| Tax Considerations | You should consult your tax advisor regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal withholding, income and estate tax consequences of an investment in the Notes and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction. The Issuer, Dealer and Distribution Agent and/or their respective affiliates are not tax advisors and do not provide tax advice. Responsibility for any tax implications of an investment in the Notes rests entirely with the Investor. Investors should note that the tax treatment of the Notes may differ from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. This section summarizes certain generally applicable U.S. federal withholding and income tax consequences to Non-U.S. Holders, as defined in the Offering Circular (the “Offering Document”), in respect of the Notes. Except as discussed in the Offering Document under “Taxation-Other U.S. Federal Tax Considerations for Non-U.S. Holders—Section 871(m) Withholding on Dividend Equivalents – Section 871(m) of the Code and “Taxation-Other U.S. Federal Tax Considerations for Non-U.S. Holders – FATCA Legislation,” and subject to the discussion below regarding Section 871(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (“Section 871(m)”), amounts paid to a Non-U.S. Holder on a Note generally should not be subject to U.S. federal withholding or income tax, provided, among other things, that the Non-U.S. Holder complies with applicable certification requirements or otherwise establishes an exemption from withholding. Gain realised by a Non-U.S. Holder on the taxable disposition of a Note generally will not be subject to U.S. federal withholding or income tax. Special rules apply to certain Non-U.S. Holders, including Non-U.S. Holders that are engaged in a trade or business in the United States or that are individuals present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of disposition. If U.S. federal withholding tax applies to a payment on a Note as a result of the application of FATCA or Section 871(m) (or in certain other cases described in the Offering Document), the Issuer will not be required to pay additional amounts in respect of amounts withheld. Please review the accompanying Offering Document and the Pricing Supplement for more information regarding the U.S. federal withholding and income tax consequences of an investment in the Notes. |
| Secondary Market | Citigroup Global Markets Limited (CGML), as part of its activities as a broker and dealer in fixed income and equity securities and related products, intends to make a secondary market in relation to these securities and to provide an indicative bid price on a daily basis. Any indicative prices provided by CGML shall be determined in CGML’s sole discretion taking into account prevailing market conditions and shall not be a representation by CGML that any instrument can be purchased or sold at such prices (or at all). Notwithstanding the above, CGML may suspend or terminate making a market and providing indicative prices without notice, at any time and for any reason. Consequently, there may be no market for these securities and investors should not assume that such a market will exist. Accordingly an investor must be prepared to hold these securities until the maturity date. Where a market does exist, to the extent that an investor wants to sell these securities, the price may, or may not, be at a discount from the outstanding principal amount. See further “The secondary market” within the Risk Factors in the Offering Circular. |

| Legal and Regulatory | This is not a public offer of Notes. No documentation relating to or detailing the terms of the Notes has been filed, registered with or approved by any authority in any jurisdiction and no action has been taken in any country or jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of the Notes. Noteholders and prospective purchasers will be deemed to represent that they have complied with and will comply with all applicable laws and regulations in each country or jurisdiction in or from which they purchase, offer, sell or deliver Notes. In certain circumstances investors and/or the distributor may need to execute either a Selling Activity Letter or an Investor Letter in connection with these Notes to confirm whether the Notes are being distributed or not and the basis of such distribution. |
| Terms of Distribution | Where you are not an affiliate of Citigroup Global Markets Limited and you engage in distribution activities in connection with these Notes, except where you have entered into a distribution agreement (in which case, the terms of such distribution agreement shall apply), you will carry out such distribution activities in compliance with Citi's "Distribution Terms In Relation To Structured Products" (www.citifirst.com/distributionterms). These terms set out the basis on which we are trading with you and include, amongst other things, representations, warranties and indemnities. |
| Suitability | Investors should determine whether an investment in the Notes is appropriate to their particular circumstances and should consult with their own independent financial, legal, regulatory capital, accounting, business and tax advisers to determine the consequences of an investment in the Notes and to arrive at their own evaluation of the investment. |

Risk Factors

|------------------------------|---|
| Principal Protection | The Notes will only be principal protected if the terms and conditions of the Notes provide that the redemption amount per Note at maturity is an amount equivalent to at least the denomination of such Note. However, investors should note that this is subject to the credit risk of the Issuer and Guarantor as applicable (see “Credit Risk” above). Further, the Notes may be traded or redeemed early, and if so, the price for which a Note may be sold or redeemed early may be less than the denomination of such Note, offering no protection of principal. |
| Interest Risk | These Notes include features whereby the interest payable to a holder of the Notes is at risk. Investors should determine whether an investment in Notes with such features is appropriate to their particular circumstances. |
| Market Risk | Various factors may influence the market value of the Notes including the performance of the underlying. Prospective investors should understand that although the Notes do not create an actual interest in the underlying, the return on the Notes may attract the same risks as an actual investment in the underlying. |
| Early Redemption Risk | The Notes are subject to early redemption in certain circumstances, such as illegality and for tax reasons. In addition, there may be an early redemption of the Notes in other circumstances, as determined by the Calculation Agent or as otherwise specified, in accordance with the terms of the Notes (please see the Prospectus for further details). In such circumstances, the Notes may be redeemed prior to the Maturity Date for substantially less than their original purchase price and may not pay any accrued interest. |
| Credit Risk | Investors in these Notes are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer and Guarantor as applicable. |
| Tax Risk | You should consult your tax advisor regarding all aspects of the U.S. federal withholding, income and estate tax consequences of an investment in the Notes and any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or non-U.S. taxing jurisdiction. The Issuer, Dealer and Calculation Agent and/or their respective affiliates are not tax advisors and do not provide tax advice. Responsibility for any tax implications of an investment in the Notes rests entirely with the Investor. Investors should note that the tax treatment of the Notes may differ from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. The Issuer may terminate the Notes early if the Calculation Agent determines in its sole discretion that there is substantial likelihood that payments linked to the underlyings made to a non-US person will be subject to US withholding tax under Section 871(m) of the US Internal Revenue Code of 1986. |
| Leverage Risk | Borrowing to fund the purchase of the Notes (leveraging) can have a significant negative impact on the value of and return on the investment. Any hypothetical examples provided herein of potential performance of the Notes do not take into account the effect of any leveraging. Investors considering leveraging the Notes should obtain further detailed information as to the applicable risks from the leverage provider. If the investor obtains leverage for the investment, the investor should make sure it has sufficient liquid assets to meet the margin requirements in the event of market movements adverse to the investor's position. In such case, if the investor does not make the margin payments then the investor's investment in the Notes may be liquidated with little or no notice. |

|--|---|
| Compounding of Risks | An investment in the Notes involves risks and should only be made after assessing the direction, timing and magnitude of potential future market changes (e.g. in the value of the reference underlyings, interest rates etc.), as well as the terms and conditions of the Notes. More than one risk factor may have simultaneous effects with regard to the Notes such that the effect of a particular risk factor may not be predictable. In addition, more than one risk factor may have a compounding effect, which may not be predictable. No assurance can be given as to the effect that any combination of risk factors may have on the value of the Notes. |
| Fee and Other Compensation | Investors should be aware that Citigroup and its affiliates, and other third parties that may be involved in this transaction may make or receive a fee, commission or other compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of the Notes, hedging activities related to the Notes and other roles involved in the transaction. Investors must note that the market value of the Notes will be net of such fee and other compensation as discussed above. Early termination of the Notes by the holder thereof may also involve payment by such holder of the Notes of the relevant fees and other compensation. |
| Liquidity and Early Sale Risk | Citigroup Global Markets Limited does not guarantee that a secondary market will exist. See also the information under Secondary Market, above. Investors seeking to liquidate/sell positions in these Notes prior to the stated Maturity Date may receive substantially less than their original purchase price. For the avoidance of doubt, Citigroup Global Markets Limited does not owe any fiduciary duty to any holder of the Notes in making a market in the Notes. |
| Exchange Rate Risk | Exchange rate fluctuations may affect any payments under the terms of the Notes. Past levels of exchange rates do not indicate future levels. |
| Conflicts of Interest | Citigroup and its affiliates (each a “ Citi Entity ”) may perform various roles in relation to the Notes, and each such Citi Entity may have a conflict of interest which arises as a consequence of the role it performs in relation to the Notes or as a consequence of its activities more generally. A Citi Entity may owe professional and fiduciary obligations to persons other than the holders of the Notes. The interests of these other persons may differ from the interests of the holders of the Notes and in such situations, the Citi Entity may take decisions which adversely affect such holders. |
| Notional Nature of the Underlying | Include for Underlying Linked Notes Investors should note that the exposure to the underlying is notional and that an investment in the Notes is not an investment in the underlying. Although the performance of the underlying will have an effect on the Notes, the underlying and the Notes are separate obligations of different legal entities. Investors will have no direct interest in the underlying. |
| Path Dependency | Include for Underlying Linked Notes The return on the Notes will depend in large part on the evolution of the price performance of the underlying over the life of the Notes. However, the performance of the Notes may be less than or more than the price performance of the underlying. |
| No reliance | Each holder of the Notes may not rely on the Issuer, the Dealers, the Guarantor, any Citi entity and any of their respective affiliates in connection with its determination as to the legality of its acquisition of the Notes. |
