Section B – Issuer

Element	Description of Element	Disclosure requirement
B.1	Legal and commercial name	Infineon Technologies Aktiengesellschaft is the legal and Infineon is the commercial name of the Issuer.
B.2	Domicile, legal form, legislation, country of incorporation	Infineon Technologies Aktiengesellschaft (" Infineon ") is a German stock corporation (Aktiengesellschaft) incorporated and operating under the laws of Germany and domiciled in Germany.
B.4b	Known trends affecting the Issuer and the industries in which it operates	In offering semiconductor and system solutions Infineon is addressing three central challenges to modern society: energy efficiency, mobility and security, which in Infineon's view are the source for the continued increase in demand for Infineon Group's products. With respect to the market segments in which the Group operates, Infineon further identified the following trends: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In the Automotive segment Infineon Group identified three major trends which are expected to determine the development of automotive technology: low-emission vehicles including hybrid and electric vehicles, safe vehicles with particular focus on ADAS (Advanced Driver Assistance Systems) and security in increasingly connected vehicles. • With respect to the Industrial Power Control segment, IGBT (Insulated-Gate Bipolar Transistor) power components are found in an increasing number of applications: a) electrification of high-power vehicles such as agricultural, construction and mining vehicles is constantly growing, b) railways run almost exclusively on electrified lines, c) power generation via renewable energies is gaining importance, and d) the penetration rate of electronically controlled motors, so-called "variable speed drives", is steadily increasing. Infineon Group is striving to develop new products for this broad

		range of applications, for example by introducing new IGBT modules and driver ICs (Integrated Circuits) for electric motors including variable speed drives. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In the Power Management & Multimarket segment, with regard to power supplies two trends are observed by Infineon: first, their efficiency is expected to increase due to regulatory targets, and second, especially in the case of chargers for smartphones and tablets, their size and weight is becoming increasingly important as well as improving the ability to charge at fast rates. Consequently, power density, i.e. the electrical power converted within a certain space, is becoming a decisive parameter. In addition, penetration of smartphones is growing with an increasing content of chips that are offered by Infineon Group. Furthermore, the continually more advanced transmission standards (for example the world-wide roll-out of LTE networks) are also expected to result in demand for Infineon Group products. • In the Chip Card & Security segment, Infineon Group intends to focus on applications in which the security aspect is of increasing importance, including mobile payments with NFC (Near Field Communication) technology, the security of electronic devices in connected systems and several applications of authentication.
B.5	Description of the Group and the Issuer's position within the Group	Infineon is the parent company of Infineon Group, with 97 subsidiaries and affiliated companies (including minority holdings but excluding Qimonda AG i.L. and its affiliates) incorporated in jurisdictions throughout Europe and Asia, as well as the Americas and Australia (as of February 18, 2015). Infineon Group designs, develops, manufactures and markets a broad range of semiconductors and systems solutions.
B.9	Profit forecast or estimate	Not applicable. No profit forecasts or estimates are made.
B.10	Nature of any qualifications in the audit report on historical financial information	Not applicable. The auditor has issued unqualified audit opinions on the IFRS consolidated financial statements of Infineon Group for the fiscal years ended September 30, 2013 and September 30, 2014.

In addition, quality risks could also damage Infineon Group's reputation and, consequently, demand for its products.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Infineon Group’s business could suffer if Infineon Group is not able to secure the development of new technologies or if Infineon Group cannot keep pace with the technology development of its competitors. • Infineon Group may not be able to match its production capacity to demand. • Infineon Group is dependent on individual production sites. • Infineon Group’s business could suffer due to decreases in customer demand. • Infineon may be unable to successfully integrate businesses it acquires, in particular the recently acquired business of International Rectifier, or to effectively manage its own growth or to develop or raise the resources necessary in order to control or support its growth. Infineon may be required to record charges related to the goodwill or other long-lived assets associated with the acquired businesses. • The loss or insolvency of one or more of Infineon Group’s key customers may adversely affect Infineon Group’s business. • Infineon Group’s operations rely on complex information technology systems and networks, and any disruptions of security breaches in such systems or networks could have a material adverse impact on Infineon Group’s business and results of operations. • Infineon Group relies on a limited number of suppliers of services, manufacturing equipment and materials and could suffer shortages if these suppliers were to interrupt supply or increase their prices. • Infineon Group’s business could suffer from problems with manufacturing or suppliers. If Infineon Group’s outside foundry suppliers fail to meet Infineon Group’s expectations, Infineon Group’s results of operations could be adversely affected. • Infineon Group relies on strategic partners and other third parties, and Infineon Group’s business could be harmed if they fail to perform as expected or relationships with them were to be terminated. • Infineon Group may be adversely affected by rising raw material prices. • Infineon Group is dependent on energy supply and may face risks from rising energy prices. • Infineon Group’s success depends on its ability to recruit and retain sufficient qualified key personnel. • Infineon Group could be adversely affected by property damage or loss and business interruption. • Infineon is dependent to a significant extent upon the payments by its subsidiaries. • Infineon Group is exposed to the risk of default by banking partners. • Infineon Group’s results of operations and financial condition can be adversely impacted by changes in exchange rates. • Infineon Group’s results of operations and financial condition can be adversely impacted by changes in interest rates. • The financial resources available to Infineon Group may be insufficient to meet Infineon Group’s capital needs. • Infineon Group’s business and financial condition could be adversely affected by proceedings and liabilities as a result of the insolvency of Qimonda. • Infineon Group’s business and financial condition could be adversely affected by current or future litigation, investigations and antitrust proceedings.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Infineon Group might be faced with product liability or warranty claims. • Infineon Group is exposed to various tax risks, and several factors could have an adverse effect on the tax burden of Infineon Group. • Environmental laws and regulations may expose Infineon Group to liability and increase Infineon Group's costs. • Infineon Group operates in various jurisdictions and is exposed to changes in legislation and policies affecting trade and investments and varying practices of the regulatory, tax, judicial and administrative bodies in those jurisdictions. • Infineon Group may not be able to protect its proprietary intellectual property and may be accused of infringing the intellectual property rights of others. • Infineon Group is exposed to compliance risks. • If Infineon Group fails to maintain effective internal controls or if risk management strategies are unsuccessful this could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business. • Reductions in government subsidies or demands for repayment of such subsidies could increase Infineon Group's reported expenses or limit its ability to fund capital expenditures. The realization of any of the risks described above may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfill its payment obligations under the Notes and/or lead to a decline in the market price of the Notes.
D.3	Key information on the key risks specific to the securities	An investment in any Tranche of the Notes involves certain risks associated with the respective characteristics of the Notes which could lead to substantial losses that holders would have to bear in the case of selling their Notes or with regard to receiving interest payments and repayment of principal. Those risks include that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors. • The Notes do not have an established trading market and an active trading market for the Notes may not develop. • The Notes will be structurally subordinated to indebtedness of the subsidiaries of the Issuer. • The Notes will be effectively subordinated to Issuer's debt to the extent such debt is secured by assets or guarantees by subsidiaries of the Issuer that are not also securing the Notes. • The Notes are subject to a risk of early redemption, since the Issuer has the right to call each Tranche of Notes prior to maturity for reason of minimal outstanding amount or if the Issuer is required to pay additional amounts on the Notes for reasons of taxation. • Although the occurrence of specific change of control events will permit the holders to require redemption or repurchase of the Notes, the Issuer may not be able to redeem or repurchase such Notes. • The Terms and Conditions of each Tranche of Notes including the terms of payment of principal and interest, can be amended by a holders' resolution and any such resolution will be binding for all holders of the respective Tranche of Notes. Any such resolution may effectively be passed with the consent of less than a majority of the aggregate principal amount of any Tranche of Notes outstanding. • In case of certain events of default, each Tranche of Notes will only be redeemable if holders of at least 10 percent of the aggregate principal

		amount of the respective Tranche of Notes then outstanding declare such Tranche of Notes due and payable. Such declaration of acceleration might be rescinded by majority resolution of the holders of such Tranche of Notes. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Since no holders' representative will be appointed as from the issue date of the Notes, it will be more difficult for holders to take collective action with respect to the Notes. • It is possible that a holder may be deprived in its individual right to pursue and enforce its rights under the Terms and Conditions if such right was passed on a holders' representative. • The market value of the Notes could decrease if the creditworthiness of the Issuer worsens or is perceived to worsen. • The Notes bear specific risks typical for fixed rate notes. • The trading market for debt securities may be volatile and may be adversely impacted by many events. • No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change of laws or administrative practices after the date of this Prospectus. • The Notes are subject to exchange rate risks and exchange controls. • Investors are subject to tax risks. • The Notes are subject to inflation risks. • The Notes are subject to transaction costs and charges. • Because the Global Notes are held by or on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the Issuer. • Risks in relation to FATCA. The realization of any of the risks described above may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfill its payment obligations under the Notes and/or lead to a decline in the market price of the Notes.

Abschnitt B – Emittentin

Punkt	Beschreibung	Geforderte Angaben
B.1	Gesetzliche und kommerzielle Bezeichnung	Infineon Technologies Aktiengesellschaft ist die gesetzliche und Infineon die kommerzielle Bezeichnung der Emittentin.
B.2	Sitz, Rechtsform, geltendes Recht und Land der Gründung	Infineon Technologies Aktiengesellschaft (" Infineon ") ist eine nach dem Recht der Bundesrepublik Deutschland gegründete und operierende Aktiengesellschaft mit Sitz in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland.
B.4b	Bereits bekannte Trends, die sich auf die Emittentin und die Branchen, in denen sie tätig ist, auswirken	Mit ihrem Angebot an Halbleitern und Systemlösungen adressiert Infineon drei zentrale Herausforderungen der modernen Gesellschaft: Energieeffizienz, Mobilität und Sicherheit. Diese führen nach Ansicht von Infineon zu einer kontinuierlich steigenden Nachfrage nach den Produkten der Infineon-Gruppe. In Bezug auf die Marktsegmente, in denen die Gruppe tätig ist, hat Infineon ferner folgende Trends festgestellt: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Im Segment Automotive hat die Infineon-Gruppe drei wesentliche Trends festgestellt, die, wie erwartet wird, die Entwicklung der Automobiltechnik bestimmen: emissionsarme Fahrzeuge einschließlich Hybrid- und reine Elektrofahrzeuge, sichere Fahrzeuge mit dem Schwerpunkt auf Fahrerassistenzsystemen (ADAS, Advanced Driver Assistance Systems) sowie Informationssicherheit in zunehmend vernetzten Fahrzeugen. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Im Segment Industrial Power Control finden sich IGBT (Insulated-Gate Bipolar Transistor)-Leistungskomponenten in einer zunehmenden Zahl von Anwendungen: a) die Elektrifizierung von Hochleistungsfahrzeugen wie Landwirtschafts-, Baustellen- und Minenfahrzeugen nimmt ständig zu, b) der Schienenverkehr findet fast nur noch auf elektrifizierten Strecken statt, c) die Stromerzeugung durch erneuerbare Energien gewinnt an Bedeutung und d) die Durchdringungsrate von elektronisch gesteuerten Motoren, sogenannten „drehzahlgeregelten Antrieben“, nimmt stetig zu. Die Infineon-Gruppe strebt an, neue Produkte für dieses breite Anwendungsspektrum zu entwickeln, z.B. Einführung von IGBT-Modulen und integrierten Schaltkreisen (ICs, Integrated Circuits) für Antriebe in Elektromotoren, einschließlich drehzahlgeregelten Antrieben. • Im Segment Power Management & Multimarket sieht Infineon bei Stromversorgungen zwei Trends: erstens müssen diese aufgrund regulatorischer Vorgaben immer effizienter werden, und zweitens gewinnen Größe und Gewicht der Netzteile, insbesondere bei Ladegeräten für Smartphones und Tablets, und die Verkürzung der Ladezeit immer mehr an Bedeutung. Daher wird die Leistungsdichte, d. h. die in einer bestimmten Baugröße gewandelte elektrische Leistung, zu einer entscheidenden Größe. Darüber hinaus nimmt die Durchdringung von Smartphones mit einer wachsenden Anzahl von Chips, die von der Infineon Gruppe angeboten werden, zu. Und letztlich lassen die sich ständig weiterentwickelnden Übertragungsstandards (zum Beispiel die weltweite Einführung des LTE-Netzwerks) eine höhere Nachfrage nach Produkten der Infineon Gruppe erwarten. • Im Segment Chip Card & Security beabsichtigt die Infineon-Gruppe, sich verstärkt auf Anwendungen auszurichten, bei denen der Sicherheitsaspekt an Bedeutung gewinnt. Hierzu zählen mobiles Bezahlen mit NFC (Near Field Communication; drahtlose Kommunikation über kurze Distanzen)-Technologie, der Schutz elektronischer Geräte in vernetzten Systemen und mehrere Anwendungsbereiche der Authentifizierung.

B.5	Beschreibung der Gruppe und der Stellung der Emittentin innerhalb dieser Gruppe	Infineon ist die Muttergesellschaft der Infineon-Gruppe mit 97 Tochtergesellschaften und verbundenen Unternehmen (einschließlich Minderheitsbeteiligungen aber ausschließlich Qimonda AG i.L. und deren verbundenen Unternehmen) mit Sitz in Europa, Asien, sowie Nord-, Mittel- und Südamerika und Australien (Stand: 18. Februar 2015). Die Infineon-Gruppe entwirft, entwickelt, fertigt und vertreibt ein breites Spektrum an Halbleitern und Systemlösungen.

RISK FACTORS

Before deciding to purchase the Notes, investors should carefully review and consider the following risk factors and the other information contained in this Prospectus. The occurrence of one or more of the risks described below alone or in combination with other circumstances may have a material adverse effect on the business, cash flows, results of operations and financial conditions of the Issuer and Infineon Group. Moreover, if any of these risks materialize, the market value of the Notes and the likelihood that the Issuer will be in a position to fulfill its payment obligations under the Notes may decrease, in which case the holders of the Notes (the "Holders") could lose all or part of their investments. Investors should note that the risks discussed below may prove to not be exhaustive and, therefore, may not be the only risks to which the Issuer and Infineon Group are exposed. Additional risks and uncertainties, which are not currently known to the Issuer, or which the Issuer currently believes are immaterial, could likewise impair the business operations of the Issuer or Infineon Group and have a material adverse effect on business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations. The order in which the risks are presented does not reflect the likelihood of their occurrence or the magnitude of their potential impact on the business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition of Infineon Group.

Words and expressions defined in the section "Terms and Conditions" shall have the same meanings in this section of the Prospectus.

Risk Factors relating to Infineon as the Issuer and Infineon Group

Adverse developments in the global economic environment could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and operating results.

As a globally operating company, Infineon Group's business is highly dependent on global economic developments. A worldwide economic downturn, particularly in the markets that Infineon Group serves, may result in lower revenues. As a consequence of the European debt crisis, European governments are implementing a wide range of measures to consolidate budgetary shortfalls and cut investment expenditure. As a consequence of these developments, the level of trust of consumers and companies is characterized by uncertainty, while unemployment figures remain high. The current geopolitical risks arising from the crises in the Ukraine and unrest in the Middle East additionally aggravate these circumstances. The U.S. economic recovery is only proceeding at a slow pace, while industrial companies in China are dealing with weak export demand and the consequences of high credit volumes.

Following the financial crisis in 2008, Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations were to a significant degree negatively impacted by general economic conditions and a related downturn in the semiconductor market. Infineon Group could again be so affected in the future which could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Political or social changes in countries in which Infineon Group manufactures and/or sells products could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and operating results.

Risks can arise due to political or social changes in countries in which Infineon Group manufactures and/or sells its products. Asian markets are particularly important to Infineon Group's long-term strategy. Infineon Group's operations in China are impacted by the fact that the legal system in that country is still going through a phase of development and change. One example of this is the fact that local regulations could make it mandatory to enter into partnerships with local companies. These circumstances could lead to Infineon Group's intellectual property no longer being sufficiently protected. Furthermore, intellectual property developed in China may not be freely transferred to other countries and locations, all of which could impair Infineon Group's business and thus have an adverse impact on its financial condition and results of operations.

Infineon Group operates in a highly cyclical industry and its business could be adversely impacted by periodic downturns in target markets.

The worldwide semiconductor industry is highly cyclical and Infineon Group therefore faces risks with respect to rapid market change in its target markets. As a result, Infineon Group's own forecasts of business developments are subject to a high degree of uncertainty. Total revenues attributable to Infineon Group's Automotive segment amounted to 45.5 percent in the 2014 fiscal year. Also, the two largest key customers of Infineon Group operate in the automotive industry which showed to be particularly cyclical in the past.

In the past, the cyclical pattern of the semiconductor industry was fairly regular, at the end of which Infineon Group was able to participate in the upturn after a period of market weakness. It is, however, possible that future market downturns will follow another pattern. The absence of market growth or its decline would make it considerably more difficult for Infineon Group to attain its own growth targets. There is no assurance that the markets in which Infineon Group operates will continue to grow, that the growth rates experienced in past years will be attainable again in future years, or that Infineon Group will be successful in managing any future downturn or substantial decline in average selling prices. In the event that Infineon Group is unprepared for market fluctuations, or its response strategy to such fluctuations turns out to be inappropriate, this could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial condition and results of operations.

The industry in which Infineon Group operates is characterized by intense competition and commoditization of products, which could reduce Infineon Group's sales or put continued pressure on Infineon Group's sales prices.

The semiconductor industry is highly competitive, and has been characterized by rapid technological change, high capital expenditures, short product lifecycles and continuous advancements in process technologies and manufacturing facilities. The rapid pace of technological change in the semiconductor market also results in greater interchangeability of products. This may lead to aggressive pricing tactics in the marketplace which may hinder Infineon Group from achieving its long-term, strategic targets with respect to market share gains, maintenance and product pricing. Increased competitive pressure or the relative weakening of Infineon Group's competitive position could materially and adversely affect Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The competitive environment of the semiconductor industry has led to industry consolidation, and Infineon Group may face even more intense competition from newly merged competitors.

The highly competitive environment of the semiconductor industry and the high costs associated with manufacturing technologies and developing marketable products have resulted in significant consolidation in the industry and are likely to lead to further consolidation in the future. Such consolidation can allow competitors of Infineon Group to further benefit from economies of scale, enjoy improved or more comprehensive product portfolios and increase the size of their serviceable markets. Consequently, Infineon Group's competitive position may be adversely impacted by consolidation among other industry participants, who may leverage increased market share and economies of scale to improve their competitive position. In addition, Infineon Group may become a target for a company looking to improve its competitive position. Any such corporate event could result in unpredictable consequences, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's results of operations and financial condition.

Products that do not meet customer specifications or that contain, or are perceived to contain, defects or errors or that are otherwise incompatible with their intended end use could impose significant costs on Infineon. In addition, quality risks could also damage Infineon Group's reputation and, consequently, demand for its products.

The design and production processes for Infineon Group's products are highly complex. Infineon Group might introduce products that do not meet customer specifications, contain or are perceived to contain defects or errors, or are otherwise incompatible with their intended uses. The smallest shortfall in product quality can lead to product recalls and potential costs related to liability claims. Infineon Group may incur substantial costs in remedying such defects or errors, which could include material inventory write-downs. Moreover, if actual or perceived problems with nonconforming, defective or incompatible products occur after Infineon Group has shipped the products, Infineon Group might not only bear direct liability for providing replacements or otherwise compensating customers, but could also suffer from long-term damage to Infineon Group's relationship with important customers or to Infineon Group's reputation in the industry generally. In addition, in the HiRel business of International Rectifier, Infineon Group is subject to government procurement regulations and other laws that could result in lower demand for its HiRel products and/or costly investigations and other legal proceedings as a consequence of allegedly defective products or other actions. Any perception that products are defective would likely result in reduced sales, loss of customers and harm to Infineon Group's business and reputation.

This could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Infineon Group's business could suffer if Infineon Group is not able to secure the development of new technologies or if Infineon Group cannot keep pace with the technology development of its competitors.

The semiconductor industry is characterized by rapid technological development. The annual or biannual introduction of new process technologies leads to an increase of functions per chip and to the improvement of performance parameters, such as power consumption or processing speed. In addition, using smaller feature sizes offering better performance characteristics entails that smaller chips offering the same functionality can be produced which in turn means a considerable reduction in costs per function. In order to remain competitive, it is essential that Infineon Group secures the capabilities to develop and qualify new technologies for the manufacturing of new products. However, the increasing complexity of technologies and products, shorter development cycles and greater customer expectations can cause tension in the field of product development. Buffer times built into processes to compensate for potential delays are reduced accordingly. If Infineon Group is unable to develop and qualify new technologies and products or to execute its development plans at the desired quality levels or if Infineon Group devotes resources to the pursuit of technologies or products that fail to be accepted in the marketplace or that fail to be commercially viable, development delays and increased or failed development costs could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Infineon Group may not be able to match its production capacity to demand.

It is difficult to predict future growth or diminution of the markets that Infineon Group serves, making it hard to estimate requirements for production capacity. If markets do not develop as Infineon Group has anticipated, Infineon Group risks underutilization of its facilities or insufficient capacity to meet customer demand. Underutilization of Infineon Group's facilities may result in idle capacity costs, write-offs of inventories and losses on products due to falling average selling prices. In the past, the net increases of supply sometimes exceeded demand requirements, leading to oversupply situations and downturns in the industry. Such a development could potentially require Infineon Group to undertake restructuring activities that may involve significant charges to Infineon Group's results of operations. Fluctuations in the rate at which industry capacity grows relative to the growth rate in demand for semiconductor products may in the future put pressure on Infineon Group's average selling prices and negatively affect Infineon Group's results of operations.

In addition, during periods of increased demand, Infineon Group may not have sufficient capacity to meet customer orders. Infineon Group could lose future business and design wins in case it is unable to deliver volumes above its contractual obligations if called upon by its customers to do so. In the past, Infineon Group responded to increased demand by opening new production facilities or entering into strategic alliances, which in many cases resulted in significant expenditures. Infineon Group has also purchased an increasing number of processed wafers and packages from semiconductor foundries and subcontractors to meet higher levels of demand and has incurred higher costs of goods sold as a result. To expand Infineon Group's production capacity in the future, Infineon Group may have to spend substantial amounts which could negatively affect Infineon Group's results of operations.

Frontend and backend manufacturing need to be optimally synchronized to enable Infineon Group to develop competitive and high-quality products designed to provide products and customized technological solutions. In view of the rapid pace of technological change and increasingly stringent customer requirements, coordination processes have to become increasingly sophisticated. Failure in continuing to make progress in this area could result in quality problems or delays in time-to-market as well as higher research and development ("R&D") expenses and hence adversely impact Infineon Group's revenue and earnings.

One risk that semiconductor companies operating in-house production facilities typically face is that of delays in the ramping-up of production volumes at new production sites, coupled with the required transfer of technology. For example, in the Automotive segment customers' product approval and testing processes can take place over an extended period of time and thus influence Infineon Group's global production strategy as well as short- and medium-term capacity utilization. Failure to anticipate necessary production changes in time could result in capacity shortages and hence lower revenue on the one hand and costs caused by under-utilization on the other.

Infineon Group is dependent on individual production sites.

Infineon Group's South East Asian manufacturing sites are of critical importance for its production. Further, International Rectifier manufactures a substantial part of its semiconductor wafers at its Temecula, California, USA and Newport, Wales facilities. If, for example, political upheavals or natural disasters in the respective region were to impede Infineon Group's ability to manufacture at these or other important sites on the planned scale or to export products manufactured at those sites, it could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, Infineon Group's current production capacities in the South East Asian region are to a large extent not insured against political risks such as expropriation of assets. A transfer of manufacturing capacities from these sites would therefore not only involve a great deal of time and technical effort, Infineon would also be required to bear the necessary cost of investment, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's results of operations.

Infineon Group's business could suffer due to decreases in customer demand.

Infineon Group's sales volume depends significantly on the market success of Infineon Group's customers in developing and selling end-products that incorporate Infineon Group's products. The fast pace of technological change, difficulties in the execution of individual projects, general economic conditions and other factors may limit the market success of Infineon Group's customers, resulting in a decrease in the volume of demand for Infineon Group's products and adversely affecting Infineon Group's results of operations.

Infineon may be unable to successfully integrate businesses it acquires or to effectively manage its own growth or to develop or raise the resources necessary in order to control or support its growth. Infineon may be required to record charges related to the goodwill or other long-lived assets associated with the acquired businesses.

Infineon or other members of the Infineon Group occasionally acquire or make investments in other companies, businesses and technologies or enters into various forms of cooperation arrangements and faces risks resulting from the expansion of their operations through acquisitions or co-operations. In case of acquisitions, Infineon Group might be unable to successfully integrate new businesses or teams with Infineon Group's culture, structures and strategies on a timely basis or at all. Neither can Infineon Group be certain that it will be able to achieve the full scope of the benefits it expects from a particular acquisition or investment. Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations may suffer if it fails to coordinate its resources effectively to manage both its existing businesses and any businesses it acquires.

Infineon Group reviews the goodwill associated with its acquisitions for impairment at least once a year. Changes in Infineon Group's expectations due to changes in market developments which Infineon Group cannot foresee have in the past resulted in Infineon Group writing off amounts associated with the goodwill of acquired companies, and future changes may require additional write-offs in future periods, which could have a material adverse effect on its financial results.

The acquisition of International Rectifier represents approximately 24 percent of Infineon Group's market capitalization as of September 30, 2014 based on the offer price and is therefore of great significance for Infineon Group's future success. The risks described above, especially in terms of assimilating the two businesses, are therefore highly relevant.

Also, the integration of International Rectifier into Infineon Group may result in a loss of International Rectifier's key personnel and may disrupt International Rectifier's sales and marketing or other key business activities as well as its relationships with third parties, including customers, which may have an adverse impact on International Rectifier's and thus Infineon Group's financial performance. Additionally, International Rectifier and Infineon Group have incurred substantial financial advisory, legal, and other professional fees and expenses in connection with acquisition and might continue to incur such expenses.

The loss or insolvency of one or more of Infineon Group's key customers may adversely affect Infineon Group's business.

Historically, a significant portion of Infineon Group's revenue has come from a relatively small number of customers and distributors. The loss or financial failure or insolvency of any significant customer or distributor, or any reduction in orders by any of Infineon Group's key customers or distributors could materially and adversely affect Infineon Group's business.

Infineon Group's operations rely on complex information technology systems and networks, and any disruptions or security breaches in such systems or networks could have a material adverse impact on Infineon Group's business and results of operations.

Infineon Group relies heavily on information technology systems and networks to support business processes as well as internal and external communications. The reliability and security of Infineon Group's information technology systems is therefore of crucial importance. However, these systems and networks are potentially vulnerable to damage or interruption from a variety of sources. Despite precautionary measures Infineon Group has put in place to manage its data and information technology risks an extended outage in a telecommunications network utilized by Infineon Group's systems or a similar event could lead to an extended unanticipated interruption of Infineon Group's systems or networks. Furthermore, confidential information and data could be leaked as a result of information technology security breaches. Additionally, potential virus attacks, in particular on Infineon Group's information technology systems for production processes, present additional risks that could result in loss of production or supply bottlenecks.

Such disruptions and security breaches could endanger the confidentiality, availability and reliability of data and systems used in development, production, selling or administration functions, which, in turn, could have an adverse impact on Infineon Group's reputation, competitiveness and ultimately its business operations.

Infineon Group relies on a limited number of suppliers of services, manufacturing equipment and materials and could suffer shortages if these suppliers were to interrupt supply or increase their prices.

Infineon Group's manufacturing operations depend on the delivery of services, equipment and adequate supplies on a timely basis. Infineon Group purchases equipment and materials from a number of suppliers on a just-in-time basis. From time to time, suppliers may extend lead times, limit supply to Infineon Group or increase prices due to capacity constraints or other factors. Due to the complex nature of the equipment that Infineon Group purchases, it is difficult for Infineon Group to substitute one supplier for another or one piece of equipment for another. Infineon Group does not always have alternative sources for some of these suppliers and therefore depends on their ability to deliver products of the required quality at the required time. Infineon Group's results of operations would be negatively affected if Infineon Group were not able to obtain adequate supplies of quality services, equipment or materials in a timely manner or if there were significant increases in the costs of equipment or materials.

Infineon Group's business could suffer from problems with manufacturing or suppliers. If Infineon Group's outside foundry suppliers fail to meet Infineon Group's expectations, Infineon Group's results of operations could be adversely affected.

Infineon Group outsources production of some of its products to third-party suppliers, including semiconductor foundry manufacturers and assembly and test facilities. If Infineon Group's outside suppliers are unable to satisfy Infineon Group's demand, or experience manufacturing difficulties, delays or reduced yields, Infineon Group's results of operations and ability to satisfy customer demand could suffer. In addition, purchasing rather than manufacturing these products may adversely affect Infineon Group's gross profit margin if the purchase costs of these products are higher than Infineon Group's own manufacturing costs. Infineon Group's internal manufacturing costs include depreciation and other fixed costs, while costs for products outsourced are based in large part on market conditions. Prices for foundry products also vary depending on capacity utilization rates at Infineon Group's suppliers, quantities demanded, product technology and geometry. Furthermore, these outsourcing costs can vary materially from quarter to quarter and, in cases of industry shortages, they can increase significantly and negatively impact Infineon Group's results of operations.

Infineon Group relies on strategic partners and other third parties, and Infineon Group's business could be harmed if they fail to perform as expected or relationships with them were to be terminated.

Infineon Group has entered into a number of long-term strategic alliances with leading industry participants, on the one hand to manufacture semiconductors and on the other hand to develop new products and manufacturing process technologies. If Infineon Group's strategic partners encounter financial difficulties or change their business strategies, they may no longer be able or willing to participate in these alliances. Some of the agreements governing Infineon Group's strategic alliances allow Infineon Group's partners to terminate the agreement if a third party gains control of the Issuer or of a significant portion of the Issuer's shares. Infineon Group's business could be harmed if any of Infineon Group's strategic partners were to discontinue Infineon Group's participation in a strategic alliance or if the alliance were otherwise terminated. To the extent Infineon Group relies on alliances and third-party design and/or manufacturing relationships, Infineon Group faces the risks of:

- reduced control over delivery schedules and product costs;
- manufacturing costs that are higher than anticipated;
- the inability of Infineon Group's manufacturing partners to develop manufacturing methods appropriate for Infineon Group's products and their unwillingness to devote adequate capacity to produce Infineon Group's products;
- a decline in product reliability;
- an inability to maintain continuing relationships with Infineon Group's suppliers; and
- limited ability to meet customer demand when faced with product shortages.

If any of these risks materialize, Infineon Group could experience an interruption in its supply chain or an increase in costs, which could delay or decrease Infineon Group's revenues or adversely affect Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Infineon Group may be adversely affected by rising raw material prices.

Infineon Group is exposed to fluctuations in raw material prices. In particular gold, copper and petroleum-based organic polymer prices fluctuate worldwide on a regular basis. Infineon Group also depends on supplies of rare earths required for selected production processes within the process integration. Infineon Group has financial instruments in place to hedge short term price risk exposure to gold, however, there is no assurance that these hedges will be sufficient. The prices of raw materials and energy have recently been subject to significant fluctuation, and there is no reason to assume the situation will change in the near future. If Infineon Group is unable to offset cost rises or pass them on to customers, such price increases could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial results.

Infineon Group is dependent on energy supply and may face risks from rising energy prices.

Infineon Group's business requires reliable electrical power at reasonable cost and may be adversely affected by power shortages due to disruptions in supply, as well as by increases in market prices for fuel or electricity.

Infineon Group's success depends on its ability to recruit and retain sufficient qualified key personnel.

Infineon Group's success depends significantly on the recruitment and retention of highly skilled personnel, particularly in the areas of R&D, marketing, production management and general management. The competition for such highly skilled employees is intense and the loss of the services of key personnel without adequate replacement or the inability to attract new qualified personnel could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group. Infineon Group can provide no assurance that it will be able to successfully retain and/or recruit the key personnel it requires.

Infineon Group could be adversely affected by property damage or loss and business interruption.

Fire, natural hazards, earthquakes, supply shortage, terrorism, power failures, or other disturbances at semiconductor facilities or within Infineon Group's supply chain – at customers and at suppliers – can result in severe damage and loss. Such far-reaching negative consequences can also arise from political unrest or instability, especially in emerging economies. The risks arising from business interruption and loss of production are insured up to levels considered economically reasonable by Infineon Group. Infineon Group believes that it has taken out the business liability insurance that is necessary and customary in the industry (including product and environmental liability), as well as property insurance, business interruption insurance, insurance for damages resulting from earthquakes and other insurance, but its insurance coverage could prove insufficient in individual cases. Furthermore, such events could injure or damage individuals, third-party property or the environment, which could, among other things, lead to considerable financial costs for Infineon Group. The realization of any of these risks could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Financial Risks

Infineon is dependent to a significant extent upon the payments by its subsidiaries.

Infineon's cash flow and its ability to meet its cash requirements, including its obligations under the Notes, is dependent to a significant extent upon the profitability and cash flow of its subsidiaries and payments by such subsidiaries to Infineon in the form of loans, dividends, fees, rental payments, or otherwise.

The ability of Infineon's subsidiaries to make payments to Infineon may be restricted by, among other things, applicable corporate and other laws and regulations and by the terms of covenants and restrictions contained in financing agreements to which such subsidiaries are or will be a party.

Infineon Group is exposed to the risk of default by banking partners.

The relatively high level of Infineon Group's liquid financial assets exposes Infineon Group to the risk of a potential default by one of its banking partners. Although Infineon Group has processes in place to mitigate this risk, these measures could turn out to be ineffective which could have a materially adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial condition.

Infineon Group's results of operations and financial condition can be adversely impacted by changes in exchange rates.

Infineon Group's results of operations can be negatively affected by changes in exchange rates, particularly between the euro and the US dollar, the Japanese yen, the Malaysian ringgit, the Singapore dollar and the Chinese renminbi. In addition, the impact of currency translation adjustments on the consolidated financial position has been, and may continue to be, material. While Infineon Group operates in an industry with prices primarily denominated in US dollars and Japanese yen and therefore receives a large portion of its revenues in US dollars Japanese yen, a large portion of its expenses are in euro, Malaysian ringgit, Singapore dollar or Chinese renminbi and it reports its financial results in euro, which is its operational currency. As a result, Infineon Group's financial results can to a significant extent be negatively affected by exchange rate fluctuations of such currencies against the euro. Specified currencies are hedged group-wide by means of derivative financial instruments. Depending on how exchange rates develop, these hedging contracts could have a significant influence on cash flows. In these circumstances, exchange rate fluctuations could also have an impact on earnings.

Infineon Group's results of operations and financial condition can be adversely impacted by changes in interest rates.

Infineon Group is exposed to interest rate risk through its financial assets and debt instruments resulting from its debt financing. Furthermore, Infineon Group holds a relatively high amount of liquid financial assets that are invested in short-term fixed-interest instruments due to the cyclical nature of its core business and the need to maintain high operational flexibility. These investments generally have a contract duration of between one day and twelve months. Although Infineon partially offsets the risk to these assets of changing interest rates by financial liabilities, some of which are based on variable interest rates, and potentially by using interest rate derivatives, such as interest swaps, in order to align the fixed interest periods of assets and liabilities, Infineon Group's results of operations and financial condition can be adversely impacted by changes in interest rates.

The financial resources available to Infineon Group may be insufficient to meet Infineon Group's capital needs.

Infineon concluded a financing agreement for facilities of EUR 800 million and USD 934 million respectively with several domestic and international banks, specifically for the acquisition of International Rectifier (see "INFORMATION ABOUT INFINEON – Material Financings"). In addition, Infineon Group has access to various stand-alone credit facilities from various financial institutions totaling EUR 263 million, of which EUR 190 million were drawn as of December 31, 2014. Nevertheless, Infineon Group's cash from operating activities, current cash resources, existing sources of external financing and the proceeds from the offering of the Notes may be insufficient to meet Infineon Group's further capital needs.

Furthermore, Infineon Group may be unable to successfully place the Notes that are the subject of the offering. If the offering fails to raise the anticipated amount of capital or if Infineon Group is unable to obtain financing from other sources on commercially reasonable terms, or at all, then Infineon Group may face difficulties in repaying or be unable to repay its debts as they come due.

Legal Risks

Infineon Group's business and financial condition could be adversely affected by proceedings and liabilities as a result of the insolvency of Qimonda.

All significant assets, liabilities and business activities attributable to the memory business (Memory Products) were carved out from the Issuer and transferred to Qimonda AG ("Qimonda"), a fully-owned company at that time, in the form of a non-cash contribution in 2006. Various service agreements were concluded with Qimonda in addition to the demerger and contribution agreement as part of the establishment of Qimonda as a separate legal entity. In January 2009, Qimonda filed an application at the Munich Local Court to commence insolvency proceedings which were subsequently opened in April 2009. Insolvency proceedings were also opened for further domestic and foreign subsidiaries of Qimonda. While some of these proceedings have already been completed, the insolvency of Qimonda has given rise to various disputes between the administrator and the Issuer.

In September 2014, the Issuer and the administrator reached a partial settlement which includes the acquisition by the Issuer of Qimonda's entire patent portfolio. The actions with respect to the continuing use of Qimonda patents and the Issuer's ownership of the license and the insolvency law proceedings contesting intercompany payments were thus settled. Additionally, further out-of-court claims of right to contest under insolvency law, as well as any other claims made by the administrator are settled. However, claims relating to the proceedings in connection with the alleged economic reincorporation and liability for impairment of capital, which involve the Issuer, Infineon Technologies Holding B.V. or Infineon Technologies Investment B.V., as the case may be, have not been concluded yet.

Should the alleged claims prove to be valid, Infineon Group faces substantial financial obligations, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial condition and cash flows.

Infineon Group's business and financial condition could be adversely affected by current or future litigation, investigations and antitrust proceedings.

Infineon Group is involved in various legal disputes and proceedings in connection with its existing or previous business activities. These relate, inter alia, to products, services, patents and environmental issues. The ultimate resolution of these legal disputes could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's results of operations.

Furthermore, in connection with its existing or previous business operations, Infineon Group is also exposed to numerous legal risks, including risks relating to anti-corruption, competition and antitrust legislation as well as other compliance regulations. Claims could also be made against Infineon Group on the basis of breaches of law committed by individual employees or third parties.

In October 2008, the EU Commission initiated an investigation into the Issuer and other manufacturers of chips for smartcards for alleged violations of antitrust laws. In September 2014, the EU Commission imposed a fine of EUR 83 million on Infineon Group; Infineon Group has brought an action against this decision before the European Court of Justice. Two class actions for damages following these investigative proceedings and the decision of the EU Commission have been filed in Canada. Further, in December 2014, an indirect customer filed a lawsuit against Infineon and Renesas in London (United Kingdom). The lawsuit has not been served yet and is presumably related to the aforementioned EU antitrust case.

Should further legal proceedings be commenced and should the above mentioned alleged claims and potential other claims prove to be valid, Infineon Group might face substantial financial obligations, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial condition and cash flows.

Infineon Group might be faced with product liability or warranty claims.

Despite Infineon Group's current efforts, defects may occur in Infineon Group's products. The occurrence of defects, particularly in consumer areas and areas in which personal injury could result, such as Infineon Group's automotive division, could give rise to warranty claims or to liability for damages caused by such defects. Infineon Group could also incur consequential damages and experience limited acceptance of Infineon Group's products in the market. In addition, customers have from time to time notified Infineon Group of potential contractual warranty claims in respect of products that Infineon Group supplied, and are likely to do so in the future. These matters could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business and financial condition.

Infineon Group is exposed to various tax risks, and several factors could have an adverse effect on the tax burden of Infineon Group.

Infineon Group's German and foreign tax returns are periodically examined by tax authorities, and several entities of the consolidated group have been subject to such an examination. Infineon Group regularly assesses the adequacy of its domestic and foreign tax provisions in light of new evidence and makes adjustments to the extent necessary. Due to the complexities in tax laws and their interpretation by the tax authorities there can be no assurance that the outcome of German and foreign tax audits will not differ from these estimates, that is, additional tax charges imposed by the tax authorities may exceed taxes accrued for as liabilities or provisions and may require additional liquidity.

Furthermore, future changes of the tax laws or their interpretation in Germany or other jurisdictions relevant for Infineon Group could increase its tax burden. This as well as the above mentioned risks could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

Environmental laws and regulations may expose Infineon Group to liability and increase Infineon Group's costs.

Infineon Group's operations are subject to many environmental laws and regulations wherever Infineon Group operates, governing, among other things, air and noise emissions, wastewater discharges, the use and handling of hazardous substances, waste disposal and the investigation and remediation of soil and ground water contamination. Similar regulations or substance bans have been implemented in various countries of the world.

Such legislation may complicate Infineon Group's research and development activities, may require Infineon Group to change certain of its manufacturing processes and may lead to the implementation of additional compliance programs which could result in substantial additional costs. Infineon Group is not able at this time to estimate the amount of additional costs that it may incur in connection with these regulations.

There is a risk that Infineon Group may become the subject of environmental, health or safety liabilities or litigation. Environmental, health, and safety claims or the failure to comply with current or future regulations could result in the assessment of damages or imposition of fines against Infineon Group, suspension of production or a cessation of operations. This is also true if facilities or equipment are not operated in technical compliance with permit conditions or if required reports are not timely filed with applicable agencies. Significant financial reserves or additional compliance expenditures could be required in the future due to changes in law or new information regarding environmental conditions or other events, and those expenditures could adversely affect Infineon Group's business or financial condition.

Infineon Group also faces inherent risks of environmental liability in its current and historical manufacturing locations. Costs associated with future additional environmental compliance or remediation obligations could adversely affect Infineon Group's business.

Infineon Group operates in various jurisdictions and is exposed to changes in legislation and policies affecting trade and investments and varying practices of the regulatory, tax, judicial and administrative bodies in those jurisdictions.

In the 2013 fiscal year and in the 2014 fiscal year, 79.3 percent and 80.1 percent of Infineon Group's revenues, respectively, were generated outside Germany and 59.2 percent and 60.5 percent, respectively, were generated outside Europe, Middle East and Africa ("EMEA"). Infineon Group's business strategy envisages that it maintains R&D locations and manufacturing sites across the globe, with numerous manufacturing, assembly and testing facilities on three continents, including facilities that Infineon Group operates jointly with a partner. The location of such facilities is determined by market entry hurdles, technology and cost factors. Likewise, Infineon Group's business is subject to specific risks of international business, including:

- negative economic developments in foreign economies and instability of foreign governments, including the threat of war, terrorist attacks, epidemic or pandemic outbreaks and civil unrest;
- changes in laws and policies affecting trade and investment, including export controls as well as country specific trade restrictions or limitations that may be imposed by countries in which Infineon Group operates; and
- varying practices of the regulatory, tax, judicial and administrative bodies in the jurisdictions where Infineon Group operates.

Substantial changes in any of these conditions could restrict Infineon Group's business activities in these countries and expose Infineon Group to fines, sanctions and loss of reputation, which all could have an adverse effect on Infineon Group's business and results of operations. Infineon Group's results of operations could also be hurt if demand for the products made by Infineon Group's customers decreases due to adverse economic conditions in any of the regions where they sell their own products.

In particular International Rectifier's HiRel business unit, manufacture and sell many products that are subject to U.S. export control laws and related regulations, as well as certain specific commitments to the U.S. government with respect to a subset of HiRel business unit products. International Rectifier also manufactures and sells products that are sold indirectly to the U.S. government and may subject us to government procurement regulations, investigations or review. While International Rectifier maintains a system of controls over such products designed to maintain compliance with such laws and regulations, it cannot promise that these controls will be effective in all cases. If it fails to maintain an effective system of controls or it is otherwise found non-compliant with applicable laws and regulations, violations could lead to governmental investigations, fines, penalties and limitations on International Rectifier's ability to export product from the U.S., all of which could have a material effect on its financial result. Also, if these laws or regulations affecting exports change, they could adversely affect International Rectifier's ability to design, manufacture and sell many of its products of its HiRel business unit outside the U.S., and could thereby materially adversely affect International Rectifier's and therefore Infineon Group's business as a whole.

Infineon Group may not be able to protect its proprietary intellectual property and may be accused of infringing the intellectual property rights of others.

Infineon Group's success depends on its ability to obtain patents, licenses and other intellectual property rights covering Infineon Group's products and its design and manufacturing processes. The process of seeking patent protection can be long and expensive. Patents may not be granted on currently pending or future applications or may not be of sufficient scope or strength to provide Infineon Group with meaningful protection or commercial advantage. In addition, effective copyright, trademark and trade secret protection may be unavailable or limited in some countries, and Infineon Group's trade secrets may be vulnerable to disclosure or misappropriation by employees, contractors and other persons.

Competitors may also develop technologies that are protected by patents and other intellectual property rights. These technologies may therefore either be unavailable to Infineon Group or be made available to Infineon Group only on unfavorable terms.

Litigation, which could require significant financial and management resources, may be necessary to enforce Infineon Group's intellectual property rights or to defend against claims of infringement of intellectual property rights brought against Infineon Group. Lawsuits may have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business. Infineon Group may further be forced to stop producing substantially all or some of its products or to license the underlying technology upon economically unfavorable terms or Infineon Group may be required to pay damages for the prior use of third-party intellectual property.

Infineon Group is exposed to compliance risks.

Infineon Group is exposed to a large variety of compliance risks. Since Infineon Group's domestic and foreign management personnel retains a certain amount of operational and decision-making flexibility, Infineon Group cannot guarantee that its domestic and foreign management will not take actions, or, in particular cases, take fraudulent actions against Infineon Group, or experience problems that could, through damage to Infineon Group's reputation or otherwise, be detrimental to Infineon Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Furthermore, individual employees of Infineon Group could violate applicable laws, for example in the areas of antitrust and competition law as well as anticorruption laws. This is particularly true in case of acquisitions or portfolio decisions, where lack of knowledge or failure to make the people involved in such deals adequately aware of the issues increases the risk of non-compliance with anti-trust regulations. This can result in high levels of cost for work performed in-house and/or by external service providers and in settling fines. Infineon Group's reputation may also suffer damage under these circumstances.

A realization of Infineon Group's compliance risks could thus have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business operations, its financial condition and results of operations.

If Infineon Group fails to maintain effective internal controls or if risk management strategies are unsuccessful this could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business.

Effective internal controls are necessary for Infineon Group to provide reasonable assurance with respect to Infineon Group's financial reports and to effectively prevent financial fraud. Infineon Group is required to periodically evaluate the effectiveness of the design and operation of Infineon Group's internal controls. Internal controls over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements because of inherent limitations, including the possibility of human error or collusion, the circumvention or overriding of controls, or fraud. If Infineon Group fails to maintain an effective system of internal controls, Infineon Group's business and operating results could be harmed, and Infineon Group could fail to meet its reporting obligations, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business.

Reductions in government subsidies or demands for repayment of such subsidies could increase Infineon Group's reported expenses or limit its ability to fund capital expenditures.

Infineon Group's reported expenses have been reduced in recent years by various subsidies received from governmental entities. In particular, Infineon Group has received, and expects to continue to receive, subsidies for investment projects as well as for R&D projects. Infineon Group recognized governmental subsidies as a reduction of R&D expenses and cost of sales in an aggregate amount of EUR 78 million in the 2012 fiscal year, EUR 80 million in the 2013 fiscal year and EUR 105 million in the 2014 fiscal year.

As the general availability of government funding is outside Infineon Group's control, Infineon Group can provide no assurance that it will continue to benefit from such support, that sufficient alternative funding would be available if necessary or that any such alternative funding would be provided on terms as favorable to Infineon Group as those it currently receives. In addition, if certain conditions are not met or certain events occur, Infineon Group may have to repay the government subsidies that it has already received.

The application for and implementation of such subsidies often involves compliance with extensive regulatory requirements, including, in the case of subsidies to be granted within the European Union, notification to the European Commission of the contemplated grant prior to disbursement. In particular, establishment of compliance with project-related ceilings on aggregate subsidies defined under European Union law often involves highly complex economic evaluations. If Infineon Group fails to meet applicable requirements, it may not be able to receive the relevant subsidies or may be obliged to repay current or future subsidies, which could have a material adverse effect on Infineon Group's business.

The terms of certain of the subsidies Infineon Group has received impose conditions that may limit Infineon Group's flexibility to utilize subsidized facilities as it deems appropriate, to divert equipment to other facilities, to reduce employment at the site, or to use related intellectual property outside the European Union. This could impair Infineon Group's ability to operate its business in the manner Infineon Group believes to be most cost effective.

Risk Factors relating to the Notes

An investment in the Notes involves certain risks associated with the characteristics, specification and type of the Notes which could lead to substantial losses that Holders would have to bear in the case of selling their Notes or with regard to receiving interest payments and repayment of principal. Risks regarding the Notes comprise, inter alia, the following risks:

The Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

Each potential investor in the Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the Notes and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus, the Pricing Notice or any applicable supplement to the Prospectus;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation and the investment(s) it is considering, an investment in the Notes and the impact the investment in the Notes will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes, including where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- understand thoroughly the terms of the Notes and be familiar with the financial markets; and
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers prior to investing in the Notes to determine whether and to what extent (i) the Notes are permitted investments for it, (ii) where relevant, the Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing, and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of the Notes under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules. Each investor should also consider the tax consequences of investing in the Notes and consult its own tax advisers with respect to the acquisition, sale and redemption of the Notes in light of its personal situation.

The Notes do not have an established trading market and an active trading market for the Notes may not develop.

The Notes represent new issues of securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no established trading market. Although the Issuer intends to obtain admission of the Notes to trading on the regulated market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, there can be no assurance that such admission will be obtained or a market for the Notes will develop or, if it does develop, continue or that it will be liquid, thereby enabling investors to sell their Notes when desired, or at all, or at prices they find acceptable.

The development or continued liquidity of any secondary market for the Notes will be affected by a number of factors including the prevailing interest rates, the market for similar securities, general economic conditions and the creditworthiness of the Issuer as well as other factors such as the time remaining to maturity of the Notes, the outstanding amount of the Notes and the redemption features of the Notes. Such factors will also affect the market value of the Notes.

Investors may not be able to sell Notes readily or at prices that will enable investors to realize their anticipated yield. No investor should purchase Notes unless the investor understands and is able to bear the risk that the Notes may not be readily sellable, that the value of the Notes will fluctuate over time and that such fluctuations may be significant.

The Notes will be structurally subordinated to indebtedness of the subsidiaries of the Issuer.

The Notes will not be guaranteed by any of the subsidiaries of the Issuer. In the event of a liquidation, winding-up or dissolution or a bankruptcy, administration, reorganization, insolvency, receivership or similar proceeding of any subsidiary of the Issuer, such subsidiary will pay the holders of its own debt (including holders of third-party debt which such subsidiaries have guaranteed) before they would be able to distribute any of their assets to the Issuer. As a result, the Issuer may not have sufficient assets to make payments on the Notes, respectively.

The Notes will be effectively subordinated to Issuer's debt to the extent such debt is secured by assets or guarantees by subsidiaries of the Issuer that are not also securing the Notes.

The Notes will be effectively subordinated to the Issuer's debt to the extent such debt is secured by assets or by guarantees of subsidiaries of the Issuer that are not also securing the Notes. Although the Terms and Conditions require the Issuer to secure the Notes equally if it provides security for the benefit of Capital Market Indebtedness (as defined in the Terms and Conditions), the requirement to provide equal security to the Notes is subject to a number of significant exceptions and carve-outs as set out in detail in the Terms and Conditions included in this Prospectus. To the extent the Issuer or any of its subsidiaries provides security interest over their assets for the benefit of other debt without also securing the Notes, the Notes will be effectively junior to such debt to the extent of such assets. The same applies to debt incurred by the Issuer or any other member of Infineon Group which is guaranteed by a subsidiary of the Issuer. In each case, holders of (present or future) secured or guaranteed debt of the Issuer may recover disproportionately more on their claims than the Holders in an insolvency, bankruptcy or similar proceeding. The Issuer may not have sufficient assets remaining to make payments under the Notes.

The Notes are subject to a risk of early redemption, since the Issuer has the right to call each Tranche of Notes prior to maturity for reason of minimal outstanding amount or if the Issuer is required to pay additional amounts on the Notes for reasons of taxation.

The Issuer has the right to call each Tranche of Notes prior to maturity for reason of minimal outstanding amount in relation to such Tranche of Notes or if the Issuer is required to pay additional amounts (gross-up payments) on the Notes for reasons of taxation as set out in the Terms and Conditions. If the Issuer redeems the Notes prior to maturity a Holder is exposed to the risk that due to such early redemption his investment will have a lower than expected yield. Also, in case of an early redemption of the Notes, a Holder may only be able to reinvest on less favorable conditions as compared to the original investment.

Although the occurrence of specific change of control events will permit the Holders to require redemption or repurchase of the Notes, the Issuer may not be able to redeem or repurchase such Notes.

Upon the occurrence of specific change of control events, the Holders will have the right to require the redemption of all of their Notes at their principal amount, plus accrued and unpaid interest. The Issuer's ability to redeem Notes upon such a change of control event will be limited by its access to funds at the time of the redemption or repurchase. Upon a change of control event, the Issuer may be required to immediately repay the outstanding principal, any accrued interest on and any other amounts owed by it under other debt outstanding. The source of funds for these repayments would be the available cash or cash generated from other sources. However, there can be no assurance that there will be sufficient funds available upon a change of control event to make these repayments and any required redemption of the Notes.

The Terms and Conditions of each Tranche of Notes, including the terms of payment of principal and interest, can be amended by a Holders' resolutions and any such resolution will be binding for all Holders of the respective Tranche of Notes. Any such resolution may effectively be passed with the consent of less than a majority of the aggregate principal amount of any Tranche of Notes outstanding.

According to the Terms and Conditions and the German Act on Issues of Debt Securities of 2009 (Schuldverschreibungsgesetz, the "SchVG"), Holders of any Tranche of Notes can, by resolution, consent to amendments of the Terms and Conditions of such Tranche of Notes. Accordingly, although no obligation to make any payment or render any other performance may be imposed on any Holder, the Holders of any Tranche of Notes may, by resolution, among other things agree to:

- change the due date for payment of interest and reduce, or cancel interest;
- change the maturity date of the Notes or reduce the principal amount payable on the Notes;
- convert the Notes into, or exchange the Notes for, shares or other securities or obligations;
- change the currency of the Notes;
- waive or restrict Holders' rights to accelerate the Notes; or
- subordinate some or all of the claims under the Notes in an insolvency proceeding.

Under the SchVG and the Terms and Conditions of each Tranche of Notes, such amendments require a resolution of Holders holding in the aggregate at least 75 percent of the votes cast in respect of the respective Tranche of Notes. Subject to contestation in court, any such resolution will be binding on all Holders of the relevant Tranche of Notes.

The voting process under the Terms and Conditions will be governed in accordance with the SchVG, pursuant to which the required participation of Holder votes (quorum) is principally set at 50 percent of the aggregate principal amount of outstanding notes in the first Holders' meeting or a vote without meeting. In case there is no sufficient quorum in the first voting process, there is no minimum quorum requirement in a second meeting for voting on the same resolution (unless the resolution to be passed requires a qualified majority, in which case Holders representing at least 25 percent of outstanding notes by principal amount must participate in the meeting). As the relevant majority for Holders' resolutions is generally based on votes cast, rather than on principal amount of notes outstanding, the aggregate principal amount of notes required to vote in favor of an amendment will vary based on the Holders' votes participating. As a result, a Holder is subject to the risk of being outvoted and losing rights towards the Issuer against its will in the event that Holders holding a sufficient aggregate principal amount of the relevant Tranche of Notes participate in the vote and agree to amend the Terms and Conditions of such Tranche of Notes by majority vote in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Notes and the SchVG.

In case of certain events of default, each Tranche of Notes will only be redeemable if Holders of at least 10 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the respective Tranche of Notes then outstanding declare such Tranche of Notes due and payable. Such declaration of acceleration might be rescinded by majority resolution of the Holders of such Tranche of Notes.

The Terms and Conditions of each Tranche of Notes provide that, in case of certain events of default, any notice declaring the respective Tranche of Notes due and payable shall become effective only when the Principal Paying Agent has received such default notices from Holders representing at least 10 percent of the aggregate principal amount of such Tranche of Notes then outstanding. Under the SchVG, even if a default notice is given by a sufficient number of Holders of Notes, this could be rescinded by majority resolution of the Holders of such Tranche of Notes within three months. A simple majority of votes would be sufficient for a resolution on the rescission of such acceleration but, in any case, more Holders would have to consent to a rescission than have delivered default notices.

Holders should be aware that, as a result, they may not be able to accelerate their Notes upon the occurrence of certain events of default, unless the required quorum of Holders with respect to the respective Tranche of Notes delivers default notices and such acceleration is not rescinded by majority resolution of the Holders of such Tranche of Notes.

Since no Holders' Representative will be appointed as from the issue date of the Notes, it will be more difficult for Holders to take collective action with respect to the Notes.

No initial Holders' Representative will be appointed under the Terms and Conditions of any Tranche of Notes. Any appointment of a Holders' Representative post issuance for any Tranche of Notes will, therefore, require a majority resolution of the Holders of each Tranche of Notes. If the appointment of a Holders' Representative is delayed, this will make it more difficult for Holders to take collective action to enforce their rights under the Notes.

It is possible that a Holder may be deprived in its individual right to pursue and enforce its rights under the Terms and Conditions if such right was passed on a Holders' Representative.

If a Holders' Representative will be appointed by majority decision of the Holders of any Tranche of Notes it is possible that a Holder may be deprived of its individual right to pursue and enforce its rights under the Terms and Conditions against the Issuer, if such right was passed to the Holders' Representative by majority vote for the respective Tranche of Notes who is then exclusively responsible to claim and enforce the rights of all the Holders of such Tranche.

The market value of the Notes could decrease if the creditworthiness of the Issuer worsens or is perceived to worsen.

If, for example, because of the materialization of any of the risks regarding Infineon Group, the Issuer is less likely to be in a position to fully perform all obligations under the Notes when they fall due, the market value of the Notes will suffer. In addition, even if the Issuer is not actually less likely to be in a position to fully perform all obligations under the Notes when they fall due, market participants could nevertheless have a different perception. In addition, the market participants' estimation of the creditworthiness of corporate debtors in general or debtors operating in the same business areas as Infineon Group could adversely change.

Also, changes in accounting standards may lead to adjustments in the relevant accounting positions of Infineon Group which could have an adverse effect on Infineon Group's financial condition and could impact the market value of the Notes.

If any of these risks occurs, third parties would only be willing to purchase Notes for a lower price than before the materialization of the relevant risk. Under these circumstances, the market value of the Notes would decrease.

The Notes bear specific risks typical for fixed rate notes.

The Notes are fixed rate notes. Therefore, each Holder is particularly exposed to the risk that the price of the Notes falls as a result of changes in market interest rates. While the nominal interest rate of the Notes as specified in the Terms and Conditions is fixed during the term of the Notes, the current market interest rates typically change on a daily basis. As the market interest rates changes, the price of fixed rate notes also changes, but in the opposite direction. If the market interest rate increases, the price of fixed rate notes typically decreases, until the yield of such notes is approximately equal to the market interest rate of comparable issues. If the market interest rate decreases, the price of fixed rate notes typically increases, until the yield of such notes is approximately equal to the market interest rate. However, notwithstanding the factors described above, the Issuer is obliged to redeem the Notes at their principal amount at maturity.

The trading market for debt securities may be volatile and may be adversely impacted by many events.

The market for debt securities issued by the Issuer is influenced by a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political conditions and events in Germany and other jurisdictions in which Infineon Group is active as well as economic conditions and, to varying degrees, market conditions, interest rates, currency exchange rates and inflation rates in other European and other industrialized countries. There can be no assurance that events in Germany, Europe or elsewhere will not cause market volatility or that such volatility will not adversely affect the market price of the Notes or that economic and market conditions will not have any other adverse effect. Accordingly, the price at which an investor in the Notes will be able to sell the Notes prior to maturity may be at a discount, which could be substantial, from the issue price of the Notes or the purchase price paid by such investor.

No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change of laws or administrative practices after the date of this Prospectus.

The Terms and Conditions are based on the laws of Germany in effect as at the date of this Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to the laws of Germany or administrative practice or the official application or interpretation of German law after the date of this Prospectus.

The Notes are subject to exchange rate risks and exchange controls

The Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes in Euro. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than Euro. These include the risk that exchange rates may change significantly (including changes due to devaluation of Euro or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Euro would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (ii) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (iii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent market value of the Notes. Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

Investors are subject to tax risks.

Potential purchasers of the Notes should be aware that stamp duty and other taxes and/or charges may be levied in accordance with the laws and practices in the countries where the Notes are transferred and other relevant jurisdictions. The summaries set out under the heading "TAXATION" discuss only specific tax considerations, and they do not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations in any particular jurisdiction which may be relevant to a decision to purchase the Notes. Potential purchasers of the Notes should note that the tax treatment of payments in respect of the Notes may be different (and in some cases significantly different) from that set out in those summaries. Potential purchasers of the Notes who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their own independent tax advisers. In addition, potential purchasers should be aware that tax regulations and their application by the relevant taxation authorities may change from time to time (see "TAXATION – EU Savings Directive"). Accordingly, it is not possible to predict the precise tax treatment of the Notes which will apply at any given time.

The Notes are subject to inflation risks.

The inflation risk is the risk of future money depreciation. The real yield from an investment is reduced by inflation. The higher the rate of inflation, the lower the real yield on a Note. If the inflation rate is equal to or higher than the nominal yield, the real yield is zero or even negative.

The Notes are subject to transaction costs and charges.

When Notes are purchased or sold, several types of incidental costs (including transaction fees and commissions) are incurred in addition to the purchase or sale price of the Note. These incidental costs may significantly reduce or eliminate any profit from holding the Notes. Credit institutions as a rule charge commissions which are either fixed minimum commissions or pro-rata commissions, depending on the order value. To the extent that additional – domestic or foreign – parties are involved in the execution of an order, including, but not limited to, domestic dealers or brokers in foreign markets, Holders may also be charged for the brokerage fees, commissions and other fees and expenses of such parties (third party costs).

In addition to such costs directly related to the purchase of securities (direct costs), potential investors must also take into account any follow-up costs (such as custody fees). Potential investors should inform themselves about any additional costs incurred in connection with the purchase, custody or sale of the Notes before investing in the Notes.

Because the Global Notes are held by or on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the Issuer.

The Notes will be represented by one or more Global Notes. Such Global Notes will be deposited with a common safekeeper for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (together, the "ICSDs"). Investors will not be entitled to receive definitive Notes. The ICSDs will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Global Notes. While the Notes are represented by one or more Global Notes, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the ICSDs and the Issuer will discharge its payment obligations under the Notes by making payments to or to the order of the common safekeeper for the ICSDs for distribution to their account holders. A holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of the ICSDs to receive payments under the Notes. The Issuer has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of beneficial interests in the Global Notes.

Risks in relation to FATCA

Whilst the Notes are in global form and held within the ICSDs, it is not expected that the reporting regime and potential withholding tax imposed by Sections 1471 through 1474 (including any agreements under Section 1471(b)) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, certain intergovernmental agreements relating thereto, or laws implementing any foregoing (collectively "FATCA") will affect the amount of any payment received by the ICSDs. However, FATCA may affect payments made to custodians or intermediaries in the subsequent payment chain leading to the ultimate investor if any such custodian or intermediary is not entitled (or has failed to establish its eligibility) to receive payments free of FATCA withholding. It also may affect payment to any ultimate investor that is a financial institution that is not entitled to receive payments free of withholding under FATCA, or an ultimate investor that fails to provide its broker (or other custodian or intermediary from which it receives payment) with any information, forms, other documentation or consents that may be necessary for the payments to be made free of FATCA withholding. Investors should choose the custodians or intermediaries with care (to ensure each is compliant with FATCA or other laws or agreements related to FATCA) and provide each custodian or intermediary with any information, forms, other documentation or consents that may be necessary for such custodian or intermediary to make a payment free of FATCA withholding. Investors should consult their own tax adviser to obtain a more detailed explanation of FATCA and how FATCA may affect them. The Issuer's obligations under the Notes are discharged once it has paid the common depository or common safekeeper for the ICSDs (as bearer of the Notes) and the Issuer has therefore no responsibility for any amount thereafter transmitted through the ICSDs and subsequent custodians or intermediaries.

USE OF PROCEEDS

In connection with the offering of the Notes, the Issuer will receive net proceeds of EUR [●], consisting of (i) approximately EUR [●] with respect to the Tranche 1 Notes (representing the issue price of the Tranche 1 Notes after deduction of the fees of up to 0.50 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 1 Notes to be paid in connection with the offer of the Tranche 1 Notes to the Joint Lead Managers) and of (ii) approximately EUR [●] with respect to the Tranche 2 Notes (representing the issue price of the Tranche 2 Notes after deduction of the fees of up to 0.60 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 2 Notes to be paid in connection with the offer of the Tranche 2 Notes to the Joint Lead Managers), less (iii) the other expenses incurred in connection with the issue of the Notes of approximately EUR 420,000.

The Issuer intends to use these proceeds to repay loans entered into for financing the acquisition of International Rectifier (see "INFORMATION ABOUT INFINEON – Acquisition of International Rectifier" below) and for general corporate purposes.

The issue proceeds will be included in the Pricing Notice (as defined in "SUBSCRIPTION, SALE AND OFFER OF THE NOTES" below) which will be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu) on or prior to the Issue Date of the Notes.

INFORMATION ABOUT INFINEON

General

Infineon is a stock corporation (Aktiengesellschaft) organized under German law. It was incorporated in March 1999, when the semiconductor operations of the then parent company Siemens AG were spun off to form a separate legal entity.

Already as part of the group of Siemens AG and its subsidiaries ("Siemens Group"), Infineon has been at the forefront of the development, manufacture and marketing of semiconductors starting in 1952 when the production of modern transistors was taken up in the Siemens electron tube factory in Munich. The transistor effect had only been discovered and the first germanium and silicon semiconductor elements had only been developed four years before, by Siemens among others. In 1999, the Siemens semiconductors group was spun off of the Siemens Group to form Infineon Group. Infineon Technologies AG was listed on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange in March 2000. Starting in 2001, Siemens AG gradually reduced its stake in Infineon and completed its divestment in March 2006.

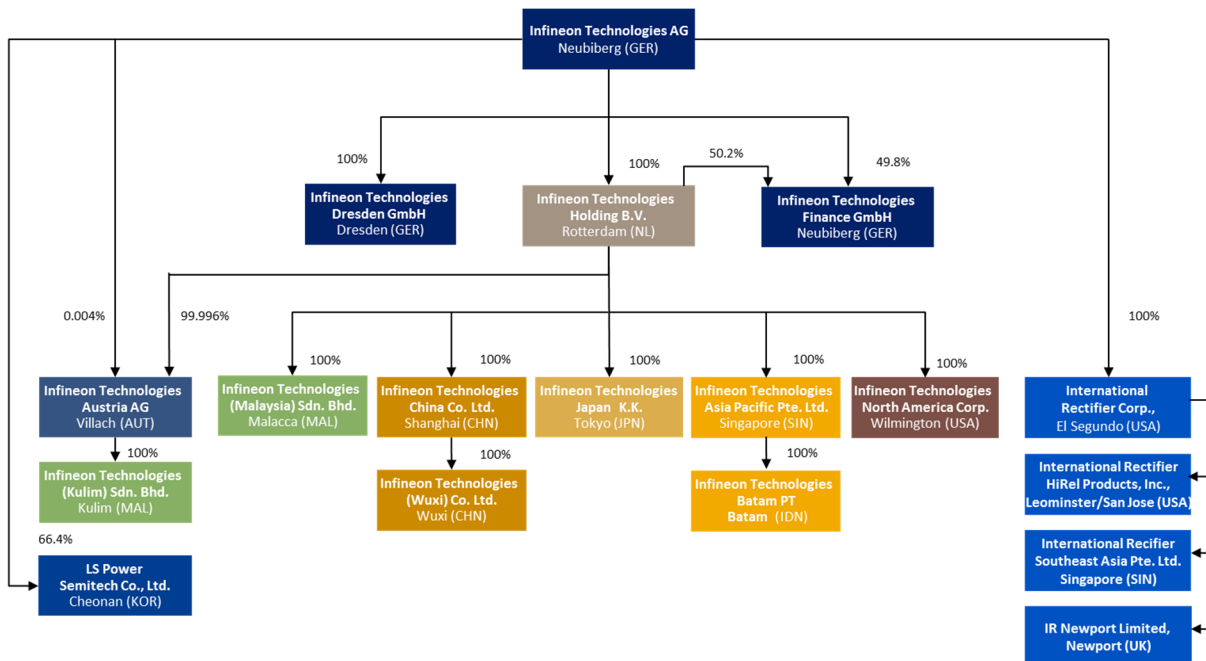

Infineon's registered office is in Neubiberg, Germany. It is registered with the commercial register of the District Court (Amtsgericht) of Munich under registration number HRB 126492. "Infineon Technologies AG" is the legal name and "Infineon" is the commercial name of the Issuer.

Infineon's principal office is located at Am Campeon 1-12, 85579 Neubiberg, Germany; its telephone number is: +49 89 234-0.

Organizational Structure

Infineon is the parent company of Infineon Group, with 97 subsidiaries and affiliated companies (including minority holdings but excluding Qimonda AG i.L. and its affiliates) incorporated in jurisdictions throughout Europe and Asia, as well as in the Americas and Australia (as of February 18, 2015).

Acquisition of International Rectifier

In August 2014, Infineon and International Rectifier Corporation entered into a merger agreement. Under the terms of the merger agreement, Infineon has acquired International Rectifier Corporation and its subsidiaries ("International Rectifier") by means of a merger transaction. International Rectifier Corporation shareholders received USD 40 in cash for each share of common stock. This represents a premium of 50.6 percent over the closing share price on the day prior to signing and a premium of 47.7 percent over the average closing share prices over the three-month period ended on that day. At this price, the fully diluted equity consideration amounted to USD 3.0 billion. Net of the value of International Rectifier's cash and cash equivalents of USD 0.6 billion as of June 30, 2014, the fully diluted enterprise value corresponded to approximately USD 2.4 billion. The acquisition was completed on January 13, 2015. Please see a description of the business of International Rectifier under "Business Overview – Principal Activities of Infineon and Infineon Group – International Rectifier", for the financing of the International Rectifier acquisition see "Material Financings".

Business Overview

Principal Activities of Infineon and Infineon Group

General Overview

Infineon Group designs, develops, manufactures and markets a broad range of semiconductors and systems solutions. The focus of its activities is on automotive electronics, industrial and multimarket electronics and chip card-based security. Infineon Group's products are used in a wide variety of applications such as automobiles, electric drives, computer systems, telecommunication systems and consumer goods. The product range comprises standard components, customer-specific solutions for devices and systems, as well as specific components for digital, analogue, and mixed-signal applications. As of September 30, 2014, more than half of Infineon Group's revenue was generated by power semiconductors, about a fifth by embedded control products (microcontrollers for automotive and industrial applications as well as security controllers), and the remainder by radio-frequency components and other product categories. Infineon Group's operations and customers are located mainly in Europe, Asia and North America.

Infineon Group organizes its business operations in four main operating segments: Automotive, Industrial Power Control, Power Management & Multimarket and Chip Card & Security. The Automotive segment designs, develops, manufactures and markets semiconductors for use in automotive applications. The Industrial Power Control segment designs, develops, manufactures and markets semiconductors and system solutions primarily for the use in industrial electronics applications. The Power Management & Multimarket segment designs, develops, manufactures and markets power semiconductors for the use in power supplies as well as components for mobile devices and cellular network infrastructure. The Chip Card & Security segment designs, develops, manufactures and markets various contact-based and contactless security controllers for chip card and security applications.

According to IHS¹, in the calendar year 2013 Infineon Group was ranked number 12 in the worldwide semiconductor market with a total market size of USD 323 billion. Infineon was further ranked number 2 among all EMEA-headquartered semiconductor companies, and was ranked number 1 among all Germany-headquartered semiconductor companies.

According to Strategy Analytics², Infineon Group was ranked number 2 in the automotive semiconductor market in the calendar year 2013 with a market share based on revenues of 9.6 percent. According to IHS Inc.³, Infineon Group was ranked number 1 in the calendar year 2013 in the power semiconductor market for discretely and modules, but excluding power ICs (Integrated Circuits), with a market share based on revenues of 12.3 percent. According to IHS Inc.⁴, Infineon Group was ranked number 1 in the standard MOSFET (Metal-Oxide-Semiconductor Field-Effect Transistor) power transistors market in the calendar year 2013 with a market share based on revenues of 13.6 percent. According to IHS Inc.⁵, Infineon Group was ranked number 2 in the microcontroller-based chip card ICs market in the calendar year 2013 with a market share based on revenues of 21.7 percent.

In the 2014 fiscal year (ending September 30, 2014), Infineon reported revenues of EUR 4,320 million (2013 fiscal year: EUR 3,843 million) with 29,807 employees worldwide as of September 30, 2014 of which about 13,100 were based in Europe, about 16,100 were based in Asia-Pacific (incl. Japan), and about 600 were based in the USA (26,725 employees worldwide as of September 30, 2013). Infineon Group operates 12 manufacturing sites in 8 countries and 21 design centers in 11 countries.

On January 13, 2015, Infineon completed the acquisition of International Rectifier. International Rectifier was founded in 1947 and designs, develops, manufactures and markets a broad range of power semiconductors, ICs and systems solutions. The focus of its activities is on automotive electronics, industrial electronics, home appliances, and high-reliability components.

For the timeframe October 1, 2013 through September 30, 2014 (adjusted to the Infineon fiscal year), International Rectifier reported revenues of USD 1,124 million. Assuming an exchange rate of USD 1.35 for EUR 1.00, this revenue translated into EUR 833 million. International Rectifier has a presence in 20 countries worldwide with 8 manufacturing sites, 11 design centers, and 19 sales offices.

Megatrends

In offering semiconductor and system solutions Infineon is addressing three central challenges to modern society: energy efficiency, mobility and security, which in Infineon's view are the sources for the continued increase in demand for Infineon Group's products.

Megatrend Energy Efficiency

Regulatory requirements around the globe aimed at reducing CO₂ emissions have an impact on multiple industries, for example fuel consumption limits for vehicles, efficiency of electrical industrial motors, and also influence the targets set for expanding renewable energy sources. For example, an EU regulation requires fleet average CO₂ emissions for passenger cars to be reduced from 2014 level by about 30 percent by 2021. In order to achieve this target, electricity-consuming applications in cars are expected to become more efficient, and hydraulic, mechanical and/or electromechanical solutions are envisaged to be displaced by more efficient semiconductor-based solutions. Moreover, the proportion of electric and hybrid vehicles in car manufacturers' fleets are also expected to increase. These trends are expected to result in higher semiconductor content, for example per vehicle but also in other industries, particularly in terms of power semiconductors, but also microcontrollers and sensors. Moreover, approximately two thirds of the worldwide electricity consumption in industry is attributable to electric drives. The scope for realizing savings and reducing CO₂ emissions through efficiency improvements in electric drives is therefore substantial.

Further, various legislation, e.g. the EU Electric Motors Regulation (EC 640/2009), stipulates a new efficiency level for new electric industrial drives. One option to reduce the amount of energy consumed by an electric motor is to use so-called "variable speed drives", which requires a high number of power semiconductors of the type offered by Infineon Group.

Another factor contributing to Infineon Group's business is the need of multiple industries to raise productivity, which is achieved, among others, by means of increased levels of automation. This automation, in turn, increases the number of electronically controlled electric motors required.

Due to a growing world population as well as better standards of living consumption of electric power is constantly increasing. In order to reduce CO₂ emissions, Europe, the USA, China and Japan have set targets for expanding renewable energy resources. Infineon Group aims to profit from the construction of wind and photovoltaic power stations since they require a much higher number and value of power semiconductors than conventional power plants.

Megatrend Mobility

Human mobility requirements regarding individual mobility as well as mass transit systems represent a major challenge for modern society. Infineon Group supplies semiconductor solutions for the automotive industry as well as for various train systems from high-speed trains to trams, thus facilitating low-emission mobility of people.

Sustainable mobility both within and between megacities is the driving force for the expansion of public transportation systems. Train systems are one of the fields of application benefitting from this trend.

As a result of increasing prosperity in the emerging economies, more and more people are able to afford their own car. This trend is particularly evident in Asia's emerging economies and especially in China.

In addition, the features built into vehicles play a major role in determining the average semiconductor content per vehicle. An increase in features in vehicles can be observed across all regions and vehicle classes. Safety and comfort features such as new active safety devices and advanced driver assistance systems are increasing the average semiconductor content per vehicle.

Megatrend Security

In the past, mainly end-user devices such as PCs, notebooks and mobile devices were linked to the information networks. In recent years, however, more devices and functions have been enabled to exchange data and work via the Internet and have become integrated in the "Internet of Things". This includes, inter alia, machines, robots, vehicles, containers and medical equipment. New devices are expected to be designed to exchange electronic data with partners or other devices in what has come to be known as M2M (machine-to-machine) communication. Secure storage and transfer of data will be absolutely essential.

In case of autonomous driving – including semi-autonomous driving systems already developed – vehicles also communicate directly with each other (car-to-car communication), as well as with centralized systems (car-to-infrastructure communication). The use of web applications in vehicles will increase sharply and it is essential that communication is secure.

Moreover, hardware-based security similar to the one Infineon Group offers shows growth potential in the fields of automation technology for production, logistics, traffic guidance systems, building or home automation. Hardware-based security can take the form of an individual component or the incorporation of the relevant function in automotive or industrial microcontrollers.

Also "classic" applications such as credit cards offer opportunities for further growth. China and the USA, for instance, are currently changing from a magnet-strip-based credit card system to a chip-based system as chip-based cards increase the security of cashless payment systems.

Safeguarding the integrity of computers is another field of application for Infineon Group's security chips which offers a broad spectrum of solutions ranging from the simple secure memory on a plastic card to sophisticated solutions based on security controllers. Certain security components can even check the authenticity of original parts and/or components.

Infineon Group's Segments

Infineon Group organizes its operations in the following four main segments. The operations of International Rectifier will complement Infineon Group's business as described below.

The Automotive segment

Business description

Infineon Group is one of the few semiconductor manufacturers for automotive applications that covers, in Infineon's view, the most important established applications in vehicles, with a very broad product portfolio of microcontrollers, sensors, radio-frequency and particularly radar components as well as discrete power semiconductors (which handle higher voltages and higher currents than standard semiconductors) and power ICs. Due to the acquisition of International Rectifier, the Automotive segment's product portfolio will be extended primarily in the field of power MOSFETs, IGBTs (Insulated-Gate Bipolar Transistor), intelligent power switches, and driver ICs.

With the above mentioned product categories, Infineon Group serves major application segments: powertrain, chassis and comfort electronics as well as safety applications. Infineon believes that the field of security will also gain significantly in importance going forward. Fields of applications comprise:

- Chassis and comfort electronics: air conditioning, door electronics, electronic control units, electronic seat adjustment, hatchback, lighting, power windows, steering, sunroof, suspension, and windshield wipers;
- Electric and hybrid vehicles: battery management, battery fast-charging control, and motor control;
- Powertrain: alternator control, engine control, start-stop system and transmission control;
- Safety: ABS (Anti-Blocking System), ADAS (Advanced Driver Assistance Systems), airbags, electronically controlled chassis suspension, electronic power steering, ESC (Electronic Stability Control), radar-based distance warning, and tire pressure monitoring system;
- Security: digital tachograph, communication (car-to-car, car-to-infrastructure), manipulation protection (tuning, tachometer), and original spare parts authentication.

The activities in the Automotive segment focus on the following topics:

- Environmental friendliness: Development of microcontrollers, sensors and power electronics for control systems, in particular for drive systems and with the necessity to comply with increasingly stringent emission standards in mind.
- Safety: Infineon Group designs products for a large number of active and passive safety applications that help reduce the number and the severity of traffic accidents, the long-term goal being zero traffic accidents and related injuries. Moreover, Infineon Group is developing technologies building the base for autonomous driving.
- Security: In order to guarantee the functioning of safety applications in increasingly connected vehicles, encryption technologies will be needed to an ever greater degree. The globally leading security expertise provided by the Chip Card & Security segment of Infineon Group is helping to address these trends.
- Regions: Infineon Group is stepping up efforts to enhance its regional presence, particularly in China and Japan as, in the latter case, the automotive supply industry strives to procure its components on an increasingly global scale.

Key customers in the Automotive segment include: Bosch, Continental, Delphi, Hyundai and Tesla Motors.

Infineon Group recorded revenue of EUR 1,965 million for the Automotive segment in the 2014 fiscal year, an improvement of 14.6 percent on the 2013 fiscal year's figure of EUR 1,714 million. The Automotive segment generated 45.5 percent of Infineon Group's revenue in the 2014 fiscal year. The Segment Result⁶ totaled EUR 259 million in the 2014 fiscal year, 55.1 percent up in comparison to the ⁶ Segment Result is defined as operating income (loss) excluding: asset impairments (net of reversals); the impact on earnings of restructuring and closures; share-based compensation expense; acquisition-related depreciation/amortization and other expenses; gains (losses) on sales of assets, businesses, or interests in subsidiaries as well as other income (expense), including litigation costs. Segment Result is the indicator that Infineon uses to evaluate the operating performance of its segments.

EUR 167 million recorded in the 2013 fiscal year. The Segment Result Margin⁷ in the 2014 fiscal year amounted to 13.2 percent.

Trends

Infineon Group identified three major trends which are expected to determine the development of automotive technology: low-emission vehicles including hybrid and electric vehicles, safe vehicles with particular focus on ADAS and security in increasingly connected vehicles.

The first trend relates to the fact that legislators in the major automotive regions of Europe, North America, Japan and China, introduced binding CO₂ emission targets that will come into effect from 2020, expected to result in the development of vehicles, equipment and machinery that are designed to become more efficient. With regard to low-emission vehicles, Infineon Group contributes to the electrification of main and auxiliary power units and supplies the appropriate automotive electronics. Furthermore, Infineon Group products are designed to increase efficiency for many existing electricity-consuming systems in internal combustion engine vehicles, which contributes towards reduced power and hence fuel consumption and therefore results in reduced CO₂ emissions.

The second trend relates to safety standards for vehicles which are constantly becoming more stringent. Car manufacturers are thus adding more and more safety features to their vehicles, which fosters the market penetration of ADAS. In many ADAS, radar is a key technology. Infineon provides crucial components for this technology which is involved, for example, in pedestrian recognition, distance warning and blind spot detection.

The third trend relates to security in increasingly connected cars. In order to guarantee the functioning of the above-mentioned safety applications in increasingly connected vehicles, Infineon expects that an increased amount of encryption technologies will be needed. Infineon Group uses the security expertise provided by the Chip Card & Security segment to address these trends.

The Industrial Power Control segment

Business description

The Industrial Power Control segment offers semiconductor products throughout the supply chain of the energy industry, i.e. from the generation of electronic power via the transmission to the consumer, and finally the conversion. In particular, the increase in power density, i.e. the electrical power converted within a certain space, is crucial for the progress in power devices. Infineon Group believes to be an innovation leader in the field of power semiconductors and strives to maintain this position.

The Industrial Power Control segment's product portfolio comprises discrete IGBT devices, IGBT modules and IGBT stacks, as well as driver ICs and driver boards for controlling IGBT modules and covers practically the entire power range from a few hundred watts to several megawatts. In particular, the Industrial Power Control segment is developing its IGBT module portfolio selectively with applications in the lower power range from 100 to 2,000 watts, as used, for example, in air conditioners, washing machines and industrial drives. As a result of the acquisition of International Rectifier, the Industrial Power Control segment will be complemented with International Rectifier's compact IGBT modules, which are used mainly in industrial applications.

Applications of the semiconductor products of the Industrial Power Control segment include:

- Charging stations for electric vehicles;
- Energy transmission: FACTS (Flexible AC Transmission Systems) and offshore wind farm HVDC (High-Voltage Direct Current) lines;
- Home appliances: air conditioning, induction cooking, induction rice cookers, microwave ovens, and washing machines;

⁷ Segment Result Margin is calculated as the percentage of Segment Result in relation to revenue.

- Industrial drives (motors, pumps, fans, compressors): air conditioning, automation technology, conveyor technology, drives, elevators, escalators, and materials handling;
- Industrial vehicles: agricultural vehicles, forklifts, heavy construction vehicles, hybrid buses, and mining vehicles;
- Renewable energy generation: photovoltaic systems and wind turbines;
- Traction: high-speed trains, locomotives, metro trains and trams;
- Uninterruptible power supplies.

Key customers in the Industrial Power Control segment include: ABB, Beijing Jingchuan, Bombardier, Siemens and Vestas.

In the 2014 fiscal year, Infineon Group recorded revenue of EUR 783 million in the Industrial Power Control segment, which is 20.3 percent more than the previous year's figure of EUR 651 million. The Industrial Power Control segment generated 18.1 percent of Infineon Group's revenue in the 2014 fiscal year. The Segment Result amounted to EUR 144 million in the 2014 fiscal year, an increase by 278.9 percent compared to the EUR 38 million in the 2013 fiscal year. The Segment Result Margin in the 2014 fiscal year amounted to 18.4 percent. About half of the revenue of the Industrial Power Control segment was generated in the Asia-Pacific region, especially in China where the government launched various infrastructure programs.

Trends

IGBT power components are found in an increasing number of applications: a) electrification of high-power vehicles such as agricultural, construction and mining vehicles is constantly growing, b) railways run almost exclusively on electrified lines, c) power generation via renewable energies is gaining importance, and d) the penetration rate of electronically controlled motors, so-called "variable speed drives", is steadily increasing. Infineon Group is striving to develop new products for this broad range of applications, for example by introducing new IGBT modules and driver ICs for electric motors including variable speed drives. Infineon believes that regarding renewable energy, China and the U.S. are new growth regions while the so-called repowering, i.e. the replacement of older and smaller wind turbines by modern and more powerful ones, is gaining importance in Europe. Infineon Group has furthermore developed discrete IGBT devices to meet the specific needs of induction cookers. Infineon Group is working on new applications including the charging infrastructure for electric vehicles and energy storage systems.

With respect to efficient power semiconductors for increasingly compact power supplies and controls, new materials are becoming more and more important, such as silicon carbide (SiC). Since 2001, Infineon Group is marketing SiC-based products. Main fields of application for SiC components are currently photovoltaic inverters, switch mode power supplies for servers over 600 watts and uninterruptible power supplies. Going forward, Infineon expects that inverters for variable speed drives and, in the long term, traction will also be potential fields of application for SiC components.

The Power Management & Multimarket segment

Business description

The Power Management & Multimarket segment offers all of the main components for the power supply in various electronic devices in the fields of IT and telecommunications infrastructure, computing, consumer electronics and mobile devices. The product portfolio offered includes low-voltage and high-voltage power transistors, driver ICs and control ICs, addressing a power range from 10 watts to 3 kilowatts.

Due to the acquisition of International Rectifier, the Power Management & Multimarket segment's product portfolio will be extended in the field of low-voltage power transistors in largely complementary fields of application, in digital power management solutions for DC/DC conversion, and lastly in the area of highly reliable components used, for example, in aircraft, satellites, and medical devices.

With regard to mobile devices, the Power Management & Multimarket segment supplies special components such as chips for silicon microphones, RF (Radio Frequency) antenna modules, LNAs (Low-Noise Amplifiers) for satellite navigation and small-signal components such as TVS (Transient Voltage Suppressor) diodes. In addition, the Power Management & Multimarket segment supplies RF power amplifiers for cellular infrastructure.

The Power Management & Multimarket segment has five major fields of application:

- Cellular network infrastructure;
- Light management systems and LED lighting systems;
- Micro inverters for photovoltaic rooftop systems;
- Mobile devices: navigation devices, smartphones, and tablets;
- Power supplies for: consumer electronics, IT and telecommunications, PCs and notebooks, servers, smartphones, and tablets.

Key customers in the Power Management & Multimarket segment include: Delta, Ericsson, Huawei, Samsung and ZTE.

In the 2014 fiscal year, the Power Management & Multimarket segment generated revenue totaling EUR 1,061 million, which is 7.5 percent more than the revenue of EUR 987 million recorded in the 2013 fiscal year. The Power Management & Multimarket segment generated 24.6 percent of Infineon Group's revenue in the 2014 fiscal year. The Segment Result totaled EUR 172 million in the 2014 fiscal year, 19.4 percent up in comparison to the figure of EUR 144 million recorded in the 2013 fiscal year. The Segment Result Margin in the 2014 fiscal year amounted to 16.2 percent.

Trends

With regard to power supplies two trends are observed by Infineon Group: first, their efficiency is expected to increase due to regulatory targets, and second, especially in the case of chargers for smartphones and tablets, their size and weight become increasingly important as well as improving the ability to charge at fast rates. Consequently, power density is becoming a decisive parameter. Infineon Group intends to play a key role in these two development trends on the basis of its two innovative digital power management solutions: first, a digital power management solution for AC/DC conversion (which converts the alternating current to direct current in the process of supplying power to electrical devices) and second, a digital power management concept for DC/DC conversion (when the direct current is precisely adapted to the requirements of the point of load).

Gallium nitride (GaN) is a compound material offering new properties resulting in greater efficiency in AC/DC power conversion. GaN-based transistors are, therefore, used at higher frequencies (compared with standard silicon transistors) and can be exploited to reduce the size of the overall system. International Rectifier has developed a leading expertise in GaN-based switches and associated ICs.

The demand for smartphones and tablets is growing rapidly. Infineon Group supplies components for various functions, for example RF switches in CMOS (Complementary Metal Oxide Semiconductor) technology for switching between various signal paths and LNAs for satellite navigation with high signal sensitivity. Also, Infineon expects that the acoustic performance will become more important with the number of microphones per device increasing. Infineon Group is focusing on chips for silicon microphones: MEMS sensor with microphone membrane and application-specific IC for signal conversion; manufactured to increase sensitivity and at the same time improve resilience to vibrations and shock.

The growing number of mobile devices entails a need to adapt the mobile communications network infrastructure to cope with the increasing data volumes. The continually more advanced transmission standards (for example the world-wide roll-out of LTE networks) are raising the speed and throughput of data transmission. In this field, Infineon Group offers RF power transistors to be installed in the base stations to downstream data to the mobile devices.

The Chip Card & Security segment

The Chip Card & Security segment accounted for 11.4 percent of Infineon Group revenue in the 2014 fiscal year. The Segment Result amounted to EUR 43 million in the 2014 fiscal year, an increase of 10.3 percent compared to EUR 39 million in the 2013 fiscal year. The Segment Result Margin amounted to 8.7 percent in the 2014 fiscal year.

Trends

Alongside its activities in the conventional chip card application fields, such as payment cards, SIM cards for mobile communication and security solutions for passports and ID cards, Infineon Group intends to focus on applications in which the security aspect is of increasing importance, including mobile payments with NFC technology, the security of electronic devices in connected systems and the several applications of authentication. While chip-based payment cards were introduced in Europe years ago, this trend is now also gaining ground in China and the USA. In both markets, Infineon Group technology is widely accepted and Infineon Group managed to secure orders from nearly all main card manufacturers in the US market. Government identification documents are also increasingly equipped with security chips. Infineon Group supplies over 70 percent of all government ID projects in Europe and is one of the main suppliers of security technology for the USA's electronic passports (according to Infineon's estimates).

By means of NFC technology numerous functions and applications can be implemented in mobile devices, such as ticketing and payment services. Offering various security concepts Infineon Group provides the security chip for these purposes and forecasts growing demand in this area. Infineon Group also estimates that high-end SIM cards will become increasingly popular. Furthermore, it sees a large market potential in authentication chips, i.e. its OPTIGA™ product family which serves to safeguard electronic systems from security breaches.

Other Operating Segments

Other Operating Segments comprises the remaining activities of businesses that have been disposed of, and other business activities. Since the closing of the sale of the Wireline Communications business in 2009 and the Wireless mobile phone business in 2011, sales to Lantiq and Intel Mobile Communications under the corresponding production agreements, other than those assigned to discontinued operations, are included in this segment.

Integration of International Rectifier

While the product and technology portfolios of Infineon Group and International Rectifier overlap to some degree, thereby offering synergy potential, Infineon Group sees particular and complementing strengths on both sides. Infineon Group believes to be strong in high-voltage IGBTs and in high-power IGBT modules. By contrast, International Rectifier's IGBT offering focuses on low-voltage IGBTs and low-power IGBT modules. In addition, Infineon believes that International Rectifier adds valuable driver and control capabilities to Infineon Group's IGBT portfolio. International Rectifier's low-power IPMs combine motor control, drivers and switches in highly compact packages. With regard to power MOSFET devices, International Rectifier provides a large portfolio of low- and medium-voltage MOSFETs that complements Infineon Group's offering in high-voltage MOSFETs. In general, International Rectifier adds a complementary package portfolio and packaging know-how.

Both companies are pioneering digital control ICs for DC/DC conversion, albeit with a slightly different application focus. While Infineon Group's strength so far lies in server applications, International Rectifier holds a strong position in non-server applications such as graphic cards, networking and cellular network infrastructure.

International Rectifier provides also know-how regarding wide-bandgap materials. Given Infineon Group's focus on high-power, it has been driving the development of power management solutions based on silicon carbide. International Rectifier, by contrast, with a focus on lower power, has developed a leading capability in gallium nitride (GaN) switches and associated ICs. In addition, International Rectifier brings a large and valuable patent portfolio for the development and manufacturing of cost-efficient GaN power transistors on silicon wafers. After the acquisition of International Rectifier, Infineon Group believes to be the market leader in power products based on compound semiconductors, both in SiC-based and GaN-based products.

Finally, the acquisition of International Rectifier represents an opportunity to complement Infineon Group's portfolio of power semiconductors. International Rectifier's HiRel business unit provides high-reliability components with a meaningful footprint in this field of products, whereas Infineon Group's own involvement in this area has so far been subscale.

Moreover, Infineon Group and International Rectifier complement one another also in terms of sales regions and channels. With the acquisition of International Rectifier, Infineon Group has a broader and in Infineon's view more balanced geographical footprint. In addition, whilst Infineon Group had a strong focus on the direct sales relationship to large OEM customers, International Rectifier brings a particular strength with medium and small customers serviced through the distribution channel.

With regard to economies of scale in manufacturing, International Rectifier will contribute manufacturing volume in discrete power semiconductors to Infineon Group's manufacturing sites, particularly to its 300-millimeter facilities, in the medium to long term. Infineon Group expects that the additional manufacturing volume enables to reach certain per-unit-cost points earlier than would have been the case without International Rectifier.

Manufacturing

Infineon Group (excluding International Rectifier) operates 12 manufacturing sites in 8 countries: Dresden, Regensburg and Warstein (all in Germany), Villach (Austria), Cegléd (Hungary), Morgan Hill (USA), Beijing and Wuxi (both in China), Malacca and Kulim (both in Malaysia), Singapore, and Batam (Indonesia). As of September 30, 2014, Infineon Group's manufacturing sites employed a workforce of 21,959 people (September 30, 2013: 19,458 people).

As of the date of this Prospectus, Infineon Group is the only company in the world to manufacture power semiconductors on 300-millimeter thin-wafers. Infineon Group's broad range of products can be sold to a variety of markets, thus enabling it to manufacture in high volumes. This is why Infineon Group expects to achieve good utilization levels of the capacity of its 300-millimeter plant approximately in the timeframe of the calendar years 2016 to 2017. The acquisition of International Rectifier fits with this strategy. Infineon Group will transfer production of some of International Rectifier's products to its plants, in particular to its 300-millimeter plants, which is expected to result in an increase of utilization levels and, therefore, lower unit costs.

Investment in 300-millimeter thin-wafer manufacturing directly increases manufacturing capacities for power transistors. Indirectly, however, investment in 300-millimeter thin-wafer manufacturing also creates additional capacities for other products. Transferring manufacturing of high-volume components from 200-millimeter lines to the 300-millimeter lines frees up capacities for other components at Infineon Group's existing 200-millimeter power semiconductor frontend sites. Increasing manufacturing capacities using 300-millimeter technology is less capital intensive than increasing capacities on a 200-millimeter manufacturing line.

In addition, Infineon Group pursues a strategy of only investing in in-house manufacturing facilities in cases where it believes to benefit in terms of costs and/or performance. Otherwise, Infineon Group prefers to outsource. This principle is applied equally to frontend and backend manufacturing. Finally, Infineon Group has made great strides over the course of the 2014 fiscal year to improve productivity in order to enable greater manufacturing volumes based on the existing manufacturing infrastructure.

Conflicts of Interest

As of the date of this Prospectus, the above mentioned members of the Management Board and of the Supervisory Board of Infineon do not have potential conflicts of interests between any duties to Infineon and their private interests or other duties.

Board Practices

The governing bodies of Infineon are the Management Board (Vorstand), the Supervisory Board (Aufsichtsrat) and the annual general meeting (Hauptversammlung). The powers of these bodies are set forth in the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz), Infineon's articles of association and the rules of procedure (Geschäftsordnungen) of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board, respectively, and its committees. The Management Board and the Supervisory Board work independently of each other. No person may serve on both boards at the same time.

The Management Board is responsible for managing Infineon Group's day-to-day business and for representing Infineon in dealings with third parties. The Supervisory Board appoints and may dismiss members of the Management Board. The Supervisory Board supervises and advises the Management Board in its management of Infineon Group and represents Infineon in all (legal) matters between a member of the Management Board and Infineon. In general, the Supervisory Board is not directly involved in the day-to-day management of Infineon Group. However, pursuant to Infineon's articles of association, certain transactions require the prior consent of the Supervisory Board.

In performing their duties, members of both the Management Board and the Supervisory Board must exercise the duty of care expected of a reasonable business person and a duty of loyalty. Members of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board must consider a broad range of interests, including those of Infineon and its shareholders and employees.

The members of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board may be held personally liable to Infineon for breaches of their duties of loyalty and care. Infineon must bring an action for breach of duty against the Management Board or Supervisory Board upon a resolution of the stockholders passed at a Shareholders' Meeting by a simple majority of votes cast.

Management Board

The Supervisory Board generally appoints the members of the Management Board for a term of up to five years. Extensions of the term of office by re-appointment are permitted. Pursuant to the articles of association of Infineon, the Management Board must have at least two members. The Supervisory Board determines the number of members of the Management Board. Currently, the Management Board has three members.

Any two members of the Management Board or any individual Management Board member together with an authorized signatory with statutory power of attorney (Prokurist) may legally represent Infineon.

The Management Board must report regularly to the Supervisory Board, particularly on business policy and strategy, on profitability and on the current business of Infineon Group, as well as on any exceptional matters that may arise from time to time. If not otherwise required by law, the Management Board decides with a simple majority of the votes cast. Under certain circumstances, such as a serious breach of duty or a vote of no confidence by the stockholders in an annual general meeting, a member of the Management Board may be removed by the Supervisory Board prior to the expiration of his/her term. A member of the Management Board may not deal with, or vote on, matters relating to proposals, arrangements or contracts between him/herself and Infineon.

Supervisory Board

Since the last election in February 2015, the Supervisory Board consists of 16 members, including eight members elected by the shareholders at the annual general meeting in accordance with the provisions of the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz) and eight members selected by the Infineon employees in accordance with the provisions of the German Co-Determination Act (Mitbestimmungsgesetz).

The Supervisory Board members are elected for a fixed term. Each term usually expires at the end of the annual general meeting in the fourth fiscal year after the year in which such Supervisory Board member was elected, i.e. after five years. Supervisory Board members may be re-elected.

Unless otherwise provided by law, resolutions of the Supervisory Board are passed by a simple majority of the votes cast. In case of any deadlock, the relevant resolution must be voted on again, with the Chairman of the Supervisory Board being entitled to cast a second vote if the second ballot is tied again.

The Chairman is usually a shareholder representative elected by a two-third majority of all members of the Supervisory Board.

The Supervisory Board's main functions are supervising and advising the Management Board in its management of Infineon, appointing members of the Management Board, approving the financial statements, and consenting to matters that are subject to the Supervisory Board's consent under German law or Infineon's articles of association and to matters which the Supervisory Board has made subject to its prior approval.

The Supervisory Board may form committees and establish their duties and powers. To the extent permitted by law, the Supervisory Board may also delegate to such committees decision-making powers of the Supervisory Board.

Committees of the Supervisory Board

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Supervisory Board has established five committees: the nomination committee ("Nomination Committee"), the mediation committee ("Mediation Committee") pursuant to section 27 para. 3 of the German Co-Determination Act (Mitbestimmungsgesetz), the executive committee ("Executive Committee"), the investment, finance and audit committee ("Audit Committee") and the strategy and technology committee ("Strategy and Technology Committee").

The Nomination Committee which consists exclusively of shareholders' representatives of the Supervisory Board discusses candidates as future shareholder representatives to the Supervisory Board and recommends their election at the annual general meetings.

The sole duty of the Mediation Committee is to submit recommendations for the appointment of Management Board members to the Supervisory Board if the plenum of the Supervisory Board is unable to pass a resolution on such matters with the requisite two-third majority.

The Executive Committee prepares resolutions regarding the terms of the service contracts and other contractual arrangements between Infineon and the members of the Management Board. In particular, the Executive Committee proposes to the Supervisory Board salaries and incentive compensation for the individual board members within the scope of the compensation system approved by the Supervisory Board.

The Audit Committee, consisting of Dr. Eckart Sünner (chairman), Wigand Cramer, Wolfgang Mayrhuber and Gerd Schmidt, monitors the financial reporting process and discusses and examines the financial statements and the consolidated financial statements prepared by the Management Board, the combined management report (Lagebericht) and the quarterly and half-yearly reports. The Audit Committee gives recommendations with respect to the approval of the separate financial statements and consolidated financial statements by the Supervisory Board based on the independent auditors' report, engages the independent auditors selected by the annual general meeting to audit the separate financial statements and consolidated Financial Statements and review the interim financial reports, specifies the key areas to be examined in audit activities jointly with independent auditors and is responsible for setting the independent auditors' compensation.

The Strategy and Technology Committee deals with topics concerning the business strategy of Infineon. It reviews segment reports and examines technological and manufacturing strategies.

Corporate Governance

The German Corporate Governance Code (Deutsche Corporate Governance Kodex) dated June 24, 2014 (the "Corporate Governance Code") contains certain recommendations (Empfehlungen) and suggestions (Anregungen) for the management and supervision of German listed companies with regard to shareholders, their corporate bodies, transparency, accounting, and the audit of financial statements. Such companies are under no legal obligation to comply with the recommendations or suggestions in the Corporate Governance Code unless, and to the extent, they have publicly declared that they will do so. German stock corporation law merely requires the Board of Management and Supervisory Board of a listed company to declare annually to what extent they comply with the recommendations of the Corporate Governance Code or to explain why certain recommendations were or are not followed.

In November 2014, Infineon's Management Board and Supervisory Board adopted the latest declaration of compliance with the Corporate Governance Code in accordance with Section 161 of the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz), which is available on Infineon's website (www.infineon.com). Infineon has complied, and will comply in the future, with the recommendations of the Corporate Governance Code with the following qualification:

Section 5.4.6 of the Code recommends that performance-related compensation of the members of the Supervisory Board shall be oriented toward sustainable growth of the enterprise. The similarity in terminology to the requirements contained in the German Stock Corporation Act with respect to compensation of members of the Management Board seems to imply that performance-related compensation should also be based on a "multi-year assessment" for members of the Supervisory Board.

Members of the Supervisory Board of Infineon receive both fixed and performance-related compensation, the latter only being paid if earnings per share exceed a pre-defined amount.

Both the Management Board and the Supervisory Board have deliberated on this topic on several occasions. They concluded in each case that the compensation system currently in place for the Supervisory Board is already oriented toward sustainable growth of the enterprise even without a multi-year assessment, since the minimum amount required to trigger the compensation payment increases year-on-year, thus setting an incentive for improving earnings each year. As a consequence, neither of the boards saw any requirement to change the Supervisory Board compensation system approved at the annual general meeting.

In June 2014, Infineon increased its shareholding in the Korean joint venture LS Power Semitech Co., Ltd., Cheonan, Korea, by 20 percentage points to 66.4 percent for a purchase price of EUR 8 million in order to improve its position in the market for lower power IGBT modules in the range of 100 to 2,000 watts.

³⁰ Based on Infineon's share capital as of December 31, 2014.

In November 2014, Infineon and the printed circuit board manufacturer Schweizer Electronic AG ("Schweizer"), with its registered office in Schramberg, Germany, announced that Infineon would acquire a 9.4 percent stake in Schweizer. The investment was completed on November 28, 2014.

With the exception of the acquisition of International Rectifier (please see "Material Financings"), all material investments were financed by Infineon Group's operating cash flow and cash on hand.

Investments by Infineon Group (excluding International Rectifier) in property, plant and equipment and in intangible assets including capitalized development costs planned for the 2015 fiscal year are expected to amount to approximately EUR 750 million (excluding the acquisition of International Rectifier closed in January 2015, see "Acquisition of International Rectifier"). The budgeted investments of EUR 750 million also include approximately EUR 20 million for the purchase of patents of Qimonda AG i.L. ("Qimonda") (see "Intellectual Property" and "Legal and Arbitration Proceedings"). Not included in this definition of investments is a projected amount of approximately EUR 30 million for the acquisition of strategic minority stakes in certain companies such as Schweizer.

Material Financings

In connection with the acquisition of International Rectifier for approximately USD 3.0 billion, Infineon concluded a financing agreement of approximately EUR 1.6 billion with several domestic and international banks (the "Credit Facility"). Cash funds amounting to approximately EUR 800 million were used to pay the rest of the purchase price. The Credit Facility has been fully underwritten by Bank of America Merrill Lynch International Limited and Citigroup Global Markets Limited and has partially been syndicated to other Joint Lead Managers or subsidiaries thereof. The Credit Facility consists of two senior unsecured tranches: first, a bridge financing of EUR 800 million with an initial term of one year and two extension options for Infineon of six months each, and second, a loan of USD 934 million with a term of five years. As of the date of this Prospectus, both tranches have been fully drawn.

The Credit Facility contains a change of control clause similar to the change of control clause of the Notes which entitles individual contractual parties in the event of a defined change of control to call for an amendment to the Credit Facility or, in specific cases, to give notice of termination and call for repayment of the relevant credit amount.

Furthermore, Infineon has unsecured loans and other financial indebtedness outstanding in the amount of EUR 186 million per 2014 fiscal year end (EUR 303 million per 2013 fiscal year end, including EUR 108 million of convertible bonds repaid in 2014) which are due until 2023. Infineon has also established several stand-alone short- and long-term credit lines mainly for the purpose of financing operating activities.

Material Contracts

Other than the financing contracts described above (see "Material Financings"), Infineon has not entered into material contracts outside the ordinary course of its business, which could result in any group member being under an obligation or entitlement that is material to Infineon's ability to meet its obligations to the Holders in respect of the Notes being issued.

Intellectual Property

Infineon Group's intellectual property rights include patents, copyrights, trade secrets, trademarks, utility models and designs and primarily relate to IC designs and process technologies. In the course of the 2014 fiscal year, Infineon Group has applied for approximately 2,100 patents worldwide and for approximately 1,700 patents in the 2013 fiscal year. As of September 30, 2014, Infineon Group's worldwide patent portfolio comprised approximately 21,000 patents and patent applications. As a result of the acquisition of International Rectifier, Infineon Group's patent portfolio increased by a further approximately 2,000 patents and patent applications.

In the extra-judicial settlement with the insolvency administrator of Qimonda Infineon Group acquired approximately 8,800 patents and patent applications, most of which relate to DRAM (Dynamic Random Access Memory) technology. Since Infineon Group does not have any DRAM operations of its own, it plans to resell these patents and patent applications.

It is common industry practice for semiconductor companies to enter into cross licensing agreements. These agreements enable each company to utilize the patents of the other on specified conditions. Infineon is party to a number of cross licensing agreements, including agreements with other major semiconductor companies.

Legal and Arbitration Proceedings

The principal matters Infineon Group had to deal with during the previous twelve months were EU antitrust proceedings and insolvency disputes regarding Qimonda and its affiliates.

Antitrust proceedings

The EU Commission has been investigating Infineon and other manufacturers of chips for smartcards since October 2008 for alleged violations of antitrust laws. Concluding these proceedings, the EU Commission finally imposed a fine of EUR 83 million on Infineon in September 2014. Infineon rejects the allegations as unfounded and is also claiming a violation of its procedural rights. Infineon therefore appealed this decision before the European Court of Justice in Luxembourg in November 2014.

Two class actions for damages in connection with these antitrust violations have been filed in Canada. However, at the date of this Prospectus, no dates have yet been scheduled for court proceedings. Further, in December 2014, an indirect customer filed a lawsuit against Infineon and Renesas in London (United Kingdom). The lawsuit has not been served yet and is presumably related to the aforementioned EU antitrust case.

Qimonda insolvency disputes

In 2006, all significant assets, liabilities and business activities attributable to Infineon's memory business (Memory Products) were carved out and transferred to Qimonda, a fully-owned subsidiary of Infineon at that time, in the form of a non-cash contribution. In connection with the carve-out various service agreements were concluded with Qimonda. In January 2009, Qimonda filed for insolvency at the Munich Local Court. Insolvency proceedings were then opened in April 2009. The insolvency of Qimonda has given rise to various disputes between the administrator and Infineon.

In September 2014, Infineon and the administrator reached a partial settlement in the amount of EUR 260 million to settle all litigation pending regarding Qimonda between the administrator and Infineon Group (with the exception of claims relating to an alleged economic reincorporation (wirtschaftliche Neugründung) and the liability for impairment of capital (Differenzhaftung)) in conjunction with the acquisition of Qimonda's entire patent portfolio. The actions with respect to the continuing use of Qimonda patents and Infineon's ownership of the license as well as the insolvency law proceedings contesting intercompany payments were thus settled. Additionally, further out-of-court claims of right to contest under insolvency law, as well as any other claims made by the administrator were settled.

Claims relating to the proceedings in connection with the alleged economic reincorporation, which involve Infineon, Infineon Technologies Holding B.V. and Infineon Technologies Investment B.V., and liability for impairment of capital have not been concluded yet. In November 2010, the administrator contended that the commencement of operating activities by Qimonda amounted to an economic reincorporation and requested Infineon to pay the difference between Qimonda's business assets and its share capital and filed a request for declaratory judgment. Later, the administrator further alleged that the carved-out memory products business had a negative value from the very beginning and asserted that Infineon is obliged to compensate for the difference between this negative value and the lowest issue price. According to the administrator his claims are worth at least EUR 3.35 billion plus interest.

Infineon also faces residual liability as a former shareholder with personal liability of Qimonda Dresden GmbH & Co. OHG until the carve-out of the memory business. These claims can only be exercised by the administrator acting in the name of the creditors concerned. As of the date of this Prospectus, settlements have only been reached with some of the residual liability creditors.

Patent litigation

Since November 2008, Infineon and its subsidiary Infineon Technologies North America Corp. have been involved in patent disputes with Volterra Semiconductor Corporation ("Volterra") in the United States. Volterra alleged infringement of initially five, later four patents and claimed damages. After a court found infringement of two patents in 2011, almost all damage claims were rejected by the court in 2013 and the parties agreed on injunctive relief with no impact on Infineon Group's current products. In 2010 and 2013, Infineon and various subsidiaries filed patent infringement actions against Volterra and one of its subsidiaries in the United States. The proceedings were settled in October 2014, dismissing all lawsuits against Infineon and its affiliates.

Since October 2011, Infineon had furthermore been involved in legal disputes with the administrator of Qimonda regarding the use of Qimonda's U.S. patents. While various courts had already decided that Infineon's use of the patents remained valid in spite of Qimonda's insolvency, this legal dispute was ended by the U.S. Supreme Court in October 2014 in favor of Infineon.

Other

Infineon Group is involved in various other legal disputes and proceedings in connection with its existing or previous business activities. These relate, inter alia, to products, services, patents and environmental issues.

Apart from the above mentioned proceedings, neither Infineon nor any of the companies of Infineon Group are or were party to any governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings (including any pending or threatened proceedings) during the previous twelve months, which may have, or have had, significant effects on Infineon's or Infineon Group's financial position or profitability.

Additional Information

Share Capital

Infineon's capital stock amounts to EUR 2,256,133,192 and is divided into 1,128,066,596 no-par value registered shares which are fully paid up. As of the date of this Prospectus, Infineon holds 6 million treasury shares.

Fiscal Year

Infineon's fiscal year runs from October 1 of each year until September 30 of the following year.

Memorandum and Articles of Association

According to Article 2 of its articles of association, Infineon's object is the direct or indirect activity in the area of research, development, manufacture and marketing of electronic components, electronic systems and software, as well as the performance of services related thereto. Infineon is entitled to perform all acts and take all steps which appear likely to directly or indirectly promote the achievement of the company's aims. Infineon may establish subsidiaries and branches in Germany and abroad, and can participate in other enterprises. Infineon can buy or sell enterprises, combine them under single management and conclude enterprise agreements with them or restrict itself to managing the participation. Infineon is entitled to spin off its operations - as a whole or in part - into affiliated enterprises.

Recent Events and Outlook

Recent Events

The acquisition of International Rectifier was completed on January 13, 2015 (see "Acquisition of International Rectifier").

Outlook

Infineon Group (excluding International Rectifier) achieved a compound annual growth rate based on revenues of slightly below 9 percent from fiscal years 1999 through 2014 with its current portfolio of products. Infineon Group (excluding International Rectifier) envisages continuing to operate in the same markets and, with its four main segments, to focus on the three megatrends that modern society is posing to the semiconductor industry: energy efficiency, mobility and security. These focus areas are expected to be the source of continued increase in demand for Infineon Group's products. Infineon therefore expects that Infineon Group (excluding International Rectifier) will be able to achieve a compound annual growth rate in coming years slightly below historical average.

Status of the Notes, Negative Pledge

- (a) Status. The Notes constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu without any preference among themselves and at least pari passu with all other unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, present or future, unless such obligations are accorded priority under mandatory provisions of statutory law.
- (b) Negative Pledge. While any amounts remain outstanding under the Notes, but only up to the time all amounts payable to Holders under the Notes in accordance with these Terms and Conditions have been placed at the disposal of the Principal Paying Agent, the Issuer undertakes that
- (i) it will not create or permit to subsist any security interest in rem (dingliche Sicherheit) over all or part of its present or future assets as security for any Capital Market Indebtedness (as defined in § 2(d)) (including any guarantees and indemnities given in respect thereof), and ihres gegenwärtigen oder zukünftigen Vermögens zu gewähren oder bestehen zu lassen, und

- (ii) soweit rechtlich möglich, sicherzustellen, dass keine Wesentliche Tochtergesellschaft (wie in § 2(d) definiert) für Kapitalmarktverbindlichkeiten (einschließlich hierfür abgegebener Garantien und Freistellungserklärungen) irgendwelche dinglichen Sicherheiten in Bezug auf ihr gesamtes gegenwärtiges oder zukünftiges Vermögen oder Teile ihres gegenwärtigen oder zukünftigen Vermögens gewährt oder bestehen lässt, sofern nicht die Verpflichtungen der Emittentin aus den Schuldverschreibungen gleichrangig und anteilig an einer solchen dinglichen Sicherheit teilhaben, oder diesbezüglich eine dingliche Sicherheit zu im Wesentlichen gleichen Bedingungen bestellt wird.

- (c) Ausnahmen. Die Verpflichtung nach § 2(b) besteht jedoch nicht für solche Sicherheiten, die
 - (i) gesetzlich vorgeschrieben sind, oder
 - (ii) als Voraussetzung für staatliche Genehmigungen verlangt werden, oder
 - (iii) durch die Emittentin oder von einer Wesentlichen Tochtergesellschaft zur Sicherung von gegenwärtigen oder zukünftigen Ansprüchen der Emittentin oder Ansprüchen einer Wesentlichen Tochtergesellschaft gegen verbundene Unternehmen im Sinne des §§ 15 f. Aktiengesetz oder gegen Dritte aufgrund der Weiterleitung von Erlösen aus der Emission von Wertpapieren bestehen, soweit diese Sicherheiten zur Sicherung von Verpflichtungen aus diesen durch die Emittentin oder durch eine Wesentliche Tochtergesellschaft ausgegebenen Wertpapieren dienen, oder

- (ii) it will procure, to the extent legally permissible, that no Material Subsidiary (as defined in § 2(d)) will at any time create or permit to subsist any security interest in rem upon all or any of its present or future assets as security for any Capital Market Indebtedness (including any guarantees and indemnities given in respect thereof), unless at the same time or prior thereto, the Issuer's obligations under the Notes are secured equally and rateably therewith or benefit from a security interest in rem in substantially identical terms thereto.

- (c) Exemptions. The undertaking pursuant to § 2(b) shall not apply to a security which
 - (i) is mandatory according to applicable laws, or
 - (ii) is required as a prerequisite for governmental approvals, or
 - (iii) provided by the Issuer or by any Material Subsidiary over any of the Issuer's claims or claims of any Material Subsidiary against any affiliated companies within the meaning of Sections 15 et seq. of the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz) or any third party, which claims exist now or arise at any time in the future, as a result of the passing on of the proceeds from the issuance of any securities, provided that any such security serves to secure obligations under such securities issued by the Issuer or by a Material Subsidiary, or

- (iv) eine im Zeitpunkt einer Akquisition bestehende Kapitalmarktverbindlichkeit besichern, die infolge der Akquisition eine Verpflichtung der Emittentin oder einer Gesellschaft der Gruppe wird, sofern diese Kapitalmarktverbindlichkeit nicht im Hinblick auf diese Akquisition begründet wurde, oder
- (v) eine Erneuerung, Verlängerung oder Ersetzung irgendeiner Sicherheit gemäß vorstehend (i) bis (iv) darstellen.

Eine nach diesem § 2 zu stellende Sicherheit kann auch zu Gunsten der Person eines Treuhänders der Anleihegläubiger bestellt werden.

Die in diesem § 2 benutzten Begriffe „Vermögen“ und „Verpflichtung zur Zahlung oder Rückzahlung von Geldern“ schließen nicht solche Vermögensgegenstände der Emittentin ein, die im Einklang mit den Gesetzen und den in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland anerkannten Regeln der Bilanzierung und Buchführung nicht in der Bilanz der Emittentin ausgewiesen werden müssen.

- (d) Definitionen. „Kapitalmarktverbindlichkeit“ bezeichnet jede gegenwärtige oder zukünftige Verpflichtung zur Zahlung oder Rückzahlung von Geldern (einschließlich Verpflichtungen aus Garantien oder anderen Haftungsvereinbarungen für Verbindlichkeiten von Dritten) entweder aus Schuldscheindarlehen oder aus Schuldverschreibungen, sofern diese eine ursprüngliche Laufzeit von mehr als einem Jahr haben und an einer Börse oder an einem anderen anerkannten Wertpapiermarkt notiert, zugelassen oder gehandelt werden oder notiert, zugelassen oder gehandelt werden können.

„Gruppe“ bezeichnet die Emittentin und ihre jeweiligen vollständig konsolidierten Tochtergesellschaften (wie in diesem § 2(d) definiert).

„Tochtergesellschaft“ bedeutet ein Unternehmen, bei dem eine Person die unmittelbare oder mittelbare Kontrolle besitzt oder unmittelbar oder mittelbar

- (iv) secures Capital Market Indebtedness existing at the time of an acquisition that becomes an obligation of the Issuer or any member of the Group as a consequence of such acquisition, provided that such Capital Market Indebtedness was not created in contemplation of such acquisition, or
- (v) constitutes the renewal, extension or replacement of any security pursuant to foregoing (i) through (iv).

Any security which is to be provided pursuant to § 2 may also be provided to a person acting as trustee for the Holders.

The expressions “assets” and “obligation for the payment or repayment of money that is borrowed” as used in this § 2 do not include assets and obligations of the Issuer which, pursuant to the requirements of law and accounting principles generally accepted in the Federal Republic of Germany, need not to be reflected in the Issuer’s balance sheet.

- (d) Definitions. “Capital Market Indebtedness” means any present or future obligation for the payment or repayment of money (including obligations by reason of any guarantee or other liability agreement for obligations of third parties) that is borrowed either in the form of an assignable loan (Schuldscheindarlehen) or in the form of an issuance of notes with an original maturity of more than one year and which are, or are capable of being, quoted, listed or traded on a stock exchange or other recognized securities market.

“Group” means the Issuer and all of its fully consolidated Subsidiaries (as defined in this § 2(d)) from time to time.

“Subsidiary” means an entity of which a person has direct or indirect control or owns directly or indirectly more than 50% of the voting capital or similar right of Eigentümer von mehr als 50 % des stimmberechtigten Kapitals oder entsprechender Eigentumsrechte ist; „Kontrolle“ bedeutet in diesem Zusammenhang die Berechtigung, die Geschäftsführung und die Politik des Unternehmens sei es über das Eigentum am stimmberechtigten Kapital, mittels eines Vertrages oder auf andere Weise im Sinne von § 17 AktG zu bestimmen (Fälle mehrfacher Abhängigkeit bei Gemeinschaftsunternehmen, bei denen kein Partner mehr als 50 % der Stimmrechte hält, sind dabei ausgeschlossen). Der Begriff der Tochtergesellschaft schließt jedoch in keinem Fall die Qimonda AG i.L. und ihre Tochtergesellschaften ein.

„Wesentliche Tochtergesellschaft“ bezeichnet eine Tochtergesellschaft der Emittentin, deren nicht konsolidiertes EBITDA, nicht konsolidiertes Bruttovermögen oder deren nicht konsolidierter Umsatz (ausschließlich konzerninterner Posten) gemäß dem letzten geprüften Konzernabschluss (und dem Jahresabschluss der betreffenden Tochtergesellschaft) mindestens 5 % des konsolidierten EBITDA, des konsolidierten Bruttovermögens oder des konsolidierten Umsatzes des Konzerns ausmacht, wobei eine neu erworbene Tochtergesellschaft der Emittentin bis zum Ablauf von sechs Monaten ab Durchführung des Erwerbs nicht als Wesentliche Tochtergesellschaft gilt. Ein Bericht der Wirtschaftsprüfer der Emittentin darüber, ob ihrer Meinung nach eine Tochtergesellschaft zu einem bestimmten Zeitpunkt eine Wesentliche Tochtergesellschaft ist oder war bzw. nicht ist oder nicht war, ist, sofern nicht ein offensichtlicher Irrtum vorliegt, für alle Beteiligten endgültig und bindend.

Verzinsung

- (a) Zinssatz und Zinszahlungstage. Die Schuldverschreibungen werden, bezogen auf ihren Nennbetrag, ab dem 10. März 2015 (der „Zinslaufbeginn“) (einschließlich) bis zum Fälligkeitstag (wie in § 4(a) definiert) (ausschließlich) mit [im ownership and “control” in this context means the power to direct the management and the policies of the entity whether through the ownership of voting capital, by contract or otherwise within the meaning of Section 17 of the German Stock Corporation Act (Aktiengesetz) (cases of multiple dependency (mehrfache Abhängigkeit) in relation of joint ventures where no partner holds more than 50% of the voting rights shall be excluded), provided that the term Subsidiary shall in no event include Qimonda AG i.L. and any of its subsidiaries.

“Material Subsidiaries” means a Subsidiary of the Issuer which, based on the latest audited annual consolidated financial statements of the Group (Konzernabschluss) (and the annual financial statements of the respective Subsidiary) has unconsolidated EBITDA, unconsolidated gross assets or unconsolidated turnover (excluding intra-group items) representing 5% or more of the consolidated EBITDA, consolidated gross assets or consolidated turnover of the Group, provided that any newly acquired subsidiary of the Issuer shall in no event constitute a Material Subsidiary until expiry of a six-month period from the completion of the relevant acquisition. A certificate issued by the Issuer's auditors stating that a subsidiary is or is not or was or was not at a specified date a Material Subsidiary shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive and binding on all parties.

Interest

- (iv) § 8 shall be deemed to be amended so that it shall also be an Event of Default under such provision if the Substitution Guarantee shall cease to be valid or binding on or enforceable against the Issuer;
- (v) the Substitute Debtor undertakes to reimburse any Holder for such taxes, fees or duties which may be imposed upon such Holder in connection with any payments on the Notes (including taxes or duties being deducted or withheld at source), upon conversion or otherwise, as a consequence of the assumption of the Issuer's obligations by the Substitute Debtor, provided that such undertaking shall be limited to amounts that would not have been imposed upon the Holder had such substitution not occurred; and
- (vi) there shall have been delivered to the Principal Paying Agent one opinion for each jurisdiction affected of lawyers of recognized standing to the effect that § 14(a)(i) through (v) above have been satisfied.

„Verbundenes Unternehmen“ bedeutet für Zwecke dieses § 14 jedes von der Emittentin gehaltene verbundene Unternehmen im Sinne der §§ 15 f. Aktiengesetz.

- (ii) in § 8(a)(ii) bis (vi) gilt eine alternative Bezugnahme auf die Emittentin in ihrer Eigenschaft als Garantin als aufgenommen (zusätzlich zu der Bezugnahme auf die Nachfolgeschuldnerin).

Jede Ersetzung zusammen mit der Mitteilung gemäß § 14(c) dieser Bestimmung befreit, im Fall der Einsetzung einer anderen Gesellschaft als Hauptschuldnerin, die Emittentin von allen Verbindlichkeiten, die sie als Hauptschuldnerin unter den Schuldverschreibungen hatte.

(b) Consequences of the Substitution. Upon a substitution in accordance with this § 14, the Substitute Debtor shall be deemed to be named in the Notes as the principal debtor in place of the Issuer as issuer and the Notes shall thereupon be deemed to be amended to give effect to the substitution including that the relevant jurisdiction in relation to the Issuer in § 6 shall be the Substitute Debtor's country of domicile for tax purposes. Furthermore, in the event of such substitution the following shall apply:

TAXATION

The following is a general discussion of certain tax consequences under the tax laws of Austria, Germany, the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg and The Netherlands of the acquisition and ownership of Notes. This discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations which may be relevant to a decision to purchase Notes. The following section only provides some very general information on the possible tax treatment of the Notes. In particular, this discussion does not consider any specific facts or circumstances that may apply to a particular purchaser. This summary is based on the laws of Austria, Germany, the Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg and The Netherlands currently in force and as applied on the date of this Prospectus, which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect.

PROSPECTIVE PURCHASERS OF NOTES ARE ADVISED TO CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS AS TO THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE PURCHASE, OWNERSHIP AND DISPOSAL OF THE NOTES INCLUDING THE EFFECT OF ANY TAXES, UNDER THE TAX LAWS APPLICABLE IN AUSTRIA, GERMANY, THE GRAND DUCHY OF LUXEMBOURG AND THE NETHERLANDS AND EACH COUNTRY OF WHICH THEY ARE RESIDENTS.

Austria

The following discussion is intended to provide a prospective investor in the Notes with a summary of the material Austrian tax consequences of holding and selling the Notes. This discussion applies to both Austrian as well as non-Austrian private residents and commercial investors as well as Austrian and non-Austrian resident corporations. This discussion covers only Austrian law. The discussion does not consider all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular holder in light of the holder's circumstances or holders subject to special rules, such as dealers in securities, banks or life insurance companies or tax-exempt organizations. This summary is based on Austrian law as in force at the date of this Prospectus. The laws and their interpretation by the tax authorities may change and such changes may also have retroactive effect. Austrian tax authorities may also adopt a view different from that outlined below.

This summary of Austrian tax issues is based on the assumption that the notes are legally and actually publicly offered in the form of securities and do not qualify as equity or units in a non-Austrian investment fund for Austrian tax purposes. The tax consequences may substantially differ if the Notes are not legally and actually publicly offered in the form of securities or if the Notes are qualified as equity instruments or units in a non-Austrian investment fund within the meaning of § 188 of the Austrian Investment Fund Act 2011 (Investmentfondsgesetz 2011, "InvFG 2011").

The Issuer does not assume responsibility for the deduction of Austrian withholding tax at source.

Austrian resident investors

Individuals

Interest and realized capital gains from the Notes are taxable at a special personal income tax rate of 25% if the Notes are publicly offered for Austrian tax purposes. The taxable capital gain from the Notes is the difference between the sales price or redemption amount and the acquisition price, in each case including accrued interest (however, excluding incidental acquisition cost in case of private individual investors). Expenses in connection with income and capital gains from notes which are subject to the special 25% tax rate are not deductible.

Austrian withholding tax at a rate of 25% is triggered if interest is paid by an Austrian paying agent (Austrian bank or Austrian branch of a non-Austrian bank) or if payments of realized capital gains from the sale of notes are made (i) by an Austrian depository or (ii) by an Austrian paying agent provided the non-Austrian depository is a non-Austrian branch or group company of such paying agent and processes the payment in cooperation with the paying agent.

For individuals holding the Notes as private assets (unless it is income from employment), the deduction of such 25% Austrian withholding tax constitutes final taxation (Endbesteuerung) so that no further income or capital gains tax will be assessed and the income or capital gain is not to be included in the investor's income tax return. In case of individuals holding the Notes as private assets, losses from the Notes can only be set-off against interest income, capital gains and income from derivatives from other financial assets (excluding, inter alia, interest income from bank deposits) and cannot be carried forward. As of January 1, 2013 an Austrian depository, if any, has to offset losses arising on the deposits of a private individual investor subject to and in accordance with the provisions of § 93(6) Austrian Income Tax Act (Einkommensteuergesetz, "ESTG").

For individuals holding the Notes as business assets, the deduction of such 25% Austrian withholding tax constitutes a final taxation (Endbesteuerung) in relation to interest income so that no further income tax will be assessed on interest income from the Notes but capital gains have to be declared in the income tax return and are subject to the special income tax rate of 25%. Depreciations and capital losses from notes must be primarily set-off against capital gains from other financial assets and income from derivatives, a remaining loss can only be set-off to the extent of 50%.

In the absence of a paying agent or depository located in Austria, the taxpayer must include interest income or capital gains under the publicly offered notes in his personal income tax return and income tax is assessed at a special 25% income tax rate unless, under the Swiss or Liechtenstein withholding tax acts implementing the bilateral withholding tax agreements between Austria and Switzerland (in force since January 1, 2013) or between Austria and Liechtenstein (in force since January 1, 2014), a Swiss or Liechtenstein paying agent (i.e. a paying agent within the meaning of such withholding tax agreements) has withheld final withholding tax discharging the investor's Austrian income tax liability.

Taxpayers, whose regular personal income tax is lower than 25%, may opt for taxation of the income from the Notes (together with all other income subject to the special 25% tax rate) at their regular personal income tax rate (Veranlagungsoption).

Withdrawals (Entnahmen) and other transfers of notes from an investor's securities account will be deemed to be a disposal unless certain requirements pursuant to § 27 (6)(1)(a) EStG are met such as a transfer to a securities account owned by the same taxpayer (i) with the same Austrian bank, (ii) with another Austrian bank if the taxpayer instructs the transferring bank (securities depository) to disclose the acquisition costs of the Notes to the transferee bank or (iii) with a foreign bank (securities depository), if the taxpayer instructs the transferring Austrian bank to notify to the competent Austrian tax office or, where the transferring bank is also a foreign bank (securities depository), the taxpayer notifies the acquisition cost and certain other information to the competent Austrian tax office within one month. A transfer of notes without consideration to a securities account of another taxpayer will not result in a disposal if, where the transferring bank is an Austrian bank, the transferor evidences the transfer without consideration to the transferring bank or instructs the transferring bank to notify the competent tax office, or, where the transferring bank is a foreign bank, the taxpayer notifies the acquisition cost and certain other information to the competent Austrian tax office within one month.

Special rules apply if an investor transfers his or her residence or deposit account outside of Austria or transfers the notes to a non-resident or if Austria loses for other reasons its taxation right with respect to the notes to other countries (exit tax, with an option for deferred taxation in the case of a transfer to an EU member state or certain member states of the European Economic Area).

Corporate investors

Corporate investors deriving business income from the Notes may avoid the application of Austrian withholding tax by filing a declaration of exemption (Befreiungserklärung) pursuant to § 94 (5) EStG with the Austrian paying agent or Austrian depository. Income including any capital gain derived from the Notes by a corporate investor is subject to Austrian corporate income tax at the general tax rate of 25%. For corporate investors the restrictions for the set-off of tax losses are not applicable. Tax losses can be set-off against all other income. Tax loss carry forwards are generally possible subject to certain limitations applicable under Austrian law (e.g. no set-off of losses by more than 75% of the profits in a given year).

There is, inter alia, a special tax regime for private foundations established under Austrian law (Privatstiftungen).

Non-Austrian resident investors

Interest income including any capital gains derived from the Notes by individuals who do not have a domicile or their habitual place of abode in Austria or by corporate investors that do not have their corporate seat or their place of management in Austria ("non-Austrian residents") is not taxable in Austria provided that the debtor neither has its seat or place of effective management outside of Austria and that the income is not attributable to an Austrian permanent establishment (for withholding tax under the EU Savings Directive see below).

In case of payments to non-Austrian residents, an Austrian paying agent or Austrian depository could abstain from levying the 25% Austrian withholding tax pursuant to § 94 (5) and (13) EStG. If any Austrian withholding tax is deducted by an Austrian paying agent or Austrian depository, the tax withheld shall be refunded to the non-Austrian resident investor upon application which has to be filed with the competent Austrian tax authority within five calendar years following the year of the imposition of the Austrian withholding tax.

Where non-Austrian residents receive income from the Notes as part of business income taxable in Austria (e.g. permanent establishment), they will generally be subject to the same tax treatment as Austrian resident business investors.

Implementation of the EU Savings Directive in Austria

The EU Council Directive 2003/48/EC on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the "EU Savings Directive") provides for an exchange of information between the authorities of EU member states regarding interest payments made in one member state to beneficial owners who are individuals and resident for tax purposes in another member state. Austria has implemented the EU Savings Directive by way of the EU Withholding Tax Act (EU-Quellensteuergesetz) which provides for a withholding tax rather than for an exchange of information. Such EU withholding tax is levied on interest payments within the meaning of the EU Withholding Tax Act made by a paying agent located in Austria to an individual resident for tax purposes in another member state of the European Union or certain dependent and associated territories. Further, withholding tax will be deducted – on a pro rata temporis basis – in case of changes of the individual's withholding tax status such as changes of his country of residence or transfer of his securities to a deposit account outside of Austria. The EU withholding tax currently amounts to 35%.

No EU withholding tax is deducted if the EU-resident investor provides the paying agent with a certificate drawn up in his name by the tax office of his member state of residence. Such certificate has to indicate, among other things, the name and address of the paying agent as well as the bank account number of the individual investor or the identification number of the notes (§ 10 EU Withholding Tax Act).

For the tax implications arising under the EU Savings Directive as amended on March 24, 2014, please see "EU Savings Directive" below.

Other Taxes

There should be no transfer tax, registration tax or similar tax payable in Austria by investors as a consequence of the acquisition, ownership, disposition or redemption of the notes.

The Austrian inheritance and gift tax (Erbschafts- und Schenkungssteuer) was abolished with effect as of August 1, 2008. However, gifts from or to Austrian residents have to be notified to the tax authorities within a three-month notification period. There are certain exemptions from such notification obligation, e.g. for gifts among relatives that do not exceed an aggregate amount of EUR 50,000 per year or gifts among unrelated persons that do not exceed an aggregate amount of EUR 15,000 within five years.

Germany

Withholding Tax

For German tax residents (e.g. persons whose residence, habitual abode, statutory seat or place of management is located in Germany), interest payments on the Notes are subject to withholding tax, provided that the Notes are held in custody with a German custodian, who is required to deduct the withholding tax from such interest payments (the "Disbursing Agent"). Disbursing Agents are German resident credit institutions, financial services institutions (including German permanent establishments of foreign institutions), securities trading companies or securities trading banks. The applicable withholding tax rate is 25 percent (plus 5.5 percent solidarity surcharge thereon and, if applicable, church tax). Individuals subject to church tax may apply in writing for church tax to be levied by way of withholding. Absent such application, individuals subject to church tax have to include their investment income in their income tax return and will then be assessed to church tax. For German credit institutions, an electronic information system for church withholding tax purposes will apply in relation to investment income received after December 31, 2014, with the effect that church tax will be collected by the Disbursing Agent by way of withholding unless the investor has filed a blocking notice (Sperrvermerk) with the German Federal Central Tax Office (Bundeszentralamt für Steuern) in which case the investor will be assessed to church tax.

The withholding tax regime should also apply to any gains from the disposition or redemption of Notes realized by private investors holding the Notes as private (and not as business) assets in custody with a Disbursing Agent. Subject to exceptions, the amount of capital gains on which the withholding tax charge is applied is generally levied on the difference between the proceeds received upon the disposition or redemption of the Notes and (after the deduction of actual expenses directly related thereto) the acquisition costs. Where custody has changed since the acquisition and the acquisition data is not proved to the Disbursing Agent in the form required by law, the tax at a rate of 25 percent (plus 5.5 percent solidarity surcharge and, if applicable, church tax) will be imposed on an amount equal to 30 percent of the proceeds from the sale or redemption of the Notes.

Accrued interest (Stückzinsen) received by the investor upon disposal of the Notes between two interest payment dates is considered as part of the sales proceeds thus increasing a capital gain or reducing a capital loss from the Notes. Accrued interest paid by the investor upon an acquisition of the Notes after the issue date qualifies as negative investment income either to be deducted from positive investment income generated in the same assessment period or to be carried forward to future assessment periods.

According to the German tax authorities, losses resulting from a sale where the sale proceeds do not exceed the transaction costs are treated as non-deductible for German taxation purposes; the same applies where, based on an agreement with the Disbursing Agent, the transactions costs are capped at the amount of the sale proceeds less a spread. Similarly, losses resulting from a bad debt loss (Forderungsausfall) in the case of an Issuer default or from a waiver of a receivable (Forderungsverzicht) in relation to the Notes, to the extent the waiver does not qualify as a hidden contribution, are not treated as tax-deductible.

German withholding tax should generally not be levied if the investor filed a withholding tax exemption certificate (Freistellungsauftrag) with the Disbursing Agent, but only to the extent the annual aggregate investment income does not exceed the maximum lump sum deduction amount (Sparer-Pauschbetrag) shown on the withholding tax exemption certificate. Currently, the maximum lump sum deduction amount (Sparer-Pauschbetrag) is EUR 801 (EUR 1,602 in the case of jointly assessed husband and wife or jointly assessed registered partners) for all investment income received in a given calendar year. Similarly, no withholding tax should be levied if the investor has submitted to the Disbursing Agent a certificate of non-assessment (Nichtveranlagungs-Bescheinigung) issued by the competent local tax office.

German resident corporate and other German resident business investors should in essence not be subject to the withholding tax on gains from the disposition, sale or redemption of the Notes (i.e. for these investors only interest payments, but not gains from the sale or redemption of the Notes are subject to the withholding tax regime).

The Issuer does not assume any responsibility for the deduction of German withholding tax at the source (including solidarity surcharge and, where applicable, church tax thereon).

Private Investors

For German tax resident private investors the withholding tax is – without prejudice to certain exceptions – definitive under a special flat tax regime (Abgeltungsteuer). Under the flat tax regime, expenses actually incurred in connection with the investment into the Notes are not tax-deductible. Private investors can apply to have their income from the investment into the Notes assessed in accordance with the general rules on determining an individual's tax bracket if this results in a lower tax burden. Pursuant to the current view of the German tax authorities (which has recently been rejected by a fiscal court in a non-binding ruling appealed to the German Federal Fiscal Court (Bundesfinanzhof)), in this case expenses actually incurred can also not be deducted from the investment income, except for the aforementioned lump sum deduction. An assessment is mandatory for income from the investment into the Notes where the Notes are held in custody outside of Germany. Losses resulting from the sale or redemption of the Notes can only be off-set against other investment income. In the event that, absent sufficient positive investment income, a set-off is not possible in the assessment period in which the losses have been realized, such losses can be carried forward in order to be offset against any positive investment income generated in future assessment periods.

Business Investors

Interest payments and capital gains from the disposition or redemption of the Notes held as business assets by German tax resident business investors are generally subject to German income tax or corporate income tax (plus 5.5 percent solidarity surcharge thereon and, if applicable in the case of an individual holding the Notes as business assets, church tax). Any withholding tax deducted from interest payments is – as a general rule and subject to certain requirements – creditable against the German (corporate) income tax liability, or, to the extent exceeding the (corporate) income tax liability, refundable. The interest payments and capital gains are also subject to trade tax, if the Notes are attributable to a trade or business.

Foreign Tax Residents

Investors not resident in Germany should, in essence, not be taxable in Germany with the proceeds from the investment in the Notes, and no German withholding tax should be withheld from such income, even if the Notes are held in custody with a German credit (or comparable) institution. Exceptions apply, e.g., where the Notes are held as business assets in a German permanent establishment of the investor. However, a non-resident investor may be subject to tax with any income derived from the Notes in the jurisdiction where such investor is tax resident.

Substitution of the Issuer

If the Issuer exercises the right to substitute the debtor of the Notes, the substitution might, for German tax purposes, be treated as an exchange of the Notes for new notes issued by the Substitute Debtor and subject to similar taxation rules like the Notes. In particular, such a substitution might result in the recognition of a taxable gain or loss for any Holder.

Other taxes

At present, the purchase, sale or other disposal of Notes does not give rise to capital transfer tax, value added tax, stamp duties or similar taxes or charges in Germany. However, under certain circumstances entrepreneurs may opt for a liability to value added tax with regard to the sales of Notes which would otherwise be tax exempt. Net wealth tax (Vermögensteuer) is, at present, not levied in Germany.

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

The following is a general description of certain Luxembourg tax considerations relating to the Notes. It specifically contains information on taxes on the income from the Notes withheld at source and provides an indication as to whether the Issuer assumes responsibility for the withholding of taxes at the source. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Notes. Prospective purchasers of the Notes should consult their own tax advisors with respect to particular circumstances, the effect of state, local or foreign laws to which they may be subject and as to their tax position. This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Prospectus. The information contained within this section is limited to withholding taxation issues, and prospective investors should not apply any information set out below to other areas, including (but not limited to) the legality of transactions involving the Notes.

Withholding Tax

Resident Holders

Under the Luxembourg law dated December 23, 2005 (hereafter, the "Law"), a 10 percent Luxembourg withholding tax is levied as of January 1, 2006 on interest payments or similar income payments (accrued since July 1, 2005) made by Luxembourg paying agents to (or for the benefit of) Luxembourg individual residents. This withholding tax also applies on accrued interest received upon disposal, redemption or repurchase of the Notes. Such withholding tax will be in full discharge of income tax if the beneficial owner is an individual acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth.

Further, pursuant to the Law as amended by the law of July 17, 2008, Luxembourg resident individuals who are the beneficial owners of interest payments and other similar income made by a paying agent established outside Luxembourg in a Member State of the European Union or of the European Economic Area or in a jurisdiction having concluded an agreement with Luxembourg in connection with the EU Savings Directive as defined hereinafter, may also opt for a final 10 percent levy. In such case, the 10 percent levy is calculated on the same amounts as for the payments made by Luxembourg resident paying agents. The option for the 10 percent levy must cover all interest payments made by the paying agent to the Luxembourg resident beneficial owner during the entire civil year.

Non-resident Holders

Under the Luxembourg tax law currently in effect and subject to the application of the Luxembourg laws dated June 21, 2005 (the "Laws") implementing the EU Savings Directive and several agreements concluded between Luxembourg and certain dependent territories of the European Union, there is no withholding tax on payments of interest (including accrued but unpaid interest) made to a Luxembourg non-resident Holder. There is also no Luxembourg withholding tax, upon repayment of the principal, or subject to the application of the Laws, upon redemption or exchange of the Notes. Under the Laws, a Luxembourg based paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) is required since July 1, 2005, to withhold tax on interest and other similar income (including reimbursement premium received at maturity) paid by it to (or under certain circumstances, to the benefit of) an individual or a residual entity ("Residual Entity") in the sense of Article 4 (2) of the EU

Savings Directive (i.e. an entity without legal personality, except for (1) a Finnish avoin yhtiö and kommandiittiyhtiö / öppet bolag and kommanditbolag and (2) a Swedish handelsbolag and kommanditbolag, and whose profits are not taxed under the general arrangements for the business taxation and that is not, or has not opted to be considered as, a UCITS recognized in accordance with Council Directive 2009/65/EC), resident or established in another Member State of the European Union unless the beneficiary of the interest payments elects for an exchange of information. The same regime applies to payments to individuals or Residual Entities resident in any of the following territories: Aruba, British Virgin Islands, Curaçao, Guernsey, the Isle of Man, Jersey, Montserrat and Sint Maarten.

The withholding tax is currently 35 percent. In each case described above, responsibility for the withholding tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent.

The Netherlands

The following is a general summary and the tax consequences as described here may not apply to a holder of Notes. Any potential investors should consult their own tax advisers for more information about the tax consequences of acquiring, owning and disposing of Notes in their particular circumstances.

This taxation summary solely addresses the principal Netherlands tax consequences of the acquisition, the ownership and disposition of Notes issued by Issuer after the date hereof held by a holder of Notes who is not a resident of The Netherlands. It does not consider every aspect of taxation that may be relevant to a particular holder of Notes under special circumstances or who is subject to special treatment under applicable law. Where in this summary English terms and expressions are used to refer to Netherlands concepts, the meaning to be attributed to such terms and expressions shall be the meaning to be attributed to the equivalent Netherlands concepts under Netherlands tax law.

This summary is based on the tax laws of The Netherlands as they are in force and in effect on the date of this Prospectus. The Netherlands means the part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands located in Europe. The laws upon which this summary is based are subject to change, potentially with retroactive effect. A change to such laws may invalidate the contents of this summary, which will not be updated to reflect any such change. This summary assumes that each transaction with respect to Notes is at arm's length.

Withholding Tax

All payments by Issuer under Notes can be made free of withholding or deduction of any taxes of whatever nature imposed, levied, withheld or assessed by The Netherlands or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein.

Taxes on Income and Capital Gains

A holder of Notes will not be subject to any Netherlands taxes on income or capital gains in respect of Notes, including such tax on any payment under Notes or in respect of any gain realised on the disposal, deemed disposal or exchange of Notes, provided that:

- (i) such holder is neither a resident nor deemed to be a resident of The Netherlands;
- (ii) such holder does not have an enterprise or an interest in an enterprise that is, in whole or in part, carried on through a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in The Netherlands and to which enterprise or part of an enterprise, as the case may be, Notes are attributable;
- (iii) if such holder is an individual, neither such holder nor any of the holder's spouse, partner, a person deemed to be the holder's partner, or other persons sharing such holder's house or household, or certain other of such holder's relatives (including foster children), whether directly and/or indirectly as (deemed) settlor, grantor or similar originator (the "Settlor"), or upon the death of the Settlor, the Settlor's beneficiaries (the "Beneficiaries") in proportion to their entitlement to the estate of the Settlor, of a trust, foundation or similar arrangement (a "Trust") indirectly has control of the proceeds of Notes in The Netherlands; and

- (iv) if such holder is an individual, such income or capital gain does not form a "benefit from miscellaneous activities" in The Netherlands (resultaat uit overige werkzaamheden) which, for instance, would be the case if the activities in The Netherlands with respect to Notes exceed "normal active asset management" (normaal, actief vermogensbeheer) or if income and gains are derived from the holding, whether directly or indirectly, of (a combination of) shares, debt claims or other rights (a "lucrative interest"; lucratief belang) that the holder thereof has acquired under such circumstances that such income and gains are intended to be remuneration for work or services performed by such holder (or a related person) in The Netherlands, whether within or outside an employment relation, where such lucrative interest provides the holder thereof, economically speaking, with certain benefits that have a relation to the relevant work or services.

Gift, Estate or Inheritance Taxes

No gift, estate or inheritance taxes will arise in The Netherlands with respect to an acquisition of Notes by way of a gift by, or on the death of, a holder who is neither resident nor deemed to be resident in The Netherlands for Netherlands inheritance and gift tax purposes, unless in the case of a gift of Notes by an individual who at the date of the gift was neither resident nor deemed to be resident in The Netherlands, such individual dies within 180 days after the date of the gift, while being resident or deemed to be resident in The Netherlands.

For purposes of Netherlands gift and inheritance tax, an individual with the Netherlands nationality will be deemed to be resident in The Netherlands if such individual has been resident in The Netherlands at any time during the ten years preceding the date of the gift or the individual's death.

For purposes of Netherlands gift tax, an individual not holding the Netherlands nationality will be deemed to be resident in The Netherlands if such individual has been resident in The Netherlands at any time during the twelve months preceding the date of the gift.

For purposes of Netherlands gift and inheritance tax, a gift that is made under a condition precedent is deemed to have been made at the moment such condition precedent is satisfied. If the condition precedent is fulfilled after the death of the donor, the gift is deemed to be made upon the death of the donor.

For purposes of Netherlands gift, estate and inheritance taxes, (i) a gift by a Trust, will be construed as a gift by the Settlor, and (ii) upon the death of the Settlor, as a rule, the Settlor's Beneficiaries, will be deemed to have inherited directly from the Settlor. Subsequently, the Beneficiaries will be deemed the Settlor of the Trust for purposes of the Netherlands gift, estate and inheritance tax in case of subsequent gifts or inheritances.

Value Added Tax

There is no Netherlands value added tax payable in respect of payments in consideration for the issue of Notes, in respect of the payment of interest or principal under Notes, or the transfer of Notes.

Other Taxes and Duties

There is no Netherlands registration tax, capital tax, stamp duty or any other similar tax or duty payable in The Netherlands by a holder of Notes in respect of or in connection with the execution, delivery and/or enforcement by legal proceedings (including any foreign judgment in the courts of The Netherlands) of the Notes or the performance of the obligations of Issuer under the Notes.

EU Savings Directive

Under the EU Savings Directive, each Member State is required to provide to the tax authorities of another Member State details of payments of interest or other similar income paid by a person within its jurisdiction to, or collected by such a person for, an individual resident or certain limited types of entity named Residual Entities (within the meaning of Article 4 (2) of the EU Savings Directive) established in that other Member State. For a transitional period, Austria instead applies a withholding system in relation to such payments, deducting tax at a rate of meanwhile 35%; however, Austria has undertaken to implement an automatic exchange of information as of September 2017. Luxembourg has recently ceased to apply the withholding tax system and participates in the automatic exchange of information system as of January 1, 2015.

A number of non-EU countries and certain dependent or associated territories of certain Member States have adopted similar measures (either provision of information or transitional withholding) in relation to payments made by a person within its jurisdiction to, or collected by such a person for, an individual resident or certain Residual Entities established in a Member State. In addition, the Member States have entered into provision of information or transitional withholding arrangements with certain of those dependent or associated territories in relation to payments made by a person in a Member State to, or collected by such a person for, an individual resident or certain limited types of entity established in one of those territories.

The European Council formally adopted a Council Directive amending the EU Savings Directive on March 24, 2014 (the "Amending Directive"). The Amending Directive broadens the scope of the requirements described above. Member States have until January 1, 2016 to adopt the national legislation necessary to comply with the Amending Directive and the national legislation must apply from January 1, 2017. The changes made under the Amending Directive include extending the scope of the EU Savings Directive to payments made to, or collected for, certain other entities and legal arrangements. They also broaden the definition of "interest payment" to cover income that is equivalent to interest.

The proposed Financial Transaction Tax

On February 14, 2013, the EU Commission adopted a proposal for a Council Directive (the "Draft Directive") on a common financial transaction tax (the "FTT"). According to the Draft Directive, the FTT shall be implemented in eleven EU Member States (Austria, Belgium, Estonia, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Slovakia and Slovenia; the "Participating Member States").

Pursuant to the original proposal under the Draft Directive, the FTT had a very broad scope and would apply to certain dealings in financial instruments (including secondary market transactions) entered into by persons both within and outside of the Participating Member States. Generally, it would apply to certain dealings in financial instruments where at least one party is a financial institution, and either (i) at least one party is established or deemed to be established in a Participating Member State or (ii) the financial instruments are issued in a Participating Member State.

According to a press announcement of the EU Council, ten of the Participating Member States, including Germany, currently intend to work on the introduction of an FTT based on a progressive implementation of such tax. The progressive implementation shall first focus on the taxation of shares and certain derivatives only which shall be implemented at the latest on January 1, 2016. As to the further implementation of any FTT, there is currently no detailed plan or timetable available.

Nevertheless the FTT remains subject to negotiation between the Participating Member States and was (and most probably will be) the subject of legal challenge. It may be altered prior to its adoption, the timing of which remains unclear. Moreover, once any directive has been adopted, it will need to be implemented into the respective domestic laws of the Participating Member States and the domestic provisions implementing a directive might deviate from such directive. Finally, additional EU Member States may decide to participate.

SUBSCRIPTION, SALE AND OFFER OF THE NOTES

General

Each of Merrill Lynch International, Citigroup Global Markets Limited, Bayerische Landesbank, BNP Paribas, Commerzbank Aktiengesellschaft, Credit Suisse Securities (Europe) Limited, DZ BANK AG Deutsche Zentral-Genossenschaftsbank, Frankfurt am Main, Erste Group Bank AG, Goldman Sachs International, Landesbank Hessen-Thüringen Girozentrale, Raiffeisen Bank International AG, The Royal Bank of Scotland plc and UniCredit Bank AG (each a "Joint Lead Manager" and together the "Joint Lead Managers") will, pursuant to a subscription agreement to be signed on or about March 3, 2015 (the "Subscription Agreement"), agree, subject to certain closing conditions, to subscribe, on a firm commitment basis, or procure subscribers for the Notes to be issued by the Issuer. The Joint Lead Managers will be entitled, under certain circumstances, to terminate the agreement reached with the Issuer. In such event, no Notes will be delivered to investors. Furthermore, the Issuer will agree to indemnify the Joint Lead Managers against certain liabilities in connection with the offer and sale of the Notes.

The fees payable to the Joint Lead Managers in connection with the offering, placement and subscription of the Notes will be with regard to the Tranche 1 Notes up to 0.50 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 1 Notes and will be with regard to the Tranche 2 Notes up to 0.60 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 2 Notes.

The Joint Lead Managers or their affiliates have provided from time to time, and expect to provide in the future, investment services to the Issuer or its affiliates, for which the Joint Lead Managers and their affiliates have received or will receive customary fees and commissions.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the Joint Lead Managers and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of the Issuer or Issuer's affiliates. In particular, Bank of America Merrill Lynch International Limited and Citigroup Global Markets Limited arranged the Euro 800,000,000 / USD 934,290,000 Dual-Currency Term Loan Facilities Agreement (see "INFORMATION ABOUT INFINEON – Material Financings" above). Certain of the Joint Lead Managers or their affiliates, and in particular Bank of America Merrill Lynch International Limited (acting as arranger and original lender with regard to the above lending transaction), Citigroup Global Markets Limited (acting as arranger with regard to the above lending transaction) and Citibank, N.A., London Branch (acting as original lender with regard to the above lending transaction), that have a lending relationship with the Issuer routinely hedge their credit exposure to the Issuer consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such Joint Lead Managers and their affiliates and in particular Bank of America Merrill Lynch International Limited and Citibank, N.A., London Branch, would hedge and did hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in securities, including potentially the Notes. Any such short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the Notes. The Joint Lead Managers and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

There are no interests of natural and legal persons other than the Issuer and the Joint Lead Managers involved in the issue of the Notes, including conflicting ones that are material to the issue.

Offer of the Notes

Public offer, offer period and determination of pricing details

The Notes will be offered to institutional investors and retail investors in compliance with applicable public offer restrictions by the Joint Lead Managers during an offer period which will commence on February 23, 2015 and will be open until and including March 24, 2015 subject to a shortening or extension agreed by the Issuer and the Joint Lead Managers. Should the Issuer and the Joint Lead Managers determine any shortening or extension of the offer period (e.g. due to changing market conditions), such changes will be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

The Notes may be offered to the public in each of Austria, Germany, Luxembourg and The Netherlands following the effectiveness of the notification of the Prospectus by the CSSF according to Article 18 of the Prospectus Directive.

The aggregate principal amount of each Tranche of Notes to be issued will be determined on the basis of the number and volume of orders received which offer a yield acceptable to the Issuer. The issue price and the interest rate for each Tranche of Notes will be determined as described in "Method of determination of the pricing details" below on the pricing date which is expected to be on or about February 26, 2015 (the "Pricing Date"). Such information as well as the aggregate principal amount, the issue proceeds and the yield for each Tranche of Notes will be set out in a notice (the "Pricing Notice") which will be filed with the CSSF and published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu) on or after the Pricing Date and prior to the Issue Date. The Issuer reserves the right not to issue any Tranche of Notes depending on market conditions. Any sale of the Notes on the secondary market will be subject to market conditions.

Conditions of the offer

There are no conditions to which the offer is subject.

Subscription rights for the Notes will not be issued. Therefore, there are no procedures in place for the exercise of any right of pre-emption, the negotiability of subscription rights and the treatment of subscription rights not exercised.

Technical details of the offer

During the offer period of the Notes investors may submit offers to purchase Notes to the Joint Lead Managers and using the information system Bloomberg or any other commonly used information system. In the case of an order prior to the determination of the pricing details, the investors shall specify at which price they would be prepared to purchase which amount of Notes. Following determination and notification of the pricing details the Joint Lead Managers will offer the Notes upon request in Austria, Germany, Luxembourg and The Netherlands.

Method of determination of the pricing details

The issue price and the interest rate of each Tranche of Notes will be determined on the Pricing Date on the basis of a yield which is determined by adding a credit spread (the "Pricing Credit Spread") to the level of the Midswaps (as defined below) at the time of pricing. The Pricing Credit Spread will be fixed on the basis of the orders received and confirmed by the Joint Lead Managers. The level of the Midswaps will be determined as the average yield of the bid and ask prices of interest-swap transactions ("Midswaps") with a maturity similar to the maturity of the respective Tranche of Notes shown on Bloomberg page ICAE1 or on any other screen page which is conventionally used to price Eurobond transactions at the time of pricing.

The resulting yield will be used to determine the issue price (which is expected to be less than par) and the rate of interest (which is expected to be a percentage figure which can be evenly divided by

1/8 of a full percent and which will be correspondingly higher if a higher issue price is determined and which will be correspondingly lower if a lower issue price is determined) for each Tranche of Notes, all to correspond to the yield which reflects the level of the Midswaps and the Pricing Credit Spread.

Confirmation of offers placed by, and allotments to, investors

Each investor who has submitted an order in relation to a Tranche of Notes and whose order is accepted by the Joint Lead Managers will receive a confirmation by electronic mail, fax or through commonly used information systems setting out its respective allotment of Notes of such Tranche. Before an investor receives a confirmation from the Joint Lead Managers that its offer to purchase Notes of a Tranche has been accepted, the investor may reduce or withdraw its purchase order.

Delivery of the Notes to investors

Following the determination of the pricing details and confirmation which orders have been accepted and which amounts have been allotted to particular investors, delivery and payment of the Notes of a Tranche will generally be made within eight business days after the date of pricing of the Notes and the confirmation of the allotment to investors. The Notes of a Tranche so purchased will be delivered via book-entry through the Clearing Systems (see "GENERAL INFORMATION – Clearing and Settlement") and their depository banks against payment of the issue price.

Costs and expenses relating to the offer

The Issuer will not charge any costs, expenses or taxes directly to any investor. Investors must, however, inform themselves about any costs, expenses or taxes in connection with the Notes which are generally applicable in their respective country of residence, including any charges their own depository banks charge them for purchasing or holding securities.

Consent to the use of the Prospectus

Each Joint Lead Manager and each further financial intermediary subsequently reselling or finally placing the Notes is entitled to use the Prospectus in Austria, Germany, Luxembourg and The Netherlands for the subsequent resale or final placement of the Notes during the period from and including February 23, 2015 to and including March 24, 2015 during which subsequent resale or final placement of the Notes can be made, provided however, that the Prospectus is still valid in accordance with Article 11 of the Luxembourg law relating to prospectuses for securities (Loi du 10 juillet 2005 relative aux prospectus pour valeurs mobilières), as amended, which implements Directive 2003/71/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of November 4, 2003 (as amended by Directive 2010/73/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of November 24, 2010) (the "Luxembourg Prospectus Law"). The Issuer accepts responsibility for the information given in this Prospectus also with respect to such subsequent resale or final placement of the Notes.

The Prospectus may only be delivered to potential investors together with all supplements in accordance with Article 13 of the Luxembourg Prospectus Law published before such delivery. Any supplement to the Prospectus in accordance with Article 13 of the Luxembourg Prospectus Law will be available for viewing in electronic form on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu).

When using the Prospectus, each relevant financial intermediary must make certain that it complies with all applicable laws and regulations in force in the respective jurisdictions.

In the event of an offer being made by a financial intermediary, such financial intermediary shall provide information to investors on the terms and conditions of the offer at the time of that offer.

Any financial intermediary using the Prospectus shall state on its website that it uses the Prospectus in accordance with the consent of the Issuer and the conditions attached to this consent.

Selling Restrictions

General

Each Joint Lead Manager has acknowledged that other than explicitly mentioned in this Prospectus no action is taken or will be taken by the Issuer in any jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of the Notes, or possession or distribution of any offering material relating to them, in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required.

Each Joint Lead Manager has represented and agreed that it will comply with all applicable laws and regulations in each jurisdiction in which it purchases, offers, sells or delivers Notes or has in its possession or distributes any offering material relating to them.

European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a "Relevant Member State"), each Joint Lead Manager has represented, warranted and agreed that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the "Relevant Implementation Date") it has not made and will not make an offer of Notes which are subject to the offering contemplated by this Prospectus to the public in that Relevant Member State prior to the publication of a prospectus in relation to the Notes which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State in accordance with the Prospectus Directive or, where appropriate, published in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State in accordance with Article 18 of the Prospectus Directive, provided that the Issuer has consented in writing to the use of the Prospectus for any such offers, except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State at any time:

- (a) to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive;
- (b) to fewer than 100, or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provision of the 2010 PD Amending Directive, 150 natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive), as permitted under the Prospectus Directive, subject to obtaining the prior consent of the Joint Lead Managers; or
- (c) in any other circumstances which do not require the publication by the Issuer of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive; provided that no such offer of the Notes shall require the Issuer or Joint Lead Managers to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement this Prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression an "offer of Notes to the public" in relation to any Notes in any Relevant Member State means the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the Notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the Notes, as the same may be varied in that Member State by any measure implementing the Prospectus Directive in that Member State, and the expression "Prospectus Directive" means Directive 2003/71/EC (and amendments thereto, including the 2010 PD Amending Directive, to the extent implemented in the Relevant Member State) and includes any relevant implementing measure in the Relevant Member State, and the expression "2010 PD Amending Directive" means Directive 2010/73/EU.

United States and its Territories

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Each Joint Lead Manager has represented that it has not offered or sold, and agrees that it will not offer or sell, any Notes constituting part of its allotment within the United States except in accordance with Rule 903 of Regulation S under the Securities Act. Accordingly, neither it, its affiliates, nor any persons acting on its or their behalf have engaged or will engage in any directed selling efforts with respect to the Notes. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

In addition, each Joint Lead Manager has represented, warranted and agreed that, except to the extent permitted under U.S. Treasury Regulations section 1.163-5(c)(2)(i)(D) (the "D Rules"):

- (a) it has not offered or sold Notes, and during the restricted period shall not offer or sell Notes, directly or indirectly to a United States person or to a person who is within the United States or its possessions, and it has not delivered and shall not deliver within the United States or its possessions Notes that are sold during the restricted period;
- (b) it has and throughout the restricted period it shall have in effect procedures reasonably designed to ensure that its employees or agents who are directly engaged in selling Notes are aware that the Notes may not be offered or sold during the restricted period to a United States person or to a person who is within the United States or its possessions, except as permitted by the D Rules;
- (c) if it is a United States person, it is acquiring the Notes for purposes of resale in connection with their original issuance and not for the purpose of resale directly or indirectly to a United States person or a person within the United States or its possessions and it shall acquire or retain Notes for its own account only in accordance with the requirements of D Rules;
- (d) with respect to each affiliate that acquires Notes from it for the purpose of offering or selling such Notes during the restricted period, it either (i) repeats and confirms the representations contained in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of this paragraph on behalf of such affiliate or (ii) agrees that it shall obtain from such affiliate for the benefit of the Issuer the representations contained in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of this paragraph; and
- (e) it shall obtain for the benefit of the Issuer the representations and agreements contained in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this paragraph from any person other than its affiliate with whom it enters into a written contract, as defined in the D Rules, for the offer or sale of Notes during the restricted period.

Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and Treasury Regulations thereunder, including the D Rules. For the avoidance of doubt, all references to the D Rules above also refer to any successor rules for purposes of Section 4701 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 that are substantially identical to the D Rules in effect at the date of this Prospectus.

In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of the offering, an offer or sale of Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) could violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland

Each Joint Lead Manager has represented and agreed that,

- (a) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, as amended ("FSMA")) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Notes in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to the Issuer; and

- (b) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the FSMA with respect to anything done by it in relation to any Notes in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Authorization

The creation and issue of the Notes has been authorized by a resolution of the Supervisory Board of the Issuer dated February 12, 2015 and by a resolution of the Board of Management of the Issuer dated January 16, 2015.

Clearing and Settlement

Payments and transfers of the Notes will be settled through Euroclear Bank SA/NV, 1 Boulevard du Roi Albert II, B-1210 Brussels, Belgium ("Euroclear") and Clearstream Banking, société anonyme, 42 Avenue JF Kennedy L-1855 Luxembourg ("Clearstream Luxembourg", Euroclear and Clearstream Luxembourg each being an "ICSD").

The Notes are intended to be held in a manner which would allow Eurosystem eligibility and upon issue to be deposited with one of the ICSDs as common safekeeper. This does not necessarily mean that any Tranche of Notes will be recognized as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary policy and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem either upon issue or at any or all times during their life. Such recognition will depend upon satisfaction of the Eurosystem eligibility criteria.

The Tranche 1 Notes have been assigned securities codes as follows:

ISIN: XS1191115366;
Common Code: 119111536; and
WKN: A13SAN.

The Tranche 2 Notes have been assigned securities codes as follows:

ISIN: XS1191116174;
Common Code: 119111617; and
WKN: A13SAP.

Notices to Holders

For so long as a Tranche of Notes are listed on the official list of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and admitted to trading on the regulated market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, all notices to the Holders regarding such Tranche of Notes shall be published on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.bourse.lu) as well as in the German Federal Gazette (Bundesanzeiger).

Yield

The yield of each Tranche of Notes will be included in the Pricing Notice. Such yield is calculated in accordance with the ICMA (International Capital Markets Association) method and based on the issue price of the respective Tranche of Notes as well as on the assumption that the Notes will not be redeemed prior to their stated maturity. The ICMA method determines the effective interest rate of notes taking into account accrued interest on a daily basis.

Expenses

The expenses of the issue of the Notes are expected to amount to approximately EUR 420,000 plus the fees with regard to the Tranche 1 Notes of up to 0.50 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 1 Notes and with regard to the Tranche 2 Notes of up to 0.60 percent of the aggregate principal amount of the Tranche 2 Notes, in each case to be paid in connection with the offer of the Notes to the Joint Lead Managers.

Listing and Admission to Trading

Application will be made to list the Notes on the official list of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and to admit them to trading on the regulated market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.
