies associated with the acquisition or production of non-current assets (investment subsidies), which were entirely received and are non-refundable, where the Company is not under obligation to comply with conditions associated with the subsidy.

These subsidies are subsequently recognized in earnings during the useful lives of the related assets for which those subsidies were granted. The Company recognized gains amounting to Euro 2,997,997 in 2012 and Euro 3,008,528 in 2011 (Note 31). The balance of this caption corresponds to the remaining amount of subsidies that have not yet been recognized in earnings.

20.8. Application of earnings

In 2011, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 25 March 2011, the negative net income of 2010, in the amount of Euro 138,658,825 was entirely transferred to the caption "Retained earnings".

In 2012, as approved by the General Shareholders Meeting held on 29 March 2012, the negative net income of 2011, in the amount of Euro 369,353,353 was entirely transferred to the caption "Retained earnings".

21. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets (Continued)

As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, there were several legal proceedings and tax contingencies which, in accordance with “NCRF 21 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets” (“NCRF 21”) and based on the opinion of the Company’s internal and external tax and legal counsels, were considered as probable losses, since the Company considered probable the outflow of resources to settle the obligation. The nature of these claims is as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Legal proceedings
Civil contingencies	3,321,484	3,288,009
Labor contingencies	2,504,227	2,857,219

Tax contingencies	14,908,002	14,629,879
	24,582,995	24,304,167

Set forth below are several tax claims assessed as constituting a probable loss, namely related to a portion of the VAT and IRC tax assessments in regard to the years 1997 and 1998 of Marconi and 1999 of Portugal Telecom, S.A., and the years 2002 to 2011 of PT Comunicações, among others, the Company has recorded a provision amounting to Euro 14,908,002 in 2012, including tax and interest. However, the Company is contesting these claims with the tax authorities.

b) Proceedings with possible losses

As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company, in accordance with the definitions of NCRF 21 and based on the advice of its internal and external tax and legal counsels, had classified several claims and legal proceedings and tax contingencies as proceedings with possible losses. The nature of these proceedings is as follows:

	2012	2011

21.3. Description of the main claims with regulatory entities and other legal proceedings

The following litigation processes relate to the main claims and legal proceedings filed by regulatory entities against PT Comunicações, some of which the Company considers, based on the advice of its internal and external legal counsels that related losses are remote, in accordance with the definitions of NCRF 21.

a) Claims for municipal taxes and fees

Pursuant to a statute enacted on 1 August 1997, as an operator of a basic telecommunications network, Portugal Telecom was exempt from municipal taxes and rights-of-way and other fees with respect to its network in connection with its obligations under the Concession. The Portuguese Government has advised Portugal Telecom in the past that this statute confirmed the tax exemption under our Concession. The Portuguese Government has informed Portugal Telecom it will continue to take the necessary actions in order for PT Comunicações to maintain the economic benefits contemplated by the Concession.

Law 5/2004, dated 10 February 2004, established a new rights-of-way regime in Portugal whereby each municipality may establish a fee, up to a maximum of 0.25% of each wireline services bill, to be paid by the customers of those wireline operators whose network infrastructures are located in each such municipality. This regime was implemented in 2005 but does not affect the lawsuit described above based on the former statute. Meanwhile, Decree-Law 123/2009, dated 21 May 2009, clarified that no other tax should be levied by the municipalities in addition to the tax established by Law 5/2004. This interpretation was confirmed by the Supreme Administrative Court of Portugal in various legal actions.

Some municipalities however, continue to interpret that the Law 5/2004 does not expressly revoke other taxes that the municipalities wish to establish, because Law 5/2004 is not applicable to the public municipality domain. Currently, there are legal proceedings filed by some municipalities regarding this matter.

b) Regulatory proceedings

Portugal Telecom's operations are regularly subject to regulatory inquiries and investigations involving their operations. In addition, ANACOM (the telecommunications regulator), the European Commission, and the Autoridade da Concorrência (the competition authority) regularly make inquiries and conduct investigations concerning compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Current inquiries and investigations include several investigations by the (Autoridade da Concorrência) related to PT Comunicações for alleged anti-competitive practices in the public wireline telephone market. The Company believes that most of the complaints that have resulted in such investigations should be dismissed due to the nature of the alleged abuses and the novelty of the relevant antitrust laws. However, if PT Comunicações is found to be in violation of applicable laws and regulations in these or other regulatory inquiries and investigations, it could become subject to penalties, fines, damages or other sanctions. It is however permitted under Portuguese law to appeal any adverse decision to the Courts.

In April 2007, the Autoridade da Concorrência filed a complaint alleging that PT Comunicações abused its dominant market position by granting, in 2003, discriminatory discounts on lease lines. PT Comunicações challenged this claim with the authorities. However, on 1 September 2008, the Autoridade da Concorrência imposed a fine of Euro 2.1 million on PT Comunicações. PT Comunicações appealed to the Commerce Court of Lisbon, on 29 September 2008 and, on 29 February 2012, the Commerce Court of Lisbon cleared PT Comunicações of the fine. The Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external legal counsels, has not recorded any provision for this matter.

c) Other legal proceedings

In March 2004, TV TEL Grande Porto—Comunicações, SA. ("TVTEL"), a telecommunications company based in Oporto, filed a claim against PT Comunicações in the Lisbon Judicial Court. TV TEL alleged that, since 2001, PT Comunicações has unlawfully restricted access to its telecommunication ducts in Oporto, thereby undermining and delaying the installation and development of TV TEL's telecommunications network. TV TEL alleges that PT Comunicações intended to favor both itself and CATVP—TV Cabo Portugal, S.A, a PT Multimedia subsidiary and at the time a direct competitor of TV TEL. TV TEL is claiming an amount of approximately Euro 15 million from Portugal Telecom for damages and losses allegedly caused and yet to be sustained by that company as a result of the delay in the installation of its telecommunications network in Oporto. In addition, TV TEL has demanded that PT Comunicações be required to give full access to its ducts in Oporto. PT Comunicações submitted its defence to these claims, stating that: (1) TV TEL did not have a general right to install its network in PT Comunicações' ducts; (2) all of TV TEL's requests were lawfully and timely responded to by PT Comunicações according to its general infra-structure management policy; and (3) TV TEL's claims for damages and losses were not factually sustainable. The trial was concluded in 2011 and the parties wait for the judicial decision.

In March 2011, Optimus—Comunicações S.A. ("Optimus") filed a claim against PT Comunicações in the Judicial Court of Lisbon for the payment of approximately Euro 11 million and, in October 2011, Onitelecom—Infocomunicações, S.A ("Oni") filed a claim against PT Comunicações in the same court for the payment of approximately Euro 1.5 million, both related to the proceeding of the Autoridade da Concorrência that terminated in 2011 for prescription purposes, in relation to which Autoridade da Concorrência had imposed a fine to the Company of approximately Euro 45 million, as referred to above. Optimus and Oni sustained their position by arguing that they incurred losses and damages as a result of the Company's conduct. Regarding the Optimus legal action, the Company is waiting for the schedule of the trial, while In the Optimus action, the Company is waiting for the schedule of the trial, while regarding the Oni legal action, PT Comunicações was acquitted due to prescription reasons.

21.4. Other tax contingencies

In addition to the tax contingencies mentioned above, the risk of loss of which was deemed as either probable or possible (Note 21.2), there are other tax claims pending appeal or judicial decision, totalling Euro 23 million, which include primarily (1) tax assessments filed by the tax authorities with respect to the income tax from 1997 to 1998 of Portugal Telecom, SA and Marconi, and from 2002 to 2010 of PT Comunicações, and (2) additional payments of VAT from 2000 to 2004. The Company's opinion, based on the advice of its tax and legal counsel, is that the risk of loss associated with these claims is remote.

21.5. Provisions for losses on financial investments

Provisions for losses on financial investments are related to losses in subsidiaries and associated companies that have negative shareholders' equity (Note 12), and are computed based on the Company's share in the shareholders' equity of those entities. Movements in these provisions during the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011 were as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euro
Equity method
Losses in subsidiaries and associated companies (Note 26)	5,110	19,974
Adjustments to financial assets (Note 20.5)	181	(463)
Liquidation of PT Ásia	—	(89)
	5,291	19,422

21.6. Contingent assets

As at 31 December 2012, the main contingent asset relates to a request for the transmission of tax losses from PT.Com, a company that was merged into PT Comunicações in 2004, amounting to Euro 56 million. The recovery of this amount depends on the appeal filed by the Company. The request filed by the Company was overruled by the tax authorities on 2 February 2007, and the Company challenged this decision on 15 May 2007 through a special administrative proceeding, which is pending a final decision.

22.1. Loans to Group companies

In February 2011, the Company obtained a loan from PT Portugal, amounting to Euro 727,000,000 (Note 4), as a result of which the total amount due increased to Euro 3,527,000,000. These loans have no defined maturity, but shall be repaid, partially or entirely, in more than one year, subject to the cash needs of the Company. The interest on these loans is linked to market rates.

22.2. Centralized cash management

As from March 2006, Portugal Telecom centralized all cash receipts and payments from Group companies located in Portugal. The financings obtained by the Company under this system have short term maturities and bear interest at market rates.

22.3. Commercial paper

On 25 June 1999, Portugal Telecom established a commercial paper program up to the amount of Euro 1,000,000,000. Following subsequent amendments to this program, the maximum amount under this program as at 31 December 2012 is Euro 3,500,000,000. This program is in place until 7 July 2013, and is automatically renewable for two year periods, until 7 July 2025, unless one of the parties objects to it. As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company had issued an amount of Euro 1,440,400,000 and Euro 698,400,000, respectively, under this program, which was fully subscribed by PT Finance.

On 1 June 1999, Portugal Telecom had issued another commercial paper program up to the amount of Euro 1,350,000,000. Following subsequent amendments to this program, the maximum amount under this program as at 31 December 2012 is Euro 3,000,000,000. This program is in place until 1 June 2014, and is automatically renewable for two year periods, until 1 June 2020, unless one of the parties objects to it. As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company had issued an amount of Euro 2,238,350,000 and Euro 1,888,350,000, respectively, under this program, which was fully subscribed by PT Finance.

22.4. Other loans

This caption relates to the amounts due to the Portuguese State in connection with the transfer of unfunded regulatory pension obligations concluded in 31 December 2010, which amounted to Euro 921.7 million as at 31 December 2010. The Company settled Euro 17.4 million and Euro 450.0 million in January and December 2011 (Note 4), respectively, having paid the remaining amount of Euro 454.3 million in December 2012 (Note 4).

The amounts reimbursed in 2012 and 2011 earned interest at an annual interest rate of 3.25% and 2.74%, respectively.

22.5. Finance leases

Financial leasing obligations are essentially the result of: (i) lease contracts with respect to vehicles, under which there are generally purchase options at the end of their term, and (ii) contracts for the acquisition of satellite capacity, under which the Company has the right to use this capacity in the normal course of telecommunications operations, a right that is recorded by the Company as an intangible asset. The contracts for the acquisition of satellite capacity do not include purchase options but, generally, the Company has a preference in the allocation of future transponders' capacity.

As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company had recorded in the balance sheet the following assets under finance leases:

	2012			2011
	Gross value	Accumulated depreciation	Carrying value	Gross value	Accumulated depreciation	Carrying value

22.6. Other information

As at 31 December 2012, the Company was party, along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, to three Credit Facilities, with the following amounts and maturities:

- Euro 800 million, with maturity in June 2016;
- Euro 100 million, with maturity in January 2015;
- Euro 50 million, with maturity in January 2013.

As at 31 December 2012, the amount used by the PT Group within these three Facilities was Euro 750 million.

22. Loans obtained (Continued)

As at 31 December 2012, the Company was also part, along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, in an Export Credit Facility, amounting to Euro 180 million, with a maturity in 2023. As at 31 December 2012, the amount used under this contract by PT Group was Euro 61 million.

As at 31 December 2012, the main covenants included in financing contracts, in relation to which the Company is collectively responsible along with PT SGPS and PT Finance, are as follows and refer to the consolidated accounts:

- Change in control: The exchangeable bonds, the credit facilities amounting to Euro 1,180 million and the loans obtained from the European Investment Bank (“EIB”) totalling Euro 602 million as at 31 December 2012 establish penalties in the case of a change in control of PT SGPS. According to the terms and conditions of these debt instruments, a change of control would occur if any person or group of persons acting in concert acquires or controls more than 50 per cent of voting rights, whether obtained by ownership of share capital, the holding of voting rights or pursuant to the terms of a shareholders’ agreement. In certain cases, gaining the power to appoint or remove all, or the majority, of the directors or other equivalent officers of PT SGPS or to give directions with respect to the operating and financial policies of PT SGPS with which the directors or equivalent officers of the company are obliged to comply are also considered a change of control.

The Euro 750 million Eurobond issued in 2012, the Euro 600 million Eurobond issued in 2011 and the Euro 1,000 million and Euro 750 million Eurobonds issued in 2009, establish penalties in the case of any change of control of Portugal Telecom, as described above, only if simultaneously a rating downgrade to sub-investment grade occurs (in case the securities are investment grade securities) or a rating downgrade occurs (in case the securities are sub-investment grade securities) during the Change of Control Period, as defined under the terms and conditions of these notes.

- Control/disposal of subsidiaries: Certain revolving credit facilities amounting to Euro 980 million require PT SGPS to, directly or indirectly, maintain majority ownership and control of each material subsidiary. Material subsidiaries are those companies whose total assets are equal or exceed 10% of total consolidated assets or whose total revenues are also equal or exceed 10% of total consolidated revenues.
- Disposal of assets: Revolving credit facilities totalling Euro 150 million and loans obtained from the EIB totalling Euro 602 million as at 31 December 2012 include certain restrictions regarding the disposal of assets by PT SGPS.
- Financial ratios: Certain revolving credit facilities totalling Euro 1,180 million require that Consolidated Net Debt/EBITDA PT SGPS’s ratio does not exceed certain values, which vary depending on each financing. As at 31 December 2012 and 2011, the ratio of Consolidated Net Debt / EBITDA consolidated was 3.3 and 2.6, respectively.
- Negative Pledge: The Euro Medium Term Notes, the exchangeable bonds, the credit facilities, the loans obtained from the EIB and the commercial paper programmes are subject to negative pledge clauses, which restrict the pledge of security interests in the assets of companies included in the consolidation.

The penalties applicable in the event of default in any of these covenants are generally the early payment of the loans obtained or the termination of available credit facilities. As at 31 December 2012, Portugal Telecom and PT Comunicações had fully complied with the covenants mentioned above.

Although current liabilities exceed current assets, the Company is not subject to liquidity risk, because of its ability to obtain needed capital from within the Portugal Telecom Group.

Other ^(c)	152,707,313	138,274,162
	311,664,796	315,284,596

- (a) The decrease in interest income under this caption results primarily from the reduction in the amount of loans granted to TMN, which were reduced from Euro 500,000,000 to Euro 340,000,000 as at 25 December 2011 (Note 12.3).
- (b) The reduction in this caption reflects mainly a decrease in financial charges associated with a lower level of loans obtained under the centralized cash management system (Note 22.2).
- (c) The increase in this caption reflects mainly two effects: (i) an increase of Euro 26,848,423 associated with the outstanding amounts due under Commercial Paper Programmes (Note 22.3); and (ii) a reduction of Euro 12,363,939 in financial charges associated with the outstanding debt regarding the transfer of unfunded pension obligations to the Portuguese State (Note 22.4).

35. Earnings per share

Earnings per share for the years 2012 and 2011 were computed as follows:

	2012	2011
Net income	(86,901,669)	(369,353,353)
Number of shares (Note 20)	1,150,000,000	1,150,000,000
Basic earnings per share	(0.08)	(0.32)

There are no situations that create a dilutive effect, so the diluted earnings per share are the same as basic earnings per share.

Bank guarantees presented to the tax authorities relate primarily to additional income tax assessments for which the Company submitted a claim or an appeal.

Purchase commitments refer to orders placed and not rendered, essentially for the acquisition of materials of infrastructure and telecommunications equipment in the normal course of operations.

37. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

On 13 January 2013, as mentioned in Note 10, Portugal Telecom entered into a definitive agreement for the sale of the 28% stake held by the Group in the share capital of CTM, including the 25% and 3% interests held by PT Participações and PT Comunicações, respectively.

The financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2012 were approved by the Board of Directors and authorized for issuance on 20 February 2013, but are still subject to General Shareholders Meeting approval, under the terms of Portuguese law.

Except for the above mentioned, there were no significant events after 31 December 2012 that would require adjustment or disclosure in these financial statements.

38. Note added for translation

These financial statements are a translation of the financial statements originally issued in Portuguese, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Portugal. In case of discrepancies, the original version, in Portuguese, prevails.

MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A.
Notes to the Financial Statements
As at 30 September 2014
(Amounts stated in Euros)

1. Introduction

MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A. (the “Company” or “Meo, S.A.”), formerly named TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A., was incorporated on 22 March 1991; its principal activity is to provide mobile telecommunications services, and it is licensed by the Instituto das Comunicações de Portugal (“ICP”), currently the ICP—Autoridade Nacional de Comunicações (“ANACOM”), to provide complementary (land-based) mobile telecommunications services in Portugal, under the terms of license ICP—011/TCM, dated 16 March 1992. By resolution of the ANACOM Board of Directors on 28 February 2007, the right to utilise these frequencies was renewed for an additional period of 15 years, i.e., until 16 March 2022. At the end of the year 2000, Meo, S.A. was licensed by ANACOM to do business in the international mobile telecommunications system, under the terms of license IMT 2000/UMTS, dated 19 December 2000, under ICP number 02 / UMTS, effective until 11 January 2016 with the possibility of subsequent renewal for an additional 15 years. In December 2011, ANACOM notified Meo, S.A., in the context of an auction of spectrum held on 28-30 November, that it had acquired spectrum in the frequency bands at 800 MHz, 1.8 GHz and 2.6 GHz, allowing Meo, S.A. to provide 4G mobile services through the Long Term Evolution (“LTE”) technology, which represents an evolution from GSM and UMTS technologies. Meo, S.A. was licensed to use these frequencies for an initial period of 15 years, renewable for an additional period of 15 years.

On 5 May 2014, Portugal Telecom SGPS, S.A. (“Portugal Telecom”) subscribed a share capital increase of Oi, S.A. (“Oi”) through the contribution in kind of its 100% interest in PT Portugal SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”). Following this transaction, PT Portugal became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oi and is now the parent company of the group in Portugal, while Portugal Telecom no longer controls PT Portugal and its subsidiaries. The Company’s only shareholder continues to be PT Comunicações which in turn also continues to be a wholly-owned subsidiary of PT Portugal. Consequently, as from 5 May 2014, the Company is indirectly a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oi.

During the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, in connection with an internal corporate restructuring of PT Group for purposes of the Oi share capital increase undertaken on 5 May 2014, the following transactions involving either the company or its subsidiaries were completed:

- On 30 April 2014, PT Móveis, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Móveis”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Meo, S.A., subscribed a share capital increase of Bratel BV by an amount of Euro 1,303 million;
- On 2 May 2014, PT Móveis disposed to Portugal Telecom, for an amount of Euro 4,195 million its 100% interest in Bratel BV, the company that held the investment in Oi, indirectly through Bratel Brasil, S.A. (“Bratel Brasil”). This operation generate a net loss of Euro 950 million recorded by PT Móveis which includes, (1) a capital gain of Euro 50 million reflecting the difference between the selling price (Euro 4,195 million) and the carrying value of the investment in Bratel BV (Euro 4,145 million) and (2) the transfer to net income of the cumulative amount of negative foreign currency translation adjustments that were recorded directly in shareholders’ equity between March 2011 (Oi’s acquisition date) and 2 May 2014, in the amount of Euro 950 million;
- On 2 May 2014, Portugal Telecom disposed to PT Móveis, for a total amount of Euro 2.240 million, its 100% interest in PT Participações, SGPS, S.A., the company that held, indirectly, a 75% interest in Africatel Holdings BV.

2. Basis of Presentation

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with Portuguese legislation, based on Decree-law nº. 158/2009, which approved the new Portuguese accounting system, named Sistema de Normalização Contabilística (“SNC”), including the conceptual structure, Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro (“NCRF”) and Interpretative Standards, as approved by Notices nº 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009, respectively. As permitted by Decree-Law nº. 158/2009, the Company also applies the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IAS/IFRS”) and related interpretations (“SIC/IFRIC”) issued by International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), in order to fill in the gaps or omissions in SNC regarding specific situations of certain transactions.

As the Portuguese accounting system does not cover interim financial reporting, these interim financial statements have been presented in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting (“IAS 34”) and therefore do not include all the information required by above mentioned Portuguese accounting system. Accordingly, these interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2013.

3. Cash Flows

For the purposes of the cash flow statement, the caption “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits immediately available, net of bank overdrafts.

The Company is exposed to a liquidity risk if its sources of funding, including cash balance, operating cash inflows, divestments and cash flows obtained from financing operations, do not match with our financing needs, such as operating and financing outflows, investments, shareholder remuneration and debt repayments. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, on the available cash and in the possibility to obtain financing from PT Portugal under the centralized cash management system, the Company believes that it is able to meet its obligations.

The cash flow statement was prepared in accordance with “NCRF 2 Statement of Cash Flows”, which includes the following:

(a) Cash receipts (payments) relating to income taxes

Under the special taxation regime for Groups of companies, the Company received Euro 9,182,500 from PT Portugal in the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 and paid Euro 46,285,729 to Portugal Telecom in the nine months period ended 30 September 2013. The change between both periods reflects the payments on account made by Meo, S.A. in the nine months period ended 30 September 2013, which did not take place in the nine months period ended 30 September 2014.

(b) Other payments, net

This caption includes essentially Value Added Tax and spectrum fees paid to the regulator ICP -Anacom.

(c) Dividends received

In the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013, this caption corresponds to dividends received from PT Móveis, amounting to Euro 194,000,000 and Euro 67,900,000, respectively (Note 5).

(d) Cash receipts (payments) resulting from loans obtained

In the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013, payments resulting from loans obtained, net of cash receipts resulting from loans obtained, consisted of the following:

	9M14	9M13
	Euro

The increase in accounts receivable reflects mainly receivables from group companies, especially from PT Comunicações. This increase, together with the lower services rendered, explains the reduction in collections from clients in the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, as compared to the same period of last year.

In the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, changes in accumulated impairment losses related to accounts receivable were as follows:

8.2. Proceedings with probable losses

The provision for taxes is to cover several Corporate Income Tax and Social Security contingencies, as well as other taxes and fees.

The provision for legal processes in progress is to cover liabilities resulting from processes brought against the Company, estimated based on information from its lawyers.

As at 30 September 2014, the Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external lawyers, classified several legal and arbitration processes in progress and tax contingencies as of probable loss and so it recorded provisions in accordance with NCRF 21—Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and

	8,159,104	2,963,039

The Board of Directors believes that any corrections resulting from audits/inspections of tax returns by the tax authorities will not have a significant effect on the financial statements as of and for the nine months period ended 30 September 2014, considering the provisions constituted and the expectations at the date hereof with respect to the final resolution of the above-referenced matters.

8.4. Other proceedings

The Company received additional income tax assessments relating to the financial years from 2004 to 2010, which essentially question the deductibility of certain financial costs, in the total amount of Euro 204 million of taxes. The Company disagrees with these assessments and conclusions, and considers, based on the opinion of its tax counsel, that there are solid arguments to oppose the position of the tax authorities. As such, the company consider that this proceeding with possible loss.

16. Income tax

In 2013, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 25%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rate of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million and at the rate of 5.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 7.5 million.

As from 2014, companies located in mainland Portugal are subject to Corporate Income Tax at a base rate of 23%, increased (1) up to a maximum of 1.5% of taxable income through a municipal tax, and (2) by a state surcharge levied at the rates of 3.0% on taxable income between Euro 1.5 million and Euro 7.5 million, 5.0% on taxable income between Euro 7.5 million and Euro 35.0 million and 7.0% on taxable income in excess of Euro 35.0 million, resulting in a maximum aggregate tax rate of approximately 31.5% for taxable income higher than Euro 35.0 million.

Since the Company's tax profits in the nine-month periods ended 30 September 2014 and 2013 exceeded the Euro 35.0 million and Euro 7.5 million thresholds mentioned above, the Company applied the tax rate of 31.5% to compute its income tax estimate.

The Company's income taxes are computed based on the tax rate mentioned above and are determined on the basis of profit before-tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation.

PT Portugal has adopted the tax consolidation regime in Portugal (currently known as the Special Regime for the Taxation of Groups of Companies), under which the provision for income taxes is determined on the basis of the estimated taxable income for all the companies in which PT Portugal holds at least 75% of the share capital and that are domiciled in Portugal and subject to Corporate Income Tax (IRC). PT Portugal is still waiting for the approval from the tax authorities in relation to the use of this tax consolidation regime in 2014, since PT Portugal only became the parent company of the group in Portugal as from 5 May 2014, following the contribution in kind made by Portugal Telecom to the Oi share capital increase consisting of its 100% interest in PT Portugal (Note 1). The Company is part of the Special Taxation Regime for Groups of Companies and, as a result, the income tax estimate and deductions made by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable and receivable of PT Portugal.

The bank guarantee provided in favour of Anacom as at 30 September 2014, in the amount of Euro 18 million, was requested by Anacom in the context of the auction of spectrum usage rights, and corresponds to the total amount of the three outstanding instalments.

As at 30 September 2014, the value for the bank guarantees provided in favour of other entities includes, essentially, the amount of Euro 1.5 million in respect of contracts to use stores.

As of 30 September 2014, Portugal Telecom had presented bank guarantees in favor of the tax authorities in relation to additional tax assessments received by Portugal Telecom regarding the tax consolidation of the years 2005 to 2010, thus including the tax contingencies of Meo, S.A. as well as tax contingencies of other entities included in the tax consolidation group, namely PT Comunicações, S.A. and Portugal Telecom. These bank guarantees totaled Euro 353 million as of 30 September 2014. In accordance with Portuguese tax legislation, Portugal Telecom has presented these guarantees and submitted a claim or an appeal to the tax authorities in order to be able to hold open discussions with the tax authorities and avoid the payment of a given tax assessment. In Portugal, these two conditions are required and must be complied with before the process can continue, regardless of the amount of the tax assessment or the likelihood of success of the appeal or the claim.

19. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

The financial statements as of and for the nine months period ended 30 September 2014 were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issuance on 13 January 2015.

On 1 December 2014, Oi entered into an exclusivity agreement with Altice, S.A. to allow both entities to negotiate and agree on the final terms of the sale of PT Portugal, excluding certain details. On 8 December 2014, the Board of Directors of Oi finalized the formalities to approve the general terms and conditions for the sale of all shares of PT Portugal to Altice Portugal, S.A., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Altice, S.A.. The sale substantially involves PT Portugal's operations in Portugal and Hungary. The effectiveness of the purchase and sale contract will depend on the approvals by the shareholders of Portugal Telecom SGPS, S.A., the meeting of which was initially scheduled for 12 January 2015 and then postponed to 22 January 2015, and by the proper regulatory entities. With this approval, Oi will transfer to Altice all of the shares issued by PT Portugal for an enterprise value of Euro 7.4 billion, adjusting for cash and debt and including an earn-out of Euro 500 million related to PT Portugal's generation of future revenue. The price to be paid by Altice will suffer adjustments usually adopted in similar transactions, in accordance with PT Portugal's cash holdings on the closing of this transaction.

On 29 December 2014, Meo, S.A. was merged into PT Comunicações and accordingly ceased to exist, but as its assets and liabilities were entirely transferred into PT Comunicações, the Company's activity will continue in the future. This merger produced effects as from 1 January 2014. Following this merger, PT Comunicações was renamed MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A..

AUDITORS' REPORT

Introduction

1. We have audited the accompanying financial statements of MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A. ("the Company"), formerly named TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A., which comprise the balance sheet as of 31 December 2013 that presents a total of 6,344,784,096 Euros and shareholders' equity of 5,596,922,716 Euros, including a net income of 336,146,179 Euros, the statements of income by nature, of changes in shareholders' equity and of cash flows for the year then ended and the corresponding notes.

Responsibilities

2. The preparation of financial statements that present a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company, the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders' equity and its cash flows, as well as the adoption of adequate accounting principles and criteria and the maintenance of an appropriate system of internal control are the responsibility of the Company's Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to express a professional and independent opinion on these financial statements, based on our audit.

Scope

3. Our audit was performed in accordance with the auditing standards ("Normas Técnicas e as Diretrizes de Revisão/Auditoria") issued by the Portuguese Institute of Statutory Auditors ("Ordem dos Revisores Oficiais de Contas"), which require that the audit be planned and performed with the objective of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes verifying, on a sample basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and assessing the significant estimates, based on judgements and criteria defined by the Board of Directors, used in their preparation. An audit also includes assessing the adequacy of the accounting principles used and their disclosure, taking into consideration the circumstances, verifying the applicability of the going concern concept and assessing the adequacy of the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for expressing our opinion.

Opinion

4. In our opinion, the financial statements referred to in paragraph 1 above, present fairly, for the purpose explained in paragraph 5 below, in all material respects, the financial position of MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A. as of 31 December 2013 and the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders' equity and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in Portugal.

Emphases

5. The financial statements mentioned in paragraph 1 above refer to the Company on a standalone basis and were prepared in accordance with current legislation for approval and publication. The Company did not prepared consolidated financial statements as, in accordance with number 3 of article 7 of Decree-Law 158/2009, of 13 July 2009 was not required to do so, as its financial statements were included in the consolidated financial statements of Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A.. As described in Note 3.6, although the financial investments have been accounted for by the equity method, under which the Company's net profit for the year and shareholders' equity include the effect of consolidating the subsidiaries, the accompanying financial statements do not include the effects of a full consolidation of their assets, liabilities, revenues and costs.
6. As of 31 December 2013, the Company's financial investments included the wholly-owned subsidiary PT Móveis, S.A. ("PT Móveis"), which owned 100% interest in Bratel BV, a holding company that essentially owned the investment in Oi, S.A. and its controlling shareholders in the total amount of 2,589 million Euros. In connection with the business combination between Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. ("PT SGPS") and Oi, as of 2 May 2014 this investment was sold to PT SGPS and PT Móveis incurred in a net loss of approximately 950 million Euros, of which 1,000 million Euros did not have an impact in the PT Móveis shareholders' equity as it corresponds to a transfer to net income of the cumulative amount of negative foreign currency translations adjustments that were recorded directly in shareholders' equity between March 2011 (Oi's acquisition date) and 2 May 2014 (of which 885 million Euros recorded at 31 December 2013), while the remaining 50 million Euros corresponds to a capital gain reflecting the difference between the selling price and the carrying value of the investment in the books of PT Móveis.

MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A.
Annex to the Financial Statements
As of and for 31 December 2013
(Amounts expressed in Euros)

1. Introduction

MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A. (the “Company” or “Meo, S.A.”), formerly named TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A., was incorporated on 22 March 1991; its principal activity is to provide mobile telecommunications services, and it is licensed by the Instituto das Comunicações de Portugal (“ICP”), currently the ICP—Autoridade Nacional de Comunicações (“ANACOM”), to provide complementary (land-based) mobile telecommunications services in Portugal, under the terms of license ICP—011/TCM, dated 16 March 1992. By resolution of the ANACOM Board of Directors on 28 February 2007, the right to utilise these frequencies was renewed for an additional 15 years, i.e., until 16 March 2022. At the end of the year 2000, Meo, S.A. was licensed by ANACOM to do business in the international mobile telecommunications system, under the terms of license IMT 2000/UMTS, dated 19 December 2000, under ICP number 02 / UMTS, effective until 11 January 2016 with the possibility of subsequent renewal for an additional 15 years.

In December 2011, ANACOM notified Meo, S.A., in the context of an auction of spectrum held November 28-30, that it had acquired spectrum in the frequency bands at 800 MHz, 1.8 GHz and 2.6 GHz, for a total of 113 million Euros. This allows Meo, S.A. to provide 4G mobile services, through Long Term Evolution (“LTE”) technology, representing an evolution from GSM and UMTS technologies. Meo, S.A. was licensed to use these frequencies for an initial period of 15 years, renewable for an additional 15 years.

In addition, the Company may also provide other telecommunications services in Portugal, highlighted by the following:

- a) Meo, S.A. is registered to exercise the activity of telecommunications of public use;
- b) Meo, S.A. is licensed by ANACOM to provide land-line telephone service, under the terms of license ICP—010/99/99-SFT, and to establish and supply a public telecommunications network, under the terms of license ICP—017/99-RPT, both for the entirety of the Portuguese territory and dated 25 November 1999;
- c) Meo, S.A. is authorised to provide private virtual network services, having been assigned access code “70596.”

Among other regulations pursuant to Law 12/2008—Provision of Essential Public Services, as published in February 2008, the Company is afforded 6 months to bring suit against clients for non-payment, failing which, the debt lapses. In accordance with this Law, all electronic communications services (and not just landline telephone service) became subject to new regulations.

In 2008, in the context of the reorganisation process of the Portugal Telecom Group, Meo, S.A. acquired from Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS” or “Portugal Telecom”) the stake it held in PT Acessos de Internet Wi-Fi, S.A (“PT Wi-Fi”), which was merged into Meo, S.A., as of 1 January 2008.

Meo, S.A. holds one hundred percent of the share capital of PT Móveis—Serviços de Telecomunicações, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Móveis”). On 27 September 2010, PT Móveis sold to Telefónica Móviles, S.A. the 50% stake it held in the capital of Brasilcel N.V. (a joint venture controlling Vivo that was constituted at the end of 2002 between the Portugal Telecom Group—through PT Móveis—and the Telefónica Group—through Telefónica Móviles, S.A.). Subsequently, on 28 March 2011, Portugal Telecom completed the process of acquiring an effective stake of 25.3% in Telemar Norte Leste, S.A. (“Oi”) and 14.1% in Contax, S.A. and the agreements with the controlling shareholders of these companies, for a total of 8.437 billion Brazilian Reais. This investment was effected by the Portugal Telecom Group through Bratel Brasil, in which PT Móveis indirectly holds a 99% stake. The terms of these agreements allow Portugal Telecom to share decision-making power on the strategic financial and operating policies of the acquired companies, such that these are classified as jointly controlled entities, in accordance with the terms of IFRS 11—Joint Arrangements, and are recognised indirectly under the equity method. On 1 October 2013, Portugal Telecom, Oi and some of the principal shareholders of these entities signed a memorandum of understanding that establishes the essential principles for a merger proposal among PT, Oi and Oi's controlling shareholders with the objective of creating a single integrated company listed in Brazil. The Oi Group is a leading operator of telecommunications services in the Brazilian market and the largest operator of landline telecommunications in South America in terms of active clients, and Contax is one of the leading companies in corporate services and the leading company in contact centre services in Brazil.

On 30 November 2010, PT Portugal, SGPS, S.A. ("PT Portugal") sold to PT Comunicações, S.A. ("PT Comunicações") its entire stake in Meo, S.A., such that the Company came to be wholly owned by PT Comunicações.

Under the terms of article 7 of Decree-Law nº 158/2009, despite holding financial investments in group and associated companies, the Company is exempt from preparing consolidated financial statements since it is wholly owned, directly or indirectly, by Portugal Telecom, SGPS S.A. ("Portugal Telecom"), which in turn presents consolidated financial statements which include the financial statements of the Company and the entities in which it has a stake.

2. Basis of presentation

The financial statements annexed here were prepared in accordance with applicable provisions of Portuguese law, as set forth in Decree-Law nº 158/2009, which approved the Sistema de Normalização Contabilística ("SNC"), and in accordance with the conceptual framework, Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro ("NCRF") and Normas Interpretativas issued, respectively, in notices 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009.

The Company first adopted the NCRF in 2010, applying NCRF 3 Adoção Pela Primeira Vez Das NCRF ("NCRF 3"), using 1 January 2009 as the transition date for the effects of presenting these financial statements. As provided in the Annex to Decree-Law nº 158/2009, the Company supplementarily applies the International Accounting Standards and International Financial Reporting Standards ("IAS/IFRS") and the respective interpretations ("SIC/IFRIC") of the IASB, to bridge gaps or omissions relating to specific aspects of some transactions or particular situations not provided for by the SNC.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates

The financial statements annexed here were prepared assuming ongoing operations. The main accounting policies adopted in preparing these financial statements are described below and were applied on a consistent basis, except as otherwise indicated.

3.1. Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are recorded at the cost of acquisition or production, which includes the cost of purchase, any costs directly attributable to putting the assets in place in the conditions needed to operate as intended and, when applicable, the initial estimate of the costs that the company expects to incur in dismantling and removing the assets and restoring the respective premises where they were installed.

The subsequent expenses are included in the carrying amount for the asset only when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Company and the cost can be reliably measured. Maintenance and repair costs not likely to generate future economic benefits are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Except for land that is not depreciated, depreciation of the other tangible fixed assets is recognised on a straight-line basis, as of such time as the asset is ready for use, with duodecimal imputation. The annual rates applied reflect the estimated useful life for each asset class, as follows:

Asset class	Years of useful life
Buildings and other constructions	3-50
Basic equipment	3-20
Transportation equipment	4-5
Administrative equipment	3-10
Other tangible fixed assets	4-8

The useful lives and the amortisation method are reviewed regularly, and the effect of any change in these estimates is recognised prospectively in the income statement.

Gains or losses stemming from a write-off or sale are determined as the difference between the amount received and the carrying amount for the asset, and are recognised in the income statement.

3.2. Leases

Leases are classified as financial leases if they transfer to the lessee substantially all the risks and rewards inherent to possessing the corresponding assets. All other leases are classified as operating leases. Leases are classified as a function of their substance and not their form.

Assets acquired by means of financial leases, as well as the corresponding liabilities, are recorded at the beginning of the lease at the lesser of the fair value of the assets and the present value of the minimum lease payments. The rents include financial expense and amortisation of the capital, wherein financial expenses are imputed in accordance with a constant periodic interest rate on the remaining balance of the liability.

In operating leases, rents owed are recognised as an expense on a linear basis during the lease period.

3.3. Concentrations of business activities and goodwill

Acquisitions of financial investments in subsidiary companies are recorded using the purchase method. The acquisition cost is determined by aggregating, at the acquisition date, the following components: (a) the fair value of the assets delivered or deliverable; (b) the fair value of the liabilities incurred or assumed; (c) the fair value of equity instruments issued by the Company in exchange for obtaining control over the subsidiary; and (d) the costs directly attributable to the acquisition. When applicable, the acquisition cost includes the effect of contingent payments agreed upon in the context of the transaction, and subsequent changes in such payments are recorded as a counter-entry to the corresponding goodwill.

Goodwill represents the excess of the acquisition cost over the fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquired company, at the acquisition date, pursuant to NCRF 14 Concentrações de Atividades Empresariais ("NCRF 14"). If the difference between the acquisition cost and the fair value of the assets and liabilities acquired is negative, it is recognised as income for the year. Pursuant to the exception provided in NCRF 3, the Company applied the provisions of NCRF 14 only to acquisitions after 1 January 2009, such that the amounts of goodwill relating to acquisitions prior to such date were retained as initially calculated in accordance with the standard applicable at the time.

Goodwill arising from acquiring subsidiary companies is included on the balance sheet as "Goodwill."

Goodwill is not amortised, and is subject to tests for impairment on an annual basis or whenever there is indication of a loss of value. For purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units. Any impairment loss is immediately recorded as an expense in the income statement for the period and cannot later be reversed.

3.4. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include, basically, (1) rights and licenses, (2) commercial goodwill, (3) terminal equipment assigned to clients pursuant to service contracts with them, and (4) development expenses. Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost, less accrued amortisations and impairment losses.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis in accordance with the following estimated useful lives:

Asset class	Useful life
License UMTS (3G)	Period of the license with a renewal period (until 2030)
License LTE (4G)	Period of the license with a renewal period (until 2042)
Rights over terminal equipment assigned to clients	Contractual terms (2 years)
Other intangible assets	3 years

The useful lives and method of amortising the various intangible assets are reviewed annually, and the effects of any changes in these estimates are recognised in the income statement prospectively.

Research expenses are recognised in the income statement when incurred. Development expenses are capitalized when the technical and economic feasibility of the product or process under development can be shown and the Company has the intention and capability to complete its development and begin marketing or using it, as provided in NCRF 6 Activos Intangíveis.

3.5. Impairments of tangible fixed assets and intangible assets

The Company tests for impairment its tangible and intangible assets whenever there is an event or change that indicates that the amount at which the asset is booked may not be recovered. Should there be such indication, the Company proceeds to determine the recoverable value of the asset, so as to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount of an asset, the recoverable amount for the cash-generating unit to which such asset belongs is estimated.

In addition, in the specific case of terminal equipment assigned to clients pursuant to loyalty programme contracts, impairment is tested periodically, and the assets are fully written off in cases where the revenue associated with the client giving rise to the intangible asset is not assured.

The recoverable amount is determined as the higher of the sale price and the use value. The sale price is the amount that would be obtained by selling the asset in a transaction between knowledgeable independent entities, less the costs directly attributable to the sale. The use value derives from future cash flows as discounted to reflect the cost of capital and the specific risk of the asset.

Whenever the book value of the asset or of the cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognised and recorded in the income statement.

3.6. Financial investments

Subsidiary companies are all the entities over which the Company has decision-making power over financial and operating policies, generally represented by more than half of the voting rights. Associated companies are entities over which the Company exercises significant influence, but does not have control, generally with stakes of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights.

Investments in the Company's subsidiaries are recorded using the equity method of accounting. In accordance with this method, financial investments are initially recorded at their acquisition cost and subsequently adjusted as a function of observed changes, after the acquisition, in the Company's interest in the net assets of the corresponding entities. The Company's results include its interest in the corresponding results of these entities.

Financial investments are tested whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired, and existing impairment losses are recorded as expenses in the income statement.

Unrealised gains in transactions with subsidiaries are eliminated in proportion to the Company's interest in them, with a counter-entry to the corresponding investment line item.

3.7. Accrual accounting

The Company records its revenue and expenses on an accrual basis, under which revenues and expenses are recognised to the extent they are generated or incurred, regardless of when they are received or paid, respectively.

3.8. Income taxes

Income taxes correspond to the sum of current and deferred taxes, which are recorded in the income statement except when they relate to items recorded directly in shareholders' equity, in which case they are likewise recorded in shareholders' equity.

Income taxes are estimated based on the estimate of the tax base under the Imposto sobre o Rendimento das Pessoas Coletivas ("IRC").

Portugal Telecom makes use of tax consolidation under the Regime Especial de Tributação de Grupos de Sociedades ("RETGS"), in which Meo, S.A. is included. Consequently, the estimated IRC amounts, less withholding effected by third parties and advance payments, are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable to Portugal Telecom.

The income taxes for the year recorded in the financial statements are calculated pursuant to NCRF 25 Impostos Sobre o Rendimento. In measuring income taxes for the year, in addition to the current tax determined based on pre-tax results as adjusted in accordance with tax law, the effects of temporary differences between the amounts of assets and liabilities for accounting purposes and the respective amounts for tax purposes are also taken into account. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated and assessed annually, using the tax rates that are expected to be in effect at the date of the reversal of the temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are recorded only when there is a reasonable expectation of sufficient future taxable profits to use them. At the balance sheet date, the temporary differences underlying the deferred tax assets are reappraised, for the purposes of recognising deferred tax assets that had gone unrecorded for not having fulfilled the conditions for recording, and/or reducing the amount of the deferred tax assets that are recognised as a function of current expectations of their future recovery.

3.9. Inventories

Inventories are recorded at the lesser of the acquisition cost and the net realisation value. The net realisation value represents the estimated sale price less all costs deemed necessary to complete the sale. The Company uses the average cost method.

Inventory impairment losses include the value of unutilised materials forecast by dint of technological obsolescence and/or turnover, as well as the difference of prices for materials whose realisation value is less than the average acquisition cost, to the extent that it exceeds the discount level considered normal in the business.

3.10. Accounts receivable from clients and other debtors

Accounts receivable from clients and other debtors are recognised initially at fair value, and are subsequently measured at cost or amortised cost, utilising the effective interest method, less impairment losses.

Impairments for debts of doubtful collection are calculated based on an evaluation of the estimated risks arising from non-collection of accounts receivable, and are recognised in the income statement in the period in which they arise.

3.11. Provisions, obligations and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised by the Company when there is a current obligation resulting from past events, provided it is probable that there will be an outlay of internal resources to settle such obligation and the amount of such outlay can be reasonably estimated. When any of these conditions is not fulfilled, the Company moves to disclose the events as contingent liabilities, unless the possibility of an outflow of funds is remote.

Provisions are recognised in an amount corresponding to the present value of the best estimate, at the reporting date, of the resources needed to settle the obligation. This estimate is determined considering the risks and uncertainties associated with the obligation. Provisions are reviewed at the end of each year and adjusted so as to reflect the best estimate at that date.

Obligations entailing the costs of dismantling and removing assets installed on others' property and restoring the respective premises are recognised when the assets start to be utilised and if it is possible to reliably estimate the respective obligation. The recognised amount of the obligation recognised corresponds to the present value of the obligation, and financial updating is recorded under "Other expenses and losses."

3.12. Loans obtained

Loans obtained are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred, and are subsequently presented at amortised cost, utilising the effective interest method.

3.13. Financial charges on loans obtained

The Company's policy is to capitalise the financial charges relating to loans obtained for the acquisition, construction or production of tangible assets. However, the Company has recognised financial charges as expenses when incurred, given that the construction period for the tangible and intangible assets has been relatively short.

3.14. Classification on the balance sheet

Assets realisable and liabilities due more than one year from the balance sheet date are classified, respectively, in non-current assets and liabilities, at their present value.

3.15. Transactions and balances in foreign currency

Transactions in foreign currency (i.e., not in the Company's functional currency) are recorded at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Assets and liabilities expressed in foreign currency for which there is no agreement for setting the exchange rate are converted into Euros using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Exchange rate differences, be they favourable or unfavourable, originating from differences between the exchange rates in effect at the date of the transactions and those in effect at the date of the collections or payments or at the balance sheet date, are recorded as revenue and expenses in the income statement.

At 31 December 2013 and 2012, assets and liabilities were converted to Euros based on the following exchange rates for the Euro, as published by Bank of Portugal (Banco de Portugal):

Currency	2013	2012
	Euro
Swedish krona	8.8591	8.5820
Special Drawing Rights	1.1173	1.1658
American dollar	1.3791	1.3194
Swiss franc	1.2276	1.2072
Pound	0.8337	0.8161

3.16. Revenue

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Revenue to be recognised is netted of the estimated amount of refunds, discounts and other rebates, and does not include Value Added Tax ("VAT") and other taxes paid in connection with the sale.

Revenue from service provision is recognised with reference to the degree of completion of the transaction at the reporting date, provided all the following conditions are satisfied: (1) the amount of the revenue can be reliably measured; (2) it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; (3) the expenses incurred or to be incurred in the transaction can be reliably measured; and (4) the degree of completion of the transaction at the reporting date can be reasonably estimated.

Revenues from telecommunications activities are recorded at their gross value, and unbilled amounts due or generated at the date of the financial statements, are recorded based on estimates and included under "Unbilled revenues." Differences between the estimated and actual amounts are recorded in the subsequent period.

Revenues relating to advances from clients are deferred, and are recognised only when the service is provided.

Revenues from international telecommunications services are calculated as a function of the termination rates established in bilateral agreements with the various telecommunications operators. These agreements also establish whether it is the operator of origin of the traffic that should present the credit to the operator of the destination country, or whether this latter must present the debit to the former.

The Company operates loyalty programmes for some of its customers, under which, as a function of consumption, clients have the right to loyalty points that can be exchanged for equipment, accessories and discounts on subsequent purchases of services. In the absence of specific SNC standards or interpretations relating to this topic, the Company applies IFRIC 13 Customer Loyalty Programmes (“IFRIC 13”), in accordance with which it accounts for these operations as transactions containing multiple elements, such that the amount initially received is allocated between the revenue relating to the traffic consumed and the points that the customer obtains. Accordingly, the deferred revenue relating to the latter component is recognised when the points are used or expire.

Interest revenue is recognised based on the effective interest method.

3.17. Own work capitalized

Internal expenses incurred by the Company in forming fixed assets, essentially in respect of labour, are capitalized with a counter-entry to “Own work capitalized,” provided the following requirements are fulfilled: (a) the fixed assets that are developed are identifiable; (b) there is a strong probability that the fixed assets will generate future economic benefits; and (c) the development expenses are reliably measurable.

3.18. Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised on the balance sheet when the Company becomes party to the corresponding contractual provisions, and are classified at cost or amortised cost.

(a) Financial assets and liabilities at cost or amortised cost

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in the “at cost or amortised cost” category when they present the following characteristics: (a) they are on demand or have established maturities; (b) they have a fixed or determinable return associated with them; and (c) they neither are derivative financial instruments nor incorporate derivative financial instruments.

Financial assets and liabilities falling in this category are measured at cost or amortised cost, less accrued impairment losses (in the case of financial assets), and correspond essentially to the following line items of assets and liabilities included on the Company’s balance sheet:

- Loans obtained
- Shareholders and Group companies
- Accounts receivable—trade
- Suppliers and investment suppliers
- Unbilled revenues and accrued expenses
- Advances to suppliers and from clients
- State and other public entities
- Other accounts receivable and payable
- Other financial assets and liabilities
- Cash and bank deposits

The amortised cost is determined using the effective interest method. The effective interest rate is that which discounts exactly the estimated future payments or receipts during the expected life of the financial instrument in the net carrying amount of the financial asset or liability.

Annex to the Financial Statements (Continued)

(Amounts expressed in Euros)

(b) Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets classified in the “at cost or amortised cost” category are tested for impairment at the end of each year. These financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events occurring after initial recognition, their estimated future cash flows will be affected.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, the impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the present value of the new future estimated cash flows discounted at the respective original effective interest rate. For financial assets measured at cost, impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the best estimate of the fair value of the asset.

Subsequently, if the impairment loss decreases as a result of an event occurring after the initial recognition of the loss, the impairment must be reversed per results. The reversal is effected only up to the limit of the amount that would be recognised (amortised cost) had the loss not been initially recorded.

Impairment losses and the respective reversals are recorded to the income statement essentially under “Impairment of accounts receivable ((losses)/reversals).”

(c) Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

The Company derecognises financial assets only when its contractual rights to the cash flows from these assets expire, or when it transfers to another entity the financial assets and all the significant risks and benefits associated with their possession. Transferred financial assets in respect of which the Company has retained some significant risks and benefits are derecognised, provided control over them has been assigned.

The Company derecognises financial liabilities only when the corresponding obligation is settled, cancelled or expires.

3.19. Main accounting estimates and judgments

In preparing the financial statements in accordance with the NCRF, the Company’s Board of Directors uses estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the amounts reported. The estimates and judgments are continuously evaluated and are based on the experience of past events and other factors, including expectations relating to future events deemed probable in light of the circumstances on which the estimates are based or as the result of information or experience. The most significant accounting estimates reflected in the financial statements are the following:

(a) Useful lives of tangible fixed assets and intangible assets

The Company utilised estimates to calculate the useful lives of tangible fixed assets and intangible assets.

(b) Recognition of provisions and impairments

The Company is party to a variety of ongoing judicial proceedings for which, based on the opinion of its lawyers, it used judgment to determine if it should recognise any provision in respect of these contingencies. Impairments for accounts receivable are calculated essentially based on the age of the accounts receivable, the risk profile of the clients and their financial situation.

The estimates were determined based on the best information available at the date the financial statements were prepared. As such, there may be events in subsequent periods that, not having been foreseeable at the time, were not considered in these estimates. In accordance with NCRF 4 Políticas

Contabilísticas, Alterações nas Estimativas Contabilísticas e Erros (“NCRF 4”), changes to these estimates that occur after the date of the financial statements are corrected in the income statement prospectively. For this reason and given the associated degree of uncertainty, actual results for the transactions in question may differ from the corresponding estimates.

3.20. Events occurred after the balance sheet date

Events occurred after the balance sheet date that provide additional information about conditions that existed at the balance sheet date are reflected in the financial statements. Events after the balance sheet date that provide information about conditions that arose after the balance sheet date are not reflected in the financial statements, and are only disclosed if deemed material.

4. Cash Flows

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits immediately available and other short-term investments with elevated liquidity and initial maturities of up to three months, net of bank overdrafts, when applicable.

The Company is subject to liquidity risk if the sources of financing, such as available cash, operating cash flows and cash flows from disinvestment transactions and financing, do not meet existing needs, such as cash outflows relating to operations, investments, shareholder returns and the payment of principal and interest on debt. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, available cash and the possibility of obtaining financing from Portugal Telecom in under the centralized cash management implemented in the Group, the Company believes it has the capacity to fulfil its obligations.

The statement of cash flows was prepared in accordance with NCRF 2 Demonstração de Fluxos de Caixa, with the following notable aspects:

(a) Other payments, net

This line item includes essentially Value Added Tax and spectrum fees paid to the regulator ICP—Anacom.

(b) Cash receipts resulting from dividends

In the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, this line item reflects dividends received from investee PT Móveis, in the amounts of 67,900,000 Euros and 5,000,000 Euros, respectively (Note 9).

(c) Receipts (payments) relating to loans obtained

In 2013 and 2012, payments resulting from loans obtained, net of cash receipts resulting from loans obtained, consisted of the following:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Receipts obtained under commercial paper programmes (Note 20.3)	250,000,000	—

Bank deposits immediately available	6,907,986	666,374
Cash	3,342,111	7,090,836
Cash and bank deposits	10,250,097	7,757,210

5. Changes in accounting policies and estimates and errors

No new or revised standards or interpretations were adopted in the year ended 31 December 2013, nor were there any voluntary changes in other accounting policies or changes in accounting estimates.

In the year ended 31 December 2013, no other new or revised standards or interpretations were issued that are not yet in force.

In the year ended 31 December 2013, there were no corrections of material errors from prior years.

As concerns the activity in 2013 and 2012, it is worth noting the investments in tangible fixed assets allocated essentially toward reinforcing mobile data capacity and network quality and expanding the coverage of the 3G/3.5G and 4G networks.

6.2. Other situations relating to tangible fixed assets

In relation to tangible fixed assets, it is worth mentioning that at 31 December 2013, the Company had assets held by third parties in the net amount of 18,027,536 Euros.

7. Goodwill

Goodwill at 31 December 2013 and 2012, in the amount of 10,169,655 Euros, was determined in 2007 following the acquisition of investee PT Wi-Fi, a company that in 2008 was merged into Meo, S.A., as noted in Note 1.

8. Intangible assets (Continued)

At 31 December 2013, the net book value of “Industrial property and other rights” included essentially:

- An amount of 343 million Euros relating to the 3G and 4G licenses acquired in 2000 and 2011, respectively, corresponding to a gross amount of 500 million Euros net of accrued amortisation of 157 million Euros. The gross amount includes essentially:
 - (i) 133 million Euros relating to the UMTS license acquired in 2000;
 - (ii) 242 million Euros recorded in 2007, pursuant to the commitments assumed in 2000 by Meo, S.A. and the other mobile operators to contribute to the information company during the term of the license, and 11.5 million Euros recorded in 2009 relating to additional commitments under the terms of the UMTS license. At the date the license was assigned it was not possible to reliably determine how these commitments would be fulfilled, such that the Company did not record any asset or liability at that date;
 - (iii) 106 million Euros relating to the 4G license acquired in 2011.
- An amount of 25 million Euros relating to expenses incurred under post-paid mobile services customer loyalty contracts, which are to be amortised over the duration of the respective loyalty programme contracts (2 years); and
- An amount of 3.8 million Euros relating to software usage licenses.

During the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012, the carrying amount of intangible assets included amounts in respect of personnel expenses of 4,499,166 Euros and 3,933,263 Euros, respectively, relating to own work capitalized.

In 2013 and 2012, the Company undertook research, development and innovation activities under which other operation expenses and fixed assets in the following amounts respectively were recognised:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Tangible fixed assets	22,525,056	39,471,223

10. Related parties

10.1. Shareholders and Group companies

At 31 December 2013 and 2012, the detail for “Shareholders and Group companies” under current assets and liabilities consisted of the following:

	2013	2012
	Euro
DEBIT BALANCES

(a) In 2013, the line item reflected the amount receivable from PT SGPS corresponding to the difference between the advance payments and withholding effected in 2013 and the estimated IRC for 2013. In 2012, the estimated IRC exceeded advance payments and withholding, such that the company owed IRC to PT SGPS, the parent company for RETGS tax consolidation purposes.

10.2. Financial investments in subsidiary companies

As mentioned in Note 1, the Company is wholly owned by PT Comunicações, which in turn is wholly owned by PT Portugal, which in turn is held by Portugal Telecom. Consequently, all the companies that form part of the PT Group were deemed related parties of Meo, S.A., including not just its own subsidiaries, but also Portugal Telecom’s other subsidiary companies.

13. Income taxes

13.1. Framework

As of 1 January 2013, pursuant to a change in tax law in December of 2012, companies generally became subject to income tax under the Imposto sobre o Rendimento das Pessoas Coletivas (IRC) at the rate of 25%, plus (i) a municipal tax of up to 1.5% of the IRC tax base and (ii) a state tax of 3%, applicable to the tax base between 1.5 and 7.5 million Euros, and 5%, applicable to the tax base in excess of 7.5 million Euros (this limit was 10 million Euros in 2012), resulting in a maximum aggregate rate of approximately 31.5% for taxable profits in excess of 7.5 million Euros.

As of 2014, companies located in Continental Portugal will be taxed under the IRC at a base rate of 23%, plus (i) a Municipal Tax of up to 1.5% on the tax base, and (ii) a State Tax of 3.0% applicable to taxable profits between 1.5 and 7.5 million Euros, 5.0% applicable to taxable profits between 7.5 and 35 million Euros, and 7.0% applicable to taxable profits in excess of 35 million Euros, resulting in a maximum aggregate rate of approximately 31.5% for taxable profits in excess of 35 million Euros.

The Company's tax profit in 2013 and 2012 exceeded the 7.5 and 10 million Euro limits mentioned above, such that the Company applied a tax rate of 31.5% to calculate the income tax estimates, having corrected the effect of the tax rates applicable to taxable profit up to the above-referenced limits.

In calculating the taxable income to which the above-referenced tax rate is applied, excluded tax expenses and revenues are added to or deducted from accounting income.

The Company participates in the Regime Especial de Tributação dos Grupos de Sociedades ("RETGS") tax consolidation, where the parent company is PT SGPS, such that estimated income taxes and withholding effected by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as PT SGPS accounts payable and receivable.

In accordance with applicable law, tax returns are subject to review and correction by the tax authorities for four years (five years for Social Security) except when there have been tax losses, when tax benefits have been conceded, or there are ongoing audits, complaints or challenges, in which cases, depending on the circumstances, the periods are extended or suspended. The Company's Board of Directors, as supported by information from its tax advisors, believes that any tax contingencies should not significantly affect the financial statements as of and for 31 December 2013, considering the provisions constituted and the existing expectations at the date hereof with respect to the resolution of the tax contingencies described in Note 19.

13.2. Deferred taxes

In measuring the expense relating to income taxes for the year, in addition to the current tax as determined based on income before taxes as adjusted in accordance with tax law, the effects resulting from temporary differences between income before taxes and taxable profits, originating in the year or in years prior, are also taken into account.

13.4. Other Information

In accordance with Law 40/2005, of 3 August, which approved the SIFIDE—Sistema de Incentivos Fiscais em Investigação e Desenvolvimento Empresarial, the Company applied in 2013 for business research and development tax incentives relating to 2012 in the amount of 572,669 Euros.

Under Law 10/2009 of 10 March, which approved the RFAI—Regime Fiscal de Apoio ao Investimento, the Company's periodic income tax return for 2012 included a deduction in the amount of 2,344,049 Euros, based on significant investments in new generation broadband networks.

During the 2013 financial year, Law 49/2013, of 16 July 2013, established a Crédito Fiscal Extraordinário ao Investimento, which is a deduction from IRC collection in the amount of 20% of investment expenses relating to operating assets carried out after 1 June 2013. In companies participating in RETGS tax consolidation, the deduction will be effected based on the tax base of the Group and the limitations provided in the law, and amounts that cannot be deducted can be utilised in the five subsequent tax periods, under the same conditions. The Company is evaluating whether it will use this benefit or not, as

(a) This line item refers to the use of accrued impairment losses to face of credits of doubtful collection that were deemed uncollectible and that were fully adjusted.

The Company is exposed to credit risk due to the possibility a counterparty might not fulfil its contractual obligations, resulting in financial loss. Credit risk relates essentially to accounts receivable for services rendered to clients and is monitored regularly with the following objectives: (a) limiting the credit extended to clients, considering the respective profile and the age of the accounts receivable; (b) monitoring trends in the level of credit extended; (c) regularly testing for impairment of amounts receivable; and (d) analyzing market risk where the client is located. The Company is not exposed to any significant credit risk relating to any particular client, as its accounts receivable derive from a large number of clients.

At 31 December 2013 and 2012, the age of client accounts receivable, net of impairment losses, was as follows:

(a) These items correspond to the present value of the amounts owed in the context of the acquisition of the 4G license, completed in December 2011. The payment plan established for the amounts owed at 31 December 2013 provides for payment in 4 annual instalments of 6 million Euros each, the last is payable in January 2017, for an aggregate of 24 million Euros, where the present value at 31 December 2013 amounts to 20,840,169 Euros.

18. Shareholders' equity

18.1. Share capital

As of 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company's share capital was fully subscribed and paid-in, amounting to 47,000,000 Euros, and was represented by 9,400,000 book-entry shares, with a nominal value of 5 Euros each. The Company's share capital is wholly held by PT Comunicações (Note 1).

18.2. Legal reserve

Commercial law and the Company's bylaws establish that at least 5% of annual net income must be allocated to reinforce the legal reserve until it represents 20% of the share capital. This reserve cannot be distributed other than in the event of the liquidation of the company, but can be utilised to absorb losses, after exhausting all other reserves, or for incorporation in the capital.

As of 31 December 2013 and 2012, the legal reserve was fully constituted in accordance with applicable commercial law, amounting to 9,400,000 Euros.

(a) This line item basically reflects the Company's interest in changes in shareholders' equity in PT Móveis other than those arising from the interest in the net (loss)/income of this investee. In 2013 and 2012, this line item reflected essentially negative adjustments for exchange rate conversion, due to the depreciation of the Brazilian Real against the Euro in the investment held indirectly in the Oi Group, which was acquired on 28 March 2011 by Bratel Brasil, as noted in Note 1.

(b) In 2012, the other changes in shareholders' equity due to application of the equity method relate essentially to a gain recorded by Bratel Brasil, in the amount of 49 million Euros, relating to the Oi Group's corporate reorganisation in March 2012.

The variations relating to application of the equity method were recorded by counter-entry for the appreciated financial investments in accordance with the equity method as follows:

18.4. Allocation of earnings

In 2012, as resolved at the General Shareholders' Meeting held on 28 March 2012, the net earnings for 2011, in the total amount of 285,819,986.56 Euros, were allocated as follows: (1) 235,479,275.19 Euros for dividend distribution, and (2) 50,340,711.37 Euros for retained earnings.

In 2013, as resolved at the General Shareholders' Meeting held on 27 March 2013, the entire net earnings for 2012, in the total amount of 251,574,188.89 Euros, were transferred to "Retained earnings."

The provisions for negative financial investments are allocated to deal with losses in investee companies that have negative shareholders' equity (Note 10), and are calculated as a function of the percentage of interest in the capital of these companies. The movements in these provisions during the years ended 31 December 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Losses in subsidiaries and associated companies (Note 24)	2,447	825
Adjustments to financial assets (Note 18)	(674)	181

19.2. Proceedings with probable losses

The provisions for taxes are allocated to handle various tax contingencies relating to IRC and Social Security, among other taxes and charges.

The provisions for ongoing judicial proceedings are allocated to handle liabilities arising from proceedings brought against the Company, estimated based on information from its lawyers.

At 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company, in accordance with NCRF 21 Provisões, Passivos Contingentes e Ativos Contingentes ("NCRF 21") and based on the opinion of internal and external legal counsel, had classified a variety of ongoing judicial and arbitral actions and tax contingencies as

19.3. Proceedings with possible losses

At 31 December 2013 and 2012, the Company, in accordance with NCRF 21 and based on the opinion of internal and external legal counsel, had classified a variety of ongoing judicial and arbitral actions and tax contingencies as proceedings with possible losses. The nature of these proceedings is as follows:

	2013	2012
	Euro
Legal proceedings
Civil contingencies ^(a)	780,759	8,203,539
Labor contingencies	1,683	—
Other contingencies	2,180,597	3,869,544
	2,963,039	12,073,083

(a) At 31 December 2012, this line item included a Noxitel proceeding in the amount of 6,000,000 Euros, regarding breach of contract, which ended in 2013 without any penalty for the Company.

The Board of Directors believes that any corrections resulting from audits/inspections of tax returns by the tax authorities will not have a significant effect on the financial statements as of and for 31 December 2013, considering the provisions constituted and the expectations at the date hereof with respect to the final resolution of the above-referenced matters.

19.4. Other proceedings

The Company received additional IRC assessments relating to the financial years from 2004 to 2010, and the tax audit report relating to 2010, which essentially question the deductibility of certain financial costs, in the total amount of 204 million Euros of taxes. The Company disagrees with these assessments and conclusions, and considers, based on the opinion of its tax counsel, that there are solid arguments to oppose the position of the tax authorities.

19.5. Contingent assets

The value of contingent assets at 31 December 2013 amounted to approximately 4.6 million Euros, referring essentially to proceedings brought by the company against third parties, relating to situations of breach of 2G equipment sales contracts, service provision and lack of payment for Wi-Fi service.

20.1. Intragroup loans

In June 2010, the Company obtained advances from PT Portugal, its previous shareholder, in the amount of 500,000,000 Euros, which did not have an established maturity. On 30 November 2010, these advances were assigned by PT Portugal to PT Comunicações at their respective nominal amount, in the context of the sale by the former to the latter of the financial interest in Meo, S.A. On 2 December 2011, the Company repaid the amount of 160,000,000 Euros relating to these advances and on 1 March 2013 it repaid the remaining 340,000,000 Euros (Note 4).

20.2. Centralised cash management

As of March 2006, Portugal Telecom began to centralise all receipts and payments of the Group companies headquartered in Portugal. The loans obtained by the Company pursuant to this centralized cash management system have short-term maturities and bear interest at market rates.

20.3. Commercial paper programme

On 25 June 1999, Portugal Telecom established a Framework Agreement for the Issuance of Commercial Paper, in which the Company participates, which was amended several times and had, at 31 December 2013, a maximum amount of 3,500,000,000 Euros. The agreement is in effect until 7 July 2015, and is automatically renewable for successive 2-year periods, until 7 July 2025, except if terminated by any of the parties.

On 1 June 2000, Portugal Telecom established a Framework Agreement for the Issuance of Commercial Paper, in which the Company participates, which was amended several times and had, at 31 December 2013, a maximum amount of 3,000,000,000 Euros. The contract is in effect until 1 June 2014, and is automatically renewable for successive 2-year periods, until 1 June 2020, except if terminated by any of the parties.

At 31 December 2012, the Company was not using any amount under these programmes. During 2013, the Company used an amount of 250,000,000 Euros (Note 4), which was outstanding at the end of the year.

20.4. Leases

Financial lease obligations result essentially from: (i) vehicle leases, which generally include purchase options; and (ii) rights to use transmission capacity over fibre optic circuits.

AUDITORS' REPORT

Introduction

1. We have audited the accompanying financial statements of TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A. (“the Company”), presently denominated MEO—Serviços de Comunicações e Multimédia, S.A., which comprise the balance sheet as of 31 December 2012 that presents a total of 6,777,665,631 Euros and shareholders’ equity of 5,802,214,129 Euros, including a net income of 251,574,189 Euros, the statements of income by nature, of changes in shareholders’ equity and of cash flows for the year then ended and the corresponding notes.

Responsibilities

2. The preparation of financial statements that present a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company, the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders’ equity and its cash flows, as well as the adoption of adequate accounting principles and criteria and the maintenance of an appropriate system of internal control are the responsibility of the Company’s Board of Directors. Our responsibility is to express a professional and independent opinion on these financial statements, based on our audit.

Scope

3. Our audit was performed in accordance with the auditing standards (“Normas Técnicas e as Diretrizes de Revisão/Auditoria”) issued by the Portuguese Institute of Statutory Auditors (“Ordem dos Revisores Oficiais de Contas”), which require that the audit be planned and performed with the objective of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes verifying, on a sample basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and assessing the significant estimates, based on judgements and criteria defined by the Board of Directors, used in their preparation. An audit also includes assessing the adequacy of the accounting principles used and their disclosure, taking into consideration the circumstances, verifying the applicability of the going concern concept and assessing the adequacy of the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for expressing our opinion.

Opinion

4. In our opinion, the financial statements referred to in paragraph 1 above, present fairly, for the purpose explained in paragraph 5 below, in all material respects, the financial position of TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A. as of 31 December 2012 and the results of its operations, the changes in its shareholders’ equity and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in Portugal.

Emphases

5. The financial statements mentioned in paragraph 1 above refer to the Company on a standalone basis and were prepared in accordance with current legislation for approval and publication. The Company did not prepared consolidated financial statements as, in accordance with number 3 of article 7 of Decree-Law 158/2009, of 13 July 2009 was not required to do so, as its financial statements were included in the consolidated financial statements of Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A.. As described in Note 3.6, although the financial investments have been accounted for by the equity method, under which the Company’s net profit for the year and shareholders’ equity include the effect of consolidating the subsidiaries, the accompanying financial statements do not include the effects of a full consolidation of their assets, liabilities, revenues and costs.
6. As of 31 December 2012, the Company’s financial investments included the wholly-owned subsidiary PT Móveis, S.A. (“PT Móveis”), which owned 100% interest in Bratel BV, a holding company that essentially owned the investment in Oi, S.A. and its controlling shareholders in the total amount of 2,979 million Euros. In connection with the business combination between Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS”) and Oi, as of 2 May 2014 this investment was sold to PT SGPS and PT Móveis incurred in a net loss of approximately 950 million Euros, of which 1,000 million Euros did not have an impact in the PT Móveis shareholders’ equity as it corresponds to a transfer to net income of the cumulative amount of negative foreign currency translations adjustments that were recorded directly in shareholders' equity between March 2011 (Oi's acquisition date) and 2 May 2014 (of which 350 million Euros recorded at 31 December 2012), while the remaining 50 million Euros corresponds to a capital gain reflecting the difference between the selling price and the carrying value of the investment in the books of PT Móveis.

TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A.
Notes to the financial statements
As of 31 December 2012
(Amounts expressed in euros)

1. Introductory note

TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A. (“the Company” or “TMN”) was founded on 22 March 1991, its main activity being the rendering mobile communication services. It is licenced by Instituto das Comunicações de Portugal (“ICP”), currently ICP—Autoridade Nacional de Comunicações (“ANACOM”) to render complementary telecommunications services—mobile land services—on national territory, under the terms of the ICP—011/TCM license of 16 March 1992. In accordance with a decision of the Board of Directors of ANACOM of 28 February 2007 the right to use these frequencies was renewed for an additional period of 15 years, up to 16 March 2022. At the end of 2000, TMN was licensed by ANACOM to exploit international mobile communication services under the terms of the IMT 2000/UMTS license of 19 December 2000 under number ICP—02 / UMTS up to 11 January 2016, with the possibility of being renewed for an additional period of 15 years.

In December 2011, TMN was notified by ANACOM, under a spectrum auction carried out between 28 and 30 November that it had acquired a spectrum in the 800 MHz, 1.8 GHz and 2.6 GHz frequency bands for 113 million euros. This enables TMN to render fourth generation mobile services, through Long Term Evolution (“LTE”) technology, which corresponds to evolution of the GSM and UMTS technologies. TMN was licenced to use these frequencies for an initial period of 15 years, renewable for an additional period of 15 years.

In addition the Company can render other telecommunication services in Portugal, including:

- a) TMN is registered to exercise public telecommunication services;
- b) TMN is licensed by ANACOM to render land line telephone services under the terms of ICP—010/99/99-SFT license and to establish and supply a public telecommunications network under the terms of ICP—017/99-RPT license, both for the whole national territory, dated 25 November 1999;
- c) TMN is authorized to render private virtual network services, the access code “70596” having been attributed to it.

In February 2008, Law 12/2008—rendering of Essential Public Services was published, in accordance with which the Company was given a period of 6 months to bring legal action against clients for non-payment, after which, if nothing is done, the liability lapses. In accordance with the law all electronic communication services (and not only land line telephone services) became subject to the new rules.

In 2008, under the Portugal Telecom Group reorganization process, TMN acquired from Portugal Telecom, SGPS, S.A. (“PT SGPS” or “Portugal Telecom”), the participation it held in PT Acessos de Internet Wi-Fi, S.A (“PT Wi-Fi”) having merged it into TMN, effective as of 1 January 2008.

TMN is the sole shareholder of PT Móveis—Serviços de Telecomunicações, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Móveis”). On 27 September 2010, PT Móveis sold to Telefónica Móviles, S.A. the 50% participation that it held in Brasilcel N.V. (a joint venture that controls Vivo, that was founded at the end of 2002 between the Portugal Telecom Group—through PT Móveis—and the Telefónica Group—through Telefónica Móviles, S.A.). Subsequently, on 28 March 2011, Portugal Telecom completed the acquisition process of effective participations of 25.3% in Telemar Norte Leste, S.A. (“Oi”) and 14.1% in Contax, S.A. from the controlling shareholders of the companies for 8,437 million Brazilian Reals. This investment was made by the Portugal Telecom Group through the company Bratel Brasil, in which PT Móveis has an indirect participation of 99%. The terms of the agreements enable Portugal Telecom to share decision making power on financial and operating strategies of the companies acquired and so they have been classified as jointly controlled entities in accordance with IAS 31—Joint Ventures. Consequently, as permitted by the standard, the entities acquired were consolidated proportionately in the consolidated financial statements of Portugal Telecom for 2012, the participations being recognized indirectly in the individual non-consolidated financial statements in accordance with the equity method in the same way as investments in subsidiaries. The Oi Group is the leading operator in telecommunication services in the Brazilian market and the largest land line telecommunication service operator in the South American market in terms of active clients and Contax is one of the leading companies in corporate services and is the leading company in contact service centers in Brazil.

On 30 November 2010 PT Portugal, SGPS, S.A. (“PT Portugal”) sold to PT Comunicações, S.A. (“PT Comunicações”) the entire participation it held in TMN, and so the Company became wholly owned by PT Comunicações.

Under the terms of article 7 of Decree-Law 158/2009, despite having investments in group and associated companies, the Company is exempt from preparing consolidated financial statements since it is directly or indirectly wholly owned by Portugal Telecom, SGPS S.A. (“Portugal Telecom”), which in turn presents consolidated financial statements which include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries.

2. Basis of presentation

The accompanying financial statements were prepared in accordance with the applicable provisions of Portuguese law, as set forth in Decree-Law 158/2009, which approved the Accounting System (Sistema de Normalização Contabilística—“SNC”), and in accordance with the conceptual framework, Accounting and Financial Statement Standards (Normas Contabilísticas e de Relato Financeiro—“NCRF”) and Interpretation Standards (Normas Interpretativas) issued in notices 15652/2009, 15655/2009 and 15653/2009, respectively. The Company first adopted NCRF in 2010, applying NCRF 3—Adoção Pela Primeira Vez Das NCRF (“NCRF 3”) is using 1 January 2009 as the transition date for the purpose of presenting these financial statements. As provided for in the Attachment to Decree-Law 158/2009, the Company also applies the International Accounting Standards and International Financial Reporting Standards (“IAS/IFRS”) and respective interpretations (“SIC/IFRIC”) of the IASB, to cover the gaps or omissions relating to specific matters of some transactions or particular situations not provided for by the SNC.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates

The accompanying financial statements were prepared on a going concern basis. The main accounting policies adopted in preparing these financial statements are explained below and were applied on a consistent basis, unless otherwise indicated.

3.1. Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are recorded at the cost of acquisition or production, which includes purchase cost, any costs directly attributable to putting the assets in place in the condition needed to operate as intended and, when applicable, the initial estimated cost the Company expects to incur to dismantle and remove the assets and restore to their original condition the locations in which they were installed.

Subsequent costs are added to the book value for the asset only when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the Company and the cost can be reliably measured. Maintenance and repair costs not likely to generate future economic benefits are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

TMN—Telecomunicações Móveis Nacionais, S.A.
As of 31 December 2012
(Amounts expressed in euros)

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Except for land that is not depreciated, depreciation of the other tangible fixed assets is recognized on a straight-line monthly basis, as from the time the asset is ready for use. The annual rates applied reflect the estimated useful life for each asset class, as follows:

Class of asset	Years of useful life
Buildings and other constructions	3-50
Machinery and equipment	3-20
Transport equipment	4-5
Administrative equipment	3-10
Other tangible fixed assets	4-8

The useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed regularly, the effect of any change in these estimates being recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Gains or losses resulting from a write-off or sale are determined as the difference between the amount received and the book value of the asset, and are recognized in the income statement.

3.2. Leases

Leases are classified as finance leases if they transfer to the lessee substantially all the risks and rewards inherent to possessing the corresponding assets. All other leases are classified as operating leases. Leases are classified based on their substance and not their form.

Assets acquired under finance lease contracts, as well as the corresponding liabilities, are recorded at the beginning of the lease at the lesser of the fair value of the assets and the present value of the minimum lease payments. The lease payments include financial expense and amortization of the capital, financial expenses being imputed in accordance with a constant periodic interest rate on the remaining balance of the liability.

In leases considered as operating leases, the lease payments are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease period.

3.3. Concentration of business activities and goodwill

Acquisitions of investments in subsidiary companies are recorded using the purchase method. Acquisition cost is determined as the aggregate, at the acquisition date, of the following components: (a) the fair value of the assets received or receivable; (b) the fair value of the liabilities incurred or assumed; (c) the fair value of equity instruments issued by the Company in exchange for obtaining control over the subsidiary; and (d) the costs directly attributable to the acquisition. When applicable, acquisition cost includes the effect of contingent payments agreed for the transaction, and subsequent changes in such payments are recorded by corresponding entry to the corresponding goodwill.

Goodwill corresponds to the excess of acquisition cost over the fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquired company, at the acquisition date, in accordance with NCRF 14 Concentrações de Atividades Empresariais—"NCRF 14" (Concentration of business activities). If the difference between cost and the fair value of the assets and liabilities acquired is negative, it is recognized as income for the year. Considering the exception provided for in NCRF 3, the Company applied the provisions of NCRF 14 only to acquisitions after 1 January 2009, so that the amounts of goodwill relating to acquisitions prior to that date were retained as initially calculated in accordance with the standard applicable at the time.

Goodwill resulting from the acquisition of subsidiary companies is included on the balance sheet caption "Goodwill."

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Goodwill is not amortized, being subject to impairment tests on an annual basis or whenever there are indications of a possible loss in value. For purposes of testing impairment, goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units. Any impairment loss is immediately recorded as an expense in the income statement for the period and cannot later be reversed.

3.4. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include, basically (1) rights and licenses, (2) commercial lease rights, (3) terminal equipment assigned to clients under service contracts, and (4) the cost of development activities. Intangible assets acquired separately are recorded at cost, less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis in accordance with the following estimated useful lives:

Class of asset	Useful life
UMTS (3G) license	Period of the license with a renewal period (up to 2030)
LTE (4G) license	Period of the license with a renewal period (up to 2042))
Rights over terminal equipment assigned to clients	Contract period (2 Years)
Other intangible assets	3 years

The useful lives and method of amortizing the various intangible assets are reviewed annually, and the effect of any changes in these estimates being recognized prospectively in the income statement.

Research expenses are recognized in the income statement when incurred. Development expenses are capitalized when the technical and economic feasibility of the product or process being developed can be shown and the Company has the intention and capability to complete its development and begin marketing or using it, as provided for in NCRF 6 Activos Intangíveis (Intangible assets).

3.5. Impairment of tangible fixed assets and intangible assets

The Company makes impairment tests of its tangible and intangible assets whenever there is an event or change that indicates that the amount at which the asset is recorded may not be recovered. Where there are such indications, the Company determines the recoverable amount of the asset, so as to determine the extent of the impairment loss. When it is not possible to determine the recoverable amount of an asset, the recoverable amount for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs is estimated.

In addition, in the specific case of terminal equipment assigned to clients under loyalty contracts, impairment is tested periodically, and the assets are fully written off in cases where the revenue associated with the client giving rise to the intangible asset is not assured.

The recoverable amount is determined as the greater of the sales price and value in use. The sales price is the amount that would be obtained by selling the asset in a transaction between independent knowledgeable entities, fewer costs directly attributable to the sale. Value in use results from future cash flows discounted to reflect the cost of capital and the specific risk of the asset.

Whenever the book value of the asset or of the cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized and recorded in the income statement.

3.6. Financial investments

Subsidiary companies are all the entities over which the Company has decision-making power over their financial and operating policies, generally represented by more than half of the voting rights. Associated companies are entities over which the Company exercises significant influence, but do not have control, generally with participations of between 20% and 50% of the voting rights.

Investments in the Company's subsidiaries are recorded using the equity method of accounting.

In accordance with this method, investments are initially recorded at cost and subsequently adjusted based on post-acquisition changes in the Company's interest in the net assets of the corresponding entities. The Company's results include its interest in the corresponding results of these entities.

Investments are tested whenever there are indications that the asset may be impaired, the impairment losses are recorded as expenses in the income statement.

Gains obtained in transactions with subsidiaries are eliminated in proportion to the Company's interest in them, with a corresponding entry to the investment caption.

3.7. Accruals basis

The Company records its income and expenses on an accruals basis, under which income and expenses are recognized as they are generated or incurred, regardless of when they are received or paid, respectively.

3.8. "Qualified Technological Equipment" operations

In prior years the Company entered into "Qualified Technological Equipment" ("QTE") operations under which it sold telecommunication equipment to certain foreign investors. At the same time the investors entered into lease contracts for the equipment with entities founded specifically for the purpose, which signed conditional sales contracts of that equipment with the Company. The Company maintains legal title to the equipment.

The operations correspond to sale and lease-back transactions, the equipment remaining recorded on the balance sheet. Therefore, the Company recorded a current and non-current asset for the sales amount of the equipment and a current and non-current liability for the amount of the lease payments not yet due in the other assets and financial liabilities captions, respectively (Note 12).

In 2012 the contracts in force were terminated early and so the corresponding assets and liabilities were derecognized on the balance sheet.

3.9. Income tax

Income tax corresponds to the sum of current and deferred tax, which are recorded in the income statement except when they relate to items recorded directly in shareholders' equity, in which case they are also recorded in shareholders' equity.

Income tax is estimated based on the estimated taxable income for Corporate Income tax purposes.

Portugal Telecom uses the tax consolidation regime under the Regime Especial de Tributação de Grupos de Sociedades ("RETGS"), in which TMN is included. Consequently, estimated Corporate Income Tax, less amounts withheld by third parties and payments in advance, are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable to Portugal Telecom.

Income tax for the year recorded in the financial statements is calculated in accordance with NCRF 25 Impostos Sobre o Rendimento (Income Tax). In measuring income tax for the year, in addition to current tax determined based on pre-tax results adjusted in accordance with tax law, the effect of temporary differences between the amounts of assets and liabilities for accounting purposes and the respective amounts for tax purposes are also taken into account. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated annually, using the tax rates that are expected to be in effect on the date of the temporary differences reverse.

Deferred tax assets are recorded only when there is reasonable expectation of the existence of sufficient future taxable profit to use them. At the balance sheet date, the temporary differences underlying the deferred tax assets are reappraised, for the purpose of recognizing unrecorded deferred tax assets due to not having fulfilled the conditions required for recording them, and/or decreasing the amount of the deferred tax assets recognized, due to the current expectation of their future recovery.

3.10. Inventories

Inventories are recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value represents estimated sale price less all the estimated costs necessary to complete the sale. The Company uses the average cost method.

Inventory impairment losses include the value of expected unused materials due to technological obsolescence and/or turnover, as well as price differences of materials, the realizable value is less than the average cost, to the extent that it exceeds the discount level considered normal in the business.

3.11. Trade and other accounts receivable

Trade and other accounts receivable are recognized initially at fair value, and are subsequently measured at cost or amortized cost, utilizing the effective interest rate method, less impairment losses.

Impairment of debts of doubtful collection is calculated based on an evaluation of the estimated risks arising from non-collection of accounts receivable, and is recognized in the income statement in the period in which it arises.

3.12. Provisions, liabilities and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized by the Company when there is a current obligation resulting from past events, provided it is probable that there will be an outlay of internal resources to settle the obligation and the amount of the outlay can be reasonably estimated. When any of these conditions is not fulfilled, the Company discloses the events as contingent liabilities, unless the possibility of an outflow of funds is remote.

Provisions are recognized at the amount corresponding to the present value of the best estimate, at the reporting date, of the resources needed to settle the liability. The estimate is determined considering the risks and uncertainties associated with the liability. Provisions are reviewed at the end of each year and adjusted so as to reflect the best estimate at that date.

Liabilities relating to costs of dismantling and removing assets installed on third party property and restoring the respective premises to their original condition are recognized when the assets start to be utilized and if it is possible to reliably estimate the respective liability. The amount of the liability recognized corresponds to the present value of the liability, adjustments being recognized in the caption "Other expenses."

3.13. Loans obtained

Loans obtained are initially recognized at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred, and are subsequently adjusted to amortized cost, using the effective interest method.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

3.14. Financial expenses on loans obtained

The Company has the policy of capitalizing financial charges relating to loans obtained for the acquisition, construction or production of tangible assets. However, the Company has recognized financial charges as expenses when incurred, given that the construction period for the tangible and intangible assets has been relatively short.

3.15. Balance sheet classification

Assets realizable and liabilities payable in more than one year from the balance sheet date are classified, respectively, as non-current assets and liabilities, at their present value.

3.16. Foreign currency balances and transactions

Foreign currency transactions (those not in the Company's functional currency) are recorded at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Assets and liabilities expressed in foreign currency for which there is no agreement for fixing the exchange rate are translated to Euros using the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Favorable and unfavorable exchange rate differences, resulting from differences between the exchange rates in effect at the date of the transactions and those in effect at the date of the collections or payments or at the balance sheet date, are recorded as income and expenses in the income statement.

At 31 December 2012 and 2011 assets and liabilities were translated to Euros at the following exchange rates in relation to Euro, as published by Bank of Portugal:

Currency	2012	2011
	Euros
Swedish Crown	8.5820	8.9120
Special Drawing Right	1.1658	1.1865
US Dollar	1.3194	1.2939
Swiss Franc	1.2072	1.2156
Pound Sterling	0.8161	0.8353

3.17. Revenue

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Income to be recognized is net of the estimated amount of returns, discounts and other rebates, and does not include Value Added Tax ("VAT") and other taxes paid in connection with the sale.

Revenue from services rendered is recognized by reference to the degree of completion of the transaction at the reporting date, provided that all the following conditions are satisfied: (1) the amount of income can be reliably measured; (2) it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; (3) the expenses incurred or to be incurred in the transaction can be reliably measured; and (4) the degree of completion of the transaction at the reporting date can be reasonably estimated.

Revenue from telecommunications activities is recorded at gross value, and unbilled amounts due or generated at the date of the financial statements, are recorded based on estimates and included in the caption "Unbilled income." Differences between the estimated and actual amounts are recorded in the subsequent period.

Revenue relating to advances from clients is deferred, and recognized only when the service is provided.

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Revenue from international telecommunications services is calculated based on the termination rates established in bilateral agreements with the various telecommunications operators. The agreements also establish whether it is the operator of origin of the traffic that should present the credit to the operator of the destination country, or whether the latter must present the debit to the former.

The Company operates loyalty programs for some of its customers, under which, based on consumption, clients have the right to loyalty points that can be exchanged for equipment, accessories and discounts on subsequent purchases of services. In the absence of specific SNC standards or interpretations relating to this topic, the Company applies IFRIC 13 Customer Loyalty Programs (“IFRIC 13”), in accordance with which it records these operations as transactions containing multiple elements, such that the amount initially received is allocated between the income relating to the traffic consumed and the points that the customer obtained. Accordingly, the deferred revenue relating to the latter component is recognized when the points are used or expire.

Interest revenue is recognized based on the effective interest method.

3.18. Own work capitalized

Internal expenses incurred by the Company in developing fixed assets, essentially relating to labor, are capitalized with a corresponding entry to the caption “Own work capitalized,” provided the following requirements are fulfilled: (a) the fixed assets developed are identifiable; (b) there is a strong probability that the fixed assets will generate future economic benefits; and (c) the development expenses can be reliably measured.

3.19. Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets and liabilities are recognized on the balance sheet when the Company becomes party to the corresponding contractual provisions, and are classified as cost or amortized cost.

(a) Financial assets and liabilities at cost or amortized cost

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in the “at cost or amortized cost” category when they present the following characteristics: (a) they are on demand or have established maturities; (b) they have an associated fixed or determinable return; and (c) they are not a derivative financial instrument and do not incorporate a derivative financial instrument.

Financial assets and liabilities considered in this category are measured at cost or amortized cost, less accumulated impairment losses (in the case of financial assets), and correspond essentially to the following asset and liability captions included on the Company’s balance sheet:

- Loans obtained
- Shareholders and Group companies
- Trade receivables
- Trade payables and investment suppliers
- Accrued income and expenses
- Advances to suppliers and from clients
- State and other public entities
- Other receivables and payables
- Other financial assets and liabilities
- Cash and bank deposits

3. Main accounting policies, judgments and estimates (Continued)

Amortized cost is determined using the effective interest method. The effective interest rate is that which exactly discounts the estimated future payments or receipts during the expected life of the financial instrument to the net book value of the financial asset or liability.

(b) Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets classified in the “at cost or amortized cost” category are subject to impairment tests at the end of each year. The financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events occurring after initial recognition, their estimated future cash flows will be affected.

For financial assets measured at amortized cost, impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the book value of the asset and the present value of the new estimated future cash flows discounted at the respective original effective interest rate. For financial assets measured at cost, impairment loss corresponds to the difference between the book value of the asset and the best estimate of the fair value of the asset.

If the impairment loss decreases subsequently as a result of an event occurring after initial recognition of the loss, the impairment must be reversed to results. The reversal is carried out only up to the limit of the amount that would be recognized (amortized cost) had the loss not been initially recorded.

Impairment losses and the respective reversals are recorded in the income statement essentially under the caption “Impairment of accounts receivable ((losses)/reversals).

(c) Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

The Company derecognizes financial assets only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the assets expire, or when the financial assets and all the significant risks and benefits associated with their ownership are transferred to another entity. Financial assets transferred for which the Company has retained some significant risks and benefits are derecognized, provided that control over them has been ceded.

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities only when the corresponding obligation is settled, cancelled or expires.

3.20. Main accounting estimates and judgments

In preparing the financial statements in accordance with the NCRF, the Company’s Board of Directors uses estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the amounts reported. The estimates and judgments are continuously evaluated and are based on the experience of past events and other factors, including expectations relating to future events deemed probable in light of the circumstances on which the estimates are based or as the result of information or experience acquired. The most significant accounting estimates reflected in the financial statements are the following:

(a) Useful life of tangible and intangible fixed assets

The Company uses estimates to calculate the useful lives of tangible and intangible fixed assets.

(b) Recognition of provisions and impairment losses

The Company is party to several ongoing legal proceedings for which, based on the opinion of its lawyers, it used its judgment to determine if it should recognize any provision in respect of the contingencies. Impairment of accounts receivable is calculated essentially based on the age of the accounts receivable, the risk profile of the clients and their financial situation.

The estimates were determined based on the best information available at the date the financial statements were prepared. However, there may be events in subsequent periods that, not being foreseeable at the time, were not considered in these estimates. In accordance with NCRF 4 Políticas

Contabilísticas, Alterações nas Estimativas Contabilísticas e Erros—“NCRF 4” (Accounting policies, Changes in accounting estimates and Errors), changes to the estimates that occur after the date of the financial statements are corrected prospectively in the income statement. Therefore, given the associated degree of uncertainty, actual results for the transactions in question may differ from the corresponding estimates.

3.21. Post balance sheet date occurrences

Events occurring after the balance sheet date that provide additional information about conditions that existed at the balance sheet date are reflected in the financial statements. Events that occur after the balance sheet date that provide information on conditions that occur after the balance sheet date are not reflected in the financial statements, and are only disclosed if deemed material.

4. Cash flow

For the purposes of the statement of cash flow, “Cash and cash equivalents” includes cash, bank deposits repayable on demand and other very liquid short-term investments with initial maturities of up to three months, net of bank overdrafts, when applicable.

The Company is subject to liquidity risk if the sources of financing, such as cash, operating cash flows and cash flows from divestment transactions and financing, do not meet the existing needs, such as operating cash outflows, investments, shareholder returns and the payment of principal and interest on debt. Based on the cash flows generated by its operations, available cash and the possibility of obtaining financing from Portugal Telecom under the centralized cash management system implemented in the Group, the Company believes it has the capacity to comply with its obligations.

The statement of cash flows was prepared in accordance with NCRF 2 Demonstração de Fluxos de Caixa (Statement of Cash Flow), with the following notable aspects:

(a) Other payments, net

This caption includes essentially Value Added Tax and spectrum fees paid to the regulator ICP—Anacom.

(b) Dividend income

In the years ended 31 December 2012 this caption corresponds to dividends received from the subsidiary PT Móveis, in the amount 5,000,000 Euros (Note 9).

(c) Receipts (payments) relating to loans obtained

In 2012 and 2011, payments relating to loans obtained, net of cash receipts relating to loans obtained, is made up as follows:

The changes in 2012 include investment in tangible fixed assets to be used essentially to increase the capacity of mobile data and quality of the network and expansion of the coverage of the 3G/3,5G and 4G networks;

The changes in 2011 include investments in tangible fixed assets to be used essentially to expand the capacity coverage of the 3G/3,5G network. The sale of basic equipment in 2011 in the net book value of 2.8 million euros, corresponds essentially to sale of the 2G network equipment, which was substituted throughout the year by equipment to render fourth generation services (4G).

6.2. Other matters relating to tangible fixed assets

In prior years, TMN carried out operations with property reserve with foreign investors for the sale of certain telecommunications equipment of its basic network. At the same time the investors signed lease contracts for the equipment with entities founded specifically for the purpose, which in turn signed conditional sales contracts for the equipment with TMN, for the amount of the initial sale. In 2012 the contracts in force were terminated early without significant cost to the Company.

At 31 December 2012 the Company had tangible fixed assets with a net book value of 19,797,082 euros in the hands of third parties.

7. Goodwill

Goodwill at 31 December 2012 and 2011, in the amount of 10,169,655 Euros, was determined in 2007 following the acquisition of the subsidiary PT Wi-Fi, a company that in 2008 was merged into Meo, S.A., as mentioned in Note 1.

The acquisitions of intangible assets in the year ended 31 December 2012 relate fundamentally to expenses incurred under loyalty program contracts entered into with clients.

The acquisitions of intangible assets in the year ended 31 December 2011 correspond essentially to (1) the acquisition of rights to use 4G network frequencies (LTE) under which an intangible asset of 106.1 million euros, corresponding to the present value of 113 million euros payable to Anacom, was recorded (Notes 1 and 17) and (2) the present value of terminal equipment ceded to clients under service contracts with them.

8. Intangible assets (Continued)

At 31 December 2012 the net book value of the caption “Industrial property and other rights” included essentially:

- The amount of 360 million euros relating to the 3G and 4G licenses acquired in 2000 and 2011, respectively, corresponding to a gross amount of 500 million euros net of accumulated amortization of 140 million euros. The gross amount includes essentially:
 - (i) 133 million euros relating to the UMTS license acquired in 2000;
 - (ii) 242 million euros recorded in 2007, under commitments assumed in 2000 by TMN and the other mobile operators to make contributions to the information society during the term of the license, and 11.5 million Euros recorded in 2009 relating to additional commitments under the terms of the UMTS license. At the date the license was granted it was not possible to reliably determine how these commitments would be realized, and so the Company did not record any asset or liability at that date;
 - (iii) 106 million euros relating to the 4G license acquired in 2011.
- The amount of 29 million Euros relating to the cost incurred under post-paid mobile service customer loyalty contracts, which are amortized over the duration of the respective loyalty program contracts (2 years); and
- The amount of 3 million euros relating to software utilization licenses.

During the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011, the book value of intangible assets included 3,933,263 euros 2,909,014 euros, respectively, for personnel expenses relating to own work capitalized.

In 2012 and 2011 the Company carried out research, development and innovation activities for which other operation expenses and fixed assets in the following amounts were recognized:

	2012	2011
	Euros
Tangible fixed assets	39,471,223	39,408,128

(a) As explained in Note 3.8, in prior years the Company entered into QTE operations under which it recognized accounts receivable and payable of the same amount, corresponding to the amount of the sale of equipment and the amount of income not yet due under the lease contracts for the equipment, respectively. In 2012 the contracts signed for these operations were terminated early without significant costs for the Company.

(b) At 31 December 2012 and 2011 this caption reflected essentially obligations to dismantle and remove assets installed on third party property and to restore the respective locations to their original condition (Note 3.12), in the amounts of 32,705,960 euros and 32,388,113 euros, respectively.

13. Income tax

13.1. Framework

In 2011 the Company was subject to Corporate Income Tax at the rate of 25%, plus a municipal tax of up to 1.5% on taxable income and a state surcharge of 2.5% on taxable income in excess of 2 million euros, totaling an aggregate maximum of 29.0%. In 2012 the Company is subject to Corporate Income Tax at the rate of 25% plus (i) a municipal tax of up to 1.5% on taxable income and (ii) a state surcharge of 3% and 5% on taxable income between 1.5 and 10 million euros and on taxable income exceeding 10 million euros, respectively, resulting in a maximum aggregate rate of 31.5%. The Company's taxable income for 2012 and 2011 exceeded the above mentioned 10 million and 2 million euro limits and so it applied the tax rates of 31.5% and 29.0% to calculate estimated income tax for 2012 and 2011, respectively, having adjusted the effect of the tax rates applicable to taxable income up to the limits referred to above.

In the calculation of taxable income, to which the tax rates referred to earlier are applicable, costs and income not acceptable for tax purposes are deducted or added to the accounting results.

13. Income tax (Continued)

The Company is included in the tax consolidation (Regime Especial de Tributação dos Grupos de Sociedades—“RETGS”) in which the parent company, PT SGPS, is dominant, and so estimated income tax and withholdings by third parties are recorded on the balance sheet as accounts payable to and receivable from PT SGPS.

In accordance with current legislation, tax returns are subject to review and correction by the tax authorities for four years (five years for Social Security) except when there have been tax losses, tax benefits have been granted, or there are ongoing inspections, complaints or challenges, in which case, depending on the circumstances, the periods are extended or suspended. The Company’s Board of Directors believes, supported by information from its tax advisors that any tax contingencies should not significantly affect the financial statements as of 31 December 2012, considering the provisions recorded and the existing expectations at this time regarding the resolution of the tax contingencies described in Note 19.

13.2. Deferred tax

In determining income tax expense for the year, in addition to current tax determined based on income before tax adjusted in accordance with tax legislation, the effect of temporary differences between income before tax and taxable income, arising in the year or in prior years, are also taken into account.

The changes in deferred tax assets during the years ended 31 December 2012 and 2011 were as follows:

(a) This caption corresponds to the utilization of accumulated impairment losses to cover doubtful receivables that were considered as uncollectible and had been fully adjusted.

The Company is exposed to credit risk due to the possibility that a counterparty might not fulfill its contractual obligations, resulting in financial loss. Credit risk relates essentially to accounts receivable for services rendered to clients and is monitored regularly with the following objectives: (a) limiting the credit extended to clients, considering their respective profiles and the age of the accounts receivable; (b) monitoring evolution of the level of credit extended; (c) regularly testing of amounts receivable for impairment; and (d) analyzing market risk where the client is located. The Company is not exposed to any significant credit risk relating to any particular client, as its accounts receivable result from a large number of clients.

The aging of accounts receivable net of impairment losses at 31 December 2012 and 2011 was as follows:

18. Shareholders' equity

18.1. Capital

At 31 December 2012 and 2011 the Company's share capital was fully paid up and amounted to 47,000,000 Euros, being represented by 9,400,000 nominal shares of 5 Euros each. The Company's share capital is fully owned by PT Comunicações (Note 1).

18.2. Legal reserve

Commercial legislation and the Company's bylaws establish that at least 5% of annual net income must be appropriated to a legal reserve until the reserve represents 20% of share capital. The reserve cannot be distributed other than in the event of the liquidation of the company, but can be used to absorb losses, after all the other reserves have been exhausted, or for incorporation into capital.

At 31 December 2012 and 2011 the legal reserve was fully constituted in accordance with applicable commercial legislation and amounted to 9,400,000 Euros.

18.3. Adjustments to financial assets

(a) This caption corresponds basically to the Company's participation in other changes in shareholders' equity of PT Móveis not resulting from participation in the net result of the subsidiary. In 2012 and 2011 this caption corresponded essentially to negative translation adjustments resulting from depreciation of the Brazilian Real in relation to the Euro in the investment held indirectly in the Oi Group, which was acquired on 28 March 2011 by Bratel Brasil, as explained in Note 1.

(b) The other changes in shareholders' equity in 2012 resulting from application of the equity method relate essentially to gain recorded by Bratel Brasil, in the amount of 49 million euros, resulting from the Oi Group's corporate reorganization in March 2012.

The changes relating to application of the equity method were recorded by corresponding entry to investments recorded in accordance with the equity method as follows:

19.2. Processes with probable loss

The provision for taxes is to cover several Corporate Income Tax and Social Security contingencies, as well as other taxes and rates.

The provision for legal processes in progress is to cover liabilities resulting from processes brought against the Company, estimated based on information from its lawyers.

At 31 December 2012 and 2011 the Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external lawyers, classified several legal and arbitration processes in progress and tax contingencies as of probable loss and so it recorded provisions in accordance with NCRF 21—Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets to cover the probable outflow of resources. The nature of the processes is as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euros
Legal processes in progress
Civil responsibility	10,084,018	10,147,398
Labour responsibility	286,871	462,161

Tax contingencies	3,583,639	3,613,271
	14,565,247	14,898,143

Processes with possible loss

At 31 December 2012 and 2011, the Company, based on the opinion of its internal and external lawyers, classified several legal and arbitration processes in progress and tax contingencies as of possible loss in accordance with NCRF. The nature of the processes is as follows:

	2012	2011
	Euros
Legal processes in progress
Civil responsibility (a)	8,203,539	455,394
Other responsibilities	3,869,544	4,153,953
	12,073,083	4,609,347

(a) The increase in these processes in relation to the preceding year results essentially from the new Noxitel process, dated May 2012, in the amount of 6,000,000 euros, regarding non-contractual compliance, which ended in 2013 without any penalty for the Company.

The Board of Directors believes that any corrections resulting from revisions/inspections of tax returns by the tax authorities will not have a significant effect on the financial statements as of 31 December 2012, considering the provisions recorded and the expectations at this time with respect to the final resolution of the above mentioned matters.

19.3. Other processes

The Company received additional Corporate Income Tax assessments relating to the financial years 2004 to 2009, and a tax inspection report relating to 2010, which essentially question the deductibility of certain financial costs, in the total amount tax amount of 198.5 million euros. The Company disagrees with these assessments and conclusions, and considers, based on the opinion of its tax consultants, that there are solid arguments to oppose the position of the tax authorities.

20.1. Loans from Group companies

In June 2010 the Company obtained shareholders' loans from PT Portugal, its previous shareholder, in the amount of 500,000,000 Euros, which did not have an established maturity. On 30 November 2010, these advances were ceded by PT Portugal to PT Comunicações at their nominal amount, under the sale of the participation in TMN. On 2 December 2011, the Company repaid the amount of 160,000,000 Euros relating to these shareholders' loans (Note 4).

20.2. Centralized treasury

Starting on March 2006 Portugal Telecom began centralizing all receipts and payments of the Group companies headquartered in Portugal. The loans obtained by the Company under the centralized cash management system have short-term maturities and bear interest at market rates.

20.3. Commercial paper

On 25 June 1999 Portugal Telecom established a Framework Agreement for the Issuance of Commercial Paper, in which the Company participates, which has been amended several times and at 31 December 2012 was for a maximum of 3,500,000,000 Euros. The framework agreement is in effect until 7 July 2013, and is automatically renewable for successive 2-year periods, until 7 July 2025, unless it is terminated by any of the parties.

On 1 June 2000 Portugal Telecom established a Framework Agreement for the Issuance of Commercial Paper, in which the Company participates, which has been amended several times and, at 31 December 2013, was for a maximum amount of 3,000,000,000 Euros. The contract is in effect until 1 June 2014 and is automatically renewable for successive 2-year periods, until 1 June 2020, unless it is terminated by any of the parties.

At 31 December 2012 and 2011 the Company was not drawn any amount under these programs. In 2011 the Company repaid 49,900,000 euros which was outstanding at 31 December 2010 (Note 4).

20.4. Finance leasing

Financial lease obligations result essentially from: (i) vehicle leases, which generally include purchase options upon termination; and (ii) rights to use transmission capacity over fiber optic circuits.
