Debt Instruments Issuance Programme

Under the Debt Instruments Issuance Programme (the Programme), each of Société Générale, SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH (each an Issuer and together the Issuers) may from time to time issue Notes (the Notes) denominated in any currency agreed by the Issuer of such Notes (the relevant Issuer) and the relevant Purchaser(s) (as defined below).

When securities to be issued pursuant to this Base Prospectus are qualified as "certificates" (as defined in "Terms and Conditions of the German Law Notes"), any reference in the relevant section of this Base Prospectus and in the applicable Final Terms to "Notes" and "Noteholders" shall be deemed to be a reference to "Certificates" and "Certificateholders".

Notes issued under the Programme may either be unsecured or secured (Secured Notes), as specified in the applicable Final Terms and as further described herein.

Payments in respect of Notes issued by SG Issuer or Société Générale Effekten GmbH will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Société Générale (the Guarantor).

Subject as set out herein, the Notes will not be subject to any minimum or maximum maturity.

The Notes will be issued on a continuing basis to one or more of the Dealers specified in the "General Description of the Programme" and any additional dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time (each a Dealer and together the Dealers). Notes may also be issued to third parties other than Dealers. Dealers and such third parties are referred to as Purchasers. The terms and conditions of the German Law Notes (the German Law Notes) are set out herein in the "Terms and Conditions of the German Law Notes".

German Law Notes may be issued in bearer form (Bearer Notes, which include Bearer SIS Notes (as defined in the section headed "Terms and Conditions of the German Law Notes"). Bearer Notes may be represented by one or more Global Notes (as defined in the section headed "Terms and Conditions of the German Law Notes").

Bearer Notes (other than Bearer SIS Notes) will be deposited with a common depository (Common Depository) or, in the case of new global notes (New Global Notes or NGN), a common safekeeper (Common Safekeeper) on behalf of Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. as operator of the Euroclear System (Euroclear) and Clearstream Banking, S.A. (Clearstream, Luxembourg) and Clearstream Banking AG, Germany (Clearstream, Germany). Bearer SIS Notes (certified in a Permanent Global SIS Note) will be deposited with the Swiss securities services corporation SIX SIS Ltd (SIS) or any other intermediary in Switzerland recognised for such purposes by SIX Swiss Exchange Ltd (SIX Swiss Exchange).

Application has been made to the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (the CSSF) in its capacity as competent authority under the loi relative aux prospectus pour valeurs mobilières dated 10 July 2005, as amended, which implements the Prospectus Directive (the Luxembourg Act) to approve this document as a base prospectus. Such application does not extend to money market instruments (as defined in the Prospectus Directive) having a maturity of less than one year or to Notes (which are not publicly offered) to be admitted to trading on the Euro MTF (as defined below). By approving this Base Prospectus, the CSSF gives no undertaking as to the economic or financial opportuneness of the transaction or the quality or solvency of the Issuers in line with the provisions of article 7(7) of the Luxembourg Act. Application has also been made to the Luxembourg Stock Exchange for Notes issued under the Programme to be admitted to trading on (i) the Luxembourg Stock Exchange's regulated market and to be listed on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and (ii) the multilateral trading facilities Euro MTF of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (the Euro MTF). The regulated market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange is a regulated market for the purposes of the Markets in Financial Instrument Directive 2014/65/EU of 15 May 2014 (as amended, MIFID II) (a Regulated Market). The Euro MTF is not Regulated Market but it is subject to the supervision of the CSSF. Notes issued under the Programme may also be unlisted or listed and admitted to trading on any other market, including any other Regulated Market in any Member State of the EEA and/or offered to the public in any Member State of the EEA. The applicable Final Terms in respect of the issue of any Notes (as defined below) will specify whether or not such Notes will be listed and admitted to trading on any market and/or offered to the public in any Member State of the EEA and, if so, the relevant market.

Application has also been made to SIX Swiss Exchange to approve this document as an "issuance programme" for the listing of derivatives and an "issuance programme" for the listing of bonds, both in accordance with the listing rules of SIX Swiss Exchange. In respect of Notes to be listed on SIX Swiss Exchange, this Base Prospectus and the applicable Final Terms will constitute the listing prospectus pursuant to the listing rules of SIX Swiss Exchange.

The Notes and any guarantee thereof have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act) or under the securities law of any state or political sub-division of the United States, and trading in the Notes has not been approved by the Commodities Futures Trading Commission (the CFTC) under the United States Commodities Exchange Act of 1935, as amended (the CEA). No person has registered and no person will register as a commodity pool operator of any Issuer under the CEA and the rules thereunder (the CFTC Rules) of the CFTC, and no Issuer has been and no Issuer will be registered as an investment company under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules and regulations thereunder (the Investment Company Act). The Notes are being offered and sold in reliance on an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act pursuant to Regulation S thereunder (Regulation S).

Accordingly, the Notes may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred except in an "offshore transaction" (as defined under Regulation S) to or for the account or benefit of a person who (a) is not a U.S. person as defined in Rule 902(k)(1) of Regulation S; and (b) is not a person who comes within any definition of U.S. person for the purposes of the CEA or any CFTC Rule, guidance or order proposed or issued under the CEA (for the avoidance of doubt, any person who is not a "Non-United States person" defined under CFTC Rule 4.7(a)(1)(iv), but excluding, for purposes of subsection (D) thereof, the exception for qualified eligible persons who are not "Non-United States persons," shall be considered a U.S. person) (such a person or account, Permitted Transferee). The Notes described herein are available only to Permitted Transferees.

The CSSF has neither reviewed nor approved any information in this Base Prospectus pertaining to Notes admitted to trading on the Euro MTF and/or listed on SIX Swiss Exchange. The CSSF assumes therefore no responsibility in relation to the issues of Notes admitted to trading on the Euro MTF and/or listed on SIX Swiss Exchange.

The Notes are being offered and sold outside the United States to non-U.S. persons. The Notes are not being offered to investors in the United States or to any U.S. persons, including qualified institutional buyers.

Notice of the aggregate nominal amount of Notes, interest (if any) payable in respect of Notes, the issue price of Notes which are applicable to each Tranche (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Notes) of Notes will be set out in a final terms document (the Final Terms) which (except in the case of Private Placement Notes or Notes that must be distributed in or from Switzerland exclusively to Swiss Qualified Investors (all as defined in the sections entitled "Terms and Conditions of the German Law Notes")) will be filed with the CSSF. The Programme provides that Notes may be listed or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor and the relevant Purchaser. Each Issuer may also issue unlisted Notes and/or Notes not admitted to trading on any market.

U.S. Treasury regulations issued under Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the Section 871(m) Regulations) generally impose a 30% withholding tax on dividend equivalents paid or deemed paid (within the meaning of the relevant Section 871(m) Regulations) to a non-United States holder (a Non-U.S. Holder) with respect to certain financial instruments linked to U.S. equities or indices that include U.S. equities (U.S. Underlying Equities). Specifically, and subject to the exemption for 2017 and 2018 set out in Notice 2017-42 (the Notice), the Section 871(m) Regulations will generally apply to Notes issued on or after 1 January 2017 that substantially replicate the economic performance of one or more U.S. Underlying Equities as determined by the Issuer on the date for such Notes as of which the expected delta of the product is determined by the Issuer based on tests in accordance with the applicable Section 871(m) Regulations (for the purposes of the Notice, such Notes are deemed "delta-one" instruments) (the Specified Notes). A Note linked to U.S. Underlying Equities which the Issuer has determined not to be a Specified Note will not be subject to withholding tax under Section 871(m) Regulations. Investors are advised that the Issuer's determination is binding on all Non-U.S. Holders of the Notes, but it is not binding on the United States Internal Revenue Service (the IRS) and the IRS may therefore disagree with the Issuer's determination.

The applicable Final Terms will specify if the Notes are Specified Notes, and, if so, whether the Issuer or its withholding agent will withhold tax under Section 871(m) Regulations and the rate of the withholding tax. Investors should note that if the Issuer or any withholding agent determines that withholding is required, neither the Issuer nor the withholding agent will be required to gross up any amounts withheld in connection with a Specified Note. Investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the potential application of Section 871(m) Regulations to their investment in the Notes.

The Notes may be rated at the latest on the relevant Issue Date by one or more rating agencies. The rating(s) of the Notes (if any) will be specified in the applicable Final Terms, including as to whether or not such credit ratings are issued by credit rating agencies established in the European Union, registered (or which have applied for registration) under Regulation (EC) No 1060/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council dated 16 August 2009, as amended (the CRA Regulation) and are included in the list of credit rating agencies registered in accordance with the CRA Regulation published on the European Securities and Markets Authority's website (www.esma.europa.eu/page/List-registered-and-certified-CRAs).

In general, European regulated investors are restricted from using a rating for regulatory purposes if such rating is not issued by a credit rating agency established in the European Union and registered under the CRA Regulation unless the rating is provided by a credit agency operating in the European Union before 7 June 2010 which has submitted an application for registration in accordance with the CRA Regulation and such registration is not refused. A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, change, or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency without notice.

IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS – If the Final Terms in respect of any Notes state that "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors" are Applicable, the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (EEA). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive 2002/92/EC (as amended, the Insurance Mediation Directive), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Directive 2003/71/EC (as amended, the Prospectus Directive). Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the PRIIPs Regulation) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

MiFID II product governance/ target market – the Final Terms in respect of any Notes will include a legend entitled "MiFID II product governance". Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a distributor) should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the Product Governance rules under EU Delegated 2017/593 (the MiFID Product Governance Rules), any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such Notes, but otherwise neither the Arranger or the Dealer nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance Rules.

Amounts payable under the Notes may be calculated by reference to EURIBOR, LIBOR or SGI Indices, which are respectively provided by the European Money Markets Institute (EMMI), ICE Benchmark Administration Limited (ICE), and SGI. Amounts payable under the Notes may also be calculated by reference to one or more other "benchmarks" (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) for the purposes of Regulation (EU) No. 2016/1011 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2016 (the Benchmarks Regulation). In this case, a statement will be included in the applicable Final Terms as to whether or not the relevant administrator of the "benchmark" is included in ESMA's register of administrators under Article 36 of the Benchmarks Regulation. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, (i) ICE appears on the register and (ii) EMMI and SGI do not appear on such register. As far as the Issuer is aware, the transitional provisions in Article 51 of the Benchmarks Regulation apply, such that EMMI and SGI are not currently required to obtain authorisation or registration.

On 14 September 2017, Société Générale, SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH issued a base prospectus describing the Programme. This Base Prospectus supersedes and replaces this base prospectus and the supplements thereto (except in relation to pending offers to the public, as detailed in "On-going Public Offers") for the purpose of Notes admitted to trading on a Regulated Market in any Member State of the EEA and/or offered to the public in any Member State of the EEA and issued after the date of this Base Prospectus.

SUMMARY

Summaries are made up of disclosure requirements known as Elements the communication of which is required by Annex XXII of the Commission Regulation (EC) No 809/2004 as amended. These elements are numbered in Sections A – E (A.1 – E.7).

This summary contains all the Elements required to be included in a summary for this type of securities and Issuer. Because some Elements are not required to be addressed, there may be gaps in the numbering sequence of the Elements.

Even though an Element may be required to be inserted in the summary because of the type of securities and Issuer, it is possible that no relevant information can be given regarding the Element. In this case, a short description of the Element is included in the summary with the mention of "Not Applicable".

[If several Series of securities are to be issued or offered simultaneously in one set of Final Terms, the items which differ for such Series of securities can be grouped in a table (the Issue Specific Table)]¹

B.4b	Known trends affecting the issuer and the industries in which it operates	[If the Issuer is Societe Generale: The macroeconomic environment saw a gradual improvement in 2017. This improvement is expected to continue in 2018, with accelerated growth in most major economic areas and more dynamic international trade flows. The markets should remain buoyant, although valuation levels raise the question of their long-term sustainability, and a certain volatility could resurface. Lastly, the central banks should continue the normalisation of their monetary policies, albeit more gradually. In the Eurozone, growth should strengthen further in 2018, under the combined effect of the accommodative monetary and budgetary policies implemented, together with strong international demand. For 2018, the regulatory agenda should focus on the European legislative process concerning the set of CRR2/CRD5 texts, as well as the finalisation and harmonisation of the various liability ratio requirements (MREL – Minimum Required Eligible Liabilities, and TLAC – Total Loss Absorbing Capacity). The year 2018 will likely be marked by a highly uncertain geopolitical environment, following on from a certain number of events over the last two years. Important elections will be held in several European Union countries (in Italy, in particular), and the Brexit negotiations will continue. “Separatist” tensions (Catalonia) could further intensify. In addition, several areas of instability and tension could affect the global economy, whether in the Middle East or in Asia, with American policy currently being characterised by a certain unpredictability. In Europe, provided that the political situation in Germany and in Italy becomes clearer, 2018 could signal a new impetus in European ambition. Lastly, banks must continue to adapt to a certain number of fundamental shifts, especially the acceleration of technological changes, requiring them to radically transform their operational and relationship models. Within this framework, and in order to generate stronger, profitable and sustainable growth, the Group’s priorities in 2018 will be to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continue its growth by implementing a series of ambitious initiatives aimed at all its high-potential customers (corporates, professionals and high net worth customers, bank insurance, Boursorama, ALD, etc.), while developing segments and services tailored to their changing needs; • accelerate the digital transformation of all its businesses and functions, and in particular the digitalisation of its retail banking networks, both in France and abroad; • maintain strict control of its costs, risks and capital allocation; • continue its realignment via the disposal or closure of activities that do not have critical mass and/or do not generate synergies; continue to implement its Culture and Conduct programme, which aims to develop the Societe Generale culture by placing values, leadership quality and behavioural integrity at the very heart of the Group’s transformation, thereby building confidence among all its stakeholders (and mainly its customers).] [If the Issuer is SG Issuer: The Issuer expects to continue its activity in accordance with its corporate objects over the course of 2018.] [If the Issuer is Société Générale Effekten GmbH: Not Applicable. [Insert if the Issuer is SG Issuer: Since the Issuer is part of the Group, these risk factors are applicable to the Issuer.]

[In case of Notes issued by Société Générale Effekten GmbH:

Pursuant to the Trust Agreement, the Guarantor is obliged to make available to the Issuer funds that equal the amount of any payments owed by the Issuer under the Notes as and when such payment obligations fall due and in a manner that allows the Issuer to fulfil its payment obligations in a timely manner. Due to this fiduciary issue structure the Noteholders depend solely and directly on the payments under the Trust Agreement and thus on the credit risk of the Guarantor.]

Abschnitt B – Emittentin [und Garantiegeber]
B.1	Gesetzliche und kommerzielle Bezeichnung des Emittenten	[Société Générale (oder die Emittentin)] [SG Issuer (oder die Emittentin)] [Société Générale Effekten GmbH (oder die Emittentin)]
B.2	Sitz, Rechtsform, geltendes Recht und Land der Gründung	[Falls die Emittentin die Société Générale ist: Sitz: 29, boulevard Haussmann, 75009 Paris, Frankreich Rechtsform: Aktiengesellschaft (société anonyme) Anwendbares Recht: französisches Recht Gründungsland: Frankreich] [Falls die Emittentin die SG Issuer ist: Sitz: 33, boulevard Prince Henri, L-1724 Luxemburg Rechtsform: Aktiengesellschaft (société anonyme) Anwendbares Recht: luxemburgisches Recht Gründungsland: Luxemburg] [Falls die Emittentin die Société Générale Effekten GmbH ist: Sitz: Neue Mainzer Str. 46-50, 60311 Frankfurt am Main, Germany Rechtsform: Gesellschaft mit beschränkter Haftung Anwendbares Recht: Deutsches Recht Gründungsland: Deutschland]
B.4b	Bereits bekannte Trends, die sich auf den Emittenten und die Branchen, in denen er tätig ist, auswirken	[Falls die Emittentin die Société Générale ist: Das makroökonomische Umfeld hat sich im Jahr 2017 schrittweise verbessert. Mit beschleunigtem Wachstum in den meisten wichtigen Wirtschaftsbereichen und dynamischeren internationalen Handelsströmen wird sich diese Verbesserung im Jahr 2018 voraussichtlich fortsetzen. Obwohl das Bewertungsniveau die Frage nach ihrer langfristigen Nachhaltigkeit aufwirft und eine gewisse Volatilität wiederkehren könnte, sollten die Märkte weiter elastisch bleiben. Schließlich sollten die Zentralbanken die Normalisierung ihrer Geldpolitik schrittweise fortsetzen. In der Eurozone dürfte sich das Wachstum 2018 aufgrund der entgegenkommenden geld- und haushaltspolitischen Maßnahmen sowie der starken internationalen Nachfrage weiter verstärken.

Für 2018 sollte sich die Regulierungsagenda auf den europäischen Gesetzgebungsprozess in Bezug auf die CRR2 / CRD5-Texte sowie auf die Finalisierung und Harmonisierung der verschiedenen Haftungsverpflichtungen (MREL – Minimum Required Eligible Liabilities und TLAC – Total Loss Absorbing Capacity) konzentrieren.

Das Jahr 2018 wird voraussichtlich von einem äußerst unsicheren geopolitischen Umfeld geprägt sein, das auf eine Reihe von Ereignissen in den letzten zwei Jahren zurückzuführen ist.

In mehreren Ländern der Europäischen Union (insbesondere in Italien) finden wichtige Wahlen statt, und die Brexit-Verhandlungen werden fortgesetzt. „Separatistische“ Spannungen (Katalonien) könnten sich weiter verstärken. Darüber hinaus könnten verschiedene Phasen der Instabilität und Spannung die Weltwirtschaft beeinflussen, ob im Nahen Osten oder in Asien. Hinzu kommt, dass die amerikanische Politik derzeit von einer gewissen Unvorhersehbarkeit gekennzeichnet ist.

In Europa könnte 2018 ein neuer Impuls für die europäischen Ambitionen gesetzt werden, vorausgesetzt die politische Situation in Deutschland und Italien wird klarer.

Schließlich müssen sich die Banken weiterhin an eine Reihe grundlegender Veränderungen anpassen, insbesondere an die Beschleunigung technologischer Veränderungen, die eine radikale Umgestaltung ihrer Betriebs- und Beziehungsmodelle erfordern.

In diesem Rahmen und um ein stärkeres, profitableres und nachhaltigeres Wachstum zu erzielen, werden die Prioritäten der Gruppe im Jahr 2018 folgendermaßen lauten:

- Fortsetzung des Wachstums durch Umsetzung einer Reihe ehrgeiziger Initiativen, die sich an das hohe Kundenpotenzial richtet (Unternehmen, professionelle und vermögende Kunden, Bankversicherungen, Boursorama, ALD usw.), wobei Segmente und Dienstleistungen entwickelt werden, die auf ihre wechselnden Bedürfnisse zugeschnitten sind;
- Beschleunigung der digitalen Transformation aller Geschäftsbereiche und Aufgaben, insbesondere die Digitalisierung des Privatkundennetzes in Frankreich und im Ausland;
- Beibehaltung strikter Kontrollen über Kosten, Risiken und Kapitalzuordnung;
- Fortsetzung der Neuausrichtung durch die Veräußerung oder Schließung von Aktivitäten, die keine kritische Größe haben und/oder keine Synergien erzeugen;
- weitere Umsetzung des Kultur- und Führungsprogramms, das darauf abzielt, die Kultur der Société Générale zu entwickeln, indem Werte, Führungsqualität und Verhaltensintegrität im Mittelpunkt der Transformation der Gruppe stehen und dadurch Vertrauen bei allen Beteiligten (und vor allem bei den Kunden) geschaffen wird.

Abschnitt D – Risiken
D.2	Zentrale Angaben zu den zentralen Risiken, die dem Emittenten [und dem Garantiegeber] eigen sind	Eine Anlage in die Schuldverschreibungen beinhaltet gewisse Risiken, die vor einer Anlageentscheidung abzuwägen sind. Insbesondere ist die Gruppe den mit ihren Kerngeschäftsbereichen verbundenen Risiken ausgesetzt. Dazu zählen: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Globalwirtschaftliche Risiken: Die Globalwirtschaft und Finanzmärkte weisen weiterhin ein hohes Maß an

Unsicherheit auf, welches sich wesentlich und negativ auf das Geschäft der Gruppe, die finanzielle Situation und das Betriebsergebnis auswirken kann.

Das Konzernergebnis kann durch die Belastung auf den regionalen Märkten belastet werden.

Die Gruppe agiert in einem sehr wettbewerbsintensiven Umfeld, welches ihren Heimatmarkt mit einschließt.

- Kreditrisiken:

Die Gruppe ist einem Adressenausfallrisiko und einem Konzentrationsrisiko ausgesetzt.

Es besteht das Risiko, dass mit den Absicherungsstrategien der Gruppe nicht alle Verlustrisiken verhindert werden.

Die Vermögens-, Finanz- und Ertragslage der Gruppe könnte durch eine deutliche Erhöhung der Rückstellungen oder durch unzureichende Risikovorsorge in Bezug auf Darlehensverluste beeinträchtigt werden.

- Marktrisiken:

Der lange anhaltende Abwärtstrend der Finanzmärkte oder die zurückgegangene Liquidität in solchen Märkten könnte die Veräußerung von Vermögenswerten erschweren oder zur Bewegung von Handelspositionen führen und erhebliche Verluste zur Folge haben.

Bei den Handels- und Anlagetätigkeiten der Gruppe besteht das Risiko, dass aufgrund der Volatilität der Finanzmärkte empfindliche Verluste zu verzeichnen sein werden.

Die finanzielle Solidität und das Verhalten anderer Finanzinstitute und Marktteilnehmer könnten sich nachteilig auf die Gruppe auswirken.

Bei einem Konjunkturrückgang kann die Gruppe Einnahmeverluste im Maklergeschäft und in sonstigen provisions- und gebührenbasierten Geschäftsbereichen erleiden.

- Operative Risiken:

Das Risikomanagementsystem der Gruppe ist möglicherweise nicht effektiv und könnte für die Gruppe unerkannte oder unerwartete Risiken, die zu deutlichen Verlusten führen könnten, bergen.

Eine Störung oder Beendigung des Betriebs oder ein Kapazitätsengpass, die/der Institute betrifft, mit denen die Gruppe Geschäfte tätigt, oder ein Ausfall der IT-Systeme der Gruppe oder ein Verstoß gegen diese könnte Verluste nach sich ziehen.

Zur Aufstellung des Konzernabschlusses in Übereinstimmung mit den IFRS, wie sie in der Europäischen Union anzuwenden sind, stützt sich die Gruppe auf Annahmen und Schätzungen. Sollten diese Fehler enthalten, würde sich dies erheblich auf ihre Finanzausweise auswirken.

Die Fähigkeit der Gruppe, qualifizierte Mitarbeiter zu gewinnen und zu halten, sowie bedeutende Änderungen des regulatorischen Rahmens bezüglich der Arbeitnehmer und Vergütung können wesentliche nachteilige Auswirkungen auf ihre Geschäftsentwicklung haben.

Tätigt die Gruppe eine Übernahme, ist sie danach möglicherweise nicht in der Lage, das erworbene Unternehmen kostengünstig zu integrieren oder die erwarteten Gewinne zu erzielen.

Die Gruppe kann resultierend aus unvorhergesehenen Ereignissen und Katastrophen, welche auch terroristische Anschläge oder Naturkatastrophen einschließen, Verluste erleiden.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strukturelle Zins- und Wechselkursrisiken: Änderungen der Zinssätze können sich negativ auf das Bank- und Asset-Management-Geschäft der Gruppe auswirken. Schwankende Wechselkurse könnten die Ertragslage der Gruppe schmälern. • Liquiditätsrisiken: Die Gruppe ist vom Zugang zu Finanzmitteln und sonstigen Liquiditätsquellen abhängig, die aus Gründen, die außerhalb ihres Einflussbereichs liegen, beschränkt werden könnten. • Risiken der Nichteinhaltung von Vorschriften, Reputationsrisiken, Prozessrisiken: Ein Reputationsschaden könnte die Wettbewerbsposition der Gruppe schwächen. Die Gruppe ist rechtlichen Risiken ausgesetzt, die sich nachteilig auf ihre Vermögens-, Finanz- und Ertragslage auswirken könnten. Die Gruppe ist in jedem Land, in dem sie tätig ist, umfangreichen Regulierungs- und Aufsichtsvorschriften unterworfen. Änderungen dieser Vorschriften könnten erhebliche Auswirkungen auf die Geschäftstätigkeit und Kosten der Gruppe sowie auf das finanzielle und wirtschaftliche Umfeld, in dem die Gruppe tätig ist, haben. Vonseiten der Regierungen, Zentralbanken und Aufsichtsbehörden werden möglicherweise eine Reihe außerordentlicher Maßnahmen geändert oder beendet. • Sonstige Risiken: Es bestehen Risiken bei der Umsetzung der Konzernstrategie. Die Bonität und das Rating der Emittentin können einen Einfluss auf den Marktwert der Schuldverschreibungen haben. Das Ausscheiden des Vereinigten Königreichs aus der Europäischen Union könnte sich nachteilig auf die Gruppe auswirken. [Einfügen, falls es sich bei der Emittentin um die SG Issuer handelt: Da die Emittentin Teil der Gruppe ist, sind diese Risikofaktoren auf die Emittentin anwendbar.] [Bei von der Société Générale Effekten GmbH begebenen Schuldverschreibungen: Die Garantin ist gemäß dem Treuhandvertrag verpflichtet, der Emittentin Mittel in einer Höhe zur Verfügung zu stellen, die dem Betrag sämtlicher von der Emittentin im Rahmen der Schuldverschreibungen geschuldeter Zahlungen entspricht, und zwar bei Fälligkeit der Zahlungspflichten und auf eine Weise, die der Emittentin eine fristgerechte Erfüllung ihrer Zahlungspflichten ermöglicht. RISK FACTORS

Prospective purchasers of Notes should carefully consider the following information in conjunction with other information contained in this Base Prospectus, any Supplement thereto, the 2018 Registration Document of Société Générale and the 2018 Registration Document of Société Générale Effekten GmbH (see the section "Documents Incorporated by Reference"), other information concerning the Issuers incorporated by reference into this Base Prospectus and any Final Terms before purchasing Notes.

Each Issuer and the Guarantor believe that the following factors may affect the relevant Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Notes issued under the Programme and/or the Guarantor's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Guarantee in relation to such Notes, respectively. Most of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and none of the Issuers or the Guarantor is in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

In addition, factors which each Issuer and the Guarantor believe are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with Notes issued under the Programme are also described below.

Each Issuer and the Guarantor believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in Notes issued under the Programme, but the failure of the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor to pay interest (if any), principal or other amounts on or in connection with any Notes may occur or arise for other reasons which may not be considered significant risks by the Issuers or the Guarantor based on information currently available to them or which they may not currently be able to anticipate.

The order of presentation of the above described risk factors is not an indication of the likelihood of their occurrence.

1. GENERAL

1.1 Independent review and advice

Each prospective investor in the Notes must determine, based on its own independent review and such professional advice as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, that its acquisition of the Notes is fully consistent with its financial needs, objectives and condition, complies and is fully consistent with all investment policies, guidelines and restrictions applicable to it and is a fit, proper and suitable investment for it, notwithstanding the clear and substantial risks inherent in investing in or holding the Notes.

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each prospective investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Notes are legal investments for it, (ii) Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Notes under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

Prospective investors should also conduct such independent investigation and analysis regarding the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Notes and all other relevant market and economic factors as they deem appropriate to evaluate the merits and risks of an investment in Notes.

A prospective investor may not rely on the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Arranger or the Dealer(s) or any other member of the Société Générale group (the Group) in connection with its determination as to the legality of its acquisition of the Notes or as to the other matters referred to above.

1.2 Assessment of investment suitability

Each prospective investor in the Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own financial circumstances and investment objectives, and only after careful consideration with its financial, legal, tax and other advisers. In particular, each prospective investor should:

- (i) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the Notes and the information contained in or incorporated by reference in this Base Prospectus or any applicable supplement;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Notes and the impact the Notes will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes;
- (iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the Notes and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- (v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

The Notes are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured and appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A prospective investor should not invest in Notes which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Notes will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Notes and the impact this investment will have on the prospective investor's overall investment portfolio. Some Notes which are complex financial instruments may be redeemable at an amount below par in which case investors may lose the value of part or their entire investment.

1.3 Legal, tax and regulatory changes

Legal, tax and regulatory changes could occur during the term of the Notes that may adversely affect the Notes, the underlying or related derivatives. The regulatory environment is evolving, and changes in the regulation of any entities may adversely affect their value. Regulators and self-regulatory organisations and exchanges are authorised to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The regulation of securities and derivatives transactions is an evolving area of law and is subject to modification by government and judicial action. The effect of any future regulatory change on the underlying or related derivatives could be material, including clearing and margin requirements for derivatives and consequently may adversely affect the value of the Notes.

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes (including any non-contractual obligations arising therefrom or connected therewith) are based on relevant laws in effect as at the date of this Base Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to such laws, or the official application or interpretation of such laws or administrative practices after the date of this Base Prospectus.

1.4 No legal and tax advice

Neither the Issuer nor the Guarantor are giving legal or tax advices to the investors. Each prospective investor should consult its own advisers as to legal, tax and related aspects relating to an investment in the Notes. A Noteholder's effective yield on the Notes may be diminished by the tax on that Noteholder of its investment in the Notes.

1.4.1 Legality of purchase

None of the Issuer, the Agents or any of their respective affiliates has or assumes responsibility for the lawfulness of the acquisition of the Notes by a prospective purchaser of the Notes, whether under the laws of the jurisdiction of its incorporation or the jurisdiction in which it operates (if different), or for compliance by that prospective purchaser with any law, regulation or regulatory policy applicable to it.

1.4.2 Taxation

Potential purchasers and sellers of the Notes should be aware that they may be required to pay taxes or documentary charges or duties in accordance with the laws and practices of the jurisdiction where the Notes are transferred or other jurisdictions. In some jurisdictions, no official statements of the tax authorities or court decisions may be available in relation to the tax treatment of financial instruments such as the Notes. Prospective investors are advised not to rely upon the tax summary contained in this Base Prospectus but to ask for their own tax adviser's advice on their individual taxation with respect to the acquisition, holding, disposal and redemption of the Notes. Only such adviser is in a position to duly consider the specific situation of the prospective investor. This risk factor has to be read in connection with "Taxation" herein.

2. RISKS RELATING TO THE ISSUERS, THE GROUP AND, THE GUARANTOR

2.1 The Group is exposed to the risks inherent in its core businesses

An investment in the Notes involves certain risks which should be assessed prior to any investment decision.

In particular, the Group is exposed to the risks inherent in its core businesses, including:

- global economical risks:

The global economy and financial markets continue to display high levels of uncertainty, which may materially and adversely affect the Group's business, financial situation and results of operations.

The Group's results may be affected by regional market exposures.

The Group operates in highly competitive industries, including in its home market.

- credit risks:

The Group is exposed to counterparty and concentration risks.

The Group's hedging strategies may not prevent all risk of losses.

The Group's results of operations and financial situation could be adversely affected by a significant increase in new provisions or by inadequate provisioning for loan losses.

- market risks:

The protracted decline of financial markets or reduced liquidity in such markets may make it harder to sell assets or manoeuvre trade positions and could lead to material losses.

The volatility of the financial markets may cause the Group to suffer significant losses on its trading and investment activities.

The financial soundness and conduct of other financial institutions and market participants could adversely affect the Group.

The Group may generate lower revenues from brokerage and other commission and fee-based businesses during market downturns.

- operational risks:

The Group's risk management system may not be effective and may expose the Group to unidentified or unanticipated risks, which could lead to significant losses.

Operational failure, termination or capacity constraints affecting institutions the Group does business with, or failure or breach of the Group's information technology systems, could result in losses.

To prepare its consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS as adopted by the European Union, the Group relies on assumptions and estimates which, if incorrect, could have a significant impact on its financial statements.

The Group's ability to attract and retain qualified employees, as well as significant changes in the regulatory framework related to employees and compensation, may materially adversely affect its performance.

If the Group makes an acquisition, it may be unable to manage the integration process in a cost-effective manner or achieve the expected benefits.

The Group may incur losses as a result of unforeseen or catastrophic events, including terrorist attacks or natural disasters.

- structural interest and exchange risks:

Changes in interest rates may adversely affect the Group's banking and asset management businesses.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could adversely affect the Group's results of operations.

- liquidity risk:

The Group depends on access to financing and other sources of liquidity, which may be restricted for reasons beyond its control.

- non-compliance and reputational risks, litigation:

Reputational damage could harm the Group's competitive position.

The Group is exposed to legal risks that could negatively affect its financial situation or results of operations.

The Group is subject to an extensive supervisory and regulatory framework in each of the countries in which it operates and changes in this regulatory framework could have a significant effect on the Group's businesses and costs, as well as on the financial and economic environment in which it operates.

A number of exceptional measures taken by governments, central banks and regulators could be amended or terminated.

- other risks:

Risks related to the implementation of the Group's strategic plan.

The creditworthiness and credit ratings of the Issuer may affect the market value of the Notes.

The United Kingdom's impending departure from the European Union could adversely affect the Group.

2.2 Factors that may affect each Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes and the Guarantor's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Guarantee

2.2.1 Issue of the Notes by the Issuers on the account of the Guarantor and Limited Recourse

The obligations under the Notes constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and, subject to the Guarantee unsecured limited recourse obligations of any of the Issuers and shall at all times rank pari passu and without preference among themselves.

Société Générale Effekten GmbH and the Guarantor have entered into a trust agreement (the Trust Agreement) pursuant to which Société Générale Effekten GmbH shall, inter alia, (i) issue and redeem the Notes on a fiduciary basis (treuhänderisch) in its own name but for the account of the Guarantor; (ii) collect any proceeds resulting from the issuance of the Notes and forward them to the Guarantor; and (iii) use only the funds made available to it by the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement (which funds shall equal the amount of any payments owed by the Issuer under the Notes as and when such payment obligations fall due and in a manner that allows the Issuer to fulfil its payment obligations in a timely manner) for payments owed under the Notes as and when they fall due and to make such payments on a fiduciary basis in its own name but for the account of the Guarantor. Société Générale Effekten GmbH ability to satisfy its payment obligations under the Notes in full is therefore dependent upon Société Générale Effekten GmbH receiving in full the amounts payable to it by the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement.

Due to this trust structure, the Noteholders directly depend on the credit risk of the Guarantor (see "Creditworthiness of the Guarantor" below) rather than that of Société Générale Effekten GmbH. Any payment obligations of the Société Générale Effekten GmbH under the Notes are limited to the funds received from the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement.

To the extent the funds to be received from the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement prove ultimately insufficient to satisfy the claims of all Noteholders in full, then any shortfall arising therefrom will be extinguished and no Noteholder has any further claims against Société Générale Effekten GmbH (subject, however, to the right to exercise any termination or early redemption rights). This applies irrespective of whether Société Générale Effekten GmbH would be able to make such payments out of other funds available to it.

For the avoidance of doubt, the above-mentioned limited recourse structure does not limit the rights of Noteholders under the Guarantee and no not alter or impair the Guarantor's obligations under the relevant guarantee.

2.2.2 Creditworthiness and credit ratings of each Issuer and, as the case may be, the Guarantor

With the exception of Secured Notes issued by SG Issuer, the Notes constitute direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated or (with respect to Notes issued by Société Générale) senior preferred (within the meaning of Article L. 613-30-3 I 3 of the French Code monétaire et financier) contractual obligations of each Issuer and of no other person and the Guarantee constitutes direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated contractual obligations of the Guarantor, ranking as senior preferred obligations, as provided for in Article L. 613-30-3 I 3 of the French Code monétaire et financier, and of no other person, which will rank equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated contractual obligations of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor, respectively, and behind preferred liabilities, including those mandatorily preferred by law. The Issuers issue a large number of financial instruments, including the Notes, on a global basis and, at any given time, the financial instruments outstanding may be substantial. Noteholders rely upon the creditworthiness of the relevant Issuer and, as the case may be, the Guarantor and no other person, Noteholders have no rights against the company that has issued the underlying, as the case may be.

Pursuant to the Trust Agreement, the Guarantor is obliged to make available to Société Générale Effekten GmbH funds that equal the amount of any payments owed by Société Générale Effekten GmbH under the Notes as and when such payment obligations fall due and in a manner that allows Société Générale Effekten GmbH to fulfil its payment obligations in a timely manner. Due to this fiduciary issue structure the Noteholders depend solely and directly on the payments under the Trust Agreement and thus on the credit risk of the Guarantor (see "Issue of the Notes by Issuer on the account of the Guarantor and Limited Recourse" above).

The market value of the Notes will be affected by, amongst other things, the creditworthiness of the relevant Issuer and/or that of the Guarantor. The credit ratings of the relevant Issuer and the Guarantor are an assessment of their ability to pay their obligations, including those on the offered Notes. Consequently, actual or anticipated declines in the credit ratings of either the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor may affect the market value of the relevant Notes.

2.2.3 Risks related to Notes issued by SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH with limited recourse against the relevant Issuer but which are unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed by Société Générale

Each holder of a Note or Notes issued by SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH is deemed to have acknowledged and undertaken, on its acquisition of such Note(s), that, in the event of a payment default by SG Issuer or Société Générale Effekten GmbH, as the case may be, of principal (and premium, if any), interest or any other amount in respect thereof (including, without limitation, any Final Redemption Amount(s)) on any such Note(s) whenever such payment falls due (such payment defaults, Defaulted Payments), such holder shall not institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, or otherwise assert a claim against SG Issuer or Société Générale Effekten GmbH, as the case may be, to enforce such Defaulted Payments and waives all rights to institute such proceedings or make such claims in respect of such Defaulted Payments against the relevant Issuer.

As a consequence prospective investors in Notes issued by SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH should note that in the case of Defaulted Payments the entitlement of the Noteholders will be limited to the sums obtained by making a claim under the Guarantee, and the relevant provisions of the Guarantee, and in relation to Secured Notes only, from the sums obtained following enforcement of the relevant Pledge Agreement (See "Risk Factors – Additional Risks Associated with Secured Notes – Shortfall on Realisation of Collateral Assets and Limited Recourse of Noteholders" below).

Nevertheless, Noteholders will continue to be able to claim against the Guarantor in respect of any unpaid amount.

Holders of Notes issued by SG Issuer which are not Secured Notes should also note that the Collateral Assets contained in a Collateral Pool will not be available to satisfy amounts due to them in respect of their Notes.

2.2.4 Risks associated with the lack of independence of each Issuer and, as the case may be, the Guarantor – Conflict of interest

Société Générale will act as issuer under the Programme, as the Guarantor of the Notes issued by SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH and also as provider of hedging instruments to each Issuer. As a result, investors will be exposed not only to the credit risk of Société Générale but also to operational risks arising from the lack of independence of Société Générale, in assuming its duties and obligations as the Guarantor and provider of the hedging instruments. The potential conflicts of interests and operational risks arising from such lack of independence are in part intended to be mitigated by the fact that different divisions within the Guarantor will be responsible for implementing the Guarantee and providing the hedging instruments and that each division is run as a separate operational unit, segregated by Chinese walls (information barriers) and run by different management teams. Whilst compliance procedures require effective segregation of duties and responsibilities between the relevant divisions within the Guarantor, the possibility of conflicts of interest arising cannot be wholly eliminated. See also "Additional Risks Associated with Secured Notes - Potential conflicts of interest between Noteholders and the Collateral Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent and the Calculation Agent" and "Additional Risks Associated with Secured Notes - Potential conflicts of interest between Noteholders and a Counterparty" below.

The Group provides a full array of capital market products and advisory services worldwide including the issuance of "structured notes" where interest and/or principal is/are linked to the performance of underlying assets.

The Issuers and the Guarantor and other member of the Group, in connection with their other business activities, may possess or acquire material and/or confidential information about the underlying assets and/or the reference entities which is not public knowledge and which are or could be important to the Notes.

Such business activities and such material and/or confidential information may cause consequences adverse to the Noteholders.

Such actions and conflicts may include, without limitation, the exercise of voting power, the purchase and sale of securities, financial advisory relationships and exercise of creditor rights. The Issuers, the Guarantor and any other member of the Group have no obligation to disclose such information about such underlying assets or the obligors to which they relate or the reference entities. The Issuers, the Guarantor and any other member of the Group and their officers and directors may engage in any such activities without regard to the Notes or the effect that such activities may directly or indirectly have on any Note.

In particular, the following potential conflicts of interest could exist in connection with any issue of Notes in the context of this Programme:

- SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH are subsidiaries and are within the scope of application of the corporate governance of the Group. It is not excluded that potential conflicts of interest between SG Issuer and Société Générale Effekten GmbH and the Guarantor could affect the Noteholders;
- the Calculation Agent, the Arranger, the Dealers, the Paying Agents, the Registrar, the Transfer Agent and the Exchange Agent are all part of the Group. A deterioration of Société Générale's credit risk would have a negative impact on the obligations of each of the entities listed above in relation to the Notes. If one of these entities does not respect its obligations towards the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor, this could have a negative impact on the Noteholders;
- in the normal course of their activity, Société Générale and any member of the Group may accept deposits from, make loans or otherwise extend credit to, and generally engage in any kind of commercial or investment banking, advisory or other business transactions or relationships with companies whose securities are underlying assets and/or Notes and could be deemed to be contrary to the interests of the Noteholders; and
- the Issuers and the Guarantor, or one or more of their affiliates, may engage in trading and other business activities relating to the underlying fund(s) or their underlying assets that are not for the Noteholders' accounts or on behalf of the Noteholders.

2.2.5 Hedging and trading activity by each Issuer, the Guarantor and other members of the Group could potentially affect the value of the Notes

In the ordinary course of their business, whether or not they will engage in any secondary market making activities, the Issuers, the Guarantor and/or any other members of the Group may effect transactions for their own account or for the account of their customers and hold long or short positions in any underlying or reference asset(s), reference entities or obligors or related derivatives. In addition, in connection with the offering of the Notes, the Issuers, the Guarantor and/or any member of the Group may enter into one or more hedging transactions with respect to such asset(s).

The above situations may result in consequences which may be adverse to Noteholders, including in the case of an event affecting Hedge Positions (as more fully described in the relevant Additional Terms and Conditions) an early redemption of the Notes, with the resulting consequential adverse effect on the Notes. The Issuer and the Guarantor assume no responsibility whatsoever for such consequences and their impact on Noteholders.

2.2.6 Risks relating to the Société Générale Effekten GmbH under the Trust Agreement

Any payment obligations of the Société Générale Effekten GmbH under the Notes are limited to the funds received from the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement. To the extent the funds to be received from the Guarantor under the Trust Agreement prove ultimately insufficient to satisfy the claims of all Noteholders in full, then any shortfall arising therefrom will be extinguished and no Noteholder has any further claims against the Société Générale Effekten GmbH (subject, however, to the right to exercise any termination or early redemption rights). This applies irrespective of whether the Société Générale Effekten GmbH would be able to make such payments out of other funds available to it.

Pursuant to the Trust Agreement, the Guarantor is obliged to make available to the Société Générale Effekten GmbH funds that equal the amount of any payments owed by the Société Générale Effekten GmbH under the Notes as and when such payment obligations fall due and in a manner that allows the Société Générale Effekten GmbH to fulfil its payment obligations in a timely manner. Due to this fiduciary issue structure the Noteholders depend solely and directly on the payments under the Trust Agreement and thus on the credit risk of the Guarantor.

2.2.7 Risk relating to the Paying Agent(s)

Any payments made to Noteholders will be made by the Paying Agent on behalf of the Issuer. Pursuant to the Agency Agreement, the Issuer is to transfer to the Paying Agent such amount as may be due under the Notes on or before each date on which such payment in respect of the Notes becomes due.

If the Paying Agent, while holding funds for payment to Noteholders in respect of the Notes, is declared insolvent, the Noteholders may not receive all (or any part) of amounts due to them in respect of the Notes from the Paying Agent. While the Issuer will remain liable to Noteholders in respect of such unpaid amounts, the Issuer may have insufficient assets to make such payments (or any part thereof) and Noteholders may not receive all, or any part, of any amounts due to them.

Consequently Noteholders are relying not only on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, but also on the creditworthiness of the Paying Agent in respect of the performance of its obligations under the Agency Agreement to make payments to Noteholders.

2.3 Risks relating to the Calculation Agent's activity

The Calculation Agent may, but is not required to, make adjustments to elements of the Notes as described in the relevant Additional Terms and Conditions following certain events that may affect the underlying of the Notes.

Those events or other actions by the issuer of the underlying or a third party or events affecting any Reference Entity(ies) or Bond may adversely affect the market price of the underlying and, therefore, adversely affect the value of the Notes.

Should the Calculation Agent decide to make adjustments, such adjustments may include the selection of a replacement underlying, Reference Entity or Bond as provided under the relevant Additional Terms and Conditions and in accordance with the applicable Final terms.

The adjustments determined by the Calculation Agent may adversely affect the amount due to the Noteholders under the Notes and their value and liquidity.

3. MARKET RISKS AND OTHER RISKS

3.1 RISKS RELATED TO NOTES GENERALLY

Set out below is a brief description of certain risks relating to the Notes generally:

3.1.1 Modification and risk relating to resolutions of Noteholders

The Terms and Conditions contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally, including without limitation the modification of the Terms and Conditions. These provisions permit in certain cases defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority and Noteholders who did not respond to, or rejected the relevant Written Resolution.

3.1.2 French Insolvency Law

Under French insolvency law, holders of debt securities are automatically grouped into a single assembly of holders (the Assembly) in order to defend their common interests if a safeguard procedure (procédure de sauvegarde), accelerated safeguard procedure (procédure de sauvegarde accélérée), accelerated financial safeguard procedure (procédure de sauvegarde financière accélérée), or a judicial reorganisation procedure (procédure de redressement judiciaire) is opened in France with respect to any one of the Issuers.

The Assembly comprises holders of all debt securities issued by the Issuers (including the Notes), whether or not under a debt issuance programme (such as a Euro Medium Term Note programme) and regardless of their governing law.

The Assembly deliberates on the proposed safeguard plan (projet de plan de sauvegarde), proposed accelerated safeguard plan (projet de plan de sauvegarde accélérée), proposed accelerated financial safeguard plan (projet de plan de sauvegarde financière accélérée) or draft judicial reorganisation plan (projet de plan de redressement) applicable to the Issuers and may further agree to:

- increase the liabilities (charges) of holders of debt securities (including the Noteholders) by rescheduling due payments and/or partially or totally writing off receivables in the form of debt securities;
- establish an unequal treatment between holders of debt securities (including the Noteholders) as appropriate under the circumstances; and/or
- decide to convert debt securities (including the Notes) into securities that give or may give right to share capital.

Decisions of the Assembly will be taken by a two-thirds majority (calculated as a proportion of the debt securities held by the holders expressing a vote). No quorum is required to convoke the Assembly.

For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions relating to the Representation of the Noteholders described in this Base Prospectus as completed by the applicable Final Terms will not be applicable to the extent they are not in compliance with compulsory insolvency law provisions that apply in these circumstances.

3.1.3 Waiver of set-off

In the German Law Condition 16, the Noteholders waive any right of or claims of set-off, netting, compensation, retention and counterclaim (and, for the avoidance of doubt, including all such rights, claims and liabilities arising under or in relation to any and all agreements or other instruments of any sort or any non-contractual obligations, in each case whether or not relating to the Notes) in relation to the Notes, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

3.1.4 No gross-up risk

If a withholding or deduction is required by the Tax Jurisdiction and if the applicable Final Terms specify that the Gross-up provision is not applicable, the Issuer will not be required to pay such additional amounts. In such case, investors should note that they will take the risk of any applicable withholding tax and each Noteholder shall be responsible for supplying or filing (as applicable) in a timely manner any documentary evidence or forms as the investor may be entitled to and as may be required in order to obtain relief or reduction of taxes imposed by way of withholding or deduction on payments under the Notes.

In this case, neither the Issuer nor any paying agent nor any other person will be required to pay additional amounts to cover the amounts so withheld or deducted. Consequently, investors will receive such payments net of such withholding tax.

3.1.5 Financial Transactions Tax (FTT)

On 14 February 2013, the European Commission published a proposal (the Commission's Proposal) for a Directive for a common FTT in Belgium, Germany, Estonia, Greece, Spain, France, Italy, Austria, Portugal, Slovenia and Slovakia (the participating Member States). However, Estonia has since stated that it will not participate. If the Commission's Proposal was adopted, the FTT would be a tax primarily on "financial institutions" (which would include the Issuer) in relation to "financial transactions" (which would include the conclusion or modification of derivative contracts and the purchase and sale of financial instruments).

Under the Commission's Proposal, the FTT could apply in certain circumstances to persons both within and outside of the participating Member States. Generally, it would apply to certain dealings in Notes where at least one party is a financial institution, and at least one party is established in a participating Member State. A financial institution may be, or be deemed to be, "established" in a participating member state in a broad range of circumstances, including:

- (a) by transacting with a person established in a participating Member State; or
- (b) where the financial instrument which is subject to the financial transaction is issued in a participating Member State.

The FTT may give rise to tax liabilities for the Issuer with respect to certain transactions if it is adopted based on the Commission's Proposal. Examples of such transactions are the conclusion of a derivative contract in the context of the Issuer's hedging arrangements or the purchase or sale of securities (such as charged assets). The Issuer is, in certain circumstances, able to pass on any such tax liabilities to holders of the Notes and therefore this may result in investors receiving less than expected in respect of the Notes. It should also be noted that the FTT could be payable in relation to relevant transactions by investors in respect of the Notes (including secondary market transactions) if conditions for a charge to arise are satisfied and the FTT is adopted based on the Commission's Proposal. Primary market transactions referred to in Article 5(c) of Regulation EC No 1287/2006 are expected to be exempt. There is however some uncertainty in relation to the intended scope of this exemption for certain money market instruments and structured issues.

However, the FTT proposal remains subject to negotiation between the participating Member States. It may therefore be altered prior to any implementation, the timing of which remains uncertain. Additional EU Member States may also decide to participate and/or participating Member States may decide to withdraw.

Prospective holders of the Notes are advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the FTT.

3.1.6 Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act Withholding

Whilst the Notes are in global form and held within Euroclear Bank SA/NV or Clearstream Banking S.A. (together, the ICSDs) or cleared through Euroclear France, SIX SIS SA, Euroclear Sweden AB, Euroclear Finland Ltd, Verdipapirsentralen ASA or VP Securities A/S (together, the Applicable Clearing Systems), it is not generally expected that the new reporting regime and potential withholding tax imposed by sections 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (FATCA) will affect the amount of any payment received by the ICSDs or Applicable Clearing Systems (see "Taxation— United States—Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act "). In addition, FATCA may affect payments made to custodians or intermediaries in the subsequent payment chain leading to the ultimate investor if any such custodian or intermediary generally is unable to receive payments free of FATCA withholding. It also may affect payment to any ultimate investor that is a financial institution that is not entitled to receive payments free of withholding under FATCA, or an ultimate investor that fails to provide its broker (or other custodian or intermediary from which it receives payment) with any information, forms, other documentation or consents that may be necessary for the payments to be made free of FATCA withholding. Investors should choose the custodians or intermediaries with care (to ensure each is compliant with FATCA or other laws or agreements related to FATCA) and provide each custodian or intermediary with any information, forms, other documentation or consents that may be necessary for such custodian or intermediary to make a payment free of FATCA withholding. Investors should consult their own tax adviser to obtain a more detailed explanation of FATCA and how FATCA may affect them. Further, foreign financial institutions in a jurisdiction which has entered into an intergovernmental agreement with the United States (an IGA) are generally not expected to be required to withhold under FATCA or an IGA (or any law implementing an IGA) from payments they make.

3.1.7 U.S. Withholding tax

U.S. Treasury regulations issued under Section 871(m) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the Section 871(m) Regulations) generally impose a 30% withholding tax on dividend equivalents paid or deemed paid (within the meaning of the relevant Section 871(m) Regulations) to a non-United States holder (a Non-U.S. Holder) with respect to certain financial instruments linked to U.S. equities or indices that include U.S. equities (U.S. Underlying Equities). Specifically, and subject to the exemption for 2017 and 2018 set out in Notice 2017-42 (the Notice), the Section 871(m) Regulations will generally apply to Notes issued on or after 1 January 2017 that substantially replicate the economic performance of one or more U.S. Underlying Equity(ies) as determined by the Issuer on the date for such Notes as of which the expected delta of the product is determined by the Issuer based on tests in accordance with the applicable Section 871(m) Regulations (for the purposes of the Notice, such Notes are deemed “delta-one” instruments) (the Specified Notes). A Note linked to U.S. Underlying Equities which the Issuer has determined not to be a Specified Note will not be subject to withholding tax under the Section 871(m) Regulations. In withholding this tax, the Issuer will regularly apply the general tax rate of 30% to the payments subject to U.S. provisions (or amounts deemed payments) without regard to any applicable treaty rate. Therefore, in such cases, an investor's individual tax situation will not be taken into account. This tax liability may apply even if, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Notes, no actual dividend-related amount is paid and thus investors can only determine with difficulty (or not at all) any connection to the payments to be made in respect of the Notes.

The 30% withholding tax on dividend equivalents paid or deemed paid to Non-U.S. Holders may be reduced by an applicable tax treaty (provided the Issuer shall be entitled to withhold at the highest rate applicable to such payments regardless of any exemption from, or reduction in, such withholding), eligible for credit against other U.S. tax liabilities or refunded, provided that the beneficial owner claims a credit or refund from the United States Internal Revenue Service (the IRS) in a timely manner, but the Issuer makes no assessment as to whether any such tax credits will be available to Non-U.S. Holders.

Investors are advised that the Issuer's determination is binding on all Non-U.S. Holders of the Notes, but it is not binding on the IRS and the IRS may therefore disagree with the Issuer's determination.

The rules of the Section 871(m) Regulations require complex calculations in respect of the instruments that include U.S. Underlying Equities and application of these rules to a specific issue of Notes may be uncertain. Consequently the IRS may determine they are to be applied even if the Issuer initially assumed the rules would not apply. There is a risk in such case that Noteholders are subject to withholding tax ex post.

There is also the risk that withholding pursuant to the Section 871(m) Regulations will be applied to Notes that were not initially subject to such withholding tax. This case could arise in particular if the Notes' economic parameters change due to a modification of existing Notes after 1 January 2017 which substantially replicates the economic performance of one or more U.S. Underlying Equities causing the Notes to become Specified Notes. As neither the Issuer nor the withholding agent will be required to gross up any amounts withheld in connection with a Specified Note, Noteholders will receive smaller payments in such case than they would have received without withholding tax being imposed. If additional Notes of the same series are issued (or deemed issued for U.S. tax purposes, such as certain sales of Notes out of inventory) after the original issue date, the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) could treat the issue date for determining whether the existing Notes are Specified Notes as the date of such subsequent sale or issuance. Consequently, a previously out-of-scope Note might become a Specified Note following such modification or further issuance.

Investors should consult their tax adviser regarding the potential application of Section 871(m) Regulations to their investment in the Notes.

3.1.8 The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act

In the United States, passage of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank Act) in 2010 has led to significant structural reforms affecting the financial services industry, including non-U.S. banks. Among other things, the Dodd-Frank Act addresses systemic risk oversight, bank capital standards, the orderly liquidation of failing systemically significant financial institutions, over-the-counter derivatives and increases oversight of credit rating agencies. The Dodd-Frank Act also contains prohibitions, commonly called the “Volcker Rule,” which regulates the ability of banking entities to engage as principal in proprietary trading activities and sponsoring or investing in hedge, private equity or similar funds.

In particular, Title VII (Title VII) of the Dodd-Frank Act establishes a comprehensive U.S. regulatory regime for a broad range of derivatives contracts including swaps, security-based swaps and mixed swaps (collectively referred to in this risk factor as Covered Swaps). Among other things, Title VII provides the CFTC and the SEC with jurisdiction and regulatory authority over Covered Swaps, requires the establishment of a comprehensive registration and regulatory framework applicable to swap dealers and security-based swap dealers and other major market participants, requires the reporting of data on Covered Swaps, requires many types of Covered Swaps to be exchange-traded or executed on a swap execution facility or security-based swap execution facility, as applicable, and centrally cleared, imposes margin requirements for uncleared transactions in Covered Swaps, and will impose capital requirements on Covered Swaps.

Most of the key regulations implementing Title VII have become effective or are in final form. However, in some instances, the interpretation and potential impact of these regulations, such as those applicable to security-based swaps, are not yet entirely clear and certain other key regulations are yet to be finalised. Once implemented, these new regulations could adversely affect the value, availability and performance of certain derivatives instruments and may result in additional costs and restrictions with respect to the use of those instruments. The use of derivative instruments by the Issuers may be subject to the clearing, capital, margin, business conduct, reporting and/or recordkeeping requirements of Title VII or other related regulatory reforms, that will result in additional regulatory burdens and related costs and expenses.

In particular, any swaps entered into by any Issuer may include agreements that are regulated as Covered Swaps under Title VII, each of which may be subject to clearing, execution, capital, margin posting, reporting and recordkeeping requirements under the Dodd-Frank Act that could result in additional regulatory burdens, costs and expenses (including extraordinary, non-recurring expenses of such Issuer). Such requirements may disrupt such Issuer's ability to hedge their exposure to various transactions, and may materially and adversely impact a transaction's value or the value of the Securities. While the Dodd-Frank Act provides for the grandfathering of certain swaps, such grandfathering may not apply to the transactions entered into by such Issuer or may only apply to certain transactions. Additionally, no Issuer can be certain as to how these regulatory developments will impact the treatment of the Securities.

Additionally, on October 21 and 22, 2014, the SEC, the U.S. Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the U.S. Federal Reserve and certain other U.S. prudential banking regulators approved a final rule that mandates risk retention for securitisations. The final rule requires that the sponsor maintain, unhedged, a minimum of 5% of the credit risk of the securitised assets unless the underlying exposures meet certain underwriting standards to be determined by regulation. The final rule became effective with respect to mortgage-backed securitisations on December 24, 2015 and with respect to other securitisations on December 24, 2016. The failure of the Group to effectively manage regulatory risks could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Although some of the required rules and regulations are still in proposed form, are yet to be proposed or are subject to extended transition periods, the majority of rules and regulations have been finalised and have resulted in, or will result in, additional costs and the imposition of certain limitations on the business activities of the Issuers. The recent change in administration in the United States adds to the uncertainty about the complete scope of the Dodd-Frank Act and other U.S. regulation, any changes to which could impact the business activities of the Issuers and/or the value or liquidity of a Note.

In addition, the Dodd-Frank Act, amending the CEA, expanded the definition of a "commodity pool" to include any form of enterprise operated for the purpose of trading in commodity interests, including swaps. Each Issuer has imposed certain restrictions on sales in order to fall outside the scope of the CEA. However, if any Issuer were deemed to be a "commodity pool", then both the "commodity pool operator" and the "commodity trading advisor" of such Issuer would be required to register as such with the CFTC and the National Futures Association. While there remain certain limited exemptions from registration, it is unclear whether and to what extent any of these exemptions would be available to avoid registration with respect to such Issuer. In addition, if any Issuer were deemed to be a "commodity pool", it would have to comply with a number of reporting requirements that are designed to apply to traded commodity pools. It is presently unclear how such Issuer could comply with certain of these reporting requirements on an ongoing basis. Such registration and other requirements would involve material ongoing costs to such Issuer, thereby materially and adversely impacting a Security's value.

In addition, other regulatory bodies have proposed or may propose in the future regulations (such as MiFID II as regards to which see below) similar to those required by the Dodd-Frank Act or other regulations containing other restrictions that could adversely impact the liquidity of and increase costs of entering into derivatives transaction.

If these regulations are adopted and/or implemented or other regulations are adopted in the future, they could have an adverse impact on the return on and value of the Notes. Furthermore, potential inconsistency between regulations issued by different regimes could lead to market fragmentation.

3.1.9 The European Market Infrastructure Regulation, Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation and Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II

European Regulation 648/2012, known as the European Market Infrastructure Regulation (EMIR) entered into force on 16 August 2012 and took direct effect in the Member States of the European Union. Under EMIR certain over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives that are traded in the European Union by financial counterparties (FCs), such as investment firms, credit institutions and insurance companies, and certain non-financial counterparties (NFCs) have to be cleared (the clearing obligation) via an authorised central clearing counterparty (a CCP). In addition, EMIR requires the reporting of OTC derivative contracts to a trade repository (the reporting obligation) and introduces certain risk mitigation requirements in relation to OTC derivative contracts that are not cleared by a CCP.

Under EMIR, a CCP will be used to meet the clearing obligation by interposing itself between the counterparties to the eligible derivative contracts. CCPs will connect with derivative counterparties through their clearing members. Each derivative counterparty which is required to clear OTC derivative contracts will be required to post both initial and variation margin to the clearing member, which will in turn be required to post margin to the CCP. EMIR requires CCPs to only accept highly liquid collateral with minimal credit and market risk. Where an NFC which enters into an OTC derivative contract which is not "eligible" for clearing, it will have to ensure that appropriate procedures and arrangements are in place to monitor and minimise operational and credit risk.

The Issuer may have to apply certain risk mitigation techniques in relation to timely confirmation, portfolio reconciliation and compression, and dispute resolution that are applicable to OTC derivatives contracts that are not cleared by a CCP. Further, the Issuer is required to deliver certain information about any OTC derivative contract EMIR also imposes a record-keeping requirement pursuant to which counterparties must keep records of any derivative contract they have concluded and any modification for at least five years following the termination of the contract.

Following the entry into force of the Commission Delegated Regulation 2016/2251 supplementing EMIR with regard to regulatory technical standards for risk-mitigation techniques for OTC derivative contracts not cleared by a central counterparty (the Margin RTS), FCs and certain NFCs have an obligation to protect themselves against credit exposures to derivatives counterparties by exchanging margins where those contracts are not cleared by a CCP. This Margin RTS lays out the standards for the timely, accurate and appropriately segregated exchange of collateral. These requirements to post and / or collect variation margin have become applicable to FCs and certain NFCs on 4 February 2017 or 1 March 2017 (depending on the aggregated gross notional amount of outstanding derivative contracts of the group to which the counterparties belong) and the requirements to post and / or collect initial margin enter into force at a date determined in accordance with the Margin RTS from 4 February 2017 to 1 September 2020 (depending on the aggregated gross notional amount of outstanding derivative contracts of the group to which the counterparties belong).

The EU regulatory framework relating to derivatives is set not only by EMIR but also by MiFID II and by the Regulation (EU) N°600/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council on markets in financial instruments published in the Official Journal on 12 June 2014 (MiFIR). Member States were required to implement national legislation giving effect to MiFID II within 24 months after the entry into force of MiFID II (i.e. June 2016) which national legislation should have applied within 30 months after the entry into force of MiFID II (January 2017). The European Commission has however extended by one year the application date for MiFID II with an entry into force which eventually took place on 3 January 2018 in all Member States. In particular, MiFIR requires that a significant part of the derivative contracts be executed on a trading venue. In this respect, this obligation having just entered into force it remains difficult to predict the full impact of these regulatory requirements on the Issuer.

Investors should be aware that the regulatory changes arising from EMIR, MiFIR and MiFID II may in due course significantly raise the costs of entering into derivative contracts and may adversely affect the Issuer's ability to engage in transactions in derivatives contracts. As a result of such increased costs or increased regulatory requirements, investors may receive lower returns. Investors should be aware that such risks are material and that the Issuer could be materially and adversely affected thereby. The full impact of EMIR, MiFIR and of MiFID II remains to be clarified and the scope of their possible implications of for investors in the Notes cannot currently be predicted. As such, investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks posed by EMIR, MiFIR and MiFID II and technical implementation in making any investment decision in respect of the Notes.

3.1.10 French law and European legislation regarding the resolution of financial institutions may require the write-down or conversion to equity of the Notes or other resolution measures if the Issuer is deemed to meet the conditions for resolution

Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of the European Union dated 15 May 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms (the BRRD) entered into force on 2 July 2014. As a Directive, the BRRD is not directly applicable in France and had to be transposed into national legislation. The French ordonnance No. 2015-1024 of 20 August 2015 transposed the BRRD into French law and amended the French Code monétaire et financier for this purpose. The French ordonnance has been ratified by law no. 2016-1691 dated 9 December 2016 (Loi n°2016-1691 du 9 décembre 2016 relative à la transparence, à la lutte contre la corruption et à la modernisation de la vie économique) which also incorporates provisions which clarify the implementation of the BRRD.

The stated aim of the BRRD and Regulation (EU) No. 806/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of the European Union of 15 July 2014 (the SRM Regulation) is to provide for the establishment of an EU-wide framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions, investment firms, certain financial institutions and certain holding companies (each a relevant entity). The regime provided for by the BRRD is, among other things, stated to be needed to provide the authority designated by each EU Member State (the Resolution Authority) with a credible set of tools to intervene sufficiently early and quickly in an unsound or failing relevant entity so as to ensure the continuity of the relevant entity's critical financial and economic functions while minimising the impact of a relevant entity's failure on the economy and financial system (including taxpayers' exposure to losses).

Under the SRM Regulation a centralised power of resolution is established and entrusted to the Single Resolution Board (the SRB) and to the national resolution authorities.

The powers provided to the Resolution Authority in the BRRD and the SRM Regulation include write-down/conversion powers to ensure that capital instruments (including subordinated debt instruments) and eligible liabilities (including senior debt instruments such as the Notes if junior instruments prove insufficient to absorb all losses) absorb losses of the issuing relevant entity under resolution in accordance with a set order of priority (the Bail-in Tool).

The conditions for resolution under the French Code monétaire et financier implementing the BRRD are deemed to be met when: (i) the Resolution Authority or the relevant supervisory authority determines that the relevant entity is failing or is likely to fail, (ii) there is no reasonable prospect that any measure other than a resolution measure would prevent the failure within a reasonable timeframe, and (iii) a resolution measure is necessary for the achievement of the resolution objectives (in particular, ensuring the continuity of critical functions, avoiding a significant adverse effect on the financial system, protecting public funds by minimising reliance on extraordinary public financial support, and protecting client funds and assets) and winding up of the relevant entity under normal insolvency proceedings would not meet those resolution objectives to the same extent.

The Resolution Authority could also, independently of a resolution measure or in combination with a resolution measure where the conditions for resolution are met, write-down or convert capital instruments (including subordinated debt instruments) into equity when it determines that the relevant entity or its group will no longer be viable unless such write down or conversion power is exercised or when the relevant entity requires extraordinary public financial support (except when extraordinary public financial support is provided in the form defined in Article L. 613-48 III, 3° of the French Code monétaire et financier). The terms and conditions of the Notes and the Guarantee contain provisions giving effect to the Bail-in Tool.

The Bail-in Tool or the exercise of write-down/conversion powers by the Resolution Authority with respect to capital instruments (including subordinated debt instruments) could result in the full (i.e., to zero) or partial write-down or conversion of the Notes into ordinary shares or other instruments of ownership of the Notes or the Guarantee, or the variation of the terms of the Notes or the Guarantee (for example, the maturity and/or interest payable may be altered and/or a temporary suspension of payments may be ordered). Extraordinary public financial support should only be used as a last resort after having assessed and applied, to the maximum extent practicable, the resolutions measures, including the Bail-in Tool.

In addition to the Bail-in Tool, the BRRD provides the Resolution Authority with broader powers to implement other resolution measures with respect to relevant entities that meet the conditions for resolution, which may include (without limitation) the sale of the relevant entity's business, the creation of a bridge institution, the separation of assets, the replacement or substitution of the institution as obligor in respect of debt instruments, modifications to the terms of debt instruments (including altering the maturity and/or the amount of interest payable and/or imposing a temporary suspension on payments), removing management, appointing an interim administrator, and discontinuing the listing and admission to trading of financial instruments.

Before taking a resolution measure or exercising the power to write down or convert relevant capital instruments, the Resolution Authority must ensure that a fair, prudent and realistic valuation of the assets and liabilities of the institution is carried out by a person independent from any public authority.

Since 1 January 2016, French credit institutions (such as the Issuer) have to meet, at all times, a minimum requirement for own funds and eligible liabilities (MREL) pursuant to Article L. 613-44 of the French Code monétaire et financier. The MREL, which is expressed as a percentage of the total liabilities and own funds of the institution, aims at avoiding institutions to structure their liabilities in a manner that impedes the effectiveness of the Bail-in Tool. From January 2019, G-SIBs (global systemically important banks) such as the Issuer will also have to comply with the total loss absorbing capacity (TLAC) requirements.

In accordance with the provisions of the SRM Regulation, when applicable, the SRB, has replaced the national resolution authorities designated under the BRRD with respect to all aspects relating to the decision-making process and the national resolution authorities designated under the BRRD continue to carry out activities relating to the implementation of resolution schemes adopted by the SRB. The provisions relating to the cooperation between the SRB and the national resolution authorities for the preparation of the banks' resolution plans have applied since 1 January 2015 and the SRM has been fully operational since 1 January 2016.

The application of any resolution measure under the French BRRD implementing provisions or any suggestion of such application with respect to the Issuer or the Group could materially adversely affect the rights of Noteholders, the price or value of an investment in the Notes and/or the ability of the Issuer to satisfy its obligations under the Notes, and as a result investors may lose their entire investment.

Moreover, if the Issuer's financial condition deteriorates, the existence of the Bail-in Tool or the exercise of write-down/conversion powers by the Resolution Authority independently of a resolution measure with respect to capital instruments (including subordinated debt instruments) or in combination with a resolution measure when it determines that the institution or its group will no longer be viable could cause the market price or value of the Notes to decline more rapidly than would be the case in the absence of such powers.

Implementation of BRRD in Luxembourg

The BRRD was implemented by the Luxembourg act dated 18 December 2015 (the BRR Act 2015). Under the BRR Act 2015, the competent authority is the CSSF and the resolution authority is the CSSF acting as Resolution Council (le Conseil de résolution).

The BRR Act 2015 provides for certain resolution measures, including the power to impose in certain circumstances a suspension of activities. Any suspension of activities can, to the extent determined by the Resolution Council, result in the partial or complete suspension of the performance of agreements entered into by a Luxembourg incorporated credit institution or investment firm. The BRR Act 2015 also grants the power to the Resolution Council to take a number of resolution measures including (i) a forced sale of the credit institution or investment firm (sale of business), (ii) the establishment of a bridge institution or, (iii) the forced transfer of all or part of the assets, rights or obligations of the credit institution or investment firm (asset separation) and (iv) the application of the general bail-in tool. The powers set out in the BRR Act 2015 will impact how credit institutions, investment firms or relevant financial institutions (such as SG Issuer) established in Luxembourg, are managed as well as, in certain circumstances, the rights of creditors.

If the general bail-in tool and the statutory write-down and conversion power become applicable to SG Issuer, the Notes may be subject to write-down or conversion into equity (ordinary shares or other instrument of ownership) on any application of the bail-in tool, which may result in such Notes' holders losing some or all of their investment (notably, the amount of the outstanding may be reduced, including to zero). Subject to certain conditions, the terms of the obligations owed under the Notes may also be varied by the Resolution Council (e.g. as to maturity, interest and interest payment dates). The exercise of any power under the BRR Act 2015 or any suggestion of such exercise could materially adversely affect the rights of the holders of the Notes, the price or value of their investment in any Notes and/or the ability of SG Issuer to satisfy its obligations under any Note.

Regulation (EU) no. 806/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 July 2014 establishing uniform rules and a uniform procedure for the resolution of significant credit institutions and financial groups, in the framework of a Single Resolution Mechanism and a Single Resolution Fund, established a centralised power of resolution and entrusted to a Single Resolution Board and to the national resolution authorities of participating EU Member States (including Luxembourg and the CSSF through the Resolution Council). Since 1 January 2015, the Single Resolution Board works in close cooperation with the Resolution Council, in particular in relation to the elaboration of resolution planning, and assume full resolution powers since 1 January 2016.

3.1.11 The United Kingdom's impending departure from the European Union could adversely affect the Group

The United Kingdom held a referendum on 23 June 2016 in which a majority voted to exit the European Union (Brexit) and the UK Government invoked article 50 of the Lisbon Treaty relating to withdrawal on 29 March 2017. Under article 50, the Treaty on the European Union and the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union cease to apply in the relevant state from the date of entry into force of a withdrawal agreement, or, failing that, two years after the notification of intention to withdraw, although this period may be extended in certain circumstances. Negotiations are expected to commence to determine the future terms of the United Kingdom's relationship with the European Union, including the terms of trade between the United Kingdom and the European Union. The effects of Brexit will depend on any agreements the United Kingdom makes to retain access to European Union markets either during a transitional period or more permanently. Brexit could adversely affect European or worldwide economic, market conditions and could contribute to instability in global financial and foreign exchange markets, including volatility in the value of the pound sterling or the euro. In addition, Brexit could lead to legal uncertainty and potentially divergent national laws and regulations as the United Kingdom determines which European Union laws to replace or replicate. Any of these effects of Brexit, and others which cannot be anticipated, could adversely affect the business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows of the Group, and could negatively impact the value of the Notes.

3.1.12 Eurosystem eligibility for New Global Notes and Registered Global Notes

New Global Notes and Registered Global Notes issued under the new safekeeping structure (NSS) may be issued with the intention that such Notes be recognised as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary policy and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem, either upon issue or at any or all times during their life. Such recognition will depend upon satisfaction of the Eurosystem eligibility criteria as specified by the European Central Bank. However, there is no guarantee that such Notes will be recognised as eligible collateral. Any other Notes are not intended to be recognised as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary policy and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem.

3.1.13 Notes where denominations involve integral multiples: Definitive Bearer Notes

In relation to any issue of Bearer Notes which have denominations consisting of a minimum Specified Denomination plus one or more higher integral multiples of another smaller amount, it is possible that such Bearer Notes may be traded in amounts that are not integral multiples of such minimum Specified Denomination. In such a case a holder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds an amount which is less than the minimum Specified Denomination in his account with the relevant clearing system at the relevant time may not receive a Definitive Bearer Note in respect of such holding (should Definitive Bearer Notes be printed) and would need to purchase a principal amount of Bearer Notes such that its holding amounts to a Specified Denomination.

If Definitive Bearer Notes are issued, holders should be aware that Definitive Bearer Notes which have a denomination that is not an integral multiple of the minimum Specified Denomination may be illiquid and difficult to trade.

3.1.14 Transfer restrictions

The Notes may not at any time be offered, sold, pledged, or otherwise transferred except in an "offshore transaction" (as defined under Regulation S) to or for the account or benefit of a Permitted Transferee as described under "Subscription, Sale and Transfer Restrictions". Any transfer of Notes to a person that is not a Permitted Transferee will be void ab initio and of no legal effect whatsoever. Accordingly, any purported transferee of any legal or beneficial ownership interest in Notes in such a transaction will not be entitled to any right as a legal or beneficial owner of such interest in such Notes.

In addition, the relevant Issuer may redeem the Notes held by such purchaser or other transferee or compel any such purchaser or other transferee to transfer such Notes. Any such redemption or forced transfer may result in a significant loss of a Noteholder's investment.

The foregoing restriction on the offer, sale, pledge or other transfer of Notes may limit the liquidity of such Notes. Consequently, a purchaser must be prepared to hold such Notes for an indefinite period of time and potentially until their maturity.

3.1.15 Investment Company Act

Neither SG Issuer, nor Société Générale Effekten GmbH has registered with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) as an investment company pursuant to the Investment Company Act. Investors in the Notes will not have the protections of the Investment Company Act.

If the SEC or a court of competent jurisdiction were to find that the relevant Issuer is required, but in violation of the Investment Company Act, has failed, to register as an investment company, possible consequences include, but are not limited to, the following: (i) the SEC could apply to a district court to enjoin the violation; (ii) investors in the relevant Issuer could sue such Issuer and recover any damages caused by the violation; and (iii) any contract to which the relevant Issuer is party that is made in, or whose performance involves, a violation of the Investment Company Act would be unenforceable by any party to the contract unless a court were to find that under the circumstances enforcement would produce a more equitable result than non-enforcement and would not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Investment Company Act. Should the relevant Issuer be subjected to any or all of the foregoing, such Issuer would be materially and adversely affected.

3.1.16 A Noteholder's actual yield on the Notes may be reduced from the stated yield by transaction costs

When Notes are purchased or sold, several types of incidental costs (including transaction fees and commissions) are incurred in addition to the current price of the security. These incidental costs may significantly reduce or even exclude the profit potential of the Notes. For instance, credit institutions as a rule charge their clients for own commissions which are either fixed minimum commissions or pro-rata commissions depending on the order value. To the extent that additional – domestic or foreign – parties are involved in the execution of an order, including but not limited to domestic dealers or brokers in foreign markets, Noteholders must take into account that they may also be charged for the brokerage fees, commissions and other fees and expenses of such parties (third party costs).

In addition to such costs directly related to the purchase of securities (direct costs), Noteholders must also take into account any follow-up costs (such as custody fees). Prospective investors should inform themselves about any additional costs incurred in connection with the purchase, custody or sale of the Notes before investing in the Notes.

3.1.17 There is a risk that trading in the Notes and/or Underlyings will be suspended, interrupted or terminated

If the Notes are listed on one (or more) markets (which may be regulated or unregulated), the listing of such Notes may – depending on the rules applicable to such stock exchange – be suspended or interrupted by the respective stock exchange or a competent regulatory authority upon the occurrence of a number of reasons, including violation of price limits, breach of statutory provisions, occurrence of operational problems of the stock exchange or generally if deemed required in order to secure a functioning market or to safeguard the interests of investors. Furthermore, trading in the Notes may be terminated, either upon decision of the stock exchange, a regulatory authority or upon application by the Issuer. Where trading in an Underlying of the Notes is suspended, interrupted or terminated, trading in the respective Notes will usually also be suspended, interrupted or terminated and existing orders for the sale or purchase of such Notes will usually be cancelled. Investors should note that the Issuer has no influence on trading suspension or interruptions (other than where trading in the Notes is terminated upon the Issuer's decision) and that investors in any event must bear the risks connected therewith. In particular, investors may not be able to sell their Notes where trading is suspended, interrupted or terminated, and the stock exchange quotations of such Notes may not adequately reflect the price of such Notes. Furthermore, a trading suspension, interruption or termination of Underlyings of the Notes may cause a suspension, interruption or termination of trading in the Notes and may as well result in an artificial or wrong valuation of the Notes. Finally, even if trading in Notes or Underlyings is suspended, interrupted or terminated, investors should note that such measures may neither be sufficient nor adequate nor in time to prevent price disruptions or to safeguard the investors' interests; for example, where trading in Notes is suspended after price-sensitive information relating to such Notes has been published, the price of such Notes may already have been adversely affected. All these risks would, if they materialise, have a material adverse effect on the investors.

3.1.18 Risk of difficulties regarding assertion of rights against an Issuer and/or the Guarantor established and operating in another jurisdiction than the investor's home jurisdiction

In the event of a dispute with the Issuer and/or the Guarantor, investors who are not resident in, or does not have their habitual residence in, the state of the Issuer or the Guarantor, may face difficulties in enforcing their rights resulting from the Notes.

3.1.19 Risk relating to the financing of the purchase of Notes by loan or credit significantly increases risks

If a prospective investor in the Notes decides to finance the purchase of Notes through funds borrowed from a third party, it should make sure in advance that it can still continue to service the interest and principal payments on the loan in the event of a loss. It should not rely on gains or profits from the investment in the Notes which would enable it to repay interest and principal of the loans when due and payable.

3.2 RISKS RELATED TO THE MARKET GENERALLY

Set out below is a brief description of the principal market risks, including liquidity risk, exchange rate risk, interest rate risk and credit risk.

3.2.1 The secondary market generally

Notes may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be very liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Notes easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. This is particularly the case for Notes that are especially sensitive to interest rate, currency or market risks, are designed for specific investment objectives or strategies or have been structured to meet the investment requirements of limited categories of investors. These types of Notes generally would have a more limited secondary market and more price volatility than conventional debt securities. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of Notes.

Moreover, although the relevant Issuer can purchase Notes at any moment, this is not an obligation for the relevant Issuer. Purchases made by the relevant Issuer could affect the liquidity of the secondary market of the relevant Notes and thus the price and the conditions under which investors can negotiate these Notes on the secondary market.

If application is made for a Series of Notes issued under the Programme to be listed and admitted to trading on the regulated market and/or SIX Swiss Exchange, there is no assurance that such application will be accepted, that any particular Tranche of Notes will be so admitted or that an active trading market will develop.

3.2.2 Exchange rate risks and exchange controls

The relevant Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes in the Specified Currency. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the Investor's Currency) other than the Specified Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Specified Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Specified Currency would decrease (1) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (2) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (3) the Investor's Currency equivalent market value of the Notes.

Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

3.2.3 Interest rate risks

Investors in Fixed Rate Notes are exposed to the risk that if interest rates subsequently increase above the rate paid on the Fixed Rate Notes, this will adversely affect the value of the Notes.

As regards Floating Rate Notes, a key difference between Floating Rate Notes and Fixed Rate Notes is that interest income on Floating Rate Notes cannot be anticipated. Due to varying interest income, investors are not able to determine a definite yield of Floating Rate Notes at the time they purchase them and therefore their investment return cannot be compared with that of investments having longer fixed interest periods.

3.2.4 Credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Notes. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

In general, European regulated investors are restricted under Regulation (EC) No 1060/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council dated 16 September 2009, as amended (the CRA Regulation) from using credit ratings for regulatory purposes, unless such ratings are issued by a credit rating agency established in the EU and registered under the CRA Regulation (and such registration has not been withdrawn or suspended), subject to transitional provisions that apply in certain circumstances. Such general restriction will also apply in the case of credit ratings issued by non-EU credit rating agencies, unless the relevant credit ratings are endorsed by an EU-registered credit rating agency or the relevant non-EU rating agency is certified in accordance with the CRA Regulation (and such endorsement action or certification, as the case may be, has not been withdrawn or suspended, subject to transitional provisions that apply in certain circumstances). The list of registered and certified rating agencies published by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) on its website in accordance with the CRA Regulation is not conclusive evidence of the status of the relevant rating agency included in such list, as there may be delays between certain supervisory measures being taken against a relevant rating agency and the publication of the updated ESMA list.

3.2.5 Market value of the Notes

The market value of the Notes will be affected by the creditworthiness and/or the credit rating of the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor and a number of additional factors, including the market interest and yield rates and the time remaining to the maturity date.

In addition, the market value of Secured Notes will also depend on various other factors relating to the Type of Collateralisation provided for such Notes, in relation to which please refer to section "6. Additional Risks Associated with Secured Notes" below.

The value of the Notes depends on a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political events in France and elsewhere, including factors affecting capital markets generally and the stock exchanges on which the Notes are traded. The price at which a Noteholder may sell the Notes prior to maturity may be at a discount, which could be substantial, from the issue price or the purchase price paid by such purchaser.

3.2.6 Risks associated with the reform of LIBOR, EURIBOR and other interest rate 'benchmarks'

The EURIBOR®, the LIBOR® and other interest rate indices which are deemed to be 'benchmarks' are the subject of recent national, international and other regulatory guidance and proposals for reform. Some of these reforms are already effective whilst others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such 'benchmarks' to perform differently than in the past, or to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Securities linked to such a 'benchmark'.

On 17 May 2016, the Council of the European Union adopted the EU regulation on indices used as benchmarks in financial instruments and financial contracts or to measure the performance of investment funds (the "Benchmark Regulation"). The Benchmark Regulation entered into force on 30 June 2016. Subject to various transitional provisions, the Benchmark Regulation will apply from 1 January 2018, except that the regime for 'critical' benchmarks applies from 30 June 2016. The Benchmark Regulation will apply to 'contributors', 'administrators' and 'users' of 'benchmarks' in the EU, and will, among other things, (i) require benchmark administrators to be authorised (or, if non-EU-based, to have satisfied certain 'equivalence' conditions in its local jurisdiction, to be 'recognised' by the authorities of a Member State pending an equivalence decision or to be 'endorsed' for such purpose by an EU competent authority) and to comply with requirements in relation to the administration of 'benchmarks' and (ii) ban the use of 'benchmarks' of unauthorised administrators. The scope of the Benchmark Regulation is wide and, in addition to so-called 'critical benchmark' indices such as EURIBOR® and LIBOR®, will apply to many other interest rate indices.

The Benchmark Regulation could have a material impact on Securities linked to a 'benchmark' rate or index, including in any of the following circumstances:

- a rate or index which is a 'benchmark' could not be used as such if its administrator does not obtain authorisation or is based in a non-EU jurisdiction which (subject to applicable transitional provisions) does not satisfy the 'equivalence' conditions, is not 'recognised' pending such a decision and is not 'endorsed' for such purpose. In such event, depending on the particular 'benchmark' and the applicable terms of the Securities, the Securities could be de-listed, adjusted, redeemed prior to maturity or otherwise impacted; and
- the methodology or other terms of the 'benchmark' could be changed in order to comply with the terms of the Benchmark Regulation, and such changes could have the effect of reducing or increasing the rate or level or affecting the volatility of the published rate or level, and could lead to adjustments to the terms of the Securities, including Calculation Agent determination of the rate or level in its discretion.

Any of the international, national or other proposals for reform or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of 'benchmarks' could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a 'benchmark' and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the effect of discouraging market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to certain 'benchmarks', trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in certain 'benchmarks' or lead to the disappearance of certain 'benchmarks'. The disappearance of a 'benchmark' or changes in the manner of administration of a 'benchmark' could result in adjustment to the terms and conditions, early redemption, discretionary valuation by the Calculation Agent, delisting or other consequence in relation to Securities linked to such 'benchmark'. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any such Securities.

4. RISKS RELATED TO A PARTICULAR FEATURE OF NOTES

A wide range of Notes may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Notes may have features which present particular risks for prospective investors.

Set out below is a description of the most common such features, which may increase the risk of investing in such Notes:

4.1 Open-ended Notes issued by SG Issuer

Open-ended Notes do not have a determined maturity. Therefore, the duration of the Notes is dependent on optional redemption by SG Issuer (see also "Notes subject to optional redemption by the relevant Issuer" below) or by the Noteholder, as the case may be. If there is no secondary market, there might be no possibility for the investors to sell the Notes.

4.2 Risks linked to the protection of the capital

For certain Notes, there is no risk of capital loss upon payment of the nominal amount at maturity. However, the expenses for such protection may have impaired other conditions of the Product and may have caused a lower interest rate (different caps and floors) as would have been granted otherwise.

Regardless of the level of the capital protection of the Notes, investors in the Notes may lose part or all of the initially invested amount before the maturity date if the product is sold by the investor or redeemed early by the relevant Issuer at an Early Redemption Amount being equal to Market Value (since the value of the product during its lifetime may be lower than the amount of the capital protection).

4.3 Notes subject to optional redemption by the relevant Issuer

An optional redemption feature of Notes is likely to limit their market value. Before or during any period when the relevant Issuer may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of those Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed.

4.4 Reinvestment risks

An investor generally may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Prospective investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Although, if the terms and conditions of the notes provide for frequent interest payment dates, investors are exposed to reinvestment risk if market interest rates decline. That is, investors may reinvest the interest income paid to them only at the relevant lower interest rates then prevailing.

4.5 Trigger redemption at the option of the Issuer

In respect of certain issues where so specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes may be redeemed early in the event that the outstanding nominal amount falls below 10% of the initial nominal amount of such Notes or such other level specified in the applicable Final Terms. In such event the relevant Issuer will have the option to redeem any outstanding Notes early upon the giving of notice. This could lead to investors receiving an amount at redemption which may be lower than their initial investment and earlier than had been anticipated in circumstances over which the investors have no control and which may affect the value of their investment.

4.6 Notes containing limited events of default

The Notes of a Series will only become immediately due and repayable following the occurrence of a limited number of events of default (in compliance with Condition 8 of the Terms and Conditions). Such events of default do not include, a cross-default of the relevant Issuer's other debt obligation or of the Guarantor.

4.7 Option to substitute amount of interest or redemption amount

If "Substitute Coupon" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the rate of interest payable could be replaced, in certain circumstances, by a different rate or amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. If "Substitute Final Redemption" is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the amount payable or deliverable in the case of redemption or exercise of such option could be replaced, in certain circumstances, by a different amount specified in the applicable Final Terms. As the redemption amount of the Notes could be replaced during the life of the Notes, the investors might receive a different yield and such yield could be significantly lower than expected.

4.8 Partly-Paid Notes

The relevant Issuer may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one part payment. Failure to pay any subsequent part payment could result in an investor losing some or all of his investment.

4.9 Variable rate Notes with a multiplier or other leverage factor

Notes with variable interest rates can be volatile investments. If they are structured to include multipliers or other leverage factors, or caps or floors, or any combination of those features or other similar related features, their market values may be even more volatile than those for securities that do not include those features.

4.10 Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes are Notes which bear interest at a rate that converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. Such a feature to convert the interest basis, and any conversion of the interest basis, may affect the secondary market and the market value of such Notes as the change of interest basis may result in a lower interest return for Noteholders. If the relevant Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate in such circumstances, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favourable than then prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If the relevant Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate in such circumstances, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on those Notes and could affect the market value of an investment in the relevant Notes.

4.11 Zero Coupon Notes and Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of Notes issued at a substantial discount to or premium from their principal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the Notes, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

4.12 Risks relating to Physical Delivery Notes

In the case of Notes which are redeemable by delivery of assets, if a Settlement Disruption Event occurs or exists on the due date for redemption of the Notes and prevents delivery of the asset, the relevant Issuer shall, in lieu of delivering the Physical Delivery Amount, pay, in respect of each Note, the fair market value of the number of Underlying(s) (the Fair Market Value) or, in respect of Credit Linked Notes, the Cash Redemption Amount per Undeliverable Obligations as defined in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes to be delivered converted into the Specified Currency at the current exchange rate, if applicable. The Fair Market Value will be determined by the Calculation Agent on the basis of the market conditions on the first Business Day following the Delivery Period.

In the case of Physical Delivery Notes:

- (i) no share in Société Générale or the Group will be delivered. If a share in Société Générale or the Group should be delivered, such share will be replaced by, in due proportion, an equivalent amount in cash.
- (ii) no Fund Unit in respect of any underlying fund which is hedge fund will be delivered to retail investors.

4.13 Risks relating to Dual Currency Notes

The Issuers may issue Dual Currency Notes (or other Notes linked to currencies) where the amount of principal and/or interest payable are dependent upon movements in currency exchange rates or are payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Accordingly an investment in Dual Currency Notes may bear similar market risks to a direct foreign exchange investment and prospective investors should take advice accordingly.

Prospective investors in any such Notes should be aware that, depending on the terms of the Dual Currency Notes, (i) they may receive no or a limited amount of interest, (ii) payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected and (iii) they may lose a substantial portion of their investment. In addition, movements in currency exchange rates may be subject to significant fluctuations that may or may not correlate with changes in interest rates or other indices and the timing of changes in the exchange rates may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations.

The market price of such Notes may be volatile and, if the amount of principal and/or interest payable are dependent upon movements in currency exchange rates, may depend upon the time remaining to the relevant redemption date and the volatility of currency exchange rates. Movements in currency exchange rates may be dependent upon economic, financial and political events in one or more jurisdictions.

4.14 Notes underlying CREST Depository Interests

The CDIs will be delivered, held and settled in CREST, by means of the CREST International Settlement Links Service. The settlement of the CDIs by means of the CREST International Settlement Links Service may involve the following risks to investors:

Investors will not be the legal owners of the Notes underlying the CDIs (the Underlying Notes). The CDIs are separate legal instruments from the Underlying Notes to which they relate and represent an indirect interest in such Underlying Notes.

The Underlying Notes themselves (as distinct from the CDIs representing indirect interests in such Underlying Notes) will be held in an account with a custodian. The custodian will hold the Underlying Notes through a clearing system. Rights in the Underlying Notes will be held through custodial and depository links through the appropriate clearing systems. The legal title to the Underlying Notes or to interests in the Underlying Notes will depend on the rules of the clearing system in or through which the Underlying Notes are held.

The rights of investors to the Underlying Notes are represented by the entitlements against the CREST Depository which (through the CREST Nominee) holds interests in the Underlying Notes.

This could result in an elimination or reduction in the payments that otherwise would have been made in respect of the Underlying Notes in the event of any insolvency or liquidation of the relevant intermediary, in particular where the Underlying Notes held in clearing systems are not held in special purpose accounts and are fungible with other securities held in the same accounts on behalf of other customers of the relevant intermediaries.

Investors should note that holders of CDIs may be required to pay fees, charges, costs and expenses to CREST Depository Limited in connection with the use of the International Settlement Links Service. These will include the fees and expenses charged by CREST Depository Limited in respect of the provision of services by it under the CREST Deed Poll and any taxes, duties, charges, costs or expenses which may be or become payable in connection with the holding of the Notes through the International Settlement Links Service.

Investors should note that neither the relevant Issuer nor any Paying Agent will have any responsibility for the performance by any intermediaries or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

4.15 Reliance on Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg procedures

Notes issued under the Programme may be represented on issue by one or more Global Notes that may be deposited with a common depositary for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (see "Book Entry Clearance Systems"). Except in the circumstances described in each Global Note, investors will not be entitled to receive Notes in definitive form. Each of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and their respective direct and indirect participants will maintain records of the beneficial interests in each Global Note held through it. While the Notes are represented by a Global Note, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the relevant clearing systems and their respective participants.

While the Notes are represented by Global Notes, the Issuer will discharge its payment obligation under the Notes by making payments through the relevant clearing systems. A holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of the relevant clearing system and its participants to receive payments under the Notes. The Issuer has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in any Global Note.

Holders of beneficial interests in a Global Note will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the Notes so represented. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the relevant clearing system and its participants to appoint appropriate proxies.

Special rules apply to SIS Notes.

4.16 Risks relating to Notes denominated in Renminbi (RMB)

4.16.1 RMB is not freely convertible and the liquidity of the Notes denominated in Renminbi may be adversely affected

RMB is not freely convertible at present. The PRC government continues to regulate conversion between RMB and foreign currencies, including the Hong Kong Dollar, despite the significant reduction over the years by the PRC government of its control over routine foreign exchange transactions under account. Whilst the People's Bank of China (PBOC) has established Renminbi clearing and settlement mechanisms for participating banks in certain jurisdictions including Hong Kong, Macau, Singapore and Taiwan, through settlement agreements on the clearing of Renminbi business with Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited in Hong Kong, Bank of China, Macau Branch in Macau, Industrial and Commercial Bank of China, Singapore Branch in Singapore and Bank of China, Taipei Branch in Taiwan (each, a Renminbi Clearing Bank), and are in the process of establishing Renminbi clearing and settlement mechanisms in France, Germany and the UK (the Settlement Arrangements), the current size of Renminbi denominated financial assets outside the PRC is limited.

There are restrictions imposed by the PBOC on Renminbi Clearing Banks in respect of cross-border Renminbi settlement, such as those relating to direct transactions with PRC enterprises. Furthermore, Renminbi Clearing Banks do not have direct Renminbi liquidity support from the PBOC. The Renminbi Clearing Banks only have access to onshore liquidity support from the PBOC for the purpose of squaring open positions of participating banks for limited types of transactions and are not obliged to square for participating banks any open positions resulting from other foreign exchange transactions or conversion services. In such cases, the Renminbi Clearing Banks will need to source Renminbi from outside the PRC to square such open positions.

Although it is expected that the offshore Renminbi market will continue to grow in depth and size, its growth is subject to many constraints as a result of PRC laws and regulations on foreign exchange. New PRC regulations may be promulgated or the Settlement Arrangements may be terminated or amended in the future which may have the effect of restricting availability of Renminbi outside the PRC. The limited availability of Renminbi outside the PRC may affect the liquidity of Notes denominated in RMB.

4.16.2 RMB currency risk

All payments of RMB under the Notes to the Noteholders will be made solely by transfer to a RMB bank account maintained in Hong Kong or a financial centre in which a Renminbi Clearing Bank clears and settles Renminbi in accordance with the prevailing rules and regulations and in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Notes. The relevant Issuer cannot be required to make payment by any other means (including in any other currency or by transfer to a bank account in the PRC). RMB is not freely convertible at present, and the conversion of RMB into other currencies through banks in Hong Kong is subject to certain restrictions.

In addition, there can be no assurance that the access to RMB for the purposes of making payments under the Notes or generally may remain or will not become restricted. If it becomes impossible to convert RMB from/to another freely convertible currency, or transfer RMB between accounts in Hong Kong (or a financial centre in which a Renminbi Clearing Bank clears and settles Renminbi), or the general RMB exchange market becomes illiquid, any payment of RMB under the Notes may be delayed or the relevant Issuer may make such payments in another currency selected by the relevant Issuer using an exchange rate determined by the Calculation Agent, or the relevant Issuer may redeem the Notes by making payment in another currency.

4.16.3 RMB exchange rate risk

The value of RMB against Hong Kong Dollar and other foreign currencies fluctuates and is affected by changes in the PRC and international political and economic conditions and by many other factors. The relevant Issuer will make all payments of RMB under the Notes in RMB (subject to the second paragraph under the heading "RMB currency risk" above). As a result, the value of such payments of RMB (in Hong Kong Dollar or other applicable foreign currencies) may vary with the prevailing exchange rates in the marketplace. If the value of RMB depreciates against Hong Kong Dollar or other foreign currencies, the value of an investor's investment in Hong Kong Dollar or other applicable foreign currencies will decline.

4.16.4 RMB interest rate risk

Where applicable, the value of payments of RMB under the Notes may be susceptible to interest rate fluctuations, including Chinese RMB Repo Rates and/or the Shanghai Interbank Offered Rate (SHIBOR). Furthermore, due to the foreign exchange control imposed by the applicable PRC laws and regulations and the prevailing market conditions, the RMB interest rate in the markets outside the PRC may significantly deviate from the RMB interest rate in the PRC.

4.16.5 Payments with respect to Notes denominated in Renminbi may be made only in the manner designated in such Notes

Noteholders may be required to provide certification and other information (including Renminbi account information) in order to be allowed to receive payments in Renminbi in accordance with the Renminbi clearing and settlement system for participating banks in Hong Kong. All payments to investors in respect of Notes denominated in Renminbi will be made solely (i) for so long as Notes denominated in Renminbi are represented by Global Notes held with the Common Depository or Common Safekeeper, as the case may be, for Clearstream Banking S.A. and Euroclear Bank SA/NV or any alternative clearing system, by transfer to a Renminbi bank account maintained in Hong Kong or (ii) for so long as Notes denominated in Renminbi are in definitive form, by transfer to a Renminbi bank account maintained in Hong Kong in accordance with prevailing rules and regulations. Other than described in the terms and conditions of the Notes, the Issuer cannot be required to make payment by any other means (including in any other currency or in bank notes, by cheque or draft or by transfer to a bank account in the PRC).

4.16.6 Gains on the transfer of Notes denominated in Renminbi may become subject to income taxes under PRC tax laws

Under the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law, the PRC Individual Income Tax Law and the relevant implementing rules as amended from time to time, any gain realised on the sale, transfer, redemption or other disposal of Notes denominated in Renminbi by Noteholders who are deemed to be non-PRC resident enterprise or individual Noteholders may be subject to PRC enterprise income tax (EIT) or PRC individual income tax (IIT) if such gain is regarded as income derived from sources within the PRC.

However, there is uncertainty as to whether gains realised from the sale, transfer, redemption or other disposal of Notes denominated in Renminbi by a non-PRC resident enterprise or individual Noteholders would be treated as income derived from sources within the PRC and subject to the EIT or the IIT. This will depend on how the PRC tax authorities interpret, apply or enforce the PRC Enterprise Income Tax Law, the PRC Individual Income Tax law and the relevant implementing rules.

According to an arrangement between the PRC and Hong Kong, for the avoidance of double taxation, Noteholders who are residents of Hong Kong, including enterprise holders and individual Noteholders, will not be subject to the EIT or IIT on any capital gains derived from a sale or exchange of Notes denominated in Renminbi.

If non-PRC resident enterprise or individual resident Noteholder is required to pay PRC income tax on gains derived from the transfer of Notes denominated in Renminbi (such EIT is currently levied at the rate of 10 per cent. of gains realised and such IIT is currently levied at the rate of 20 per cent. of gains realised (with deduction of reasonable expenses), unless there is an applicable tax treaty between PRC and the jurisdiction in which such non-PRC resident enterprise or individual resident holders of Notes denominated in Renminbi reside that reduces or exempts the relevant EIT or IIT (however, qualified holders may not enjoy the treaty benefit automatically but through a successful application with the PRC tax authorities)), the value of their investment in Notes denominated in Renminbi may be materially and adversely affected.

4.16.7 Remittance of proceeds into or outside of the PRC in Renminbi

In the event that the Issuer decides to remit some or all of the proceeds into the PRC in Renminbi, its ability to do so will be subject to obtaining all necessary approvals from, and registration with, the relevant PRC government authorities. However, there is no assurance that the necessary approvals from, and registration with, the relevant PRC government authorities will be obtained at all or, if obtained, they will not be revoked or amended in the future.

There is no assurance that the PRC government will continue to liberalise control over cross-border Renminbi remittances in the future, that any pilot schemes for Renminbi cross-border liberalisation will not be discontinued or that new PRC regulations will not be promulgated in the future which have the effect of restricting or eliminating the remittance of Renminbi into or outside the PRC. In the event that the Issuer does remit some or all of the proceeds into the PRC in Renminbi and the Issuer subsequently is not able to repatriate funds outside the PRC in Renminbi, it will need to source Renminbi outside the PRC to finance its obligations under Notes denominated in Renminbi, and its ability to do so will be subject to the overall availability of Renminbi outside the PRC.

5. RISK FACTORS RELATING TO STRUCTURED NOTES

5.1 General relating to Structured Notes

5.1.1 General considerations relating to Structured Notes

There are certain factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the risks associated with an investment in Notes issued under the programme. Such factors will vary depending on the type of Notes issued, in particular, in relation to the Notes, the interest and/or redemption amount of which is linked to the value of one or more index, share, inflation index, unit, interest or share in a fund, or the combination of any of the foregoing or basis of reference.

Prospective investors should be aware that, depending on the specific terms and conditions of the relevant Notes, (i) they might only receive a limited amount of interest or no interest at all, (ii) payment of principal or interest could occur at a time other than that stipulated, (iii) they could lose all or a substantial part of their investment.

Investors should be aware that in the event of the occurrence of certain circumstances during the term of the Notes (which may include, amongst other things, material or substantial modifications of any of the conditions of any of the underlying or any event or any change affecting any of the underlying assets as specified in the applicable Final Terms) and which is likely to have a significant effect on the value of the affected underlying assets, then, the Calculation Agent may substitute the affected underlying assets or may trigger the termination of the Notes.

The Notes may be redeemed by the relevant Issuer at their par value and/or by the physical delivery of the underlying assets and/or by payment of an amount determined by reference to the value of the underlying assets. Accordingly, an investment in the Notes may bear similar market risks to a direct investment in the relevant underlying assets and investors should take advice accordingly. Interest payable on the Notes may be calculated by reference to the value of one or more underlying assets. The value of the underlying assets may vary over time and may affect adversely the market value of the Notes and/or any payments of any interest or principal due under the Notes.

The relevant Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to interest rates, to credit risk, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a Relevant Factor). In addition, the relevant Issuer may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Prospective investors should be aware that:

- they may receive no interest;
- payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- they may lose all or a substantial portion of their principal;
- a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified;
- the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield; and
- the market price of such Notes may be volatile and may depend on the time remaining to the relevant redemption date and the volatility of the level of the index or indices.

The historical performance of an underlying asset should not be viewed as an indication of the future performance of such underlying asset during the term of Structured Notes. Accordingly, each prospective investor should consult its own financial and legal advisers about the risk entailed by an investment in any Structured Notes or Dual Currency Notes and the suitability of such Notes in light of its particular circumstances.

5.1.2 No beneficial interest in the underlying assets

A holder of the Notes will not be a beneficial owner of the underlying assets and therefore will not be entitled to receive any proceeds or similar amounts paid on the underlying assets, nor will a Noteholder be entitled to purchase the underlying assets by virtue of its ownership of the Notes. Moreover, holders of the Notes will not be entitled to any rights or other control rights that holders of the underlying assets may have with respect to the issuer of such underlying. The return on the Notes might not reflect the return on the underlying assets. Therefore, the yield to maturity based on the methodology for calculating the Redemption Amount might not be the same yield as would be produced if the underlying assets were purchased directly and held for a similar period.

5.1.3 Investors' yield may be lower than the yield on a standard debt security of comparable maturity

Unlike conventional fixed rate or floating rate debt securities, Structured Notes whose payments (whether in respect of principal and/or interest and whether at maturity or otherwise) are calculated by reference to an underlying asset, may not provide investors with periodic payments of interest. Further, with respect to the Final Redemption Amount or Early Redemption Amount or Automatic Early Redemption Amount or Optional Redemption Amount (the Redemption Amounts), the effective yield to maturity of the Notes may be less than that which would be payable on a conventional fixed rate or floating rate debt security. The return of only the Redemption Amount of each Note at maturity may not compensate the holder for any opportunity cost implied by inflation and other factors relating to the value of money over time.

5.1.4 Adjustment, substitution or extension of maturity – Early redemption of the Notes

The Calculation Agent may, in certain circumstances, proceed to adjustments or substitutions, or even decide the extension of the initially planned maturity date or to stop the indexation of the Note on the underlying asset(s) and to pass in a money market rate, in particular upon the occurrence of events affecting the underlying instrument(s). In the absence of manifest or proven error, these adjustments, substitutions or early redemption decisions will be binding upon the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor, the Agent and the Noteholders. The relevant Issuer may also have a right to redeem the Notes early. In all such cases, the early redemption of the Notes may result in the total or partial loss of the amount invested.

5.1.5 The regulation and reform of “benchmarks” may adversely affect the value of the Notes linked to or referencing such “benchmarks”

Interest rates and underlyings which are deemed to be "benchmarks", are the subject of recent national and international regulatory guidance and proposals for reform. Some of these reforms are already effective whilst others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such benchmarks to perform differently than in the past, to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted. Any such consequence could have a material adverse effect on any Notes linked to or referencing such a "benchmark". The EU Benchmark Regulation was published in the Official Journal of the EU on 29 June 2016 and has applied since 1 January 2018. The Benchmarks Regulation applies to the provision of benchmarks, the contribution of input data to a benchmark and the use of a "benchmark" within the EU. It will, among other things, (i) require benchmark administrators to be authorised or registered (or, if non-EU-based, to be subject to an equivalent regime or otherwise recognised or endorsed) and (ii) prevent certain uses by EU supervised entities (such as the Issuer or the Calculation Agent) of "benchmarks" provided by administrators that are not authorised or registered (or, if non-EU based, not deemed equivalent or recognised or endorsed).

The Benchmarks Regulation could have a material impact on any Notes linked to or referencing a "benchmark", in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the "benchmark" are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the Benchmark Regulation. Such changes could, among other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the "benchmark".

In addition, the occurrence of an Administrator/Benchmark Event may cause early redemption or adjustment of the Notes which may include selecting one or more successor benchmarks and making related adjustments to the Notes, including if applicable to reflect increased costs. An Administrator/Benchmark Event may arise if any of the following circumstances occurs or may occur: (1) a benchmark is materially changed or cancelled or (2)(i) the relevant authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision or approval in respect of the benchmark or the administrator or sponsor of the benchmark is not obtained, (ii) an application for authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision, approval or inclusion in any official register is rejected or (iii) any authorisation, registration, recognition, endorsement, equivalence decision or approval is suspended or inclusion in any official register is withdrawn.

More broadly, any of the international or national reforms, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of "benchmarks", could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a "benchmark" and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the following effects on certain "benchmarks": (i) discourage market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to the "benchmark"; (ii) trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in the "benchmark" and/or (iii) lead to the disappearance of the "benchmark". Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of international or national reforms or other initiatives or investigations, could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any Notes linked to or referencing a "benchmark" and the Issuer may be entitled to require the Calculation Agent to make corresponding adjustments to the conditions of the Notes.

Investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by the Benchmark Regulation reforms in making any investment decision with respect to any Notes linked to or referencing a "benchmark".

5.1.6 Future discontinuance of LIBOR may adversely affect the value of Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR

On 27 July 2017, the Chief Executive of the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority, which regulates LIBOR, announced that it does not intend to continue to persuade, or use its powers to compel, panel banks to submit rates for the calculation of LIBOR to the administrator of LIBOR after 2021. The announcement indicates that the continuation of LIBOR on the current basis is not guaranteed after 2021. It is not possible to predict whether, and to what extent, panel banks will continue to provide LIBOR submissions to the administrator of LIBOR going forwards. This may cause LIBOR to perform differently than it did in the past and may have other consequences which cannot be predicted.

Investors should be aware that, if LIBOR were discontinued or otherwise unavailable, the rate of interest on Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR will be determined for the relevant period by the fall-back provisions applicable to such Notes. Depending on the manner in which the LIBOR rate is to be determined under the Terms and Conditions, this may (i) if ISDA Determination applies, be reliant upon the provision by reference banks of offered quotations for the LIBOR rate which, depending on market circumstances, may not be available at the relevant time, (ii) if Screen Rate Determination applies, result in the effective application of a fixed rate based on the rate which applied in the previous period when LIBOR was available or (iii) result in the Calculation Agent determining the relevant rate in its discretion. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on the value or liquidity of, and return on, any Floating Rate Notes which reference LIBOR.

5.2 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to an Index

5.2.1 General considerations related to Index Linked Notes and SGI Index Linked Notes

Structured Notes based on an index are subject to risks broadly similar to those attending any investment in a broadly-based portfolio of assets including, without limitation, the risk that the general level of prices for such assets may decline. The following is a list of some of the significant risks associated with an index:

- historical performance of the index does not indicate the future performance of this index. It is impossible to predict whether the value of the index will fall or rise during the term of the Notes; and
- the level of the index or indices may be affected by the economic, financial and political events in one or more jurisdictions, including the stock exchange(s) or quotation system(s) on which any securities comprising the index or indices may be traded. The index may reference equities, bonds or other securities or it may be a property index referencing certain property price data which will be subject to market price fluctuations. A property index may include valuations only and not actual transactions and the property data sources used to compile the index may be subject to change, which may adversely affect the return on the Notes.

The policies of the sponsor of an index (including a sponsor that is affiliated with Société Générale) as regards additions, deletions and substitutions of the assets underlying the index and the manner in which the index sponsor takes account of certain changes affecting such underlying assets may affect the value of the index. The policies of an index sponsor with respect to the calculation of an index could also affect the value of the index. An index sponsor may discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of information relating to its index. Any such actions could affect the value of the Notes. See "Additional Terms and Conditions for Index Linked Notes" for more details.

In addition, indices may be subject to management fees and other fees as well as charges that are payable to the index sponsor(s) and which can reduce the Redemption Amount payable to Noteholders. Such fees may be paid to index sponsors that are affiliates of Société Générale.

Depending upon the calculation methodology of an index and on the provisions of the applicable Final Terms, where the performance of an index is taken into account in order to calculate payments due under the Index Linked Notes or SGI Index Linked Notes, the payment of income (such as dividends for an index that has stocks as underlyings) may not be reflected as the index may be calculated by reference to the prices of the underlyings comprising the index without taking into consideration the value of any income paid on those index underlyings. Therefore, the yield to settlement of both Index Linked Notes and SGI Index Linked Notes may not be the same as the yield that would be produced if such index underlyings were purchased and held for a similar period.

5.2.2 Conflicts of interest in connection with proprietary indices

Société Générale has developed an expertise in creating, structuring and maintaining indices (including SGI Indices), portfolios or strategies for which it acts as index sponsor (the "proprietary indices"). These indices are calculated by an external calculation agent in accordance with rules which describe the methodology for determining the composition and the calculation of these proprietary indices (the "Rules").

- (i) In respect of the proprietary indices discretionarily composed by Société Générale or an affiliate of Société Générale to which Notes are linked, Société Générale may face a conflict of interest between its obligations as the issuer of such Notes and as the composer of such indices, as the determination of the composition of such indices may have an impact on the value of the Notes.
- (ii) In respect of the proprietary indices composed by a third party to which Notes are linked, Société Générale may face a conflict of interest between its obligations as the issuer of such Notes and as sponsor of such indices as it may, subject to the Rules, amend or supplement the relevant Rules which may have an impact on the value of the Notes.
- (iii) In respect of the proprietary indices which are composed by applying a mathematical formula without any discretion from Société Générale or any third party, Société Générale may face a conflict of interest between its obligations as the issuer of such Notes and as sponsor of such indices as it may, subject to the Rules, modify certain parameters (such as the funding spread) or provide the valuation of certain components which may have an impact on the value of the Notes.

The roles of the different teams involved within Société Générale in the design, maintenance and replication of the indices have been strictly defined. The replication of any index is made in the same manner by a single team within Société Générale, be it for the purpose of hedging the product held by external investors or for the purpose of the positions held by Société Générale acting as co-investor with external investors.

The Group may have banking or other commercial relationships with third parties in relation to a proprietary index, and may engage in trading in such index (including such trading as any member of the Group deem appropriate to hedge their market risk on any such other transactions that may relate to proprietary indices), which may adversely affect the level of such index.

If the hedging activities of any member of the Group in connection with a particular index are disrupted, the relevant member of the Group may decide to terminate calculations in relation to such index sooner than another index sponsor would in comparable circumstances. Such a termination may trigger the early redemption of the Notes.

The above situations may result in consequences which may be adverse to Noteholders. The Issuers and the Guarantor assume no responsibility whatsoever for such consequences and their impact on Noteholders.

5.2.3 Conflicts of interest in connection with indices

The composition of certain indices to which the Notes are linked, and the methodologies used in relation to these indices, may be determined and selected by Société Générale or any of its affiliates. When selecting these methodologies, one can expect Société Générale or its concerned affiliate to take into account their own objectives and interests and/or those of the Group, and no guarantee can be given that the selected methodologies will not be less favourable to the interests of the investors than the methodologies used by other index sponsors in similar circumstances.

If the hedging activities of Société Générale or one of its affiliates are impaired in relation to a specific index, Société Générale or its concerned affiliate may decide to terminate the calculation of such index, sooner than another index sponsor would in similar circumstances. Such termination could be considered as an event triggering an early redemption of the Notes.

5.2.4 No endorsement of the Notes by the Index Sponsor

Where Notes are linked to an index or indices, the sponsor(s) of that index or indices (each a Sponsor) will not make any warranty or representation whatsoever, express or implied, either as to the results to be obtained as to the use of the index or indices or the figure(s) at which the index or indices stand at any particular day or otherwise. The relevant index or indices will be compiled and calculated solely by the Sponsor(s). However, the Sponsor(s) will not be liable to any person for any error in any index and the Sponsor(s) shall not be under any obligation to advise any person, including a purchaser or vendor of the Notes, of any error therein.

In addition, the Sponsor(s) will give no assurance regarding any modification or change in any methodology used in calculating any index and are under no obligation to continue the calculation, publication and dissemination of any index.

5.3 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to a Share or a Depositary Receipt

Risks arising from conduct of issuers of shares

The issuers of underlying shares or depositary receipts are not involved in the offer of the Notes in any way and have no obligation to consider the interests of the Noteholders in taking any corporate actions that might affect the value of the Notes. The issuers of underlying shares or depositary receipts may take actions that will adversely affect the value of the Notes.

5.4 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to a Fund¹

The fund units used as underlying assets of the Notes may be issued by any pooled investment vehicle such as hedge funds or mutual funds (hereafter a Fund).

5.4.1 Investors should investigate the underlying fund(s) as if investing directly

To the extent the underlying(s) of a series of Notes include(s) a fund or portfolio of funds, investors should conduct their own diligence of the underlying fund(s) as they would if they were directly investing in the underlying fund(s). The offering of the Notes does not constitute a recommendation by Société Générale or any member of the Group with respect to an investment linked to an underlying fund (including in respect of funds that are managed by managers affiliated with Société Générale). Investors should not conclude that the sale by the Issuers of such Notes is any form of investment recommendation by the Issuers or any member of the Group to invest in the underlying fund(s).

5.4.2 Risks relating to underlying Funds that are pooled investment vehicles

Fund units, and investments in pooled investment vehicles generally, are speculative and involve a high degree of risk. Neither the relevant Issuer nor the Guarantor gives any assurance as to the performance of fund units.

To the extent the underlying(s) of a series of Notes include(s) a Fund or portfolio of Funds for a series of Notes, the Notes of such series will be subject to some of the risks of an investment in a Fund or portfolio of Funds. The lack of oversight and regulation associated with funds that are Funds may increase the likelihood of fraud and negligence by the fund's managers and/or the investment advisors, their brokerage firms or banks.

Funds may involve complex tax structures and delays in distributing important tax information and may have high fees and expenses that may offset the Fund's trading profits.

Substantial redemptions on a Fund on a particular day could require such funds to liquidate positions more rapidly than would be otherwise desirable.

Funds, including the funds on which Structured Notes may be indexed, generally do not make information about their operations and holdings public. Even if the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor or any member of the Group may have arrangements with a fund managers to obtain information required to calculate the value of the fund, it may not have access to the activities of the fund on a continuous basis or at all. There are currently no regulatory requirements compelling funds to release information of the kind that would allow the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor or any member of the Group to value a fund or to accurately determine the value of the fund units and, consequently, the Redemption Amount of the relevant Notes.

Members of the Group may from time to time obtain information regarding specific Funds that may not be available to the general public. Any such information is obtained by members of the Group in the ordinary course of their businesses, and not in connection with the offering of the Notes (including in respect of funds that are managed by managers affiliated with Société Générale). In connection with the ordinary course of their businesses members of the Group may recommend, or determine not to recommend, specific Funds to their clients. Funds as to which Société Générale and certain of its affiliates have formed investment recommendations may now or may in the future be among the underlying funds used in the redemption formula of Notes. Any views that may be held by members of the Group with respect to the expected future performance of one or more of the funds (including in respect of funds that are managed by managers affiliated with Société Générale) would not be an indication of the future expected performance of the fund, and neither Société Générale nor any of the members of the Group has formed a view with respect to the expected future performance of a fund.

5.4.3 Volatility of the markets may adversely affect the value of the fund units

Volatility is the term used to describe the size and frequency of market fluctuations. If the volatility of the underlying fund(s) increases or decreases, the market value of the Notes may be affected.

Funds' performances may be highly volatile. Movements in the net asset value of the fund tracked by the fund units may vary from month to month. Trades made by fund managers may be based upon their expectation of price movements as the relevant investments approach and reach maturity several months following initiation of the trades. In the meantime, the market value of positions may not increase, and may in fact decrease, and this will be reflected in the net asset value per share.

Investments made by the underlying funds can involve substantial risks. The nature of these investments means that the value of the fund units may fluctuate significantly during a day or over longer periods. Consequently, the performance of the fund units over a given period will not necessarily be indicative of future performance.

Market volatility may produce significant losses on the fund units.

5.4.4 The use of leverage may increase the risk of loss in the value of the fund units

The underlying funds may have recourse to leverage i.e. borrow amounts that represent more than 100 % of the value of their assets to invest further in assets that involve additional risks. Accordingly, a small downward movement in the value of a fund's assets may result in a significantly larger loss for the fund.

5.4.5 Fund managers may be eligible to earn incentive compensation

The potential for a fund manager to earn performance-based compensation (including a manager that is affiliated with Société Générale) may encourage such fund manager to trade in a more speculative manner than it otherwise would. Therefore, because the incentive compensation of the fund's managers and/or investment advisors to Funds is often directly influenced by the performance of such funds, each fund manager may consequently have an incentive to take greater risks when making investments that may result in greater profits. By taking greater risks when making investments consequently there is greater scope for significant losses. In addition, the fund managers and/or the investment advisors may receive management, advisory or performance fees even though the fund has not realised any gains.

5.4.6 Fund managers' investments are not verified

None of the Issuers, Société Générale as Guarantor or as Calculation Agent under the Notes or members of the Group are or will be responsible for verifying or ensuring that the fund managers comply with their stated trading strategy (including a manager that is affiliated with Société Générale).

The fund's managers (including a manager that is affiliated with Société Générale) do not have any obligations to the Noteholders, or other role in connection with the Notes, including any obligation to take the needs of the Noteholders into consideration for any reason. The fund managers (including a manager that is affiliated with Société Générale) are not responsible for, and have not endorsed or participated in, the offering, placement, sale, purchase or transfer of the Notes. The fund managers (including a manager that is affiliated with Société Générale) are not responsible for, and will not participate in, the determination or calculation of the amounts receivable by Noteholders.

Underlying Funds that are pooled investment vehicles are not subject to the same regulatory regime, or regulated to the same extent as, mutual funds or registered securities or securities offerings. Changes to the current regulatory environment could affect the investment, operations and structure of the underlying Funds and could adversely affect the performance of the underlying Funds.

The underlying Funds may invest in assets that involve further risks and such risks may not be fully disclosed at the time of investment by the relevant Issuer. The fund managers and/or the investment advisors to Funds may invest in and trade in a variety of financial instruments using sophisticated investment techniques for hedging and non-hedging purposes. Such financial instruments and investment techniques include but are not limited to the use of leverage (i.e., borrowing money for investment purposes), short sales of securities, transactions that use derivatives such as swaps, stock options, index options, futures contracts and options on futures, transactions that involve the lending of securities to certain financial institutions, the entry into repurchase and reverse repurchase agreements for securities and the investment in foreign securities and foreign currencies. Furthermore, Funds may borrow an amount of more than 100 % of its assets on a consistent basis to increase its leverage. While these investment strategies and financial instruments allow the fund managers and/or the investment advisors the flexibility to implement a range of strategies in an attempt to generate positive returns for the fund, they also create the risk of significant losses that may adversely affect the fund.

Funds may invest in securities listed or traded on foreign exchanges. The execution of transactions on foreign exchanges might involve particular risks including but not limited to: higher volatility, government intervention, lack of transparency, lack of regulation, currency risk, political risk and economic social instability.

5.4.7 Reliance on fund managers and/or investment advisors of the underlying fund(s)

Investment in Fund Linked Notes is linked to the performance of underlying Fund(s) and such performance will depend to a considerable extent on the performance of the fund's managers and/or investment advisors of the Fund(s). None of the Issuer, or Société Générale as Guarantor or as Calculation Agent under the Notes, or members of the Group are in a position to protect the Noteholders against fraud and misrepresentation by unaffiliated fund managers or the investment advisors. Investors should understand that they could be materially adversely affected by any such acts. Noteholders do not have and are not entitled to any beneficial interests in the underlying Fund(s) and as such, have no recourse against the underlying Fund(s), any investment advisor or manager either contractually or statutorily. In addition, the fund managers and/or the investment advisors may be removed or replaced, the allocation of assets may vary from time to time and the various positions of the investments of the underlying Fund(s) may be economically offsetting, all of which may affect the performance of the underlying Fund(s).

The fund managers and/or the investment advisors may manage or advise other funds and/or accounts and may have financial and other incentives to favour such other funds and/or accounts over the underlying Fund(s). Also, the fund managers and/or the investment advisors may manage or advise for their own accounts and the accounts of their clients and may make recommendations or take positions similar or dissimilar to those of the underlying Fund(s) or which may compete with the underlying Fund(s).

5.4.8 Fees, deductions and charges will reduce the redemption amount

Fund fees will be deducted from the net asset value of the fund, reducing the value of the Fund units. Accordingly, to the extent that the Redemption Amount is linked to the net asset value of a fund, the Redemption Amount payable to Noteholders will be less than it would have been absent these fees, deductions and charges, Société Générale or any of its affiliates may be the beneficiary of such fees or obtain rebate on such fees from third parties.

5.4.9 The illiquidity of the underlying Fund's investments or the occurrence of certain extraordinary events may cause the payment of the Final or Early Redemption Amount and/or any Intermediary Amount to be reduced or delayed.

The intermediary amounts or final redemption amounts due to investors in Fund Linked Notes may be based on the redemption proceeds that would be paid in cash by the underlying Fund to a hypothetical investor as a result of a valid and timely notice for redemption given by such hypothetical investor with effect as of the relevant valuation date. To meet a redemption request, the underlying Fund would likely sell its own assets but such investments may not be readily saleable on or shortly after the valuation date for various reasons, including, but not limited to:

- infrequent redemption opportunities allowed by such underlying Fund (for example, many Funds only allow monthly or quarterly liquidity);
- "gating," lock-ups, side pockets or discretionary redemption delays or suspensions imposed by such underlying Fund (for example, many Funds have provisions whereby redemption requests are scaled back if the aggregate amount of such requests reaches a predetermined limit); and
- such underlying Funds' own investments may be illiquid.

In these situations, (i) the payment of any intermediate amounts may be postponed by the Calculation Agent too soon after the date on which the underlying Fund pays all the redemption proceeds in respect of a valid and timely redemption order given after the occurrence of an event described above or to the maturity date of the Notes and/or (ii) the payment of the final redemption amount will occur on the basis of the redemption proceeds paid by the underlying Fund in respect of a valid and timely redemption order given after the occurrence an event described above. If the redemption proceeds have not been paid by the underlying Fund on the maturity date of the Notes, the payment of the intermediate amounts or final redemption amounts may be postponed after the maturity date up to a maximum period of two years. If at the expiry of this two-year period, the underlying Fund has not paid in full the redemption proceeds, the intermediate and final redemption amounts shall be determined by the Calculation Agent on the basis of what has actually been paid by the underlying Fund. The amount received by the investors in the Notes may be as low as zero.

If certain extraordinary events occur affecting an underlying Fund, such as, but without limitation, the insolvency, nationalisation or merger of the underlying Fund, a resignation or termination or replacement of the administrator, custodian, investment adviser or manager of the fund, or a breach by the underlying Fund of its investment strategy, the Calculation Agent may decide to terminate soon after the occurrence of such extraordinary event, the exposure of the Notes to the underlying Fund and (i) pay any intermediate amount due to the investor in the Notes either immediately or at the maturity date of the Notes on the basis of the redemption proceeds paid by the underlying Fund in the liquidation of the exposure to such underlying Fund and/or (ii) pay the final redemption amount at the maturity date of the Notes on the basis of the redemption proceeds paid by the underlying Fund in the liquidation of the exposure to such underlying Fund. If the underlying Fund is also subject to liquidity problems as described above, the postponement of the payment of the intermediate amounts and/or final redemption amount up to a maximum period of two years may also apply.

In the Fund industry, it is likely that such delay would have an adverse impact on the amount payable to you under the Notes.

5.4.10 If the underlying Fund(s) invest(s) through a master-feeder structure, the latter may have an adverse effect on the underlying Fund(s) and, therefore, the Notes

The underlying Fund(s) may invest through a "master-feeder" structure. As such, the underlying Fund(s) will contribute substantially part or all of its assets to the master Fund and may do so alongside other investors, including other feeder funds. The relevant master fund may also establish or allow investment by additional investors or feeder funds in the future.

The master-feeder fund structure, in particular the existence of multiple investment vehicles investing in the same portfolio, presents certain unique risks to investors. The underlying Fund(s) may be materially affected by the actions of other investors, investment vehicles and feeder funds investing in the master fund, particularly if such investors have large investments in the master fund. For example, if a larger investment vehicle or entity with a large investment in the master fund redeems from the master fund, illiquidity in certain securities or markets could make it difficult for the master fund to liquidate positions on favourable terms to effect such redemption, which could result in losses or a decrease in the net asset value of the master fund. In addition, to satisfy such redemptions, the sub-manager may need to liquidate the master fund's most liquid investments; leaving remaining investors (including the underlying fund(s)) invested in more illiquid instruments. Such withdrawals may also leave the master fund with a less diversified pool of investments. This may increase the overall portfolio risk of the master fund, and, ultimately, the Notes. Conversely, the sub-manager may refuse a redemption request if it believes that such request, if fulfilled, would have a material adverse impact on the remaining investors of the master fund. This may negatively impact the liquidity of the master fund and, therefore, the underlying fund(s) and the Notes.

5.4.11 Additional investments in the Fund may adversely affect the value of the fund units

The relevant Issuer may issue additional Tranches of Notes that are fungible with the Notes, or other bonds, notes or instruments that, while not fungible with the Notes, may be linked to an index with a component which has the underlying Funds as the reference asset. If such Notes are issued, Société Générale is likely to make additional investments in the underlying Funds to hedge exposure incurred in connection with such transactions related to such Notes. Any such investment in the underlying Funds could adversely affect the performance of the Fund units, which could adversely affect the trading value of the Notes and the Redemption Amount.

5.5 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to Credit

In the event of the occurrence of certain circumstances (which may include, amongst other things, Bankruptcy, Failure to Pay, Obligation Acceleration, Obligation Default, Governmental Intervention, Repudiation/Moratorium or Restructuring) in relation to a Reference Entity or, with respect to Basket Notes and Tranche Notes, Reference Entities, in each case as specified in the applicable Final Terms, the obligation of the relevant Issuer to pay principal at maturity may be replaced by (i) an obligation to pay other amounts which are equal to either certain fixed amount(s) as specified in the applicable Final Terms or amounts calculated by reference to the value of the underlying asset(s) (which may, in each case, be less than the par value of the Notes at the relevant time) and/or (ii) an obligation to deliver the underlying asset(s), in the case of (i) and (ii) as reduced by Unwind Costs (including but not limited to costs, break funding charges, loss of funding, tax and duties) if specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms. In addition, interest-bearing Credit Linked Notes may cease to bear interest on or prior to the date of occurrence of such circumstances.

Accordingly, Noteholders may be exposed as of the First Credit Event Occurrence Date mentioned in the applicable Final Terms (which may be earlier than the date of their decision to invest in the Notes or the Issue Date) to the full extent of their investment in the Credit Linked Notes to fluctuations in the creditworthiness of the Reference Entities. Their exposure to the Reference Entities may be leveraged by their investment in the Notes compared to a direct investment in the obligations of such Reference Entities.

In respect of Basket Notes, the greater the number of Reference Entities subject to a Credit Event, the lower the Cash Redemption Amount will be.

In respect of Tranche Notes, as soon as the aggregate of the Loss Amount and Unwind Costs for all Reference Entities subject to a Credit Event exceeds the Tranche Subordination Amount, the greater the number of Reference Entities subject to a Credit Event, the lower the Cash Redemption Amount will be.

5.5.1 Increased risk in respect of First-to-Default Notes and Tranche Notes

First-to-Default Notes or Tranche Notes create leveraged exposure to the credit risk of Reference Entities as the investors can lose a significant part or the totality of their investment (i) in the case of Tranche Notes even if all the Reference Entities in the Reference Portfolio have not been subject to a Credit Event and (ii) in the case of First-to-Default Notes, as soon as only one single Reference Entity has been subject to a Credit Event. Accordingly, investors will be exposed to the credit risk of each stipulated Reference Entity. The more Reference Entities there are in the Reference Portfolio, the greater the degree of risk.

5.5.2 Concentration risk

The concentration of the Reference Entities in any one industry or geographic region would subject the Notes to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry or geographic region.

In respect of Basket Notes, irrespective of the creditworthiness of each Reference Entity, the fewer Reference Entities there are in a Reference Portfolio, the greater is the degree of risk with respect to the occurrence of each Credit Event.

5.5.3 Discretion to determine if a Credit Event has occurred and to decide whether to give notice or not

The Calculation Agent will determine the occurrence or not of a Credit Event in respect of any of the Reference Entities, provided certain other conditions described in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes are satisfied. Such determination by the Calculation Agent, which is under no obligation to act in the interest of the Noteholders, will (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the Noteholders. Moreover, the Calculation Agent may decide whether to give notice or not that a Credit Event has occurred with respect to any Reference Entity. The Calculation Agent is not bound to follow or act in accordance with any determination of the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. If the Calculation Agent chooses to rely on the determinations of the relevant Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee it may do so without liability. A Noteholder may disagree with Publicly Available Information contained in the Credit Event Notice delivered by or on behalf of the Issuer to the relevant Clearing System for the Noteholders' information, but will nevertheless be bound by that determination under the terms of the Notes.

5.5.4 Valuation and settlement in case of Credit Event

Under the terms of the Notes, where Société Générale acts as Calculation Agent, it may, for the purposes of determining the Cash Redemption Amount under the Quotation Dealers Method or the Physical Delivery Amount following one or more Credit Event(s), select obligations with the lowest price of any obligations which meet the relevant criteria. In making such selection, the Calculation Agent will not be liable to account to the Noteholders, or any other person for any profit or other benefit to it or any of its affiliates which may result directly or indirectly from such selection.

Under the Notes, the Final Value is one of the factors in the determination of the redemption amount of the Notes at their Maturity Date in addition to Unwind Costs.

5.5.5 Floating recovery

Where Floating Recovery is specified in the related Final Terms, the terms of the Credit Linked Notes provide that the Calculation Agent will, depending on the election mentioned in the related Final Terms, determine the Final Value either by obtaining quotations from Quotation Dealers in respect of Selected Obligation(s) or by reference to Transaction Auction Settlement Terms (unless no Auction Final Price is available following any relevant Transaction Auction Settlement Terms or a Fallback Settlement Event occurs in which case the Calculation Agent will determine the Final Value in respect of Selected Obligation(s) by obtaining quotations from Quotation Dealers). In this regard, investors should note that: (i) the Final Value as determined by reference to Transaction Auction Settlement Terms may differ from the Final Value determined otherwise and a lower Final Value will typically reduce the amount payable to Noteholders upon redemption of the Notes; and (ii) the Calculation Agent may have a conflict of interest as further described in the paragraph "Conflicts of Interest" below.

If Transaction Auction Settlement Terms are not published or a Fallback Settlement Event occurs within a certain period and if it is not possible to obtain quotations from Quotation Dealers for the Selected Obligations within a further period, the Final Value of the Selected Obligations will be deemed to be zero and therefore the Cash Redemption Amount will be equal to zero. In addition, the above-mentioned periods between Credit Event and valuation may amount to as many as 180 Business Days following the date on which the existence of a Credit Event is established, therefore, settlement, or as the case may be, notice that no amount is due under the Credit Linked Notes, may occur several months after the relevant Credit Event on a date which may be much later than the Scheduled Maturity Date of the Notes.

Where Quotation Dealer is applicable, factors affecting the Quotations Dealers may have a negative impact on the quotations obtained from Quotation Dealers (which may be lower than the value of the relevant obligations) and may as a result adversely affect the Cash Redemption Amount. The Cash Redemption Amount may be equal to zero if it is not possible to obtain quotations from Quotation Dealers for the selected obligations.

5.5.6 Fixed Recovery

Where Fixed Recovery is specified in the related Final Terms, the terms of Credit Linked Notes provide that the Final Value of a Reference Entity in respect of which a Credit Event Determination Date has occurred will be equal to the fixed percentage specified in the related Final Terms (including in particular where such fixed percentage is equal to zero).

This percentage may be lower than the recovery value, which would have been determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in respect of such Reference Entity. Such recovery values may vary from zero per cent to one hundred per cent. In particular, this percentage may be lower than the recovery value which would have been determined using an auction valuation method usually organised on the credit derivatives market, such as the Auction Final Price determined further to the relevant Credit Derivatives Auction Settlement Terms published by ISDA or the quotations obtained from Quotation Dealers (if Floating Recovery was specified in the applicable Final Terms).

Noteholders will not benefit from any recovery value determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in respect of such a Reference Entity and are therefore exposed to the risk that the loss resulting from such fixed percentage be significantly bigger than the loss which would have resulted from referring to the recovery value determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in relation to any such Reference Entity.

If the Fixed Recovery is equal to one hundred per cent, the Notes may be redeemed at par at the Maturity Date which may be later than the Scheduled Maturity Date.

5.5.7 Deferral of valuation and/or payments

In certain circumstances including but not limited to Unsettled Credit Events or in case of Physical Settlement if the Calculation Agent determines that the Specified Deliverable Obligation(s) are Undeliverable Obligation(s), (i) the timing of valuation of the Notes may be deferred and as a result the amount of principal and/or interest payable to the Noteholders may be adversely affected and (ii) payment of principal and/or interest due to the Noteholders may be deferred without compensation to the Noteholders.

5.5.8 Conflicts of interest – ISDA Credit Derivatives Determination Committee

As market participant, any member of the Group can submit questions to the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

Members of the Group could potentially act as Designated Global Dealer Voting Member, Designated Regional Dealer Voting Member, Designated Global Dealer Consultative Member or Designated Regional Dealer Consultative Member (as defined pursuant to the 2016 ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees Rules or any subsequent ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committees Rules) at the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee, as the case may be, and an internal procedure is in place in order to prevent as much as possible conflicts of interest resulting from these roles.

Should a member of the Group become a Designated Global Dealer Voting Member or a Designated Regional Dealer Voting Member at the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee; it may have a conflict of interest to the extent that they participate in any of the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee.

In such a role, in relation to any Succession Event or Credit Event or Transaction Auction Settlement Terms, it can (i) accept or refuse that a question raised by a market participant be submitted to the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and/or (ii) vote in favour or against any resolution of the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee following any questions raised to the ISDA Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee. Any such conflict of interest may potentially have a negative impact on the Cash Redemption Amount to be received by the Noteholders.

Furthermore, the Issuer or Calculation Agent or Guarantor may participate as a dealer in any auction process used to determine the Final Value in relation to any Reference Entity in relation to which a Credit Event has occurred and whether or not such auction process is organized by ISDA or by the Issuer or Calculation Agent or Guarantor itself. In such a case, the Issuer or Calculation Agent or Guarantor may have a conflict of interest by influencing any such pricing mechanism and therefore the Cash Redemption Amount to be received by the Noteholders.

5.5.9 Credit Rating

Noteholders should be aware that credit ratings do not constitute a guarantee of the quality of the Notes or the Reference Entity(ies). The rating assigned to the Notes by the rating agencies, if any, is based on the Reference Entity(ies)'s current financial condition (or, as the case may be, the Reference Entity(ies)'s long term unsubordinated debt rating) and reflects only the rating agencies' opinions. In respect of the Reference Entity(ies), rating agencies do not evaluate the risks of fluctuation in market value but attempt to assess the likelihood of principal and/or interest payments being made. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time by the assigning agency. Nevertheless, the rating agencies may fail to make timely changes in credit ratings in response to subsequent events so that a Reference Entity(ies)'s current financial condition may be better or worse than a rating indicates. Accordingly a credit rating may not fully reflect the true risks under the Notes.

5.5.10 Warning regarding CDS Spread

For products linked to a CDS Spread, Société Générale as Calculation Agent may, for the purposes of determining such CDS Spread, select dealers to obtain quotations. In making such selection, the Calculation Agent will not be liable to account to the Noteholders, or any other person for any profit or other benefit to it or any of its Group which may result directly or indirectly from such selection.

5.5.11 Amendment to Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes

The Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes provide that the Calculation Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, from time to time amend any provision of the Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes and/or the applicable Final Terms (i) to incorporate and/or reflect and/or take account of (x) further or alternative documents or protocols from time to time published by ISDA with respect to credit derivative transactions which may, without limitation, relate to one or more Reference Entities or Reference Entity types and/or the settlement of credit derivative transactions and/or (y) the operation or application of determinations by any Credit Derivatives Determinations Committee and/or (ii) in any manner which the Calculation Agent, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, determines is necessary or desirable (including from the perspective of Société Générale or one of its Affiliates) to reflect or account for market practice for credit derivatives transactions and/or to eliminate or account for any provisions of the Hedge Positions with the aim of ensuring no mismatch or discrepancy between rights and obligations under the Hedge Positions and under the Notes. Such amendments may include, without limitation, varying any date or timing or procedures provided for in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes and/or the applicable Final Terms and any such amendments may have an adverse effect on the value of the Notes. PROVIDED THAT, subject as set out below, such amendments may not include changes to the currency of the Notes, the amount of interest payable on the Notes, the Final Redemption Amount payable on the Notes or the Maturity Date of the Notes.

In the event that such amendments lead to a revised Reference Entity then a Credit Event may be triggered on such revised Reference Entity and the consequential provisions of the Additional Terms and Conditions for Credit Linked Notes will apply in the usual manner.

5.6 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to a Bond

Capitalised terms used in this section, but not otherwise defined in this Base Prospectus shall have the meaning given to them in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Bond Linked Notes

In the event of the occurrence of certain circumstances (which may include, amongst other things, Bond Default, Bond Acceleration, Bond Failure to Pay, Bond Early Redemption, Bond Governmental Intervention, Bond Issuer ISDA Event or Bond Restructuring) in relation to a Bond or, with respect to Basket Bond Linked Notes, Bonds, in each case as specified in the applicable Final Terms, the obligation of the relevant Issuer to pay principal at maturity may be replaced by an obligation to pay other amounts which are equal to either certain fixed amount(s) as specified in the applicable Final Terms or amounts calculated by reference to the value of the underlying asset(s) (which may, in each case, be less than the par value of the Notes at the relevant time). In addition, interest-bearing Bond Linked Notes may cease to bear interest on or prior to the date of occurrence of such circumstances.

Accordingly, Noteholders may be exposed as of the First Bond Event Occurrence Date mentioned in the applicable Final Terms (which may be earlier than the date of their decision to invest in the Notes or the Issue Date) to the full extent of their investment in the Bond Linked Notes to fluctuations in the creditworthiness of the relevant Bond Issuer, or to the imposition or increase of withholding taxes or other adverse performance of the Bonds. Their exposure to the Bonds may be leveraged by their investment in the Notes compared to a direct investment in such Bonds.

In respect of Basket Bond Linked Notes, the greater the number of Bonds subject to a Bond Event, the lower the Cash Redemption Amount will be.

5.6.1 Concentration Risk

The concentration of the Bond Issuers in any one industry or geographic region would subject the Notes to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry or geographic region.

In respect of Basket Notes, irrespective of the creditworthiness of the relevant Bond Issuer, the fewer Bonds there are in a Reference Portfolio, the greater the degree of risk with respect to the occurrence of each Bond Event.

5.6.2 Discretion to determine if a Bond Event has occurred and to decide whether to give notice or not

The Calculation Agent will determine the occurrence or not of a Bond Event in respect of any of the Bonds, provided certain other conditions described in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Bond Linked Notes are satisfied. Such determination by the Calculation Agent, which is under no obligation to act in the interest of the Noteholders, will (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the Noteholders. Moreover, the Issuer may decide whether to give notice or not that a Bond Event has occurred with respect to any Bond. A Noteholder may disagree with Publicly Available Information contained in the Bond Event Notice delivered by or on behalf of the Issuer to the relevant Clearing System for the Noteholders' information, but will nevertheless be bound by that determination under the terms of the Notes.

5.6.3 Floating recovery

Where Floating Recovery is specified in the related Final Terms, the terms of the Bond Linked Notes provide that the Calculation Agent will determine the Bond Final Value by obtaining quotations from Quotation Dealers in respect of the Bonds. In this regard, investors should note that: (i) the Bond Final Value as determined by the Calculation Agent may differ from the Bonds market value determined otherwise and a lower Bond Final Value will typically reduce the amount payable to Noteholders upon redemption of the Notes, and (ii) such Bond Final Value cannot exceed 100% (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms) of the Bond Notional Amount irrespective of the Bonds market value determined otherwise.

The coupon payable on the Bonds is a factor in the price. If it is not possible to obtain full or partial quotations from Quotation Dealers for the Bonds within the further periods described in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Bond Linked Notes, the Bond Final Value of these Bonds could be deemed to be as low as zero and therefore the Cash Redemption Amount will be equal to zero. Furthermore factors affecting the Quotations Dealers may have a negative impact on the quotations obtained from Quotation Dealers (which may be lower than the value of the Bonds) and may as a result adversely affect the Cash Redemption Amount.

In addition, the period between the Bond Event Determination Date and the First Quotation Day may amount to as many as 20 (or such other number as specified in the related Final Terms of the Notes) Business Days following the Bond Event Determination Date. The Additional Terms and Conditions for Bond Linked Notes specify that a Bond Event Determination Date may occur with no maximum delay following the occurrence of a Bond Event.

Consequently, investors' attention is drawn to the fact that no or a reduced Cash Redemption Amount might be due under the Bond Linked Notes and settlement (whether American Settlement or European Settlement is specified in the applicable Final Terms), may occur several months or years after the relevant Bond Event and on a date which may be later than the Scheduled Maturity Date of the Notes.

5.6.4 Fixed Recovery

Where Fixed Recovery is specified in the related Final Terms, the Additional Terms and Conditions for Bond Linked Notes provide that the Bond Final Value of a Bond in respect of which a Bond Event Determination Date has occurred will be equal to the fixed percentage specified in the related Final Terms (including in particular where such fixed percentage is equal to zero).

This percentage may be lower than the recovery value, which would have been determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in respect of such Bond. Such recovery values may vary from zero per cent to one hundred %. In particular, this percentage may be lower than the recovery value which would have been determined using an auction valuation method usually organised on the bonds market, such as the quotations obtained from Quotation Dealers (if Floating Recovery was specified in the related Final Terms).

Noteholders will not benefit from any recovery value determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in respect of such Bonds and are therefore exposed to the risk that the loss resulting from such fixed percentage may be significantly greater than the loss which would have resulted from referring to the recovery value determined by reference to prices quoted by market participants in relation to any such Bond.

5.6.5 Breakage Cost Amount

If the Breakage Cost Amount option is specified as applicable in the related Final Terms and a Bond Event Determination Date occurs in respect of a Bond, Noteholders are exposed to the mark-to-market variation between the First Bond Event Occurrence Date and the Bond Final Value Determination Date of (i) a repurchase transaction (if any) with the Bond as underlying asset (whose purpose is to refinance the relevant Bond) and (ii) a repurchase transaction (if any) with the Collateral Assets as underlying asset (whose purpose is to refinance the relevant Collateral Assets). As a consequence, the Cash Redemption Amount to be received by the Noteholders may be reduced, potentially down to zero.

5.6.6 Deferral of valuation and/or payments

In certain circumstances including but not limited to Unsettled Bond Events (i) the timing of valuation of the Notes may be deferred and as a result the amount of principal and/or interest payable to the Noteholders may be adversely affected and (ii) payment of principal and/or interest due to the Noteholders may be deferred without compensation to the Noteholders.

5.6.7 Conflict of interest

The Issuer or Calculation Agent or Guarantor may participate as a dealer in any auction process used to determine the Bond Final Value in respect of a Bond in relation to which a Bond Event has occurred. In such a case, the Issuer or Calculation Agent or Guarantor may have a conflict of interest by influencing any such pricing mechanism and therefore the Cash Redemption Amount to be received by the Noteholders.

5.6.8 Credit Rating

Noteholders should be aware that credit ratings do not constitute a guarantee of the quality of the Notes or the Bonds. The rating assigned to the Bonds by the rating agencies, if any, is based on the Bond Issuers current financial condition (or, as the case may be, the Bond Issuers long term unsubordinated debt rating) and reflects only the rating agencies' opinions. In respect of the Bond Issuers, rating agencies do not evaluate the risks of fluctuation in market value but attempt to assess the likelihood of principal and/or interest payments being made. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time by the assigning agency. Nevertheless, the rating agencies may fail to make timely changes in credit ratings in response to subsequent events so that a Bond Issuers current financial condition may be better or worse than a rating indicates. Accordingly a credit rating may not fully reflect the true risks under the Notes.

5.6.9 Ranking of the Bonds

Investors should consider and conduct their own investigation and analysis with respect to the ranking of the Bonds and be aware that a specific ranking may mean that the obligations of the Bond Issuer and/or as the case may be the Bond Guarantor, will rank junior in priority of payment to unsubordinated creditors, to holders of subordinated obligations expressed by their terms to rank in priority to the Bonds and/or to creditors preferred by mandatory and/or overriding provisions of law. In the event of incomplete payment to creditors that rank senior to the ranking of the Bonds, the obligations of the Bond Issuer and/or the Bond Guarantor, as the case may be, in connection with the Bonds may be terminated. The ranking of the Bonds may accordingly increase the credit risk on the Bond Issuer and/or the Bond Guarantor as the case may be and as a result may increase the likelihood of the occurrence of a Bond Event(s).

5.7 Risks relating to Preference Share Linked Notes

The relevant Issuer may issue Preference Share Linked Notes where the amount payable on redemption is determined by reference to the changes in the value of the preference shares (Preference Shares) issued by Mapleis Limited (the Preference Share Issuer), which may fluctuate up or down depending on the performance of the relevant underlying(s) or basis of reference to which the Preference Shares are linked (the Preference Share Underlying) as set out in the Private Placement Memorandum of the Preference Shares (see "Description of the Preference Share Issuer and the Preference Shares" for details). If, as a result of the performance of the Preference Share Underlying, the performance of the Preference Shares is negative, the value of the Preference Share Linked Notes will be adversely affected. Purchasers of Preference Share Linked Notes risk losing all or a part of their investment if the value of the Preference Shares falls.

Prospective investors in Preference Share Linked Notes should be aware that an investment in Preference Share Linked Notes will entail significant risks not associated with a conventional debt or equity security. Prospective investors in Preference Share Linked Notes should conduct their own investigations and, in deciding whether or not to purchase the Preference Share Linked Notes, prospective investors should form their own views of the merits of an investment related to the Preference Shares based upon such investigations and not in reliance on any information given in this document.

Preference Share Linked Notes will be subject to early redemption if (i) an Early Redemption Event occurs, or (ii) Redemption at the Option of the Issuer is set as Applicable in the applicable Final Terms and the Issuer gives notice to the Noteholders that it will redeem the Notes. In these circumstances the Issuer may redeem the Notes at (i) the Early Redemption Amount or (ii) the Optional Redemption Amount (as applicable). Any of such redemption amount may be less (and in certain circumstances, significantly less) than investors' initial investment.

The basis and rate of taxation in respect of Preference Share Linked Notes and reliefs depend on each investor's individual circumstances and could change at any time. This could have a negative impact on the return of the Preference Share Linked Notes. Prospective investors should seek their own independent tax advice as to the possible tax treatment of redemption payments (such term including early or final redemption) received on Preference Share Linked Notes prior to investing.

In the event that the Preference Share Linked Notes pay a coupon other than on redemption (such term including early or final redemption), prospective investors should be aware that such coupon will likely be subject to income tax.

5.7.1 Exposure to the Preference Share Underlying

The Preference Share Underlying may include, but will not be limited to, equity, debt or derivative securities, indices, investments, funds, exchange traded funds, commodities, credit, baskets of securities or indices, currencies, portfolios and trading strategies as may be determined by the Preference Share Issuer and specified in the Private Placement Memorandum of the relevant issue of Preference Shares. The composition of the relevant Preference Share Underlying(s) may be designed to change over time as a result of performance or other factors.

Consequently prospective investors should also consider the risk factors in respect of the risks involved in investing in Notes (in this case the Preference Shares) linked to certain underlying reference asset(s). Consequently, the prospective investors should review the Private Placement Memorandum of the Preference Shares and consult with their own professional advisers if they consider it necessary.

5.7.2 Credit risk of the Preference Share Issuer

Preference Share Linked Notes are linked to the performance of the relevant Preference Shares. Investors bear the risk of an investment in the Preference Share Issuer (which does not have a credit rating). The value of the Preference Share Linked Notes is dependent on the value of the Preference Shares, which will depend in part on the creditworthiness of the Preference Share Issuer, which may vary over the term of the Preference Share Linked Notes.

5.8 Risks relating to Warrant Linked Notes

Each Issuer may issue Warrant Linked Notes where the amount payable on redemption is determined by reference to the changes in the value of warrants issued by the Warrant Issuer (Warrants). The value of the Warrants may fluctuate up or down depending on the performance of the relevant underlying(s) or basis of reference to which the Warrants are linked (the Warrant Underlying) as set out in the terms and conditions of the Warrants (the Warrant Conditions). If, as a result of the performance of the Warrant Underlying, the performance of the Warrants is negative the value of the Warrant Linked Notes will be adversely affected. Purchasers of Warrant Linked Notes risk losing all or a part of their investment if the value of the Warrants falls.

Prospective investors in Warrant Linked Notes should be aware that an investment in Warrant Linked Notes will entail significant risks not associated with a conventional debt or equity security. Prospective investors in Warrant Linked Notes should conduct their own investigations and, in deciding whether or not to purchase the Warrant Linked Notes, prospective investors should form their own views of the merits of an investment related to the Warrants based upon such investigations and not in reliance on any information given in this document.

5.8.1 Exposure to the Warrant Underlying

The Warrant Underlying may include different underlyings such as an index or basket of indices in each case comprising listed equities or commodities, a specified listed equity or basket of listed equities or a specified commodity or basket of commodities.

Prospective investors should also consider the risk factors in respect of the risks involved in investing in Notes (in this case the Warrants) linked to certain underlying reference asset(s). Consequently, the prospective investors should review the Warrant Conditions and consult with their own professional advisers if they consider it necessary.

5.8.2 Credit risk of the issuer of the Warrants

Warrant Linked Notes are linked to the performance of the relevant Warrants. Investors bear the risk of an investment in the issuer of the Warrants. The value of the Warrant Linked Notes is dependent on the value of the Warrants, which will depend in part on the creditworthiness of the issuer of the Warrants, which may vary over the term of the Warrant Linked Notes.

5.9 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to a Foreign Exchange Rate

5.9.1 Factors affecting the performance of the relevant Foreign Exchange Rate may adversely affect the value of the Notes

The performance of Foreign Exchange Rates, currency units or units of account are dependent upon the supply and demand for currencies in the international foreign exchange markets, which are subject to economic factors, including inflation rates in the countries concerned, interest rate differences between the respective countries, economic forecasts, international political factors, fiscal and monetary policy, government debt, currency convertibility and safety of making financial investments in the currency concerned, speculation and intervening measures taken by governments and central banks. Such measures include, without limitation, imposition of regulatory controls or taxes, issuance of a new currency to replace an existing currency, alteration of the exchange rate or exchange characteristics by devaluation or revaluation of a currency or imposition of exchange controls with respect to the exchange or transfer of a specified currency that would affect exchange rates as well as the availability of a specified currency. Any such measures could have a negative impact on the value of a Foreign Exchange Rate and consequently the value of the Notes.

5.9.2 Currency exchange risks are heightened in the current climate of financial uncertainty

Currency exchange risks can be expected to heighten in periods of financial turmoil. In periods of financial turmoil, capital can move quickly out of regions that are perceived to be more vulnerable to the effects of the crisis with sudden and severely adverse consequences to the currencies of those regions as a result. In addition, governments around the world have recently made, and may be expected to continue to make, very significant interventions in their economies, and sometimes directly in their currencies. It is not possible to predict the effect of any future legal or regulatory action relating to a currency. Further interventions, other government actions or suspensions of actions, as well as other changes in government economic policy or other financial or economic events affecting the currency markets - including the replacement of entire currencies with new currencies - may cause Foreign Exchange Rates to fluctuate sharply in the future, which could have a negative impact on the value of the Notes.

5.10 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to Inflation

5.10.1 The level of an Inflation Index may lag or otherwise not track the actual level of inflation in the relevant jurisdiction

Inflation Indices may not correlate with other indices and may not correlate perfectly with the rate of inflation experienced by purchasers of the Inflation Linked Notes in such jurisdiction. The value of the Inflation Linked Notes which are linked to an Inflation Index may be based on a calculation made by reference to such Inflation Index for a month which is several months prior to the date of payment on the Inflation Linked Notes and therefore could be substantially different from the level of inflation at the time of the payment on the Inflation Linked Notes.

5.10.2 Exposure to certain events in relation to an Inflation Index and consequences

Upon the occurrence of certain events in relation to an Inflation Index, e.g., the Inflation Index level has not been published or is discontinued or is corrected or such Inflation Index is rebased or materially modified, then, depending on the particular event, the Issuer may determine the level, substitute the original Inflation Index, adjust the terms and conditions of the Inflation Linked Notes or redeem the Inflation Linked Notes. Any such event and its consequences may have an adverse effect on the value of the Inflation Linked Notes.

5.11 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to ETP and to ETF

Prospective investors in ETP Linked Notes or ETF Linked Notes should be aware that an investment in ETP Linked Notes or ETF Linked Notes will entail significant risks not associated with a conventional debt or equity security. Prospective investors in ETP Linked Notes or ETF Linked Notes should conduct their own investigations and, in deciding whether or not to purchase these Notes, prospective investors should form their own views of the merits of an investment related to the ETPs or ETFs based upon such investigations and not in reliance on any information given in this document.

5.11.1 Exchange traded products and Exchange traded funds are subject to market trading risks

An ETP or an ETF faces numerous market trading risks, including but not limited to the potential lack of an active market, losses from trading in secondary markets, periods of high volatility, limited liquidity and disruption in the creation or redemption process of such ETP or such ETF. If any of these risks materialises, this may lead to the ETP or ETF shares trading at a premium or discount to its fair market value.

5.11.2 Action or non-performance by the ETP issuer, the sponsor of the ETP or the Calculation Agent or by the management company, fund administrator or sponsor of an ETF that may adversely affect the Notes

In case of an ETP Linked Notes, the ETP issuer and/or the sponsor of the ETP and in case of an ETF Linked Notes, the management company, fund administrator or sponsor of an ETF will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Notes and will have no obligation to any purchaser of such Notes. In respect of such ETP the ETP issuer and/or the sponsor of the ETP or in respect of such ETF, the management company, fund administrator or sponsor of an ETF may take any actions without regard to the interests of the purchasers of the Notes, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Notes. In its day-to-day operations and its investment strategy, an ETP will rely on the ETP issuer, the sponsor of the ETP and the Calculation Agent and an ETF will rely on the fund advisor, the investment advisor, the management company and/or on third parties providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments used by such ETF to employ its investment strategy. The insolvency or non-performance of services of any such persons or institutions may expose an ETP or an ETF to lose value. Failure of procedures or systems, as well as human error or external events associated with, in case of an ETP, an ETP's issuer, sponsor or Calculation Agent and in case of an ETF, an ETF's management and/or administration, may reduce the value of the ETP or the ETF and affect the market value of the Notes.

5.11.3 Credit risk of the issuer of the ETP or the ETF

ETP Linked Notes or ETF Linked Notes are linked to the performance of the relevant ETPs or ETFs. Investors bear the risk of an investment in the issuer of the ETPs or the ETFs. The value of the ETP Linked Notes or the ETF Linked Notes is dependent on the value of the ETPs or the ETFs, which will depend in part on the creditworthiness of the issuer of the ETPs or of the ETFs, which may vary over the term of the relevant Notes.

5.11.4 Risks relating to ETP Linked Notes

5.11.4.1 Exposure to the ETP Underlying

ETPs usually aim to track the performance of an underlying financial instrument or basket thereof which may include, without limitation, listed equities, commodities, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, debt instruments, derivatives or any index thereof (the ETP Underlying). In addition, when compared to exchange traded funds, exposure to ETPs may involve a higher level of leverage and/or short exposures and/or more concentrated exposures.

Prospective investors should also consider the risk factors in respect of the risks involved in investing in ETPs including, without limitation, risks relating to the ETP Underlying and to the underlying economics of the ETPs. Consequently, prospective investors should review the ETP Conditions and consult with their own professional advisers if they consider it necessary.

5.11.4.2 Risk that the ETP does not accurately track its underlyings' performance.

Where the Notes are linked to an ETP, Noteholders are exposed to the performance of such ETP and not necessarily the performance of the ETP Underlying. In particular for some reasons, including, but not limited to, the liquidity of ETP units and/or market conditions and/or terms and conditions of the ETP and/or the creditworthiness of the issuer of the ETP, the market value of an ETP unit may deviate from the constitutive and governing documents, and other documents of the ETP. Accordingly, investors who purchase Notes that are linked to an ETP may receive a different return than if such investors had directly invested into the ETP units or the ETP Underlyings.

5.11.5 Risks relating to ETF Linked Notes

5.11.5.1 Where the underlying Asset is an exchange traded fund, there is a risk that such Exchange Traded Fund will not accurately track its underlying share or index

Where the Notes are linked to an exchange traded fund (an "ETF") and the investment objective of such ETF is to track the performance of a share or an index, the investors of such Notes are exposed to the performance of such ETF rather than the underlying share or index such ETF tracks. For certain reasons, including to comply with certain tax and regulatory constraints, an ETF may not be able to track or replicate the constituent securities of the underlying share or index, which could give rise to a difference between the performance of the underlying share or index and such ETF. Accordingly, investors who purchase Notes that are linked to an ETF may receive a lower return than if such investors had invested in the share or the index underlying such ETF directly.

5.11.5.2 Exchange traded funds not actively managed

When the investment objective of an ETF is to track the performance of an index or other asset, such ETF may be affected by general movements in market segments related to the index or other asset it is tracking. Such an ETF invests in instruments included in, or that are representative of, the index or other asset it is tracking regardless of their investment merits.

5.11.5.3 Exchange traded funds may engage in securities lending

Securities lending involves the risk that the ETF may lose money because the borrower of the ETF's loaned securities fails to return the securities in a timely manner or at all or at all or that insufficient collateral has been posted in respect of such securities lending transaction.

5.12 Risks relating to Structured Notes linked to a Reference Rate

An investment in a Reference Rate will entail significant risks not associated with an investment in a conventional debt security. On redemption or exercise, as the case may be, of Notes linked to a Reference Rate, Holders will receive an amount (if any) determined by reference to the value of the underlying Reference Rate(s). In addition, the income received (if any) is highly dependent upon the value of the Reference Rate over the life of the investment. Total return may be less than anticipated if future interest rate or Reference Rate expectations are not met.

5.13 Risks relating to Future Linked Notes

An investment in Future Linked Notes may bear similar market risks as a direct investment in the relevant future contract(s) and prospective purchasers of the Notes should take advice accordingly. The value of the future contract(s) underlying the Notes may vary over time and may increase or decrease by reference to a variety of factors which include the factors affecting the Future Underlier, as defined in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Future Linked Notes.

Futures contracts have a predetermined Expiry Date as defined in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Future Linked Notes. If the applicable Final Terms specify that Roll Adjustment applies, the Notes are valued by reference to futures contracts that have an Expiry Date that does not correspond to the term of the Notes, consequently the Calculation Agent will roll the Future Contracts (the Roll Adjustment) which means that the future contracts that is the closest to expiration (the Active Future Contract) will be replaced before it expires by a future contract that has an Expiry Date later in the future (the Next Active Future Contract).

On each Roll Date, the price of the Active Future Contract may be lower than (respectively higher than) the price of the Next Active Future Contract if the future curve is in contango (respectively in backwardation). The Roll Adjustment may as a consequence have either a positive or negative impact on the value of the Note. This may result in a partial or total loss of the investment in the Notes.

In addition to the effects of contango and backwardation, each "roll" may generate costs that will be taken by the Calculation Agent. These costs correspond to the expenses incurred in replacing the futures contract (transaction costs) and may have an adverse effect on the return of the Notes.

Prospective purchasers of Notes should be aware that in respect of Notes on futures contract that are rolled, the potential negative impact on the value of the note induced by the roll may lead to a performance of the Notes lower than the performance that would have been generated by Notes on the Future Underlier itself. Hence, Notes on future contracts that are rolled may not be suitable for investors who intend to invest long term.

5.14 Risks relating to Portfolio Linked Notes

Capitalised terms used in this section, but not otherwise defined in the Base Prospectus shall have the meaning given to them in the Additional Terms and Conditions for Portfolio Linked Notes.

5.14.1 Risk Factors relating to Portfolio Linked Notes generally

Portfolio Linked Notes provide exposure to a portfolio of different underlyings (the Portfolio). The Portfolio may include Equity Instruments, Commodity Instruments, Debt Instruments, Derivative Instruments and Market Data (the Portfolio Components), each as defined in Condition 1 of the Additional Terms and Conditions for Portfolio Linked Notes. The value of the Portfolio Linked Notes may fluctuate up or down depending on the performance of the Portfolio Components. Consequently, prospective investors, when considering investing in Portfolio Linked Notes, should also consider the risk factors linked to the Portfolio Components.

The amount payable or the assets deliverable, as the case may be, in respect of Portfolio Linked Notes will be affected by changes in the value of the different components in the Portfolio to which the relevant issue of Portfolio Linked Notes relates. This value may be affected by (i) the economic, financial and political events in one or more jurisdictions, including the stock exchange(s) or quotation system(s) on which any component comprising the Portfolio may be traded, (ii) risks highlighted in section 4 of "Risk Factors" (Risk factors relating to structured Notes) relating to individual types of underlyings which are included in the relevant Portfolio and (iii) other factors set out elsewhere in "Risk Factors".

In addition there may be correlation between price movements of one component and the price movements of another component of the Portfolio that may have a negative impact on the value of the Portfolio. As such, the value of Portfolio Linked Notes can therefore be volatile and this may result in Noteholders losing all, or a substantial part, of their investment.

In addition, Portfolio Linked Notes may be subject to a number of costs which would negatively impact the value of the Portfolio Linked Notes.

5.14.2 Risk Factors relating to actively managed Portfolio Linked Notes

The following risk factors relating to actively managed Portfolio Linked Notes shall be read in conjunction with the risk factors mentioned in 5.14.1 above.

- Risks relating to the Weighting Advisor

The performance of actively managed Portfolio Linked Notes depends on the ability, services and overall competence of the Weighting Advisor. Noteholders should be aware that the performance of the Notes will depend to a considerable extent on the ability of the Weighting Advisor to provide the optimal modification recommendations throughout the life of the Notes as well as on the ability of the Issuer and of the Calculation Agent to implement the recommendations of the Weighting Advisor. Noteholders should make their own independent appraisal of the ability, services and overall competence of the Weighting Advisor and should not rely on the Issuer or Société Générale in making this assessment. There can be no assurance that the Weighting Advisor will be able to provide such services or indeed be able to avoid negative performance. Noteholders should understand that they could be materially adversely affected by any such factors.

Even though the Issuer and the Calculation Agent have designated the Weighting Advisor in respect of the Portfolio Linked Notes in the Weighting Advisory Agreement, the Weighting Advisor shall act in the exclusive interest of the Noteholders.

Neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent of the Portfolio Linked Notes will interfere in the Weighting Advisor decisions and therefore, Noteholders shall be aware that neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent will be responsible for any decision, Modification Proposals or other, made by the Weighting Advisor. Moreover, neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent will be in a position to protect the Noteholders against fraud, negligence or misrepresentation from the Weighting Advisor

Noteholders should refer to the Weighting Advisory Agreement for more information.

- Risk of conflict of interests between the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Calculation Agent and the Weighting Advisor

The Issuers, the Guarantor, the Calculation Agent or the Weighting Advisor, may engage in trading and other business activities relating to the Portfolio Components without regards to the Notes and that are not for the Noteholders' accounts or on behalf of the Noteholders.

The above situations may result in consequences which may be adverse to Noteholders. The Issuer and the Guarantor assume no responsibility whatsoever for such consequences and their impact on Noteholders.

- Exposure to the Dynamic Portfolio

Noteholders should be aware that the composition of the Dynamic Portfolio may change after the implementation of a Modification Proposal decided discretionary by the Weighting Advisor after the occurrence of one or more Modification Triggers and based on the Portfolio Eligibility Criteria specified in the relevant Final Terms.

In order to inform Noteholders of the composition of the Portfolio, the changes granted by the Weighting Advisor regarding the Portfolio Components will be disclosed and available on the Portfolio Publication Website.

In addition, the terms of the Weighting Advisory Agreement stipulate that, should the Weighting Advisory Agreement be terminated for whatever reason, the Weighting Advisor shall be deemed to have served a notice requesting the removal of all components from the Portfolio, leaving a product with only a cash exposure in the Portfolio Currency. Noteholders should refer to the Weighting Advisory Agreement for more information.

6. ADDITIONAL RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH SECURED NOTES

6.1 Scope of security

The security granted by SG Issuer under a Security Document is a security interest over the Collateral Assets held in the Collateral Accounts and does not extend to any interest or distributions paid on such Collateral Assets (to the extent such amounts are not held in the relevant Collateral Account).

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms, no security interest will be granted by SG Issuer over any of its rights under any agreement (including, without limitation, any Hedging Agreement) under which it acquires any Collateral Assets or its rights against the Collateral Custodian or any other Collateral Arrangement Party. This means that neither the Security Trustee will have any ability to compel SG Issuer to enforce its rights (or to enforce such rights on behalf of SG Issuer) under any agreement against a counterparty to such agreement.

6.2 Change of law

Where "Standard Collateral Structure" applies, each Pledge Agreement will be governed by the Luxembourg act dated 5 August 2005 on financial collateral arrangements, as amended (the Collateral Act 2005) implementing Directive 2002/47/EC on financial collateral arrangements (the Collateral Directive) in Luxembourg. No assurance can be given as to the impact on Noteholders of any possible judicial decision or change to the Collateral Act 2005, or the official application or interpretation of the Collateral Act 2005 or administrative practices after the date of this Base Prospectus. In particular, significant changes to the Collateral Act 2005 may have an adverse impact on the rights of the Noteholders. Neither SG Issuer, the Guarantor nor any other party makes any representation as to the interpretation of, or any amendments to, any of the provisions of the Collateral Directive or its implementation in Luxembourg.

6.3 Type of Collateralisation

The security provided for a Series of Secured Notes is limited to the Collateral Assets constituting the Collateral Pool applicable to such Series (and to all Series of Secured Notes secured by the same Collateral Pool in the case of a Multiple Series Collateral Pool). The amount of Collateral Assets constituting such Collateral Pool will depend, amongst other things, on the Type of Collateralisation, the Collateralisation Percentage, on whether or not Collateral Valuation at Nominal Value is applicable or on whether or not a Haircut is applicable and on the collateralisation method (either MV Collateralisation, NV Collateralisation, Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation or Min (MV, MV) Collateralisation) as specified in the applicable Final Terms.

There is no guarantee that the applicable Type of Collateralisation will be sufficient to ensure that, following enforcement of a Security Document, the amounts available for distribution or the value of the Collateral Assets available to be delivered by the Security Trustee will be sufficient to pay all amounts due to Noteholders in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Notes and as a result, investors may lose a substantial portion of their investment. In addition, depending of the Type of Collateralisation, the claim of holders of Non-Waived Notes may differ from the Collateral Value (see Condition 3 of the "Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes").

6.4 Multiple Series Collateral Pools

Where the applicable Final Terms in respect of a Series of Secured Notes specify that "Multiple Series Collateral Pool" will be applicable, security over the Collateral Pool may be shared by a number of Series of Secured Notes and Noteholders will, by acquiring and holding such Notes, be deemed to acknowledge, accept and agree to the rights of existing and future Noteholders of different Series of Secured Notes to share equally in such security.

6.5 Tolerance threshold between the Collateral Value and the Required Collateral Value

On each Collateral Test Date, the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall verify that the Collateral Test is satisfied. Nevertheless, it is tolerated that the Collateral Value can be 3 per cent lower than the Required Collateral Value in order to avoid numerous transfers of Collateral Assets to and from the Collateral Pool for small values and/or quantities and consequently avoid the costs that would be associated with such transfers. However this tolerance threshold amplifies most of the risks associated with Secured Notes described herein and in particular, but not limited to, the risk that following enforcement of a Security Document, the amounts available for distribution or the value of the Collateral Assets available to be delivered by the Security Trustee will not be sufficient to pay all amounts due to Noteholders in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Notes (see "Shortfall on Realisation of Collateral Assets and Limited Recourse of Noteholders").

6.6 Potential lack of diversification of the Collateral Assets

Investors should note that, depending on the relevant Eligibility Criteria and Collateral Rules, the Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool collateralising one or more Series of Secured Notes are secured may be limited to one or a few assets or types of assets.

Low diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool may increase the risk that the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets may be less than the sums due to the relevant Noteholders under the relevant Secured Notes collateralised by such Collateral Pool. If the Collateral Assets are comprised of a limited number of different types of assets, any depreciation in the value of such assets in the period between the most recent Collateral Test Date and the realisation of the Collateral Assets will have a proportionally larger impact on any shortfall as the amount recovered in respect of the Collateral Assets on their sale will be dependent on the then current market value of a smaller range of Collateral Assets.

None of SG Issuer, the Guarantor, the Security Trustee, the Collateral Agent, the Collateral Monitoring Agent or the Collateral Custodian is under any obligation to ensure that the relevant Eligibility Criteria or Collateral Rules provide for the diversification of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool.

6.7 Frequency of Collateral Test Dates

In order to ensure that a Series of Secured Notes are collateralised in accordance with its terms, the Collateral Value and the Required Collateral Value will be determined on the Issue Date of such Series, on each periodic Collateral Test Date thereafter as specified in the applicable Final Terms and on any additional date which is deemed to be a Collateral Test Date pursuant to the terms of the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes. The lower the frequency of the periodic Collateral Test Dates specified in the applicable Final Terms and hence the greater the period of time in between each such periodic Collateral Test Date the more likely it is that upon enforcement of the relevant Security Document, the proceeds of enforcement that a Noteholder will receive or, where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is applicable, the value of the Collateral Assets delivered, will be less than the amounts due to Noteholders in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Notes.

In respect of certain Series of Secured Notes, the applicable Final Terms may specify that there will be no periodic Collateral Test Dates, in which case there will be no periodic adjustments to the Collateral Assets in the Collateral Pool during the life of the relevant Secured Notes other than on any date which is deemed to be a Collateral Test Date pursuant to the terms of the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes. In this case, if the security created under the relevant Security Document is enforced, the proceeds of enforcement that a Noteholder will receive or, where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is applicable, the value of the Collateral Assets delivered, may be less than the amounts due to Noteholders in respect of the relevant Series of Secured Notes.

6.8 Adjustments to Collateral Pool

Following a Collateral Test Date, SG Issuer (or the Collateral Agent on its behalf) may be required to deliver, or procure the delivery of, additional or replacement Collateral Assets to or from the Collateral Account such that after such adjustment of Collateral Assets the Collateral Test will be satisfied. Investors, nevertheless, will be exposed to the difference between the Required Collateral Value and the Collateral Value prior to any such adjustment. Prior to such adjustment there is also a risk that the Collateral Assets may not meet the Eligibility Criteria and/or that the Collateral Rules will not be satisfied.

The acquisition of Collateral Assets necessary to make the required adjustments to the Collateral Assets contained in a Collateral Pool may be effected pursuant to the terms of any Hedging Agreement or otherwise. For a description of the risks associated with the operation of a Hedging Agreement, see "Risk of non-performance of obligations by a Counterparty" below.

6.9 "Haircut" applied to Collateral Assets

When determining the Collateral Value, the Collateral Agent will apply the Haircut (being the percentage amount by which the value of each type or class of Collateral Assets in a Collateral Pool is reduced), if so specified in the applicable Final Terms. Although the level(s) of Haircut specified in the applicable Final Terms is intended to reflect the risk of a depreciation in the value of Collateral Assets in the period between the most recent Collateral Test Date and the date on which such Collateral Assets may be realised, investors should note that the value of a Collateral Asset may change over time and the Haircut applied to the Collateral Assets may become outdated and may not provide suitable protection against a potential depreciation in value of the relevant Collateral Asset. No duty of care towards investors is implied or accepted by SG Issuer, the Guarantor, the Collateral Agent or the Collateral Monitoring Agent in relation to the level(s) of Haircut to be applied to the Collateral Assets in a particular Collateral Pool.

6.10 Substitution of Collateral Assets

If "Collateral Substitution" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, SG Issuer (or the Collateral Agent on its behalf) may withdraw and/or replace Collateral Assets from any Collateral Account provided that following such adjustment the Collateral Test continues to be satisfied. SG Issuer (or the Collateral Agent on SG Issuer's behalf) may give instructions for the substitution of Collateral Assets any number of times over the term of the Secured Notes and is not required to obtain the consent of the Collateral Monitoring Agent or any other party prior to effecting the proposed substitution of Collateral Assets. Until any further adjustments to the Collateral Assets have occurred, the value of Collateral Assets held in a Collateral Account may be less than it would have been were it not for the substitution of Collateral Assets.

6.11 Illiquid Collateral Assets

Depending on the Eligibility Criteria and Collateral Rules, certain of the Collateral Assets may not be admitted to trading on any public market and may be illiquid and not easily realisable in certain market circumstances. Where there is limited liquidity in the secondary market relating to Collateral Assets, the Security Trustee, or, in either case, the Disposal Agent on their behalf, may not be able to readily sell such Collateral Assets to a third party or may only be able to sell such Collateral Assets at a discounted value. Where the Security Trustee, or, in either case, the Disposal Agent on their behalf, is unable to sell such Collateral Assets, the Security Trustee will instead be required to deliver such Collateral Assets as if Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets were applicable in relation thereto.

6.12 Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets

In case of enforcement of the Pledge, if Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the Security Trustee or the Security Agent will not sell, or cause to be sold, the Collateral Assets but will deliver the Collateral Assets Entitlement to each Noteholder in the manner set out in the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes.

If a Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets Disruption Event occurs and is continuing for a continuous period of twenty Collateral Business Days (or such other period specified in the applicable Final Terms) after the original Collateral Delivery Date, the Security Trustee or the Security Agent, or the Disposal Agent on their behalf, will procure the sale of such Collateral Assets in lieu of delivery of the relevant Collateral Assets Entitlement.

The amount received by a Noteholder following such sale of Collateral Assets may be lower than the amount which a Noteholder would have received if the relevant Collateral Assets had been delivered to it and the Noteholder had held the relevant Collateral Assets to the maturity date of such assets or sold such assets at a different point in time.

6.13 Correlation between the value of the Collateral Assets and the Creditworthiness of SG Issuer and the Guarantor

Depending on the Eligibility Criteria and the Collateral Rules, the Collateral Assets could be composed of assets whose value may be positively or negatively correlated with the creditworthiness of SG Issuer and the Guarantor. In the event that there is a positive correlation between the value of the Collateral Assets and the creditworthiness of SG Issuer and the Guarantor, the value of the Collateral Assets will vary in the same way as the creditworthiness of SG Issuer and the Guarantor.

Where the value of the Collateral Assets is positively correlated with the creditworthiness of SG Issuer and the Guarantor, for example where the Collateral Assets consist of securities (such as debt or equities) issued by other financial institutions, a default by SG Issuer and the Guarantor in relation to their obligations under the Secured Notes may be associated with a fall in the value of Collateral Assets securing such Secured Notes.

6.14 Difference between the calculation of Secured Note Market Value and Market Value following an Event of Default

Secured Notes Market Value is the market value of the relevant Secured Note determined by the Securities Valuation Agent on the basis of such valuation method as the Securities Valuation Agent may, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner determine and will take into account SG Issuer's and Guarantor's creditworthiness. Unlike the Secured Note Market Value, following an Event of Default, the Market Value determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with Condition 5.9 of the General Terms and Conditions of the Notes (which determines the claim that a holder of Non Waived Notes has on SG Issuer and/or the Guarantor), will not take into account SG Issuer's or the Guarantor's creditworthiness. As a result, there may be a difference between the Secured Note Market Value determined before an Event of Default and the Market Value determined after an Event of Default.

6.15 Specific risk due to the difference between the calculation of Secured Note Market Value and Market Value following an Event of Default for the Market Value Type of Collateralisation

Investors should note that when "MV Collateralisation", "Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation" or "Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms of a Series of Secured Notes, the level of collateral required to secure such Secured Notes (i.e. the Required Collateral Value) and therefore the amount of Collateral Assets actually in the Collateral Pool (i.e. the Collateral Value) will be based on the Secured Note Market Value which as indicated above will take into account SG Issuer's and the Guarantor's creditworthiness. Consequently, everything else being equal, the Secured Note Market Value may decrease when SG Issuer's and the Guarantor's creditworthiness deteriorates and so may the Required Collateral Value and the Collateral Value whereas, following an Event of Default, the Market Value determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with Condition 5.9 of the General Terms and Conditions of the Notes, will not decrease. As a result, the holders of Non Waived Notes where MV Collateralisation, "Min (MV, NV) Collateralisation" or "Max (MV, NV) Collateralisation" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms of a Series of Secured Notes may end up in a situation where the amount of Collateral Assets securing the obligation of SG Issuer under such Notes, is significantly lower than their claim on SG Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

6.16 Specific risk due to the difference between the aggregate nominal value of the Non Waived-Notes and Market Value following an Event of Default for the Nominal Value Type of Collateralisation

Investors should note that when "NV Collateralisation", is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms of a Series of Secured Notes, the level of collateral required to secure such Secured Notes (i.e. the Required Collateral Value) and therefore the amount of Collateral Assets actually in the Collateral Pool (i.e. the Collateral Value) will be based on the aggregate nominal value of the Non Waived-Notes. In the case of an Event of Default, the holders of Non Waived Notes where "NV Collateralisation" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms of a Series of Secured Notes may end up in a situation where the amount of Collateral Assets securing the obligation of SG Issuer under such Notes, is significantly lower than their claim on SG Issuer and/or the Guarantor.

6.17 Waived Notes

If "Waiver of Rights" is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, certain Noteholders intending to hold Secured Notes (including, but not limited to, in their capacity as a market maker) may waive their rights to receive the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets securing such Secured Notes (or where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is specified as applicable in the applicable Final Terms, delivery of the Collateral Assets) following the enforcement of the relevant Security Document. As a consequence, the Required Collateral Value, the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms and the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall only take into account the value of the Secured Notes that have not been subject to such waiver.

Upon any transfer of Waived Notes the holders thereof shall notify the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms. The Collateral Business Day following such notification will be deemed to be a Collateral Test Date and on such date the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms shall determine the revised Required Collateral Value and any required adjustments to the Collateral Assets necessary to ensure that the Collateral Test will be satisfied. Until any such adjustments to the Collateral Assets have occurred, the value of Collateral Assets held in the Collateral Account may be less than the required Collateral Value.

If the number of Waived Notes actually held on a Collateral Test Date is less than the number of Waived Notes notified to the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms (such event being a Waived Note Notification Error), then the Required Collateral Value calculated on such Collateral Test Date will be lower than would otherwise be the case if there was no such Waived Note Notification Error. If the relevant Security Document were to be enforced prior to the correction of a Waived Note Notification Error, the proceeds of realisation of the Collateral Assets available to be distributed, or where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is applicable the value the Collateral Assets available to be delivered, to Noteholders will be less than would have been the case in the absence of such Waived Note Notification Error.

Neither SG Issuer, the Guarantor, the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms nor the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall be responsible for any incorrect, inaccurate or incomplete information relating to the number of Waived Notes held in relation to any one or more Series of Secured Notes that may have been provided to the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms by or on behalf of any holder of Waived Notes and none of SG Issuer, the Guarantor, the Collateral Agent where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Standard Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Term, or Société Générale where "Type of Collateral Structure" is specified as "Tripartite Collateral Structure" in the applicable Final Terms nor the Collateral Monitoring Agent shall be under any duty to verify or otherwise confirm the number of Waived Notes so held.

6.18 Early redemption at the option of SG Issuer upon a Collateral Disruption Event

Upon the occurrence of a Collateral Disruption Event (as defined in the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes). SG Issuer may redeem all of the relevant Secured Notes at the Early Redemption Amount. Following the early redemption of the Secured Notes, a Noteholder may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Secured Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate or in worse investment conditions. Prospective investors in Notes should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

6.19 Secured Note Acceleration Event and Enforcement of the security

If a Secured Note Acceleration Event occurs, all Secured Notes which are secured by the same Collateral Pool will also become immediately due and repayable and all Noteholders will first be entitled to claim for any outstanding amounts due to them under the terms of the Guarantee.

A Noteholder is only entitled to send a Collateral Enforcement Notice to the Security Trustee if neither SG Issuer nor the Guarantor (pursuant to the terms of the Guarantee) has paid all amounts due to such Noteholder within a period of 3 Collateral Business Days following the occurrence of the relevant Secured Note Acceleration Event.

The existence of the 3 Collateral Business Days period means that there will be a delay between the occurrence of a Secured Note Acceleration Event and the enforcement of the corresponding Security Document during which period there may be a depreciation in the value of the relevant Collateral Assets, thus reducing the amount available to satisfy the claims of Noteholders upon realisation of the Collateral Assets.

The Security Trustee is only obliged to enforce a Security Document after having received a Collateral Enforcement Notice from a Noteholder acting pursuant to the request of a Noteholder.

6.20 Subordination of Noteholders to payment of expenses and other payments

Following the enforcement of a Security Document, the rights of holders of Non Waived Notes to be paid amounts from the proceeds of such enforcement and the realisation of the related Collateral Assets or, where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is applicable, to be delivered Collateral Assets, will be subordinated to and therefore rank behind claims relating to any amounts payable to Secured Parties ranking prior to the holders of Non Waived Notes in accordance with the Order of Priority specified in the applicable Final Terms and any rights of preference existing by operation of law.

6.21 Shortfall on Realisation of Collateral Assets and Limited Recourse of Noteholders

Upon enforcement of the relevant Security Document, the value of the Collateral Assets may be less than the amount due to Noteholders in respect of the relevant Series of Notes. Investors should note that the Collateral Assets may suffer a fall in value between the time at which the relevant Security Document becomes enforceable and the time at which the Collateral Assets are realised in full or, where Physical Delivery of Collateral Assets is applicable, delivered. In extraordinary circumstances, the Collateral Assets forming part of the Collateral Pool available at the time at which a Security Document becomes enforceable could lose all or a substantial proportion of their value by the time of realisation and distribution or delivery, as applicable.

If there is any shortfall in amounts due to a Noteholder then such Noteholder shall have no further claim against SG Issuer, the Security Trustee in respect of such amounts which remain unpaid following enforcement of the relevant Security Document (including payments of principal, premium (if any) and/or interest in respect of the Notes). In addition, no Noteholder shall be entitled to take any steps or proceedings to procure the winding-up, administration or liquidation (or any other analogous proceeding) of SG Issuer.

In such a scenario, Noteholders will continue to be able to claim under the terms of the Guarantee against the Guarantor for any unpaid amounts and any such shortfall will therefore constitute an unsecured claim by such Noteholder against the Guarantor, and the Noteholders will be exposed to the creditworthiness of the Guarantor for the remaining amount due to them.

6.22 Risk of a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets in the event of the insolvency of the Issuer, the Security Trustee and/or the Collateral Custodian

Article 20 of the Collateral Act 2005 provides that pledge agreements are valid and effective against all third parties, including any receiver or liquidator, notwithstanding any reorganisation procedure, liquidation procedure or any other situation leading to a competition amongst creditors, whether Luxembourg or foreign. From a Luxembourg law perspective, each Pledge Agreement should not be materially impacted by insolvency proceedings initiated against SG Issuer in Luxembourg.

In addition, in the case of an insolvency of SG Issuer, as the Collateral Agent (being Société Générale or its successor thereto) is part of the Group, it is possible that the Collateral Agent may also be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the administrative processes involved in the realisation of the Collateral Assets.

However, as the entities responsible for the enforcement of the Security Document and the realisation of the Collateral Assets, namely the Collateral Custodian, the Disposal Agent, the Substitute Paying Agent, the Security Trustee are not part of the Group, the impact of any insolvency of SG Issuer on such enforcement and realisation should be less material than it would have been if the Collateral Custodian, the Disposal Agent, the Substitute Paying Agent, the Security Trustee was part of the Group.

The Collateral Custodian, the Disposal Agent, the Substitute Paying Agent, the Security Trustee is (unless otherwise specified in the applicable Final Terms) part of the same group and in the event of the insolvency of one entity it is possible that another entity may also be insolvent. Such circumstances may lead to a delay in the realisation of the Collateral Assets. However, the agreements in which such entities are nominated will contain provisions permitting their replacement as further provided in such agreements and the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes.

6.23 Potential Conflicts of Interest between Noteholders and the Collateral Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent and the Calculation Agent

As the Collateral Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent and the Calculation Agent are affiliates of SG Issuer or their relevant successor, potential conflicts of interest may arise between the Collateral Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent, the Calculation Agent and the holders of the Secured Notes, including with respect to the making of certain determinations and the exercise of certain rights (including as to the calculation of the Secured Note Market Value of the Secured Notes, the Collateral Value and the Required Collateral Value). In addition, whilst the Collateral Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent and the Calculation Agent are obliged to carry out their duties and functions in good faith and using their reasonable judgment, neither the Collateral Agent nor the Securities Valuation Agent acts or will act as a fiduciary or as an advisor to the Noteholders in respect of their duties as Collateral Agent and Securities Valuation Agent, respectively.

The risk to Noteholders of any conflict of interest between Noteholders and the Collateral Agent is mitigated by the fact that any Collateral Test Notice is either reviewed, and the contents thereof verified by or otherwise agreed with, a Collateral Monitoring Agent not belonging to the Group or else is subject to a predetermined Collateral Test Dispute Resolution Procedure.

6.24 Security Trustee and Disposal Agent

The Security Trustee will enforce the security under the relevant Security Document upon the delivery of a Collateral Enforcement Notice.

A failure by the Security Trustee to perform their obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets or to perform their obligations in an efficient manner may adversely affect the realisation of the Collateral Assets and the amount distributable or deliverable to Noteholders.

The risk to Noteholders of a failure by the Security Trustee to perform its obligations under a Security Document with respect to the Collateral Assets is mitigated by the fact that the Security Trustee will covenant in the relevant Security Trust Deed to exercise its rights under the relevant Security Document on behalf of and as trustee for the Noteholders and will declare a trust in favour of the Noteholders and the other relevant Secured Parties over the rights granted to it under the relevant Security Document. As a result, should the Security Trustee, having become bound to do so, fail to perform its enforcement obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets, Noteholders will be entitled to directly enforce the terms of the relevant Security Document. In addition, where the Security Trustee has failed to perform its enforcement obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets, Noteholders will be entitled to appoint a replacement Security Trustee to enforce the terms of the relevant Security Document. The Collateral Custodian, by virtue of being party to the relevant Security Document, shall be deemed to have acknowledged the ability of Noteholders to appoint a replacement Security Trustee in such circumstances.

The Security Trustee may appoint an agent (the Disposal Agent) which, following receipt of instructions from the Security Trustee, will liquidate or realise the Collateral Assets in each Collateral Pool. The initial Disposal Agent is The Bank of New York Mellon, London Branch. A failure by the Disposal Agent to perform its obligations with respect to the Collateral Assets will adversely affect the realisation of the Collateral Assets and the amount distributable to Noteholders.

6.25 Risks over sub-custodians

The Collateral Custodian may, to the extent permitted in the Collateral Custodian Agreement, pursuant to its standard terms of business and in accordance with local regulations and market practice for custodian or sub-custodian entities or as required pursuant to any contractual arrangements between the Collateral Custodian and its sub-custodians, hold certain cash and/or securities sub-accounts with other custodial entities. Collateral Assets which, pursuant to the terms of the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Secured Notes and the Collateral Custodian Agreement, are to be held with the Collateral Custodian in a Collateral Account may therefore in practice be held by the Collateral Custodian in sub-accounts with other custodial entities. In such circumstances, although primary responsibility for the Collateral Assets remains with the Collateral Custodian, Noteholders will be exposed to the risk of any potential operational disruption or any other adverse impact related to custodial entities (including disruption caused by any insolvency proceedings which may be commenced in respect of such custodial entities) with whom the Collateral Custodian holds sub-accounts containing Collateral Assets.

6.26 No Fiduciary duties

In performing their duties in relation to the Notes of a Series, neither the Collateral Agent, the Collateral Monitoring Agent, the Securities Valuation Agent, the Collateral Custodian, the Disposal Agent or Substitute Paying Agent will act as a fiduciary or as an advisor to the Noteholders in respect of their respective duties and do not act as a trustee for the Noteholders.

6.27 Potential Conflicts of Interest between Noteholders and a Counterparty

Various potential and actual conflicts of interest may arise between the interests of the Noteholders and a Counterparty, which may be an affiliate of SG Issuer. Subject to compliance with applicable laws and regulations, neither a Counterparty nor its affiliates are required to resolve such conflicts of interest in favour of the Noteholders and may pursue actions and take such steps that it deems necessary or appropriate to protect its interests.

6.28 Risk of non-performance of obligations by a Counterparty

It is expected that Société Générale will be the Counterparty for most Series of Secured Notes. A failure by a Counterparty to perform its duties and obligations with respect to a Hedging Agreement may adversely affect the availability of the Collateral Assets, and consequently adversely affect the realisation of the Collateral Assets and the amount distributable to Noteholders.

6.29 Risks arising on an insolvency of a Counterparty

In the event that a liquidator or administrator were to be appointed in respect of the business and property of a Counterparty, SG Issuer believes that pursuant to the terms of the relevant Hedging Agreement the Collateral Assets will not form part of the property of the relevant Counterparty available to a liquidator or administrator of such Counterparty for distribution to the general creditors of the Counterparty. There can be no assurance, however, that a court would reach the same conclusion.

It is possible that a liquidator or administrator appointed in relation to the business and property of a Counterparty may commence proceedings to challenge the validity and effectiveness of a Hedging Agreement with a view to including the Collateral Assets in the property and estate of the relevant Counterparty. If insolvency proceedings were commenced in respect of a Counterparty, and in particular against the Issuer in relation to a Hedging Agreement, delays in realising the Collateral Assets, possible reductions in the realisation amount of the Collateral Assets and limitations on the exercise of remedies in relation to the enforcement of a Security Document could occur.

SERVICE OF PROCESS AND ENFORCEMENT OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

The Issuers are corporations organised under the laws of Luxembourg, Germany and France, respectively (each a Relevant Jurisdiction). All of the officers and directors named herein reside outside the United States and all or a substantial portion of the assets of the relevant Issuer and of such officers and directors are located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process in connection with a cause of action under the laws of a jurisdiction outside the Relevant Jurisdiction upon the relevant Issuer or such persons, or to enforce judgments against them obtained in courts outside the Relevant Jurisdiction predicated upon civil liabilities of the relevant Issuer or such directors and officers under laws other than those of the Relevant Jurisdiction, including any judgment predicated upon United States federal securities laws.

IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS

If the Final Terms in respect of any Notes states "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors" as Applicable, the Notes, are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and, with effect from such date, should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the EEA. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive 2002/92/EC (as amended, the Insurance Mediation Directive), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive. Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the PRIIPs Regulation) for offering or selling those Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling those Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL AND OTHER INFORMATION

Each Issuer maintains its financial books and records and prepares its financial statements in accordance with financial reporting standards which differ in certain important respects from generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (U.S. GAAP).

FINAL TERMS

In this section the expression “necessary information” means, in relation to any Tranche of Notes, the information necessary to enable investors to make an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses and prospects of the Issuers and the Guarantor and of the rights attaching to the Notes. In relation to the different types of Notes which may be issued under the Programme, the Issuers and the Guarantor have endeavoured to include in this Base Prospectus all of the necessary information except for information relating to the Notes which is not known at the date of this Base Prospectus and which can only be determined at the time of an individual issue of a Tranche of Notes.

Any information relating to the Notes which is not included in this Base Prospectus and which is required in order to complete the necessary information in relation to a Tranche of Notes will, therefore, be contained in the applicable Final Terms.

For a Tranche of Notes which is the subject of Final Terms, those Final Terms will, for the purposes of that Tranche only, complete the Terms and Conditions of the Notes and this Base Prospectus and must be read in conjunction with this Base Prospectus. The terms and conditions applicable to any particular Tranche of Notes which is the subject of Final Terms are the Terms and Conditions of the Notes as completed to the extent described in the applicable Final Terms.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE BASE PROSPECTUS

If at any time the Issuers shall be required to prepare a supplement to this Base Prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive, the Issuers will prepare and make available an appropriate supplement to this Base Prospectus or a further Base Prospectus which, in respect of any subsequent issue of Notes to be listed and admitted to trading on a regulated market shall constitute a supplement to the Base Prospectus (or a new Base Prospectus, as applicable) as required (for supplements) by Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive and shall supply each Dealer with such number of copies of such supplement hereto or new Base Prospectus as such Dealer may reasonably request.

The Issuer has given an undertaking to the Dealers that if at any time during the duration of the Programme there is a significant new factor, material mistake, inaccuracy or omission relating to information contained in this Base Prospectus which is capable of affecting the assessment of any Notes and whose inclusion in or removal from this Base Prospectus is necessary, for the purpose of allowing an investor to make an informed assessment of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses and prospects of the Issuer, the Group and the rights attaching to the Notes, the Issuer shall prepare a supplement to this Base Prospectus or publish a replacement Base Prospectus for use in connection with any subsequent offering of the Notes, and shall supply each Dealer with such number of copies of such supplement hereto as such Dealer may reasonably request.

Following the publication of this Base Prospectus, the Issuers and the Guarantor will, in the event of any significant new factor, material mistake or inaccuracy relating to information included in this Base Prospectus which is capable of affecting the assessment of any Notes, prepare a supplement to this Base Prospectus (a Supplement) in accordance with Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive or publish a new prospectus for use in connection with any subsequent issue of Notes. Such Supplement as prepared will have to be approved, on the one hand, by the CSSF and on the other hand, by the SIX Swiss Exchange in accordance with the listing rules of SIX Swiss Exchange. Statements contained in any such Supplement (or contained in any document incorporated by reference therein) shall, to the extent applicable (whether expressly, by implication or otherwise), be deemed to modify or supersede statements contained in this Base Prospectus or in a document which is incorporated by reference in this Base Prospectus. Any statement so modified or superseded shall not, except as so modified or superseded, constitute a part of this Base Prospectus.

In the case of Notes subject to a Non-exempt Offer to the public, in accordance with Article 16.2 of the Prospectus Directive, investors who have already agreed to purchase or subscribe for Notes before any Supplement is published have the right, exercisable within two working days after the publication of this Supplement, to withdraw their acceptances.

2.1 Bearer Notes

Each Tranche of Bearer Notes will be issued in the form of a Temporary Global Note or a Permanent Global Note, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, in either case, will:

- if the Global Notes are intended to be issued in new global note (hereinafter New Global Note or NGN) form, as stated in the applicable Final Terms, be delivered on or prior to the issue date of the Tranche to a common safekeeper (the Common Safekeeper) for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and Clearstream Banking AG, Germany; and

2.2 Eurosystem eligibility

New Global Notes issued under the new safekeeping structure (NSS) may be issued with the intention that such Notes be recognised as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary policy and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem, either upon issue or at any or all times during their life. Such recognition will depend upon satisfaction of the Eurosystem eligibility criteria as specified by the European Central Bank. However, there is no guarantee that such Notes will be recognised as eligible collateral. Any other Notes are not intended to be recognised as eligible collateral for Eurosystem monetary policy and intra-day credit operations by the Eurosystem.

3. SIS NOTES

Each Tranche of SIS Notes will be issued as Bearer SIS Notes, which are, or are intended to be, deposited or registered with and cleared through SIS or any other clearing institution in Switzerland recognised for such purposes by SIX Swiss Exchange (SIS or any other such intermediary, the Intermediary). The applicable Final Terms will indicate whether SIS Notes are CHF SIS Notes or Other SIS Notes.

Bearer SIS Notes

Each Tranche of Bearer SIS Notes will be represented by a permanent global Note (Permanent Global SIS Note) which will be deposited with the Intermediary on or prior to the issue date of the Tranche. Once the Permanent Global SIS Note has been deposited with the Intermediary and the Bearer SIS Note represented thereby entered into the accounts of one or more participants of the Intermediary, such Bearer SIS Notes will constitute intermediated securities (Bucheffekten) (Intermediated Securities) within the meaning of the Swiss Federal Intermediated Securities Act (Bucheffektengesetz).

Each holder of Bearer SIS Notes shall have a quota co-ownership interest (Miteigentumsanteil) in the Permanent Global SIS Note representing such Bearer SIS Notes to the extent of his claim against the Issuer, provided that, for so long as the Permanent Global SIS Note remains deposited with the Intermediary, the co-ownership interest shall be suspended and such Bearer SIS Notes may only be transferred by the entry of the transferred Bearer SIS Notes in a securities account (Effektenkonto) of the transferee.

The records of the Intermediary will determine the number of Bearer SIS Notes held through each participant of the Intermediary. The holders of Bearer SIS Notes in the form of Intermediated Securities will be the persons holding such Bearer SIS Notes in a securities account (Effektenkonto) that is in their name, or, in the case of intermediaries (Verwahrungsstellen), the intermediaries holding such Bearer SIS Notes for their own account in a securities account that is in their name (and the terms "Noteholder" and "holder of Notes" and related expressions shall be construed accordingly).

No physical delivery of the Bearer SIS Notes shall be made unless and until Definitive Bearer SIS Notes have been printed. No holder of Bearer SIS Notes will at any time have the right to effect or demand the exchange of the Permanent Global SIS Note representing such Bearer SIS Notes into, or the delivery of, Bearer SIS Notes in definitive form (Definitive Bearer SIS Notes) or uncertificated form.

The relevant Permanent Global SIS Note will only be exchangeable, in whole, but not in part, for Definitive Bearer SIS Notes and Definitive Bearer SIS Notes may only be printed upon the occurrence of a Bearer SIS Notes Exchange Event (as defined below in the section "Exchange upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event"). Upon the occurrence of a Bearer SIS Notes Exchange Event, the Principal Swiss Paying Agent or the relevant lead manager, as the case may be, shall provide for the printing of Definitive Bearer SIS Notes without cost to the holders of the relevant Bearer SIS Notes. If Definitive Bearer SIS Notes are delivered, the relevant Permanent Global SIS Note will immediately be cancelled by the Principal Swiss Paying Agent (in case of Bearer SIS Notes not listed on SIX Swiss Exchange) or the relevant lead manager (in case of Bearer SIS Notes that are listed on SIX Swiss Exchange), as the case may be, and the Definitive Bearer SIS notes shall be delivered to the relevant holders against cancellation of the relevant Bearer SIS Notes in such holders' securities accounts.

Bearer SIS Notes and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes will be governed by German law.

4. CERTIFICATION AS TO NON-U.S. BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP

4.1 German Law Bearer Notes

Whilst any Bearer Note (except any Bearer SIS Notes, which are represented by Permanent Global SIS Notes as described above) is represented by a Temporary Global Note, payments of principal, interest (if any) and any other amounts payable in respect of the Notes, due prior to the Exchange Date (as defined below) will be made (against presentation of the Temporary Global Note if the Temporary Global Note is not intended to be issued in NGN form) only to the extent that certification (in a form to be provided) to the effect that the beneficial owners of interests in such Note are not U.S. Persons or persons who have purchased for resale to any U.S. Person (hereinafter Certification), as required by U.S. Treasury regulations, (i) has been received by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, has given a like certification (based on the Certifications it has received) to the Fiscal Agent or, (ii) in the case of a Temporary Global Note or Temporary Global Certificate held otherwise than on behalf of Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg from the holder thereof.

On and after the Exchange Date (as defined below), interests in the Temporary Global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge) upon a request as described therein either for, as applicable, (i) interests in a Permanent Global Note or (ii) Definitive Bearer Notes of the same Series with, where applicable, Receipts, Coupons and/or Talons attached (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms and subject, in the case of Definitive Bearer Notes, to such notice period as is specified in the Permanent Global Note), in accordance with the terms of the Temporary Global Note against Certification as to non-US beneficial ownership as described above and as required by U.S. Treasury regulations unless such Certification has already been given pursuant to the provisions set forth above; provided, however, that if the relevant Global Note is issued in respect of a Tranche of Bearer Notes described as Partly Paid Notes in the applicable Final Terms, such Global Note may be exchanged for Definitive Bearer Notes and (if applicable) Coupons, Receipts and/or Talons as described above only if the final part payment on all such Partly Paid Notes then outstanding has been paid. Exchange of a Temporary Global Note for interests in a Permanent Global Note will only be made if Definitive Bearer Notes have not already been issued. If Definitive Bearer Notes have already been issued, the Temporary Global Note may only thereafter be exchanged for Definitive Bearer Notes pursuant to the terms thereof. The holder of a Temporary Global Note will not be entitled to collect any payment of interest, principal or other amount due on or after the Exchange Date unless, upon due Certification, exchange of the Temporary Global Note for an interest in a Permanent Global Note or, in the case of Bearer Notes, for Definitive Bearer Notes is improperly withheld or refused.

Payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts on a Permanent Global Note (including Permanent Global SIS Notes) will be made through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, and/or SIS as applicable, to or to the order of the holder thereof (against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of the Permanent Global Note if the Permanent Global Note is not intended to be issued in NGN form) without any requirement for Certification.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Bearer Notes of each Tranche must not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the benefit or account of, a person that is not a Permitted Transferee. Any future transfer, resale, pledge or delivery of such Bearer Notes or any interest therein may only be made to a Permitted Transferee in compliance with the resale provisions set forth in Regulation S of the Securities Act.

For the purposes of this section "Certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership", the Exchange Date shall be the day immediately following the later of (i) 40 days after the Temporary Global Note or, as the case may be, Temporary Global Certificate is issued and (ii) 40 days after the completion of the distribution of the relevant Tranche, as certified by the relevant Dealer (in the case of a non-syndicated issue) or the relevant lead manager (in the case of a syndicated issue).

4.2 CHF SIS Notes

CHF SIS Notes are Bearer SIS Notes benefiting from a limited exception to the non-US beneficial ownership certification requirement of the TEFRA D Rules. Other SIS Notes may be subject to additional selling restrictions and additional U.S. tax disclosure as set out in the applicable Final Terms.

Special procedures must be followed for CHF SIS Notes in order for such Notes to be exempt from Certification (as defined below). Each of the relevant Dealers must have represented and agreed in the Programme Agreement that (a) it will comply with U.S. selling restrictions in so far as they apply to CHF SIS Notes and (b) the offering and sale of the CHF SIS Notes has been and will be conducted in accordance with Swiss laws and regulations. The following criteria must be fulfilled in order for the limited exception to the non-US beneficial ownership certification requirement of the TEFRA D Rules to apply:

- the interest on, and the principal of, the CHF SIS Notes are denominated only in Swiss Francs;
- the interest on, and the principal of, the CHF SIS Notes are payable only in Switzerland;
- the CHF SIS Notes are offered and sold in accordance with Swiss customary practice and documentation;
- the relevant Dealers agree to use reasonable efforts to sell the CHF SIS Notes within Switzerland;
- the CHF SIS Notes are not listed, or subject to an application for listing, on an exchange located outside Switzerland;
- the issuance of the CHF SIS Notes complies with any guidelines or restrictions imposed by Swiss governmental, banking or securities authorities from time to time; and
- more than 80 per cent. by value of the CHF SIS Notes included in the offering of which they are part are offered and sold to non-Dealers by Dealers maintaining an office located in Switzerland.

5. EXCHANGE UPON THE OCCURRENCE OF AN EXCHANGE EVENT

In respect of Bearer SIS Notes, the Permanent Global SIS Note will not be exchangeable at the option of the holders of such Bearer SIS Notes, but may be exchanged for Definitive Bearer SIS Notes, in whole, but not in part, if the Principal Swiss Paying Agent deems:

- (i) the printing of definitive Notes, receipts or coupons to be necessary or useful, or
- (ii) the presentation of definitive Notes, receipts or coupons to be required by Swiss or foreign laws in connection with the enforcement of rights (including in cases of bankruptcy, consolidation or reorganisation of the Issuer).

In respect of Bearer SIS Notes, each such circumstance constitutes a Bearer SIS Notes Exchange Event.

If Definitive Bearer SIS Notes are delivered, the relevant permanent Global Note will immediately be cancelled by the Principal Swiss Paying Agent or the relevant lead manager, as the case may be, and the Definitive Bearer SIS Notes shall be delivered to the relevant holders against cancellation of the relevant Bearer SIS Notes in such holders' securities accounts.

6. OFFER AND SALE IN THE U.S. AND U.S. LEGENDS

Prospective investors should also refer to "Subscription, Sale and Transfer" for additional information in connection with the offer and sale of German Law Notes in the U.S.

Bearer Notes of each Tranche offered and sold only in an offshore transaction (as defined in Regulation S) may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the benefit or account of, a person that is not a Permitted Transferee, and such Bearer Notes will bear a legend regarding such restrictions on transfer. Any future transfer, resale, pledge or delivery of such Bearer Notes or any interest therein may only be made in an offshore transaction (as defined under Regulation S) to a Permitted Transferee in compliance with the resale provisions set forth in Regulation S of the Securities Act.

The following legend will appear on all permanent Bearer Notes which have an original maturity of more than one year and on all receipts, interest coupons and talons relating to such Notes:

"ANY UNITED STATES PERSON (AS DEFINED IN THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF THE UNITED STATES) WHO HOLDS THIS OBLIGATION WILL BE SUBJECT TO LIMITATIONS UNDER THE UNITED STATES INCOME TAX LAWS, INCLUDING THE LIMITATIONS PROVIDED IN SECTIONS 165(j) AND 1287(a) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE."

The sections referred to above provide that United States persons (as defined in the Code), with certain exceptions, will not be entitled to deduct any loss on Bearer Notes and will not be entitled to capital gains treatment of any gain on any sale, disposition, redemption or payment of principal in respect of such Notes, receipts, interest coupons or talons.

7. CLEARING SYSTEMS

Any reference herein to "Euroclear" and/or "Clearstream, Luxembourg" and/or "Clearstream, Germany" shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Final Terms (including, without limitation, Euroclear France and the intermédiaires financiers habilités authorised to maintain accounts therein, in relation to SIS Notes or any other Notes listed on SIX Swiss Exchange, SIS or any other clearing institution in Switzerland recognised for such purposes by SIX Swiss Exchange, approved by the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor, the Fiscal Agent, and, in the case of Notes listed on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange, the Luxembourg Stock Exchange).

	The redenomination of the Notes pursuant to the above paragraph shall be made by converting the principal amount of each Note from the relevant national currency into Euro using the fixed relevant national currency Euro conversion rate established by the Council of the European Union pursuant to Article 140 of the Treaty and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest 0.01 Euro (with 0.005 Euro being rounded upwards), provided that, if the Issuer determines, with the agreement of the Fiscal Agent that the then market practice in respect of the redenomination in Euro of internationally offered securities is different from the provisions specified above, such provisions shall be deemed to be amended so as to comply with such market practice and the Issuer shall promptly notify the Noteholders, the stock exchange (if any) on which the Notes may be listed and the Paying Agents of such deemed amendments.	Die Währungsumstellung der Schuldverschreibungen gemäß dem vorstehenden Absatz erfolgt durch eine Umrechnung des Nennbetrags jeder Schuldverschreibung von der maßgeblichen nationalen Währung in Euro auf Grundlage des von dem Rat der Europäischen Union nach Artikel 140 des AEUV festgelegten maßgeblichen festen Euro-Umrechnungskurses und anschließende Rundung des Ergebnisses auf den nächsten Eurocent (wobei EUR 0,005 aufgerundet werden), wobei Folgendes gilt: falls die Emittentin mit Zustimmung der Emissionsstelle feststellt, dass die jeweils geltenden Marktusancen für die Währungsumstellung von international angebotenen Wertpapieren in Euro von den vorstehenden Bestimmungen abweichen, gelten diese Bestimmungen als dahingehend geändert, dass sie mit diesen Marktusancen übereinstimmen, und die Emittentin hat die Schuldverschreibungsinhaber, eine etwaige Börse, an der die Schuldverschreibungen möglicherweise notiert sind, und die Zahlstellen umgehend von diesen als vorgenommen geltenden Änderungen in Kenntnis zu setzen.

Falls die Emittentin dies beschließt, wird der sich aus der Umrechnung des Nennbetrags der einzelnen Schuldverschreibungen auf Grundlage des maßgeblichen festen Euro-Umrechnungskurses ergebende Betrag auf den nächsten Euro abgerundet.

Any balance remaining from the redenomination with a denomination higher than 0.01 Euro shall be paid by way of cash adjustment rounded to the nearest 0.01 Euro (with 0.005 Euro being rounded upwards). Such cash adjustment will be payable in Euros on the Redenomination Date.	Der für die Währungsumstellung anwendbare Umrechnungskurs und die auf diese Weise bestimmten Euro-Stückelungen der Schuldverschreibungen werden den Schuldverschreibungsinhabern gemäß Bedingung 12 mitgeteilt. Ein etwaiger aus der Währungsumstellung verbleibender Restbetrag mit einer Stückelung von über EUR 0,01 wird im Wege einer auf den nächsten Eurocent aufgerundeten Baranpassung (wobei EUR 0,005 aufgerundet werden) gezahlt. Die entsprechende Baranpassung ist am Währungsumstellungstag in Euro zu zahlen.

Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen können eine Zinsberechnungsmethode vorsehen, die keinen Zinstagequotienten erfordert, da die an jedem Festgelegten Zinszahlungstag zu zahlenden Zinsen durch Anwendung des in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinssatzes auf die Festgelegte Stückelung bestimmt werden.
	In the case of Notes which are offered to the public and the Rate(s) of Interest is/are to be determined by reference to a percentage to be published by the Issuer on http://prospectus.socgen.com , the applicable Final Terms will specify an indicative value, a minimum value and will indicate the date of publication thereof. 	For the purpose of this Condition 3.1:	Für die Zwecke dieser Bedingung 3.1 gilt Folgendes:
	Fixed Rate Note means a Note which bears a fixed rate of interest which may be either an Adjusted Fixed Rate Note or an Unadjusted Fixed Rate Note.	Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung bezeichnet eine Schuldverschreibung, auf die ein fester Zinssatz gezahlt wird. Dabei kann es sich um eine Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung mit Anpassung oder eine Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung ohne Anpassung handeln.
	Adjusted Fixed Rate Note means a Fixed Rate Note in respect of which the Interest Amount and the Interest Payment Date are subject to modification in accordance with the provisions of Condition 3.1.2.	Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung mit Anpassung bezeichnet eine Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung, deren Zinsbetrag und Zinszahlungstag gemäß den Bestimmungen von Bedingung 3.1.2 angepasst werden.
	Unadjusted Fixed Rate Note means a Fixed Rate Note in respect of which the Interest Amount and the Interest Payment Date remain, for the purposes of this Condition 3 (and without prejudice to the provisions of Condition 1.1), unchanged and are calculated in accordance with the provisions of Condition 3.1.1.	Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung ohne Anpassung bezeichnet eine Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung, deren Zinsbetrag und Zinszahlungstag für die Zwecke dieser Bedingung 3 (und unbeschadet der Bestimmungen von Bedingung 1.1) unverändert bleiben und gemäß den Bestimmungen von Bedingung 3.1.1 berechnet werden.
3.1.1	Unadjusted Fixed Rate Notes	Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen ohne Anpassung
	Each Unadjusted Fixed Rate Note bears interest from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest. Interest will be payable in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date, as specified in the applicable Final Terms.	Jede Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung ohne Anpassung wird ab dem Zinsanfangstag (einschließlich) zu einem Jahreszinssatz (zu Jahreszinssätzen) in Höhe des Zinssatzes (der Zinssätze) verzinst. Die Zinsen sind an dem (den) in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinszahlungstag(en) jedes Jahres bis zum Fälligkeitstag (einschließlich) rückwirkend zu zahlen.
	An applicable Fixed Coupon Amount or Broken Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest shall be calculated in respect of any period by applying the Rate of Interest specified in the applicable Final Terms to the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes of the relevant Series (or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up), and multiplying such amount by the applicable Day Count Fraction (if any), and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit (defined below) of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards. Fixed Rate Notes may provide for a method of calculating interest which does not require any Day Count Fraction as interest payable on each specified Interest Payment Date is determined by applying the Rate of Interest to the Specified Denomination as it shall be set out in the applicable Final Terms.	Sofern in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen ein anwendbarer Festzinsbetrag oder Stückzinsen festgelegt sind, werden die Zinsen für eine Periode auf Grundlage des in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinssatzes berechnet, der auf den ausstehenden Gesamtnennbetrag der Schuldverschreibungen der jeweiligen Serie (bzw. bei Teilweise Eingezahlten Schuldverschreibungen den eingezahlten Gesamtbetrag) angewendet wird; und dieser Betrag mit einem etwaigen anwendbaren Zinstagequotienten multipliziert und das Ergebnis auf die nächste (nachfolgend definierte) Untereinheit der jeweiligen Festgelegten Währung gerundet wird (wobei ein Wert von 0,5 dieser Untereinheit aufgerundet wird). Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen können eine Zinsberechnungsmethode vorsehen, die keinen Zinstagequotienten erfordert, da die an jedem Festgelegten Zinszahlungstag zu zahlenden Zinsen durch Anwendung des in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinssatzes auf die Festgelegte Stückelung bestimmt werden.
3.1.2	Adjusted Fixed Rate Notes	Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen mit Anpassung
3.1.2.1	Each Adjusted Fixed Rate Note bears interest from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date specified in the applicable Final Terms, and such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period and in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; provided that (x) if there is no	Jede Festverzinsliche Schuldverschreibung mit Anpassung wird ab dem in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinsanfangstag (einschließlich) verzinst. 	(2) “Modified Following Business Day Convention” , such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or	(2) „Modifizierter-Folgender-Geschäftstag-Konvention“ : Der betreffende Zinszahlungstag (oder andere Tag) wird auf den nächsten Tag verschoben, der ein Geschäftstag ist, außer er fiel dadurch in den nächsten Kalendermonat, in welchem Fall der Zinszahlungstag (oder andere Tag) auf den unmittelbar vorhergehenden Geschäftstag vorgezogen wird; oder and the expression “Interest Payment Date shall be construed accordingly.	Der Begriff „Zinszahlungstag“ ist entsprechend auszulegen.

3.1.2.2	The Calculation Agent will calculate the amount of interest (the Adjusted Fixed Rate Interest Amount) payable on the Adjusted Fixed Rate Notes for the relevant Interest Period by applying the Rate of Interest to the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes of the relevant Series (or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up) and multiplying such amount by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.	Die Berechnungsstelle berechnet den in Bezug auf die Festverzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen mit Anpassung für die jeweilige Zinsperiode zu zahlenden Zinsbetrag (der Angepasste Festzinsbetrag) durch Anwendung des Zinssatzes auf den ausstehenden Gesamtnennbetrag der Schuldverschreibungen der jeweiligen Serie (bzw. bei Teilweise Eingezahlten Schuldverschreibungen den eingezahlten Gesamtbetrag); und durch Multiplikation dieses Betrags mit dem anwendbaren Zinstagequotienten und Rundung des Ergebnisses auf die nächste Untereinheit der jeweiligen Festgelegten Währung (wobei ein Wert von 0,5 dieser Untereinheit aufgerundet wird oder anderweitig gemäß der anwendbaren Marktkonvention verfahren wird).
	The Calculation Agent will cause the Adjusted Fixed Rate Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Issuer, the Guarantor and any stock exchange on which the relevant Adjusted Fixed Rate Notes are for the time being listed and notice thereof to be published in accordance with Condition 12 as soon as possible after the calculation or determination thereof (provided that, in the case of notification to any stock exchange, such notice will be given by no later than the first day of the relevant Interest Period or, if that is impossible due to the date fixed for such determination or calculation, as soon as practicable on or after such date). Each Adjusted Fixed Rate Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without prior notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to each stock exchange on which the relevant Fixed Rate Notes are for the time being listed and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 12.	Die Berechnungsstelle veranlasst, dass der Angepasste Festzinsbetrag für jede Zinsperiode und der jeweilige Zinszahlungstag der Emittentin, der Garantin und jeder Börse, an dem die maßgeblichen Festverzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen mit Anpassung jeweils notiert sind, mitgeteilt werden und diese Mitteilung gemäß Bedingung 12 so bald wie möglich nach deren Berechnung bzw. Feststellung veröffentlicht wird (wobei im Fall einer Mitteilung an eine Börse diese Mitteilung spätestens am ersten Tag der jeweiligen Zinsperiode bzw., falls dies aufgrund des für diese Feststellung oder Berechnung festgelegten Tages nicht möglich ist, so bald wie möglich nach diesem Tag zu erfolgen hat). Im Fall einer Verlängerung oder Verkürzung der Zinsperiode können der mitgeteilte Angepasste Festzinsbetrag und Zinszahlungstag ohne Vorankündigung nachträglich geändert (oder andere geeignete Anpassungsregelungen getroffen) werden. Jede solche Änderung wird jeder Börse, an der die betreffenden Festverzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen jeweils notiert sind, und den Schuldverschreibungsinhabern gemäß Bedingung 12 mitgeteilt.

3.2.5	Determination of Rate of Interest and Interest Amount in respect of Floating Rate Notes	Feststellung des Zinssatzes und Zinsbetrags für Variabel Verzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen
	The Calculation Agent will at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period.	Die Berechnungsstelle stellt jeweils an dem für die Feststellung des Zinssatzes vorgesehenen Zeitpunkt oder so bald wie möglich danach den Zinssatz für die maßgebliche Zinsperiode fest.
	The Calculation Agent will calculate the Interest Amount payable on the Floating Rate Notes in respect of each Specified Denomination for the relevant Interest Period. Each Interest Amount shall be calculated by applying the Rate of Interest to each Specified Denomination, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit (defined below) of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.	Die Berechnungsstelle berechnet den Zinsbetrag, der in Bezug auf die einzelnen festgelegten Stückelungen für die maßgebliche Zinsperiode auf die Variabel Verzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen zu zahlen ist. Jeder Zinsbetrag wird durch Anwendung des Zinssatzes auf die einzelne festgelegte Stückelung und Multiplikation dieses Betrags mit dem anwendbaren Zinstagequotienten und Rundung des Ergebnisses auf die nächste (nachstehend definierte) Untereinheit der jeweiligen festgelegten Währung (wobei ein Wert von 0,5 dieser Untereinheit aufgerundet wird oder anderweitig gemäß der anwendbaren Marktkonvention verfahren wird) berechnet.
	Floating Rate Notes may provide for a method of calculating interest which does not require any Day Count Fraction as interest payable on each specified Interest Payment Date is determined by applying the Rate of Interest to the Specified Denomination, as detailed in the applicable Final Terms.	Variabel Verzinsliche Schuldverschreibungen können eine Zinsberechnungsmethode vorsehen, die keinen Zinstagequotienten erfordert, da die an jedem festgelegten Zinszahlungstag zu zahlenden Zinsen durch Anwendung des in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen Zinssatzes auf die festgelegte Stückelung bestimmt werden.
3.2.6	Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amount	Mitteilung von Zinssatz und Zinsbetrag
	The Calculation Agent will cause the Rate of Interest and the Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Issuer, the Guarantor and any stock exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes are for the time being listed and notice thereof to be published in accordance with Condition 12 as soon as possible after the calculation or determination thereof (provided that, in the case of notification to any stock exchange, such notice will be given by no later than the first day of the relevant Interest Period or, if that is impossible due to the date fixed for such determination or calculation, as soon as practicable on or after such date). Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without prior notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to each stock exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes are for the time being listed and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 12.	Die Berechnungsstelle veranlasst, dass der Zinssatz und der Zinsbetrag für jede Zinsperiode und der jeweilige Zinszahlungstag der Emittentin, der Garantin und jeder Börse, an dem die maßgeblichen Variabel Verzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen jeweils notiert sind, mitgeteilt werden und diese Mitteilung gemäß Bedingung 12 so bald wie möglich nach deren Berechnung bzw. Feststellung veröffentlicht wird (wobei im Fall einer Mitteilung an eine Börse diese Mitteilung spätestens am ersten Tag der jeweiligen Zinsperiode bzw., falls dies aufgrund des für diese Feststellung oder Berechnung festgelegten Tages nicht möglich ist, so bald wie möglich nach diesem Tag zu erfolgen hat). Im Fall einer Verlängerung oder Verkürzung der Zinsperiode können der mitgeteilte Zinsbetrag und Zinszahlungstag ohne Vorankündigung nachträglich geändert (oder andere geeignete Anpassungsregelungen getroffen) werden. Jede solche Änderung wird jeder Börse, an der die betreffenden Variabel Verzinslichen Schuldverschreibungen jeweils notiert sind, und den Schuldverschreibungsinhabern gemäß Bedingung 12 mitgeteilt.

In particular, the applicable Final Terms will specify the Interest Commencement Date, the Interest Payment Date(s), the Structured Interest Amount(s), the Business Day Convention and, if applicable, the relevant Day Count Fraction.	Die anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen enthalten Bestimmungen, die auf die Feststellung des Zinsbetrags anwendbar sind und in Verbindung mit dieser Bedingung 3.3 zu lesen sind, um vollständige Informationen über die Art der Zinsberechnung bei Strukturierter Schuldverschreibungen zu erhalten. Insbesondere werden in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen der Zinsanfangstag, der (die) Zinszahlungstag(e), der Strukturierter Zinsbetrag (die Strukturierter Zinsbeträge), die Geschäftstag-Konvention, und gegebenenfalls der Zinstagequotient angegeben.

3.3.2	Calculation of Interest Amount in respect of Structured Notes	Berechnung des Zinsbetrags für Strukturierte Schuldverschreibungen
	The Calculation Agent will at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Interest Amount is to be calculated, calculate the Interest Amount for the relevant Interest Period. The Calculation Agent will notify the Fiscal Agent of the Interest Amount for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same (but in no event later than the first Business Day after such calculation).	Die Berechnungsstelle berechnet jeweils an dem für die Berechnung des Zinsbetrags vorgesehenen Zeitpunkt oder so bald wie möglich danach den Zinsbetrag für die maßgebliche Zinsperiode. Die Berechnungsstelle teilt der Emissionsstelle den Zinsbetrag für die maßgebliche Zinsperiode mit, sobald dies nach dessen Berechnung durchführbar ist (spätestens jedoch am ersten Geschäftstag nach seiner Berechnung).
	The Calculation Agent will calculate the Interest Amount payable on the Structured Notes in respect of each Specified Denomination for the relevant Interest Period. Each Interest Amount shall be calculated in accordance with the Product Formula as specified in the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Formulae, multiplying such amount by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit (defined below) of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention.	Die Berechnungsstelle berechnet den Zinsbetrag, der in Bezug auf die einzelnen festgelegten Stückelungen für die maßgebliche Zinsperiode auf die strukturierten Schuldverschreibungen zu zahlen ist. Jeder Zinsbetrag wird anhand der in den Zusätzlichen Emissionsbedingungen zu Formeln aufgeführten Produktformel und Multiplikation dieses Betrags mit dem anwendbaren Zinstagequotienten und Rundung des Ergebnisses auf die nächste (nachstehend definierte) Untereinheit der jeweiligen festgelegten Währung (wobei ein Wert von 0,5 dieser Untereinheit aufgerundet wird oder anderweitig gemäß der anwendbaren Marktconvention verfahren wird) berechnet.
	Structured Notes may provide for a method of calculating interest which does not require any Day Count Fraction as interest payable on each specified Interest Payment Date is determined by applying the Structured Interest Amount to the Specified Denomination, as detailed in the applicable Final Terms.	Strukturierte Schuldverschreibungen können eine Zinsberechnungsmethode vorsehen, die keinen Zinstagequotienten erfordert, da die an jedem festgelegten Zinszahlungstag zu zahlenden Zinsen durch Anwendung des in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegebenen strukturierten Zinsbetrags auf die festgelegte Stückelung bestimmt werden.
3.3.3	Notification of Interest Amount	Mitteilung des Zinsbetrags
	The Calculation Agent will cause the Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Issuer, the Guarantor and any stock exchange on which the relevant Structured Notes are for the time being listed and notice thereof to be published in accordance with Condition 1 as soon as possible after the calculation thereof (provided that, in the case of notification to any stock exchange, such notice will be given by no later than the first day of the relevant Interest Period or, if that is impossible due to the date fixed for such calculation, as soon as practicable on or after such date). Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without prior notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to each stock exchange on which the relevant Structured Notes are for the time being listed and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 1.	Die Berechnungsstelle veranlasst, dass der Zinssatz für jede Zinsperiode und der jeweilige Zinszahlungstag der Emittentin, der Garantin und jeder Börse, an dem die maßgeblichen strukturierten Schuldverschreibungen jeweils notiert sind, mitgeteilt werden und diese Mitteilung gemäß Bedingung 12 so bald wie möglich nach deren Berechnung veröffentlicht wird (wobei im Fall einer Mitteilung an eine Börse diese Mitteilung spätestens am ersten Tag der jeweiligen Zinsperiode bzw., falls dies aufgrund des für diese Berechnung festgelegten Tages nicht möglich ist, so bald wie möglich nach diesem Tag zu erfolgen hat). Im Fall einer Verlängerung oder Verkürzung der Zinsperiode können der mitgeteilte Zinsbetrag und Zinszahlungstag ohne Vorankündigung nachträglich geändert (oder andere geeignete Anpassungsregelungen getroffen) werden. Jede solche Änderung wird jeder Börse, an der die betreffenden strukturierten Schuldverschreibungen jeweils notiert sind, und den Schuldverschreibungsinhabern gemäß Bedingung 12 mitgeteilt.

	Unless the applicable Final Terms specify that (i) Gross-up provision is not applicable or (ii) Condition 6.2 is not applicable because Early Redemption will not apply for the purpose of Condition 5.2 and Condition 6.2 will apply. If payments in respect of Notes or (if applicable) under the Guarantee are subject under the legislation of any Tax Jurisdiction, to a withholding or a deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature the relevant Issuer or, as the case may be, the Guarantor shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, pay such additional amount as may be necessary, in order that each Noteholder, after such withholding or deduction, will receive the full amount then due and payable provided that no such additional amount shall be payable with respect to any Note:	Sofern nicht in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegeben ist, dass (i) die Gross-up Klausel nicht anwendbar ist oder (ii) Bedingung 6.2 nicht anwendbar ist, da die Vorzeitige Rückzahlung für die Zwecke von Bedingung 5.2 nicht gelten wird und Bedingung 6.2 anwendbar ist. Falls Zahlungen in Bezug auf die Schuldverschreibungen oder (sofern anwendbar) im Rahmen der Garantie der Gesetzgebung einer Steuerjurisdiktion einem Einbehalt oder einem Abzug für oder wegen gegenwärtiger oder zukünftiger Steuern, Abgaben, Veranlagungen oder behördlicher Gebühren gleich welcher Art unterliegen, zahlt die maßgebliche Emittentin bzw. die Garantin im weitestmöglichen gesetzlich zulässigen Umfang alle zusätzlichen Beträge, die erforderlich sind, damit jeder Schuldverschreibungsinhaber nach einem solchen Einbehalt oder Abzug den jeweils fälligen und zahlbaren Betrag in voller Höhe erhält. Die Verpflichtung zur Zahlung entsprechender zusätzlicher Beträge auf eine Schuldverschreibung besteht jedoch nicht,
	(1) the holder of which is liable to such taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in respect of such Note by reason of his being connected with Luxembourg (in the case of payments by SG Issuer) or Germany (in the case of payments by Société Générale Effekten GmbH) or France (in the case of payments by Société Générale) other than by the mere holding of such Note; or	(1) wenn der Inhaber den Steuern, Abgaben, Veranlagungen oder behördlichen Gebühren in Bezug auf die Schuldverschreibung unterliegt, da er neben dem bloßen Besitz der Schuldverschreibung auch einen Anknüpfungspunkt zu Luxemburg (im Fall von Zahlungen durch die SG Issuer) oder Deutschland (im Fall von Zahlungen durch die Société Générale Effekten GmbH) oder Frankreich (im Fall von Zahlungen durch die Société Générale) hat, oder

	(3) in respect of Private Placement Notes, if the applicable Final Terms indicate that no such additional amounts shall be payable; or	(3) im Hinblick auf Privatplatzierungs-Schuldverschreibungen, falls in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegeben ist, dass keine entsprechenden zusätzlichen Beträge zu zahlen sind, oder
	Notwithstanding any other provision of these Terms and Conditions, in no event will the Issuer or Guarantor be required to pay any additional amounts in respect of the Notes for, or on account of, any withholding or deduction (i) required pursuant to an agreement described in Section 1471(b) of the Code or otherwise imposed pursuant to Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, any regulations or agreements thereunder, or any official interpretations thereof, or any law implementing an intergovernmental approach thereto or (ii) imposed pursuant to the Section 871(m) Regulations. In addition, in determining the amount of Section 871(m) withholding imposed, the Issuer shall be entitled to withhold on any "dividend equivalent" (as defined for purposes of Section 871(m) of the Code) at the highest rate applicable to such payments regardless of any exemption from, or reduction in, such withholding otherwise available under applicable law.	Unbeschadet der übrigen Bestimmungen dieser Emissionsbedingungen, wird die Emittentin oder die Garantin in keinem Fall dazu verpflichtet sein, zusätzliche Beträge in Bezug auf die Schuldverschreibungen für oder wegen einer Einbehaltung oder eines Abzugs, (i) die/der gemäß einer Vereinbarung, wie in Section 1471(b) des US-amerikanischen Internal Revenue Code von 1986 (der IRC) beschrieben oder anderweitig gemäß Sections 1471 bis 1474 IRC vorgeschrieben, Vorschriften oder Vereinbarungen darunter, offizielle Auslegungen davon oder diesbezüglichen Umsetzungsvorschriften zu einem zwischenstaatlichen Vorgehen diesbezüglich erfolgen oder (ii) der/die aufgrund der Section 871(m) Vorschriften auferlegt wird. 	With respect to Specified Notes that provide for net dividend reinvestment in respect of either an underlying U.S. security (i.e., a security that pays U.S. source dividends) or an index that includes U.S. securities, all payments on the Notes that reference such U.S. securities or an index that includes U.S. securities may be calculated by reference to dividends on such U.S. securities that are reinvested at a rate of 70%. In such case, in calculating the relevant payment amount, the holder will be deemed to receive, and the Issuer will be deemed to withhold, 30% of any dividend equivalent payments (as defined in Section 871(m) of the Code) in respect of the relevant U.S. securities. The Issuer will not pay any additional amounts to the holder on account of the Section 871(m) amount deemed withheld.	Im Hinblick auf 'Specified Notes', die eine Netto-Dividenden-Wiederanlage in Bezug auf entweder ein zugrundeliegendes US-Wertpapier (d.h. ein Wertpapier, das US-Dividenden auszahlt) oder einen Index, der US-Wertpapiere umfasst, vorsehen, können alle Zahlungen auf die Schuldverschreibungen, die sich auf diese US-Wertpapiere oder einen Index, der US-Wertpapiere umfasst, beziehen, unter Bezugnahme auf Dividenden auf solche US-Wertpapiere berechnet werden, die zu einem Satz von 70 % reinvestiert werden. In diesem Fall gilt der Inhaber bei der Berechnung des maßgeblichen Zahlungsbetrags als Empfänger und die Emittentin wird 30 % der dividendenäquivalenten Zahlungen (wie in Section 871(m) des U.S. Internal Revenue Code) definiert in Bezug auf die maßgeblichen US-Wertpapiere als einbehalten betrachten. Die Emittentin wird keine zusätzlichen Beträge an den Inhaber aufgrund der gemäß Section 871(m) als einbehalten betrachteten Beträge zahlen.

The definitions used in the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Formulae may also apply to a Note the applicable Final Terms of which specify that all or part of the capitalized terms used therein have the meaning as described to them in the Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Formulae.	Die in den Zusätzlichen Emissionsbedingungen zu Formeln verwendeten Begriffsbestimmungen können auf eine Schuldverschreibung Anwendung finden, in deren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegeben ist, dass alle oder einige der darin verwendeten definierten Begriffe die ihnen in den Zusätzlichen Emissionsbedingungen zu Formeln zugewiesene Bedeutung haben.
For the purposes of these Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Formulae, a Note to which they apply is a Product .	Für die Zwecke dieser Zusätzlichen Emissionsbedingungen zu Formeln wird eine Schuldverschreibung, auf die sie Anwendung finden, als Produkt bezeichnet.
Each Product forms part of a family of products (the Family of Product).	Jedes Produkt ist Teil einer Produktfamilie (die Produktfamilie).

Family of Product	A Family of Products is a group of Product having similar characteristics. For each Family of Product, formulae and variable data are defined in order to determine the Product Amounts (defined below).	Produktfamilie	Eine Produktfamilie ist eine Gruppe von Produkten mit vergleichbaren Eigenschaften. Für jede Produktfamilie werden Formeln und Variablen für die Bestimmung der (nachstehend definierten) Produktbeträge definiert.
Reference of the Product	A Reference of the Product is a three-digit reference number with the first two digits corresponding to the reference of the Family of Product to which the Product belongs, and the third digit corresponding to the Product itself. The applicable Final Terms of a Product shall indicate the Reference of the Product (which corresponds to a paragraph of Condition 3 below where are listed all the formulae and variable data used to determine the Product Amounts (defined below)), and as the case may be, the Options and Add-ons necessary to determine these amounts.	Produktreferenz	Eine Produktreferenz ist eine dreistellige Referenznummer, bei der die ersten beiden Stellen der Referenz der Produktfamilie, zu der das Produkt gehört, entsprechen und die dritte Stelle dem Produkt selbst entspricht. In den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen eines Produkts sind die Produktreferenz (die einem Absatz von Bedingung 3 unten entspricht, in der alle für die Bestimmung der (nachstehend definierten) Produktbeträge verwendeten Formeln und Variablen aufgeführt sind) und gegebenenfalls die für die Bestimmung dieser Beträge erforderlichen Optionen und Add-ons angegeben.
Product: a Product is a Note to which these Additional Terms and Conditions relating to Formulae apply and having one or more Structured Interest Amount(s) (if any), one or more Automatic Early Redemption Amount(s) (if any), and a Final Redemption Amount (each a Product Amount and together the Product Amounts), each determined by the Calculation Agent on the basis of a set of definitions and formulae listed in Condition 3 below		Produkt: ein Produkt ist eine Schuldverschreibung, auf die diese Zusätzlichen Emissionsbedingungen zu Formeln Anwendung finden und die einen oder mehrere Strukturierten Zinsbetrag (Strukturierter Zinsbeträge) (sofern zutreffend), einen oder mehrere Automatischen Vorzeitigen Rückzahlungsbetrag (Automatische Vorzeitige Rückzahlungsbeträge) (sofern zutreffend) und einen Endgültigen Rückzahlungsbetrag (jeweils ein

2.	SCHEDULE – GENERAL DEFINITIONS AND SPECIFIC DEFINITION(S) - VARIABLE DATA - REFERENCE FORMULA(E)	ANHANG – ALLGEMEINE BEGRIFFSBESTIMMUNGEN UND SPEZIFISCHE BEGRIFFSBESTIMMUNG(EN) – VARIABLEN – REFERENZFORMEL(N)
2.1	Schedule	Zeitplan
	A Schedule designates either (A) a list of Valuation Date(s) or Relevant Valuation Date(s) or any other date(s), or (B) all Valuation Date(s) or Relevant Valuation Date(s) or any other date(s) comprised within a defined period.	Ein Zeitplan bezeichnet entweder (A) eine Liste von Bewertungstagen oder Maßgeblichen Bewertungstagen oder sonstigen Tagen oder (ii) alle Bewertungstage oder Maßgeblichen Bewertungstage oder sonstigen Tage, die in einen in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen festgelegten Zeitraum fallen.
	For the avoidance of doubt, several Schedules may be used for the determination and calculation of a Product Amount. For ease of reading, Schedules may be renamed (e.g. Period, Corridor Period, Interest Period, European Knock-In Period, American Knock-In Period,...).	Zur Klarstellung wird festgehalten, dass für die Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags mehrere Zeitpläne verwendet werden können. Zur besseren Verständlichkeit können Zeitpläne umbenannt werden (z. B. Periode, Korridor-Periode, Zinsperiode, Europäische Knock-in-Periode, Amerikanische Knock-in-Periode etc.).
	Furthermore, in respect of a Product Formula and a particular Schedule, also for ease of reading, "Valuation Date" or "Relevant Valuation Date" may be renamed (for instance, for a Schedule made of daily Valuation Dates, "Valuation Date" may be renamed "Daily Valuation Date", for a Schedule with annual Valuation Dates, "Valuation Date" may be renamed "Annual Valuation Date", for another Schedule relating to a specific Underlying_A, "Valuation Date" may be renamed "Underlying_A Valuation Date",...).	Ferner kann, ebenfalls zur besseren Verständlichkeit, in Bezug auf eine Produktformel und einen bestimmten Zeitplan ein Bewertungstag oder Maßgeblicher Bewertungstag umbenannt werden (z. B. kann für einen aus täglichen Bewertungstagen bestehenden Zeitplan „Bewertungstag“ in „Täglicher Bewertungstag“ umbenannt werden, für einen Zeitplan mit jährlichen Bewertungstagen „Bewertungstag“ in „Jährlicher Bewertungstag“, für einen anderen Zeitplan in Bezug auf einen spezifischen Basiswert_A „Bewertungstag“ in „Bewertungstag Basiswert_A“ etc.).
2.2	General Definitions and Specific Definition(s)	Allgemeine Begriffsbestimmungen und Spezifische Begriffsbestimmung(en)
2.2.1	General Definitions: Definitions listed in Condition 5 below applicable to all the Families of Products and to each Product within a Family of Product.	Allgemeine Begriffsbestimmungen: In Bedingung 5 unten aufgeführte Begriffsbestimmungen, die auf alle Produktfamilien und jedes Produkt innerhalb einer Produktfamilie anwendbar sind.
2.2.2	Specific Definition(s): Definitions used, as the case may be, to determine and calculate a Product Amount and/or the related Reference Formula. One or more specific definitions may be necessary (hereafter the Specific Definition(s)). The Specific Definitions are set out in the paragraph of Condition 3 below corresponding to the relevant Reference of the Product and called "Specific Definitions" and replicated in the applicable Final Terms. When no Specific Definition is necessary to determine and calculate a Product Amount, the paragraph "Specific Definition(s)" shall mention: "No Specific Definition is necessary to determine and calculate a Product Amount".	Spezifische Begriffsbestimmung(en): Begriffsbestimmungen, die gegebenenfalls zur Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags und/oder der dazugehörigen Referenzformel verwendet werden. Es können eine oder mehrere spezifische Begriffsbestimmungen (nachfolgend die Spezifische(n) Begriffsbestimmung(en)) erforderlich sein. Die Spezifischen Begriffsbestimmungen sind in dem Absatz „Spezifische Begriffsbestimmungen“ von Bedingung 3 unten aufgeführt, der der maßgeblichen Produktreferenz entspricht, und werden in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen wiedergegeben. Ist keine Spezifische Begriffsbestimmung für die Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags erforderlich, wird in dem Absatz „Spezifische Begriffsbestimmung(en)“ Folgendes angegeben: „Es ist keine Spezifische Begriffsbestimmung für die Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags erforderlich“.

2.3	Variable Data	Variablen
	One or more variable data are necessary to determine and calculate a Product Amount of a Product (referred to as the Variable Data). The definition of the Variable Date that may be used for the Product Amount of a Product of any Family of Products are listed in Condition 5.4 "Variable Data" below.	Für die Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags eines Produkts sind eine oder mehrere Variablen erforderlich (die Variablen). Die Begriffsbestimmungen der Variablen, die für den Produktbetrag eines Produkts einer beliebigen Produktfamilie verwendet werden können, sind in der nachstehenden Bedingung 5.4 „Variablen“ aufgelistet.
	The Variable Data listed in Condition 5.4 and that may be used in respect of one or more Products of a Family of Products are set out in the paragraph X.X.0 of the relevant Family of Product (e.g. 3.3.0).	Die in Bedingung 5.4 aufgelisteten Variablen, die für eines oder mehrere Produkte einer Produktfamilie verwendet werden können, sind im Absatz X.X.0 der maßgeblichen Produktfamilie (z. B. 3.3.0) aufgeführt.
	The Variable Data listed in Condition 5.4 necessary to a specific Product are set out in the paragraph "Variable Data" of such Product.	Die in Bedingung 5.4 aufgelisteten Variablen, die für ein spezifisches Produkt erforderlich sind, sind im Absatz „Variablen“ des betreffenden Produkts aufgeführt.
	In the applicable Final Terms, depending on their respective definition set out in Condition 5.4 below, the Variable Data can be an amount, a level, a percentage or the observed value of a Reference Formula applied to the Underlying(s) of the Product.	In den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen kann es sich bei den Variablen – in Abhängigkeit von ihrer jeweiligen in Bedingung 5.4 unten aufgeführten Begriffsbestimmung – um einen Betrag, einen Stand, einen Prozentsatz oder den beobachteten Wert einer auf den (die) Basiswert(e) des Produkts angewandten ReferenzFormel handeln.
	If in respect of a Product Formula of a Product Amount of a specific Product, a Variable Data has a value of either 0 (zero) or 1 (one), or is not used or not useful or if a Variable Data is not applicable for the calculation of certain Product Amounts, then Product Formula(e) as specified in the applicable Final Terms may be simplified for the purpose of improving the reading and intelligibility of formula(e).	Falls eine Variable in einer Produktformel für einen Produktbetrag eines bestimmten Produkts einen Wert von 0 (null) oder 1 (eins) annimmt oder nicht verwendet wird oder nicht zweckdienlich ist oder falls eine Variable bei der Berechnung bestimmter Produktbeträge nicht anwendbar ist, können Produktformeln wie in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen angegeben zur Verbesserung der Lesbarkeit und Verständlichkeit von Formeln vereinfacht werden.
	For instance, if the Product Formula of a Product Amount of a particular Product is:	Ist beispielsweise die Produktformel für einen Produktbetrag eines bestimmten Produkts:
	ConstantRedemptionLevel + Min(Cap ; Participation x ReferenceFormula_Coupon)	KonstantesRückzahlungsNiveau + Min(Cap ; Partizipation x ReferenzFormel_Kupon)
	And the Variable Data "ConstantRedemptionLevel" is equal to 0, "Participation" is equal to 1, and "Cap" is not applicable	und ist die Variable „KonstantesRückzahlungsNiveau“ gleich 0, „Partizipation“ gleich 1 und ist „Cap“ nicht anwendbar,
	Then the Product Formula of such Product Amount may be simplified in the applicable Final Terms as follows:	kann die Produktformel für den betreffenden Produktbetrag in den anwendbaren Endgültigen Bedingungen wie folgt vereinfacht werden:
	ReferenceFormula_Coupon	ReferenzFormel_Kupon
2.4	Reference Formula(e)	Referenzformel(n)
	Reference Formula(e) are pre-defined basic formulae specified under Condition 4 below (referred to as individually the Reference Formula and collectively Reference Formulae) which are used, as the case may be, as inputs in respect of an Option, a Product Formula and/or one or several Specific Definitions necessary to determine and calculate a Product Amount.	Referenzformel(n) sind in Bedingung 4 unten aufgeführte vordefinierte Grundformeln (jeweils eine Referenzformel und zusammen die Referenzformeln), die als Eingangsgrößen für eine Option, eine Produktformel und/oder eine oder mehrere Spezifische Begriffsbestimmungen, die für die Bestimmung und Berechnung eines Produktbetrags erforderlich sind, dienen.

	Product Formula(i) = ConstantRedemptionLevel_AERA(i) + Max(Coupon_AERA(i) ; Participation(i) x ReferenceFormula_AERA(i))	Produktformel(i) = KonstantesRückzahlungsNiveau_AVRB(i) + Max(Kupon_AVRB(i) ; Partizipation(i) x ReferenzFormel_AVRB(i))
	- "ReferenceFormula_Coupon" means that the Reference Formula of the Product is used to determine the Final Redemption Amount of the Product and the Product Formula, the Option and/or one or several Specific Definitions necessary to the determination of the Final Redemption Amount contain the instruction "ReferenceFormula_Coupon";	- „ReferenzFormel_Kupon“ bedeutet, dass die Referenzformel des Produkts zur Bestimmung des Endgültigen Rückzahlungsbetrags des Produkts verwendet wird und die Produktformel, die Option und/oder eine oder mehrere Spezifische Begriffsbestimmungen, die für die Bestimmung des Endgültigen Rückzahlungsbetrags erforderlich sind, die Anweisung „ReferenzFormel_Kupon“ enthalten;
	For example, for the product 3.5.1 "Accumulator", the paragraph "Reference Formula(e)" indicates "ReferenceFormula_Coupon" means that a Reference Formula is used to determine the Structured Interest	Beispielsweise ist für das Produkt 3.5.1. „Accumulator“ in dem Absatz „Referenzformel(n)“ „ReferenzFormel_Kupon“ angegeben, was bedeutet, dass eine Referenzformel zur Bestimmung des Strukturierten Zinsbetrags verwendet wird, und

	The Family “Accumulator and Cliquet” comprises Products which provide exposure to the positive performance of an Underlying or a Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket, where the Product Amount(s) are determined based on an accumulation (either additive or multiplicative) of performances of the Underlying or Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket over several consecutive periods (performances being usually restricted at the beginning of each period). Performances of the Underlying or Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket can be weighted, leveraged, averaged, locked, floored and/or capped.	Die Familie „Accumulator and Cliquet“ umfasst Produkte, die ein Engagement in der positiven Wertentwicklung eines Basiswerts oder eines Korbs oder eines oder mehrerer der in einem Korb enthaltenen Basiswerte ermöglichen und bei denen der Produktbetrag (die Produktbeträge) auf Grundlage einer (additiven oder multiplikativen) Akkumulation von Wertentwicklungen des Basiswerts oder Korbs oder eines oder mehrerer der in einem Korb enthaltenen Basiswerte über mehrere aufeinanderfolgende Perioden hinweg (wobei die Wertentwicklungen in der Regel am Beginn jeder Periode zurückgesetzt werden) bestimmt wird/werden. Die Wertentwicklungen des Basiswerts oder Korbs oder eines oder mehrerer der in einem Korb enthaltenen Basiswerte können gewichtet, gehebelt, als Durchschnitt ermittelt, eingefroren, mit einer Untergrenze (Floor) versehen und/oder mit einer Obergrenze (Cap) versehen werden.

	The Family "MULTI-UNDERLYING" comprises Products which provide exposure to the positive or negative performance of several Underlyings composing the Basket, where the Product Amount(s) is(are) are determined based on the individual performance or level of each Underlying, provided that this individual performance or level can be weighted, leveraged, averaged, locked, floored and/or capped. Composition of the Basket can be altered over time depending on the individual performance or level of the Underlyings. Performance of the Underlyings or Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket can be weighted, leveraged, averaged, locked, floored and/or capped.	Die Familie „Multi-underlying“ umfasst Produkte, die ein Engagement in der positiven oder negativen Wertentwicklung mehrerer in dem Korb enthaltener Basiswerte ermöglichen und bei denen der Produktbetrag (die Produktbeträge) auf Grundlage der individuellen Wertentwicklung oder des individuellen Stands der einzelnen Basiswerte bestimmt wird/werden, wobei diese individuelle Wertentwicklung bzw. dieser individuelle Stand gewichtet, gehebelt, als Durchschnitt ermittelt, eingefroren, mit einer Untergrenze (Floor) versehen und/oder mit einer Obergrenze (Cap) versehen werden kann. Die Zusammensetzung des Korbs kann im Laufe der Zeit in Abhängigkeit von der individuellen Wertentwicklung oder dem individuellen Stand der Basisinstrumente verändert werden. 	The Family "VOLATILITY" comprises Products which provide exposure to the positive or negative performance of the historical variance or historical volatility of an Underlying or a Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket. Variance and volatility are measures of the dispersion of Underlying(s) returns. The Product Amount(s) are determined based on (a) performance or level of the Underlying or Basket or one or several Underlying(s) within a Basket, and / or (b) historical variance or historical volatility of the Underlying or Basket and / or (c) additional parameters (if relevant). Performance	Die Familie „Volatility“ umfasst Produkte, die ein Engagement in der positiven oder negativen Entwicklung der historischen Varianz oder historischen Volatilität eines Basiswerts oder eines Korbs oder eines oder mehrerer der in einem Korb enthaltenen Basiswerte ermöglichen. Der (die) Produktbetrag (Produktbeträge) wird/werden auf Grundlage (a) der Wertentwicklung oder des Stands des Basiswerts oder eines Korbs oder eines oder mehrerer der in einem Korb enthaltenen Basiswerte und/oder (b) der historischen Varianz oder historischen Volatilität des Basiswerts oder Korbs und/oder (c) (gegebenenfalls) zusätzlicher
